

Hannover July 29. 1706

Sir

I take the opportunity of the Quarterly Messengers sitting off this evening to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's gracious Letter of the 14th which came safely to my hands this morning What you are pleas'd to say about my Brothers appears to me to be perfectly just. By the last letter which I received from Colonel Malhotie, every thing seems to go on in the best manner possible, and Adolphus appears to have gain'd the hearts of every Body at Göttingen. Colonel Wangerheim has inform'd me that the transports to your Majesty according to your order the Account of the debts which my Brother

088A
Edward made during the stay at Lunenburg he I am afraid that they will appear to Your Majesty unless I think it but justice to Wangerheim, for me to assure you Sir, that he never had the least knowledge of them and indeed it would have been difficult for him or for any of these gentlemen to have been acquainted with it as people were so very absurd as to give Edward credit to any amount that he pleased, and even to offer him to lend them as much money as he wanted. So that till Wangerheim had your Majesty's order to get the list together of them towards their being paid, he could not form to himself ever an idea about it. I take the liberty to enclose to Your Majesty a report which Colonel Dun has drawn up concerning the new invented scaling saddles which has improved even beyond any body's expectations. I have ^{been} informed by General Foy that just to hunt, to delivered on that the

to have a opportunity pleased to
It
and your been so good Bishoprick
any person presumption may I have it by a rep pleasure, es
I am to be sent, to Your Majesty, as the last Firelocks which have been delivered out to the different Regiments have proved to be that the Liberty of War and the Field Marshal has expressed to have a new Model made. If You would not take this opportunity to order the Model which You have been pleased to approve of for the Light Troops ^{Infantry} to be adopted.

It is now three Years since I have been of Age and Your Majesty's Minister Monsieur de Buzaki has been so good as to assist me in managing the affairs of the Bishoprick, without my having as yet ever made them any present, I therefore now ask Your Majesty's permission to do it, of this Bishops, Sir, with Your approbation.
 I humbly beg Your Majesty to signant them with it by a receipt, as it certainly ^{will} give them their due pleasure, as he is not in the least informed of my intention I am assured Your Majesty will already be kind by this long Letter I shall therefore conclude by entreating You not to quit Your Duty to the Queen and by signing myself

I am

Your Majesty's

Obedient Son and Subject

Frederick.

Prussia
Berlin
July 21. 1706

Carlton House
21 July - 1786

AA

The Prince of Wales

43805

My dear Frederick,

I send you this by way of recommending to your particular attention Lord Belgrave an intimate acquaintance of mine, & who I am sure you will like as he is really a very charming young Man, he is son to Lord Grosvenor. I shall write to you every thing else he has said concerning my welfare & quite at length, as I now think I am perfectly at liberty to speak out to you the true feelings of my Heart. Adieu my dearest Brother,

Carlton House.

July 24.

1786.

ever affectionately Yours

George C.

43806-7

Hannover August 11. 1786

Sir

I want words to express to Your Majesty my thanks for Your very great goodness in acquainting me Yourself with the dread full attempt which has been made upon Your life. It is more easy to conceive than to describe what I felt in reading it. Good God my blood was quite cold at the very idea of it.
It certainly is a most signal favor of Providence to us all that Your Majesty has escaped so unmeditated a design.

Permit me Sir, at the same time to return Your Majesty my thanks for Your graciousness in permitting Your 30882 Messieurs Monsieur de Buzols to accept a present from me, the Poor Man is at present exceedingly afflicted having had the misfortune to lose his wife, when he was exceedingly fond of last Sunday, ^{she} ~~the~~ certainly is likewise a great loss to the whole town, as she was vastly civil and tried to render that house agreeable to every body. Yesterday the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall ~~pass~~ ^{came} through here on their way to Brunswick to which place they proceeded on their journey this morning, I had the honor of making their acquaintance last year at Berlin. The Duke is ~~supposed~~ ^{above} to be said, he does not appear to be naturally of a bad character but having had the misfortune to pass seven and twenty years in exile in Siberia, his Temper has been very much swayed, he however is exceedingly improved since his Commerce with his present Duchess, who is just turned of twenty very handsome, and whose character and conversation is vastly small and agreeable Having nothing

Your Majesty
without a gain and prudent may show head, and many many omit and appeal.

