EDITOR'S NOTE

Summer Is Here!

Good days are ahead, friends.

The weather is warmer, the world is recovering and we're slowly getting back to business. With subscribers all over our beautiful nation, I hope this note finds you all healthy and on the road to better times.

I know TV is on the road to even better times! For starters, we've got live golf events coming back to the schedule, and more to follow for sure. Inside this issue we've addressed some of your questions (see the adjacent letters), included a section that details where to write a network (see page 216), and have outlined new and exciting shows and movies to watch this month. USA Network's Dirty John anthology series returns and this time tells the true story of Betty Broderick, which personally took me back to my younger days. I remember watching the original made-for-TV movie starring Meredith Baxter with my mother, and then seeing Betty on the Oprah show — we were obsessed with this highly publicized tragedy that divided the nation. I talked to Amanda Peet about playing Betty — Amanda is amazing in this — and have shared her thoughts in the feature inside (see page 16).

Lastly, I want to thank you all, again, for sticking with us — your loyalty means more to us than you'll ever know. Please stay healthy and enjoy your summer, family and friends.

Happy viewing!

Where Is Your Sports Section?

Why did you remove the Sports section and ESPN from your magazine? – Ken

Since there were no live sporting events airing due to COVID-19, we removed the sports listings and dedicated the space to networks that could provide a schedule. Believe us, we can't wait to get back to including a robust sports section soon. It's amazing how much you miss live sports!

QUESTION OF THE MONTH: What's a movie you recently watched and loved?

Email us at dishletters@ntvbmedia.com

More Movies, Please!

I'm a big movie fan. The only reason I get your guide is so I can know which new movies are going to air on Syfy and FX. It seems each month there are less and less new movies. I'm a fan of Harry Potter and the Fast and Furious movies, but they don't need to be played every day. Where is Deadpool 2 or the latest Resident Evil? We need more newer movies on TV for the people without internet and streaming services. – Bobby

The Movies section in your magazine includes roughly 3,000 titles every month – there's a lot to choose from. As for what network buys rights to what movie title, that varies considerably. Networks actually purchase a movie window airtime, where their contract could be something like 30 days with 60 plays. The number of plays they have is why you sometimes see the repetition. As for "Deadpool 2" and "Resident Evil," not sure what network will pick those up, but FX and Syfy sure are logical options.

How Many Episodes Is That New Series?

Could you please list the number of episodes that are included in new series with your write-ups? It helps to know how many so a reader can determine if they want to make the commitment or not. Also, I would love to know if a show has a laugh track, because if it does, I won't watch it! – Jill's mom

Thanks for your input, Jill's mom. If we know that information by the time we go to print, we will definitely include it.

What's With The Wrong Airtimes?

I have been a customer for over a year, and just placed a renewal subscription for the 2020 calendar year. My concern is the April 2020 guide being wrong multiple times with shows and movies. I understand movies, shows and events are subject to change, but this has been ongoing especially on channels like TBS and Syfy. Thanks for listening. – Christopher

It's been a rough April and May, with major last-minute and ongoing programming changes. For example, on April 13 CBS issued a release stating "The Amazing Race" was set for a May 20 season premiere, and then on April 29 they changed their mind and replaced it with a new comedic game show "Game On!" hosted by Keegan-Michael Key. It's beyond frustrating, and we apologize.

Put Tim On Your Cover!

I would love to see Timothy Olyphant on your cover. I became aware of him when I began watching Justified. It became my favorite show and my husband even watched it with me. The shows we both agree on are rare, and Justified was on both of our All Time Favorite Series lists. Raylan Givens is also on my list of All Time Favorite Characters. I even had my son (a sheriff's deputy in real life) become a fan of the show. Timothy Olyphant played Raylan perfectly. I would love to know more about him and his projects. I am glad I discovered your magazine. I love the information you provide and look forward to its arrival every month. Keep up the great work. – Debbie

Hype

WHOA!

It's "Game On!" For CBS And Other Nets As They Roll Out A Summer-Fun Lineup.

This summer the networks are returning to a sure thing – simple laughs and no viewer commitment (you don't have to watch last week's episode to enjoy this week's) – with the return of several game show favorites and a handful of new ones.

CBS' new Game On! (Wednesdays) is hosted by comedian Keegan-Michael Key and is modeled after the U.K. series A League of Their Own (James Corden is one of the executive producers). The series celebrates the entertainment of sports by pitting two teams of three against one another in ridiculous physical challenges and absurd trivia. The teams are captained by tennis champion and entrepreneur Venus Williams and Super Bowl champion Rob Gronkowski, alongside comedians Bobby Lee and Ian Karmel, as well as rotating sports stars, comedians and celebrities. (BTW – CBS scrapped its original plans for the season premiere of The Amazing Race in favor of this.)

FOX is also in on the fun action with its new Ultimate Tag (Wednesdays) that is the brainchild of the NFL's Watt brothers (J.J., T.J. and Derek) and finds contestants trying to evade elite athlete Taggers in the traditional schoolyard game. And ABC rolled out a robust lineup of season returns to keep you plenty entertained almost every day of the week.

5 Questions

With STACY KEACH Of
CBS' "Man With A Plan" By Taylor Neumann

The laughs keep coming! New episodes of Man With a Plan continue on CBS Thursday nights. "We started [filming] in August and we finished before Christmas last year," says Stacy Keach, who plays Joe, the opinionated father of Matt LeBlanc's Adam Burns. He gushes of the series, "It's a fun show to do. I love working with the cast; they're all wonderful. Matt, he's our leader and it all emanates from him. He's such a great guy, and he knows his way around comedy, my goodness!" He calls his character Joe a "ball breaker" and "an old-fashioned tough nut" with a soft spot for his wife, Bev (played by Swoosie Kurtz). We're happy to report that Keach himself is nothing of the sort – in fact, he was downright cheerful as he chatted with us and answered our "5 Questions."

1 If your TV could only have three shows, what would they be?

It would be Homeland, Man With a Plan and American Greed. We're bingeing on Homeland now. When it first came out, I didn't watch it, and I'm so glad I didn't, because we're having a great time now.

