HEADLINES of the WEEK

A BALDING, mustachioed, 37-year-old actor was booked for investigation of murder Wednesday after he called police to talk about the Hillside Strangler case, Los Angeles police said. The suspect, Ned T. York, was arrested at his home in the Hollywood Hills, the area where some of the bodies of the dozen victims of the strangler have been found. In other news, the Senate rolled into its decisive Panama Canal debate Wednesday with proponents saying logic and statesmanship favor ratification and opponents calling the pact a $1 billion giveaway.

CANADA, EXPELLED 13 Soviet diplomats Thursday—nearly half of the embassy staff—for trying to infiltrate the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in a "classic" spying scheme in which orders were passed to a moutie in hollowed-out sticks and fake cigar packs. The officer played along with the Soviets and helped trap them at their own game, Canadian officials said. Meanwhile, in Washington, the Senate Intelligence Committee issued a vote for U.S. spy activities Thursday which would legally bar the use of assassination and terrorism and prohibit CIA efforts to overthrow "democratic" governments.

GOV. WILLIAM MILLIKEN announced yesterday that he will run for re-election and, in a major surprise, introduced James H. Brickley as his running mate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Brickley, president of Eastern Michigan University, ran on the GOP ticket with Gov. Milliken in 1970 when they both won the state's top executive offices. As recently as 10 days ago, Gov. Milliken was insisting to close friends that retirement from political life was still a possibility.

DETROIT EDISON said yesterday that it may have to reduce electric power to industrial customers and start rotating blackouts in some residential areas if the two-month-old coal strike isn't settled by mid-March. The warning came as the state Public Service Commission started to re-evaluate Michigan's coal supply situation. The commission is expected to give its report on Monday and make recommendations on what to do to preserve the state's estimated 50-day coal supply.

RELATIONS BETWEEN Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin's government and President Jimmy Carter's administration hit a new low when the Israeli cabinet yesterday rejected U.S. opposition to Jewish settlements in occupied Arab lands. The Israelis, meeting in Jerusalem, also accused Washington of siding with Egypt in the Mideast peace talks. Despite the rejection, Israel's government radio announced later in the day that the Defense Ministry had been ordered to halt development of new ground for Sinai settlements.

SEN. ROBERT P. GRIFIN announced yesterday that he has decided not to retire from political life and will seek re-election in the Senate. The senator's announcement caused Lt. Gov. James Damman and L. William Siedman to withdraw from the Senate race and drew a blistering attack from Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson, who has already announced that he will stay in the race for the Republican Senate seat. Sen. Griffin had said last April that he would not seek another term.

Local Seniors Celebrate Valentine's Day

Senior citizens at the Out-Wayne County Nutrition Site, housed in the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, 19950 Mack avenue, celebrated Valentine's Day with a big party on Monday, February 13. Around 150 seniors participated in the event, while some 25 were served home-

GPF Acts On Traffic Concern

Council Okays Engineering Studies, Grant Application in Relation to Mack-Moross Intersection

By Wendy K. Settle

A status report on the traffic study which is being conducted in The Farms was presented to the council at its regular meeting on Monday, February 6.

David Litvin of Goodell-Grivas Inc., the firm preparing the study, reported on the traffic problems surrounding the Mack avenue and Moross road intersection.

Mr. Litvin's report noted that the major problem is that "the Mack and Moross intersection is a locked-up intersection."

High Hazard Area
And in order to eliminate this problem the intersection should be modified with signs, a "Left Turn Only" lane and a traffic light to regulate left turning traffic. The estimated cost for these improvements is $31,100.

The council, upon hearing the recommendations, unanimously voted to have Goodell-Grivas Inc. prepare the necessary engineering studies and file a grant application with the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation to (Continued on Page 9)

Center Point Adjusts With Times in Providing Assistance to Teenagers

Agency to Celebrate Its Seventh Anniversary on February 26 with Open House; Volunteers Provide Wide Ranging Services, While Remaining Flexible

By Susan McDonald

It started out as a drop-in center—a storefront in Kercheval avenue that was always open to local teenagers who wanted to sit around and rap, without being hassled about their hair, their clothes or drugs. It was usually wall-to-wall hippies in the afternoons after school let out, while a group of para-professional volunteers mingled with the crowds, counseling on the sly.

But things have changed for teenagers since then, and Center Point has changed along with them.

Today, the drop-in room is empty most of the time, but calls stream in steadily to a crisis line, medical center, counseling service and legal aid office located at Center Point.

Housed in Annex
"It's gone from a Haight-Ashbury type of hippie drop-in place to a solid para-professional counseling service," says Dr. Joseph Beals, who helped found Center Point seven years ago and now serves as president of its parent organization, FLECC (Family Life Education Council).

So, while dozens of similar operations have folded in the last decade, Center Point has survived long enough to celebrate its seventh anniversary on Sunday, February 26, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Long gone from its Kercheval storefront, Center Point is now housed in an annex behind the Grosse Pointe Unitarian Church, 17150 Maumee avenue. It's almost hidden from the street view, and that may have contributed to the near-demise of the drop-in center.

But styles have changed in the high schools, too. The problems are the same but the "symptoms" are far different now than they were seven years ago, according to Center Point's current director, Marianne Cook, 27.

"Drugs were the big thing when we first started out; parents were in a panic," she explained. "We still see an (Continued on Page 8)

GPW Views Problems in Brys Drive

Issue Explored Once Again by Council; Planner Makes Long-Range Recommendations

By Roger A. Waha

The subject of Brys drive and proposals to alleviate the heavy volume of traffic in the immediate area were once again discussed by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

Along with recommendations from planning consultant Brandon M. Rogers on possible long-range, permanent traffic control alternatives, the council received memos from Traffic Safety Officer Paul Crook on a traffic accident report in the area and on a Brys drive study of traffic counts.

On the latter, due to the winter road conditions, traffic counts on Brys, East Eight Mile road and Roslyn road have not been completed.

Visual Count Slated
However, the council, under the circumstances, unanimously approved a motion that a visual sampling count at least be taken to see what effect the signs in the Brys-Roslyn area along Mack avenue are having.

At the same time, Bruce Van Farowe of Brys drive, a spokesman for area citizens, discussed Mr. Rogers' recommendations and suggested two of his own toward easing the problems facing residents.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said all recommendations from Mr. Rogers and Mr. Van Farowe would be considered toward striving for an equitable solution.

At this point, eight traffic signs, four indicating "Right Turn Only" and four saying "Left Turn Only" were recently installed as a temporary measure toward easing traffic conditions in the area.

Explores Problems
This action was taken by the council in January after it authorized the removal of the barricades which caused grief among citizens and local merchants alike. The former had to go out of their way to go down Brys and Roslyn, for example, while the latter complained that the barriers hurt access to their businesses.

Woods, Farms Studying Block Grant Projects

GPW Puts Priority on Water, Sewer, Pavement Improvements, While GPF Seeks to Expand Parking in Hill Area

By Roger A. Waha and Wendy K. Settle
Both the Woods and Farms Councils held their second and last public hearings Monday, February 6, on Community Development Block Grant projects to be submitted to the Wayne County Office of Program Development and Coordination for inclusion in their 1978 applications for grant monies.

The Woods Council, which is seeking $120,000 a year for three years, unanimously approved a motion authorizing City Administrator Chester E. Petersen to proceed with water, sewer and pavement recommendations as listed in census tract three, west of Mack avenue and south of Vernier road.

At the same time, the motion stipulated that sewer work recommendations in census tract one, north of Vernier road, be submitted as an alternate proposal.

To Monitor Program
The council also appointed its public works committee to serve as a monitoring agency for the program and also to provide for continued citizen participation in the plan. Members of the committee include Thos. Fahrner, chairman, E. D. Grady and Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos, (an ex-officio member).

Both proposals were discussed with county officials and it was their opinion that the proposal for tract "three" comes closest to satisfying the intent of the program, Mr. Petersen informed the council. As a result, it gave first priority to the city.

County personnel also advised that an alternate application should be submitted for sewer work in tract one, thus it receives the city's second priority.

Mr. Petersen also indicated if neither proposal proves acceptable, the city should still have allocated monies at this time, with county officials then assisting the municipality in drafting any new application.

The proposed three-year project in tract three includes $145,150 in work the first year. This covers relief sewer work in the area of the Seven-Mack parking lot, Bournemack, Raymond and Linville roads, $24,750, and a new eight-inch water main in the area of the west city limits between Huntington road and Manchester, $22,000.

Four Attempted Abduction Reports Occur in Woods

For incidents classified as attempted abductions, one of which occurred around four weeks ago, were reported to Woods police this month and are currently under investigation by the Youth Service Division, (YSD).

At the same time the YSD and Farms police recently concluded an investigation of what turned out to be a false kidnapping report filed by an 11-year-old City boy.

In this case, police put in over six hours of work before the youngster admitted no abduction actually occurred.

YSD Det. James Fowler, who's investigating the four Woods reports, said the uniform patrol has been supplied with information sheets on the three latest reports and "cars are out every day."

On Wednesday, February 1, a 10-year-old Ferry School fifth grader was followed for one block by a man wearing a ski mask. The suspect followed about six to eight feet behind the youth and no words were exchanged. The boy, upon reaching his home, looked around to see that the man had disappeared.

He was described as between 5'6" to 6' tall, of a medium build, wearing a green mask, along with a dark green down jacket and blue jeans.

Meanwhile, a nine-year-old Ferry fourth grader was approached by a motorist who asked the boy if he wanted a ride, as he was walking (Continued on Page 4)

Summer Tax Proposal Is Withdrawn

'Technicality' in State School Code Cited As Reason for Board's Decision

By Susan McDonald

The school administration abruptly decided to drop its controversial bid for the summer collection of school taxes on Tuesday, February 7, just about 30 hours before a scheduled meeting to promote the plan was to be held with city officials.

The School Board took official action to withdraw its request to cities the following Monday, February 13. The decision was based on a "technicality" in the state school code that might make it impossible for two of the communities to collect school taxes in July, members said.

As a result, school taxes will remain due in December as usual.

Millage Hike Eyed
The earlier tax collection date could save the schools about $400,000 a year by reducing the amount of money that must be borrowed to begin operations in the fall, according to Board estimates.

The trustees began discussion of the tax change last May with inquiries to the six cities located in The Pointe school district. The formal request was made in December, and was contingent on all six communities' uniform acceptance of the plan.

Last month, the trustees passed a resolution to earmark potential savings from the summer collection to pay off bonds it intends to issue to finance capital improvements in the schools.

Superintendent Dr. William Coats said the Board still intends to go through with the bond issue, despite the collapse of its summer tax plan. The bonds will be financed by an increase in millage, according to Dr. Coats.

Though none of the councils had yet formally voted on the proposal, their discussions indicated there was a great deal of opposition to it. It is not likely the proposal would have been approved by all six groups had it come to a vote.

Glad Its Off
A great deal of opposition came from senior citizens, who would have borne the greatest burden had the tax date been shifted. Most seniors do not have mortgages and tax escrow accounts and would have been forced to come up with their share of taxes five months earlier than usual out of their own pockets.

There would have been very little expense, however, to homeowners who do, escrow their taxes through a bank mortgage, according to Trustee William Huetteman. (Continued on Page 4)

Board Reviews Sex Education

The School Board is in the process of reviewing, for possible approval next month, a new curriculum for the middle school "Adolescent Concerns" or sex education program.

A new working draft for the course, prepared by a committee of 12 educators, calls for a three-session, sexually-segregated program for seventh and eighth graders.

In addition to sex education, the draft calls for discussion of alcoholism and substance abuse. Emphasis is placed on the emotional and psychological as well as physical changes the middle-school age group experiences.

Discussion of venereal disease and pregnancy also are included in the draft. The plan does not include the topic of birth control, however.

Parents will have an opportunity to review the program, which is optional for all students.

Crime Picture in Shores Remains Steady Overall

By James J. Njaim

The Shores Department of Public Safety's annual report, submitted by Director Joseph Vitale, showed that crimes and other violations dropped in most cases last year in comparison to 1976. Overall, the picture remained steady in the community.

In both years there were four persons arrested on felony warrants while misdemeanor arrests in 1977 numbered 35 as against 41 in 1976. Fugitives arrested to total 169 last year as compared to 148 the previous year.

In 1977, 167 persons were arrested on traffic charges, and in 1976, the number was 148. This does not include 13 juveniles arrested for traffic violations last year, or the 20 the year before.

The chief disclosed that a total of 2,790 moving traffic violation tickets were issued by personnel of his department last year as compared to 2,230 in 1976. Fifty-eight persons were arrested for Village ordinance violations in 1977 in comparison to 78 in 1976. Of those receiving traffic violation tickets, 52 were juveniles as shown in 1977 records as compared to the 46 recorded the preceding year.

Four persons were remanded to trial in Wayne County Circuit Court in 1977, and one in 1976. There were 26 cases tried in municipal (Continued on Page 8)

Oxford, $13,400, and the widening of Lochmoor boulevard, $85,000. In the latter proposal, Mr. Petersen said he hopes to widen Lochmoor west of Mack, following the widening of the thoroughfare east of Mack where it's already designated a major street, thus making it a continuation.

The second year project as proposed is replacing the water main in Helen avenue from Oxford to Vernier, $131,400, while the third year project is all remaining pavement work, $204,000.

This work, Mr. Petersen said, includes the resurfacing of Lennon and Beaufait, curb recapping in Lennon, Beaufait, Fleetwood, Lancaster, Van Antwerp, Country Club, Norwood, Hunt Club, Oxford road and Allard from 1980 Allard to Mack and the ramping of sidewalks at street intersections in the entire tract for the handicapped.

If all goes well on the acceptance front, Mr. Petersen said this will wrap up the tract for most major work. For example, he noted the city, through the Wayne County Drain Commissioner's Office, has already put in some relief sewers in Littlestone, Broadstone and Severn roads.

