A message from Chancellor Jennifer L. Mnookin:

Congratulations to the University of Wisconsin–Madison Class of 2023! I am incredibly proud of all you have accomplished during your time here. Thank you for the lasting impact you’ve made on our campus and community.

As a new graduate of UW–Madison, you are well prepared for whatever you wish to pursue next. Your time with us was greatly impacted by a global pandemic, and you nonetheless persevered with strength and grace. You have succeeded in a rigorous academic environment and further developed not only your critical thinking skills, but also your ability to lead, innovate, and work collaboratively with others. You are, without a doubt, ready to tackle the challenges ahead, and I look forward to seeing and celebrating how you choose to make your mark.

To the family and friends here with us today, thank you for being an integral part of your Badger’s success. Each of you helped these graduates arrive at this momentous occasion.

My sincere congratulations to everyone celebrating with us today. It is an honor to welcome our newest graduates to the Badger alumni family. I wish you the best of luck on your next adventures and will look forward to welcoming you back to UW–Madison as esteemed alumni in the years ahead.

Congratulations and On, Wisconsin!

Chancellor Jennifer L. Mnookin

Chancellor Jennifer L. Mnookin

CHANCELLOR

Jennifer L. Mnookin

Jennifer L. Mnookin was named chancellor of the University of Wisconsin–Madison in May 2022 and took office in August.

She is the 30th leader in the university’s 175-year history.

In her first few months at UW–Madison, Chancellor Mnookin has focused on listening and learning about the greatest opportunities and challenges at our world-class research institution. She has been impressed with the scope and breadth of scholarly research on campus, the university’s dedication to educational excellence, and our deep commitment to using research and education to solve problems, strengthen communities, and help people live healthier, better lives throughout the state and well beyond — what we at UW–Madison call the Wisconsin Idea.

Before arriving in Madison, Chancellor Mnookin served as an academic leader and scholar at several top public research universities. Most recently, she served as dean of the University of California, Los Angeles School of Law, where she spent 17 years on the faculty. Before that, she was a professor of law at the University of Virginia School of Law and a visiting professor of law at Harvard Law School. She is also a nationally recognized expert on issues relating to law and science, and one of the most-cited scholars in the nation in the field of evidence law. She served for six years on the National Academy of Sciences’ Committee on Science, Technology, and Law, and co-chaired a group of senior advisors for a President’s Council of Advisors on Science and Technology report. In 2020 she was elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

She received her AB from Harvard University, her JD from Yale Law School, and a PhD in history and social study of science and technology from MIT.

She and her husband, political scientist Joshua Foa Dienstag, have two adult children.

INTERIM PROVOST

Eric M. Wilcots

Eric M. Wilcots is serving as the interim provost and vice chancellor for academic affairs. He is the dean of the College of Letters & Science and the Mary C. Jacoby Professor of Astronomy in the Department of Astronomy, his home department since 1995. He was appointed dean in 2020. Prior to assuming the role, he served as deputy dean of the college and associate dean for research, as well as associate dean for natural sciences.

While serving as interim provost, Wilcots will work with Chancellor Mnookin and campus leadership to be sure we move forward on the strategic priorities of the University of Wisconsin–Madison. As dean of L&S, he is focused on creating an environment where all can succeed and thrive, have access to world-class teaching and learning environments, advance the research mission, as well as establish and cultivate industry, community, and foundation partnerships.

Wilcots’s research focuses on the evolution and gas content of individual galaxies and galaxy groups through the lens of radio wavelengths. He has been integral to the UW’s involvement in the Southern African Large Telescope (SALT) project, the largest optical telescope in the southern hemisphere. He is also a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Dedicated to the Wisconsin Idea, Wilcots is the current co-chair of the statewide steering committee for the Wisconsin Science Festival.

Wilcots received his undergraduate degree in astrophysical sciences from Princeton University and his PhD in astronomy from the University of Washington.

