MOVING TO GROSSE POINTE?

If you know someone contemplating a move to Grosse Pointe, call our office, give their name and address and we will be happy to mail them our brochure describing the five Grosse Pointes.

History

And donations still continue to pour in from small companies, too, Driscoll said. But a $10,000 contribution from the John S. Knight Foundation has been the largest so far.

Preservation Wayne itself has raised about $12,880 toward the Mackenzie house. Spokesman Keith Kalinowski said the state grant has just about been matched by outside funds.

Now the group is embarked on a plan where anyone can help preserve the Mackenzie house by buying one square foot of the house for $12.50, (it's tax deductible).

So far, Preservation Wayne has received about $4,000 from the $12.50 "buy a slice of history" campaign, including donations from 11 Grosse Pointes.

Anyone who donates to the Mackenzie house will receive a certificate of appreciation indicating that they have helped save a portion of the house. For a larger sum, you can buy an entire room and have it named in your honor.

If you are interested in "buying into" the Mackenzie House, contact Preservation Wayne at 577-3559.

Developments

Investment's building would require, according to ordinance, 208 more spaces. One council member, Nancy Waugaman, wondered how the deck thus would help the current parking situation, acknowledged to be inadequate.

But Rich said his structures are made so they can be added onto in segments at a later date if necessary. He said parking rates would probably be about 30 cents per half hour, with leased parking available.

Councilman Lloyd Semple, explaining recent actions of the Farms EDC allowing the 81 Investment project to seek bonding for their building, said bond counsel had assured EDC members such a use would be "appropriate."

Turning Point
"I have some question as to where the public purpose (required for EDC bonds) ends," he said, adding he felt legislative agencies would probably soon be revamped to tighten its usage.

Michael Burns, president of the Hill Association, termed the projects "a gift to us on a silver platter."

"I think the Hill is at a point where we could go either way. Whatever we can do to further it, should be done," he said.

NETS AT THE FISHER?

Susan Mascarini of the Shores and Liz Wachter of the Farms, winner and runner-up, respectively, of the local qualifier in the Avon Tennis Championships of Detroit, played tennis in the lobby of the Fisher Building on February 12. Their play is part of a special exhibit running through February 22 commemorating the 10th anniversary of the woman's professional tour.

Thieves Go for Gold

Gorham silver, which the victim said was valued at $600 — back when it was originally purchased in 1946.

Be Snoopy

Thieves entered a Neff road home, on February 7 at about 12:30 p.m. and took a $1,000 diamond sapphire ring. The owners apparently surprised the culprits. The silver and a stereo were left behind.

City Police Lt. Robert Van Tiem advises residents to be "snoopy." "Watch your neighbors and their houses closely. If you see a stranger, let us know. We're glad to check anything out."

Another Neff home was burglarized when thieves rummaged through the house and took a stereo and jewelry worth $1,000 between 4 and 8:30 p.m. on February 9.

That same day, thieves entered the Lincoln road home of two school teachers and escaped with jewelry, a color TV, $150 in cash and two pillow cases (this is common in several burglaries).

Farms Police Chief Robert Feber advises people to check their insurance policies on silver.

He said a rider for silver now costs about $2 per $1,000.

That community reported two burglaries on February 10 when thieves entered a McKinley road home about 4:30 in the afternoon and escaped with a sterling silver heirloom and a gold wedding ring.

A Radnor circle resident also discovered his entire house ransacked that day and

Millage

Gossett, Spencer, Goodnow and Trigg.

Long said this week he is optimistic about the millage proposals.

It's Reasonable
"I think people here realize that a strong school system is the backbone of this community," he said. "The benefits this school system offers the entire community — especially senior citizens — are superior to any school district I've seen."

The tax proposal, he added, is a "reasonable one."

"Taxes will increase with the rate of inflation," Long said. "Unfortunately, schools have to live with that, too."

The request is for a renewal of the current tax rate, which was approved by voters 3-1 in 1977.

Because of the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment, that rate will be reduced slightly each year to compensate for escalating property values.

Staff Cuts

The net effect will be an average 11 percent increase in total taxes paid next year if the proposal is approved. Eleven percent is the rate of inflation, measured by the Consumer Price Index.

The school administration plans to continue reducing its staff by about 12 persons a year to reflect declines in enrollment. The millage proposal also allows for a three percent "improvement" spending on new programs each year.

To register to vote, citizens should visit their city clerk's office during regular business hours. To register on February 21 in the evening, Park residents should go to the Park Library on Kercheval, City and Farms residents should go to the Central Library on Kercheval, and Shores, Woods and Harper Woods residents should go to the Woods Library on Mack.

Absentee ballot applications are available at the Administration Office on St. Clair, or at any public school office or the three libraries. Persons 60 years or older, those with physical disabilities or those who will be out of town on election day may vote by absentee ballot. They must be returned by March 22.

cities, (excluding the Shores), said their tax rates will be reduced this year because of Headlee.

The tax amendment, approved in 1978, says the amount of tax revenue collected by cities cannot increase any more than the rate of inflation each year.

Inflation, measured by the Consumer Price Index, is expected to be about 11.5 percent. Therefore, cities like the Pointes with 20 percent increases in tax base, will be forced to reduce tax rates.

Board of Review

Just how much tax rates will be cut will be determined by individual cities as they prepare budgets this spring. Other units of government, however, such as Wayne County, are not expected to roll back tax rates this year.

In the Shores, Village Superintendent Thomas Jefferis said he didn't know if the city would roll back the tax rate. "I expect the Shores to abide by Headlee," Jefferis said.

Homeowners who feel their assessments are too high still have a chance to appeal to their cities for relief.

Boards of Review hearings are scheduled in all five Pointes next month: March 11 and 25 in the Park; March 17 and 18 in the City; March 11 and 25 in the Woods and Farms, and March 10 and 11 in the Shores.

If you get no relief from the city Board of Review you can always appeal to the State Tax Tribunal.

It is possible for a single theft by computer to net a criminal up to 50 times the amount of money taken in a bank robbery.

One of the first things to consider when setting up a wine cellar is how much wine is generally consumed. For example, two or three bottles of wine per week are used, and perhaps one dinner party a month is given during which three or four bottles of wine are served, approximately a dozen cases of red and white table wines a year will be needed. A good wine cellar usually contains a year's supply. For the wine drinker described above, a space four feet wide and six feet high should be sufficient. If the wines are placed in racks or bins, less space will be needed.

