POINTES FACE BIG DRAIN PROBLEM

Guinea Pigs Furnish Lesson in Nutrition

Children of the first, second and third grades at Old Kerby School have been closely following the development of Giggie and Wiggle, a pair of guinea pigs from the same litter, to see how much milk means in promoting healthy growth. Comparing WIGGLE, the white pig which was fed milk regularly, with much smaller GIGGLE, who had no milk, are left to right: DENNIS RUNNELLS, JOSEPHINE DEBO, LAUREN LEE BOWLER, MISS JEAN KUMKE, teacher of the Third Grade; and NANCY ANNE DRENNEN. The pigs are two months old.

Kid Drivers Involved In Car 'Theft'

Youngsters Explain to Police They Merely Borrowed Transportation From Pal

A group of young Pointers in their middle teens, all of whom turned out to be rather good friends, kept the Pointe police in a bit of a dither on Saturday night, March 25, with a stolen car report.

Reported on Radio

A 16-year-old first telephoned the Farms police to say that his car had been taken from in front of the house where he was calling. The Farms police put the report on the radio.

Some time later, the City police spotted the car, being driven by another young driver with another youngster as passenger. When questioned, the driver said the car had originally been "borrowed" from the Farms location and that he and his present companion had gone along for the ride.

Long Road Back

The first driver had gone to his own home, and then had asked his pals to drive the car back to the owner. Instead of doing that with dispatch, the pair picked up by the police had made a detour to take in another party.

When the police got all the youngsters together, the owner said he did not wish to sign any complaint and all were released with warnings.

Schools Donate $972 to Drive

The Junior Red Cross collected $972.31 in the public schools of the Pointe during the annual campaign conducted in March.

Thief Surprised in Garage Attacks Owner with Shovel

As James Leszczynski of 1274 Whittier approached his garage at 9:10 p. m. on March 21, a colored man, who had been in the place apparently on robbery bent, ran out and hit him a vicious blow over the head with a shovel he had picked up in the place.

He was momentarily unconscious and when he came to, members of the family rushed him to Bon Secours Hospital, which in turn notified the police of the injured patient.

Officers Slusser and A. Boone saw Leszczynski in the hospital and took his statement.

Witnesses Reverse Stories And Turn Court Hearing on Riot into Roman Holiday

Defendants Given Opportunity to Accept Probation Sentences; Judge Young Hopes to Settle Matter At Session Saturday Morning

A four hour session of Judge Leslie Young's City Police Court, aided and abetted by the presence of 14 defendants and 16 witnesses, plus three lawyers, was unable to bring to a conclusion the case of the early morning riotous melee on Fisher road that followed a basketball game on Friday night, March 3, between the Grosse Pointe and Highland Park teams.

The hearing was held in one of the rooms in the north building of the Administration Headquarters of the Board of Education on St. Clair avenue, as it was known that the usual courtroom in the City offices on Maumee would not be capable of accommodating the crowd that was certain to be present.

Everyone Present

And the crowd was present; Defendants, Witnesses, Fathers, Mothers, Sweethearts, Uncles, Aunts and Cousins, Big Brothers, Small Brothers and just casual spectators.

Not a face was lined with anxiety, and the best of good feeling pervaded the entire company of probably 150 persons. It was a Roman Holiday, in which the City Police were to be thrown to the lions.

The police were greatly handicapped by the fact that by the time they arrived on the riot scene, nothing was going on beyond a little loud argumentative talk indulged in by various groups scattered over the late battlefield.

No Disappointment

There was an obvious feeling that the witnesses would be "good witnesses" for the defense. In this they were not disappointed.

One of them gave testimony so directly opposite to the statements he had made to the police following the fight that Judge Young openly accused him of lying and warned him. This youth "didn't know any body" there, although he had previously stated to the police he "knew everybody there."

The case was opened by Attorney Charles Wright, Jr., representing the City Attorney's office. He read from the City's General Peace Ordinance in which four categories of offense were cited. On conviction under any of these the boys could be liable to a fine of $100 or jail terms. A roll call of defendants resulted in four of them pleading guilty, among them Harold Edsall, the youth whose jaw was broken by an alleged hammer blow.

Others Plead Not Guilty. All of the other defendants pleaded not guilty.

Attorney Nathan Goodrow represented five of the Grosse Pointe defendants and one Detroit boy, Frank Abbot, of Seyburn, whose face was badly beaten.

Augustinian High School Plan Delayed

High Building Costs and Projects Started by Other Parishes Cause Postponement

The Rev. Charles J. Melchior, who heads the Augustinian High School enterprise on the edge of Grosse Pointe, told the News that the project was temporarily held in abeyance.

Father Melchior wishes to emphasize that the project is only temporarily halted. The plans for the school have been prepared and preliminary estimates of cost obtained. It was the unexpected high building cost of the project that caused the postponement of actual construction for the time being.

Another Reason

He acknowledged that the unusual activity in school expansion among the Grosse Pointe parishes had also influenced this decision.

The Augustinian High School, which is to be built on the tract which the Order purchased some time ago from Grosse Pointe City, does not wish to compete too seriously at this particular time with the Grosse Pointe parochial school projects, although it is expected that it will when completed make a large addition to the Pointe's educational facilities.

To Accommodate 1500

The High School will, when finally finished, accommodate upwards of 1500 students. The first unit to be built will care for 1,000.

The present high building costs coinciding with the unusual school developments in Grosse Pointe has determined the Order to make further definite financial arrangements before actively going ahead.

Shopping Rush Abruptly Halted

In her haste to get to the store to spend a dime which her mother had given her, little 5-year-old Eileen Ceuninck of 1144 Wayburn ran across the street in front of her home and into the rear bumper of a passing car.

The police took her to Bon Secours hospital where it was found she had sustained a broken collar bone.

Woods Hires Architect To Plan New Bathhouse

George G. Zannoth of Grosse Pointe Woods was employed as an architect by the Woods Council on March 21 in connection with the proposed bath house and utility building at the lakefront parksite.

He will act under the direction of the Village Commissioners.

Five New Directors Of War Memorial To be Picked in May

Present Board Will Name Nominating Committee At Meeting Monday Night; Retiring Directors Not Eligible For Reelection

At the regular monthly meeting of the Directors of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association on Monday, April 3, the directors will appoint a nominating committee who will place in nomination for director five candidates who will be voted upon by the members of the association at a meeting to be held some time in May.

The directors are elected for three year terms. The whole board is composed of 15 directors, five of whose terms expire each year.

In the original election the one, two and three year terms were decided by lot.

Can't Be Re-elected

A fact not generally known to the public is that not any of the retiring directors can be re-elected. The purpose of those who first formulated the governing structure of the War Memorial Association was that it should be assured of the constant infusion of new blood in the board.

The five candidates for director who are to be picked out by the nominating committee are first interviewed by the committee to ascertain their willingness to serve, with the clear understanding that this service implies a lot of time and wholly gratuitous work for the institution.

At the meeting of the whole membership of the Association at which the directors are elected any member may place a name in nomination and in the event of more than five candidates the five highest will of course be elected.

Democratic Concept

The membership of the association is based upon a thoroughly democratic concept in that every person who has subscribed, be it much or little, is a member with voting privileges.

The underlying purpose was to make the War Memorial Association truly representative of the whole citizenry of Grosse Pointe with the opportunity for all to enjoy its privileges and also to participate in its government.

Builder Reports Peculiar Theft

A peculiar type of thievery was reported to the Park police on March 24 by Ernest Del Barba of 770 Notre Dame, a contractor who is putting up a new building at 1060 Somerset.

That morning he had found two complete door locks removed from doors in the building. Nothing else was disturbed.

The police surmise is that somebody was in quest of especially nice household hardware to incorporate in another building.

New Park Site In Woods Urged

A communication from residents of the Woods was received at the Council meeting on March 21 urging the acquisition of a park site at the south end of the village in P. C. 617. This was referred to the Planning Commission and the Park Commission and Engineer for study and report.

It is understood that this project is being urged by former Village Commissioner George Burgess in the interests of neighbors of his who live in that section. The plan, it is understood, is to acquire about seven acres of land at the end of the Newcastle road.

High School Band Awarded Highest Honors at Festival

The Grosse Pointe High School Band has never received a rating of less than excellent in all the years it has been organized. An all time high was reached last Saturday night at the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Festival where the band was given all first division ratings.

At Ypsilanti, under the direction of Mr. Dewey Kalember the band was named highly superior in a unanimous decision of all four judges. The band played a warm-up march, a required selection, a selection of its own choice and was given a sight reading piece.

Book to Tell Memorial's Whole Story

Alger Shelden to Make Presentation of Complete Development of Center Project

Alger Shelden, President of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, preserved newspaper clippings of the articles carried in the local press since the first inception of the War Memorial idea in this community.

Records Go Far Back

His records go back to the Honor Roll project which eventuated in the little wooden memorial shrine which stood for several years on the corner of the High School grounds at Maumee and Fisher. It was later moved to the Memorial Center grounds on the lakefront.

It is Mr. Shelden's purpose to have these clippings assembled in a handsome gold embossed volume and present it to the Memorial Center where it will be on display to all interested citizens.

Token of Appreciation

It will be largely a token of the appreciation which the Memorial Association feels for the effective cooperation which the local press gave the idea of a war memorial for Grosse Pointe during all the days of its anxious development.

To Receive Bids On School Bonds

Sealed bids for the purchase of the bonds to be issued by the Grosse Pointe School District in accordance with authority granted by the voters at the special election last month, will be opened in the Superintendent's office of the Board of Education Building at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 12.

The bonds will be dated as of May 1, 1950 and the issue consists of 3185 bonds of $1,000 each. They will bear interest not exceeding 3 percent per annum. Interest will be payable on September 1, 1950 and semi-annually thereafter on March 1 and September 1 of each year.

Maturity dates of the bonds and other data pertaining to their sale are fully explained in an advertisement of the Board of Education carried in this issue of the NEWS.

CAR EMBLEMS STOLEN

Both front and rear emblems were stolen from a Ford car owned by Mrs. E. Spranger of 1529 Lycaste when it was parked in Fisher road across from the High School on March 22.

State Board Insisting on Vast Project

Water Resources Commission Wants All Municipalities To Set Up Treatment Plants

The insistence of the State Water Resources Commission that all communities draining into the water courses of the state shall set up sewage treatment plants for the treatment of storm water in addition to the raw sewage flow involves a vast outlay of money utterly beyond the financial capacity of most of these places to meet.

The proposal of the Water Resources Commission is that such treatment plants shall be installed with a capacity to care for the flow expected from such storms as occur once each year. This is termed the one-year storm flow.

This standard of measurement entails enormous installations costing vast sums of money.

Pointe in Middle

Grosse Pointe is directly in the middle of this problem and while its present sewer system is much more complete than that existing in most of the other communities and for a long time past, it has been treating its raw sewage, for which it pays Detroit a considerable sum each year, it might nevertheless be faced with a great expense if the Water Resources Commission should succeed in its proposal to compel the treatment of this vast additional volume of storm water.

