GOOD HARBOR ON WINDWARD OAHU AIM OF CANNERY

Government Asked to Dredge for Wharf at Kahaluu by Libby, McNeill & Libby

KUHIO LAYS PROJECT BEFORE CONGRESSMEN

Company Also Plans to Send Kahaluu Pack to Coast in Its Own Vessels

Windward Oahu will have a good harbor if the government grants an appropriation now being worked for by Delegation Kuhio at the behest of Libby, McNeill & Libby of Honolulu. The harbor will be at Kahaluu and will be equipped as a modern wharf with every shipping facility.

This announcement was made today by F. W. Macfarlane, president of the company. Of subsidiary importance is the announcement that the company also is contemplating the purchase of one or two vessels to carry the output of the Kahaluu cannery direct from the other side of the island to the coast.

The latter step probably will be taken in any case. If it is the cannery will be so distributed that the entire pack for the coast and distribution by rail from the coast will be handled at the Kahaluu cannery and the pack for the eastern coast and Europe at Kailua.

It is proposed to buy an iron or steel vessel with a capacity of about 1800 tons, install Diesel engines in it to save space, fuel and running expense and run it between the coast and Punaluu, the nearest point to Kahaluu where ships can now approach the windward coast. Supplies for the local cannery would be brought on the run back from the coast and when the cannery season is over the ship would be used by Libby, McNeill & Libby of Chicago on other routes. If one ship is not enough another will be bought.

"Our Punaluu arrangements are only temporary," said President Macfarlane today. "Our ultimate aim is of course the dredging of the Kahaluu harbor. Now we waste money in delay and the expense of lightering because of course the vessels can't dock."

"You know appropriations in Congress move slowly. They always want to know whether the business warrants the expenditure. Well, we have figured out that for this year our imports will be worth $300,000 and our exports $1,000,000. The delegate is talking it up and we hope to get it."

The news of the cannery's plans came out in connection with the arrival at Punaluu of the packing firm's own vessel, the William B. Flint, with a cargo of supplies. The Flint will take a cargo of 30,000 cases back to the coast.

SMART BABY IS BROUGHT HERE BY MRS. LEMON

Richard Smart, the child over whom the opposing interests in the Thelma Parker Smart will case are fighting, arrived here this morning from Kailua, Kona, Hawaii, in charge of his nurse and temporary guardian, Mrs. M. H. Lemon.

Arriving on the same boat was Attorney W. A. Kinney, leading counsel for Mrs. Elizabeth J. Knight, who went to Kailua to obtain the permission of Judge Matthews to the child's removal temporarily from the jurisdiction of the third circuit court.

There was to be a hearing on the probate matter before Circuit Judge W. L. Whitney next Monday, but it is understood now that no further court action will be sought until the opposing legal counsel have determined whether they will compromise or proceed to fight the case out in court. Judge Whitney leaves today for Hilo to be gone a week.

The prospect of a compromise in the case appears no brighter, say the attorneys, than it did a week ago. They are still at loggerheads over the question whether Richard Smart shall have a guardian or custodian.

CHINA-JAPAN DISPUTE IN STATUS QUO UNTIL NEW MEETING IS HELD

(Special Cable to the Nippo Jiji.)
TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 13.—No further developments were reported today in the endeavor of President Yuan Shih-Kai and H. Heki, Japanese minister to Peking, to perfect negotiations between Japan and China.

An official announcement from the foreign office is that Yuan Shih-Kai and Minister Heki will again meet in conference within a few days, when it is expected the latter will act according to new instructions which have been forwarded to him by the Japanese government.

PROHIBITION AND SUFFRAGE MOVE AHEAD IN IOWA

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
DES MOINES, Iowa, Feb. 13.—The senate yesterday passed both a prohibition statute and a woman's suffrage amendment to the state constitution. They now go to the house.

The prohibition statute bill will take effect in January, 1916, pending action on a constitutional amendment.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—The interstate commerce commission in a decision made public today holds that the Pacific Mail Steamship company may compete for coastwise traffic between United States ports, between Mexico and the United States and foreign countries, the decision making no change in the present status.

SPAIN APPEALS TO POWERS FOR QUIET IN MEXICO

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
LONDON, Eng., Feb. 13.—An exchange telegraph report from a reliable correspondent in Madrid is that Spain has appealed to the Powers to obtain joint action in ending the state of anarchy in Mexico. The public is deeply aroused at the expulsion of the Spanish minister.

AMERICAN HONORED BY JAPANESE UNIVERSITY

(Special Nippo Jiji Service)
TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 13.—John Waddell, formerly of Kansas City and now pastor of a church in San Antonio, Tex., has been given a degree in engineering by the Japanese government for service in Japan as professor in the Imperial University, Tokio. Mr. Waddell is one of the few Americans to receive degrees from the Japanese government.

MAYOR HEADS COMMITTEE ON JAPAN-U. S. RELATIONS

(Special Nippo Jiji Service.)
TOKIO, Japan, Feb. 13.—Baron Y. Sakatani, mayor of Tokio, has been appointed by the government as chairman of the Japanese committee on American-Japanese relations.

The Canadian railways have applied to the Railway Commission for an increase of 5 per cent in freight rates between Canadian and United States points.

REPUBLICANS TO CAUCUS NEXT MONDAY ON PLANS

Chillingworth to Head Senate and Holstein House, According to Prospects

The clans are gathering for the territorial legislature. From Hawaii and Maui members of the upper and lower houses arrived on the Mauna Kea this morning. Several have been on the ground for some days. The Kanai contingent will arrive tomorrow.

Informal street-corner caucuses among the Republicans, who hold a big majority in the house and a narrow margin in the senate, are already being held, and will be continued tomorrow. The big caucuses come next Monday afternoon and evening, when the senate and the house majority delegations will meet in Republican headquarters to talk over legislative plans and discuss the important question of leaders.

Charles F. Chillingworth, for president of the senate and H. L. Holstein for speaker of the house are very strongly favored and, unless something develops in the way of trading over Sunday, they will be decided on by the Republicans in their caucuses on Monday.

No aspirant for the presidency of the upper house has yet appeared as a rival for Chillingworth. The latter's long service, party regularity and undoubted popularity, with his colleagues make him first choice with most of the senators, as the veteran leader, Knudsen of Kauai, fell by the wayside in the last election, to be succeeded by a Democrat.

Reports that D. P. R. Isenberg might be persuaded by his friends to run for speaker of the house have been persistent, but Representative Isenberg has informed the Star-Bulletin that he does not intend to run and he is understood to have signified that he will support Holstein. Isenberg, it is said, will be made chairman of the important public lands committee of the house, a position where his business experience and knowledge of land conditions in Hawaii will be of much value.

SENATE TO FIGHT GOV. PINKHAM'S APPOINTMENTS?

Rumored Effort Will Be Made to Refuse Approval for Forbes and Others

With the arrival of senators and representatives from all parts of the islands today to prepare for the opening of the legislature next Wednesday, a story is passing around that an effort is under way to block the confirmation by the senate of certain of Governor Pinkham's appointments. One of the new officials to whom the story is applied particularly is Charles R. Forbes, superintendent of public works and chairman ex officio of the harbor commission.

One of the arguments said to be employed to gain the support of the senators for this move is that the new superintendent has been importing malihinis for public works and harbor jobs. This is based on the fact that he brought from the coast a foreman named Gregory, who had worked under him for eight years and is said to be an expert wharf builder. Gregory at present is foreman of the gang engaged in repairing the Kuhio bay pier at Hilo. It is said, however, that this is Forbes' sole "importation," and that the man was not brought here until Forbes had presented the case to the harbor commissioners and received their approval, realizing, they said, that the territory had need of an expert of this kind.

In general, however, it is thought the governor's appointments will encounter little or no opposition by the senate. That body will have a strong Republican majority, but is expected to recognize the fact that the governor has not indulged in partisanship to the impairment of governmental efficiency.

M'CARN DEMANDS HEAVY PENALTIES IN OPIUM CASES

Prosecutor Tells Judge Dole
Light Sentence Not Enough to Check Offenders

THREE DEFENDANTS GIVEN PRISON TERMS AND FINES

Two Sent Up for One Month and One for Two Months
On Guilty Plea

In a direct statement to Judge Sanford B. Dole in federal court this morning, U. S. District Attorney Jeff McCarn urged that the court in disposing of future opium-smuggling cases, impose sentences which will be severe enough to lessen the number of offenses.

Three defendants indicted by the grand jury on charges of smuggling opium pleaded guilty and received sentence. The lowest sentence, that of M. Pendergast, was one month in jail and a fine of $100 and costs.

"This opium smuggling has got to stop," declared the court in pronouncing sentence.

In the second case, Mr. McCarn was asked for a statement by the court. "The opium is brought in here as a rule by men employed on vessels," he said. "I appeal to the court to give such punishment as will discourage such practice. A penalty of one month and a fine of $100 will not discourage, much less stop, the traffic."

The following cases were disposed of: M. Pendergast, opium smuggling, entered plea of guilty. Sentenced to one month in Oahu prison and a fine of $200 and costs.

Domingo Torres, opium smuggling, entered plea of guilty. Sentenced to two months in Oahu prison and a fine of $200 and costs.

Pracisco Fridica, stealing army property, entered plea of guilty. Sentenced to six months in Oahu prison and a fine of $100 and costs.

Mikaele Kailiokalani and Mary Huakini, statutory offense. Plea reserved until February 23. Released on $250 bond and own recognizance respectively.

Frederico Capistani, alias Fred Belmont, and Petronelo Trochez, Milano, statutory. Plea reserved until next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Released on $250 bond and own recognizance, respectively.

The foregoing defendants all were indicted by the federal grand jury in a partial report returned yesterday.

Lee, alias Barney Turner, indicted by the grand jury on a statutory charge, has been released on bond in the sum of $1000. His bondsmen are M. Tari and K. Nagata. The woman in the case is Evelyn Roe, said to be in the employ of a local family as a nurse. Turner is represented by Attorneys L. Andrews and C. H. McBride. He will enter plea Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The grand jury also returned a no-bill against Turner following its investigations of the alleged assault at Walkiki upon Mrs. Veve Tarter, wife of an enlisted man at Schofield Barracks.

Only one week remains before the ringing up of the curtain on the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival. In seven days the first events on the elaborate program for the celebration will be seen.

While one whole week remains, the chairman of the various events are sending in their reports to Director-General Dougherty that their plans are all completed and ready for the opening of the big show.

In these coming seven days, the principal streets of the city promise to take on a new appearance, and by next Saturday to be bright and gay with Carnival colors. A detail of men is now at work in this extensive decorating work.

INSPIRED PRESS COMMENT IN GERMANY INTIMATES U. S. NOTE "BREACH OF NEUTRALITY"

DECLARATION MADE THAT GERMANY'S COURSE IN SUBMARINE WARFARE ON COMMERCE NOT COMPARABLE TO BRITISH USE OF NEUTRAL FLAGS—WILHELMINA'S CARGO LIKELY TO BE SOLD DIRECT, AVOIDING JUDICIAL DECISION ON STATUS OF FOOD

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]
BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 13.—The text of the American warning to Germany that the sinking of American ships even inside the new "war zone" will lead to serious complications has not been made public here though it has been received by the government.

A synopsis of the warning, sent from Washington, and comment upon it occupy a leading place in the newspapers. The Kreuz Zeitung says:

"The American note amounts to a breach of neutrality unless America has informed Britain that misuse of neutral flags will cause serious consequences. Let nobody say that America proves her neutrality by accepting the German declaration regarding submarine warfare in the same spirit as Britain's abuse of neutral flags."

The Kolnische Zeitung features a declaration from Count von Reuntlow, the noted naval critic, in which he says: "We gather the impression here from expressions reaching Germany across the seas. If the American people believe they can handle the German government as they desire, they fool themselves."

Berlin Rejoices at News Russians Have Been Forced Back in Prussia

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 13.—The city is rejoicing over the Russian retirement in East Prussia, acclaiming the repulse of the enemy another great victory for Gen. von Hindenburg, in which he has captured 26,000 prisoners.

Comparatively few cannon were taken, which is interpreted to mean that Russia is suffering from a scarcity of artillery, of which much has previously been captured.

Progress in West, at Massiges, is Featured in Berlin Official Bulletin

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 13.—Official—"The bombs of hostile aviators yesterday caused regrettable damage among the civilian population of Belgium. The military losses were slight.

"Some artillery ammunition found on the extreme western front doubtless originated in American factories.

"North of Massiges, continuing our attacks, we captured another 1200 meters of French trenches. In eastern Prussia our operations are everywhere progressing satisfactorily. Wherever the enemy attempts resistance, his opposition is quickly broken. On the right bank of the Vistula we have crossed the lower Skrwia. Nothing important is occurring on the left bank."

Decision as to Status of Food Consigned to Enemy May be Shelved

LONDON, England, Feb. 13.—The Wilhelmiana's cargo will likely be sold direct to the American Belgian Relief Commission without going through a prize court, thus avoiding judicial decision on the status of food consigned to the enemy.

Paris Bulletin Contains Little Interesting

PARIS, France, Feb. 13.—The official bulletin today omits to mention the German advance at Massiges. It contains nothing interesting.

MEXICO REPORT IS ZAPATISTAS ARE NOW ON TOP

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—The Zapatistas are carrying out a program of destruction in Mexico City, according to reports received here today, destroying the capital's water-works. The famine has become more critical. The indications are that the Carranzistas may soon evacuate the city, according to official advices.

GERMANS REFUSE TRANSMISSION OF U. S. ACCOUNTS

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
LUXEMBURG, Feb. 13.—The German military authorities here have refused to transmit the American color agent's accounts because they were stated in an unflattering manner to the state department of Washington, D. C. The matter has already been reported to the press.

ONE MORE WEEK AND CARNIVAL WILL BE KING

The committee presenting the Carnival of Nations ball, admits that the Ad Club has several surprises under way, but he will no more divulge their nature than will Ad Club members themselves.

The Carnival committee of the Ad Club has selected Miss Ruth McChesney as Queen of the Occident to occupy a seat on one of the elaborate floats in the parade which the club will conduct on the opening night of the celebration. The Ad Club practically has completed its plans for the parade, which promises to be even better than the "pirate" stunts of a year ago.

The motion for a new trial in the case of Cyrus T. Green, convicted by a jury in Judge Ashford's court a week ago was continued today until Monday for argument. Green was found guilty of keeping liquor for sale without a license.

HALFAKALA REST HOUSE DESCRIBED BY TOWSE TO PROMOTION MEN

Plans are now nearing completion for the erection of a corrugated iron rest house at the summit of Haleakala according to an outline of the project presented by Ed Towse at a meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday. The rest house will be erected as a result of the efforts of public spirited citizens of Maui.

The location of the proposed rest house will be more than 10,000 feet above sea level. No wood will be used in the construction. The walls and floor will be of rubble, the windows of wire screened glass, the window sashes and doors will be of metal and the beds will be of iron pipe, according to Mr. Towse. There will be eight sleeping compartments, each compartment having two bunks. Water will be provided from a tank receiving its supply from a corrugated iron roof.

At the last civic convention, held at Wailuku, nearly $1400 was subscribed for the rest house. Mr. Towse pointed out at the meeting that about $1600 more would be needed to erect the building.

A late wireless message from the United States army transport Thomas states the vessel is due to arrive at Honolulu from San Francisco tomorrow morning and will leave for Manila at 5 o'clock Monday evening for Manila.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Lel Aloha Chapter, O. E. S., stated meeting tonight at 7:30.

William Bradbrook, indicted last week on a statutory charge, will go to trial before a jury in Judge Ashford's court next Monday morning.

Judge Whitney today gave judgment for J. W. Achuck, giving him possession of certain land on King street between Ganoa Lane and South street and cancelling the lease held by T. Toi, T. Saki and U. Imai. Judgment was on the argument that defendants had violated the terms of the lease.

Five thousand sacks of sugar were brought to the port from the island of Kauai in the steamer W. G. Hall this morning. The Hall met with very rough weather in calling at ports on the Garden Island.

Taking a general cargo, the Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise steamed from San Francisco today for Hilo. The vessel was undergoing repairs on the coast.

Castle & Cooke were advised today that the Japanese steamer Chiyu Maru steamed from San Francisco for the coast of Asia by the way of Honolulu. The vessel will bring a later mail due to arrive here February 19.

Dr. J. Uchida, the local Japanese physician, has issued 400 invitations among his Japanese friends for a reception and party at his residence, 22 South Vineyard street, this evening.

The final accounts of the late estate of Walter C. Weedon, were approved and the executors discharged by Judge Whitney today. An inventory of the estate by the court's appraisers, John Marcallino, J. E. O'Connor and F. E. Steere, estimates the property to be worth approximately $13,163.62.

The following guests are late arrivals at "The Roselawn" to spend the winter in Hawaii: Mrs. M. K. Smith, Miss Harker, Mrs. Allen and Miss Allen, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. May Carter and Mrs. Anthony and child, Pasadena, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Case and Miss Case, Connecticut.

Island products, including 100 cords of wood, 2300 sacks of sugar, a quantity of empties, 40 head of cattle, 20 head of calves, and sundries arrived at Honolulu from the island of Hawaii in the Inter-Island steamer, Helene today.

During the next three months the Medical association will conduct an office at the Palama Settlement where children of the district who are suffering from defective teeth may have treatment free of charge. A fund of $600 has been subscribed for the work. The office will be open from 2 until 5 o'clock each day.

GOVERNMENT PRAISES PINEAPPLE INDUSTRY'S ACHIEVEMENTS HERE

Praise for Hawaii's achievement in the pineapple industry is contained in an official publication of the department of commerce at Washington, D. C. It says: "Hawaii produced one thousand times as much canned pineapple in 1914 as it did in 1901; in round numbers, 2,000,000 cases in 1914, as compared with 2000 cases in 1901." It points to the up-to-date machinery and cleanliness of factories here.

MILLIONAIRE CAVANAUGH HEIR TO MORE TROUBLE

Another development in a case that attracted much attention in Honolulu several months ago is told in the following despatch:

SAN JOSE, Cal., Feb. 2.—Martin Luther Cavanaugh, a millionaire lumberman who made his fortune in Seattle timber lands and who separated from his bride on their round-the-world honeymoon, was held to the superior court today on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. Mrs. Allie Hobart, Cavanaugh's housekeeper, alleged that he beat and wounded her.

Cavanaugh is eccentric, according to Mrs. Hobart, who says she did not know his condition when she went to work for him.

Cavanaugh's divorce from his wife, who left him on their honeymoon while they were in Hongkong, created considerable comment.

CONDEMNNS THE PRESS AGENT

Publishers Should Call a Halt to His Activities. IMPOSITION ON READERS.

Colonel Watterson in Louisville Courier-Journal Calls Upon the Publishers of Our Country to Do Away With Press Agent Evil—Publicity Bureaus More Expensive Than Advertising.

Whatever Colonel Henry Watterson, publisher of the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal, says is of interest to the American people in general. When he speaks of matters that concern the body of men who regard him as one of their own and who eagerly listen to his words.

Colonel Watterson does not like the press agent, another sentiment that binds him closely to the newspaper fraternity, and he says so in a recent issue of the Courier-Journal. He spoke to his readers as follows:

"The only point upon which disagreement was possible was who should occupy the saddle. All special interests agree that the press of our country is an asset, but there is no disagreement about who shall ride it. The various interests are in hearty agreement that every one who has need of free advertising, or 'publicity,' as it is called, shall make free and unlimited use of the newspaper columns. It is due to the folly of the times that the burden of free advertising has been long and patiently borne. It is time, surely, to rebel. The interest of the newspaper as a business enterprise, the conscience of the press as a gatherer and distributor of news, the reasonable demand of the reader that advertising shall bear a label, are influences which should combine to put an end to the riding of the sea by everybody and anybody who wants 'publicity.'

Even the riders are beginning, many of them, to grasp the fact that they have made inordinate demands upon good nature. In a recent speech E. A. Morse, representing the State Charities Aid Association of New York, at the charities conference in Philadelphia, stated that attempts to fish valuable space from newspapers should be abandoned even by organizations fighting tuberculosis.

"We do not ask the stationer to contribute the paper we use. We do not ask the owners of the building we occupy to contribute our quarters. But we do ask the newspapers to do the equivalent by giving us space, which is like money to them."

Buy Your Space.