Whatever your rate of consumption, PARKIE'S PARTY SHOP, 17255 Mack, Corner of St. Clair, Detroit, offers the selection of wines, liquors, beers and other delectables to meet your needs all year round. With PARKIE'S PARTY SHOP just around the corner you can save yourself the cost of building a wine cellar and instead invest your savings in the enjoyable pleasures of tasting our varied selection of your favorite beverages. Open 10-10 Mon.-Thurs., 10-11 Fri. & Sat., noon-10 Sun. Tel. 885-0626.

School System to Spend $600,000 on Buildings

The School Board moved into phase four of its building and site program this week, allocating $600,000 for maintenance and renovation of 15 buildings.

The funds will be used for a variety of projects that include upgrading heat and electrical systems, roofs and parking lots. About $42,000 will be used to repair or replace athletic and gymnasium equipment.

The money comes from a building and site fund that was established in 1978 with a $2 million transfer from the general school fund and supplemented in 1979 by another $500,000 transfer.

In the first three phases of the program more than $1.6 million was spent on projects in all 15 schools, three libraries and two auxiliary buildings owned by the school system.

Phase four will be allocated as follows:

Cinema League Visits USSR

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will present "The U.S.S.R., Siberia and Central Asia," a 16mm movie by Zigmund Niparko, when it meets in the War Memorial's Fries Auditorium on Monday, February 18, at 8 p.m.

Area residents are invited to attend the program without charge.

Last summer Mr. Niparko photographed the Soviet side of Central Asia, north of Mongolia and Afghanistan, in the historically rich cities of Alma-Ata, Samarkand, Tashkent and Bukhara.

His colorful movie begins in the Russian capital of Moscow, and then travels on for 3,000 miles to the Siberian city of Bratsk where the photographer found his tourist guide remembering Grosse Pointe's Walker Cislner, who served as a consultant at the great Angara River Power Project.

The next stop is Irkutsk, capital of Eastern Siberia, with glimpses of the Trans-Siberian railroad.

Flights are made to Alma-Ata in Kazakhstan, just miles from Mongolia, separated by the majestic Trans-Ili Ala-Tau Range, and on to the Republic of Uzbekistan, along the "silk road" of Marco Polo, used by traders for many centuries.

This is the land of Genghis Khan, the victories of Timur and, now, the agricultural accomplishments of the Soviets.

A social hour for Cinema League members follows the presentation.

Cottage Plans CPR Class

Cottage Hospital will offer a free cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class on Wednesday, February 27, from 7 to 10 p.m. The program will be held in board rooms A and B on the lower level of the hospital. Reservations must be made in advance by calling 884-8600, extension 2390.

Participants in the CPR class will learn some basic anatomy, the most common heart attack signals, and how to activate the emergency medical services system to obtain help. They will also learn how to do rescue breathing and one man CPR.

Victoria J. Boyce, RN, director of education, said the class will be taught the American Heart Association's "ABC's" of cardiopulmonary resuscitation: airway, breathing, and circulation.

Certified instructors will conduct the class and use a manikin for practice. Participants will see a brief slide presentation on CPR. People who successfully complete the class will receive a card and certification good for one year in Michigan.

The class is prepared in cooperation with the Committee on Emergency Cardiac Care by the American Heart Association.

GPF Receives EMS Extension

The Farms fire department finally received notification it would be allowed to operate its ambulance at least until July while it continues to train personnel to become emergency medical technicians.

The Farms has been operating the ambulance since January 1 in limbo, since its last one-year extension of the EMT requirements ran out at the end of last year. Fire Chief Warren Schultz applied to the Southeastern Michigan Council on Emergency Medical Services for another extension in December and wasn't notified until last week the request had been turned down.

Schultz appealed to the state Department of Public Health, however, and was granted the extension.

State law requires that an ambulance must have at least one licensed EMT riding with the patient. The Farms is technically supposed to have 5.7 EMT's to cover all shifts. At present it has one, with two waiting testing for licenses, and another two to begin training soon.

Schultz said the department should have enough trained men by July.

The Shores also is operating under a six-month extension of the EMT requirements.

Dig up the facts — that way there's no room for doubt.

Youth Hurt
In Accident

A 17-year-old Farms youth suffered multiple injuries when he was struck by a car while running across the street in front of a bus. Laurence Stocking of Webster road suffered a broken leg, a broken shoulder and a laceration of the forehead in the accident, which occurred on February 5, at the corner of Charlevoix and McKinley. He was taken to Bon Secours Hospital. According to police reports, Stocking had just gotten off a SEMTA bus as it stopped at the corner. Running in front of the coach, he was struck by a car driven by Wesley Eloffson, of Pemberton road, which was passing the bus. Police said that skid marks of over 18 feet indicated the driver had applied his brakes immediately upon seeing the youth. Dr. Douglas Sargent of the City, who was passing by, assisted Farms firemen in getting the youth into the ambulance.

Nature Center Proposed
By Ferry School's PTO

Right now the courtyard at Ferry School is a patch of grass and weeds seldom seen by students. But Ferry kids will be seeing a lot of it soon, when their parents complete an ambitious project to convert the yard into a complete nature center. The Ferry PTO has proposed a three-phase program to shape up the courtyard and has backed the plans with a $1,500 donation and commitment to handle all maintenance. They've received help from representatives of the Seven Ponds Nature Center and Michigan Audubon Society in planning the center, which will serve as a year around learning station. Plans call for creation of a rock garden, miniature hard and soft wood forests, a prairie, wild flower garden, sand plants and, eventually a shallow pond for tadpoles, birds and a variety of water plants. Robert Roney, a Ferry parent and professional architect, helped design the center and presented the plans to the Board of Education earlier this month. "We want to get kids back to looking at nature and studying it. In the center they will be able to observe growth and record progress of young plants. It will be a 'see and touch' experience," Roney explained. Roney added that the parents hope to share the nature center with other members of the community as well. In addition to Roney, Ferry parents Susan Eagle, John Earl and Audrey Thomas have helped coordinate the project. They hope to complete the first two phases this spring. Be enthusiastic, but don't set a pace you can't keep up with.

