ABC NEWSMAN BILL STEWART was "executed" by Nicaragua national guardsmen along with his driver-interpreter after stopping at a National Guard roadblock on the way to a working-class neighborhood in Managua. ABC soundman Jim Cefalo said Mr. Stewart, 37, was ordered to lie down and then the "guardsmen walked up to Bill and kicked him in the side. We knew then it was more than it appeared to be." Guardsmen have been endeavoring to curb Sandinista guerrilla efforts to take Rivas and set it up as a provisional capital.

ALTHOUGH BOTH companies are denying it, "Automotive News" has reported that Volkswagen of America is trying to purchase the financially-troubled Chrysler Corporation. Lee Iacocca, Chrysler president, said the story is "utter speculation." Robert Lienert, "Automotive News" editor, said, however, that his "publication stands by its story." Volkswagen officials also are denying any knowledge of such a plan. Volkswagen has been supplying Chrysler with some 300,000 engines a year for its Omni and Horizon front-wheel drive subcompacts.

PRESIDENT JIMMY CARTER allocated more diesel fuel and lifted weight restrictions in an effort to halt the independent truckers strike. Earlier, the Interstate Commerce Commission ceded a six percent surcharge to the truckers to cover increased fuel costs. Although some of the trucker's demands were met, violence was noted across the country with at least 18 persons arrested in Massachusetts after the National Guard there broke up a blockade of 80 trucks at a produce center. If the strike continues, shortages on supermarket shelves could materialize early next week, according to major grocery chains.

THE HOUSE ETHICS Committee in Washington will begin hearings on the alleged misconduct of Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Detroit. The 12 congressmen making up the committee will act as judge and jury to prove that Diggs was involved in a payroll kickback scheme netting him over $65,000. Attorneys for Diggs will seek to prove that whatever he did was legal or at least was not specifically prohibited by the House. Diggs is free pending his appeal of a conviction last October on 29 counts of criminal misconduct stemming from the kickback scheme.

EMPEROR HIROHITO OF JAPAN officially welcomed President Jimmy Carter and first lady Rosalynn Carter to a three-day summit on the price and supply of oil. The President, however, also was met by 700 leftist radicals who opposed his visit. Mr. Carter, who will meet with six other state leaders, told Japanese reporters that he hopes the summit will assure a "stable supply of oil and natural gas on the international market" with the same holding true for the price of energy.

DESCRIBED AS A "complete breakdown of law and order," 3,000 protesters in Levittown, Pa., battled police in anger of the spreading shortage of gasoline. A state of emergency was declared after the protesters burned cars, destroyed buildings and attacked police officers. One officer described the disturbance as a "genuine riot."

Farms Firefighters Have Busy Day

Farms firemen had barely finished helping out The Shores in a fire in that community when they were called to the scene of a fire on their own turf Sunday, June 24, at Burton Plumbing Contractors, 18740 Mack avenue. The two-alarm blaze of undetermined origin destroyed a garage-type structure containing assorted plumbing supplies and sent flames shooting up some 30 feet in the air. Two Farms firemen, Melvin Fosgard and Larry Hysell, were slightly injured in the blaze, which took two hours to put out. City Woods, Harper Woods and Detroit firefighters joined in the battle, during which caution was taken to prevent nearby propane gas containers from exploding.

GP Woods, HW Councils Hold Joint Meeting

Northwest Area Traffic Flow Main Topic of Discussion with Roslyn Road Barricades Set for Consideration in GPW on July 2; Senior Citizens Housing Also Discussed

By Roger A. Waha

Northwest area traffic flow in The Woods and senior citizens housing were two of several subjects discussed at a joint meeting of the Woods and Harper Woods Councils Tuesday, June 19, in the Lochmoor Club's tennis house lounge.

The meeting, which ran about 90 minutes, provided an opportunity for both councils to exchange information and viewpoints on issues affecting each city. It preceded a dinner at the club for officials and their spouses.

A main focus was the traffic flow problem and both cities agreed to refer this matter to their respective police agencies with a report back by around Monday, July 2. While The Woods has been attempting to solve this problem for around four years, Harper Woods officials indicated it was quite new to them, while wanting more time to digest the subject.

Will Not Please

This action, Woods officials admit, is not apt to please Roslyn road residents, who were expecting temporary barricades to be placed at the westerly city limits to control the traffic flow on their street over three weeks ago.

The Woods Council had voted on May 7 to refer this matter to Public Safety Director John Dankel, who recommended the blocking of Roslyn this spring on an experimental basis, with follow-up traffic monitoring on Hampton and Ridgmont.

Because of the erection of the temporary "Brys barricades" early in the year, traffic has reverted to neighboring streets such as Roslyn and solutions are being sought to alleviate the problem.

As part of his recommendation, Director Dankel proposed, if the traffic increased substantially on Hampton, (with barricades on Roslyn), that Hampton be closed and, if necessary, Ridgmont would follow in an attempt to dissipate traffic from the immediate area.

Shores Picks Cable Firm; Center Sticks with Plan

By David Kramer and Joanne N. Gouleche

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association's plan for managing a unified Pointe cable television system was shattered last week when the Shores Council voted unanimously to grant a cable franchise to another firm, Cox Cable Inc.

The council's action, on Tuesday, June 19, came despite a move by the association designed to bid for time until it could present a proposal to the cities. That move, approved by the other four Pointes and Harper Woods, assured the War Memorial and The Shores that a franchise wouldn't be granted to any firm before September 30.

Boundary Dispute Continues

Judge to Issue Opinion on Long-Running Hassle Between Park, Detroit over Wayburn Road Property

By Susan McDonald

The frustrations of dealing with bureaucratic assessors, inspectors and investigators from one city are enough to drive most of us to distraction. Coping with two cities is a headache beyond belief.

Ask the residents of the west side of Wayburn road. They've been bouncing between two city halls for years because of a long-running boundary dispute between The Park and Detroit.

They may finally be in store for some relief this summer from Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Ronald Olzak is scheduled to hear arguments today, June 28, from attorneys representing Detroit and residents of west Wayburn, who have been joined in their legal battle by The Park and Pointe public schools.

Unpleasant Surprises

The odd boundary between the two cities runs right through most of the 100 homes on the west side of Wayburn and has led to some unusual problems for the 450 or so residents.

They pay taxes and can vote in both cities and send their children to schools in either system. Detroit picks up their garbage, while The Park shovels their front walks.

Police and firemen respond from both cities to calls in the area, but follow-up investigations are another matter. If the crime is committed in the back of the house it's usually Detroit's venue, but if the burglar runs out the front door The Park takes over.

Most of the homeowners thought they were buying houses in The Park, (their legal address), and many have had some unpleasant surprises about their status.

Nine Years Of Service Ends June 30

Woods Forced to Reassign Personnel, While Local Police Departments Consider Adjustments in Light of School Board's Decision to Pull Out

By Roger A. Waha

After almost nine years of service to the community, the Youth Service Division, (YSD), will close its doors as The Pointe's juvenile crime fighting unit on Saturday, June 30.

The bell tolled for the YSD on Monday, June 18, when the School Board unanimously agreed to pull out of the division, mainly because of financially-oriented reasons and the temporary transfer of a YSD officer earlier this month from North High School to The Woods detective bureau without prior notification.

As a result of the Board's decision, The Woods, which is managing municipality of the YSD, as had to reassign its personnel, including the four division detectives and its clerk, with swift dispatch and with the objective of avoiding layoffs.

Question Timing

The swift sequence of events began when YSD Det. John Albrecht was transferred from the division on Monday, June 4, to the detective bureau for two main reasons: to eliminate a $6,000 deficit in the division's approved 1979-80 budget, (with The Woods paying the total cost), and to alleviate a manpower situation in the detective bureau because of pending surgery to a Woods detective. The adjustment was to be effective until September 1.

While the transfer was generally accepted by the city managers of the affected municipalities, (who comprise the YSD's board of managers along with a School Board official), Dr. Joseph Spagnoli, the School Board's representative, and Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Coats both expressed concern over the move, calling it a unilateral decision which was made without prior notification.

School officials also expressed some apprehension over the timing of the transfer, which was made around two weeks before the end of the semester, a usually critical time in relation to graduation, senior high, ranks and incidents of vandalism.

As a result, the School Board decided to pull out of the YSD on the 30th.

Besides the effort to reassign personnel in The Woods, the ramifications of the YSD's demise will affect the school system, which will have to provide its own security personnel, local police departments, all of whom will have to make some compensating adjustments, and the community in total.

GP Shores Approves New Budget

Increased Costs Attributed to Inflation; Property Taxes to Jump Around 19 Percent

By Joanne N. Gouleche

Calling it a tight budget with inflation much to blame for increased costs, a $1.8 million document was unanimously approved by the Shores Council on Tuesday, June 19.

The new budget for fiscal year April 1, 1979, to March 31, 1980, incorporates a millage rate increase of .75 of a mill, from 17.0 to 17.75 mills, while property taxes will jump around 19 percent.

It was the third revised budget presented before the council which previously called for only a .25 of a mill increase, (.1725 mills), but Councilman Robert C. Palmer, finance chairman, stated it would be very difficult for the Village to operate under such a tight budget.

Emergency Concern

"A 17.25 mill budget would be a bare, bare bones budget," Mr. Palmer firmly told the council.

Mr. Palmer's main concern was that there wouldn't be enough emergency monies in case something suddenly confronted the Village.

"If anything ever happened that would reduce our revenue, we haven't got a darn cent," he stated.

"I don't like to be pessimistic, but it's the minimum," (Continued on Page 8)

Ministerial Group Plans An All-Pointe Festival, 'Celebrating Families'

Five-Month Project to Include Family Nights, Whole Family Almanac And Family Fair Next Winter at War Memorial

By Susan McDonald

If you attend a church in Grosse Pointe it's likely you've already heard about "Celebrating Families." It's in the churches that the project is getting its start—among the pastors, priests and lay leaders who are most active in the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association.

But, before it's complete next winter, "Celebrating Families" will blossom to encompass not only churches but schools, service clubs, recreation organizations, social agencies and hundreds of people — any person or group that has anything to do with a family.

And that means just about everyone: traditional family members as well as single parents, widows, childless couples and divorcees. Everyone has a family of some sort and getting that family together, getting it to work as a positive, supportive unit, is the purpose of the Celebration.

Talking Helps

At a time when competition for peoples' time and commitments tends to draw families apart, the ministers hope to draw people together, with discussions of their common problems and an exploration of the ways they learn to give to each other.

It all formally begins the week of October 7 through 11 with Family Nights in each congregation. Already 15 parishes are planning their evenings. There will be times for families to talk in small groups over coffee and tea about the trials, rewards and failures of family life.

Topics for discussion will vary from church to church, group to group. They may include "teenagers in the family," or "a two career family," or "drinking," or "family fun together."

"What we hope will happen at the Family Nights is that people will discover they're not alone with the problems—and joys—they're facing in their own families," explained Celebration organizer, Rev. David Bonde of First English Evangelical Lutheran Church.

"That sounds simple, but it's important," added Rev. David Eshleman, another organizer, of Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church.

A Family Catalogue

"We find that isolation from other families is often a big problem to people here. You know, just talking about a problem with someone can be very therapeutic. But we find many people don't get that chance," Rev. Eshleman said.

Using some of the stories and ideas developed at the Family Nights, another group, under Ruth Wehmeyer, will compile and publish the Whole Family Almanac — "a veritable catalogue of resources that are available in the community to strengthen families," Rev. Eshleman stated.

The Almanac will list agencies that provide entertainment, recreation, counseling and other services for families, as well as "family stories" from the parish gather- (Continued on Page 8)

Incinerator Faces July 1 Shutdown

Refuse Authority's Failure to Meet Emissions Standards, Plus Odor Problems, Main Concerns

By David Kramer

The trouble-plagued incinerator operated by the Grosse Pointes-Clinton Refuse Disposal Authority will be forced to shut down on Sunday, July 1, unless last minute court action can overrule a state order.

Failure to meet federal emissions standards, and odors experienced by residents in the vicinity of the Clinton Township plant, are the causes for the shutdown order issued by the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission on Tuesday, June 19.

July 1 is the deadline for compliance to emissions standards imposed by the Federal Clean Air Act Amendment of 1977.

Appeal Filed

Authority attorney Charles Towner said an appeal was filed in Macomb County Circuit Court in April, with the case being remanded to a Department of Natural Resources, (DNR), hearing officer.

The hearing officer will report to the state on the progress made toward compliance at its August 21 meeting. The state could then decide to allow continued operation of the plant until electrostatic precipitators are scheduled to be installed in 1981.

Extension of state deadlines, however, will do nothing toward keeping the federal Environmental Protection Agency, (EPA), from imposing its own fines on the authority. In fact, says Robert Miller, chief of enforcement for the Air Quality Division, DNR, certain of the federal fines are mandatory, and do not require a court action to be imposed. (Continued on Page 2)

Three Pointes Up Water Rates

The Park, City and Shores Councils recently raised combined water and sewer rates to citizens effective Sunday, July 1, as the final phase of a three-step adjustment needed to bring Detroit's downriver sewage treatment plant into compliance with Environmental Protection Agency standards.

