The beginnings are made

The Breed Committee Jumping came up with the idea of organizing a licensing of just jumpers within the framework of a horse show, the Hannoveraner Show Jumper-Masters. The goal was to give the young Hannoveraner show jumpers their own platform and to put them in the spotlight all by themselves. The beginning has been made and the licensing of jumper stallions at the beginning of December showed that this concept of more strongly linking the sport with breeding works. From an organizational point of view, the various parts of the event have to be better coordinated in the future, but in terms of content, the debut was successful.

By Ulrich Hahne

With 34 stallions, a comparatively large collection of jumping stallions was admitted, which was selected during the three-day central stallion pre-selection in Verden. This licensing collection was clearly sport-oriented. More often than last time, sport successes of the dams or very close relatives was available. It can be assumed that the stallions of this collection will also find their way into the sport, because most of them were sold into sport-supporting hands. However, it would have been desirable that one or the other stallion would also get his chance in breeding, but stallion owners hardly participated at the first OnLive-Auction of the Hannoveraner Verband on Saturday evening.

It was bitter cold on Thursday on the paved track and during the first free-jumping in the small arena. The conditions for stallions and visitors were not easy. Many stallions rushed and did not relax much. What had worked well in 2020 and had elicited positive reactions, must be questioned after 2021. After a day of rest, Saturday started with the second free-jumping in the Niedersachsenshalle and the announcement of the licensing results. Many of the stallions performed much better, so that the licensing committee, which included the successful show jumper-riders and Hannoveraner breeders Franz Bormann and Dieter Smitz for the first time, finally awarded 18 positive licensing results. Six stallions were awarded a premium including a three-year-old. Another innovation of the licensing was to also admit three- and four-year-old stallions.

Chaclight by Chacfly PS/Sunlight xx (breeder: Egest Thaden, Varel), however, was the only stallion in this age group to be licensed. The dark bay stallion, who was born late in the year, had missed the admission to the licensing last year. The following licensing in December of 2020 also was not successful for him. But his owner Ekke Thaden continued to believe in him, presented him at the free-jumping competition in March, where he was crowned Champion, gave him another summer off turning him out onto the pasture, and then presented him again for the stallion pre-selection. Nicely matured, the dark bay was able to show off his strengths to the fullest in the fall. He exhibited powerful jumping ability and fast reactions; his performance under the rider demonstrated his true strength: his interior. Instead of the first free-jumping, this stallion completed a few small jumps under saddle on Thursday evening in the Niedersachsenshalle. There he was able to prove his qualities, which he had demonstrated in the free-jumping chute, also under the rider. He found a new home in France. The dedicated sponsor E2K-horses bought him on the stallion sales for 105,000 Euro and will place him in the hands of the French top rider Marc Dilasser. A great success for Chaclight's owner Ekke Thaden, who was rewarded for believing in his horse. This is a great start for adding three- and four-year old stallions to Verden's stallion sales, an exemplary beginning for the future.

Böckmann horses GmbH, Lastrup) was the top seller of the collection of jumper stallions. He sold to the USA for 130,000 Euro. His dam is the half-sister of Fine Lady, who won the bronze medal at the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro with Canada's Eric Lamaze. His granddam Dorina is the Hannoveraner Mare Of The Year 2018. With Stolzenberg, Drosselklang II and Grannus, he carries the best Hannoveraner performance blood on the dam side of his pedigree. His sire Checkter is out of one of the best Hannoveraner dam lines, the line of Norm. His presentations in Verden were a reflection on this genetic performance potential. At the first free-jumping he was still a bit too eager, but already showing good reflexes and elasticity. At the second free-jumping, he played out his potential to the fullest and exhibited the desired cleverness. With him, a stallion travels to the USA that one would have liked to see as the sire of future Hannoveraner horses in Germany. When this year's stallion vintage was born, Stolzenberg was named Hannoveraner Stallion Of The Year. He is the dam's sire of three of the six premium stallions. Last year, two of five premium stallions descended from dams by Stolzenberg. This impressively underlines the importance of this stallion from the State Stud Celle for the breeding of Hannoveraner show jumpers.

Breeding and sport

A wonderful link between the Hannoveraner Jumping Masters and the licensing was the stallion with head number 10, a son of Conthargos/Kannan bred by Siegfried Buhl and owned by Jens Buhl, Syke. His dam Vivid Voyage participated in the Masters, while her son was licensed and awarded a premium. Altogether, six exhibitors and/or trainers at the licensing also appeared in the Masters. Another proof that two events can grow together. The age-appropriately, well developed bay stallion had been well prepared at the breeder's home. He showed his ability at the jump in an optimal way. Equipped with quickness and good reflexes, he also convinced with his athleticism. He found a new home in Belgium at the breeding farm van de Helle. Paul Mais belongs to the group of regular customers of Verden's stallion sales just as the Brondeel family from De Breemersen Stud, who also took a licensed stallion from the best dam line to Belgium. The brown by Don Diarado/Cornet Obolensky carried head number 19.

A brown by Diacontinus/Stolzenberg with head number 15 was like a rubber ball in the free-jumping lanes during all presentations. Matthias Schäffer from Bremervörde, who participated in the Masters, had bred him and exhibited him in Verden. The positive and youthful looking stallion with a medium frame convinced with his freshness and his attentiveness at the fences. His elasticity especially is noteworthy. This premium stallion will also leave Germany for his new home in the USA. The same applies to a very typy, powerfully moving chestnut stallion by Zinedream/Stolzenberg, bred and owned by Dr. Carsten Haack, Freiburg. This stallion would also have done well on the triangle. He certainly did not exhibit any weaknesses in his jumping skills, since jumping is his special discipline. His dam, already produced two state stud stallions in Celle and Moritzburg, Camp Nou and Zenegro. Like his full brother, Zenegro was not only licensed last year, but also awarded a premium. Reason enough to present his dam Hann.Pr.St. Santa Cruze in the show program. She was shown together with her dam St.Pr.St. Cassandra by Contendro, also a stallion dam. Thus, the award ceremony of this premium stallion became a very special experience for Dr. Carsten Haack. The destinations of these five premium stallions are France, Belgium and the USA. Only one premium stallion will remain in Germany. The State Stud Celle secured a fine and noble son of Doom SR/Aktion Pur (breeder/owner: SR Sport Horses, Leipzig). His sire is no stranger, even though he is not much in the spotlight with respect to breeding. The Diarado/Contendro son Doom SR (breeder: Breeding Farm Greim, Bärnau) won the Hannoveraner Show Jumping Championships in July with Harm Lahde. This young stallion, who completed the lot of premium stallions, was fast reacting and powerful.

In total, only this one out of 18 licensed stallions was sold to a German stallion owner. Two others, however, remain in the possession of a stallion owner, as they were only presented for the licensing in Verden. One is a dark bay son of Argento Vivo out of a dam by Contendro, bred by his owner Norbert Bramlage in Bünne. This stallion jumped with good overview. In his overall appearance, he seemed almost perfect and will certainly be a worthy successor of his sire at the breeding station Bramlage. In addition, the colorful stallion by Tangelo van de Zuuthoeve/Zapatero VDL bred by Birgit Lennartz, Geldern, will probably be available to Hannoveraner breeders in the future. The very powerfully jumping, solidly built stallion will remain at the stallion station called Ferienhof Stücker in Weeze. Two licensed stallions will find a new home with a regular customer in the Czech Republic: the full brother of Stakkolensky by Stakkato/Cornet Obolensky (breeder and exhibitor: Karl-Henning Rollwage, Bockenem) as well as a bay by Diamant de Semilly/Chacco-Blue (breeder and exhibitor: Johannes zur Lage, Bersenbrück). in Lucina is home to many successful Hannoveraner stallions. Some of these are used directly or via stallion owners in Germany – often also in the centre of the breeding area. The stallion sales took a very positive course. An increase was recorded in all areas (top price, average price, number of stallions sold, licensed and non-licensed) compared to the previous year. In addition to the generally positive sales situation, the good basic quality of the stallions certainly contributed to this. ■

Licensing

Disallow of licensing result

The routine medication control (blood sample) of the licensed stallions on the occasion of the Hannoveraner jumping stallion licensing on December 4th, 2021, showed a positive result for the substance Acepromacin in the stallion with the head number 7 by Checkter/Stolzenberg. This finding was confirmed by the analysis of the B-sample. The information about the findings and the further procedure was communicated to Böckmann horses GmbH as exhibitor. To present the facts, the exhibitor submitted a veterinary confirmation to the Hannoveraner Verband that the stallion had been treated with a medication containing acepromacin for clipping prior to the licensing.

