The French in the Pacific.

France in March last, as announced in the Tahiti official newspaper, annexed the islands of Rurutu, Rimatara and Maria of the Toobuai group, about 400 miles south of Tahiti, and no opposition was offered by the natives. These islands are small and their importance is only of local significance; but there is an evident desire on the part of France to pick up the small islands lying beyond their former acquisitions in the eastern Pacific. Most of the larger groups of islands in this ocean are already appropriated by European maritime nations, and only gleaning operations of annexation are now reserved. There still rew York for Greytown with fifty main among the larger groups, the Tonga or Friendly Islands, Solomon Islands, Samoa or the Navigator Islands, and a few groups of smaller size; but, with the exception of the Solomon Islands, the e laborers have been engaged at people of these groups have attained to a degree of civilization that may keep and permanent buildings, them from the ravenous paws of nations ces, etc., at that point, will begin in quest of new territory. The colonizing policy of England is probably less harmful than that of other European appropriating nations, as her influence has, been more clearly in the line of civilizing and educating, the tribes over Rev. Mr. Carter and family will remain here some weeks, before returnsketch of the work of the year; extracts ing to Washington, Mr. C. has represented Hawaii at Washington for over six years, having been appointed as Envoy Extraordinary, in February, 1883.

Mr. B. F. Dillingham, who has been to the Coast in the interest of the Oahn Railway, now returns here to resume his operations of pushing to completion his road to Pearl Harbor. While in San Francisco Mr. Dillingham arranged for the rolling stock of the line to be landed in Honolulu by September next, and there is now every prospect that the road to Ewa will be in running order before the close of the year.

Mrs. Kluegal and four children come to join Mr. Kluegal, who has been in pany for the past year. Mrs. K. is the daughter of Mrs. P. G. Taylor who formerly resided here. Mr. K. has taken the cottage in Beretania street next to Mr. B. F. Dillingham's.

Mr. Geo. A. Howard of Los Angeles, comes to take a position on the Oahu tramway. His wife, (formerly Miss Hessie Dickson and sister of M. Dickson) accompanies him.

Mrs. C. H. Judd and son returned to Kualoa in Koolau on Saturday evening about 7 o'clock. They drove all the way, some eighteen or twenty miles, in a brake; and what is more remarkable the brake with its two passengers was driven down the pali safely and without accident of any kind.

Mr. T. G. Gribble, Manager of the Hawaiian Tramways Co., *arranged in San Francisco for the landing of several new cars and a number of horses and mules at Honolulu early. The work of construction and completion of the Hawaiian Tramways will now be pushed vigorously, and cars will soon be running on the Nuuanu road.

Mr. E. Muller, of Hackfeld & Co., has returned after a visit of several months to Europe.

The Secretary of the Board of Health, Mr. G. W. Ashley, has returned from a visit to the Coast.

Dr. John S. B. Pratt and Dr. W. E. Taylor also arrived by the Umatilla, with the intention of locating on the islands.

Among the passengers were a large number of strangers, a good many of whom were ladies.

There was a large assemblage at the Kawaiahao Church on Friday forenoon, on the occasion of the annual examination of the students of the North Pacific Institute which is under the charge of A neat four page programme printed at the office of this paper gave the full details, with hymns and names of the thirteen students, who showed great familiarity with the Bible, quoting correctly texts from various parts of the Scriptures.

HAWAIIAN IMMUNITIES.

While hurricanes and cyclones how] with destructive fury over most of the oceans and seas of the world. the Hawaiian Islands have a singular immunity from gales of that nature. In Murch last it was demonstrated that very few portions of the Sonth Pacific are free from periodical disturbances of the elements that culminate in destructive violence Hurricanes sweep those waters with terrific fury, and with fearful loss of life and property. The Atlantic is also a storm-beat ocean, and its shores are exposed to the fury of its gales. The cyclones of the China seas, and of the Indian ocean, tell their tales of the storm fiend; and wherever our mind may wander over the storm tossed waters of the globe, whither in blizzard or sirocco lands. the same tale of battling with the elements is told, except in the Hawaiian Islands. The immunity of these islands is really wonderful; set as they are in an ever comparatively tranquil sea, and under favorable conditions of climate that no other land can boast. Nor is this all; the people of these islands have also an immunity from epidemic diseases which ravage other lands and which in some form or other spread death in all other countries. This is no overdrawn picture; it is the plain truth, and we yachtmen, than to those who plunge are grateful. along the coasts of more inclement

PLANTATION SUGAR.