Rates were raised 16 percent in The Park, 15 percent in The City and 20 percent in The Shores. In The Park, the combined sewage-water rate will jump from $6 to $7 per thousand cubic feet for people with one-inch meters. Customers with meters over one inch will be assessed a flat $20 per quarter. The Park (Continued on Page 8)

GP Park Getting Ready For Big July 4th Parade

Clowns, a community band, floats and antique cars will highlight the Fourth of July parade sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Park Civic Association.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. with a special landing of a Detroit MED-EVAC helicopter at the Three Mile Park, Essex and Three Mile drives, at 4 p.m. The helicopter's main function is to transport victims to the burn center in Ann Arbor or to transfer critically ill patients from one hospital to another.

Medical equipment and facilities aboard the aircraft will be explained.

The adult section of the parade will travel east on St. Paul avenue, south on Somerset and south on Westchester roads to Essex drive where it will merge with the children's section and continue east on Essex to Three Mile Park.

Duane Dickson will be the parade marshal this year. Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson will be honorary parade marshal.

At Three Mile Park, the Musical Artist Band led by Mrs. Helen Adams will entertain with dixieland and sing-along music.

Sam Smith, membership chairman of the civic association, will be in charge of races and games for children with prizes awarded to the winners.

"Last year about 2,000 people watched the parade or came to the park," said Al (Continued on Page 8)

Cause of Fire In Park Cited

A smoke bomb is being cited as the cause of the three alarm blaze that seriously injured two firefighters at 743 Berkshire road Wednesday, June 13, according to Park Fire Chief Phillip M. Costa.

The fire started in an upstairs bedroom and was confined to the roof and rafters. Firemen from The Park, City and Farms battled the blaze for over three hours.

Amount of damage is still unknown, Chief Costa said. In the incident, Farms Sgt. James Mauck injured his eyes from dirt and soot, while Park Firefighter Casper Allor injured a tendon on his left hand, which is now in a cast. (Continued on Page 10)

Youth Service Division Closes Its Doors after Nine Years of Service

Shutdown on Horizon

(Continued from Page 1) ness of the School Board's action, with 12 days notice, has caused some confusion as to how the Public Safety Department will be restructured and how existing YSD personnel will be utilized. Numerous transfers will be made effective Sunday, July 1, with initial plans calling for no changes again in the near future.

Currently, there's one officer vacancy, two clerk-dispatcher vacancies, (as of Sunday, July 8), The Woods' own contribution to the YSD budget for 1979-80, ($40,834.33), and an estimated savings of around $10,000 from an amount previously budgeted for municipal building janitorial services.

The departmental transfers as planned include the following: Det. Albrecht, now in the detective bureau, will remain in the bureau, specializing as the city's youth officer; YSD Dets. James Fowler, Jack Treppa and William Desilets will join the road patrol; and YSD Clerk Ruth Cummins will be assigned to the detective bureau.

Paul Crook, the department's traffic safety and crime prevention officer, will be attached to the detective bureau, while Det. Thomas Podeszwick will remain in the bureau and Officer Stephen Petrik, who's currently assigned to the road patrol, will join the bureau.

Meanwhile, Officers Stuart Gerow and Bruce Marone, who have been assigned to the bureau for light duty as a result of on-duty related injuries, will function as clerk-dispatchers. Det. Charles Philip Hamel is scheduled for surgery soon and is expected to be off for an extended period of time.

Difficult Transition
"Obviously, I'm disappointed (in the Board's action). I've been through two budget preparation sessions and both times the YSD has been up in the air, with everyone holding their breath earlier this spring," said Woods Public Safety Director John Dankel.

"We feel the people involved in the (YSD) program did a good job. It's a beneficial program which is going to be missed," he stated.

Department officials have done some thinking in the past regarding any adjustments because of the tenuous aura surrounding budget deliberations but this, because of the time element, was still a difficult transition, he continued.

"Fortunately, we've had some vacancies. If we were up to our authorized strength, we would probably have more than one layoff. It appears right now that we will have no layoffs although we will be running several thousand dollars in the hole for 1979-80," said Director Dankel, who noted officials have gotten the potential deficit down to a "manageable level."

In noting the YSD's board of managers could meet again, the director said if there's any movement to start over, he would be willing to talk about it.

"The way its (school system), withdrawal was han-died caused us a very wrenching readjustment on a very short notice. I don't want to go through it again," he added.

Main Obligation
Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, who made the final decision on transferring Det. Albrecht, indicated the personnel adjustment sounds feasible while noting, "We don't know if we will be able to work out the financing of it for the full year as yet."

As for any remote hope in starting the YSD up again, he wondered if it was worth being the managing municipality any longer. "We're responsible for the employees and we needed more notice. It's hard to make plans," he said.

"Our obligation is to the men in the division," stated Woods Exec. Lt. Jack Patterson, who oversees the YSD operation. Right now, Dets. Fowler, Treppa and Desilets are in the process of obtaining uniforms and new fire gear, while adjustments are being made on shift scheduling. Another concern is to make certain the men obtain their vacation time.

With the YSD's demise, Lt. Patterson stated, "We're going through the case load and bringing our supplements up to date to get all active cases to the respective police departments."

"The three counselors have been notified of the termination, while letters will go out to various organizations, (e.g., resource agencies), of the YSD's demise."

He added the men have cleaned out their offices at both North and South High, with an attempt now being made to physically place them at Woods departmental headquarters.

Deficit Unnecessary
Meanwhile, on the school system front, Dr. Coats said he expects some criticism over the Board's action but feels The Woods changed "the rules of the game on us" in eyeing financial considerations and the way the transfer of Det. Albrecht was handled.

Based on a request from the board of managers set forth last March, the school system was asked to pay 30 percent of the total YSD budget in 1979-80, five percent more than the system paid in 1978-79.

However, the Board felt the 30 percent figure was too high but agreed to contribute 25 percent, i.e., $43,703 in 1979-80. As it turned out, each municipality's share was based on the Board paying 30 percent of the total cost.

Dr. Coats stressed the Board was committed to 25 percent of the real cost of the program. When the board of managers approved the budget, he felt it was all solidified.

But then he viewed a re-appropriated surplus of $1,740, plus a $1,000 Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives donation, and the $6,000 deficit. Dr. Coats felt the municipalities didn't increase their contributions to the budget to erase the deficit, which he said was totally unnecessary.

And with the deficit, he indicated the schools' portion increased around seven percent more.

"Seemed Inappropriate"
Saying this violated the spirit of the pro-rata approach, he cited "the other trick for keeping the contribution of the cities at the same cost level" — the pulling out of Det. Albrecht without prior notification of the move and input from school officials.

Dr. Coats accused The Woods of breaking the contract in trying "another technique to have the schools pay 30 percent of the actual cost," saying it was up to the municipalities to pick up their share of the increase.

We asked for a meeting to have this explained but Mr. Petersen refused and we received the response that the board of managers won't meet before September, he said.

For his part, Dr. Spagnoli stated, "We had a firm agreement on the budget for 1979-80 and how the operation will function and suddenly without our involvement, it changed. It seemed inappropriate Grosse Pointe Woods would unilaterally make a decision affecting all of us."

Noting the board of manager's original budget request for the schools was 30 percent, Dr. Spagnoli said the School Board approved 25 percent, while the municipalities resisted picking up the additional cost, which created the deficit.

He also termed the entire situation "unfortunate."

Felt Good Idea
Some city officials felt school officials jumped on this situation because they wanted "out" of the YSD. However, Dr. Coats strongly denies this charge. "That's not true," he emphasized, while noting, "We don't play that kind of game in the school system."

Meanwhile, Dr. Spagnoli said the system could have pulled out over the 30 percent request but it didn't withdraw with the ultimate approval of the 25 percent request ensuing.

Mr. Petersen admitted it was a mistake not previously informing school officials of the detective's transfer prior to the move and felt the timing, considering the end of the school year was approaching, wasn't the best.

However, he said the city managers raised no big objections and, in fact, thought it was a good idea to eliminate the deficit. At the same time, The Woods itself would be paying for the detective through the September 1 date.

Another concern of school officials over the potential loss of the officer at North High with graduation approaching never proved to be a reality in regard to problems. In fact, Det. Albrecht turned out to be at the school much of the time anyway at The Woods' expense and Det. Treppa also visited the building.

Mr. Petersen also felt much of the cause for the School Board's action was that it wanted to have direct authority over the decision-making process.

With the YSD terminating on the 30th, local police heads are faced with some decisions on how to make up for its loss.

Expressing surprise over the division's demise, Farms Police Chief Robert Ferber said he was impressed by the geographical concept of the division with its sharing of responsibilities via all municipalities in "a service designed to benefit the schools."

He stated, "Over the years we have received excellent service from the division, which has made our job a lot easier."

Now, he continued, his department will have to find a means of handling around 200 cases per year which had been previously referred to the division. "In addition, we will feel the loss of the counseling program and we haven't used Wayne County because of its case load."

In calling the end of the YSD a "major loss" to the community, Chief Ferber said he hoped some way could be found to keep the service going on a geographical basis, "perhaps not the YSD as we know it staffed in the schools but through the communities. We should take a look at how this might be done."

(When asked about this multi-jurisdictional concept involving the communities alone, Mr. Petersen said it could be a possibility.)

Least Affected
Echoing the sentiments of Chief Ferber in relation to the School Board's action, Park Police Chief Henry Counce said he saw the YSD function as "very desirable." He felt such a concept was beneficial in handling youth-oriented cases in his city.

"We really haven't had an opportunity to evaluate how (the division's termination) will affect us," the chief said, while indicating his department has handled juvenile cases before in "good fashion" through its detective bureau. It will now have to focus upon some specialized training in this area.

For his part, City Public Safety Director Bruce Kennedy stated, "We'll miss the service but we intend to continue providing professional service in this area. The YSD was a fine, professional outfit. They'll be missed."

At this time, he added he wants to give any potential adjustments in relation to his department further thought.

Perhaps the least affected department is The Shores, which, on an annual basis, didn't refer many cases to the YSD.

"I don't envision a big problem for our department," said Public Safety Director Joseph Vitale. "We have referred few cases to the YSD and we could have handled them ourselves."

Saying his department has several highly qualified officers to handle juvenile cases, the director indicated Officer Michael Kenyon would be responsible for this area.

Closer to home, Lt. Patterson, the YSD's four detectives and clerk reacted with disappointment and a sense of loss over the bureau's closing.

Realize Loss Later
Citing an irony over the division's end in relation to this, the International Year of the Child, Lt. Patterson said an invaluable service has been lost.

"They developed rapport with community youths that we've never had before," he stated, noting, with the hustle and bustle of their daily duties, uniformed officers don't have the time to develop rapport as many would like.

"Feeling the loss will be realized more later, the lieutenant said, as a taxpayer, the division was one of the cheapest methods of juvenile crime control the area could ever have.

"We're a model for many communities and get inquiries, and then we kill it. It's a lot better to get at the kids in high school than at the holding room door at a police station," he said, while pointing out the division's increasing case load included a record number of referrals last year, (1,028).

"I'm as shocked as everybody else. I think everyone will suffer all the way from the lack of the service," said Det. Albrecht. "I'm not saying this just because I'm in it but as an observation."

In eyeing the loss of the officers' presence in the schools, he said, with the counseling program now dissolved, local authorities will now have to authorize Wayne County Juvenile Court petitions more often or warn and release young offenders.

"I feel the YSD had a definite place and purpose," said Det. Desilets. "It performed a good role in the community. Once it's gone it will be realized that it performed a bigger role than some thought it did."

Saying he will miss working directly with young people, Det. Treppa commented, "I felt it was a great help to many youths in the Grosse Pointe area."

For his part, Det. Fowler said, "The community and the kids are really going to be missing something now that it's gone."

Calling the YSD a pioneer of its type, he cited its successful clearance rate of offenses last year, (59 percent overall), and its counseling program, (a success rate of 87 percent last year).

"We had a personal interest in helping young people become productive, and now we know we can't do it anymore . . ."

While citing the loss of "such a valuable program," Mrs. Cummins, who has been assigned to the division for some seven years, took an optimistic view.

"I expect some kind of service to this particular age group to be revived," she said, while feeling the most efficient way to handle it would be on an area-wide basis.

The opportunity to establish rapport between the officers and students remains an area in which more work is needed toward bringing juveniles to maturity and in helping them develop into responsible citizens, she said.

"I'm sure most of the people who have a deep knowledge of it felt it was worth doing," noted Mrs. Cummins, who added, "The prime loss of the YSD is to juveniles as a means of communication between police agencies and the general public."

MUST DELIVER
Self-confidence is a good trait, but be real sure you are in a position to back it up.

Mr. Towner said when the state issued the compliance deadline last August, "it was physically impossible for us to comply by July 1."

"We feel we've cooperated completely with (the state)," he said. "It was expected the (Air Pollution Control) commission would give us time. We think we can show we've proceeded very prudently and reasonably since the 1978 order."

But Mr. Miller denied the state or feds had been unreasonable, noting the authority had known about the new federal standards since August 1977.

"The state has been dragging them, kicking and screaming, (toward compliance)," he said. "They took the attitude that the rules were unreasonable and they fought them all the way. The state's position has been that their delay by litigation wouldn't extend the deadline for compliance."

Noting the authority is in "a pretty unique" situation in the state, Mr. Miller added, "they're out on a limb. The management has put themselves in a ticklish situation."