Mr. Morse is quoted as follows: "We do not ask the stationer to contribute the paper we use. We do not ask the owners of the building we occupy to contribute our quarters. But we do ask the newspapers to do the equivalent by giving us space, which is like money to them."

Buy Space. Advertise your work in the best publicity in the world, and you will ease a little of the resentment that the newspapers are beginning to feel for you. If you do anything worth a newspaper without your solicitation. Advertising that is frankly advertising commands respect. Advertising which parades as news not only loses the respect of the public for newspapers as vehicles of information, but the reader who might, if properly approached, become interested in the individual advertised, the article, the commodity, the service.

Nowadays a very considerable portion of the readers of the press quickly recognize and as quickly re-impose upon them by passing off advertising as news.

The paid advertisement challenges attention and demands criticism. It is an open and above-board claim for consideration, not an effort to trade upon a lack of intelligence, more often presumed than actual among readers.

German Official War Cablegrams

The following cablegram was received today from German official sources: "WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 13.—Headquarters report, February 12: 'Western arena—On the coast, after a long interval, the enemy's ships appeared again yesterday. The aviators dropped bombs over Ostend without doing any military damage.'

The following message was received late Friday afternoon from official German sources: "WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—Headquarters report February 12: "In the western war theater there are only artillery duels in progress. The enemy spent an enormous amount of ammunition against the German positions in Champagne without gaining a success worth mentioning. Near Souain the enemy attempted an infantry attack but was repulsed, losing 120 prisoners. The number of prisoners taken by us in the Argonne, reported yesterday, was increased by one officer in 119 men.

"Northwest of Verdun several of the enemy's trenches were taken. A French counter attack led by General Foch was repulsed with considerable loss for the enemy. The fortress of Verdun was shelled by German aviators with about 100 bombs. In Sudelkopf, in the Vosges, the French succeeded in occupying a small outpost trench in front of the German positions.

"In the eastern theater, the emperor arrived on the battlefield of East Prussia. The operations there forced the Russians rapidly to give up their positions east of the Mazurian lakes, in some places the fighting continuing. So far about 26,000 prisoners have been made, and more than 20 guns and 30 machine guns taken, while the amount of war material cannot yet be estimated. In Poland, on the right bank of the Vistula, the Germans continued on the offensive, as reported yesterday. They took Sierpec and made some hundred prisoners. On the left of the Vistula the situation is unchanged."

Police & Hospital Reports

Malaka and Ludwig, Russians, are charged with taking money from a countryman named Kushinoroff, who last night complained to the detective department that while visiting a saloon his pockets were rifled of small change to the amount of $10. Officers soon found the men. When searched each had coin in his possession that tallied with that taken from the complainant, the police say.

J. E. Boyle, driving an automobile containing two passengers, is reported by the police to have had a narrow escape from a serious accident in a collision with Rapid Transit car No. 38, at the corner of Beretania and Pihoi streets yesterday afternoon. A woman passenger, whose call for help attracted the attention of a number of spectators, was badly shaken up but not seriously injured.

CONGRESS IS STATE, SAYS WOULD-BE U. S. CITIZEN

"Congress is a state," This was the answer to a question given by Manuel Abreu in federal court today during an examination by Judge Sanford B. Dole as to Abreu's qualifications to become an American citizen.

Two witnesses testified that Abreu's character was good, that he is married and is a hard-working man. But when it came to explaining the workings of the American government, and how it differs from the government of Portugal, the petitioner hesitated.

When Abreu said Congress was a state, Judge Dole requested him to spend another two weeks studying up on American government and come back for another examination February 27.

'NO MORE DEATH,' SUBJECT OF BUNDY'S LECTURE

"No More Death" is the second of a series of free Bible lectures which W. H. Bundy of Boston, Mass., will deliver in the K. of P. hall, Fort and Beretania streets, tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Bundy has been on the lecture platform for 14 years. There will be admission charged and no collection taken. The lecture is under the auspices of the Associated Bible students.

OZAWA CITIZENSHIP CASE IS DELAYED TWO MONTHS

Further argument of the application of Takao Ozawa, a Japanese, for naturalization as an American citizen, has been continued in federal court until Saturday morning, April 10, at 10 o'clock. The continuance was granted at Ozawa's request. He informed the court that he wants to obtain further information regarding the naturalization of Japanese.

A Feminine Characteristic:

It is perfectly natural for a woman to go among her woman friends, telling them of "the bargain sale where I bought this $25.00 dress for $18.50," or even, at times, to be a bit hyperbolic, in quoting the amount of the reduction. She considers it no disgrace to acknowledge the price paid for an article. Why should she? It's good business to take advantage of opportunities which save you money.

A Masculine Characteristic:

Quite to the contrary of the above cited feminine characteristic, it is very seldom that a man speaks of a purchase after the manner explained above. In fact, regrettable as it may be, it might be said that more often a man would be more likely to quote the original value, or even a trifle above—than the price at which he really bought the article. (You men understand this.)

The Moral:

You merchants who cater particularly to men; you can rely, less than any other class of merchants, upon the "mouth-to-mouth" advertising. It is up to you to go after each and every man, directly.

Advertise the Truth Yourself!

Don't run the risk of any hypocritical quotation of the price of YOUR merchandise.

You Cannot Afford To Do Otherwise.

You must work harder than any other class of retailers to obtain the maximum amount of business due you.

Then—

You merchants who specialize in women's goods can reap a DOUBLE HARVEST from your advertising. By reaching the greatest possible number of women FIRST-HANDED, you enhance your chances for an increase in business owing to "passed-on" advertising at least 50%, for it is almost a certainty that every woman who makes a purchase from your store will tell at least one other woman of her satisfaction.

There is no better motto which culture can have than these words of Bishop Wilson, "To make reason and the will of God prevail."—Matthew Arnold.

THE NORTH AMERICAN IDEA.

Red-blooded patriotism and a political idealism born of New World pioneering were emphasized recently in Toronto. It was "American Day" at the Canadian National Exhibition. And "American Day" meant a day for fraternalism and mutual respect between the men from the Dominion side and from the U. S. side. The Toronto Globe thus comments:

"The word 'American' is taking on a larger meaning. It is growing out of the narrower nationalism into the wider and deeper internationalism. It represents not one nation, but two; not one flag, but two; and the international boundary is no imaginary line, but is at once the most divisive and most unifying political fact on this continent. For Canadians also are Americans. Canada also is an American democracy. The people and government of the country must share with the people and government of the other country the honor, the obligations, and the responsibilities of free citizenship on this North American continent. Out of North America's unique history has grown a unique international situation. That international situation is the expression of the North American Idea.

"The North American Idea is a fact without precedent or parallel in the history or experience of any other continent; it is an international boundary line belting the continent with four thousand miles of river and lake and prairie and mountain but with never a fortification, never a gun, never a battleship, never a sentry on guard; an international dividing line, undefended and unbarbarized, and across which in a hundred years neither nation ever once marched a menacing army or fired a hostile gun. That is the North American Idea. That is North America's greatest achievement. That is North America's supreme and peerless contribution to the political idealism of the world.

"Because Canada is a free nation within the British empire its presence on this North American continent is the vital bond, lighter than air but stronger than steel, that holds in indissoluble fraternity the democracy of the United States and the democracy of the world-empire of Britain. That fraternity has good-will to all and hostility to none, and in the great days to come will represent to the world the North American Idea.

"And in this day of darkness and storm-cloud for all nations and all governments North America has a duty unique and compelling. For Canada that duty is now at the front, in the thick of Europe's crisis-making war, contending with Britain for the rights of the little kingdoms and for the very life of democracy amid the reactions and the relics of the decadent autocracies of the old world. For the United States that duty is as the uncompromised and neutral custodian and exponent of the same national life and the same democratic life; the one great neutral world-Power holding with a life grip the rights of self government wrung in the olden days by the British people from the "Divine Right" despot kings.

"For a hundred years we have kept the peace. For a hundred more we shall prepare for more peace. For the sake of our nations, and for the deliverance of all peoples, we shall project over all the world the North American Idea."

BLUE BLOOD SHED ON THE FIELD.

The blue blood of almost every nation in Europe has been generously spilled in the present conflict. In some cases noble houses have been almost wiped out. Some time ago from London came the report that two or three families of ancient lineage had come to an untimely end when the last scion fell in battle.

Germany has been less hard hit. Publication of the Almanac de Gotha for 1915, and the various genealogical annuals, reveals that up to November 1 779 members of the German nobility had met death on the battlefield or had succumbed to wounds received in action.

It is shown that of members belonging to the "graefliche" houses, or families carrying the title of count, 74 had fallen in battle or died of wounds by November 1. The "frieherlichen" or baronial families had lost 209 members through the war, while the very essence of who trace their ancestors to the year 1350 or beyond, had lost 246 members in all. The families hit hardest are the Armins with 8, the Wedels with 8, the Oertzens with 7, and the Deckens with 6 members. But the class of nobility which seems to have suffered most, though it is by no means the most numerous, is that whose members have been knighted by letters-patent, and who are known in Germany as "briefadelige" houses. This class lost 250 members.

The total number of losses through death on the battlefield or as the result of wounds received in action of the German nobility is, therefore, 779, up to November 1.

According to the Almanac de Gotha the following members of German and foreign reigning houses still retain their honorary commands in the enemies' armies: Prince Henry of Prussia, colonel 2nd Russian Hussar regiment; Grand Duke of Oldenburg, colonel 67th Russian Infantry regiment; German empress, colonel Russian Garde du Corps Russars; Russian empress, colonel German 2nd Guard Dragoon regiment; Queen Mary of England, colonel German 5th Hussars; Duchess of Connaught, colonel German 64th infantry regiment. The large number of honorary commissions held formerly by members of the reigning houses of Europe in foreign armies has thus sunk to six—an infinitesimal fraction of the numbers of other years.

American army aviators, in the face of distressing and often fatal accidents, have stuck steadily to their task and with little encouragement from the government are performing some wonderful feats. The American endurance record set recently by Lieut. Jones of the Second Cavalry, at the aviation school at San Diego, is a wonderful feat. He remained in the air 88½ hours, truly a marvelous performance. The United States is far behind the European nations in the development of the air branch of its military, solely because Congress does not appropriate enough money to equip the aviation corps properly and to develop this growingly essential military defense feature. Uncle Sam's men by instinct and national characteristics are as good airmen as any in the world—better than most, but they lack systematic support.

The report that Chinese Mohammedans have subscribed large sums of money for the war and other expenses of Turkey is denied by the leading Mohammedans in Peking. It is pointed out that the Mohammedans of China have but a flimsy connection with those of the Ottoman empire. With rare exceptions they are unable to read the Koran, which is not translated into Chinese. Only a summary of the teachings of Mohammed are obtainable, and their faith is not by any means as ardent as that of countries nearer to the birthplace of the Arabian Prophet.

PARADE SUGGESTIONS.

Honolulu, Feb. 12.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin,
Sir:—I observed with interest two letters that appeared in your paper this week referring to a company of infantry singing "Tipperary" on their march on the 22d. I think this would hit the popular fancy just right and make a big hit. The suggestions

"Marching Through Georgia" is also good. I think that caps on end of bayonets would be good. As for the German song, I don't think the soldiers would be familiar enough with it to do it justice and they have no lances. I can't see how singing "Tipperary" would affect the neutrality in any way. As I understand from the papers that it was formerly a song called "Yakima," which is of American origin, I think it would be a great treat to the observers of the parade. Would like to see this letter published and others express their ideas also through the press.
Thanking you, sincerely
TOURIST.
P. S.:—Whoever wrote the first letter struck the popular fancy. The regiment singing "Tipperary" would be received with cheers instead of silence as usual.

Personal Mention

R. E. BOND of Maui is a visitor at the capital. He was a passenger in the steamer Mauna Kea.

REV. GEORGE SAILER was numbered with the passengers who departed for the coast in the Oceanic liner Sierra today.

ATTORNEY W. A. KINNEY, who has been attending to business on Hawaii, returned to Honolulu in the steamer Mauna Kea this morning.

SENATOR D. E. METZGER arrived at Honolulu in the steamer Maun Kea this morning to attend the opening of the legislature.

H. HEWITT of Portland, Oregon, was a passenger to Honolulu on the S. S. Siberia. He will install a periodical library at the various Oahu army posts.

DOROTHY BECKER, the little San Francisco girl swimmer who is here to compete in the Carnival races, is a direct descendant of the great German poet, Schiller, according to a letter written here from the mainland.

W. W. THAYER, territorial secretary, is expected to arrive on the transport Thomas this evening from San Francisco, where he has been the last few weeks attending the formal opening of the Hawaii building at the exposition.

JUDGE W. L. WHITNEY, with his two clerks, John Marcellino and J. K. Aca, and Deputy Attorney-General Leslie Scott, leaves today for Hilo, where he will conduct a land court next week, returning probably next Saturday morning.

HON. W. G. HARDING and Mrs. Harding were given a rousing farewell at the departure of the Oceanic liner Sierra for the coast this morning. Senator Harding spent some days in touring the islands and making an investigation of conditions.

SARDIS W. SUMMERFIELD, former United States attorney for Nevada, who is visiting in Honolulu, says that no matter what turn events take within the next year Theodore Roosevelt will be the next president of the United States. Mr. Summerville is one of the recognized Republican leaders of the West.

M. FLETCHER, who is assistant colonial secretary at Hongkong in the British imperial service, is a Siberia passenger with Mrs. Fletcher. They are on their return journey to Hongkong after having enjoyed a turlough in that country and in England. Fletcher says that things were normal in Hongkong, which has suffered little or nothing from the exploits of the German cruiser Emden.

GOVERNOR TESTIFIES FOR HIS CHAUFFEUR, ARRESTED AS SPEEDER

Governor Pinkham was a central figure in the district court this morning when Judge Monsarrat heard the charge of heedless driving against K. Hari, who when arrested by the police was acting as chauffeur to the executive.

Traffic Officer Aea arrested the driver, who was alleged to have failed to obey a signal to halt at the intersection of King and Hotel streets. The governor who testified in behalf of the chauffeur admitted that he was on his way to pay a belated visit to Lilehua and that perhaps the driver may have been going at a rather fast pace. The executive said that Hari had not been

Y. M. C. A. ADDS 100 MEMBERS DURING JANUARY

One hundred new members were added to the rolls of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. in January, according to a report of the month's work just issued by General Secretary Paul Super. Membership fees paid in January amounted to $1742.50, as against $1585.90 in January, 1914. The association now has 1430 members. The association closed the month in good financial condition. The receipts in January were $60 more than January a year ago, or $525.75. The various departments accomplished more than their full quota of the work, the employment, social work, boys' extension, gymnasium and religious departments being unusually active. Six hundred persons were present at the New Year's "open house." Fifteen men were placed by the central employment bureau and 42 by the Filipino association.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

JAMES B. LEVENSON: The Ad Club Carnival committees are working energetically and harmoniously, having accomplished already a great deal in such short period. Director general Dougherty is always with us, and the result will surely spell success.

MAL E. V. SMITH: The Promotion Committee should make some mention of the dress parades and military maneuvers which are being held regularly at Fort Shafter. Usually we have only about a dozen spectators at each parade because the people do not know when the parades are held. When Senator Harding was out for the parade Wednesday we had a big crowd because people knew that a parade was scheduled for that day. The dress parades for battalions are held at 10:00 a. m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday of each week. The regimental parade is held on Friday at 5 p. m.

GEORGE WASHINGTON. (Original Poem.)
George Washington made himself the prototype
Of Biblical kings so green, so ripe:
Did carve himself a throne—
Equal to any! and bowing to none—
Proselyted the nations all,
Inviting everybody to a courts ball.
Held the Bible high,
Almost to the sky,
Shouting "Liberty" to all!
Come! come to the courts ball.

George was a howling success uncrowned,
Unmarred, unmurmuring, unclouded
By tales of noisome lawlessness—
In comity would welcomingly kiss
(Like the beloved disciples of old)
"All nationalities"—they're as good as gold.
Held the Bible high,
Come nearer, nigh
He would daily shout—
Come to "Liberty" within, with-out.

warned by the traffic officer. The testimony proved conflicting. District Magistrate Monsarrat discharged the driver.
"I used to think I'd wine and dine to my heart's content when I got rich." "And do you, now that you are rich?" "Alas, no! I can only dine and whine."

KILLED COMRADE WHILE ON DRUNK, IS SINTON'S PLEA

Filled with fiery raw alcohol and thereby converted into a raving maniac temporarily, Benjamin Sinton killed his companion, William De Fresse, on the night of January 30. Such was Sinton's confession, through the medium of his counsel, A. L. C. Atkinson, when his case was called in Circuit Judge Ashford's court this morning. Though indicted for first degree murder he pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter and received a sentence to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor.

Both De Fresse and Sinton were members of 192nd Company, Coast Artillery. Rarely has the result of a drinking orgy been presented in a local court with as startling effect as in the case of Sinton. The guilty man, said his lawyer, has served with honor and distinction as a soldier in the regular army, having participated in quelling the Filipino insurrection in 1899 and receiving an honorable discharge from the service four times. His present service as a member of the Coast Artillery corps, stationed at Fort Armstrong, is his fifth enlistment.

He is 38 years of age, with a tinge of gray in his hair, and as he stood, exceedingly sober, before the judge to receive sentence this morning, there was no hint of viciousness or criminality in his bearing or appearance. On the contrary he displayed every sign of an intelligent man, a soldier of the highest order. Sober, he seemed the last man to suspect of even a petty offense.

No explanation was made concerning the source of the liquor which drove him crazy. The court did not assess the maximum penalty of 20 years, but unless pardoned by the governor Sinton will remain behind the bars for fully a decade.

No cases of diphtheria have appeared at Punahou within the period of infection. The school physicians

BOXING O. K. BUT DON'T EVADE LAW IS M'CARN'S VIEW

U. S. District Attorney Jeff McCarn favors boxing matches in both local civilian and army circles providing the matches are carried out without conflicting with the statute regulating such contests.

This was his statement when asked by the Star-Bulletin regarding his attitude toward the planned boxing contests at Schofield Barracks in connection with the athletic training of the enlisted men. Mr. McCarn said: "I have no statement to make to the effect that I favor boxing at Schofield Barracks. I have not changed my attitude towards boxing at all. Personally, I have never expressed any views on the matter one way or another.

"I believe in athletics both in the army and out and any boxing matches that can be governed without violating the statute certainly would not be opposed by me, personally or officially. "If the soldiers can devise a plan of having boxing matches without violating the law I would be very glad to see them offered that means of diversion, amusement and development of the athletic spirit. That is my position now, and it has always been, and I feel the same way towards the citizens as towards the soldiers.

"If they can devise means of conducting an exhibition that does not conflict with the statute it should not only be allowed but encouraged by the citizens and officials. "The statute is plain and simple and a man can read it over and know as well as a lawyer what it means. "The federal law relating to prize fights or boxing contests is that any person or persons engaging in such a contest for a prize of any kind, or in one to which an admission is charged or one in which wagers are made, shall be imprisoned for not more than five years.

THE year 1915 is here. With it has come the event that will make the year's page in history stand out as in bas-relief. The Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco is the most wonderful of all celebrations, and it commemorates the most wonderful achievement of man. The great Exposition is a wonderland of fascinating color. The illumination is the most spectacular ever attempted. Forty foreign nations and forty-three states and territories are participating in this $50,000,000 monument to peace and culture. More than 300 national and international congresses and conventions are meeting in San Francisco so that the many hundred thousand members may have the advantage of the Exposition. Hundreds of great special events are on the Exposition program, making several for each day of the 283 that the Exposition gates are open to the world between Feb. 20 and Dec. 4.

A PART OF THE MAIN EXHIBIT SECTION OF THE GREAT PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

Panorama taken from the dome of Festival Hall at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The view shows the western part of the main group of exhibit palaces, looking down the Avenue of Palms. The tall Tower of Jewels, in the center, which is 425 feet high, connects the famous Golden Gate entrance to the Exposition at San Francisco. The domed structure at the left is the Palace of Horticulture. The other palaces shown, from left to right, are those of Education, Liberal Arts, Agriculture, Manufactures and Transportation. Beyond these is shown the bay of San Francisco, with Mount Tamalpais and the hills of Marin county in the background. In front of the Palace of Horticulture are the great South Gardens. The photograph was taken early in December, 1914, more than two months before the opening of the Exposition. FEB. 13, 1915.