America & Me Winner Is Mike

Three students from Our Lady Star of the Sea School have been named local winners in the 11th annual America and Me Essay Contest, sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group. The three, who earned the first, second and third place awards for their school, are Michael Blair Perez, first; Dorothy Haddad, second, and Deborah Parzych, third. All three received award certificates for their achievement. And, as the school's first place winner, Michael's name will be engraved on a plaque for permanent display in the school. Michael's first place essay now advances to the state level competition from which the top ten essays in Michigan will be selected. The top ten statewide winners, who will be announced in March, will receive plaques and U.S. savings bonds ranging in value from $100 to $500, totalling $2,000 in prizes for the top ten essayists.

Centers Offers
Two Cruises

As an extension of its educational program, the War Memorial is offering two cruises—to Central America and Alaska. Beginning in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the Central American trip runs for 22 days, ending in Los Angeles, Cal. The cruise will visit the Yucatan, Guatemala, Costa Rica, the San Blas Islands, Colombia and Panama in the Atlantic. Passing through the Panama Canal, the ship will continue to the Mexican ports of Acapulco and Puerto Vallarta before winding up in the States. Cost for the trip is $82 per day. The voyage runs from June 9 through July 2. A 15-day voyage to Alaska from Vancouver will travel up through the inland passage and continue to Homer, Valdez, Anchorage and the Columbia Glacier. Prices begin at $1,295. The cruises include university level lectures by experts on the cultures, languages and music of the regions visited. Academic credit for the courses is available through the International Association for Shipboard Education, a consortium of colleges and universities. Center officials report however, the cruises also provide much time to relax and have fun aboard the SS Univer, formerly the SS Atlantic. Cruise costs include air transportation to and from ports and transfers between plane and ship. A special illustrated lecture and detailed information on the cruise programs will be presented at the War Memorial Thursday, February 21, at 8 p.m. Deposits for the cruises should be made by March 1.

Deman Receives Science Honor

Kenneth Deman was named winner of the annual Bausch and Lomb Science Award last week at North High School. The Science Award—a bronze medal—is presented each year to winners at more than 8,600 participating schools throughout the U.S. and Canada. "The Bausch and Lomb Science Award is especially significant because it recognizes the senior student at our school who has attained the highest scholastic standing in science subjects," said Gordon Morlan, Science Department chairman. The actual award will be presented at the May North High School awards night. As winner of the award, Ken is eligible to compete for one of several four-year Bausch and Lomb Science Scholarships at the University of Rochester, N.Y. Scholarship winners are selected on merit, and stipends, based on need, could range up to $4,500 per year. Surveys indicate that the award has encouraged more than 30 percent of the winners to follow scientific careers. Bausch and Lomb has headquarters in Rochester.

Series 'On Life & Living' Begins at St. Clare Church

The Continuing Education Committee of St. Clare of Montefalco Parish, Mack and Outer Drive, has announced its Winter Series "On Life and Living," featuring three programs available to area residents.

The series begins on Monday evening, February 18, with the outstanding author and lecturer, Dr. Carl Middleton conducting a historical overview of the Ten Commandments, and a reflection on the meaning of the commandments in today's world.

"Are the Ten Commandments Relevant Anymore?" covers the commandments through four evening presentations on the topics: "On God, Prayer and Church," "Respect for Persons and Other Living Things," "Human Sexuality," and "Do Ethics and Business Mix?"

Dr. Middleton is Director of Pastoral Care at St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac, and formerly was chairman of the Department of Theology at St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake.

The second series will cover change in the Catholic Church leading up to the Church as we know it today. "Changes—Shaping the Catholic Church Today" will be held for six Thursday evenings beginning February 21.

Changes in the liturgy, the Papacy relations with Protestant faiths and change from the "immigrant Church" to the "acculturated Church" will be given for four sessions by Msgr. William Scherzer.

A look at the "grieving process" as it relates to the acceptance of change in the Church will be covered at one session by Rev. Lawrence DuCharme and a study of the "five models of the Church" will be examined by Rev. Joseph McCormick, O.S.A.

Msgr. Scherzer is a long-time professor of History and Church History, and is pastor of St. Valentine Church, Redford. Father DuCharme is Director of Pastoral Care at St. Johns Hospital; Father McCormick is Associate Pastor of St. Clare of Montefalco Parish.

One of the most popular programs available, and much in demand, is the final offering in the series — "Marriage Enrichment." The workshop is for couples interested in enriching their lives together, and will be held on five Sunday evenings beginning February 24. Through presentations, discussions and special exercises at the sessions and at home, couples will face subjects like: "Self Awareness," "Self Disclosure," "Awareness of Others," "Styles of Communication" and "Building Relationships."

Discussions leaders will be Bernadette Hughes, OP, MA, and Louis S. Thompson, MA. They are both associates in Pastoral Counseling Associates and are expert in marriage and family counseling.

The programs will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening, and will be held in the Teen Room at St. Clare's Sweeney Center on the parish grounds.

Further information on the programs, fees and registration may be obtained by calling the St. Clare Religious Education Office at 884-2110.

In 1977, the latest year figures are available, 44 percent of milk sales were in gallon containers, and 32 percent in half-gallons.

Cottage Reaffirms Stand Against Bed-Cutting Plan

At the annual Cottage Hospital corporate meeting on January 28, board president W. Merritt Jones, Jr., reiterated the hospital's opposition to the recommendation that 62 beds be closed in accordance with the Comprehensive Health Planning Council of Southeastern Michigan's plans for bed reduction in the area.

Jones expressed confidence that the recommendations can be defeated either politically or in court.

"It is clear that the plan was recommended without careful consideration of individual circumstances, roles in the (health care) system and the legal rights of the separate hospitals," he said. The board's continuing analysis of research data shows that smaller community hospitals are more cost efficient than larger hospitals, so fulfilling the spirit of the state legislators' intent to find a means to contain health care costs, Jones said.

"Hospitals such as Cottage don't deserve to bear the brunt of bed reduction," he added.

Jones cited Cottage's continuing high occupancy against the statistics of those hospitals which received little or no bed reduction assignment. According to American Hospital Association statistics, Cottage has the highest occupancy of any general hospital in Michigan.

He also stressed the hospital's lower room rates and cost per patient day coupled with its high quality of care which should rank it high among hospitals to be maintained intact.