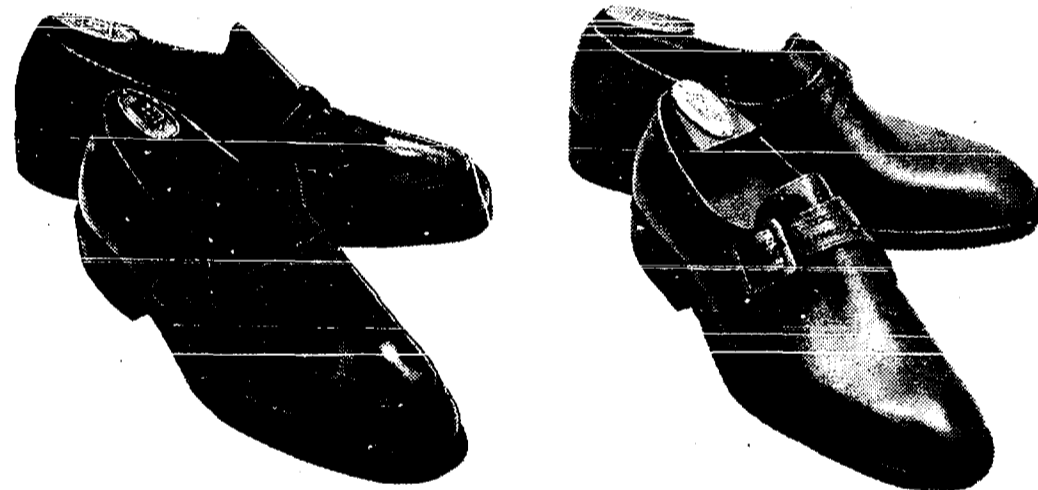

He said the authority's best course of action would be to shut down the incinerator on July 1 and begin hauling its trash to one of its two land fill sites.

Mr. Towner declined to speculate on what the authority would do if it failed to convince the Macomb County Circuit Court to allow an extension until the August findings of the hearing officer. He is now awaiting action on his request before the court.

A third fine could be imposed.

Pianist Pennario to Play at Summer Music Fest

Leonard Pennario, one of the world's most celebrated concert pianists, will play a most unusual double engagement at the War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, Tuesday evening, July 10 and Wednesday evening, July 11.

He will be playing a concert of German Romantic and French Impressionist piano music at the Fries Auditorium on the 11th, while the preceding night, he will be competing in Connie Gibbs' weekly duplicate bridge tournament at the Alger House. Surprisingly, he is an old hand at her duplicate bridge games, but the Grosse Pointe concert, as part of the Summer Music Festival, will be his first. It begins at 8 p.m. Mr. Pennario was born in Buffalo, N.Y., and began his formal piano instruction after being discovered as a child prodigy in kindergarten. His family moved to Los Angeles when he was 10 in order to enhance his educational and career opportunities.

He made his professional concert debut at the age of 12 as a quick replacement with the Dallas Symphony, ably playing the Grieg Concerto, which he had never heard nor seen the score of until a week before the performance.

Two seasons ago he played the Grieg again with the Dallas Symphony to commemorate the 40th anniversary of his debut, a concert attended by many notables from the world of music and entertainment.

While Mr. Pennario was a student at the University of Southern California, a visiting impressionist heard him playing Chopin and signed him for an extended tour, followed by another. Then the U.S. Army intervened, with two years of command performances in India and Southeast Asia.

Following service, his career resumed with a brilliant debut with the New York Philharmonic in Carnegie Hall, playing Liszt's E Flat Concerto in his private's uniform.

Since then he has performed with all of the major American orchestras, repeatedly with those of Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia and Cleveland as well as the leading orchestras of England, Holland, Austria, France, Germany, Australia and New Zealand.

He enjoyed particular successes with the Berlin Philharmonic and the three greatest orchestras of London, the London Symphony, London Philharmonic and the Philharmonia. He has performed with most of the great maestros of his time from Klemperer to Stokowski, including Reiner, Ormandy, Solti, Monteux and Mr. Pennario.

Mr. Pennario has played with the Detroit Symphony during five different seasons, in addition to two engagements at the Meadow Brook Summer Festival. Indeed, he was the first instrumental soloist with the DSO during its first Meadow Brook season.

He hopes to become bridge's first life master from the world of music, a quest that has resulted in write-ups of his game in a Sunday feature of "The New York Times" recently and during the past several years his bridge successes have been the subject of articles in several nationally syndicated newspaper columns.

Some of the master points he has won in pursuit of his life master goal have been gained in the club games at the War Memorial during his frequent visits here.

Mr. Pennario calls Grosse Pointe a "home-away-from-home" and another for him is Dallas-Fort Worth where he is one of two permanent judges among a large jury of international piano authorities at the quadrennial Van Cliburn competition, the world's richest for aspiring pianists.

Two of his recorded triumphs of recent years are two widely acclaimed all-Gottschalk having been America's first great composer and piano virtuoso.

At the Fries concert, he will perform two works of Gottschalk, "Mazurk" and "The Banjo." In the latter, the piano imitates the sound of the banjo in an incredible blizzard of notes.

A many-faceted man, Mr. Pennario was a frequent guest on Bing Crosby's Kraft Music Hall as a child and early in his life he composed for motion pictures and he has played the piano in film scores on several occasions.

As an avid bridge player, Mr. Pennario has been playing for several years throughout the country in national bridge tournaments with his favorite partner, Phil, Leon's guest he will be during his Grosse Pointe engagement as he has been during many previous visits to the community.

Playing with Mr. Pennario in Denver last fall he attended a reception for Joan Fontaine who was at the championships to accept a check in the amount of $125,000 from the American Contract Bridge League, their annual contribution to charity, in this instance benefiting the Mental Health Association of which Miss Fontaine, is a representative.

Single concert tickets are $8.50 for adults and $4.25 for students.

For further information call the War Memorial at 881-7511.

Many Enjoy Maria Ewing In Opening Performance

By Irene Moran
The Grosse Pointe Summer Music Festival, sponsored by the War Memorial, opened its 22nd season on Wednesday, June 20.

Mother Nature's "Rain-storm Overture" to the event did not dampen the evening's success and for a very good reason, Patrons were all eager to hear Detroit-born mezzo-soprano Maria Ewing, 29, a Finney High School student who sang her way to the Met.

Miss Ewing made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera in 1976 and on its recent tour stop in Detroit she was heard in the role of Blanche de la Force in Poulenc's "Dialogues of The Carmelites."

The first half of Miss Ewing's program was devoted to German lieder by Franz Schubert and Hugo Wolf. The second half included French art songs from "Chansons de Bilitis" by Claude Debussy, a group of songs by Henri Duparc and selections from "La Regata Veneziana" by Gioacchino Rossini.

When asked how it felt to be performing back in her home town after some absence, Miss Ewing replied, "It feels very, very good to be with friends and my family." The Grosse Pointe appearance marks her first full recital performance locally.

She added, "I'm anxious to do different things in recital work as opposed to opera." This she did that evening which brought her back on stage repeatedly to the delight of the audience with songs by Debussy, Bernstein, Poulenc and from Bizet's "Carmen," the "Seguidilla."

Her second half of the program and encores confirmed even more than a great voice — her acting ability.

During intermission, Mrs. Eugene T. Ignasiak, Tuesday Musicale president and herself a soprano, remarked, "And she makes it look ever so easy."

Robert De Ceunynck, Miss Ewing's accompanist, was meticulous in supporting her. Prior to the recital, which was held in the Memorial's Fries Auditorium, Alex Sucek, festival founder, recalled for many of the festival patrons how the community musical project had its beginning in 1958.

The front entrance steps of the Memorial's Alger House served as a stage and the audience was seated around the fountain in the courtyard.

"There was the chirping of the birds up in the trees," he said, "but also, the descending of fish flies." And that was the situation very often until 1962 when the Fries Auditorium was built.

Mr. Sucek also acknowledged festival chairman Mrs. Sterling S. Sanford, with both looking forward to continuing support.

Because of the rain, friends and families gathered in the Fries Auditorium for the customary pre-concert picnic fun. Many enjoyed box picnic suppers prepared by the Memorial kitchen.

Others brought their own hamper of goodies. Prior to each concert the lake side grounds open at 6 p.m. for festival-goers who enjoy picnicking.

The remaining series of four concerts are on consecutive Wednesdays at 8 p.m. They include the following: July 11 — Pianist Leonard Pennario in Fries Auditorium.

July 18 — Barbara Meister and David Bender, Broadway stars, in Fries Auditorium. July 25 — New England Conservatory Ragtime Ensemble, outdoors on lake side.

August 1 — Cabaret Potpourri, from Bach to pops by Detroit Community Music School groups, in Fries Ballroom.

All four concerts are offered at $30 and for students $15. Four series supper boxes are $15 by reservation three days in advance. Each are at $4.50. Single admission is $9.50 and student admission is $4.25. Lawn admission for the July 25 concert only is $4.50.

Advance ticket orders may be obtained by writing checks payable and mailed to Grosse Pointe War Memorial, 32 Lakeshore road, Grosse Pointe Farms, 48238. For further information, call 881-7511.

Death Claims Retired Chief

Hundreds of local police, city officials and friends joined family members in paying their last respects to retired Chief of Grosse Pointe City Police Andrew S. Teetaert at funeral services Monday, June 25, at Saint Philomena Church and the Verheyden Funeral Home.

Mr. Teetaert, 65, of St. Clair avenue died Thursday, June 21, at Bon Secours Hospital.

A native of The City, who grew up just across the street from the police station, Chief Teetaert served on the force baseball team almost 30 years ago.

He was a member of the Belgian-American Association, Century Club and Retirees group and a member of the Metropolitan Club.

Professionally, he was past-president of the FBI National Academy Association, past-president of the South-eastern Michigan Police Chiefs and a member of the Michigan and International Police Chiefs and Fraternal Order of Police.

City Manager Thomas Kressbach noted Mr. Teetaert's death "deeply saddened" all those at city offices who worked with him.

"During my association with Andy as chief of police, he was always there when you needed him, be it police response, fires, street storm or flood," Mr. Kressbach said. "We are all indebted to him for the many ways he helped our community during his 40 years of public service."

Mr. Teetaert is survived by his wife, Florence, two sons, Thomas A. and John R., and six grandchildren.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Andrew C. Teetaert Memorial Fund for Saint John Hospital — Neo-Natal Intensive Care Unit, 22101 Moross road, Detroit 48236, or to the Detroit Orthopaedic Clinic Developmental Learning Section, 5447 Woodward, Detroit 48202.

Interment was at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

One of his accomplishments while there was the elimination of a system that encumbered heirs with expensive commissioners whose fees were deducted from inheritances. He replaced the commissioners with county-paid referees.

A native of Mount Pleasant, he received his law degree from the University of Detroit after graduating from Central Michigan University.

Judge Murphy is survived by his wife, Isabel; a son, Joseph A. Jr.; three daughters, Mrs. Patricia Brown, Mrs. Micaela Palms and Mollie; a sister and 10 grandchildren.

She was born in Hampstead Heath, London, England. She helped form an Episcopal Missionary Church in Saskatoon, Sask., when she and her husband moved there.

In 1923 they moved to The Pointe and became members of the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church. She continued her membership until the formation of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church, of which she and her husband were founders and charter members.

Chenin Blanc is made mostly from grapes from the Loire Valley of France. Perhaps the most popular of the valley grapes of this kind are the Vouvray. Most Chenin Blancs are sweet, fresh and fruity, though some are renowned for their dryness. Chenin Blanc is especially popular for cocktail parties but certainly complements chicken, crab and lobster. There are several different brands of Chenin Blanc so taste many to find your favorite. A good suggestion might be to choose the most recent vintages; Chenin Blanc is better when younger.

Burglars Face Circuit Court

Two Detroit men arraigned on charges of breaking and entering into two Park homes were bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Park Municipal Judge Beverly C. Grobbel ordered Walter Childress, 27, and Terry Holt, 24, bound over after their preliminary examination on Thursday, June 21.

Bond remained at $15,000 cash or two sureties. Childress and Holt were remanded to the Wayne County Jail pending their court date of Thursday, July 5.

Burglary reports on two homes in Somerset and Westchester roads were received by Park police within two hours of each other on Tuesday, June 12.

A third attempted breaking and entering in Windmill Pointe drive also was reported that same day.

The owner told police that he was mowing his backyard lawn when he heard pounding at his front door. When he arrived at the door, he discovered that his front window had been broken and saw a man flee into a 1972 Mercury.

The owner, however, took down the license number and reported it to police where it was traced to Childress.

Fingerprints later linked Childress and Holt to both burglaries in Somerset and Westchester.

Childress and Holt were convicted six years ago for armed robbery of a Somerset home, according to Police Chief Henry O. Coonce.

They were two out of four individuals convicted on that charge.

Holt was out on parole for that conviction when he was arrested and Childress had been discharged from prison since March 1 of this year.

An unknown amount of coins was taken from the Somerset home, while about $150 in cash was missing from the Westchester residence.

Free Tests Attract 330

More than 330 people took advantage of the Friends of Bon Secours Hospital's recent "Town Hall for Health," which offered free blood pressure testing. Of those tested, 56 were found needing further attention and were referred to family physicians.

Free high blood pressure screening was offered in response to a study recently conducted by Bon Secours and other area hospitals that indicated a great community interest in high blood pressure education.