2 What three items do you need to have in your fridge or pantry?

I would say Oreo cookies, Diet Coke and Cool Whip.

3 Have you ever been starstruck?

When I was a young guy, I had the great privilege and pleasure of meeting Laurence Olivier. [I also] spoke with Marlon Brando on the telephone.

4 What would you be doing if you weren't an actor?

I'd be a musician. I play the keyboard, [and] I composed music. Not many people know that about me, and I'm hopefully going to let that cat out of the bag sometime during the course of this year.

5 If you could invite three people, dead or alive, to a dinner party, who would they be?

Oh, my goodness. It would always be my family. My mom, my dad and my grandma.

Recently Renewed Shows

FOX has renewed Amy Poehler's freshman animated comedy series Duncanville for Season 2.

... Also at FOX, the dramas 9-1-1 and its spinoff, 9-1-1: Lone Star, have been renewed for a fourth and second season, respectively.

... Hallmark Channel's longest-running original series, the highly popular When Calls the Heart, will continue that long run with an eighth season.

IN THE WORKS

By Taylor Neumann

OVER AT FOX

FOX is pursuing The Texanist, inspired by David Courtney's column in Texas Monthly. The series will follow Dave, a popular Austin-area radio host who dispenses advice on the true "Texas way." As that definition changes, Dave must figure out how to adapt. Writer Rob Long says of the project, "The Texanist is about facing a changing world and trying to hold fast to the important things while letting the other stuff move with the times. And knowing which is which. Or trying to."

... ① Eliza Coupe (Happy Endings) has been cast as the first lead in Pivoting, a half-hour FOX comedy pilot that follows three women after the death of their childhood best friend. To cope, the friends turn to impulsive decisions, strengthening their own bond in the process.

BASED ON THE BOOK

AMC is developing ② The Burying Place, based on the novel by Brian Freeman. The thriller follows two seemingly unrelated mysteries – one, a discovery of a serial killer, and two, the disappearance of a baby – as the three main detectives unravel a complicated story. ... Starz is developing a drama series based on the 2011 novel The Madonnas of Echo Park by Brando Skyhorse. The series, written by award-winning playwright Julia Cho, follows one woman's search for her undocumented father as it takes her from Los Angeles across borders and into the past.

ANIMATION DESTINATIONS

FX has ordered Little Demon, an animated comedy pilot starring ③ Danny DeVito and his daughter Lucy DeVito as the devil and his daughter. Also starring is Aubrey Plaza as the girl's mother. The unorthodox family attempts to settle down and live a normal life in Delaware, but are constantly encountering monstrous forces attempting to take them down. Dan Harmon serves as an executive producer for the series. ... Natasha Rothwell (Insecure) will star in and executive produce Malltown, a new pilot for Comedy Central. The animated show, from Broad City's Ilana Glazer and Abbi Jacobson, is set in a declining mall and told through the eyes of 13-year-old Libby (Rothwell).

OTHER BIG NEWS

There's a new face in the competitive world of daytime talk shows. Coming this fall is the syndicated ④ The Drew Barrymore Show, hosted, of course, by Drew Barrymore. The talk show has already been sold to major station groups in 95% of the country. ... CNN Films is teaming up with Sony Pictures Classics for JULIA, a film about the legendary cookbook author and television star ⑤ Julia Child. The movie will feature brand-new archival footage, personal photos and shots of delicious food. JULIA is expected to be released in 2021.

YANKED!: Recently Canceled Shows

FOX dumped freshmen drama series Deputy and Almost Family. ... CBS unfriended God Friended Me after two seasons. ... Comedy Central pulled the plug on Lights Out With David Spade after one season. ... At Starz, spy thriller The Rook won't get a second season, and it's adios to Vida after the May 31 Season

3 finale. ... Syfy's The Magicians couldn't pull Season 6 out of its hat. ... Freeform's Party of Five reboot got booted after Season 1. ... They can't all be Tiger King: Netflix canceled AJ and the Queen and Messiah, and announced Lost in Space's third season will be its last.

Service Solutions

Fix Any Audio Issue In A Snap.

By Colleen Skells

Do you have a picture on your TV but no audio? Or is your audio low or distorted? You can typically resolve audio issues in one of three easy steps!

1. Most audio issues occur because either the volume is too low or the audio has been accidentally muted. Try pressing the mute and volume up buttons on your remote to verify. If you have surround sound, be sure your speaker is on and turned up.

2. Make sure that the audio/video cable you are using (e.g., HDMI cable, RCA cable, etc.) is securely connected to both the receiver and TV. Loose connections can result in audio problems.

3. If you still don't have audio, reset your receiver by unplugging it for 10 seconds and then plugging it back in. If you are having audio issues with a Joey, try resetting your Hopper first and then reset the Joey.

If those steps don't resolve your issue, chat with us at mydish.com/chat or give us a call at 800-333-DISH (3474). We are here to support you 24/7!

Check out features of your Hopper, Joey or Wally by visiting youtube.com/user/dish or mydish.com/support.

AMERICA'S GOT TALENT

The Actress Becomes A Judge — Sofia Vergara Joins “AGT” For Season 15. By Emily Aslanian

The talent show must go on ... and it plans to! Season 15 of America's Got Talent is shaping up to be a brand-new experience for fans. Though the Terry Crews-hosted competition had only shot audition rounds from Pasadena, Calif., before production shut down amid the coronavirus pandemic, the series will continue to screen contestants, and the judges' reactions, from their respective homes. This transition is particularly tricky for brand-new judge Sofia Vergara, fresh off her time playing the fiery Gloria Delgado-Pritchett on Emmy-winning comedy Modern Family. “It’s been super weird,” Vergara notes. “I was starting to get the groove of the show and then suddenly all of this happened, unfortunately.”

Joined by judges Simon Cowell, Howie Mandel and a returning Heidi Klum, Vergara is the series' first Latina judge. Below, she clues us in on her introductory season.

How does it feel doing something like AGT after so many years of doing scripted comedy — are there any similarities?

Sofia Vergara: No, it's like nothing I had ever done before acting-wise. Actually, I think it was the best decision that I took this, because it's completely different! It's difficult, but very fun.