Jones continued that the hospital is forming a support group of prominent citizens from the communities served to develop more political clout. He also said plans have been made to present Cottage's case before the state legislators, and, through the hospital lawyers, mount a legal appeal at the appropriate time.

He urged corporation and board members to continue to contact their legislators or other prominent state officials regarding the arbitrary and unfair treatment received by Cottage Hospital in the current bed reduction planning.

In his address, Ralph L. Wilgarde, administrator, cited Cottage Hospital's efforts to contain costs despite high inflation rates and price increases in materials and services the hospital must buy. Wilgarde added that federal and state regulations which require personnel and equipment to compile statistics and complete forms add thousands of dollars each year to hospital costs and add to each patient's bill.

He continued that the need for hospital services is increasing, as the median age of the population rises. With a 103 percent occupancy during the first 10 months of 1979, some private rooms held two patients, and rooms planned for two held three beds, he said.

Wilgarde said that today's space-age technology including life support and monitoring systems, while greatly increasing the chance for a patient's survival, also carry substantial price tags. He cited Cottage Hospital's group purchasing efforts, careful budgeting and a recent cost containment contest for employees saving an estimated $143,000 yearly, as evidence of the hospital's serious intent to contain health care costs.

Finally, Wilgarde recalled highlights of the hospital's 60th anniversary celebration, including its two day health fair last May, as an indication of its continuing efforts to provide community health education and screening opportunities for the public.

"At Cottage Hospital, we believe we are continuing to provide a high standard of medical and nursing care for our community, despite the inflationary trends which affect everyone," he said.

David H. Barker, MD, chief of staff at Cottage, devoted his remarks to the fact that physicians affiliated with the hospital work to maintain high standards of patient care through the medical audit, a method of establishing and adhering to stringent criteria for the correct performance of medical procedures, self-education and cooperation with the biennial voluntary survey by the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Hospitals.

Barker said physicians offer guidance for the utilization review process, which insures that hospital beds are only available to those who need them.

In her remarks, Mrs. Betty Kienle, Cottage Hospital Auxiliary president, said various fund raising events in 1979, including a breakfast fashion and fitness show, a roasting 20's party and the annual Holiday Mart netted $40,000 for the hospital for the establishment of an outpatient recovery room.

The following persons were elected to three year terms as members of the board of trustees: Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Jr., Peter R. Fink, Mrs. Carl B. Grawn, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Miles O'Brien, David H. Barker, MD, Mrs. Sterling E. Graham, Jr. and John Vanderzee, all of Grosse Pointe.

In addition, the following slate of officers of the board were elected: President W.

Merritt Jones, Jr.; First Vice-President Gordon T. Ford; Second Vice-President Robert E. Valk; Treasurer Earl I. Heenan, Jr.; Assistant Treasurer Cleveland Thurber Jr.; Recording Secretary Mrs. F. James Robinson II; Assistant Recording Secretary Mrs. Sterling E. Graham; Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards Jr.; and Assistant Corresponding Secretary Mrs. H. Gordon Wood.

Who Is She?

Who is this adorable little girl? Ace Dickson of the Farms took this photograph of the mystery girl in the Village back in October during a Halloween make-up session. The photo won Ace a Blue Ribbon in the Southeastern Michigan Regional Scholastic Art Awards contest early this month. This spring it will go to New York, as part of the National Scholastic Art competition. Ace has a tinted print prepared for the mystery girl's family — if he can find them. ### Youth Charged In Fence Ram

A 19-year-old Woods woman was charged with reckless driving when the car she was driving allegedly rammed a fence around the Farms Pier Park and ended up stuck on the breakwall.

Police said Michele J. O'Shea of West Williams and a male companion, Martin Kowalczyk, 22, of Berkshire, Detroit, apparently decided to run through the fence because the gates to the park's parking lot were locked at about 2 a.m. February 5. They said O'Shea was staggering and incoherent at the scene, and was originally placed under arrest for driving under the influence. A breathalyzer test, however, revealed no alcohol in her system, and she was charged with reckless driving.

O'Shea was also found to be wanted in Detroit on a traffic warrant. She was released to her mother after posting $50 bond for the Detroit charge. Her court date on the Farms charge was set for March 26.

Center Offers Summer Cruises

As an extension of its educational program, the War Memorial is offering two unusual cruises—one to Central America from Ft. Lauderdale visiting the Yucatan, Guatemala, Costa Rica, the San Blas Islands, Columbia and Panama. The cruise will continue through the canal and up the West coast to Nicaragua, the Mexican ports of Acapulco and Puerto Vallarta and end in Los Angeles after 22 days at a cost from $32 per day, June 9 through July 2.

The other cruise is to Alaska from Vancouver for 15 days, visiting Homer, Valdez, Anchorage and The Columbia Glacier from $1,295.

The Center, 32 Lakeshore, will host a special illustrated lecture on the cruise programs on Thursday, February 21, at 8 p.m. Questions will be answered by Jules Dibjenow, head of World Explorers in California. Deposits for the cruises should be made by March 1. Cruise costs include air transportation to and from ports and transfers between plane and ship.

The cruises feature university level lectures and experts on the music, cultures and languages of the regions visited. It is possible to receive academic credit for shipboard courses with the International Association for Shipboard Education, a consortium of colleges and universities.

However, the cruises are not all academic by any means. Tourists can relax, enjoy the pool, sports, music, dancing and dining on the SS. Universe.

NHS Schedules Fall Enrollment

Students who will be in grade nine next September and who wish to enroll at North High School from a private or parochial school are invited to do so on Monday, February 25, in the school cafeteria at 1:45 p.m.

Students should bring a birth certificate, their most recent report card and any course recommendations their current teachers choose to make.

Upper-class students, those enrolling for grades 10, 11, or 12, may do so by individual appointment with a counselor. Appointments will be scheduled from February 25 to March 7, in the morning. These students also should bring with them a birth certificate, their most recent report card and any records that could be helpful. Appointments may be arranged by calling 343-2201.

Enrollment information and curriculum guides have been sent to the parochial schools that have requested them. Parents of students who have not yet determined a choice of school for next year may obtain a North High School curriculum guide in the main office.

SHS Students Tops in Math

Four South High students, Richard J. Benoit, Robert C. King, Jeffrey T. Peterson and Jeffrey Smudski, won awards in the recent 23rd Annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

The students scored in the top 100 of more than 23,000 high school students participating in the contest. They'll be honored at an awards program in Mount Pleasant in late February and more than 40 of the winners will be awarded with college scholarships.

