BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH OF THE LATE WILLIAM L. LEE.

THE death of the Hon. William L. Lee, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and Chancellor of the Kingdom, though not unexpected, has spread an unusual gloom over our community. His many admirable qualities of mind and heart, so rarely combined in one individual, had won for him the esteem and confidence of all classes, both among natives and foreigners; while his eminent public services have rendered his death a heavy national calamity.

The universal sorrow everywhere manifested for his loss, the thousands who gathered to pay the last sad tribute to his memory, the crowded churches where his life, his services and his virtues were made the theme of discourse, are evidences of the deep affection with which he had inspired the people among whom the best years of his life have been spent. In him the King has lost a faithful and judicious Counsellor, the Bench a wise and upright Judge, the foreign combenefactor, whose best energies were devoted to its an umpire of their own choice." welfare, and whose life was worn out by his unremit- As President of the Board of Commissioners, he ting labors in its service. In the appropriate language of our cotemporary of the Polynesian, "whereever the Sandwich Islands are known, Mr. Lee has been heard of as a pillar of the State, and through | draft; a task of no little magnitude, when we conhis efforts, rather than those of any other individual, and the honest tendency of his public acts, the government has acquired a reputation and prestige which give it a strength beyond its proportions. In one word, on whatever there is of progress, and Civil Code, he taxed his waning strength in his whatever there is of order observable throughout the length and breadth of this archipelago, it may be said that more or less conspicuously the mark of Mr. Lee's hand is seen."

County, in the State of New York, on the 25th of on this kingdom. For all these extra labors, arduous February, 1821. At the age of thirteen he entered as they were, to which he devoted the hours of day the Norwich University in the State of Vermont, where and night which most men consider necessary for rehe remained two years, at the end of which time he | laxation and repose, and under which his own health left the institution and engaged in the business of a gave way, he steadily and repeatedly refused any adcivil engineer in the service of his native State. In this profession he rose so rapidly that at the end of Legislature have in vain endeavored to force on him only three years he left it, having already filled the post of Resident Engineer. He next returned to Norwich University, where he graduated at the age of | was sufficiently liberal, and that he considered the twenty, taking the first honors. On leaving the University, he received the appointment of Superintendent of the Military Academy at Portsmouth, Vir- ful. ginia, in which position he remained one year. Having at this time of his maturity decided upon adopting the Harvard University, where he remained till he had completed the course of study under those eminent jurists, Judge Story and Professor Greenleaf. It is no small praise to say that he was honored with the confidence and friendship of both these distinguished men. Judge Story furnished him with letters of reference when he left the Law School, and with Prof. Greenleaf he was in constant correspondence until his death.

When Mr. Lee was about to establish himsef as a practitioner, he was attacked with a violent hemorrage of the lungs, and his case was for some months considered to be a hopeless one, but a naturally strong constitution triumphed over the disease, and in the year 1844 he was able to commence the practice of law in the city of Troy, New York. Here he applied himself to his profession with the unremitting industry which characterized him, until his labors brought on a recurrence of pulmonary symptoms, which warned him to seek a more genial climate. At this time public attention was strongly directed towards the new Territory of Oregon, which was supposed to offer unusual advantages to settlers, as well in the salubrity of its climate as the fertility of its soil, and its prospect of a speedy growth. Deciding then to cast his fortunes in that young country, Mr. Lee embarked with a company of fourteen others on board the brig Henry, bound for Columbia River by way of the Sandwich Islands, and after a tempestuous voyage of about eight months the vessel arrived at Honolulu on the 12th of October, 1846, to the surprise of many who had given her up as lost.

Mr. Lee had not entertained the most distant idea of remaining at these Islands. The time of his arrival, however, and the long delay of the vessel here caused by the extensive repairs which were found necessary, seemed providential. It was a critical period in the affairs of this young nation. The government was engaged in a controversy with some of the foreign residents, which had embroiled nearly the whole community, and which menaced its very existence. The bitter and angry feelings which had grown up among the partisans on either side, had almost caused open rupture. General uneasiness and distrust prevailed. The course of Att'y General Ricord, the only officer of the government of legal education and profession, was ill-calculated to conciliate the contending parties, or to inspire that confidence in the government which was so necessary to its peace and prosperity. The laws drawn up by him were ambiguous and complicated, and the tribunals of the realm were looked upon by a large and intelligent class of the community, rather as instruments of oppression than sources of redress from injustice.

At this epoch, the advent of an upright, able, and impartial judge, to whom all parties could look with confidence, seemed the only event that could restore order out of chaos, and save the country and the government from utter confusion. But in those days of isolation and almost non-intercourse with civilized countries, this seemed too great a boon to expect. It was at this period that Mr. Lee accidentally arrived here, and subsequent events soon showed him to be the very man for the emergency. It was a fortunate day for the nation, when he accepted the post of Presiding Judge offered him by the late King. Mr. Lee was not easily induced to change his design, and though the King, thinking that the oath of allegiance, which had been required of other government officers, follow it, and to heed the lessons which it teaches.

might be objectionable, offered to confer on him Letters Patent of denization, by which he acquired all the rights of an Hawaiian subject, without forfeiting those of an American citizen, yet it was with reluctance that he consented to remain, in what then doubtless seemed a narrow sphere of action, compared with the mighty West. But from the day of his accepting office under this government until that of his death, he has served it with a zeal, industry, ability and success, of which history affords but few exam-