In accordance with the statutes, the positive result at the licensing for the above-mentioned stallion is revoked. The medication of the stallion is a violation of the statutes, in the context of which further measures will be decided. A new presentation of the stallion for licensing is possible in principle ■

Dieter Smitz: "We don't need to hide!"

The show jumping rider and trainer Dieter Smitz was a member of the licensing commission for the first time. Photo: Fellner

Mr. Smitz, for the first time you stood in the licensing commission. As a successful jumper rider and trainer, you are also involved in breeding and have already brought a licensed stallion to the stallion sales. How did you experience the licensing days of the show jumping stallions?

Dieter Smitz: "After the pre-selection, I expected to see great stallions from great lines in the Niedersachsenhalle – and that was the case. Many international producers on the sire side met up with our good Hannoveraner mare lines. They were a good match. The cooperation with Markus Beerbaum, Jörg Münzner, Franz Bormann and breeding director Ulrich Hahne was super, there was a true unity."

What particularly struck you while judging the stallions?

Dieter Smitz: "When I select show jumpers for the sport, I almost only pay attention to the predisposition for jumping. But with stallions, the conformation is of utmost importance as well. The legs have to be strong and correct.

I have come to realize that this is really important. The commission has to be much more critical than, for example, in the free-jumping competition. And rightly so. Only the best got good marks. I might not have been quite as critical in the evaluation of the basic gaits."

How did the stallions develop from Thursday, when they were delivered and completed the first free-jumping in the warm-up area, to the day of the licensing and the free-jumping in the Niedersachsenhalle?

Dieter Smitz: "When it came down to it, the horses jumped above average. That was not the case on Thursday. But it was incredibly cold and many were unable to fully develop their true potential. Overall, the stallions developed positively since the pre-selection. With Saturday's free-jumping, we don't need to hide in Hannover!"

For the first time a three-year-old was at the main licensing. He was awarded a premium. What were his strengths?

Dieter Smitz: "It is very rare that a three-year-old under saddle canters to the jump with such regularity as Chaflight did. And that in the big arena. That was really good."

The licensing of the jumping stallions was embedded in the Hannoveraner Jumping Masters. Was that a good decision?

Dieter Smitz: "Of course I had good experiences at the debut of the Masters last year, when I was vice-champion in the six-year-old class with my Favorite Fleur S. It was a great idea. It's a great idea that has been well received and needs to develop further." ■

Back to the future

The licensings and stallion sales of the Hannoveraner Verband are over. The year 2021 differs from previous years in several facets. The stallion sales can be described as satisfactory.

By Wilken Treu

The report about the licensing already reflected that the change of the system was unusual and unpredictable. Because of the discipline-specific and temporal separation, the effects on the marketing of stallions were uncertain, although the new event concept was not entered into blindly. In addition, after many months of online-only marketing, the dressage and jumping stallion sales provided insight, which influenced but also offered security for implementing the medium-term auction concept.

The dressage stallion sales was to tie in with the well-known auction atmosphere, the well-known exchange of information among the people and the enthusiasm for special bidding duels. Therefore, a conscious decision was made to turn away from the online-only marketing of the past months. A live broadcast of the stallion sales on the internet was not offered – this was an unpleasant surprise for many viewers at home after one-and-a-half years of abstinence from running events in pre-Covid style. The compact event schedule and the relatively late announcement of the stallion licensing results kept the interested parties and spectators in the Niedersachsenhalle.

However, the limited number of spectators prevented the atmosphere to rise high during the auction. The individual auction results and the interest of bidders indicate that the discipline-specific separation was not a reason for dressage enthusiasts to stay away from Verden. The advertisement of the dressage stallions, which participated in the licensing, led to the expectation that a broad basis of desirable stallions would be presented. The separation of the disciplines was therefore not detrimental to the dressage segment as a whole. However, the fact that

The bay by Casalido/Contendro (breeder and exhibitor: Guido Köster, Grasberg) was auctioned off as the most expensive unlicensed stallion for 38,000 Euro to the customer from Florida, who had secured three premium stallions.

some visitors were not able to satisfy their dressage and jumping interests within one event remains a disadvantage of the current event concept and that cannot be ignored. Unlike in previous years, five different buyers purchased the five premium stallions that were up for sale. The buyers included interesting and much frequented stallion stations. Even if the auction location Verden can not develop a preference towards individual interested parties, the acceptance of bids seems to be an important indicator in terms of the independence and medium-term commitment of the exhibitors to the auction.

There were discussions before, during and after the auction about the meaningfulness of a live auction in view of the online bidding that has almost become a matter of course. All the more the conviction grew that the stallion sales for jumper stallions needed to be offered as the first hybrid auction. And so it was; four weeks later, the first OnLive-Auction of the Hannoveraner Verband started. The decisive difference to the stallion sales dressage was that the speedy interaction between the live bids of the, as expected, limited number of spectators in the stands and the online bidding created a vibrant atmosphere. The online bids spurred on the auction activities and auctioneer Bernd Hickert awarded one third of the bids to online customers – some of which had still been in the Niedersachsenhalle, when the licensing decisions were announced.

The results of the stallion sales jumping are definitely gratifying. Almost all premium stallions were sold in a price bracket, which exceeded the highest prices of several previous years. Unlike in the dressage sector, three premium stallions went to one and the same American address and are not available for breeding. However, the fact that the auction created two six-figure sale prices gives the perception of the event a necessary boost. Furthermore, the exhibitors must have registered that the addition of three- and four-year-old stallions to the licensing of jumping stallions also is a promising alternative for the sales result.

In conclusion, it is safe to say that the licensing and the stallion sales have not lost their appeal. However, the development of the high-profile auctions towards a live auction 2.0 in form of a hybrid auction seems to be emerging. ■

Second round of the Masters

The second edition of the Hannoveraner Jumping Masters was the sporting framework for Verden's stallion licensing and celebrated four beaming winners with Canela Fight, Mario, Diatendra and Crazy Daisy.

By Britta Züngel

The first winners at the Masters were determined on Friday; 26 Hannoveraner horses competed in the final for four-year-olds. The Canstakko/Fighting Alpha-daughter Canela Fight (breeder: Frank Johannsen, Buxtehude) won the title in an L-level jumper horse class with a score of 8.8. Antonia Neuburg presented the typy Hannoveraner premium prospect. The pair had already won the qualification with a convincing performance. Canela Fight is a true serial winner. The grey mare, whose dam St.Pr.St. Fighting's Gala was successfully ridden by her breeder Frank Johannsen in 1.50 metre-jumping competitions, already has six victories to her name. Hann.Pr.A. Catch Me M by Cador/Silvio (breeder: Peter Mahler, Neuhaus/Oste) finished in second place with Tim-Uwe Hoffmann. Catch Me M had already won the Hannoveraner Show Jumping Championships in July – at that time with rider Christian Temme. She descends from a highly awarded family. Her dam, which was awarded the If-prize at the Herwart von der Decken-Show in 2020, is a sister of the Herwart von der Decken-champion mare Hann.Pr.St. Coco M. At the same time, Peter Mahler presented her son by Grey Top at the licensing, however, he left the Niedersachsenhalle as an unlicensed stallion. Two horses finished third: Companero PJ by Comme il faut/Quality Time (breeder: Horse Breeding Dr. Jacobs GbR, Bierbergen) with Roman Duchac, who had found a new owner at Verden's auction in April 2021 and had placed fourth in the Hannoveraner Show Jumping Championships three months later, as well as the Contendro/Graf Top son Contendro KA (breeder: Karsten Asendorf, Morsum) with Alexa Stais.

