EMMIT CARPENTER

BY TOMMY SLETTEN

Emmit Carpenter has never met another Emmit.

He has met individuals with the name Emmett or Emmitt, but he has never met anyone with the same spelling as his. Believe it or not, Carpenter was actually named after his father, Tim.

"His childhood nickname was Timmy, and of course they spelled it T-i-m-m-y," said Carpenter. "But, my parents loved the name Emmit. They wanted to spell it a unique way and wanted to get it close to Timmy. So Emmit spelled backwards is T-i-m-m-e. It's just a cool connection to have with my dad."

Carpenter's connection with his father runs deeper than just a name. The all-time Gopher leader in field goal conversion rate began kicking when he was a freshman in high school. However, there was one problem. Unlike some kickers, Carpenter did not come from a soccer background and knew almost nothing about kicking.

What Carpenter did have was raw talent. As a freshman he crushed his first ever kickoff attempt and was hand-selected as a kicker. He was quickly moved up to varsity the following year.

Since that fateful day of being surprisingly named the team's kicker, Carpenter and his father have been a dynamic duo when it comes to the art of kicking

"Eight years ago when I first started kicking, my dad would watch videos and read everything about kicking so he could teach me how to kick," Carpenter said. "Through his hard work and dedication he became my kicking coach."

Carpenter honed his craft on the football field at Ashwaubenon High School near his hometown of Green Bay, Wis. It was during those long summer hours where he began to develop into the kicker that he is today. He received help from both his father and his mother, Laura, whom he affectionately calls "the best ball-shagger in the country."

That hard work and tutelage from his parents has paid off, as few have done it better than Carpenter at Minnesota. Carpenter has been Minnesota's starting kicker since his sophomore year, when he was named the top kicker in the Big Ten. That year, he totaled 109 points, which is tied for the most in school history by a kicker. He has made 36-of-44 career field goals and has been unfazed on the road, as he has made 13 of 14 attempts away from home.

Consistency and keeping your cool under pressure are two traits that every great kicker needs, and those are two traits that Carpenter also learned from his father. This time through their other passion: golf.

"There are so many similar things between hitting a golf ball and kicking a football," Carpenter said. "Whether you're playing 18-holes of golf or kicking on Saturdays, you have to take every single rep one at a time. If you're on the tee box, you can't be thinking about your putt, which is the same thing for me on the football field. If I'm kicking a field goal in the first quarter, I can't be thinking about if I have to kick a field goal in the fourth quarter. All you can think about it is the current rep at that moment."

PAYTON JORDAHL

BY TOMMY SIFTTEN

Payton Jordahl knows he's going to be a pro one way or another.

The senior specialist has snapped 389 times at Minnesota since 2015. He has been nearly flawless on the field and has made a positive impact on the Gophers' special teams play. However, it's his work off the field that may leave an even more positive impact on the community.

Jordahl has already graduated with a degree in youth studies and is working on his master's degree in youth development leadership. He has a passion working with today's youth and strives to leave a meaningful impact with them.

"I want to go pro in that," said Jordahl. "I'm going to work on going pro in football, but if pro football doesn't work out for me, I will have a degree to fall back on, and that's youth development and leadership, which basically helps young people live life."

Working on his master's degree, Jordahl also can be found in afterschool programs with kids in the community. He takes pride in helping them, but he also uses the experiences to learn more about himself and his life.

"I learn a lot from them," he said. "It's not just me teaching them, it's me learning. When you see a young person that you start working with and they may not be going in the right direction, you do some stuff with them and build a relationship with them. Then you begin to see their life turning around. You learn so much from those young kids."

For Jordahl, working with youth is his calling. His positive attitude and caring persona are what enable him to turn small talk into conversation and help him influence a young person's life. It's also made him the man he is today.

"I've never really had an 'aha moment', but you get the enjoyment in little slivers," Jordahl said "But when I sit back and reflect on the work that I've done I can see the different lives that I've changed. And If I've changed a bunch of different lives just a little bit, made a minute of an impact on a child's life, then that makes me smile."

Jordahl hails from Perham, Minn., a town 180 miles northwest of the Twin Cities and one known for its strong community and beautiful lakes. Jordahl grew up an avid fisherman, even going as far as having a mount for his fishing rod on his bike so he could get a quick cast in at any time.

For Jordahl, being able to follow his passion of working with youth and being able to represent his hometown and the state of Minnesota is the perfect mix.

