THE CIVIL AERONAU-TICS Board refused Wednesday to ban the Concorde Supersonic Transport from the U.S. The decision handed environmentalists their second defeat by a Federal agency in the SST controversy. Ruling on a motion filed by the Environmental De-fense Fund, (EDF), the board said it saw no need to hold its own hearings on the Anglo-French SST or to bar the craft by revising operating permits held by British Airways and Air France.

THE CITY OF DETROIT has begun clearing a twoblock area across from the Renaissance Center for a sixstory parking structure which will accommodate 2,083 cars. The area is bounded by Jefferson, Randolph, Congress and Brush. The city would like to provide a number of shops and a tourist center on the first floor of the building. Cuts in Staff Include 162 Instructors

'Real Crisis Point' Reached by System Says Superintend-ent of Schools

By Susan McDonald

The Board of Education announced the layoffs of 162 teachers more than one quarter of its professional teaching staff-at its Monday, April 12, meeting.

The staff cuts, along with others in the library budget, will save the system about $1 million. This figure is roughly equivalent to the amount of revenues which would be generated by the 2.75 additional millage rejected by Pointe votors at the Monday, March 29, elec-

Superintendent of Schools Dr. James A. Adams called the dismissals a "very sad occasion."

He said, "We're at a real crisis point in the develop-ment of this school system. The community must understand what is happening here is the result of the attitudes expressed at the polls on March 29.

"If the community is not willing to pay for the sal-aries of 100 or so of our staff, they certainly cannot expect the teachers to do so.' Included in the layoffs are three members of the GPEA's executive board. (Continued on Page 2)

Incumbent president Doris Cook was overwhelmingly re-elected to her post in the Wednesday, April 7, Grosse Pointe Education Association, (GPEA), elections. Running against Mrs. Cook for the office of president was North High School science teacher John Schwan. He received 71 votes to Mrs. Cook's 460. She was one of eight incumbents elected to represent the 604-member teacher association. "It was very heart warm-

Sign Law

In a letter to the council, Dr. Albert C. Howe, chairman, said the commission at its Wednesday, March 24, meeting unanimously urged the council to pass, in its previously presented form, (with no alterations), the proposal to remove roof-top signs and to limit the height of pylon signs.

"We further recommend that all votes in regard to this matter be cast only in the presence of the full council with seven members presiding," (to avoid any possible tie votes), he stated.

Differing Views

"This recommendation is made in the knowledge that the adoption of such an ordinance is not only in the best interest of the citizens of Grosse Pointe Woods but in the long-term interest of the Mack avenue business community.

Dr. Howe had earlier told the NEWS he wanted the council to take a more definitive stand on the proposal which he felt would be a plus factor in the beautification area. He also expressed his concern over the potential of 'crudding up" the community with such visuals. On the other hand, businessmen cited cost factors and a potential loss of advertising if the amendment became a reality. Several in-dicated they were against the total elimination of roof signs while realizing the need for a restrictive ordinance in this area.

Mr. Williamson, who personally thanked the sponsors for their support, had earlier noted the reasons for this approach was to make Pointe area businessmen more aware of the pageant and to get them involved financially. It also was a way of taking the pressure off of the program book ad sales on the fund front

Under the program, each sponsor paid $225 and received a free ad in the program book and his name on billboards announcing the event. The selection process of what business sponsored what young lady was simply by drawing numbers.

As it turned out, Edmund T. Ahee, of Ahee Jewelers, who sponsored Miss Helin, was this year's "sponsor winner." He represented one of many businesses who provided donations for the event.

Mr. Ahee donated a 14 karat gold diamond wristwatch, crown and scepter, 13 bracelets with an official charm and official Miss America local pageant tro-

Concerns over Group Expressed by Residents

them," he stated, while add-There's no violation of the law that we know of."

In relation to this, Mr. Catlin said members of the Youth Service Division, the detective bureau and the road patrol all have copies of the injunction, "As we get reports of solicitations, we will make every effort to serve a copy of the injunction." As of the meeting night, at least four copies have been served.

