PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER asked Congress Wednesday to give him emergency authority to transfer natural gas to areas with the worst gas shortage. The bill would allow intrastate pipelines to make emergency gas sales to interstate lines at unregulated prices until July 31—a move that could raise the monthly gas bills of consumers. The impact of Mr. Carter's program on Michigan was uncertain. The state now has enough natural gas to meet its needs, but under the new plan it may have to share some of it with hard-hit states like Ohio.

LABOR SECRETARY F. Ray Marshall announced a $1.3 billion federal program Thursday to find jobs for 200,000 of the nation's more than 500,000 unemployed Vietnam era veterans. Mr. Marshall outlined the plan just after taking the oath of office. He said it calls for the government to provide public service jobs for 145,000 veterans and for private industry to hire 50,000-60,000. Mr. Marshall said the public service jobs would be "meaningful" and could include such things as working in national parks and forests.

GUNMEN KILLED THREE law officers in Madrid, Spain, and wounded three others Thursday, police said, in a pair of quick attacks that deepened Spain's worst crisis since the death of dictator Francisco Franco. Ten persons have been slain in political violence this week. Rumors are spreading that some police and the Paramilitary Civil Guard, symbols of repression in the Franco era, have been helping the right wing extremists who are blamed for much of the recent violence.

Sunday, January 30
PRESIDENT CARTER called an emergency cabinet meeting on the winter energy crisis Saturday and suggested that both the government and private industry go to a four-day, 10-hour-a-day workweek to reduce the use of natural gas. He also declared Pennsylvania and New York federal disaster areas—his first such proclamation in response to the devastating combination of bitterly cold weather and heating fuel shortages—and said he will do the same Monday for Florida. Mr. Carter called the session after White House energy chief James Schlesinger informed him that the government had learned there was gas in the northwest that could be transferred to the east.

IT MAY BE SPRING before the bodies of all 16 victims of a hotel fire in Breckenridge, Minn., are found in the rubble, an assistant state fire marshal said Sunday. Twenty-two persons were at first reported missing after the fire swept through the 70-year-old Stratford Hotel about 5 a.m. Friday. Mayor Hugh Mikkelsen said six persons had been located alive, which left 16 persons unaccounted for. Sporadic fires broke out early Sunday in the collapsed structure as security guards stood watch. Firemen have pumped more than a million gallons of water onto the blaze.

THE CARTER ADMINISTRATION Monday signaled Cuba that it is ready to discuss normalizing relations without any of the preconditions that have prevented such talks in the past. In what appears to be a major policy shift, Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said the administration will not improve preconditions at this point for beginning a diplomatic dialogue with the Fidel Castro government.

Center Sets Blood Drive For Feb. 10

Need Reaching Emergency Point, Goal Placed at 200 Pints

The American Red Cross is sending two bloodmobile units to the Crystal Ballroom of the War Memorial Center, 32 Lakeshore road, on Thursday, February 10, with donors being received from 9 a.m.-8 p.m.

Members of the Grosse Pointe community are urged to make appointments to give much needed blood by calling the Center at 881-7511. This will facilitate the process greatly and eliminate waiting.

However, any and all walks-in will be gratefully received and handled as expeditiously as possible.

Need Is High

In the wake of the most severe winter in many years, the need for blood is nearly to the emergency point, reports the Center. "Giving blood is about the most unselfish and humanitarian gift one can make and it is something everyone, ages 18-60, is able to give unless there is a history of heart or blood disease or, in the case of women, those who are pregnant."

To make blood donating easier, baby-sitters will be provided and rides will be given to those needing them. (Continued on Page 6)

Park Council Interested In Master Street Plan

By James J. Njaim
Will cul-de-sacs and construction of traffic diverters enhance property values in The Park, as well as in the other Pointes? That will depend on further study and long range planning, it was brought out at a regular meeting of the Park Council on Monday, January 24.

The council, acting on behalf of The Park only, to determine the feasibility of the plan, has placed the issue in the hands of the firm of Villican-Lehman, the city's planning consultants.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Park Plan Commission on Tuesday, January 18, which in turn submitted its report to the Park Council. The city consultants will conduct a

Cottage Hospital Has Bright Future, Reports Administrator Wilgarde

Institution's Corporation Hears Remarks at Annual Meeting; Elections Held to Board of Trustees

"When you consider statesman Patrick Henry's famous words, 'I know of no way of judging the future but by the past,' the future of Cottage Hospital is bright," Administrator Ralph L. Wilgarde told members of the hospital's corporation at its annual meeting Wednesday, January 26.

Mr. Wilgarde then pointed to several ways in which Cottage has been in the forefront.

"Cottage Hospital is the only hospital on the east side which cooperates in the ASMA-MECO program, a project to encourage future doctors to practice in community hospitals," he said.

Cites "First's"

He added it also is the only hospital on the east side to have an Alcoholics Anonymous chapter and its affiliates, Al-Anon for families of alcoholics and Al-a-Teen for teenage children of alcoholics.

David H. Barker, MD, president of the medical staff, also listed some Cottage "firsts" when he addressed the corporation members.

"Cottage Hospital was the first hospital on the east side to have a Respiratory Therapy Department," he said. The department was organized on April 10, 1967, and offers both in and out patient service 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Dr. Barker also pointed out that Cottage is the only

GP Schools Begin Dial Down Plan

Action Complies with Gas Company Request; Thermostats Fall to 65

By Susan McDonald and George Polgar Jr.

The Grosse Pointe public schools are trying to do their bit to conserve fuel by turning thermostats down to 65 degrees during the day in all buildings.

School officials are asking students to bear with them while they try to comply with a Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. request to cut their fuel use by six percent of their usual February allotment.

The plea went out last week from gas company president Charles R. Montgomery to all large fuel users, according to the school system's Director of Support Services, Ben Zenn.

Can Obtain Savings

The schools can save two percent of the fuel use for every one degree the thermostat is turned down, Mr. Zenn said.

"We'll adjust them down to a daytime temperature of 65 degrees in all the buildings where it's possible," he said. "There are some areas, such as swimming pools and kindergarten rooms, where 65 degrees just wouldn't be warm enough. We'll just leave matters like that to the good judgment of the building engineers."

Where ever possible, the system is trying to reduce lighting as well but Mr. Zenn assures that the buildings will be well protected from vandals as usual.

Besides serving the best interests of the community, (and the nation for that matter), by conserving scarce fuel supplies, the measure also may help save a few taxpayers' dollars as well.

Length Unknown

"I can't give exact figures because I haven't seen our January bills yet, but I know our fuel costs are skyrocketing," Mr. Zenn said. "Maybe this will help ease the blow a little."

Teachers notified students of the heat change on Monday, January 31, and the program began the next day.

Mr. Zenn said he had no idea of how long the restrictions would be in effect, saying it depends a great deal (Continued on Page 1)

District Court Bill Is Dead

The much debated district court bill—which would have abolished municipal courts in communities like the Pointes—is a dead issue, according to Rep. William R. Bryant.

After a series of communication problems between Rep. Bryant and the Woods Council concerning the status of the senate bill and his stand on the issue, the local lawmaker sent copies of documents clarifying his position on the bill and the fact that the proposal died with the adjournment of the 1976 legislative session.

The apparent cause of the confusion, which prompted Woods Council members to complain of inadequate information from Rep. Bryant's office, was a note they received from him saying that the bill was to stay in committee. This, according to Rep. Bryant, meant that the bill was dead.

However, such a bill could be reintroduced in the future.

Women's Voting League to Help Millage Election

Local Branch Conducting Registration Drive Tonight, February 3, at Three Libraries for School Balloting

By Susan McDonald
The deadline for registering to vote in the Saturday, March 12, school millage election is just one week away, and the local branch of the League of Women Voters, (LWV), is doing all it can to guarantee a big turnout at the polls.

The league will conduct a voter registration of Pointe citizens tonight, February 3, from 7:30 p.m. at local libraries.

City and Farms residents can sign up at the Central Branch, 10 Kercheval avenue; Woods residents at the Woods (Parcels), Branch, 20600 Mack avenue; and Park residents at the Park Branch, 15430 Kercheval.

Absentee Deadline

The Board of Education will ask voters to maintain the current level of school taxation and programs March 12, by renewing 2.2 mills, school, and 11 of a mill, library, tax for a three-year duration.

Voters approved both those levies for one year last spring. At the same time they voted to continue, for four years, 24.35 mills school and 1.31 mills library taxes.

Residents who plan to be out of the district on March 12, or who are confined at home or hospital by illness, may vote by absentee ballot. Absentee ballot applications may be picked up at Board of Education Offices, 389 St. Clair avenue, or at local city clerk's offices. Absentee applications must be returned to Board offices by 2 p.m. Saturday, March 5.

Ballots may be obtained from the Board office and must be returned by 4 p.m. on March 12.

On Registrations

Citizens of the Village of Grosse Pointe Shores may register from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday at the clerk's office, 795 Lakeshore road.

Residents of Harper Woods, who are part of The Pointe school system, should sign up at their city offices, 19617 Harper, from 8:30 a.m.-6:30 p.m. on Monday, and from 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. on Tuesday-Friday.

The last date for all registrations is 5 p.m. on Thursday, February 10.

Citizens who cannot attend today's LWV registrations can sign up at the following offices and times:

• Park city offices, 15115 East Jefferson avenue, from (Continued on Page 4)

Right Day, Wrong Date

In last week's front page story on the upcoming school millage election, readers, upon checking their calendar, were probably left wondering how election day could be Saturday, March 14.

The correct day was published but not the date—the election will be held on Saturday, March 12.

Widowed Persons Service Being Formed in Pointe

A widowed persons service is being formed to train widows and widowers in the community to give counseling to those who recently lost their partners.

Diane Heavner and Mary Aley, directors of the Out-County Food and Nutrition Program which is currently housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19550 Mack avenue, are co-chairing the project.

"In our desire to meet the needs of the senior citizens we see a great need for a service of this kind in our community," said Mrs. Heavner in a news release.

Representatives of various interested community organizations met Monday, January 17, to plan the program with Ruth Lowensohn, program

Woods Has New Area Of Concern

City Administrator Petersen Cites Big Decrease in Number of Violation Tickets Issued

By Roger A. Waha

The effects of the long and, up to now, unproductive negotiation process between the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Assoc., (GPWPOA), and the city, which recently produced a call for arbitration from the association, are apparently related to a new area of concern expressed by the city late last month.

As cited in a memo from City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, this area views the subject of motivation of public safety officers in relation to an alleged "slowdown" in the issuance of violation tickets since approximately last September 1.

While saying it was heartening to note that the weekend of January 21-23 produced an improvement in the issuance of tickets, Mr. Petersen expressed concern over "an extreme noticeable 'slowdown' in ticket activity throughout the department" since September.

Wants Plan

Indicating that such a "slowdown" is in direct violation of the agreement between the city and the association, Mr. Petersen said his office was concerned that the department's command structure hasn't, as yet, initiated any program which would motivate association members to do their job in accordance with performance records of the past five years.

"Therefore, please submit to this office a plan for motivating and/or increasing the total performance of the members of the GPWPOA or any alternative disciplinary corrective measures which may be planned," he requested.

Finally, Mr. Petersen noted from reports received that several officers "are spending a great amount of time in the parking lots" including Seven-Mack Shopping Center, Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian (Continued on Page 6)

Case Load Reaches 755 For Bureau

Total Second Highest in Division's History; Board of Managers to Meet February 9

By Roger A. Waha

The Youth Service Division, (YSD), concluded another active year in 1976 with its second heaviest case load since becoming fully operational in August 1970.

Last year, the division's four detectives investigated a total of 755 cases referred to them by Pointe police departments, down from the record 819 incidents of two years ago.

With the exception of the YSD's first full year of operation in 1971 when 670 cases were handled, the load has increased through 1975 as 646 cases were handled in 1972, 690 in 1973 and 725 in 1974.

Managers to Meet

In citing the drop in cases last year, Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, said this was significant because it showed "that we're doing a good job in education and in other preventive measures with the youth in the Grosse Pointe community."

At the same time, he mentioned a basic concern of other officials regarding alcohol and drug abuse among high school students in the 17- and 18-year-old age groups.

The division's board of managers, (including all Pointe city managers and a School Board representative), is scheduled to meet Wednesday, February 9, continued Mr. Petersen.

They will review the YSD's operations, any need for changes, e.g., implementing different programs, and make plans for the bureau's fiscal year 1977-78 budget.

View Participation

"We will receive indications from the communities and the Board whether or not they are desirous to continue their participation in the YSD," he stated. At this point, Mr. Petersen has not heard of any desire not to participate from the communities and the Board.

Another subject which is scheduled to be explored by the board of managers is one which has been viewed on several previous occasions—the possibility of having a Wayne County Juvenile Court judge or referee serve the east side area as is done on the west side, (hence, an emphasis upon better service for the Pointes, Harper (Continued on Page 2)

Housing Still Seniors' Goal

The Woods Senior Citizens Commission viewed the housing question at its meeting on Wednesday, January 26, reported George Kallenbach, commission publicity director.

"We realize to put senior housing in our city back on the agenda, a lot of work and cooperation is needed," he said, while noting members discussed various locations and different approaches of financing for such a complex. Over 3,000 senior citizens reside in The Woods and "we feel many younger residents of our community are responsive to our cause. So we could get a favorable result in the next try," he stated.

However, the commission didn't come to a final decision on this subject, shelving it to the next meeting. "But we were all in agreement that housing is still our goal," added Mr. Kallenbach.