That need for health information will be met at a special education event sponsored by the Friends in November. "Hypertension-1979" will be held in the hospital's Science Hall at 8 p.m.

Hypertension authority, Vincent Adams, MD, will present a program on the causes and treatment of high blood pressure. The program also will include free high blood pressure testing.

The "Town Hall for Health" series is sponsored by the Friends of Bon Secours Hospital to promote community health education. Their latest effort was coordinated by the education committee under the chairmanship of Rex Civalola, assisted by Robert Everett.

Blame Smoking In Shores Fire

Careless smoking is being blamed for a two-alarm fire which gutted the attic of a Shores home Sunday evening, June 24.

When Shores firefighters arrived at the home in 70 Clairview road they observed smoke and flames emanating from the roof vents. It took firefighters from The Farms and The Woods about two hours to bring the fire under control with flames reigniting in the attic at one point.

Owner Alexander C. Mannino reportedly told Shores authorities that his son was smoking a cigaret when he went up into the attic to get some blankets.

Officials are still investigating to see whether the cigaret or ashes may have fallen in the attic.

The home suffered extensive water and smoke damage with the amount of destruction not known at this time.

Fest Features Bicycle Tour

Peddle forth and meet thousands of enthusiastic cyclists of all ages from all parts of Detroit and Windsor on Wednesday, July 4, starting between 9 a.m. and 12 noon when the Metro Detroit Council of American Youth Hostels, (AYH), hosts a unique 15-mile bike tour of downtown Detroit.

Rain or shine, bicyclists will be meeting and leaving their cars at the municipal parking structure at Bagley and Second, and embarking on a fun-filled trip that will include the Ren-Cen, Hart Plaza, Greek Town and the new Attic Theater, Eastern Market, the Medical Center and the Wayne State University campus. Citizens may ride at their own pace or join a group guided by AYH's experienced cyclists.

Sam Henry, ride organizer, said the route has been developed and ridden by many AYH cyclists. It's planned in two "loops" so participants can ride seven or 15 miles with rest stops and refreshments available along the way. Anyone should be able to ride it and AYH will have repair people and sawagons to help.

All registered riders will receive bright-colored vests, maps and tour information. Advance registration is preferred by writing American

GP Academy Graduates 42

Baccalaureate services and the graduation ceremony were held for 42 Grosse Pointe Academy eighth grade students on Wednesday, June 6, and Thursday, June 7.

The graduates and parents were welcomed by C. H. Crane III, student council president, and Mrs. Walter B. Robinson, president of the board of trustees.

The commencement address was given by Bishop Joseph L. Imesch. He grew up living on the property of the Academy and shared reminiscences about his boyhood there.

He told the graduates that in the Chinese language there are two characters for the word "crisis." One character means "danger" and the other means "opportunity." The graduates are entering a world filled with crises, economic, environmental, moral, et al., but they also are entering a world filled with opportunity, he said.

Diplomas were handed out by headmaster John Poplawski and assistant headmaster Larry Reeside. A reception and refreshments followed the ceremony on the Lakeshore lawn of the Academy.

Net Court Reservations By Phone Starts in GPW

Telephone reservations for the Lake Front Park tennis courts, as a gasoline saving measure for Woods citizens, will transpire for a one-month trial period beginning Sunday, July 1.

Based upon a recommendation from the Citizens Recreation Commission, the council at its Monday, June 18, meeting unanimously agreed to try the new approach only between 7 and 9 a.m. seven days a week, with such reservations being made on the day of play.

At the same time, reservations also may be made in person as has been done in the past.

As part of its recommendation to the council, the commission indicated that the council provide needed funds for a park employee to take such calls for the daily two-hour period.

After July 31, Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallmann is scheduled to evaluate the telephone approach and recommend any changes, or the continuation or cancellation of the system.

The commission, in noting that residents could still make reservations in person, indicated all reservations must be claimed at least five minutes prior to the reservation time, or court time will be forfeited.

It also suggested that taking addresses and park pass numbers in addition to having the names phoned in would help limit no shows and crank calls.

This system was proposed by Barbara B. Beyster of Sunningdale drive to the council on Monday, June 4, and was then referred to the commission. At that time, she told the solons this method would help eliminate the unnecessary use of gasoline, pointing out it takes her some five miles per round trip to make reservations in person.

Water Rates

Council also approved a new five percent late fee on water bills.

In The City, Thomas Kressbach, city manager, estimated the average resident's water bill will jump from 37 to 43 cents per day under the new rate structure which totals $9.80 per thousand cubic feet. Residents should take "a practical approach" to watering the lawns and other water uses this summer, Mr. Kressbach urged.

The Shores rate went from $7.50 to $9 per thousand cubic feet.

These most recent rate increases are the third in a series ordered by a U.S. District Court judge to finance $567 million in improvements to the Detroit sewage plant in West Jefferson avenue. The facility processes sewage from some 74 suburban communities. Earlier rate increases were approved in August 1977 and July 1978.

Families Are Cause for Celebration

Shores Okays Budget

Village President Gerald C. Schroeder also echoed Mr. Palmer's concerns pointing out the budget was carefully prepared, yet he was "flabbergasted" over how costs of operating a municipality have soared.

"We are providing residents with essentially the same services we did last year, but without actually improving or increasing those services," Mr. Schroeder stated.

Average Tax Hike
"These are services that citizens need and want. We've tried to bring down the costs, but we have to be realistic, too," he added.

Mr. Schroeder explained that the 4.4 percent millage rate increase is still within the intent of the Headlee Tax Limitation amendment.

He further noted that the Village could have increased the rate to 18.86 mills—thereby interpreting Headlee from the perspective of the maximum charter limit, which is 20 mills in the Village.

The new millage rate breaks down to 16.78 for general operating purposes and .97 of a mill for debt service and has been applied to a 14 percent increase in state equalized valuation, (SEV), assessment of property in The Shores.

A resident in Roslyn road, for instance, with a SEV of about $34,000, can expect to pay $100 more in property taxes, while a resident in Ballantyne road with a SEV of $153,000 will pay about $435 more in taxes.

Overall, the 1980 budget of $1,842,857 is some 18 percent over last year's figure of $1,557,492, with wages and insurance accounting for most of the increase.

A water department expenditure of $208,800 increased about 26 percent over last year's $165,100, primarily because of a 68 percent increase in sewage disposal fees.

Public Works, Public Safety and Parks and Recreation also showed increases with Public Works rising about 33 percent from a 1979 figure of $137,545 to a new amount of $183,452.

Public Safety increased 13 percent, from $660,712 to $749,155, while Parks and Recreation increased 11 percent, from $72,700 to $80,100.

The only decline was in Buildings and Grounds, which decreased from $131,040 to $124,851.

The Village expects to pull in about $606,200 in revenues other than taxation, through the sale of water, meters, taps, state shared taxes and permits and inspection fees.

ings and articles of general interest.

The Almanac will virtually come to life at the Family Fair, scheduled for February 3, at the War Memorial, to conclude the Celebration. The Center will be filled with booths, events and games and just plain fun for families, according to Rev. Bonde.

So far, 15 churches and five local agencies have begun work on the program along with dozens of volunteers from the churches.

The Family Life Education Council of Grosse Pointe plans to contribute, as well as the Northeast Guidance Center, the Neighborhood Club, the Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice and the Pastoral Care Department at Bon Secours.

"Celebrating Families" grew out of one of the most comprehensive studies ever done in Grosse Pointe. The report, completed in 1977 by the ministerial association, looked at all aspects of life in Grosse Pointe from politics, to social groups to education to income.

The ministers undertook the giant task to help lead citizens to a more informed understanding of their community and a more intelligent ministry to it. Out of the hundreds of pages of information and statistics they isolated three major areas of community need—problems of aging, marriage and youth alienation.

"Celebrating Families" is a project intended to address all three of those concerns which, although they all may be considered "social problems," have their origins in the family.

"The whole approach we're taking acknowledges the fact that man is a social being and that the family is the basic unit of social life," said Rev. Eshleman, "It's a Christian approach. Christians do not live with others in isolation."

Antique Store Bid Approved

A request for a variance, because of a deficiency in parking requirements, in order to obtain an occupancy permit received the Woods Council's unanimous concurrence on Monday, June 18.

The bid came from George Giuliani of North Duval road who sought the permit for Orleans Imports, Ltd., an antique dealership, at 20331 Mack avenue.

In a letter to the council, Mr. Giuliani said it's the intent of he and his wife to use the premises to sell mostly imported English antiques as well as antique reproductions.

He stated he plans on removing the present aluminum awning which is deteriorating, while adding a partition inside to separate the storage area from the sales area.

Mr. Giuliani also felt this type of business wouldn't generate the traffic flow that a drug store or restaurant would create. (One citizen spoke in opposition to the request because he said parking in the area already was "terrible.")

Councilman Dan Grady noted this business would be a good addition to the variety of establishments along Mack and moved that the variance be granted. Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos pointed out it was a "judgment decision" for the council in considering traffic flow in relation to certain types of occupancy.

Four parking spaces were required. Mr. Giuliani said he had four including the garage but Building Inspector Earl Wakely stated he only had three including the garage based upon ordinance requirements. Thus the variance was needed.

Boundary Dispute

(Continued from Page 1) she found out about the dispute when she got a bill for several years of Detroit back taxes.

Another discovered the problem when her sister died in her bedroom on west Wayburn.

Complicated Question
"We called The Park corner to the house and after a lot of walking around he decided my sister had died in Detroit," the woman said. "We had to wait several hours to get a Detroit corner out. My poor sister was in the bedroom all that time. That's the first time we found out about the problem."

The residents began their battle to straighten out the boundary almost a decade ago, taking a plea to exclude them from paying the Detroit income tax to the Michigan Tax Tribunal. The tribunal ruled it did not have jurisdiction over boundary disputes and the case was taken to circuit court.

The dispute is a complicated legal question because the boundary itself has been subject of several annexation elections and legislative acts since the Village of Grosse Pointe was founded in 1907.

When the Village was founded, by an act of the legislature, the boundary was described as 200 feet east of the center of Alter road—a measurement that puts most of the west Wayburn property and all of the homes inside The Park.

But in 1916, Park voters approved a referendum to annex property just south of Mack avenue and the border was then described as land 200 feet east of the east side of Alter road, (not the center as in the previous description).

That different description involves a 33-foot change and puts most of the homes, (except for front porches in some cases), in Detroit. Subsequent elections and charters have befuddled the matter even more.

The Park and Pointe public school system joined the case at the request of attorneys for west Wayburn residents from the firm Moll, Desenberg, Purdy, Glover and Bayer.

A change in the boundary could add hundreds of thousands of dollars to the tax bases for each governmental unit. Some estimates put the amount as high as $500,000.

Park Mayor Matthew C. Patterson noted the city has tried to help the residents in the past at numerous hearings in Detroit.

"It's costing us. They, (the residents), use all our services except garbage, and Detroit gets all the tax revenue," Mr. Patterson said at the council's Monday, June 18, meeting.

Not All Happy
Park City Manager John Crawford said he's in favor of the establishment of a more reasonable boundary.

"I'd support anything that would get the boundary out of these people's homes," he said. "It should be in the alley or the center of the road."

Mr. Crawford noted that not all the residents on west Wayburn are in favor of moving their homes into The Park. He said the move has aroused some "conflicting feelings," especially among the many Detroit city workers who find they can fulfill residency requirements with a Wayburn address, while making use of the park and Grosse Pointe public schools.

Judge Olzak is expected to issue a written opinion on the matter sometime after today's meeting.

Gunter Leaves School Post

The man who oversees the spending of some $25 million a year in the Grosse Pointe Public School budget, James Gunter, chief accountant, resigned from his position effective Friday, June 15.

Mr. Gunter has moved to the Mount Pleasant area to take over as administrative assistant for business affairs in the Gratiot-Isabella County Intermediate School District on Sunday, July 1.

A Michigan State University graduate, Mr. Gunter came from the public accounting field to Grosse Pointe schools to implement a new computer accounting system under two different directors of business affairs. He'd been in The Pointe for three years.

A native of Clarkston, he and his wife, Judith, have one daughter, three-year-old Kendra.

Fire Destroys 4-Car Garage

A fire completely destroyed a four-car garage at 373 Neff road in The City on Tuesday, June 19, according to fire reports.

Firemen were called to the scene at about 1 p.m. on Tuesday when the structure was already completely engulfed in flames. It took four firefighters, assisted by three Department of Public works employees, three hours to douse the fire, officials said.

Firemen have not determined what started the blaze. Two cars had been removed from the garage and received minor heat damage.

Cinema League Plans Program

The executive board of the Grosse Pointe Cinema League met on Sunday, June 10, in the home of Pierre Palmantier, president, to formulate plans for the 1979-80 season.

Program chairman Ester Porter booked a series of programs for the Monday evening meetings to be held in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium, 32 Lakeshore road, at 8 p.m.

Raymond C. Walk will open the season on September 17 with a journey to exotic India and Nepal. Movie photographer Dr. Walter Theurle will take viewers on a tour "Around Yugoslavia" on October 8 and Esther Peters will present a program of slides of historic Greece and its islands on October 29.

The league will celebrate its 25th anniversary on November 5 with "Let's Cruise from Norway to Leningrad," a newly-filmed movie by two of the league's founders, Pierre and Elfrieda Palmantier.