Explores Legalities

During the course of the session, it was noted that lin. helping to ease the situation, (in the eyes of the citizens), parts of the city and the residents, themselves.

In answering several questions from citizens, Mr. Catlin explored the legalities involved and what would have to transpire to lessen the concerns of residents.

Regarding people coming and going at the premises, Mr. Catlin drew a parallel and said there's no violation of the law for a citizen to invite his neighbors over for a party, football game, a Bible reading session, et al. It's a citizen's right to do so.

He said the group has a lease with the owner with an option to buy and that they were lawfully in the premises as tenants. However, if the property is utilized for meetings which are open to the public, e.g., church meetings, that's another matter and would be in violation of the injunction.

"No one with knowledge of it can pass out literature or solicit the public for such meetings.

it's going to happen"), some-

(Continued from Page 1) system, and that of the members of the fire department, who also are affected, on a par with the other Pointes and law enforcement agencies in the Detroit area.

"We only needed signatures of 450 qualified voters to ask the council to place the referendum before the voters," he said. "We obtained 1,285. We are confident that the people will back us for a better pension system." City officials charged that the .3 increase could mean a hike in taxes to pay approximately $500 a year to 31 police officers and 32 firefighters. This means a budget increase of approximately $30,000 a year, based on present wage scales.

The pension increase, if approved by the voters, will also be tied in with future pay hikes, it was added.

Increase Viewed It was pointed out the 2.0 percent asked for does not seem like very much, but when raised from 1.7 percent, it means an increase of about 20 percent.

If the people approve the charter amendment, the pension hike will apply only to personnel of the police and fire departments, including chiefs and assistant chiefs.

It will not affect workers of other departments, or administrative staff employes, it was said,

"We want to the persons who has been (must) cease and desist from serve injunctions on all of served a copy of the injunctions on meeting, "This is a civil suit and that person will be taken to services or group prayer not a criminal matter, court. While stressing there's meetings to which members no way to force members of of the public are invited or felt the first individual who gets punished by the court may have an effect in cur-

> the parts of members. "Our problem is we have to have someone tell us with a definitive statement that he was given literature by a person on a given day. If that person has been served a copy of the injunction, he would be in violation of the injunction," stated Mr. Cat-

In summing up, he reiterated the need for proof and is a two-way street on the cited two points: (1), An individual must have knowledge of the injunction, and (2), Afterwards, that individual must violate the content of the injunction, plus the ensuing need for a citizen to testify in court in such a case. "It's a cumbersome process but this is what we're up against," he stated. Questions "Why?"

The citizens then wanted to know what they can do. They were advised if they were solicited by a member of the group to call public safety department headquarters. An attempt would be made to find the solicitor for the purpose of serving that person with a copy of the injunction. If that person is again caught soliciting, he or she would be in violation. The person who sees the alleged violation taking place must then be willing to testify.

To all this, one citizen asked, "Where does it end?" Mr. Catlin replied, "It doesn't, that's the problem." The resident then helplessly asked, "Why?"

The permanent injunction issued by Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid cited the following three points:

(1), The 'Forever Family." its agents and employes and those persons having per-

Another recommendation backed by the council was the adoption of a proposed ordinance amending the 1975 City Code and defining com-mercial vehicles and regulating their storage.

It notes that the term commercial vehicles means any motor vehicle containing any sign, lettering or advertising display — provided, however, that no more than one commerical vehicle, truck or trailer of a rated capacity of three-fourths ton or less may be housed or stored entirely within a suitable garage.

Wines have always grown in Bulgaria, particularly around the Black Sea, and the region bordering Greece. The marks of the centuries long occupation of Bulgaria by the Turks can be seen in many of the Muslim laws, especially one forbidding the consumption of alcohol. During the last 30 years, however, Bulgaria has made a rapid recovery, bringing the wine industry out of obscurity and making the export of wine a valuable earner of foreign currency. This in part is due to the government, which nationalized the wine industry of Bulgaria in 1949.

