

DMM has been manufacturing climbing equipment in North Wales for more than 35 years. One of our core values, that is as true today as back then, is that good design matters. Take our latest belay biner, the Ceros, where simply locating the spring clip on the spine side greatly improves the usability. Although our new size 7 and 8 Dragon Cams are on the large side, you'll appreciate the thought that has gone into saving weight without any compromise in strength.

You'll find details of our complete range including these new products in this workbook. For further information, technical specifications, certification details, and product videos please visit dmmwales.com.

› Product Packs

Rather than buy single units, a selection of our products are available as packs. Our customers can benefit from a special price on a pack of their chosen quickdraws, or on one of our harness starter packs. The carabiner colour packs are great for customizing your rack and easily identifying your gear.

CARABINERS & QUICKDRAWS

› Carabiners are at the heart of our product range and are a fundamental part of any climber's rack. DMM's comprehensive collection is built on the solid basis of thirty plus years of working with metal at our manufacturing base in North Wales, combined with the knowledge gained from even more years of climbing.

These days climbing has many forms, from the extremes of red-pointing hard sport projects and super-light alpine style mountaineering, to relaxed cragging with mates or indoor laps at the climbing wall.

DMM produce a range of carabiners to meet the differing demands of these disciplines - each carabiner and quickdraw in our range has its own character with a set of features and benefits that define their most appropriate use.

LOCKING CARABINERS

› A locking carabiner provides security and peace of mind for uses where it is critical that the gate remains closed, such as when belaying, abseiling or at main anchor points. Our lockers maximise performance, safety and functionality.

We build our locking carabiners to resist worst case scenarios where they are pushed and levered against edges or loaded heavily when poorly orientated. That means we engineer our biners to hugely exceed the current EN standards and perform brilliantly out in the field. They are designed to be functional whilst being as safe and light as possible.

We have the most advanced carabiner hot forging capability in the world and can move metal around a forging die with expert precision to ensure generous textile-friendly radii, high strength, and low weight.

All of our aluminium lockers are hot forged from high quality 7075-T6 alloy, benefit from a clean nose design to prevent snagging, and are fully anodised.

For 2017, we have redesigned the gates and locking mechanisms to improve function, ergonomics, and aesthetics. Extensive research and development into the ergonomics and functionality of locking gates has been brought to life using innovative CNC techniques, enabling us to optimise grip for fast, secure usage in even in the most challenging conditions.

PROTECTION

› Here at DMM we understand that placing protection on traditional climbs is a real art. Thankfully, living in Snowdonia, it is something we have ample opportunity to practice. All around us are classic mountain crags and sea cliffs where we can test out and refine our designs.

Cracks come in all shapes and sizes, some are tiny, and some are big enough to swallow a fist. Some are curved, some are parallel, some are knobbly, and some are just plain awkward. With this mind, our protection range includes several options including both cams and passive protection and covers placements from 3.7mm to 195mm.

A climber's rack is a very personal thing, built with experience as routes get tucked under the belt and the mileage increases. The DMM protection range caters for climbers of all abilities, on all rock types, on all routes.

ABSEIL
& BELAY

› The DMM range of abseil and belay devices allows climbers to control ropes effectively and confidently. Our belay devices are carefully designed to be intuitive in use and compatible with many modern ropes, allowing smooth paying out of rope when upwards progress is being made, a confidence inspiring catch when progress is halted and falls are taken, and smooth lowering and abseiling to get climbers back to the ground.

The range of abseil devices include the classic '8' and two evolutions of that timeless design that make rope handling on long descents easier.

› Pivot

A versatile, high performance belay device which gives easily controlled lowering of one or two seconds in guide mode.

› Mantis

A lightweight belay device that is suitable for all round climbing with single, half, or twin ropes.

› Bug

A classic tube style belay device for belaying, lowering, and abseiling.

WINTER

› When the seasons change, the first snows start to fall, and the freeze sets in, winter climbers around the globe are eyeing guidebooks, watching the forecast, sharpening tools, and assembling the kit for their first icy mission.

The modern winter climber needs a diverse armoury to cope with the many and varied scenarios that are encountered during a typical winter season.

The DMM axe range is the result of more than 30 years of technical knowledge combined with valuable feedback from a broad range of climbers. The underlying requirement was to make a set of tools that offer exceptional performance and are built to cater for all activities, from a winter ridge walk to the most demanding overhanging ice and mixed testpiece, and everything in between. They are engineered to withstand the rigours of modern climbing by being 'bombproof' - sturdy, strong and dependable.

Our range of winter protection covers the full gamut of possibilities from snowy gullies, to vertical waterfall ice, to thin seams - all with the DMM attention to detail and high quality workmanship.

SOFT GOODS

› Feedback from climbers around the world and our experiences at the crag led us to the conclusion that climbers want a no-nonsense, high quality, climbing specific range of bags which cater for their needs without superfluous bells and whistles.

We set about designing the perfect climber's sacks: strong yet light, top quality materials and workmanship, highly featured for their intended usage whilst maintaining clean and clutter free lines - exactly the same requirements we apply to all of our products. This concise range caters for multi-pitch marathons, bolt clipping days out, trad cragging, and travel to and from your next adventure.

Alongside the sport range, a small range of bags have evolved from our dealings with working at height specialists such as arborists, rope access technicians, and rescue teams. These bags are typified by their robustness and simplicity.

UPDATED FOR 2018

Spring 2018 sees upgraded nylon 6.6 webbings paired with new buckles, adjusters and components to further increase the strength and durability of the range. The Vector has been updated with an improved draw cord release for easy opening and a new rope strap that can be used to roll and tension the closure for a weather proof escape from the crag.