This problem has nothing whatever to do with the recent proposal of Detroit that the flow passing through Fox Creek should be carried down to the Corner Creek outlet.

Not Supported

This proposal originated with the Detroit Water Board, which insisted that the incidental sewage which came out of Fox Creek in time of high water, polluted the water at the intake at the head of Belle Isle. This statement was never sufficiently supported by the facts and the Corner Creek outlet plan as it affects Grosse Pointe has probably been abandoned.

The Water Resources Board was little concerned with it at any time as it was in no manner related to the general problem of water pollution and offered no relief whatever to the communities below Detroit.

Storm of Protest

At the meeting held last week at Haven Hill between the Water Resources Commission and the representatives of the affected communities in this area, this storm water treatment issue was the chief subject under discussion. As can be imagined there was a storm of protest from all of the communities. The cost of such installation arose as a financial nightmare and was opposed on the grounds that it was unnecessary at this time.

There was much criticism also of the suddenness of the Water Resources Commission's program.

Storms Add Pollution

The Water Resources Commission is insisting on the one-year storm flow treatment on the score that there is a large quantity of deleterious surface matter carried into the water courses by these heavy storms which should be treated before entering the open water courses. This comes from the ordinary surface drainage thrown out by oil and gas stations and particularly by industrial plants.

On this score alone, Grosse Pointe should have an excellent defense, as it is entirely free from industrial plants and always will be.

Following the meeting at Haven Hill, which Grosse Pointe representatives attended, another meeting followed attended by the Detroit representatives.

Detroit Gets Permit

It was rumored that at this meeting permission was given Detroit to build its Essex Relief Sewer. If the matter stopped at that it would be of small concern to Grosse Pointe, unless with this permit went a condition that Detroit agreed to treat the drainage collected in the Essex area which would enter the river by Corner Creek, on the one-year storm flow plan.

With this plan agreed to between Detroit and the Water Resources Commission, a precedent would be established under which the Resources Commission would

What Goes on at Your Library

Rudyard Kipling was a jump ahead of the psychiatrists when, long before their heyday, he admonished those with too little to do.

"The cure for this ill is not to sit still, Or frown with a book by the fire, But to take a large hoe and a shovel also And dig till you gently perspire."

After visiting the Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition held at Convention Hall this week, you'll be inspired to follow this advice, time on your hands or no. But before you take hoe in hand, a few hours with a reliable book on gardening may save you later disappointment.

The GARDEN ENCYCLOPEDIA, edited by Edward L. Seymour is a complete practical and convenient guide to every detail of gardening by a group of horticultural experts.

10,000 GARDEN QUESTIONS ANSWERED, edited by Frederick F. Rockwell has ten sections covering a different phase of gardening.

PERENNIALS PREFERRED by Helen V. Wilson tells you how to grow perennials with a minimum of effort.

For inspection and entertainment we suggest some of Beverly Nichols' books in which he gives his own gardening experience. Mr. Nichols is both an enthusiastic gardener and a man of letters. In GREEN GROWS THE CITY he relates how he built a thing of beauty out of a particularly ugly triangular backyard in a London suburb. DOWN THE GARDEN PATH, A THATCHED ROOF AND A VILLAGE IN A VALLEY also convey his delight in all growing things.

These are a few titles only, on this popular hobby. Come in and browse through the gardening books on our library shelves to discover those best suited to your needs.

On one of last week's dreary raw days when we were convinced Spring would never arrive, a large pot of gay red tulips appeared at the City Branch desk. Although we have known from long acquaintance that the donor, Mrs. Leonard Willeke, has both a green thumb and a great heart, we were incredulous. "You couldn't. You didn't raise these yourself?"

Modestly Mrs. Willeke assured us that it was a simple procedure which requires little effort but pays great dividends. We pass along her directions for an early indoor garden.

The bulbs are planted in a pot which is placed out of doors in a sheltered corner next to the wall of the house. The pot is well covered with leaves. Several layers should be placed underneath as well. Then good-bye to your tulips until early February when you take them into the house. They should be watered freely each day at this point and a few weeks later you reap your reward. Mrs. Willeke tells us that hyacinths and tulips are equally successfully forced in this way but only new bulbs may be used. These bulbs may be planted out of doors again but they can be forced only once.

Our appreciation goes to Mrs. Willeke for sharing her gardening experience with us and for the lift that lovely spot of color gave to the patrons and to the staff of our library.

Camera Club To Shoot Models

Models will be furnished by Don Thomas of the Warren Studios for photographic shooting by the Grosse Pointe Camera Club at its meeting on Tuesday evening, April 4.

Vincent Ayres, president of the club, has made elaborate arrangements for costuming of the models and proper provisions of lighting facilities. The entire "shooting session" will however be under the personal supervision and direction of Mr. Thomas.

The members have been warned to bring an ample supply of films as all of the models have been chosen because of their individual photogenic personality. The president of the Club has issued an invitation to the interested public to attend the meeting which will be held promptly at 8 o'clock at the Neighborhood Club.

Youths Confess To Theft of Gas

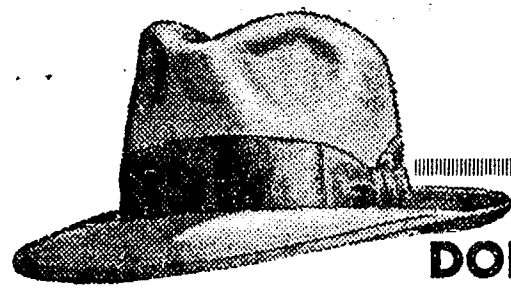

Two Detroit youths picked up by the Farms police shortly after midnight on March 26 with a jug of gasoline in their car, readily admitted they had stolen a quantity of gas from a Hudson parked in a driveway at 374 Kerby road. They said they had siphoned off some five or six gallons.

The police also found a flashlight in their car, and this was later identified as belonging to Louis Haselkuhn, of 4607 Mel-drum, the owner of the Hudson. Mr. Haselkuhn told the police he did not care to prosecute and the boys were released to their parents pending further investigation.

General Discussion Held In Woods on Park Matters

Members of Two Commissions Get Together for Airing Plans for Spending $81,000 Bond Issue for Recreation Improvements

At the meeting of the Woods Village Commissioners with the Park Commission on Monday night there was only a general discussion of the park program without any definite recommendations being made.

With the passage of the $81,000 bond issue for park improvements, the request has come in from several widely different sections of the village to receive park attention. While there were no binding instructions in the bond issue as to where the money should be spent, the general understanding is that three-fourths or seven-eighths of it will go into improvements in the lakefront park. This will mean $60,000 to $70,000 of the total issue will be spent there. It has also been agreed that a substantial sum shall be devoted to improving the Torrey Woods Park, or to at least 32 acres of it.

The other 12 acres which lie over in Gratiot Township will be sold to private interests if the village can get a satisfactory offer.

Reckless Drivers Fined In Court

Judge C. Joseph Belanger presided at Park Police Court on March 22 and disposed of the following cases:

Cyriel F. Calus of 4653 Lillibridge, Detroit, pleaded not guilty at a stop street violation at Charlevoix and Somerset on Feb. 15 resulting in an accident but was found guilty and paid fine and costs of $35.

Donald J. Shock of 1242 Maryland, charged with reckless driving resulting in an accident at Wayburn and Mack on Feb. 28, was found guilty of "less than reckless driving" and was let off with payment of costs of $5.

Thomas C. Moase of 410 Beaconsfield, Detroit, for reckless driving causing an accident at Mack and Bedford on Feb. 18, paid a fine and costs of $15.

William P. Baker, 407 Barclay, Grosse Pointe, for failure to drive to right, at Jefferson and Three Mile on March 4, but not resulting in an accident, paid a fine and costs of $10.

Donald L. Domine of 212 Kerby road, for reckless driving causing an accident at Charlevoix and Maryland on Feb. 28, pleaded guilty and was let off from fines and costs but was placed on probation for three months and ordered to attend 6 sessions of Traffic School, and it was recommended that his license be revoked for one year.

Arthur F. Duhaim, 1187 Drexel, Detroit, for stop street violation resulting in an accident at Somerset and Charlevoix on Feb. 24, paid a fine and costs of $35.

Raymond Charles Vincent of 2160 Concord, Detroit, for stop street violation but not involving an accident at Charlevoix and Audubon on Feb. 19, paid a fine and costs of $10.

3 Drivers Fined In City Court

In City Police Court on March 20 Judge Leslie P. Young disposed of the following cases:

Clifford B. Lorange of 888 Lake Shore drive, for speeding, paid a fine of $15 and costs of $10.

Fred Jaballe of 2515 Lakewood, Detroit, for reckless driving causing an accident, paid a fine and costs of $15.

Mary Nickopolous Gianopoulos of 936 Fisher, charged with reckless driving, was found not guilty and case was dismissed.

Concealed Pistol Trio's Undoing

Mike Kuzmack, Don Campbell and Don Stewart were found guilty in Circuit Court before Judge Guy Miller on March 23 of carrying concealed weapons.

This is the trio, who were picked up by the Park police some months ago for an ordinary traffic violation. A loaded pistol was found in their car and on further examination it was learned they had planned to burglarize the Smith residence on Park lane.

Woods Approves Lochmoor Sub

A motion was adopted at the Woods Council meeting on March 21 that the tentative plat of Outlot "B" of Lochmoor Subdivision be approved and that the plat when finally approved shall provide for adequate sewer, pavement, sidewalk and water main and that a black top of pavement entrance be provided from Vernier road to Lot 1 of said subdivision.

Measles Cases Tapering Off

The measles epidemic in Grosse Pointe has been tapering off rapidly in the last ten days. Dr. Thomas Davies, Grosse Pointe Health Commissioner, now thinks it quite possible it will disappear entirely by the end of April.

Keeping close tabs on the measles situation throughout the state, Dr. Davies says that in our neighboring communities the score since the first of January has been over 10,000 cases in Wayne County; Oakland had 2800 and Macomb County 776.

The score in Grosse Pointe since Jan. 1 has been 740 cases, indicating that our community was hit considerably harder than the communities to the north and east.

Woods Grants Sewer Request

The request of the Protestant Children's Home to install a private sewer in accordance with the conditions expressed in the letter of the Village Engineer, was granted by the Woods Council on March 21.

The Home is required to make a deposit of $125 to cover engineering and inspection fees and all work must be done under the supervision and inspection of the village engineer and inspectors.

At the same time, on motion of Commissioner Gardner, permission was given to the Home for the extension of the water main in Cook road from its existing terminus for a distance of approximately 640 feet.

A condition of the permit is that the water main shall be 12 inches in size and the village will pay the differential in cost between a six inch main and the 12 inch main required.

The work is to be done by the Village and as soon as bids are received the Home is to make a deposit of its proportionate share of the cost.

