Cal Poly – Leadership in Agriculture

The old windmill rising out of the college's grazing lands, and a $7000 freeze dryer in the food processing department, contrast sharply on the Cal Poly Agriculture scene of 1967.

The Stokes freeze dryer uses the sublimation process to remove ice crystals from frozen foods under high vacuum to produce high quality dehydrated foods for campers and homemakers.

Applied Arts

Electronic Data Processing is playing an increasingly important role in all fields of business. Here, a Cal Poly business administration major works an accounting problem.

A Cal Poly bandsman gives El Rodeo readers a preview look at the new Cal Poly marching band uniform to be introduced in the fall of 1967.

Cal Poly –

Leadership in

Engineering

The architecture department, largest on campus, also boasts the second largest enrollment in the nation. Its program is one of the few to offer both architecture and architectural engineering. Last year, the department became one of 59 nationally accredited schools.

Fine examples of Cal Poly's "learn by doing" philosophy are the electrical and electronic engineering labs where students design, build, and test projects with the finest equipment available.

Cal Poly -

Leadership in

Applied Science

Dr. Clogston from the biological sciences department is shown working with Cal Poly's newest research tool, a $22,000 Phillips electron microscope, capable of magnifications up to 12,000 times.

Students work with a radiation analyzer to gather information required for a Chemistry senior project.

Student Activity

The annual international talent night, sponsored by People-to-People club, and staged by our foreign students themselves, was a gala, colorful, and fun-filled event. About five per cent of Cal Poly students are from foreign nations.

Rodeo Club

Rodeo Team at Cal Poly is the only consistent winner of individual and team awards year in and year out. They travel often and far, work hard and get little recognition. This year the team has seven men, two women: Ned Londo, Bob Berger, Dwayne Foster, Dan Freeman, Bob Leer, Jay Williams, Mark Trindle, Barbara Baer and Sharon Burnap.

Cutting and Reining

One of the events for Homecoming was a horse show put on by the Cutting and Reining Club.

Livestock Judging

Meet SAM's mascot . . . Cuthbert S. Pierpont. Obviously a top level executive!

Poly's learn-by-doing theory is

SAM's "I'm an athletic supporter" buttons caused some excitement.

by club activities

Mat Pica Pi meetings gather interested students together to discuss their field and broaden departmental relationships.

Mr. A. M. "Bert" Fellows, retired department head, was honored by his students as a friend, advisor and teacher. Mr. Fellows joined Cal Poly's staff in 1946 and guided many students into the printing profession. He retired in 1966.

This year the Press Club hosted a school stomp as well as a Christmas Dance. Members were busy in the Graphic Arts building to sell photographic supplies to photography students.

SDX

Boarding a jet, President Chuck Smith and Secretary Monty Odett flew to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, for a five-day convention of Sigma Delta Chi, a national journalism society. Accompanied by acting department head John Healy, they met with representatives from each state and listened to outstanding speakers in the field of journalism.

In May, members attended the regional convention in San Francisco, and during the year encouraged high standards of journalism in their department by inviting local speakers to meetings on campus.

The Technical Arts Club members (left) combine work with fun as they tediously apply paper mache to the structure of their Homecoming float.

Later, they reap the rewards of a job well done by treating themselves to a hearty steak dinner (above).

Organizations complete spectrum of activities

The Education department is using the latest educational methods available, as shown here with a classroom demonstration of a Sony Video Tape Recorder. It tapes television programs to be played back at other times.

Creative Projects Add Meaning to . . .

Students find Ceramics Class educational as well as interesting. Many are surprised to learn they are creative.

"Home Ec" in Action

The Foods for Special Occasions class brings "something special" to the kitchen.

Second year students learn advanced sewing techniques in the Family Clothing class.

... Classroom Studies

Family and Community Health Class—"One wouldn't mind being sick with efficient home nurses like these."

Mustang Marching Band

From Rhythmic marching to Spring tour, this year's Mustang Band has shown unparalleled spirit and enthusiasm. Mr. Bill Johnson, conductor of bands, has inspired the band to new heights of musical achievement.

Starting the year by heralding a successful football season, they continued throughout the year performing at College Hour, Tours, and at the annual Spring Concert.

"The Boys" in the Music Department, (Men's Glee, Collegians, etc.) are known for their clever tricks and pranks on H. P. Davidson, Music Department Head. One of their latest was the placement of the above sign at the head of Davy's favorite parking place. Poor Davy is having a rough time explaining the concrete anchored placard to the nice officer.

How about an A?

This one turns it on!

Well if it doesn't give the latest news, what does it give?

Acting Engineering School Dean, Dr. John Hint.

Maybe it isn't plugged in!

When I turn this knob watch those funny little lines on the screen.

Are you really studying!

Well I had KSLY just a minute ago!

If you ask us real nice, we'll let you play with the switches, too!

What are those freshman Architects building now?!

Archy-land?

He's in there somewhere!

What did you say? My hand smeared what?

Sciences

Dr. Clyde Fisher—
Dean of Applied Sciences

Smallest of the four schools on campus is that of Applied Sciences with an enrollment of 1336. Encompassed in the division are these departments: Biological Sciences, Physical Sciences, Social Sciences, Mathematics, Military Sciences, and Library.