It is impossible, within the limits of a newspaper article to do more than allude to some of the eminent services of this extraordinary man; but however arduous were the duties of his own particular department, and they were never neglected or slighted, yet, whenever any of the wheels of government were stopped or impeded, his shoulder was ever ready for the emergency, and never was it applied in vain. To quote again from our cotemporary, "In undertaking to reduce the Judiciary Department to order and put our courts of law into a position to command respect, he succeeded well indeed; and the principal tribunal, over which he presided, acquired such a name for wisdom, combined with probity not to be questioned, munity a warm and liberal friend, and the nation a | that parties often left their cases with the Court as performed a responsible and most arduous labor. As one of the Commissioners charged with the duty of framing a new Constitution, he prepared the original sider the incongruous elements to be united and reconciled in its formation. The Penal Code and many of the most important laws were drawn up by him. As one of the Commissioners to prepare a new labors with Judge Robertson on this work, which his death has left unfinished. As Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to Washington, he negotiated a Treaty of Reciprocity, which, if ever con-Mr. Lee was born at Sandy Hill, Washington firmed by the U. S. Senate, will confer great benefits ditional compensation. The Privy Council and the some remuneration for his many voluntary and severe labors; but his reply was that his salary as Judge government which employed him, entitled to his services in whatever capacity they could be made use.

Mr. Lee possessed the entire confidence of both the late and the present King; and on more than one oclaw as his profession, he entered the Law School at casion has His Majesty Kamehameha IV. evinced his appreciation of his services and his virtues, his ardent attachment to his person, and his deep solicitude for

We have spoken thus far of Mr. Lee as a public man, but a sketch of his character would be incomplete without an allusion to his private and social virtues. As is rarely the case, his public and private characters were in singular and beautiful harmony. No man has ever possessed the entire confidence of so many of all ranks and conditions, both among natives and foreigners, as he did. He was looked up to as the counsellor and guide of many who were very much his seniors in years, and among whom his loss will be deeply felt throughout the group. United to his glowing benevolence and love for his fellow men. he possessed the happy faculty of appreciating at once the good qualities of those with whom he was brought in contact, and of stimulating their exercise and development. To his more intimate friends he was ardent, warm-hearted and generous. Always ready and anxious to serve them, his eminently unselfish disposition rendered him unwilling to receive any return. To such an extent did he carry this feeling, that though towards the close of his illness, his failing strength and frequently recurring ill-turns rendered it necessary for him to have constant attention. vet he refused to allow any of his friends to watch with him, though they earnestly pleaded for the privilege. And it was not till the very night of his departure that he consented to have any other attendance than that of the faithful and cherished partner of his lot. In 1849 he married Miss Catherine E. Newton of Albany, New York. In her heavy bereavement words of comfort are of little avail. But it may be some consolation to her to know that she has the heart-felt sympathy of many warm friends. and that her sorrow is in some measure shared by those who found in the departed, a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

Mr. Lee was the founder, and for several years the President of the Royal Hawaiian Agricultural Society, and was indefatigable in his efforts to promote the cause of agriculture. He was one of the most efficient members of the Board of Trustees of the Sailors' Home, the success of which was an object very dear to his heart. He was President of the Hawaiian Bible Society, a strong friend of the temperance cause, and an active and liberal promoter of all benevolent or religious objects, to the aid of which he brought the same untiring zeal and energy that he exhibited in his daily avocations. Most implicitly did he follow in everything which he undertook the scripture injunction, "whatsoever thy hands find to do, do it with all thy might." He was a sincere and humble Christian, and though making no display or his piety, yet the tree was known by its fruit, and his daily walk and conversation bore witness that he had made the divine Master his pattern. He had not united with any church here, not that he hesitated to confess his Savior before men, but because he had an insuperable objection to the adoption of any creeds, which he looked upon as barriers of human invention, dividing Christians from each other. He bore his severe and protracted sufferings without a murmur, maintaining his characteristic cheerfulness to the last, his only dread being that he should outlive his usefulness and become a burden to his friends. To one of them who remarked to him that he seemed very happy, he replied, "yes, I am very happy; I am gliding peacefully down the stream of life, gathering flowers from either bank as I pass." In such, a resigned and happy frame of mind did this eminent man, having "set his house in order;" await the expected summons. And though he had reached but half the allotted "three score years and ten," yet in that short period he had accomplished a life time of usefulness. He has early gone to his reward, but his bright example remains to us. Well will it be for us both as a nation and as individuals if we strive to

THURSDAY, JUNE 11.

It is the duty of a government editor to cajole and flatter his brother officials; this is expected of him, and for it he receives his reward. It is this sychophancy which has degraded the press here from the elevation which it might maintain to that of a ministerial mouth-piece which has disgusted a sensible community. To go no farther back than the last issue of the government organ, we have a specimen of its servility in the leading article on the mission of Mr. Allen to the United States as His Majesty's Envoy and Minister Plenpotentiary to the Court of Washington, in which the results of the mission are set forth in highly glowing colors, as though some great advantage had been gained from it to our rising nation.

But what calls forth this encomium? Has any good resulted, or is any likely to result from the mission? So far as is yet known, the public are entirely ignorant of any. The objects for which Mr. Allen went to the United States with the above high sounding titles were:

1st. To procure a loan of $100,000 for carrying on public improvements. 2d. To secure the passage of a treaty which a former representative had originated but left unratified. 3d. To purchase a steamboat to facilitate our inter-island navigation.