Having nothing in particular to add I will not trouble Your Majesty with a longer letter I am not however concluded without again repeating Sir, my joy at the very fortunate and providential issue which you have had, that Heaven may shower down its choicest blessings upon Your Majesty's Head, and may preserve you to us and to your People for many many Years are the constant prayers of Sir,

Your Majesty's

Most dutiful Son
 and Subject

Frederick

170383

Dear Sir

I have the pleasure to inform you that the proceedings of the Court of Sessions in the case of the late James O'Connell Esq have been concluded and the same are now ready for perusal at the office of the Clerk of the Court.

I am, Sir, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
James O'Connell Esq
Clerk of the Court of Sessions

James O'Connell
August 11. 1706

I have the pleasure to inform you that the
proceedings of the Court of Sessions in the
case of the late James O'Connell Esq
have been concluded and the same are
now ready for perusal at the office of the Clerk of the Court.

43808-9

Mannover September 2. 1708

Sir

I have to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's very gracious Letter of the 22^d which the Messengers delivered to me last Wednesday Your Majesty does me but justice in being convinced that I spoke the sentiments of my Heart upon Your late most providential escape I feel in the very thought to answer every thing that I owe to You Sir, as to my Father and to my King, and if any thing could ^{possibly} ~~be~~ augment my Attachment, tis the goodness and affection with which You have been pleas'd at all times to treat me and what I shall ever be my self pleas'd to deserve.

I am most exceedingly rejoic'd to hear

8088A. 43809
That poor Elizabeth is some what recovered of the great attack of her old complaint, and I trust by this time that she is quite reestablished, but these continued returns of so very serious a disorder, do not I confess alarm her a little.

I have been desired by the Grand Marshall to speak to Your Majesty concerning a proposal which I believe he has already made to You, Sir, to make Edward inhabit the Castle instead of the Fairy Castle. The Fairy Castle though some what repaired for Edwards reception, yet is so very bad that 'tis impossible to live there during the Winter in its present state. It is at the same time so very old and decayed that it is very dangerous to do any thing to it, lest the whole should 43809 of the ~~castle~~, down, besides it would be infinitely more convenient for every reason for Edward if Your Majesty would be pleas'd to allow them to inhabit the Castle.

Having nothing in particular to add, I will not trespass longer upon Your Majesty's leisure I shall therefore conclude by entreating You, Sir to give my duty to the Queen, and by signing my self, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
And Subject

Frederick

Prince Frederick
Sept 2 1706

43810-1

Wannover Sept: 12 1708

Sir

Permit me to return Your Majesty my most humble thanks for Your two very gracious Letters of the 29, as well as for the Confidence which You have been pleas'd to place in me in communicating to me the Letters which have pass'd between You and my Brother, in this most unhappy Difference, I have read them over with the greatest attention, and can not help saying, How griev'd I am that the Prince of Wales has allow'd himself to be perswaded by some evil designing people, to act in a

438
438 banned so very contrary to the duty and affection which had proposed he owes to Your Majesty both as his Father and his would be King, and to conscience so strangely, the very graces only escape offers, which are held out to them in every one of Your these two Majesty's Letters, At the same time I can not express which to how much I was shocked at hearing, that, when he himself, was at Windsor after Your Majesty's most providential every day escape, he had declined the Honor of being Gen Sir, most excellent which You had in so handsome a manner offered. But as well as I will not add more upon a Subject which must to go the naturally be so painful to Your Majesty, and Majesty to every one, who is so sincerely attached to You, Sir in particular and to the whole family, as myself. I am exceedingly will a la-happy that Your Majesty has been pleased to conclude approve of the two Officers whom Colonel Malherbe 43811 which had proposed to be placed about my Brothers. I believe it would be impossible to put two proper men out, the only reason which hindered Malherbe from proposing these two Gentlemen before, was a too great delicacy which he had of proposing anyone so near allied to himself, least he should be suspected of partiality Every Account which I receive from Göttingen, is most exceedingly pleasing and every thing goes on full well. But as well as can be expected, I mean in a few days to go there myself in order to be able to give Your Majesty a more exact account. Having nothing in particular to add I will not trouble Your Majesty with a longer letter, at present I shall therefore conclude by signing myself

