LIBRARY BOOKS FOR HIGH SCHOOLS.

INTRODUCTION.

This list is based on the Minnesota school library list, Books for High Schools, 1913-14. The number of titles has been materially increased to include the suggestions of many high-school teachers, specialists in the Bureau of Education, high-school librarians, public librarians, and commission workers.

The suggestions and demands of teachers of special departments for comprehensive lists on particular subjects have been somewhat insistent, and the result is that some divisions, notably agriculture, are out of proportion to the rest of the list.

The effort has been to provide a thoroughly standard list of tested books for a foundation library, to include as much fresh material as possible, and to suggest books of interest and value to pupils of the high-school age. Some of the titles given are felt to be rather advanced for such use. They are included at the suggestion of experienced teachers and doubtless with the guidance of such teachers are valuable for reference.

The list is planned to be of general usefulness, but schools will wish to supplement it for purely local material. More titles of general interest are included than are needed in a high-school library in a town where there is a good public library, and where the high-school library may properly be limited to books commonly used in connection with the work and life of the school. Many towns with high schools are lacking in adequate public library facilities, and the high-school library must provide books for home reading.

Arrangement of the list.—The list is classified according to a modification of the Dewey decimal classification, differing from the Minnesota List, 1913-14, in being more detailed. For the most part, the second summary of the Dewey decimal classification is used. For divisions in which the schools are apt to have many books, or where the use indicates subdivisions, more detailed classification is given. In adapting this classification to a particular school, having a considerable collection of books, comparison with the abridged decimal classification is recommended.

After due consideration of classification adaptations used in high-school libraries, experience in organization of high-school libraries, and consultation with librarians, the public library practice of arranging biography as a separate class has been adopted.

In Class 921, Individual Biography, the list is arranged alphabetically by the name of the person about whom the book is written, the name of the author following.

To assist in the organization of the libraries a group of books has been added under library economy.

Classification outlines follow the Introduction.

Editions.—The best book for the least money is the usual criterion for inclusion in a school library list. Many cheap editions are listed here, but not always the cheapest in price, when the book was felt to be decidedly inferior in appearance, paper, and typography. A number of titles formerly available in good cheap editions can no longer be obtained in this form and must now be quoted in the original editions. Some fine editions are included for reference and library use, with a cheaper edition for home reading. Library bindings are specified for all books listed in Everyman's Library. The additional cost of this edition, as compared with the trade edition, is slight and is an obvious saving when the difference in wear is considered.

Prices.—List prices only are given. These have been verified repeatedly, but owing to unsettled business conditions at the time of publication, are subject to change. Since the copy for this list was prepared the prices of all books in Dutton's Everyman's Library (library binding), Houghton's Riverside Biographical Series, and Holt's Home University Library have advanced from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Annotations.—Very brief descriptive annotations are given. These are, in the main, adapted from the A. L. A. catalogue and the A. L. A. Book-list.

Library of Congress card numbers.—A new feature of this list is the addition of order numbers for Library of Congress catalogue cards. These are given to aid the high-school librarians who have few or no bibliographical aids. When sending in orders in the form of card numbers taken from this list it is suggested that a brief note to that effect be given at head of order, e. g. "From Bu. Ed. Bull. 41." In a small percentage of cases the cards obtained from such orders will be for different editions, but the variation is usually slight and the card can be adapted by making slight changes in MS. The number given following the slanting line indicates the minimum number of cards needed in cataloguing the books. Further information should be obtained from the Library of Congress before sending first order.

Subject headings.—In the assignment of subject headings care must be taken to insure uniformity in the use of terms. The headings which are given on the Library of Congress cards should be compared with the A. L. A. List of Subject Headings, or with the Subject

Index to the A. L. A. Book-list and the Mann A. L. A. Headings for Juvenile Catalogues. Subject headings for agricultural bulletins should be verified with the Agricultural Index, published by the H. W. Wilson company, White Plains, N. Y.

The following suggestive outline for classification for high-school libraries includes more divisions than are used in this list:

MAGAZINES.

Magazines are a useful adjunct to the school library, but by no means take the place of good books. For the convenience of teachers and school librarians the following list is reprinted from Teaching, v. 3, no. 2, Dec. 15, 1916.

MAGAZINES FOR TEACHERS AND SCHOOL LIBRARIES.

Compiled by W. H. KERR, Librarian, Kansas State Normal School, Emporia.

[Publishers' list prices are quoted. Apply to any bookseller or magazine agent for "club" prices if you subscribe to more than one periodical. Some of the notes below are from a list published by the Newark Public Library.]

Agricultural index. Bi-mo. Write publishers, H. W. Wilson Co., New York, N. Y., for price, giving list of periodicals your library receives. An invaluable aid in discovering useful agricultural material.

American cookery. Mo. $1.50 per year. Boston, Mass. Formerly the Boston Cooking School magazine.

American Library Association booklist. Mo. $1. Chicago. Dependable list and annotations of current books in all fields.

American penman. Mo. $1. New York. Useful in penmanship work.

American physical education review. Mo. $3. Springfield, Mass. Athletics as a school subject, hygiene, recreation.

American school. Mo. $1.50. Milwaukee. "For those who organize, administer, and supervise."