In regard to a loan, the Envoy returns without the money. He has really found out what was known here before, that money in Wall street, New York, and State street, Boston, commands from eight to ten per cent. for use in the street, and that the financial men there consider "a bird in the hand worth two in the bush." He found, further, what was also known here before, that money could be obtained in England at cheaper rates than in the United States. In the matter of a loan, then, we stand just where we did before the Envoy left us. The money is to be had, but we havn't got it. On this subject of a loan we shall have something to say again.

The second object was to procure the passage of the Reciprocity Treaty. And towards this, pray, what has been done except to press the measure to the very verge of defeat. It was unfortunate for our interests that the Envoy was in Washington to urge our claim at the very moment when those interested in defending the sugar interest felt chafed and sore from the heated discussion on the new tariff, which against their strenuous fighting cut down the duty six per cent. It was this, more than the fear of any damage to the sugar interests of the States from the admission of Hawaiian sugars into California and Oregon, that caused the threatened defeat of the treaty. And it would have been better if our Minister had not pushed the matter with such haste. At all events, it does not appear that any good has been secured us from his mission in respect to the

The third object to be attained by the Envoy's mission was the purchase of a steamer, which has now become a want severely felt in our interisland travel and commerce. That we have not got one yet is too evident, though we hear that one may be expected soon "over the isthmus." It is true that the Minister received proposals and learned the cost of a good vessel; but could not that have been done here by letter? In this matter, too, the mission has been only a failure, and perhaps worse than a failure, for had the proposal been left open to capitalists in Boston or Bremen, (in both which cities there were parties then, and operhaps now, ready for the undertaking) there can be little doubt that before this we should have had a good steamer running among the islands.

Besides these prime objects of the mission, the Polynesian hints at a correspondence between the Envoy and the American government in regard to the right of its citizens to claim diplomatic interference in the matter of claims and alleged grievances." This is supposed to be another phase of the discussion on the "consular jury" privilege in connection with the dance-house question, though probably broad enough to embrace all disputes. But we doubt whether the United States government have or will commit themselves to deny to their citizens abroad any rights conceded to subjects of other nations. And so long as the old French treaty lasts—which is supposed to be until the dawn of the millennium—there is not much chance of a change. However, as the publication of the correspondence has been officially announced, it is but proper to await its developments.

There may have been other minor orders for procuring ten-penny whistles for the different departments, which have all doubtless been pro-

So far then as any practical good results of the mission of Mr. Allen to the United States are known, it must be conceded that it has been a failure. We do not affirm that the Envoy did not do all that could be done; on that point there can be but one opinion. But it should show to our government and people the futility of its foreign missions, connected with which there must be an expenditure of several thousands. This is not its first foreign mission. There have been several before it; till now it seems to be considered a rule that each minister in turn can take his play-spell, which, if it is at the expense of the people, is a serious affair. Were there any good derived from them they might be tolerated. It has been suggested, if these embassies are to be continued, that it would be a good plan to send a minister abroad to raise a fund to support them. A fund of $30,000, to be placed at interest, would probably answer for present purposes, or while economy is practiced in our foreign missions.

It is not our wish to speak disparagingly of Mr. Allen, but really, taking as our authority the official report of his mission, published in the Polynesian, we must say that never mountain in labor brought forth such a mouse as this:

"But in no way perhaps has Mr. Allen's mission been more useful than in introducing to the diplomatic circle of a great country a resident Representative of his Majesty, whose prestige and attainments warranted a high opinion of the Court he represented and the service in which he was engaged. The King's a few days only, but Mr. Allen remained there long enough to receive all those courtesies which belonged to his diplomatic character, and greater courtesy could not have been extended towards him had his credentials originated from the greatest Power on earth. Not only in the White House, but at the residences of the Cabinet Ministers and all the Foreign Representatives, his rank was acknowledged, and his precedence admitted in the purest spirit of etiquette. We understand that the attentions paid to Mr. Allen were of the most flattering description. For the first time then, we repeat, a Representative of the King could say that in every respect he found himself the Envoy of a Power wholly admitted into the great family of nations."

Great advantages surely the Hawaiian nation has derived therefrom. "For the first time." Did not Dr. Judd, as Envoy, and the present King and his Royal brother, and also Judge Lee receive all the attentions due to their official rank? We maintain that they did.

Again, we say, let us have this ministerial embassy fund created. If the advantages are so marked, there ought to be no difficulty about procuring it. It appears to be Mr. Armstrong's turn now to go to the United States, either in a private or official capacity, and for this object of procuring a travelling fund, our cotemporary will doubtless exclaim that " he is the right man in the right place." Whether he goes forth as " Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of Washington," has not yet transpired; but it has been hinted that that title should be kept back till the turn of the remaining Minister shall come, let a too frequent use of it might prevent our Envoys ranking with those of "the greatest Power on earth." It would have been quite as well had the editor maintained a moder silence on the subject of the late mission to the United States, especially as no immediate or prospective good is shown to have been gained to the country. In that case we should have been spared the necessity of giving the facts as they are, and refuting the statements of a journal which often descants on the proneness of others to misrepresent facts.

REPORT Of the Exploring Voyage of the Schooner "Manuokawai." Capt. Paty.