At the same time, Littlestone, Broadstone and Severn have been resurfaced, with curbs being recapped at those locations.

Could Try Again

The total cost for all work in tract three reaches $480,550, with a maximum $120,000 for each year only reaching $360,000. As a result, the additional $120,550 would have to be made up by the city via water-sewer funds or gas tax funds, stated Mr. Petersen.

If, in fact, neither proposal qualifies after review by the county and the federal government, he indicated another proposal would have to be drawn up affecting the community as a whole, or possibly the consideration of a senior citizens center would ensue.

"In my opinion, we set the priority on the area west of Mack between Vernier and the south city limits on the basis we would be completing the rehabilitation of all needed public facilities and public services in the entire census tract based on our 10-year capital improvement program and our budgeting of funds," explained Mr. Petersen.

The city administrator added he felt this was what the block grant program is all about—to upgrade and rehabilitate the neighborhood. "It will certainly help stabilize the area from any future deterioration and a decrease in property values," he said.

Finally, the alternate proposal in tract one eyes the following first year sewer projects: Hampton from Mack alley to existing sewer, $66,000, and Hawthorne from Mack alley to existing sewer, $66,000.

Hill Parking Eyed
The second year proposal is for Hawthorne from Marter to Wedgewood, $155,400, while the third year project is Hawthorne from Wedgewood to the east city limits, $132,000.

This three-year plan totals $419,800. Meanwhile, at the conclusion of the Farms Council's hearing, the sons approved the city administrator's recommendation to apply for $100,000 to improve parking in the Muir road and the on-the-Hill district.

At this time, the city is considering using the funds to buy up properties in the Muir road area to increase Hill parking facilities.

The council voted for approval after holding the two required public hearings on the program. There were no citizens present at either of The Farms hearings, so the council voted without any public input.

(The Woods also had no citizen input on the program at either hearing.)

Await Approval
The Farms also applied for $100,000 for parking for the Hill area last year. Andrew Bremer, Farms city manager, reported that he had recently received information on tentative approval of last year's application.

Mr. Bremer said Roger Rossman, Wayne County representative for the program, had telephoned him requesting further information on The Farms' application. At the same time, Mr. Rossman indicated that written approval for last year's $100,000 would probably be sent in a few weeks.

Before approval is officially received on last year's application, the administration will be completing the application for this year's grant.

There is no projected date as to when The Farms will receive approval or disapproval from the county on this year's application.

Park and located at the southeast corner of Lakepointe and Jefferson, into parking lots.

Keep Benefits

They contend that this land is zoned residential, even though they are adjacent to commercial buildings and property. The parking lots would have cost an estimated $25,000.

A Park ordinance provides that property in any commercial area can be developed into parking lots, without consent of the people in the area, or without calling a public hearing.

However, the council consented to exempt the two lots for off-street parking and will consider landscaping them as miniature parks, such as the one opposite the municipal building between Pemberton and Lakepointe.

George Helm, chairman of the Plan Commission, who was present at Monday night's session, said The Park has been given a limited time to come up with plans for the areas in question, but the main concern is not to lose the benefits from the federally-funded block grants.

Mayor Matthew C. Patterson informed the audience the city is working toward removing the increasing blight areas in the Mack, Kercheval and Jefferson areas, not only to enhance the beauty of the community, but also to maintain property values enjoyed by the property owners today.

Hearings Needed

Whenever parking lots are developed in the commercial areas they will benefit business greatly, he said.

It was pointed out wherever property must, of necessity, be condemned on Mack at Wayburn, residents living in second floor apartments will be relocated, i.e., the city will find them another place of residence.

It also was pointed out that the council will call for public hearings before acquired lands are planned for parking lots and/or open green belt spaces.

Mr. Helm stressed that no property can be converted into parking lots without a public hearing being held first.

The following is the program outlined by the Plan Commission and submitted to the council for action:

1978: Acquire Lots 85a, 86a, 87a Freudhurst, Leopold Freud Subdivision east of the former Secretary of State Building in Mack avenue, between Beaconsfield and Nottingham, for construction of a 16-car parking lot—$30,000; Acquire Lots 33 through 37 of Maryland Park Subdivision in Mack avenue from city parking lot west to Wayburn for open space and parking—$101,500.

Parking Priority

1979 — Kercheval avenue: Acquire lots 14 and 15 Schiapacasse's Subdivision of Lot 5 for open space and/or parking, (vacant lot — 15021 Kercheval) — $25,500; Acquire Lots 12 and 13, (same subdivision), for open space and/or parking, (former Dump Bar Building)—$61,200.

More are acquiring Lot 11, (same subdivision), for open space and/or parking, (Cleaner's Building, 15029 Kercheval) — $33,500; and Acquire Lot 10, (same subdivision), for open space, (Janet's Lunch, 15033 Kercheval)—$36,700.

1980 — Kercheval and Jefferson avenues: Acquire lots 14, 15 and 16 Beaconsfield Heights, Peppler, McLean and Werner Subdivision of Lot 7 for off-street parking. (Buildings and lots at corner of Beaconsfield and Kercheval—Radio East Cab company)—$77,500.

Acquire Lot 5a, Dennee and McAllister Jefferson Avenue Riverside Subdivision for off-street parking, (former bump shop in Gillis Building on Beaconsfield at Jefferson)—$77,000.

Questions Hike In Meter Rates

The president of the Grosse Pointe Merchants Ass'n. questioned the recent hike in long term, (all day), parking meter rates approved by the Woods Council on January 9. This matter was discussed on Monday, February 6.

Robert F. Hill, president, felt the approval seemed strange in relation to action taken by the council last August at which time the solons voted to eliminate the pre-paid postage feature on parking meter violations and that new meter violation fees be adopted.

At the same time, the council stipulated that the entire subject remain on the agenda of the Committee of the Whole for one year at which time this matter would then be reevaluated.

Mr. Hill felt that the decision of the solons in August was to delay any rate increases for one year.

"It has been indicated to me by several irate citizens that the increase was made at this time on long term meters to discourage people from using the meters for all day parking when journeying downtown by bus," said Mr. Hill.

"I would agree with the council that 25 cents is far too reasonable for 12 hours parking, (it was raised to 50 cents), but I cannot see your reasoning for going against one of your own decisions."

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said that only the long term meters were changed by the council's action, while noting it was the council's prerogative to change its mind at any time, something that it will continue to do.

For the entire day at school the students in Carole Johnson's social studies class followed the traditions of the Moslems, reenacting customs of prayers, pilgrimage, giving of alms and even fasting, (at least during juice break).

They were called to prayer five times in Arabic, assumed the five traditional positions and learned the "Pillars of Wisdom," the basic Moslem beliefs.

A dramatization of the pilgrimage to Mecca, the holy city, was presented, and alms offered by pilgrims, (a portion of each student's allowance), were donated to a children's charity.

Girls in the class assumed the traditional role of second class citizens, sitting in the back of the room, and going to lunch after the boys had eaten. But Ms. Johnson promises they'll get their revenge this spring during the Medieval Festival when the boys must be extra chivalrous.

Ms. Johnson said the practical exposure to Moslem culture helped students understand and appreciate its diverse customs and beliefs.

The responsibility to perform according to Moslem religious beliefs during the day required that students know their classroom material. The entire experience was followed up by reports in the social studies class.

Fate of Austin Still Not Clear

By Susan McDonald
The parent group trying to save Austin Catholic Prep School is still waiting for word from the Augustinian Provincial Council on its proposal to lease the building and operate Austin under a lay board of directors.

The council discussed the issue in Chicago early this month, but has not yet announced its decision.

Director of Education for the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, Father William Murphy, said the Augustinians are working with his office and will disclose the fate of the school as soon as a final assessment is made.

The Augustinians announced last October they will close the 25-year-old school at the end of this year because of a lack of teachers and students in the area.

Immediately after the announcement was made, a group of parents sprang into action to save the all-male, college-preparatory institution.

They have developed an organizational plan and a budget to keep the school open and have received commitments from hundreds of students to attend next fall.

The council granted the parents a lease option through January 31, 1978, on the school building, and most of the parents expected to hear a final decision before that time. Deadlines are nearing, they say, for enrolling next fall's freshman class and signing contracts with their instructors.

Father Murphy said in a release from his office that "both the Augustinians and the Archdiocese agree that it is premature to make a final decision on Austin at this time."

"Certain details, financial and other, are yet to be worked out. Since we don't want to hurt parents, students and others who have been involved in the effort, we are seeking to assure the new institution will have every opportunity to be viable."

Fathers Donate Gift to South

The School Board accepted a gift of $2,322 in sports equipment for programs at South High School from the Dads' Club at its Monday, February 13, meeting.

Included were windbreakers, sweaters and pants for the athletes along with a tennis ball gun, a swim bench and mini-gym.

Poetry Eyed In Reviews

The Thursday afternoon book reviews continue at the Grosse Pointe Central Library with a program presented by William Peters, director of public libraries, on Thursday, February 23.

"Poetry-Literature's Short-hand" will be the topic of the one hour program in the Exhibition Room, 10 Kercheval avenue, at 1 p.m.

A. E. Housman, Dylan Thomas, T. S. Eliot and Mary Ann Linclau are some of the poets who will be discussed.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Woods Investigates Attempted Abductions

(Continued from Page 1) home from school on Wednesday, February 8. The boy, after being addressed, ran home, leaving the driver yelling, "Come back here," and police were notified. In his report, Officer Stephen Petrik said the lad was walking along Morningside and as he approached Hawthorne, the driver pulled up and asked, "Hey, would you like a ride little boy." The youngster fled from the scene but not before giving police a description of the suspect, his car and a partial license number. Det. Fowler said he's currently attempting to trace the vehicle with the help of the partial number. The detective also contacted the principals of Ferry, Mason, Barnes and Monteith Schools on Thursday, February 9, and requested that an announcement be made over the schools' PA systems reminding youngsters not to go with strangers. He said all the principals were pleased to cooperate. The man was described as a white male, in his early 20's with dark brown medium long hair touching his ear and parted on the right side. He wore gold frame teardrop sunglasses and a black leather jacket. He also reportedly had a deep voice and was clean shaven. The auto was described as a two-door Chevrolet Malibu, dark in color. Then, on Thursday, February 9, Officer Bruce Marone received a report from a six-year-old boy of an occurrence the day before. The youngster said as he was walking home from Mason School, while waiting to cross the street at Charlevoix and Hampton, a pickup truck pulled up to the stop sign. The driver exited, walked toward the lad and asked if he wanted a ride home. The boy became scared and fled from the scene. Police said the suspect was described as a white male, in his 20's, about 6' tall and of a slender build. The suspect had black short hair, parted on the right side with the hair on the sides of his head pushed back. He was clean shaven and wore a light colored waist-length jacket and blue jeans. Officer Marone also said the boy's mother gave him the name of another friend, also six years of age, who experienced a similar situation. This boy's father said the incident happened around four weeks ago at Charlevoix and Anita. The suspect in this case told the boy he was a policeman. The time, vehicle description, i.e., a dark brown and rust color pickup, and physical description were the same. Meanwhile, the false kidnapping incident which was reported Tuesday, January 31, was primarily investigated by YSD Dets. Patrick Fagan and Jack Treppa. The report was filed about 2:14 p.m. with the boy saying he was forcibly abducted by a man. He saw only an orange glove which was placed over his mouth, before being dragged to a waiting pink vehicle. The boy said his face was covered with a red bandana and then he was driven around for about two hours. He was ultimately pushed from the car, fell to the pavement and hurt his knee. The boy then went home and his parents contacted City police who in turn contacted Det. Fagan. Farms Det. Earl Field was brought into the case as the incident, as reported occurred in The Farms.

Dets. Fagan and Treppa checked the Hill, Village area and nearby schools. Then at 4 p.m., they received information from City police that the youth had returned home, saying he was kidnapped. The boy first told Det. Fagan he was abducted after buying the dress with the officer ultimately learning the lad had taken the money from his grandmother. Finally, he admitted the story was a fabrication, saying he had some problems with some of his friends at the library and took a walk to think things out. After being gone longer than expected, he became scared and made up the kidnapping story. Saying such reports were relatively rare, Det. Fagan noted this was the second such report in which he has been involved during his YSD tenure of over three and a half years. "The seriousness of the offense was impressed upon him," the detective said, while adding the boy has been placed on the division's counseling program. "The time was well spent in investigating this case. We have to treat them seriously right to the end," stated Det. Fagan, who indicated the pattern, here, was having a youth do something wrong, trying to cover up and then seeking an alibi. For his part, a relieved Det. Field said the boy had an active mind, while admitting "we do worry" in light of the actual kidnapping in The Farms in the fall 1976 in which a boy escaped unharmed.

Tax Proposal Dismissed

(Continued from Page 1) He said he received assurances from several local bankers that homeowners would be allowed to reimburse their escrow accounts gradually, over a 12-month period, for the early withdrawal. Some councilmen, including The Woods' E. D. Grady, considered the Board request an actual increase in taxes. "I've felt all along that they (school administrators), have been deceptive," Mr. Grady said. "I'm relieved they finally called this off."

Dr. Coats said he received the final legal opinion on the plan February 7 and immediately began to contact city officials to cancel the planned Wednesday, February 8, discussion of it. School Board legal counsel had been researching the proposal since last summer, Dr. Coats said. The apparent delay in discovering it is actually illegal for at least one city to participate was due to the "complexity" of the state school code, he added. The legal "technicality" that forced the Board to finally abandon its tax plan comes from the state school code.

No Uniformity
 The code does not grant school districts the right to set any date for school tax collections — it gives them the option of having school taxes collected at the same city taxes are collected, and in most cases that is in the summer. But Harper Woods is an exception. It collects city taxes in December, and would therefore be unable to bill its residents for the school tax in July, according to school attorney Douglas West. Grosse Pointe City presented a nother potential problem, since it splits municipal collections, with half due in July and half in October. In a letter to Dr. Coats, the attorney concluded, "It is doubtful that uniformity of collection dates could be achieved with respect to collection within the City of Grosse Pointe and such uniformity clearly could not be achieved with respect to collections within the City of Harper Woods." Since formally initiating the summer tax campaign, school trustees and administrators have appeared before The Woods, Park and Harper Woods Councils and at a public meeting of a South High School parent's club to promote the idea.

