SUPER BLACK EAGLE 3 IN 28-GAUGE

For 2022, Benelli raised the bar in the growing “sub-gauge” movement with the release of eight new 3-inch chamber 28-gauge SBE 3 models.

The all-new Benelli Super Black Eagle 3 in 3-inch chamber 28-gauge answers the growing call of waterfowlers who hunt flooded timber in the southern regions as well as the beaver dams and cattails of the north, where tight quarters favor the sub-gauge. And with more hunters seeking smaller-gauge shotguns, the new SBE 3 28-gauge 3-inch models fit the needs of waterfowlers looking for greater challenges with a scaled-to-suit gun.

The new SBE 3 models continue the unfailing performance and rugged construction that has made the Super Black Eagle the first choice among discriminating shotguns yet do so in a lighter weight, faster-handling package ideally suited for those decoying birds in flooded timber. Offered in Crio-treated 26- and 28-inch barrel lengths, the 28-gauge SBE 3s are a modest 5.5 and 5.6 pounds, respectively, with 47.5- and 49.5-inch overall lengths.

A total of eight models mark the 28-gauge SBE 3's introduction, differentiated by barrel length and stock finish. Available stocks include synthetic, Realtree Max-5™, Realtree Timber, GORE OPTIFADE and Mossy Oak Bottomland.

While these 28-gauge SBE 3 models work with standard 2 3/4-inch shotshells, hunters can tap into the new class of 3-inch loads rolling off the premier ammunition lines. This diversity significantly broadens the 28-gauge SBE 3's field applications, with a single platform that is lighter, faster and easily adaptable to a broad range of hunting environments.

The SBE 3 3-inch 28-gauge comes in a custom-fitted hard case with a brace of Crio choke tubes — IC and M extended tubes and C, IM, and F flush tubes — plus a choke wrench and shim kit for drop and cast adjustment. Additional features include an upsized bolt handle, enlarged bolt release, and oversized safety for easy operation when wearing gloves. A carbon-fiber rib, contributing to the shotgun's light weight, ends in a fiber-optic red-bar front sight for enhanced visibility in low light hunting conditions.

The Benelli Super Black Eagle 3 has exceptional ergonomics, rugged construction, and reliable cycling in the harshest environments. With its clean and consistent Inertia Drive System, refined operation, and integrated Comfort Tech 3 recoil reduction system, it is understandable why Benelli is the leader in the semi-auto shotgun class. Now, that apex performance merges with the 28-gauge renaissance to provide hunters even greater options when pursuing their waterfowl and upland hunting passions.

CATCH A TITAN

TITAN BASS www.titanbass.com

REMEMBER THE TITAN BASS

A lot of time and expense is involved with private ponds, especially when your goal is to catch big bass. With Titan Bass from Red Hills Fishery, you can break the bass barrier, thanks to genetics.

At Red Hills in Boston, Georgia, the team of biologists focus on the fish.

“We are focused on the genetics of the fish itself,” said Director of Operations Josh Sakmar. “We use approaches that are proven in medicine, livestock and food fish.”

The team has four primary objectives in producing fish for your lake: Fish that grow faster; get bigger; are more catchable/aggressive; and gender — providing female fish that become trophies.

While most traditional bass breeding programs breed one big fish with another with the hope that better offspring will result, Red Hills’ system focuses on pedigreed breeding.

“Instead of looking at a few parents, we look at a big group of families and see how their offspring perform,” Sakmar said.

At the facility, the environment is strictly controlled and standardized to enhance variations due to genetics.

“We look at genetic markers of bass weighing more than 8 pounds,” Sakmar said. “We incorporate that information back into the breeding program.”

The goal is to reduce the time it takes to get big fish in your pond, with fish that grow faster, grow bigger and have aggressive traits that increase the chance they will hit your lure.

The Titan Bass are offered in a variety of sizes, fish that eat a pelleted or a live diet, and are available in northern largemouth bass, Florida largemouth bass or hybrids.

Our goal is to give managers a robust toolbox,” Sakmar said. “Every lake or pond is different. Owners have different goals and fisheries managers have different approaches. By focusing on the fish, we try to offer the best tools for every situation.”

BOSS SHOTSHELLS AND THE CRIPPLING REALITY

The Bad: Too many birds are lost to crippling every single year in the U.S. alone. Although that number is tough to pin down, one thing is for certain, and we can all agree on, it's far, far too many.

The Ugly: As waterfowlers and wingshooters go, that's 100 percent on us.

The Good?

Together, we can drastically reduce that number — a huge nugget of hope we all should celebrate.

In a time when it seems like our hunting heritage is always under siege, imagine if we, as a community, commit to reducing that awful number of cripples. What would reducing it by even half look like? For one, it puts a significant number of more birds on the nesting grounds each year. Now imagine what increased breeding success could mean. Maybe we'd get more than a single pintail and a few more scaup per day. Maybe mallard limits in certain regions could follow. Maybe the anti-hunting crowd will ease up a little — but we're not holding our breath. In the end, more birds for everyone would be a fantastic thing for our hunts, our legacies and our hopes for future generations. All we have to do is do our part and that starts with doing what's right.