The schooner Manuokawai has visited Kauai Nihoa or Bird Island, Necker Island, Gardner's Island, Laysan's Island, Liscanskey's Island, and Pearl and Kerm's Reef or Group. Also run over the location (according to Blunt's charts,) of Polland's Island, Neva Island, Bunker's Island, Massachusetts Island, and passed near Philadelphia Island, without seeing the appearance of land. They do not exist, or their location on the chart is erroneous. NIHOA OR BIRD ISLAND—is N. W. by W. 3 W. 244 miles from Honolulu. This is a precipitous rock 400 feet high, 14 miles long, and about 4 a mile wide; the north side is nearly perpendicular; on the south side is a small space of sandy beach, where boats may land in smooth weather; although I think it seldom a boat can land there with safety. Near the beach is a small drain of fresh water. About a dozen of seal were on the beach, and birds were plentiful about the Island. There is anchorage from 1/4 to 2 miles off the south side, in from 7 to 17 fathoms of water on sand. Plenty of sharks about the anchorage. NECKER ISLAND-W. by N. 3 N. from Honolulu 403 miles, is also a precipitous rock, 300 feet high, 1 mile long and 1 a mile broad, with small patches of coarse grass on its surface. I could not see any landing place for boats, as the surf broke high all around it. A bank of sand and rocks make off to the south and west, I should say 6 or 8 miles or more. I had 18 fathoms water 2 miles off, the island bearing N. E. GARDNER'S ISLAND-W. N. W. from Honolulu 607 miles. This is merely inaccessible rocks, 200 feet high, extending North and South, about one-sixth of a mile. A bank extends off to the south and west some 15 or 20 miles; the bottom seemed to be detached rocks, with sandy spaces between. I had 17 fathoms of water 10 miles south of the Island. I think fish are plentiful on this bank.

LATSAN ISLAND-W. by N. 3 N. from Honolulu 808 miles. This is a low sand island, 25 to 30 feet high; 3 miles long and 11 broad. The surface is covered with beach grass; half a dozen small palm trees were seen. It has a lagoon in the center, 1 mile long and a mile wide, of salt water, and not a 100 yards from the salt, abundance of tolerable good fresh water can be had by digging 2 feet, and near the lagoon was found a deposite of guano. The Island is "literally" covered with birds; there is, at a low estimate, 800,000. Seal, turtle and fish were numerous on the beach, and might be easily taken. These animals were evidently unaccustomed to the sight of man, as the seal and turtle would scarcely move at our approach, and the birds were so tame and plentiful, that it was difficult to travel without stepping upon them. The gulls lay enormous large eggs, of which I have a specimen. A bank of rocks and sand extends off to the south and west 6 or 8 miles or more. Good anchorage can be found on the western side of the island from 4 to 20 fathoms, by selecting a sandy spot to anchor upon, from & to 2 miles from the beach. The best landing is about onethird of the distance from the northern to the southern point of the island, where there is a very smooth sand LISCANSKEY'S ISLAND-W. by N. & N. from Honolulu, 922 miles. This is a low sand island, elevated from 20 to 40 feet above the sea; it is of a triangular form, 14 miles long, and the northern part one mile wide. The surface is covered "almost" with green grass. There is what has been a lagoon near the southern part of the island, in the center of which fresh water was found by digging five feet. Birds, fish, seal and turtle abound here, but not so plentifully as at Laysan Island. The island is surrounded with detached rocks; and from the E. S. E. to S. W. make off as far as the eye can reach. Good anchorage will be found by getting the south point of the island bearing E. & S., and steering or working for it; in doing this you will pass between two large breakers, bearing north and south of each other, about 3 of a mile apart and two miles from the land; after getting inside of the breakers, you can anchor in from four to eight fathoms, on sandy spots, & to 14 miles from the beach. Your anchors should be furnished with good buoy ropes; and, if necessary, you can anchor outside of the reef.

On the island I found the remains of three casks, a spar, which had been used as a lookout staff, a few pieces of timber, and part of an old cook-house or galley, on which was carved Holder Borden and several other names.

By a statement in the Friend of November, 1844, I supposed the Holder Borden was wrecked on an island about one degree west of this, and by putting confidence in Capt. Pell's correctness, as to locality, I lost three days of time in looking after it. I can former representatives have been in Washington for safely say that Pell's Island does not exist in this ocean. The forty domesticated ducks Capt. Pell speaks of must have reassumed their roving propensities, as I did not see the sign of one on the island. I have understood that Capt. Pell planted some cocoanuts on the island in 1844; not any sign of them exist now in 1857, or any vegetation, except coarse grass and a small running vine. I planted a handful of white beans, and half a dozen Irish and sweet potatoes. I made the latitude of the island 26° 00' 30" N. and longitude by chronometer 173° 57" W.

We sailed nearly around Pearl and Kerm's Reef, and saw six small islets which appeared to be located some distance inside of the reef, in what seemed to be a large lagoon, and seemed to abound with birds, seal and turtle. No safe anchorage outside of the reef. Center of the reef is in lat. 27° 43' N. and long. 175°

A considerable portion of the time absent has been consumed in looking after islands and banks which do not exist, or are erroneously marked on Blunt's

I would tender my thanks to Mr. Rowell of Wai mea, Mr. Wundenberg and Mr. Kellet of Hanalei for supplies received from them. JOHN PATY.