Trial Date Set For Suspects
 A Wayne County Circuit Court trial date of March 31 has been scheduled for two suspects, who are charged with receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, said Woods Det. Charles Philip Hamel last week. The pair, Joseph Anthony Ruggero, 19, of St. Patrick, Detroit, and Christopher Kenneth Mongogna, 19, of Orchard, Warren, are charged in the incident in which three snowblowers were taken from garages of Fleetwood road citizens on January 4. They were arrested after a watchful resident notified police after hearing someone run between the houses. He looked out his front window, spotted a van and subsequently saw someone place an object inside it. Upon the arrival of police, both youths were found in the vehicle which contained the three snowblowers.

PLUG UP THE HOLE IN YOUR WALL AND SAVE 24% IN HEATING COSTS!!

You may not realize it, but every home has a furnace AND a chimney. This chimney is nothing more than a hole in the wall that lets the hot air escape. When the furnace goes "off" there should be some kind of device to PLUG UP this hole and keep the warm air in the house.

Just such a device was invented in Germany and has been used and proven throughout Europe. It is called EFFIKAL and it is an Automatic Damper System.

What is an automatic damper?
 It is an electronic and mechanical fuel-saving device which when installed in your furnace-to-chimney flue pipe will open before the burn cycle and close the moment the burn cycle ends, thus preventing "super heated" air already in your furnace from escaping while your furnace is at rest.

Our grandparents recognized this principle years ago. They would open and close their stove pipe damper by hand as needed, thus preventing the escape of hot air. The high cost of home heating caused by the extreme cold winters and possible fuel shortages led us to "rediscover" the old manual damper. It took today's technology to make our grandparent's idea work — and work safely on modern furnaces.

The EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System is the only system that incorporates a Gas Flow Detector. This makes the EFFIKAL system absolutely failsafe!

As the name implies, the Gas Flow Detector detects the flow of gas. As soon as a flow of gas is evident the Flow Detector opens the damper automatically providing complete safety. Even if the pilot should go out and the gas valve should fail, the automatic damper would remain open and vent the dangerous gas out the chimney. As far as is known, the EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System is the only damper offered with such a high degree of safety!

This is why Michigan Furnace Company is proud to call the EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System a failsafe system.

- Tested at Detroit Testing Laboratory
- Approved in Greater Detroit Area
- EFFIKAL means Efficient Calories

The EFFIKAL Automatic Damper System can be installed either Vertically or Horizontally. The failsafe Gas Flow Detector is Exclusive with Michigan Furnace.

The skin of the wine grape is very important to the wine making process. First of all, it provides the color of the wine. Grape juice is itself almost colorless. Secondly, during the fermenting process, the skins release tannin. Tannin causes a harsh and astringent taste in young wines, but it helps wines age slowly and maintain their quality over a long period of time. A mature wine will lose the harsh tannin taste and provide delightful drinking for a long time.

At PARKIE'S PARTY SHOPPE, 17255 Mack, corner of St. Clair, 885-0626 you'll find a full selection of delightful wines for your drinking pleasure. Your State Authorized Liquor Store, we also have all types of mixes and liquor to make your favorite mixed drinks as well as a wide array of snacks and nibbles to go with them. Brys Drive Problems Discussed by Woods Council

(Continued from Page 1) upon controls of both westbound and eastbound traffic, plus the suggested closure of Ridgemont and Hollywood avenues west of Mack by looping both streets together.

Saying that the city has and is demonstrating its concern over the through traffic/truck problem on residential neighborhood streets in the area, Mr. Rogers noted, "Any plan is likely to upset traditional traffic patterns and, unfortunately, no plan can disregard events of the past," e.g., the original grid-iron street subdivision design, inadequate off-street parking and increased car ownership and usage.

Another difficulty cited by Mr. Rogers toward correcting poor traffic conditions unilaterally is that "a large part of the problem results from traffic patterns and road systems in other cities which do not seem to have any traffic problems or complaints from their residents." Aware of the council's action regarding the barricades and then the signs, Mr. Rogers said in his long-range land use plan he made several suggestions.

Offers Many "Recs" These include the following: A "No Through Westbound Traffic" sign for Brys and Anita avenue at the alley first west of Mack, "Right Turn Only" signs for eastbound Brys and Roslyn traffic at Mack, and for westbound Roslyn traffic at Mack, and the closure of and loop-ing of Ridgemont and Hollywood, and provision of expanded parking behind the commercial frontage of Mack.

More recommendations include the elimination of through commercial vehicle traffic west of Mack in any direction on Brys, Roslyn, Hampton, Ridgemont, Hollywood, Hawthorne, Anita and Helen. The plan, he said, envisioned Mack, Vernier, Harper, I-94 and East Eight Mile west of Harper as truck routes.

"In other words, the internal local streets would be for locally destined, residential access traffic, not through, transient or commuting traffic not originating from or destined for a residence in the area north of Vernier and west of Mack," stated Mr. Rogers.

For controlling westbound traffic, he offered five recommendations including installing in the Mack median, for northbound traffic, a sign saying "No Left Turn to Brys drive for Through Traffic," plus the installation of a similar sign in the median at Roslyn, Hampton, Ridgemont, Hollywood, Hawthorne and Anita.

He noted, however, if Ridgemont and Hollywood were looped to provide for expanded parking and more protection for the Chene-Trombley Park, no such signs would be needed at those avenues.

Two other suggestions for controlling westbound traffic are installing "No Left Turn" signs at street exits of all northbound alleys located first west of Mack and installing a "Left Turn Only" sign at the southbound alley exit on the north side of Brys.

Mr. Rogers offered six recommendations for the control of eastbound traffic including seeking the cooperation of St. Clair Shores and the Macomb County Road Commission to have signs placed at the southbound exit ramp from I-94 to East Eight Mile, directing commercial and truck traffic to proceed south to Vernier via the southbound service road for business destinations on East Eight Mile and M-102 to the west of I-94.

Another step, he felt, would be to remove the "Eight Mile Road" sign and rename the road.

In relation to cooperation, he suggested that Harper Woods be contacted toward installing a "Through Traffic Prohibited on Eastbound Eight Mile Road" sign at the southwest corner of Harper and East Eight Mile road, while enlarging the "No Through Traffic" sign now located at the southeast corner of Harper and East Eight Mile.

High Traffic Volume Mr. Rogers also suggested that Harper Woods be contacted regarding the possible installation of a "No Left Turn" sign on Harper at Hampton and Ridgemont for southbound Harper traffic. No left turn for southbound Harper traffic is possible onto Hollywood owing to a curb barrier.

He added if Ridgemont and Hollywood are looped, signage at Harper would not be needed for Ridgemont.

Yet another suggestion is to maintain the "No Trucks" sign for eastbound traffic on Brys at Helen.

As for the proposed looping of Ridgemont and Hollywood, Mr. Rogers said additional parking and access aisles would ensue, plus the fact that no through or commercial traffic could enter the residential neighborhood.

While saying the actual volume of traffic on Brys isn't inordinately high, it is three to four times higher than other streets to the immediate south.

On traffic redistribution to other routes, he said consideration should be made to the impact on other local residential streets, plus the feasibility of rerouting through and commercial traffic to perimeter thoroughfares such as Mack, Vernier and Harper.

Should Be Tried "The aforementioned recommendations should provide long-range benefits, and should be tested on a trial basis through study of before-and-after traffic counts, accident incidence and resident/merchant opinions on effects achieved," advised Mr. Rogers.

"We feel the emphasis on signage . . . is the easiest and most economical to implement. While we recognize the enforcement problem, we do feel the large proportion of motorists do heed signs, which in turn should reduce excess traffic on Brys drive and other streets in the vicinity."

In his traffic accident report on Mack from the north city limits to Roslyn, Officer Crook said between January 1, 1977, to December 31, 1977, a total of 12 accidents were reported with three involving an injury.

Only one of the 12 occurred while the barricades were in place, and all were spread evenly throughout the year.

Of the 22 drivers, 11 were male and 11 were female, with three of the 22 under the age of 20 years and all but two resided in The Pointe area. "Because of the type of intersections, it is not alarming to find that six of the 12 accidents involved right angle collisions," he said.

Officer Crook also noted that he has been in contact with the Michigan Department of State Highways and Transportation regarding the re-signing of the southbound exit ramp of the Edsel Ford expressway at Eight Mile road to clearly explain the Vernier/Eight Mile designations and provide a truck route along the southbound service road to Vernier.

Avoid "Bad Jokes" The council last November approved this recommendation, with Officer Crook being directed to implement it.

Meanwhile, for Mr. Van Farowe, the emphasis upon signage in Mr. Rogers' recommendations appeared more of a hindrance than a help.

"We have signs now which are given attention by the public safety department but only a handful of violators have been caught," stated Mr. Van Farowe. "More signs would only create further law enforcement problems."

He felt the proposals without enforcement would be another one of a series of "bad jokes" regarding measures taken in the past.

As a result, he suggested two actions be taken, including closing Brys where Brys and East Eight Mile meet in the area near Eight Mile road, or making Brys a one way street to the west with appropriate traffic signs in St. Clair Shores and Harper Woods so indicating this.

Without either suggestion, Mr. Van Farowe said, "People will continually use the street and we'll be back to the council again."

Saying he appreciated the suggestions, Mr. Pinkos wanted him to know that all citizens in the affected area should realize what the ramifications would be, particularly regarding any cul-de-sac.

Would Affect All "If we have signatures on this, we may be closer to this type of solution. It will be discussed with all authorities but I don't know what the end result would be on a council level," said Mr. Pinkos. "We need documentation to make any changes."

City Attorney George Catlin stated that the city didn't need written permission to cul-de-sac the street or make it one way.

On the cul-de-sac question, Mr. Catlin noted, depending on its location, the city could have to respond by paying damages on a case-by-case basis to property owners in the immediate area if such citizens felt damaged by such an action.

As a result, he said it was important to know the feelings of the residents on such a proposal as against having some citizens come back at a later date and complain over the installation of a cul-de-sac.

For his part, Mr. Van Farowe said he wished further information on the cul-de-sac question from Mr. Rogers so he could go back to the citizens. Mr. Pinkos told him to write a letter to that effect and "we'll see that Mr. Rogers receives it."

GPW Studies Snow Removal

The question of a snow removal ordinance for the city remains very much in the minds of the Woods Council after the solons referred this matter to City Attorney George Catlin for his investigation over a month ago.

Mr. Catlin gave a verbal report at the regular meeting Monday, February 6, and felt the city really didn't need such a measure.

Saying he had earlier prepared such a proposal affecting both residential and commercial property and that the council sought a further exploration of such a law, Mr. Catlin stated he reviewed other similar ordinances and said The Woods was unique in that the city removed snow in both commercial and residential districts.

But Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said problems remain in commercial areas regarding the removal of snow and that this matter should be further explored.

Meanwhile, Councilman E. D. Grady expressed concerns over plowing on the rights-of-way and on another citizen's property, over which he has received some complaints from residents. Councilman George Cueter also wanted Mr. Catlin to look into the dumping of snow into the street, rather than depositing it over the curb.

As a result, the city attorney will again consider such a law and ensuing guidelines.

Trombly Holds Special Week

Last week was a special one for Trombly Elementary School students and their grandparents, who joined together for a week of special classroom activities centered around the family.

"Grandparents' Week," February 6 through 10, was a chance for the Trombly students to honor their forefathers and reflect with them, on the history and culture of their families and the area.

Each class came up with its own activity for the week. One fourth grade invited their grandparents to come to class and describe what it was like for them in the fourth grade; others prepared puppet shows, concerts and special creative writing assignments to mail out of town relatives.

"The children learned a lot about each other and even their own families by listening to their grandparents' stories," said Trombly Principal Eric Folio.

Each year, the school sets a mid-winter week aside, such as "Grandparents' Week," for the study of history and culture, Dr. Folio explained.

Last year Trombly's 50th anniversary was celebrated, and in 1976, the week was devoted to Bicentennial activities.

"TOYS FOR MEN"

Woods Attorney Gives Report on Police Cars

By Roger A. Waha

The cooperation of Chrysler Corp. officials toward repairing seven public safety department police vehicles was cited by Woods City Attorney George Catlin in a verbal report to the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

During late December and through much of January, the seven Dodge Monacos were in and out of service, with the problem snowballing the middle of last month when five of the autos were out for repairs. In fact, officials reported they have had intermittent problems with the vehicles since their delivery early last year.

But thanks to the response of corporation personnel, including three service engineers, and the cooperation of Pointe Dodge, the cars were back on the road within a matter of days toward the end of January.

Mr. Catlin reported at a meeting with city officials and Chrysler representatives, the latter expressed a desire to work with the city now and in the future. He said Chrysler will review repair bills and get back in touch with officials to see what is covered under vehicle warranties.

While he feels the problem is solved, Mr. Catlin added that, at this point, the issue is not yet closed.

With that, Councilman John Sabol, a Chrysler employee, moved that City Administrator Chester E. Petersen draft a letter of appreciation to Chrysler for their support. His motion was supported by Councilman Thomas Fahrner, also a Chrysler employee.

The motion was approved by a 4-3 vote with Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos and Councilman George S. Freeman joining Mr. Sabol and Mr. Fahrner on the plus side, while Councilmen E. D. Grady and George Cueter, who both felt such an action was premature, and Councilman Robert Novitke nixed the motion.

St. James Sets Lenten Services

Selections offered by the chancel choir include the following: "Thou Art The Way" by Roesech, "Come Thou Font of Every Blessing," "Jesus Priceless Treasure," "Jesus Christ My Sure Defense" and "Alleluia."