Charles Riley will present "Ten Thousand Miles over Sail" on November 19 and Leo Tallieu will close the season with a 16mm movie on Egypt.

New officers of the Cinema League include Mr. Palmantier, president; Ms. Porter, first vice-president; Frederick Stempfle, second vice-president; Betty Butler, secretary; William Filbee, treasurer; and Mrs. Palmantier, historian and publicity.

Members-at-large are Ross and Dorothea Bush, Warren and Irene Delp, Vera Sharples, Otto Strick and Ruth Saur. Dr. Elizabeth Downie heads hospitality assisted by Martha Nyboer, Siv Casper and Beverly Pearsall.

The league, its programs open to the public without charge, welcomes new members. Annual dues are $6. Members are expected to take turns providing and serving snacks to league members at the social hours following each program.

Councils Hold Joint Meeting

(Continued from Page 1) Dankel indicated last week both The Woods and Harper Woods would attempt "origin and destination" studies, while seeing if St. Clair Shores also would participate.

With this method, cars would be stopped in both directions and motorists asked where they are going and where they came from. The objective is to obtain a better feel on why citizens use the affected streets.

Decide The Question
Aware that Roslyn road residents expected the erection of the barricades weeks ago, he said the materials are on hand and the work order has been prepared. But it's undated and unsigned. "I know they will be up in arms, and it, (the council), has my firm recommendation," he stated.

Officials indicate a key reason why the barricades haven't been erected in Roslyn road was the pending joint meeting at which time it was hoped a consensus of opinion could be reached in several areas, including the placement of the barricades and necessary signs, and in which community the visuals, for instance, would be installed.

As it turns out, The Woods' meeting of July 2 could decide the question, pending the receipt of further information and the expected appearance of Roslyn road citizens.

During the discussion, Harper Woods City Manager Ronald Bultman explained areas of concern of officials in his community, citing the circulation problem in his city regarding the barricades and signage, and that proper procedures should be followed on such visuals.

He also read from a letter prepared by his city's traffic safety officer and shared some traffic counts which indicated less of a problem in Harper Woods than in The Woods.

Woods Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos said he wanted an exchange of information on the apparent discrepancy of such counts, plus the exchange of any correspondence which both cities have pertaining to this problem.

On One-Way Streets
For his part, Director Dankel told the NEWS he felt the counts in the Harper Woods communication were in error, saying they were outdated counts made by Woods officers.

Meanwhile, Woods Councilman George Cueter, who felt that two or three streets should have been barricaded in one swoop, rather than Roslyn alone, suggested that making both Eight Mile and Hampton one-way streets west as a temporary move could be beneficial, adding that St. Clair Shores also would have to agree.

With such an action, Mr. Cueter felt citizens would ultimately find alternate routes over a period of time.

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen suggested a joint traffic safety study of the northwest area be conducted by an independent expert with recommendations being made for the consideration of both councils.

However, Mr. Pinkos said both communities have had studies in the past, while Mr. Cueter stated it would go for naught, stressing both cities must come to a mutual agreement in eying key alternatives such as barricades, signage and one-way streets.

"We know the alternatives and we need to implement them and find out which is the best," he said.

Now in Limbo
On senior citizens housing, which Harper Woods is still in the midst of pursuing, some Woods officials indicated they would be interested in a "piece of the action."

In reviewing the status of her city's venture, Harper Woods City Clerk Elinor Cramer said officials had learned that the Eastland drive-in property, in the immediate area of both Tyrone School and Bishop Gallagher School, was for sale and sought to purchase it.

An advisory vote was held in July 1977 asking citizens if they wished the city to purchase the property with three acres being contemplated for seniors' housing and nine acres for a park. The result was strongly in favor of such an action.

With the property obtained, she said the city published a notice regarding the issuing of bonds for $6.5 million in July 1978. However, petitions were circulated by citizens who didn't want funding for a seniors' complex handled in that manner. Now, the community is in limbo on the proposed project.

Mr. Cueter, who's his council's representative on the Senior Citizens Commission, said all the communities have avoided this question for years, with all having a senior citizens population. "They reach the age of retirement and now we tell them to get out," he said.

"Where It's At"
Feeling it was time the five Pointes and Harper Woods do something on such housing, Mr. Cueter suggested a further exploration ensue via an economic development funding approach with an emphasis upon private monies.

"Harper Woods, it seemed to me, hadn't explored this area and was now going to," said Mr. Pinkos, who noted, "We've told them in the past if they had a problem in financing or felt that the erection of a senior citizens housing complex was more than enough to take care of their needs, we would be interested in any part of the complex."

He continued by saying his city would be interested in joining as an authority with Harper Woods "with any percentage they felt they would let us have."

"We told them if there was any problem and they needed someone else to operate in that venture that we would want to be considered. That's where it's at."

Mr. Pinkos noted that Harper Woods officials have indicated that The Woods would be a preferred entity over all other communities. "I hope they get it whether we're involved or not. It may help spark others," (i.e., communities), he added.

Other subjects discussed included the following:
*Community Cable Television—The Woods has already expressed an interest in this area in relation to the War Memorial's proposal in which it would be the cities' exclusive agent.

The Harper Woods Council on Monday, June 18, also approved a resolution giving the Center until September 30 to come up with a plan, designating it as the agent.

Mr. Bultman said there were two primary benefits to the cable TV plan—citizens can obtain more channels to view, plus a continuing revenue source to the community. "We should maximize both areas for the betterment and long-range planning of both communities," he stated.

*Northwest Area Development — The proposed land use plan for The Woods for the Year 2000 was discussed with the high density classification for the northwest area being eyed, (i.e., it would be Harper Woods' northeast area).

The need for providing necessary zoning and tools for a developer to come in and redevelop the area were touched upon as was the objective of increasing The Woods' own tax base via such redevelopment.

*Police Mutual Aid Pact— The need to adopt a formal pact in writing was discussed. Mr. Petersen said an attempt was made after the 1967 riots to formalize a pact, in lieu of the "old, outdated pact," between the Pointes and Harper Woods which was never officially adopted by all.

He suggested both cities' police agencies work on such formalization, including the probable updating of the language.

Stray Golf Balls Concern Heard by Woods Council

By Roger A. Waha A concern over incidents of stray golf balls flying over the boundaries of the Lochmoor Golf Club was voiced by a citizen at the Woods Council's regular meeting Monday, June 18.

Saying her initial concern was caused by "near misses" occurring during her drive by the Vernier road side of club grounds, Ann Reid of Vernier expressed further apprehension based upon an incident in May involving her husband.

At that time, she said her husband was driving along Vernier after picking up a new car from the dealer at which time "he was the victim of the many stray golf balls allowed to flow freely from the stroke of the Lochmoor Club member."

The car was dented on the roof, causing damages of around $200, she said, while noting, "The window of our car was open and I shudder to think of the consequences had the ball hit my husband instead of the roof of the car."

Mrs. Reid wanted the council to take some form of action against the club to protect residents and others "from the danger of the stray golf balls which can be as dangerous as a lethal weapon."

She also said that her husband talked to the manager who indicated that the club had dropped coverage for damage in such incidents. However, club general manager F. Eugene Rawlins told the NEWS last week this wasn't true, that the club is covered and that its insurance company would handle the claim.

Mr. Rawlins stated, in the event similar incidents occur in the future, the club would assume liability.

At the meeting, Mayor Benjamin W. Flukos asked if the city was involved in the problem and City Attorney George Catlin replied in the negative. Mr. Catlin suggested that Mrs. Reid present her bill to the club and if its response wasn't favorable, she could file a lawsuit in the city's small claims court.

In eyeing such incidents in relation to the general health, safety and welfare of the citizenry, Mr. Catlin also was asked if the city can mandate that the club have proper insurance coverage. The city attorney again replied in the negative.

As it turned out, the council unanimously referred this matter to Public Safety Director John Dankel for further investigation with a report back to the solons.

For his part, Mr. Rawlins said there's nothing that the club can do to prevent such incidents. Even with a 40-foot high fence, for instance, balls would still go over, he stated, while noting the person who hits the ball is really the one liable.

Mr. Rawlins added the club assumed the responsibility because the person who hit the golf ball in the Reid case didn't admit the action after a check was made.

Ruling Upheld In Park Case

A Wayne County Circuit Court has upheld the lower court ruling that a youth was in violation of The Park's anti-soliciting ordinance.

Circuit Court Judge John Wise ruled at a resentencing earlier this month that Jacques Pierre Walker, 18, of Detroit was in violation of soliciting magazines door-to-door without a permit.

Jessie McCoy, 23, of Baltimore, Md., who was also charged in the incident, did not appear for resentencing and so a capias was issued for his arrest.

Judge Wise further ruled that the time Walker served in the Park jail and the Wayne County Jail was adequate time served for the offense.

Park police arrested McCoy and Walker two months ago after a Lakepointe road resident called police and told them that the pair were soliciting magazines.

McCoy and Walker were salesmen of Free Enterprises, Inc., at the time of their arrest.

Unable to post a $25 bond, McCoy and Walker were arraigned before Park Municipal Judge Beverly C. Grobel where the two pled guilty and were fined $100 or five days in jail.

Again unable to meet bond, the two were remanded to The Park jail before being transferred to the Wayne County Jail.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum later ruled that McCoy and Walker's sentence was illegal after the petition of Park attorneys John Urso and Joseph Grano, who felt that the $100 fine levied against the two was too harsh.

The maximum sentence for violating the anti-soliciting ordinance in The Park is $500 and/or 90 days in jail.

PESSIMISTS Too many people ruin their chances for happiness by trying to take the joy out of life.

You might say that Saturday, June 23, was the upset day for the Grosse Pointe Farms AAA League. If the 50 degree weather wasn't upsetting enough, spectators at Saturday's opening round of the 1979 AAA League playoffs viewed two other upsets as the league's two top teams—Denver and Portland—were defeated by rivals Hawaii and Louisville.

The Giants also scored a run in the third off a hit by Andy Allison.

The Board serves as the vital link between the public and the schools. It is the desire of the Board to provide an avenue for citizens to express interest in and concern for the schools.

Accordingly, the public is strongly urged to learn what is happening in the schools, to regularly visit with the leadership of individual schools and the school system and to attend meetings of the Board.

Through citizen participation on the Board, students, community and school staff are brought together in a partnership that improves instructional programs, defines positions of responsibility and accountability, develops a sense of appreciation for all peoples, enables the school system to effectively meet community needs and provides unlimited opportunities for the schools to serve all residents.

Know Your Schools

By Dr. William Coats, Superintendent of Schools

Next week, on Sunday, July 1, the 1979-80 school year officially begins. One of the first activities in the new year is the annual organizational meeting of the Board of Education, at which time Board officers are selected and the trustees begin their duties as elected representatives of the people.

In addition to representing the citizens of Grosse Pointe, the Board is responsible to the state government for the education of all pupils in kindergarten through 12th grade and for adult and community school programs.

Thus, Board trustees are state officers elected in the manner prescribed by law and for the purpose of discharging a legal responsibility. As state officers, Board members have to uphold state laws when exercising the authority of their office.

As an elected body, the Board identifies community aspirations and needs, and develops financial plans consistent with community resources. Educational policies based on those determinations and plans are implemented by the superintendent of schools, appointed by the Board as its executive officer.

Two of the most important duties of the Board are to establish policy and determine goals for the school system. Existing policies are reviewed and changed as necessary and new policies added when appropriate.

In determining goals for the 1979-80 school year, the Board reviews accomplishments of past school years and staff recommendations for the future. Goals consistent with the system's philosophy statement are then developed and further expanded in individual, departmental and building objectives.

The members of the Board of Education also recognize their crucial role in promoting education in the community. Therefore, they conduct their business to reflect a strong commitment to quality education for all residents and to foster public confidence in their actions.

Park Accepts New Fence Bid

A lower bid for new fencing of the tennis courts at Windmill Pointe Park was accepted by the Park Council via a 5-1 vote at its regular meeting Monday, June 11.

The original bid of $18,240 was reduced to $14,000 via a bid from the U.S. Steel Corporation to secure an 18-foot fence around the east end of the court with 12 feet regulation size fencing installed around the perimeter of the courts.

Councilman Charles S. Tompkins, who rejected the original bid because he felt that the old fence was adequate, also rejected the second bid.

Mr. Tompkins told the council that, although he appreciated City Manager John R. Crawford's efforts to receive a lower bid, he still felt that it wasn't necessary to purchase new fencing.

The fencing should be installed in about three weeks.

Councilwoman Ann MacDonald was absent from the meeting.

Golf Outing Aids Cancer Fight

Committee members for the third annual Van Patrick Memorial Invitational Golf Tournament have been announced by honorary chairman William Clay Ford, chairman Mickey Patrick and host professional Faust Blanco.

The event, which will benefit the Michigan Cancer Foundation, will be held Monday, July 16, at the Dearborn Country Club.

East side committee members include Dr. Michael J. Brennan of The Park, president and medical director of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, Jerry Luptak of The Farms and Ozle Olson of The Shores.

Van Patrick will be long remembered as one of the most respected and best-loved sports casters in the business. One of his last wishes was that if something was done in his memory, it would be to combat cancer, the disease which claimed his life in 1974.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation has been working to conquer cancer for more than a quarter of a century. The foundation's search team is one of the foremost in the country, and many of its research programs have received worldwide acclaim.