The Fiji group of islands is situsted in a similar position to Australia that the Hawaiian Islands are to America; and any action taken by the planters of that group, regarding plantation labor, would naturally interest those engaged in the sugar industry throughout Hawaii nei.

Both groups produce sugar as the staple industry; but Fiji manages to

The subject of yachting in Hawaiian waters has recently attracted considerable notice; and, in the future, this pastime is likely to be more largely followed by local gentlemen who are fond of maritime pleasures of this nature. Broadly speaking, there are no seas on the globe that can favorably compare with those of the Hawaiian Kingresources of the islands. dom, in the absence of strong gales and hidden dangers of all kinds.

used with advantage much more extensively than it is, and it has been demonstrated that plenty of lime can be made from the coral rocks which are abundant on many parts of our coasts. Regarding native buildingstone, several experiments have been already made; but in most instances unsuitable kinds have unfortunately been chosen.

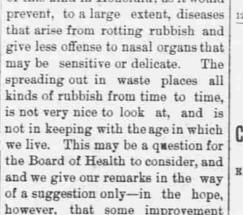

The warehouse almost immediately opposite the workshop of Mr. John Nott, in Kaahumanu street, is partly built of Waianae sandstone, and it has stood the test of over twenty years exposure to the weather with out showing any marks of decay or deterioration. Captain Makee had this material quarried from the Wai anae sea-shore early in the sixties, but the lack of proper facilities for shipping and transit made the expense too great for bringing this material into general use in those days. Perhaps it might be advisable to get better facilities for shipping this stone now.

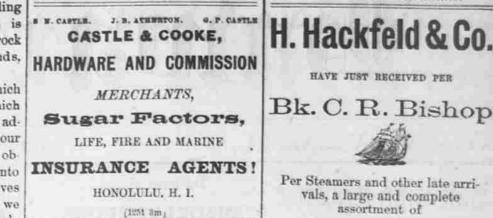

The Lunalilo Home is built common red lava rock, obtained in the immediate vicinity, which has proved to be unsuitable building material; and the Kawaiahao Church is built of coral rock, a material not much in favor for building purposes. These, however, are only experiments which might have been carried farther with advantage. For foundation purposes most of the rock found upon these islands is suitable; but the want is, stone sufficiently good and of moderate cost, for the walls of the buildings-it being a settled fact that our clays will not make sufficiently good brick. The recent excavations, conse-

A RUBBISH BURNER.

In many of the cities of Australia, and other warm countries, there are what are known as "rubbish destructors," or furnaces specially constructed for the destruction of refuse and rubbish that accumulates in all sorts of by-places in and around the business portions. The general plan of these "destructors," as they are termed, is to have a furnace built under the surface of the ground with an opening on top to receive the rubbish which is dumped from the rubbish cart. Above the fire-box there is an iron grating upon which the rubbish rests, and on the side there is a flue which leads to a chimney for conveying the smoke. When the fire is lighted the hole at top is closed with an iron cover. and the whole top made air tight. The whole arrangement does not involve very much expense; and this consideration is, of course, proportionate to the size of the works needed. It will be for the next Hawaiian Legislature to consider the advisability of constructing a furnace of this kind in Honolulu; as it would

The literary por tion of the exercises were in charge of Miss Pepoon, and the music was directed by Miss Patch. The calisthenic exercises were remarkably well performed by the primary pupils, and the whole ceremonies may be summed up as a great success,

There is excitement in newspaper circles over the report that James Gorden Bennett has gone to Khartoum on an important mission. He left Paris three weeks ago, went to Marseilles, then to Alexandria, and then to Cairo. Two stories are cabled in explanation of the singular journey. One is that at the Club Mereton, in Paris, an officer who had seen service in the Egyptian Army said it was impossible for a foreigner to enter Khartoum and depart alive. Bennett offered a heavy wager that he could do it within six months The bet was accepted and Bennett, accompanied by a friend, started. often heard to remark "Oh! that's a | The other story is that Bennett received a dispatch from his Cairo correspondent, stating that he had received a visit from an envoy of the Mahdi with important news regarding Chinese Gordon; that the latter was still alive and kept a close prisoner; that the new Mahdi, by reason of his reverse at Kordofan and Bahral-Chazal and the loss of the great Province of Darfur, was willing to ransom Gordon for 1,000,000 francs. The next few days Bennett made all arrangements for the trip and the payment of the vast sum mentioned, and with a friend set out for Egypt.