Speaking of Modern Family, which one of your former costars could you see on AGT?

[Laughs] No one. They [have talents], but they're actors. Eric Stonestreet, he can be a clown.

How would you describe your judging style?

I just want to be there, represent [the people at home], and be honest. If you're an expert in nothing like me, it's very dangerous to pretend you are one.

What's the biggest challenge you've found while shooting from home?

We're so grateful that we can actually do this and finish the whole season. Of course, it's not the same. You miss the audience, that energy. The music sounds better when you're on the stage. The lights make everything better. But now, you see the people in their own houses — it's very intimate. And you have to also be aware many times that the sound is not perfect, so you have to be using more of your imagination as to how this act would look on a stage.

What are your favorite and least favorite types of acts?

I love when I get surprised, like [if it's] a little girl and then suddenly her voice is like a woman, and you close your eyes and you can't realize it's this tiny 10-year-old. Or when somebody looks very serious, and then suddenly he's a really good comedian. I'm learning, but I am enjoying the surprises. One thing I didn't realize is that I don't love the sound of the ukulele. [Laughs]

Did any acts move you to tears?

Oh my God, yes. There were a couple things that I could relate to, what the contestant was saying, what they were going through that I had gone through in my life that really moved me.

America Needs “America’s Got Talent” Now!

As The Show Starts Its 15th Season, We Take A Look Back At Some Of The Series’ Former Standouts. By Barb Oates

America’s Got Talent has a unique way of completely surprising you. We’ve laughed hysterically, gasped in disbelief and shed plenty of tears over the competition series’ 14 seasons. Rarely is there a dry eye when one of the judges hits that Golden Buzzer (a direct advance to the final rounds of competition). Here we reminisce on a few AGT favorites and see where they are now.

SHIN LIM (Season 13 winner)

Shin Lim won Season 13 and the first “Champions” edition with his close-up magic show. He now headlines his own show, Shin Lim: Limitless, at the Mirage Hotel & Casino.

MANDY HARVEY (Season 12)

Barefoot and nervous, the then 29-year-old took the stage and ripped out our hearts singing her original song “Try,” about trying to restore her hopes of being a singer after losing her hearing at age 19. She’s now traveling the nation and performing her original music and sharing her inspirational story via speaking engagements and tours.

KODI LEE (Season 14 winner)

At 22 years of age, the blind and autistic Kodi Lee was escorted onto the AGT stage by his mother, and showed the world something extraordinary singing and playing the piano. When he finished, Simon Cowell said: “I’m going to remember this moment for the rest of my life.” After selling out his Las Vegas residency with other

AGT performers, he continues to perform around the globe. Most recently, he signed an album deal with Columbia Records/Syco for the U.S. to be released later this year.

DARCI LYNNE FARMER (Season 12 winner)

The adorable 12-year-old ventriloquist from Oklahoma made our hearts melt when she introduced us to her adorable bunny Petunia and showed us just how cool her old-school talent truly is. Farmer continues to tour the country performing to sold-out audiences.

MAT FRANCO (Season 9 winner)

He was the first ever magician winner, and will forever be remembered for wowing the judges, and America, with his mind-blowing card tricks. He, too, is a regular in Las Vegas with his show Magic Reinvented Nightly.

TERRY FATOR (Season 2 winner)

There’s no doubt Terry Fator tops AGT’s most successful acts. The ventriloquist, singer and comedian from Dallas has been headlining his own show in Las Vegas since 2007, where he secured a five-year residency for a whopping $100 million. Check him out at the Mirage.

GRACE VANDERWAAL (Season 11 winner)

The 12-year-old ukulele cutie stunned all with her risky original song about herself, “I Don’t Know My Name.” Since winning, she has performed across the country with sold-out headline tours, including opening for Imagine Dragons on their 2018 arena tour. In March, she made her acting debut in the lead role in the film Stargirl, which debuted on Disney+.

GOOD WITCH

Brings Good Comfort

Hallmark's Top Drama Is A Modern-Day Mayberry, And Series Star James Denton Takes Us Inside The Show's Magic. By Taylor Neumann

Good Witch is one of the most popular shows on TV, and for good reason – the charming series welcomes viewers into its small town with open arms. The characters are warm, sunny and exactly what the doctor prescribed in this sometimes crazy world. Audiences turn to Hallmark for feel-good television, and Good Witch is exactly that. We talked to one of the stars of the show, James Denton – who plays Dr. Sam Radford, husband of Catherine Bell's Cassie Nightingale – to see what's new this season, what changes viewers can expect and how the show's friendly faces are just like those in another TV small town.

What can viewers expect this season on Good Witch?

James Denton: The biggest difference is Bailee Madison's gone. [Cassie and Sam] are empty nesters, and so it does away with a third of the show, [which] would have been about Grace's life in high school. So it's a very different feel. I wouldn't want to say it's better – it seems disrespectful to Bailee, that's not what I mean. But I think it's a little more fitting for the Hallmark audience. It felt like we struggled a little bit to dedicate as much time as we should have to Grace and her storylines, because Hallmark isn't really built for teenagers. So I think it might improve the show a little bit, not having to focus on high school stories, but we certainly miss her. She's a wonderful actress. And thankfully my son Nick on the show, played by Rhys Bond, is still around. We have a couple of good storylines with him. [And] we brought in a new character, Cat Burrell, who everybody loves – adding another Merriwick woman certainly opened a lot of possibilities for us. ... So it's a little more focused on grownup relationships, which I think people will enjoy.

How does Cassie and Sam's relationship evolve this year?

It's fun. It was sort of like any empty nesters, you've got a lot more time on your hands, a lot more time to do stuff together. There's an episode where they start trying all these crazy things like throwing pottery – Sam's trying to learn how to work a potter's wheel. Cassie can do anything. And then Sam tries to teach her how to play the guitar. And he tries to meditate because that's what she's doing. And so then he has a putting green in his bedroom and he's got to teach her how to putt a golf ball. So they do a lot of fun stuff together that I think is pretty realistic for couples who all of a sudden have a lot more time together.

The show is so popular, with millions of viewers every week. What do you think makes the show a great place for viewers to spend an hour?