HONORARY DEGREE

Cecil Garvin

A highly respected Ho-Chunk elder, Cecil Garvin has devoted much of his professional life to the preservation and promotion of the Ho-Chunk language and culture. He is a primary author of many of the language materials presently used in K–12 education to teach Ho-Chunk, and he coauthored a foundational Ho-Chunk language text and workbook for adults.

Garvin, whose Ho-Chunk name is Waacanažiga (“He Stands on the Boat”), spent many years as an associate lecturer at UW–Madison, where he taught and served as a master speaker consultant for Ho-Chunk language classes and contributed to linguistic research, including doctoral dissertations. UW–Madison occupies land that is the ancestral home of the Ho-Chunk Nation.

Garvin is a supremely fluent speaker of Ho-Chunk — one of only a few remaining. He has instructed learners of all ages and abilities in community settings as well as through dedicated language camps and classes offered through the Ho-Chunk Nation. He has been a trailblazer in working to find ways to bring Indigenous language to people who live outside of Native communities, and he has contributed significantly to tools used in remote and home learning, including the Ho-Chunk Nation’s language-learning app and online dictionary.

A decorated veteran, Garvin served three tours of duty in Vietnam as a U.S. Army special forces officer. As a tribal official for the Ho-Chunk Nation, he played an instrumental role in the early days of its government, establishing the Ho-Chunk Nation’s health department and promoting economic development through gaming and other means. He is a member and leader of the Deer clan. He remains a respected participant in government and served for many years on the Ho-Chunk traditional court. He resides in Madison.

BOARD OF REGENTS

Karen Walsh

Karen Walsh is director of the BerbeeWalsh Foundation, a family foundation dedicated to human and animal health and welfare. Since 2006, the foundation has awarded more than $8 million in grants in Wisconsin, including a gift to the University of Wisconsin Hospitals and Clinics that created the BerbeeWalsh Department of Emergency Medicine. Walsh was a newscaster and reporter for news outlets including Wisconsin Public Radio prior to serving for 23 years in a variety of public information and communications positions at UW–Madison. She retired in 2005 as the assistant dean for external relations in the College of Engineering, directing alumni and donor communications, news media relations, and industry communications. Her honors include publications awards from the National Association of Government Communicators, the university’s Bollinger Academic Staff Achievement Award, and Philanthropist of the Year from the Dane County Humane Society. Walsh currently serves as the president of the University of Wisconsin System Board of Regents. A native of Columbus, Wisconsin, Walsh holds bachelor’s and master’s degrees in journalism from UW–Madison. She serves on a number of nonprofit boards, including the Board of Visitors at the UW–Madison School of Veterinary Medicine, the Madison Cat Project, and the Access Community Health Centers Community Partners Board. She is also a past president of the Madison Opera Board of Trustees. She and her husband, Dr. James Berbee, live in Madison.

BOARD OF REGENTS

Amy Blumenfeld Bogost

Amy Blumenfeld Bogost began practicing law in 1989 in the areas of criminal defense and civil rights. More recently her practice has focused on representation of victims of sensitive crimes and federal Title IX. She started a pro bono training for attorneys to aid and represent survivors of sexual assault and those going through the Title IX hearing process. Bogost has provided training on implementation of Title IX at Tribal colleges and has helped organize and teach at the National Tribal College, co-sponsored and located at University of Wisconsin Law School. Bogost has been active in advancing the education of students with learning differences, including serving as a board member for Imagine a Child's Capacity and lending her legal services to advocate on behalf of students and families. Bogost currently sits on the Milwaukee-based HIR Wellness Center Board, a nonprofit organization that believes in a multisystemic and integrated approach to providing high-quality mental health and wellness care. She holds a juris doctorate from Chicago-Kent College of Law and a bachelor of arts in political science and history from the University of Wisconsin–Madison. She is a member of Washington State, California, and Wisconsin Bar Associations. Lifelong residents of Wisconsin, Bogost and her husband live in Madison and have three adult children. The entire family has received degrees or is currently attending the University of Wisconsin.