The children's choir will sing "Though Your Sins Be As Scarlet" and "The Old Rugged Cross." The handbell choir, its members being high school students, will offer the following selections: "Prayer and Finale" by Eugene Butler, "Andante" by Telemann and "Aire" by Bach.

The worship will include a homily by Pastor George E. Kurz, whose message on the suffering of Jesus, will combine the ministry of the Word with the ministry of music in making this an unusual worship experience.

The congregation invites friends in the community to join them in sharing the "Sounds of Lent at Vespers."

Robber Takes Clothing Items

An East Detroit woman, who allegedly robbed Isabelle's, 104 Kercheval avenue, on Thursday morning, February 9, was arrested by Detroit police on Saturday, February 11.

Rose Wojtaszek, 39, was apprehended by officers from Detroit's 15th precinct as she exited a ladies dress shop in Gratiot avenue after she had allegedly robbed it.

Upon her arrest Ms. Wojtaszek admitted to committing six armed robberies in the past week, police said. She has been charged with armed robbery and possession of a firearm in the Detroit incident.

In the Isabelle robbery, the suspect stole approximately $365 in clothing and $40 in cash.

Isabelle Comito reported to Farms police that the suspect had been in the shop on Tuesday, February 7, and ordered five items of clothing for pick up on Thursday. When she came to pick up the items, she produced a blue, .25 caliber revolver and forced Mrs. Comito into the rear bathroom. Upon exiting the store the suspect took $40 from the cash register and the clothes she had ordered.

According to Farms police, Mrs. Comito asked why she was being robbed and the woman replied, "You would too if you had seven kids at home."

She was arrested at Fuhrman's Ladies Apparel, 13747 Gratiot avenue. Detroit police were responding to a silent alarm that was set off by a salesgirl during the robbery.

Later this week Ms. Wojtaszek will be turned over to Farms authorities and arraigned on the local robbery charge.

Woods Grants ULS Requests

Two requests from University Liggett School, (ULS), were unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

First, the solons granted the school permission to hold its fair on the University Campus, 1045 Cook road, on June 2 and 3, subject to a written agreement between both parties as has occurred in the past.

The fair will be coordinated and organized by the school's alumni association.

Then the council gave ULS its approval to hold an antiques show on the Liggett Campus, in Briarcliff drive, from June 15 to 17, with the stipulation, if the weather is good, that parking be permitted on the school yard.

In the past, the city has received complaints over cars being "parked all over" in the area on antiques show days, said City Administrator Chester E. Petersen.

At the same time, the motion stipulated that three or four officers be available to help direct traffic on such days.

(Continued from Page 1) occasional drug problem, but now most are coming to us to talk about alcohol, sex, their parents or their friends.

"But those are just the symptoms, the basic problems are still the same—the kids can't communicate and they are bored."

The model used by Center Point counselors is emphatic listening and it works wonders, according to Ms. Cook.

"Most of the people we're dealing with are normal, usually stable human beings, but they come to us when they're in a period of crisis. They need feedback from another human being to help them come to a decision."

Parents are becoming more and more involved in the counseling process. If it's apparent that parent and child are willing to meet halfway to resolve a problem, the counselors suggest contacts be arranged to settle disputes over behavior.

Sex counseling for teenagers has become an important part of the program, too. As Center Point's own statistics show, there's a great need for help in that area locally.

In January alone, the Center Point medical center confirmed pregnancies in 14 young women, 10 of whom were under 18-years-old, and half of them from Grosse Pointe.

"Many of the kids who come in here are determined to be sexually active, and in that case we explain birth control methods to them and supply them with prescriptions if they are 18 years or older. Those under 18 are directed to a federally-funded Safe-Teen program in Mack Avenue," according to Ms. Cook.

In addition, the medical center offers venereal disease tests and treatment, medical referrals and other health information.

Volunteers at Center Point also man a 24-hour crisis line after taking a 60-hour training program covering emphatic listening, values clarification, problem solving, first aid and drugs.

The crisis line puts that training to good use. Last month, for instance, five of the calls coming in were from teens contemplating suicide, a phenomena that is becoming more and more frequent, according to national statistics.

"In a suicide case we still use the emphatic listening model, but with a big difference. Instead of dwelling on the present problem, the counselor tries to get callers out of the here and now—either by talking about the past or about the future, anything to get them away from the formula they've come up with for solving their problem," explains Ms. Cook.

All the services are offered without charge, although contributions are sought from persons benefited at Center Point.

"We've managed for seven years on the money raised throughout the community by FLEC," said Dr. Beals. "I suppose that shows the community is still supporting us and the work we do here."

"That in itself is good reason to carry on with it."

Woods Council Studies Boat Dockage Procedure

The boat dock application policy in The Woods was once again viewed by the council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6, when two citizens, who failed to renew permit applications by January 15, claiming they were unaware of that deadline, sought council assistance.

As it turned out, Councilman E. D. Grady, who withdrew an earlier motion that such approval be granted through the last day of February, moved that both citizens, Karl Gropp of Marford court and Bernard Schenk of Hampton road, have their permits approved and that the January 15 deadline be maintained.

In relation to this, the Citizens Recreation Commission is currently studying this entire matter, based upon earlier council action last November. In considering changing the date for renewal applications and payment of boat dockage fees, the commission is currently eyeing the possibility of a non-refundable deposit of up to 33 percent by December 15, with the balance due somewhere between March 1 and April 1.

The commission discussed this subject with representatives of the Grosse Pointe Woods Boat Club at its January meeting, and is expected to explore it more fully at its session this month.

In a memo to the council, City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said in an effort to determine earlier those boat dock permits which were not going to be renewed during the 1978 boating season, his office authorized the mailing of applications to all current boat dock permit holders last October.

At the same time, instructions were given that such applications were to be received by the city on or before November 15.

However, after representatives of the boat club expressed their displeasure over the policy change last November, the council went back to the January 15 date, with all current dock holders being advised that the deadline for renewing their applications was extended to January 15.

(The city code says renewal applications must be filed on or before January 15 with space allotments to be made on or before the following February 15.)

Continuing, Mr. Petersen noted that after the deadline, approximately 14 citizens had failed to renew their applications and "therefore, these 14 docks, along with another six docks previously cancelled, should be offered to those residents who are on the waiting list for a boat dock."

But the two citizens, who failed to renew their applications by the January 15 deadline, wanted their permits.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos expressed concern over the entire procedure in relation to policy and the overall handling of the situation, while Councilman John Sabol, in considering Mr. Grady's original motion and the proposed date change, said he saw no sense in altering the deadline again.

Mr. Sabol felt it would only add to further confusion, while saying docks should be given to those eligible and the bumping procedure should continue.

At the same time, another concern was cited in relation to citizens knowing where they were at in relation to storing their boats.

On the bumping procedure, both Mr. Petersen and City Attorney George Catlin indicated it hadn't been used that often.

"With cancellations and non-renewals, we have been able to handle the people," stated Mr. Petersen, while Mr. Catlin noted, "We haven't had that much experience with the bumping procedure and its operation."

In giving an overview of this procedure, Mr. Catlin said a resident wants a dock on the lake side of the bridge, (the "other side" is mainly for smaller craft which can navigate under the bridge and generally spaces are available), and makes an application, remaining on the waiting list for two years.

Then, the Parks and Recreation Department makes a determination of dock holders, for the previous year, to see if they intend to renew. A check is made of citizens on the waiting list to see who has been on the list the longest, and notification then ensues of the bumping procedure.

In 1977, 598 persons committed traffic offenses that were serious enough for them to go to court. Of these, 524 were convicted. The 1976 figure was 496 in 1976, which saw 467 convicted.

Last year, one juvenile was arrested for a traffic violation with charges filed with Wayne County Juvenile Court authorities, as compared to the eight in 1976.

Last year, three persons were arrested for breaking and entering, and three the previous year. In other break-ins, (garages, autos, et al.), only one person was arrested in 1977, and none in 1976.

There were 16 reports of larcenies over $200 in 1977 as compared to six the year before, and of larcenies under $200, 32 were reported last year and 37 in 1976.

In assaults of various types, seven were reported in each of the two years.

There was a slight rise in reports of stolen bicycles, 18 in 1977 as compared to 13 in 1976. However, reported vandalism, (mostly damaged front lawns by motor vehicles), showed a drop to 45 last year as compared to 57 the previous year.

Showing a slight decline was the number of persons arrested for disorderly conduct, 34 in 1977 as compared to 40 in 1976. Narcotic arrests reached seven last year, one less than in 1976.

Two cases of robbery (armed) were reported last year and none the year before. Five persons were arrested on weapons charges in 1977 and only one in 1976.

The department made a total of 76 ambulance runs in 1977, of which 21 were in response to miscellaneous accidents, 33 were to convey sick persons to the hospital, five were to assist other departments, 10 were to accident scenes and the balance miscellaneous runs.

In 1976, the total ambulance runs numbered 83, of which 10 were to accident scenes, 22 were to miscellaneous accidents, 44 to convey sick patients to a hospital and seven were to assist other departments.

In 1977, public safety officers in scout cars patrolled a total of 171,726 miles as compared to 163,295 miles in 1976.

Tree Spraying Set in Farms

All Farms residents are required, under city ordinance, to spray the elm trees on their property once a year to prevent Dutch Elm Disease.

The Farms Council has determined that for 1978 the insecticide spray which must be used is methoxychlor, and the trees should be sprayed before April 25.

If a resident violates the ordinance by not having his trees sprayed by the cutoff date or by not using methoxychlor, he is subject to a fine of up to $100 or imprisonment for 90 days.

The Farms has contracted with Shock Brothers, Inc., to spray all the elm trees on public property and any resident may have Shock Brothers spray their trees at the same time by notifying Farms Director of Public Service John DeFoe.

The cost is $8 per tree and citizens must contact Mr. DeFoe before Wednesday, March 1, if they want this service.

Residents also should forward a check to Mr. DeFoe, payable to Shock Brothers, Inc., to cover the number of trees on their property. Elm trees located between the curb and sidewalk or trees which are 18 feet from the street are owned by the city and will be sprayed at the Farms expense.

If a resident is having his own contractor spray trees, then that contractor must file a statement with Mr. DeFoe's office within 20 days after the spraying.

Plain Public Drunkenness Eyed by Shores Officer

Early in January of this year, Shores Public Safety Officer Harry Hamilton attended a two-day instructors' training course in Lansing viewing Act 339, P.A. 1974, as amended, known as the Substance Abuse Assistance Act.

With the knowledge he gained, he in turn instructed his colleagues of the public safety department on the new law.

Officer Hamilton, who has been appointed departmental instructor in such matters by Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale, has attended other sessions in various parts of the state.

These included sessions on how to determine to what degree a motorist is or is not capable of operating a vehicle due to the amount of liquor the driver might have consumed before he got behind the wheel.

The officer is qualified to give tests at the scene of the arrest to determine if the motorist should or should not have operated the vehicle in traffic.

Officer Hamilton became completely acquainted with the Substance Abuse Assistance Act, as well as a companion legislation, Act 340, which provides for the arrest and prosecution of public intoxicants who become disorderly persons either by directly endangering the safety of others or property, or by acting in a manner which causes a public disturbance.

The officer said in talking to "civilian" persons, both friends and subjects brought into the station, that there is a wide gap between the law itself and the interpretation being placed on it by the public.

Most people are under the impression the law is designed to give them a "free pass" to commit a variety of misdemeanors or obnoxious acts without any responsibility whatsoever.

In order to dispel such beliefs, Officer Hamilton prepared an explanation of the new law, which became effective January 15, and is as accurate as he could possibly make it.

As of the January date, simple intoxication, in itself, has been eliminated as a crime under Michigan law, he notes. Because of this, many persons are under the assumption they now can use the fact that they were intoxicated as mitigation for any and all criminal offenses. Nothing can be further from the truth.

It simply is not realistic for a person to believe that he can not be found guilty of drunk driving because he was drunk while driving, or is innocent of an assault because he was drinking at the time of the assault.

The trend to decriminalize public intoxication had its beginning in the recommendation forwarded in 1967 by the Task Force on Public Drunkenness of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, and the 1966 Report of the President's Commission on Crime in the District of Columbia.

Both of these commissions concluded that drunkenness, of itself, should not be classified as a criminal offense.

Both bodies stated that instead of initiating criminal proceedings against the common drunk, a more positive step would be to enlist the services of public health authorities and their facilities. In other words, alcohol abuse should be looked upon as both an individual and public health problem, not as a crime, he said.

With the adoption of Act 339, Michigan has joined 24 other states, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico in enacting legislation providing for the treatment of certain public inebriates, (drunken persons), instead of the traditional incarceration, (jailings), heretofore provided.

In other words, the people's representatives recognized the value of diverting those people from the criminal justice system into the health delivery system, with the focus now to be on the treatment of persons who have abused alcohol, the officer stated.

The problem seems to lie in the failure of some people to familiarize themselves with the act in its entirety.

While simple intoxication, in and of itself, has been eliminated as a crime, the person who drinks to excess is now mandated to be handled according to civil procedure, and law enforcement officers must take the person into protective custody and deliver the individual into a health delivery system for treatment of the immediate condition.

The law enforcement agency may take the person into protective custody with or without the consent of the person, and may use such force which would be lawful were the officer effecting an arrest for a misdemeanor without a warrant, and the person so taken must be conveyed to a public health facility.

Officer Hamilton pointed out Act 340 provides that a person is disorderly if, among other things, he or she "is intoxicated in a public place and is either endangering directly the safety of another person or of property or is acting in a manner that causes a public disturbance."

He also said that nothing in this act affects any law, ordinance, resolution or rule against drunken driving, driving under the influence of intoxicating alcohol, or another similar offense involving the operation of a vehicle, snowmobile, aircraft, vessel, machinery or other equipment or motorized conveyances.