Family member Daisy

The class for six-year-olds was very exciting. Just as in the qualifier, they competed in a M-jumping class in the final. Harm Wiebusch, who rode his Mario by Marius Claudius/Graf Grannus (breeder: ZG Wulf, Schillsdorf), proved to have the best nerves of the 23 competitors in the demanding jump-off and won the title in superior style. His large chestnut completed the course in a fast pace, which allowed him to use longer distances. He snatched the victory from Alexa Stais and the Stakato/Werther-daughter Seniora (breeder: ZG Manfred Kregel and Anton Schindele, Laatzen). She had also been awarded the Hannoveraner premium and was decorated with the Ic-prize at the Herwart von der Decken-Show. Bronze went to Daisy and Julia Plate. The Diarado/Canstakko-daughter is out of the family's own breeding program and competed at the Bundeschampionat last year. The pair experienced a blessing in disguise: They had so much momentum that the last pole fell and rider and horse separated after crossing the finish-line. It still was the fastest four-penalty round. Daisy is a real family member. Julia Plate not only rode mother Canberra and grandmother Limbiskit to victories and placings all the way to the Eurospan Junior Championships, great-grandmother Celine competed with Julia Plate's parents Ulf and Ulrika before going on to compete internationally with Julia Plate, who was 15 at the time.

With Lucato Mad Jo, Alexa Stais celebrated the last lap of honor of the Jumping Masters. In total she took one victory, two second places and one third place with her Hannoveraner horses.

The five-year-olds also had to ride against the clock in the final. Eight out of 27 participants made it into the jump-off, only one remained penalty-free until the very end: Verden's former auction horse Hann.Pr.A. Diatendra by Diatendro/Carolus (breeder: Michael Schenk, Niendorf) won the white and yellow winner's sash with Roman Duchac. Only six months earlier, at the broodmare test, she had picked up a 9.5 for ability and jumping intelligence, which she also proved at the Jumping Horse Masters. The pair had finished the introductory class at the L-level in third place. With the fastest time but one jumping fault, Alexa Stais won another second-place ribbon with her Toulon/Goldfever son Toujelow (breeder: Norbert Bramlage, Dinklage), after placing third in the class for four-year-olds and second in the class for six-year-olds. He, too, had been among the best in the qualification with a second placement. Third place went to the Clinton's Heart/Zacharias-daughter Clinton's Edelbiene (breeder: Dietrich Brünjes, Alfstedt) and rider Melissa Fricke. The grey mare, like the two international, top show jumpers Prinz Oldenburg and Le Patron, goes back to the foundation mare Jessica. She did not get off to a good start losing a good placement on the first day with a jumping fault at the last fence.

The last winners of the Masters were celebrated in the Niedersachsenhalle in the division for seven- and eight-year-olds. Again it was Alexa Stais who triumphed. The South African won the advanced (S*-) level show jumping competition with Hann.Pr.A. Crazy Daisy by Chacco-Blue/Graf Top (breeder: Joachim Schwarze, Obernkirchen) and finished second with the Ludwigs As/Stakkato son Lucato Mad Jo (breeder: Jochen Meyer, Allwörden). Crazy Daisy is a half-sister of Celle's former state stud stallion Cabo Verde, who, after his spectacular performances at the Bundeschampionat, has now reached the international level at 1.40 metres, was fifth in the free-jumping competition in Verden and participated in the elite auction in October of 2017. Just recently Alexas Stais started riding her. Her stablemate Lucato Mad Jo had already been a vice champion at the Masters last year and looks back on an extremely successful outdoor show season with victories and placings up to 1.45 metres. The Stakkato/Espri-daughter Suzi Quatro (breeder: Tessa Pfeil, Elmlohe) secured third place. Her rider Enrico Süßenbach had also bought her on an auction in Verden. She had already been one of the fastest in the preliminary test, but a jumping fault knocked them out of the placings. This pair had also competed at last year's debut in the Niedersachsenhalle. ■

Sunrise and Imke Schellekens-Bartels

Photo: Lafrentz

She was Team European and World Champion, and won team silver at the Olympic Games: Hunter Douglas Sunrise by Singular Joter/Werther died at the age of 27. With Dutch rider Imke Schellekens-Bartels, the dark bay was one of the best dressage horses of her time.

Born at the stables of show jumper-breeder Manfred Schäfer in Köchingen, Piet Smarius discovered the powerfully moving mare from the renowned line of Schneiderin at the 1994 foal auction. Three years later, she passed her station test in Verden with top marks for rideability and movement. Her only foal, St.Pr.St. Mädel by Metternich, was highly rewarded at the Ratje-Niebuhr-Show. Sunrise herself took the path towards the big dressage ring. She ended up in top hands. She celebrated her first successes with Tineke Bartels, before she started her way to the top of the world with daughter Imke Schellekens-Bartels. At the age of ten, Sunrise took part in her first championship. At the World Equestrian Games in Aachen/GER, she won the silver medal as a member of Team Oranje. After winning team gold in Kentucky in 2010, the mare got injured and did not return to the sport. "Until the last day, our dearest Sunrise was full of energy and happy. She was the 'once-in-a-lifetime' horse for me. We are deeply saddened, but also incredibly grateful that we were allowed to have her in our lives for so long. Bye sweet Sunnie!" Imke Schellekens-Bartels wrote on the internet. ■

World-class twice

Two world-class horses have emerged from the Lorenz breeding station. Heinz Lorenz, who is 69 years old, breeds sport horses together with his son Sebastian.

By Jürgen Stroscher

Photo: Stroscher

The farm of Family Lorenz, which is located in the district called Holtorfsbostel in Regesbostel, has a family tradition. "Our family tree can be traced back for centuries," says Heinz Lorenz. Because of this inner bond, he just had the main house extensively restored and recovered with thatch. More than 40 years ago, he took over the management of the former agricultural operation. "As the eldest son, I learned farming, but later converted the entire farm for breeding and raising horses." After almost four decades of managing a successful Hannoveraner breeding farm and cultivating about 30 hectares of grassland, all his hopes now rest on his 30-year-old son Sebastian, who hopefully will follow in his footsteps. The chances of this are not bad, but will probably involve some restructuring. Because the son didn't really know what to do with horses as a child, father Heinz gave him a pony, which did not fail to serve its purpose. Sebastian developed a great interest in show jumping, later rode his own breeding products and presented them in competitions up to 1.35 metre-level. Once he finished his school education, he completed an apprenticeship in horse management and is currently about to finish his training to become a farrier. "It is important for me to build up a second mainstay before I get fully involved in the family business."

Heinz Lorenz, on the other hand, already sat on the back of the workhorses at the age of six. "I grew up with one or two broodmares and learned to ride at an early age. That's how my passion for the fascinating four-legged creatures came about, which also prompted me to make horses my main business." The young entrepreneur invested heavily in the construction of an indoor riding arena with stalls, and in the conversion of the former pig and cattle barns. He created the best conditions for keeping and raising horses by laying out appropriate pastures.

The riders and horse owners of the region recognized the good conditions of the newly designed farm and stabled their sport horses there. The use of the indoor riding arena contributed greatly to the attractiveness and had a unique selling point at the time. "In our best days, there were over 60 horses on the farm. Of these, almost ten were broodmares." With the conversion measures, Heinz Lorenz created good conditions for his own horse breeding program. As deputy chairman of the Hollenstedt horse breeding club, the expanding horse breeder was well integrated in the region and had a lot of contacts. "This is also how I got one of my first successful broodmares, Equina. A horse dealer indicated to me that she was available. And so I had the opportunity to buy her as an eight-year-old. I was particularly taken with her pedigree." Breeding an Olympic horse is something almost all breeders dream of. Farmer Heinz Lorenz achieved this very early in his career as a breeder. "At that time, the stallion Mozart by Maigraf xx was stabled at the breeding station Wohlesbostel. Because of his Thoroughbred pedigree, I thought that he would be a perfect match for my Anklang-mare Equina," the 69-year-old recalls.