HARDING PLEDGES HIMSELF HAWAII'S FRIEND IN CONGRESS

Believes in Protection for Sugar and Will Fight For It, He Says

"Tell the people of Honolulu and Hawaii that we love them," was the parting message of Senator-elect Warren G. Harding of Ohio just before the departure of the Oceanic steamship Sierra, which is carrying the senator, Mrs. Harding and Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer back to the mainland. "Tell the people of these beautiful islands that we will never forget them. Tell them that Senator Harding will be their friend in Washington and that he shall do all in his power for their advancement whenever the opportunity presents itself."

"You don't have to present your arguments to make me a friend of the sugar tariff. I have been for you since I first entered politics. I believe in protection to sugar and to every other American industry. They say that under the protective tariff people get rich. What if they do? The man who pretches that it is a crime to succeed is an enemy to the American people." This Senator-elect Warren G. Harding of Ohio declared himself a friend of the islands and accepted the nomination as senator from Hawaii, in an address at a banquet given in his honor last night. The dinner was given by the Chamber of Commerce, the first since its reorganization. Vice-president Farrington of the chamber presided and Governor Pinkham, former Governor Frear and Mr. Harding were the speakers.

Senator Harding spoke on the present condition of commerce. At its conclusion he said: "Hawaii Forty-ninth State." "I accept the nomination as senator from Hawaii. You will find that you have a friend in the senate when I take my seat there. I hope that Hawaii will soon be a regular state in the Union, the 49th state in the flag; Hail to Hawaii, the 49th state." Governor Pinkham reviewed the history of agriculture and industry in Hawaii since annexation. He said that the United States had been good to Hawaii.

"Where can so great a friend be found as the United States?" he said. "This friend to Hawaii, if we must reduce the friendship to dollars and cents, advanced Hawaii nominally as above $287,585,316, paid Hawaiian bonds to the amount of $3,220,400; paid our postal savings obligations to the amount of $764,000; gave us $1,000,000 fire compensation, making a total gift of $5,000,000."

"It will be impossible for the United States to carry out its military and naval program on Oahu alone for less than $20,000,000 per year, to say nothing of its investments in harbor improvements, fortifications and naval base. Let us warm our hearts towards the great country that has been so incomparably generous to us."

Ex-Governor Frear outlined the efforts put forth by the people of Hawaii to uphold American traditions and to advance the islands in the past. He said that this was possible only by the use of the funds derived from sugar industry. If this industry is killed, he said, this rapid advancement must be halted.

Sixteen years ago, he continued, only 12.12 percent of the labor was non-Asiatic; now it is 42.3 per cent.

The Berlin Tageblatt states that Roumania has purchased in the United States $9,500,000 worth of war supplies.

PUNAHOU CLUB GIVES A TREAT IN 'THE PIPER'

Honolulu theater-goers were given a real treat last night when the members of the Punahou Dramatic Club presented "The Piper" in the Charles R. Bishop hall. In the opinion of those who saw the production, it was the best of its kind ever undertaken by the youthful thespians. The cast was trained by Mrs. I. M. Cox, instructor in oral expression at Punahou, while the stage setting was planned by Mrs. Francis R. Day, dramatic author.

One of the features of the production were the attractive and realistic stage settings, the first scene depicting a quaint village and the second the cavern into which the piper is supposed to have led the children of Hamelin to the magic music of his flute. The costumes, which were of the style of ten centuries ago, harmonized with the scenic and lighting effects and created a distinct impression.

Not a flaw was noticeable throughout the action of the play. For a "first night" performance every detail was carried out remarkably well. The entire cast showed careful training and an interest in the work. David Withington as the Piper handled his part very well. Bernard Damon as Michael, Dorothy Hoogs as Barbara and Genevieve Hecking as Veronica were among the other members of the cast whose work is deserving of credit.

A second performance of "The Piper" will be given in the Charles R. Bishop hall this evening. The admission is 50 cents. Tickets will be on sale at the door.

CARNIVAL BUTTONS, DESIGNED BY LOGAN, ON SALE NEXT WEEK

Daniel Logan, father of the "Aloha Lei" and a sub-committee of one to arrange for appropriate Carnival badges and buttons, has just received from New Jersey a large shipment of attractive novelty buttons which are typically "Carnival" in color and inscription.

The buttons are about the size of a dollar, the background being yellow and green, the Carnival colors. They bear the following inscription in red, yellow and green lettering:

"Honolulu and Hawaii Mid-Pacific Carnival, February 22, 1915. Eternal Spring." It now is planned to sell the buttons at five cents each at a Carnival "tag day," the campaign probably to be in charge of a committee of local women.

NEW YEAR'S DAY OF OLD CHINESE IS CELEBRATED

Honolulu Chinese today are celebrating the old new year. Flags of China were suspended from several hundred masts in commemoration of the event.

Although the event passed with the passing of the Chinese monarchy officially, the custom long established has not been easy to break and the older men, the natives of China, will celebrate the old new year event. The celebration will continue for 15 days.

The younger generation of Chinese and the native born of that race are not celebrating. As Luke Chan, secretary of the Young Chinese Union and also of the National Party, expressed it this morning, "The younger Chinese celebrated the day as the progressive Chinese eventually will recognize, on January 1."

Chan said that no program has been arranged for any public meetings or announcements.

celebrations and all gatherings will be at private homes. The old custom in China was to celebrate for 15 days, at the end of which a monster lantern parade was held. Chan said it is not likely that any such parade will be held in Honolulu.

OPPORTUNITY OFFERED TO GET FINE PICTURE

An opportunity to get a splendid copy of the noted C. Allen Gilbert painting, "The Secret of Beauty," is offered by Fred T. Hopkins & Son, 37 Great Jones street, New York. The

"We will be glad to send to all users of Gouraud's Oriental cream a copy of Mr. Gilbert's beautiful painting, entitled "The Secret of Beauty," in panel form, 11x23 inches. It is a splendid reproduction, on highly coated paper, of one of the girl's figures Mr. Gilbert is noted for, and is not marred by any printed matter which would prevent framing. Send 10 cents in stamps to cover wrapping and postage. We are confident you will be highly pleased with the picture and calendar and find it a valued addition to your library or den."

ARMY TRANSPORT DIRECTOR'S VISIT EXPOSURE CAUSES

TAKING RELIEF TO GERMANS

To assist in relieving the immediate needs of a number of officers and men belonging to the German cruiser Cormoran which successfully eluded British, Japanese and French pursuers and is now interned at Guam, a quantity of provisions is being rushed across the Pacific in the United States army transport Thomas. The troopship in departing from San Francisco for Honolulu, carried about 50 tons of supplies for the Germans detained at Guam. No violation of existing neutrality laws follows this act, it being claimed that no other means of transportation is available. The island of Guam is not reached by commercial lines. The United States transports visit the isolated American naval base each month. A small steamer in the service of the navy makes an occasional trip from Manila. The Thomas is expected to arrive at Honolulu tomorrow morning. It is said to have met with very rough weather in leaving the coast. The Thomas carries the usual cargo of army and navy supplies and equipment in addition to a list of 900 recruits and 200 blue jackets and marines. Of the recruits on the Thomas, 500 are for Honolulu and the balance for Manila. The bluejackets and marines will be divided between the naval stations at Honolulu, Manila and Guam. Surgeon William Seaman, U. S. N., en route to Honolulu, will be the ranking officer on the transport and Maj. Arthur Thayer will be in command of the troops. The balance of the passenger list of the Thomas is made up of civil employes of the United States government for the vessel's various ports of call.

SHOWS EFFECTS OF WAR

The Seattle Times says: "Giving a concrete example of the war's effects on the commerce of the world, the steamship Director of the Harrison Direct Line, arriving here Monday evening, will steam from this port for Honolulu to discharge 3000 tons of European freight that prior to the great conflict would have been carried in a German bottom. As a result of Great Britain's present mastery of the seas, her merchant marine is beginning to handle a great volume of the ocean freight traffic formerly controlled by German steamship companies. "The European cargo loaded by the Director in Europe for Honolulu forms part of a freight movement to the Hawaiian Islands heretofore carried by the Suez canal route. When the Harrison Direct Line first established its service from England to Seattle, the Hawaiian Islands were included in its North Pacific route. The company, however, abandoned the island trade in 1911, and since then its steamships have been used exclusively in the Pacific coast service. "By driving the German merchant marine off the seas, the war has had the effect of turning the European-Hawaiian business over to the British, the Harrison Direct Line being the first English company to take advantage of the change in conditions. "The Director, which arrived recently on the coast from Great Britain via the canal, will leave Vancouver, B. C., today to go to Nainimo for coal. She will then steam for Seattle to discharge 400 tons of general European freight. For the return voyage to the United Kingdom she will load close to 600 tons of lumber and salmon in Seattle. "The next vessel of the line to arrive in Seattle is the Crown of Seattle, which sailed from Great Britain January 6 with general cargo."

BIG SHAKEUP IN SIBERIA CREW

Following a startling series of disclosures made by the federal authorities, the axe was used freely in the decapitation of many heads belonging to the personnel of engineers, officers and water tenders in the Pacific Mail liner Siberia. The vessel reached a berth at Pier 7 shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, many new faces appeared in the staff. It was reported on the coast that all steamers entering San Francisco from the Orient are subject to more than ordinary attention by customs officials in quest of contraband opium. Recently some heavy seizures of the drug have followed the search instituted by federal officers. Ninety cabin and 7 second class passengers for Honolulu left the Siberia for the Orient this morning. The through list of travelers included 75 cabin, 19 second class and 107 Asiatic steerage. The vessel delivered about 200 tons of freight and was supplied with 400 tons of coal. Prominent among those proceeding to the Orient are Mrs. W. H. Anderson, wife of Major Anderson, U. S. A., going to Manila; Samuel Ferguson, secretary to Governor Harrison of the Philippines, who was unable to take the last steamer because of an injury to his ankle; Mrs. W. V. Pratt, wife of Commander Pratt, U. S. N., destined for Yokohama; H. C. Hwang and J. L. Shu, Chinese commissioners on construction to the exposition, who are returning home; W. P. Wel, member of the Chinese diplomatic corps, returning from London, to Shanghai; John Boyd, a matting man, going out to Hongkong, and L. C. Nordmeyer, a machinery man of St. Louis. The Honolulu passengers included Aubrey Robinson and J. R. Galt and wife, returning from the coast; Frank B. King, cashier of the Wells Fargo bank, and wife, and W. B. Hopkins, an insurance man of San Francisco, and wife.

QUINN OBJECTS TO COMEDY AND QUILTS MEETING

Circus comedy was the rule at the adjourned meeting of the board of supervisors last night. Mayor Lane failed to put in an appearance and Supervisor Dan Logan took the chair. Larsen and Quinn were the principal comedians, although Hollinger injected a few bright lines occasionally.

Finally Larsen's comedy failed to follow the "lines" and Quinn got peeved. Wherefore the chairman of the roads committee picked up his hat and left the meeting. Then Larsen and Hollinger concluded the entertainment. The meeting was held for the purpose of approving the payroll, but Quinn and Larsen insisted in discussing the proposed automobile ordinance.

Hollinger said that it would take four months to draft a new automobile ordinance and asked that the temporary registration measure be passed for the second reading. Quinn objected and said he could draft such an ordinance in two days, but his objection was overruled and the bill passed by a vote of six to one.

C. E. Kellogg, mechanic engaged to survey city automobiles, reported that it will cost $621 to repair the city machines and put them into good shape. Larsen moved a "joker" whereby the E.M.F. used by the police department will be repaired under the jurisdiction of the police committee and will be used by that committee after being put into shape. A permanent police officer was ordered for Kapiolani park and vending of peanuts and candies in the park was made a violation of an ordinance passed last night.

TIRES GO DOWN DESPITE THREAT OF WAR FAMINE

The automobile tire market has had a narrow escape from virtual extinction.

Upon noting the recent reduction in the price of Fisk tires, few users will realize that the prices came very near going the opposite direction, due to Great Britain placing an embargo on crude rubber. As almost the entire production is controlled by the London market, it meant that within 60 days the United States would have been without crude rubber with the exception of the little plantation rubber available.

R. M. Talbot, manager of the Kershner Vulcanizing Company, Limited, who has been active in the tire and rubber business on the mainland for the past 12 years, states that it was only after exhaustive effort on the part of the tire manufacturers and the signing of an agreement not to supply tires to the enemies of Great Britain that the United States was again able to obtain crude rubber, thus preventing a rubber famine and the consequent raise in price of tires.

Japanese Battleship Kongo Patrolling Pacific Waters

Intense excitement is manifested by the Filipino laborers at Waipahu plantation camps. Hundreds of workers refused to enter the fields yesterday for fear of a chance meeting with the armed man believed insane.

The three Chinese and one Filipino wounded by the man and taken to Waipahu hospital are today said to be out of danger. Leon is believed to have made his way to Pearl Harbor. A guard was stationed at the wharves from which several steamers departed this morning.

plans for any organized work, but when the Kaual men arrive tomorrow the Bourbons will get together and talk over the situation. The leaders strongly favor giving Governor Pinkham hearty support and, indeed, there is little serious talk even among the Republicans of fighting the governor. The Republican delegations do not intend to oppose the governor systematically merely for party reasons.

Among the legislators arriving today were Senator D. E. Metzger and Senator-elect S. L. Desha of Hilo; Representatives Huddy of Holstein and Hale of Hawaii, and Representatives Goodness and Garcia of Maui. Some of the members may not arrive until Tuesday.

The important posts of chief clerk of the house has been settled with the agreement by which the mayor's secretary, Edward Woodward, is given a leave of absence to take the clerkship in the capital, which he held down effectively for several terms. It was reported today that Charles N. Marquez would temporarily act as secretary to the mayor.

The chief clerkship of the senate is House.

not definitely settled. W. H. Coelho of Maui and Bert Lloyd of Oahu are spoken of as possibilities. Of these Coelho is rather favored for his long legislative experience and familiarity with the routine work.

A new committee is quite likely to be added to the list of standing committees this year—a committee on county and municipal affairs. This is largely the result of the Hawaii county scandal and subsequent work of the investigating commission. A member of that commission, Representative William Williamson of Oahu, will be ranking member of the house committee if it is added to the list. Eugene Aiu is likely to be chairman.

Among the important committee chairmanships practically settled are the following:

Judiciary, Rawlins; public lands, Isenberg; finance, Watkins; education, Cooke; county and municipal affairs, Aiu.

Bill No. 96. Ordinance No. —.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 71, ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE REGISTRATION AND IDENTIFICATION OF MOTOR VEHICLES, THE EXAMINATION OF AND CERTIFICATION OF CHAUFFEURS, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE, AND REPEALING SECTIONS 32 TO 47 INCLUSIVE OF ORDINANCE NO. 11, AND ALL ORDINANCES AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH, BY AMENDING SECTIONS 9, 10 AND 22 THEREOF, AND ADDING NEW SECTIONS TO BE KNOWN AS SECTION 5a, 5b AND 5c.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PEOPLE OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU:

SECTION 1. Ordinance No. 71 shall be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 5a so as to read as follows:

SECTION 5a. NUMBER PLATES ISSUED BY SHERIFF. Upon registration or re-registration annually, the sheriff shall issue and deliver to each owner of motor vehicle under Class A two official number plates of uniform size, color and design, and for Class B two official number plates of uniform size, color and design. The color of such plates shall be changed from time to time in order to distinguish the various annual issues of plates.

Plates of Class A shall be marked with 4-inch Arabic numerals, preceded by the Letters H O N, with the distinguishing number assigned to the motor vehicle registered.

The plates for Class B shall be of appropriate size, containing Arabic numerals not less than 2 inches in height.

SECTION 2. A new section shall be added to Ordinance No. 71 to be known as Section 5b so as to read as follows:

SECTION 5b. NUMBER PLATES—WHERE DISPLAYED.

The owner of each motor vehicle so registered in Classes A, C and D, before such vehicle shall be permitted to operate upon any street or public place, shall display and keep displayed upon the front and rear part of said vehicle, and in such position that it can be plainly seen at all times, the registered number of said vehicle. Such number shall be kept reasonably clean so as to be plainly legible. The number plate, when placed upon the rear of a vehicle, shall be not less than 15 inches clear of the road.

The owner of each motorcycle registered under Class B, before such vehicle shall be permitted to operate upon any street or public place, shall display and keep displayed upon the front and rear part of said vehicle, and in such position that it can be plainly seen at all times, the registered number of said vehicle. Such number shall be kept reasonably clean so as to be plainly legible, and shall be not less than 15 inches clear of the road.

SECTION 3. That a new section shall be added to Ordinance No. 71 to be known as Section 5c so as to read as follows:

SECTION 5c. LOSS OF CERTIFICATE OR PLATE—NEW ONES ISSUED.

Upon satisfactory proof of the loss or destruction of any certificate of registration, re-registration or transfer registration or of any number plate, the Sheriff shall issue a duplicate thereof to the person entitled thereto, provided, however, that in the case of issuing a new plate, the Sheriff shall be entitled to charge a fee sufficient to cover costs of procuring such new plate.

In case of a loss or destruction of a number plate, the Sheriff may grant a special temporary permit, in writing, to the person entitled to use such number to use a number plate other than the one issued by the Sheriff until a new number plate in place of the lost or destroyed plate shall have been procured by him, and issued in place of the former plate.

SECTION 4. Section 9 shall be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 9. All certificates of registration heretofore issued shall expire ninety days from and after the date this Ordinance goes into effect.

All vehicles required to be registered under this Ordinance shall re-register on or before such time.

SECTION 5. Section 10 shall be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 10. REGISTRATION TO CONTINUE UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1916. RE-REGISTRATION ANNUALLY—ABANDONED NUMBER REISSUED—WHEN.

The registration of vehicles under Classes A (Automobiles) and B (Motorcycles) shall continue to January 1, 1916, and thereafter all such vehicles shall be re-registered annually, such re-registration to continue in force until January 1st of the following year.

All annual re-registration shall be made between the 1st day of January and the last day of February of each year.

Whenever a number has not been re-registered as required by this Section, and for thirty days thereafter, the said number shall be deemed to have been abandoned by the person to whom it had been issued, who shall have no claim thereafter to the use of said number, as provided in Section 5. Thereafter, the Sheriff may issue a new original registration to a different person under the said abandoned number. The former owner shall not be entitled to operate a motor vehicle, except under a new original number.

SECTION 6. Section 21 shall be amended so as to read as follows:

SECTION 21. FEE FOR EXAMINING AN APPLICANT.

The fee for examining an applicant for a license to drive a motor vehicle shall be deposited with the application in the hands of the Examiner of Chauffeurs, who shall pay over the same to the Sheriff immediately. Such fees

SAYS PRESIDENT READY TO RETAIN TARIFF ON SUGAR

Denver Post, in Forecasting Broussard Resolution, Points to Big Deficit

ADMINISTRATION MUST KEEP FINANCES SOUND

Belief Growing That Leaders Can't Go Before Country With Empty Treasury

That President Wilson is ready to sign a bill retaining the tariff on sugar for five years is the statement in the Denver Post, which is keeping closely in touch with the situation because of the heavy beet-sugar interests in Colorado. The Post on January 29 published the following strong article under large headlines on the first page:

"The revelations of the last few days have convinced the Wilson administration, according to despatches from Washington, that it would be suicidal to place sugar on the free list March 1, 1916, and members of the house committee on ways and means admit that they believe the president willingly would sign a bill restoring the duty removed by the Underwood tariff act if it were presented to him.

"That such a bill will be introduced by Democrats seems a foregone conclusion and that the leaders of the president's party have considered the subject is proved by the fact that they are now quoted as saying the deficit in the collections of the income tax and other fiduciary measures makes it imperative that the free sugar schedule should be suspended for a term of five years at least, if not indefinitely. Sugar under the reduced tariff produces a revenue of $60,000,000, which will be wiped out unless the law is amended in March next.

"In the restoration of the duty to at least $1 a ton on imports of raw sugars lies the safety not only of the domestic manufacturers, but also of the farmers who produce the beets in the North and the cane in the South. Already the planters of Louisiana have cut their acreage in half, and if nothing is done to relieve the situation by the present Congress or its successor, the industry in that part of the country will be out of commission perhaps for a long term of years, owing to the length of time required to bring the cane-fields to bearing. In Colorado, California and other beet states the situation is considerably better, but an impetus would be given to the cultivation of beets which would in a few years, if constantly pursued, allow this country to produce all the sugar it consumes, instead of considerably less than a half of the supply.