Sir

Your Majesty's
Most Obedient Son
and Subject Frederick

1788A

From Brunswick

September 12 1706

[Faint, mostly illegible cursive handwriting covering the majority of the page]

43812.3

Hannover Sept: 22 1706

Sir

I hope Your Majesty will not be displeas'd with me for troubling You upon a Subject, which I have hitherto forborne to touch upon, but which I have nevertheless had very much at heart. It is now near six Years, since I left my native Country, and have been deprived of the pleasure of seeing Your Majesty, and the Queen, and the rest of my family, I flatter myself, therefore, that Your Majesty will not be surpris'd at my expressing a very natural impatience to obtain Your permission to return to England, Every reason in the World induces ~~me not to delay~~ any longer making this request to Your Majesty, the first and principal one of which, is the great desire I have to see You, Sir, and to assure You in person, how sensible I am of the numberless marks of favours, which You have been pleased to confer upon me, and to express my warmest thanks for Your great goodness towards me upon all occasions. I should likewise wish very much to join my Regiment, and to leave the management of the service, which Your Majesty in one of Your letters to me upon a late Subject, so strongly recommended to me, and which it is absolutely necessary for every Officer to study, and to get acquainted with, in the early part of his service, and Your Majesty will agree, that I can learn it no where so properly, as with my own Regiment, and in the Army, in which

 and I to say above having and that
 Your
 according which I am to serve, with whose Trade of Discipline, and Manner of carrying on the Service, I am ashamed to say I am so little acquainted.

I hope Your Majesty will think the above reasons of sufficient weight to excuse my having taken the liberty of troubling You with them, and that You will be pleased to take them into Your consideration, and favour me with Your answer accordingly.

I have the honor to be,

Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Frederick

[Faint, illegible handwriting on aged paper]

Prima Prædix

September 22. 1706

AA

Letter to the B. of Wales
Sept 26 1788
90

[date on letter]

43814

Hannover Sept 25 1788

Dear Brother

I have many thanks to return you for your last kind letter by Lord Belgrave who arrived here on Thursday I thank him a very agreeable young man, and have done every thing in my power according to your desire ^{to take the plan as agreeable to you as possible} ~~to be sent to you~~. I hope you will be the judge to believe that it is not through any want of affection towards you that I have hitherto remained silent upon a subject which touches for every reason to very different ^{with us to} ~~the~~ touch upon, and as ~~you have not~~ ~~as~~ ~~of~~ ~~your~~ ~~letter~~ I am at to very great a distance it is impossible for me to form any exact judgement about it, I can not however help saying that I am profoundly sorry that of New Orleans

things are gone to sea, and that you have thought ^{you} yourself obliged to take so very publick a step. I suppose that by this time your Number is begun. We have already had some very good ones, the second which ~~sent~~ our friend Lata has sent me was one most excellent, and the next you incorporated well, having nothing particular to add. I will not trouble you with a longer Letter ^{at present} I shall therefore only beg you to look after and to believe me most sincerely yours
Dear Brother

Most affectionately Yours
Frederick

The Duke of York

AA

to

The Prince of Wales

Sept. 26. 1706

Hannover Sept 26 1706

43815

Dear Brother

I have many thanks
to return you for your last kind letter by Lord Belgrave who arrived here on Thursday. I think them a very agreeable young man, and have done every thing in my power according to your desire to render the place as agreeable ^{to them} as possible. I hope you will do me the justice to believe that it is not through any want of affection towards you that I have hitherto remained silent upon a subject which must for every reason be very disagreeing to both of us to touch upon, as I am at so very great a distance, it is impossible for me to form any exact Judgement about it. I can not however help saying that I am most sincerely sorry that things are gone so far and that you have thought that the situation of your affairs obliged you to take so very publick a Step

I suppose that by this time Gen Manning is begun. We have already had some very good runs, the Hounds which our friend Lake has sent me are most excellent, and Hermsel goes incomparably well.