This year's tournament will include a round of golf, cart or caddy, continental breakfast, lunch, hors d'oeuvres, and dinner and awards. Refreshments will be available on the course and participants will have full use of club facilities for the day.

A golf professional, sports or broadcast celebrity will be part of each of the 45 teams scheduled to play the 187-acre course. Many prizes and trophies will be awarded.

YSD's Demise Is Big Loss to Community

The end of the Youth Service Division, (YSD), which became fully operational in August 1970, on Saturday, June 30, was described by one Woods officer, who had been affiliated with the division, as a "community tragedy." (See story, Page 1.)

There's no doubt that the YSD will be missed and, as some have already indicated, more so as time goes on — not only because of its main objective of investigating and attacking juvenile-oriented crime but also because, as a natural outgrowth of its creation, of its strength as a preventive and educational force in the community.

Originally created to combat a growing drug abuse problem among Pointe youth, its multi-jurisdictional concept proved over the years to be a viable one, based as it was on the financial support and interest of the five Pointes and the public school system. However, in the end and for a number of reasons, both foundations, with a financial emphasis, appeared to crack.

Actions on the part of The Woods, the division's managing municipality, and the School Board, played major roles in the bureau's demise. School officials reacted strongly to a $6,000 deficit budget for the YSD in 1979-80, feeling the municipalities should have absorbed the amount, while responding angrily to the temporary transfer of a division detective from North High School to The Woods detective bureau without prior notification in an attempt to eliminate the deficit. The timing of the move, prior to the end of the school year, also was questioned.

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, made the latter decision and admitted a mistake occurred on the notification front, although Pointe city managers overall felt the move was a good idea to erase the deficit. The idea, which found The Woods itself paying for the detective's salary during this period, also was made to fill a manpower shortage in the municipality's detective bureau.

There's no doubt a mistake was made, despite the best of intentions on the part of Mr. Petersen. However, the School Board's response on Monday, June 18, to pull out of the YSD on June 30, with only 12 days lead time to permit The Woods to make necessary manpower adjustments, plus the "ripple" effect on the municipalities regarding any changes local police departments would have to make in the juvenile crime area, was, in the NEWS' opinion, a drastic step.

If, for example, the School Board, in expressing its displeasure, said it would pull out as of June 30, 1980, or at a minimum, this September, the shockwave effect on everyone, certainly The Woods on the personnel front, would have been lessened.

While such reasons for the YSD's termination have to be cited, (and passed arguments between members of the board of managers on who benefits more from the service, the school system or the municipalities, now prove to be academic), the key point remains — a viable, active and productive unit will no longer exist.

What the future holds regarding a YSD in some form of a multi-jurisdictional approach, e.g., the five municipalities alone banding together, remains to be seen. The question of whether the division itself, as Pointers now know it, will ever be resurrected again also is an unknown factor.

In a final comment, while feeling the YSD's loss could well turn out to be immeasurable, one official, in particular, deserves special recognition, not only for the role he played in the division's birth, but also for the headaches he has endured over the years as the bureau's key man — Mr. Petersen.

While many members of the community, school officials, law enforcement officers and citizens alike, have supported the division since its inception to make it work, Mr. Petersen has lived with it during its years of service to the community.

This is no small task and it deserves a hearty "well done."

Woods Hikes Price for Bags

Beginning Sunday, July 1, residents will pay a dollar more for a roll of 50 plastic bags in The Woods as the council unanimously concurred in a recommendation from City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher to raise the price from $5 to $6 per roll.

Mr. Hornfisher reported that Cadillac Products, Inc., and Advance Bag Company had recently completed the delivery on the city's last order of plastic bags.

"The price has increased from $62 per thousand to $104 per thousand, including sales tax. This does not include the cost of handling the bags from the DPW building to the city hall," he said.

As a result, he recommended the price hike, indicating the city makes "very little profit" on transactions, with the objective of meeting its cost only.

An estimated one million bags are sold on an annual basis.

Plan for Parking Lot Given Okay in Woods

By Roger A. Waha

It has been a long haul for Dr. Matthew Fontana whose efforts for additional parking in the block between Hollywood avenue and Hawthorne road met defeat last year when the Woods Council unanimously denied a request for such a lot, mainly because of citizen concerns over the possible deterioration of property values in the immediate area.

This was last August. Since that time, Dr. Fontana, representing the Grosse Pointe Woods Development Company, has met with citizens in an attempt to resolve their concerns. The result was the drafting of 10 conditions agreed upon by all parties.

All this work paid off for the council at its regular meeting Monday, June 18, voted 5-2 to give the development company permission to construct an open parking lot in an R-1 residential district for the periodic storage of vehicles for periods of less than one day. A minimum of five votes was needed for approval.

Prior to his appearance before the council, Dr. Fontana presented his case to the Planning Commission on May 22. At that time, he received permission to construct a new building at 20825 Mack avenue provided certain additions were made, e.g., coach lights and mullion strips for windows, to make the structure contain more of a Colonial appearance.

As part of his overall plan, the new one-story building would replace an existing clinic building, which has been an eyesore according to area residents.

At the same time, the commission recommended approval of the off-street parking lot plans provided the development company met the 10 conditions. It also recommended to the council that the company be given a variance to permit the construction of the parking lot.

On a second related subject, the commission also recommended that the 60-foot alley adjacent to the property be vacated by the city and that a public hearing be held by the council. Dr. Fontana requested that portion of the alley behind the building at 20825 Mack be vacated to permit the construction of the new building.

Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos told Dr. Fontana, prior to the vote on the motion of approval, if permission was given for the lot it was no guarantee that the council would, in fact, approve the alley request or a certain type of building which it felt would be in conflict with the ordinance.

The motion to approve was made by Councilman Robert E. Novitke. It incorporated the 10 conditions and the modification of one of them — that a red brick wall along Hawthorne and along the side and up to the front line of adjacent residential property be set back, not the seven feet as proposed along Hawthorne, but 15 feet. (The latter was a key point raised by Councilman George Cueter.)

Dr. Fontana, in indicating overall concerns for that immediate area go back over 20 years, (including some five years personally as owner of the property which also encompasses Arnold's Drug Store and Vic Tanny's), said he wanted the council's approval or it was back to "square one."

In eyeing the subject of blight, he said the current structure was dilapidated and that "he can't do anything with it." With the additional lot, (with around 22 spaces), the demolishing of the old building and the construction of the new one, with a brick back, the block would become more attractive than the "nuisance dead end alley."

Citing vacancies at the Hollywood Clinic due to Saint John Hospital medical expansion, (he said five of six recent vacancies were attributable to this fact), Dr. Fontana said he has had additional expenditures of maintaining the office space. "As the value of the commercial property on Mack goes, so goes the value of nearby residential property," he stated. He also indicated the new building would be for general retail or office space to keep a tight rein on parking.

Russ Smith, a spokesman for some Hawthorne citizens who met with Dr. Fontana, cited the agreement of the 10 conditions, while feeling the doctor's plans would enhance the immediate area.

However, a few residents said they didn't want the new parking lot despite the fact there would be no exit onto Hawthorne.

Some guarantees that the 10 conditions would become a reality also were requested by some citizens. City Attorney George Catlin indicated if substantial change occurs, the city should be notified and steps could possibly be taken to cause the land to cease to be used as a parking lot.

For his part, Councilman Dan Grady, who along with Mr. Cueter voted "no" on the motion, felt the design could add an additional traffic burden on Hollywood.

Feeling it was the best plan that has been proposed, Mr. Pinkos said it was a matter of strong judgment on the part of the council for each member to decide on whether to permit the parking lot in a residential area. "I want to be sure the property will not be devaluated," he stated.

Meanwhile, two other citizens who have been involved with the problems for a long time, William Holmes and Bert Mitchell, gave their concurrence to the plan.

Other conditions include lighting equipment should be other than a wooden pole and should be low enough not to spread the light outside of the parking area, and that the lot should have a set closing time, with the development company agreeing to tow or sign complaints against illegally parked cars.

To the Editor:

The Silver Jubilee of the Grosse Pointe Children's Theater was marked this past week at an Awards Banquet held at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

For the past quarter of a century, Sally Reynolds, its founder and director, has enriched the lives of the children of the Grosse Pointe community, as well as the child in all of us.

We have been fortunate in having such a gifted person share her talent in developing a true Children's Theater, which is theater performed by young people, rather than productions for children performed by adults.

Thousands of hours of delightful, wholesome and quality entertainment has been provided to our community by its children. The training and discipline required has not only helped develop fine actors, but also fine human beings.

The talent, enthusiasm and energy of countless young people has been channeled into an unbelievable professionalism under Mrs. Reynolds' guidance.

We have roared with laughter and have been moved to tears. We have felt empathy. We have been elevated to new heights. To all the "Winnies," the "Wizards" and the "Olivers" who have performed over the years, to Mrs. John Mazer, musical director and talented accompanist, and especially to Mrs. Sally Reynolds—Bravo!

You deserve the applause of the entire community for a fine performance of consistent excellence. Twenty-five years is a long run for any show. May this show go on for another twenty-five!

Sincerely,
Jane Marshall,

Of Radnor circle,

To the Editor:

May we offer a suggestion to the individuals responsible for South High's graduation programming? An auditorium, (Cobo Hall, etc.), would seem to be much preferable to the track field used on the evening of Thursday, June 14.

Such a "plene" atmosphere might offer an explanation for the complete lack of dignified behavior on the part of a large group of students and too many of their guests.

A more appropriate setting plus some preparation of ceremonial behavior might help. Should this not be possible, why not cancel this embarrassing evening?

GP Baptist Sets Bible School

Vacation Bible School is being held at the Grosse Pointe Baptist Church, 21336 Mack avenue, today and tomorrow, June 28 and 29. A program is planned for children age three through grade six from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The children will participate in Bible lessons, fun crafts, songtime and recreation. A special film series of "Davey and Goliath" will be shown each day beginning Tuesday of that week. The theme for the week is "Jesus, I'm His . . . He's Mine."

In addition, there will be a special youth program each evening from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for all junior and senior high students.

Everyone is invited. For transportation, call 881-3543.

"Early Supper"

To meet the constant requests of daily guests, Chef Charles-Michael of Le Cafe Francais (Kimberly Korner) will present an "Early Supper" every Monday through Thursday. Beginning Monday, July 2 a moderately priced special a la carte menu will be served from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. No reservations necessary. This "Early Supper" menu will be a total departure from the Chef's very popular "an experience in French dining", a six course presentation served by reservation only on Friday and Saturday evenings.

According to Chef Charles-Michael, the "Early Supper" menu, like the luncheon and brunch menus, will change monthly to allow his guests the experience of a variety of French dishes.

Le Cafe Francais consists of three dining areas, the Terrace, the Porch, and the Courtyard. Each area is filled with fresh garden plants and trees. There are several splashing fountains and even singing birds!

The overall ambience is one of quietness and understated elegance. Soft, classical music enhances the serene atmosphere. In all, an ideal background in which to enjoy the creations of Chef Charles-Michael who prepares all his dishes as they are ordered . . . wait until you sample from his dessert buffet!

Remember . . . the "Early Supper" begins Monday, July 2 and will be served each Monday through Thursday from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. offering a moderately priced a la carte menu.

Le Cafe Francais is located in the Kimberly Korner building, Mack at Lochmoor. Call Chef Charles-Michael at 343-0810 for more information.

The Korner will be closed July 4th.

Inter-Faith Center Eyes Goals for Coming Year

The Grosse Pointe Inter-Faith Center for Racial Justice recently announced a new set of goals for the coming year that call for an expansion of its work in education, crime prevention, block club organization and housing in the Pointe.

The 1979-80 goals were approved by the center's board, composed of representatives from 14 member churches and 15 at-large delegates, at an April meeting.

The Grosse Pointe center, formed after the Detroit riots in 1967, is associated with four suburban Detroit Inter-Faith Centers, dedicated to promoting racial justice and understanding.

The local office's goals call for sponsoring new education programs for adults next year, as well as cultivation of its office as a resource center for community improvement and integration issues, a continuation of work with local businessmen and the Grosse Pointe Ministerial Association.

Even though the Grosse Pointe center has received some publicity this spring about its role in the community, its director, Ed Egnatios, a Pointe native, says there is still much "confusion" about the center and its goals.

In Mr. Egnatios' view, the center is "the only organization controlled and financed by Pointe citizens that can meet the challenge of living and working in an increasingly multi-cultural, multi-racial environment.

"There's nothing about our work that should threaten anyone," he said. "Grosse Pointe churches and citizens have worked together for more than 10 years to provide an educational and service agency dedicated to promoting racial understanding . . ."

"(We) try to bring awareness of social concerns and offer opportunities for Pointers to volunteer their expertise toward solving social problems which lie at the root of racial hate, urban decay and social injustice."

The center's general theme — the future of Grosse Pointe and Detroit are strongly linked — provides impetus to center programs in two areas, according to the director.

The first is neighborhood organization and crime prevention.

"If neighborhoods in Detroit's east side adjacent to The Pointes are allowed to be devastated by instability, crime, institutionally racist practices, racial fear and flight, then our own community is more susceptible," he said.