Anniversaries.

The annual meetings of our various benevolent occieties were held at the Bethel during the last week of May. The attendance was not so numerous as in former years. We can only give a brief report of HAWAIIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY .-- The annual meet ing was held on Tuesday evening May 26. A long and very interesting report of the doings of the Society, and of the present condition of the Marquesas and Micronesia missions, was read by the Secretary, Rev. L. Smith, who visited the former mission during the summer of 1856. The treasurer's report was read by Samuel N. Castle, Esq. From it it appeared that the total receipts of the society during the year had been $3446., including a balance from the former year of $496 96. The total expenditures had amounted to $3386 32, leaving in his hands on the 31st of May, $59 68.

This society has recently been incorporated by the Government, which has granted them a liberal charter. The first election of officers of the society, under this charter was holder June 5, at which the following gentlemen were chosan :

President, REV. ASA THURSTON. Vice President, Rev. S. C. Danon, Recording Secretary, Rev. E. W. CLARK, Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Lowell Smith, Treasurer, SAMUEL N. CASTLE, Auditor, GEO. M. ROBERTSON, Directors, J. T. ATERHOUSE, G. P. JUDD, W. GOODALE.

BIBLE Society .- " Wednesday evening, May 27 this society held its anual meeting. From the report of the secretary, it appeared that during the past year, there had been sold and donated 772 bibles and 164 testaments, in ten different languages, viz: English, French, German, Portuguese, Spanish, Russian, Welsh, Swedish, Danish and Hawaiian. The treasurer's report shows the receipts for the year to have been $63! 06; expenditures $448 06, leaving a balance on hand of $183., which has since been increased by a collection at the Fort-street church to $289. Besides this there is in the treasurer's hands the sum of $300 13 for the employment of a colporteur among the Chinese.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing

President, Dr. R. W. Wood, Vice Presidents, GEO. M. ROBERTSON, G. P. JUDD, Secretary, Rev. S. C. Damon, Treasurer, A. S. COOKE, Executive Committee, I. BARTLETT, R. ARMSTRONG, W. H. Johnson.

TRACT Society .- On Thursday evening, the 28th May, this society met. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read, and a warm discussion took place on the subject of rendering the society more useful. It was proposed, and finally resolved, to employ a colporteur during the fall and winter months, for which object about $160, were pledged at the meeting. The report of the treasurer shows the receipts for the year to have been $467 30; and the expenditures $339 80; leaving on hand a balance of $127 50. The following officers were elected for 1857-8:

President, A. BISHOP, Vice President, E. O. HALL, Treasurer, L. CHAMBERLAIN, Secretary, J. D. STRONG, Executive Committee, S. C. DAMON, W. S. TUR-NER, W. H. JOHNSON, Preacher, B W. PARKER.

Substitute, A. Thurston. .

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

SMALL Pox .- We do not wish to create any unnecessary alarm in regard to this disease. Proper care with the solitary case existing on board the Fanny Major from San Francisco, will doubtless prevent the contagion from getting ashore. But the proper authorities cannot be too guarded or vigilant in the matter. The impression appears to be general that all the natives have been vaccinated. This is not the case, and proper investigation will show that fully one-sixth of the native population in and about Honolulu are exposed to the disease. Many now here were on Hawaii or away on vessels in 1853, and have never been vaccinated, and there exists in them an indifference, and in some cases a fear, which deters them from applying for the preventive. It seems absurd that it it ald be so, but it is not the less true. Let the natives be urged to become vaccinated, especially their ifents, at the expense of the government. Some public notice, where they can apply, should be g ven to them.

FIRE DEPARTMENT .- At a meeting held on Thursday, June 4th, the Department was organised as

A. J. CARTWRIGHT, Chief Engineer, B. F. Snow 1st Ass't. " 2d " W. F. ALLIY. Foreman W. E. CUTRELL, No. 1. R. GILLILAND, No. 2. WM. DUNCAN, Aso't. - " No. 2. Delegate from No. 1. A. J. McDeppe J. S. SMITHULS, FIRE WARDENS.

WM. WOND. for District No. 1. J. I. Dowsert, " No. 2. GEO. CLARK, " No. 3. A. McDuffee, " No. 4.

We hope that housekeepers and residents will bear in mind that it is made the duty of the fire wardens to visit every dwelling and store in their districts, and see that each is provided with buckets as required by law, and also to inspect cookhouses, stoves and fire-places, in order to guard against causes of fire. These visits of the fire wardens should not be looked upon as intrusions, but as necessary regulations.

Don's forget that the comet comes off on Saturday night, according to the papers.

THE U. S. MAIL .- A portion only of the U. S. mail of April 20 came forward by the Fanny Major. This is explained by the fact that that vessel sailed very soon after the arrival of the mail in San Francisco. But it does not fully account for the non-receipt of the usual California letters and papers. We hear that the schooner Julius Pringle would leave soon for this port, but as no California letters came to hand, even this report is not reliable.