Well, I think a lot of that is Hallmark as a network. ... People just come to Hallmark to see people not being horrible to each other. They would like a happy ending, a little bit of joy and love, and people just treating each other well. [As for] Good Witch specifically, I think it's Catherine Bell. I don't think there's any two ways about it. I don't know of another actress in television history who's been a lead on three different series that lasted six years or more [JAG, Army Wives and Good Witch]. So I think Catherine is a huge attraction. I think this is her best role, and she's so perfectly Cassie. There are a lot of reasons, but it's a show that will make you feel good. You can count on it; it won't let you down.

Executive producer Darin Goldberg actually described the show as a "modern-day Mayberry." Do you agree with that?

100%. Especially as a big Andy Griffith fan – I grew up in the South. And Andy Griffith was so much like my dad. So yeah, I think that's very true. I'm surprised I haven't thought of it because it's a small town where you know all the characters. You know Martha, you know Cathy Disher, Mayor Tinsdale is Barney Fife, I guess. And Cassie is Andy Griffith. I guess that makes me Helen Crump! But that's a great comparison. I think people watch it for the same reasons.

DIRTY JOHN: THE BETTY BRODERICK STORY

Based On The Shocking Real-Life Story Of A Scorned Wife And Mother. By Barb Oates

One of the most important things about a divorce is learning to pick your battles. For Betty Broderick, a California socialite, that proved impossible. In the engrossing eight-part series Dirty John: The Betty Broderick Story, Amanda Peet (Brockmire) and Christian Slater (Mr. Robot) portray Betty and Dan Broderick, an affluent San Diego couple whose bitter divorce in the '80s resulted in unfathomable verbal and mental abuses, rage-fueled assaults (Betty drove her car through Dan's front door) and ultimately, and tragically, a double homicide.

Peet, who grew up in New York City, was unfamiliar with the story and the 1992 made-for-TV movies about Betty starring Meredith Baxter, but was immediately drawn to the material after reading the script.

"I thought [their story] was very compelling because they appeared to have all the trappings and accoutrements of a normal suburban life and marriage," Peet says. "Part of the reason it's so captivating is because they seemed so normal. The run-up to the divorce was just so normal and relatable. There didn't seem to be a lot of evidence of mental illness or deep psychological issues until it was too late."

Dirty John creator and writer Alexandra Cunningham begins this ill-fated story roughly three years before the homicides, introducing us to a well-dressed and sharp-looking Betty as she prepares for a divorce settlement meeting. Through flashbacks, we see an innocent and rule-following Betty who was intoxicated with the smitten and wickedly smart Dan. They married in 1969, and while Dan completed both medical and law school and built a successful career, Betty supported him and mothered their four children.

"I think Alexandra did a really beautiful job of portraying this girl from the '50s who grew up with the social norms of that era, and her entire identity was wrapped up in her marriage to Dan and in being a mother," tells Peet. "Even though she was very, very smart and educated, that part of her life fell by the wayside as soon as she was pregnant, and I think that there are probably just a lot of women, including my mother, who can relate to the era in which women were really told either overtly or subliminally that once you're a mother, that becomes your identity, and everything else is swallowed up in the sphere of domesticity. For some women, I think that had devastating results, ramifications."

For Betty, Dan was her everything, and when he left her for his new assistant – the beautiful and bright 20-something Linda Kolkena – she was left feeling betrayed and helpless. Betty's attempts to fight back only fueled her rage and slowly

“There didn't seem to be a lot of evidence of mental illness or deep psychological issues until it was too late.” — Amanda Peet destabilized her, while Dan's cold confidence and calculating legal savvy made him somewhat immune to just how irrational Betty had become, until it was too late. On an early Sunday morning in November 1989, Betty drove over to Dan's San Diego mansion, used a key she stole from her daughter to get into his house, snuck into the bedroom Dan shared with his new bride Linda, and pulled out and fired her .38 as they slept.

So much was lost in this battle.

For Peet, who is the wife of Game of Thrones co-creator and writer David Benioff and mother to their three children, getting into Betty's headspace was extremely difficult.

"It's definitely the hardest thing I've ever done," she concludes. "It was difficult to let go of my judgment of her, but I think most actors probably find it thrilling to explore mental illness and to explore why somebody snaps, and I know I do. I find it deeply compelling. What is sanity, and what causes someone to cross the line? How much of it is nurture? How much of it is nature?"

No one will ever really know.

The Real Betty Broderick

If Betty Broderick's name rings familiar, her highly publicized story was the subject of two CBS films in 1992 starring Meredith Baxter — A Woman Scorned: The Betty Broderick Story and Her Final Fury: Betty Broderick, the Last Chapter, along with several books. Her high-profile case split American public opinion in half, as some sided with Betty. While Betty's first trial ended in a mistrial, in 1991 she was convicted of two counts of second-degree murder and was sentenced to 32 years to life in prison. Now age 72, she is still incarcerated at the California Institution for Women. She was denied parole in 2010 and 2017.

Extraordinary Queens

LUCY WORSLEY'S ROYAL MYTHS & SECRETS

Uncover The Truth Behind Some Royal Tall Tales.

By Meredith Ennis

Historian, curator and television personality Lucy Worsley travels across Britain and Europe visiting the sites of events that define three of royal history's most extraordinary queens. Worsley is well known for her ability to bring potentially dry historical subjects to life (often aided by dressing up in costume during her television presentations, as pictured above). Her newest PBS miniseries, Lucy Worsley's Royal Myths & Secrets, aims to uncover what's fact, what's fiction, and what's been exaggerated, manipulated or otherwise mythologized about notable women and events throughout history.

Over the course of three hourlong episodes, Worsley pulls back the curtain on Elizabeth I and the Spanish Armada, Queen Anne and the formation of Great Britain, and Marie Antoinette and the French Revolution. The series aims to answer such questions as did Marie Antoinette really say, "Let them eat cake" and ignite the French Revolution? How did intimate secrets about Queen Anne's love life obscure her role in the development of Great Britain? And, in the pivotal battle of 1588 between the English navy and the formidable Spanish Armada, was it a stirring speech by Queen Elizabeth that inspired England to slay the Spanish giant, as legend portrays?

