Rabbinic Reflections

I can't believe it's almost been a year we've been battling this pandemic. Purim last year was our last live in-person event and Purim returns at the end of February. A lot has shifted since then in our Jewish community and our programming. We have innovated and made services and Jewish learning accessible online for those within and beyond our community. We have widened our reach and added many new innovative programs and classes. The pandemic has also brought opportunities to connect with communities throughout the Inland Empire and throughout the world. Now it is easier to join us, and no traffic or night driving is required thanks to the world of zoom. In January we led joint services with Temple Beth El Riverside for our MLK Shabbat and Film Screening and discussion. We partnered with local African American churches and pastors to begin aligning to fight systemic racism together.

The COVID-19 Pandemic has taught us the importance of community and connection. Many of us are holed up in our homes, some alone and others feeling isolated. Our technology has provided us a new way to connect with one another and with the Jewish world. We all miss sitting together in person, hugs, and the feeling of praying in one room. This month we have an opportunity to join with Temple Sinai of Palm Desert for a joint shabbat service and meet Rabbi David Novak. Rabbi Novak is new to the desert. He began his position at Temple Sinai last July during the pandemic. Rabbi Novak is a seasoned rabbi and educator and an all-around wonderful human being. I hope you will join us for this special Shabbat earlier on Feb. 5th at 5:30pm. As this pandemic continues to bring challenges, we will continue to innovate and use this time as an opportunity to create community connections across the Inland Empire and throughout the Jewish world. I invite you and your family and friends to join us for this special shabbat with our friends in the desert.

FELDHEYM LECTURE – February 19, 2021 at 6:30 p.m. Dr. Sarah Bunin Benor

We are so excited, at long last, to bring to our congregation, one of the foremost Yiddish linguists in our country today, Dr. Sarah Bunin Benor, Professor of Contemporary Jewish Studies at Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion in Los Angeles. Dr. Benor will enlighten and entertain us with her knowledge, engaging wit and humor. She will be joining us for Shabbat services on February 19th and of course, Yiddish Shabbat music will be included!

Please read below for a more detailed description of her upcoming lecture and professional vitae.

The Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim Memorial Lecture was established in 1985, at the time of Rabbi Feldheim's death. Rabbi Feldheim served Temple Emanu El at its original location in San Bernardino from 1937 to 1967. The Norman F. Feldheim Central Library opened to the public on September 30, 1985. The library was named in honor of the late Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim who was a board member and prominent citizen. During his more than three decades at Emanu El, Feldheim left twice to serve as a chaplain in the Army. The first time in 1942-1946, during World War II, and the second term, during the Korea War, 1950-1952. His military commendations include a BRONZE STAR AND SIX BATTLE STARS. The Congregation Emanu El wing comprising the Sanctuary, Memorial Room and Social Hall, dedicated in 2013, is named in honor of Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim.

Feldheim Lecture with Dr. Sarah Bunin Benor – February 19, 2021 Jewish Languages Today: Endangered, Surviving, and Thriving

Over the past two centuries, migrations and other historical events have led to major changes in the linguistic profile of Jewish communities around the world. Yiddish is thriving in Hasidic communities, even as its use is diminishing elsewhere, but the same time, Jews are engaging with these languages in creating new Jewish varieties through venues such as song and food, due to major global migrations. This talk explains these developments and makes the case for the urgent need for documentation and reclamation.

Sarah Bunin Benor is Professor of Contemporary Jewish Studies at Hebrew Union College – Jewish Institute of Religion (Los Angeles campus) and Adjunct Professor (by courtesy) in the University of Southern California Linguistics Department. She received her Ph.D. from Stanford University in Linguistics in 2004. She has published and lectured widely about Jewish languages, linguistics, Yiddish, American Jews, and Orthodox Jews.

Presidential Perspectives

Say it loud.

In August of 1968, James Brown released a song called, “Say it loud – I’m Black and I’m proud.” 1968 was, to say the least, a terrible year in American history. Prior to 2020, some would say it was the worst year, period. This song predated most early forms of rap, but if you listen to it now (click anywhere on this article) you’ll realize it really is a rap song. That’s just another reason that James Brown was a pioneer.

Mr. Brown knew his history. He knew that white musicians had stolen his people’s music for decades. Whether it was Big Mama Thornton’s “Hound Dog,” Chuck Berry’s “Sweet Little Sixteen,” or Ronnie Mack’s “He’s So Fine,” white artists had found unearned success by appropriating someone else’s music. And, for the most part, they got away with it. You can’t blame James Brown for writing a song they couldn’t steal.

