Learning life on the family farm

Prairie Ag Partners and Farmers Union buy books for schools and libraries

BY CORRIE WALTER

Kingsbury Journal

While we may live in rural America, plenty of youth do not know where food comes from or what local cooperatives are. Prairie Ag Partners, the local cooperative with headquarters in Lake Preston, teamed up with Kingsbury County Farmers Union to help children better understand just that.

This was an opportunity to partner with South Dakota Farmers Union to bring something good to our communities," said Al Vedvei, Prairie Ag Partners Board Chairman. "It's a chance for the kids to learn about farm life, where the food on their table comes from and to help them start understanding the cooperative business model.'

"After all, some of these kids will

GEVO seeking more wind turbines

BY AMY HALVERSON

Kingsbury Journal

The Kingsbury County Commissioners met on Tues., April 4, at the Kingsbury County Courthouse to discuss several topics, including the upcoming construction on Highway 81, GEVO updates, Lake Thompson Water District and the Highway Department's Contract.

GEVO UPDATES

Joe Jensen informed commissioners that in two weeks, a conditional use permit hearing for the GEVO project will be held. They want to erect an informational gathering tower requested by the lender to prove the wind blows, how much it blows and that it consistently blows in Kingsbury County in order for the bank to use in support of a loan for the wind energy farm.

A lifetime of practicing together

The Bells' journey takes them into retirement

SUBMITTED BY CENTRACARE

After nearly 30 years serving patients in the Willmar, Minn., area, Steven Bell, M.D., surgeon, and Janae Bell, M.D., internal medicine specialist, are retiring from their medical practices.

TOGETHER FROM THE BEGINNING

"Our story goes way, way back," said Dr. Janae Bell. "We grew up in the same town, De Smet, S.D., and his father, a family practice doctor, delivered me. We literally grew up together in this small town of 1,500."

After attending the same schools, going to the same church, even playing opposite each other in plays, Janae and Steven Bell began dating in their junior year of high school. They went on to attend Augustana University in Sioux Falls, S.D., where he was a chemistry major, and she majored in biology. Following undergraduate studies, they both earned their medical degrees from the University of South Dakota School of Medicine.

One of five children, Steven and three of his siblings followed in their father's footsteps and became doctors. Dr. G. Robert Bell was a family practitioner at Bell Medical Services in De Smet and a clinical associate professor of family medicine with the University of South Dakota medical school.

"Steven's dad had a huge influence in that small town," shared Janae. "I would say the per capita number of people who went into the field of medicine over the course of 20 to 25 years was high. You can just tell he was a great mentor. I can't say enough great things about his dad."

Janae, who was the first one in her family to go to college, joined the Army out of college from a sense of duty and to help pay her way through medical school. The couple spent three years in Michigan, where Janae completed an internal medicine residency and Steven started surgery training. They then moved to South Carolina where Capt. J. Bell, M.D. was stationed at Ft. Jackson. Steven completed general surgery residency at the University of South Carolina as Janae would rise to the rank of grow up to be farmers, and they are the future of our communities," Vedvei continued. "Let's help them, at an early age, get a start in agriculture and our cooperatives."

Together, the two organizations purchased books that were donated to all the local schools and community libraries in the county.

"Our Family Farm," a series of four books written and illustrated in 2018 by Dana Sullivan in partnership with the North Dakota Farmers Union, tells the story of the Rhodes family farm, showing how multigenerations work together to feed livestock and grow crops.

This series includes colorful illustrations of farm life and animals, as well as trucks and tractors. Each book shows the family working hard together at different tasks, including fuel purchases and grain sales at their local co-op.

"Our Family Farm" can be purchased through the N.D. Farmers Union, with all proceeds going to their foundation, which supports youth education programs.

Wayne Soren, president of the Kingsbury County Farmers Union, is excited about these books geared for children ages 3-8 and hopes the children in our communities take the opportunity to read and learn, not only about family farmers, but the role coops play in communities.

"These books are good for the youth in Kingsbury County to re-reinforce the importance of family farms and cooperatives," said Soren. "The sooner we can introduce kids to the importance of co-ops, the better."

Scott Jensen and Wayne Soren deliver a set of "Our Family Farm" to Mary Purintun, librarian at the Hazel L. Meyer Memorial Library in De Smet. (Submitted Photo)

Talking to youth about rural agriculture is important, but making sure they have access to resources and an understanding of agriculture, and where their food comes from, is equally important. Creating enthusiasm for reading at a young age is also vital.

Soren, Chad Dylla, Prairie Ag's General Manager, and Scott Jensen, Prairie Ag Board Member, delivered these books to Lake Preston, Arlington, De Smet and Iroquois schools as well as Lake Preston, De Smet and Oldham community libraries. A common theme they heard from the librarians was how excited they are to incorporate these books into their summer reading programs.

"It's all about getting these books into the hands of the youth of our communities," said Soren.

"And ... maybe adults reading one of these books to their children will find something even they can learn from," said Vedvei.

BELLS: De Smet duo partners in life and medical careers sicians.

"As medical school went along, it became more obvious to me that general surgery was where my interests were," said Steven. "There was no 'aha' moment; it was more of a gradual thing."

Janae chose to focus on adult medicine, thinking it would give her the opportunity to subspecialize later if she wanted.

"I found that I just loved general internal medicine," she said. "It was like family practice, but without the kiddos and the pregnancy care."

BEGINNING THEIR PRACTICES

After completing residencies and Janae's active duty, they began the search for where they wanted to set up their medical practices.

"We had a number of criteria for the places we were looking to practice," remembers Steven. "We were knowledgeable of Willmar because we grew up three hours from here."

Janae added, "His brother married a woman from around this area, so we came to their wedding in Willmar."

"So, that put it on the map for us as we realized that here you've got a big clinic in a small town," said Steven.

At the time, Affiliated Community Medical Center was actively recruiting for both a general surgeon and an internist.

"It was close to home, but here was the ability to practice in a small town with a large medical practice," said Janae. "The draw was huge. You had a lot of families. You had colleagues. We weren't practicing in a tiny town by ourselves. We had subspecialties here, and we wouldn't be the first married physician couple who ever arrived."

MAKING WILLMAR HOME

In 1994, Drs. Steven and Janae Bell moved to Willmar with their daughters, ages five and seven. Their third daughter was born in Willmar a year later.

When Dr. Steven Bell joined the general surgery team at the ACMC clinic, it was a team of four.

"That's a pretty good-sized department," said Steven. "That's one of the things that attracted us here. Most communities this size will have only one or two general surgeons, but here, there were twice as many."

Janae recalled that the internal medicine department was at its largest, around 11 physicians, when she first arrived in 1994.

"The department had just stopped covering the emergency room that year, but we took call during the day, and you would run over to the hospital. There were no hospitalists back then."

Both agree that the Willmar community has been a great place for their medical careers.

"I think it's been just what we envisioned," said Steven. "Patients are very appreciative; the community puts a lot of resources into health care. They care for their facilities and their hospital. It's close enough to the cities, but not too close."

As Janae explained, the location allowed them to practice how they wanted.

"We're far enough from the cities and the tertiary care centers that we could practice a broad spectrum of medicine to your comfort level, which is great for the community and great for your own intelligence and ability to practice."

The couple also believed the Willmar area was a great place to raise a family while balancing the busy schedules of two physicians.

"We could get out to our kids' events. If there was a concert in the middle of the day, you could maybe make it to that," said Janae. "I think given the size of the community, it absolutely allowed us to have more of a family life."

WORKING AS A TEAM

"It's been really fun to practice together," smiled Janae.

Looking back on nearly three decades of medicine, there have been many times when two Dr. Bells cared for the same patient.

"We'd both be in the hospital; he's the surgeon, and I'm the patient's primary doctor," said Janae. "It feels good to be able to look at a patient and say, 'I know he'll take good care of you."

"And I. It's just vice versa," said Steven.

Along with working together, they commended their colleagues and the health system.

"I've been on a strong team," said Steven. "We hold each other accountable to maintain standards, get the extra training and go to meetings, so we can continue to provide the highest level of care to this region."

Janae commented on the importance of the primary care team.

"I think primary care is the backbone of medicine," said Janae. "These are the people who are really watching out for folks, fighting for them and helping them go through this journey in healthcare that is getting increasingly complex."

Steven added, "I think the credit also goes to the system and the community. Looking at the past, these clinics needed a lot of good decision-making to get to where we are today. We've weathered a lot of storms."

THROUGH THE YEARS

Both Steven and Janae have experienced a lot during their time in medicine.

"One huge change was the electronic medical record," said Janae. "It doesn't come without a good deal of pain, but in the big picture, it's a tremendous asset."

Steven shared her viewpoint. "It's nice to be able to look at x-rays immediately and not have to run down and have them pull a pile of films and put them up on a board to look at. Now, it's immediately there, and we can take it for granted."

In September 2001, Dr. Steven Bell was one of 40 surgeons who volunteered at a makeshift triage center following the 9/11 terrorist attacks at the World Trade Center. While Steven was attending a surgical conference in Manhattan, the two planes crashed into the twin towers. Steven and the other surgeons were set up to triage which victims may need emergency surgery. However, the volunteer surgeons didn't care for any victims at their location, as it was evident early on that there would be few survivors.