SATURDAY KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Eric H. Holder Jr.

Eric H. Holder Jr. served as U.S. attorney general in the Obama administration from February 2009 to April 2015. He was the country's 82nd attorney general and the first African American to hold that office. His six-year tenure was the third-longest in history for an attorney general.

Holder was born in the Bronx, New York, and grew up in East Elmhurst, Queens. He holds undergraduate and law degrees from Columbia University. He served in government for more than 30 years, having been appointed to various positions requiring U.S. Senate confirmation by Presidents Obama, Clinton, and Reagan.

He began his legal career at the Public Integrity Section of the U.S. Justice Department. In 1988, President Reagan appointed him to serve as a judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia.

In 1993, Holder stepped down from the bench to accept an appointment from President Clinton as U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia. He held that position until he became the first African American deputy attorney general in 1997. From 2001 until his confirmation as attorney general, Holder was a partner at Covington & Burling LLP. He rejoined the firm in 2015. He currently serves as chairman of the National Democratic Redistricting Committee.

In 2014, Time magazine named Holder to its list of the 100 Most Influential People, noting that he had “worked tirelessly to ensure equal justice.” In 2015, the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund named him the recipient of its Thurgood Marshall Lifetime Achievement Award, recognizing his lifelong efforts to advance civil rights. Holder is the author, with Sam Koppelman, of Our Unfinished March: The Violent Past and Imperiled Future of the Vote — a History, a Crisis, a Plan.

SENIOR SPEAKER
Sydney Bobb

Sydney Bobb, of Boston, Massachusetts, is earning a bachelor's degree in African cultural studies. She is a proud member of the UW's First Wave performing arts scholarship program and serves as a student leader in the College of Letters & Science's Ambassador Program. For the past two years, Bobb has served as president of the UpRise Poetry Collective on campus. She is the inaugural diversity chair for the Pre-Law Society, first vice president of the Zeta Xi Core chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority Inc., and the community service chair for the National Pan-Hellenic Council at UW–Madison. She is a member of the Blk Pwr Coalition and previously served as a house fellow for the Studio Learning Community in Ogg Residence Hall.

Faith Ocoko

Faith Ocoko, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is earning a bachelor's degree in neurobiology with a certificate in French. She is the proud daughter of immigrant parents — her father is from Uganda, her mother from Kenya. Ocoko served this past year as president of the AHANA-MAPS Pre-Health Society, an organization for BIPOC students interested in the health care field. She is a member of the Black Student Union and the Blk Pwr Coalition. In her free time, Ocoko enjoys playing volleyball, listening to music, and spending time with friends.

CLASS OF 2023 SPEAKER

Liam McLean

Student commencement speaker Liam McLean decided as a freshman that he'd seize every opportunity he could as a Badger.

"I wanted to live the student experience to the max — all gas, no brakes," he says. "I think I did that."

Indeed, McLean, who is earning a bachelor's degree in political science with certificates in entrepreneurship and leadership, amassed an impressive array of campus accomplishments, including serving this past year as senior class president.

McLean says his interest in leadership took off in high school when he became involved in the Jewish teen movement known as BBYO, eventually holding office on the group's international executive board. He grew up in the Milwaukee suburb of Fox Point and attended nearby Nicolet High School.

As a sophomore at the UW, McLean served as president of the Interfraternity Council. He focused in part on providing campus fraternities with opportunities to learn about sexual assault prevention. A highlight, he says, was partnering with other groups on a large march that condemned sexual violence.

As senior class president, McLean and his fellow officers have sought to build a sturdy scaffolding of policies, procedures, and programs that will benefit their successors. McLean is especially proud of the emphasis the Senior Class Office has placed on mental health. The senior class gift will benefit the Center for Healthy Minds Higher Education Fund and the student-initiated campus group Healthy Minds on Campus.