As I have nothing in particular to add I will not trouble you with a longer Letter at present I shall therefore only beg you to write often and to believe me most sincerely ever

Dear Brother

Most Affectionately Yours

Frederick

43816 7

Hammer October 6 1786

Sir

I take the opportunity of the Quarterly Congresses setting off this evening to acquaint Your Majesty that I intend on Monday to make a short tour to Göttingen and Capel and on my return to pass through Brunswick, It was my intention to have made this little excursion last month, but as the Landgrave of Capel was then absent from Capel taking a view of the Country of Schaumburg I was obliged to delay my journey till his return. I do not mean to be absent ten days upon this whole tour. I have no doubt that I shall be able to give Your Majesty the most agreeable account of the manner in which I shall have found every thing at Göttingen. By what I

1852
43
Sigs. Inyff

have been told by a person who came lately from Göttingen and who certainly would not flatter, it is astonishing what progress they have all these made, but particularly Adolphus who is quite the favourite of every body there, and indeed of what he said is true, which I have no reason to doubt most deservedly. I hope your Majesty has better weather in England than we have had otherwise it will be impossible for you to hunt in the forest, for these last few weeks we have had continual rains, so that in many places the harvest is still out, and must be completely spoiled this is the second year that this country has had the same misfortune.

Having nothing particular to add I will not trouble longer upon your Majesty's business I shall therefore only entreat you to give my Duty to the Queen and

1854 and hab.
Adolphus and intended doubt weather miserable breaks
of places of spots
the same all well to therefore
and 43817

Sigs. Myself
Sw.

Yours a Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
and Subject

Frederick

1381

Princess Alexandra
October 6. 1906

AA 1786-7?

The Duke of York
to
The Prince of Wales

43818

Dear Brother

I am not at the Post yet without making you my excuses for not having sent you by the last Courier the letter which I promised you, but as I was at Brunsvic at the time that he set out it was impossible for me to do it. You may however depend upon it that I shall come to do it as soon as I can. I am Dear Brother Your sincere Friend
Frederick

P.S. I forgot to add that I had to beg you to correct a sword some thing in the style of the Dutchess Hansard that I had just before I set out. but not help so fine Adieu

The Duke of York

AA

to

The Prince of Wales

April 27. 1707

43819

Dear Brother

As I am thoroughly convinced of Your affection and how glad You will be about meeting again I can not help taking the first opportunity to acquaint You briefly that the King has consented to my returning home and has ordered me to be in England towards the beginning of August. It is not necessary I should to express to You the joy which I feel at this permission, and the impatience with which I wait for the time of seeing all my friends and relations again after so very long an absence, and particularly You, Brother, well when I was from my childhood brought up and who always gave me such proofs of ^{your} affection;

I shall set out about the middle of May for Berlin and Potsdam in order to take leave of the King of Prussia, and shall employ most of the time which I shall be so near in Germany, in taking leave of the different Princes who have been particularly kind to me.

News you can not expect from the King, the partial expedition of this ^{last} ~~King~~ the Landgrave of Hesse has turned out as it ought to do to his own disgrace he spoke very big to the very last, but however when he saw that every ^{body} ~~thing~~ was a earnest against him, he thought it most prudent to retreat. Adieu Dear Brother, believe me

Mannheim April 25
1787

Your Obedt. Servant

Frederick

Hanover Oct: 19. 1786

Sir

I take the earliest opportunity to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's letter of the 6th Instant I trust, Sir, You will not be displeas'd with me if I confess that it grieves me most exceedingly that Your Majesty does not think the present moment a proper one for my return to my native Country. I am afraid I did not sufficiently explain in my last letter the reasons which induc'd me to make this request. I hope, therefore, Your Majesty will allow me to enter more in detail upon this subject, and consider the objections which Your Majesty has been pleas'd to give for wishing me to put off my return for the present moment.

In regard to the present situation of the unfortunate difference between Your Majesty and the Prince of Wales, and which Your Majesty seems to think may very possibly be brought before Parliament and become the subject of some very warm debates. Your Majesty will allow me to differ with Lord in the above opinion, as I can not bring myself to think that the Prince of Wales will be so hurried away by his passions or that his advisers will be so inattentive to his interests as to bring this matter before Parliament, which must turn out so completely to his disadvantage, as after the perusal of the letters which Your Majesty has been so good as to communicate to me I can not hesitate a moment to declare, that the right is on Your Majesty's side, but supposing that the Prince of Wales should be so ill advised, yet his line of conduct is so clear that I can lay no difficulty upon that head, and I am very much afraid of I am to wait for a reconciliation taking place between Your Majesty and the Prince of Wales I shall not have that pleasure so soon as I could wish as I am sorry to say that I have but small hopes of such a piece of good fortune so that my situation in that respect is likely to be the same two years hence

43821

as in the present moment.

