◆ The Start menu contains three new links:

  – Start > Programs > Gigaset DECT > Gigaset M34 USB – Firmware update

  – Gigaset M34 USB

i	◆ Certain entries are only displayed when a base station is connected. ◆ Depending on the Windows operating system you are using and the voice packets installed, differences in the naming of the driver can arise.

Audio settings

Owing to Microsoft Software Regulations the audio device driver USB audio device has been installed on your PC as your default device for recording and playback. This is also necessary because it allows you to listen to music through your handset with Windows Media Player and make phone calls via the Internet.

For example, if you wish to record or playback sound on your PC (e.g. through your PC's loudspeaker/microphone or connected headphones) while playing a computer game, you must change the settings of the device driver.

➡ Click on Start > Settings > Control Panel > Sounds and Audio Devices (Windows 2000) or Sounds and Multimedia (Windows XP), Audio tab.

➡ For sound playback and recording, select the default sound card driver of your PC as the default device instead of the USB audio device entry.

➡ Click on OK to apply the setting.

Using PC loudspeaker/headset with your handset

In most Windows applications you can also create specific settings for the audio device driver irrespective of the settings in the Control Panel. This allows you to specify where sound is recorded and played back (PC or handset) for specific applications.
For example, if you have set your PC's default soundcard driver, you can make a phone call with your handset over the Internet while listening to music through your PC's loudspeakers at the same time.

Please note: For Internet telephony with Yahoo! Messenger with Voice, the device driver USB audio device is automatically set (temporarily) as soon as you make a call with your handset.

Registering a base station

You can register your Gigaset M34 USB on up to 6 base stations. To do this, you enter the base stations available at the relevant location of the PC in the Gigaset M34 software. The registered base stations are saved in the software and you can then connect to one of the registered base stations as required.

i	Requirements: ◆ There must be a free space in the list under Base stations. ◆ There must be another free registration location for internal subscribers on the base station. ◆ The base station must be in registration mode before commencing the registration procedure. ◆ The base station PIN must be entered during registration. For further information, refer to the operating instructions for the relevant base station.

➡ Open the Gigaset M34 software via Start > Programs > Gigaset DECT > Gigaset M34 Software.

➡ In the menu tree, select the M34 USB > Configuration entry.

➡ Under Base stations click on one of the <free base> options.
The Register button is activated.

➡ Set the base station to registration mode.

 – Press and hold the registration key for a few seconds. Some base stations indicate registration via a flashing LED or an acoustic signal.

 – Refer to the operating instructions for your base station for more details.

➡ Click on Register to begin registration.
This opens the Register dialog.

➡ Enter the PIN for the base station (factory default "0000") and confirm your entry with OK.

➡ Wait until registration has been completed.
The Register dialog is closed.

Once the connection between your base station and the M34 USB has been established, you will see the base station data on your PC. The Name field contains the name under which the Gigaset M34 USB has been registered on the base station. You will need this name to establish the connection between the handset and the M34 USB.

Status displays for the Gigaset M34 USB

LED is constantly illuminated: Base station found; Gigaset M34 USB is ready for use.

LED flashes slowly: Gigaset M34 USB is looking for the base station or no base station has been registered.