During his career as a rural general surgeon, Dr. Steven Bell performed a wide variety of subspecialty procedures.

"When I first came, I did lots of vascular surgery," he shared. "Now, we have Dr. Reigstad who is specialty trained, and that's a great resource for the area."

Dr. Bell was also instrumental in starting a bariatric surgery program at one time in Willmar.

Janae remarked that the development of the hospitalist program at Rice Memorial Hospital in 2005 has altered how inpatient care happens in our health system.

One of the most notable advancements Steven recalls is the expansion of minimally invasive surgery.

"That's crescendoed since the start of my career," he explained. "Even the laparoscopic cholecystectomy was more in its infancy in the early 90s. It was being done, but it just wasn't a smooth mechanism. It's been exciting to be a part of that era."

DOCTOR-PATIENT RELATIONSHIPS

When it comes down to it, both physicians expressed that it's been their patients who have meant the most to them.

"The patients in this region put their trust in us," said Steven. "I tell patients all the time that there is no such thing as a minor surgery. An operation is a journey that you take with the patient. I take every one of those operations very seriously and have always tried to impart that to my patients. I am going to miss taking those journeys with my patients."

"I will miss the privilege of these relationships," said Janae. "I treasure my long-term patient relationships and what a gift they have been to me. I would have three generations at once, and I'd have husbands and wives. There's really no relationship like a doctor-patient relationship."

LOOKING AHEAD TO RETIREMENT

In 2021, Dr. Janae Bell fully transitioned from her internal medicine practice to a hospitalist role at Rice

Memorial Hospital.

"When the pandemic hit, I returned to full-time so I could work half-time at the clinic and half-time at Rice Hospital - but that proved to be quite challenging for a number of reasons," she recalled. "Then, by 2021, the inpatient needs at Rice Memorial convinced me to practice hospital medicine only. As difficult as it was to give up my office practice, focusing on hospital medicine has been a good step toward retirement."

Twenty-nine years and thousands of patients after beginning their medical practices together, they've made the decision to retire together. While Dr. Steven Bell's last day is officially April 3, Dr. Janae Bell will stay on a little longer to help at the hospital until June.

In May, they'll celebrate 40 years of marriage, which includes three grown daughters and two grandsons, ages four and a half and almost seven. The Bells have come full circle to when they landed in Willmar with their seven- and five-year-old little girls at the beginning of their careers.

When asked about their plans for retirement, Janae spoke up, "First, we'll take our grandsons camping in the Boundary Waters. We're really looking forward to introducing the boys to wilderness camping."

"At least for this summer, it's going to be lake time and Black Hills time," added Steven.

While they don't have a specific retirement plan in place, they're open to what the future could include.

"If we can be fully retired, then we can really look at what our next chapter looks like," said Janae.

GIVEN THE CHOICE, WOULD YOU DO IT AGAIN?

Janae considered, then thoughtfully expressed, "Probably."

"Yeah, I would," nodded Steven.
"Willmar has been a really nice fit for us. It really did fit our capabilities, our aspirations and our dreams."

A fire ignited in a field south of the H.T. Albrecht farm south of De Smet on Tuesday. Due to the high winds and dry conditions, the fire spread quickly. De Smet Fire Department responded and were provided mutual aid support from Oldham, Lake Preston, Howard and Carthage Fire Departments. The fire crossed a road and a large number of corn stalk bales caught fire on the Albrecht farm. The fire continued to burn through the night. A controlled burn in a neighboring field from a couple of days earlier is believed to be the cause. (Submitted photo)

The spirit of Easter

DURING THE EASTER SEASON, we spend time with our families, we celebrate with our friends and neighbors, and we are thankful for our many blessings. It's a time when people come together to help one another; to love one another.

South Dakotans have been through a brutal winter this year, with many severe storms from December through April. It has been a struggle, but one we have gotten through together. Through small acts of kindness and by lending a helping hand, South Dakotans continue to show their strength even in difficult times.

We often think of Easter as a celebration of the light, but it is also a celebration of the darkness. The joy of Easter Sunday means nothing without the sorrow that comes before it. And if there is one thing that the people of South Dakota have taught me, it's that tough times are always easier to get through to-

The Bible tells us to love thy neighbor as we love ourselves. And to help them get to work on time, and bringing homecooked meals to friends in need. I truly think that no one loves their neighbor better than a South Dakotan.

that we would get through this treacherous winter, and their faith that springtime is coming. Easter reminds us of these things.

GOVERNOR'S DESK

KRISTI NOEM

Just as spring brings new life to the earth, so does Jesus bring new life to us.

I do not know how much longer our winter will last, but I do know that spring is coming. Warmer days are ahead. And South Dakotans will help one another and love one another just as much in the warmth as we have in the cold. That's just how we operate.

I am proud of what our people have endured. We always seem to come out of tough times stronger than before. The people of South Dakota have earned my trust, my respect, and my faith - and I will always do my best to be worthy of

So I wish everyone a very Happy Easter. I hope that you can spend this season with those that you love. And I thank you, South Dakotans, for always being there for each other - for embodying the kind of love that Jesus has for us through your love for one another. You are a light in this world, a little glimpse of springtime. May God continue to bless each and every one of you.

DARLENE F. MALONE

Funeral services for Darlene F. Malone, age 87, of Lake Preston, S.D., will be 1 p.m., Sat., April 15, 2023, at the Lake Preston Lutheran Church. Officiating will be Joleen Pietrzak. Visitation will be 5-7 p.m., Fri., April 14, 2023, at the Lake Preston Lutheran Church in Lake Preston, S.D. Interment will be in the Lake Preston Cemetery under the direction of Johnson-Henry Funeral Home of Arlington, Lake Preston, Oldham. Darlene passed away Tues., April 4, 2023, at the Good Samaritan Society of De Smet, S.D. Services will be live streamed under Darlene's obituary on our website. www.crawfordosthus.com

Darlene Fae Malone was born on May 3, 1935, in Iroquois, S.D., to Cecil and Elsie (Treml) Abel. She attended rural school for nearly three years and then attended Lake Preston Public, graduating in 1953. Darlene worked at Northwest Security Bank in Huron, S.D., Lake Preston Co-op Creamery, Kingsbury Manor, raised sheep and pigs on the family farm and was a caregiver to her grandchildren, mother-in-law and her parents.

Darlene married Bernard Sharkey Malone at the United Methodist Church in Lake Preston on June 24, 1956. They were blessed with three children: Lori Jean, Loren Bernard and Lisa Kay and raised them on the Evergreen Farm southwest of Lake Preston, S.D. Darlene moved into town to "the pink house" in 1995.

Having a passion for volunteering, she was an active member of the UMC/UCC Church and Women's Fellowship, SD Farmers Union, American Legion Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, 4-H and the Alumni 4-H Group "YMW."

God blessed Darlene with five grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and one great-great-granddaughter. They were the pride and joy of her life. She enjoyed sharing the passions she loved with them and encouraging, attending and following them in their many activities and adventures.

One of Darlene's many talents was her cooking skills, especially making pies and her famous "secret recipe" pecan pie. She enjoyed spending hours in her garden, planting flowers, finding special places to arrange the many unique rocks Bernard lovingly collected and brought to her, watching birds, bunnies, squirrels and deer, even when they got in her gardens. She enjoyed playing cards and games. Then came Phase 10 Dice, which she mastered. We all tried to beat her, and if we did, we are sure it was because she let us. Darlene loved decorating for every season and holiday and looking for that special piece to add to her collections. It brought joy to her heart to visit on the phone and in person with her siblings, cousins, family and friends for hours, sharing her knowledge, reminiscing, learning new facts and catching up with everything going on within the family.

Darlene is survived and cherished by her husband, Bernard; her children, Lori Malone-Hansen of Redfield, S.D., and Lisa Malone of Lake Preston, S.D.; grandchildren, Veronica Dahl, LaRen (Chad) Johnson, Heather Kruger, Lance Rademaker and Miles Rademaker; great-grandchildren, D.J. Plummer, Tracy Engelkes, Raelynn Engelkes, Garrett Kruger, Dani Kruger, Autumn Johnson, Emily Johnson, Brooke Johnson and Kennedy Johnson; great-great-granddaughter, Lilah Engelkes; siblings, Don (Sherrie) Abel of Morton, Ill., Deanna (Lowell) Satterlee of Sioux Falls, S.D., and Delaine (Daryl) Keezer of Murry, Ky.; brother-in-law, Owen Malone of Las Vegas, Nev.; beloved cousins, nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her son, Loren Malone; her parents, Cecil and Elsie Abel; infant siblings, Beverly Joy and Russel LeRoy; father and mother-in-law, Edward and Anna May Malone and brothers-in-law, Leo Malone and Everett Malone.