"It is admitted by the administration that it has gone as far as possible in raising revenue by direct taxation and that there is reason to believe that the deficit of this year is only a small patch on what it will be next year unless some of the tariffs on imports are restored. The price paid for refined sugar after the reduction of the tariff from $1.60 to $1, has shown that the tariff is not an element in the cost to the consumer and this is making a deep impression upon the Washington authorities.

Shortly afterward Representative Broussard introduced his resolution, published in the following despatch: "Washington, Jan. 30.—Representative Broussard today introduced in the House a resolution to suspend the free sugar clause of the tariff bill."

"Mr. Broussard, who comes from Louisiana, where the opposition to the removal of the tariff was as great as it was in the beet-producing states, is not a member of the ways and means committee but is an influential member of the lower house.

"There is no doubt that an effort will be made to defeat the measure, but the consensus of opinion in Washington is that it will be passed, as the majority feels that it will be fatal for the Wilson administration to go before the people in 1916 with a deficit of immense proportions which the restoration of the sugar duties can overcome. Those who are close to the president state that he is inclined to favor any steps that may be taken by Congress to eliminate this deficit and

Territorial Teachers' Association as Members Met Yesterday For Active Discussion and Plans

Two hundred Oahu teachers went on record at the annual meeting of the Territorial Teachers' Association yesterday as favoring a school pension system. Twelve teachers voted against such a system and fourteen announced themselves as being "neutral."

As the question of a pension system is a vital one, as stated by Supt. Henry W. Kinney in his address to the teachers, the feasibility of the system was discussed from every angle. The working of the system in California was explained by C. V. Osborn of Sacramento, who taught in the public schools of that state for 35 years and who is a beneficiary under the teachers' pension law. He said in part:

"About twenty years ago the matter was before the legislature of California and passed in the lower house, but it was in the beet-producing states, is not a member of the ways and means committee but is an influential member of the lower house.

"There is no doubt that an effort will be made to defeat the measure, but the consensus of opinion in Washington is that it will be passed, as the majority feels that it will be fatal for the Wilson administration to go before the people in 1916 with a deficit of immense proportions which the restoration of the sugar duties can overcome. Those who are close to the president state that he is inclined to favor any steps that may be taken by Congress to eliminate this deficit and was defeated in the senate. The bill as then drawn provided for the payment of the pension from the general fund. This was objectionable, or was objected to, on the ground that it would increase the taxes.

"The matter was not again brought before the legislature until two years ago, when the bill became law. The main provisions of the present statute briefly are these: A teacher that has taught thirty years may retire on a pension of $500 a year, but his retirement is optional with him. If incapacitated by ill health or accident after a service of fifteen years, he may retire on half pension. Every teacher that was certificated after the bill became a law must pay into the fund one dollar a month; those that were already teaching, in order to get the benefit of the law, were required to sign a contract. Those that did not sign such contract do not pay into the fund, nor can they ever benefit by the law. As a matter of fact, most teachers did sign.

"The payment of the beneficiaries is made quarterly. From each payment to those that retired at once sixty dollars is deducted until $360, or the equivalent of one dollar a month for thirty years, shall have been deducted. Hence the first six quarters the beneficiary gets sixty-five dollars a quarter. The teachers do not like the term 'pension,' so they call it the teachers' benefit fund. It will thus be seen that it is really a sort of mutual insurance. But the state is behind the matter and supplements the amount paid in by the teachers if there is any deficit."

that he will sign any preventive measures."

CLEVER BOXING WILL BE SEEN AT SCHOFIELD THIS EVENING

Good Glove Bouts Carded for Settlement at Cavalry-Artillery Amusement Hall

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 12.—The cavalry-artillery hall tonight will be the scene of some clever boxing bouts in which many of the best known glove artists of the Schofield garrison will participate. There will be no purses nor prizes and none of the bouts will go more than four rounds, but it is expected that every one of the eight matches will carry some of the thrills of a real fight.

The entertainment is being given by the 1st Field Artillery. There will be no charge for admission and as many will be welcome as can crowd into the hall.

Probably the best known name on the program is Billy Neumann, who is the hero of many battles in the ring and claims the middleweight championship of the Atlantic coast. If the federal laws were not so stringent there is no doubt but what he would soon lay claim to the middleweight championship of Hawaii. He has appeared but once before in the ring at Schofield. At the last his fight about a year ago he went eight rounds with Carlin. He had only been at the post a short time and was not in training. He was called upon to substitute for Bud Walters, who was to have met Carlin. His performance made for him a multitude of friends and admirers. Kid West, who will box Neumann tonight, is reputed to be a fast and furious man in the ring, and is expected to force Neumann to show his strongest cards.

Bobby Moore and Tony Signaigo have been seen together before and can put up as fast a four-round contest as the most critical fan could wish to see. Both are from New York city. At Madison Square Garden in 1915 Moore won the amateur bantam championship of the Atlantic coast.

There are 12 other fast boxers who will be introduced tonight. The program will be as follows:
1. Hoss Hoy (122) vs. Andy Berger (122), three rounds.
2. Frank Burns (130) vs. John Orest (130), four rounds.

HAWAII SWIMMERS WON'T COMPETE IN CHILL WATERS OF 'FRISCO BAY

An ultimatum has been handed to the San Francisco expedition management by the Honolulu swimmers that they will not participate if the meet is held in the cold waters of the open bay, according to news from San Francisco yesterday. The Oakland Enquirer of February 3 says:

"Word was received yesterday by the athletic committee of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, that the Hawaiian swimmers whose entry into the exposition aquatic events was looked forward to as a strong stimulant for interest in those events, would refuse to swim in competition here during the fair if the contests were held in the open waters of the bay."

The insistence of the Hawaiians on the meet being held in indoor water if they were to take part, is based on matters of temperature, the islanders being used to the balmy waters of the mid-Pacific, maintaining that they would freeze up in the bearings and swim at a decided disadvantage in competition with men accustomed to the chilly waters of San Francisco bay.

With the development of this phase of the Hawaiian entry situation, it also became known that several eastern swimmers of note, individuals and teams, have taken the same stand. They do not like the temperature of the water of San Francisco bay, where it was planned to hold the swimming races.

"Inasmuch as the participation of such men as Duke Kahanamoku of Hawaii, world's champion swimmer, and others of the Hawaiian constellation and of prominent swimmers of the East is almost absolutely necessary to the stirring up of top interest in these events among exposition visitors, the committee will probably lead out to the ultimatum from these stars of the briny."

JUJITSU WRESTLERS STAGE EXCITING BOUTS AT ASAHI THEATER

Two dozen agile Japanese wrestlers tumbled about on the stage of the Asahi theater last night in an exciting exhibition of Jujitsu. The floor of the house was filled and on the stage were two score invited holed.

The wrestling started at 7:30 and the bouts were pulled off in rapid succession until 10:30. Winners were given rubbing towels as prizes. Only two divisions of the tournament were finished. These were won by Ikeda Ono and O. Omura. A third was a draw between Fujii and Fujiwara, and will be fought off tonight. The rest of the championships will be settled tonight.

As an added attraction an exhibition of American wrestling was given by Sam and Ed Searle. It was warmly applauded by the Japanese and several Yesterday afternoon the Beretania boys journeyed to the Korean grounds and by good, hard, consistent playing captured a double header. Both games were cleanly played and very interesting, no time being wasted in any sort of kicking. The pitching on both sides was about equal but Beretania was way ahead the best with the stick and this was the reason of their double victory.

The first game was between the two Junior teams and Beretania by heavy stick work in the second and some fine base running piled up a seven-run lead which lasting after inning they increased until the final score was Beretania 34, Korean 12.

James Chi was the cleanup man of the afternoon, getting on base seven times out of eight times up and scoring six runs. Twice he received a free pass and the other five times reached the bases by good, clean hitting. Kin Hin and Ah Chong also scored five runs each. Yo Kim, for the Koreans, did the best stick work, making five hits out of five times to the bat and scoring four runs. Y. O. Kang came next with three hits and three runs.

The Midget game was lost in a measure by the wildness of the Korean pitcher, who allowed seven runs to be scored on wild pitches when men were on second and third. On the other hand he had plenty of speed, fielded his position in fine shape and led his team in batting and run getting. The fielding of both teams in the second game showed lots of room for improvement and will in all probability improve as the race gets older. Over-anxiety on the part of players of both sides was responsible for several costly errors. Little Charley Kang caught a good game for the Koreans and shared batting honors with his pitcher, W. Kong.

Chiefly was Beretania's best batter, getting on base every time up and scoring four runs. Mack Sung and Ah Fong also scored four runs each. The marked feature of this game was the speed both teams showed in hurrying to their positions after their turn at bat and this alone put lots of extra pep into the game.

Stallings Tells How the Braves Won Big Game of World's Series

By GEORGE T. STALLINGS.

Much has been written and said about the breaks of ball games and I want to go on record as saying that most ball games are won by a manager taking advantage of the break, but never was a contest played in which a team worked harder to get the percentage than my club did in the third battle of the world's series. The hardest run ever scored was the one that the Braves made in the tenth inning of the third contest, which tied it up.

As I have said in all these articles, our spirit swept the Athletics off their feet and from the first my little ball club showed Mack's champions we were not afraid of them, their batting averages or their record. But the inning which absolutely broke out opponents' hearts and made our club score victory was that tenth. I don't believe it has ever been duplicated. After we had finally won the contest I went into the clubhouse and found my players shouting:

"Hurrah for the Champions!"
"Hurrah for the next world's champions!"

They knew that the series was theirs. Since then I have been told by an American league ball player who visited the clubhouse of the Athletics after their defeat that the boys as plainly showed that they realized that they were beaten as my boys did that they had won. Among themselves they were grumbling and their heads were hanging.

In their half of the tenth inning the Athletics made two runs and it looked to every one on the field as if Mack's team was finally to hang up a victory—that is, to every one except the members of our little ball club. The Philadelphia team earned one of those runs. The other slipped across the plate when Evers let his head drop after losing a chance to cut the run off because the ball took a bad bound, could not be fielded and hit him on the chest. Another run slipped over then and Mack's club had a lead of two. When Johnny came to the bench every man on the Boston team walked over and spoke to him.

"Never mind," they said, one after another. "We've got three more games to win it in. You've done enough for this ball club to afford to kick one away once in a while." But not a man on the team conceded defeat. The substitutes, who had not taken any active part in the actual playing, started to show what they were worth to the club by tearing up and down the bench and shouting their lungs out. Every one was moving on that bench. We intended to make it just as difficult as we could for the Athletics to hold that lead.

Peo Won Crucial Game.
Then Hank Gowdy, the castoff of the Giants, came up to the plate and bused one for a home run. That was just a plain slam, but believe me, it took some of the wind out of the Athletics. They then realized that the two-run lead was not a safe one. The tying run was at the plate, as we express it in baseball. It means that the man who would tie the score if he got around the bases was at the bat. This was the hardest one ever pushed around. Every man on our club was working for it, working his heart out, whether he was in the coaching box, at the bat or on the bench.

how that run was made, since it has been told so often. I am only glad that Evers' hit was one of the big factors in getting it. But we worked for every foot that runner moved around the bases, and each move was carefully thought out. When we finally got it we knew that the game and the championship would be ours. The winning run was only a matter of time. That is why I found my players singing in the clubhouse afterward and speaking of themselves as the next world's champions. We all knew it then, and so did the Athletics.

Stallings Proud of Gowdy.
With the superb pitching, Gowdy's catching stands out. It was the big feature of the series, although I expected it of Hank, for I knew better than any one what he could do. Before the series, in fact, on the day after we had clinched the National league pennant, I got to talking to Christy Mathewson out at the Polo grounds where we were playing our farewell series with the Giants.

"What is Gowdy going to do for you, George?" Matty asked me.
"I'll make you a bet right now," I replied, "that he outhits, outcatches and outthrows Schang in the series."
Matty did not make the bet, but he would have lost it if he had. You see, I knew something of Schang, for he had worked on my club when I had been the manager in Buffalo. Personally, he is one of the finest fellows that ever put on the chest protector and mask. But, as I have implied before in this story, he cannot hit a slow ball with a fish net. The only fast one he got within reach in the series he bused over third for two bags. That was one that Bill James threw him. When a man is not hitting as he should it always hurts the rest of his game, and Schang did not catch as well as he was expected to. We played on every weakness we knew. We showed him spirit from the first and nothing but spirit made that tough run in the tenth inning possible.

During the series, while we were talking Gowdy, it was reported that some young woman had promised to marry "Hank" if our club won. Gowdy has asked me to deny this.

FAST BASKETBALL.
In the National Guard armory series last night two fast games were played, the 2d Infantry beating the Engineers by 17 to 13, and the National Guards winning from Fort Armstrong by 50 to 4.

STAR-BULLETINS IN CELEBRATION OF CHAMPIONSHIP

Last night in the Kakaako hall the members of the Star-Bulletin indoor baseball champions and the entire Star-Bulletin Club turned out to celebrate the recent winning of the indoor baseball championship. The evening's program was opened with an address by Mr. Robley who gave a brief sketch of the organization of the club and its team's record.

He pointed out the rapid growth, a general broadening of interest then a few in favor of entering an indoor team representing the Star-Bulletin in the last league race. Most thought it would be foolish figuring they would have no chance, he said. Objections being overcome, a team was put in the field. The first two out of the first three games were lost. The knocker were right on the job with the "I told you so" stuff. Then a general brassing, a more determined effort, team work developed, knocking and knockers converted into boosting and boosting. The team then began its upward climb. Fourth place, then third and another hard battle and then second. Second place and then a chance at the league leaders. Much chance. They were granted as much as the Boston Braves were before the last world's series and they surprised everyone by winning a great uphill fight and a championship just as the Braves did a few months ago.

Mr. Bruce then read a letter from W. R. Farrington, who because of a pressing engagement was unable to be with the boys. Farrington congratulated the boys on their work and pointed out how the same spirit in their daily work would win them prizes in other fields.

Mr. Godfrey was the next on the program and gave the boys a good straight talk from the shoulder which, judging from the applause, was appreciated. While the refreshments were being served Mr. Robley entertained the boys with a number of humorous stories, then came the eat.

The great assistance that the various members of the Star-Bulletin force have rendered from time to time has played no small part in the present work now being accomplished in the boys' club work in general, according to Mr. Robley, who is in charge of this work at the present time.

R. B. HALE

By R. B. HALE,
Vice President of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, who first suggested the holding of the great Exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal.

The following splendid address, expressing the keynote of the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco, was delivered by Mr. R. B. Hale, Vice-president of the exposition. Mr. Hale is one of the notable public men of America and this copy of his address is of deepest interest and significance.

Universal Expositions, of which the Panama-Pacific International Exposition is the fourth in the United States, have always stood for peace. In Philadelphia, in 1876, the Honorable Joseph R. Hawley, President of the Centennial Exposition, in his opening remarks said:

"From the association here of welcome visitors from all nations there may result not alone great benefits to invention, manufacture, agriculture, trade and commerce, but also stronger international friendship and more lasting peace."

"Acquaintance softens prejudice" has been ringing in my ears ever since those three words were uttered by a foreign graduate of one of our American universities in a speech delivered some years ago. Ellis Root, whose name is familiar to all, was the high official of the State in substantially these words. "It were impossible for any nation to be at war if the people of the warring countries understood each other."

Universal expositions, when properly managed, remove commercial antipathies and settle content differences by bringing the people of all nations into friendly intercourse for the discussion of ideas, the exchange of commodities and for the advancement of mankind socially, morally, intellectually and commercially. They reflect the thought and action of peaceful pursuits, and reach their greatest successes during or following long periods of national and international peace. Their exhibits are the product of the arts of peace and their object is the promotion of peaceful activity in thought and word and deed. They are the antithesis of war, the embodiment of peace. Their grounds are set apart as extra territorial devoted to the use of all nations and all peoples on a parity and equality. The Panama-Pacific International Exposition grounds today are common to all. No creed or race is barred; all have equal rights and privileges. It is a neutral ground for warring or tranquil nations alike. It is one great democracy where all unite in contributing to an expression of gratitude for the present and inspiration for the future, and because the Exposition is really the child of peace do we deem it a privilege, eye over a duty, to enter our protest against the terrible conditions now prevailing in Europe.

It is idle to presume that anything that we can do here today will have any material influence in the immediate settlement of the greatest war in history, involving more than half the people of the civilized world, but we can raise our voice in earnest protest against conditions in Europe too terrible to contemplate in loss of life, in the destruction of property, in the suffering of helpless women and children and in the effect upon the world at large. Commercial activity is checked, industries are paralyzed, civilization is being forced backward, human impulses are being supplanted by the brutal practices of war. The voice of the innocent have sounded a call for relief, and with dynamic force that call is penetrating through the length and breadth of this country for peace. Ever and anon, separated and serious and determined. That one word has taken on a new significance, a new meaning—Peace—Peace for humanity, Peace to pursue the upward and onward course of civilization; peace and rest and tranquility for the millions who suffer—suffering in spirit as those unfortunate soldiers are suffering in body—royalty and subject together in the present awful European conflict. They desire a cessation forever of the super-cruel methods of warfare as a means of settlement of international contention.

Each closing day hope looks forward to the morning longing that word shall come that our brothers in Europe shall have laid aside their arms. That glorious day must come and when it does will it not be possible to respond to the world's wail that the sword of anger and of hate be sheathed forever? Then come the time for international convention and treaty. Great statesmen will be engaged in negotiating the tremendous document. Speaking out of their experience and from afar, among myriad minds, we ourselves hope that in this treaty there shall be established such a basis of defense on land as is alone necessary to protect local peace, and that such armed ships as are necessary to police the sea shall alone be permitted; each nation contributing its quota to this international naval police which shall be controlled in its movements by an international admiralty whose whole duty shall be to preserve peace instead of prepare for war.

The Exposition in San Francisco will have reached its highest purpose if it can in any way assist in the settlement of the terrific conflict which is now being waged with such titanic fierceness, hellish weapons and awful consequences. The Exposition, being set apart as extra territorial grounds dedicated to the use of all nations on terms of equality, could fittingly, without prejudice or embarrassment, be used for a peace conference designed to settle the difference of the warring nations and bring about the signing of a treaty of peace for which the world is praying.

One effect of the war now in progress will be to emphasize the importance of and intensify the interest in the great International Peace conference projected by the management of the Exposition. Let us hope that this war may be recorded history before this congress convenes. The horrors of present day warfare will then be fully appreciated and those directly affected may be available with their experience and advice to assist in preparing a code of international law and police powers and provide such other recommendations as may be best fitted to insure lasting peace.

And when we look into the future may we find the new cycle of brotherly love superseding the discord of today. May the settlement of international strife by war, and blood and suffering, and devastation be supplanted by conference and negotiation and arbitration; then will follow rest and peace and contentment for the everlasting enjoyment of mankind. As John G. Whittier beautifully expressed it in his centennial hymn in 1876:

"Oh make Thou us thru centuries long
In peace secure, by justice strong
Around our gift of freedom draw
The safeguards of Thy righteous law,
And cast in some diviner mold
Let the new cycle share the old" evening of this week. Later the entire supper party went on to the skating rink for an hour or more of that amusement.

Lieut. and Mrs. Laurence O. Mathews were hosts at an informal dinner preceding the hop on Friday evening for Lieut. and Mrs. J. A. McAndrew of the 2nd Infantry.

The final collections for tickets sold for the masquerade ball given on January 12, and the following night's dance, both given by the Fort Shafter branch of the Army Relief society, have been made and the results have been most satisfactory and gratifying to the managers of those two entertainments. For the masquerade ball the net receipts as shown by the report of the treasurer to Mrs. F. H. French, who is the head of the local branch, totaled $477.02, while the non-commissioned officers in charge of the dance given by them on the night after the masquerade have turned over to Mrs. E. V. Smith, acting treasurer of both funds, the handsome sum of $337.42. This fine total of over $800 will be at once forwarded to the treasurer of the society in New York. The

Mrs. de Ford, the Misses Lenihan and Maj. and Mrs. E. V. Smith of this post were among the guests entertained at a handsome buffet dinner by Mrs. Charles S. Bromwell on Tuesday

Stainback, Capt. George H. Jamerson and Lieut. N. W. Campanole. Maj. Williams and his guests later joined in the dancing at the hoproom.