The program is supported in part by contributions by the Burroughs Corporation, Michigan Bell, the Kuhlman Corporation and the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

South High mathematics department chairman Donald Yerkes served as supervisor for students participating in the competition.

Cub Scout Pack Celebrates 50th

A gala blue and gold dinner celebration in honor of Scouting's 50th birthday was held by Pack 39 at Barnes School last week. Cub Scouts and their families enjoyed dinner and dessert, which was provided by the Cub Scouts who spent hours decorating the cakes carrying out the 50th anniversary theme.

Special guests at the dinner included Jack McMahon, principal of Barnes School, the Pack's charter school; Thomas Pillar, principal of Our Lady Star of the Sea Grade School and Thomas Fitzgibbon, Lakeshore District Executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

How to Avoid 8 Million Bolts

Although the earth is bombarded by 360,000 lightning bolts every hour—or 8.5 million bolts per day—and lightning takes 120 to 125 American lives each year, the chances of any individual getting hit are small, according to the current issue of National Wildlife magazine.

Still, says the bimonthly publication of the National Wildlife Federation, if you don't want to become a long-shot statistic, it is wise to take the following steps during a thunderstorm:

- Get inside a house or large building, or an all-metal vehicle or truck cab—not a convertible or an open truck bed. Do not take shelter in a small, isolated shed or any other small structure in an open area. Inside a house, avoid using the telephone.
- If you're caught outdoors with no chance to reach shelter:
  - Don't stand under a tall, isolated tree in an open area.
  - Don't let yourself project above the surrounding landscape, as you'd do on a hill-top, in an open field, on the beach, or in a small boat.
  - Get out of and away from water.
  - Get off of and away from motorcycles, golf carts, and bicycles.
  - Stay away from wire fences, railroad tracks, metal pipes and other metallic paths that can conduct lightning.

WOMEN'S PAGES

From Another Pointe of View

By Janet Mueller

President's Day for the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club is next Wednesday, February 20, when members and guests gather at 12:30 o'clock in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom to honor the club's current president—this year, she's Mrs. Jon S. Cook — and presidents of clubs affiliated with the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, plus presidents of Grosse Pointe-based organizations.

Honored, too, per tradition, will be the Woman's Club's own past-presidents. Add them all up . . . and you'll have more chief executives per square foot in a single room than you're likely to find anywhere, ever. Fortunately, they're all very friendly.

They'll enjoy a presentation, "Pull Yourself Together," by fashion consultants Peg Treacy and Florence Manoogian who offer wardrobe planning based on personality, life style and clothing purchases, plus the whats wheres and whens to buy and how to work within a budget.

Mrs. Thomas D. Baldwin, Woman's Club program chairman and first vice-president, will introduce the guest speakers.

Tea hostess Mrs. Andrew Bremer, Jr. (she's one of the Woman's Club's past-presidents), and her assistant, Mrs. Edward Eissa, have selected—what else?—a Presidential Theme for their tea table.

Assisting on the tea committee are the Mesdames Milan J. Alexander, Frank Berli, Collis P. Cantine, Maurice Dalesandro, A. Glenn Duty, William B. Drake, John Engstrom, Walter R. Frizzell, George E. Gerow, James T. Fitzpatrick, Archie Jones and Chester Kazmarek.

More are the Mesdames Walter Lesinski, Martin Linder, Donald B. McPhail, Matthew Patterson, Bewley D. Priestman, Clifford Sadler, Henry C. Pytell, Dallas Shepler, David Sicklesteel, Robert

Beautiful Benefit For DSO And DIA

Preview Opening of Saks Fifth Avenue Fairlane Store Will Raise Funds for Detroit's Symphony and Museum

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the Detroit Institute of Arts will be joint beneficiaries of the gala preview opening of the new Saks Fifth Avenue Fairlane store Friday, February 22, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

This Salute to the Arts is the first time in the history of Detroit's two major cultural organizations that they have been involved in a mutual fund raising event.

"The evening will be enhanced by a premier, a sneak preview and other events," report co-chairpersons Mrs. Alan E. Schwartz and Mrs. R. Alexander Wrigley.

The entertainment includes the first showing of an audiovisual presentation, "Masterpieces of Sight and Sound," featuring works from the Detroit Institute of Arts with a sound track from the Detroit Symphony's current recording of Bartok's Suite No. 1.

Also scheduled is a sneak preview of the DSO's "Eighteen Tons of Music on a One Night Stand," filmed during the orchestra's European tour this past fall. The movie is scheduled for spring airing on PBS television.

In addition, there'll be entertainment throughout the store by the Salon String Quartet, the Chris Nordaman Contemporary Jazz Quintet, strolling musicians and mimes and strollers from the museum's annual Wassail Feast.

"The $50 per person evening includes a cocktail supper with perhaps the most elaborate hors d'oeuvres in local benefit history," according to the co-chairpersons, who hope to raise $100,000 for the two organizations.

Henry Ford, II, is acting as honorary chairman of the gala. Co-chairpersons are Mrs. Philip Caldwell, Mrs. Schwartz and Mrs. Wrigley.

The committee includes Mrs. William Bourke, Mrs. Irving Burton, Mrs. Alfred Glancy, III, Mrs. Thomas Schoenith, Mrs. David Stulberg and Mrs. Eric Wiltshire.

Busy Days in The Ballroom

The evening before President's Day, Tuesday, February 19, will find the Crystal Ballroom filled with members of the Alliance Francaise de Grosse Pointe and their friends celebrating Mardi Gras via a "Degustation de Six Vins."

The idea is to test one's objectivity and expertise on the subject of French and American wines. It's an appraisal, not a contest, a chance to examine the merits of French wines from Burgundy, Bordeaux and the Loire Valley along with three American counterparts, the French-named Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon and Chenin Blanc. An aperitif will be served, plus assorted cheeses and "baguette," (French bread). There will be discussion and wine analysis sponsored by Gibbs' World Wide Wines—but the final judges, the analysts, will be the tasters themselves.

The new French Trade Commissioner, M. Georges Puravet, will be introduced to those present. It promises to be a very pleasant evening, starting at 8 o'clock, at $10 per person, with guests warmly welcomed. Lenore Marshall is accepting reservations at 881-2706.