He did this combination four times in a row. After the stallion Montreux and the mare Momti, the colt Moritz was born in 1978. "I started Moritz under saddle. At that time, his fighting abilities were already recognizable. Somehow the Swedish Nations Cup-rider Peter Eriksson became aware of Moritz, came personally to our farm and wanted to buy him. That was like winning the lottery for us," Heinz Lorenz describes how the chestnut gelding found his way into the Swedish national team. From 1989 to 1993, the Swedish world-class rider and Moritz competed at all the renowned show grounds in Germany. The sporting highlight followed for Moritz as a participant in the 1992 Olympic Games in Barcelona. Only two horses remained clear in both rounds of the Nations Cup. These were Moritz with Peter Eriksson and Böckmanns Genius by Genever with the Austrian rider Thomas Frühmann. The pair competed several times in the World Cup for jumper riders. These successes led to Peter Eriksson also bringing Moritz's three siblings to Sweden.

Almost exactly 30 years later, Heinz Lorenz achieved the same feat. The horse breeders from the region stick together. "Over the years, a close business relationship developed with senior breeder Heinrich Eckhoff from Beckdorf. Since I knew that he would stop breeding sooner or later, I made an agreement with him that he would approach me before selling any horses." Through this lucky coincidence, the bay Cassandra by Chasseur/Glockenklang came to the breeding farm Lorenz as a three-year-old. Her first foal, Calanda by Calido, born in 2008, was a resounding success. Four years later, Sebastian Lorenz himself made his first successful show appearance with the grey mare in Sandbostel. Several participations in jumping horse classes at the 1.05 metre-level followed.

The former jumper rider and horse dealer Tjark Nagel became aware of the promising jumper mare. "At the end of 2012, Tjark Nagel came to our farm and offered me a sum of money for Calanda that I couldn't refuse," says Heinz Lorenz, explaining how his second world-class horse also lucratively changed hands. At first, Willi and Finn Brunckhorst promoted the grey mare up to the medium level. Then in 2014, Germany's top rider Marcus Ehning took Calanda into his show stable and finally led the grey mare to the top of the world in international show jumping. "Calanda is a fundamentally fast horse and hardly makes any mistakes of her own accord," Marcus Ehning described the grey mare's qualities when she gave the entire world of elite equestrians no chance in the three-star Grand Prix of Opplabbeek in 2020.

"I still can't say how Tjark Nagel discovered Calanda, but in retrospect I am of course glad that the jumper mare ended up in such good hands. Once again an example of how a horse can further develop if it is properly supported by a rider." Marcus Ehning is arguably one of the stylistically best show jumpers in the world. He celebrated numerous victories in Grand Prix-competitions and top places in World Cup-jumping classes with the mare.

Lead mare Cassandra

The 18-year-old broodmare Cassandra has become the leading mare of the breeding station Lorenz and produced additional high-carat descendants such as Calando by Calido (2009), Calandra by Chacco Gold (2012), Saphir by Stakkato (2014) and Fort Knox by For Pleasure (2017), which also made their way into the world of top level-show jumping. Her daughter Kandera by Kannan, who was born in 2015, is a member of the current mare band. Among the almost ten broodmares, hope also rests on the eleven-year-old Hann.Pr.St. Benissima by Benetton Dream/Hohenstein (breeder: Heinrich Eckhoff, Beckdorf) and the 2013-born Donnergöttin by De Niro/Rousseau (breeder: Gisela-Carstens-Stiftung, Techau) to further expand the dressage bloodlines.

In the 30 years between the births of the exceptional horses Moritz and Calanda, a lot has happened at the breeding station of Family Lorenz. Numerous breeding horses left the show rings as winners in foal and mare classes and were awarded prizes. "We have tried to constantly refine our bloodlines and especially intensified the breeding of dressage horses. In the past, only the stallions of Celle's State Stud were used. With the introduction of fresh and frozen semen, everything has changed fundamentally. On the one hand, I rely on proven sires, on the other hand, I orientate myself to the demands of the market." An example of this development is the mare Prisca by Paros, bred in 1991 out of a dam by Argentan. By using a wide variety of stallions for breeding, such as Chasseur, Antibes or Embassy, Prisca has produced high-performance sport horses. The breeding products are still marketed either as foals or once they are started under saddle as three-, four- or five-year-olds. For this purpose, Heinz and Sebastian Lorenz like to use Verden's auctions but also their own loyal customer base in Germany and far beyond. Wouldn't it be a pity if son Sebastian did not use the great potential of his father's Hannoveraner breeding program to eventually breed the much desired licensed stallion. ■

Front positions for young stallions

The end of a year always is a time of drawing conclusions. The breeding value estimation of the German Equestrian Federation, which is carried out on behalf of the German sport horse breeding associations, offers conclusions

By Dr. Ludwig Christmann

The breeding values are compiled for the disciplines dressage and show jumping; separate breeding values are given for the results of the tests for young horses (broodmare tests, stallion performance tests, development tests). The large, detailed chart with all the breeding values of the best, active breeding stallions has not made it into the current issue of DER HANNOVERANER due to time constraints. As with the dressage stallions, the breeding values of the jumping stallions are stable. If you look at the group of the ten highest rated stallions, there is a great similarity to the result of the previous year. This is not surprising, because not only the results of one year are estimated. It is a cumulative system. This means that the results of the previous years are also taken into account and are supplemented by the current data.

Qualito defends top position

Celle's former state stud stallion Qualito by Quaid/Salito, who passed away in 2018, was able to defend his nationwide top position in the breeding value for young horse-classes with a value of 156. He was bred by Helmut Habermann in Hänigsen, and descends from the outstanding dam line of Norm. His breeding value is based on the results of 28 offspring in performance tests and 81 offspring in young horse-classes. Many of his offspring are now successful in medium (M) level show-jumping competitions or in classes for young horses according to their age. Qualito's Boy, bred by Klaus Dierks, Ahnsbeck, out of a dam by Graf Top, has even placed at the advanced (S) level with Leonie Krieg. Quintana is a finalist in the Bundeschampionat and already won internationally at the M-level with Stephi Boer. She was bred by Hans Henning von der Decken in Stade out of an Embassy-daughter.

The Hannoveraner showjumping legend Stakkato has improved from fourth to second

Also the offspring of his son Stanley (breeder: Wilfried Berg, Burgdorf) – with a breeding value of 153 on par with his famous sire – are currently convincing with age-appropriate performances in the sport. confirmed himself as a supplier of talented and typy horses for the international sport and is one of the 100 best jumping stallions worldwide in the WBFSh ranking. Celle's state stud stallion Grey Top by Graf Top/Singular Joter (breeder: Emiliano Lonzi, Fauglia-Pisa/ITA), currently the biggest and perhaps the last hope of the G-line, is on the right track. In his HEK breeding value, he has slightly improved from 129 to 131, contrary to the depreciation trend; some of his offspring, which are nine years old at the most, are meanwhile of the stallions have a breeding value of 165 points or better and the top five percent must show a breeding value of at least 144 points. Stallions with a breeding value of 134 points and better belong in the top ten percent of stallions, and stallions with a breeding value of 116 points and/or better belong in the top quarter.

Young horses: The top 25 percent of stallions have a young horse breeding value in dressage of 109 points and better. The top ten percent of stallions achieved a breeding value of at least 126 points and the top five percent of at least 133 points. The top one percent of stallions have a breeding value of 146 points and better. In total breeding values of 4,159 stallions are published.