Condolences can be mailed to Lisa Malone at 21061 441st Ave. Lake Preston, SD 57249

PAID OBITUARY

ROGER W. GULLICKSON

Funeral services for Roger W. Gullickson, age 84, were at 1:30 p.m., Mon., April 10, 2023, at the Lake Preston Lutheran Church, Lake Preston, S.D. Vicar Brad Sanderson officiated. Visitation was from 5-7 p.m., Sun., April 9, 2023, at the Lake Preston Lutheran Church. Interment was in the North Preston Cemetery rural Lake Preston, S.D, under the direction of Johnson-Henry Funeral Home, Arlington, Lake Preston and Oldham, S.D.

Roger Wayne Gullickson passed away on April 5, 2023, at Sanford Medical Center in Sioux Falls, S.D., as the result of an accident slipping on ice that caused brain trauma. Services were live streamed under Roger's obituary on our website. www.crawfordosthus.com

Roger was born May 31, 1938, to Leo and Edla (Johnson) Gullickson at a farmhouse south of Bryant. At the age of three in 1941, his family moved and purchased a farm in the North Preston area to be closer to family. Roger lived on that farm place virtually the rest of his life. He attended country school until the eighth grade and then went to high school in Lake Preston. He graduated in 1956; he then attended Huron College. In 1960, he entered the Air National Guard in Sioux Falls.

On Aug. 20, 1960, he married Sandra Holverson at North Preston Church. They were blessed with two children, Susan (Todd) Williams and Darin Gullickson.

Roger was able to farm with his father or his son his entire life on the same place. Roger enjoyed farming, trucking, feeding cattle and whatever he could do with a payloader. He took pride in his work, family, children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. His family's lives and their activities were always a priority. He loved to visit with neighbors and friends around his kitchen table, enjoying coffee and diet coke. In the last few years, he had many wonderful conversations with his great grandkids around the table with a treat. He loved to cheer on the Lake Preston Divers and South Dakota State University Jackrabbits. Roger was also involved in many church and community boards and activities.

He is survived by his wife, Sandra; children, Susan (Todd) Williams, Madison and Darin Gullickson, Lake Preston; grandchildren, Heather (Daniel) Flahie, Jason Williams, Heith Williams, Amanda (Tyler) Anderson, Michelle (Dana) Sand, Darrik (Shelace) Bunker and 10 great-grandchildren. He is also survived by a brother, Dale (Jackie) Gullickson, Sioux Falls, and many special nieces and nephews.

Roger was preceded in death by his parents, Leo and Edla Gullickson; his brothers, LeeRoy Gullickson and Larry Gullickson; his daughter-in-law, Sherry Gullickson; granddaughter, Jordyn Gullickson; father and mother-in-law, Lyle and Susie Holverson and sister-in-law, Judy Holverson.

Chick sidekick

"PEEP, PEEP, PEEP!" I followed the sound to the area with wire cages in the back of the farm supply store - the baby chicks! People circled around. Small children squealed in delight. I quietly observed, adoring the cute balls of fluff.

The manager smiled and took up the watch next to me. "They are in demand this year," he stated, shaking his head.

I considered the high price of eggs and people suddenly wanting backyard flocks. "Well, that's good, isn't it?"

"Mostly, but sometimes it doesn't work out. People actually call and ask if they can return the little chicks."

"Seriously?" Reliving the instant bond that takes place every time I hold one of the downy little critters to my cheek, I could not imagine giving her up for adoption.

"Yeah, some people don't know what they are doing. They don't know all that is involved."

I frowned, wondering how anyone could not know about such things.
Memories flocked into my mind ...

Mom answered the phone. Her blue eyes shone as she turned to Dad. "That was the post office. The baby chicks are in."

Dad strolled to the door and grabbed his "go-to-town" hat. Mom and I pulled on our everyday coats and boots and headed to the brooder house

She plugged in the four heat lamps hanging from the rafters. I felt warmth right away. Three domed bulbs clustered toward the middle of the room, while one hung a bit higher and a short distance from the others.

I followed Mother to the pump by the hog house, where she filled two buckets with water. Back to the brooder, she half-filled two large glass jars. She screwed the red plastic lids onto the top and flipped the jars over to make waterers.

Over the last week, the folks had prepared the brooder for this day. Straw bales placed end-to-end formed a small room where the babies could move about. Cardboard pieces rounded out every corner. If the little ones got scared, they would find a place to pile up on top of each other; the ones at the bottom could suffocate. It was best if there were no corners.

Three narrow troughs waited in the middle, one directly under a light. Mom used her long-handled scoop to fill the troughs with chick starter. In the middle of each trough was a bar of fluted metal that ran from end to end like a spindle. The twirly bar kept the chicks from hopping into the feeder and scratching as chicks do. It also kept them from soiling the feed. Chicks poop. Everybody knew that!

We moved a bale to separate the nursery from the observation area. Just then we heard a noise at the door. Dad stepped in holding two flat boxes with holes in the sides. The boxes "peeped!"

BACK TO FORWARD

DEANN (WOLKOW) KRUEMPEL

Our voices instantly shifted to quiet mode. We all knew little chicks got scared at loud noises. Mom gently lifted out the babies, one at a time. After dipping each beak in water, she gently set the baby under a heat lamp. When all 52 peepers were properly installed in their new home, Mom carefully spread the shredded bedding from the boxes over the coop floor. She took the boxes apart and placed cardboard under the heat lamps. Then, she crawled over the bales and sat next to me.

We watched. Within minutes, the chicks found the warm spots. Some stretched out a leg to the back and rested. Others found the feeders, and their little heads bobbed up and down. A few found the water. Soon, one decided it was recess time, and her tiny feet pattered away. Suddenly, she scurried back to the others. I stifled a giggle. Mom grinned.

She reached down and scooped up a round yellow creature, placing it in my hands. It peeped a couple times, but I knew it would settle down as I petted its tiny head with my finger.

My thoughts flew back to the present - the chicks, the manager and potential adopters in front of me. Suddenly, it clicked why I knew all about chicks before I was five. From the time I could walk, I had followed my mother to the brooder house every spring. Not everyone got such an opportunity. We all learn different things at our parents' sides

Right then and there in that farm store, I realized I was truly one lucky chick sidekick!

Easter with family; Oh-so-good chicken

I HOPE EVERYONE WAS able to enjoy Easter with family. We spent Sunday with my husband's side of the family for a traditional Easter gathering.

Almost the entire family was able to attend the Halversons for Easter Sunday. The house was full of family members ready to line up and dig in to all the food. The counters were full of ham, mashed potatoes, gravy, corn, salads, sides and desserts.

Everyone enjoyed the food while catching up with each other. The children were quick to finish eating and begin asking when the Easter egg hunt would begin. They played while the adults finished eating and then cleaned up.

Thankfully, the weather was beautiful on Sunday, so everyone was able to enjoy some fresh air. The older children played basketball, while the younger ones enjoyed running around the big yard.

Then, it was time for the Easter egg hunt. The men were nominated to hide all the plastic eggs filled with candy or "snacks," as the youngest,

HOME GROWN

Nora Coughlin, called them, around the vard.

The children anxiously waited to fill their bags with eggs, and as soon as they were given the go-ahead, they were off and running around the yard, collecting eggs as fast as they could. It didn't take them long to find the eggs scattered across the remaining snow in the yard, but there were some eggs hidden in trees and on vehicles that took a little more time.

When it was all over, they ran inside the house to empty their eggs

Oh-so-good Chicken

4 ounces shredded cheddar chees 2 cups fresh slices mushrooms 16-ounce jar of salsa2 cups cooked white rice8 ounces cooked diced chicken

In a skillet, heat oil over medium heat. Sauté mushrooms.

Combine mushrooms, sour cream, cheese, salsa, rice and chicken. Place in a greased casserole dish.

Bake at 350 degrees for 25 to 35 minutes.

and see the hidden treats. There were several piles of candy in the living room from each of their collections. As they gathered up all their goodies into bags to take home, they made sure to sample some, making sure they were good.

Afterward, more food was made, and leftovers were reheated for the second round of feasting for those who had managed to find some room after overindulging earlier. If any left hungry, it was definitely their own fault, because there was plenty of food for all.

When everyone was done eating, there wasn't much left. Everything was delicious, and I think most ate more than normal with so much good food available.

Soon, family members started to leave for home. Thankfully, it wasn't a long drive for most. Everyone had a great Easter day together with family.

I always love sharing a good casserole dish, and this one is another winner with basic ingredients that make a delicious meal in no time. Enjoy!

Christ's divine mercy

THE TRUTH IS, WHETHER we are Methodist, Mennonite, Hutterite, Lutheran, Apostolic, Catholic or nondenominational Christian, we have more in common than not. We all love Jesus and believe in His mercy.

This Sunday, the Sunday right after Easter, is known as Divine Mercy Sunday in the Catholic Church. This feast is intended for Christians to celebrate Jesus' mercy on all sinners. This feast is intended for the whole world

The message of Divine Mercy is very simple. It is that God loves us, all of us. Jesus wants us to trust Him and believe in His mercy. The message of mercy is not one way. We are to receive mercy and to give mercy.

According to the divinemercy.org, all you need to remember about Divine Mercy is ABC.