But how?

By changing the narrative. Rethink not only the way you're hunting, but the tools with which you hunt. Start with a better shell than tired old steel, and we're not just saying that because we're a shell company. We're saying this because it's the truth, evidenced by the massive decrease in birds dying from lead poisoning after lead became outlawed. That's proof that the actions of the waterfowling community can make a huge difference without the government stepping in and telling us how to hunt. After all, sportsmen were the original conservationists.

In a way, voluntarily walking away from lead was the right thing to do. But it came with a new set of consequences. Whereas we were poisoning less birds using non-toxic steel, the issue of crippling birds became a much bigger deal. Steel, no matter what size shot or the absurd speed it claims to reach, just doesn't hit or penetrate nearly as well. And while the advent of heavier, denser non-toxic shot options were great, they cost an arm and a leg, putting that level of lethality out of reach for most hunters. For years, we've had a new reality: We're poisoning less but now we're crippling more.

With copper-plated BOSS, we can change that reality. Nearly as heavy as lead and safe in classic barrels, it's like the good old days are back in both premium performance and value.

At BOSS, we only sell direct at BOSSshotshells.com. That means there's no paying retail middleman markups. Just premium shells shipped from our door to yours. For a few dimes more per squeeze, copper-plated BOSS kills like lead without shredding your wallet out in the process. That's a win-win for your budget and the birds.

With BOSS, start by getting honest with yourself about how you like to take birds. Paddles down and in the decoys? Or pass shooting at 40-plus yards? Most folks start with our 12 gauge 2 3/4" Shorty #5, easily our most versatile load. Once you've thought long and hard about your common shooting scenario, screw in a choke. Most go with an IM or a full, depending on shooting distance.

Now, actually put it on paper. That's real-deal woodsmanship and we'd like to see the waterfowling community get way back into it. Pattern your shotgun and you'll know exactly what it's capable of at your chosen distance. If you find a few holes in your pattern, choke it down. If it's too tight, open it up. Experiment and really perfect your pattern. You'll shoot less and kill more, guaranteed. Only after you've patterned should you put copper-plated BOSS on the birds. That's when you can start fine-tuning shell and shot size, but again most start with the BOSS Shorty.

Next — and this one's key — 'No Your Shot.' We're not just talking about saying no to skybusting. That's amateur hour. We're asking that you pull off a bird if you know the shot is pushing your effective range. More birds will come, and you'll reduce your number of cripples even more.

Last, we'd ask you marinate on what you've just read. Think about that number and how small changes in our collective thinking can really make a big difference for the birds. Consider joining a conservation organization. And as always, don't be afraid to reach out to us for help on either social media or through our website. The BOSSmen are here for you and the birds.

WELCOME TO SOLITUDE SPORTING CLUB

From the moment our day started with robust coffee until it ended with a dry martini (shaken, not stirred), our day was filled with a combined luxury and simplicity that made us not want it to end.

My friends and I had the privilege of a weekend at Solitude Sporting Club.

This beautiful ranch in Alvord is home to both the Solitude Sporting Club and to Solitude Thoroughbreds. As we drove through the stone-winged gates and then down the drive shrouded by magnificent trees, we felt like we were going somewhere special; and we were. We had a day filled with shooting from both the 5-stand and the wooded 12 station course.

Whether you shoot competitively or you are out with friends, family or associates to hone your shotgunning skills, you are going to find this to be a shooting paradise!

The duck hunters in our group marveled at the only private professionally designed waterfowl impoundment of its kind in North Texas. Imagine pintail, wigeon, mallards and teal buzzing in as your bird dog awaits the rewarding retrieval ahead.

Some of us had shot enough for the day, so the owners took us on a tour of the rest of the ranch which backs up to the grasslands. The large dove fields will keep hunters and their guests busy, while not having to worry about crowds. Upland hunts for quail, chukar and pheasant, along with fishing the eight ponds stocked with bass, bluegill and catfish, add to Solitude's allure.

Finally, we went over to see the horses— not just any horses — record breaking stallions and mares. From there we enjoyed sweet tea and snacks at the pool. The team there tells us it's only going to get better. Construction is underway on the pavilion and luxurious cabins. For right now, the simple pleasure of being outdoors on this beautiful ranch, the warmth of the hospitality, the outrageously good food and drink, and then ending the evening in the trophy room around a fire laughing about the day we just had, is what a sporting club should be.

PARAMOUNT RARE COIN & CURRENCY

is a proud sponsor of Ducks Unlimited and its members! Please read about us below and come meet some of our expert Numismatists in the Exhibitor Village.