As to the probability of a War I am perfectly do not feel justified in being persuaded that my profession is and as was taught to my profession, and I must beg leave to assure you that should such an event take place I should with the greatest eagerness serve wherever your Majesty should think proper to employ me.

The other objection which your Majesty mentions is on account of forming an establishment for me. Your Majesty is the best judge how far your goodness allows you to make one at the present moment. I flatter myself however I shall meet with no inconvenience on that account because it always will be easy for your Majesty at the moment of my arrival to express your intention of forming me an establishment which you can always take as much time as you may that may think necessary to arrange.

In regard to the learning the Circumstances of the Service, I am perfectly of Your Majesty's opinion that it is by no means of the greatest consequence but still it is certainly necessary that I should learn it and though the Guard may not be the very best school yet as thro' Your Majesty's goodness I belong to this Corps it is the only proper place where I can learn it for it is wholly impossible to learn it by theory this however is but a secondary consideration in regard to the other motives which make me impatient to return to England.

If however notwithstanding what I have written Your Majesty should still persist in thinking that the present moment is an unpropitious one I can only say that I shall with infinite regret give up the idea which I have entertained of paying my respects to Your Majesty and the Queen in the Camp of this winter, and I am sure Your Majesty is too just not to excuse the eagerness with which I have endeavoured to combat every objection which can be produced towards deferring my return after an absence of very near ten years from those whom I have every reason to love and respect. I shall therefore still flatter myself with the hopes that Your Majesty will consider over the above arguments and as I have every reason to be convinced that our wishes to be one another on mutual I hope that without them on any very material objections I shall enjoy that pleasure before it is long

I am Sir your Majesty's most dutiful and obedient
Frederick

Hannover Oct. 27. 1706

Sir

Having had things of greater consequence to write to Your Majesty in my last letter I have thought it best to delay till today the account of my last tour. I found my Brothers exceedingly well and very much grown but particularly the two Youngest. After I had staid a short time with them I went and saw them ride which really considering the short time that they have learnt they do very well, Indeed it is quite something new ~~especially~~ Adolphus has learnt, as far as regards Me is in every thing backward as the two Brothers because on account of the two indispositions he has not been able to attend to the lessons so regularly. There is but one voice at Göttingen about Adolphus, they all say they never saw so sensible or so clever a boy for his age nor a better scholar by any means.

 It is a very great pity for poor Earnest that he is so dreadfully short sighted, he has already ^{had} some very bad falls from not being able to see where ^{he} is going. I am very much afraid this will totally incapacitate him from ever being able to enter into the military line. Colonel Moltke told me that he was now able to send Your Majesty an amount of how much this establishment will cost and that as soon as he has drawn out the bill ^{transmits} it to me when I shall do by self the honor to enclose it directly to Your Majesty. From Göttingen I proceeded to Cassel when I was received in a very polite manner by the Landgrave who expects Majesty an which I the late of the you, but formally about before

 I went there is from see what very

who expressed in the strongest manner his attachment to Your Majesty and how much he felt the different Degrees of esteem which You had been pleased to confer upon him. I see not how he can by any means say that he is so agreeable as formerly, during the late Landgrave's time he was certainly one of the pleases of the Queen's sale towns in Germany, and then was very little troubled with the Landgrave, who introduced again the same formalities and the respect for which Germany was so famous about his Majesty's person, Besides he has behaved in so very better manner to his subjects that he is every where beloved.
 I went one morning to the parade, ^{which} To be sure this part of the town is very fine, they are also better and steadier under arms than they were formerly, but they have not the least idea whatsoever of marching, which is certainly the very first thing for a Soldier. Instead of returning thank

Home from Capel, I passed through Brunswick when I had two days, I found the Duchess most exceedingly well and as usual in very high spirits, she has desired me to give her most affectionate respects to Your Majesty.

I hope Your Majesty has had of late as good weather for your shooting as we have, for the last fortnight it has really been very fine.

Having nothing particular to add I will not trouble you further with a longer letter I shall therefore only entreat you to give my duty to the Queen and say my self.