Another Lovely Night

FRIENDS of the Wayne State University School of Medicine are holding their annual dinner dance Saturday, February 23, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, and Mrs. Kenneth Krabbenhoft, party chairman, has engaged the Jim Bogos Trio to entertain with music and songs from the Big Band era.

Dress is optional. Tickets are $26 per couple, $13 per person. Mrs. Maurice Bernstein, FRIENDS current president, is urging potential members to join in the festivities which start at 7 o'clock.

"This organization is only eight years old, but already has a membership of 562 men and women," Mrs. Bernstein reports.

The FRIENDS purpose is to stimulate, support and encourage activities helpful to the WSU School of Medicine. FRIENDS have helped to place important art works in the school and have proctored national board examinations. They have led tours through the Medical School and have undertaken indoor and outdoor beautification projects.

This year, thanks to a FRIENDS member, a new student lounge has been designed. It is located on the third floor of Scott Hall in the Detroit Medical Center, and will be completed this spring.

Collection of medical artifacts, old instruments and equipment continues in anticipation of the opening of a Medical Museum in the near future.

Additional information or reservations for the dance may be obtained by calling Mrs. Krabbenhoft, 541-1021, by this Saturday, February 16. FRIENDS membership dues are $5 per year.

Lung Cancer Is Non-Sexist

Between 1973 and 1977 the rate of lung and bronchus cancers in Detroit area women rose 39 percent and the death rate 36 percent, according to a trend report prepared by the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

In black women the increase was more pronounced for the years 1973 through 1977: a 63 percent jump in incidence and a 77 percent higher death rate.

"Smoking is the villain here," notes Dr. Michael J.

Brennan, of Three Mile drive, president and medical director of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

"Women do not have some special immunity to lung cancer. Rates for women were low because large numbers of women had not been smoking for 20 years.

"As the new statistics illustrate, this is no longer true."

The rate of lung and bronchus cancer is consistently higher in Detroit than in other areas surveyed. During the years 1973 through 1976, Detroiters experienced six percent more cases and 11.4 percent more deaths from lung and bronchus cancer than residents of other areas surveyed.

Lung and bronchus cancer accounted for 16.5 percent of the 12,857 cancers reported in 1977—2,128 cases. Although the sharpest increases were noted among women, men experienced 72 percent of all lung and bronchus cancers.

Black males show the highest rate of incidence at 110 cases per 100,000 of population, and a mortality rate of 101.3 deaths per 100,000 population.

The rate for white men in 1977 was second highest with 85.8 cases per 100,000 of population and 73.4 deaths per 100,000 population.

For white women the 1977 rate was 24.5 cases per 100,000 of population and 19.2 deaths. Black women experienced a 34.9 incidence rate and a 28.5 mortality rate.

The MCF report is a trend analysis of incidence, mortality and survival of all cancer cases reported in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Pointer MARY B. VANKER, a Michigan State University graduate, was among five students who recently completed 12-month internships at the Providence Hospital School of Medical Technology.

Farrell to Sing For DSO Pops

Soprano Eileen Farrell will star with Richard Hayman, principal pops conductor, Detroit Symphony Orchestra and the DSO at the next Weekender Pops concert: "Melodies of Love," (A Musical Valentine), to be performed Friday evening, February 15, at 8:30 o'clock and Sunday afternoon, February 17, at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Auditorium.

Farrell is one of the most celebrated and versatile artists in the world. Her career embraces all styles of music, Bach to pop.

She was born in Williamantic, Conn., and had her first music lessons with her mother, later studied in New York and made her professional solo debut as the voice of Rosa Penselle in a March of Time radio program.

She soon had her own program, (it ran for seven years), and has performed with every major symphony orchestra and opera company in the United States. She has appeared with the New York Philharmonic more often than any other soloist.

Farrell is concentrating at present on a new aspect of her career, singing pop, jazz and blues. She presents a program of great popular standards, each song a classic in its field and specially arranged for her.

Farrell lives in Bloomington, Ind. She is a member of the faculty of the Indiana University School of Music.

Life Goes On at Museum

Temporary food service at the Detroit Institute of Arts — snacks, sandwiches and beverages — is available for museum visitors in the South Court of the Ford Wing between 11 and 2 o'clock Tuesday through Sunday.

Catering for museum events now is being supplied through a new Founders Society contract with Dario Schiavi.

The Kresge Court Cafe is closed for refurbishing and expansion until early summer as part of a larger construction sequence financed by the Founders Society, principally via a $2 million grant from the Kresge Foundation.

Brunch with Bach continues on Sunday mornings in the Crystal Gallery of the museum's auditorium.

Moms & Tots Make Gym A Family Matter

Story and Pictures by Katie Elsila

What can a mother and an 18-month-old enjoy doing together? One answer is the Moms' & Tots' Gym Class offered through the Continuing Education Division of the Grosse Pointe Public School System and co-sponsored by Vital Options, Inc.

Once a week for 45 minutes, the children get a pint-size workout as exercise teacher M. P. DaDeppo leads mother and children in movements designed to develop flexibility and endurance.

"Today, let's pretend we're animals," suggests Ms. DaDeppo. The children are simply having fun, but when they slither across the gym floor like snakes they are using their hips.

When they arch their backs like angry cats they are strengthening them, and when they strut like roosters they are doing knee lifts.

Do toddlers really need an exercise class to stay in shape? "Not really," says teacher DaDeppo. "But the fun of exercising together now could begin a healthy lifetime habit for the mother and child."

"And the class exposes children to other children their age," she adds.

Terri Amsden, who signed up for the class with her 20-month-old, sums up the benefits: "There's not a lot of activities for kids this age. Christopher's having fun — and I'm getting exercise, too."

Moms' & Tots' classes are held on Tuesday or Thursday in Barnes Elementary School's gym from 9 to 9:45 in the morning. More information may be obtained by calling Vital Options, 882-2349.

More Saturday at Four Music

Lawrence La Gore, of Three Mile drive, will be joined by cellist Marcy Chanteaux and soprano Earnestine Nimmons for the February 18 Saturdays at Four chamber music concert at Marygrove College.

Pianist La Gore, founder and artistic director of Saturdays at Four, is well known in the Detroit area as an accompanist, chamber musician and soloist.

The concert, fourth in the 1979-80 series, is made possible by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts. The January Saturdays at Four program was totally subscribed.