On another subject, the commission viewed the merit of a phone service where volunteers would answer calls from city seniors in relation to being of assistance to their problems. Alice Cairns is scheduled to check into such a program and see what might be the best method of approach.

Youth Bureau Has Another Active Year

Woods and other community members.

"I don't foresee the incorporation of any programs which are going to add up additional operating expense to the YSD," said Mr. Petersen, who indicated the board of managers could be interested in deleting one type of service to expand into another service area.

He noted the board will try to keep the program in the area of the division's 1976-77 fiscal year budget of $140,083.

Could Be Higher
The new budget could well be higher just in keeping pace with the increased costs of salaries, he said, "unless some thought is given to reduce the personnel complement. If there has been such a thought, I haven't been apprised of it."

Declines in reported crimes were seen in both the Part I, (more serious crimes), and Part II, (less serious crimes), categories in 1976.

Part I offenses fell from 226 to 173 last year, while clearances dropped slightly from 74 percent two years ago to 72 percent. The biggest decrease in this category was in larceny-theft, (except auto), classification which topped from 155 incidents to 112 last year.

Robbery cases remained the same both years, (10 reports), while burglary incidents dropped from 49 to 42 and auto theft cases fell from nine to five.

The only increase was reflected in the aggravated assault classification which rose from three in 1975 to four last year. No criminal homicide or forcible rapes cases were reported either year.

Clearances Up
Meanwhile, the Part II offense total declined from 548 in 1975 to 530 last year, while the clearance rate in this category jumped from 70 percent to 78 percent in 1976.

Highlights in this category feature a slight rise in vandalism incidents, (116 to 120 last year), and a substantial drop in narcotic drug law violations, (from 106 two years ago to 71 in 1976).

Finally, liquor law violations climbed from 17 in 1975 to 21 last year, while run-away reports fell from 84 to 78 in 1976.

Overall, the combined total of Part I and Part II offenses revealed a drop in cases from 774 to 703, with the overall Part I-II clearance rate increasing from 71 to 75 percent last year.

The remaining reported cases were classified as miscellaneous, e.g., family trouble and missing persons.

Division Detectives Wayne Baum and John Albrecht, North High School district, and Patrick Fagan, South High district, assessed the past year by saying it was basically a good one, while citing the fine cooperation received from school officials. (The NEWS was unable to contact Det. Donald Schmaltz, South district).

Pleased with Year
"We established a lot of good contact with a lot of fine people including students, teachers and citizens," said Det. Baum. "The number of contacts with the really abusive personality was way down. Overall, I'm very pleased with the way youth services and the community it was intended to serve got along."

In viewing the year-end report, he stated, "I'm really encouraged by the way the statistics have gone. To me, the problem I'd like to see totally eradicated, especially in the schools, is crime by vandalism."

And while he said substance abuse has been minimal, "I would rather have none at all."

While citing the YSD's effective substance abuse education programs and the obvious effect it's having on the case load, (marijuana incidents, for instance, fell from 73 to 60 last year), he said some youths still "smoke joints and flaunt it."

Viewing the future, Det. Baum said he doesn't foresee any major problems "as long as society doesn't get lax because the situation has improved."

Big Frustration
In relation to this, the detective said his big frustration last year was in finding out just how society apparently feels regarding juvenile crime.

Referring to his proposal to overhaul the state's criminal justice system with a main focus on juvenile offenders, Det. Baum stated people have expressed an interest in his program "but are not doing much about it themselves, (e.g., writing their legislators). As long as they aren't affected by juvenile crime, they apparently don't care."

The detective's proposals, which emphasize home rule implementation and certainty of punishment, focus upon local and district courts having the responsibility for all misdemeanors for juveniles and adults.

Copies were sent to Sen. Joseph Snyder, Sen. John Hertel and Rep. William Bryant last summer. Outside of an immediate acknowledgment from Sen. Snyder, Det. Baum said he hasn't heard anything from the three legislators.

Cites Cooperation
This year, he said he and Det. Albrecht will continue the focus on substance abuse, vandalism and larceny within the schools, with an emphasis upon fifth and sixth graders. "We will be doing the same job we've done in the past toward reducing crime," he noted.

On the cooperation front, Det. Baum emphasized the cooperation received from the Grosse Pointe School System "has been super and has helped us attain success."

He also cited the work of school counselors and the students, along with Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, assistant superintendent - instruction, who's the School Board's representative on the division's board of managers.

While Det. Baum is a "veteran" of the YSD, having joined the bureau in 1974, Det. Albrecht was assigned to the division last November 1 when Officer Stuart Gerow requested transfer back to the uniform division.

Enjoys The Youths
Noting that his assignment was a big adjustment initially, Det. Albrecht has discovered, while he's still a police officer, a greater freedom in asserting himself in the YSD while remaining within department and division policy.

As a result, because of the nature of the job and his own confidence, he also has become a friend, confidant and "a pal" of many young people.

"I talk to all types of youths, not only the criminal element," he said. "Adolescent problems are often discussed and I talk with the young people on anything and everything relating to the adolescent period."

"It's a great reward to me to see them do the right thing. I just like talking with the kids."

While realizing law enforcement is the main purpose of his job, Det. Albrecht cites a variety of "side effects" such as a constant interplay with students, counselors, the school staff, maintenance men and others.

On "Free Flow"
Viewing the YSD position as more informal in nature, (in comparison to being a uniformed police officer), the detective says, "I can effectively do my job better without a confrontation, (which he likes to avoid unless really necessary). They come to me as much as I come to them."

Crime Problems Viewed By Assistant Prosecutor

By George Polgar Jr.
Wayne County Chief Assistant Prosecutor Dominic Carnovale told the audience at the Monday, January 31, meeting of the Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe, that mandatory sentencing and certainty of punishment are the imperatives of dealing with Detroit crime problems.

Appearing as guest speaker at the meeting of the Rotarians, Mr. Carnovale said that while all other approaches to the crime control problem have apparently failed, the certainty of imprisonment approach is sure to act as a deterrent and will protect society from criminals.

"Right now 65 percent of all convicted felons in Michigan serve no time in prison," Mr. Carnovale said. "The reason for this is that the decision to send a convicted criminal to jail is subject to judiciary discretion, which is nothing more than the whim and caprice of the judges."

He went on to say that while "we insist on the fair and equal treatment of accused persons according to the constitution, we do not insist on equal punishments for criminals." (In other words, punishments to fit the crimes, not the individual cases.)

"I'm not accusing the judges of being wrong, I'm just saying the discretionary system does not work," Mr. Carnovale said. "What we have now is a certainty of non-punishment which does nothing to discourage people from committing crimes."

Outlining the advantages of mandatory minimum sentencing, Mr. Carnovale began by saying that while rehabilitation is not a primary aim of imprisonment, the possibility of rehabilitation is better if the felon goes to prison than if he returns to the streets.

"One of the most important advantages of mandatory sentences is the segregation from the rest of society of the 15 percent of the population which commits 50 percent of all violent crimes," Mr. Carnovale said. "Further, mandatory sentences will serve equal justice."

To illustrate the latter point, Mr. Carnovale cited a Harvard University study which showed that with the present discretionary sentencing system 74 percent of black convicted felons go to jail while only 49 percent of white convicted felons serve time.

When questioned about the extra cost of housing more criminals, Mr. Carnovale admitted that he was not qualified to talk about exact numbers of dollars or prison cells but said that the legislature can take immediate action in some cases to allocate money for new facilities.

Though it is too soon to tell what effect the recently adopted mandatory two-year sentence for gun carrying felons will have on Detroit crime statistics, Mr. Carnovale seemed certain that similar mandatory limits for other categories of crimes would have a positive impact.

"Unemployment and other root causes of crime must be solved but mandatory sentences will attack the immediate problem," Mr. Carnovale said.

Busy Year for YSD

On the aspect of communication, he states, "I can listen, suggest and recommend, I don't have to force or demand," (something that's more frequently done in the uniform division).

Visibility is important to a YSD officer who often is sought out by a young person who prefers talking over a problem with someone other than his or her parents. This "free flow" of youth to detective and vice-versa is something which Det. Albrecht considers vital.

In discussing the rise in clearances last year, the detective said he hoped he can hold up his end of the load as the year continues. He undoubtedly will because he also enjoys the investigative work, "getting involved in a case and pulling out a suspect," while at the same time proving to himself and the department that he can do the job well.

Need Citizen Aid
He also felt the fine clearance rate showed that the division is catching juvenile criminals and correcting them through its counseling program, juvenile court and other resources.

In this respect, he urged all citizens to make reports, not only to aid police in catching suspects, but also in trying to help them. "We can't do the job unless people come to us with the problem," he said.

For his part, Det. Fagan said, "I felt we had a very good year without any monumental problems," (with the exception of the ruckus last summer at South High which he termed was "water over the bridge" at this juncture). He also said the attitudes of the students has been positive.

At the same time, Det. Fagan is in the midst of his third year with the division and admits he's becoming more comfortable. "This also may have something to do with my feelings. I have adapted myself and know the job and work," he said.

Last year, he attended a school of magic and late last month gave his first presentation incorporating magic tricks as visual aids in a street safety talk for Trombly School girl scouts.

Pleased with the debut, the detective hopes to polish his three presentations to young people this year.

Pattern Remains
Feeling an onslaught of speaking engagements for all detectives will continue in 1977, Det. Fagan said a focus on substance abuse in the schools will be continued.

Because of the possibility of a cyclical effect in the use of drugs, he said chemical and hard drugs also will be discussed along with marijuana and alcohol abuse.

Det. Fagan feels the drug and alcohol abuse pattern will always remain consistent. There will be those who will never participate in such usage, while others will constantly take part in such abuse. Then, there are the majority whom he refers to as the "middle of the roaders" who will experiment.

Anti-Bus Funds Will Buy Books

The recently disbanded Grosse Pointe Residents Against Busing donated the last of its treasury—$1,665 in all—to the public libraries.

Library Director William Peters said the money will be used for the Books Always in Demand, (BAD), fund to insure an ample supply of popular books for readers.

All three branches received a portion of the funds, he said.

The anti-busing group disbanded in October 1976. In accordance with its by-laws, all pledge holders were advised that money not collected by November would be contributed to a local charity.

Four Invoices Paid by Woods

Four invoices were approved for payment by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 17. All monies will come from the Recreation Construction Fund.

The invoices include the payment of $20,935.32 to T and T Construction Co. for Lake Front Park site renovation; $19,809.16 to Cooke Contracting Co. for Lake Front Park road construction; $775.38 to Testing Engineers and Consultants Inc. for Lake Front Park sewer trench; and $41.20 to Franks Nursery Sales for shrubs.

It's the shadow of a doubt that keeps the chronic worrier from having a ghost of a chance, with drugs. So the objective, he feels, then becomes to keep that group to a minimum. "This is what we, (the division), address ourselves to, to prevent this group from growing," the detective stressed, while adding he hopes to reach enough of these youths so they don't evolve into the high usage category.

In a final note, he indicated once again cooperation from students, teachers, parents, counselors and many others was excellent last year, while adding, "We're all working toward the same goals."

Police Referrals
Total case referrals from Pointe police departments last year showed small increases in The Farms and Park and decreases in The City, Shores and Woods.

The increase in The Farms was from 157 two years ago to 161 last year, while the hike in The Park was from 231 to 234.

Meanwhile, referrals from The City fell from 70 in 1975 to 33 last year. The Shores showed a drop of 21 in 1975 to 16, while The Woods' total declined from 340 to 310.

Orientation Set at South

The South High School orientation meeting for parents of incoming ninth grade students will be held on Thursday, February 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Parents of private and parochial school students who will attend South are encouraged to attend.

"We feel that a common program for all parents of incoming students will be to their advantage," Dr. James Hoeh, principal, said.

"Please reserve the evening of February 10 to become acquainted with many of the South High School personnel and with our program."

"Middle school and high school counselors, administrators and high school department chairpersons will be available at the meeting to provide information necessary to assist parents and students in making decisions about course choices at South," he added.

The Collingwood weekend includes round trip chartered highway bus transportation, lodging at Blue Mt. Lodge right at the slopes, meals, lift tickets for the weekend and supervision for $75. Mandatory ski insurance is $2.50. This trip is only open to student members in grades nine-12.

GP Park Sets Hearing For Zoning Amendment

By James J. Njalm

The Park Council at its regular meeting Monday, January 24, set Monday, February 14, at 5:30 p.m. as the date for a public hearing on a proposed amendment to a zoning ordinance.

This would permit the city to rezone residential property for the purpose of constructing off-street parking lots. The one requirement of the proposal is that the land be adjacent to commercial buildings.

The main feature of the proposed rezoning is that such land will still be residential property and an annual permit must be issued for its continued use.

It, (the amendment), is merely to allow the construction of a parking lot, provided the lot is next to a commercial building and provided it conforms to certain residential requirements, such as property line set backs, landscaping, et al.

The city is interested in building a badly needed off-street parking lot at the southeast corner of Jefferson and Lakepointe, provided funds are forthcoming from Wayne County and the federal government under the Community Block Grant Program.

The property, and land in Mack avenue, were recently acquired by The Park for off-street parking purposes.

Plans for the development of the Jefferson-Lakepointe land were prepared by James Ellison, director of public service, and received the approval of the Park Plan Commission, which in turn presented it to the council for its consideration.