There is really no change in the situation. Stocks and supplies remain about the same, and holders are firm in their demands. There would also be a line to connect at Fiji, for the service of New Zealand. On May 9, 1888, Mr. Lambton, assistant Postmaster-General N. S. W., furnished lengthy report on the then position of the matter, from which the following is an extract :- 'It may, I think, be assumed that not only for postal but for commercial reasons direct communica-

As regards expense, a continuance of the present connection would possibly be more economical; but there may be good reasons for preferring the connection to be with Canala, especially as via Canada we could, of course, get the same communications with all parts of America, and probably quite as rapidly; and it is, I think, generally admitted that now that a regular weekly service is maintained between Australia and Great Britain via The first count was the need a Pacific mail service at all so far as concerns communication with Great sary to maintain postal and commercial relations with the great American continent. Green, Minister of Finance, took place Tuesday at 3 p. m. in St. Andrew's Cathedral, About one hundred ladies and about a dozen gentiemen were present at the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh assisted by Rev. George Wallace. The alter rail was entwined with wreaths of flowers and evergreens, and choice plants and bouquets were spread in front of the alter and pulpit. The decorations were arranged by Misses von Holt and May, and it would be superfluous to say that the arrangement of the floral designs were all that could be desired. The bride entered the church to the music of a wedding march played upon the organ, and the choir of the second congregation sang the marriage psalm and the hymn "How welcome was the call."

The bride wore a white silk costume and a white bonnet trimmed with suit able flowers for the occasion. The bridesmaids were Misses Constance Mist, Dora Dowsett and Edith Mist-all cousins to the bride. The groomsmen were Messrs, J. M. Monsarrat, Wilhelm Lanz and Herbert Mist. The bride was given away by Mr. Alex. McKibbin San Francisco, as heretofore, or at a port her uncle, and the ceremony concluded at 3:25 p.m. The wedding party then retired for a few minutes and returned to the altar, from whence they passe down the aisle, and the newly wedded couple received the congratulations of their friends in passing. On leaving the cathedral, the bride carried in her hands a lovely bouquet of flowers suited to the occasion, and the organ pealed the Mendelssohn wedding march.

A reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Waikiki, Tues day evening, and where Mr. and Mrs N. S. Williams remained unt Friday, when they left for San Francisco by the Umatilla, and will be ab sent from the Islands several months.

The Atlantic Ocean Record Lowered.

At last the Atlantic has been crossed in less than six days. For many years the crack ocean steamships have been lowering the record little by little, until the Etruria brought it down to 6 days 1 hour and 55 minutes. It seemed certain that none of the then existing racers could surpass the Etruria's record, unless it were herself or sister ship, the Umbria. But the last year has seen the entering of two new and splendid com-petitors, the Inman Line's ship's the City of New York and City of Paris. The former has somewhat disappointed the expectations of her owners as to speed, but her twin ship the City of Paris last month arrived at Sandy Hook, after a voyage not under the most favorable conditions, having made the distance from Queenstown in 5 days 23 hours and minutes corrected time. She not only broke the record for the entire voyage but also made the quickest single day's run, having accomplished, May 7th, 511 miles in latitude 45.11 longitude 65.21. The longest run previously made in a single day was 505 miles by the Umbria, of the Cunard line.

The Would-be Assassin Nearly Torn to Pieces by the Crowd. Great excitement was caused in Paris on the 5th ultimo, owing to what is believed to have been an at tempt upon the life of the French President. We give the following particulars of the affair from a late Paris telegram:

"The celebration of the centennial anniversary of the meeting of the States General on the 5th of May. 1789, narrowly escaped being ushered in by a momentous tragedy. President Carnot, attended by his military and civil household, left the Elysee Palace shortly after midday in a state coach, drawn by four horses, to drive to Versailles, where the ceremonies of the day were to take place. His carriage was escorted by a squad of dragoons. Just as the Presidential carriage turned into the Avenue Marigny from the Faubourg St. Honore, a man of about forty years of age, who had already attracted considerable attenlican party and of all its works, suddenly drew a heavy revolver and fired it point blank at the President. vailed among the crowd, but, on "The Governor visited the Leper | perceiving that the carriage was pro ceeding on its way and that its occupants were unhurt, the infuriated populace immediately sprang upon the would-be assassin and almost

