

The molecular data indicate that Ackermania, Benzingia, and Chondrorhyncha reichenbachiana should be treated as a single genus. A fungal genus bears the name Ackermannia Pat., differing by only one letter. The priority of these two names is currently awaiting clarification by the IAPT, but the controversy is moot for our purposes here. Benzingia Dodson has priority over Ackermania; therefore, we transfer all species of this clade into Benzingia.

Type: Benzingia hirtzii Dodson ex Dodson, Lindleyana 10(2): 74. 1995.
