

Figure 1. Line drawing of Ivesia aperta var. aperta by Bobbi Angell (from Cronquist et al. 1997).

Figure 2. Ivesia aperta var. aperta at site C08, in full flower on 29 June 1998. All photographs by Carol W. Witham. See Appendix 1 tables for site description.

Figure 3. Open cyme of compact heads of Ivesia aperta var. aperta flowers from plant shown in Figure 1, 29 June 1998.

Figure 4. View to the northwest from the central portion of Ivesia aperta var. aperta Site 1. Note the dirt road along the right edge of the population, 30 June 1998.

Figure 5. View looking west from the central portion of Ivesia aperta var. aperta Site 2. The bitterbrush delineates the outer boundaries of the population, 1 July 1998.

Figure 6. View looking east at Ivesia aperta var. aperta Site 3. The population is in the vicinity of the mountain-mahogany in the center of the photo, 1 July 1998.

Figure 7. View looking west from the edge of the westernmost subpopulation of Ivesia aperta var. aperta Site 4. Plants occupy several vernal wet basins, 2 July 1998.