February is Black History Month, and in February we have tended to all pat ourselves on the back for “how far we’ve come.” I think the last year has shown us we have quite a ways to go. Let’s all look at February as an opportunity to support equality for all. For, if one of us is downtrodden, if one person’s rights are violated, then all of humanity is diminished. This month let’s all take the opportunity to acknowledge our own roles, our own mistakes in the past, and commit to working harder to see true equality in our lifetimes.

Sisterhood Speaks

It seems like just yesterday that we were together celebrating, praying, eating and learning.

In fact, it has been almost a year since we have gathered together.

I hold high hopes that we will be together soon.

We have entered a new dawn, and a new day with new promise (and new vaccines)

As Purim approaches, you should have received a mailing about Shalact Manot. Please join us in this sacred tradition! It of course will be different this year, both in what we will be distributing in the bags, and how we will be distributing the bags. A BIG thank you to Leslie Soltz for spearheading this very important tradition!

Sisterhood is busy planning and holding virtual events, chats, board meetings and book club.

Feel free to join us for any and all!

We are also putting together our slate for our board of directors for the 2021-2022 year. There are ALWAYS positions available that can fit into even the busiest of schedules. We would LOVE to hear your ideas, see your smiling face and have you join us!

With love and hope in my heart I wish everyone a blessed remainder of the winter, as we look forward to the spring!

Be well, breathe easy, wash your hands, eat healthy, soak up sunshine and take your vitamins!

This soon will be a memory.

In Sisterhood,

Karyn Lehmann

Treasurer's Report

Dear CEE Congregants,

Happy New Year!

Attached is the December 2020 Budget to Actual report for Congregation Emanu El. December represents the half way point for the Temple since our year end is June 30, 2021.

Please note the following key points for income and expenses:

1. There is a decrease of $8,900 for dues and High Holiday contributions compared to the same time period last year. We cannot do much to recover the High Holiday donations, but if you haven't done so, please pay your dues as soon as possible.

2. Our fund-raising receipts are much lower than we budgeted for the fiscal year. We are still collecting contributions for the "No Ball Ball", so hopefully the gap between budget and actual will shrink in the category in our January 2021 statements.

3. The Board and our employees have kept our expenses to a minimum. There has been an increase from prior year due to the addition of the rabbi's assistant to our staff.

If at any time you would like to know the financial status of the congregation, please contact me and I will share that information with you. As a member of our congregation this information is available to you. I can be reached at 704-756-7427 or send me an e-mail address at kathy.rosenfeld@gmail.com

Shalom!

Kathy Rosenfeld

From Our Director of Education & Youth

The Jewish month of Adar will begin in mid-February and according to the sages of the Talmud and Mishna, when Adar begins it is the moment to start rejoicing, and we do it through the 14th day of Adar when we celebrate Purim.

Purim is known as the children's holiday in which they get to dress up and eat candy and Hamantaschen from the "Mishloach Manot", attend a Purim celebration with a Purim Spiel and games in a fun Carnival.

Purim has several traditions and one of them is the Mitzvah of giving to the poor "Matanot La Evionim". Even these days, there are different ways to give even from the safety of our homes. For example, donating food, money, or gift certificates to a local food pantry. Another way is using boxes of dry macaroni as groggers (noise makers) for the reading of the Megilla, and later donate the boxes of pasta to food banks.

We invite families to join our SJL Purim celebration. Get dry pasta boxes to use as groggers during the celebration and then donate them to those in need as "Matanot La Evionim".

We look forward to seeing you and your families for the SJL Purim celebration on February 21st at 10 am on the temple's zoom.

Happy month of Adar!

Wintering

It's winter. And for many it's also a time of "wintering." That's a word that British writer Katherine May uses for some of the most difficult times in life. It's what may happen to us when a death devastates us, or we have a job loss, a divorce, an illness. A shock shatters our lives into a million pieces.

Or when the world is gripped by a virulent pandemic and all our lives are radically altered – like now.

And we go down into a dark place and we lose a sense of time, feel cast out of the world, and our brains fog over or even enter a prolonged suspension. Wintering. We have an urge to fight it – because maybe we don't have it so bad. Maybe in this pandemic we didn't lose any loved one or get sick ourselves or even lose our job or business. But pep-talking ourselves doesn't necessarily work. Sometimes we just have to accept. "We have seasons when we flourish and seasons when the leaves fall from us, revealing our bare bones," she says in her book Wintering: The Power of Rest and Retreat in Difficult Times that she wrote before the pandemic.

Ms. May suggests it might be better to let go of protest, to exercise patience, practice kindness, and allow our hearts to forgive. She believes that works better, because when we do emerge, as we will, if we follow the natural flow, we will find we've learned something. Wintering will come again, and we'll know how to do it a little better. And eventually we'll be able to help others with their wintering. So, wisdom grows inside us. Sometimes wisdom blossoms from rest and retreat and patience, a special kind of spring.