HARKNESS PHARMACY

Many people forget that health comes from within as well as from without. A balanced diet, fresh air and sunshine, proper rest, soap and water, a good cleansing cream, a wholesome environment and, if necessary, medical treatment, should be first on the list for skin care. Then cosmetic preparations can be used without harm. Cold creams have been used since the Roman days. They are available for softening the skin, particularly if dry, and for removing some dirt particles.

Get into the spirit of the Easter season with beautiful cards and table decorations from the colorful displays at HARKNESS PHARM-ACY, 20315 Mack Ave. at Lochmoor Blvd. We feature a full line of greeting cards, delicious Easter candies by Whitman, and all your health and beauty aids. Bring your prescriptions to HARKNESS for prompt, personalized and professional service. For your convenience, we offer free prescription delivery. Call us at 884-3100. We are open Mondays through Fridays until 9 P.M. and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. We also offer a full line of fine wines and liquors!

GP Memorial Views Easter

Easter Week at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road, will be innovative in services and historical enactments on Maunday Thursday, April 15, Good Friday, April 16, and Easter Sunday, April 18.

The staff and individual members have provided background and interpretation for the week which heralds the agony and ecstasy of Christ,

This year Maundy Thursday is being celebrated on the same day as the beginning of the Jewish Passover. Symbolic foods of the Seder Meal plus communion bread and wine will be served to families on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall by 30 elders in commemoration of the institution of the Eu-

Following this meal, a special service centering on the history and tradition of the day will be celebrated in Barbour Chapel. A reading by Dr. Ray H. Kiely, the pastor, will explain the mean. ing of the day and the sacrament observed.

Two original contemporary dramas will be presented on Good Friday from 1-2 p.m. in the sanctuary.

At the Good Friday Tenebrae service at 8 p.m., the crucifixion will be recalled through the use of a 13-candle service and the removal, one-by-one, of Christ's disciples until He alone remains. This service was researched by Paul L. Reynolds, director of music.

At the special 9 a.m. Easter service in the new Columbarium, a landscaped garden area where deceased members are memorialized, a trumpet will sound from the tower, signaling the beginning of the first service at 9:30 a.m. The clergy will lead the way into the sanctuary.

By Retiring Ed Wernet

In a small, cramped room set back from the North High School pool, 30 years of memories hang from walls and gather dust on shelves amidst athletic equipment and team

Former coach and current athletic director Ed Wernet will soon be gathering his memories and leaving that den of antiquity when he retires June 11 after 30 years with The Pointe school sys-joined Grosse Pointe High School as a physical education teacher in 1946,' said Ed. "In those days I also coached football, basketball and baseball in the spring. Later on I coached just football and finally in 1968 I gave up coaching altogether and became the athletic director here at North."

His current duties include the administration of athletic programs, the hiring of offi-cials, transportation, sports budgets, the overseeing of equipment purchases, plus the directorship of 15 sports the high school has to offer. That also includes six girls sports. This is something we didn't have when I first started out," he said.

"The job has grown so much in recent years," said Ed with a smile.

"Now it's almost too much for one person to handle. Many times we have three different sports taking place let as many kids play in a at the same time, and the athletic director should at "I've always tried to let as tend as many as possible. Often I have to put in a token appearance to see that the officials and coaches are all adhering to sport requirements and regulations."

Rules and regulations aren't the only things which change over the years—so do the athletes.

"There aren't as many dedicated athletes today as there used to be," said Ed. "The ones that are dedicated today are exceptionally tal-ented people, but overall, the average kid now would rather work to get a car so he can work to pay for the car he can't afford. If you know

"Also, our performances are much better overall. Both team and individual efforts. This is partly because facilities, coaches and equipment are better, but another factor is the amount of time some individual athletes today spend at their sport. Many of our better athletes will compete all year round, spending their off seasons in constant, grueling practice."