Your Majesty

P.S. I had already sent this to post up with the despatches for England when the ^{Post} ^{office} ^{will} ^{doubtless} ^{be} just arrived and brought me the ^{most} ^{interesting} ^{intelligence} from Malabar, I thought I will immediately back for my letter and have the honor to transmit it inclosed to Your Majesty.

Frederick

Hannover Nov 17. 1788

Sir

I take the opportunity of the Courtes sitting off this evening to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's gracious Letter of the 3 which I received only ^{by} Capt. Pitt, ^{was} which You are pleased to acquaint me with the Death of Princess Amelia from what I had heard after sleep, the event which has happened is by no means astonishing, I had no doubt from the strength of mind which she has shew'd upon many occasions that she would see the moment of her dissolution approach with the utmost fortitude

The paper which I had the honor to enclose to Your Majesty from Colonel Malherbe is my last letter

43825

43825

arrived so late that I had not time to acquaint Your Majesty a circumstance concerning one of the Gentlemen about my Brother which I think I owe it to them to mention, Upon Your Majesty leaving gives the vacant Company in Linfingers's Regiment to Captain Offen, The Field Marshal told me that it was the wish to propose to Your Majesty's Lieutenant Offen to be the Aide or Camp, but that he was uncertain whether it might not displease Your Majesty as you had just placed him about my Brothers. When I was at Göttingen I spoke to Malherbe about it, who told me that he was vastly pleased with Offen, and that he should be very sorry to lose him, He however thought it my duty to acquaint Your Majesty with this, as certainly it is of the very greatest ^{consequence} ~~advantage~~ to a young Officer like him to obtain the rank of Captain, and besides I am certain that it can not be Your Majesty's intention, that the post which he continues to

 of making not change this time to give my
 D. S. J. J.
 acknowledge Letter of this who is this my power by to attend to

43825

which he holds about my Brother, and which certainly if the my Brother continues to behave as he has already done, ought to be the means of making his future, should stand in this way upon this occasion

Having nothing in particular to add I do not chuse to trouble your Majesty with a longer letter this time I shall therefore conclude by entreating you, to do your duty to the Queen, and by signing myself, to

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
And Subject

P.S. I open my letter again to acknowledge the receipt of your Majesty's Letter of the 19. which I have received by the Queen's

Frederick

who is this moment arrived, As I have already to let it will not be in my power by this opportunity to answer its contents I will therefore be obliged to delay it till another time

Prinze Bernhard

November 17. 1906

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

Hanover Nov: 21. 1706

Sir

Though it is with infinite regret that I see myself deprived of the pleasure of paying my respects to Your Majesty, so soon as I could have wished, yet I look upon it, as my duty to submit to Your Superior judgement. The very tender and affectionate manner in which You have been pleas'd to express Your regret at finding myself obliged to decline giving Your consent in the present moment, gives me every reason to think that no trifling objections will have weight with Your Majesty and makes me flatter myself with the Certain hopes that as soon as the present difficulties are removed. Your Majesty will not delay or enquire to gratify those wishes which I have so much sincerely at heart and which as a space of ten long Years seem to make every day more and more sensible As by the beginning of the Spring, All those objections which Your Majesty has mentioned, must in all probability be solved, I look forwards with impatience to that period as the moment when my wishes will be fulfilled.

As for Edward, about whom Your Majesty does me the honor to ask my opinion, I can not but say that I think he has gained greatly in many things since he has been settled here and particularly in point of politeness, in which he was before very deficient, and I find there are and which add one the both very the more

 have been to have be does every
 the more
 to that I, with by subseq
 by signing

43827 and besides the Heart appears to be good, but at the same time there are many things ^{left} which require much alteration and which one must hope will come in time. I must also add one thing, that Your Majesty may be persuaded, that both every thing is done, which can be done with them, and the more I see of it, the more I am convinced, that should have been impossible to have found a properer man to have been about them than Wargenhein, for he really does every thing that a man can do, to make them see the error.

Having done myself the honor of writing to Your Majesty so lately I will not trouble You Sir, with a longer letter this time I shall therefore conclude by entreating You, Sir, to give my duty to the Queen and by signing myself Sir
 Your Majesty's
 most Dutifull Son
 and Subject
 Frederick

MS. A. 1. 1. 1.