"It's surreal," said Jordahl. "In my area, even though it's in Minnesota, a lot of kids go to North Dakota State or North Dakota, but I always knew I wanted to go to the University of Minnesota," Jordahl said. "So I took a leap of faith. I went into the big city and I was a little over my head at first, but I adapted and made relationships. It's an amazing area, and it's an honor to represent the U."

P.J. (Philip John) Fleck was named head football coach at the University of Minnesota on January 6, 2017. Fleck is the 30th head coach in the program's history.

Fleck led a young and inexperienced Gopher squad in 2017, as 49 of Minnesota's 110 players (44.5%) were freshmen or redshirt freshmen and 76 (69%) were underclassmen. Fleck guided Minnesota to a 5-7 record and those five wins were the most by a first-year Gopher head coach new to the program since the legendary Murray Warmath won seven games in 1954.

Fleck won his Gopher debut against Buffalo, which made him the school's first head coach to win his debut since John Gutekunst in 1986 (before Fleck, Minnesota's six most recent head coaches all lost their first game). Minnesota then posted a dominating 48-14 win at Oregon State, which made Fleck the first Gopher coach to win a true road opener since 1954 when Warmath and the Gophers won 46-7 at Pittsburgh.

Minnesota's 34-point win at Oregon State was the Gophers' 10th-largest margin of victory in a road game since 1920 and largest since 2006. The 48 points were the most the Gophers scored on the road since they beat Northwestern 49-21 in 1980.

Minnesota posted three 30-point wins in 2017, as it beat Oregon State by 34, Nebraska by 33 and Middle Tennessee by 31. The last time Minnesota won three games by 30 points in the same season was 2005 when it started the year with three straight with three straight 30-point wins. The Gophers beat Nebraska 54-21 in Fleck's first season. The 54 points were the most hat the Gophers scored in a Big Ten game since they beat Indiana 63-26 in 2006. The 54 points were the 14th most scored by Minnesota since 1946 and the fifth-most against a Big Ten opponent in the same timeframe.

Off the field, Fleck and his team can often be found at the University of Minnesota Masonic Children's Hospital and gave back to the community by hosting a diaper drive, canned food drive and turkey drive this year. In the classroom, Minnesota has posted program record GPAs under Fleck.

Fleck came to Minnesota after spending four years as the head coach at Western Michigan, where he was 30-22 overall and 21-11 in the Mid-American Conference. While leading the Broncos, Fleck authored one of the most memorable turnarounds in college football history. The Broncos were 1-11 in his first year in 2013, but ended the 2016 season with a No. 12 ranking, a 13-1 record, a conference championship and a berth in the Cotton Bowl.

The Broncos were 12-0 in the 2016 regular season and posted wins against Big Ten opponents Northwestern and Illinois. Fleck then led his team to a 29-23 win against Ohio in the Mid-American Conference championship game before ending the season with a narrow bowl game defeat to Wisconsin.

Fleck, 37, is one the youngest and brightest minds in the game. He was named MAC Coach of the Year in 2014 and 2016 and last season he led the Broncos to their first MAC Championship since 1988.

Earning FBS Region 3 Coach of the Year from the American Football Coaches Association, Fleck was also named a finalist for the Eddie Robinson Award and the George Munger Award after Western Michigan became the first team in MAC history to win each of its eight league games by 14 or more points.

Fleck turned Western Michigan into a pipeline for the NFL as well. In 2016, the Broncos had Willie Beavers (121st overall to the Minnesota Vikings) and Daniel Braverman (230th overall to Chicago) taken in the NFL Draft.

In the 2017, Fleck saw three of his former players selected from Western Michigan in Corey Davis (fifth overall to the Tennessee Titans), Taylor Moton (64th overall to Carolina) and Keion Adams (248th overall to Pittsburgh). Davis, who was the first Consensus All-American in Western Michigan history, caught 91 passes for 1,427 yards and 18 touchdowns in 2016. He ended his career with 5,212 yards in four seasons, which makes him the Football Bowl Subdivision all-time career receiving record holder. Davis joined Randy Moss as the only Mid-American Conference receiver to be drafted in the first round. In 2018, WMU had Chukwuma Okorafor (92nd overall to Pittsburgh) and Darius Phillios (170th to Cincinnati) drafted.

Off the field, Western Michigan had a program-record seven studentathletes named to the 2016 MAC Distinguished Scholar Athlete team and the team posted a 3.14 program GPA in Fleck's last semester at the school.

Prior to his time at Western Michigan, Fleck served as the wide receivers coach for the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2012 and coached the receivers at Rutgers from 2010-11. He coached receivers and was the recruiting coordinator at Northern Illinois in 2009 and tutored the receivers for the Huskies from 2007-08. Fleck's coaching career began at Ohio State as a graduate assistant in 2006.

