

Prof. Sharon Hassin-Baer (MD) is a Neurologist and Movement Disorders specialist, the director of one of the largest Movement Disorders centers in the Middle East, placed at the Chaim Sheba Medical Center, located in Ramat Gan, 10 kilometers east to Tel-Aviv, in Israel.

She finished her Medical studies at the Sackler Faculty of Medicine, Tel Aviv University, and then residency in the Department of Neurology, at Sheba Medical Center (1991-1997). She had her clinical fellowship in Movement disorders with Prof. Nir Giladi at the Movement disorders Unit, Tel-Aviv Sourasky Medical Center (1997-8), Tel-Aviv, Israel.

Since 1997 she serves as a senior neurologist at the Department of Neurology at Sheba Medical Center and at 1999 she founded the Parkinson's disease and Movement Disorders Clinic, which became the Movement Disorders Institute in 2014, a center of knowledge and excellence, implementing advanced and unique treatment methodologies for movement disorders.

Prof. Hassin-Baer is an associate professor of Neurology since 2016. and since September 2020 is serves as the Chair of the Department of Neurology and Neurosurgery , Sackler School of Medicine, Tel-Aviv University, Tel-Aviv, Israel.

Prof. Hassin-Baer is a leading Movement Disorders specialist and she founded the Israeli Movement Disorders Society of the Israeli Neurological Association and served as its first chair; She heads the consulting committee of the Israel Parkinson Association.

Prof. Hassin-Baer has been invested in studying neurogenetics of PD and other neurogenetic disorders. She and has focused among others on clinical research on motor complications as well as various nonmotor symptoms of PD, such as cognitive, psychiatric and sexual dysfunctions.

Prof. Hassin-Baer is a mother of three, a classical and jazz singer, loves Pilates, swimming, cooking and travel and has a warm and loving personality providing both an intimate and a holistic approach when taking care of her patients.

---