Brown Brink

November 21, 1706

[Faint, illegible handwritten text in cursive script, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]

43828 9

Hammer Dec^r. 1. 1786

Sir

Though I have nothing in particular to trouble Your Majesty about yet I can not let the Courtes set off without writing a few lines. I trust Your Majesty's weather is better in England than we have here, or otherwise Your Hunting will be over for this Year, I was able to hunt only once last month, owing to the continual frost, indeed this weather will do an astonishing deal of harm As there is a great deal of ground not yet sowed, and in some parts particularly the Ditch of Gottenburg the Gate on Mill out, this is a terrible stroke for the poor Cavalry and Your Majesty will receive a humble request to give them this year again so much additional to what they are allowed for their rations, or otherwise it will be morally impossible for them to subsist;

Prince Charles who has been here for the last three weeks about this morning for Stralitz he does not intend however to stay there long, but seems to ^{be} back of the sea before Christmas.

Having nothing of consequence to add I will not trespass longer at present upon Your Majesty's leisure I shall therefore only intreat you, Sir, to give my Duty to the Queen and 43829

Srge Mynjell

43829

Dear myself, and
Your Majesty's

Most Obedient
and Subject

Frederick

25884

Brown Besswick
December 1. 1706

43830-1

Hannover Dec^r 22. 1786

Sir

I take the opportunity of the Couriers setting off this evening to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's two gracious Letters of the 1, and 15 the last of which I received last night. The Remark which Your Majesty was pleas'd to make concerning the different embrogues which are going on at Berlin is certainly very just, but if I may be allowed to say, that it was what naturally was to have been expected at the accession of a new Sovereign to the Crown of a Catholic Monarchy, that every Body would strive every thing in their power to give His favor and to try to obtain a share in the Government. It will be impossible for the first six months or years till he is thoroughly seated upon His Throne and till to determine

0888A

4383

I shall then every thing has taken its place, ~~Altho' the~~ weight and burden will leave at the Court, and thus far he is to be treated by all, his intentions and sentiments appear to be perfectly good, and I am upon Your Majesty that I know he takes every opportunity to express the Effusion and respect which he has for you, and his ardent desire of always acting in conjunction with you I hope Your Majesty will not be displeas'd with me, if I take the Liberty to ~~submit~~ ^{submit} to you the enclosed with which the Duke of Brunswick sent to me through one of his Gentlemen As it will explain infinitely better than I can do his wishes to place His son Prince Augustus in Your Majesty's hands I think it my duty to mention at the same time, that this young Prince is, by all accounts, very sensible, and applies himself very much.

Having nothing in particular to add I do not think to trouble you further with a longer Letter at present 43831

I shall therefore conclude by saying myself, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient
and Loyal

Frederick

10851

Duke of York

December 22. 1704

Amman Jan: 12. 1787

Sir

Though I have nothing particular to mention to Your Majesty, yet I can not let the Quarterly Messenger set off without troubling You with a few lines. If Your Majesty has not better weather in England than We have here, there will be a total stop to Your Hunting, I had a few days ago to go out but it was almost impossible, in account of the quantity of Ice with which the Commons abound, and now the frost is such again I am afraid that for some weeks it will be totally impossible to hunt. I have been given to understand by Monsieur de Leuchembourg that he by the Councils, has sent to Your Majesty a humble request desiring you on account of his bad state of health to add another Gentleman to the Marshal that he, and has proposed ^{Chambellan} Monsieur de Lou for the place, and has desired me to express to Your Majesty the necessity of it, I therefore hope that you will not be displeas'd with me, if I take the liberty to inform you, how very hard the duty is at present upon Monsieur de Wingenheim, as the Grand Marshal though certainly better than he was about ten weeks ago yet is in so very precarious a state of health, that he is very often being now so every thing who for this has told me what is the

 of the duty very Confid in his pow and just the has the W I need not that certain been great

appeared as very often conferred to the King, and Monsieur de Stemburg, being now employed upon Your Majesty's affairs at Prague every thing as a man falls upon Monsieur de Wenzelsburg who for this last year has been continually in waiting and has rather all to be a single night from Monsieur, what is most exceedingly convenient to him as being one of the subject here now at Monsieur and having had some very considerable purchases of Estates last Year, it is not in his power by his constant attendance to accomplish and put them in order, I believe Chamberlain de Lais has the Honor to be personally known to Your Majesty I need not therefore say much on this subject, except that certainly it is impossible ^{to find} a better Young Man who has been qualified to fill such an office will know that this

I have the Honor to be, Sir

Yours Obediently

Your Obedient Servant

Frederick

From Frederick

January 12. 1707.