The names of top athletes of years past are soon recalled: Jerry Goebel, Dan Follis, Ed Isley, John Reynolds and perhaps the best of them all, Rick Gonzales. ath'ste," said Ed with a sad smile. "He made the All-American first team on offense at junior college and the second team in defense. He was going to play for Princeton and would surely have made the pros if things had gone differently,

"Cne night he and two other young people were trip when another car plowed into them. The people with Rick, plus the couple in the other ear, were killed. Rick was paralyzed.'

Pointing to photos of winning teams of the past, Ed reeled off their exploits. "My 1954 team was probably my best," he said with a grin. "We won the State Class "A' fcotball title that year. In the final game of the season, against Port Huron, we led 42-0 at half time. We eventually won the game, 59-16. I

"The 1957 team was pretty darn good, too. We ended up one touchdown shy of a perfect season. The only six points scored against us that entire season happened in our last game of the year. The other team ended up with a minus 27 yards for the game, but one mistake on our part led to an 87-yard run on their part. It was the only time we were scored on and we lost 6-0. It was a

ED WERNET

Ed's team won championships in 1954, 1957, 1958 and 1959. In 1954, he was named Michigan High School Coach of the Year.

His philosophy concerning athletics is the same today

"I've always tried to let as many athletes compete as possible. Many of those kids didn't play any sport beyond high school athletics, and they all worked hard and made sacrifices. The star of a team always gets to play, but the others earned their taste of competition, and even just a few minutes game time gave them something to strive for," said Ed.

Still super active at 61, he plans to keep after his tennis game, sail his boat on Lake St. Clair and fish for trout from his home on the north branch of the Au Sable River after he retires.

"I'll fish in any kind of water," said Ed with a laugh. "Fresh, salt or dirty."

On Friday evening, May 14, his former players and friends will gather to honor him at a testimonial dinner at the Hillcrest Country Club. Many years of memories, plus future retirement plans will be talked about.

Tickets for the banquet are available through Dan Follis at 871-3060 or by contacting track coach Tom Gauerke at North High.

Park Officers Nab Purse Thief

Thieves take notice! If you plan to snatch a woman's purse, don't do it in the presence of a police officer. As a matter of fact, don't try it becausé a policeman might be watching you.

Such an incident occurred on Tuesday afternoon, April 6. on Wayburn avenue while coming back from a skiing Park Det. William Furtaw was patroling the thoroughfare in an unmarked car. In the 1000 block of the avenue, the detective observed a 16year-old yout's run up behind an 84-year-old woman, push her to the sidewalk and grab her purse. The young thief ran south toward Det. Furtaw's vehicle. The officer got out of the car, service revolver in hand, and ordered the purse snatcher to stop. On seeing the policeman, the boy dropped the purse, ran between two houses, dove head first over a backyard fence, got up and ran toward Alter road in Detroit.

The detective radioed for assistance and described the culprit and the direction he took. Officers Collin LaLonde and David Hiller apprehended the teenager in the 1100 block of Alter.

The victim was not hurt, according to information from Lt. Gordon Duncan, and her purse was returned to her intact,

The lieutenant complimented the three officers for doing an excellent job. He cited Det. Furtaw for keeping a cool head and not firing a shot at the fleeing suspect, and Officers LaLonde and Hiller for their quick response which resulted in the

A charge of purse stealing has been filed with Juvenile Court authorities against the youth, who presently is in the Wayne County Youth Home awaiting a hearing before a juvenile court judge.

The Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, April 5, unanimously authorized Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos to sign two proclama-tions—one citing White Cane Sight Conservation Week. April 24-30, and the other citing Muscular Dystrophy Month, May 15-June 15.

During sight conservation week, Woods Lions will be selling White Canes in the community. The proclamation acknowledges the work of the club, which has been for over 20 years aiding in sight conservation programs to help those who are blind become part of the community.

During Muscular Dystrophy Month, workers will participate in their annual drive towards obtaining funds to support an all-out research attack against the disease, and to provide clinic and pa-

They are crowded into the inner city because of zoning in the suburbs which will not allow even small numbers of non-related people to live together in single family residential areas.