There are 3,452 published stallions in the jumping section of the young horse-classes. The limits of the best in this breeding value estimation are as follows: The top one percent of the stallions have a breeding value of at least 141 points; the top five percent must show a breeding value of 132 points and better. Stallions with a breeding value of 126 points and better belong to the top ten percent; stallions with a breeding value of 113 points and better belong to the top 25 percent of stallions. ■ growing into international sport horses. With Grace WB out of a dam by Escudo (breeder: Frank Wagner, Beienrode) Sophie Hinners already competed internationally at the 1.50 m-level. The licensed Grey Chester (breeder: Cornelia Peters, Südbrookmerland) out of a dam by Picard placed with rider Harm Lahde in the Grand Prix of Zandhoven/BEL and Kronenberg/NED.

The Diamant de Semilly/For Pleasure-son Diamant de Plaisir, bred and stationed by Gerd Sosath, Lemwerder, celebrates a brilliant debut as a sire. With his first foal crop born in 2017, he makes it into fifth place in the breeding value estimation of young horse-classes with a breeding value of 152. Six offspring have been presented in performance tests, 24 in young horse-classes. His dam Lady Pleasure is inbred on the Furioso II-daughter Fureida, whose line already produced the Bundeschampion (show jumping) Landor S. Diamant de Plaisir at only nine years of age has already proven his great talent many times. As a four-year-old, he won the Hannoveraner Show Jumping Championships with Hendrik Sosath, as a five and six-year-old, he was a finalist at the Bundeschampionat in Warendorf with Thomas Heineking. Holger Wulschner finally competed him at the international level. With his record so far, he is certainly one of the Hannoveraner hopefuls in the breed and in the sport.

With an HEK-breeding value of 197, the Holstein Cassini-son Cumano is once again the highest rated jumper stallion in this category. Jos Lansink won the 2006 World Show Jumping Championships with this grey stallion, who was born in 1993. Since several years, he was not used for breeding; hence there currently are no top horses by him, so that he did not make it into the top 100 stallions of the WBFSH ranking. However, if you look at the list of his successful offspring on the website Horsetelex, you will see that the list of successful 1.60 meter-horses is long, so that his high HEK-breeding value for jumping is understandable. The situation is different with the current offspring of Chacco-Blue

Can breeding values be compared with the WBFSH rankings?

An essential, but not the only breeding objective of the Hannoveraner Verband is the breeding of top international horses for dressage, jumping and eventing. The breeding value „Highest Achieved Class“ (HEK) has proven to be an informative instrument for checking the heredity for the top sport in the disciplines of dressage and jumping. In simple terms, the more successful a sport horse is – show jumpers up to 1.60 metres, dressage horses up to the international Grand Prix – the more it contributes to a high breeding value of its sire. The stallion ranking of the World Breeding Federation for Sport Horses (WBFSH) is also very popular with many breeders. Both methods are often compared to each other. Because of this, both the breeding values and the WBFSH-ranking of individual stallions have been included in the chart. However, a direct comparison of these two methods with the result that one is better than the other should be avoided. Dr. Teresa Dohms-Warnecke, deputy managing director of the breeding department of the German Equestrian Federation, said: “This is not even a comparison between apples and pears”.

In the so-called BLUP breeding value-estimation, not only the performance of all offspring is included in the breeding value, but also the performances of additional relatives. Furthermore, the quality of the mares, to which a stallion was bred, is taken into account. It is investigated which environmental effects have an impact and an attempt is made to correct for this. Finally, a group is established to which the individual stallion is compared. This comparison group is updated every year. Also it is of utmost importance that none of the previous results are lost, since the system is cumulative; in other words, current results are added to the results from previous years. This results in a great stability of the breeding values over the years; in addition, current sires can be compared to older stallions that may no longer be used for breeding.

“The WBFSH-rankings run on a twelve month cycle, starting from zero when a new cycle begins on October 1st each year” – this is how the WBFSH describes their ranking system. The sire rankings are based on the FEI breeders’ rankings for dressage, show jumping and eventing. The higher a sport horse is ranked, the higher the number of points it receives. For the ranking of the sires of these sport horses, the ranking points of the offspring are simply added together. So it is only about one year, successes in the past are not taken into account. A great advantage of the WBFSH-ranking list is its internationality. Worldwide results of FEI-registered horses in international competitions who have been foal registered with a member studbook of the WBFSH are taken into account. ■ from the Schockemöhle station, who once again tops the WBFSH-rankings of the world's best jumping horse producers. In regular intervals, descendants of the 1998-born Chambertin/Contender-son enter the international show circuit. His Dutch-bred son Explosion W with Ben Maher is currently one of the world's best horses (fourth in the world ranking). The highest ranked Chacco Blue-son with Hannoveraner registration is Chacna, who competes for Mexico with Enrique Gonzalez and was bred by Stud Lewitz out of a Narew xx-dam. Chacco-Blue is also one of the highest rated stallions in the HEK-breeding value estimation with a breeding value of 178.

The top group of the breeding value-list of older show jumper-producers is dominated by stallions that were mainly used in one of Germany's neighboring countries (especially Belgium, France and the Netherlands) and which, during the past years, were also increasingly used by Hannoveraner breeders. This does show how international the breeding of show jumpers has become. However, it is questionable whether the basis for the data is actually comparable. The FN-breeding value estimation is a national estimation. Horses bred abroad are taken into account if they are successful in Germany. These often are the better offspring of a stallion; the broadness of the heredity, those offspring, who do not make it to the top, cannot be taken into account. Therefore, the breeding values of these international stallions could possibly be overrated.

The chart reflects that almost all stallions, which rank in the top ten of the WBFSH-ranking, are also highly ranked in the German HEK breeding value estimation. Chacco-Blue, Diamant de Semilly, Toulon and Cornet Obolensky are among the top one percent of the breeding value-estimation; Casall, Mylord Carthago, Cardento, Nabab de Reve are among the top five percent. Only Verdi scores slightly lower. A small interim conclusion: The top stallions of the WBFSH-ranking tend to have very high breeding values. This conclusion cannot be reversed without restrictions. A stallion may have a very high breeding value for good reason, like Cumano, yet not appear in the current list of the WBFSH-ranking. This year again, the Hannoveraner jumping stallion with the highest breeding value (159) is Stakkato Gold, bred by breeding farm Dree Boeken, Prieros. He is closely followed by the famous For Pleasure (158). In the WBFSH ranking, eight Hannoveraner are listed among the top 100. The great influence of Stakkato is clearly visible. He is the highest-ranked Hannoveraner stallion (rank 45); add to that his three sons Ucato, Stakkato Gold (62) and Spartacus (94).

For the first time, the Embassy/Fabriano-son Edward (rank 85) – bred by Hans-Heinrich Dittmer, Radbruch – is listed in the top 100. He owes this ranking to his son King Edward, registered as a Belgian Warmblood, who is certainly the rising star of the year 2021 in show jumping ranking second in the world. With Henrik von Eckermann, he contributed significantly to the Swedish team winning the gold medal at the Tokyo Olympics. But there also is another son of Edward with international successes. It is the 2011-born Ernie out of a Wolkenstein II/Tannenbergdam (breeder: Martin Klemm, Beverstedt), who competes at 1.55 meters with Beat Grandjean from Switzerland. Is Edward, whose stallion performance-test results clearly reflected his talent for both show jumping and dressage, now a jumper sire of international caliber? Only time will tell. With his connection to the worthy stallion line of Adeptus xx, he is part of a strong tradition, since Eiger as well as Espri and Escudo produced jumpers of international quality, of which the legendary E.T. FRH with Hugo Simon is probably the most famous. In any case, Edward is interesting for breeders who are looking for a stallion with a dual predisposition and a main emphasis on jumping.