McLean also found time to serve on the Committee on Student Organizations through Associated Students of Madison, intern for state Rep. LaKeshia Myers (D-Milwaukee), and volunteer as external director for Dance Marathon, which last spring raised money for the local Children's Miracle Network Hospital. This fall, McLean will attend UW Law School.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The senior class officers comprise two elected officers, the president and vice president, and five selected positions, communications, diversity, equity and inclusion, engagement, events, and philanthropy. Elections and interviews took place in the spring semester prior to the beginning of their service in the fall of their senior year.

Part of Student Life, the officers also partner with the Wisconsin Foundation and Alumni Association (WFAA) and the Office of the Chancellor. The senior class officers plan winter and spring commencement as well as senior social events and senior week events in cooperation with WFAA.

Liam McLean, President

As a homegrown Wisconsinite from Milwaukee, majoring in political science with certificates in entrepreneurship and leadership, Liam sought to shift the paradigm of the UW's culture and challenge norms. In his sophomore year, he served as the president of the Interfraternity Council, prompting relevant activism and dialogues of understanding that had long been neglected. Following graduation, Liam intends to continue his education and attend law school. As senior class president, Liam has worked to maximize the senior class's potential and increase the value of the UW. Whether it's implementing the first-ever Senior Class Office engagement director or delivering impactful experiences, Liam has been, and will unapologetically continue to be, a constructively disruptive force for the culture and the university he cherishes.

Margo Wyatt, Vice President

A product of the Milwaukee suburbs, Margo is pursuing a double major in political science and international studies with a certificate in European studies. Outside of her academic experience here at the UW, Margo has been the chair of multiple political student organizations on campus, volunteered for campaigns in the Madison community, and been an active member of Delta Gamma. In her free time, Margo loves walking to Picnic Point on the Lakeshore Path, grabbing coffee with friends, or watching one of the amazing sunsets on the Terrace. As vice president, Margo has aimed to amplify underrepresented communities and their voices and make the UW a place for all students to look back at and call home. Following graduation, Margo will be moving to Washington, DC, to work at the U.S. House of Representatives.

Kevin Jacobson, Communications Director

Kevin is originally from Brookfield, Wisconsin. He is pursuing a BA in political science and communication arts. Since coming to UW–Madison, Kevin has been involved in a variety of organizations and worked throughout the community. He has previously worked for Badgers Vote and at ASM as the shared governance campaign director and currently serves on the Student Services Finance Committee and as Student Activity Center governing board chair. Outside of the university, Kevin has interned for the State Treasurer's Office and the State Assembly. He is currently enrolled in the accelerated master's program with the La Follette School of Public Affairs. In his free time, he enjoys reading, hiking, and hanging out with friends.

Parham Abunasr-Shiraz,
Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Director

Born in Sweden to Iranian parents, Parham has plenty of stamps in his passport. At a young age he swooped across the Atlantic Ocean with his family to Milwaukee. From early on, Parham has been surrounded by diverse cultures, communities, and perspectives. His experiences have led to active leadership roles in Pi Kappa Phi and serving as the first vice president of diversity, equity and inclusion on the Interfraternity Council. Parham has also been engaged as a mentor at the Center for Academic Excellence, an enriching community of students who have been historically underrepresented in higher education. As DEI director of the Senior Class Office, Parham has used his platform to represent unheard voices and prompt challenging but necessary conversations surrounding campus.

Molly Nooyen,
Engagement Director

Originally from Rockford, Minnesota, Molly moved to Wisconsin to pursue degrees in biology and global health with a certificate in leadership. During her undergraduate career, Molly has been passionate about bettering the community that she loves through her positions as the director of service through Alpha Phi Omega as well as the director of campus and community engagement through the Wisconsin Alumni Student Board. Serving as the first engagement director, she has brought the students and surrounding community of UW–Madison together so that they can work to both improve and celebrate the university as a whole. Upon graduation, Molly will be going on to medical school while keeping the lessons she learned as a Badger close to her heart.