Royal history is the basis for much of the European identity and is often thought of as the definitive truth about the past. But, Worsley contends, "History is a chorus of voices, each of them shouting out its own version of the story. And very often, it's the loudest voices that get heard most clearly." Royal Myths & Secrets is an entertaining look at significant moments in royal history that brings to light some of the quieter voices that have their own stories to tell.

SYFY WIRE'S THE GREAT DEBATE

Only One Nerd Can Reign Supreme In These Pop-Culture Arguments.

By Jeff Pfeiffer

Celebrity fans of pop culture will have the chance to discuss heated topics across the genres they love in Syfy Wire's The Great Debate. The half-hour, late-night series is based on a format that has been popular at Comic-Con, and is hosted by Baron Vaughn (Grace and Frankie).

"I get to kind of sit back and organize the chaos," Vaughn explains. "Ultimately, it's whoever impresses me the most that gets awarded the victory on that topic."

The panelists seeking victory here include "people who love having strong opinions about nonsensical things," Vaughn says. "The people who debate are personalities out of the world of geekdom and nerdery."

The coronavirus pandemic has currently shut down production on The Great Debate, but eight completed episodes will air. Aisha Tyler, Orlando Jones, Mayim Bialik, Reggie Watts and Adam Savage will be among the rotating panel of celebrities in these episodes.

They'll tackle burning questions like, "Who'd be a worse boss – Darth Vader or the Joker?" and "If you were a superhero, would you rather be in the Marvel or DC Universe?"

BEECHAM HOUSE

“Masterpiece” Looks To The East For Its Newest Drama, The Lush “Beecham House.”

By Meredith Ennis

PBS' Masterpiece turns its gaze on India for its newest drama, Beecham House. Filmed mainly on location and set in the time before Britain ruled the country, this lush six-part epic has all the elements needed for an absorbing tale in a far-flung location: mystery, greed, treachery, suspense and passion. The miniseries is from the acclaimed British Indian director Gurinder Chadha (Bend It Like Beckham), and it does what Masterpiece does best: gives viewers a peek through the window into the lives of fascinating characters who live in other times and places.

The story begins in 1795, as Englishman John Beecham arrives at his newly purchased estate in Delhi, India. Formerly an officer in the East India Company, Beecham left his position after becoming disillusioned with its business practices. His reasons for acquiring the estate are unclear, arousing the interest of a French general, as well as Emperor Shah Alam and his relative Murad Beg, who happens to be Beecham's new neighbor.

Beecham brings along an entourage that includes a mixed-race baby and its nurse – and soon enough, his mother, her companion Violet, and Samuel, an old army buddy of Beecham's. And then there's Beecham's wayward younger brother, rumored to be in the country serving as a mercenary for the East India Company.

And thus, a story of adventure and romance begins. Familiar faces among the cast include Tom Bateman (Vanity Fair) as Beecham, Lesley Nicol (Downton Abbey) as Beecham's mother Henrietta, and Dakota Blue Richards (Endeavour) as Margaret Osborne, the governess living next door. Others onboard include Gregory Fitoussi (Mr. Selfridge), Bessie Carter (Howards End), Leo Suter (Victoria) and Roshan Seth (Indian Summers).

LOST ON EVEREST

An Honest Look At The Grueling Climb In Search Of A Lost Explorer. By Barb Oates

In 1924, long before modern-day equipment, George Mallory and Andrew “Sandy” Irvine pioneered an unthinkable expedition. The two British mountaineers set out to summit Mount Everest. They were last seen on the mountain’s northeast ridge just a few hundred meters from the top. Did they ever summit? Were they really the first to do so?

Thom Pollard (a history-making mountain climber) and Mark Synnott (bestselling author and pioneering climber) are obsessed with finding these answers. In the one-hour, thrilling Nat Geo special Lost on Everest, Pollard and Synnott assemble a team to find Irvine’s body (Mallory’s body was found in 1999) and recover the explorers’ lost camera footage. Filming this difficult expedition was Renan Ozturk, an artist, climber and award-winning documentarian (watch his breath-stealing Meru). Ozturk, a self-described anti-Everest kind of guy, who prefers climbs less established and traveled, was intrigued by the challenge.

“This story just really jumped out because it was trying to figure out one of the greatest mysteries in exploration,” Ozturk shared. “There was the strong possibility that there could be an answer to this mystery. ... I give the utmost level of respect and honor [to Mallory and Irvine] having done what they did. I think every step of the way [in filming this] reassured those emotions as we were up there. A big part of this film, for us, was trying to give the world a really honest look at what Everest is because it’s become such a polarized thing in the media, especially in this year, as they’re calling it the year that Everest broke, because of the viral photos of the lines going to the summit. I hope that through Lost on Everest people can really see that it is this incredibly challenging thing.”

BARKSKINS

Blood And Power In The New World. By Taylor Neumann

National Geographic is going back to the New World in its new eight-episode limited series, Barkskins. It follows a group of outcasts and outlaws who come over to North America from France, starting their own civilization known as – you guessed it – New France. Each are trying to escape something in their pasts and are looking to start fresh across the ocean. But New France has its own troubles, from the pains of building up the ground to the presence of the ever-dangerous Iroquois, who claim the land as their own.

The story takes place in the 1690s in Wobik, a small settlement in present-day Quebec. There are many threads and storylines running throughout Barkskins, including a strong Marcia Gay Harden as Mathilde Geffard, an innkeeper who seems to know everything happening around town. There are also two men, just off the boat, who find themselves indentured to an eccentric man named Claude Trepagny (David Thewlis), who has big dreams for his land and for New France itself. The boat also brings a group of young women, being groomed to be wives for the men already on the land. But they bring their own secrets as well.

The most mysterious characters are the English Mr. Hamish Goames (Aneurin Barnard) and his Native assistant Yvon (Zahn McClarnon), both from the powerful Hudson's Bay Company. They are investigating the disappearance of another agent from the company, which brings them against pretty much everyone in town as they attempt to find out the truth. The English are trying to drive the French from their territory, so Goames finds himself fought against at every turn.