The wording of the new statute concerning incapacitation states, "Incapacitation means that a person, as a result of the use of alcohol, is unconscious or has his or her mental and physical functioning so impaired that he or she either poses an immediate and substantial danger to his or her health or safety or is endangering the health and safety of the public."

Act 339 recognizes that the law enforcement officer is neither responsible for, nor is expected to render absolute judgement regarding incapacitation.

Under the law, a person admitted to treatment after being determined to be "apparently incapacitated" may be detained for up to 72 hours, and if a "hold" is placed on them, returned to the law enforcement agency for prosecution if charged with commission of a criminal act.

GPW to Sell Park Tickets

A plan wherein the city would sell amusement park tickets to citizens at discount prices was unanimously approved by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6, based upon a recommendation from the Citizens Recreation Committee.

While further specific information has to be obtained by the city regarding the program, sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Park Ass'n., it's hoped it will get underway by May 1 and continue through Labor Day, September 4.

As planned, tickets would be sold for such places as Cedar Point, Sea World and King's Island, (all in Ohio), Bob-Lo and Great America, near Chicago, Ill. "The city would make a small fee on each ticket sold but the real savings would be to the ticket buyer," said Administrative Aide Gerard E. McNamara.

It's possible that citizens could reap a savings of from 50 cents to $1.40 per ticket, while the city could receive 25 to 30 cents per ticket. The commission reported that St. Clair Shores received around $1,200 in revenues from such service last year.

Mr. McNamara said the city will receive further information on the distribution of tickets sometime in April, with the commission motion stipulating that the program be accepted on a one-year trial basis with tickets being sold at the municipal building, 20025 Mack avenue.

In another action, a commission recommendation viewing tenure of the group's members also was approved. It said that the council should set up a period of service for commissioners, and designate a system to keep a mix of experienced and new people on the body.

The council approved the institution of two-year terms on a staggered basis beginning January 1979, with those members whose terms will expire being determined at a later date.

Golf Classes Set to Begin

Registration is now underway for a six-week golf class to be conducted at North High School in early March.

Suspect Faces Circuit Court

A 17-year-old Harper Woods youth was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for trial last week on a charge of breaking and entering of a dwelling.

This action was taken at the Woods Municipal Court examination of Kelly Roy Pillotte, of Beaufait road, on Wednesday, February 8. At the same time, the suspect's bond was reduced from $10,000 or 10 percent to $2,000 or 10 percent, and he posted a $200 cash bond and was released. His pre-trial is scheduled for Thursday, February 23.

Pillotte is charged with the burglary of a North Oxford road residence on Thursday afternoon, February 2, and he also is under investigation for the break-in of another North Oxford road home, police said.

Youth Service Division Det. James Fowler filed a petition on a 16-year-old Harper Woods juvenile with Wayne County Juvenile Court, charging him with breaking and entering stemming from the same incident.

The detective also filed a petition on the youth last week for possession of stolen property, saying that a shirt stud button, allegedly taken from the one home, was ultimately discovered when he was arrested with Pillotte on the 2nd.

In the one incident, Woods police received a tip from a watchful United Parcel Service driver, who spotted the suspects inside the home, which suffered a broken window. Pillotte was arrested at the scene by Officer John DeLora, while the fleeing juvenile was apprehended a short time later by Woods and Shores police in the area of Sunningdale drive.

Articles reported taken from the home in which the two youths were spotted, including a jewelry box with three diamond rings, two watches and a gold watch chain and fob, were recovered, along with the shirt stud button and a watch, valued at around $2,000, allegedly taken from the other residence.

GPF Acts

seek the needed funds. The grant application will be filed under the state's High Hazard and Obstacle Program. Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said it appears likely that the intersection would qualify for a grant because, as a "locked-up intersection" it is considered a high hazard and accident location.

Both Mack avenue and Moross road are owned and maintained by Wayne County. Therefore the Wayne County Road Commission must approve the recommended plan of Goodell-Grivas Inc. If the county approves the plan and if the state approves the grant, improvements on the intersection will be made.

But the road commission must approve the plan in order for the state to even consider the grant.

Will Follow Up
Chief Ferber, in a letter to the road commission dated Tuesday, February 7, has requested that the commission approve the Goodell-Grivas Inc. plan so the firm can get the wheels rolling to obtain state funds.

When the road commission's approval is received, the grant application will be filed. Chief Ferber and the council can only guess when that will be. "At the least it will take 90 days," Chief Ferber said.

The chief added he would follow up on the plan approval and grant. "If you leave it in the hands of Wayne County to follow up," Chief Ferber explained, "it will never be done. I say that honestly and from past experience."

South Defeats North Natators

In a very exciting and close swimming meet on Tuesday, February 7, South High School swimmers handed North High an 88-84 defeat.

Swimming at North, the Blue Devils started the meet by winning first and second places in the 200-yard medley relay with teams of Steve Soderberg, Peter Dever, Steve Makos, Randy Walworth and Steve Kienle...

Other first place winners for South were John Hessburg in the 50-yard freestyle, Trost in the 100-yard butterfly and Soderberg in the 100-yard backstroke.

The performances by Trost and Soderberg set new North High pool records, and Pat Coyle set a new South varsity record in the 500-yard freestyle, although he finished second in the race.

Every swimmer for South scored points to capture the traveling trophy until next year's contest.

Even though North lost the meet in overall points, they placed first in seven of the 11 events.

The following North swimmers took first in their events: David Howe, 200-yard and 100-yard freestyle; Tom Shook, 200-yard individual medley and 100-yard breaststroke; Mike Brown, diving; and Shawn Lakin, 500-yard freestyle. The team of Howe, Lakin, Vince Cusumano and Matt Brady placed first in the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Other action last week saw the South swimmers defeat Roseville, 58-21, on Thursday, February 9, to continue their undefeated season.

During the Roseville meet, Coyle broke his own varsity record in the 500-yard freestyle and the relay team of Toby Lindheim, Soderberg, Hessburg and Trost set a new pool record in the 400-yard freestyle relay event.

During the next two weeks, South will finish its dual meet competition with Eastern Michigan League, (EML), opponents Sterling Heights Stevenson, Mount Clemens and East Detroit before going for its fifth straight EML Championship in the league meet hosted at Sterling Heights Stevenson on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 28 and March 1.

Woods Meeting Should Be Open

By Roger A. Waha Setting the date for the review and re-evaluation of administrative officers was considered by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

Rules of order and procedure for the council provides that during the month of January the council will meet in executive session to review and re-evaluate the qualifications and capabilities of such appointed officials.

Those being considered at this time include City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, City Attorney George Catlin, City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher and City Engineer Larry Pate.

The council was informed by Mr. Catlin that such a meeting would be open to the public under the "Open Meetings Law."

As the discussion progressed, it was felt by the council if such a review was handled at the same time as a review of salaries for the officers, the meeting would probably be closed. As a result, the council decided to handle this matter in conjunction with salaries.

However, a further query by the NEWS last week revealed that the "Open Meetings Law" actually doesn't permit, under a list of eight exceptions, a closed meeting for such a purpose, salary discussions notwithstanding.

Mr. Catlin indicated since this matter focuses upon appointed officials as against a stipulation in the law permitting closed sessions for strategy and negotiation sessions connected with the negotiation of a collective bargaining agreement when either negotiating party requests a closed hearing, the review of administrative officers would have to be at a meeting open to the public.

He added he would so advise the council of this matter.

Auto License Deadline Near

Michigan motorists must display 1978 license plate tabs on trucks, trailers and commercial vehicles by Wednesday, March 1, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Commercial vehicle owners who fail to have the red and white tab displayed by March 1 will be ticketed," said Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

State motorists have until April 1 to put tabs on plates for passenger cars and motorcycles.

The new tab must be displayed on top of the 1977 tab in the upper right corner of the rear plate.

To obtain a tab for trucks, trailers and commercial vehicles at Department of State or Auto Club offices, vehicle owners must bring in either the prepared renewal form mailed by the Department of State, the 1977 registration or the certificate of vehicle title, plus proof of public liability and property damage insurance.

"Persons who use their vehicle title for proof must know their license plate number," Mr. Ratke said.

The mail order deadline for commercial vehicle and trailer license plate tabs was Wednesday, February 1. Motorists can order tabs by mail for passenger cars and motorcycles from the Department of State until March 1.

More than 1.5 million 1978 license plate tabs have been sold so far, which is 150,000 more than a year ago at this time.

GPA Hosts Open House

Grosse Pointe Academy's headmaster John Poplawski, students, faculty, members of the board of trustees and parents will host the school's annual open house on Sunday, February 26, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Families interested in learning more about the Academy, 171 Lakeshore road, will visit classrooms in session, tour the facilities and enjoy the historic 22 acre campus overlooking Lake St. Clair.

The Academy was cited by the Independent School Ass'n. of Central States as "a place where the individual child is valued to the greatest degree."

"Keeping the student-teacher ratio low," states Mr. Poplawski, "using team teaching and adhering to the philosophy that different children learn in different ways are some of the features which we have found helpful in the development of self esteem and a positive attitude toward learning."

The Academy's Montessori Early School for children ages two and a half to five is specifically designed to capitalize upon children's facility to learn at this age. The early school students engage in exercises that expose them to French, math, science and social studies which form the foundation for their future academic life.

Throughout the entire school regular classroom sessions will be held and visitors will observe athletic activities, short music programs and students learning basic design using a variety of media.

The Academy offers a complete elementary educational facility for grades one through eight including an extensive library, science and language laboratories, gymnasium and outdoor athletic fields including tennis courts.

Guided tours and question-answer sessions are planned throughout the afternoon.

Woods Names Disaster Agent

The assistant director of the Wayne County Office of Emergency Preparedness was designated as the "applicant's local agent" by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

This means that the "agent" is formally authorized by a local government to execute for and in its behalf an application and other related documents for obtaining federal financial assistance under the Federal Disaster Relief Act of 1974 or otherwise available from the President's Disaster Relief Fund.

In a letter to the council, Leland Onkka said local governments were responsible for designating such an "agent."

He noted, "Emergency session of the governing body might be required, since application for reimbursement for federal financial assistance cannot be prepared until an agent is appointed."

It was suggested that such an appointment be made no later than Friday, February 10.

Maire Serves Soup 'N Subs

Students at Maire Elementary School are planning a Soup 'n Subs dinner on Wednesday, February 22, in the school gym, 740 Cadieux road, from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

Dinner entertainment will be offered by the Tower Belles and Crazy Eights from South High School.

The public is invited to attend.

Three Lectures Set at Center

Three illustrated lectures of interest to Pointers will be given at the War Memorial on Thursday, February 16, February 23 and March 2, (the March date is the rescheduled date replacing the cancelled January 26 session, the day of the blizzard), at 10 a.m.

Today, February 16, Thomas W. Brunk, archivist of Michigan State University, will lecture on the famous Pewabic pottery produced in Jefferson avenue, not far from The Pointe.

On February 23, J. Jordan Humberstone, appraiser for the Henry Ford Museum and member of the acquisitions committee, Detroit Historical Society, will talk on Antique Folk Art and, on March 2, he will speak on Oriental Rugs.

The lectures will include slide presentations with time allotted for discussion and the viewing of pieces brought in by audience members for identification. The fee is $5.50 for each lecture.

Tax Law Gives Seniors Break

Local government units can give senior citizens more time to pay property taxes without penalty under Public Act 166 of 1977, co-sponsored by State Sen. Joseph M. Snyder.

"This bill was written to help seniors pay what is one of their largest annual bills and still be able to pay their other regular on-going household expenses," Mr. Snyder said in a news release.

"In particular, it will ease the financial burdens of those older citizens who need their homestead property tax credits from the state to pay local tax bills."

Under the new law, local units of government are given the option of waiving for seniors 65 years or older, the three percent late tax payment penalty fees they can charge persons who pay bills after Tuesday, February 14.

Seniors who give copies of homestead property tax refund claims filed with the state before Wednesday, February 15, to local treasurers and fail to receive refunds before that date would qualify for the exemption.

The new act also gives county boards of commissioners the option of exempting qualifying seniors from late tax payment penalty fees, which include a three-quarters of one percent per month interest charge, after counties receive delinquent tax rolls from local treasurers.

County boards would be able to provide seniors that exemption until the end of April.

Seniors who failed to receive homestead property tax refunds from the state before March 1 and presented copies of refund claims to their county treasurer would be eligible for the exemption.

GPS Has New Dog Licenses

New 1978 dog licenses are currently available at Shores public safety departmental headquarters, 795 Lakeshore road.

The expiration date for the 1977 license is this March and a new license will be needed after that time, said Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale last week.

When citizens purchase their new documents at $5, they will need proof of their pet's current vaccination.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

On Thursday and Friday, a.m. as possible, our efforts to notify the staff, students and media began.

Since the January 26 emergency, the members of the administrative staff have reviewed the appropriateness of the closing procedures.

With a minor modification or two, we are satisfied that the plan as originally outlined is as satisfactory as it can be.

By definition of the word "emergency," it is difficult, if not impossible, to formulate a policy and procedures for implementation with 100 percent assurance of success in all "emergency" situations.

From the recent nightly television accounts of conditions on the east coast, we note that part of the country has experienced serious problems again, in spite of warnings, forecasts and past experience.

In conclusion, in spite of the lateness of the arrival of the blizzard which had been forecast, we are delighted that there were no mishaps or serious problems.

We always try to minimize inconvenience to staff, students and families, but some inconvenience is inevitable by the nature of an emergency situation.

What Goes On at Your Library

By William T. Peters, Director of Public Libraries

This week I would like to call your attention to a few somewhat unusual books that you might not be aware of.

DON'T PANIC, (Golden Press, 1975), by Ruth Winter, is an oversize paperback that tells you what to do and what not to do in all kinds of family emergencies.