The Park had purchased one vacant lot on Mack, between Wayburn and Maryland, and two lots on Jefferson and Lakepointe for $23,500 late last summer for the needed off-street parking.

The proposed plan calls for setbacks to conform with the adjacent residential area, a masonry wall, drainage, asphalt paving and other items of construction including metered spaces for approximately 26 cars, all in compliance with The Park's zoning ordinance and permit regulations.

It was disclosed by Mr. Ellison that some of the work, such as the landscaping and installation of a sprinkling system, can be done by municipal employees.

Under the proposed plan, no lot lights will be installed, since it has been deemed that street lights will be sufficient to illuminate the parking area.

If the lot is approved and completed, there should be enough parking available for occupants of the professional building, adjacent to the lot.

If the go-ahead is approved, the city will advertise for bids, said City Manager Robert A. Slone, when and if funds are made available by the county and federal government.

"I want to emphasize that this program is just forming and it will be four or five months before it will be in operation," continued Mrs. Heavner. "Only if we can recruit enough conscientious volunteers can we make this program a success."

Those interested in volunteering should call Mrs. Heavner or Mrs. Alej on weekdays between 10 a.m.-2 p.m. at 886-4532.

In other related nutrition site news, the Neighborhood Club will provide daily transportation for its Village Club, (senior citizens group), members to the site, and are currently making plans in this respect.

The club says, in order to determine transportation lines and pick-up points, a survey is being conducted to learn areas of greatest need.

Approval of the proposals would continue the school and library programs for the next three years, he said.

If tensions are the by-products of your pursuits, and they probably are, rest is both a healer and a deterrent and can help to balance strenuous schedule. The chief purpose of rest is to reduce tension, to recover from fatigue. The length of the rest period should be in proportion to the length and type of exertion. But it is always better to plan rest periods for yourself at regular intervals. Rest is necessary to all form of animal life. Even plants and trees have periods in which they are dormant. Chief Ferber Cites Citizens

John N. Furtaw, of Anita avenue, and Anthony A. Kafkas, of Norwood road, Harper Woods, were recently commended in letters from Farms Police Chief Robert K. Ferber for their actions on Sunday morning, January 23.

At that time a Farms officer was kicked in the face and injured by one of three disorderly youths he was attempting to place under arrest.

Chief Ferber thanked both men for helping responding police locate the escaping attacker and for providing aid and comfort to the injured officer.

In his letter, Chief Ferber noted that "it is only as the result of the actions of such responsible citizens as yourselves that permits police departments to carry out their sworn duties and responsibilities."

The chief went on to say that he sent copies of the letters to the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives Assoc. with his highest recommendation. The association annually presents awards to outstanding area residents for their contributions to Grosse Pointe law enforcement.

St. Clare Fetes Catholic Week

"A plus for America that counts God in" is the theme of Catholic School Week, February 6-11 at Saint Clare of Montefalco School, 16231 Charlevoix avenue. The school will celebrate in many different ways—starting with a Mass of preparation with the entire school on Friday, February 4.

In addition, the following Sunday Masses will have children in ministerial roles further enhancing the events of the week.

Various age levels have made posters, buttons and written poems while the art room has produced decorations for corridors and show cases. The older students have taken up the service idea, and each will find a neighbor to help in some fashion.

The smaller children are hoping for plenty of hot air on Monday morning because they are launching hundreds of balloons with tags that read, "Catholic Schools, a plus for America." The person who finds one of the farthest from Santa Clare gets a prize, so bring it in.

An Open House for parents and friends also will be held February 8 or 10 between 9:45-11:45 a.m.

Schools Dial Down

In the meantime, residential customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will probably not get left out in the cold unless the present energy crisis takes a turn for the worse, according to a company spokesman.

May Reduce
"At present we have enough fuel to supply our customers, but if people don't try to conserve energy by dialing down, and if some of our fuel is re-routed to other states, we may have to reduce services to some of our industrial consumers," he said. According to the contingency plans set up by the gas company, reduction of services, if necessary, will affect industrial consumers first, based on the number of employees and the consumption rate of firms.

"If a company that uses a lot of fuel has few employees, they will most likely be subject to fuel curtailments before a company that has many employees," the spokesman said. "Residential customers will be the last to be affected in any case."

Board Okays 3-Year Contract

By Susan McDonald
The Board of Education approved a new three-year contract with 131 cafeteria and plant personnel at its Monday, January 24, meeting. Superintendent Dr. William Coats said the settlement is within Board-established guidelines for all school employees—including seven percent new money for each contract year.

For the plant and cafeteria group the seven percent provides for increases in longevity, shift differentials, increments and additional life and health insurance.

The Board made some gains in non-economic contract language with the removal of three members from the bargaining unit; deletion of staff reductions and evaluations from the grievance procedure; and institution of annual evaluations.

The contract was ratified by workers 74-17 at a Saturday, January 22, meeting. President of the plant personnel association, Joseph Abell, a custodian at North High, said the group did not get all it was hoping for economically, but said he felt the grievance procedure was strengthened for workers.

Since their contract expired last summer, the association spent 125 hours at the bargaining table, (including sessions with a state-appointed mediator), joined in picketing of Board offices and filed unfair labor practices charges against the administration.

All this, Mr. Abell said, was in marked contrast to the "friendly, give and take atmosphere" that dominated previous years' talks.

Chief negotiator for the Board William O'Connor agreed, saying, "We had very long and very difficult negotiations with them this year, but I think both sides agreed it was a good and equitable settlement."

Mr. Abell added that "We didn't feel the Board was really being fair with us because they didn't reveal they were getting state aid payments this year.

"If we had known they had all this extra money, we may have been a little more difficult to bargain with."

The Board announced at its January 24 meeting, while presenting millage recommendations for this spring, that they had received $270,000 in state funds for 1976-77. The announcement took many employe groups by surprise since the Board had not budgeted for any state allocations for the school year.

Assistant to the Superintendent, George T. Eddington, explained the Board's position on the money, saying, "We never viewed the State Aid, which we were not certain of receiving, as revenue for this year, but rather as revenue for future years — to be used to reduce future millages."

Foreign Study Trip Is Slated

Information on the public school's first foreign study program in several years will be offered at a meeting today, February 3, at 8 p.m. in the South High School auditorium.

Students and their parents who have already signed on for the trip are invited, as well as those interested in exploring the program.

The travelers will visit Madrid, Rome, Florence, Salisbury, Paris and London from June 30-July 28. They will be joined by several Pointe teachers, representing many fields of study, along with qualified foreign instructors.

The trip is sponsored by Foreign Study League, a subsidiary of Reader's Digest, Inc., and is open to students who have completed grades nine through the first year of college.

The cost is $1,460. Thursday's meeting will explore all details of the trip.

Woods' Traffic Safety Record, Program Viewed

By Roger A. Waha
The Woods, which is coming off its 10th American Automobile Association Award of Excellence for pedestrian safety last year, continued its unblemished record in 1976 of no pedestrian fatalities for the 19th straight year.

This was a big source of pleasure to Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook, who took over the post last summer.

While no fatalities occurred, five pedestrians were injured in comparison to three in 1975. The problem, here, was that all were hurt in the mid-block area and not at intersections.

"All injuries could have been eliminated by following the basic rules of traffic safety which are taught to elementary school children," said Officer Crook.

The injuries broke down into the following age groups: one each in the zero-four, five-nine, 10-14, 20-24 and 75 years and older categories. In the latter case, a 76-year-old man was hit by a backing auto while directing traffic on a thoroughfare.

Meanwhile, reported accidents jumped 18.92 percent last year over 1975, (333 as against 280). One fatality occurred in 1976, (classified as a manslaughter by negligence case where a passenger in an auto died shortly after an accident), while none happened in 1975.

While non-fatal mishaps dropped from 75 two years ago to 72 in 1976, property damage accidents jumped from 205 to 260 last year.

"It's always bad when accidents are up. Now we have to look back and discover the circumstances which caused them," said Officer Crook, who cited three factors, driver error, a vehicular defect and an engineering problem within the city itself, which will be studied.

Noting that a majority of the accidents occurred along Mack Avenue, he felt a combination of the aforementioned factors could be responsible with many happening because drivers were following too close or were unable to stop in an assured clear distance ahead.

Another big cause of many mishaps, he stated, was failure to yield the right-of-way.

Besides gearing himself for a variety of traffic safety programs within the schools and the community at large this year, Officer Crook is currently putting together a book, for submission to the AAA, comprising the three E's of traffic safety: education, engineering and enforcement.

"This book determines how your community stands in relation to other (comparable) communities in pedestrian safety. It looks at the weaknesses and strengths of the program and the inventory is used toward improving a safety program in general," he said.

In the area of education, the book includes samples of safety-oriented pamphlets which are given to citizens in the community, plus a variety of material which is given to children, e.g., coloring books, viewing pedestrian safety, hand puppets and brochures for youngsters to take home to their parents.

Engineering covers all signing on roadways, special programs conducted and studies done around school areas, while enforcement focuses upon citations given juveniles regarding bicycle and pedestrian safety laws, citations for adults and pedestrians' rights and duties under local ordinances.

On the program front, Officer Crook is looking forward to a productive year. Having made contacts with all schools within the community, he was able to zero in on Mason, Barnes, University Liggett and the Grosse Pointe Nursery School last year and now wants to further expand into Parcels, Monteith and Ferry.

Besides using a variety of visual aids such as pamphlets, safety prints and films, (he recently leased three new Walt Disney shorts on pedestrian, bicycle and fire safety), Officer Crook particularly enjoys talking with the youngsters directly.

"We bring the fire truck to the schools and explain the public safety concept to the kids. We explain the use of the ambulance, discuss it and show them it's for their benefit. We stress pedestrian safety so they will never have to use it," he stated.

As part of his approach on the recognition of a police officer, he relates the importance of a patrolman as a friend in need. For instance, he draws a parallel between an officer's badge number and a youngster's house number, emphasizing the importance of knowing the latter in case a child is lost. In relation to this is the readily identifiable symbol of a police officer.

Officer Crook also stresses never to play with guns when youngsters ask if they can see his revolver, while drawing parallels between bullets, and their destructiveness, with matches.

Hence, in the latter case, fire safety is brought to the fore along with the responsibilities of a public safety officer, (whose duties encompass both police work and firefighting).

Viewing the overall concept of program planning, Officer Crook stresses a consistent flexibility toward keeping everyone involved, (with a focus on question and answer periods with the youngsters).

"We also try to get as much parent involvement as possible," he continued, while citing the purpose of brochures given to youngsters to take home. (In this respect, he hopes Mom and Dad reviews the contents before throwing the material away).

Realizing the prominent role which Officer Stephen Petrik has played in the past, (he was traffic safety officer for nine years), Officer Crook has a solid foundation on which he hopes to further expand and develop.

"I want to work with other communities on our program, and I want to look at all our citizens in working toward an overall safety package," he said.

As a result, this year he hopes to coordinate an overall traffic safety plan geared toward senior citizens. Citing a high fatality rate for seniors in relation to pedestrian safety, Officer Crook wants to contact senior groups and set up safety-oriented sessions.

"The children are the bulk of our pedestrians during the school year but we cannot forget our senior citizens," emphasized the officer, who then cited several problems many seniors have, such as declining sight and hearing and other potential physical handicaps affecting their ability in crossing thoroughfares. Through such a program, he hopes seniors will be helped via a variety of safety tips.

In a final note, Officer Crook viewed the city's pedestrian safety record, (which also includes four first place Grand Awards from the AAA in the past 11 years), and wanted to express his appreciation to the school crossing guards, safety patrols and their sponsors, school principals, the department of public works for their aid in snow removal, (thus preventing more accidents), and the road patrol.

great things for '77

For your faithful patronage during 1976 we are indeed grateful... however with the overflowing luncheon and evening crowds, the wear and tear of the "Alley" is becoming evident.

Very soon the existing facilities will undergo a complete refurbishing... carpeting... lighting... decor and even the "powder rooms" will take on a fresh new look.

We're excited about the upcoming changes and we know you'll be pleased. Foremost in our planning is your customer... your comfort, assurance of quality, provided in an atmosphere of friendliness you've enjoyed for the past several years. You'll be happy to know we now have additional free parking at the rear of our building and a super surprise that we hope to announce in the very near future.

One new feature that's becoming very popular is a special "OPEN FACE SANDWICH ON BLACK BREAD." It's different and delightful, made with Philadelphia Cream Cheese, fresh avocado, bean sprouts, fresh sliced mushrooms, Swiss cheese, Scallions topped with our house dressing and baked in the oven.

Film Theatre Series Slated

The American Film Theater, (AFT), comes to The Pointe today, February 3, when the first of three offerings from the AFT presented in the Friends Film Forum monthly film series will be Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh."

As usual these films will be presented in the exhibition room of the Central Library, 10 Kercheval Avenue, at 7:30 p.m.

"The Iceman Cometh" is a great, heavy, simplistic, mechanical, beautiful play. It is not the masterpiece that "Long Day's Journey into Night" is, but it is masterpiece enough. It has been given a straightforward, faithful production.

While some of the ensemble work which would be obtained from a live performance is lost in the film, a close-up view, that allows a grasp of each detail, is gained.

This film has also been the medium for gathering the sort of cast that rarely is assembled in a theater. It features Lee Marvin, Fredric March and Robert Ryan.

At the bottom of the memo, Director Marchand added, "Now the managerial question is: 'Do I use positive motivation or negative motivation?' Your comments, (i.e., the officers), and/or reactions to the above will be the deciding factor."