The theme of the show is acquiring land and power, no matter what blood and violence it may bring. The frontier landscape is brutal, a harsh change for some of the settlers arriving from sophisticated France. There are mysterious massacres that few villagers seem willing to solve, instead choosing to ignore the dark reality of what they've gotten themselves into. But each inhabitant has their own dream – to change their fate and become successful in this new, thrilling world.

DINO HUNTERS

A Big Payday Is Lurking In The Desert Hills. By Taylor Neumann

Many of us spent our childhoods dreaming of dinosaurs, of a time long past filled with these majestic – and often deadly – creatures. But on the desert ranches of America's West, there are adults still just as enamored with those monsters of yore. Only now, they're in it for the money.

As ranching becomes a more and more difficult lifestyle to maintain, cowboys are turning to a new way to pay the bills: dinosaur bones. Out in Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas, each time it rains, new fossils are exposed in the eroding hillside. Finding complete specimens can lead to a massive payday from the biggest bidder, whether it's a museum or just a private collector, sometimes for millions of dollars. More often than not, a day's search only leads to the discovery of a few hundred dollars' worth of teeth or bone fragments.

Dino Hunters uses computer animation to show you the extent of the fossils that could be hidden in the rolling hills, as the discovery of just a horn could be so much more beneath the surface. Groups of ranchers join together to take on the excavation of skeletons – and share in any impending profits. Many are second- or third-generation ranchers, trying to continue in their established way of life. Now, they're first-generation dinosaur hunters. It just takes a good eye and a little bit of luck to stumble upon the next big discovery.

HELTER SKELTER

Shedding New Light On The Darkness Behind Charles Manson And His "Family." By Jeff Pfeiffer

The "Family" sitting on the steps of George Spahn's house

Over 50 years later, the crimes committed by Charles Manson and his cultishly devoted five people, among them actress Sharon Tate, in August 1969 – remain etched in the public imagination. The fascination with Manson and his "Family" has been seen in numerous documentaries about them, as well as in scripted works, from the 1976 TV movie Helter Skelter, based on the book cowritten by Manson Family prosecutor Vincent Bugliosi, to last year's Quentin Tarantino film Once Upon a Time in Hollywood, which used the murders as a backdrop to explore the end of a particular era in Tinseltown and the end of the 1960s in general.

Given all of these projects over the past decades, it might seem like there is nothing else to say about these infamous events, but a new EPIX docuseries shows otherwise. Also called Helter Skelter (but not based on Bugliosi's book), the six-part series is directed by Lesley

Chilcott (who produced the Oscar-winning documentary An Inconvenient Truth) and includes among its executive producers Greg Berlanti, who is better known for producing hit scripted series, particularly The CW's superhero shows like Arrow and The Flash.

Helter Skelter uses a unique approach to shed new light on this macabrely familiar subject. It draws from never-before-accessed interviews from former Family members and journalists who were first on the scene of the crimes and in the courtroom. The series weaves their original stories with archival footage, newly unearthed images and even snippets of the songs that Manson wrote and recorded prior to the murders to tell a story about not just the events of August 1969, but further back, into Manson's troubled childhood with his actual family members.

"It explores the age-old question: Are killers born or are they made?" explains Brooke Karzen, executive vice president and head of Warner Horizon Unscripted Television, the studio behind this series.

Befitting the show's title – drawn from Manson's idea of how his cult would turn society on its head, a phrase he himself took from the Beatles song of that name – Helter Skelter, according to EPIX, promises to "upend what people think they know about this layered and complex story."

The Final Adventure Begins

MARVEL'S AGENTS OF S.H.I.E.L.D.

As The Final Season Begins, We Find Agent Phil Coulson Alive And Well! Or Do We? By Emily Aslanian

After six seasons (123 episodes!) of the action-packed Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D., you'd think that viewers would know this ragtag gang of agents inside out. But that's not the case when the ABC series returns for its final adventure – a romp through time to preserve S.H.I.E.L.D. history starting in the 1930s – with half of the team having been through some major traumas in the Season 6 finale.

Thanks to time travel, scientist super-couple Simmons (Elizabeth Henstridge) and Fitz (Iain De Caestecker) are now slightly older, and have faced a yet-to-be-disclosed number of experiences, altering them in unknown ways (“that will be explored,” executive producer Jed Whedon slyly teases). They're also apart, again, with Fitz hidden away so that the duo's combined knowledge cannot be used against them by the evil semi-robotic Chronicoms, who are now trying to turn Earth into their new home, Chronyca-3, and see S.H.I.E.L.D. as the only blockage in their way.

Meanwhile, Agent May (Ming-Na Wen) is healing in a stasis pod after killing mercenary Izel (Karolina Wydra) in the season ender, with no idea how she's been changed by her mysterious portal journey. “She is not the same,” Whedon says. “She went through a strange world with ethereal creatures, she died, she came back – at least one of those things had to affect her.”

But perhaps the biggest wildcard when the season begins is Agent Phil Coulson (Clark Gregg). That's right – the beloved boss, who perished at the end of Season 5, is alive and well ... sort of. Simmons has created an LMD, “life model decoy,” of the former director to serve as the history expert on their mission, even giving him a boosted upgrade with Chronicom tech. But is he the same guy? “He feels the same, but he's not,” Whedon says. “[Coulson finds himself asking], ‘What does it mean to be me? Are these feelings that I have real, or am I programmed?’” “There is some virtual soul-searching,” Gregg agrees, adding, “[Being an LMD] is a reality the original Coulson was adamantly opposed to, but the team needs him.”

Though the response from Coulson's fellow agents to seeing him in the synthetic flesh will vary (“there's a lot to emotionally unpack,” executive producer Maurissa Tancharoen says), there was no question whether Gregg and his fan-favorite character would be welcomed back for the last expedition. “We're so happy to have Coulson, in any form,” executive producer Jeffrey Bell admits. Tancharoen agrees: “Coulson is the heart of the show.”