For example, your electric can opener doesn't work, don't panic, read pages 17 and 18. Page 46 tells you what to do if your car hood flies up while you are cruising along life's highway.

Life's little emergencies are not passed over lightly. Are bugs in the house a problem? Do you have a house plant that is too skinny and frail? Perhaps your faucet drips or your shower curtains are discolored from mildew.

Life's little emergencies are not passed over lightly. Are bugs in the house a problem? Do you have a house plant that is too skinny and frail? Perhaps your faucet drips or your shower curtains are discolored from mildew.

The distinction of being the most unusual animal belongs to the duck billed platypus. W. C. Fields' tax deductions rank as the most unusual. He once claimed deductions for charitable contributions to churches in the Solomon Islands and depreciation on his lawnmower.

Perhaps a bit more reliable but no less interesting is Patrick Robertson's THE BOOK OF FIRSTS, (Crown Publishers, 1974).

When was the first airplane hijacked? Who invented the first bicycle? What did the first jigsaw puzzle look like? Where was the first animated film cartoon made? Was WWJ Detroit the first commercial radio station in America to broadcast regular daily programs?

Hundreds of authentic "firsts" are fully recorded in this remarkable book. Admittedly it is seldom possible to be unhesitatingly certain that any particular endeavor is entirely original, but it is a well researched book that makes fascinating reading.

Thomas Burke, a teacher of history and geography at the Lowmyer Junior High School in East Dearborn, has written an excellent history of what was once the pride and joy of the Ford Motor Co. and the City of Dearborn—the Ford Rotunda. The title of this short, 44-page book is THE HISTORY OF THE FORD ROTUNDA: 1934-1962.

Henry Ford had the Rotunda built for the Chicago World's Fair of 1933-34. After the fair it was to be dismantled and discarded. However, it was shipped to Dearborn, where it was rebuilt in 1936.

The architect responsible for redesigning the Rotunda at its new location in Schaefer road opposite the Ford Administration Building was Albert Kahn of Detroit.

The Rotunda, a hollow cylinder, measured 212 feet in diameter. A glassed inter wall formed the circular "Court of the World." This measured 90 feet across, and it was open to the sky in summer and winter.

Thousands visited the Rotunda each year. The Christmas exhibit called the Christmas Fantasy delighted children of all ages. It was from the Rotunda that industrial tours of the Rouge Industrial Complex started.

On November 9, 1962, the magnificent structure was completely destroyed by fire. All that was saved was the north wing that housed Ford's priceless archives.

A number of fine photographs enhance the value of the book. Whatever your interest the public library probably has a book for you. After all, we do want to prove that Oscar Wilde was wrong when he wrote, "It is a very sad thing that nowadays there is so little useless information."

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who has been authorized by the council to be the city's chief negotiator in upcoming bargaining sessions, said last week all three unions, (patrolmen, sergeants and lieutenants), made proposals for demands to the city.

The city is obligated under the current contracts to open negotiations with the three unions on or before March 1," he said.

At this point, Mr. Petersen indicated all three unions are focusing upon two-year pacts, i.e., for fiscal years 1978-79 and 1979-80.

Natators Do Well in Meet

The Grosse Pointe Swim Club, along with 36 other swim clubs from throughout the state, participated in the Clarenceville Mini-Meet on Saturday and Sunday, February 4 and 5. It was an exciting weekend for these little swimmers to have their own meet for all those under age eight.

The boys who joined in the events were all six-years-old. In the 25-yard free, Mark Matthews came in second. In the 50 free, it was Paul Pugliesi with a second. Paul also placed fifth in the 25-yard back, and had a first in the 25-yard breaststroke, with a time of 26.2. Mark Matthews was sixth in the 25-yard fly.

Kelly Bartsch dominated the seven-year-old girl's high point winners. She placed first in the 25-yard free, with a time of 16.1, and also had a first in the 50-yard free, with a time of 36.5. Kelly got a second in both the 25-yard breast and the 25-yard fly.

Sandy Smith helped the eight-year-old girls by placing third in the 25-yard free, fifth in the 50-yard free and fourth in the 100-yard free events. She also came in fourth in the 25-yard breast, and second in the 50-yard breast.

The girls relay teams did exceptionally well. A first, with a time of 1:04.6, was earned by Kelly Bartsch, Ann Verona, Laura Shope and Sandy Smith in the 100-yard free relay.

Another first, for the 200 free relay, with a time of 2:31.9, went to the team of Sue Georgi, Sandy Smith, Kelly Bartsch and Ann Verona.

The 100-yard medley relay team of Liz Renick, Sandy Smith, Kelly Bartsch and Laura Shope came in third, as did the 200-yard medley relay team of Liz Renick, Sandy Smith, Kelly Bartsch and Ann Verona.

John Sfere, the GP Swim Club coach, was very proud of all his swimmers who took part in the meet, in which as many as 80 swimmers per event participated. He put the "most improved swimmers" title on Carrie Treffers, Brian Curtiss, Joe Posch and Kelly Bartsch for their effort in this meet.

License Denied

A request for a refuse vendor license from Simon P. Barry of East Eight Mile road was unanimously denied by the Woods Council at its regular meeting Monday, February 6. Mr. Barry's application was the fifth one considered by the council for 1978, with the solons previously indicating that they wished no more than four such licenses in the city.

Ski Clubs Set Big Weekends

The War Memorial's Adult Ski Club plans a ski weekend at Boyne Mountain, with skiers staying at the Boyne-Hood Lodge Friday through Sunday, March 3 to 5.

It includes a round trip charter bus, snacks and beverage while riding, two nights lodging, (two to a room), meals, a wine and cheese party and lift tickets for $99. The trip is limited to 38 participants.

The Center's Grosse Pointe Ski Hi Club for students has an excursion to Schuss Mountain Friday through Sunday, February 24 to 26. Included for $75 is round trip charter bus, lodgings at the Kingdom of Schuss, swimming and ice skating as well as skiing, meals and chaperonage. Special skiing insurance at $2.50 is mandatory, and the trip is limited to 45.

Ski Hi also has one final ski trip to Pine Knob scheduled for March 3 from 4 to 11:30 p.m. Round trip charter highway bus transportation, lift tickets and chaperonage included at $9.75. Group lessons are available at $1.25 and ski rentals at $3.50. Skiing insurance at $1 is mandatory.

On Summer Tax Plan, Child Safety Program

The decision of the School Board on Monday, February 13, to withdraw its request to cities for a summer tax collection based on a state school code "technicality" which apparently would make it impossible for both Harper Woods and Grosse Pointe City to collect school taxes in July was obviously a correct one. (See story, Page 1.)

However, after all that has been said and done since last summer, when the proposal was first introduced, on the part of school officials toward promoting the idea and the subsequent response on the part of many residents, particularly senior citizens, against the idea, e.g., in several "Letters to the Editor" in the NEWS, it all seems strangely anticlimactic.

At the same time, such a proposal was contingent upon the approval of all six affected communities with school officials personally "carrying the torch" before the Woods, Park and Harper Woods Councils toward convincing them that the idea was a good one.

In fact, a meeting was finally scheduled for Wednesday, February 8, at which time representatives of all the cities and school officials could hash out any necessary questions, clear up any potential misconceptions and just clear the air.

But, lo and behold, the meeting was cancelled the day before, after the legal opinion on such a collection was received by the school administration.

In retrospect, it all seems like an exercise in frustration for everyone concerned or as William Shakespeare might have said in relation to the denouement, "Much Ado About Nothing."

In one way, the attempted abduction reports which have been received in The Woods, (see story, Page 1), along with the reported exposing incidents in The Farms and Harper Woods earlier this month, are a good sign because of the overall awareness of the Pointe-wide child safety program and the consciousness of youngsters, parents and the schools to consistently enforce the axiom, "Don't Go with Strangers."

On the other hand, the reports are inherently distressing by their nature for the potential for danger, even considering that the majority of cases may be nothing more than pranks, remains for the involved children, all of whom have had the sense to run from their antagonists.

As the NEWS said in an editorial published December 29, such reports should dismiss any "it can't happen here" attitudes on the part of the community, along with the need to continually remind children to never go with strangers.

In light of this, the false kidnapping report filed by a City youngster is decidedly disturbing for whatever reason. Granted, some children may inadvertently get themselves in trouble and, to cover up, may have to create some kind of story.

But having such "a boy who cried wolf" situation, when the efforts of so many are geared toward avoiding a tragedy, appears totally senseless.

Jewels & gems

by Jerry-Valente

There are several techniques for adding patterns or designs to plain glass. Cut glass is produced by the use of a revolving wheel which actually cuts into the surface of the glass. All fine cut glassware is crafted by hand. The cutting is a delicate process which is used primarily for creating traditional designs. In etching, glass is not cut away from the surface. Instead, acid is applied to the glass and eats the design right into the piece. Many pieces of fine art, in addition to tableware, are created by artists who use etching to draw scenes into glass.

We have gifts that are just a little bit different, here at VALENTE JEWELRY, 16601 East Warren at Kensington, Detroit, 881-4800. Remember us when you are planning on giving your special girl that special ring, or if you have a watch that needs repair, rely on us to get the job done expertly. And if you want engraving done beautifully and quickly, VALENTE'S can do it. We do all our own work. MasterCharge and Visa welcome. We're open from 9 'til 5:30 Mon. thru Sat., Fri. nite 'til 7:30.

GEM FACT: Engraved glass—which appears frosted—is made by a small copper wheel.

SEMTA Views New Bus Fares

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, (SEMTA), announced a new suburban fare structure last week for all SEMTA routes.

"The new suburban fare structure, which actually lowers rates in some areas, will go into effect May 1, 1978. For the first time the region will have an equitable and easily understood fare structure," Larry E. Salci, SEMTA general manager, said in a news release.

"We are not increasing fares for all SEMTA bus riders," he stressed. "We are simplifying the fare schedules and equalizing fares throughout the region. Fifty percent of our riders will experience a fare decrease, 28 percent will experience a fare increase and 22 percent will experience no change at all."

Locally, the fare between Detroit and The Woods, Mack avenue and Vernier road, will decrease from the current 70-cent charge to 65 cents, while from Detroit to St. Clair Shores, 10 Mile road and Jefferson, the fare falls from 75 to 65 cents.

Six suburban fare zones, each approximately three miles wide, have been created around the City of Detroit. For a base fare of 50 cents, a passenger may ride through two zones. An additional 15 cents will be required to ride a bus through each additional zone with the maximum fare set at $1.25.

Senior citizens and handicapped persons will continue to pay half fare in off-peak hours and full fare during peak hours on all SEMTA routes.

For additional information regarding the new SEMTA suburban fare structure, call 962-5515 or 1-800-462-5161.

One View from the Capitol

By William R. Bryant Jr.

The double bottom tankers deliver a lot of gasoline, and they crash and burn far too often.

I intend to vote for their ban from the highways until new, lower center of gravity designs are available.

Part of the problem seems clearly to be the lack of stability of the second trailer.

Further problems are the method of trailer connection and the separated chambers within the trailer, via vertical separators.

Some problems of distribution have taken place since early January when Gov. Milliken imposed a ban on daytime use of the double bottoms in the metropolitan area.

There will be distribution problems, mainly with gasoline, and not fuel oil, but even though our recent blizzards the problems have not been severe.

I have had one report, from a local Gulf station, that they ran out of gasoline for a three-day period last week. When the owner called Gulf their reaction was not to try to get an emergency delivery to the station but rather to tell the station operator to call me and complain about the ban on the double bottom.

So, even as to that one local station I don't know if he ran out because Gulf really could not get gas to him, or if Gulf is slowing deliveries to try to prove a need for the double bottom rigs.

Woods Views Police Demands

Demands from the public safety department were viewed by the Woods Council, which adjourned to a closed session to explore the proposals, during its regular meeting Monday, February 6.

City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, who has been authorized by the council to be the city's chief negotiator in upcoming bargaining sessions, said last week all three unions, (patrolmen, sergeants and lieutenants), made proposals for demands to the city.

"The city is obligated under the current contracts to open negotiations with the three unions on or before March 1," he said.

At this point, Mr. Petersen indicated all three unions are focusing upon two-year pacts, i.e., for fiscal years 1978-79 and 1979-80.

Six Remain For GPW Post

A final decision on the naming of a new public safety director in The Woods should occur by Wednesday, March 1, reported City Administrator Chester E. Petersen this week.

Results from tests, administered by a public management firm on 12 of the remaining applicants, were received by the city and now that number has been sliced to six.

Three of the applicants are from Michigan, while the other three live outstate, but he declined to reveal any further information at this time.

They will now go before an assessment board for personal interviews. This is scheduled to take place on Saturday, February 25.

After the interviews are completed, Mr. Petersen stated, "A highly confidential and discreet background check will be made before the final selection."

It's a very special, very exclusive charm. You can't buy it. It must be given to you, and in order for you to be given it, you must give . . . of yourself, to your community.

Marianne is one of eight volunteers cited last Tuesday, Valentine's Day, at the 11th annual Heart of Gold Award Luncheon sponsored by the Heart of Gold Award Council and Women for the United Foundation.

She was nominated for her Heart of Gold by the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, of which she is a former president and life member.

Among the several projects she initiated during her Symphony Juniors' presidency was the establishment of a hospitality committee to welcome guest artists and conductors to Detroit. A complete redecoration of the orchestra's Green Room was also on her presidential agenda.

Carolyn Tourney Is Winter Bride

She Speaks Vows to Robert Joseph Florek Two Days before Christmas in Saint James Lutheran Church

The Reverend George E. Kurz, assisted by The Reverend Monsignor Edward J. Hickey, officiated at the Friday, December 23, wedding of Carolyn Rose Tourney and Robert Joseph Florek.

The 6 o'clock, candlelight ceremony at Saint James Lutheran Church was followed by a reception in the Crystal Ballroom of the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Garfield Tourney, of Washington road, chose a gown of ivory peau de soie, its skirt and circular train applied in re-embroidered Alencon lace.