A - Ask for His Mercy. God wants us to approach Him in prayer constantly, repenting of our sins and asking Him to pour His mercy out upon us and upon the whole world.

B - Be merciful. God wants us to receive His mercy and let it flow through us to others. He wants us to extend love and forgiveness to others just as He does to us.

C - Completely trust in Jesus. God wants us to know that all the graces of His mercy can only be received by our trust. The more we open the door of our hearts and lives to Him with trust, the more we can receive.

From where does the Feast of Divine Mercy come?

Divine Mercy is a particular devotion in the Catholic Church. It is based on the writings of Saint Faustina Kowalska. St. Faustina was a young Polish nun, who in the 1930s, wrote a diary where she described the revelations she received about God's mercy. Even before her death in 1938, devotion to the Divine Mercy had begun to spread. Divine Mercy can be a transformative form of prayer and devotion for Christians.

MEDITATIONS

DEACON CHRISTOPHER KIRST

St. Thomas Aquinas Parish

Throughout St. Faustina's diary, she describes how Jesus is calling all people to His loving and merciful heart. Jesus told Faustina, "On the Feast of Divine Mercy, all the divine floodgates through which graces flow are opened. Let no soul fear to draw near to Me, even though its sins be as scarlet. My mercy is so great that no mind, be it of man or of angel, will be able to fathom it throughout all eternity."

Throughout her diary St. Faustina shares messages of Mercy from Jesus; "My daughter, tell the whole world about My inconceivable mercy. I desire that the Feast of Mercy be a refuge and shelter for souls and especially for poor sinners. On that day the very depths of My tender mercy are open. I pour out a whole ocean of graces upon those souls who approach the Fount of My Mercy. The soul that will go to confession and receive Holy Communion shall obtain complete forgiveness of sin and punishment."

I want to encourage you on Jesus' feast of Mercy that if you have been away from God, even if you feel you have done things God could not forgive, He is calling you. He is longing for you to come to Him and receive His mercy. Now is the time. Don't wait any longer to be reconciled with God. His merciful heart will always forgive you; all you need to do is ask.

Two grades experience Air Madness

BY: HEAVEN BACHELLE

De Smet High School did a food drive for two weeks in November, with donations given to the local food pantry. Grades 6-12 competed in their advisory classes for whichever group collected the most non-perishable food. Seniors and 8th graders who won the food drive will enjoy a trip to Air Madness, a trampoline park, in Harrisburg, SD, coming up in April.

Student council holds GoofOlympics

BY: CALEB NOLTE

On Monday, April 3, a draft was held during advisory time for De Smet High School students in grades 9-12. During the activity, students were drafted into 6 separate teams by 6 selected seniors. The teams then competed against each other in the GoofOlympics on Monday, April 10, in a variety of games and activities for the right to be crowned winners. This second-annual activity was sponsored and run by the student council.

DHS students compete in various activities during the second annual GoofOlympics competition with teams from grades 9-12.

Students celebrate women's history

BY: PHILOMENE HENRY

In March, in honor of Women's History month, 7th graders in Mrs. Lindsay Nolte's class made posters about famous and important women. They researched Frida Kahlo, Marie Curie, Malala Yousafzai, Amelia Earhart, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Balkissa Chaibou, Harriet Tubman and Wang Zhenyi, Michelle Obama, and Jane Goodall Frida Kahlo is actually a nickname; her real name is Magdalena Frida Carmen Kahlo y Calderon. She was born on July 6, 1906, and died on July 13, 1954, from Leukemia. Frida is from Mexico, and she is famous for her Artwork after an accident that changed her life. She got divorced in 1939 but remarried a year later in 1940.

Marie Curie was born on November 7, 1867, and died on July 4, 1934. Marie is known for her discovery of cancer treatment. She was the youngest of her family and both of her parents were doctors. She was a Polish born physicist and chemist and lived in Warsaw, Poland.

FFA stays busy this spring

BY: BROOKLYN COUGHLIN

Last week students from the De Smet FFA chapter competed in Spring CDE's in Howard on Monday. According to the national FFA organization, through Career and Leadership Development Events, members are "challenged to develop critical thinking skills and effective decision-making skills, foster teamwork and promote communication while recognizing the value of ethical competition and individual achievement." CDE events occur at the local, state and national levels. There were 8 groups of students that competed in Ag Business Management, Ag Mechanics, Agronomy, Dairy Cattle, Horse, Livestock, Natural Resources, and Nursery/Landscape activities. The chapter will attend the state convention April 16-18 in Brookings.

CELEBRATION

Plans begin for Old Settler's Day

BY AMY HALVERSON

Kingsbury Journal

Old Settlers Day will be celebrated the weekend of June 10-11 this year, and many are beginning to work on plans for De Smet's annual celebration. The De Smet Chamber of Commerce and the new Retail Committee formed within the Chamber already have many plans scheduled for the weekend.

Several activities are planned for Sat., June 10, beginning with a vendor fair from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., a parade at noon, inflatables on Main Street from 1-4 p.m. and Surfin Safari concert at 6:30 p.m., with gates opening at 5:30 p.m.

On Sun., June 11, a pancake feed, with free will donation, will be offered from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Legion Hall. At 3 p.m. The Gibson Girls will perform at the De Smet Event Center.

NEW RETAIL COMMITTEE

Annette Stensgaard-Schrock, owner of Bar S Chic, and Sommer Larson, owner of Riggins Rustic Design, came up with the idea of starting a Retail Committee as part of the Chamber.

Schrock and Larson believe in supporting small businesses. Now that they have joined together, opening a storefront location across from Maynard's in De Smet, they are looking for a way to meet more people and become more active within the community supporting their small businesses.

Their goal is to have small business owners work together to bring visibility to all the businesses in the area, to support and promote each business and to strive to be a part of the community.

The Retail Committee plans to have meetings with those who would like to participate, but attendance would not be required. The committee would brainstorm for ideas to showcase businesses to community members, along with consumers outside of the community.

The committee would like to come up with ideas for monthly events. For example, Schrock suggested special activities be offered for Mother's Day. Perhaps businesses would like to donate or volunteer to host a Mother's Day brunch or Muffins for Moms Day, offering muffins in each business for moms to enjoy while shopping.

Although they have not settled on a Mother's Day event yet, they have made plans to hold a vendor show from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. on Old Settlers Day. Space for vendors will be available in the grassy area adjacent to De Smet Farm Mutual, on the sidewalk and on the street if needed, since parking spots will be blocked off for the parade.

The money raised from the vendors' registration fees will be used to pay for advertising of not only the vendor show but throughout the year to promote the businesses in town. If successful, the plan is to make this an annual event.

Along with organizing the vendor show, Schrock and Larson are also working on activities for the youth, hoping to offer carnival-type games, face painting, balloon hats and cotton candy or snow cone machines.

With plans already in place and possibly more to come, it should be a fun-filled weekend for all who attend Old Settlers Day 2023.

SCHOOL BOARD

De Smet school's daycare dilemma

BY AMY HALVERSON

Kingsbury Journal

When the De Smet School Board met on Mon., April 10, Superintendent Abi Van Regenmorter informed the board of daycare issues and possible solutions for both school staff and others in the community.

Along with many other businesses in the area, the De Smet School is facing challenges with daycare shortages. Van Regenmorter was notified about three weeks earlier that one of the staff members would be losing her daycare at the end of May, and Van Regenmorter stated that there are at least three children of school staff members who attend the daycare set to close.

Van Regenmorter was concerned about the daycare shortage in town and how it could affect the school's staff. She said there was some discussion of possibly having a school daycare before, and with the latest daycare closing, she felt it was time to investigate further.

Van Regenmorter reached out to Jamie Lancaster, Executive Director of De Smet Development Corporation, who was able to find grants available to schools who offer daycare.

She also reached out to the EmBe (Empowering You to Be) group which is part of the Boys & Girls Club in Sioux Falls. They have childcare centers which are linked with Avera. They currently have a childcare center located in Mitchell.

Van Regenmorter told EmBe of the daycare shortage in De Smet and asked if they would have any interest in starting a childcare center in town. She was told that they are open to looking into a childcare center in De Smet. It would include a daycare, along with a before and after school care program.

Van Regenmorter believes that if EmBe would come to De Smet to provide childcare services, it would be a much better solution than the school trying to set up a daycare program themselves. She is working with EmBe to provide them with all the information they need to decide, and she even sent them a link to the daycare building that is for sale in town.

Van Regenmorter said if the school had daycare, it would accommodate up to 20 children. She went on to say that in her research of school daycares, the closest one she could find with a similar size as De Smet was the Viborg/Hurley School District. That school loses around $10,000 each year from the daycare operations.

"We are in NO way wanting to compete with existing daycares; we are just making sure our staff have a place to take their children," emphasized Van Regenmorter.

Van Regenmorter did reach out to several businesses in town to ask if they would be interested in supporting a school-run daycare. Businesses who would be willing to support the daycare could secure their employees spots at the daycare. Avera, Horizon, De Smet Farm Mutual, Kingsbury Electric and others said they would be interested.