- American school board journal. Mo. $2. Milwaukee. Administration of schools, medical inspection, supplies, furniture.
- Atlantic educational journal. Mo. $1.25. Baltimore. Methods, pageantry, plans, news.
- Atlantic monthly. Mo. $4. Boston. Of real value in school work, because of its high and sensible standard for essay and story.
- Aus Nah und Fern. Qr. 50 cents. Chicago. Useful for teaching German.
- Bird lore. Bi-mo. $1. Harrisburg, Pa. Study and protection of birds.
- Boys' life. Mo. $1. New York. Official Boy Scouts magazine. Wholesome.
- Breeders' gazette. W. $1. Chicago. Useful wherever agriculture is taught.
- Business educator. Mo. $1. (Teachers' ed.) Columbus, Ohio. Suggestive for general commercial work.
- Catholic educational review. Mo. $3. Washington, D. C. General articles and news of Catholic schools.
- Century magazine. Mo. $4. New York. Pupils should become acquainted with periodicals of this type.
- Classical journal. Mo. $2.50. Chicago. Especially valuable for Latin in the high school.
- Country gentleman. W. $1. Philadelphia. Makes agriculture and country life popular. Children will read it.
- Current events. W. 40 cents. Chicago. Useful summary.
- Current history magazine. Mo. $3. New York Times.

2-21123/4
362. Thurston, R. H. History of the growth of the steam engine. 4th ed. Appleton. $2.50
4-18023/2
363. Watson, William. Textbook of practical physics. Longmans. $3
A comprehensive account, with careful explanation of difficult points. Pittsburgh. 7-38560/2
- CLASS NO. 540. CHEMISTRY. MINERALOGY.
364. Bailey, E. H. S. Textbook of sanitary and applied chemistry; or, The chemistry of water, air, and food. 4th rev. ed. Macmillan. $1.60
17-13814/3
365. Brownlee, R. B., and others. Chemistry of common things. Allyn. $1.50
Material designed for first courses in industrial, technical, and agricultural schools, and for domestic science courses. 15-94/3
366. Dana, E. S. Minerals and how to study them. Wiley. $1.50
4-5625/3
367. Duncan, R. K. Chemistry of commerce. Harper. $2
Describes the application to various manufactures, and to the artificial production of substances used in making medicines, perfumes, and fertilizers. A. L. A. 7-31986/2
368. ——— Some chemical problems of to-day. Harper. $2
Untechnical discussion of work in industrial research. A. L. A. 11-26192/3
369. Hampson, W. Radium explained. Dodd. $0.50
Popular account of the relations to the natural world, to scientific thought, and to human life. Title. 5-19542/3
370. Jones, H. C. Introduction to physical chemistry. Macmillan. $1.60
Brief treatment, avoiding calculus as far as possible. Chapter on solutions. Pittsburgh. 10-2957/2

371. Kahlenberg, Louis, and Hart, E. B. Chemistry and its relation to daily life. Macmillan. $1.25
Textbook for students of agriculture and home economics in secondary schools. 13-1359/2
372. Newth, G. S. Chemical lecture experiments: nonmetallic elements. Longmans. $2 2-26236/2
373. Ostwald, Wilhelm. Conversations on chemistry. 2 v. Wiley. v. 1, $1.50; v. 2, $2
CONTENTS: v. 1, General chemistry. v. 2, Chemistry of the most important elements and compounds. 5-1485/3
374. ——— and Morse, H. W. Elementary modern chemistry. Ginn. $1
Very elementary in treatment, presenting only the simpler laws and illustrating them with simple experiments and good diagrams. A. L. A. 9-17555/3
375. Philip, J. C. Romance of modern chemistry. Lippincott. (Romance series) $1.50
Gives applications to everyday life and modern industries. A. L. A. W9-331/3
376. Sadtler, S. S. Chemistry of familiar things. 2d rev. ed. Lippincott. $2
Treats of light, heat, air and ventilation, water, alkalies and salts, metals, gold and silver, soil, food, fermentation, soaps, paper, leather, and glass. 16-9686/2
377. Smith, Alexander. Introduction to general inorganic chemistry. Century. $2.60
Modern textbook on general chemistry for advanced students. A. L. A. 6-7325/2
378. Snell, J. F. Elementary household chemistry. Macmillan. $1.25
Introductory textbook for students of home economics. Title. 14-12159/4
379. Snyder, Harry. Chemistry of plant and animal life. 3d ed. Macmillan. $1.50
Agricultural chemistry. 13-18777/2
380. Spencer, L. J. World's minerals. Stokes. $2.75
Important minerals, their practical uses, importance as ores, and as precious and semi-precious stones. Colored reproductions. A. L. A. 17-2691/3
381. Thorp, F. H. Outlines of industrial chemistry. 3d ed. Macmillan. $3.75
Includes a chapter on metallurgy by C. D. Demond.
A technical treatise dealing with those manufactures which involve chemical processes. Useful to the student of home economics. Berry. 16-12396/3
382. Vulté, H. T. Household chemistry for the use of students in household arts. Chemical pub. $1.50 17-19178/3

CLASS NO. 550, 551. GEOLOGY. PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

(See also Class 380.)

383. Chamberlin, T. C., and Salisbury, B. D. College textbook of geology. Holt. (American science series: advanced course) $3.50
Adapted to general reading and profusely illustrated with maps, diagrams, and photographs. A. L. A. 9-21992/2
384. Dryer, C. R. W. High school geography, physical, economic, and regional. Amer. bk. $1.30