Director Marchand said he had no comment to make on the memo but on the subject of "positive motivation or negative motivation" he questioned, "How do you motivate someone who can't be motivated at this time?"

He indicated he wanted to wait until after the Monday, February 7, council meeting before further exploring this matter.

(The director said this was because association members, who unanimously rejected a three-year proposal from the city on Wednesday, January 19, said they intend to come before the council to voice their concerns over the negotiation process).

Comments on Figures
Officer Stephen Petrik, association president, called the memo "ridiculous" while saying, "There has never been a slowdown and I don't feel there's any cause or provocation for the memo."

According to department statistics, a total of 5,293 violations were issued last year in comparison to 7,083 in 1975. (A total of 5,160 were issued in 1974).

Mr. Petersen cited the September 1 date and the figures do show a drop for the last four months of the year in comparison, for instance, with those of 1975. The totals are 385 for last September, 582 for September 1975; 207, last October, 703, October 1975; 200, last November, 622, November 1975; and 221, last December, 670, December 1975.

In response to the overall decline in violations last year, Officer Petrik stated violations were down along with the percentage of crime and fire losses. "What the men are writing now is what the average department is writing," he said, while adding that "daily, morale drops lower and lower in the department."

Will Talk Further
From their perspective, association members attribute the decline in morale to the overall bargaining process and the current impasse in negotiations, which began early last summer.

As for the impasse, Mr. Petersen, while reiterating his concern as expressed in the memo, emphasized, "I'm available night or day to consider a new proposal, (from the association). The problem has been getting them down to negotiate."

"I'm willing to come in on a Saturday or Sunday or stay all night, (if necessary). But the big problem has been in getting them to the bargaining table."

When asked to respond to Mr. Petersen's willingness to pursue negotiations, Officer Michael VanDeGinste, former association president who was directly involved in bargaining last year, stated, "He has had our last proposal for negotiations and he came back with one, (which was rejected)."

"A further initiative is incumbent upon the city as far as we're concerned."

Belies Concern
So at this point the deadlock remains, pending any further developments prior to, or at, the February 7 council meeting.

And while the situation is at a standstill, a touch of humor, belying the serious concern over the motivation question, reached the blackboard of the department's squad room last week.

In relation to Director Marchand's question on using either a positive or negative approach, someone defined positive motivation as follows: "eight movers, an evening with Farrah Fawcett, and two-seven movers, an evening with Nancy Walker."

As for negative motivation, it read, "no movers, execute (Officer Michael) Makowski at shift change."

Street Plan

(Continued from Page 1) William Brink, owners of Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., who firmly believe that their ideas concerning The Park and the other Pointes, will not only benefit local property owners, but will greatly increase the value of residential property.

The Msrs. Brink contend that the development of cul-de-sacs, dead end streets, winding lanes and "U" lanes on the north/south streets of The Park, would not only enhance property values, but would also provide more attractive, safe and traffic-free neighborhoods, thereby creating crime proof areas.

They pointed out that the plan will not alter the east/west major streets, thus providing a free flow of vehicular traffic through the city.

It was pointed out to the Plan Commission that this type of plan was executed in Detroit in a number of neighborhoods with excellent results.

The Park Council approved the commission's idea of further study of the matter, and that Charles Leman, of the consulting firm, make a detailed study of the area south of Jefferson along Alder road and present recommendations at the February 15 meeting of the Plan Commission, the findings to be submitted to the city council at a later date.

Mr. Bates comes to J and H with 15 years diversified experience in this field and was most recently assistant director of security with City National Bank of Detroit.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"Detroit Edison unwraps a complete Home Insulation Finance Plan to help you save up to 30% on your heating bills."

Detroit Edison is a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation. The wise use of energy plays one of the most important roles in that effort. Because proper home insulation offers great energy and cost-saving benefits, Detroit Edison has designed a plan, in cooperation with the Michigan Public Service Commission, to help you insulate or increase the insulation in your home.

No matter how you heat your home, you can benefit.

If you use gas, oil, propane, coal or electricity as your primary heating fuel and you are a Detroit Edison customer living in your own home anywhere in southeastern Michigan, Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan may help you bring your home up to today's energy-saving standards. First, with help in selecting a licensed insulation contractor. Second, with convenient financing.

Even newer homes may be out of date.

It's true. Even newer homes may need more insulation to save the maximum amount of money on heating bills. Homes built before 1940 may have no insulation at all. Those built after 1940 may have some insulation but probably not enough to meet today's higher standards.

Detroit Edison recommendations include R-44 insulation for ceilings and R-13 for walls and floors in homes with electric heat. In homes with gas, oil or propane heating Detroit Edison recommends a minimum of R-19 insulation in ceilings and R-13 in walls. Anything less isn't doing the best job.

Bundle up your home and save a bundle.

More than 50% of the energy you use in your home goes to provide heat. So it makes sense to reduce the amount of energy you use for heating. Depending on when your house was built, and how it was insulated, improved insulation can save you up to 30% on your present fuel bill. If you have air-conditioning, you'll save on cooling costs, too. So you can see how insulation pays for itself. And your home will be quieter and more comfortable all year.

Start with a free home insulation check-up.

Find out how your home measures up. Contact your own licensed insulation contractor, or call your nearest Detroit Edison office for the names of licensed contractors who will examine your home free of charge. They can advise you on the amount and type of insulation your home needs. The cost is probably a lot less than you might think. And the savings will mount up every winter from now on.

Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan: the Plan that saves.

Insulate yourself against the increasing cost of keeping your home comfortable. Take advantage of Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan one of two ways:

1. Make a down payment to Detroit Edison of at least 15% of the total cost of insulating your home. The company will finance the balance of your cost up to $750 without interest or carrying charges provided the balance is paid within 90 days. A bill for the balance will be sent to you by Detroit Edison, separate from your regular monthly electric bill.
2. Make a down payment to Detroit Edison of at least 15% of the total cost of insulating your home. The company will finance the balance of your cost up to $750 payable in up to 48 equal installments (a period of 4 years) at an annual percentage rate of 11.13 percent. A coupon book will be provided for convenient payments.

*You must have a high credit rating. There is no limit on electric service discontinued for non-payment of bills. Financing is subject to credit review.

Pick up a free copy of "Detroit Edison's Home Insulation Finance Plan" at any customer office. Or call Detroit Edison for more information.

Save energy for all it's worth.
THE POWER IS IN YOUR HANDS.

Pointer Does His Thing In Skiing Commercials

By Tom Greenwood
You may have seen the commercials last Christmas. One shot showed a skier doing a double back flip over a huge sign touting "White Stag" ski clothes.

The other ad showed a skier actually flying through the sign. The daring young man on the flying skis in both commercials was Ben Jones, of Stephens road.

Much in demand as a commercial skier, Ben, 21, admits he owes his start to "Airborne" Eddie Ferguson. Airborne who?

"I learned a lot of my 'hot dog' skiing at Eddie's Freestyle Camp in Vail," said Ben. "I skied there during a Christmas break while a senior at South. At the time, it was the only camp teaching freestyle skiing in the world."

"I went there because I needed a change. Football was a hassle and hockey was getting to be a chore. I learned to love the new sport, and finally chose it over competing for a berth on the 1976 Olympic hockey team. I've never regretted it. My vacation became my vocation."

More than one person has ventured the opinion that sailing through the air upside down on skis is not the sanest way to make a living. Ben almost agrees.

"I'll concede I may be a little bit crazy," he said with a grin, "but there are higher levels of lunacy than mine. Look at the deaths involved in car racing and in sky diving. Now those guys are crazy."

"My job is merely different. When I skied competitively on the freestyle circuit, everything was for money. With commercials and advertising, you also have to put on a good performance."

"We shot the 'White Stag' commercials over a six-day period at Sun Valley, Idaho."

St. James Sets Jazz Service

Saint James Lutheran Church of Grosse Pointe, 170 McMillan road, will again feature the Leitz Mass, a modified jazz setting of the traditional liturgy of the Order of Holy Communion of "The Lutheran Hymnal," on Sunday, February 6, at the 11 a.m. service.

Pastor George Schelter will lead the worship. The sermon will be preached by Pastor George Kurz on "The Providence of God," (Genesis 8, 20-22), with emphasis on the closing verse: "While the Earth Remains, Seed Time and Harvest, Cold and Heat, Summer and Winter, Day and Night, Shall not Cease."

The music of the Leitz Mass, composed by Darwin Leitz, will be accompanied on the organ by Herman Clein, Director of Music at the Church.

The Guitar Choir, led by Ellen Smith, will lead the singing of the spiritual songs, including "Amazing Grace," "Have You Seen Jesus, My Lord," "Holy, Holy, Holy," "Charity (I Corinthians 13)," and other songs reflecting the theme of the service: "Let's Just Praise The Lord."

The Guitar Choir includes David Couser, Amy Kackley, Tracy Seward, Ellen Smith, Carol Stillman, Mark Ulmer, and Debbie Reese. Lay Readers at the service will be Nina Binder and Mark Nelson.

St. James invites the community to share this unusual worship experience on Sunday.

Everything was on such a professional level. There were film crews running around adjusting this and checking that. That, combined with curious onlookers can really give you a case of the nerves."

Nerves are one item a stunt skier can do without. "When you approach a jump everything must be done with the utmost confidence," said Ben. "If the skier before you tries the stunt and kills himself, you can't let it get to you. Either you approach the shot knowing you can do it, or you don't attempt it. That's how I feel about every shot."

Ben is no stranger to working on TV. He was recently hired by CBS to work in a program called "Heavenly Valley."

"They strapped a camera to my head and had me do a series of flips and twists," he said. "The job came about through my exposure in the 'White Stag' commercials. It gave the viewer a look at what it's like skiing upside down."

With increased exposure on TV programs and skiing commercials, Ben has had to join the Screen Actors Guild in Los Angeles. "It's a good idea," said Ben, "as the guild can give credence to my abilities as a stunt skier." Nationally ranked number four in aerial skiing for 1975, Ben turned to stunt work and advertising because of turmoil in the freestyle ski circuit and injuries.

"I love the sport, but physically it's destroying me. I've had to wear braces on my knees and neck, and take injections for a badly wrenched back," said Ben. "We skiers have a saying, 'Play with pain and don't complain.'"

"The doctors have told me I have a 21-year-old body and a 50-year-old neck. Strain and impact has compressed the vertebrae comparable to a person twice my age. It sounds funny, but it's true."

"As you might expect, getting insurance in my profession is very difficult," he added. "A great deal of my earnings go just to pay my premiums. So many skiers try freestyling and get injured, that the premiums are driven up. That's part of the reason for forming the Coaches Association."

The association is a group of professional freestylers who hope to instruct ski instructors in the "hot dog" style growing in popularity.

"There's no really good amateur or teaching program established right now," said Ben. "There are a few teaching camps, but newcomers almost have to hire a tutor to learn the sport correctly."

"Freestyle skiing is a combination of skiing and gymnastics. If we have regular ski instructors teach it correctly, we can reduce the number of injuries that occur each year. You have to learn to ski all over again to become a good freestyler."

Future plans call for skiing in a short feature film to be shot in Europe. "I met Warren Miller while shooting the 'White Stag' commercials," said Ben. "He's the best ski photographer in the world. I'll be shooting with him for about two months in Switzerland. We leave in about a week. After that, it's back to endorsing skis and posing for brochures."

"It's a great way to make a living," added Ben. "I almost made it to the top in competition skiing and I'll try to do the same in commercial skiing."

"Maybe someday they'll call me 'Airborne' Ben Jones."

Woods Man Found Slain

St. Clair Shores police said on Monday, January 31, they have no leads in the death of construction company executive Jack Whiteley, 60, of Shoreham road, whose body was found bound and stabbed at the Shorian Motor Inn, 20000 Nine Mile road, on Wednesday, January 26.

His body was discovered by a maid at around 11 a.m. on the Wednesday date after she entered the room to clean it. Police said he checked into the motel the previous evening.

He was found on the bed with one hand bound with an electrical cord, while the other was apparently bound and then pulled free.

Woods police reported that his wife Elinor contacted them on the 26th at around 11:50 a.m. and said her husband didn't come home from work the previous evening.

She stated he left for Goss Mechanical Contracting Co., of Detroit, where he worked, the previous day. Police said he called her at 4:15 p.m. and told her he had to go over to Lincoln Park to do some work.

Mrs. Whiteley further said when she called his place of business on Wednesday morning they said the Lincoln Park work had been cancelled and they didn't know his whereabouts.

Shortly thereafter, Woods police received information

Center Sets Estate Talks

In answer to numerous appeals, the Center has scheduled a series of four lectures involving Estate and Financial Planning for Women, which will be given by Nancy Thompson, lecturer for Macomb Community College.

The sessions will take place on Thursdays, February 24, and March 3, 24 and 31, from 9:30-11:30 a.m. In sequence, the meetings will deal with security, wills and trusts, taxation and insurance.

Enrollment will be limited and is requested in advance. The fee for the four lectures is $15.

Seniors' Questionnaire Proves Helpful at Club

Potluck meals, card games and day trips running $5-$15 are the favored activities for the Village Club seniors as indicated by the recently compiled senior citizens questionnaire, first distributed last September by the Neighborhood Club.

According to Jon Austin, senior citizens director, 75 percent, or 121 out of 166 questionnaires, were returned.

Mr. Austin said that the excellent response indicated a sincere interest in improving activities for seniors in the club, which includes members in the Pointes as well as in Detroit, Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores.