It's a tough problem and the pressures are building to force the Pointes and other suburbs to face the issue and find some way to allow some of these homes into their communities.

To the Editor:

We would like to express our thanks to the Village merchants who sponsored another great Easter egg hunt. Our little guys look forward to it each year and were even fortunate effough to win prizes this year. When we cashed in our little white slips, the prizes turned out to be much nicer than we ever expected.

What makes it enjoyable for us was the fact that our kids enjoyed the hunt even though they have a parent-ally imposed one egg limit. We would also like to thank a large group of parents who are responsible for driving this fine tradition to extinction. No more will we have to stand next to a little tyke with tears streaming down his face because he was not able to get one of the many eggs your child stuffed into his bag or bas-

Grosse Pointers have been accused of many things but, teachers in Hamtramck make as many of you well proved, more than their counterparts being guilty of having good manners is not one of them.

(Editor's Note: The letter below answers the question, at least at this point in time, on whether the Easter egg hunt will be continued.

To the Editor:

Last Saturday, (April 10), with happy feelings about spring, Easter and children, the Village Merchants held their third annual Easter Egg Hunt at Elworthy Field. Local Girl Scouts had filled thousands of eggs with candy and prizes for the several hundred youngsters who attended.

Unfortunately a minority of overly aggressive parents spoiled the event for the majority by having their children rush onto the field against the committee's instructions before the eggs had been properly distributed.

Poor manners of some parents and children left numerous gentle folks without any reward for their attend-

Committee members and assisting Girl Scouts were verbally abused by parents while trying to distribute eggs to youngsters without.

The board of the Village Merchants Association would like to extend heartfelt apologies to all the youngsters and parents who didn't have a happy experience at the hunt. We thank all the Girl Scouts who tried so hard to make the little ones happy, and wish everyone in the community a Happy Easter.

The event will not be held next year because of our disgust over the behavior of some of our guests.

Lothar Gunther's THE BOAT is the account of a German submarine in World War II. The book begins with the crew's drunken escapism the night before sailing, and ends when they make an incredible return trip to their home base.

The tension and excitement build so strongly that you are soon reading about men and what war does to them, without any thought that they were "the enemy." The last two sentences of this outstanding novel are as devastating as any in recent fiction.

Written in the form of a memoir, Gore Vidal's BURR is revisionist history as a novel. It is concerned with the events of the American Revolution and the early days of the Republic. It is told in terms of Aaron Burr's purported own recollections of his stormy past, the duel with Hamilton, treason trial and conflict with Jefferson and, above all, it is told in terms of his inner integrity.

We have only Burr's word, of course, but this novel is good enough to cause its readers to cock an eyebrow at the history he remembers.
In 1778 Daniel Boone was charged with several counts of treason, involving his alleged collusion with the Shawnee Indians and the British, Allan W. Eckert, in THE COURT-MARTIAL OF DANIEL BOONE, has written a fascinating novel based on this documented trial.

Tension builds as the evidence against Boone mounts, while the hero conducts his own unorthodox defense. The author has a keen sense of time and place and has thoroughly researched his material.

Imagine a German plan to kidnap Churchill, Such is the plot of THE EAGLE HAS LANDED by Jack Higgins. A select group of German paratroopers train to land in England and seize the prime minister. The story builds to a confrontation of terror that none of the participants had anticipated. Suspense is enhanced by a cleverly devised plot, superb characterization and good dialogue.

A grand and glorious blend of suspense, tongue-in-cheek spoofery and cutting social commentary will be found in Michael Crichton's THE GREAT TRAIN ROBBERY.

A gang of crooks, led by clever Pierce, plots and carries out the robbery of a carefully guarded gold shipment aboard a London to Folkstone train in 1855. Each step in the planning and hazardous execution of the scheme leads to a great climax, with the reader rooting for Pierce every step of the

LOOKING FOR MR. GOODBAR by Judith Rossner is based on a recent New York City murder. The story cuts close to the bone and yet it makes you keep on reading.