The regular diversion for the alternate Fridays of the month is the post hop and the one of this week proved to be most diverting. Quite the largest gathering that has been seen at these informal affairs for some weeks was present and the numbers present mutually added to the gaiety. Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln's dinner party and Maj. Williams' guests came in early from those affairs and with the dancing element of the garrison out in full force and added visitors from town the hop room was comfortably filled with dancers. Those noticed from without the garrison were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chillingworth, Lieut. and Maj. E. J. O'Hara, Mrs. Charles S. Bromwell, Mrs. Frederick W. Reynolds and Mrs. George Reynolds from New York.

Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson from Schofield will be the house-guest of Mrs. Ernest V. Smith during the presence of the Lethua troops in Honolulu for the approaching Carnival. Capt. Jackson will be with his regiment in camp on Wylie street but will make occasional visits at Shafter during Mrs. Jackson's visit at the post.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson of Minneapolis, who have been in the garrison for some weeks on an extended visit with their son, Capt. Walter H. Johnson, left last week en route for their home by way of the Panama exposition and will later make a visit in Southern California before braving the Minnesota winter climate again.

Capt. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln entertained at an elaborate dinner on Friday evening this week. The occasion was the anniversary of Capt. Lincoln's birthday. Covers for fourteen were laid in the Lincoln's attractive quarters and the table with its decorations of Shasta daisies was charming in every detail. Those invited for the affair were Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Capt. and Mrs. Robert McCleave, Maj. and Mrs. E. V. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. Paul B. Malone, Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Mrs. J. B. de Ford and Capt. W. R. Gibson. Afterward Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln took their dinner guests on to the regimental mess for the fortnightly hop of the garrison, then in progress.

Maj. H. O. Williams of the garrison was also a dinner host on Friday evening for Mrs. Beall and Mrs. Reed, Mr.

SOCIETY

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
FORT SHAFTER, Feb. 13.—Col. and Mrs. Francis H. French entertained with a handsomely appointed dinner on the evening of February 6. Their guests included Col. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Ellis of Fort Ruger, Maj. and Mrs. Ernestine V. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wall of Honolulu, Mrs. J. Buchanan de Ford and Capt. George H. Jamerson.

Lieut. and Mrs. Homer N. Preston were hosts on Thursday evening of the present week at a delightful supper served at the conclusion of the dancing lesson. The novelty of the entertainment was not less delightful than was the charm of the repast that was served from a handsomely decorated table that was set in the library of the club-rooms. The buffet supper included salad and sandwiches in profusion with coffee and confections as a finale. The table with its great bowl of carnations in red shades with an overhanging wicker shade to match the color of the flowers and red shaded candles was most attractive, and at this table were seated Mrs. Preston's assistants in the hospitable service. These were Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Mrs. Robert McCleave and Mrs. J. E. Bell. Lieut. and Mrs. Preston's guests numbered Col. and Mrs. W. B. Atkinson, Maj. and Mrs. E. V. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. A. C. Knowles, Capt. and Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln, Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Bell, Capt. and Mrs. E. M. Catts, Capt. and Mrs. Robert McCleave, Capt. and Mrs. Paul Malone, Lieut. and Mrs. J. B. B. de Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Sheedy, Major Williams, Capt. Jamerson, Capt. Gibson, and Mr. Robert Couvain.

Mrs. Frederick F. Black entertained four tables of auction bridge lovers at her home in the cantonment section of the garrison on Thursday afternoon from half past two until six. An unusually attractive prize of a silver corsage bouquet was awarded to the winners of the high scores. Mrs. Black's guests included Mrs. W. P. Kendall, Mrs. J. B. de Ford, Mrs. C. S. Lincoln, Mrs. E. V. Smith, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Mrs. J. E. Reardon, Mrs. C. H. Wright, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. D. N. Swan, Mrs. F. D. Applein, Mrs. J. C. Kay, Mrs. M. J. Lenihan, Mrs. F. A. THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

Miss Pauline Bennett, juvenile member of Shanley's Cabaret de Luxe now appearing at the Popular theater, who is in love with Honolulu.

A new star and a new photo-play, with an entire change of program by the Shanley Cabaret De Luxe performers is the order of things for the next three days at the Popular theater, commencing with the matinee today. H. B. Warner, who gained lasting dramatic fame as the original "Alias Jimmy Valentine," is the new star; "The Lost Paradise," one of the strongest stories ever told of the strife between capital and labor is the new photo-play and well it will be necessary to attend the performance tonight, Monday or Tuesday in order to get a full line on all the new features of the 1915 song festival that the charming young cabaret ladies will give.

Miss Pauline Bennett is the juvenile member of the cabaret performers and in an interview stated that she was using her real name and in confidence would tell her real age—19, she said, but she does not appear that old.

"Yes, that is my sure enough name and age," said Miss Bennett, "and I am willing to tell you anything you wish to ask."

"How long have I been in the business?"

"Just a trifle over a year. "Where was I born? Why in good old San Francisco, but I would like to tell you that if it had had to be any other place on earth and I could have been allowed a choice I would have picked Honolulu."

"I never have been here before but will be back again. In fact I hope our act goes so 'big' that we will not have to leave for ever so long."

"New York? No, I have never played away from the Pacific coast and from what I can learn I never care to particularly. From Vancouver down to San Diego, with frequent trips across to Honolulu, I am sure I will be perfectly happy and contented.

"Ambition? Certainly I have one great big ambition; that is to succeed in music. No, I do not aspire to become an operatic star for the reason that I know I am not physically large enough but there is such a broad field in the world of music that one does not necessarily have to try for that particular line."

"Well, good-bye, there is Mr. Blair waiting for a rehearsal and if I do not hurry I will surely be fined."

"You can say for me that I dearly love this country and its people. They have all been ever so kind to us ever since we came. They have showed their appreciation of our work and also have been lovely socially. Good-bye."

Sam Blair made the announcement yesterday afternoon that following the cabaret he would bring Holbrook Blinn and his "Littlest Theater Company" to the Popular for a limited engagement.

'SOUL OF SOUTH,' CIVIL WAR PLAY, AT THE EMPIRE

A play which deals with a peculiarly interesting period of our national life, a military drama filled with thrills, color and action, "The Soul of the South" is a headliner on the attractive program of photo-plays offered at the Empire theater today. It is impos-

Billy Sunday Converts 607 With Stirring Talk About Baseball

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Billy Sunday has finished "turning back the clock" 29 years in his tabernacle at Nineteenth and Vine streets. Again in memory he stood in the rain at State and Van Buren streets, Chicago, hearing those gospel singers and mission workers exhorting the sinners to repentance.

On the street corner with him, in recollection, were Mike Kelly, Ed Williamson and "Silver" Flint of Anson's old White Stockings. Again he had pictured that scene when he left his companions, "sodden in drink," to accompany a band of street evangelists to a little mission to be converted.

Once more Billy pictured the end of the Only Kelly, the death of Flint and the last moments of Williamson. And then Sunday cried:

"What man among you wants to lead a better life? Let him stand up!"

The entire crowd of 10,000 men arose. Sunday smiled happily. However, the whole 10,000 could not be classed as converts. When the toll was taken it was found that 607 men desired to profess religion. Sunday said it was the largest number of converts he had ever made at a men's meeting.

"God," said Sunday, "can make diamonds out of dwarfs, twist crooked humanity that never had a chance to be any different; humanity that was cursed in birth; that was poisoned from the milk drunk at its mother's breast; born of the blood of a drunkard or a thief. Christ died for the worst as well as for the best. He died for the poor as well as the rich."

"Pennsylvania is a blot on the map," he yelled, his face distorted. "It is the most rum-ridden, whisky-soaked state in the Union. And I'm after that whisky gang. I'll let you boys, when I get through with old Philly, take me to the Schuylkill or Delaware, tie a millstone around by neck and drop me from a ferryboat if you wish. But when I'm going over you'll have to say, 'There goes a man who wasn't afraid to preach the way that he believed was right.'"

Sunday decorated his talk with a little pantomime of the way in which John Clarkson was wont to pitch in the days of Anson.

"Connie Mack may have a better machine than those old boys, but when it came to a ball club there wasn't its equal anywhere at any time in this old land of ours," asserted the evangelist.

He also paid Ty Cobb a compliment. "He's a peach, all right," said Billy, "but talk about scoring from second on an infield hit! Why, I did it twice in one series in Brooklyn. The squeese play? Why, we knew about that 20-odd years ago."

ble to view the production without a quickened pulse. Army life in its many shifting and picturesque phases, with all its dash and glamor, is painted with a master hand, combined with dramatic skill and deft technique. The story has to do with the war of the rebellion. Faithful attention to many intricate details has been incorporated in the production.

Ford Sterling and Roscoe Arbuckle, general favorites with patrons of the movies, are prominent in the bright, breezy farce-comedy, "In the Clutch of the Gang." This picture will be shown in two parts. Much of the fun is of the sort that makes a good impression upon the spectator. The film is out of the ordinary and the subject matter is well handled.

Featuring Louise Slater, recently made famous by her inimitable characterization which has proved a distinct hit in the world of the movies, "Calamity Anne's Dream" represents a new type of farce-comedy.

WOMEN

WITH so many of Hawaii's young women planning to visit the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, there is much interest in "The Girl and 1915," the book which is at present taking much thought and attention of California's women.

Girls who have been brought up in Hawaii and who are accustomed to its sunny ways and freedom may be bewildered with the excitement and hurry of the Exposition City. A glance over the steamship bookings for the coming months establishes the fact that the greater percentage of Honolulu's young girls are planning to take a wee peep at the Fair.

With the knowledge that "our girls" are going to the Exposition naturally the question arises, "Are they prepared as well as the girls from other cities to meet the problems that are sure to confront them?"

In San Francisco representatives from all of the women's clubs and benevolent organizations are to meet young girls who go into the city to take part in or to see the Exposition. Should they go to the city with no definite idea of hotels, etc., they will be directed to suitable places. Best of all they are to be told when and how and where to play.

The thought of most every girl, when she is warned of the dangers of being alone in a big city, is that "none of these things will happen to me." True, they will not if the girl is alert to the dangers and is told how to look out for herself.

Perhaps it is because the Exposition City seems so far away that none of the women's organizations in Honolulu have seriously taken up the protection of the young girls who are going to California alone. The Y. W. C. A. in San Francisco has filled a great need, and is sending cards all over the world inviting young girls to register at its building in the Fair Grounds, and to make the building their headquarters. From accounts in the mainland papers the building of the Young Women's Christian Association is to be a great boon for the women of the world, and there will be competent secretaries about the place who will be ready to assist and willing to aid women and girls traveling without male escorts.

Princess Kaiulani, who has gone to San Francisco to take part in the notable ceremonies that will formally open the Hawaiian building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, left almost immediately for Honolulu, where she has since been living. Parental forethought was given before they sailed for their new home, but this is the first time that many of the friends who called at the tea had seen Mrs. Henshaw, Jr., since the news of her elopement, so the affair had an added note of interest. The young couple will remain here until after the Exposition opens, but they plan to return to Honolulu shortly after that.

Mr. and Mrs. Thayer will sail tomorrow for their home in Honolulu. They have made a host of friends during their visit in California, and there is much regret expressed over the fact that it could not have been longer. They returned a few days ago from a tour of the southern part of the state. They are guests at the Palace-Chronicle.

the word that the Vanderbilts, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish and a number of other members of the New York smart set may visit Hawaii when the liner Great Northern comes into port next month. There will be much entertainment here for all of the passengers and it is likely that there will be special affairs for these society folk, for they are well known to some Honoluluans, several islanders having been entertained by them on visits to New York. It has been intimated that some time during the year Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., will visit the islands. Mrs. Vanderbilt is expected in San Francisco some time next month and, after remaining there several weeks will visit friends in other parts of the West.

The Directors' Ball.
Much interest has been shown in the Directors' Ball, which will close the gaieties of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, and already parties are being made up for the dance. Among them is a dinner at which Miss Pauline Schaefer will entertain for members of the younger set. Yesterday morning's mail brought the following invitations to representatives of the army and navy and to local society folk:

The Director-General and Officers of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Limited, request the pleasure of your company at a Grand Military Ball in honor of the Commanding General and the Officers of the Hawaiian Department Saturday evening, February the twenty-seventh, nineteen hundred and fifteen at nine o'clock, National Guard Armory, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Breakfast at the Country Club.
The Country Club was the scene of an enjoyable entertainment on Wednesday morning, when Mrs. C. A. Brown entertained at a breakfast and bridge party in honor of Mrs. F. B. Shed of Lowell, Mass. Dainty pink bonnets and sweet peas looped with soft pink tulle were effective in the table decorations. After a delightful breakfast the guests spent several hours at cards. Among those present were Mrs. F. B. Shed, Miss Shed, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. Andrew Fuller, Mrs. Frank Halstead, Mrs. C. B. Wood, Mrs. W. A. Purdy, Mrs. A. Gattelberg, Mrs. Thomas E. Wall, Miss Daisy Hardyner, Mrs. James S. McCandless, Mrs. Albert Horner, Mrs. James A. Kennedy and the hostess.

"Get Acquainted" Social.
Several hundred women attended the "get acquainted" social given Thursday afternoon at the parish house by the Women's Society of Central Union church and all agreed that this first social of the fiscal year, ushering into service the new officers and committees, raised the standard for such affairs and should index a year of broader and more delightful social life for the women of the church and their friends.

Exceptionally attractive was the program of the afternoon, arranged by the chairman of the day's committee, Mrs. Henry Bicknell, and it was conceded to be one of the best ever presented before the Women's society. It was an odd coincidence that Los Angeles, which shares with the rest of Southern California the distinction of being home to so many clever men and women of the artistic temperament, should have furnished both artists for the afternoon, each a woman whose talent in her chosen line has developed into a profession. The reader of the afternoon was Miss Charlotte Powers, now of Los Angeles but formerly of Chicago, whose brief visit to these islands has already resulted in giving pleasure to many whose keen appreciation of a good reader is the greater because of the few opportunities Hawaii affords to exercise it.

Miss Powers read her own arrangement of "The Little Mermaid," that charming old fairy tale by Hans Christian Andersen, and her interpretation was a most happy one. Attractively frocked, of charming personality, possessing a well modulated voice, clear enunciation and that keen insight into human nature in all its moods which the true interpreter of life must have, Miss Powers at once won the attention and interest of her audience. At the close of the reading she very graciously responded to an insistent encore, revealing her versatility for character work in a humorous sketch entitled "At the Circus."

The story of "The Little Maid" the reader had arranged in four scenes, between each two of which Mrs. Besie Abbot Howland, the well known vocalist, also of Los Angeles, sang the three solos required by this clever arrangement of the story. Mrs. Howland's numbers were "The Kiss" (Archie's "He Was a Prince With Golden Hair" (words by Owen Meredith and music by Long); Massenet's exquisite "Alegic," and an encore song following the finale of the regular program, "Song of the Soul," by Breil. Mrs. Howland was in especially good voice and her rendering of her group of songs was thoroughly artistic and pleasing. She possesses a well cultivated voice of much strength and considerable dramatic power and particularly in her lower register were the mellowness and roundness of tone noticeable. She sings with ease as though she likes to sing, and with feeling as though she means what she sings, both characteristics adding much to the pleasure of her listeners. Mrs. Howland's accompaniments were well played by Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, who evidently realizes that accompanying is an art and that the accompaniment should furnish the tonal background for the song picture, without at any time obtruding itself into the picture. Her excellent work at the piano added much to the pleasure of the program.

Since Mrs. Howland's first Honolulu appearance at the "Night in Roofland" under the auspices of the Outdoor Circle when she sang her way into the hearts of music lovers through the medium of the captivating "Swing Song," she has appeared many times. Those who enjoyed her good work as the leading woman of "Mademoiselle Modiste" are looking forward to her next appearance as the fetching widow in "The Sho-Gun" to be produced on Punahou campus during Carnival week. Those who enjoy good reading and dramatic interpretation will have an opportunity to hear Miss Powers in a versatile and well rounded program on Friday evening, February 19, when she appears in recital in the room garden of the Young hotel.

Following the program Thursday an informal reception was held for the artists who had made the program possible, after which refreshments were served. Madame Atherton and Mrs. Simpson presiding at the tea tables, while Miss Hopper poured coffee. Assisting in serving were Miss Bernice Halstead, Miss Ruth Anderson, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Gill and Mrs. L. C. Howell.

Mr. Frank M. Hatch of Honolulu and his daughter spent a week in this city en route to the East, where they will remain until June, when they will return for the exposition. During their visit they were guests of the Hotel Bellevue—Examiner.

Mrs. Jamerson Complimented.
A Washington newspaper says: "Capt. and Mrs. Baldwin entertained informally at dinner last night at their home on K street for their houseguest, Mrs. George H. Jamerson, wife of Capt. Jamerson, U. S. A., who is here from Fort Shafter, at Honolulu."

Governor Pinkham Entertains.
Having been acquainted in the Philippines with Maj. George F. Lynn and Capt. W. H. Loving and also many of the individual members of the Philippine Constabulary band, Governor Pinkham invited the leaders to a dinner at the Young hotel on Monday evening. The invitation of the chief executive was flashed to the guests of honor by wireless and as the steamer docked at the wharf about 6 o'clock in the evening, the governor and his aide as well as the members of the Royal Hawaiian band, were there to meet the visitors.

After the dinner thousands of Honoluluans gathered on Bishop street and on the Young hotel roof garden to hear the music.

For the concert Governor Pinkham had as his special guests on the second floor of the Young hotel, Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Gen. and Mrs. William H. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Col. and Mrs. W. H. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Stainback, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fisher, Col. and Mrs. C. J. McCarthy, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. B. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Harding and Dr. and Mrs. E. Sawyer.

Senator-elect and Mrs. Harding Entertained.

With a table prettily decorated with a profusion of daintily tinted sweet peas, Governor Pinkham entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper for Senator-elect and Mrs. W. G. Harding who have been visiting in Honolulu for the past fortnight. Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer, who are traveling with Senator-elect and Mrs. Harding, were also included in the party.

Cards with artistic ornaments marked the places of each guest. Covers were laid for Senator-elect and Mrs. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isenberg, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis P. Hauke, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown, Mrs. Frances Reed, Judge and Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. James Cooke, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper and Governor Pinkham.

Mrs. George Freeman's Tea.
Mrs. George Freeman, the charming wife of Capt. George Freeman of the quartermaster corps, was hostess at a delightful tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Anapuni street. As the guests entered the reception room at the Freeman home they were greeted by the hostess. The room was artistically decorated with quantities of pale yellow chrysanthemums. In the dining-room pink and green were the prevailing colors. Dainty smilax was twined about the chandelier and in wee bits wound around pink tulle streamers which were draped to the four corners of the table. In a little alcove off the dining room filled with fragrant flowers, friends of the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. William R. Davis and Miss Barrie Gamble served punch and salad while Mrs. McKay Harrison presided over the coffee table. Some among those who called during the afternoon were Mrs. William H. Carter, Mrs. John D. Reardon, Mrs. L. L. Wilson, Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Mrs. Archibald Campbell, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Miss Lila McDonald, Mrs. E. K. Whelan, Mrs. F. E. In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Beckley, who left for a trip to the mainland this week Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Shilage entertained at an old-fashioned Hawaiian luau on Sunday at the Parker homestead at Pearl Harbor. About 50 Honoluluans motored from the city to take part in the festivities, and during the day cruised through the locks in the La Paloma. At luncheon time, the long tables on the lanai were laden with rare Hawaiian delicacies

Miss Charlotte Powers, talented reader, who is to give a recital next Friday evening.

February 19, the date set for Miss Charlotte Powers' recital, is approaching and many are looking forward to this event with anticipation, for it gives promise of being most enjoyable. If time permitted to give one evening to the so-called "group" of her careful consideration of the greatest plays, giving their absolute literary merit and their acting quality, each would appeal to the most discriminating. Those who have heard Miss Powers know the inextinguishable charm of her Irish and Scotch characters; the effect of atmosphere upon one from the intimate acquaintance of her Spanish subjects; also the superstitions of the Southern dandy and with what gaiety she tells her stories. No one with a love for poetry and a quick perception of what is genuine in literature is likely to deny the charm, the unfeeling freshness and variety with which she treats all of these subjects, the humor as well as the subtler kind and with what spirit she has entered her vocation. Following is one of many tributes to Miss Powers' work: "Dear Miss Powers: "I enjoyed your stories and readings very much, the dialect readings were excellent and your rendition of "The Wind and Moon" was the best and most novel reading I have ever heard. I am, yours respectfully, "JOHN B. RATTO." The tickets are on sale at the Young hotel and at Curry's. The sale will continue up to the time of the recital. A popular price of 50 cents has been decided upon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck Entertain.