Ms. Chanteaux is the Detroit Symphony's new assistant principal cellist. Mrs. Nimmons, a veteran of Michigan Opera Theater, has performed widely in the metropolitan area.

The trio will present works by Faure, Franck, Massenet, Gounod and Bach in a setting ideally suited to chamber music. An hors d'oeuvres reception follows the concert.

General admission tickets are $5. Students and senior citizens will be admitted for $3.50.

See Americans at Their Work in Historical Museum Exhibit

The Working American, a nationally renowned art exhibition depicting America's working class, opened at the Detroit Historical Museum in mid-January.

Its appearance here inaugurates a year long, six city tour coordinated by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service.

The exhibit, initially organized by District 1199 of the National Union of Hospital and Health Care Employees as part of its Bread and Roses cultural program, premiered in New York City last October.

It features 32 paintings by American artists, dating from the 1840s to the 1940s, depicting American men, women and children earning their livelihoods... and as straightforward as that theme might seem, this is the first major exhibition devoted exclusively to labor in art, according to Robert Kothe, curator of Industrial History at the Detroit Historical Museum.

The show presents a balanced representation of farming, heavy industry, women's and children's work, skilled crafts and regionally specialized labor such as logging and fishing.

Some paintings, notably Robert Koehler's "The Strike," (1888), suggest the setting and social context of working Americans.

The paintings have been assembled from 20 public and private collections including the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Art, the Whitney Museum of American Art and the Hirshhorn Museum and Sculpture Garden.

Among the artists are Robert Street, William Hahn, Charles E. Weir, Charles Curran, Moses Soyer, Philip Evergood, Jacob Lawrence, John Sloan, Everett Shinn, N. C. Wyeth and Maynard Dixon. A catalogue is available for purchase.

The Working American continues at the Detroit Historical Museum until Sunday, February 24. The museum, located at Woodward avenue and Kirby in Detroit's Cultural Center, is open from 9:30 to 5 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from 1 to 9 o'clock Wednesdays and from 1 to 5 o'clock Sundays.

The telephone number for further information is 833-1806.

Dear Grosse Pointer:

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center, a gift to our community from the Russell A. Alger family, is one of the architectural gems of the entire midwest.

But its purpose is people.

The people who use it — senior people, family-raising people, single people, teen people, little people. About 252,000 came through the doors last year.

And the people of about 6,000 families helped to support it.

Once each year, we ask for your tax-deductible support, because it is our only source of continuing funds. We are asking again — for 1980. Our goal is $160,000... just 3 percent more than our 1979 goal.

Please study our picture book — you'll see a lot of your friends in it. And please fill out your membership card now.

Thank you.

They Use Four Hands to Make One Piano Sing

By Janet Mueller

They used to play two-piano works, but now they're piano duettists, and that makes them members of a very exclusive club. "There aren't very many duet teams in the country," they explain, "because there aren't many people willing to give up control of half the instrument." It takes two very special, very complementary people to perform successfully with four hands on one piano.

Defer. Jason, four, is in Grosse Pointe Pre-Kinder-garten.

"Tom and I belong to Fort Street Presbyterian Church, and to the Detroit Institute of Arts Founders Society and Friends of Modern Art." And, as do Alice and Jim Ellison, to Pro Musica.

From St. Clair

The Ellisons are members of First English Lutheran Church. Alice is originally from St. Clair. She took her degree, in Education, at Valparaiso University.

But she liked to play the piano so, after graduation, she drifted around for a while, playing in various clubs, until she decided it was time to settle down to teaching. She kept at it for four years.

She met Jim. They married and, after two years in St. Clair, ("I am still basically a small town person"), moved to Detroit.

Jim Ellison is director of Public Service for the City of Grosse Pointe—and long distance bicycle rider extraordinaire.

So it's a cold morning, and the car battery's dead—so Jim Ellison could care less. He bikes to work, seven-and-a-half miles, and it's a mighty pretty ride along Lakeshore—except for the exhaust fumes from the cars.

Outside the city, peddling to the Mackinac Bridge, say, or around Manitowish Island, exhaust fumes are less of a problem.

At home, you might find him potting, painting or sculpting. Jim, who had his degree in Civil Engineering, went back to school after he and Alice were married. He majored in Art. His second degree is a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Wayne State University.

Old Movie Buff

Alice spends her spare time less athletically/aesthetically. "What I really enjoy is watching Old Movies on television. I find that very relaxing."

"And you like to cook and bake," Laurie prods, "just like I do."

"For you," ripostes Alice, "that may be relaxation, I do it because I'm hungry."

Alice began her studies with Gizi Szanto before she (Alice) was married. By the time she met Laurie, and they began to practice for their Detroit Adventure concert, she had one son and was pregnant with the other.

Dan Ellison is a college freshman now. Jamie, who prefers to be called Jim but will, according to his mother, be forever Jamie in HER house, is a sophomore at Grosse Pointe North High School.

That first Ellison-Lindemulder concert, the Detroit Adventure concert, was a smashing success, played to a standing room only audience, was enthusiastically received... but it was played in the middle of a three month Detroit newspaper strike. That meant no written reviews.

Not Alice's fault, not Laurie's, but bad timing, and it proved to be a portent of things to come.

Interrupted Melody

For shortly after the Detroit Adventure concert Dan Ellison became ill. He's healthy as a horse now, but for a while all of Alice's time, all her attention went to her son. There was no concertizing for a few years.

And then, when Tom and Laurie returned from a year in Atlanta, Ga., there suddenly was time. Dan was well, both the Ellison children were in school, Alice and Laurie were raring to get back to their two-piano work. There was just one catch. They didn't have access to two pianos.

So, just for fun, they sat down at a single piano one day and started to work on a piano duet. And they found that, as piano duettists, they worked. And they were going great guns—until Laurie got pregnant.

And there was no concertizing for a few years. "We really went back into it when Laurie's second child was about two." They developed musically, and they developed a style of presenting themselves and their music. "We do not want to be cold, formal. We like to talk to the audience, to explain what we're doing." They developed a performance wardrobe. "We buy our things off the rack, and given the fact that our coloring is different, you couldn't find more opposite body types, that's not easy!"

Saleswomen who don't know the score, approached by Alice and Laurie, two obviously unrelated ladies who want to buy exactly the same thing, have been known to turn glassy-eyed and drift off into the nearest stockroom, never to return.