She carried a most unusually large number of passengers, and there was a very large or passengers, and there was a very large crowd of spectators on the wharf to wit-ness the embarkation of the voyagers, many of whom are connected with isl-land families. Many were the fond adieus and alohas; and, in some cases, the farewells brought tears to the eyes of parting friends who might never see each other again. The "jams" on the one narrow gangway were more frequent than could be wished, and possibly upon occasions of this kind an improvement could be made in the mode of ingress and egress to the steamers. The departure of a passenger steamer to San Francisco is a much greater and more important event at Honolulu than in any other part of the world, owing chiefly to those leaving being more widely known in this isolated community, and also from a long established custom of taking the last farewells aboard the steamer or on the

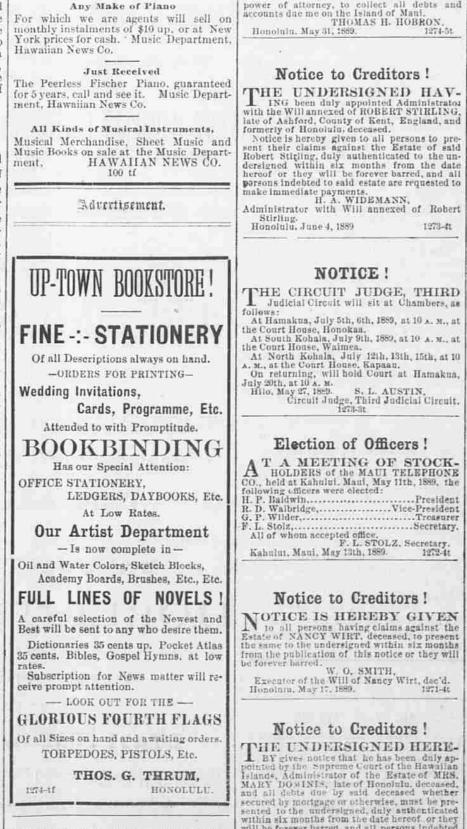

A Brake Makes a Bad Break.

A runaway accident, that might have resulted more seriously, took place in King street, a short distance beyond Thomas Square, on Saturday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. A two-wheeled brake, occupied by two native girls, was being driven into town, when at the above point the horse shied at a passing tramcar and bolted. The brake smashed on a telephone post; and a part of it, in which were the two girls, became de-tatched, together with one of the wheels. The horse continued running with the other portion of the brake until the whole arrangement went to smithereens. The girls were not much the worse, but the brake was considerably distributed. That Yacht.

KING MATAAFA TO KLEIN.

A Letter From the Samoan King-Scenes Behind the Curtain-The Native Policy, Etc.

Thefollo ngitem are condensed from a letter written by King Mataafa of Samon to John C. Klein, the correspondent of the Examiner recently returned from Apia :

" Magiagi, February 6 .- John C. Klein, United States of America :

"My Friend-Dear Sir: I write you at this moment a letter of affection, remembering the message of encouragement and counsel, and also the love you sent me in your farewell letter when forced to leave Samoa on the American man-of-war to escape from the German marines and sailors. It is always the wish of my heart that we should live together again as we did at Laulii whenever it becomes possible to obtain peace in Samoa; and in waiting for that time geance. to arrive it is always my desire to see you again when the present difficulties have passed and when we have obtained the object of our desire. As to the other things which are passing in Samoa, I shall now tell you. The German Consul is continually using all his efforts to the end braced a somewhat radical change of making peace with me and Samoa, and then inducing me to drive away all Americans and English from all of Sa mon so that then there would be no white persons allowed to live in Samoa excepting Germans. I easily understood his designs when he wrote to me on February 5, 1889:

"Samoans shall govern Samoans and Germans shall govern Samoa and all the Europeans in Samoa, and they (the (Germans) shall have all power for them-

My very dear friend, I am very joyful, and I thank God that the Grand Chief Kimberley, Chief Supreme of the Pacific Ocean, has arrived. And if the President, the Senators and Deputies of the United States have constantly the courage, and if they will strongly pursue their desires and wishes in the conference of the three great to be 200 tons larger than the York-Powers, if they will not abaudon Samoa to the Germans (for Samoa will not be happy with them), then it will be our desire, and be just, that Samoa should he placed under the protection of the United States, and then our joy will be