Many new young dressage stallions

There is a lot of movement in the breed evaluation of young dressage stallions. Five stallions made it into the top ten for the first time. The Oldenburg stallion Bonds by Benicio/Sir Donnerhall took the top position right away. With his first FN-breeding value of 166, he overtook his sire Benicio (breeding value 160), who is also in this group and has been one of the top dressage horse producers in Germany for years. One of Bond's Hannoveraner offspring, his daughter Hann. Pr.St. Be my Beauty Queen (breeder: Stefan Hermann, Imbshausen) from his first foal crop in 2017, deserves special mention. She became the top auction horse at the elite foal auction in Verden 2017 when Lone Boegh Henriksen from Hillerod, Danmark bought her for the sensational top sale price of 160,000 Euros. Three years later she ranked highly at the Herwart von der Decken-Show. Because of the results of six descendants, which participated in mare performance tests, the world champion of young dressage horses, Don Martillo (breeder: Axel Windeler, Verden-Walle) finishes in second place with a breeding value of 165 and is thus equal in points with his sire Don Juan de Hus. The accuracy of the breeding value is not yet very high with 75 percent, so that changes can be expected in the future.

The Hannoveraner Zoom by Zack/Don Schufro (breeder: Dorthe Jeppesen, Lenzburg/SUI; exhibitor: State Stud Warendorf) also celebrates a brilliant debut. His oldest offspring were only three years old in 2021; accordingly his high breeding value of 160 points is based exclusively on the evaluation of twelve offspring in performance tests. The situation is similar with the black stallion Secret, who is a grandson of Zoom's sire Zack through his famous sire Sezuan and who has been one of the most sought-after young dressage stallions in Germany in the past years. The black-brown stallion, who comes from the proven Hannoveraner mare line of Sudette, was represented by 42 offspring from his first crop, which were evaluated in performance tests. The first offspring of the For Romance/Rubiloh-son For Dance (breeder: ZG Butkus, Overath) are one year older. This stallion from the Rhineland area is stationed at the Stallion Station Sosath. Because of the age difference in the offspring, the basis for the evaluations is broader. 21 of his sons and daughters were successful in young horse-classes. They contributed to the improvement of his breeding value, which is now 159 and translates into seventh place.

In the breeding value "Highest Achieved Class (HEK)" of the older dressage horse-producers, little has changed at the top. Jazz leads ahead of the Hannoveraner Stallion Of The Year 2014, Breitling W by Bismarck/Maat (breeder: Hermann Niehus, Rahden), and Don Schufro. Many older stallions are found in the top ten, including some that

Goodbye Worldly

The Weltmeyer/Brentano II son Worldly (breeder: Rolf Boendel, Enger) passed away in New Zealand at the age of 24. Celle's former state stud sire was awarded the Freiherr von Stenglin-Prize as the champion of his vintage after completing the stallion performance test with the highest dressage index. The chestnut won the bronze medal at the Bundeschampionat for four-year-old stallions with Wolfgang With. Two years later, Worldly celebrated a seventh placement at the World Championships for young dressage horses in Verden. With successes up to 11, he was sold to the breeding farm Haras de Hus. In 2011, he traveled to New Zealand to Renai Heart, where he spent the last years of his life. "He was the heart and soul of our farm, it will never be the same. I am so glad that I found him," Renai Heart describes his loss. ■ were mainly used in the Netherlands such as Jazz, Painted Black, Johnson, Krack C and Gribaldi. Some not so famous names like Donnerbube, Welt Hit I and Welt Hit II are found in the list of the top ten. Their number of offspring is comparatively low. By means of the complex calculation model, the breeding value estimation can therefore also filter out interesting sires that have not been heavily used. This is a big difference to the WBFSH-stallion ranking, because it is very difficult for a stallion with few progeny to get to the top of this ranking. Two stallions from the top ten in the breeding value estimation are also at the top in the WBFSH-ranking, namely Johnson in second place and his sire Jazz in third place.

All rankings can be found at www.wbfsch.com. The breeding values of all current stallions are available in the „Hannoveraner Jahrbuch Hengste 2022“, which can be purchased at the office of the Hannoveraner Verband and at the Hannoveraner Shop, www.hannoveraner-shop.de.

Sandro Hit takes the lead

For the first time, Sandro Hit, who was discovered and promoted by Paul Schockemöhle, is ranked number one in the list of the world ranking of dressage horse-sires. With Chacco-Blue among the show jumpers and Sandro Hit among the dressage horses, two stallions from the Schockemöhle station are now ranked number one in the world. This is an outstanding success for which Paul Schockemöhle and his team are to be congratulated. Hannoveraner and Rhineland breeders have contributed significantly to Sandro Hit's top position. With Dorothee Schneider's Showtime FRH (breeder: Heinrich Wecke, Stadthagen), Sebastien (breeder: Inge Wencsek, Moers) from the Rhineland, who was a member of the Canadian Olympic team in Tokyo with Lindsey Kellogg, with Salvino (breeder Joachim Essink, Stockach), a team silver medallist on the US team with rider Adrienne Lyle, and Statesman (rider Naima Moreira Laliberte, Canada) bred by Bernd Eylers, Hude, four of the five most successful Sandro Hit-offspring were Hannoveraner or Rhineland horses.

The Rhineland stallion Fidertanz by Fidermark/Ravallo (breeder: Hermann Schult, Hünxe), the new Hannoveraner Stallion Of The Year, was able to improve his position in the WBFSH rankings by one place and is now in an excellent sixth place. With his first offspring, the legendary Totilas jumps into the list of the top ten. His most successful horse is Edward Gal's Olympic horse, Glocks Total US (breeder: Stud Lewitz), who is registered Hannoveraner and holds an excellent fifth place in the world ranking of active dressage horses. Three more newcomers follow in the top ten of the dressage sires ranking: the Westphalian Spielberg by Sunny-Boy out of the Nogatle mare-line, the KWPN stallion Ampere, and in tenth place for the first time World Champion, Olympic Champion and the Hannoveraner Stallion Of The Year of 2016: Desperados by De Niro/Wolkenstein II bred by Herbert Schütt, Hemmoor, and ridden by Kristina Bröring-Sprehe. He is and always was stabled at Stud Sprehe. Nine of his offspring collected world-ranking points, eight of them are Hannoveraner. His most successful offspring is the also licensed Destano (breeder: Heinrich Giebelmann, Barver), ridden by Simone Pearce and owned by Stud Sprehe, followed by Divina Royal (breeder: Janina Weinheimer, Hellwege), who was successful in Spain with José Antonio Garcia Mena. Vice World Champion of young dressage horses Destacado FRH (breeder: Heinrich Giebelmann, Barver), who is only eight years old and has already placed at the Grand Prix-level, also collected world-ranking points for his sire Desperados with Matthias Alexander Rath from Stud Schafhof.

Conclusions

The WBFSH ranking exclusively reflects the events of one year in international sport. It therefore is somewhat of a snapshot. In order to get to the top, a stallion of course has to produce good horses, which will also result in good breeding values. However, the stallions are often already quite old when they arrive at the top of the ranking. If a stallion places further down in the ranking then this does not necessarily mean that he is a bad sire. The worldwide approach of the rankings and the link to the FEI data base is certainly an advantage. The breeding value estimation on the other hand portrays the life work of a stallion using scientifically recognized statistical methods. This already starts with relatively young stallions with the breeding value for young horse-classes. Hence the breeder receives information about the first tendencies of the stallion's produce at an early stage. However, the FN breeding value estimation is a national one; a comparison of stallions who have their bases in different countries is difficult. Therefore, it is important to support the existing efforts to establish an international breeding value estimation. ■

Best of both tests from Hannover

Both 50-day tests for dressage stallions saw Hannoveraner winners: Segantini was the best in Adelheidsdorf, Von Und Zu won in Schlieckau.

