Taken altogether, the Braman is an admirable Machine, and we are pleased to recommend it as something that has been much needed—a cheap and good Sewing Machine.—DAILY TRIBUNE.

We assert, without fear of contradiction from any one who will as thoroughly examine and test this Machine as we have, that for firmness, uniformity, and strength of stitch, facility, noiselessness, and, withal, rapidity of performance, and simplicity of construction, it is unequaled by any one.—JOURNAL.

The whole is exceedingly simple and easy to manage, yet firm and reliable in its working. It moves easily, and with but little noise. In fact, it works like a charm. We like the Braman, and trust it will find its way into many a household.—MICHIGAN FARMER.

We conceive the Braman Machine to be one of the best, simplest, and most durable ever presented to the public.—AMERICAN CITIZEN.

WINE IMPORTERS,

No. 19 Broad St., N. Y.

ESTABLISHED IN 1778

COMPLIMENTARY.

The POPULAR WINE IMPORTERS, Messrs A. M. BININGER & Co, No. 19 Broad Street New York, have received the following substantial indorsements of their "OLD LONDON DOCK GIN," which appears to be a standard article with the Druggists.

GIN AS A REMEDIAL AGENT.

The "OLD LONDON DOCK GIN" of Messrs. A. M. BININGER & CO., 19 Broad Street, has been a favorite with the profession for many years. I have frequently prescribed it, and always with decided advantage, where my directions have been followed. It is evidently the product of very careful distillation—the active principle—the juniper berry, being so blendid as to give to the spirit a very delicate, fruity and aromatic flavor. In the course of a practice of ten years, I have had occasion to test many of the Gins in the market, and after a very careful examination of numerous samples, have decided that "BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN" has no equal. Really good Gin is indispensable in every household, and the OLD LONDON DOCK comes emphatically under that head. In selling such an article at a fair price, this old Knickerbocker house is doing much for the cause of true temperance.

COLTON SALTER, M. D., 8 West 39th Street, N. Y.

"BININGER'S OLD LONDON DOCK GIN" possesses all the qualities that can be desired for this highest and noblest use of all wines or liquors. Its ingredients are the distilled juices of carefully selected grains made delicately pungent and flavorful with the aromatic tincture of the juniper berry. Age has mellowed all these mingled aromas, and given an exquisite mildness—a smooth oily body—and an almost floral odor to the liquor, which renders it delicious, to the senses of smell and taste alike, while its sparkling liquid purity leaves nothing for the eye to desire.

In conclusion, the writer must remark that Messrs. A. M. BININGER & CO., 19 Broad Street, N. Y. merit the gratitude of the entire medical profession, as well as of the world at large, for having introduced a stimulant of such unexceptionable purity, and unequivocal power, both as preventative and curative agent, and a harness exhibiting leverage.—Chemical Journal and Medical Gazette.

PREFACE.

In tendering to the business men of the Lake Shore Cities the first edition of the GAZETTEER AND BUSINESS DIRECTORY, the publishers desire to present their thanks to those who have kindly aided them in the undertaking, and at the same time to cheerfully acknowledge their indebtedness to the liberality of their patrons for the material aid necessary for the successful prosecution of the enterprise.

It is believed that an impartial examination of the work will satisfy any one as to its general correctness and utility. The value of a work of this character depends chiefly upon the rapidity with which its details are collected and presented to the public; the freshness of detail thus collected it is believed will amply compensate for any occasional errors which will unavoidably creep in.

With the assurance of the publishers that no effort shall be spared to constitute the next issue a still more reliable index of reference, this work is presented as a candidate for approval.

EAST SAGINAW.

A flourishing port city of Saginaw county, Mich., situated on the east bank of Saginaw river, 16 miles from its entrance into the bay of the same name, and 100 miles north north-west from Detroit. The land upon which it stands was purchased by the founder of the city, Alfred M. Hoyt, of N. Y., in the winter of 1850. At the time of this purchase, the whole country for miles around was an unbroken wilderness, and upon what is now embraced within the corporate limits, only six frame buildings were erected—one steam saw mill, one boarding house, one dwelling house, one trading house, (American Fur Co.'s) one office, near the mill, and one barn; a few shanties were dotted around near the mill, and an Indian trader had a log house near where the "Bancroft House" now stands. These buildings were scattered along the bank of the river for more than two miles. Only three or four acres in all were cleared; the balance was covered with a dense forest of giant oaks, hickory, elm, butternut, lynn, etc. Nineteen months from this time, through the industry and perseverance of Hon. N. Little, (Mr. Hoyt's agent), a splendid Plank Road was completed to Flint—32 miles—and dwellings, stores, mills, etc., were built as if by magic. Up to, and sometime after the completion of this road, the town was supplied with its mail matter from Saginaw City—no office having as yet been established. Mark the change! Upon the spot where stood the trader's log hut, a splendid brick block has been erected, and the city now has a population of 4,000. The Flint & Pere-Marquette Railroad is completed to the City of Flint.

Seven lines of Steamers and one of Propellers arrive and depart from the Port regularly—two daily lines of Stages, with a daily mail from Detroit. The city is lighted by gas, and has a magnificent Hotel, 100 by 120 feet, and four stories high, furnished with baths, steam heating and cooking apparatus, and all other modern improvements.