Bids will be opened for the work on April 4.

Ready for Palm Sunday

The REV. DR. J. CLEMENS KOLB, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Grosse Pointe boulevard, looks over some of the palms which will be distributed to parishioners following the traditional Palm Sunday services in his church on April 2.

Music Lecture Set for Tonight

Members of the faculty of the University of Michigan as well as Grosse Pointe musicians will demonstrate their instruments individually and in their natural combinations at Miss Louise Cuyler's lecture to be held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center tonight, Thursday, March 30, at 8 o'clock.

This lecture will be the third in a series of four on the "Structure of Music" to be given by Miss Cuyler, an associate professor of music at Ann Arbor, and is titled "Instruments of the Symphony Orchestra." In this talk, Miss Cuyler hopes to enable those interested in music to identify all the separate voices in the symphony orchestra.

Pointe Seen From Air in Photos

City Clerk Norbert P. Neff has in his office a collection of aerial photographs covering practically all of Grosse Pointe.

He obtained them from the Detroit Edison company which has made similar pictures of the entire area which it serves in Michigan. Mr. Neff got them to assist the work of the City's Planning Commission.

The photos are of general interest to citizens and can be seen by calling at the City Clerk's office. Every building is clearly shown and any resident would have little difficulty in picking out his own home.

Grass Roots Economy

This is the season of the year when the Grosse Pointe municipalities are preparing their budgets for their next fiscal years. It is a function on which the citizen, the man who pays the freight, will have his eyes glued with special intensity this year.

There is a growing insistence on economy in Government which is permeating every division of our political government from Nation to Township and no more significant locale for the conveyance of this intent can be found than in our smallest subdivisions of local government. It will carry a message, even up to our representatives in the National legislature, who have been going hog wild in deficit spending and are offering us nothing more consoling this year than a deficit of about Five Billion dollars.

It is reported that Mayor Ralph Netting of Grosse Pointe City has served notice on his heads of departments that he will not tolerate any increase in budget estimates this year. It is a good example to hang before the eyes of every governing body in the Pointe. Moreover the City of Grosse Pointe is fairly well committed to the pay-as-you-go policy of public improvements. It is under this plan that it is providing for the long needed swimming pool. A wading pool is being built this year for the young children, to be expanded as the City's resources warrant into a full fledged swimming pool for all ages.

In the Park the pay-as-you-go plan has been in effect for the past four or five years. It is true that this has been accompanied by a considerable increase in village taxes which, however, has enabled the village to wipe out about a million dollars of debt which was inherited from a more high, wide and handsome era of village financing. Meanwhile the Park has made good headway in bringing up to date its sewer system and has resurfaced many miles of its streets.

The Woods village, newer in the municipal field and more sparsely populated than the other communities has been confronted with the necessity of providing improvements which can only be met by bond issues. The large growth that area has had in population and additions to its assessed valuation will probably meet these extraordinary expenses without burdensome additions to its taxes.

Whether or not the transition from Village to City status in the Farms will effect the promised economies in the municipal administration remains to be seen. Already additions have been made to its paid personnel and additional equipment is asked for its working quarters. But the Farms also has profited by the new building development that has been under way in the Pointe and they feel assured of their financial position.

The people of Grosse Pointe, in common with all the rest of the country, are more tax conscious than ever before. They will heartily approve of every symptom of economy in their local government services, signs of which are now so sadly lacking in both their National and State governments.

The Sino-Communist Progress

To those with even only a casual familiarity with Chinese history there seems to have been a deal of unnecessary potter raised over China "going Communist."

The Chinese culture is so ancient and so deep seated in its mold as to leave little prospect that it will change materially within any appreciable range of time. It is peculiarly resistant to change. Generation has succeeded generation without discernible change in the pattern or processes of Chinese life.

While the Western World whose civilization has progressed from the Greco-Roman, the Decline and Fall, the Dark Ages, the Crusades succeeded by the Renaissance and the Revival of Learning and the evolution of great political states, China has lifted its hoary head over the graves of departed empires, timelessly and without change.

It has been conquered in turn by segments of its own race stock which have held dynastic sway for two to four centuries each, but these have as inexorably been absorbed into the common mold of the Chinese culture.

It would be difficult to conceive a less promising field for the permanent imprint of Communist doctrines.

The politicians of Russia have aimed merely to take advantage of a rebellion of masses of the Chinese people against a native ex-war lord who failed to make good.

Would it not be the part of wisdom for the Western Nations to confine themselves to maintaining a few strategic bastions against the approach of Communism into more promising fields and let the Russo-Chinese misalliance progress to its own inevitable end?

The Civil Rights Pitfall

There are growing indications that President Truman's civil rights program, which was conceived to catch the Negro vote, particularly in great urban centers of Negro population in certain northern states like New York, Michigan and Illinois, may prove a frankenstein that will eat him up when the next presidential election comes around.

The southern states, which must always be the backlog for democratic success in any national campaign, are as determined as ever that this issue shall remain at the disposal of the states concerned, constitutional provisions to the contrary notwithstanding.

There also remains to haunt Mr. Truman the unanswered question whether his espousal of civil rights for the Negro will net him more gains than losses in the very states at which it was aimed.

The likely election of James Byrnes as the next Governor of South Carolina will not tend to compose the situation in the South. Southern states have gone to Republican presidential candidates several times within the past thirty years.

They might do so again if the issues pinch southern toes with enough pressure.

Mr. Truman probably calculates he has pretty well tied up the industrial north and the agricultural mid-west with his labor and farms subsidy policies but whether civil rights will prove the buttoning up process for the country as a whole remains to be seen.

It is a Q.E.D. political theorem which must cause Mr. Truman no little anxiety.

Grosse Exaggerations

"Doorbells are like a magic game,
Or the grab-bag at a Fair . . .
You never know when you hear one ring
Who may be waiting there."
(Rachel Field)

In case you missed one minute of Godfrey last week, we pass this on here because it is the type of thing we wish WE had said. Godfrey (quoting someone else) said that when Gubitchev left the Country, we, the U.S.A. should have had a band on the dock playing: "RED SAILS IN THE SUNSET!"

A local matron of impeccable decorum had the misfortune to be stopped in Detroit the other day, for speeding. When the police officer asked for her license, she found she had left it at home . . . so the quiz was on. He asked her name, age, color of her hair and eyes (silly man), and finally asked her height. When she said she was six-feet-seven, his eyes bugged out of his head and he opened the car door to take a closer look. Our confused heroine wanted to know what on earth he was looking at . . . so the officer replied, "Lady, if you're SIX-FEET-SEVEN . . . that's something I've got to see!" She happens to be FIVE-feet-seven but in her dithery state, didn't realize what she was saying. She kept insisting it was six . . . so the gendarme finally made her get out of the car and stand up so he could see for himself!

Being civic-minded as all get out, we were horrified to see in the Magazine Add on by the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, pictures of the Addison Holtons and Mrs. Lester Ruwe pictured as coming from DETROIT! We immediately took our pen in hand and wrote to Steve Royce . . . who IS the Huntington . . . and poured out our little Grosse Pointe heart in Chamber of Commerce language! In the mail today comes a letter from Mr. Royce, full of apologies and advising us that his society photographer probably didn't know how to spell Grosse Pointe. He went on to say that he has had that same trouble in the bosom of his own family and cited the following incident:

His son Danny came home with a form he had filled out for an application in the Naval Reserve. His mother, in looking it over, was stupified to see that he had said he was born in Los Angeles General Hospital . . . which we presume is like our Receiving. When she said to her offspring, "WHY did you say that? You KNOW you were born in the Good Samaritan Hospital!" He replied, "Sure . . . but I didn't know how to spell it!"

Mrs. L. Rothe Farr whose name is practically synonymous with garden clubs, received a garden booklet last week from the Garden Center in Cleveland. It was addressed as follows:

Mrs. L. R. Farr,
Gross Point Memorial Cemetery,
Lilac Shore Road, Michigan.
Picturesque group, those Clevelanders!

Our idea of living like the chic group live, is to own a pair of Delman shoes . . . so a couple of weeks ago we blew ourselves to a pair of snazzy black suede jobs with an open lace-effect toe. The first time the man in our life asked us out for dinner, we donned the shoes, in spite of the fact that the weather was inclement. When he let us out of the car at our front door, after a beautiful evening of one-steps and waltzes, we unwittingly plodded into a mess of mud where there is hard, firm, grass in the summer. Our feet sounded like a bellows as we picked them up and laid them down, in the quick-mud. Naturally, we were sick about the shoes and what we knew the slime would do to them. In the house, we took them off and tossed them into a closet so we wouldn't have to look at the costly mess. But wait! This story does have a happy ending! The next day we gathered them up and in desperation, brushed the daylight out of them . . . and presto! Just like new. Bless you Mr. Delman . . . or maybe it's just that even the mud in Grosse Pointe is elegant!

Will you ladies who know how to cope with hair-dos, please raise your hands! Thank you. Now you can give us some advice. We have the best hairdresser in town . . . and next to the best hair in town. That combination in itself ought to be enough . . . but it isn't. Ferinstance: Say we have our hair done on Monday. That eliminates Monday night for doing the town . . . because we are curled to a fare-thee-well and if we had a moustache, we'd look like our father.

Tuesday, we look a little "looser" but with that "had my hair washed and can't do a thing with it" feeling, Wednesday, we look real sharp and anxious for a date . . . something that practically never happens on Wednesday for some reason or another. Thursday, we are REALLY at our hair-do peak and it looks like we'd like it to look forever. Friday, we can still pass; Saturday it starts to droop (and so do we) . . . and Sunday, we wouldn't be seen by our best friends, without a turban. What goes with this hair business anyway? Are we so DIFFERENT?

Letters To The Editor

Editor Grosse Pointe News:
To the Editor:

In your issue of March 23rd I read about a hit-run case of a milk truck being scratched up. I have little sympathy for the milk man. I do considerable driving in the Pointes and the milk men have a habit of parking in the middle of the street, leaving almost no room for a car to pass, so if they get scratched no doubt this was the cause.

I note that where there is plenty of curb room the milk trucks will not go into the curb but park in the center of the street while they make a round of deliveries. I have even had, to boot my horn to get them to move so I could get into vacant parking space at the curb.

Where there are vacancies at the curb these drivers should be compelled to park at the curb and quit blocking traffic. This also applies to many other trucks. Many stop on the wrong side of the street, creating a traffic hazard. Others park headed the wrong direction. They head in instead of turning and parking with traffic. There are some milk drivers who get real nasty when one asks them to move over and where parking is allowed on both sides of the street it is at times almost impossible to get by. Young boys driving trucks seem to know no traffic laws.

March 23, 1950

To the Editor:

In your issue of February 23 a letter that I had prepared relative to the school situation was printed, and an answer by Mr. Wendin, President of the Board of Education, was also published.

