

Graptophyllum reticulatum (Veiny Graptophyllum)

Endangered. Slow growing understorey shrub in creek-lines and gullies. Glossy dark green leaves, heavily veined and although leaves are opposite one leaf is larger than the other. Small white flowers with mauve spots appear from October to December.

Type: Shrub 1m+
Aspect: Part Shade
Soil: Moist
Habitat: Dry Sclerophyll

Special features:

- Frost Intolerant