Gina Musso, Events Director

From the southwest side of Chicago, Gina came to UW–Madison to pursue a degree in strategic communications, reporting, and political science. On campus, she served as the Panhellenic Association president, overseeing the largest women’s organization on campus, including the 13 Panhellenic sororities. She also served as the college news editor and features editor for the Daily Cardinal, where she wrote over 70 articles. On campus, Gina enjoyed getting involved with Curb Magazine, Open Mic Nights at the Terrace, Rath cheese curds, acting in Humorology shows, and being an active member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Upon graduation, Gina plans to pursue a career in technology sales and consulting, and she plans to visit Madison for summer nights at the Terrace and Badger games.

Erin Shoemaker, Philanthropy Director

A native of Minnesota, Erin swapped her Gopher gear for Badger gear and headed to UW–Madison to pursue degrees in neurobiology and economics with a certificate in health and the humanities. On campus, Erin has held leadership positions in several student organizations, including serving as president of Gamma Phi Beta. As philanthropy director, Erin has created ongoing initiatives that will leave tangible impacts on Madison and promote the well-being of others in meaningful ways for years to come. From her first day as a freshman in Sellery, Erin has adopted the work-hard, play-hard mentality of a Wisconsin Badger; you can find her at Camp Randall on Saturday afternoons, but she’ll never miss the opening of College Library on Sunday morning. Upon graduation, Erin will be moving to Chicago to start a career in health-care consulting.

The University of Wisconsin–Madison

The University of Wisconsin–Madison and its alumni have a rich tradition of national and international leadership in teaching, research, entrepreneurship, and public service. We regularly rank near the top in research dollars and are rated among the strongest in the world in international reputation. And, as any visitor can readily attest, our beautiful lakeshore campus is considered to be among the nation’s most picturesque.

This university has existed for as long as Wisconsin has been a state, tracing its roots to a clause in the Constitution of the State of Wisconsin decreeing that the young state should have a prominent public university. In 1848, legislators passed a bill that formally created the University of Wisconsin. Its first class, with 17 students, met in Madison on February 5, 1849.

From these humble beginnings, the university has grown into a large, diverse community with nearly 50,000 students enrolled, from every county in Wisconsin, all 50 states, and 122 countries.

Across campus, the words “sifting and winnowing” often appear when describing UW–Madison’s intellectual life. They date back to an 1894 Board of Regents statement on academic freedom:

“Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe that the great state University of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found.”

Inspired by this spirit, scholarly inquiry has fed a steady stream of discoveries. From vitamins, agricultural techniques, and wildlife ecology to stem cells, biofuels, and economic well-being, the university continues to foster ideas and research that change lives.

UW–Madison is the oldest and largest campus in the University of Wisconsin System. Its mission is to provide “a learning environment in which faculty, staff, and students can discover, examine critically, preserve, and transmit the knowledge, wisdom, and values that will help ensure the survival of this and future generations and improve the quality of life for all.”

The university strives to achieve these ends through the continual advancement of its teaching, research, and public service programs. Throughout its history, the university has sought to bring the power of learning into students’ daily lives through innovations such as residential learning communities and service learning courses.

We are motivated by the “Wisconsin Idea” — articulated a century ago as the principle that the university’s influence should benefit everyone in the state. Today, this principle has expanded to a global scale. The Wisconsin Idea continues to permeate everything we do, helping to forge close partnerships between faculty, staff, and students, and people, communities, and industries around the world.

Program Notes

The school and college flags used in today’s ceremony were commissioned for commencement by Chancellor Emerita Rebecca Blank. They are used in this and other similar ceremonies, including convocation for incoming students — the complementary celebration to commencement that begins students’ university careers.

The flags’ background wave design reflects the university’s location along Lake Mendota. Colors on each flag reflect the traditional academic colors for the courses of study within each school or college. The Graduate School, College of Letters & Science, and School of Education are multicolored, representing their varied disciplines. Flags also feature the year in which each school or college was founded, from 1848 for the Law School and School of Medicine and Public Health (authorized in the charter for the newly created university) to 1983 for the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Flag bearers in the opening procession were selected by the dean of each school and college to represent their fellow students.