In the letter of Mr. Wendin's he stated as follows: "The School Board is not going into a long analysis here of the facts Mr. Lowmaster alleges to support his thinking. His facts are misrepresentative and inaccurate. The Board has put into the home of every registered voter the full facts of this situation and will stand on that report."

The figures and facts contained in my letter were obtained from a copy of the report of the Superintendent to the Board, under date of October 5, 1949, and from a further report of the Superintendent, dated December 7, 1949. Of course I did not "allege" any facts; I merely took them from these reports, and as I understand it was on the basis of these reports that the School Board made their recommendations.

The School Board did not, as Mr. Wendin stated, put into the home of every registered voter the FULL facts of the situation. The full facts were contained in the reports of the Superintendent to the Board.

There was no organized opposition to the school election as most citizens felt that if all the facts were developed there was no need of any organized opposition, and there certainly was no need for the propaganda that was substituted by the School Board for the full facts. An example of the omission of facts, on Table 5 of the Superintendent's report of October 5, school census figures were given. The first five age brackets from which the intermediate classes will come shows a total census of 3,378. The ages they will replace total, according to the census, 3,409. So that it is evident that the large increase which the School Board stated would have to be taken care of must come solely from new residents in the district.

Of course, I have no way of being sure that the facts I used in my letter were in truth facts, or whether they were as Mr. Wendin says, misrepresentative and inaccurate, inasmuch as they were taken from the report of the Superintendent to the School Board. I accepted them as accurate. If, however, Mr. Wendin is sure that the facts are inaccurate and misrepresentative, it would seem then that the School Board should re-examine the entire situation.

The School Board, I understand, paid for a great deal of what could be labeled, pure propaganda; forcing those who were opposed to the School Board's bond issue to pay through their taxes proportionately for this propaganda. This was a new departure in the affairs of the School Board in our area and I think it is entirely improper that tax payer's money should be used in propaganda literature.

Yours very truly,
Frank L. Lowmaster

Tentative Plats Of Subs Received

It was referred to the Engineer and the Planning Commission for report at the next meeting.

Similar action was taken on the plat of the Grosse Pointe Homes Subdivision.

Vast Project

probably insist Grosse Pointe and the other affected communities should also set up their own storm water treatment facilities. A phone call back to the Water Resources people from Grosse Pointe officials attending the meeting elicited the information that such a permit had not yet been given to Detroit and would not be before Grosse Pointe had a further hearing.

Most Grosse Pointe engineers seem to think there is little likelihood that Detroit has or would agree to such a condition for its Essex Sewer project. The expense would run into many millions for Detroit; the question of site alone would call for 150-175 acres with probably condemnation of much valuable property. Another meeting will be held with the Water Resources Commission pursuing this matter further, at Haven Hill either today or on April 4.

Diane Maiullo Is Now Seven

There were seven candles on Diana Maiullo's birthday cake last Saturday evening. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Maiullo II, of University place, was more than a little surprised to return from a schoolmate's birthday party and find one of her own all ready to begin.

Two of her very favorite playmates, Kathy and Bickie Bicknell, who also live on University place, presented a sparkling-eyed greeting when the Birthday Girl arrived.

Pointers Visit Virginia Club

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Little III of Meadow lane will leave this week-end to spend two weeks at the Farmington Country Club in Charlottesville, Va.

Mrs. Thomas J. Little of Neff road is also planning a visit to the same spot and will make the journey in early April.

How Movies Affect Children Told In Talk Before Mothers' Council

The Grosse Pointe Mothers' Health Council met Tuesday, March 21, at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Center. Mrs. D. W. Himble, President of the Grosse Pointe Moving Picture Council, gave a talk on "How the Movies Affect the Health of the Child."

Mrs. Himble believes that the movies have little effect on the health of the child. However, they often tend to precipitate anxieties lying beneath the surface of a child's emotions; anxieties that are actually caused by family strife. Most of the work done by the Moving Picture Council is choosing suitable movies for the child between eight and twelve.

The teen ager is apt to go in his group and will see the available movie regardless of advice from anyone. The child in the eight to twelve year group, who is not movie conditioned, may be seriously affected by tense action or cruelty shown in the movie. It is a fact that the majority of movies are made for adults, even Walt Disney's cartoons are produced for the mature audience. It is impossible from a practical financial point for Hollywood to make a children's picture.

Mrs. Himble believes that for the average child, the Saturday afternoon matinee is not harmful, especially if it consists of a single feature and several cartoons. If the parent attends with the child, the added advantage of family participation and discussion is of great value.

Every child likes Westerns, cartoons and Abbott and Costello pictures. This is true because right and wrong is made to be so obvious, the right always winning.

The Motion Picture Council, which is nation-wide, started in 1925 in an attempt to make Saturday matinees better for children. This move was supported by the Women's Clubs of America and was not too popular as the movies were too goody to suit the juvenile taste. But in the middle thirties Better Film Council was formed and Hollywood movies were censored. Consequently in 1936 Hollywood started their self-imposed censorship. The movie industry has now established a very worthwhile Children's Film Library. Prints have been made of the better children's films such as Alice in Wonderland, Abe Lincoln, and many others. These films are available for a very low fee in the Children's Film Libraries. There are now about sixty-five such films available.

Mrs. Himble spoke of the excellent supervision at children's matinees. The management is doing a great deal to make the movie theatre a safe place for the child. The ushers are instructed to watch the children carefully.

The movies recommended by the Moving Picture Council are not chosen for any personal reasons of the committee, but are compiled by informed persons from different national sources. All these sources are non-trade papers. Among these unbiased opinions are pamphlets by the Consumer's Research, the P.T.A., National Legion of Decency, the A.A.U.W. and others. The list of approved movies is made from a condensation of all opinions.

Young Pointer Off to Boston

"We never thought eleven year olds had such heavy social schedules" is a familiar statement these days at the J. Gordon Hill residence on Cloverly road what with the activities of their charmer, Joan Ellis.

On Sunday, she was confirmed at Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, and her godparents were invited to attend the impressive ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Orison White and Mrs. Karl Behr were there to see the little church members who carried the prayer book and hymnal the Whites gave her as a christening gift eleven years ago.

Stephanie Fink was invited to share the beautiful day and returned to the Hills for punch before going to the Country Club for the "family" luncheon.

Joan Ellis and her mother leave Friday for Boston. The very subtle will be vacationing from Grosse Pointe Country Day and so will enjoy an historical tour in and about the New England city. While they're East, they'll visit Mr. Hill's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carey of Wellestey, Mass.

This week-end is also to mark the return to the Pointe of Joan Ellis' grandmother, Mrs. Louis A. Peters, who has been in Miami Beach since mid-November.

Society News Gathered from All of the Pointes

From Another Pointe of View

by Jane Schermerhorn

If you write a column about what people are doing . . . Grosse Pointe is definitely NOT the place to be during Lent, we decided this week . . .

This occurred when we talked to Mrs. C. Henry Buhl at her Winter home in Palm Beach for we reached her just as ever so many Pointers were departing following a luncheon she had given . . .

There was Mrs. Wesson Seyburn . . . the George O. Johnstons, who came over from Hobe Sound . . . Mrs. Charles C. Merkel who'll remain in the South until the First of May, Dr. Merkel having returned already to the Pointe . . . and the Oliver Brooks, who now make their home in New York . . .

We learned that the debutante of the Buhl family . . . Lydia . . . has just returned to her books at Miss Hewitt's School in New York, having spent her Spring vacation with her parents . . .

And naturally . . . the Important Date . . . June 24 . . . when she'll bow to Detroit society was a topic of great moment . . .

Lydia Buhl Bows June 24

Mr. and Mrs. Buhl will give a ball for Lydia in their East Jefferson avenue home . . .

And before the ball . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harley Earl will entertain all the young people from out of town . . . at a dinner in their Touraine road home . . .

The date Dr. and Mrs. Merkel's small dinner dance for the debutante will take place either June 17th or June 20th, the date still being indefinite . . . but they are sure the party will be given in their home on Kenwood road . . .

On June 21st, which is Mrs. Buhl's birthday, Mrs. Louis Mendelsohn will give a reception for her debutante granddaughter in her home on Lake Shore road . . . following which the young set will remain for a dinner dance at the Mendelsohn home . . .

Which reminds us that by the time you get your Grosse Pointe News . . . Mrs. Mendelsohn will have landed in New York . . .

Following the pilgrimage she made to Rome . . .

Deb to be Feted

On June 22, Dr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Hudson of Lothrop road and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl Jr. of Provincial road . . . will give a dinner party for 100 guests in Lydia's honor at the Little Club . . .

That same evening, the deb's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur H. Buhl, will entertain at a dance for her, also in the Little Club . . .

There will be open house throughout the club's first and second floors. Tea, champagne punch and hors d'oeuvres will be served in the dining rooms in a decorative setting of colorful spring flowers.

Fertilizers and Their Uses Explained For News Readers by Garden Expert

By VINCENT DePETRIS

It will be impossible to explain in detail in this short article a comprehensive explanation of fertilizers and how they affect plant growth. We will therefore outline a few of the more important points regarding fertilizers and their use in the garden.

Fertilizers are needed because growing plants take out of the soil certain chemical elements in order to produce leaves, roots, stems, flowers and fruit. Were the plants allowed to fall to the ground and remain there to decay as is the case in uncultivated areas, then the elements taken from the ground would be returned to it in due time by the decaying vegetative tissues. The ingredients thus absorbed by decaying plants form what are referred to as organic matter or organic fertilizers.

Harvests Remove Chemicals

In cultivated land most of chemical elements are removed with the harvesting of crops in the nature of food, foliage, flowers, etc. To maintain soil fertility therefore it is necessary to replace the loss of these chemical elements by the addition of either or both chemical inorganic elements and the natural organic materials. We thus have the terms "organic" and "inorganic" fertilizers. For best results both organic and inorganic fertilizers are needed.

Chemical or Inorganic

All so-called complete fertilizers contain at least 11 chemical elements. These are: Nitrogen, Phosphorus, Potassium (Potash), Calcium (Lime), Magnesium, Iron, Sulphur, Manganese, Zinc, Boron and Silicon.

The first three are the major elements and are found in various proportions in the all purpose mixtures. The special fertilizers for certain specific crops will be found without one or two of these major elements.

The 11 chemical elements are the essential elements needed by all growing plants. They are found to be present in varying quantities in most soils. However, to supplement deficiencies in many soils chemical fertilizers are necessary from time to time.

Also Trace Minerals

Besides the above 11 essential elements there are numerous trace minerals that are needed for plant growth. These trace minerals are required in very small quantities such as 1 to 5 parts per million.

Although needed in such minute quantities, they are necessary to growing plants as vitamins are to animals and human beings.

Among these trace minerals we will mention only a few such as aluminum, barium, iodine, lithium and sodium. Besides these all plants take up large quantities of carbon from the air in the form of carbon dioxide. This process is carried on through the leaves.