"The questionnaire is used basically to help us learn more about senior citizens," Mr. Austin said. "We were babes in the woods when it came to programming."

"But we were very pleased with the response—a 75 percent response is really good." Mr. Austin noted the questionnaire also will help in planning future activities.

Day trips, for example, will be kept between $5 and $15 so that a maximum number of people can participate.

"From the questionnaire, if we had determined that people were active in many other seniors' groups, we wouldn't plan frequent meetings," Mr. Austin said.

Since 50 percent of those responding, however, indicated that they did not belong to any other seniors' organization, frequent meetings and activities would be the rule, he said.

Recent Neighborhood Club activities included trips to Meadowbrook Theatre and Frankenmuth, plus Christmas shopping at the Fairlane Town Center.

It's the aim of the man behind the gun that makes it easier for all to hit the mark.

WIC seeks to supplement the diets of women during pregnancy and for six months postpartum, and infants and children through age four and a half.

Books of coupons are distributed monthly which can be used at WIC approved stores in Wayne County to purchase formula, milk, eggs, cheese, juice and cereal. These approved stores are both chain and independent stores located in communities all across the out-county area.

No WIC facility is located in the Pointes, the department reports. However, anyone who feels she is eligible for the program should call the health department at 274-2800, ext. 234.

"If we get enough calls and a need for the program is shown in the Grosse Pointe-Harper Woods community, a facility could be set up in the area," a spokeswoman said.

Cinema League's Heritage Offers Enjoyment for All

By Debbie Ritter

The movies shown that first night included "Enchanted Isles," "Western Ghost Town," "The Deserted Mill," an Austrian travelogue called "The Old House," and a great bird study called "Seashore Safari."

They aren't really all that different from the upcoming films scheduled for this year's season of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League: "Come to Eastern Europe," "Iceland Saga" and "Central and South America."

Not that the people who have watched and enjoyed those films and all those in between — which means almost 23 years worth of The Pointe's best endeavors — have changed so radically. Many of the founders of the original club, which met for the first time on November 4, 1954, are still actively participating in its activities.

Such is the heritage of the highly popular Cinema League, which presently boasts some 200 members and whose programs are shown to large crowds, such as the 400-plus group which filled Fries Auditorium to see Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Palmentier's, "Let's Go to Eastern Canada."

Mrs. (Elfreida) Palmentier, publicity chairman, historian and, who along with her husband, are two of the league's original founders, said that that first night was an experiment of sorts, and that all involved were pleased with the turnout — about 15 people.

"Grosse Pointe resident William Kirby was interested in photography," Mrs. Palmentier recalled, "and he arranged to rent some award-winning films from the Photographic Society of America."

"He asked John Lake of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial to bring them there to watch at an evening that would be open to the public."

According to the numerous newspaper clippings and former programs which Mrs. Palmentier has carefully compiled in several scrapbooks, many of those people gathered at that first meeting became immediately involved in the league's organization.

At a board meeting held soon after, Mr. Kirby was elected the first president, Mr. Palmentier, vice-president, Lester Elliott, treasurer, and Mrs. Peg Mullarky, secretary.

"John Lake said, 'Yes, we'll sponsor you,'" Mrs. Palmentier said.

And thus the league began. The league's members, who numbered about 70 that first year, usually met at the Center in the Alger House with capacity crowds.

"At first we had to turn people away when it became too crowded," she said. "Then some of our members volunteered to show their films twice, once at 8 and 10 p.m., to accommodate everyone."

The league's early programs were viewed by many well-known Pointe residents.

"Mr. (William H.) Fries used to come to our early programs in those days when we met at the Alger House," Mrs. Palmentier said. "We like to think we were one of the inspirations for his donating the money to have the auditorium built."

During those early years, Mrs. Palmentier recalled, the league, at the request of Mr. Lake and under the supervision of Mr. Kirby, did a movie on the War Memorial and the various activities and groups that met there.

"Over 400 hours was spent in making the film, which ran about a half hour," she said.

The Palmentiers' involvement in film and photography stems back even further than the 23-year history of the league, however. On their own initiative, the Palmentiers presented films of their own making to the community at several of The Pointe libraries a few years before anyone had ever conceived of the league.

"My husband and I have always felt there was a need for movies in the community," Mrs. Palmentier said.

She spoke of the great interest in The Pointe community for the league's programs, which are successful because they are well-presented.

"The people in Grosse Pointe have always been very active travelers," Mrs. Palmentier said.

"Commentary must be accurate because you always know that someone in the audience is going to know differently if you forget and say the wrong thing about a certain place."

"If I see the people in the audience are interested in certain areas, I adapt my commentary to suit their interests."

The league, which Mrs. Palmentier says is one of the few movie clubs in the Detroit area and the only one which deals with travel subjects, sponsors a banquet every year where the most outstanding films from that year are shown.

The league previously held a film contest where trophies were presented for the award winning films of the season, but has not done so in a number of years, Mrs. Palmentier said.

While the club generally views travelogue-type films

Maire School Seeking Cans

Aluminum cans are now being collected for recycling by Maire School, 740 Cadieux road, it was announced recently by the school's Student Congress, Environmental Education Committee and principal, Donald Bassett.

The aluminum cans are being collected daily in barrels placed at each entrance door. Proceeds from the collection of these cans will be used by the school's Environmental Education Committee for its Nature Center.

Beer and pop cans which are all aluminum, as well as aluminum cake, pie dessert plates and TV dinner trays are acceptable and recyclable as well. These plates and trays must, however, be washed before being put in the designated barrels at the entrances to the school.

Persons wishing to take recyclable cans, plates and trays may drive into the school parking lot for unloading, but must not drive into the school playground area.

There is a fence which divides the parking lot and the playground and cars should never be driven past that point for the safety of the children, officials say.

The Maire School Student Congress and Environmental Education Committee began this aluminum recycling project last November with the help of students, parents and friends of the school.

One load of aluminum has already been taken to the recycling center and school groups now are encouraging the Grosse Pointe community-at-large to participate in this fund-raising project.

The groups are asking that people bring cans to the Maire School recycling barrels even if they are in doubt as to whether the cans are all aluminum, since the Maire Student Congress, under the supervision of teacher George Goodwin, has means to sort out partially aluminum cans from the all aluminum ones.

Aluminum cans, trays and plates may be brought to the Maire School recycling barrels during school hours, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Fire Destroys Home in Woods

A total of 39 men, including firefighters from The Woods and Harper Woods, were at the scene of a blaze which destroyed a vacant bungalow, currently under renovation, at 1592 Brys drive Sunday morning, January 30.

Houses on each side of the structure weren't damaged, officials said.

Two Harper Woods firefighters received minor injuries with one suffering a cut on his wrist and the other, a hand injury.

The cause of the blaze remains under investigation, said Lt. Peter Thomas, who noted the fire originated from a first floor room near the front of the residence.

It burned through the floor into the basement and back up a stairwell to the second floor and ultimately along-side the chimney to the attic area, the lieutenant noted.

The alarm was called in by newsboy Thomas Sullivan at 7:51 a.m. after the youth spotted smoke coming from the house. At the scene, Sgt. William Lentz said the house was fully charged with smoke and the attack was made.

"We had to do a lot of overhauling to get at the hot spots in the blaze," said Lt. Thomas.

The fire, which was fought in four degree weather and 17 mph winds, was brought under control between 8:30 and 8:45 a.m.

"We had our people back on patrol around 8:10 a.m. as off-duty officers were called in to take care of police duties," said Lt. Thomas.

"And we still had plenty of men fighting the fire."

"A big help to firefighters were the neighbors, who pitched in and brought over coffee and opened their houses to us. They were definitely a factor in helping us."

Seven men responded to the first alarm, while eight Harper Woods firefighters responded to the second call. Meanwhile, eight off-duty Woods officers and 16 auxiliaries also were called. Shores officers also helped by blocking off traffic from the area.

The house, which was built in 1925, is currently assessed at $7,750, reported Building Inspector Earl Wakely.

Church Offers Organ Recital

An organ recital will be presented by Grosse Pointe Memorial Church director of music, Paul L. Reynolds, MSM, on Sunday, February 6, at 7:30 p.m. at the church, 16 Lakeshore road. The recital is part of the church's 1977 Musica series.

The console of the Allan Sheldon Memorial Organ will be moved to the center of the church to enable the audience to see as well as hear the recital.

It will feature music by Nicolas de Grigny, Johann Walter, J. S. Bach, Maurice Durufle, Olivier Messiaen and others.

The recital will be preceded by carillon music beginning at 7:10 p.m. David Smith, head carillonneur for Memorial Church, will be playing the church's 47-bell, 20-ton carillon.

This organ recital will be the last to be given by Mr. Reynolds at Memorial Church. He will assume duties as director of music at the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Dayton, O., after serving at Memorial Church since the fall of 1974. A reception for Mr. Reynolds will follow the recital.

There will be a $2 door donation for the support of the Musica series.

The next concert in the series will be an afternoon of Elizabethan music by the Musicians of Swanee Alley on Sunday, February 27, at 4 p.m.

Plans Change For Ski Club

The Snow Birds Ski Club of Grosse Pointe has announced the cancellation of its Sun Valley ski trip due to the lack of snow in the western states.

However, club members could not be happier with the ski conditions they have had at the local areas. They also are very excited about the ski reports from Banff as they will be heading for the Canadian Rockies on March 12.

The club still has openings for the Banff trip and could accommodate 10 more people.

The total price of the trip, excluding meals and personal items, is $390 per person, double occupancy.

For further information, call 882-3227.

Hockey Flyers In Tournament

The Grosse Pointe Hockey Association (GPHA) House League Flyers fought their way to a come-from-behind win the Midwinter Championship Playoffs held Sunday, January 23, at the Grosse Pointe Community Rink.

The Flyers, sponsored by Stark Hickey Ford, Inc., now move on to the state district playoffs to be held Thursday, February 3, in Warren.

In the Midwinter Championship, the Flyers faced the strong Ash/Stevens, Inc. Sharks, who entered the tournament undefeated in league play.

In the first period, the Sharks came out skating hard and scored four quick goals—two by Larry Bauer and two by Warren Whitney.

During the second period, the Flyers seemed relaxed and confident. Play turned in their favor with two goals by Chris Flood and one by Mike Davis.

In the third period, the Flyers tallied for two more goals. A strong defensive game and solid goal tending by Allen Kronk held the Sharks scoreless.

Flyer team members include Willy Wilson, Chris Flood, Mark Dix, Andy Dix, Fred Chave, Ken Gildersleeve, Marc Andris, Bart Orban, Robert Hickey, Mike Davis, Jimmy Huminski, Dan Hazebrook, Dean Kuhnlein, Don Kuhnlein and Allan Kronk.

The Flyers are coached by Bill Wilson, Frank Chave and manager Bob Flood.

Wine Lines

by John Lundberg

A popular Danish aperitif is aquavit. It is remarkably friendly wine due to the toasting procedure that is customary when it is drunk. It is never drunk without a raising of a glass to another guest with a "koal". Then you look into the person's eyes, whom you are drinking with, above your raised glass, tilt your head back and drain the glass. Again you meet the eyes of your drinking partner, with your still raised glass, nod, and lower your glass. The custom used to be that none could drink until he or she had been toasted by the hostess, but it was found that many a hostess had a hard time making a complete round of the guests and staying somewhat sober at the same time.

Whether you prefer "skool," "tchaim," or "cheers," you'll find a full selection of great wines, whiskeys, liquors and beers at PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626. Indeed, we are the shoppe for all your party needs, including potato chips, cheeses, party crackers, spreads, and plastic glasses. Hours: 10-10 Mon.-Thur.; 10-11 Fri.-Sat.

BINE WISDOM:

Aquavit is best when accompanied by a salty snack, usually herring or anchovies.

Offer Pictures of Yugoslavia

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present a color slide program, "The Land In Between" by the Reverend Kenneth Virgil Kettlewell, at its meeting Monday, February 7, in the Fries Auditorium of the War Memorial at 8 p.m.

The program was photographed in one of the most strategic nations in the world today, Yugoslavia. In many ways, it is indeed caught between the East and the West, and walks a fine line of independence from both sides.

The colored slides include shots of the Alps and historic Sarajevo where World War I was born.

There is the experience of the mingling of the ancient and the modern, meeting pastors and priests, and getting the feel of village life.

The camera visits the delightful medieval city of Dubrovnik, founded in the seventh century, which has well-preserved battlements and forts and ancient streets lined with stone palaces and historic buildings.

Reverend Kettlewell is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Detroit, where he has served since 1973. This is the oldest Protestant congregation in Detroit, founded in 1816.

The public is invited to attend this program without charge. A reception for Cinema League members and their invited guests follows the presentation.

As of press time Tuesday, February 1, Harte was scheduled to appear before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Peter Spivak on a writ of habeas corpus. If the writ is accepted, Harte will be released from jail without bond.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats,
Superintendent of Schools

This column brings me to comment on the seventh, and last, of the major topics of the school system's recently-approved revised Philosophy Statement regarding an effective Management System.

Perhaps the inclusion of a commitment to sound management may, to some readers, be a bit unusual as a topic found in the new Philosophy Statement. The others, (Basic Skills, Self-Discipline, Citizenship, Academic Excellence, Career Preparation, Cultural Development), are probably regarded as predictable components of a school system's Philosophy Statement.

But without sound management, it is doubtful that the school system could make satisfactory progress toward the realization of its educational goals.