Van Regenmorter and the board agreed that the best option would be to have EmBe come in and start a daycare, but if that doesn't work out, then the school may have to step in themselves.

DAYS GONE BY

2013: Major winter storm swoops into area

10 YEARS AGO

April 10, 2013

Winter storm Walda swooped into the area early Tuesday, bringing with it the promise of ice and snow until at least Wednesday and perhaps Thursday morning.

Forecasters predict that the De Smet and Lake Preston areas could receive as much as 10 to 15 inches of snow in addition to freezing rain and sleet. This area received a little more than two inches of snow on Tuesday.

The days of students using Encyclopedia Britannica to research school papers are long gone. The De Smet Education Enhancement Foundation recently paid for 12 Kindle ereaders for De Smet High School.

Students in Kathy Sanderson's senior English class are the first ones to use the e-readers.

Students share the 12 readers now, but the school hopes to acquire more of them by this time next year. Both Sanderson's grades 10-12 English classes and Penny Warne's grades 6-9 English classes will use them.

Fifty-five De Smet High School musicians participated March 27 in the region music contest in Watertown.

Soloists earning a superior rating are Lexis Kranz, soprano; Taylin Albrecht and Maria Huntimer, altos; Franchesca Poppinga, soprano and flute; Nathan Reynhout, tenor, and Andrew Foley, timpani and snare. Ensembles earning a superior rating are show choir, mixed octet, women's octet, percussion ensemble and woodwind choir. The brass choir and trumpet ensemble earned excellent ratings.

A Drakola correspondent report "Our postmaster, Mr. Pratt, has added to his office a stock of groceries, and now we won't have to go fifteen miles for a book of matches." A storm the evening of the 14th brought a Mr. Easeman to lose his way crossing the Vermillion bottom and narrowly escaped spending the night on the prairie. Returning from De Smet with a load of coal the same night, David Pratt lost his way, the horses got down in a snow drift, and after shoveling them out, he decided to spend the night leading them around and rubbing them down. Chamber Fun Night will celebrate end of winter this Saturday

BY AMY HALVERSON

Kingsbury Journal

It has been a long winter, and the Lake Preston Chamber/4 Lakes Forward is ready to celebrate its end with a Chamber Fun Night called "Winter's Been a Beach" on Sat., April 15, at the American Legion Post #63 in Lake Preston.

Everyone is welcome to join in this fun adult night out to relax, laugh, perhaps use this local event as a date night and donate to a great family currently enduring a struggle.

The night will begin with a social hour kicking off the event at 6:30 p.m. The Legion will be serving alcohol and have soda available for purchase. The Chamber will offer free water.

Food will be provided by the Lake Preston Chamber and its members. A variety of "beachin" snacks will be available for free will donation, with all proceeds going to the family of John McMasters.

The Chamber decided to donate the proceeds to the McMasters, since they have had such a positive influence on the community. When a family is in need, Chamber members believe in giving them a hand up to help with their situation.

The entertainment will begin at 7:30 p.m. and continue until around 8:30 or 9 p.m., depending on the crowd's reception and participation.

Although the Chamber is leaving the entertainment as a surprise for the night, they did share that it is brought by a gentleman who lives in Lake Preston, along with his wife and children. He has a background in music, but this year's entertainment will be a host-driven night of audience participation, laughs and fun.

The next Chamber/4 Lakes Forward event is the 34th Annual Lake Thompson Walleye Tournament on June 3-4.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

"Giving back to your community is the best feeling, and it hits you in the 'feels' when you see the thankful faces of the folks you affect," shared Tina Tvinnereim, on being a Chamber member.

The Lake Preston Chamber is always open to new members. You do not need to own a business to belong to this community-driven organization. Meetings are held the third Monday of every month at 6 p.m. at the Community Center.

For more information on the organization or to contact them, the group can be found on Facebook as Lake Preston Chamber of Commerce. They can be reached via email at LakePrestonChamberSD@gmail.com.

LOOKING BACK

1998: Group goes to commissioners to raise taxes

10 YEARS AGO April 10, 2013

While it was an easy job getting people to provide stories for the Lake Whitewood Rough Writers new book, it wasn't an easy task to sort through the stories and compile them into a book. Phyllis Nelson and Barb Jessen edited the book that came out last month, "Around the Dining Room Table with the Whitewood Rough Writers," a collection of first-person stories that grew out of the group formed in 1998. It has been well received by the community.

Trish Andersen is Lake Preston's new postmaster, having transferred from Badger.

"The hours there were just four hours, and I needed to go where I could have full time," she said.

She has worked as a postmaster for 15 years and 22 with the postal service. Andersen is married to Elden Andersen, a farmer.

COMMISSION: Hwy 81 work coming

FROM FRONT PAGE

Jensen informed the commissioners they will also need to have another conditional use hearing for GEVO to have nine more towers than previously requested. GEVO realized more energy than they had previously thought will be needed. They have also decided to use towers with smaller turbines, which are more efficient. GEVO will be going from 20 towers to 29 towers.

HIGHWAY 81 CONSTRUCTION PROJECT

Sheriff Steve Strande went over the upcoming Highway 81 construction project with commissioners. The plan is to try to straighten the road where the two lanes are, like it used to be. The plan also calls for a better turning lane to help prevent accidents.

The project will close one side of the two-lane road at a time, with traffic moving over to the other two lanes. Strande suggested they lower the speed limit to 45 miles per hour in the construction zone; he is hopeful that they can avoid having to cause delays in traffic by having to use a pilot car.

Construction on Highway 81 is set to begin on April 10, continuing throughout the summer.

LAKE THOMPSON WATER DISTRICT

States Attorney Gary Schumacher and Echo Steffensen covered details of the Lake Thompson Water District – Joint Powers Agreement with the commissioners. Schumacher also suggested a few minor edits to the agreement that was presented to them.

After a brief discussion, the agreement with the edits from Schumacher was approved by all the commissioners.

The election date was set for May 23, 2023, at the Kingsbury County Courthouse. Since only people registered to vote who reside inside of the water district can vote, they believe there will only be around 52 possible eligible voters.

Schumacher will draft the ballot and have it ready by the end of the week, so it is available for the required amount of time before the election for absentee voting.

There will be no cost to the county once this election is complete.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT

Natalie Remund, Human Resources, went over the 2023 highway department's contract with the changes she had made after negotiations with the union. Most of the contract changes were to align the union contract with the new county employee handhook

Some of the changes that were made to the contract:

- Allowing employees in probationary status to join the union
 - Juneteenth was added to holidays
- Vacation leave starts to accrue at hire date, but can't be used until probationary period ends
- Allos up to 40 hours of time off for funeral of immediate family member
- Family insurance changed to match county, with the county paying 80 percent of the coverage.
- Commissioners agreed to the new contract with the changes made, and it was signed. The contract will be given to the union to sign.
- Commissioners thanked Remund for all her hard work completing the union contract for them.

OTHER

- The ALICE (Alert, Lock-down, Inform, Counter and Evacuate) training was postponed because of the weather and will be rescheduled later.
- Tammy Anderson, Director of Equalization, informed commissioners that the new pickup was inspected by Palmlund Automotive and passed all the major inspections but asked for approval to replace three belts that were cracking and the rear shocks since one was leaking. The commissioners approved the repairs for a total of $619.03.
- Echo Steffensen read Ordinance 66 for the first time during the meeting, which allows the county to conduct state and federal criminal background checks of applicants who fall into certain categories of employment, such as working with money. The second reading will be held at the next scheduled commissioners meeting April 18.
- David Sorenson, Highway Superintendent, informed the commissioners that one of the doors on the shop needs to be replaced. Schubloom Construction gave him a bid of about $11,000. Doug Kazmerzak asked Sorenson to get other bids for comparison.
- Sorenson presented the commissioners with an overweight request for Kingston LLC. Although the commissioners appreciated Kingston providing a detailed schedule of the concrete they were requesting to haul in, they were concerned with the potential damage that could be caused on the soft gravel roads. After some discussion, the commissioners all agreed to deny the request.

LPHS SENIOR FEATURE: Garrett Kruger

Written By: Jonah Denison
This week's senior feature is Garrett Kruger. His parents are Made Wisnumurti and Heather Kruger. He lives with his mother, Heather, her boyfriend Paul, and his sister Dani. His father lives in Bali, Indonesia, with his other sisters, Shita, Risa, and Arshia, and his baby brother Naya. He also has four pets. His dogs' names are Lily, Dory, and Blue, and his cat's name is Shadow. Garrett has been involved in many activities throughout high school including basketball, football, choir, show choir, All-State show choir, All-State choir, One-Act play, All-School musical and marching band.

Five words to describe him would be outgoing, spontaneous, active, ambitious, and dedicated. Garrett's favorite teacher would have to be Mrs. Erstad, because "she was super welcated. Garrett's favorite teacher would have to be Mrs. Erstad, because "she was super welcoming and is always open to talk." If he could take any teacher to college with him it would also be Mrs. E., because she's someone he can talk to if he needs help in life. His favorite class is U.S Government as he enjoys learning about the laws we have to abide by and how the House of Representatives functions. Out of all the many different lunches at school, the orange chicken would have to be his favorite. His favorite school memory is the time in elementary when the class had an argument about apple sauce. His favorite year of high school has been his senior year, because it's been the easiest year so far. A social trend that Garrett is embarrassed to be apart of would have to be Tik Tok dances.