Elements Indicated

When you buy a bag of commercial fertilizer you will find that the proportions of the three major elements are indicated in such manner as 4-12-4, or 10-6-4 or perhaps 3-20-0. These figures indicate the percentages of Nitrogen, Phosphorus and Potassium always in the order named.

In order to facilitate the memorizing of this you will note that the order in which they are referred to is alphabetical sequence. Thus "N" for nitrogen, "P" for phosphorus and "K" for potassium. Thus a 4-12-4 fertilizer denotes 4 per cent Nitrogen, 12 per cent Phosphorus and 4 per cent Potash. A 4-20-0 usually raw bone meal denotes 4 per cent Nitrogen, 20 per cent Phosphorus and no Potash.

Functions of Fertilizers
It will be helpful to know to what use the plant takes up the above mentioned three major ingredients.

Nitrogen is used by the young growing shoots and foliage and also by the young growing cells of the plant. To be more exact, all new growth is first nourished by large quantities of nitrogenous matter. Later as the plant matures other elements are utilized in a greater proportion.

Phosphorus is utilized chiefly to form flowers, seed and fruit although it is also needed in smaller quantities in other parts of the plant, particularly in the mature stems where new buds are being formed.

Potash Helps Roots

Potassium or Potash is utilized by the root system and the woody stems of the growing plant. It is for this reason that in the production of root crops such as potatoes, turnips, beets, carrots, etc., fertilizers with a larger proportion of potash are needed.

Potash is also necessary to maintain disease resistance in growing plants. Where an imbalance is created by the application of an excess of nitrogen, plants will generally succumb to fungous attacks. Thus it should be noted that a proper balance in plant nutrients is of utmost importance.

Quantities Vary

The proper quantity of chemical fertilizer to be applied will vary. Generally, however, the amount should not exceed 4 to 5 lbs. for every 100 sq. feet, equivalent to an area 10 ft. by 10 ft. The time of application will depend on the type of fertilizer. Thus phosphorus in the form of bone meal is very slow acting and should be applied either in late fall or early spring. Super phosphate which is not quite as slow in dissolving should be applied in early spring after the ground has been either plowed or spaded.

Potash is another slow acting element and it too should be applied early enough to become available to plants the same season.

Nitrates Work Fast

Nitrates are rapid in their action. They should therefore be applied from time to time while the plant is making growth. Remember that much of the nitrogen comes from the air. If not taken up by the growing plant it will soon combine with the air through the action of water and rain.

Remembering what has been said earlier in this article nitrates should not be applied to plants which are reaching the end of their growing cycle. Thus it is wrong to use nitrogenous fertilizers in the fall to hardy plants which are becoming dormant since the application will stimulate soft vegetative growth and result in injury by heavy frosts.

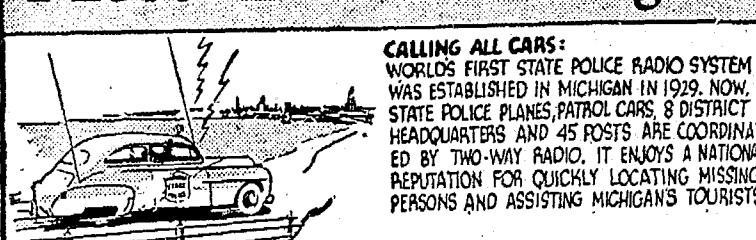

Both Fertilizers Essential

Both chemical and organic fertilizers are essential to plant growth. They must, however, be applied with logic and common sense. The plant after all is a marvelous chemical laboratory where nature combines many elements to produce its beauty and bountiful crops. We will achieve amazing results if we understand and work with her. We will fail utterly if we neglect to do this. It therefore pays to use logic and common sense in the treatment of even the lowest form of plant life.

Annual Miracle Being Reenacted

In their calendar, the ancient Romans named the fourth month "Aprilus", which was derived from the word "aprire" meaning to open.

How very appropriate is the name April when dormant buds open and begin to display the cascade of beauty which is Spring in all its enchantment and grandeur.

Because this phenomenon of Spring occurs every year with unflinching regularity few people appreciate the wondrous beauty of nature's awakening.

The enchanting beauty that is lavishly being unfolded, comes silently; yet within a short time a miraculous transformation has taken place.

Where drab and apparently lifeless branches once appeared we now have gorgeous blossoms framed by verdant foliage.

It is difficult to believe that all this splendor and beauty remained concealed in the gray branches, harassed by winter's storms and frigid temperatures. Yet this miracle unfolds itself almost unnoticed and unappreciated by phenomenon of nature's re-awakening means merely that Winter is over and vacation time is coming. They overlook this miracle of regeneration reflecting the Supreme Force behind all living matter.

Garden Club Has Luncheon Preceding Flower Show

The Garden Club of Michigan held a luncheon meeting in the Detroit Club on Monday, March 27, preceding the Michigan Flower and Garden Exhibition. Miss Marguerite Stroh and Mrs. Berrien Eaton were the hostesses.

Garden Center Eager to Help

One of the best of recent books on all phases of gardening has been added to the Garden Center library. Mr. V. R. DePetris has generously given the "Woman's Home Companion Garden Book." New seed catalogues from many out of town nurseries and seedmen have been received. An excellent reference file to magazine articles is there for consultation.

Your Garden Center is ready and eager to help with your spring planting problems. Located on the second floor of the War Memorial, it is open the same hours as that building. It is staffed at present on Monday, Tuesday, and Friday afternoons from 2 to 4 p.m.

Andrew R. Davis, landscape architect with the Igenfritz Nurseries, spoke on narrow and broad-leaved evergreens at the War Memorial last Thursday night. Among those growing slowly, or to only small size, were: Chinese Juniper, grows large but only about 1/2 inch a year; Dwarf Alberta Spruce, compact shape; Juniper Scopulorum, (Red Cedar), stays a low tree. A good Japanese Yew for shearing is Hick's; a good small one is Brevifolia.

Among the broad-leaved he mentioned: Ilex convexa, grows 2 to 3 feet high; Pyracantha Lalandi, covered with orange red berries all winter, is hard to start, (he recommended buying 5 inch pots), but easy to grow. A practical substitute for dwarf box is Teucreum Chamaedrys. Mr. Davis brought pictures of the evergreens and pieces of branches.

The next Garden Center lecture will be Friday, April 14 at 1:30. Save the date and consult the Grosse Pointe News for details.

Pump Burns Out In Park Station

The Number 4 pump in the Park's pumping station at Jefferson and Maryland burned out about 6 p.m. on Sunday, March 26. It has been taken out and is now undergoing extensive repairs.

Manager Lane of the Village says this in no manner affects the capacity of the pumping station to handle its load.

The Park's big storm water pumping station is one of the most modern and equipped in the country, with ample reserve capacity to meet such an emergency.

This station has been examined by officials from many other communities in quest of information on this subject and is generally conceded to be among the best in operation in any municipality of comparable or even considerable larger size.

Just what caused the damage has not been disclosed. The number 4 was one of the smaller pumps in the station.

Five men appeared for the firemen's examination on Saturday, March 25, before the Village Civil Service Commission for the written and oral examination. Their ratings were 91.6, 91, 83.4, 77.6 and 74.6 respectively.

Following this the three high men must take a physical examination, which requires passing by two doctors. If any of the three top men fail in physical the next in order takes the physical and would be appointed.

All appointments are probationary for a six months' period. The two low men are eligible for appointment to fill vacancies occurring within six months and, if they also pass physical they are appointed.

Under the Park Civil Service procedure no option is given the appointing power, as is provided in some communities, to name any men who have passed the required minimum in the examinations. The Park must take the high men in mental and oral, provided they pass the physical.

SHOP LIGHTS

Congratulations to Russ Harkness, the genial Woods druggist who is turning Friday and Saturday of this week into a happy celebration of the fifth anniversary of the establishment of his store. He has a gift for everyone, even the children.

Kopp's Pharmacy, in the Village, is believed to be the creator of the modern styled Easter baskets... filled with pure candies, novelties and toys cellophane-wrapped, bowed and frilled and sold throughout America today. Kopp's again are showing these traditional Easter gems for the bunny class.

Harkness Having 5th Anniversary

This weekend the Harkness Pharmacy, which serves the fast-growing Woods section of Grosse Pointe, will celebrate its fifth anniversary. Two days are being used, Friday, March 31, and Saturday, April 1 to mark the occasion.

The Harkness store is located at 20313 Mack avenue, at Lochmoor boulevard. It was established at this location on April 1, 1945 by its present owner, Russell Harkness.

The business has grown steadily through the years and expansion plans are being talked about, Mr. Harkness said yesterday.

The staff includes three registered pharmacists and two clerks. A gift awaits those who visit the store during the celebration, Mr. Harkness said. "And the children are invited; to be sure!" he added.

Elizabeth Cass Chapter Will Meet on April 3

Elizabeth Cass Chapter DAR of Grosse Pointe Farms will meet at 1:30 p.m. on April 3 in the Woman's City Club.

Parents Honor Scouts' Leader

The parents of Boy Scout Troop No. 96 of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church gave a testimonial dinner to Scoutmaster Lee R. J. Scott on Monday evening, March 6.

The dinner was in recognition of the outstanding work he has done for the troop in the years he has headed it. He took over the leadership of the troop when it was small in numbers and weak in scout work and under his able and inspiring leadership it has grown into one of the most successful in the whole Detroit area.

The troop now has 52 members. These were present in a body at the dinner, along with about 200 of the parents of present and past members of the troop. The troop now has a lengthy waiting list.

Mr. Whitney Rinker, committeeman, made the presentation of a pair of bronze bookends. One was engraved with the Scout Motto, the other with the Scout Oath.

Jim Lowmaster is taking over the duties of scoutmaster. He will be assisted by Charles Harris. A large committee of parents also comprise a working unit to assist and guide the activities.

At the meeting, awards for the month were made to Scouts qualifying for advancement. Tenderfoot badges were received by—Walter Foley, Bill Reeves, Donald Worley, George Risk, Sandy MacMechan, Joe Washburn, Bill Squire and Martin Hutchison.

Second class Awards were made to: Dick Schumacher; First Class Awards to Charles Schaller; Star Class to George Nicholson, and Merit Badges to George Nicholson, Bob Schaller and Phil Beach.

Mr. Scott will be one of the Detroit men to lead scouts to the national Jamboree at Valley Forge in July where some 40,000 scouts from the entire country will participate.

Pointe Masquers to Give Noel Coward Play April 4

The Grosse Pointe Masquers will present Noel Coward's "The Young Idea" in the John D. Pierce Junior High School Auditorium, at 8:30 p. m. on Tuesday, April 4. Since the production is sponsored by the Community Service of the Grosse Pointe Board of Education, there will be no admission charge, although the show is to be produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, Incorporated.

Charles Exley and Dorothea Mosset will portray a pair of quick thinking teen agers who invade the English county estate of their own father, to be enacted by Charles Rabaut, Jr. They attempt during the first two acts to rout their step-mother Cecily, to be played by Betty Van Antwerp, and to stampede her household and guests, who will be represented by Joseph A. Detloff, Don Jones, Eunice Otto, Barbara Loesch, Philip W. Fox, Nancy Hall, and Hunter Stair.