Academic Attire

Gowns

Gowns represent the three principal levels of academic achievement. The bachelor's gown, symbolizing the first degree, is made of black material and has a closed front and long, pointed, open sleeves. Master's candidates wear a black gown with a closed front and long, closed sleeves. The gown worn by doctoral candidates has an open front with bell-shaped sleeves. Doctoral gowns are further embellished with velvet trim in the form of crossbars on the sleeves. In spring 2017, the gown designs were updated to include the University of Wisconsin–Madison colors and crest logo, providing both a pop of red among the traditional sea of black and an additional display of UW spirit that's recognizable to all.

Hoods

Academic hoods are used as a further means of identifying the level of degree attainment. The bachelor's hood, worn only by those who have previously received a baccalaureate degree, is rather short with a narrow velvet edging the color of the appropriate discipline and a lining in the color of the institution — cardinal at Wisconsin. The master's hood is considerably longer, has a wider velvet edging, and exposes more of the lining. Doctoral hoods have the widest velvet edging, wide panels at either side, greater length, and a fully exposed lining.

Caps and Tassels

Candidates for the bachelor's degree wear the black mortarboard cap with tassels of their course color. The tassel is worn on the right side until the formal conferral of the degree. At this time, the tassel is moved from the right to the left side. Doctoral and terminal degree candidates wear an eight-sided black tam with a gold tassel. Master's degree candidates wear black mortarboard caps with black tassels on the left side. Some holders of degrees from other countries or institutions wear special hats that are distinctive to their degree.

Graduates with Honors and Distinction

Bachelor's degree candidates with distinctive scholastic achievement wear cardinal stoles over the fronts of their gowns. Bachelor's degree candidates participating in an honors program wear white stoles with cardinal chevrons.

Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees from UW–Madison recognize individuals with careers of extraordinary accomplishment. The Committee on Honorary Degrees looks to sustained and characteristic activity as its warrant: uncommonly meritorious activity exhibiting values that are esteemed by UW–Madison. Preference is given to those who are connected in some significant way to the state or the university.

Schools, colleges, and departments submit nominations to the Committee on Honorary Degrees, a central part in the process of awarding honorary degrees. The committee is composed of 28 members, including the chancellor and the UW System president or their designees. Sixteen members are selected by the faculty, four from each of the four faculty divisions of the university (arts and humanities, biological sciences, physical sciences, social sciences). The chancellor appoints 10 members from the faculty or the administration.

Finalists are submitted to the chancellor and the Board of Regents for review. Once approved, the Faculty Senate votes, with a three-fourths affirmative vote required for confirmation.

As a matter of policy, emeritus faculty members are not eligible for honorary degrees solely on the basis of their performance while at UW–Madison. The university cannot grant honorary degrees to those who have held elected office in the state in the past two years, nor to anyone employed by the University of Wisconsin within the past two years.

GRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

This list of graduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar and to the Graduate School as of March 31, 2023, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing. Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student's school or college.

Lyrics to "Varsity"

*Varsity! Varsity!
U rah rah! Wisconsin,
Praise to thee we sing!
Praise to thee our Alma Mater,
U rah rah! Wisconsin!*

UNDERGRADUATE DEGREE CANDIDATES

This list of undergraduate degree candidates was compiled from information available to the Office of the Registrar as of March 31, 2023, and should not be regarded as conclusive evidence of graduation or academic standing.

UW–Madison does not use Latin honorifics such as cum laude. Students honored for distinctive scholastic achievement have completed a minimum of 60 credits at UW–Madison and have a cumulative grade-point average placing them within the top 20 percent of graduating students in the school or college. Selection as an honors candidate indicates participation in the Honors Program in the student’s school or college.