Garretts senior quote is "Only those who have suffered long, can see the light within the shadows" by Roronoa Zoro. His plans for the future are undecided at this time, although he is thinking about attending a program to learn about HVAC. In the future, Garrett hopes to be successful, and hopes for future high schoolers at LPHS to "enjoy their time here before they graduate."

HE WAFFLE

Breakfast. Whether you start the morning with a good bowl of cereal, a cheesy omelet, or a deliciously sweet piece of French toast, it is a meal that everyone can appreciate. But there is one food in the realm of breakfast foods that stands out to many: the waffle. Waffles are a common food in many American households, but there is a lot of history that comes with this delicious food.

Waffles have been around since over 4,000 years ago when the hotcakes were cooked on heated stones and flipped so both sides cooked evenly. Some time during the Iron Age came griddles and iron plates.

In ancient Greece and in the later Middle Ages, variations of these cakes were made, and were called obleios (wafers). The first true waffle recipe was not made until the 14th century, but it was only a waffle in name. These 14th century waffles were missing something that today's waffles include: a leavening agent. A leavening agent wasn't added until the 15th century, where the classic food began to get its classic grid Waffles first came to America with Dutch immigrants who settled in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania in the 17th Century. The word waffle was first used within the English language in 1725, and its various recipes spread throughout England and America. So, whether you eat a pancake, a waffle, or a bagel for breakfast, we can all remember and be grateful for the creation of the waffle.

CARTHAGE NEWS

1983: Spring activities around Carthage

BY LORELEE NELSON

The Prairie Lutheran Parish returns to the spring rotation April 15, with Trinity Lutheran at Carthage at 8 a.m., Immanuel Lutheran of rural Iroquois at 9:30 a.m., and First Lutheran at Artesian at 11 a.m. Trinity Lutheran Sunday School is Wednesdays at 4:30 p.m. at Lorelee Nelson's. WELCA will meet Thurs., April 20 at 2 p.m. at Lorelee Nelson's.

Family and friends gathered for the funeral of Gladys Button on Monday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran, postponed from Saturday because of the weather.

Mark and Lisa Hinkley, De Smet, were Sunday and Thursday visitors with Harriet Hattervig.

SPRING ACTIVITIES

(According to The Carthage Newspapers from 1983)

A carnival was sponsored by the Loyal Ladies with the usual games and fun, plus new features of Squirt the Candle and Goofy Golf. Proceeds went to the city library.

A spaghetti supper was hosted by the Rodeo Club, including homemade ice cream and pies.

The Vials of Life were distributed at the Legion Hall.

The Nazarene Church welcomed their new pastor, Reverend Royal Archer and his wife and family.

The Farmers State Bank bowling team came home with the first-place trophy from the Howard Women's City Bowling Tournament. Members of the team were Florence Carman, Colette Anderson, Hilda Hamro, Alma Sneesby and Lenora Barrick.

Due to inclement weather, the annual Easter Egg Hunt was held at the auditorium with 50 children participating. The event was sponsored by the Carthage Community Club and Modern Woodmen of America.

The Carthage Art Club was represented at the Huron College Centennial Art in the Park with a booth.

The Carthage Auxiliary hosted their annual Gold Star Mother's Tea. Jennie Schnee, Freda Gillam and Hattie Tracewell were the Gold Star Mothers attending.

BANCROFT NEWS

What have your children taught you?

BY ROSE GROTHE

Stewert (Woodie) Laurer was the speaker at church on Easter. He spoke on the seventh chapter of the book of Daniel in the Old Testament and on Matthew 28 in the New Testament, telling of Jesus' crucifixion and His resurrection, as well as how He was given dominion over everything at that time, by God, His Father. He has also commissioned us to go into all the world and preach the Gospel.

Laurer, an Orthodox Presbyterian missionary to Japan, gave a slide presentation of his work after the service. Thank you for an interesting sermon, as well as an informative preview of the work in Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Richie, Abbi and Emily and Mr. and Mrs. Vin Perry, Tate, Wyatt and Kileigh Winn were Easter guests of Linda Perry. Wyatt and Kileigh spent the weekend with the Vin Perrys.

Janice White, Brookings, accompanied her mother Rose Grothe to church, and then they went on to Huron for dinner.

Thursday, I was treated to a very spectacular ride coming into De Smet from the east. They had had more ice covering than we had here, and with the late afternoon sun shining on grasses, stubble, deciduous trees, highline wires, fenceposts, weeds and even the snowbanks alongside the road, everything was sparkling like diamonds. It was absolutely stunning, mile after mile, breath-taking beauty like I'd never seen before in all of my 'winter ... almost spring.'

As I read Prairie Tracks last week, two articles particularly were interesting to me, the one about words and the one about rainfall. I agreed with what the writer said about words being negative or positive. I had written my thoughts out years ago, made a copy and hung it on the bulletin board of a diner, expressing that words can be VERY hurtful, especially when used with a certain tone of voice or threatening body language.

A patron came in right after I'd hung it up, paused to see what was on the bulletin board, took down my write-up about words and threw it in the trash. I told the owner. She got the paper out of the garbage, hung it up again and said, "It's my bulletin board, and I'll put whatever I want on it."

Mr. Glanzer's article telling how one person had to have more rain in his rain gauge than anyone else, reminded me of another person who had to have the most.

We had a large rain, something like five inches or so, and the guy said it filled up a five-gallon bucket before it stopped raining. He then added that when he went to tip the bucket over to empty it, there was no bottom in it. How's that for a little bit of exaggeration?

HISTORY (CONT. FROM LAST WEEK)

While waiting to have my order filled, I reached over and picked up a magazine. On the cover was a beautiful Powers model. Looking more closely, I discovered that it was our old friend Betty. Paging back to the story behind the picture, I found that Betty worked for Power Model Agency in the daytime and as a chorus girl in a night club in New York in the evening.

Seeing that the time was slipping away, I hurried home to rest for a while before a very important engagement in the evening, dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria and then a show.

Settling back for a short nap, I was roused by an insistent ringing of my doorbell. Imagine my surprise, on opening the door, to find John, a representative of the Fuller Brush Company. He had been canvassing the apartments in the section of the city where I lived. Seeing that I wasn't so interested in his products, he hastened to give me a free gift, a toenail brush.

Sitting down to visit with me for a while, he told me that Don was still a bachelor and a very competent milkman back home in Osceola; though it appears he has a few matrimonial ideas from his frequent visits to see the housekeeper at Rev. Jack's house. (Continued next week).

THINGS MY CHILDREN TAUGHT ME

- 1. If you spray hairspray on dust bunnies and run over them with roller blades, they can ignite.
- 2. A three-year-old's voice is louder than 200 adults in a crowded restaurant.
- 3. You should not toss baseballs when the ceiling fan is on.
- 4. A ceiling fan can hit a baseball a lo-o-o-ng way.

ESMOND NEWS

1916: To incorporate or not to incorporate the town

BY MARLIN CLENDENING

The Clendenings had as visitors for Easter, Roy Clendening, Baylee and Abby Clendening from Belle Fourche, Taylor Clendening and Damian from Watertown.

The Craig and Katee Olinger family from Woonsocket came for Easter services in Esmond followed by fellowship, an Easter egg hunt, the annual scavenger hunt, the Clendenings' Easter dinner in Carthage and a visit to Grandma Jeanette in Mitchell.

The Steve DeJungs spent Easter with their daughter Haley and husband of Blainville, Minn.

Adaline Reilley was a guest of the Dean Reilley family for Easter dinner in Iroquois.

Mark and Kara Aughenbaugh hosted for Easter dinner, Rick and Vicky Aughenbaugh and Kara's family, the Nielsens from Brandt, S.D.

Annette and Charemon Dunham attended the Iroquois American Legion meeting in Iroquois last week; Leo and Selma were home for Easter.

Curt, Lori, Hannah and Rosalie Wehlander visited Mike and Dianne (Wehlander) Ray at Bella Vista, Ark., over the Easter weekend.

Lori Wehlander has been in Pierre this week on a business trip.

Travis and Michele Bornitz family had as guests Saturday, Michele's mother and brother's family from the Sioux Falls and Harrisburg areas.

Richard and Nancy Bornitz had as Easter guests, the Travis and Michele Bornitz family and Kim Sherman and girls.

Remember, at Easter, there's "no gloom in the tomb."

Joanne Schlueter and Marilyn Skyberg visited the Jeff DeBenedettis in Tracy, Calif. While there, they enjoyed watching Kimball High School's presentation of the stage show "Oklahoma." Schlueter's granddaughter Caitlyn was stage manager of the production. She is a junior and has had stage manager duties on several major presentations during her three years at Kimball High. They also watched Joanne's grandson Tristen play in a basketball tournament.