Kicking off in 1931 Manhattan, the world-saving team, which also includes current S.H.I.E.L.D. director Mack (Henry Simmons), badass fighter Quake/Daisy (Chloe Bennet), newest member Deke (Jeff Ward), speedy Inhuman Yo-Yo (Natalia Cordova-Buckley) and traitor to the Chronicoms Enoch (Joel Stoffer), will spend the season jumping between important S.H.I.E.L.D.-related moments throughout history (we'll also see them check out the '50s and '80s) in the newly revamped Zephyr.

Our heroes quickly learn that to save S.H.I.E.L.D. from the Chronicoms, they must also save longstanding enemy organization Hydra. It's a tough pill to swallow, but it opens the door to a wacky season packed with action and hilarity. Bell teases: “I think there will be favorite episodes for [fans], and at the same time they're going to go, ‘Oh my God, I can't believe they're doing this.’”

Josh Holloway Joins The Series As A New Foe To The Dutton Family. By Kate Hahn

The rich Dutton ranching family, led by do-or-die patriarch John (Kevin Costner), has a new foe in Season 3: Roarke Morris, a hedge fund manager and land developer with local roots, played with slick down-home charm by Lost alum Josh

Holloway. Anyone set on crossing the Duttons had better watch out, especially after last summer's finale in which John and his ex-SEAL son Kayce (Luke Grimes) killed the admittedly dirty Beck brothers, who'd sabotaged the ranch and kidnapped Kayce's boy (the child was saved).

"Roarke is no stranger to those cruel tactics. He's used to dealing with business on both sides of the law. He's definitely a threat to the Duttons," says Holloway. However, he is "not personally going to pull a gun out. He'd use an assassin."

Before being cast as Yellowstone's Lear-jetting baddie, Holloway was a fan of the contemporary Western, as well as a friend of co-creator Taylor Sheridan. They'd done a rodeo together and, avid anglers, traded "trout porn" photos. That led Sheridan to write a scene where a fly-fishing Morris first meets John's badass daughter, ex-corporate raider Beth (Kelly Reilly), who angrily accuses him of trespassing in her river.

"Beth's emasculating to most men. That doesn't scare Roarke," Holloway says of his character, who is single. "There's a spark even though they are on opposite sides." The actor promises things will come to a guns-blazing head and then adds wryly, "I grew up in Georgia around a bunch of ranchers. I don't remember there being that many deaths. This is like ranch mafia. I like it!"

Golf Reopens The Door To Live Sports Competition. By Ryan A. Berenz

Better late than never – Tiger Woods' chase for more major wins resumes

While the COVID-19 pandemic forced the postponement or cancellation of sports events worldwide for most of the spring, the PGA Tour was the first pro sports organization to set a target date for resuming its season. Officials assessed that they could safely resume competitive golf tournaments in June, albeit with a host of stipulations.

"Our sport lends itself more than any other sport to social distancing," PGA Tour Commissioner Jay Monahan said in April following the announcement of the reconfigured season schedule, which will be condensed to 36 tournaments instead of the original 49.

If plans hold, the golf season will resume June 11-14 at the Charles Schwab Challenge at Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth, Texas, which was originally scheduled for May 21-24. Tournaments continue June 18-21 for the RBC Heritage in Hilton Head, S.C., June 25-28 for the Travelers Championship in Cromwell, Conn., and July 2-5 for the Rocket Mortgage Classic in Detroit. There will be no spectators on the course for these four events, and only players, caddies and essential tournament personnel are permitted on-site. Golf Channel and CBS will televise.

Of golf's four majors, only the Open Championship, which was to take place next month in England, has been canceled. The PGA Championship has been moved to August, and the U.S. Open and the Ryder Cup will be played in consecutive weeks in September. Tiger Woods' Masters title defense at Augusta National will have to wait until November. While these marquee events will go on, they'll likely be without the jubilant roar from the galleries that are so much a part of their mystique.

Race fans could see NASCAR and IndyCar back on track in June, though without fans in attendance and with added safety measures for teams, officials and track personnel. At the time of this writing, NASCAR planned to resume its season in late May. NASCAR intends to complete all 36 Cup Series races for the season, though it hadn't announced a revised schedule. Also to be determined is how FOX Sports and NBC Sports will split TV coverage of the races for the remainder of the year, and how the playoffs will be impacted.

The NTT IndyCar Series hopes to get its season started June 6 at the Genesys 300 at Texas Motor Speedway, followed by events at Road America June 21 and Richmond Raceway June 27. IndyCar's revised schedule has 15 races, with doubleheaders at Iowa Speedway July 17-18 and Monterey, Calif., Sept. 19-20. Indianapolis Motor Speedway will host three events: the GMR Grand Prix July 4, the 104th Indianapolis 500 Aug. 23 and the IndyCar Harvest GP Oct. 3. IndyCar races air on NBC and NBCSN. — RAB

CRITIC PICK OF THE MONTH

Make It A Movie Night!

The Hunt was loaded with controversy when its original release date was postponed in theaters. When it finally was released in March, its theatrical run fell victim to the early stages of the pandemic. Quickly the film pivoted and, following its Early Access run on On Demand, it is settling at home for all to check out this month. And as I advocate frequently, you have got to see for yourself if all the madness that surrounded this film was worth the hype, good and bad.

It's my pick of the month.

Paul Hall is a nationally syndicated film critic and member of the Broadcast Film Critics Association (BFCA).

Bravo 129, 9pm SEASON PREMIERE!

Dateline: Mallorca, Spain. If the luxuries aboard the Wellington (Jacuzzi with waterfall! A cigar room!) don't blow your mind, how about the drama provided by the reality show's crew? For example: drugs onboard, a mutineering stewardess and a chef stymied by ultra-demanding diners.

DIESEL BROTHERS HUNKERED AND BUNKERED

Discovery Channel 182, 9pm NEW SERIES!

Bringing their concept of "Quarantainment" to the world, the Diesel Brothers will be showcasing current "quarantine builds" and socially distanced adventures, as well as delivering extended interviews with famous faces from the motor world, all from their own 6-foot safety zones.