"If Detroit neighborhoods continue to be prosperous, safe and cohesive as they go through the process of integration, then the disaster of deterioration will be avoided. "The key is to minimize

Farms Surprise Package

451 MANOR

You're invited to step into a truly delightful three bedroom, 1 1/2 bath home with built in air conditioning, lower level television room, detached garage a major price reduction . . . excite your imagination - you're going to love it . . . and the price!

REAL ESTATE: How much longer can you afford to wait before joining the "big winner" in the inflation fight!

SPEAKING OF EXCITING LUXURY HOMES, IF YOU HAVEN'T SEEN THIS FINE OFFERING, AND YOU'RE READY TO MOVE UP TO A $150,000 HOME THAT FIGHTS INFLATION, READ ON:

Once upon a time (now) there was a special four bedroom, with two full baths, and two half baths. Four generous bedrooms and many closets were to be found upstairs. But since a first floor is so important, our thoughtful architect blended a family sized formal dining room, even bigger living room, a bright cheerful kitchen and a beautiful paneled den. Time passed. Along came a nice family room and it was invited to be part of the rest of the house. A "cool idea" in the form of central air was next, and since these lucky owners wished privacy and liked landscaping a very handsome back yard became a reality. If you assume a home of such character should have an attached two car brick garage and lower level games room with still another fireplace - you have assumed right. But if you assume that like other fairy tales, you can read about it from week to week, realize that homes of this caliber don't last . . . and that's the "grim" truth!

"SLEEPER"

That's what we call a really good deal . . . sitting right under your nose. The Sellers want a fast sale on their nice two bedroom frame bungalow with garage just off Kercheval in the Park . . . this isn't a, you'll pardon the expression, "dog" . . . at $34,500 it's first come first save!

Big Meadow Brook Week

Meadow Brook Music Festival's second week of the summer season offers a wide variety of entertainment: comedy, symphony, jazz and a pops concert complete with a gigantic holiday fireworks display.

Comedian Bill Cosby made his first Meadow Brook appearance yesterday, and the Symphony Series tonight and Saturday, June 28 and 30, features the return of the festival's original artistic director, Sixten Ehrling, who is extremely popular with Detroit area audiences.

Ehrling served as music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for 10 seasons, 1961 to 1971.

Tonight's concert includes works by Sibelius and Stravinsky and features young Russian violinist Mark Piskunov. The orchestra will perform selections by Beethoven, Strauss and Vaughan Williams Saturday evening. The featured soloists are violinist Gordon Staples, concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and Wesley Jacobs, the orchestra's principal tuba player.

Pavilion seats at $7, $8 and $9 and lawn tickets at $4 are available for both concerts.

Dizzy Gillespie, known for the "bebop" style of jazz he popularized in the 1940's, steps into the Meadow Brook jazz spotlight Friday, June 29.

Appearing with him, (it's their third joint appearance), will be New York's Collective Black Artists Ensemble which performs many works arranged by Slide Hampton and features such well-known musicians as Janice Robinson, Charles Sullivan, Ron Bridgewater, Clifford Jordan and Idris Muhammad.

For this concert, some pavilion seats are available at $7 and $8. Lawn tickets are $4 each.

In observance of the Fourth of July holiday, Meadow Brook offers a patriotic program featuring the music of John Philip Sousa July 1. This Sunday Pops program will be performed by the Detroit Concert Band, conducted by Leonard B. Smith.

Also featured is the Meadow Brook Estate, a group of young Oakland University singers/dancers and instrumentalists.

Holding a certificate of appreciation presented during the LINC (Linking Individuals to Needs in the Community) volunteer field trip to Detroit's Latino community in May is DARLENE KRATO, who organized the excursion with Israel Penna, who presented the "thank you" for Detroit Mayor Coleman Young to the 12 women volunteers who participated in the field trip: BARBARA WILLETT, (standing), LINC's president, Diane Miller, Lisa Morreale, Rita Goss, Cindy VanPelt, Joan Bock, Marilyn Blake, Sue Albright, Alice Metry, Sharon Mertz and Diane Marston. Darlene, herself, was—of course—the 12th. The certificate cites LINC as earning "the appreciation of the people of this city for an outstanding contribution to moving Detroit forward."

The connection between the Peter family and the Michigan Nature Association began in 1951, when Bertha Daubendiek and Thelma Sonnenberg, Mount Clemens area residents, became concerned about the mutilation of the nesting terns by lawn mowers at Metropolitan Beach.

Seeking public support, they enlisted the help of Jack Van Coevering, well-known Detroit Free Press outdoor writer. He wrote about the situation and Julius Peter replied with a letter to the editor, endorsing Mr. Van Coevering's defense of the tern colony.

Miss Daubendiek and Miss Sonnenberg had found a friend and a supporter. Both Julius and Marie Peter helped the non-profit association raise money to buy small tracts of land as pocket preserves.

Their long frocks of rose Qiana, designed and fashioned by the bride, featured spaghetti straps and matching, sheer overblouses. Their straw hats were accented with chiffon hatbands and fresh flowers. They carried baskets of rose and pink mixed flowers.

Best man was Steve Hookanson, of New York. Guests were seated by Brian and Eric Junker, the bride's brothers, Dan Thomson, John Hobin, of Toronto, and Scott Edwards, of Southfield.

The bride's mother wore a long gown of dusty rose Qiana, styled with a V-neck, cummerbund waist, slit skirt and draped sleeves. The bridegroom's mother's gown of pale blue Qiana featured an overblouse.

Star of Sea Rites For Miss Schultz

Toronto Is Vacation Destination of Newlywed Barry Patrick Brangs; Reception Held at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club

The 11 o'clock rites Saturday, May 12, at which The Reverend Ralph Barton presided were followed by a reception at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

The former Miss Schultz selected a peccant style gown of cotton voile for her late morning "marriage." Cotton lace trimmed her scoop neckline, bodice and cuffed, bishop sleeves.

Their frocks of petal rose Qiana knit featured high-rise waistlines, soft skirts, scoop necks and shirred shoulders creating cocoon sleeves.

Shephen Brang acted as best man for his brother. Ushering were Robert Brang, another brother, Jim Fleischer, of Washington, D.C., and Stephen Walthers, of Palm Springs, Calif.

The mother of the bride wore a street length, two-piece, pale blue knit, the bridegroom's mother a street length suit of green and white brocade. Carnations and a white Sweetheart rose formed both mothers' corsages.

The newlyweds vacationed in Toronto. They are making their home in Maryland.

Here from Sarasota, Fla., for the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Schultz

MCF Develops Breast Cancer Recurrence Test

The recurrence of breast cancer can be predicted through a test developed at the Michigan Cancer Foundation and reported in New Orleans during the American Association for Cancer Research meetings.

The test, called Con A reactivity, was reported in New Orleans by Dr. Willis Kirkland, of the foundation's research staff. Dr. Kirkland was chief investigator for the project, which was developed in the MCF's Cell Biology Laboratory headed by Phillip Furman.

This test could not have been developed without the support of doctors and hospitals which have been participating in the MCF Breast Cancer Prognostic Study in the metropolitan Detroit area," said Dr. Marvin A. Rich, executive vice-president and scientific director of the foundation.

He explained that the Con A study involved 107 breast cancers removed in area hospitals and sent to the Detroit laboratories as part of a world-wide work study organized by the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

More than 70 Detroit-area surgeons, pathologists and oncologists are participating in this program, Bon Secours Hospital phy-

A Grand Gift Goes to Bon Secours

A check for $117,200 was presented to Bon Secours Hospital by MRS. PHILIP MEATHE, (second from right), out-going president of Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League, at the league's recent annual meeting. Pictured above accepting the donation, which brings the Assistance League three-fourths of the way toward fulfilling its seven-year pledge of $407,200, are BILL HURLEY, (left), the hospital's director of Development, JOHN TATUM, (right), executive director, and Sister MARY CATHERINE ROGERS, C.B.S., Bon Secours' community coordinator.

The Assistance League is a major Bon Secours volunteer organization. Its members raise donations for the hospital through operation of the Bon Secours gift shop, various group projects and the annual Celebrity Series, which brings noted speakers to Grosse Pointe.

It was the efforts of the 289 Assistance League members which made possible completion of Bon Secours' satellite Family-Health Care Center in St. Clair Shores.

New officers for 1979-80 were installed at the meeting. Mrs. Robert Frear will serve as president, Mrs. John Boll and Mrs. Calier Worrell as first and second vice-presidents, respectively.

Recording and corresponding secretaries are, respectively, Mrs. C. John Burke and Mrs. John Gehlert. Treasurer is Mrs. Robert McMillan.

sicians participating in the Breast Cancer Prognostic Study are Suresh K. Gehani, M.D., Dennis A. Luz, M.D., Thomas Baumgarten, M.D., Clifford Benson, M.D., Francis T. Day, M.D., Cyril DeFever, M.D., Edward Elredge, M.D., William Harrity, M.D., John Hartzell, M.D., Charles Holt, M.D., Alfred Large, M.D., Roger McNeill, M.D., Joseph Rizzo, M.D., Donald N. Bean Seeds. How much reaction occurs is detected by using red blood cells, which also react with Con A and stick to the tumor cells.

The MCF scientists have found that cells from different human breast cancers react differently with Con A, and how much they react is directly related to the probability that the patient's cancer will recur.

"Of course, this is not yet a test that can be routinely used on all patients. But we are working hard to make it so."

the National Cancer Institute, an institutional grant from the United Foundation of Detroit and the Suzanne Korman Morton Memorial Fund.

In addition to conducting scientific research, the MCF offers patient and family care services through its neighborhood offices.

More information is available by calling the East Service Center, 881-2413, weekdays.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is a Torch Drive-United Way agency.

To date, Bon Secours has contributed 82 of 521 tumors used in the prognostic study.

Participating physicians from Saint John Hospital are James J. Humes, M.D., Herbert I. Krickstein, M.D., Paul Rizzo, M.D., and John Burrows, M.D.

Until that time, the Con A test will assist laboratory researchers in assessing the differences among cancer cells and their relationship to the behavior of the tumor," said Dr. Rich.

"The Con A test is a significant gain in controlling the spread of cancer and ultimately in discovering how cancer recurs in patients whose primary breast cancer had been previously controlled by surgery," said Dr. Rich.

Breast cancer is the leading cause of death among American women 35 to 50 years of age.

Dr. Rich explained that in being able to determine which patient is likely to experience a recurrent cancer, physicians will be better able to assess the degree of treatment, such as chemotherapy, required by that breast cancer patient after surgery.

In the Con A tests, cells from the breast cancers are grown in tissue culture and then treated with Con A, a substance derived from Jack

VERY DESIRABLE BRIGHTON AREA

Magnificent 11 room, 3 bath Chalet Estate Home on 7 acres of high rolling wooded terrain, lavishly landscaped.

Less than three miles from Brighton, ten minutes from access to U.S. 23 and I-96 freeways.

Oak-stained rough-sawn cedar panelling and 2 levelly winding staircases, plus 2 uniquely designed imposing fireplaces express a feeling of grace and warmth.

Two-story high cedar-beamed cathedral ceiling living room has 36 foot long cedar balcony overlooking large outdoor pool, lanai and cedar stockade.

Lower level family room leads to walkout stone patio and stone steps to pool.

Gorgeous private meadow and pond view from master bedroom and through doorway to small balcony outside. Another delightful view from loft down into the huge living room, green-house dining room and open island style kitchen.

Three-stall auto barn and parking for several cars. At the end of a quarter mile treed private lane, all on the property, this indescribably beautiful home could never be duplicated anywhere, nor could its surroundings. Its cedar shake roof with the four perfectly scaled dormers, is in itself a masterpiece.

If you are looking for a one-of-a-kind hideaway estate in the $300,000 range, please phone me at 313-1-229-8600 during business hours, Monday through Saturday or 1-227-7333, evenings or Sunday.

My dear wife, the inspiration for this custom fashioned 1970 home, died tragically last November. I have finally decided to dispose of the home, complete with all furnishings, appliances, utensils, tableware, linens, etc. all hand selected and of finest quality, so the new family can ease right into ready made luxury.

Final price and terms can be negotiated. Possession can be immediate as I'm planning a move to our retirement home in Arizona. There is much more of interest to tell about this secluded, one of a kind estate that would add to its value, enjoyment and charm.

Pine Knob Manor Home

Impeccable taste and the wealth to indulge it were introduced to Pine Knob more than 50 years ago by industrial magnate Col. Sidney Dun Waldon. He found expression in the creation of a magnificent estate, building his baronial mansion atop the highest elevation of Southeastern Michigan.

Thousands of Austrian pines were imported to augment the native oaks, maples and elms which covered the estate's rolling hills. Winding garden walls were constructed to display a fabulous collection of rare and beautiful iris.

It was here the colonel found tranquility in a private and privileged world. It was a lifestyle, replete with faithful retainers, that is today all but forgotten but now recreated for you in Pine Knob Manor Homes.

Old world craftsmanship, even as that used to build the colonel's mansion, has been enlisted in this new manifestation of a Country French village. The homes, each uniquely tailored to the natural environment, offer a renaissance in elegant living faithful to the precepts of Col. Waldon's comfortable rusticity yet complete with all the amenities of today.

Authentic in detail from the steeply pitched roofs and antique chimney caps to the paneled windows and exterior brass carriage lamps, the spacious homes are part of a tradition dating back 300 years and more.