Terry Dunn is an admitted murder victim on page one. Her killer is a drifter whom Terry picked up at one of the singles' bars she goes to because they are her only escape from loneliness and private terror. Terry is very real and the tangle of her life is told with great sensitivity and skill.

Thief Visits Shores Home

Someone broke into the home of Jessie Newkirk, of Roslyn road, and escaped with a portable television set, according to information released by Shores police.

Mrs. Newkirk told investigating officers the burglary occurred sometime between 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 10 and 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 11, while the family was absent from home.

The burglar, or burglars, entered the house by breaking a rear window glass and prying it with an instrument, possibly a screw driver, it was said.

The house had been com-

During this year of our na-| "Found" in the archives of Dr. Watson, this is a scrupulous reconstruction of the at mosphere of Sherlock Holmes which relates how Watson lured the British detective to Vienna.

> This was a move necessitated by the fear that Holmes' increasing use of cocaine would damage his effectiveness in combating crime. Watson engages the services of no less than Sigmund Freud whose success with the patient is rewarded when Holmes solves a vexing case for the psychiatrist. In a brilliant return to the spy genre, John LeCarre says it all in TINKER, TAILOR, SOLDIER, SPY the intrigue, the posturing, the danger, the weakness of men and women whose every moment is lived as a double life.

Bringing back George Smiley, Mr. LeCarre spins a devilishly effective tale of double dealing that leads to the innermost depths of British Intelligence where a "mole," a secret Russian spy, had been implanted years before.

In VALLEY FORGE, Mac-Kinlay Kantor brings the bitterest days of the Revolution to compelling life. As he did in "Andersonville," the author involves the reader with events through vivid accounts of the people who made them.

Above all, however, it is the controlled, gentlemanly but human, Commander-in-Chief on whom our attention is riveted, showing his concern for his men and earning their honest respect.

The last book on my list is WATERSHIP DOWN by Richard Adams which is set in the rolling hills and dales of England. It is written in the tradition of Grahame, Orwell, Lewis and Tolkien.

The characters in his fantasy are wild rabbits. When Fiver senses disaster about to strike the home warren, a group of pioneers set out for a new home and a new society. The group reaches Watership Down only after racking hardships and a series of narrow escapes.

Grant Piche and Tony Abraham both socked doubles for South.

Other highlights included Abraham's performance at third, Bob Gough at short, Paul Genter in center and Charlie Murphy behind the

In the second contest, the Devils held Finney scoreless with a 3-0 win. Doug Skipp, who relieved starting pitcher Rick Baker in the fourth, got the victory, while giving up only two hits.

The game was scoreless until South exploded in the fourth to get its three runs. Gough and Genter both hit homers, while Abraham added a triple. The team's defensive versatility was shown by Gough's performance at second and John Beebe at South coach George Du-ditch, viewing the team's performance, said, "They really did good. They showed lots of enthusiasm and are off to a great start. Our pitching staff looks good and if it holds, we'll be fine." South's strength seems to be in the versatility of the defense and the show of hitting thus far. The club's only apparent weakness seems to be handling the double play ball, but coach Duditch is working to overcome this.

Tournament chairman is Robert L. (Bill) Muir, of Wedgewood road. Ticket chairman is Cathy (Mrs. Brian) Molloy, of Grand Marais boulevard.

The round of house parties and cocktail parties, (house guests are coming from all over the east for what's been called "the best mixed doubles tennis tournament outside world-class players in the country"), will culminate with a Saturday dinner dance at the club.

Among celebrities expected Tournament Weekend is Jack Stahr, probably the nation's best, and best-known, tennis umpire. He's worked many of the great matches in Forest Hills and Davis Cup competition. He'll be staying with the Frank Husters, of Berkshire road.

Tournament tickets, available from the Hunt Club, are scaled from $2.50 to $5 courtside, $1 and $2 youth admission. Boxes are $75 and $150. The Clubhouse telephone is 884-9090.

Collector's Corner Tea

Mrs. John B. Ford was the first to open her home, in East Jefferson avenue, for a "donation" tea to stock the shelves of Christ Church Fair's Collector's Corner.