Therefore, in the belief that the implementation of these more "standard" components of the Philosophy Statement is the true measure of service to the community, the school district is reorganizing itself under an effective, responsible management system which includes an evaluation capability so that its goals become realities and its intentions become actual practices.

How does a Board of Education insure that its school is managed well?

It achieves implementation of its approved philosophy through the development of written policies, and adherence to appropriate administrative procedures not only in the classrooms of each building, but also in such vital behind-the-scenes areas as in the Department of Support Services, the Department of Business Affairs, the Department of Personnel, in research appropriate to the needs of the system, and in evaluation techniques applied to programs and personnel.

For example, let us say that one of the tentative goals of the central administrative staff is to develop budget guidelines which designate clear lines of responsibility, reporting, procedures and time lines.

It is necessary for appropriate personnel to develop an action plan to attempt to achieve this goal, then to develop criteria for measuring the degree of success.

Take another example. Let's assume that a tentative goal in an elementary school is for the principal to monitor instruction to determine whether the appropriate curriculum is implemented and followed.

Again, it would be necessary for the principal to develop his or her action plan and also to determine the criteria by which the degree of success in attaining that goal would be measured.

Because the Board of Education believes that sound management concepts are appropriate for educational environments, the trustees and staff are united in their determination to improve all management activities in order to extract the most value out of every tax dollar spent.

TM Teacher Plans Lecture

The Transcendental Meditation, (TM), program, its effects in reducing stress and fatigue in individuals and allowing the development of one's full creative potential will be discussed at the War Memorial today, February 3, at 1 and 7:30 p.m.

Leading the discussion will be Mary Ann Kirchner, of The Woods, who has recently returned from France where she completed the TM program teacher training course.

"Science has shown that the effects of stress are deleterious to the health and happiness of people in all walks of life. Many doctors estimate that 70-80 percent of all disease is stress-related. This includes high blood pressure, heart disease and stroke," she says.

Everyone is invited to attend the lecture at the War Memorial, or phone the Grosse Pointe chapter for the TM program at 885-5566, for more information.

Club States Ski Weekend

The Neighborhood Club is sponsoring a Teen Cross Country Ski Weekend for grades seven-12, Friday-Monday, February 11-13 near Traverse City.

This area offers excellent opportunities for cross country skiing, with trails right outside the doorstep and the Sleeping Bear Dunes a short drive away, says the club.

The trip fee, which is $31, includes round trip transportation, meals, lodging, basic and intermediate instruction, plus two days of skiing. Weekend ski rental is available for $5.

The trip is limited to 12 teens, so early registration is advised. The registration deadline is Tuesday, February 8.

For further information, call the club at 885-4600.

Letters to The Editor of The News

To the Editor:

The day following the October 11, 1976, public Board meeting, teachers who had attended the meeting wrote a letter to Mr. (Robert) Warner, the School Board president, asking him for "an immediate public apology for the crude and totally undervalued comments which questioned the integrity of (their) elected president, Mrs. Doris Cook."

Other North High School staff members, hearing of Mr. Warner's accusations, also signed the letter protesting his behavior.

Instead of a public apology, Mr. Warner and all the members of the Board of Education sent, on November 5, 1976, a letter, a copy of Mr. Warner's prepared statement and a transcript of portions of the Board meeting to the homes of the North teachers who had protested.

Their letter identified that all Board members had "reviewed the complete tape of the meeting and (found) no reason to apologize to Mrs. Cook or the members of the GPEA."

The Board letter also established that President Warner's remarks were "an accurate assessment of (their) combined feelings concerning the point he covered."

Knowing now that the entire Board agreed with Mr. Warner's prepared and ad lib remarks, I, as chief association representative for North, wrote to the Board on November 22, 1976. I specified the unwarranted language, but asked that the tape of the meeting be made available to the North staff so that we could hear as well as read the language. The tape was made available on Thursday, January 13, 1977.

Representatives heard the tape and read the transcript. We again request, this time through this public letter, that Mr. Warner and the Board of Education make public apology for the following:

1. "But as a result of the Union's attempt to go public, a number of misrepresentations of fact have appeared in print, both in the leadership's directives to its membership and in the information to the general public." (Transcript A, page 4, paragraph 3).

2. "... The Union leadership must assume responsibility if our citizens reject next year's millage request. They have attempted to deliberately mislead and confuse our citizens in a public campaign..." (Transcript A, page 6, paragraph 3).

3. "... Deceive the community by continuing to imply... that's an out-right distortion of the facts..." (Transcript B, page 3, paragraph 1).

4. "I won't allow this community to be hoodwinked by using cute figures on them..." (Transcript B, page 3, paragraph 1).

We deny that we have misrepresented facts. We refuse to be blamed for any millage defeat. We neither misled nor deliberately confused citizens. We have not deceived the community, distorted the facts, hoodwinked or used cute figures.

We applaud the thoughtful and professional responses of our president, Mrs. Cook. We commend the integrity of our leadership. We ask that the "Grosse Pointe News" and its readers join us in asking Mr. Warner and the School Board to apologize for their unsupported allegations and personal attack.

Sincerely,
Janice Greene,
North High School

(Editor's Note: The following letter is a response to Janice Greene's communication to the NEWS from the Board of Education).

We have received a copy of a "Letter to the Editor" from Janice Greene, Grosse Pointe Education Assoc. representative for North High School, asking for a public apology as a result of Board statements made at the public meeting of October 11, 1976.

Although the Board would prefer to resolve its differences with our employee groups privately, last October we felt compelled to respond to statements made by the Grosse Pointe Education

Assoc. which we thought were misleading. We continue to support that response.

However, rather than engage in a series of charges and counter charges, we will provide interested citizens with transcripts of the statement and let them draw their own conclusions regarding the Board members' attitudes or the accuracy of the statement.

We are also prepared to supply specific details to support our statement. Contact any member of the School Board at the telephone numbers listed below.

We do desire to have good relations with our staff members. We know, from time to time, we will have honest differences of opinion. We hope these can be resolved between us with less fanfare.

This Board of Education was elected by the citizens of the community to represent their best interests by maximizing the effective use of their tax dollars and by delivering the finest possible educational program to the students.

We will continue to try to fulfill our obligations to all segments of our community.

Robert D. Warner, president, 323-4816
John M. Bruce Jr., vice-president, 886-6567
Melissa B. Maghelse, secretary, 884-0704
William F. Huetteman, treasurer, 963-5343
William R. Fleming, trustee, 886-2929
Joan R. Hanpeter, trustee, 882-6361
Laurance J. Harwood, trustee, 881-4427

(Editor's Note: A copy of this letter, which was originally sent to School Board President Robert Warner, was sent to the NEWS).

I am writing to you as a concerned parent, community resident and person familiar with education in Michigan, being employed by Utica Community Schools.

I implore you and the Board of Education to consider taking whatever action is necessary to again begin to build up a relationship of good will between the administration and the staff of the Grosse Pointe Schools. I request that the Board of Education negotiate a contract with the Grosse Pointe Education Association.

The staff currently teaching in Grosse Pointe Schools is one of the finest in the state and to allow such a staff to deteriorate in morale due to lack of contract implying that the staff is not worthy of a contract invites deterioration of our schools, community and will make it difficult if not impossible for Grosse Pointe to have school millages passed in the future.

I request that you and the Board take a good look at Harper Woods Schools and the quality of education offered as well as their millage election results for an idea of what kind of schools exist when administrators and teachers are at odds.

Utica Community Schools negotiated a contract in three days during Christmas vacation. It runs until June 1979. This was accomplished because the administration places high priority on a good relationship between itself and the teaching staff.

Further, this reflects the good relationship between the community and the school system. Consequently, Utica schools are excellent. The district continues to grow as people are attracted to the schools in the area.

The teaching staff is not only well qualified, it is enthusiastic and goes beyond the call of duty—contract requirements, if you will—daily in striving to provide quality education to the students.

I am extremely concerned, Mr. Warner, by the deteriorating teacher morale and the seemingly poor relationship between administration, the Board of Education and a precious commodity—the teachers of our children.

The spectre of schools in the surrounding area with their poor community relations and lack of operational millage requested at the polls is an example of what can happen when administrators and staff do not work together.

I hope that you, as president, will consider leading our Board of Education in establishing good relations with our teaching staff and negotiating a contract with the Grosse Pointe Education Assoc. as quickly as possible to avert our community deterioration when our schools fail to provide quality education due to working conditions when teachers do not have a contract.

Elizabeth Garey, Of Whittier road, Grosse Pointe Park (Editor's Note: This letter was sent to Ms. Garey by the Board's Chief Negotiator William O'Connor. A copy of the communication also was sent to the NEWS).

Regarding your January 25 letter, two points require clarification:

1. Utica may have settled in three days, but the negotiations process consumed months.

2. Interestingly, when the Utica teachers settled, they did so for less in salary and related benefits than the Grosse Pointe Board of Education has already offered—and which the GPEA has rejected.

We would be delighted to settle the contract with the teachers' union, but there are two sides to the issue. Your letter implies that the "fault" lies with the Board and its team which is not the case.

Sincerely,
William O'Connor,
Chief Negotiator

To the Editor:
In the January 20, 1977, issue of your paper certain statements are made which strongly imply that all Grosse Pointe School Board Trustees oppose the open meetings or Sunshine Law. Two of my colleagues who do hold that view are so quoted.

Since no one, as far as I know, has polled the Board and certainly not me personally, I must call attention to, and take exception with this improper reporting. In point of fact while recognizing the difficulties involved with the bill, and respecting my fellow trustees' viewpoints, I strongly favor it and have said so publicly.

This part of the article was undoubtedly the result of a recent public Board meeting discussion. The majority of Board trustees did not even comment since the thrust of the issue was not our positive or negative reaction to the law.

I strongly urge those responsible to be very careful to more accurately reflect future positions.
Sincerely yours,
William R. Fleming,
of Oxford road

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford

It is with considerable regret that I write this column, for it is to be my last. This Friday I am leaving the Grosse Pointe Public Library to join the staff of the St. Clair Shores Public Library as director.

My three years as First Assistant and Chief of Central Library have been most rewarding and I have particularly enjoyed writing this weekly column. I would like to say a special "thank you" to the many people in the community who have stopped by the library to say they have read my column and to talk about books.

Using my "writers license" I am going to review, in this my 138th and last column, the books of my favorite author—Frank B. Woodford, my father.

My father's first book, published in 1950, is entitled LEWIS CASS: THE LAST JEFFERSONIAN, (Rutgers University). As one of Detroit's and Michigan's greatest citizens, Lewis Cass spent almost 60 years in public office.

He played a part in our country's development on many fronts: as a soldier in the War of 1812; territorial governor of Michigan; cabinet member; ambassador to France; Senator from Michigan; and in 1848 as Democratic candidate for the Presidency.

This definitive biography of Cass firmly establishes his place of honor beside the men who labored with him for America's greatness.

The second book my father wrote also is a biography, MR. JEFFERSON'S DISCIPLE: A LIFE OF JUSTICE WOODWARD, (Michigan State, 1953). A friend of Thomas Jefferson, Woodward first came to Detroit in 1805 as a territorial judge.

Among the early pioneer Americans who contributed so much to the development of the Middle West, none was more remarkable or had a stranger career than Augustus B. Woodward. This is the biography of a jurist, scientist, philosopher, city planner and a founder of the University of Michigan.

WE NEVER DRIVE ALONE, (A.A.A.), was published in 1958 and chronicles the history of the Automobile Club of Michigan from its inception in 1916 through its 40th anniversary in 1956.

The Auto Club came into existence at the time the motor car underwent its metamorphosis from novel luxury to everyday necessity. From that day to this, it has been one of the leading public service and civic organizations in our state.

Also published in 1958, GABRIEL RICHARD: FRONTIER AMBASSADOR, (Wayne University), was co-authored with U of M history professor Albert Hyma. A French priest, Richard arrived in Detroit in 1798 and in a short time became one of its leading citizens.

As a priest, teacher, printer, newspaperman, and politician, Father Richard was instrumental in settling and civilizing the early American frontier.

FATHER ABRAHAM'S CHILDREN: MICHIGAN EPISODES IN THE CIVIL WAR, (Wayne University), was published during the centennial of our Civil War. This volume is a collection of anecdotes and legend, a retelling of stories and reminiscences culled from a wide variety of sources.

The emphasis of this book is upon Michigan soldiers, both as individuals and as units, and upon their actions, thoughts and aspirations.

My father's next book, published in 1962, was another biography, ALEX J. GROESBECK, (Wayne University). Alex Groesbeck, by any standard, was one of Michigan's great governors—perhaps the greatest. He came to Lansing in 1921 when Michigan began the swift evolution from an agricultural to a highly industrialized state.

This book is a clear, readable account of the man who put Michigan on the road toward progressive reform and liberal government.

HARPER OF DETROIT, (Wayne University), was co-authored with Wayne University Archivist Philip P. Mason and published in 1964. Subtitled "The Origin and Growth of a Great Metropolitan Hospital," this book commemorates Harper Hospital's first 100 years—from its founding when its first patients were the Civil War wounded from Michigan, to 1963 when Harper embarked on its role as the nucleus of Detroit's developing medical center.

Next came PARNASSUS ON MAIN STREET, (Wayne University, 1965), the centennial history of the Detroit Public Library. Here is traced the story of a great institution—from a neophyte, store-front library of 1865, to a complex information center housing more than two million books.