Lahaina,-by some good fortune, always stands ahead of the rest of our group, in the luxuries of tropical fruits. A correspondent writes: "The figseason has fairly commenced, and we are luxuriating with abundance of this luscious fruit. Our grape crop is coming in also, but it needs the warm sun of June and July to give them that richness which makes them so near to perfection. The sweet potato crop also promises to be a much larger one than usual." By the way, we hear that Lahaina has become temporarily deserted of its foreign residents, all seeking a change; -- some have gone to California, some to Hawaii, some to Molokai, and quite a number will spend the summer on the cool slopes of Hale-a-ka-la. Can't we of Honolulu, get up an excursion this summer. Who has charge of the steamer Pele?

CHIEF JUSTICE .- As was generally anticipated. His Ex. ELISHA H. ALLEN, was on Thursday last appointed by this Majesty to fill the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, vacated by the death of Judge Lee. So far as we have heard the appointment gives general satisfaction, and under all the circumstances, is the best that could have been made. Chief Justice Allen enters upon his duties with seven years acquaintance with our law and customs; and he possesses an unusual share of that public respect and confidence which the incumbent of that office should have.

We have been requested by Judge Robertson to correct the statement made in our last issue that he received the legal advice of Mr. Allen, during Judge Lec's absence to the United States in 1855. The facts are these: Judge Lee, on his departure for the United States, thinking that Judge Robertson might need assistance on doubtful questions of law, made such an arrangement as would secure Mr. Allen's advice if Judge R. should at any time wish to avail himself of it. It appears now that no such advice was solicited or given, and Judge R. certainly deserves all the credit which may attach to the decisions referred to.

Coolies .- The Privy Council, at a session held on the 1st day of June ordered, "That all Chinese Coolies found about the city having no honest means of livehood, shall be arrested as vagrants." Also, "That all Chinese Coolies found prowling about at unreasonable hours of the night shall be arrested and detained until the morning as suspected person." In accordance with the above wholesome ordinance, the sheriff has issued a notice that it previsions will be enforced, and that all coolies found out after 10 o'clock at night, will be arrested.

THEFT .- A young mango tree in the yard of Mr. Dimond, which for the first time had been filled with mangoes, was stripped of its choice fruit a few nights since, supposed to have been done by coolies. It is not so much the value of the fruit, flowers or birds frequently stolen, that causes complaint, as the feeling of insecurity, and that after years of patient nurture of choice trees or flowers, and just at the moment that the possessor hopes to enjoy his reward a vandal can, during the night, rob him of the labor of MAKAWAO .- A correspondent writes that "the wheat crop will be light. That portion of wheat left by the worm has been somewhat injured by the heavy rains. From 20 heads of wheat from California seed that looked full, not a hand full could be obtained. The wheat planted after the worm looks better and the yield of the whole crop will be about the same as last year (which was 14,000 bushels.) The planters with small means will not make much this year, having been obliged to purchase the seed wheat twice on credit, or else let their land lie idle a whole year."

THE EXPLORING EXPEDITION—which left Honolulu some six weeks since, under command of Capt. John Paty, returned to port on Friday last. Capt. P. has furnished us a full report, which will be read with interest. The facts and data communicated may be relied on as correct, as there is no one here better qualified for the task than Capt. Paty.

ATTENTION, COMPANY!-A splendid stand of colors, the gift of somebody-we don't know who-but suspect the ladies-was received per Fanny Major, and is to be presented to the Honolulu Rifles, the coming week. The cost with standard, was near $200. Molokai.—We learn that the natives on Molokai are making great prepations for their annual celebration in July, which they call Puali Inuwai. From all accounts, we judge that the celebration will surpass those of former years and be well worth a visit from foreigners, who may wish to see that island.

> [Correspondence of the Pacific Com. Advertiser.] LAHAINA, MAUI, June 1st, 1857.

Early on Saturday morning last, the Favorite, brought to this place intelligence of the decease of the Hon. William L. Lee. Although of late little or no hopes were entertained of his recovery, yet the announcement of his death was received in this community with feelings of unmingled sorrow. All classes of men seemed to feel that a good man, a tried and trusty public servant, had passed away, never to return. At three o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, a meeting of the government officers, members of the Bar, and residents generally was convened at the Court House, when on motion of P. H. Treadway, Esq., the Hon. Edward P. Bond was chosen chairman, and Mr. J. C. Farwell, Secretary. Upon taking the chair Mr. Bond alluded briefly, but with much feeling, to the public and private virtues which adorned the character of the deceased; there was, he said, a purity, beauty and simplicity in his life, that endeared him to all who were honored with his friendship; and that to his learning and labors we owe in a great measure the simplicity, system, and comparative completeness of our judiciary.

The meeting was also addressed by Rev. S. E. Bishop, and G. D. Gilman, Esq., both of whom, in language simple and expressive, testified their high appreciation of the exalted character of the deceased, and the loss the nation is called upon to mourn in

A Committee of three, consisting of Messre. Farwell. Treadway, and Gilman, were then appointed to draw up resolutions to be submitted at an adjourned meeting to be held on Monday next, at nine o'clock Accordingly at the appointed hour this morning, there was a large attendance, embracing nearly all the foreign residents of Lahaina, when Mr. Farwell, on behalf of the committee, read the following resolutions which were adapted. Resulved, That the intelligence of the death of the Hou.

liam L. Lee, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of this kinghas created in this community feelings of deep and unafed regret, that one so pure in life, so gifted, and so generally med for his public and private virtues, should be called ray in the prime of manhood, and at a time when the nation so ill afford the loss of his sound judgment, legal erudition,

Resolved, That for the character of the deceased as a jurist ad a Christian gentleman, this community has ever entertained ngs of mingled admiration and respect. Resolved, That this community would respectfully tender to is Majesty their sincere condolence at the loss he has sustained he death of him who in life labored so earnestly to elevate e dignity of the kingdom, and promote the welfare of its peo-

Resolved. That this community tender to the heads of his jesty's Government their sympathy in the loss of a colleague, se reputation as head of the Judiciary Department was not fined to the kingdom alone, but was acknowledged with connce and approbation by the representatives of every civilized intry in comity with this.