Annexed Feb: 2. 1701

Sir

I take the opportunity of the Quarterly Meetings' sitting off this evening to acknowledge the receipt of Your Majesty's gracious Letter of the 5th, in which You are pleased to require me that You had no objection to receive Prince Augustus of Brunswick into Your Electoral Troops, I therefore immediately informed the Duke of it and I have the honor to enclose to Your Majesty a Letter from Him in which I suppose He will propose it to You Himself.

I received a few days ago

43834

43835

Letter from Colonel Notham in which he informed me has allowed that My Brother had thought proper to disengage his connections from the Office of the Treasurer, He was at the same becoming the time so good as to communicate to me, the Letters which Heest the had papered upon the Occasion, and to acquaint me with the very gracious manner with which Your Majesty will not has been pleased, to make up to him what he had lost. I shall repeat the very flattering approbation which You have been been pleased to give to the whole of his conduct in this very disagreeable affair can not but give him the highest Satisfaction, If I may be allowed to give my opinion about it, I think that his conduct allthough does him the greatest Honor, and It gives me great concern to find that My Brother ed he has allowed himself to be hurried on by his passions and his connections so far, ^{as} to act in a manner so very little becoming himself I am certain had he consulted his own interest he would have been capable of it.

Having nothing particular to add I will not trespass longer upon Your Majesty's Leisure I shall therefore only entreat You, Sir, to give my Duty to the Queen and sign myself, Sir

Your Majesty's

Most Obedient Son
 and Subject

Frederick

43884

Ernest Hemingway

February 2, 1907

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting on lined paper]

Hannover Feb^y 20. 1707

Sir

As I have been inform'd by Your Majesty's Ministers that they were to wait till Friday to inform You of the very extraordinary conduct of the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel ^{in seizing} ~~concerning~~ the Counties of Schaumbourg and Buckebourg, I think it my duty to give Your Majesty in a few words the earliest intelligence, ^{of it} On Tuesday last the Council ^{at Cassel} of Hesse-Buckebourg died, as soon as the news reached Cassel when the Council was upon a report to His Brother the Prince of Philippsal, The Landgrave order'd General

Worm to march with the third Battalion of Guards the Battalion of Boos a Regiment of Militia, a Regiment of Dragoons and the Mupards which as passing through Bunde's were joined by the Regiment of Lefberg in order to take possession of the whole Country on Saturday General Lefberg took possession of Buckebourg, Sunday of Muthagen and Yesterday a Company of Grenadiers marched to Hagenbourg which is the first post from Senes to Dinsford, and this morning a thousand and thirty five men went to join them. The Landgrave, lays claim to the whole Country under pretence that as the Mother of the late Count was a tradeswoman of Frankfurt and sold a Buncely Knop the Count was incapable of succeeding to the Country. The late Landgrave William made the same claim in the year 1753, when the cause was carried

43837 before the fully agreed investiture of the Land
General Jan aff Lefberg talked Captains of order to and his p the Gener and has c proclama
every plac
Your Majesty

43837 before the Board of Officers at Vienna when I was given fully against the Landgrave and he was forced to give the investiture to the King's Council. This very extraordinary step of the Landgrave is a very ^{unfortunate} extraordinary one, and I beg to General Jan afford Great Honor to the Apollonia, after having I had the matter over with General Frulog we begged Captain Spicker to make a tour to Regensburg in order to enquire of every thing that was reported was done and as for him that I have received the above intelligence the General has writ by this same post to Baron Albricht and has communicated to him the purport of the proclamation what the ^{Regiment} Landgrave has ordered upon every place through which they have passed.

As I hear to do myself ^{the honor} of writing to Your Majesty upon other subjects next Friday

I will not trouble you longer at present upon your business I shall therefore only acknowledge the receipt of your Majesty's very gracious letter of the 12th and beg your pardon

For

Your Majesty's

most dutiful subject

Frederick

May 20 1704

From Frederick

[↓ See month on letter]