Joanne Schlueter was in Canton, Ohio, this past week, where she coached the Jazz Dolls baton twirling corp. The group are national champions and will be representing the United States in world competition held in Liverpool, England, in August.

The Gene Schlueters, Rita Anderson and Glenda Haines were Easter dinner guests of the Gordie Skyberg's in De Smet.

HISTORY NOTE

1916: There was a move on foot to incorporate the town of Esmond. Meetings were held at the Esmond State Bank concerning this. On July 25, an election was held as to incorporation, with 36 voting in favor and 14 against. Incorporation was complete in September, and the first town officers were Lou Wigton, C.R. Boyd, C.O. Watts, Jas. Patton, E.B. Grotta and W.F. Scofield.

The county commissioners divided the property of Esmond township after Esmond was incorporated. The new town received $200 in cash, an eight-foot road grader, the 1913 code of South Dakota law, the 1915 session law of the State of South Dakota and the artesian well located on the business street of the town of Esmond.

IROQUOIS NEWS

1933: No lights to be on

April 10, 1913

While returning home from hunting in Indiana the other day, a man found his neighbor leaving the house. Being of a jealous disposition, the hunter drew his gun and filled the other fellow's legs with fine shot. A lawsuit followed, and it was learned that the neighbor was there to borrow the local paper. The lawsuit cost $75; the doctor bill was $25, whereas $1.50 would have saved the whole trouble.

The eastbound morning passenger train that leaves Iroquois at 9 a.m. jumped the track Saturday morning between Arlington and Volga, the engine, tender, mail, baggage car and smoker going into the ditch, the chair car turning crosswise of the track and only the sleeper remaining on the rails Engineer Neil McKay was badly scalded and had one shoulder dislocated, and while his injuries are painful, he will recover. Fireman Claude Oviatt escaped with a few bruises, being thrown entirely clear of the wreck. The baggageman was slightly injured, and the passengers escaped with nothing more serious than a few bruises.

The train was running downgrade and went off the track at a sharp curve. The engine plowed its nose into the ground, and the tender sailed over and beyond it nearly one hundred feet. The baggage car went to the north, the mail car to the south, and all the equipment was badly wrecked. It is almost a miracle that no lives were lost.

The train was in the charge of Conductor Dan Glennon. The injured people were put into the sleeper and taken to Huron as soon as another engine could be run to the place of the accident, and the wrecking crew cleared up the track so that trains were running that night.

Henry C. Strub, one of our prosperous farmers, has made the purchase of a Fisher & Greer, a 35 horsepower Studebaker automobile. This is the 1913 model, with the latest devices such as electric self-starter, lights and extra seats.

April 13, 1933

After the city council, at its regular April meeting, voted down the proposition to turn on the streetlights at the reduced offer of approximately $10 a month and laid the light question on the table for a period of thirty days, a petition was circulated requesting the council to rescind its action.

The petition signed by 57 resident voters requested that the streetlights be turned on in order to avoid the putting into effect of the increased rate on individual electricity patrons, the service company having agreed that the increase rate to private users would be cancelled if street lighting was resumed.

Mayor Irvin declined to call a special meeting in compliance with the wishes of the petitioners on the grounds that the subject had been disposed.

The meeting, however, was called for Friday night by the city auditor on authority of Alderman Stoner. At this meeting the petition was placed on file, but its requests ignored. No motion was made to comply with the request, and the council adjourned without taking any action, leaving the street lighting subject unchanged and tabled for 30 days from April 3. The increased rate on private users is therefore in effect.

At this writing the situation has not changed except that considerably more than the amount of money previously paid for streetlights has been shifted to the individual patrons, and yet we have no streetlights. In other words, it is costing us more without streetlights than it did when we had the lights, which is a peculiar and novel way of saving money.

SENIOR FEATURE: KASEY BURMEISTER

Don't procrastinate

Kasey Burmeister, the daughter of Melissa Burmeister and James Burmeister, has attended Iroquois for much of her school career.

Kasey has participated in band, jazz band, chorus, HOSA, FCCLA, drama and One-Act play. She has been selected as a Student of the Month and was inducted into the National Honor Society.

Kasey is unsure of her plans after graduation but does want to attend college eventually.

She would like to advise underclassmen not to procrastinate. If you have time to do the schoolwork, get it done. If possible, even work ahead because you never know when one teacher will decide to have either a test or a project to do along with your other work due from the other classes.

Junior prom is Kasey's best memory. She liked setting up with all her classmates and enjoyed participating in activities together with the class.

Her motto is "take life one step at a time. Life is going to throw some stones and boulders at you, but if you take one step at a time, you will overcome them."

What Kasey is going to miss the most is the structure of school.

"I always knew that when I woke up in the morning, I would go to school, and during the summer, I always knew I would go back to school," said Kasey. "It's going to be weird that when I graduate, I won't be returning to Iroquois school when my summer is over. I am going to miss all the friends that I made along the way in this crazy journey we've taken, which is coming to an end."

SENIOR FEATURE: SKYLAR OWENS

Change accompanied by discomfort is okay

Skylar Owens is the daughter of Crystal Owens. She has participated at Iroquois School from the beginning of kindergarten.

Skylar plans on taking time to work for a year or two and then attend college. She has participated in FFA, FCCLA

One outstanding memory is winning first place in HOSA at state and then winning third place at nationals.

Her motto: "Any change, even change for the better, is always accompanied by discomfort." - Arnold Bennett.

Skylar will miss everyone, seeing her friends and sharing the day-to-day basics with everyone. She is going to miss how her friends have helped her through so much.

AUDITOR/STATES ATTORNEY Gary Schumacher, States Attorney, joined the meeting.

Steffensen and Schumacher presented for approval and signature the following Joint Powers Agreement between the Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources and the Kingsbury County Auditor by and through the Kingsbury County County Commission.

JOINT POWERS AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND NATURAL RESOURCES AND THE KINGSBURY COUNTY AUDITOR BY AND THROUGH THE KINGSBURY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Joint Powers Agreement made and entered into this ____ day of ____, 2023, by and between the South Dakota Department of Agriculture and Natural Resources, Joe Foss Building, 523 East Capitol Avenue,

Pierre, SD 57501- DANR) and the Kingsbury County Auditor by and through the Kingsbury County Commissioners, PO Box 196, De Smet, SD 57231 (the Auditor (Collectively the Parties hereinafter) pursuant to the authority in SDCL Chapter 1-24. WHEREAS, the South Dakota Board of Water and Natural Resources has the authority pursuant to SDCL chapter 46A-18 to review initiating petitions and conduct elections for the creation of water project districts and for the election of the initial board of directors for such districts, and DANR serves as staff for the Board in reviewing such petitions and conducting such elections; and WHEREAS, DANR has the authority to enter this agreement pursuant to SDCL Chapter 1-24; and WHEREAS, the Kingsbury County Commissioners (Commissioners) are authorized to enter this agreements pursuant to SDCL 1-24, SDCL Title 7 and its obligation to review initiating petitions and conduct elections for the creation of water project districts and for the election of the initial board of directors for such districts pursuant to SDCL 6-16. WHEREAS, SDCL 46A-18-15 provides that the Board of Water and Natural Resources is to perform the duties of the county auditor under SDCL 6-16-4 through 6-16-6, inclusive in conducting elections for conducting the formation election for the proposed Lake Thompson Water Project District, as well as the possible subsequent election of the initial board of directors of such district, but DANR desires to utilize the expertise of the Auditor in undertaking such duties on behalf of the Board; WHEREAS, DANR and the Auditor believes it is a more efficient use of scarce state and local resources to enter into this joint undertaking for the review of the initiating petitions and for conducting the formation election for the proposed Lake Thompson Water Project District, as well as the possible subsequent election of the initial board of directors of such district; and believe that such an agreement is to their mutual benefit and, WHEREAS, in a show of support

WHEREAS, in a show of support for the formation of the Lake Thompson Water Project District, the Commissioners have submitted a letter to the Board of Water and Natural Resources indicating the deposit or payment requirement for the publication and election cost as set forth in SDCL 6-12-2 will be waived.

NOW THEREFORE IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED AS FOLLOWS:

1. JOINT UNDERTAKING:

a. The Auditor and DANR shall jointly undertake the verification of the initiating petitions to verify that the petition complies with the statutory requirements and contains the valid signatures of the required number of registered voters. The Auditor shall report such findings to the Commissioners and DANR shall make its recommendation to the Board of Water and Natural Resources for its findings pursuant to SDCL 46A-18-13 and SDCL 46A-18-14.
b. If the Board of Water and Natural Resources determines that the petition complies with the statutory requirements and the project is feasible and conforms to the public convenience and welfare, DANR and the Auditor will cooperate in selecting a date for the election on the creation of the water project district. The Auditor agrees to cause the appropriate notices to be published for the election and agrees to conduct the election in accordance with the applicable requirements of SDCL chapter 6-16.