In this history, we see that what the automobile has done for the economic and physical life of the people of Detroit, its library has done for its cultural and intellectual life.

My father's last book was one he wanted all his life to write—a history of Detroit. It was my good fortune that I was able to work on it with him and together we wrote ALL OUR YESTERDAYS, (Wayne University, 1969).

This book recounts the history of our city; a story of past deeds, present problems and future hopes.

But more important, this is a story by and about the people of Detroit, for it is the people that have made the city great.

STRONG ENTRANTS

"The single most outstanding employment phenomenon of our century," according to the National Commission for Manpower Policy, is the rate at which women are entering the labor force. Nine out of 10 women will work at some point in their lives, and 40 percent of all workers today are women. Yet, notes the February "Reader's Digest," men earn at least 20 percent more for performing identical jobs.

The term "silverplate" refers to an article made from base metal with an electrolytically applied coating of silver. Quality of silverplate can vary greatly, mostly because there are no strict rules governing this process. The Jewelers Vigilance Committee has advocated rules for silver plate borrowed from rules from gold electroplate. This means that the sterling alloy may not be of less than 7/1,000,000 of an inch thick. Some members of the Sterling Silversmiths Guild are now trying to set up industry-wide standards.

At VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, 881-4800, Detroit, we have all types of jewelry to suit your personal tastes and budget requirements. 'Recollections of American Independence in French Chateaux' Opens with Reception February 12 at War Memorial

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial and the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe will jointly sponsor a commemorative photographic exhibition, "Recollections of American Independence in French Chateaux," on view at the Center February 12 through 19.

To celebrate the local opening of this historically-interesting display, assembled in France as a tribute to the Bicentennial and now on a coast-to-coast American tour, a reception, to which the public is invited, will be held at the War Memorial from 4 to 6 o'clock Saturday, February 12.

Immediately prior to the reception, at 3:30 o'clock, Dr. Samuel Scott, associate professor of History at Wayne State University, will deliver a lecture on "The French

His task is designed to provide significant background material to enhance understanding and appreciation of the exhibit.

DSO to Host P.D.Q. Bach

An evening of musical madness is set for Friday, February 25, when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presents Professor Peter Schickele and P.D.Q. Bach in an 8:30 o'clock Ford Auditorium concert to benefit the DSO Pension/Maintenance Fund.

Life Magazine called Schickele "the most original and satisfying expert at music parody around these days." The New York Times described an evening with P.D.Q. Bach as a "very, very funny show, even for people who like music but don't know why."

P.D.Q. Bach and Schickele were last presented by the DSO in 1973.

Professor Peter Schickele is the world's leading—in fact, the world's only—authority on the life and works of P.D.Q. Bach, the "justly neglected member of the Bach family whose life, according to the professor, spanned the years from 1807 to 1742.

This year's program will feature a group of P.D.Q. Bach masterpieces never before performed in Detroit, ranging in ridiculousness from the opening "Desecration of the House" Overture to the concluding Concerto for Bassoon versus Orchestra, (Break allegro, Not so fast, Rondo alla turkey lurkey).

Other offerings are the unknown "Hindenburg" Concerto, Canine Cantata: "Wachet Ari!" (Sleeping Dogs Awake!) and Echo Sonata for Two Unfriendly Groups of Instruments.

Tickets for the DSO with P.D.Q. Bach, priced at $7, $5 and $3, are on sale now at Ford Auditorium box office and all Ward's and Hudson's ticket offices.

The J. Larry Sabats

At an early evening ceremony Saturday, September 18, in Mercy Chapel, Farmington Hills, DEBORAH ANN DLOUHY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR T. DLOUHY, of William court, was married to Mr. Sabat, son of the John W. Sabats, of Southfield.

Miss Dlouhy Wed To J. Larry Sabat

Beaded Chantilly Lace Trims Her Pleated Chiffon Gown and Bonnet; Roses, Stephanotis and Baby's-Breath Form Her Bouquet

At home in Birmingham are Mr. and Mrs. J. Larry Sabat, who vacationed in Hawaii following their wedding Saturday, September 18. Setting for the 6:30 o'clock ceremony was Mercy Chapel in Farmington Hills.

Mrs. Sabat is the former Deborah Ann Dlouhy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Dlouhy, of William court. Mr. Sabat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sabat, of Southfield.

The rites at which Father James Maloney officiated were followed by a reception at Oakland Hills Country Club.

The bride's gown of ivory pleated chiffon featured bishop sleeves and a bodice trimmed with beaded Chantilly lace. A ruffle edged her high neck. Her waist was sashed, with long streamers falling from a back bow.

Her long chiffon veil fell from a bonnet trimmed with matching beaded lace, and she carried a Colonial arrangement of white Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Carrying Colonial bouquets of multi-colored Sweetheart roses, miniature carnations and baby's-breath were honor attendant Dianne Odobina and bridesmaids Cynthia Dlouhy, the bride's sister, Mrs. Thomas Marr, the bridegroom's sister, and Michelle Wisniewski.

Pin tucking accented the fitted bodices and bishop sleeves of their pastel aqua Qiana frocks, styled with softly gathered skirts.

Mr. Marr was best man for his brother-in-law. Ushering were Daniel Dlouhy and Gary Dlouhy, of St. Paul, Minn., brothers of the bride, and Cass Wisniewski.

The mother of the bride wore a chiffon gown in shades of deep and pale coral, her Empire waist defined by a cummerbund, a chiffon rose accenting the V of her neckline. The sleeveless gown was covered with a deep coral chiffon capelet. Jewels trimmed the neck and waist of the bridegroom's mother's bishop-sleeved gown of mint green Qiana. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid wrist corsages.

Out-of-town guests included Richard Ford, of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kalinowski, of St. Louis, Mo.

DSO to Host P.D.Q. Bach

An evening of musical madness is set for Friday, February 25, when the Detroit Symphony Orchestra presents Professor Peter Schickele and P.D.Q. Bach in an 8:30 o'clock Ford Auditorium concert to benefit the DSO Pension/Maintenance Fund.

Life Magazine called Schickele "the most original and satisfying expert at music parody around these days." The New York Times described an evening with P.D.Q. Bach as a "very, very funny show, even for people who like music but don't know why."

P.D.Q. Bach and Schickele were last presented by the DSO in 1973.

Professor Peter Schickele is the world's leading — in fact, the world's only — authority on the life and works of P.D.Q. Bach, the "justly neglected member" of the Bach family whose life, according to the professor, spanned the years from 1807 to 1742.

This year's program will feature a group of P.D.Q. Bach masterpieces never before performed in Detroit, ranging in ridiculousness from the opening "Desecration of the House" Overture to the concluding Concerto for Bassoon versus Orchestra, (Break allegro, Not so fast, Rondo alla turkey lurkey).

Other offerings are the unknown "Hindenburg" Concerto, Canine Cantata: "Wachet Arf!" (Sleeping Dogs Awake!) and Echo Sonata for Two Unfriendly Groups of Instruments.

Tickets for the DSO with P.D.Q. Bach, priced at $7, $5 and $3, are on sale now at Ford Auditorium box office and all Ward's and Hudson's ticket offices.

A colorful display in the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road, reminding viewers of an earlier time in American history has been arranged by members of Elizabeth C. S. Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as their annual salute to American History Month.

A McGuffey's Eclectic First Reader prints a story then adds, in neat, cursive lines, a suggested slate work.

Alice peers intently over a mushroom at a hookah-smoking caterpillar, a "painting" book uses Robinson Crusoe as its theme, and an autograph book of the 1880's features Spencerian script and such highly imaginative poetry as:
"I dip my pen into the ink,
And grasp your album tight,
But for my life I cannot think,
One single word to write."

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

One thing leads to another, they say, and eventually your home a great thing—or a total loss or disaster. In the case of a community, such a simple thing as one or two home owners doing something especially unusual and tasteful can start it! In fact that is exactly why so many of our homes in the $30,000 to $50,000 range are so exceptional. The home owners are young, proud of their living standards and determined to make them even better. The fact that many of these young couples might be pinched for funds doesn't stop them from being imaginative and creative. It's the creativity that is carried over into the other homes.

At Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. we are putting together a plan for our community that we hope is one thing that will lead to greater and greater things for all the Pointes. It's a community development Program so large in scope that it will require a tremendous amount of community spirit and togetherness.

Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co. 882-0087 needs creative community minded people who are willing to help in a program that could possibly lead to a substantial property value appreciation of all our Grosse Pointe homes. If you are interested please call us and we'll tell you more. We need you.

Moving into Auction Season

The Week of Channel 56's ninth annual Great TV Auction opens April 22, and Wesley R. Johnson, of Ridge road, honorary chairman of the '77 super sale, will be on hand to kick off the event which raises one-fourth of the operating costs for Detroit's only public television station.

During the auction, viewers phone in bids and buy a variety of merchandise, cameras to camping equipment, calculators to vacation trips to cars.

The money is used to keep programs like "Same Street," "Upstairs, Downstairs" and "All Star Soccer" on the air.

Mr. Johnson, president of LOF Plastics, is a director of The Economic Club of Detroit, Junior Achievement and the Bank of the Commonwealth, a trustee for New Detroit, Inc., and served as 1976 Michigan Week chairman.

Facials for Two, Please

Just what the odds were, we don't know, but we DO know it wasn't rigged, and Molly and Ann McCarthy are just as entitled to their prize facials at Jacobson's Beauty Salon as any other members of the audience at the Fontbonne Auxiliary's "Evening of Beauty" last week.

Of course, since both girls are well on the sunny side of Sweet Sixteen, their faces aren't exactly in crying need of help.

It was a fun evening, with the McCarthy girls' mother, Lee Ann (Mrs. Thomas J.) McCarthy, of Sunningdale drive, among Fontbonne's "made-over" models. She was as surprised as anyone when one of her daughters was called up on stage to accept a prize certificate . . . and when the SECOND one's name was called, Lee Ann, like the audience, broke up.

A Very Special Birthday Party

WJR/Call for Action treated itself, and its friends, to a birthday party celebration at the Recess Club last Thursday, marking the end of a most successful Year One . . . or, as Terry Treiber, of Washington road, and Fanette Norris, of Detroit, who coordinate the trained, professional volunteer staff which handles the calls that come into CFA for help in solving specific problems, prefer to say, The Beginning . . .

Whichever, it's been a Great Year for a Great Project.

The Meandering Mosers

Ever wonder what became of Marshall and Marie Moser? He, you remember, was a teacher, counselor and administrator with the Grosse Pointe Public School System; she was a school nurse.

They moved to Florida over five years ago to make their home in Maitland, near Orlando, where Marshall is assistant principal at Lyman High School, and this Christmas, (anticipating snow (Continued on Page 24)

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice celebrates its seventh birthday this year. In the sunny office at 15222 East Jefferson avenue which the organization shares with the Junior League's LINC project, Inter-Faith Center board of officers' President Thomas Kauffman talked about the Center's goals and activities.

"The Inter-Faith Centers for Racial Justice, Inc., were begun after the racial riots in 1968 in order to work on white racism, specifically in the suburbs.

"The Centers are a metropolitan-wide network of four suburban and one central office. They are inter-faith, inter-racial and non-partisan, sponsored by Catholic, Protestant and Jewish denominations.

"The Grosse Pointe Center was founded in 1969, and has representatives from Grosse Pointe churches and residents on its board of directors."

The Center had a busy and satisfying year in 1976, Kauffman recalled.

"Our Education Task Force committee evaluated a series of proposed elementary textbooks for their treatment of minorities. One series proved to be consistently superior in its overall treatment of minorities, and this was the one that was subsequently accepted by the school administrators and the Board of Education for use in the Grosse Pointe School System.

"We are a multi-racial, multi-ethnic society, and now a series of Grosse Pointe school books will represent this culturally diverse society."

The Education Task Force also completed a multi-ethnic and non-sexist bibliography of children's literature, which is available at the Center and at Pointe libraries.

"Besides the Education Task Force," Kauffman went on, "The Center's Housing Committee, Hunger Task Force and Media Task Force all carried on worthwhile projects. And there were several enjoyable fund-raising events, including the Holly Mart at the War Memorial."

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center heads into 1977 with a growing membership and a new board of officers and Task Force leaders, all

Today is Guest Day for the Fox Creek Chapter of Quilters, meeting at 1 o'clock this afternoon, Thursday, February 3, in the Moross road residence of Mrs. Kenneth Harle, who anticipates learning something of the history of her home from Peter Moskaluk, who will give a slide presentation, "Phantom Farms."

Three years ago Mr. Moskaluk, a Science teacher at Parcels, became interested in researching old Grosse Pointe farms.

Mrs. Harle's co-hostesses are Mrs. Stephen Gawura and Mrs. Richard Noyes of whom are Grosse Pointe residents. They include Mr. Kauffman, president; Ann MacDonald, vice-president; Susan Moody, secretary; Hugh Larner, treasurer; Sandra VanDoren, Education Task Force chairperson; Gail Urso, Special Events committee chairperson; and James Simpson, Finance committee chairperson.

The award is Wayne County's first since the LEAA began recognizing outstanding grant projects among those it funds four years ago. Only 23 such projects have received the award since that time. Thieves Take Color TV Set Someone entered a Norwood road home and took a color television set of unknown value, reported Woods police on Wednesday, January 26.

The residents returned home from their place of business around 7:15 p.m., opened the front door and discovered several articles scattered on the living room floor. A further check revealed that rooms on the first and second floor were ransacked.