Resolved, That, recognizing as this community does, the cred character of the grief of her who mourns a bereavement o far greater even than our own, it is with reluctant diffidence hat we approach to offer to her, our heartfelt sympathy and estimony to the virtues and amenities that have rendered her departed husband so generally respected and beloved while

Resolved, That the Secretary of this meeting be instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to his Majesty, and to the idow of the deceased, and that he also furnish copies to the Polynesian and Commercial Advertiser newspaper for publication.

J. C. FARWELL, Secretary.

"Save me from my friends."

SIR:-It has been with mingled feelings of indignation and regret that I have from time to time noticed in the California papers articles on the islands and rulers that should cause a blush to come to the cheek of any gentleman.

The extract in the last week's Commercial, taken from the San Francisco Chronicle, is scarce worthy of notice; and yet, it doubtless does a far deeper amount of injury than the writer ever suspected or thought of. Thought of-I would fain believe that the writer of it did not think, for certainly no candid, thinking person would deliberately write so gross a scurrility, to call it by the mildest term, as that piece appears to me to be.

I have yet to learn that any honest calling disqualifies a person from rising to higher or more important situations, as his abilities may be brought into notice. I doubt not Judge Robertson to this day would not regret the short acquaintance he had with the seafaring portion of the community, although in the forecastle; and the writer happens to know that while there he won and has ever merited the respect and regard of the gentleman who was the captain of the ship. His faithfulness in "little things" has been rewarded by the intrusting of more "weighty matters of the law."

But it was not my intention in this article to detend the Judges. Their names are known, and known but to be respected, save by a disappointed few. My more particular purpose was to bring before the San Francisco press the suicidal policy of their unjust and ungenerous criticisms. Do they forget that this is a young, rising, growing nation. That though there may be mistakes, or faults even, that the best way to remove or correct them is not for outsiders to bring all their powers of ridicule and sarcasm to bear upon the rulers; although it is their practice to abuse and vilify one another and their public men, to decry their government and its officers, to institute selforganized "Vigillance Committees," and consign from a secret tribunal their fellow citizens to an ignominious death, arraying themselves against the regularly constituted authorities, and proceed to the most extreme measures; yet, it is in nowise necessary that they should strain their eyes so far as these islands, to pick flaws. It is true we live under a monarchy; but in no other land is there more safety or better guarantee in the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness. We have confidence in our courts, and a general confidence in the administration of the government; and if the "press" will be a little less free in their generally erroneous strictures on us, we shall

It is not in human nature to sit down patiently under abuse wrongfully charged; and if for no other reason may American residents here use the words at the head of this article, "Save us from our friends," and from the effect that such repeated, uncalled for paragraphs can but tend to create on the part of His Majesty, the Prince and the other members of His Majesty's government against Americans. And I would here remark, that the very correspondents who write the offensive articles referred to or furnish the matter for the journals abroad, are most anxious for the honor of an introduction to the palace and a presentation to the King and his family, if not actually applicants for government favors.

It is to be hoped that this will fall under the notice of San Francisco editors, and that in future they will remember that there are many Americans here whose interests and the interests of their country are in nowise promoted by the course pursued by their unkind and uncalled for aspersions. AMERICUS.

The Fanny Major, Capt. Lawton, arrived from San Francisco on the 6th, bringing New York dates to April 20, and London dates to April 1. A large portion of the mail appears not to have come on by her. Very few English or California papers or letters were received. This is probably owing to her sailing from San Francisco before the entire mail was ready to come forward. It is probable that some vessel wil! touch here before the Yankee, which will not be due

The steamer Erricson arrived at New York April 14, with dates from Liverpool to April 1.

The most interesting item of intelligence is the election news in Great Britain. The election, it is believed, has resulted in the defeat of the conservative or opposition party, and the triumph of Lord Palmer-

The London Times of April 1, says: The elections have already changed the whole face of the political heavens. We are no longer as wwere a fortnight ago, as regards either the Chinese question or a dozen others of much older and nearer interest. People do not now ask who will be in the new Parliament, but exclaim, "What a Parliamen there will be out of doors." The expurgation not only of vicious, but even of some meritorious elements, proceeds almost too rapidly. When the House of Commons meets it will be with the serious consciousness that a great number of its most active and able spirits are discontented exiles, moving heaven and earth, and ready to go lower still to obtain readmission. It will be as in the case of the Celestial Empire besieged by "outer barbarians," or "foreign devils," as the vagrant sympathies of some will entitle them to be called. Outside of the House, agitating. haranguing, writing, plotting, combining, and al but coalescing, will be Cobden, Bright, M. Gibson Miall, and W. J. Fox; there will be Sir J. Walmsley A. Pellatt, Sir W. Clay, Wilkinson, and Oliveira: there will be Layard, and other free knights; there will also be absent Cardwell, Roundell Palmer, the two Phillimore's, Butt, M. Chambers, and a host o others, more or less distinguished, or hoping some day to distinguish the medical —cries for Cobden or M. Gibson, and no Cobden to stand up. His own purge has operated too effectively by half, for he has turned the House out of doors. Like the old.lady in the nursery rhyme, he has sold his bed and now lies upon the straw. In the House

we should think the result will be a little more calmness and decency of discussion, and a little less of that peculiar style of oratory which has recently been imported from "the bright region of the setting sun" into the British House of Commons.