One of the prettiest affairs of this week was the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck entertained at their home in Wilder avenue, Thursday evening. An artistic arrangement of pink roses and violets formed an attractive centerpiece for the table at which covers were laid for Col. and Mrs. Charles Brownwell, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milt, Mr. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. Newton Locke and Mr. and Mrs. L. Tenney Peck.

The Neighborhood Tennis Club.
The Neighborhood Tennis Club met at the club house on Tuesday afternoon for a business and social meeting. The club has rather a large membership, who during their residence lives have made good in the local tennis tournaments. Three of the best member, who during their residence in Honolulu proved themselves crack players, were Walter Marshall, Allen Marshall and George Marshall. There is no junior membership though there are a number of the younger boys in Honolulu who as members of the club play some splendid games. Among these are Gustave Ballentyne, Roy Graam, Blakely McStocker, Ashley Hatch, Franklin Richardson and Sanford Wood.

Robert Horner is president of the organization, Judge E. M. Watson, vice-president and Charles Littlejohn, secretary and treasurer.

Meeting of the Morning Music Club.
The meeting of the Morning Music Club held on Wednesday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Richards was unusually interesting. The program was especially arranged by the program committee and the selections assigned. Many of the pieces were ordered from the mainland for this particular meeting.

During the morning the members discussed the growth of music and the following article taken from a Pittsburg paper was of much interest to our readers: "Prediction is made that it will not be many years before every boy and girl hailing the public school courses of this city will be able to read music and sing by note. Professor C. L. Robertson of the University of Pittsburg drew no little applause at the meeting of about 500 Allegheny county school directors last week when he made this statement: 'Every boy and girl who can read music has a priceless heritage. There is nothing which you can put in your school that will bring greater comfort and joy to your pupils, and this joy will be one of the great blessings of their lives in the years to come.'

"Each year more attention is being paid to music in the public schools of the county which has a school population of more than 200,000. Already in many of the boroughs and township schools outside of the city music is a compulsory study and it is a part of the curriculum of the city schools." The following program was rendered at the club meeting: "Paper, 'Futurist Music'—Mrs. Waterhouse.

Florence Schmitt, "Un Soir," Sibelius, "Nocturne," Strawinsky, "Etude," Debussy, "En Bateau"—Miss Stevens. Debussy, "Romance"—Mrs. Reynolds. Debussy, "Dance"—Mrs. Whitney. Ravel, "Minuet," "Pavane pour une infante defunte"—Mrs. Peck. Cyril Scott, "Blackbird's Song," John Alden Carpenter, "When I Bring to You Colored Toys," "The Sleep That Flits on busy Eyes" (from Gitanjali, Tagore)—Mrs. Mackall. Korngold, "First Movement of Sonata in E Major"—Miss Gattfield. Puccini, "Duet of the Flowers" (from Madame Butterfly)—Mrs. Waterhouse and Mrs. Hall.

Dinner at the Pleasanton.
Col. R. G. Koert entertained at an enjoyable dinner at the Pleasanton hotel on Thursday evening for a number of the service folk. A pretty arrangement of red carnations formed an attractive centerpiece for the table. And red shaded candles cast a soft glow over the cover. Col. Ebert's guests were Major and Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. M. Bougardier, Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Trotter, Capt. and Mrs. Davis and Capt. and Mrs. Rosenbaum.

Mrs. Arthur Hodgins Entertains.
Mrs. Arthur Hodgins entertained at a delightful card party on Friday afternoon at the Oahu Country Club. The club was prettily decorated for the occasion with quantities of lavender asters. At the close of the afternoon attractive hand-embroidered sachet bags were given the guests who made the highest scores, the fortunate ones being Mrs. Z. K. Myers, Mrs. Frank Halstead, Mrs. Harry Gray, Mrs. A. Hocking, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Harold Hayselden and Mrs. Robinson. The guests included Mrs. W. C. Hobdy, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. Z. K. Myers, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. A. Hocking, Mrs. Lafollet, Mrs. E. M. Watson, Mrs. Ed Dekum, Mrs. Wall, Miss Danford, Mrs. Fray, Mrs. Bachelor, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Fred Damon, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. James D. Takes out of Pencil

FROM PEGGY TO POLLY.

Honolulu, February 11, 1915.
Dear Polly. It's simply shocking the way time flies here. It seems but a week ago since the New Year man, its bow and lo, this morning I awoke to the fact that in nine days we will be welcoming the Mid-Pacific Carnival of 1915. Already the merchant are decorating their windows and in another day or two the place will fairly blaze with yellow and gold wreaths and pennants; even the theaters are bedecked for the occasion.

The Carnival Peace Pageant is to be most interesting and many of the best-known society women are to take part in it. Mrs. Charles Livingston Baker of Schofield Barracks, wife of Lieut. Baker, is to take a prominent part in the pageant. Mrs. Baker is the grand-daughter of Lieut.-col. Armstrong, whose brave defense of Fort McHenry inspired the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Then, during the week of festivities, there are to be three balls at the National Guard armory—a ball for the military and the navy, a Mardi Gras, and the Director's ball for the commanding general and officers of the Hawaiian Department. I have been told that for these three occasions the armory is to be a scene of splendor. The chairman of the dance committees and the decorating committee have been working for weeks on plans for these decorations, but from what I have heard all this work will not be wasted, for an unusually artistic scheme for the arrangement of the colors has been developed.

Skating still holds sway during the closing days of the pre-Lenten season and I fancy that the sport has such a fascination for society folk that some of them will be tempted to skate during Lent. We have all been very much amused at the beginners who are taking up this pastime. One young lady has a dreadful time with the rollers, attached to her slippers and I was told the other day that when she and Bob McCortison start around the floor it is quite a case of the blind leading the blind. They take a good many tumbles, much to the amusement of their friends. Though there have been a few more or less serious accidents at the skating parties, the girls have escaped any of the bad falls. The other morning Peggy Center slipped rather hard and as a result says her visits to the rink hereafter will be as a spectator rather than a participant in the fun. Of the younger set the title of best skater has been given to Ruth McChesney, Ruth has always been known as a graceful dancer, but lately has proved that she is just as efficient in skating.

The majority of the devotees of skating are among the army folk. In fact it was through the leadership of Mrs. Charles Brydwell that the Roller Skating Club was organized. There are a few of the service ladies, however, who have not yet yielded to the temptation of skating. Among these is Mrs. Frederick P. Reynolds, one of the leaders in the army society. Mrs. Reynolds is a past mistress of the terpsichorean art and much prefers dancing to skating.

I received a most interesting letter from Marjorie Chapin the other day. She is studying at the Boston Conservatory of Music, and after four years of hard work will receive her diploma in June. Though Marjorie, of course, did not tell me herself, I have heard that some day she will be a great musician. She is an unusually talented pianist and has received unstinted praise at recitals she has taken part in. The only bit of bad news Marjorie's letter contained was an intimation that she may not return to Honolulu this summer. She may stay in the East and take up her profession there where she has studied.

Dorothy Becker, the little California swimmer, came to Honolulu yesterday, and when I saw her in the surf a few hours later I was surprised to see how well such a little girl can swim. She is unusually clever and her fancy swimming and diving received many an admiring glance. Miss Becker is going to give an exhibition of her diving during the Carnival swimming meet on the 20th, and I was told that she may give some exhibitions in her gymnasium work which, from stories from the mainland, is unusual. There are to be a number of parties for the fair visitor as soon as the swimming races are over, but everyone feels that during the week she is training for the big event she should not be tempted with frivolous social functions with their ice and cakes.

Isn't it funny the way a fad will grip the young folks? From the mainland has come word recently that the girls there are all interested in the "Sleep Mascot," for with the charm comes beauty. But the sad part of this new fad is that the little ornament cannot be bought, and is only obtainable when copied from one being long to a friend, or when attained as a gift. It is a wee little Hindu box carved from the purest of Oriental ivory, and in Oriental lettering is inscribed the single word "sleep."

The first Sleep Mascot known in America was given to a beautiful American girl by a prince of the Orient, who presented it to his fiancee at the time of her departure from his country. Each hour that she possessed it she became more beautiful, and when, many years after, she gave it to a friend the charm carried with it its gift of beauty, which it has bestowed on a number of girls. One of these little boxes has appeared in San Francisco recently and Dame Rumor has said that a Honolulu girl has had it copied and will bring it back to the islands when she returns.

The news of the engagement of Francis Brown and Miss Anne Buckland of Holyoke came as quite a surprise to the members of the younger set, for when Francis visited his home two summers ago he did not intimate at all that he had left his heart in the East. Francis is the fourth Honolulu boy who has recently announced that he will bring a bride to Hawaii from the mainland.

My writing time is almost up, dear Polly, so I must close this letter with quantities of love. PEGGY.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes Entertain.

One of the prettiest of the smaller functions given in honor of Senator-elect and Mrs. Warren G. Harding and Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer was a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes entertained at their home at Kaimuki on Thursday evening. The table was attractively decorated in shades of pink flowers combined with maidenhair fern. Covers were placed for Senator-elect and Mrs. Warren G. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Sawyer, Dr. and Mrs. Aetchum, Miss Johnston, Mrs. Harmon D. Spielman, Mr. W. C. Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes.

Following the dinner the senatorial party were guests at a meeting of the Buckeye Society.

A Birthday Party.

Celebrating his fifth birthday, Howard, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph G. Moore, entertained about 30 of his little friends at a Valentine party on Saturday afternoon. Quantities of pretty red hearts and flowers decorated the Moore home on Kinohao street, and the favors at the table where refreshments were served was decorated with red flowers and bonbons. Master Howard's guests included Florence and Elizabeth Horner, Betty and Grace De Freest, Virginia and Warren David, Margaret and Junior Gere, Donald and Gordon Young, Robert and Donald Super, Laura and Richard Carter, James and Dorset Brewster, Howard Banner, Grant Morse, Dorcas Bicknell, Alice Lyser, Robert Farmer, Alvin Haley, Bernice Beiser, Ruth Curry, Barbara Heiser, Frances Forbes, Katherine Warren, Philip Lindeman, Allen Moore.

Mr. Ralph Johnstone Entertains.

A very delightful affair of this week was the tea at which Mrs. Ralph Johnstone entertained on Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Dorothy Hurd and Miss Louise McNamara, who are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Irving J. Hurd of Manoa Valley. Miss Hurd spent some time in Honolulu two years ago and made a host of friends here who are planning entertainments for her. Miss McNamara is equally charming and during the few weeks she has been in the islands has won a host of admirers.

Mrs. Johnstone chose for her decorations hibiscus and dainty pink blossoms were arranged throughout the house. During the afternoon some of the guests played bridge while others devoted their time to sewing. At the close of the card game Mrs. Sam Peck, who made the highest score, was awarded a dainty prize, and Miss McNamara and Miss Hurd were given delicately shaded satin hibiscus made by Miss Winterstine, as guest prizes. Mrs. Johnstone's guests included Miss Dorothy Hurd, Miss Louise McNamara, Miss Vera Damon, Miss Margaret Waterhouse, Mrs. George Isenberg, Mrs. Lewis Underwood, Mrs. S. S. Peck, Mrs. Emil Bernat, Mrs. Jack Young, Miss Fanny Hoogs, Mrs. Jack Guard, Miss Violet Atherton, Mrs. Edward B. Loomis, Mrs. Frank Hoogs, Mrs. Harvey Bowman, Mrs. Harry Shaw, Mrs. John Ashley, Miss Alice Hopper, Miss Dorothy Rodgers, Mrs. Chester Livingston, Miss Edith Livingston, Mrs. Royal D. Mead, Mrs. Edmund Meianphy, Mrs. Sam Baldwin, Mrs. Sherwood Lowrey, Mrs. George Renton, Mrs. Lorrin K. Smith, Miss Nora Sturgeon, Mrs. J. W. Pratt and Mrs. Richard Cooke.

SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 11.—On Saturday afternoon last at the 25th Infantry club, a delightful bridge-tea was given in honor of Mrs. John P. Wisser by Mrs. Ernest Gose and Mrs. Edmund Butts. Eleven tables of auction from which the players progressed, keeping the score in a new and interesting method, filled the reading room of the club. After the five progressions were completed the guests were invited to adjourn to the Gose quarters for tea, during which time the prizes were presented to the lucky winners of the afternoon. Mrs. William Ganoce held highest score and to her went a wicker lamp holder of graceful design; Mrs. Charles Everett won second prize, a flower basket of wicker, and Mrs. Percy Deshon was given consolation, a small fern dish of wicker. Mrs. Wisser was presented with the guest-of-honor prize, a charming basket filled with chrysanthemums. The guests were Mesdames John Wisser, Michael Lenihan, Robert McDonald, Walter Short, Chalmers Hall, Charles Everett, Edward Carey, Jesse Ladd, John Hunt, Robert Harbold, Clyde Crusan, Henry Wygant, William Mases, Henry McCleave, Louis McKinlay, William Chitty, George Bailey, Harry Wells, Albert White, Richard Taylor, George Livingston Baker, Larry McAfee, William Dodds, John O'Shea, Sue Holcomb, William Ganoce, Americus Mitchell, Charles Rich, Roger Mason, Percy Deshon, Pelham Glassford, James Higgins, Charles Neals, Robert Sears, Clarence Tinker, George Apple, George Whitsett, Donald Hay, Robert Donaldson, Lester Willyoung, Alexander Milton, Eley Denson and H. F. Nicholls.

Mrs. Charles Willard and Mrs. William Ganoce were joint hostesses on Thursday afternoon at an enjoyable bridge-tea. Thirteen tables were placed in the reading room of the 25th Infantry club and the pivoting game played. The guests, after the close of the games, were served with a delicious salad course and coffee by Mrs. Reichman and Mrs. David Stone, who were seated at a most inviting "tea table" decorated with golden cornucopis and Shasta daisies. Miss Anne Reichman assisted in serving the guests. The first prize was a dainty bridge tea set of embroidered cloth and four napkins to match, which was won by Mrs. George Apple; the second was a trypich, won by Mrs. Richard Taylor; the third was a very attractive little painting won by Mrs. Phillipson and the consolation, a dainty needle case, given to Miss Short. The guests were Mesdames John Wisser, Henry Fales, William Forsyth, George Bailey, Harry Wells, Irving Phillipson, Seth Cook, Campbell King, Chalmers Hall, Henry Lantry, Frank Hopkins, Robert Harbold, Pelham Glassford, Clyde Crusan, Jas. Higgins, James Parker, Charles Everett, William Dodds, Roland Gaugler, Eley Denson, George Apple, George Whitsett, William Mases, Louis McKinlay, Roger Mason, Robert Sears, Sue Holcomb, John O'Shea, John Fair, Larry McAfee, Ernest Gose, Edward Carey, Donald Hay, John Hunt, Alexander Milton, Percy Deshon, Charles Neals, Robert Donaldson, Richard Taylor, William Cruikshank, Ralph Harrison, Americus Mitchell, Carl Reichman, Walter Short, Henry McCleave, William Nalle, Livingston Watrous, William Gardenhire, George Nye, Ivens Jones, Waldo Potter, George Harrison and Wood; Misses Hopkins and Short.

Mrs. Albert White gave an enjoyable bridge afternoon for 40 ladies of the five cantonments on Wednesday. The rooms were daintily decorated with baskets of white Shasta daisies, pink carnations and maidenhair ferns, while in the tints of the candles and cupid tally cards a hint of St. Valentine was evident. After the playing was finished ices and coffee were served with Mrs. D. L. Howell presiding at the coffee service and the Misses Carpenter and Ayer assisting. The winning ladies for the afternoon were Mesdames Deshon, whose prize was the daintiest of pink silk petticoats; Mrs. Sears, who won second, a silver picture frame, and Mrs. Hall, who was given third, an embroidered guest towel. Present were Mesdames Campbell King, John Fair, Edward Carey, George Bailey, George Apple, William Chitty, Roger Mason, Percy Deshon, George Harris, Clyde Crusan, Irving Phillipson, Charles Everett, William Dodds, Pelham Glassford, Harry Wells, Henry Lantry, George Whitsett, Louis McKinlay, Jesse Ladd, Alexander Milton, Robert Sears, Chalmers Hall, William Nalle, Ralph Harrison, William Forsyth, Walter Short, Americus Mitchell, John Hunt, Donald Hay, Robert Harbold, Clarence Tinker, Richard Taylor, William Mases, Lester Willyoung, Elmer Rice, Gideon Van Poole, L. M. Wagner and M. L. Bird, Roland Gaugler and Miller.

Mrs. James Higgins gave a bridge luncheon on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. John Wisser. The guests were invited for 1 o'clock and the luncheon daintily served at the small tables where later the pivoting game of auction was enjoyed. The winners of the high scores at the several tables were Mesdames Pillow, Gose, Watrous, Dodds, Simpson, Forsyth and McCleave, and the prizes were pairs of crystal candlesticks. Mrs. Wisser was given an embroidered handkerchief as souvenir. The guests were Mesdames John Wisser, Ralph Harrison, Frank Simpson, Stephen Velle, Edmund Butts, D. L. Howell, Douglas McCaskey, Ernest Gose, Livingston Watrous, Charles Willard, William Ganoce, Harold Naylor, Americus Mitchell, Jerome Pillow, Carl Reichman, George Whitsett, Arthur Cassels, William Forsyth, William Cruikshank, Campbell King, William Dodds, James Parker, Henry McCleave, P. D. Glassford.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight entertained before the hop at Center on Tuesday, giving a buffet supper in honor of Mrs. Frank Simpson and Mrs. Stephen Velle. The guests were seated at small tables attractively decorated with pale pink carnations and ferns, their pink and green being reflected in the other appointments. The guests were Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Velle, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Tayman, Chaplain and Mrs. William Aiken, Capt. and Mrs. Edward Carey, Lieut. and Mrs. Walter Piddgen, Capt. and Mrs. Frank Burnett, Miss Welcome Ayer, Miss Hortense Short, Capt. Harry Williams, Captain Grosvenor Townsend, Lieut. James Uilo, Virgil Enyart, Charles Little, Franklin Whitley and William McCulloch.

On the same afternoon Mrs. William Cruikshank gave an auction party of five tables. The pivoting game was played with Mesdames Hopkins, Simpson, Parker, Warren and Willard the winners of their several games. The prizes were dainty baskets of fragrant sweet peas. After the auction a refreshing "tea" was served. Present were Mesdames Carl Reichman, Ralph Harrison, Frank Burnett, Frank Simpson, Stephen Velle, Frank Hopkins, Henry Fales, Henry Lantry, Charles Willard, Douglas McCaskey, Livingston Watrous, Irving Phillipson, Arthur Cassels, Gideon Van Poole, Rawson Warren, James Parker and Campbell King.

A very attractive luncheon took place on Thursday with Mrs. Douglas McCaskey hostess. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Velle, the popular house-guests of Mrs. Frank Burnett. Red snappers formed the predominating feature of a daintily appointed table. Covers were placed for Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Velle, Mrs. James Parker, Mrs. William Chitty, Mrs. Rawson Warren, Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Mrs. Waldo Ayer, Mrs. Ayer of Honolulu and the hostess.

Gen. and Mrs. Wisser were the guests of honor on Tuesday evening at a beautiful dinner given by Capt. and Mrs. John Thomas. The table decorations were in pink of the shades of the Killarney roses of the centerpiece. Present were Gen. and Mrs. John Wisser, Col. and Mrs. D. L. Howell, Col. and Mrs. E. W. Atkinson from Fort Shafter, Miss Helen Alexander, Capt. Marshall Childs and Mr. Vouvan.

Lieut. and Mrs. Irving Phillipson were hosts at a pretty dinner on Saturday, entertaining for Capt. and Mrs. Henry Fales, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Knight, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles Neals and Lieut. and Mrs. Carroll Neal. Shasta daisies in an effective mass formed the centerpiece of the perfectly appointed table.

On Tuesday Mrs. L. M. Wagner of Philadelphia and Mrs. M. L. Bird of Boston arrived by the Sierra and are the house-guests of Mrs. Elmer Rice of the 1st Infantry. Mrs. Rice has sent out cards to a number of the garrison ladies for a bridge-tea, given in honor of her guests, which takes place on Friday.