That was 10 years ago . . . and through the years, women have brought rare and lovely gifts to the homes of ten hostesses Mrs. Wilber H. Mack, Mrs. Warren Shelden, Mrs. Robert Kanzler and Mrs. William C. Ford.

This year Thirza (Mrs. Thomas) Morrow is opening her home for the party. The women of Christ Church have been invited to come, laden, to Vendome road Wednesday, April 28.

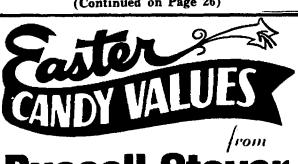

The donation tea is the first of two spring events that traditionally herald the every-other-year, (it alternates with Memorial Church), No-vember Christ Church Fair.

The second is the Spring Preview, to be held Saturday, May 15. Mrs. George Reindel, III, chairman of the Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, Episcopal ters. Church Women, has appointed the Mesdames Richard Simonds, Robert Valk and Raymond Senkowski to chair the 1976 Family A-Fair.

It's set for a Saturday, too: November 6. That's important, for, as the choice of title indicates, both Fair and Preview are planned to appeal to the WHOLE family.

Mrs. Allen M. Lomax, of Ridge road, is chairman of the Collector's Corner, which traditionally features rare and lovely items given by owners of large Pointe homes when those homes become too large, (families do grow up), and they move to smaller quarters.

The sort of house you are interested in depends a lot on the type of person you are, and the type of family you have. A young family may be interested in expandable space, or in a location near good schools, or both. A more established family may need larger homes to accommodate special tastes and activities of teen-agers. You may be looking for an easy-care, low-upkeep retirement home, something that will be small, cozy, handy to transportation. Whatever your home needs, they should be discussed within your family circles, and the most important items decided upon. That makes it easier to find a home that is just right

THE FRANK H. MULLEN FAMILY, OF BERKSHIRE ROAD

By Janet Mueller

There's a fort in the castle, in the attic room opening off the turret room, and it's Mark and Arthur's special place, sheet-shielded for privacy, and you crawl in by crawling around the chairs and tables Ann's storing for her sisters-in-law, Mary Luisa (Mrs. John) Hartley and Michael Ann Mullen, both of whom live in London, England, so it's unlikely they'll be claiming the furniture in the near future, but you never know . . .

Mark and Arthur, leading me on a tour of their castle, saved the best for the last. We did,the first floor, breezed through the second, climbed the stairs to the third, turned right in the turret room, went up a few more stairs, the Mullen Castle).

Mark and Arthur disappeared. Giggles in a corner of the attice, behind a shaking sheet. "Come on in!," they called, so I came on in, and came on around, and stuck my head through an opening in the sheet, and there were Mark and Arthur, happy as kings, sitting on an old mattress.

"Come on in!" Eleven and Eight Mark is 11, Arthur is eight, and they're both students at the Grosse Pointe Academy, which must be doing a pretty good job since it's turned out Arthur and Mark who, at 11 and eight, are really fun people to be with.

Ann and Butch can take a bit of credit for that, too, of course.

Into the Castle

When Frank's tour of duty as an Army officer (!) at Annapolis was up, he and Ann moved "home" to Grosse Pointe, into their castle in Berkshire road—and it really IS a castle: a French chateau complete with tower, (but no moat), and an organ loft in the master bedroom.

Butch worked for Touche, Ross, Bailey and Smart, then with Marantette and Company, later as a general part-ner with W. C. Roney, A year and a half ago, he and per hour on Miss US; a visit Jim Dingeman acquired a high speed steel company.

The Mullens are a sportsoriented family. Ann, a devoted golfer during high school and college, has joined Butch, who "always played," on the tennis courts.

Mark and Arthur swim, and are ski addicts. "Butch says Ann, "is a fantastic His hobbies include reading, 'plane-watching" and duck shooting. He's darn good as Arts degree in Economic an around-the-house handyman — and he enjoys the work.