The Navy Department decided to grant the extension requested by the contractors for the building of the new cruiser San Francisco. The delay arose from the final adoption of the plans as modified. These emin the engines of the ship from those originally contained in the specification. The department has been notified that if no accident occurs the San Francisco will be launched in August next and finally completed in twelve months from that date. The plans and specifications of the three steel cruisers authorized by the last Congress have all been com pleted at the Navy Department, and advertisements for proposals for their construction will be issued in a few days. These vessels are officially known as cruisers 9, 10 and 11. The limit of cost is fixed at $700,000 each. The plans are the work of the Construction Bureau of the Navy Department, and if all expectations are realized these vessels will be the best of their class afloat. They are town and her class. The evening Critic says: Visitors were scarce at the White House, but the Postmaster-General had as a guest Claus Spreckels, whom he wanted to present to the President. When the two gentlemen reached to the fire of the Germans was because the White House the President was holding a public reception in the east room, and both hurried thither to catch him before he went to luncheon. The Sugar King is not is about the same build, although his face is more ruddy and his chin whiskers white. Mr. Spreckels was not after an office, but desired the Administration to send the right kind of a man to Hawaii. The Californians will have big guns and effective steel works in moans fought with them. My soldiers sent me not one word to make me aware some leading New York and Pacific Slope capitalists are carried out. These plans are now assuming a definite shape. It would be impos sible to carry a hundred ton gun across the continent, because of the pressure upon the bridges, and this fact set men to thinking. The Union Iron Works has successfully demonstrated the ability of the Coast to construct the largest ships in the world, as the recent award of the coast defense vessel to them proves. What is now contemplated is the establishment of a large gun foundry. where the forgings for the heaviest ordnance can be made. Senator Stanford, C. P. Huntington, Senator Jones of Nevada, Irving M. Scott and other capitalists have had the matter under advisement for several months. One of the gentlemen has been giving the subject close attention, and has made several journeys to the Midvale, Bethlehem and South Boston works for the purpose of observing their methods. The naval gun foundry in Washington has also been of great benefit to him, and the facilities used, while in themselves first-class, he considers in some respects susceptible of improvement. +0+ The great Pittsburg flour mills in Minneapolis are being negotiated for by English capitalists, and there is a report from Philadelphia that a company with a capital stock of $3,000,000 had been organized by English capitalists and iron masters to build four steel mills and blast furnaces at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., near the Virginia line. These furnaces and mills are to have a capacity which will necessitate the employment of at least 3,000 men. -0-0 It is reported that the United States steamship Boston will be sent to Hayti, carrying a commission under the authority of the State De partment to ascertain and report upon the condition of affairs in illining and educating, the tribes over Hayti. It is to learn whether there is a disposition upon the part of any European governments to interfere in Haytian matters, and what, if any action, is required on behalf of the treaty said to have been concluded United States. of their movements.

There were repeated calls in English by yourself and in Samoan by my soldiers when the boats came close to the shore at the first river early in the night, asking what boats they were, and telling the people in them not to come ashore. The people never answered. More than that, when the Germans were on the point of getting out of their boats at Fagali, and while in the sea wading to shore, they began to fire at my soldiers and continued doing so when they reached dry ground, while the others were throwing up a trench. It was then that my men approached a little and de-manded who they were. The German sailors answered with shots from their guns, and it was then that they killed the Savelii chuef. It was not until the Samoans made use of their guns that the Germans unmasked and showed what they were.

The French in the Pacific.

France in March last, as announced in the Tabiti official newspaper, annexed the islands of Rurutu, Rimatara and Maria of the Toobuai group, about 400 miles south of Tahiti, and no opposition was offered by the natives. These islands are small and their importance is only of local significance; but there is an evident desire on the part of France to pick up the small islands lying beyond their former acquisitions in the eastern Pacific. Most of the larger groups of islands in this ocean are already approprinted by European maritime nations, and only gleaning operations of annexa-tion are now reserved. There still remain among the larger groups, the Tonga or Friendly Islands, Solomon Islands, Samon or the Navigator Islands, and a liew groups of smaller size; but, with the exception of the Solomon Islands, the people of these groups have attained to a legree of civilization that may keep them from the ravenous paws of nations in quest of new territory. The colonizing policy of England is probably less harmful than that of other European appropriating nations, as her influence has been more clearly in the line of civwhom her sovereignty has been extended.

A Hayti letter gives the text of a between Legitime and France. Under the treaty Legitime cedes the Island of Ganaive to France and a site for a coal station at St. Nicholas mole, and grants other concessions Wales. to vessels and merchants. France in return agrees to aid Hayti to suppress the rebellion and accords her a subsidy of 1,500,000 francs with two war vessels of the first-class, arms and equipments. She is known in connection with charit able organization ; but much of her work in this direction is done in such an unostentatious manner as almost to escape public notice, She is a charming host-