Performing, they always dress alike or in complementary versions of a similar style.

Practice Together

Their current schedule gives them an hour-and-a-half to an hour-and-45-minute practice every weekday morning. "We learn all our music together." Piano duettists are two working as one, for a single result; if each learns his/her part alone, each tends to hear his/her part as solo.

In addition to practices and performances, they both teach privately. Alice's schedule is heaviest: five days a week. Laurie, a member of the Detroit Musicians League, devotes two afternoons a week to her piano students. They coordinate recitals and conduct workshops together.

Together, too, they designed the course materials, made the visual aids and taught Keyboard for Kindergarten for the Grosse Pointe Public Schools. They are currently repeating the successful six-week course they designed to teach adults to read music.

Laurie and Alice are both active in Tuesday Musicales and founding members of Music For A While, a professional series of "elegant but informal" chamber music concerts presented originally at Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, now at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House.

"That's one of the things we're really proud of. Eight of us started Music For A While four years ago, and it's been extraordinarily successful." This season's series sold out within 10 days of its initial announcement.

Alice Ellison and Laurie Lindemulder will be playing Rachmaninoff at a Music For A While concert in mid-March. The week after that they'll be performing for Tuesday Musicales.

Career Is 'On'

This month's performance schedule includes reprises of the program they presented for University Liggett Middle School students last month to Lower School and Upper School audiences, (with variations dictated by the ages of the audiences, of course), and a February 24 appearance with the Grosse Pointe Chamber Music Players at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

Once again, it seems as if their career is "on." And that, as far as Alice and Fashion Has Forgotten Winter... and is into spring and summer. At Walton-Pierce newsy spring rainwear is arriving. There is the traditional raincoat of tan poplin with fine tailoring. From Weatherbee a sludged silk-linen look self-belted coat is a smart choice for fair weather but it is also water repellent and very durable. If you like the windbreaking and water repelling qualities of nylon quilting, there is a new collection of coats that spans seasons and travels well. Colors include bright pink, green and blue. In the Sportwear Department, new all cotton Kasper jeans have arrived and you have a choice of tan or blue. Mr. Hark has sent another amusing print to join the group. Brilliant pink rhinoceroses and yellow daisies are found on a green wrap skirt edged with white braid. Mix or match blue, purple and green by choosing the new poly-cotton blend tops and skirts from Albert Lewis. The skirts are belted with matching multi-colored cord belts. Have you been reading about the little round white lace collars that are turning up this spring? Find a cut-out lace collar on white silky blouses by Alice Stewart. Just unpacked are hand-painted shirts. Acrylic paint is used so they are machine washable. Our favorite is the denim wrap skirt with daisies and strawberries on it. There are tan wrap skirts with butterflies and black with owls. Ask about your own special designs.

Lots of Alliteration

Two: Ellison and Lindemulder just plain sounds better than Ellison and Harris, particularly when you add first names with more "Ts." Lots of alliteration there.

They were brought together originally by their teacher, Gizi Szanto, a well-known Detroit area concert pianist. Gizi wasn't the first teacher for either of them, of course. By the time they came to Gizi, and the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, Alice and Laurie both knew their way up and down the keyboard, pretty darn well.

Laurie grew up in Berkshire road, Detroit, just a few miles from where she lives now. She attended Clark Elementary School and spent one semester at Jackson Intermediate School before her parents, members of the Christian Reformed Church in Maryland road, transferred her to that church's school.

She went on to Southeastern High until, while she was still in high school, her father died and her mother, originally from Grand Rapids, took Laurie, her brother and herself back to Grand Rapids to be with the family.

College was Calvin, in Grand Rapids, for two-and-a-half years. Then Laurie transferred to the University of Michigan. She holds both Bachelor and Master of Arts degrees in Piano from the U. of M.

Between the Bachelors and the Masters degrees she taught for a year at Cranbrook and lived on-campus there, at Gate Lodge. After the Masters degree came a year in Columbia, Mo., staying with the parents of a friend and deciding what direction her life would take, doing some teaching, some performing.

Back to Detroit

Then it was back to Detroit, to the Detroit Institute of Musical Art, to teach and study with Gizi, to meet Alice, to say with Alice, when invited by Detroit Adventure to give a faculty concert as part of Detroit Adventure's

summer festival, "Certainly!"

To meet Tom Harris. "When I moved back to Detroit I had a Siamese cat, Tara. Through Gizi I found an apartment, and about a year later I said to Gizi, 'I'm gone so much; I really should get another Siamese cat, as company for Tara.' And Gizi gave me Jani for my birthday."

And Laurie's mother, hearing that news, said to her daughter, "Well, now, I wash my hands of you—with two cats, you'll never find a man!"

And not too long after that, Tom Harris took an apartment in the same building, on the same floor as Laurie Lindemulder. She couldn't help noticing him. He looked, (still does), a lot like Yul Brynner.

Now Laurie was in the habit of letting her cats out to roam the hallways of her floor for exercise, and before she let them out she knocked, politely, on the door of each apartment on her floor to notify her fellow floor dwellers that the cats were coming, and it might be wise, if they didn't want cats in their apartments, to keep their doors closed.

A few days after Laurie's first knock on Tom's door, came a knock on hers. There stood Tom, a bag of chicken innards in his hand, "for the cats."

Jani And Friends

Tara's gone now, but the Harrises still have Jani. And Circe, another Siamese. And Allegra, an all-American dog. ("What kind is she?" "A LARGE kind!"") found wandering outside Ford Auditorium. The Harrises, with the help of Alice Lungershausen, got the stray into their car and set off for the Humane Society. On the way there, Ally climbed into Laurie's lap...

They never made it to the Humane Society. "When we got home, we discovered she was pregnant." Allegra had nine puppies, and the Harrises found homes for all of them. Alice Lungershausen took one.

Charles T. Harris is a Registered Architect, director of Design at Giffels, Inc., in Southfield. Prior to that, when he was with Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, he designed the Kresge Headquarters in Troy.

He has also, almost single handedly, re-done the entire Harris house.

He's a jogger who can go twice around Belle Isle. For her athletics, Laurie prefers Grosse Pointe Department of Community Services swimming lessons.

The Harrises have two children. Daughter Leslie, six, is in the first grade at