Fleck played receiver at Northern Illinois from 1999-2003 and helped lead the Huskies to a No. 10 ranking, a 10-2 record and wins against Maryland, Alabama and lowa State in his final season. He ranks in the top five in Northern Illinois history in career receptions (179) and receiving yards (2,162). Fleck holds the school record for punt returns (87) and ranks second in punt return yards (716). He earmed First Team All-Mid-American Conference in 2003 and was named Academic All-MAC and Second Team Academic All-American. He graduated in 2004 with a degree in elementary education.

Fleck played the 2004-05 seasons with the NFL's San Francisco 49ers. He signed with the 49ers as a free agent in 2004 and spent most of his time on the practice squad before seeing action against New England late in the season. He spent the 2005 season on the injured reserve roster and in 2006 he stopped playing professionally and started his coaching career.

Fleck and Michigan's Jim Harbaugh are the only Power Five conference coaches who both played and coached in the NFL. Fleck, Harbaugh and East Carolina's Scottie Montgomery are the only coaches in the FBS who have played and coached in the NFL.

Fleck and his wife, Heather, have four children, Gavin, Carter, Paisley (P.J.) and Harper.

LEADERSHIP

IINIVERSITY PRESIDENT

DR. ERIC KALER

Since taking office in 2011, President Eric Kaler has focused on core priorities: academic excellence, affordability, diversity and a welcoming and respectful campus climate, a world-class research enterprise that aligns with the needs of the citizens and industries of Minnesota, and a deep commitment to public engagement and outreach, locally and globally.

Kaler is chair of the NCAA Division I Board of Directors; past chair of the Big Ten Council of Presidents and Chancellors; and a former member of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Academic Advisory Council. He also co-founded Generation Next, a coalition of civic, business, and education leaders united to close the achievement and opportunity gaps in Minneapolis and St. Paul.

His Operational Excellence initiative has reallocated over $90 million in administrative costs to teaching, research, and public engagement. The strategic planning process he led with the Twin Cities Campus community has created new classes and research opportunities focused on understanding and solving society's grand challenges. Mn-DRIVE, which he launched in partnership with the Minnesota Legislature, has so far leveraged $200 million in new external research funding to support more than 200 research projects involving nearly 1,000 researchers.

President Kaler earned his Ph.D. in chemical engineering from the University of Minnesota in 1982. For his seminal research in "complex fluids," which have applications in drug delivery, food processing, pharmaceuticals, and manufacturing, he was elected to the National Academy of Engineering in 2010 and named a Charter Fellow of the National Academy of Inventors in 2013. In 2014, he was named a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in two categories, for his work both as a chemical engineer and as a higher education administrator.

Before returning to the University as president, Kaler served as provost and senior vice president for academic affairs at Stony Brook University in Stony Brook, New York, and before that as dean of the University of Delaware's College of Engineering. He also taught at the University of Washington. He earned his undergraduate degree from the California Institute of Technology in 1978.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

MARK COYLE

Mark Coyle became the University of Minnesota's athletics director in May 2016. A former athletic administrator at Minnesota from 2001 to 2005, he returned to Gopher Athletics after serving as athletics director at Syracuse University and Boise State University and Boise State University at the University of Kentucky.

As Coyle enters his third year as the Gophers' AD, there is a lot of celebrate.

Gopher student-athletes have recorded some of the highest grade-point averages in school history under his watch. The current cumulative GPA for Gopher student-athletes is 3.24, tying the highest mark in department history. The 92 percent graduation success rate for Gopher student-athletes is the highest it has ever been and the best among all Big Ten public schools. In the past academic year (2017-18), a record number of Gophers were recognized as Academic All-Big Ten.

Minnesota has also excelled in competition, winning 11 conference titles during the first two years of Coyle's tenure as AD. Those titles have come from seven different programs, from baseball and track and field, to hockey and soccer. Minnesota finished 19th in last year's Learfield Directors' Cup race, which measures broad-based success across all programs. That puts Minnesota in the top seven percent of all Division I athletics departments in the country.

This type of success isn't new to Coyle. While at Syracuse, two of his programs won national titles and five won ACC championships. Prior to that, at Boise State, 18 Broncos teams posted record GPAs on the way to claiming 12 conference championships.

Coyle played football for Drake University, where he graduated with a bachelor's degree in English in 1991. He earned his master's degree in teaching from Drake in 1992 and a master's degree in sports administration from Florida State University in 1993.

Coyle and his wife Krystan have three children, Grace, Nicholas and Benjamin and live in St. Paul.