By Britta Züngel

At the end of November, 36 dressage stallions participated in the 50-day test in Adelheidsdorf. Heinrich Plaas-Beisemann and Gerd Sickinger served as the judges; Jana Freund and Tessa Frank were the guestriders. Segantini by Secret/Fidermark (breeder: Christine Feichtinger, Vaduz/LIE) led the field by a clear margin. Almost exactly twelve months ago, the tippy, dark-brown stallion had been awarded a premium at Verden's post-licensing. At the 50-day test, Segantini impressed with his willingness to perform, which was rewarded with a 10. More top scores followed: 9.0 for trot and canter, 9.50 and 9.75 for rideability. With a final score of 9.02, the three-year-old held the top position. Segantini was born and raised at the W.M. Stud in Visselhövede. "He has no weaknesses, neither in his movement nor in his attitude. We all had a good feeling at the test because he is a very solid horse in quality and in his performance willingness," Eckhard Wahlers was pleased to share. The other two places on the podium went to Hannover as well. Florent Blue Hors by Floriscourt/Desperados (breeder: ZG Pudenz and Frühling, Großbefeh) placed second with a score of 8.65. The black stallion stands at the State Stud Marbach; he already celebrated victories in classes for young riding horses. Back in his home country, he distinguished himself with elegant movement combined with high rideability values. Third in the group was the Benicio/Diamond Hit son Bach (breeder: Friedrich and Edda Kröner, Schüttorf). In addition to his canter, his walk was also awarded a 9.0 – only one other competitor achieved this. Mathieu Beckmann had discovered the bay on the stallion sales in 2020. He has proven to have a good eye, Bach already won two classes for young riding horses.

Four days later, Celle's state stud stallion Von Und Zu did even better at the 50-day test in Schlieckau. The Vitalis/Floriscourt son (breeder: Christa and Ludger Welling, Wietmarschen) convinced the test riders Philipp Hess and Marco Bührig to reward him with the dream score of 10. The chestnut received the lowest score – still an 8.0 – for his behavior at the fence. Peter Mannheims and Reinhard Richenhagen awarded him a 9.50 for his overall impression, which made the final score jump up to 9.17. Von Und Zu had started his journey to the state stud as a premium stallion. The four-year-old had to abort the sport test at the beginning of this year, because he went lame before the test rider test on the last day. "He always cooperates beautifully. I am happy that he now showed at the test, what he shows us at home every day," Dr. Brockmann, the manager of the state stud, shares praising the stallion's rhythm and his cadence. "The test backs up the high quality of his first foals, which were born this year!"

The guestriders gave the second highest score, a 9.75, to another Hannoveraner premium stallion, the one year younger chestnut Sky by Sezuan/Donnerhall (breeder: Stud Neff, Frankenberg). The breeding farm called Gut Schönweide in Grebin had secured the rough diamond at the stallion sales. One person in particular followed the result with special joy: Pascal Kandziora prepared both Von Und Zu and Sky for the licensing in Verden. "Both are quite similar: always totally motivated and extremely willing to perform. But they have completely different pedigrees. In the end, it is a matter of taste which stallion someone prefers. Both have a lot of talent," says the trainer from Spelle. With a final score of 8.68, Sky made it onto the podium in third place.

With the results of the 50-day tests in Adelheidsdorf, Schlieckau and Neustadt/Dosse, the results of all Hannoveraner and stallions from the Rhineland as well as the stallions licensed for Hannover and the Rhineland from other breeding areas have been published. Some stallions were licensed following the stallion performance test.

38 young stallions with highly interesting jumping genes flowing in their veins completed the first 50-day test of the year in Neustadt/Dosse. The final test was scheduled for November 19. The oldest participant finished as the second best: CC-Top by Askari/Calido is still owned by his breeder Jens Wichmann, Roxförde, and already won show jumping-classes at the L-level with Jessica Timmas. In addition to the nine for his style over the colored poles, the judges Dieter Stut and Hubert Uphaus noted a second "very good" for rideability. His final score was 8.61.

The Holstein stallion Cellado by Celestial/Corrado from the stallion station Heiko Schmidt, Neu Bentien, was the only horse to finish with a better result. He was licensed for Hannover on this occasion. The three-year-old, grey stallion passed the stallion test with a final score of 8.95. The second best Hannoveraner, Diamant de Champ by Diamant de Plaisir/Celestial (breeder: Mike Papke, Bernau), came from Verden's foal auction and was entered by the renowned Czech stud Staj Mustang. His average score was 8.30. He was closely followed by the Quaid/Embassy son Quudo Bö (breeder: Helmut Böttcher, Ehlbeck), who spent the breeding season at the State Stud Redefin. The bay stallion out of the line of Täuschung used this time to prove himself in competitions. He has eight placings in jumping horse-classes with Sven Göller and Maximilian Gräfe.

With his unbelievable performance willingness, the OS stallion Chaccothage Blue PS by Chacco-Blue/Conthargos out of Paul Schockemöhle's Luftflotte convinced in Adelheidsdorf at the end of November. The dream score of 10 is framed by brilliant scores for manner, ability, rideability and general impression, which were 9.00 and better. All in all, the athletic bay stallion received a final score of 9.04 and a positive inspection result for Hannover. The best Hannoveraner of the 37 examinees was Diadore by Diacontinus/Picard (breeder: Erhard Tiemann, Lüstringen), who has already collected ribbons at the M-level with Holger Rönne. The five-year-old left the stallion testing site with an overall score of 8.24. ■

Hannoveraner Verband

In 1922, the breeders of Hannoveraner horses joined forces and founded the Verband hannoverscher Warmblutzüchter – exactly 100 years ago. An anniversary that calls for a celebration!

This is not the first 100-year anniversary to be celebrated at Lindhooper Straße 92 in Verden. Already in 1988, the founding of the Hannoveraner Studbook in 1888 was celebrated with a show evening on the occasion of the Ratje-Niebuhr-Show. The purpose of the Hannoveraner Studbook was "to create a public document which officially proves the origin of all presently existing excellent broodmares and their offspring, which are free of heritable defects, suitable for breeding, produced by homogeneous fore-parents and correspond with the type of the Hannoveraner half-bred horses". In 1888, a breeding goal was already determined according to which the noble halfbred horse was to be – above all – a "medium-sized carriage horse, a strong riding horse and a horse suitable for the troops, especially as a cuirassier horse and an artillery-pole horse". The studbook was initially kept by the Royal Agricultural Society of Hannover and from 1899 on by Hannover's Chamber of Agriculture. Freiherr von Troschke was chairman of the studbook from 1891 to 1915, followed by Exzellenz von der Decken from 1915 to 1930. During Carl-Ludwig von der Decken's term in office, a union of Hannoveraner horse breeders was initiated, which was given the name Provinzialverband Hannoverscher Warmblutzüchter on the inaugural meeting on July 25, 1922. Von der Decken was elected chairman and the office was set up at the Chamber of Agriculture in Hannover. The employee of the Chamber of Agriculture, Fritz Hoppe, became the office manager of the provincial society and thus also the studbook manager. In 1935 the society was renamed "Verband hannoverscher Warmblutzüchter e. V.". Since 2007, the Verband carries the present name "Hannoveraner Verband e. V."

Also in 1922, the member magazine was published for the first time. At that time it was called "Hannoversches Pferd – journal for horse breeding and sport". It was published every fortnight. Due to a lack of interest, it was discontinued after the first year. In 1924, it was published again, but then only monthly. From 1943 to 1949 the magazine was not published. Since 1991, the magazine was published under the name DER HANNOVERANER, initially every other month, and since 2002 monthly. The member magazine will be published in its 96th year in 2022.

Another anniversary was already celebrated extensively in 2019: 70 years of Verden's auctions. The first auction in Verden took place in November of 1949 in the riding hall on Brunnenweg. After two auctions, the location changed to the barracks complex at the old Holzmarkt, where the Horse Museum is located today. From autumn 1951 onwards, Verden's auctions were held in the old Niedersachsenhalle on Lönsweg. The new Niedersachsenhalle on Lindhooper Straße was ready for occupation in autumn of 1972. Modernizing the arena took two years. The inauguration of the complex took place on March 26, 2012.

In 2022, 100 years of the Hannoveraner Verband will be celebrated. Whether with an anniversary issue of DER HANNOVERANER in July, various events of the district associations and horse breeding clubs, an exhibition about the past 100 years or with an anniversary ball – this anniversary will be duly celebrated!