Continued from preceding page c. The Auditor and DANR agree that as per the desire of the Commissioners the costs of conducting the election will be waived. d. Upon completion of the canvas of the election results by the Commissioners, the Auditor will certify the election results to the Board of Water and Natural Resources. 2. FUNDING OUT: This Agreement depends upon the continued availability of appropriated funds and expenditure authority from the Legislature and from the federal government for this purpose. If for any reason the Legislature or the federal government fails to appropriate funds or grant expenditure authority, or funds become unavailable by operation of law or federal funds reductions, then this Agreement, or the extent of access granted hereunder, may be 3 terminated by either party. Termination for any of these reasons is not a default by either party nor does it give rise to a claim against either party.

3. EFFECTIVE DATE: This Agreement shall commence upon the execution hereof effective the day and year above first written and continue for one year unless amended or terminated or extended pursuant to the terms hereof.

4. ASSIGNMENT AND AMENDMENT: This Agreement may not be assigned without the express prior written consent of the parties. This Agreement may not be amended except in writing, which writing shall be expressly identified as a part hereof and be signed by an authorized representative of each of the parties hereto.

5. ASSIGNMENT AND AMENDMENT: This Agreement can be terminated upon thirty (30) days written notice by either party and may be terminated for cause by either party at any time with or without notice.
6. RIGHTS AND REMEDIES: The rights and remedies herein conferred shall be cumulative and not alternative and shall be in addition and not in substitution of or in derogation of rights and remedies conferred by any other agreements between the parties hereto or by any applicable law. The failure of a party to enforce law. The failure of a party to enforce strict performance of any covenant, promise, term, or condition herein contained, shall not operate as a hereof be strictly performed. 7. ADMINISTRATION OF AGREEMENT: The parties acknowledge that no separate entity as contemplated in SDCL 1-24-4 is being created to implement this Agreement, and that the cooperative undertakings herein described shall be administered by the Secretary of DANR for DANR, and the Kingsbury County Auditor for the Auditor, or their designees as contemplated in SDCL 1-24-5. The approval of the Secretary of DANR, for DANR, and the Kingsbury County Auditor for the Auditor, as required by SDCL 1-24-6, is signified by their execution 4 of this Agreement. The parties acknowledge that DANR will file a true copy of this Agreement with the Office of Attorney General and the Legislative Research Council within 14 days of the execution hereof, as required by SDCL 1-24-6.1. 8. NOTICES: Any notice or other communication required under this

Agreement shall be in writing and on behalf of the

when received by such party.
9. TERMINATION: In the event that any provision of this Agreement shall be held unenforceable or invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, such holding shall not invalidate or render unenforceable any other provision hereof.

10. MERGER: All other prior discussions, communications and representations concerning the subject matter of this Agreement are superseded by the terms of this Agreement, and except as specifically provided herein, this Agreement constitutes the entire agreement with respect to the subject matter hereof.

11. GOVERNING LAW AND VENUE: This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of South Dakota, without regard to any conflicts of law principles, decisional law, or statutory provision which would require or permit the application of another or affecting this Agreement shall be in the Circuit Court, Sixth Judicial Circuit, Hughes County, South Dakota.

12. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY: Nothing in this Agreement is intended to waive the immunity of the State of South Dakota, including DANR, or its officers, agents and employees. The State and DANR fully retain all immunities and 5 defenses provided by law with regard to any action based on this Agreement.

13. THIRD PARTY BENEFICIARIES

This Agreement is intended only to govern the rights and interests of the parties named herein. It is not intended to, does not and may not be relied upon to create any rights, substantial or procedural, enforceable at law by any third party in any matters, civil or criminal. 14. NECESSARY APPROVALS: By the signature of their representative below, DANR and the Commissioners certify that approval of this Agreement has been obtained by that governmental entity's governing body or officer pursuant to SDCL 1-24-3 and 1-24-6 by ordinance, resolution or other appropriate means, and that the representative is authorized to sign on the party's behalf. IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have set their hands effective on the day and year first written.

TRANSPORT / BULK FUEL DELIVERY DRIVER

Cole's Petroleum in Madison, SD is looking to add another transport / bulk fuel delivery driver to help fullfill the needs of our growing customer base. We are a fifth generation family owned and operated business. All of us here at Cole's Petroleum take great pride in taking care of our customers and creating a family like team that works together for everyone's success. Our new team member would need to have or be able to obtain a Class A CDL with a Hazardous Materials endorsement. Direct experience with the position is not a necessity as we are able to do plenty of hands on training and are just as interested in finding someone who wants to be part of a successful team, is internally motivated to do a good job, and is looking to advance themselves and their success. General duties include driving safely, loading and unloading fuel and gas, inspecting and light maintenance on your equipment, and helping co-workers. A general work week is Monday – Friday with an occasional day on the weekend during the busy seasons, and home all evenings. We offer industry leading pay, 401K match up to 6%, paid vacations and holidays, health insurance stipend, yearly safety / performance bonus, and hiring bonus. Please email resume to cole1002@iw.net or call Justin Cole at (605)-256-3082 for more information.

I can see clearly now

JOHNNY NASH MAY HAVE started his song with "I can see clearly now, the rain has gone," but what about someone with cataracts? They cannot easily see "all the obstacles in their way," and there are not "dark clouds that make you blind" like in the song, but cataracts do cause vision clouding.

Cataracts is the name given to the clouding of the lenses in the eyes. These lenses allow light to pass through the eye to the retina, where the signal is sent to the brain so we can perceive the world around us. Common symptoms of cataracts include blurred, clouded or dimmed vision. They can also make it more difficult to see at night or cause "halos" around lights.

While anyone can develop cataracts, it is most common as people age, with over 50 percent of people over the age of 80 having cataracts. However, there are some infants who are born with cataracts due to genetic issues, trauma or infection prior to birth. Most commonly, cataracts develop due to age-related changes as the proteins and fibers that create the lenses of the eye break down or clump together, causing clouding of the lenses.

Because cataracts typically develop slowly over time, the effects may not be obvious until the progression is advanced. While it is common for cataracts to affect both eyes, often one eye progresses faster or is worse than the other. Cataracts can also affect different areas of the eyes. The area affected will result in different problems with vision.

Cataracts affecting the center of the lenses may cause issues with reading or yellowing of vision, while cataracts at the edges of the lenses cause issues with judging distance, differentiating colors and triggering double vision in the affected eye.

The last type of cataract is when the back of the lenses is affected, reducing vision in bright light and making reading difficult. This type also tends to be faster growing than other types of cataracts.

Factors that can increase the

risk of developing cataracts include modifiable and unmodifiable things. Factors that you can change include excessive exposure to bright sunlight, excessive alcohol use, smoking, obesity and prolonged use of corticosteroid medications. Age is the only truly unmodifiable factor; diabetes, previous eye injuries or surgeries and high blood pressure can be controlled.

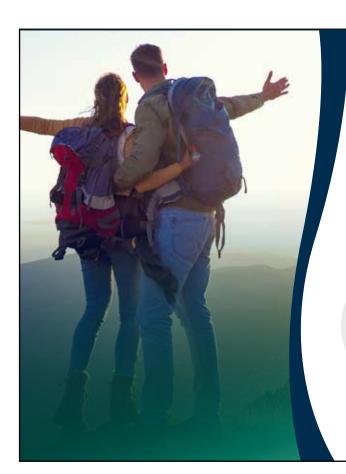

The most common treatment for cataracts is surgery. This surgery involves removing the clouded lens and replacing it with a clear, artificial lens. Once placed, these lenses are permanently left in the eye.

This is generally an outpatient surgery, meaning you do not need to spend the night in the hospital. The procedure is relatively quick, with low risk of complications. Most people heal within a few weeks. Afterward, you can enjoy "that rainbow that you've been praying for" and every "bright, bright, sunshiny day."

ROAD WORK

Reconstruction project near Arlington to begin

A reconstruction project is scheduled to begin on U.S. Highway 14/U.S. Highway 81 south of Arlington. On Mon., April 10, 2023, the contractor plans to implement two-way traffic controls.

Two-way traffic will be maintained on the eastbound lanes of Highway 14/81 for the first half of the project. Once grading and surfacing are complete in the westbound lanes, two-way traffic will switch to the westbound lanes.

When the westbound lanes are finished, realignment of Highway 81 and the reconstruction of the eastbound lanes on Highway 14 will begin.

Bowes Construction of Brookings, S.D., is the prime contractor for the $7.5 million construction project. The overall project is scheduled to be complete by Nov. 1, 2023.

Find additional information about this project on the South Dakota Department of Transportation website at https://dot.sd.gov/arlington-pcn-05hu.

Is spring here?

These common merganser ducks finally found some open water at Lake Carthage on Monday. The part that looks like a cloudy sky is actually some remaining ice, but the ducks didn't seem to mind. Lots of water birds coming through. (Photo by Donna Palmlund)

LOOK WHAT I CAUGHT

Open water walleyes

Cody Magnuson (left) of Madison and Rich Waldner of Huron got in on some warmer-weather fishing over the weekend. Lake Francis Case is open from the dam down to several miles south of Chamberlain. Minnows are bringing a premium price at many of the bait shops on the river, and it would be advantageous to purchase bait before departing as some shops have run out over the weekend. Winterkill in small ponds has caused a temporary shortage of bait. (Photo by Jim Girard)