VANISHED IN NEW CANAAN: AN ID MYSTERY

Investigation Discovery 192, 9pm

Jennifer Dulos seems to have a picture-perfect life. At age 50, she has built a beautiful life in affluent, safe New Canaan, Conn., and keeps busy raising her five children. But when she disappears in 2019, the case quickly gains national attention and speculation. At the time of her disappearance, Jennifer is embroiled in a contentious divorce and custody battle with her estranged husband, Fotis Dulos. The investigation pivots to Fotis and his new lover as the culprits, and as more details unfold, both are arrested. But the story takes another tragic turn.

CREEPSHOW

AMC 131, 10pm

Episode 5 of this horror series features two new stories. In "Night of the Paw," written by John Esposito, a lonely mortician finds company, in the ultimate "be careful what you wish for" story. Immediately following is "Times Is Tough in Musky Holler," a story about leaders who once controlled a town through fear and intimidation now getting a taste of their own medicine.

AMY SCHUMER LEARNS TO COOK

Food Network 110, 10pm SEASON FINALE!

The comic and her chef hubby Chris Fischer draw the curtains on their at-home culinary series with Amy whipping up martinis while Chris makes crispy potatoes, lamb sliders and other movie-night snacks. Then, he tackles leftovers.

ALMOST PARADISE

WGN America 239, 10pm SEASON FINALE!

The action drama starring Christian Kane ends its first season tonight.

STAR OF THE MONTH: ANN SHERIDAN: "EARLY ROLES"

TCM 132, beginning at 8pm

CATCH A CLASSIC!

Legendary actress Ann Sheridan is remembered on Turner Classic Movies every Tuesday evening this month with a themed lineup of her memorable films, beginning tonight with some of her notable early roles that led to her becoming a so-called "oomph" girl in the minds of many male viewers, and a popular pinup girl by the early 1940s. Tonight's schedule of those early films where she provided the "oomph" begins with Black Legion (1937), followed by other classics like Dodge City (1939), The Footloose Heiress (1937), Alcatraz Island (1937) and more.

DC'S LEGENDS OF TOMORROW

The CW, 9pm SEASON FINALE!

The exciting, action-packed series' fifth season comes to a close tonight. But don't fret — the show has already been renewed for a sixth season.

THE TRUTH BEHIND JOE EXOTIC: THE RICK KIRKHAM STORY

Investigation Discovery 192, 9pm

In his self-proclaimed last interview regarding Tiger King, the Netflix documentary series that was recently a big hit for the streaming service, TV producer Rick Kirkham opens up in an explosive tell-all to expose the truths behind what he saw at the G.W. Zoo and his time with the eccentric figure Joe Exotic. In this one-hour special, Kirkham shares insights into how his nightmare began, and how he faced his point of no return just three months after being hired to produce Exotic's internet show.

DIRTY JOHN: THE BETTY BRODERICK STORY

USA Network 105, 9pm SEASON PREMIERE!

The second installment of the Dirty John anthology series chronicles an epic true tale of love gone wrong — a story that spans the 1960s to the '80s, through a marriage breakdown that Oprah deemed one of "America's messiest divorces." Betty Broderick, played by Amanda Peet, seemed like the perfect Southern California wife and mother. She married her handsome college boyfriend Dan, played by Christian Slater, and supported him through both medical and law school until he exploded into the San Diego legal community as a superstar. But when Dan leaves Betty for his young new hire, it starts a rage-fueled battle that leads to a double homicide.

SPELLING THE DREAM

Netflix

An Indian American competitor has won the prestigious Scripps National Spelling Bee for the past 12 years straight, one of the longest streaks in sports history. This documentary chronicles the ups and downs of four Indian American students as they compete to realize their dream of winning the iconic tournament. The film also explores the reasons behind this incredible winning streak and what it means for the Indian American community.

DIRECTED BY SAM PECKINPAH

TCM 132, beginning at 8pm

CATCH A CLASSIC!

Innovative director Sam Peckinpah, known for his revisionist and often violent Western films, is celebrated with a programming lineup on TCM this evening. The night begins with the network premiere of the 2019 documentary film Peckinpah Suite, in which the late filmmaker's daughter Lupita discovers unknown aspects of his personality and life. This is followed by the Peckinpah classics Ride the High Country (1962), The Wild Bunch (1969), Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid (1973) and The Getaway (1972).

FORGED IN FIRE: BEAT THE JUDGES

History 120, 9pm

NEW SERIES!

In this Forged in Fire spinoff, fans get their wish and finally see bladesmiths compete against the judges. In each episode, previous champions return to the forge to square off against the Masters for the chance to walk away with $10,000 and bragging rights. In the series premiere, three former champs compete against each other, with the winner vying against a judge to make a short sword with just eight hours on the clock.

BACK TO THE FUTURE

CATCH A CLASSIC!

Showtime 318, 6pm

Even though its 1985 “present” now feels at least as dated as its 1955 past does, everything about this time-travel/comedy blockbuster from executive producer Steven Spielberg remains timelessly entertaining and runs like a finely tuned watch – from Robert Zemeckis’ direction and his Oscar-nominated screenplay cowritten with Bob Gale, to the visual effects, to Alan Silvestri’s pulse-pounding musical score, to, of course, the performances from its perfectly cast actors, headlined by Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd and Lea Thompson.

MOUNTAIN MEN

SEASON PREMIERE!

History 120, 9pm

The new season kicks off with two back-to-back episodes tonight. This season, the rivalry between man and beast reaches a fever pitch as dwindling resources force them into a series of heated clashes. In tonight’s first episode, “Hunt or Be Hunted,” as winter descends upon the mountains, Jake’s first lion hunt ends in a near-deadly dustup. Then, in “Bloody Harvest,” Mike competes with a giant Kodiak bear to score his salmon supply for the winter.

CATCH A CLASSIC!

Raquel Welch plays the title role – Fathom Harvill, a skydiver turned secret agent – in this cult-classic 1967 British spy comedy that cashed in on a newly popular film genre ushered in by the James Bond movies of the era. Lorenzo Semple Jr., who wrote for the Batman TV show in the '60s, brings similar camp to these proceedings. The film looks gorgeous, colorfully shot by acclaimed cinematographer Douglas Slocombe, although, if we're being fair, Welch would look fantastic even if she were shot by a high school AV student using an old Betamax camera.