Her lace bodice, Empire-style, high-necked and beaded with tiny crystals and pearls, featured long, lace sleeves, scalloped at the elbow with double tiers of chiffon over tapered cuffs. A Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls held her cathedral length train and double mantilla of illusion net bordered with Alencon lace.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis and wore a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Patricia Ann Tourney was her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants were Catherine Tourney, another sister, Marilyn Florek, sister of the bridegroom, Frances Beever and honor matron Mrs. Gordon Hale.

Their gowns of burgundy

Qiana were fashioned with Empire bodices and scoop necklines. A small bow detailed each bodice and the wrist of each long, gathered sleeve.

They wore garlands of holly, baby's-breath and pink cymbidium orchids in their hair and carried bouquets of holly, baby's-breath and roses the maid of honor's pink, the bridesmaid's red, with pink velvet streamers.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Florek, of Sterling Heights, asked Kevin Bentley to serve as best man.

Ushering were James Cina, of Chicago, cousin of the bridegroom, William Kusmierz, another cousin, David Lowrie and Mr. Hale.

Assistant hosts and hostesses at the reception were Dr. and Mrs. George Mikhail, of Elmsleigh lane, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Sillery, of Lakeland avenue, Mr. and Mrs. William Freeborough and Mr. and Mrs. George Shakin, of Detroit.

Music for the service was provided by Edward Kingins, tenor, Herman Clein, organist, and Kenneth Clein, trumpeter.

The mother of the bride selected a floor length gown of jade green velvet featuring an Empire bodice and long, tapered sleeves.

The bridegroom's mother's floor length gown was of delicate pink Qiana, its long, full sleeves detailed with jeweled cuffs.

The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Frances Kusmierz, of Detroit, also selected pink Qiana. Her gown featured an accordion pleated demi-cape.

Both mothers and the grandmother wore identical shoulder corsages of pink cymbidium orchids and baby's-breath.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. Guy L. Tourney, of Quincy, Ill., uncle and aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Alois Cina and their son Jerome, of Chicago, uncle, aunt and cousin of the bridegroom; Steven Sogar and his sons Michael, Kenneth and James, of Hillside, Ill., uncle and cousins of the bridegroom; and Mr. and Mrs. James Fogarty, of Clinton, Miss.

The newlyweds vacationed in the south and are making their home in Royal Oak while completing their graduate course work in Geology at Wayne State University.

In June they will reside in Woods Hole, Mass., where the bridegroom, a National Science Foundation Fellow, will continue his thesis research at the Oceanographic Institution.

Speak of the Devil

Did you spot the familiar faces on the Music Hall stage in Michigan Opera Theatre's production of "Faust?" That's Dale Austin, of Woodland place, and Anna Batts, of Beaconsfield avenue, up there among the "supers."

If you haven't seen "Faust" yet, (it opened last weekend; remaining performances are scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday), make a point of getting tickets for it. And making a point of looking for Dale and Anna when you go.

Renee Sliman Wed in Fall

The wedding of Renee Marie Sliman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sliman, of Nottingham road, and Robert Michael Grozenski, son of the Frank Grozenskis, of Warren, Saturday, September 17, in Saint Maron's Cathedral was followed by a reception in Saint Maron's Hall.

The Reverend Valentine Chkrul came from Utica, N.Y., to preside at the 5 o'clock rites.

Celebrating the mass were The Reverend Stanley Milewski, chancellor of the Orchard Lake Schools, The Reverend Lenard F. Chrobot, president of Saint Mary's College, The Reverend Francis Koper, rector of Orchard Lake Seminary, The Reverend Clifford F. Ruskowski, The Reverend Richard Nachejeski, The Reverend Steven Banalewicz and Louis Escobar, both of Toledo, and The Reverend Anthony Kosnik.

Music for the ceremony was provided by MaryElizabeth Smith and Ed Arnister, guitars and vocals, and Maryann Olson, vocals.

Masters of ceremony were Paul Lisik and Steven Shablin, of Worcester, Mass.

The bride carried a cascade of stephanotis and miniature white orchids and clasped her late grandmother's pearls around her neck. The appliques on her A-line, silk organza gown matched the pearl clusters on her cathedral length silk veil, which fell from a Juliet cap.

Rita B. Sliman, honor maid for her sister, wore mauve chiffon. Bridesmaids, in pink chiffon, were MaryElizabeth Smith, Kathleen Kruczek, Lori Naidow, Michaelene Grozenski, sister of the bridegroom, Anne and Lisa Sliman, cousins of the bride.

and Liela Naklie, another cousin.

They carried cascades of pink roses and orchids and wore pink roses in their hair.

Flower girl was Marie Giannone, also a cousin.

Best man was Thomas J. Carr. In the usher corps were Edward and Steven Grozenski, brothers of the bridegroom, Lawrence Olek, Michael Kruczek, Rick Kruska, David Krakowski and Joseph Sliman, Jr., brother of the bride.

A rhinestone brooch accented the waist of the bride's mother's V-necked dress of flowing, pale yellow chiffon, styled with an attached, chiffon cape. The bridegroom's mother chose a long gown of tan Qiana, featuring a draped neckline.

Yellow cymbidium orchids formed both mothers' corsages.

The newlyweds vacationed on St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. They are making their home in the Orchard Lake area.

The new Mrs. Grozenski, who attended Saint Mary's College for two years after graduation from Servite High School, is continuing her studies at the University of Detroit School of Dentistry.

Her husband, who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Saint Mary's College, is working toward a Masters degree in Business Administration at the University of Detroit.

November Rites For Miss Miller

Michael Robert Lamberts Are at Home in St. Clair Shores after Vacationing in Montreal; Lace Accents Bride's Gown

A gown of white Qiana trimmed with Venise lace was selected by Patricia Ann Miller for her wedding Friday evening, November 4, in Mount Clemens' Trinity Lutheran Church to Michael Robert Lambert.

Lace rimmed her neck and her cathedral skirt. Her long sleeves ended in wrist ruffles edged with matching lace.

A lace band caught her long, nylon net veil. She carried white rosebuds and chrysanthemums.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller, of Calvin road. Mr. Lambert is the son of Mrs. Dorothy Lambert, of Harper Woods, and Hermann Lambert, of Windsor.

Mrs. Richard Gartner, of Germantown, Md., who attended the bride, wore fern green Qiana. She placed fall flowers, matching her bouquet, in her hair.

Richard L. Lambert was his brother's best man. Ushering were Gene F. Lambert, another brother, and Thomas

A. Miller, brother of the bride. The 6:30 o'clock rites at which The Reverend Edward G. Oermann presided were followed by a reception at Hillcrest Country Club.

The newlyweds vacationed in Montreal. They are at home in St. Clair Shores.

DSO Features Weissenberg

Maestro Paul Freeman, DSO conductor-in-residence, will be on the podium as world-renowned pianist Alexis Weissenberg performs in concerts with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Friday morning, February 17, Saturday night, February 18, and Sunday afternoon, February 19.

The program includes the first DSO performance of Serocki's Sinfonetta for Double String Orchestra as well as Sibelius' Symphony No. 7 and Prokofiev's Piano Concerto No. 3.

Few pianists have generated as much excitement and won such universal acclaim as Weissenberg. Each year he circles the globe for appearances in Europe, the Orient and North America.

His regular concerts with the great orchestras of the world, his recitals at famous music festivals and his extensive list of recordings have made him one of the few classical superstars of the age.

Tickets for the Friday morning Coffee Concert are available at $8, $6.50 and $5. Tickets for Saturday evening's performance are $9, $8, $7, $6, $5, $4 and $3.50.

Let's Talk Real Estate
by John E. Brink

Driving in one of our neighboring cities the other day and I couldn't help notice how fortunate we are in Grosse Pointe. The street didn't appear to have ever been plowed and the ice ruts were a foot and a half deep! The people all around were forever getting stuck and waiting hours for help—very frustrating!

There was a remark made by a homeowner in the area that you didn't dare abandon your car and go for help or it would be stripped before you got back!

Then it dawned on me that here in Grosse Pointe we have tiny little cities of only 5000 homes and we have the finest police, the best fire department, superb schools, great rubbish collection, our own private parks with swimming pools and marinas, excellent roads and on and on! Our tax structure is about the same but the difference is that our average home is about triple that of our neighboring Detroit. This means in a "given" community we can command about three times the taxes for a comparable size area.

This is why our property values are so important and why we should be concerned about every home in the area. We cannot ignore or condone a declining area—anywhere in Grosse Pointe! Now you perhaps know why we are so fanatic about our Cul-de-Sac, Community Development Program. It will certainly help bring values up more and more. Call Grosse Pointe Real Estate Co., 882-0087 if you're thinking of selling or buying. Help support the people who are truly trying to help keep your property values high!

to coming to Detroit. He has conducted 18 of the major orchestras in the United States and 23 orchestras in Germany, England, Poland, Italy, Finland, Iceland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

Alexis Weissenberg was born in Sofia, Bulgaria, and began his piano studies there. He later continued his musical education in Israel, where he made his professional debut at the age of 14.

Overwhelmingly acclaimed, he was immediately invited to make a tour of South Africa. He then came to America to attend the Juilliard School of Music.

He made his American debut with the New York Philharmonic under George Szell, as winner of the 1948 Leventritt International Award.

Following a 10-year self-imposed retirement from the concert stage in order to study and practice, he emerged in 1966 at a season-opening appearance with the Berlin Philharmonic under Herbert von Karajan.

DSO Departure for Greenberg

Philip Greenberg has resigned his post as Detroit Symphony Orchestra assistant conductor, effective with the conclusion of the current season in May, 1978.

Greenberg, who has been affiliated with the orchestra since 1974, commented on his DSO association: "The past four years with the Detroit Symphony have been the most musically and personally rewarding of my life. It has been a rare privilege and honor to work with one of America's great orchestras.

"It is with great difficulty then that I have reached a decision to resign my post after the current 1977-78 season.

"I have been receiving an increasing number of guest conducting invitations in Europe and in this country, and I feel that at this point in my career it would be extremely beneficial to concentrate my efforts on my work as music director of the West Shore Symphony and guest conducting engagements."

Greenberg, first American to win the prestigious Nicolai Malko International Conducting Competition in Copenhagen, has announced that he has accepted four months of conducting engagements in Scandinavia beginning in August this year.

He also will return to Europe early in 1979 for concerts in Italy and Germany.

Remarking on the Greenberg resignation, DSO executive director Marshall W. Turkin stated: "We regret that it is Philip Greenberg's

Distinctive Dining by Larry Lavigne

You do not have to be a grandmother to make jam. But to avoid being caught in one there are a few tips worth remembering. Use only fully ripe fruit. Crush one layer of fruit at a time to allow juices to flow freely. Use only the sugar called for in the recipe, never substituting brown sugar or confectioners' sugar for cane. Corn syrup can be substituted for part but not all of the sugar, although it is best to use a recipe that calls for corn syrup rather than converting it yourself.

You do not have to be Italian to enjoy Italian cooking. LAMBARDI'S RESTAURANT, 17125 E. Warren at Cadieux, Detroit, TU 5-9100, invites you to have dinner here and try out our famous Italian dishes—fettuccine, lasagne, ravioli, gnocchi, cannelloni—all made in our own kitchen and cooked to order just for you, not pre-cooked. Our sauces and grated cheeses are made right to order too. We also feature new dishes such as baby spare ribs and crab legs. Our seafood is flown in fresh every day, not frozen.

GOURMET TIP:
Open a can of asparagus from the bottom so you can pull out the spears without breaking the tips.

Heritage Day Fair on Their Horizon

There's another Heritage Day Fair on the horizon for Pointers Mrs. G. W. SCHMITT (left), and Mrs. GEORGE WALTZ, pictured manning the Country Store at last year's Historic Memorials Society in Detroit-sponsored fair. It's set this year for Wednesday, February 22, from 10 in the morning to 3 in the afternoon at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial, where booths will feature everything from homebaked goods to handmade stitchery. Proceeds will be donated, as always, to local historical projects.

Dual Selection Book Review

Mrs. Leland F. Carter will review "The Sleeping Giant" by Robert K. Hudnut and "Surgeon on Safari" by Paul J. Jordan, M.D., for the Book Review Group at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church next Tuesday, February 21, at 1 o'clock in Barbour Chapel.

All women of the church and friends are invited to attend the program and the noon luncheon preceding it.

Sunday Session Slated For Widowed Persons

The Grosse Pointe and Harper Woods Widowed Persons Service will meet Sunday, February 19, from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, Mack avenue at Torrey road, where Grosse Pointe North High School librarian Beth Reed will speak on How to Survive the Loss of a Loved One.

All widows and widowers are invited to join the discussion. Admission is free, and the group welcomes guests and new members.

World Travelers Invest Wisely!

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Nicolls (left) found their imposing oriental screen in Hong Kong and the Frank Koehl tracked their magnificent "una" in South America! They met in Brazil where both were with Ford Motor Company, and when they returned to the States found that they had both purchased luxury condominiums at Pebble Creek, located on 11 Mile Road west of Orchard Lake Road in West Bloomfield. A wise housing investment as well! Three models on display from $80,900 open daily and Sunday, 12 noon to 7 p.m. Children 11 and over accepted. A Herman Frankel Organization Development. Abduction Case Trial Today

A 21-year-old Detroit man, who's charged with robbery armed and assault with intent to murder stemming from an incident last October at the Eastland Shopping Center, is scheduled to face trial today, February 16, in Wayne County Circuit Court, reported Harper Woods police recently.
The suspect, Richard Johnson, is allegedly involved in abducting a 30-year-old Woods woman and her six-year-old daughter at knife point, forcing them to drive on the I-94 freeway and slashing the woman in the abdomen area.
After the auto struck the median, the fleeing suspect was apprehended a short time later by Harper Woods police in the area of Brys Park, St. Clair Shores.
The woman was treated at Saint John Hospital and ultimately released, while the daughter wasn't injured in the incident.