Mrs. Frank Hopkins entertained informally at a chafing dish supper after the hop on Monday night in the Mounted Service club. The guests were Capt. and Mrs. William Chitty, Maj. and Mrs. Gideon Van Poole, Col. John MacMahon, Capt. Ferris, Capt. Scaufie and Dr. Creighton.

Mrs. William Nalle gave a buffet supper on Thursday with bridge afterward for Maj. and Mrs. William Cruikshank, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Naylor, Lieut. Charles Naylor, Capt. and Mrs. William Chitty, Maj. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison and Col. and Mrs. William Forsyth.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Clark entertained at dinner on Tuesday for Col. and Mrs. William Forsyth, Capt. and Mrs. Campbell King, Capt. George de Grasse Catlin and Lieut. John Hineman, Jr. Yellow chrysanthemums formed an effective decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hopkins will leave February 6, for Honolulu, where they will be for about six weeks. They will be accompanied on the trip by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henry. —San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. Fritz Henshaw, who came to Honolulu as a bride two years ago, and who has recently gone to the mainland to live, is being entertained extensively by society folk in Honolulu. Miss Marie Tyson, a sister-in-law of Mrs. Henshaw, has been hostess at a number of delightful luncheons and teas for the young matron.

WILD WEST SHOW WILL BE REAL SPECTACULAR FEATURE AND DASHING COWBOYS, INDIANS AND SOLDIERS WILL TAKE PART IN MAMMOTH CAST

Some of the A Troop athletes who will be seen in a real wild west show at Kapiolani Park. Standing (left to right)—Axelson, Corlies, Floyd. Seated—Ashley, Kahmann, Baer, Glass, McPherson, Syng, Roby, Stanley, Schieke and Stone. On ground—Bennethum and Saling.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Feb. 13.—The soldiers at Schofield are working hard preparing for the part they are to play at the Carnival. Mornings and afternoons squads from the different regiments are out on the parade ground training for the tag of war, the flag relay race and the many other events of the military athletic tournament. The 1st Field Artillery held a regimental field day on Friday with the six batteries competing in the same athletic events as will be on the Carnival program. All the regiments are devoting much time and energy to the selection and training of track teams.

their daily practices always draw a good-sized audience. The wildest outlaw bronco at Schofield Barracks has been selected for the first part of the exhibition. While he is being saddled in front of the grandstand, which will probably take some minutes, the expert shots of the troop will show their skill in shooting clay pigeons. Then, in the words of Capt. Boniface, "Bronco Bob, world's renowned rough rider, will mount and ride with perfect ease a wild horse from the plains of Death valley."

Part II of the program will show the pony express of the old frontier days of the west. "Wild Bill" and "Rattlesnake Joe" will give an exhibition of how they carried United States mail from one frontier point to another in the days of long ago, actually delivering a message in record time to the commanding general, Hawaiian department. Part II is an Indian attack on a stage coach, the synopsis of which is as follows: Red Cloud, chief of the Sioux, with his band of gallant braves, waylays the overland stage which is driven by the celebrated stage coacher Holbrook. Bonni-face with his cowboy hand attempts the relief of the stage coach but is driven from the field. As may be imagined the occupants of the stage coach will play an important part in the comedy and will include a beautiful maiden, who for beauty of person and apparel will be found to be unsurpassed on the island of Oahu. The Indians after disposing of the other occupants of the coach proceed to dance the death dance around the beautiful maiden. The cowboys under Bonni-face, reinforced by a troop of United States cavalry, dash to the rescue, drive off the Indians and rescue the maiden. The show will end with a grand charge by cavalrymen, Indians and cowboys across the field with a sudden halt in front of the grandstand, then a dashing gallop out of the arena. The show will be intensely amusing and will exhibit some clever horsemanship and daring riding. Since the rehearsals commenced there have been several applications by former cowboys and bronco busters of other or-

Benefits of National Guard to Community and the Individual

The following address on the benefits of the National Guard was made by George W. Smith at the National Guard luncheon of the Honolulu Ad club last Wednesday:

"I have been asked to speak from a layman's standpoint on the benefits of a National Guard. The benefits can be summed up as those to the individual and those to the community or state. As a former member, a private in the ranks of the National Guard of Hawaii in the days of our trouble in old Company D, when Chas. T. Wilder was our captain and Col. Jones our second lieutenant, I can fully appreciate the benefits of the training then received.

For the individual, membership in the guard benefits the young citizen by instilling the idea of discipline, obedience to orders, by the example of neatness, cleanliness and order, by teaching him a correct upright carriage and by furnishing him a comradeship that often lasts through life. Duty to the Flag.

"It teaches him his duty to the state and nation that protects, educates, cares for and sustains him, it teaches him to honor those in command and to respect that supreme authority of the nation of which that flag is the symbol.

"He learns the use and care of arms and equipment, a necessary knowledge even in times of peace.

"The great thing about the national guard is that it is not compulsory. It is solicited in that it appeals to the young man not only for his own welfare but also for the welfare of the state of which he is a member and to which he owes reciprocal duties for benefits assured.

"The benefit to the community or state is that it furnishes a trained body of men, ready, under orders, to cooperate with the police power to suppress disorder when necessary.

"The National Guard is a body of men to which the citizen looks with confidence for protection to life and property and to maintain the dignity and jurisdiction of the state. The state gains in a better citizenship for every man that has served in the guard.

cooperate with the regular army in maintaining the life of the nation. "Since mankind has filled a place in history wars have been, are now and will be in times to come.

"The nation that is prepared, not for offense but for defense, is the one that is most likely to survive. In that hour of peril and trial, when war comes, the young man who has had the training that life in the guard gives him stands ready to defend his country, those nearest to him, the government he loves and to band down to those who come after the institutions he has sworn to protect."

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time. After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cream." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and lustre.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knoviton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it—advertisement.

Would Good St. Valentine Have Liked These Hats?

THE good old saint had a prettier taste in hearts than in hats, methinks, though the smiling faces under the hats illustrated might have appealed to his saintly heart.

Who was St. Valentine, and what did he do to so impress himself upon the hearts of lovers for all time? Valentine was a priest, and he lived in Rome during the reign of the Emperor Claudius. He officiated in the temple and had a great following. His purity of life, his wonderful unselfishness, was in marked contrast to the unwholesome life of the Emperor Claudius and of his entire court. How he became the patron saint of love is a very pretty tale and runs something like this:

One day the Emperor Claudius in a fit of jealous passion because his favorite lady had fled from him issued a royal decree that for one whole year there should be no marriages in Rome. The people were very indignant, but they could do nothing, as the emperor's decree was law.

The priest Valentine heard the decree and grieved with the people. He knew many worthy drawers of water, many excellent young bachelors of stone, many ambitious stucco makers and smart young mixers of pigments, all of whom were looking forward to early marriages. Valentine courageously remonstrated with the wicked emperor, but without avail. Then the good priest disobeyed the emperor's commands and secretly performed the ceremony for all those who had planned marriage.

When the emperor learned of this he caused Valentine to be thrown into prison, where he mysteriously disappeared.

Of course the poor people whom he had always befriended grieved greatly, and upon the anniversary of his death it became the custom to gather quietly together and exchange little tokens of regard. This is the legend. History says that in the remote past our Aryan and Semitic forefathers had a holiday which they celebrated about the middle of February. During this holiday the wildest orgies and excesses were indulged in. It was a sort of greeting to the returning sun and the springtime and as such is still crudely celebrated by savage tribes in remote corners of Africa, Asia and the south sea islands.

Gradually as man progressed in mind this holiday became less barbarous, and about 300 B. C. the Chaldeans and Babylonians celebrated it in a much less reprehensible manner. The Greeks further refined it, and finally among the Romans it became a fairly decent holiday.

At the Roman feast of Lupercalia in honor of Pan (Nature) and Juno (Mother Earth) it was the custom to place the names of young girls in a box, and the young man who drew a young girl's name from the box considered her "his valentine."

The Christian religion failed to shelve this pagan holiday, and the old heathen celebrations were practiced in France during the middle ages. The old Norman French name for beau wa-

FANNIE HURST, FAMOUS AUTHORESS, DECLARES WOMEN NEED AWAKENING

Feminism and Socialism are Sweeping Working Classes to Emancipation

"Feminism and Socialism are the two great waves sweeping the American laboring classes toward emancipation," was the assertion of Miss Fannie Hurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurst of 6641 Cates avenue, New York, one of the youngest successful writers of today. Miss Hurst, who is prominent in literary and social circles of New York, has just declined a $20,000-a-year contract because it confined, to one periodical, her output for the next three years. Miss Hurst is the guest of her parents. She will remain in the city two weeks, being compelled to be in New York January 15 to begin work under contracts she signed just before coming to St. Louis, which call for six stories a year at $10,000 for the six. A telegram received by Miss Hurst Thursday calls her to Philadelphia, later in the month, at the request of Saturday Evening Post publishers, who are eager to control a generous share of her work.

Reluctantly and modestly, with the diffidence of a child and a sincerity not to be questioned, Miss Hurst spoke of her earnest desire to understand the people—the "just plain working people" and understanding, to help them. Firmly she declined to take undue credit for the tremendous success which she has achieved, saying it is "only another case of grind" and turned the conversation in the impersonal channels toward the movements with which her name is becoming prominently identified in the East.

"I should think that everyone would realize that feminism has arrived," said Miss Hurst. "That it only awaits the enthusiasm, vitality and brains of the American woman, of every walk of life, to give it that impetus which would make it one of the most vital movements for good the country has known. To feminism we might add socialism and suffrage."

"If the silk and satin class of American women would only awake from their lethargy—would only use their magnificent supply of brains and energy and enthusiasm toward the realization of these movements, many of our so-called problems of today would be no more. There can be no immediate solutions for some of our problems until American women awake to the fact that suffrage touches one and all—that it is not a political movement, but a movement whose strength can only be perfected when it hits home to each woman as an individual, and when feminism or suffrage does not merely signify to her the tattered standard, 'votes for women,' but a tremendous emancipation of mind, body and soul."

"Take, for instance, the Englishwoman," continued Miss Hurst, pushing back the sleeves of a "morning" gown of palest blue taffeta. "To be sure, none of us want the militant—far from it. Yet the merest slip of an English lass knows that about which our lay woman, who hasn't a pulse on things feminism, knows nothing at all. American Women Lethargic.

"We cannot deny that recent election results showed an appalling lethargy on the part of certain American women to further the cause of suffrage."

"It is the wage-earning women of America who ultimately will beget suffrage. The shirt-waist maker whose chest is too narrow and whose blood pressure is too high, will proclaim suffrage from a soap box and it is because her blood is crying. Comparatively few of our more fortunate sisters will proclaim from the front seats of their limousines. It is because, to them, the minimum wage is little more than an expression as vague as single tax or referendum, or because their Ison club and the Busy Bee society take two afternoons each week and mother is the last to rally to the cause of suffrage. Why, the original suffragette cartoon was the drawing of a splinter," she laughed.

"Suffrage, to the English slaver and the duchess alike, is a vital, throbbing issue—the vote a morning star which precedes the new day. Until the American wives and mothers put their soft shoulders to the wheel and shove along with their sore shouldered sisters, the chariot of victory will con-

She was graduated in 1909 from Washington University. In 1914 she finds herself one of the three highest paid magazine contributors in America. "Just a matter of grind," she insists, and again she deftly steers the subject to the newest dances and frocks. Miss Hurst makes no secret of her admiration of "dandy dancing" and she enjoys the reputation of being one of the smartest dressers in New York.

A New York paper, profusely illustrated, recently declared the young author to be "one of the handsomest and most correctly gowned women of New York."

From all of which it would seem that the St. Louis girl, despite her modesty, certainly has "arrived."

WASHINGTON TO HAVE GAY TIME DESPITE WARS

[By Latest Mail]
WASHINGTON—What will be the motif of the social symphony in Washington this season?

This is the question which is agitating all circles these days, for in spite of mourning in the White House, in spite of war and war's alarms, the social season has opened with a flourish, and dates are being selected for festivities that will rival in number and charm, if not in size and brilliancy, the entertainment of other years. Benefits for the sufferers abroad are many and varied; knitting fingers are flying, busy with mufflers and socks for the soldier laddies; but young blood is young blood, and as long as battle songs are chosen with the swing of "Tipperary" the world will dance as well as die to its strains.

The formal announcement from the White House that there will be no state functions this season and that the President will take no part in any occasions of even a semi-social character merely verified the already prevalent idea of the course the chief executive would take. It means, however, the removal from the social calendar of the three state dinners and receptions to the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, the members of Congress and the officers of the army and navy, not to mention the New Year's reception, of many years' standing, but which the President omitted last season.

Diplomatic Corps Negligible.
With relations so strained in the diplomatic corps, perhaps no considerable embarrassment may be saved by the President's decision, for the diplomat has always loomed large in all White House functions. The representatives of the nations at war are to all practical purposes in mourning; they are the guests of the nation, and festivities for visitors in mourning are in bad taste, so perhaps it is just as well that official entertaining should be curtailed this season. Moreover, all are united in willingness to pay this tribute to the President's late wife. Accordingly the diplomatic corps bids fair to be a quite negligible factor in the social world this season.

The British ambassador and Lady Spring-Rice have no social plans and are accepting no invitations. Lady Spring-Rice will not even observe her days at home, and the members of the embassy staff are refusing all invitations save for dinners of six or eight.

The Russian ambassador and Mme. Bakmeteff are pursuing a like course, and the splendid new ballroom just added to the embassy will not be christened this season.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand are working industriously for the Red Cross and the sundry relief funds which have been started, and are confining their social engagements to the smallest and most informal events, sending out no invitations at all for the season. The same may be said of the Belgian minister and Mme. Havenith.

Count von Bernstorff, the German envoy, who is a great lover of music, is a boxholder for the concerts of the season and occasionally has guests with him, but beyond that and an informal dinner with friends he takes no part in the social season.

Mme. Dumba has but recently returned from Austria to join the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, and they too are refraining from taking any part in the social life of the capital, as also are the Japanese ambassador and Viscountess Chikida.

MISSION WORK IS CARRIED ON DESPITE WAR

Philip Delaporte, Writing From Nauru, Tells of Capture of Island By the British

The following interesting letter has been received by Dr. Doremus Scudder from Philip A. Delaporte, Central Union's missionary at Nauru:

"I will now give you a bit of Nauru news since I wrote last. All letters are censored and one must be very careful in writing or else the letters will never reach their destination. As it is we have not received an American or European letter since this unfortunate war broke out. We are very anxious to hear from you and our dear children. I wrote to you September 21 that the Australian cruiser, Melbourne arrived here September 2 and destroyed the wireless station.

"With the exception of minor disturbances nothing happened here until November 6 when a British steamer arrived bringing a military force which has occupied the island ever since. We now have military rule on Nauru. The island is in charge of Capt. Norris, who acts as administrator. On November 5 all male Germans had to leave Nauru, among them was also our good friend Dr. Muller. They were taken as prisoners of war from here to Rabaul, New Guinea, and from thence to Sydney. We have not heard yet of their safe arrival there. As the ship had no accommodation for women it was ordered that the married men leave their wives here until a chance offers itself to send them on too.

"This is a bit hard on the women, but as the British government looks after them they suffer no real hardship except the inconvenience of an enforced separation. We took Mrs. Haeferke, the wife of the former manager of the Pacific Phosphate Company, Ltd., and her three children in our home. We felt that we, as missionaries, should do this. She gets her ration from the company's mess-room. The British flag was hoisted over our island just on the fifteenth anniversary of the Nauru mission. In my various letters of September 1 I mentioned the fact that the British authorities at Ocean Island had confiscated our private and mission supplies which arrived there on the steamer Wontanania from Sydney early in August. I wrote to the resident commissioner at Ocean Island about it and received a reply to the effect that he had neither received nor given instruction concerning our provisions. Thus you will note that not the government but the manager of the Pacific Phosphate company at Ocean Island is holding our goods.

"Much inconvenience has been entailed on our family through this arbitrary act. Even if he did not want to send a British vessel to this port he had at least three opportunities to ship goods on Norwegian steamers. These supplies are still at Ocean Island and we were thus compelled to buy at greatly advanced rates at the store here. Even this source of obtaining supplies is now closed as the store has for weeks past no more provisions in stock. We now hear that the present situation is to be relieved next week, when our long-delayed foodstuffs are expected to arrive. Of course much of it will be ruined if they do come.

"We heard that the Japanese have taken the Marshall Islands and at Jertul now. We have had no word from our fellow missionaries who are stationed there. It is further reported that Japanese warships have been to Ponape and Yap. No resistance was offered here to the landing of English troops. At Rabaul, German New Guinea, however, a skirmish took place near the wireless station. Several whites and some natives were killed on both sides. I do not know, however, how many. There are now about 50 soldiers and several officers stationed at Nauru.

"Of the war in Europe we know nothing, as we get no newspapers. We have only one desire and that is that this unfortunate war will soon come to a close.

"Thus you see that we get right here on Nauru a mild taste of this war, too. Since June we have had no potatoes or any other vegetables. But we do not mind these trifles when we remember the awful suffering which this war causes in Europe. Our sympathies are with the poor widows and orphans whose sufferings must be terrible, especially during the cold season."

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, missionaries of the Christian church at Sada, Japan, are spending a week among the pleasures of Hawaii before they proceed to the states, where they go for Mr. Robinson's health.

The Bible school council of the church met last week and laid plans preparatory to the reorganization of the school at the time of entering the new building. Several new features of work are planned which have been impossible before owing to the lack of room. That difficulty, however, will be removed with the opening of the new church building, which is supplied with many unique features.

Mr. W. E. Crabtree, many years minister of the Christian church at San Diego, and Mr. F. M. Dewling of Fullerton, California, both of whom have many friends among the church people of Honolulu, have accepted the invitation of the church to attend the dedicatory services at the opening of the new building.

The new church home is rapidly nearing completion and the interest of the members of the church is consequently growing proportionately with the prospects of occupying it in the not distant future.

For the time being all the meetings of the church and the minister's office will remain in the old Y. M. C. A. building on the corner of Hotel and Alakea streets.

CENTRAL UNION NEEDS $18,000 FOR THIS YEAR

Much Business Is Done at Adjourning Session of Annual Meeting of Church

An interesting adjourned session of the annual business meeting of Central Union church and congregation was held Wednesday night in the parish house. Reports were made in detail upon the church elections. The budget as recommended by the trustees was presented and a letter in regard to the work of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Price of China was read.

Although about 100 regular contributors have not yet reported their pledges for the year the board of trustees felt it safe to recommend a budget of $18,000 for the year. This will mean that the canvass which was recently undertaken by the men of the church will have to be continued a little while longer to make up the balance. A new item on the budget was the special appropriation set aside this year for the new committee on religious education, giving it a recognized place among the other organizations of the church.

After hearing very interesting letters from Rev. Philip A. Delaporte of the Nauru mission the church unanimously voted to send a cablegram at once to Sidney approving of their coming to Honolulu on the earliest steamer. The health of Mrs. Delaporte and Miss Meltzer makes it necessary for the family to come at once. During his year's leave of absence from the island Mr. Delaporte is to undertake the revision of his translation of the Bible into the Nauru dialect, and for this purpose is bringing his native interpreter with him. There is no other man living who could do this work, since no other white man comprehends the language sufficiently. On taking up work on the island of Nauru Mr. Delaporte was confronted with the task of reducing the native tongue to a written basis. At the end of the year, if Mrs. Delaporte's health is not sufficiently restored to permit of her return, he will return to the field alone.

and a welcome will be extended to those who come.

WOMEN'S CLUB OF CENTRAL UNION ISSUES FOLDER

The Women's society of Central Union church has just issued its folder for the year containing lists of officers, committee women and the like. "Cooperation" is the watchword for 1915.

The officers are: Mrs. A. L. Andrews, president; Mrs. J. F. Warren, vice-president; Mrs. E. C. Webster, secretary; Mrs. W. J. Forbes, treasurer; Mrs. A. Lewis, Jr., treasurer Chas. R. Bishop fund; Mrs. H. H. Williams, delegate to Associated Charities; Mrs. W. H. Babbitt, Mrs. J. P. Erdman, Mrs. A. F. Judd, counselors.