By the third act the youngsters' intrigue carries them to their own

Mother's villa in Italy, where their gracious Mother, to be played by Beatrice L. Cook, and her bewildered friend, to be portrayed by Ellsworth R. Beeman, find their several plans thoroughly upset to the voluble astonishment of the Italian maid, to be enacted by Ann R. Apple.

Veronica Chase is hard at work as assistant to the director, and Hal Knight is handling the duties of stage manager.

American Legion Auxiliary News

Unit 303 Grosse Pointe

By Doris Nielsen

Our first meeting in the Veterans Room was a real success and all members approved, so that's the meeting place from now on.

We're most happy that we were able to donate a table with our name plaque on it to the Veterans Hospital for their library.

Congratulations to our Jean Odgers who is flashing a beautiful diamond on the third finger, left hand. The lucky man is Dick Parker, a member of North-west Detroit Post.

How about that get-well card to our sick members—Jean Muller (Vi Farnum's daughter), Margaret Bridges and Post member Ernest Hapke. Jean's address is 436 Lothrop, Grosse Pointe Farms (30). Margaret's is 20124 Chalmers (5) and Ernie is still at Veterans Hospital in Dearborn.

Maintaining family ties for war veterans who are forced to spend long periods in veterans' hospitals is one of the services being performed by the American Legion Auxiliary's Volunteer Hospital Workers, according to Mary DelBarba, our Rehabilitation Chairman. This service is especially needed by Veterans in mental hospitals, many of whom have little contact with their families. The Auxiliary workers informed of the Veterans' progress and to keep up family interest in the Veterans' welfare. They write letters for families, encourage visits from families and try to keep the veterans from feeling that they are "forgotten men." A recent survey by the Veterans Administration showed that one-third of its 52,000 mental patients had not been visited by family or friends in the past year. Many of these would be definitely helped by visits. Auxiliary volunteers on duty in the hospitals endeavor to give the families a better understanding of mental illness and enlist family help toward recovery. To bring the outside world to hospital patients, the Auxiliary sponsors frequent parties and entertainment in mental, as well as in other veterans' hospitals.

Church to Give Lenten Cantata

The Lenten Cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," by Maunder, will be presented at Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Mack avenue and Torrey road, on Thursday evening, April 6, at 8 p. m.

This work, published in London at the turn of the century, depicts the incidents in the last days of the Saviour's life on earth. It provides the musical portion of a service commemorating Maundy Thursday. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

The Chancel Choir will sing under the direction of Wilbur R. Bezeau with Mrs. Fred M. Young at the recently dedicated organ. Community attendance is invited.

WRITERS PLAN PARTY

The annual spring party of the Detroit Forum for Writers will be staged at the Roma Restaurant on Thursday evening, March 30, at 8 o'clock. Vincent Gage is social chairman. Aiding him in planning the menu for the Italian dinner are Pearl Hickey, Louise Hennessey and Blanche Quint.

By Fred Runnells

Something unique in Neighborhood Club basketball will be attempted next week when All Star teams from the Major, Minor and Junior Divisions will battle the season champions in these divisions.

Tracy Motor will attempt to climax the 1949-50 season with a win over the Junior Division All Stars in the first game of a triple header bill on Monday, April 3. This game will get underway at 7 p. m.

In the second game Grosse Pointe Post 303 will battle its All Stars and Grosse Pointe Valet, unbeaten in league play and play-off competition will attempt to keep its record unblemished in the nightcap at 9 p. m.

Will Climax Season This talent-loaded evening will climax the Neighborhood Club basketball season which has provided organized competition for better than 300 Pointe kids, teen agers and young men during the winter months.

Can you figure a better way to keep our youngsters occupied during the long winter?

If we had a bigger gym and better facilities more Pointe youngsters could get in on this good wholesome recreation.

Desrocher Deserves Credit Much of the basketball success at the Neighborhood Club is due to the untiring efforts of its Athletic Director Bill Desrocher.

Open Amateur Cage Tourney Games at Neighborhood Club

By FRED RUNNELLS

Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club, a basketball hotbed for the past three years, has been selected as one of the sites for the Detroit Times sponsored First Annual Open Amateur basketball tournament which starts Monday, April 10.

The tournament is in charge of colorful Cincy Sachs, well known local basketball official and former coach of the old Detroit professional quintet.

Loaded with Stars The tourney is loaded with former college and high school stars from around the state, which includes such talented boys as Sam Fortino and Bill Krall of Michigan State; Jack Piana of U. of D.; Al Guzzo, Dick Hall, Bob Cunningham and Lloyd Adelson of Wayne University.

Other stars who competed in the recently completed Neighborhood Club basketball schedule, who will appear are Jim McHale and Joe Schaffner of Lawrence Tech, Sammy Lombardo, Leroy Guersimo, Bob Messmer, Jack Dillon, Bill Lane, Bob Schott, Frank Messing, Jeep Del Barba,

Mary Allor Stars In Playoff Tilt

By Peggy Hyde

Sunday, March 25, the St. Paul girls' varsity team defeated Nativity 27-21 in another basketball championship play-off game.

The score at the half was 19 to 6 in St. Paul's favor.

There are only three teams left competing for the city championship, St. Rose, St. Anthony, and St. Paul. Each have lost one game in the two-deck knockout. One more loss by any team would immediately knock it out of the running.

Mary Allor played her best game of the season against the strong Nativity squad by scoring 21 vital points.

Loop Lead Taken By Silversmiths

The Silversmiths team, which held a first place tie with the Taxgatherers in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Bowling League up to last week, rolled merrily over the Musicians aggregation and took four big points. The Taxgatherers fell victim to the dark sorcery of the Magicians and dropped four equally big ones.

Art Dannecker, Jr. rolled a 228 in a 577 series, but had to take second place for the night behind Al Gatward's 206 and 222 in a 597 series. Leroy Forester rolled a 202 game.

THE STANDINGS Table with columns for Team, W, L, and scores for various teams like Silversmiths, Taxgatherers, etc.

Glenn Holt, Jim Burns and Dick Gallo.

Valets to Play Most of these boys will compose the Neighborhood Club All Star team. Grosse Pointe Valet, 1949-50 major division undefeated champions, will also represent this area.

Teams from Toledo, Maumee, Ohio, and Windsor are the outside teams already entered.

Teams from out of the city that have applied for entry are from Flint, Wayne, Hamtramck, Brighton, Trenton, St. Clair Shores, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens, Hillsdale, Saginaw, Midland and Grand Rapids.

Good Games Assured Not all of the teams will see action at the Neighborhood Club as there are several gyms in which the weeding out process will take place throughout the city before the quarter finalists and semi finalists are determined.

The schedule hasn't been drawn up at this writing but you can rest assured no matter which teams are placed in the Neighborhood Club bracket the competition will be plenty hot in this one game knock out tournament.

Admission will be sixty cents for adults and thirty cents for kids. All in all when you break this price down to three games which will be played each night I would say it is pretty inexpensive entertainment.

Information on entries may be obtained by calling Cincy Sachs at Townsend 8-9392 or by writing to 3229 Leslie.

Seating capacity of the Neighborhood Club gym is 400 so get there early on April 10 to insure yourself of getting a good seat.

Soapy Symington Named Williams Squash Captain

Charles (Soapy) Symington, Jr., No. 2 man on both the squash and tennis teams at Williams College, has been named captain of the squash team there.

Soapy played Bill Ford in the finals of the Country Club championship tennis matches last summer, losing out to Ford in one of the hardest fought matches ever seen at the local club.

SEEK HIT-RUN DRIVER Green paint smears and a Plymouth hubcap furnished the only clues to a hit-run driver who crashed into a car owned by Albert Couvreur of 420 Moross road and parked in front of his house on the night of March 22.

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club Kids Have Own League

Grosse Pointe Yacht Club bowling officials believe in getting their future bowling stars started early and have provided a Saturday morning league for the youngsters of the club. The youngsters vie for trophies on a handicap basis for the season. A trophy is awarded to the top boy and girl kegler at the end of the season. Left to right: (back row) JERRY EWART, DAVID MAGUIRE, BOB RAHM, PHIL RAHM, ARLENE ZICK, PAULA SUTTON and CONNIE ZICK. Center row: JEANETTE JACOBS, PEGGY MORELAND, CAROL FREDERICKS, CAROL ZIMMERS, MARIE JACOBS, STEPHIE MILLENBACK and BETTY ZIMMERMAN. Front row: BILL WACHTER, RONALD BIRGBAUER, BILL and TONY MOTSCHALL.

Killing Pace Maintained In Pin Loop

P & J Cocktail Lounge, no better than fifth all season and somewhat below most of the time, have finally hit their stride in the Rotary Bowling League. In recent weeks they have gained steadily and now are tied with Monday Cleaners for second place, one point out of first.

If Don Kammer can keep his hook working, they're in. Of course there are seven other teams in the league with excellent chances of winning the highly prized trophy for their sponsor.

Standings to Shift Pairings tomorrow night will surely shift the standings of some of the title bound quintets. Auto Club draws Monday Cleaners and its a toss-up who'll win that one. Monday blew a four point lead they held a couple of weeks ago and may come back.

G.P. Review tangles with Middle Atl. Transp. Co., who just took three from Monday. Piche's Barber Shop, who have been burning up the league, meet up with Farms Market, a tough team to meet anytime. Motor City Tires battles P&J Cocktail Lounge. Houston Bros. Inc. will hook up with Kopp's Pharmacy while in the remaining match, Harrison Carpets will be host to Earl Holzbaugh's (looking for a win) quintet.

Last Week's Matches Results of last week's competition—Piche's Barber Shop's 3-1 win over Earl Holzbaugh included games of 232 and 229 by Forrest Piche and Jim O'Brien.

George VandeVelde's 232-221-192 series stood out in Auto Club's shutout over Kopp's Pharmacy. Houston Bros. Inc. closed the gap considerably when they took three from G. P. Review. Monday Cleaners gave three to Middle Atl. Transp. Co. Harrison Carpets, going good up to now, despite their position in the league, lost four to Punch & Judy Cocktail Lounge. Farms Market dropped another series, this time to Motor City Tires, who graciously accepted three.

Post 303 Team Wins Crown In Club Basketball League

Underdog Optimist Quintet Fights Right Down To Wire In Final Game After Whipping Champs In Previous Contest

By Fred Runnells

A strictly underdog but fighting Grosse Pointe Optimist quintet carried its battle for the Minor division crown right down to the wire before dropping a thrilling 39 to 37 overtime decision and the title to Post 303 last Thursday, March 23, at the Neighborhood Club in the club basketball league.

These same two teams battled in an overtime contest on Tuesday, March 21, which saw the Optimists keep their title hopes alive with a 46 to 36 victory. Ted Mumford was the Optimists' big gun in this game. He knotted the score at 30-all and then sent his team out in front with a beautiful hook shot from his pivot position with seconds left to play.