ENGLAND, FRANCE AND CHINA .- A Paris letter says it is now certain that England and France have agreed to act jointly in the China affair. France will furnish twenty thousand troops against England's superior naval force; and England allows France to introduce a clause into the arrangements in favor of the Catholic religion.

THE BRITISH EXPEDITION TO CHINA .- In regard to the British expedition to China the London Globs

"The force about to be concentrated at Hong Kong will consist of two brigades of infantry, composed of the 5th Fusiliers, now on their passage from the Mauritius, the 59th Regiment, now at Hong Kong, the 23d Fusiliers, the 82d, 90th, and 93d Regiments, which will proceed as soon as the shipping arrangements are completed. This force will be further reinforced by four companies of artillery from Woolwich, 1000 marines and 100 men of the Royal Engineers; while in the shape of auxiliary corps, it will be accompanied by one battalion of the military train, and 200 men of the Medical Staff Corps.

The Commander in-Chief will be Major General Ashburnham, C. B., who had command in the Sutlei campaign; he goes out with the rank of Lieutenant-General. The English Admiralty have taken up 80 first-class sailing ships for the conveyance of stores to China, evidently providing for a war of some dura-

United States. MORMONS .- We have no doubt, (says the Washington Star of a late date) that there is positive information in this city that Brigham Young and his crew have burned the United States archives, court records, &c., in Utah territory; that they have demanded the appointment of one of two schedules of federal officers, both headed by Brigham Young for Governor, with the avowal of the purpose of driving any other out of the territory by force of arms. The truth is, the Mormons are already practically in a state of rebellion.

DEAN, THE COACHMAN, TRIUMPHANT .- We last week published an account of the claudestine marriage of John Dean, a coachman, and Miss Mary Ann Boker, the daughter of a millionaire, and the subsequent proceedings of the indignant father. The hearing on the writ of habeas corpus, which Dean sued out against Boker for the release of his (Dean's) wife, took place on Monday, before Justice Davies. The court-room was crowded by a very attentive audience, and great interest was felt in the result by all parties. The medical committee which the Court had appointed to inquire in relation to Miss Boker's mental condition, first reported that she was of perfectly same mind and Judge Davies stated, as the result of a long interview, that "in the course of his life he had met with few ladies of so much intelligence, so much delicacy of feeling and propriety of demeanor, with so strong and deep a sense of the duties which she owed to her parents, and the duties which she owed to her own free-chosen husband." Mr. Edwards, Boker's counsel, presented the grounds of objection to the marriage, and Mr. Spencer, Dean's counsel argued that "the monomania of love" was not sufficient ground for setting aside a marriage, and the Court decided that the parties were capable and free to contract marriage, and that it was therefore valid. Mrs. Dean was, therefore, released by her father, and she and her husband forthwith commenced planning for their future course. It is understood that they decided to go to the country, where Dean will exercise the trade of a carpenter, which he practised before he was a coachman, and where, if necessary, his wife will give lessons in music. THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH .- The Secretary of the Navy has refused the request of the New York Herald, to place reporters on board the Niagara and Mississippi during their cruise to lay the submarine cable from Ireland to Newfoundland. Mr. Toucey says it is against the rule of the department to have passengers on board men-of-war. The British Government has furnished two vessels, and the four are to lay the cables during the month of June.

Hon. Wm. B. Reed, of Philadelphia, has been appointed special Minister to China. The salary of the present Minister to China, as resident Minister, is $9,000. But it is now intended to send an Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, whose legal allowance will be $15,000. Mr. Reed's appointment to that office is very generally approved.

GENERAL PIERCE.—The Washington correspondent of the Exeter News Letter says that General Pierce has had the good sense to avoid extravagance in the Presidential mansion, during his term of office, and the consequence is, he retires with one-half his four years' salary in his pocket-$50,000.

The most succinct description which we have yet seen of the person of the renowned Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, of London, is the following from a letter by an English correspondent of one of our exchanges. The writer calls him-" A short, fat, fresh, round-faced, goodnatured looking youth."

Dr. Startin writes to the Medical Times, that pitting from small pox can be prevented by applying acetum cantharadis, or any vesicating fluid, by means of a camel-hair brush, to the apex of each postule of the disease, until blistering is evidenced.

DECIMAL CURRENCY IN CANADA .-- The Canadian Parliament has passed, an act providing that after the 31st of December next, pounds, shillings, and pence, shall be superseded by dollars and cents.

GRAPE CULTURE IN CALIFORNIA .- The grape culture in California is large and increasing. In ten counties 12,857,225 pounds of grapes were produced last year, and this year the total will be fourteen millions. From this crop the city of Los Angelos makes 150,000 gallons of wine and 6000 gallons of brandy. Geo. W. Kendall, one of the well-known editors and proprietors of the New Orleans Picayune, now resides near New Braunfels, Texas.