Following are the chairmen of committees:

Finance, Mrs. W. J. Forbes; religious work, Mrs. Edgar Wood; membership, Mrs. Paul Super; house, Mrs. C. H. Tracy; educational, Mrs. R. G. Moore; infants' outfit, Miss Martha Hitchcock; calling, Mrs. A. A. Ebersole; church decoration, Miss Charlotte Hall; social, Mrs. Edwin Benner.

INTEREST IS KEEN IN NEW BIBLE CLASS

Last Sunday a number of new faces appeared at the Sunday morning class, which Rev. A. A. Ebersole is conducting in the Kilohana building. The attendance has been increasing Sunday by Sunday and the interest in the series of studies which are being taken up seems to be deepening.

The feature of the work of the class which is attracting the young men and young women of the city is that every one of the lessons takes up some vital problem of present-day life and discusses it in the light of the teachings of Jesus. In these days when men's minds are confused as to what is the true basis for building up a permanent social order, thinking men and women are turning with new eagerness to the teachings of the Man of Galilee and are finding out anew that here is the final criterion for social as well as individual reformation.

The lecture room in the Kilohana building has been renovated and redecorated. The hour, 10 o'clock on Sunday morning, is perhaps the best time of the week, as a great many of the class go directly from the session to the service at one of the churches. Attendance is not limited to any church, but all young men and young women, and young married people as well, of whatever faith, are invited to attend.

Local Breivities of Religious Interest

The business men's Bible class which meets at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evenings has enrolled more than 50 of the younger business men of the city.

Rev. A. A. Ebersole has rented his home on Armstrong street and with his family has moved down to one of the cottages of the MacDonald on Punahou street.

Secretary Choi of the Korean Y. M. C. A. has organized a Bible class for the students who have recently come from Korea. There are 14 young men enrolled in the class.

A special meeting of the religious education committee of Central Union church is called for Tuesday, February 16, at 7:30 in the parish house to discuss matters of importance.

"The Superlative Way," twenty-first in the series, "The Gibraltar of the New Testament," is the title of Dr. Doremus Scudder's morning address Sunday. In the evening he will speak on "Your Lack."

The student assembly of the Y. M. C. A. night school is held each Thursday at 7:15 o'clock. The speakers during the past month have been Dr. W. C. Hobdy, Prof. A. L. Andrews, E. A. Berndt and Judge W. L. Whitney.

The recently elected officers of the ministers' class at Central Union are: President, J. Leighton Dyer; vice-president, Douglas Alexander Cooke; secretary, Charlotte Marita Ballou, and treasurer, Charles Emmis Cassidy.

"The Bible and the Spade" is the striking topic upon which Paul Super, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will address the Christian Endeavor Society of Central Union church tomorrow night at 6:30 in the parish house.

The Bible class at the central fire station is being led this year by Rev. Frank Scudder. C. R. Coe is leading the class at Palama, which until recently was under the leadership of C. M. Nelson. The class at central station meets Thursday night and the one at Palama Monday night.

The five Bible classes at the Japanese Y. M. C. A. continue to grow in numbers and influence. They are led by E. T. Chase, W. H. Dreier and Lloyd R. Killam. All of the teaching is done in English though in some of the classes it is necessary to have an interpreter bring out the important points.

STOCK MARKET THIS WEEK HAS BEEN AS A PENDULUM

Rise and Fall of Sugar Price Has Caused Big Rises and Bad Drops on 'Change

The stock market this week has been as the tides, with the price of sugar as the moon. High tide was Tuesday and Wednesday. This morning it is approaching ebb. Some good profits have been made and some good losses are in sight. Those who have guessed wrong have a good bill to foot up—and it has not been an easy market to guess.

The first few days there was a slight reaction from the steady climb of last week. The price of sugar seemed to come to a standstill and so did stocks. In fact, some holdings dropped off slightly. This held good Monday and Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon there was a leap to 5.02 and stocks went with it. Several thousand shares were sold in a day. In the case of some securities, like Olan and McBryde, the transactions totaled more than a thousand in a single day.

Thursday the reverse happened. Sugar tumbled—this time to 4.7. Stocks did not immediately respond, however. There was a slight weakening but in a majority of cases they held their ground. One of those that suffered was Olan. Wednesday afternoon it was selling freely at 6%. Thursday morning it dropped on the

A FLEET OF OIL TANKERS?

Can you imagine 60 large oil tank steamers coming into Honolulu harbor, each tanker loaded with 40,000 barrels of oil? This amount represents the yearly contract just closed with the Associated and Standard Oil Companies of California—two and one-half million barrels.

Four years ago, after making a careful and exhaustive investigation of the Lakeview No. 2 Oil Company's prospects to deliver the goods, I decided to sell their stock in Hawaii. It was at that time simply a hole in the ground, but with every prospect of success. My friends and others bought stock in the company solely through confidence in my statement. The company, later on, brought in the largest oil well ever discovered in the United States. They have on hand over 3,000,000 barrels of oil in surface reservoirs and an unlimited supply under ground.

My satisfaction, after many months of anxiety, is that the stockholders' confidence was not misplaced.

Four hundred shares former selling price $100, are now worth TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, this big profit only being possible in the oil business, and explains John D. Rockefeller's great accumulation of wealth. OUR FIRST DIVIDEND IS PAYABLE MARCH 15. I look for this stock to go to $10 per share within twelve months.

Men or women, if you wish to better your condition in life and be somebody, now is your opportunity. I predict that if you buy some of this stock, it will help you to buy your own automobile and live on easy street. Why not? Read this advertisement over again, then drop me a letter or come and see me.

Owing to poor weather the German sugar beet crop will not come up to early expectations, according to Willett & Gray's correspondent. A mild, damp fall has worked to the disadvantage of farmers.

Draying Co. is representative of contracting firms construction men are having a prosperous winter. This company has just finished four road work contracts and is still busy. The jobs completed are on the Lansing tract in Liliha street on the residence property of George O'Neill of Puunui, the Owen tract in Manoa valley and the Cooper tract, owned by the Trent Trust Co.

Merchants are beginning to array their stocks for a big sale Carnival week. The vanguard of Island and Coast residents bound for the Carnival has arrived and businessmen are expecting to turn a neat profit week after next.

The American government has aided in the importation of 115,000 bags of beet sugar seeds from Germany in an effort to help the industry in this country. Great difficulty was experienced in getting the shipment (as, since the war, the German government has demanded cash payments. W. L. Petriken, vice-president of the Great Western Sugar Company of Denver, Colo., had to make a personal trip to Rotterdam, carrying with him $65,000 in gold, raised by various plantations. With this he purchased 80,000 bags of seeds and secured the consent of the German exporters to send 35,000 more on 30 days' credit. The arrangements for guaranty of protection from Great Britain and other nations at war were made by the state department.

Alexander & Baldwin received cables from their San Francisco office telling of the receipt from the Switzerland Marine Insurance Co. of $400,000 as insurance on their losses in the sinking of the American-Hawaiian steamer Washington. The claim was paid within two weeks of the disaster.

Unless the farmers of southern Alberta agree to cultivate larger areas of beets, the beet-sugar factory at Raymond, Alberta, the only factory in western Canada, will be removed to the United States. The factory has been closed for some time, and the directors have about decided that the beet-sugar industry in Alberta is too uncertain to warrant further development. The Calgary Board of Trade will make an effort to re-open the factory in Raymond.

The harbor commission gave notice this week of its intention to ask the government to resume work on the Hilo breakwater. Chairman Forbes at the meeting said yesterday that unless the breakwater is extended in the near future, the Kulo bay wharf will be in danger of destruction. Shipping also was in danger, he said.

This sugar factory was erected in 1902 by a Cleveland (Ohio) firm at a cost of $500,000. It is built throughout of brick and steel, with cement floors; is three stories high, and contains a lime kiln, storage rooms and beet sheds. Fifteen hundred tons of machinery are installed and there are 50 miles of piping throughout the works. The factory is equipped with every improvement known in the manufacture of sugar. The total crop of beet roots in Alberta for 1914 was only 19,000 tons, a yield of 9.1 tons per acre. The factory heretofore has had

Gentlemen:

We are grateful to you for the exceedingly interesting supplement of the Hawaiian Star-Bulletin. This interesting book has had our closest attention and it certainly illustrates the progressive spirit of the Hawaiian Islands. The Foreword is indeed comprehensive, and should stir up interest in the States so that everything possible will be done to protect Hawaii's largest source of revenue.

We thank you very kindly for having sent us the book and assuring you of our high esteem, we are, with kindest regards,

AGED BANKER AND WIFE VICTIM OF HORRIBLE CRIME

(Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.)
OAKLAND, Cal., Feb. 13.—Jacob Vogel, an aged banker, and his equally aged wife, Eliza Vogel, were found yesterday by neighbors murdered in their home in Fruitvale, an outlying district of this city.

Robbery is thought to have been the motive of the crime, although thus far the police have no clue to the identity of the person or persons who committed the heinous deed. The house seemed to be in order and so far as is known at the present time no property is missing.

The bodies of the victims show that both Vogel and his wife went to their death fighting desperately. The old couple had been bound, beaten, choked and finally strangled to death.

Vogel was a very wealthy man and owned a "great deal" of property in Fruitvale and East Oakland, where he and Mrs. Vogel had resided for many years.

Richard C. Dixey, a prominent clubman of Philadelphia, fell from a third story window in his home there. He died before the arrival of a physician.

The Russian minister of finance has presented a bill proposing a tax on those exempted from military service which he expects will raise $7,000,000.

WOMAN DIRECTS GERMAN SPIES, FRENCH REPORT

(Associated Press.)
BOLOGNE, France. — The report that a woman is at the head of the German secret service department in the eastern war zone, is revived in a statement published here from the pen of a Frenchman who says he was offered a position in the German secret service at Lille.

This Frenchman says he was a cigar merchant in Lille before the war, and after the German entry made a good living hawking cigars and cigarettes. Eventually he clashed with the German authorities and was compelled to abandon his trade. The German military officials, however, noticed that he spoke German fluently and offered him a post as interpreter. When he reported for duty he was asked if he would not like to enter the secret service at $5 a day and expenses. He replied in the affirmative and a week later he was taken to Antwerp in a military motorcar.

"At Antwerp I was taken before two officers," he says, "who were accompanied by a handsomely dressed woman. I soon discovered she was the most important person of the three. She questioned and cross-questioned me repeatedly, and finally instructed me to proceed to Hazebrouck and other points in Northern France to report what troops were stationed there, where they came from and what was their condition. She concluded her talk by a tempting offer of money if I was able to secure any valuable information, supplementing this with a bright picture of the fate that would befall a traitor.

"She gave me $125 for my expenses and directed me to report at Lorraine when I had finished my work. I left Antwerp and crossed through Germany to Switzerland. On reaching the French frontier I presented myself to a police official and told him my story."

WILSON'S MEXICO POLICY CRITICISED BY FORMER ENVOY

(Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 13.—Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico during former President Taft's administration and at the beginning of President Wilson's tenure of office, in an address here last night said that there was no hope for peace in Mexico as long as the United States maintained its present attitude towards the warring factions of the southern republic.

"There can be no hope for Mexico," said Mr. Wilson, "until either the present administration reverses its policy entirely, or a new administration, committed to less uplift and more genuine practical advice, comes into power."

Mr. Wilson declared that it was not his purpose to "question the intentions or patriotism of President Wilson, but to indict the performances of the Washington administration."

NOTICE.
From advices received yesterday by Henry St. Goar from Honolulu there would seem to be every reason to believe that the 1915 crop of the Honokaa Sugar Company will surpass all prior records. With 428 inches of precipitation at the 1955-foot level and 131.24 inches at the 275-foot level in 11 months the growth of the cane is reported by J. W. Waldron to be absolutely unprecedented. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Honokaa Plantation was held in Honolulu yesterday. The outgoing board was re-elected.—San Francisco Examiner.

LOOKS BRIGHT FOR MILITIA PAY BILL NOW

Secretary of War and Committee Chairmen Give Support to Measure

That the militia pay bill may be passed at the next session of Congress is the good news to the organized militia of the United States, contained in a bulletin of the National Guard Association of the United States addressed to the adjutant general of all states and recently received by Col. J. W. Jones, the adjutant general of the association met in Washington January 13 and spent a week there, during which time very satisfactory conferences were held with the secretary of war and members of the senate and house committees on military affairs.

To quote in part from the bulletin: "During the interviews that were accorded us last week the whole matter was fully and frankly discussed with the secretary of war. By every argument which suggested itself your committee endeavored to impress Mr. Garrison with our belief that this bill, which has been pending so long, should be given precedence over other matters; that the militia, constituting as it does the largest force for the national defense, was entitled to have its needs considered and that the war department should feel the obligation to recommend to congress as promptly as possible, and with the fullest endorsement, such measures as are considered necessary to bring this branch of the service up to the proper standard of efficiency. . . . This view of the situation was stressed by your committee; but, notwithstanding the facts as above set forth, we are of the opinion that the secretary of war in delaying his action has been actuated only by friendly motives and by considerations which are for the best interests of the militia with relation to the pending legislation. . . . Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate committee on military affairs, is, of course, strongly for the pending bill. Although he feels that it cannot receive consideration at this session of congress, he was anxious that it should be favorably reported on by his committee, believing that such action would be of tactical advantage when the matter should come up before the next congress. At his suggestion we saw a majority of the members of his committee and urged them to report the bill out of committee. This was done on last Friday, when, by unanimous vote, the senate committee reported the bill favorably, and it is now upon the calendar of the senate."

Just a Hint of the Beauties of the Palace of Fine Arts at the Great 1915 Exposition

EXQUISITE colonnade of the Palace of Fine Arts at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The building, which is of steel and concrete construction, is Roman in architecture and fronts upon a great lagoon, which it partly envelops. The Palace of Fine Arts cost over $600,000. Here will be seen a notable collection of the great works of foreign and American painters and sculptors.

NATIONAL GUARD NEWS

The regiment will probably have entries in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the half mile, and the flag relay race of the military athletic meet at Kapiolani park.

There is every prospect of 12 companies for Oahu soon, making a full regiment for station at Honolulu. The tenth local company is to be mustered in Wednesday night and two more companies are well under way.

The 1st Infantry is ordered out for inspection and drill tomorrow, at Kapiolani park. Companies will assemble at the armory at 7:30 and board special cars at 8 o'clock. Field equipment is prescribed, but officers will carry sabers, as regimental parade will probably be held.

The indoor baseball series ended in a tie between G and H Companies, each team winning six games and losing one. Both team captains have expressed a preference for a single game to decide the tie and ownership of the handsome trophy put up by Wall & Dougherty, and Lieut. Smoot, regimental athletic officer, has set the play-off game for Thursday, February 18, at 8:45 p. m. The game should be a hummer.

The athletic council of the 1st Infantry met yesterday to consider a protest of Company F against the playing of A. Comacho by the Hospital Corps in an indoor baseball game last December. Investigation by the regimental athletic officer developed the fact that A. Comacho, one of three of the same name playing on the team, was not enlisted in the guard at all, and was plainly a "ringer." The council was unanimous in awarding the disputed game to Company F.

The Canadian railways have applied to the Railway Commission for an increase of 5 per cent in freight rates between Canadian and United States points.

KITCHENER GRANTS PLEA OF SOLDIER'S MOTHER

[Associated Press]
LONDON, England—An instance of the human qualities of Lord Kitchener is related in Sunderland, where a soldier was sent from the front at the government's expense to attend his dying mother.

The woman's one desire was to see her five sons, who are all in the army. Four of them were in the English training camps and obtained leave of absence through the offices of the Salvation Army. But the mother longed to see the youngest, who was serving in Flanders. Lord Kitchener was communicated with. The lad thereupon received a seven days' furlough, with ration and expense money, and arrived in time to see his mother before she died.

SECRETARY'S SECRETARY MAY VISIT THE ISLANDS

According to the Washington papers Howard A. Banks, private secretary to Secretary Daniels, has sailed for San Francisco, where he will superintend the installation of the navy department's exhibit at the Panama-Pacific exposition. He took passage on the new steamship Great Northern and will be gone about two months. He may visit Hawaii.
Commander John M. Coyer, the new governor of Samoa, sailed on the same vessel. He is accompanied by Mrs. Coyer and Miss Mary Coyer.

The New Haven railroad has ordered 20,000 tons of rails from independent mills.

"Do you believe in heredity?" "I certainly do. Take those Wright brothers, aviators. Their father was a sky-pilot, wasn't he?"
"What are you doing there with the paper and scissors, Elsie?" "Making a pig, mamma." "A pig! You're making a litter."

NEW COMPANY OF GUARD TO BE MUSTERED

Seventy-three Men Recruited By S. H. Ware Will Be Enlisted Next Wednesday

Another company will be mustered into the National Guard of Hawaii within the next few days. Seventy-three men have already signed the application and it is expected that when the men assemble to take the oath of enlistment next Wednesday evening, there will be more than this number on hand.

Samuel H. Ware, a construction superintendent of the U. S. Army Engineers, has recruited the company, mostly from men whom he employs, and there is a lot of enthusiasm shown. The men are anxious to become part of the guard and receive their equipment, and to get down to the elemental of military training.

The regimental organization being complete at this time, the new outfit will probably be known as the 1st Separate Company, N. G. H., for the time being. It is probable, however, that when the company is thoroughly organized, it will be given the letter M, and placed in the 1st Infantry, making 10 companies on Oahu. At present Company M is the Hilo company and this would become a separate company. The ultimate plan is to have a full regiment of infantry on Oahu, and battalions, forming a second regiment, on Maui, Hawaii and Kauai. As new companies are organized here, they are to be absorbed into the 1st Infantry, to centralize that command.

Companies of the 1st Infantry on Oahu are preparing for a regimental drill and inspection at Kapiolani park tomorrow. The regiment will assemble at 7:30 a. m. at the armory, and board the street cars for the park at 8 o'clock.

TO PUT ON FLESH AND INCREASE WEIGHT

A Physician's Advice.

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all both to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all. Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They absorb just enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffing won't help them. A dozen meals a day won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is something that will prepare their blood to absorb them and deposit them all about the body—something, too, that will multiply their red blood corpuscles and increase their blood's carrying power.

For such a condition I always recommend eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh building elements known to chemistry. It is absolutely harmless, yet wonderfully effective, and a single tablet eaten with each meal often has the effect of increasing the weight of a thin man or woman from three to five pounds a week.

BOSCH MAGNETO COMPANY OFFERS PRIZES FOR RACES

Following its practice of encouraging drivers taking part in the big automobile contests the Bosch Magneto company of New York offers $1900 for two big auto races to be held February 22 and 27 in connection with the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The prizes are so divided that each driver has an opportunity to win considerable in addition to the promoters' regular purse, if he is successful in gaining the first, second or third position. The distribution of the prizes is as follows:

To the winner of the grand prize race, $500; to the driver of the second car, $150; to the driver of the third car, $100.

The only condition to these prizes is that the driver in each instance use a Bosch magneto for ignition purposes during the race.

In the case of the Vanderbilt cup race, the winner of the first prize receives a prize of $300; to the driver of the second car $150 will be awarded, and to the driver of the third car $100. The condition is the same as in the grand prize race.

A second set of prizes has been arranged for the drivers in case they use during the race Bosch plugs in addition to Bosch magnetos. In each case if this ignition equipment is completely "Bosch" the driver if first, second or third is to be awarded an additional $100. Thus again the Bosch Magneto company will award to those drivers who are successful an additional prize for using Bosch plugs—the six plug awards amount in all to $600 additional.

It will be seen from the division of the prize money that in addition to its business interests in the races the Bosch Magneto company is interested in them as sporting events and accordingly has divided the prizes so that the men who just miss the coveted first prize receive a relatively valuable prize for their efforts during the race.

Another interesting point is that Bosch equipment has invariably been used by the winners of all the big and important races, so that the money is offered by the Bosch Magneto company with a feeling that it will be actually won.

MARINE TEAM PROUD OF BULLDOG MASCOT

The Lewiston, Idaho, Tribune says: "A letter from one of the American marines stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaiian Territory, tells how the marines are very proud of their football team. With only a hundred men to pick a team from they have made a good showing in the games with the army post near by, which numbers 1400 enlisted men. The football team, with becoming modesty, extends its pride on Doc, a white bulldog. Doc, however, is not allowed on the field except at practise. It is feared he might imagine he's a quarterback and make a foul tackle if he saw any of his friends being jumped on by a stranger."