Mumford Stars Again Again in this game Ted Mumford kept the Optimists' hopes alive when he tied the score at 30-all with five seconds to play in the regulation time limit.

Bob Scherm gave Post 303 the little with his basket in the fading seconds of the overtime.

Bob Allen led the Post 303 attack with 18 points and Mumford notched 13 points for the Optimists' losing cause, for runner-up honors.

The championship Post 303 squad was composed of Bob Allan, Bob Scherm, Hill and Bill Pierce, Don Sarvis, Bill Jackson, C. Shaw, Clark McPhail and Tom Auch.

CDS Teams End Court Season

Both Country Day School basketball teams went into their last games of the season with championships at stake. Although the league itself was abolished this year technically the Reserves won the championship when they beat the Liggett School team on March 21 on the latter's court.

The Pointers led all the way and ended up on the long end of a 26-17 score. Denny Edgar was high scorer with 13 points. The team ended the season with a record of five wins out of six games.

The Varsity lost its chance at the title when the Liggett varsity won by a 50-35 score. Starry Holland was high scorer with 18 points.

Four CDS girls made the All-Star teams picked on March 25 when the players from CDS, Liggett and Dominican High met at Dominican to make the selections. The teams were announced following luncheon.

Mary McKean, guard, and Nena Cunningham, forward, made the first team. Both girls are seniors and are co-captains of the varsity.

Joanie Dryden, forward, and Alice Jane Hooker, guard, made the second team.

Winning Safety Poster

Winner, Fifth National A.A.A. Traffic Safety Poster Contest

Over 500 young bicycle riders were killed last year in collisions with America's cars, and 30,000 more were injured. Carelessness of the rider and faulty bike mechanism were the two greatest accident causes. In an effort to help cut down child fatalities, Automobile Club of Michigan has distributed 9,000 of the above posters to Michigan schools for use during April. The poster, "Keep Your Bike Repaired," was drawn by 17-year-old Chicago boy and was a prize winner in the Fifth National AAA Traffic Safety Poster Contest. Along with the posters went 26,000 safety lessons which will bring bicycle safety education into Michigan classrooms.

Championship Quintet Given Banquet by Chet Sampson

By Fred Runnells

What should have been a community project was taken over by one Pointe citizen and done up in grand style.

Chet Sampson, Grosse Pointe's gypsy traveler, read this writer's gentle hint in the News two weeks ago which stated "it would be nice if some enterprising businessmen or organization could see the way clear to honor Grosse Pointe's Border Cities League basketball champions." That statement was made on Thursday, March 16. On March 17 invitations were received by the eighteen cage members and their coach Ed Wernet.

Goes One Step Further Sampson carried the suggestion a step further and invited the senior members of Coach Frank Banach's second place Border Cities League swimming team and Principal Walter Cleminson.

The banquet, which incidentally featured scrumptious steaks, was held in the private dining room of the Village Manor on Tuesday, March 21.

Speeches were short. Principal Cleminson congratulated Coaches Ed Wernet and Frank Banach and their teams for giving the Pointe a winning season in both sports during the winter campaign. The highlight of his speech came when he told those present that regardless of whether they finish first or last Grosse Pointe teams have earned the respect and are always the champions of the League in sportsmanship.

Prefer Eating The evening was supposed to be capped off by going to the theater but the boys took so long in consuming the bountiful spread that it was too late to catch the second show.

To my way of thinking Sampson's unexpected gesture was one of the nicest things that has happened in the Pointe in years. Here was a man who enjoyed the Blue Devil contests so much that he took it upon himself to foot the bill for a banquet that should have been a civic undertaking.

In other communities championship teams are honored by the community and not one man.

How About St. Paul's? It still isn't too late for this community to get on the right track and honor another Pointe champion.

St. Pauls Flyer basketball quintet won the East Side Second Division title and so far I haven't heard of any plans to honor these champions.

Let's give these boys a dinner too but let's not leave it up to just one man.

Five-Way Deadlock Broken In St. Paul Bowling Loop

The five-way deadlock for second place that existed in the St. Paul Bowling loop last week was cracked wide open. When the pins stopped flying the M. Smith team wound up in second place alone with a one point margin over the third place, P. Allard quintet, which in turn held a one point lead over the fourth place F. Damsbury aggregation.

The other two teams, Ruprich and Gurche, that shared the five-way second place tie a week ago, remained tied for fifth place.

While these five teams were waging a hot and heavy battle among themselves the league leading Martin bowlers, minus their captain Pete Martin, increased their first place standing by two points.

Three other two-way ties were created when the Van Becelaere and Marsack outfits became knotted with 17 points for sixth place. Furton and Brecht tied for tenth and T. Trombly and T. Corbett became deadlocked for eleventh place.

G. Walters topped the 200-plus bowlers with games of 229 and 211. The others are as follows: L. Donovan, 235; T. McLaughlin, 209; H. Furton, 203; F. Lauer, 210; W. Gurche, T. Trombly and A. Van Becelaere, 202; P. Allard, 201, and T. Corbett an even 200. The St. Paul "Husband and Wife" tournament will be held Palm Sunday at the Woods Recreation.

Old-Timers' Basketball Banquet Being Planned

George Jaglowicz, a veteran of 30 years as player, coach and backer of basketball teams since 1920, issues an announcement for an Old-Time Basketball banquet.

Jaglowicz, a former player at U. of D. Eastern High and amateur teams, and sponsor of athletic clubs, is one of other prominent figures, such as Jake Mazer, Jack Williams and Walter "Fille" Voss, who will aid in the promotion of a get-together banquet at the Hotel Sheraton, Wednesday evening, April 12, at 6:30 p.m.

Fans, friends, referees, managers and players of basketball teams are invited to attend. E. A. Batchelor and Harry LeDuc will head the speakers list.

The party is limited to 300 people. For reservation call A. Lewis Schulte, TA. 5-3430.

Rabaut Reports On Omnibus Bill

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut hailed the omnibus Appropriation bill scheduled for action in the Congress this week as a "strong move in locking the back doors to the Federal Treasury".

For the first time in 150 years federal money bills have been given a "new look" and have been introduced to the House as chapters of a single consolidated bill. This "king-size" piece of legislation replaces the ten or more unrelated departmental bills which were passed on individuality under the old system and Rep. Rabaut will join Committee Chairman Clarence Cannon as a floor manager when the bill is put before the House.

In the report which accompanied the bill the Appropriations Committee made several suggestions to the Budget Bureau as to procedure for presenting estimated requirements in the future. The Committee recommended further development of the "Performance Budget" which was part of the Hoover Commission suggestions for revamping federal fiscal policies.

Notable results have been achieved by simplifying the mass of data which is presented to the Committee in justification of Budget requests, but the Committee strongly recommended further efforts to keep a close check on the cost of operations.

The new Central Subcommittee of which Rep. Rabaut is Chairman has drawn up a stringent new anti-deficiency provision which is a part of the omnibus measure. The new law has teeth in it—penalties of up to $5,000, or two years in prison or both for violations of appropriation rules laid down by heads of administrative agencies.

"The bill, as written," said Rep. Rabaut, "is a long step toward placing in stark relief the demands of special interests which go to the heart of deficit spending. As we continue our efforts toward simplification the American people will be able to make a more intelligent decision on vital, important appropriation matters."

Bezeau's Store Chosen Exclusive for Bremen

Wilbur R. Bezeau, head of Bezeau's Piano store at 11145 Whittier avenue, who is well known in Grosse Pointe and Michigan musical circles, announces that the popular Bremen Piano, advertised so widely in the better magazines, is sold exclusively in Detroit at his store.

Mr. Bezeau, who is music director at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church and choral director of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company's chorus, has been in the piano business for more than 20 years, and has operated his own store for the past 9 years.

In addition to the Bremen and nearly all other noted makes of pianos, the Bezeau store features the famous Jesse French line of pianos.

Siebert Accepts Award For Radio Station WJR

William Siebert of Merriweather road, WJR director and secretary-treasurer, represented the radio station on Wednesday night, March 8, when a Distinguished Service Citation was awarded the station by the Frederick M. Alger Post 86 of the American Legion.

The award was made for the station's outstanding support of patriotic projects and Americanism programs.

Two Broken Windows Reported to Police

Two broken windows were reported to the Farms police on the night of March 27.

Someone threw a large stone through a window of the Sterling private police booth at Grosse Pointe boulevard in the rear of the Newberry estate at about 7:20 p. m.

The second call was from the Richard School. It was not known how the window, over the balling room, was broken.

Crown Cleaners Now Managed by Holtzman

Joseph Holtzman, president of Crown Cleaners and Launderers, East Jefferson at Nottingham, one of the largest establishments of its kind in the Detroit area, announces that he is now serving as general manager as well as the president.

"The old, original Crown policy which built this vast plant and main store as well as our three branches, will be maintained," Holtzman said in making the announcement.

Square Dance Classes Offered for Teenagers

An opportunity to learn to square dance is being given to teenagers of Grosse Pointe. Classes started at Richard School on Friday, March 24.

Ages 12 through 14 will meet at 8:30 to 7:45 p. m. Ages 15 through 18 will be taught from 8 to 9:15 p. m. Six sessions will be given. Enrollment in each age group will be limited to 64 or a total of 8 squares.

A fee of $1.00 is asked to defray the expenses of the square dances and for a party at the end of the course. The classes are under the direction of Mrs. C. Sharver, 1133 Grayton, and Mrs. McKinley. Any further information may be obtained from Mr. Geary, TUxedo 5-2000, ext. 25.

S. J. Skaff Showing Special $150,000 Stock of Orientals

Assembling an extra stock of fine new Oriental rugs, fresh and highly colorful, for a month-long showing, S. J. Skaff, Michigan's outstanding Oriental rug dealer since 1910, is extending a welcome to all to view and learn about the latest offerings in these gems of the Orient. The stock is estimated to be worth $150,000.

The Skaff store is at 453 E. Jefferson at Beaubien where, following Mr. Skaff's recent Eastern trip, special shipments have been arriving daily during the past week.

Have Wrong Idea
Most people, according to Mr. Skaff, love Oriental rugs of one kind or another but only too few of them really know their comfort and the richness they bring to home. He emphasized, too, that these hand woven life-time-and-more rugs are never as high in price as people suppose them to be. The price, Skaff, contends, is low in relation with any other floor covering. "It is the superlative beauty and the heavy weave of true Oriental rugs that make one feel that they must necessarily be too costly."