For the last two decades, Paramount has been the premier gallery for collectors seeking the very best in rare coins and precious metals. As a market-leading numismatic dealer, we purchase and sell highly desirable items for very competitive prices.

At its heart, Paramount Rare Coin is THE business of coin connoisseurs. Our reputation within the industry has been built, in part, on some of the most historically important purchases and distributions in U.S. numismatics. Although we offer a wide array of bullion and precious metals, Paramount Rare Coin is considered THE leading dealer in Southern Branch-Mint Gold. We have built for our clients 7 of the top 20 New Orleans Mint Gold sets registered on NGC! To put that into perspective, that means that out of thousands of coin dealers, we sought out, bought and sold over 35% of the most respected O-Mint gold in the world. We also built the #1 registered $3 Gold proof set in the world. And although some of these collections took millions of dollars and many years to build, you do not have to have deep pockets to get the best that we offer. However, if you do want to be considered amongst the top collectors in the world, Paramount Rare Coin is your best chance to get there.

As mentioned, we are far from one-dimensional. Our most recent partnership has enabled us to be the exclusive dealer for another historical opportunity. Paramount Rare Coin has partnered with PCGS and our great nation's former Chief of Staff of the United States Army, General George W. Casey! General Casey will be signing a limited number of exclusive labels specifically for Paramount! We do not expect these to last very long so please come see us in the Exhibitor Village to find out how to secure yours now!

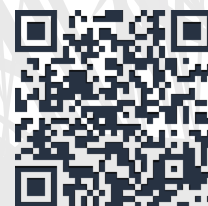

Paramount Rare Coin's reputation and resources translate into incredible opportunities for you. Plus, by keeping overhead low, we're able to offer some of the lowest prices in the industry. Our goal is to have the best pricing available on a national level, while providing our valued customers with old-fashioned, small town, personalized service. Because we believe in building lifelong relationships with clients, we treat you like gold — never like a number. Whether you deal with us by phone, or in person, we'll show you our commitment to integrity, transparency, and unbeatable customer service.

If you can't make it by the Exhibitor Village today to meet our representatives, please call us 24/7 @ 844-218-7103.

A DISTINGUISHED NUMISMATICS COMMUNITY MEMBER

Paramount Rare Coin is a member of the prestigious American Numismatic Association (ANA). We are also an authorized dealer for the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS) and Numismatic Guarantee Corporation (NGC), the two leading grading services in the world. Among other notable affiliations and achievements, Paramount Rare Coin is a member of the Industry Council for Tangible Assets (ICTA), Certified Coin Exchange (CCE), NRA Business Alliance, and the Better Business Bureau (BBB) with an A+ rating.

In the DUX Shooting Village attendees will have the opportunity to test and purchase firearms from leading manufacturers.

SHOOTING VILLAGE FAQs

What Gun Ranges are at DUX?

DUX features a Shotgun range, a Rifle & Pistol 100 Yard Range and a Rifle 300 Yard Range. Besides shooting lanes designated for each firearm factory on the Ranges, DUX also features General Lanes where you can flexibly shoot a mix of most brands of firearms in one lane.

Can I purchase a firearm while at DUX?

Firearms will be available for purchase at DUX. Firearm Factories are attending and each factory hosts a shooting tent on the range with firearms on display and available for live shooting. If you choose to purchase a firearm your order will be placed and processed with our DUX FFL dealer Reeds Family Outdoor Outfitters. Reeds will then ship your firearm, with free shipping, after the event to your local FFL for final paperwork and background check. You will not leave DUX with a purchased firearm, as no firearms will be transferred on-site at DUX.

What does it mean "Buy at DUX & Earn Bucks for the Ducks"?

A portion of all purchases of firearms and ammunition at DUX is donated to Ducks Unlimited. Five to ten percent of all purchase amounts made will be provided to DU in a payment, net of sales tax, credit card and delivery fees.

Is there a cost to shoot at DUX?

There is a minimal fee of $5 per shooting ticket, which is good for any type of ammo needed to shoot the Demo Guns at the range. Each ticket is redeemed for 5 shots at any shooting booth on the shotgun and/or rifle/pistol range. You can purchase one or multiple tickets at the shooting ticket tent at the entrance of the shooting village.

Are there age restrictions for shooting?

Yes, Archery, BB, pellet, and air rifle all have no age requirements. Rifle and shotgun have a restriction of 12 & over, while pistol is restricted to those 21 & over.

Will eye and ear protection be provided?

Eye and ear protection will be provided and required by all shooters.

Do I need to complete a waiver to participate in shooting?

Yes, all attendees who would like to participate in any activity at DUX will need to complete a waiver each day. Visit any waiver tent to complete your waiver.

Insider Tip: Use the QR Code on this page to fill out your waiver on-line before you arrive at DUX.

Can I purchase ammunition at DUX?

There are multiple manufacturers that will be selling ammunition at DUX.