Out of 41 horses, which were offered for sale, all sold digitally; 24 will stay in Germany, 17 will travel to a total of eight different countries. With four purchases each, bidders from Spain and France acquired the most horses. Regular customers from Spain secured the top seller of the auction: A brown gelding named Frido by Finest/Spörcken (breeder: Julia and Dr. Arndt-Friedrich Echte, Hameln; exhibitor: Monika Decke, Balge). During the one-week bidding period on the internet as well as during the twelve-day tryouts in Verden, the interest in the rideable gelding, who always moved in rhythm, became apparent early on. The final bid of 56,000 Euros was accepted. The second most expensive dressage horse was Defice (breeder: Renate Weber, Hamburg; exhibitor: Winnie Yazdi, Hamburg), a daughter out of the first crop of Don Martillo, the world champion of five-year-old dressage horses in 2017. This three-year-old chestnut mare out of a dam by Scolari sold for 45,000 Euros to longtime customers from Germany. Another three-year-old liver chestnut follows in the statistics: For Baileys H by Benicio/Dancier (breeder/exhibitor: ZG Harm, Großheide) sold to the USA for 36,500 Euros. The most expensive jumper was Quality Top by Qualito/Grey Top – he sold for 46,000 Euros and will stay in Germany.

The talented mare was bred and sold by Werner Rückgauer from Krautheim. Lotte on Fire by Light My Fire/Escudo (breeder/exhibitor: Regina Stege, Uetze) sold to the Netherlands for 35,000 Euros. This four-year-old bay arrived in Verden with an I-premium, the qualification for the Hannoveraner premium, a second place in an aptitude test and a successfully completed broodmare test. The third most expensive show jumper had also participated in a competition before the auction: Manitu by Mylord Carthago/Silvio (breeder/exhibitor: Elmgestüt "Drei Eichen" GmbH & Co. KG, Königslutter), born in 2017, sold for 33,500 Euros and will continue to be promoted in the Ukraine.

In comparison to the previous year, the average price improved by more than 5,000 Euros to 21,634 Euros. This is a new record for Verden's November auctions. Twelve horses sold for 25,000 Euros and more, another 17 obtained prices of 15,000 Euros and better. The collection of horses, however, was quite small compared to previous years with 45 horses listed in the auction brochure.

Twelve two-and-a-half year old jumping stallions complemented the collection of riding horses. This shift was due to the change in the pre-selection of stallions for the licensing. In previous years, the stallions, which were admitted to the auction at the pre-selection, participated in the elite auction. Due to the timing, the jumping stallions, this year, could not be offered for sale until the November auction. The young sport aspirants sold for an average of 12,000 Euros. Two of them will leave Germany and travel to Poland and Austria. Another Qualito-descendant holds a clear lead in the sale statistics: Question of Honour by Qualito/Acorado (breeder/exhibitor: Martin Klintworth, Ohrensen) found a new owner for 17,500 Euros. A renowned trainer from the vicinity of Verden bought the bay stallion for an American hunter- and show jumper-stable. ■

Prototyp of a jumping mare

St.Pr.St. Coletha was bred by Egon Schröder and is Mare Of The Year 2021.

By Ulrich Hahne

She stood there like a monument: proud and firm. All eyes were on her. The setting was perfect. Between the final of the Hannoveraner Jumping Masters and the stallion sales of the show jumping stallions, St.Pr.St. Coletha by Contendro/Singular Joter was honoured as Hannoveraner Mare Of The Year 2021. She embodies the prototype of a show jumping mare: Bred out of a sport-proven dam, she was a successful competitor herself, and passes on her outstanding talents to her sons and daughters. At the age of 19, her legs are still clear, her back strong, her mind alert. While she posed to be honoured, one had the feeling that she felt it was about her and that she knew it was about something special. Her presence in the Niedersachsenhalle was impressive. For this moment, her owner Ludwig Lemenu from Hunters Studfarm in Belgium had spared no expense or effort to be able to present her at the ceremonial tribute. She travelled from Italy where she is currently undergoing ICSI embryo collection. Visibly moved, her breeder Egon Schröder from Hittbergen, who celebrated his 83rd birthday a few days earlier, accepted the certificate and the well-funded check from the R+V/VTV insurance company.

Born on March 17, 2002 as the daughter of a dam who was successful up to the advanced (S) level, St.Pr.St. Coletha out of the line of Aigrette started her career by winning her class at the mare show in Hohnstorf. In the following years, the Contendro daughter showed her outstanding predisposition with the dream score of 10 for free-jumping at the broodmare test, with obtaining places four and two at the free-jumping competitions of the Hannoveraner Jumping Horse Breeding Program as well as with earning six victories in classes for young show jumpers. After her first foal, which she gave birth to at the age of five, another show season followed at the age of six. According to her age, she was successful up to the medium (M) level. Holger Kubelke who had ridden her dam, also rode her. At mare shows, in free-jumping, at competitions, St.Pr.St. Coletha always finished somewhere in or near the front.

The ideal partner

The Stakkato/Dinar son Scendix (breeder: Gudrun Wenzel, Bad Gandersheim) proved to be the ideal partner for St.Pr.St. Coletha. He was available to the breeders for the first time in 2006; through him, Egon Schröder and Ludwig Lemenu got in touch. The bay stallion was a member of the stallion squad of Hunters Studfarm. Later on, he made a name for himself as the winner of the prestigious "Sires of the World" jumping competition in Zangersheide/BEL and obtained several placements at 1.50 metre-jumper classes. St.Pr.St. Coletha's first foal was a hit. Hunter's Scendro was licensed in Verden and in Belgium, participated twice in the World Championships for young show jumpers in Lanaken and afterwards was internationally successful. In the meantime, the privately-owned stallion is the sire of several successful, advanced (S) level show jumpers. In 2010 his full sister Scenletha was born. In 2013, she was celebrated as the reserve champion mare of the Herwart von der Decken-Show and placed second in the free jumping-competition in Verden the following year. The black mare also participated twice in the World Championships for young show jumpers and by now celebrates victories and placings up to 1.60 metres. Her greatest success happened just five months ago: Scenletha won the Eurospan Championships for young riders in Vilamoura with Jack Whitaker and won the bronze medal with the British team. The third of the powerful full-siblings is nine-year-old Scendro II, who was born on the farm of Ludwig Lemenu in Belgium and is now at home in Italy. With Vincenzo Cinelli, he is victorious up to 1.45 metres.

Scennixe, born in 2011, is a member of Egon Schröder's broodmare band. Like Scenletha, she competed at the Herwart von der Decken-Show and made it onto the podium twice in the free jumping-competition. She passed on the score of 10 for ability at the mare test to her daughter Hann.Pr.A. Hickxie by Hickstead White. She continues the success series of her mother and her sister and was one of the best at the Verband's mare show in Verden two years ago. She also secures this mare line at her breeder's farm in Hittbergen and expects her first foal next year. In the meantime, St.Pr.St. Coletha's second youngest daughter Scenndrinne is used for breeding at Hunters Studfarm in Belgium. Also by Scendix, she made it into the finals of the World Championships for five-year-old show jumpers in 2018.

Egon Schröder breeds performance horses based on the dam line of Dannenberg. St.Pr. St. Coletha has left her mark in the breeding area for Hannoveraner show jumpers and in Belgium, the country of jumpers. Modern reproduction techniques are currently ensuring that her valuable genetic material continues to circulate. ■

If a mare that is a carrier of the gene mutation for WFFS is bred to a stallion that is not a carrier, then a clinically healthy foal is born in any case. The risk that this foal is also a carrier is 50 percent. If a carrier mare is bred to a carrier stallion, then the risk of a diseased foal being born is 25 percent. Such foals are not viable. It is assumed that premature births and abortions occur even before a normal birth. Mares can be tested here: www.laboklin.com. The Hannoveraner Verband has made an agreement with the laboratory that ensures favourable conditions for the Hannoveraner breeder.