The following pages offer only a mere glance at the Applied Sciences Division. Behind the bottles and other apparatus, lie hours of paper work and study which are unnoticed by the casual observer.

Center Dave Edmondson discusses UCSB victory with Graduate Manager Bob Spink.

After opening the season with a 38-0 setback to San Francisco State, the Mustangs turned in their finest season since 1959, finishing the year with a 6-4 record.

Cal Poly surprised a lot of people with its 22-0 shellacking of top rated Linfield and nearly upset No. 2 rated San Diego State in a 14-13 thriller.

Against Cal Western, halfback Rich Terrell broke into the lineup for the first time and from then on became the Mustangs' leading rusher. Cal Poly defeated Cal Western, 21-3.

Fresno State managed to keep its winning streak rolling with a 14-7 win at Ratcliff Stadium.

With nearly 5,500 Homecoming fans looking on, the Mustangs defeated Valley State, 28-22, but not until the Matadors had a scoring drive going down to the Mustang 15 yard stripe as the gun sounded.

After dropping a 32-0 decision to Cal State Long Beach, Cal Poly wrapped up the year with three consecutive victories over Cal State LA, 14-10, Santa Clara, 34-32, and UCSB, 14-10.

Time of great decisions: what to do next!

Coach Ed Swartz's Colts had a rough time this season, winning only one game which came against rival Fresno State, 40-6.

Injuries plagued the Colts' starting line-up most of the season.

Halfback Rod Cardella was inspirational in the Fresno win, scoring three TD's. He ran for 3 and 1 yard jaunts and caught a 33 yard aerial from Pete Vandeneynde.

"Everyone out for a pass!" QB Pete Vandeneynde is ready.

Terry Record sets a record.

Cal Poly got off to a bad start this year with three of the top five men out with injuries.

One bright spot for the Mustangs was the record shattering performance of Terry Record who raced the 4.4 mile campus course in 21:04, breaking the old mark set by Bryon Lowry of San Jose State of 21:23.

Coach Dick Purcell's harriers finished a disappointing sixth place in the California Collegiate Athletic Association finals and 69th in the NCAA District Eight championships.

Coach Dick Anderson's poloists had a frustrating season, finishing the regular CCAA schedule in fourth place. The Mustangs' successes were due to forward Tom Ruggles, Don Fishback and Al Everts. The strong play of Pete Scaroni and Paul Ghere helped in the Mustang defenses.

Wow Week

WOW Week is Poly's week of welcome for incoming students, held at the beginning of fall quarter. Activities take place both on campus and at camps in the Cambria Pines. Freshmen and transfer students learn about the college through tours of the campus, registration procedures, and a climb to the "P."

One reason it's called WOW Week.

Way Way Way Out There

Stinging points as sharp as a needle into our materialistic society, Edwin Schoels' biting comedy was presented on campus in November by the English Department's dramatists.

On Dec. 2-3 the College Union Drama Committee staged a production of "The World of Ray Bradbury" as an experimental type of theatre. The production used little staging, relying for its strength on Bradbury's words . . .

THE HOUSE OF BERNARDA ALBA

On February 17 and 18, the C. U. Drama Committee presented Federico Garcia Lorca's, "The House of Bernarda Alba."

It is the story of a tyrannical widow who wants to lock up her five eligible daughters for an eight year mourning period.

The cast performed with delicacy in portraying the difficult parts, and the makeup and scenes and sets were further evidence of Cal Poly's rise in good drama.

The Devil's Disciple

George Bernard Shaw's Devil's Disciple was the English Department's second dramatic presentation of the year. Staged March 2, 3, and 4, the play tells of a family separated by the Revolutionary War.

Inquiry '66: The American Scene

The 1966 College Union student tour of the United States was made a reality when Fred Lucksinger donated the use of two new Volkswagen buses for the 18,000 mile trip. Lucksinger is a VW dealer in San Luis Obispo and a Cal Poly alumnus.

Experience proved the capacity, rugged reliability and excellent performance of the Volkswagen buses. They cruised at 65 m.p.h. sustained speeds with 8 people and 1800 lbs. in each bus.

The total cost for maintenance on the long trip was $1.25 per bus for lubrication and 2.04 cents per mile, per vehicle for gas and oil for the entire summer.

See your Volkswagen dealer soon!

INCORPORATED

CALIFORNIA STATE POLYTECHNIC COLLEGE
SAN LUIS OBISPO, CALIFORNIA 93401

As editor of this year's El Rodeo, I can only say "Thank You" to those who have spent long hours of hard work in preparing and supporting this, the finest El Rodeo ever published.

I extend special gratitude to Mr. Vincent Gates, yearbook advisor, for his untiring assistance and advice in many difficult situations. Dick Cortes, chief photographer, did a great job of managing our photographic affairs. Wager's Studios, of San Luis Obispo, provided the color photography, and Dunlap-Turney Photography, of Glendale, supplied senior pictures. John Kerr and the Cal Poly Photo Bureau contributed Homecoming pictures, and Jim Vestal, of the Telegram-Tribune, provided the Poly Royal Queen and Princess photographs.

This year's El Rodeo is a tribute to the year which has passed, to the events which have transpired, and to those who make this college great.