A life of gracious ease awaits Pine Knob villagers, protected by their own gate-keeper and freed from care through a year-around maintenance program.

Pine Knob Manor Homes, located near the early American Village of Clarkston, Michigan, are custom built condominiums ranging in price from $229,000 to $329,000; attached and detached styles are available.

Complete recreation facilities are near, including a professionally designed championship golf course which meanders past the village porticoes. Just beyond the Manor Homes lies Pine Knob Ski Resort and the nationally famous Pine Knob Music Theater. And there is much more to the rich and unique quality of life at Pine Knob. Let us tell you about it.

Visitors welcome Saturday and Sunday 12-5; Weekdays by appointment 10-5; please phone (313) 625-1411.

NOTE DETAILS: The notes will be dated Aug. 1, 1979, will mature April 1, 1980, and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum fixed by the bids therefor. PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The notes are issued in anticipation of operating taxes due and payable on December 1, 1979. The first collections of said taxes are required to be set aside in a separate depository account until the amount so set aside is sufficient for payment of principal and interest on the notes herein offered and any other notes hereafter issued in anticipation of said taxes. In case of the insufficiency of the taxes pledged for the payment thereof the School District is required to pay the notes from any funds legally available therefor including subsequent tax levies of the School District. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative by registered mail.

AWARD OF NOTES: The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed on a 360 day year basis by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from August 1, 1979, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

State Hopes for Big Fourth

Michigan tourism operators are hoping the 30-hour Fourth of July holiday will bring a sharp reversal in the approximate nine percent drop in vacation activity so far this year, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"One optimistic tourism note comes from the Michigan Travel Bureau which has received a record number of travel inquiries for Michigan vacations so far this year," stated Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Raika.

"However, Auto Club routings to state destinations are down 14 percent for the first five months of this year compared with 1978," he said.

The Michigan Department of Transportation forecasts nearly a one percent decrease in the number of miles travelled this July 4th as compared with 1973, which was the last time Michigan had a 30-hour summer holiday. Motorists should drive 280 million miles between 6 p.m. Tuesday, July 3, and midnight Wednesday, July 4.

"transportation" Department officials are basing that projected decrease on motorists' concern over the gasoline situation," said Mr. Raika. He added that initial Auto Club "fuel gauge" surveys show gasoline should be adequate for the holiday unless the current blockage of gasoline storage facilities continues by striking independent truckers.

Poor weather and unfounded fears over gasoline availability have caused the drop in vacation activity in much of Michigan during the first five months of 1979. Hardest hit have been businesses dependent on tourism north of a line from Petoskey to Bay City.

South of that line, many businesses are benefiting from an increase in near-home travel, with Southeast Michigan tourism up two percent through May as compared with the first five months of last year.

Attractions near major southern Michigan cities reporting larger business volumes than last year include Dearborn's Greenfield Village, the Detroit Zoo and the Kalamazoo Nature Center.

Tourism is down about five percent in West Michigan, 10 to 15 in East Michigan and about 20 percent below 1978 in the Upper Peninsula.

State Hopes for Big Fourth

"Some tourism operators believe that bad weather and not gasoline fears may be the major reason tourism has declined over last year's record pace," he explained.

Auto Club points out that four days of bad weather during the recently completed Memorial Day weekend may have been the main factor in motorists driving only 635 million miles, the lowest total for a four-day holiday since 1971 and nearly 12 percent below the same 1978 holiday.

Crossings at the Mackinac Bridge were down some 18 percent for the Memorial Day weekend and are running three percent below the year's total as compared with the first five months of 1978.

Motels and resorts in most of Michigan report accommodations still are available for the July 4 holiday, with only Charlevoix and Gaylord receiving heavy advance pressure.

State Police Operation CARE, (Combined Accident Reduction Effort), will be in full swing during the July 4th holiday with 400 additional troopers emphasizing the 55 mph. speed limit and enforcing drinking and driving laws.

Auto Club's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service will report developments on traffic, tourism and gasoline availability via a network of 160 radio stations from 3 to 11 p.m. July 3 and from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. July 4.

The holiday officially runs from 6 p.m. Tuesday to 12 midnight Wednesday.

Same Day Mail Service Starts

In by 10 a.m., delivered by 5 p.m. That's the main feature of a new same-day Express Mail Metro Service that is provided by the U.S. Postal Service in the Detroit metropolitan area. The service began Monday, June 25.

Designed to provide highly expedited local delivery of business mail, Express Mail Metro Service will enable customers to bring time-sensitive letters or packages weighing up to 70 pounds to designated post offices, including the Grosse Pointe branch, 18640 Mack avenue, before 10 a.m. and be assured of delivery by 5 p.m.

Delivery will be backed by a full postage refund guarantee if delivery standards are not met. Standard Express Mail insurance for packages containing merchandise valued up to $500 and document reconstruction coverage up to $50,000 will be provided at no additional cost.

Items deposited by noon at the Detroit General Mail Facility, 1401 West Fort street, will receive delivery by 5 p.m.

Customers also will have the option of depositing items by 5 p.m. for delivery by 10 a.m. the next morning.

Pick-up service at the customer's place of business will be available on a pre-arranged, scheduled basis. Rates for the new service are $9 for items one pound and under; $12 for items weighing over one and through eight pounds; and $15 for pieces over eight and through 70 pounds.

A charge of $5.25 per trip is made for pick-up service, regardless of the number of items.

William F. Bolger, postmaster general, said the new Express Mail Metro Service "is intended to meet the growing demands of business mailers who require same-day delivery of letters, business documents and data."

Recent Postal Service surveys showed that an estimated 76 percent of current volume on these deliveries is sent by companies using their own employees to effect same-day delivery. The postmaster general said he hoped these companies would find it cheaper and more convenient to use the new Express Mail Metro Service.

Mr. Bolger also offered to meet with representatives of trade associations for the private delivery industry if there was concern on their part regarding Express Mail Metro Service. The Postal Service pointed out that it does not intend, nor could it, replace all private delivery services in metropolitan areas.

Express Mail Metro Service was first implemented on a temporary basis on May 2 in Chicago, Columbus, Ohio and Gulfport, Miss. The service is being expanded to the 22 largest metropolitan areas in the country this summer.

Detroit Postmaster Joseph L. Loukotka said that mailers interested in Express Mail Metro Service should call the post office at 226-4979 for further details.

PIERRE AUGIER, OF BISHOP ROAD

By Janet Mueller

"America is a paradise for children," says Pierre Augier, "and I am a five-year-old kid." The food? Pierre, given a going-out-to-dinner choice, opts for an American restaurant. "The quality is consistently very good." Besides: "Why should I go to a French restaurant? I have French cooking at home every day!"

The educational system? Andre Augier, 18, goes to Grosse Pointe South High School. Marc Augier, 14, makes the transition from Pierce Middle School to South High this summer. "I am very much impressed by the American educational system. They work much less—but they learn the same things."

We Are Spolled And Americans are, frankly, spoiled. "Most of my American friends don't know how easy they have it. Their basic practical problems are solved." Consider: if one wants to go out to dinner in America, one simply picks up a phone and makes a reservation.

It is NOT, Pierre emphasizes, that simple in other countries. He should know. So far, Pierre has lived on three continents. He was born in France, in Nice, where his family still lives. He spent two-and-a-half years in Africa, working in telecommunications for the French Government in Cameroon.

"We had 21 feet of rain per year. We had 100 percent humidity 99 percent of the time." As for the temperature... the less said about that, the better. Five years ago, Pierre Augier arrived in the United States. Without one word of English. He came for a special reason. "I had a good background in a very narrow area: radial tires." He came to work for Uniroyal, as a technical advisor in that specialized area.

The Augier men, Pierre, Andre and Marc, could speak no English, but Mrs. Augier was better prepared. Francine Knows Francine had earned her Master of Arts degree in English in France.

In six months, Andre and Marc were completely bilingual. "We had fantastic help from the school personnel." In fact, even before he could speak English, Marc Augier was elected president of his class. As president, every day, he led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

"That is another thing about your schools here, you do not educate your children just to be 'brains,' but to be citizens." Five years later, Andre and Marc speak without an accent in both French and English. "The big problem," says Pierre, "is that they keep their French. At home, we speak French all the time." For the Augiers remain a French family, in the midst —and happily so—of America. They managed to find an irregular house on an irregular lot in Grosse Pointe, where most homes, basic boxes, sit on rectangular lawns. Pierre likes a bit of irregularity. "In Europe," he explains, "we are more complicated."

To Grosse Pointe He settled in Grosse Pointe primarily because the people who hired him lived here and because it was most convenient to work: a 12-minute ride down East Jefferson avenue to the Uniroyal Plant near the Belle Isle bridge. Belle Isle, Grosse Pointe, Kercheval, Charlevoix, Cadieux. The Augiers had not expected to feel so at home in America. (Back in France, Pierre's family, hearing the place names, laughed: "Are you SURE you are going to live in America?")

Their welcome, from neighbors, schools, the community, was fantastic. "That was my big, big discovery," Pierre says, "that the people here are so nice." Soon, Pierre set about making another discovery: the role of the French in the history of Detroit, the French heritage that continues to influence the modern, industrial city.

Naturally, one of the first things the Augiers had done on moving to Grosse Pointe was to join the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe. Naturally, the Grosse Pointe Alliance, like all the French-oriented groups in the area, was soon swept up in preparations for America's Bicentennial, specifically for making sure that Americans knew the role France had played in the settlement and development of their young nation. Festival Formed The French Festival of Detroit was formed, a Michigan corporation designed to raise funds to re-enact Cadillac's Landing in 1701 at "detroit," (the straits, and the founding of the city. Pierre Augier was put in command of the Company of 17th Century French Marines which formed an integral part of the pageant. He had a ball. "I was put in charge of the troops because I had graduated from a French military academy." But today's military is very different from that of 300 years ago. Researching, experimenting, Pierre re-built the drill—and discovered the French heritage of Detroit. "We worked for almost a Market? It is a French adjective, 'folklorique,' meaning representative of the people. And then, perhaps, 'populaire'... again as we use the word in France, in both senses: of the people as well as enjoyed and appreciated by the people.

For someone who didn't know a word of English when he landed in America five years ago, Pierre Augier is expressing himself very well.

He still has an accent, but he has passed the final language assimilation test. He has dreamt in English. He likes to read, and he makes a point of keeping up his reading in both French and English. Enjoying himself thoroughly in the heart of America, he is determined to keep his French culture.

"I can adjust, but not drastically change," he says. He has learned to zoom onto expressways, (in France, that's against the law: one must come to a complete stop), and to flip light switches up for on, down for off, (in France, it's exactly opposite).

Red Snapper Fan His sons eat hamburgers with relish, and Pierre is crazy over Red Snapper. "That's something we don't have in France."

But he remains French. "Do you know what is the big strength of the American melting pot? The ability to keep the customs of the countries you came from, and still to be American."

"In fact, those who keep the customs the most are often more American than the rest! This double culture that you take for granted: I think it's a great thing." He continues to discover America, whether it be physically, (vacationing in Texas, Louisiana, visiting Niagara Falls—"Of course! One MUST visit Niagara Falls"), or psychologically, and he continues to delight in his discoveries. Like a child with a great big Santa Claus bag of goodies who hasn't reached the bottom yet, "America is a paradise for children," he says. "I try to behave like a kid as much as I can."

Mr. Pett. died in September, 1978, at the age of 88, without knowing of the decision to name the Grass Lake Sanctuary for him and his wife. He and Marie had recently moved from Ridgemont road to The Whittier.

So it was from The Whittier that Marie Moran Peter came north to Alpena, that first Sunday in June, for a very special ceremony.

She was accompanied by two of her daughters and their husbands, Christine and John H. Gardner, of Chalfonte avenue, and Patricia and Stewart E. McFadden, of McMillan road, and by her grandson, John H. Gardner, Jr., and his wife, Gwyn, of Ann Arbor, and by her companion, Mrs. Juanita Allen.

The dedication was held on the shore of Grass Lake. O. B. Eustis, of the Thunder Bay Audubon Society, opened the ceremony with a prayer:

"Oh Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this fair earth on which we live. We thank Thee for the great places: the mountains, oceans, wide plains, rivers and lakes, the sky above, the air around us. "And on this day we particularly thank Thee for one of the small places: cool shadows where small iris can spread their splendor, where trees hold the quiet, where birds sing and nest, and all the wildings go their ways in safety.

"We ask Thy blessing on the work of those who find such places and strive to keep them as testimony to the beauty of Thy creation. We particularly ask Thy blessing for Julius and Marie Peter in whose name we gather to dedicate this sanctuary.

"God help us who visit this place to do so with sensitivity, to open our eyes that we may see Thy handiwork, and to strengthen our resolve to keep it safe from harm."

And there was more. Miss Daubendiek related the history and objectives of the Michigan Nature Association. Mrs. Gardner recited a portion of one of her father's favorite poems, "Song from Pippa Passes," by Robert Browning.

Mrs. McFadden, acknowledging the dedication, concluded her remarks with these words:

"My father wrote on the flyleaf of a book he gave me, 'shore birds have always appealed to me as in some ways being the very essence of wildness.' Here on the shore of Grass Lake, and so close to Lake Huron, I can think of no better or more fitting memorial.

"My mother is, and my father, too, would have been, most pleased. And, for the entire family, I thank you all."