Cancer Unit Needs Aides

Like the US Mail used to be, neither snow, nor sleet nor hail stops the treatments given to cancer patients to control or halt the spread of the disease.
For this reason the services of volunteer drivers to transport patients are desperately needed. Likewise, volunteers who will spend some time in their own homes calling drivers and patients are urgently required.
If you are willing to drive patients from their homes to doctors' offices and hospitals in the area, or if you will do some of the necessary telephoning to bring patients and drivers together, call Maya Elmer, at the Michigan Cancer Foundation, 881-2416.

Board Named at St. Paul

Vern Olson of Holiday road will serve as chairman of the board of trustees and Bernard Woods of St. Clair Shores will chair the Deacons. Mr. Wilke also will act as chairman of the Elders and Mrs. Fick will chair the board of parish education.
Members of the council are Larry Jones of Holiday road, Al Myers of East Detroit, Harold Metz of Harper Woods, Mrs. Helen Myll of St. Clair Shores, Robert Graham of Blairmoor road, Russell Stewart of Harvard road and Helge Nurmi of Bourne-mouth road.
Others are David Adams of Fisher road, Bill Christofferson of Rivard boulevard, Bill Langman of Buckingham road, Margaret Firmschild of Shoreham road and Lois Newell of Severn road.
Pastors of the congregation are Dr. Kenneth R. Lentz and Rev. Paul E. Christ.

Pointe Skaters Tops in District

The Pointe's lone entry in the Junior C Division hockey league, (ages 17-20), clinched the Michigan Amateur Hockey District 111 championship in a 3-2 decision over Royal Oak on Sunday, February 12, at the Warren Arena.
The GP Juniors' win ended a three game series for the right to represent the Detroit suburbs for the Michigan State Title.
The Juniors' Steve Kovalcik sparked the win with two goals while Tom McHugh scored the other marker. Goalie Cab Morris was rated as the outstanding player in the series.

Mascarin Wins in Australia

The Junior Bonne Bell Cup International Team Tennis Competition between the United States and Australia was held in Melbourne, Australia, Friday through Sunday, February 10 to 12.
Susan Mascarin of The Shores was one of the six members of the United States team. Susan won all three of the matches she played.
In singles she defeated Jackie Pinto of Melbourne, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1 and Anette Guley of Sidney, 6-2, 6-1. In doubles Susan teamed with Andrea Jaeger of Lincolnshire, Ill., to defeat Pinto and Guley, 6-2, 6-0.
The United States team won the competition 10 matches to five.
HIGH JUMPER
Ken Humes, the son of Dr. and Mrs. James Humes of The Woods, is a freshman at Cornell University, specializing in the high jump for the university's track team. Ken, a North High School graduate, is enrolled in the School of Hotel Administration.

Thieves Visit Woods Home

Thieves entered a New-castle road home on Monday, February 6, and took a variety of articles, including several guns, reported Woods police.
The culprits gained entry by breaking a glass on an exterior storm door leading to the breezeway where they took a 20" Toro snowblower, valued at $225.
Then, they entered the home by breaking another piece of glass on an interior door. The missing guns were described as follows: one bolt action 22 single shot Remington, $75; one bolt action 22 with seven-shot clip rifle, a four power scope, $100; and a single shot 12-gauge Remington, $72.
Other articles reported missing include an RCA color television set, $500, a regency police scanner, $169, and a small portable police scanner radio, $65. A multi-colored quilt bedspread and three $1 bills also were taken.

By Ann Wallace

"We are learning about ourselves and how we cope with our feelings as we live this year in the United States," was the gist of the replies of six Grosse Pointe South High School foreign exchange students when asked what would be the most important part of their stay here in the United States.

They miss their families at home, their hobbies and pets. The weather here has been quite a hassle for some of them, especially Raphael McCausland, who is from the city of Barranguella, Columbia, South America, where the temperature is 120° almost year 'round!

Raphael was suffering from a cold during the interview, as one can well imagine. He, naturally, had never seen snow, so Michigan has really been an adjustment for him. "My country has lots of vegetation, like a jungle, with lots of coconuts and palm trees," explains Raphael, "so it has taken me a while to adjust to this climate. I am not used to it yet."

"We wear a sweater in the wintertime in my city of Chihuahua, Mexico," notes Lorena Villatoro. "In the summer we have lots of rain but we never have snow in the winter. I had to buy some warm clothes when I arrived here in September."

Awed by Amount
Andreas Huhn, of Lohne, Lower Saxony, West Germany, Gilles Pollen, of Verneuill, France, Florence Delaporte-Arnal, of Rouen, France, and Hakan Seipel, of Jonkoping, Sweden, all experience cold weather in their own countries, and even some snow, but they are still in awe of the amount of snow here and also the frigid temperatures. (I can say that is true of us Michiganians as well, right?)

Hakan, son of Sven and Ann-Margaret Seipel, who lives with Dr. and Mrs. Edward Jaskolski, of Fisher road, notes, "The weather doesn't bother me too much as it is similar to that in my country. It might be just a little warmer in Sweden in the winter, though, and a bit milder in the summer."

"I just love the skiing here, especially the downhill, but I also enjoy cross-country." All the students like American food very much, with hamburgers appearing to be the favorite with everyone. "In Paris," exclaims Gilles, who is living with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stickford, of Merriweather road, "there are many McDonald restaurants and many people love to go there!"

She Likes Junk Food
"I just love all the American food, including what is called 'junk' food," adds Lorena, who is staying with Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Cerauolo, of Washington road. "I never have had pizza or French fries before and I have found that I just love them!"

"I also like the American rock music and parties. The one thing I do miss so much are the serenades that are so popular in my country." Lorena is the daughter of a physician. He and Lorena's mother, Estella, have two other daughters who have been foreign exchange students, and a son. The high schools from which all the students come are smaller than South High School and this has been an adjustment for all of them. Their programs of study here are coordinated as much as possible with their course work in their own high schools as they all have about one year or more of studies left before finishing their schooling.

Attention Club Women, P.R. gals, looking for an innovative idea in a print project? Need help in design layout or party invitations? We at Bree Graphics, 20750 Mack Ave. specialize in creative ideas. Drop in or call for an appointment . . . ask for Rosann. 343-0182 or 884-1890.

forward to is the warmer weather when I will be able to sail again. As I have sailed much at home, I hope that I will be able to sign up this spring with some sailing crews."

They Miss Cafe
Both Gilles and Florence miss going to the local cafe after school to have some cheese and visit with friends. "This is something we do," explains Florence, "and I miss doing that here. I also miss my young cat as we really understand one another very well."

"In France, as the other students have said," continues Florence, who is the daughter of Jacqueline and Hubert Delaporte-Arnal, "our daily school schedule varies from day to day, but in a week's time we also will have covered all that is necessary."

"In our schools, there are not many outside activities such as sport teams or cheerleaders. Students here seem to have more concerns about their schools both in course-work and outside activities. At home, the students seem to be more aware of world events rather than local activities."

"The people in our community," notes Florence, "don't seem to be as concerned with one another. There are not many community activities nor are there many outside activities for our mothers."

Cites Parties, Cathedral
"As far as my hobbies are concerned, I love skiing and lots of parties which were held many times at home in Rouen, which has about one-half million inhabitants."

"The big cathedral at Rouen is just beautiful and it is a marvelous place to visit. It is very old but in excellent condition as are many houses and buildings that are about 300 years old."

"We have lots of tradition that we are keeping but it seems that the house that is 'only' 100 years old is being torn down. This is a shame because one day, these would continue to give our country the tradition we now enjoy."

Florence, who has plans one day to be an interpreter and travel all over the world, for now enjoys travelling to downtown Detroit and observing the hustle and bustle of a big American city.

Sponsored by the American Field Service, she will return this summer to Rouen to finish one more year of school following this year in Grosse Pointe. "My American family and the American Field Service representative have been just fantastic," exclaims Florence, who is staying with the Jerry Hodaks, of Meadow lane. "They have all helped me to adjust to life here."

Her Mother Is Teacher
Rafael, whose father Ignacio is a manager of sales for an aluminum corporation and whose mother Amira is a teacher, lives with Mr. and Mrs. John Albright, of Windmill Pointe drive.

"Like the others have said," notes Rafael, "South High School is much bigger than my school at home and there are many more students. I am enjoying my courses in American history, writing workshop, American Literature and math very much. They should help me in my desire to study medicine and become a physician."

A crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, homeported in Norfolk, Va., which has returned from an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea, was Navy Data Processing Technician First Class MARTIN J. LAFAVE, son of Pointers MR. and MRS. ALBERT J. LAFAVE.

Among those guests at Deaconess Hospital's 60th anniversary banquet were Pointers DR. and MRS. JOHN F. FENNESSEY. Dr. Fennessey was chief of staff in 1973 and 1974.

Pointers MR. and MRS. MICHAEL TIMMIS have been named members of the Anthony Wayne Society of Wayne State University which honors those who have made contributions to the university's continuing excellence and future growth.

Navy Aviation Boatswain's Mate Third Class GILBERT W. STEWART, son of MRS. JOANNE STEWART, of Kercheval avenue, and JOHN NASH STEWART, of Balfour road, is a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, homeported in Norfolk, Va., which recently returned from extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

Michigan Technological University freshman DANIEL K. HAYDEN, son of Pointers MR. and MRS. FRANK HAYDEN, who is majoring in Pre-Medicine and Pre-Dentistry, has been appointed a member of the Michigan Technological University judiciary board which handles jurisdiction over student offenses referred to it by the Dean of Students.

Hakan plans to attend a university in Sweden and study natural sciences. "My favorite subject is physics," says Hakan, "and I will probably study engineering. My father is an engineer so I will be like him."

"My home school also is smaller than South High School as there are about 800 students."

Misses His Family
"I miss my family," continues Hakan, "which includes three sisters who all have been American exchange students. They enjoyed themselves in the exchange program and I also enjoy it."

"My hometown of Jonkoping has a population of about 100,000 people. It is known as the 'Match Capital of the World' as the match was developed there about the year 1900. It was then manufactured there as well."

"I have enjoyed living here with my American family," explains Hakan. "They and my sponsor, Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe, have been so helpful as I feel very comfortable here."

Lorena, also sponsored by Rotary Club of Grosse Pointe, has enjoyed her host family and her courses at school, especially those that will help her toward her goals as an interpreter. Political science also interests her.

"The people here," notes Lorena, "have really been warm and they try to do everything so that I can enjoy my stay here."

"It has taken me a while to become used to the different style of architecture as well as the weather, but I am enjoying it very much. I have also enjoyed speaking about my country to people here and love to tell about the Indian tribe called the Tarahumaras Indians who all live to a very old age."

Long-lived Indians
"Many of them are well over 100 years old and their hair doesn't start to turn grey until they are over 100

If Winter Comes . . .
Someday it will be June, and once again LINC's City Fair will be going full blast on the Kern Block in downtown Detroit, and we'll all be enjoying it in sundresses, summer slacks and sandals.

The fair is Operation LINC's (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community), chief fund-raiser. It offers Detroiters and suburbanites low-priced goods which have not been placed on LINC projects. It's set this year for Wednesday and Thursday, June 7 and 8 . . . but before the fair there is, traditionally, a fair kick-off party.

That's set this year for Friday, March 10, at the John B. Albright home in Windmill Pointe drive.

The party will feature a Saint Patrick's Day theme, with strolling musicians, a lavish buffet, prizes and a boutique full of treasures. Tickets are $10 per person, and they ARE limited, and they WILL NOT be sold at the door. You must get them in advance by sending checks to Mrs. James Goss, 794 University place, Grosse Pointe, Michigan 48230.

In its last quarter, October 1 through December 31, LINC, with the help and donations of many Pointers, distributed $28,232 worth of used goods. This figure does not include new gifts given by Grosse Pointe students, teachers and parents to Wayne County foster care children.

Over 1,200 presents were contributed through LINC's Christmas Foster Care Program.

LINC is always in need of used goods, clothing, furniture, et al., to pass on to community organizations in Wayne County. All donations are tax deductible. The number to call to donate items—or your time—is 331-6700.

Sure Sign of Spring
A sure sign of spring in Grosse Pointe is the appearance of the Guidance Gazette supplement to the NEWS. This year's publication date is March 16.

The Gazette, a project of the Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, is both a fund-raising device and a public relations tool. Through the sale of ads, available through this Saturday, February 18, by calling 881-3968, the league raises money for the community's comprehensive mental health center.

Articles provide information on the Center's services and purposes and, hopefully, help to eradicate the social stigma that has been attached to people seeking help for mental or emotional problems.

Floramae (Mrs. Edward) Kliber, a seven-year veteran of the Gazette, six as editor, is back in the editor's chair for the eighth annual issue.

Diane (Mrs. Ronald) Simmons is advertising manager. Toni (Mrs. John) Stewart is financial manager. The NEWS' Bill Adamo is technical advisor.

Rosemary Elias' home will be the setting for a patrons' party on the eve of publication, March 15. All patrons will be listed in the Gazette.

years! They live off the land by growing their own crops. They make ceramics and jewelry and sell them as a means of support," adds Lorena. "If you want to come to my country one day, I would take you to see them."

Youth for Understanding, (YFU), has sponsored both Gilles, who also has enjoyed his host family and his classmates in school, and Andreas, who has appreciated the fine hospitality and friendliness of his American family.

"While I enjoy the roughhousing with my five brothers, ages 13 to 21," explains Andreas, "I am enjoying the change of living with my three American sisters. It certainly is different, in many ways!"

This fine group of young people, even though they do miss their homes, have bright, smiling faces and seem to be adjusting to life here in America.

While they are finding out about themselves, we have found out they indeed are fine representatives of their countries and demonstrate the reason for the exchange program — to exchange ideas and philosophies through the youths between all countries throughout the world in hopes of everlasting peace.