Having sold his famous wares to many of the best known families in Detroit and Michigan, Skaff related how the sons and daughters of his early customers are among his buyers of today. He displayed an order he had just received from a family in Pontiac where the husband is a son of a motor manufacturer to whom he had sold several Oriental rugs more than 30 years ago. He also displayed a letter he had just received from a woman in Flint asking "what may the 9x12 Kerman which Dr. — and his wife purchased from you in 1913

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from May 1, 1950, to their maturity, and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the School District. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds, or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The said bonds are payable from ad valorem taxes, subject to such limitation upon said taxing power as may result from the provisions of Section 21, Article X, of the Michigan Constitution and the Michigan Property Tax Limitation Act.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $63,000.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company payable to the order of the Treasurer of the School District must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys, of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and the cost of printing the bonds will be paid by the School District. Bonds will be delivered at the bank designated as the place of payment or such other place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Oriental rugs wear beyond all expectations," Mr. Skaff explained as he led us to a workroom where a skilled weaver was repairing a magnificent rug. "Take a good look," he said. Mrs. Joseph Miller, aged 81, died suddenly in her home at 968 Barrington on March 17. She was born in what is now Inkster and has been a resident of the Detroit area all of her life and for more than twenty years past of Grosse Pointe.

She was the widow of the late Joseph Miller, who for more than 30 years maintained a well known eating house on Windmill Pointe.

She is survived by sons, Joseph Miller, Jr. Lloyd Miller, Norman Miller, Wilbert Miller and Alton Miller. Her surviving daughters are Mrs. Ida Kuhn, Mrs. Irene Rose and Mrs. Pearl Heys. All of her children are residents of Grosse Pointe or the Detroit area. There are also three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Followers of Baha'i Celebrate New Year

The Baha'is of Grosse Pointe, as well as Baha'is in over 90 countries of the world, celebrated their New Year on March 21, the first day in the Baha'i Year 107.

When the Prophet of God appears, they believe, a new era is inaugurated, and one of the indications of it is a new calendar. The Jewish calendar, the Christian calendar, the Moslem calendar, etc. bear witness to this practice.

In this age, they believe, there is need for a universal calendar, one which will be accepted by people in every part of the globe. One calendar, one language, one-ness of mankind, and the oneness of religion are but a few of the necessary requirements for lasting peace, they believe.

Red Cross Drive Quota Raised By Maire Pupils

The annual Junior Red Cross Drive was very successful at Maire School. The drive began Monday, March 13 and continued through Monday, March 20.

On March 13 when the children arrived at school they found large posters in the halls telling them to "Give." "Get 100% Membership" and "Join Now." The posters were made by 5th and 6th grade children and were gaily painted in red and blue.

In the lower hall there was a picture of a big clown blowing up a balloon. This poster urged the children to exceed the record of $151.00 established last year. Each time throughout the week when an additional $25.00 was added to the fund a larger balloon was placed in the clown's mouth. Finally on Thursday evening a big balloon of $150.00 was placed on the poster.

On Wednesday afternoon an assembly was held in the gymnasium. The flag salute was led by Bruce Butler and Michael Grow.

Alice Aagesen introduced Mrs. Sheaffer, of 1215 Audubon road, Grosse Pointe Junior Red Cross sponsor, who talked to the group. Five fourth grade girls explained the meaning of Red Cross. Tommy Finch led the audience in singing the National Anthem. Slides were shown of Junior Red Cross activities in Grosse Pointe Schools.

At the end of the school day Friday, March 17, the Red Cross fund had reached $181.90. So far Miss McCloskey's third grade is ahead with $26.60; Miss Olson's sixth grade is just $1.00 behind, and Mrs. Schwaler's room is third with $21.08.

FOIBLES OF THE FASHIONABLE

A Pointe Beauty pays $250 an ounce for her own parfum... blended, distilled and named for her by a Paris Parfumer.

Another Pointe granddame, convinced that "They" are out to get her... has a friend go back and buy the hat she likes for fear she herself would be overcharged...

Five o'clock is a bad time to call moddorn. It's the fashionable time for her masseuse to bring that cocktail hour sparkle back to her pretty peepers.

On our rounds, we did find the gentlemen of the Pointe far more conscientious than the ladies in "giving up" for Lent...

A wee princess of the Pointe had herself a platinum tantrum the other afternoon because her television set couldn't permit her to watch t-w-o programs at once...

The Elegant Ones shun extreme sun tans in Florida this Winter... but we'll admire yours just the same!

Three of the Pointe's best groomed matrons visit their hairdresser at l-a-a-t twice a week... and one is a faithful caller before Friday and Saturday evening parties... thus That Look!

We're all envy of that Lake Shore leddy who, when driving herself after dark, carries a special siren whistle along... if there's any interference, the leddy gives one slight puff scaring the crime out of suspicious characters and usually attracting the p-o-l-i-c-e within seconds...

PILFERINGS

A few weeks ago we told you about the neat little post-cards from Punch, in London, reminding American friends to renew subscriptions... Here's the latest we've received:

"Are you a Dean? ... or a Royal Marine? A Dentist? ... a Dunce? ... or a Wife? Are you a Girl who's engaged to an Earl? ... Or a Miss with a Mission in Life? Whether you're shiftless, or sober and snug, (Single or spliced, so to speak.) There's no need to look so uncommonly smug—HAVE YOU SEEN PUNCH THIS WEEK?"

And back to the Ladies Home Journal... "How many of us would be mutes if we could not speak well of ourselves or ill of others..."

And from The New York Times' "Better Late Than Never" Dept.:

A salesman in Haldeon, N. J. received a gold medal for his victory in a 220 yard dash at a track meet held 40 years before. It had been lying, forgotten, in a drawer in an engraver's desk."

A borrower in Cleveland who had kept a book nine years returned it to the public library. (This volume had, in the interim, become a collector's item.)

Then, the one that's going the rounds about the president of a large utility company who was flying over his factories, en route with his family for a Southern vacation.

"Mabel," said the executive, "Give me a hundred dollar bill. I want to throw it down and make one of the workers happy."

"Why, don't you take five twenty dollar bills... throw them down and make five people happy?" suggested his wife. The daughter chirped up that a hundred one dollar bills tossed down would cheer a hundred workers.

Just then the weary pilot turned around and said, "Why don't you throw yourself down and make 5,000 people happy!"

Fine Arts Groups at AAUW To Present One-Act Play

The Fine Arts Group of the Grosse Pointe Branch of the American Association of University Women will meet on Thursday, March 30, at 1 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Abram Brown, 74 Moran road.

A cast composed of AAUW members will present a one-act play under the direction of Mrs. Donald Worley, co-hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Hubert Goebel, Mrs. Howard Earl, Mrs. William Rossiter and Mrs. T. Clifford Marbut.

MRS. REESE EVANS HOWARD OF RATHBONE PLACE Occupying the position of utmost importance in the cook book library of the Pointe's sparkling new bride, Mrs. Reese Evans Howard (Suzette Alger), is the one she wrote herself, snitching delightedly from her mother, Mrs. Frederick Alger Jr.'s collection of recipes.

First let us tell you the cook book, a tiny affair in black leather loose-leaf binder, was started when the author was in her early teens and the Alger's were living in Coronado, Calif., having been taken there by Mr. Alger's navy assignment.

Then let us quote the foreword by the author: "This is a collection of recipes, collected by mother from every known source. These recipes are all tried and true, each one having been tried during the many months that we spent in Coronado. Our failures have not been recorded."

"My mother, who did not even know how to boil water nor that directions were on soup cans, first began cooking as a bride but soon rose above it as nothing seemed to turn out right. Even a baked potato did not conform with usual standards."

COOKING LESSONS

"Her next attempt at cooking was made just after our arrival in Coronado. For days our cook, Elizabeth, schooled her on how to become a gourmet, teaching her the simplest forms of cookery."

"At this first stage the Fanny Farmer Cook Book was poured over day and night, but soon Mummy's literary instincts swelled and such books as Clementine in The Kitchen and The Wine Lover's Cook Book came into our life. From that moment on Mummy actually began to cook on her own time without each step being written out."

"Then the fateful day came, when Elizabeth, the cook, departed and we had our first failure. This tended to slow us up a bit and we retired to the local restaurant for a few weeks."

"Soon Mummy had so many odd recipes and so many books, that she could scarcely cook a meal without first spending a day finding the recipes. This required a remedy and so Mummy stepped to the five and ten and bought a note book in which she wrote all her recipes. This little book served its purpose nobly until this fall when I began to learn how to type."

"MUMMY'S BIBLE" "Then visions began to form in my head of me typing all Mummy's recipes and putting them in a loose-leaf notebook, which has developed into "Mummy's Bible." I typed all these recipes in the original book and gave it to Mummy for her birthday."

"We have had a great deal of fun out of typing these recipes, as well as collecting them and cooking them. I hope you will find the same enjoyment that we did."

"I promise to send every month two of our latest finds for the six months beginning the month in which you receive this book... Suzette Alger."

The last couple of paragraphs were directed to the two hundred some relatives and friends of the author who really did add to the collection each month for some time. There are eleven classifications of recipes in "Mummy's Bible" beginning with Fruits and Desserts and ending with Household Hints (There are about five of the latter but we trust young Mrs. Howard is adding daily to this particular lore). Mrs. Howard is very serious about her culinary ability and we must say that few brides stand ready to whip up Squab Royale, Quail, Braised Duck with Cherry Sauce, Doves, Crepes Framboises, Baba au Rhum, Zabaglioni, Lobster Gratin Blazed with Rum which are but a few of the wonderful recipes in the cook book.

NAME RECIPES At first we thought "Pork Chops Suzette" must be a favorite of the author and for that reason were so named—but we were wrong.

"No, the pork chops were vaguely invented by Mummy," said Mrs. Howard, "and that's how they got the name."

Spare Ribs Marge Happer is a recipe from former Pointer, Mrs. Andrew Happer who now lives in New York City. Another "name recipe" is "Mr. Marshall Neal's Doves and Quails" and in this case the gourmet was a California friend of the author's father.

Really "Mummy's Bible" in addition to having unusual recipes sure to delight the cultured palate is a more explicit cook book than those published for national sale because the young cook is basic on the how and why and what to do about the recipes.

SNAPDRAGONS

She herself is in many of the recipes including one we loved, "Snapdragons in Apple Sauce." "Soak a handful of table raisins in Cognac Brandy overnight until they are swelled with the spirit. Mix them in a batch of apple sauce, made without spices. You go along for a while on the smooth mediocrity of the apple sauce, encounter a snapdragon... and up you go."

The Howards have been living in the garage apartment at the D. Dwight Douglasses on Rathbone place, since returning from their wedding trip in Jamaica. As soon as the country roads clear up, they'll move out to Metamora and right along will go Mummy's Bible which the bride says she has been using like mad since she got back to the Pointe.

Burglar Finds Loot In Unfinished Home

A house under construction at 412 Lexington was broken into during the night of March 21-22, according to a report given the Farms police by one of the workers. He found the front door open when he arrived for work and a small pane of glass along side the door had been broken. The glass and shade from a light fixture and an electric chime clock which hung in the kitchen had been stolen.

Ask Mr. James Cornelius, Manager, for the "Rules of the Tavern." Suitable for framing.