Police said the rear grade door had two pry marks, while feeling the culprits forced open a metal milk chute and reached in to unlock the door. The color set was rolled from the den to the kitchen and out the rear door.

No other articles were reported missing at this time.

Hopman Wins Top MMM Prize

First prize winner in the Annual Youth Essay Contest sponsored by Morality in Media of Michigan (MMM), is Terry Hopman Jr., of Webber place.

Terry, a student at Austin Preparatory School, took home a prize of a $100 Savings Bond for his essay addressing current issues of morality in the media.

Other cash awards for essays went to Austin students Michael Jones, of Vendome road, James Draper, of Merriweather road, Donald Schmid, of Lochmoor boulevard, and Kevin Hurst, of St. Clair Shores.

Students from various Michigan high schools submitted 87 essays for the competition. The awards were announced at a MMM executive committee meeting on Tuesday, January 11, in the Grosse Pointe Public Library.

"What distinguishes our contribution, probably," Judge Canham said, "is its replicability to other courts. Mr. Kasunic thoroughly documented each step of the operation so that other jurisdictions could learn from our experience and adopt or modify the program without need of grant money or special funds."

"Even our computer programming can be used as a guide by the Data Processing Department in other areas."

NH Cagers Win 12th Straight

By Nick Manzella
North High School's varsity cagers made it a 12 straight without a loss on Tuesday, January 25, by edging Notre Dame, 48-46. The Norsemen were coming off two victories the previous week over Fraser and L'Anse Creuse in County League play and entered the game with an overall 11-0 record.

The mark was in danger of going to the final buzzer, however, as Notre Dame combined good outside shooting along with a sticky zone defense to stymie North most of the way.

North held a four point halftime lead, 27-23, thanks mainly to some good shooting from Dave Beyer and strong work inside by Doug Langs. Beyer led North in scoring with 17 points, while Langs added 12 and led both sides in rebounding.

The second half was more of the same, a slow paced attack by the Irish trying to get up for the good shot. Notre Dame pulled even with North three times in the closing minutes but could not overtake the Norsemen and Bob Brown, who chipped in with 12 points, hitting two free throws with less than a minute left to give North a 46-44 lead.

Notre Dame tied the game on its next possession though as Dan Wandzell, who took scoring honors with 22 points, hit from outside to tie the contest.

North worked the clock down for the last shot, with Beyer going in for a layup, and although the shot wouldn't fall, forward Bill Mestdaugh was there to drop in the rebound with 10 seconds left, giving North the victory.

Commenting on the game, senior guard Beyer remarked, "Although we didn't play as well as we could have, the important thing is that we won and kept our winning streak alive."

Cash, Drugs Taken in B-E

City police are looking for clues to the identity of a single burglar who burrowed through the roof of Revco drug store last weekend and made off with $1,700 in cash and a quantity of narcotics. The burglar left behind a crowbar, hatchet, flashlight and screwdriver—tools he apparently used to hack through the roof at 17027 Kercheval avenue, and pry open a safe containing the cash and drugs. Police are dusting the equipment for fingerprints.

JV's at South Win 2 Games

By Rick Mayday
South High School's JV basketball team pulled through soundly this past week, and put two more victories away.

The JV cagers nipped Roseville, 58-55, in an exciting home game on Tuesday, January 25, and then went on to defeat East Detroit, 66-47, on Saturday, January 29.

On Tuesday night, the JV Devils controlled most of the game, and held a 12-point lead at one point. Roseville closed the margin during the half and from then on it was touch and go. The Devils made many costly errors in the last few seconds, but Roseville failed to convert them.

South shot poorly from the free throw line, hitting only four of 17. Brad Wilson was the overall high scorer with 22 points, followed by Joe Quinn with 14.

The JV's downed East Detroit for the second time this season. During the first half,

South was cold from the floor, but made up for it by playing tight defense holding East Detroit to only 20 points in the first half.

Wilson lead the JV team with 19 points and a strong 18 rebounds. Bob Baker had 14 points and 11 rebounds, followed by Harry Cardillo with 12 points and six rebounds.

South's JV Devils now hold a 6-5 overall record, and a 5-4 EML record. The Devils will take on North High home game.

STILL A QUESTION

Where, oh where has Nessie gone? The famous monster of Scotland's Loch Ness continues to elude scientists who seek her, the February "Reader's Digest" observes. Although in the past 10 years some 2,000 sightings of Nessie have been reported, almost no one agrees on what she looks like—or if there is more than one—or if indeed she exists at all.

The Council received the Report on Examinations of the City's Financial Statements and Supplemental Data For the Years Ending June 30, 1976 and 1975, from the firm of Coopers & Lybrand, Certified Public Accountants, and adopted a resolution to increase the rate charged to the City of Grosse Pointe for water to $1.49 per 1,000 cubic feet, in accordance with the provisions of the 1955 contract between the Farms and the City of Grosse Pointe, for the provision of water. The Council adopted a resolution adopting an increased schedule of Boat Mooring Fees in order to meet the increased costs of maintaining current services in the harbors at the Pier Park. The Council adopted a resolution authorizing the Administration to prepare specifications and solicit bids for the replacement of approximately thirty trees on City property which were lost during the severe ice storm which occurred in March, 1976. The Council adopted a resolution approving the proposal for the extension, for a period of three years, with an annual increase of approximately two percent, of the current contract between the City and the Air-line Janitorial Service, for janitorial service in the City Offices. The Council adopted a resolution increasing the water rate to water consumers in the City to $2.70 per 1,000 cubic feet, effective with the billing of District A, which is usually billed in the month of January; such foregoing increase resulting in a minimum combined water and sewer rate of $6.90 per three-month billing period. The Council adopted a resolution granting the appeal of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas A. Sargent, of 232 Lothrop Road; thereby authorizing the issuance of a Permit for the construction of a six-foot chain-link fence along the rear line of their property located at the foregoing address. The Council adopted a resolution designating Councilman Jack M. Cudlip to be the City's Legislative Coordinator for the 1977 Legislative Session. The following Reports were received by the Council and ordered placed on file: A. The Summary portion of the Grosse Pointe Youth Services Division's Report for the month of December, 1976. B. Police Department Yearly Report for 1976. The Council adopted a resolution authorizing the Administration to engage the Stohl Company to take eight borings at a total cost of $2,100, at the proposed location of a new municipal recreational building at the Pier Park to replace the existing deteriorated structure, to determine the stability of the soil and the recommended foundation design; the Council having first determined that no advantage to the City would be gained through the solicitation of competitive bids. Summer Brides To Be... now's the time to stop by Walton-Pierce and look at all the new wedding gowns and bridesmaids dresses. The summer wedding gowns are so pretty and so are the bridesmaids dresses. For the bride there is a white net dress with tiny dots like point d'esprit. It's appliqued with cut-out embroidered leaf and floral lace. Another gown combines organza, net and cut-out lace in a charming design and there are so many, many more bridal gowns from which to choose. Bridesmaid's dresses come in prints, solid colors and polka dots. You can choose a polka dot bolero and dress in eight different colors. There are floral organza floats and ponchos over jersey. One romantic rose scattered dress of organza is styled with a square neck, push-up elasticized sleeves, satin sash and dancing skirt. Imagine this with a picture hat with a matching satin band. This reminds us of a very important service. Mrs. Creeger will create beautiful and unusual head-dresses for the bridesmaids and bride. She also can design the bride's veil from a family heirloom lace mantilla. As for the mother-of-the-bride or bridegroom, the buyers hand-pick a collection of dresses to suit this important occasion. From Victoria Royal there is a soft pink jersey dress. The midriff is set with rhinestones and iridescent beads. CAROLYN GRIMES, (second from right), member of the University of Michigan's Ars Musica, is among instrumentalists and soloists from the U. of M. and Oakland University who will join Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, instrumentalists and soloists and choirs in three performances of "The Play of Daniel," February 11, 12 and 13, in Christ Church. JEANNE DUNN and MARTHA GARD, (left and right), and JOHN ROACH are among Christ Church performers in the liturgical drama, a Medieval masterpiece dating from approximately 1150 A.D.

Medieval Liturgical Drama To Play at Christ Church

Three Performances of Medieval 'Play of Daniel' to Be Presented February 11, 12 and 13; Tickets Available Now

Christ Church, Grosse Pointe, will be the site of a truly unique drama in music, "The Play of Daniel." One of the great artistic masterpieces of liturgical drama, offered to the community by members of the choirs of Christ Church and soloists and instrumentalists from the University of Michigan, Oakland University and Christ Church.

The production will be staged by Nikos Psacharopoulos. Musical director is Frederic DeHaven, choirmaster of Christ Church.

Mr. Psacharopoulos and Mr. DeHaven previously worked together in presenting the drama at Trinity Church, Southport, Conn.

Performances will be Friday, February 11, and Saturday, February 12, at 8:30 o'clock, and Sunday, February 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

Dating from the Middle Ages, "The Play of Daniel" was written over 800 years ago in approximately 1150 A.D. by students of the Cathedral of Beauvais, where it was probably first performed.

It is one of the earliest forms of European drama, and enjoyed great popularity in the 12th and 13th centuries not only as a rich religious experience but also because of the colorful pageantry and exciting dramatic events which, as the Biblical story of Daniel unfolds, take place in the great courts of King Belshazzar and King Darius. The narration, spoken as the drama is acted and sung, tells the story of Daniel and the lion's den.

The play opens with Belshazzar, King of Babylon, celebrating the destruction of the temple of the Jews. As he drinks from the stolen vessels a hand appears on the wall and writes a message. The Queen suggests that only a captive named Daniel will be able to read it. The prophecy Daniel interprets from the handwriting on the wall fulfills itself when Belshazzar is dethroned, Darius becomes king and Daniel, the Jew, becomes his chief advisor.

Darius' jealous princes plot to destroy Daniel and he is thrown into the lion's den. In the end, God saves him.

The play is staged with high dramatic action, including a torch-bearing procession down the center aisle, soldiers leaping about and

Rose Society Meets Feb. 9

It's June in January for members of the Grosse Pointe Rose Society, who are pouring over catalogues in anticipation of next summer's growing season, and extend an invitation to Harper Woods and St. Clair Shores rose growers to join the Grosse Pointe Rose Society meeting next Wednesday, February 9, at 7:45 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue at Fisher road.

David Bogart, program chairman, will introduce Forrest Geary, district director of the Great Lakes District of the American Rose Society, comprising the 16 rose societies located in Michigan.

Mr. Geary, past-president of the Grosse Pointe and Detroit Rose Societies, was named Outstanding Consulting Rosarian in Michigan in 1974. He is an accredited judge, and personally grows 350 varieties of roses, among them most of the new introductions as well as the "oldies."

He will talk about roses that will flourish in this area, resistant to blackspot and mildew. Many who plan to attend will be bringing notebooks to jot down information.

Rose Society officers for the coming year are Mrs. Louis Parent, president, Mr. Bogart and Robert Seeber, vice-presidents, Mrs. George Strachan, recording secretary, and Mrs. Harley Higbie, corresponding secretary. Serving on the board of intense dramatic confrontations.

Mr. DeHaven is very interested in having arts performed in the Church in the 20th century as they were in the 12th and 13th centuries. The only known medieval record of the play, dated 1230, was discovered in the British Museum and was produced at the Cloisters in in the cypress groves, no doubt—there's nothing like getting in shape!), they spent 10 days in the Soviet Union on a study tour of education sponsored by Phi Delta Kappa professional educator's society and the Kent State University Research Center for the Study of Socialist Education.

The Mosers visited Leningrad, Moscow and Tallin in Estonia. Among the features of education were seminars held in several types of educational institutions, including English language schools and the University of Moscow.

They enjoyed cultural events, too, (the Kirov Opera, for example), plus visits to historical sites, (the Hermitage, Pavlosk Palace), and a visit and presentation at Leningrad's House of Friendship.

Soviet officials arranged for a series of exchanges of information and news between the American educators and their Russian counterparts.

by the New York Pro Musica, to tremendous acclaim.

Nikos Psacharopoulos, who will be in Grosse Pointe for the February production, directed this 1958 performance. It was he who, with W. H. Auden, the late poet, and Noah Greenberg, Pro Musica's director, discovered the "Play of Daniel" in the British Museum. Together, all three collaborated on the new 20th century version which will be performed at Christ Church.

Mr. Psacharopoulos is head of the Drama Department at Williams College and is stage director at Yale's School of Drama. He has staged the "Play of Daniel" at Westminster Abbey, St. Germain de Pres in Paris, in Rome, Washington, D.C., Connecticut—in fact, everywhere the play has been produced.

In the coming Christ Church production, a great effort has been made to use ancient instruments such as the veille, hand bells, krumphorns, rebec and recorders, as well as the better known cymbals, drums, guitar and zither, to add to the authenticity of the drama.

More than a dozen musicians will perform in the production which also includes a cast of 12 singers as well as the choirs.

Production organization is under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Y. Gard.

When performed in New York in 1958, so great was the acclaim that the Evening Star wrote: "What is unraveled before your astonished ears and eyes is not just music or pageantry or stagecraft or drama. Rather, it is... a three dimensional world of overwhelming beauty."

The Washington Post responded with equal enthusiasm, saying, "A music drama of indescribable power and beauty... it seems impossible to realize that this potent and moving drama could lie untouched and unheard for so many hundred years..."

Tickets for any one of the three performances are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Christ Church, 61 Grosse Pointe boulevard, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48236, indicating first, second and third choices for the Friday, Saturday or Sunday productions.