There are numerous steam saw mills, many with gangs of saws, and capable of sawing from four to five million feet during the usual season of running—grist and flouring mills, with four run of stones, planing mills, one of which last year turned out over seven million feet of planed lumber; breweries, foundries, and machine shops, churches, printing offices, a Masonic lodge, public halls, fire, and hook and ladder companies, brass bands, military companies, a ship yard, where some of the finest steamers and vessels on the rivers and lakes have been built, over two miles of dock, mammoth stores, whose cash trade averages $500 per day, a banking office, whose operations are very extensive, and through whose hands more money has passed for the last six months than the whole banking system of the State—in fact nearly all the conveniences and appliances of the older cities. It is near the head of navigation for lake craft, and near the confluence of five large rivers, which, with numerous others from the Saginaw—giving on the rivers alone, aside from the almost numberless creeks that are at the proper season of the year, large enough to float saw logs, 820 miles of river rafting. They extend into fourteen counties, containing over two hundred and sixty towns, and draining over four million acres of land—rich in pine, oak, cherry, black walnut, and other valuable timber.—Over one hundred million feet of pine lumber was last year shipped from the Saginaw river. This does not include the shingles or square timber, of which many million feet are annually shipped. Black walnut, oak timber and staves, are also shipped in large quantities. The fur trade is large, and the fish trade enormous. The country equals in fertility the far-famed "Western Reserve," and is well calculated to grow any grain, and any and all fruit that will flourish in Western New York. Coal is abundant, and close at hand, and the manufacture of salt has been carried on with great success during the last season.

With all these sources of wealth properly developed, the town must soon be second only to Detroit in the State, and although its growth is wonderful, its prospects are continually brightening.

DETROIT.

A flourishing port city, port of entry, and the capital of Wayne county, situated on the north-west bank of Detroit Strait, or River, 82 miles east south-east from Lansing, in latitude 42° 24' north, and longitude 82° 53' west, 526 miles from Washington.

It is the commercial metropolis of the State, and one of the most important cities of the North-west; admirably situated for an extensive commerce, and possessing one of the finest harbors in the United States.
As early as 1610, the present site of the city was visited by the French, by whom it was colonized and settled as a fur trading post about 1701.
Detroit continued in the military occupation of the French until Nov 29th, 1760, when it fell into the hands of the English, and in 1781 became a part of the United States.
It was incorporated as a village in 1802, destroyed by fire in 1805, and re-incorporated in 1815. Since which it has increased in wealth and population, with regularity and rapidity. In 1810 it contained 770 inhabitants; in 1820, 1,442; in 1830, 2,222; in 1840, 9,192; in 1850, 21,019; in 1854, 40,127; and its present population is estimated at 75,000.

The city is lighted with gas, and supplied with water of the purest quality, from the Detroit River, by means of a hydraulic establishment in the upper part of the city. It is also adorned with several public squares, and its streets are generally spacious; the more noted of which are several avenues, each 200 feet wide. Many of its public buildings and private residences are elegant specimens of architecture. Among the former are several churches, recently erected; also, the U. S.
Building, on Griswold street, now completed, of the Roman style with semi-circular doors and windows. The building has an altitude of 60 feet above the street, and is composed of rusticated ashlar to the height of the second story floor, and polished ashlar above.

The manufacturing interests of Detroit, are varied and extensive, and include numerous large steam saw mills, furnishing an immense amount of lumber, and foundries with machine shops attached for the manufacture of steam engines, mill irons, and machinery of various kinds, stoves, agricultural implements. etc., also boiler manufactories, pail and sash factories, breweries, &c., unitedly constituting a vast industry.

The export and import trade of Detroit is immense, the former embracing the greater portion of the agricultural product of the State, which in common with the productions of portions of adjacent States are shipped from this port.

Detroit has various charitable institutions and orphan asylums which attest the munificence of her citizens, also several literary and scientific institutions of a superior character, with numerous primary and public schools. Three daily and eight weekly newspapers are published in the city, one semi-monthly bank note and commercial reporter, one Masonic, one agricultural, and two monthly medical journals.

The trade of Detroit has increased to a great extent during the past year. There has been an improvement in the manufacturing and jobbing interests of from twenty to fifty per cent., while the amount of produce handled at this point greatly exceeds that of any former year.

The principal articles of import and export at Detroit are included in the following tables:

Ale and Beer.

The manufacture of malt liquors has long been an important branch of business in Detroit. The report of the Secretary of the Water-works shows the number of breweries to be thirty. Ten of these are large concerns, employing an aggregate capital of something like a quarter of a million of dollars. The remainder are conducted on a smaller scale, and will, perhaps, increase the capital invested in the business to 300,000. These turn out between thirty-five and forty thousand barrels of ale and beer per annum.

Bark.

There are in the city fifteen taneries, large and small, and these consume in the course of the year, at a low estimate, 5,000 cords of hemlock bark. This bark is received mainly from along the West shore of Lake Huron, though some, perhaps 10 per cent of the whole, comes from the Canada side. It is brought down during the season of navigation in scows such as are used for the wood trade. The prices paid for bark the past season, have ranged from $3 50 to $4 50, averaging as near as may be $4 per cord. Last year the average price was about the same, but in 1858 it was somewhere in the neighborhood of $6.

Boots and Shoes.

There are nineteen firms in the boot and shoe trade in the city, doing a business of over $10,000 apiece.

The aggregate sales of the whole are put at $1,250,000. There is but one exclusively jobbing house, though some five or six others do considerable in a wholesale way. Manufacturing is also extensively prosecuted, some 400 hands being constantly employed, exclusive of those engaged in custom work. The stocks manufactured consist chiefly of mens' heavy boots, adapted to the wants of the lumber and mining regions, from whence the heaviest portion of the trade is drawn.

Candles and Soap.

The receipts of tallow for the year, foot up 8,661 bbls., the shipments 7,695 bbls. The difference, with that made by the city butchers and packers, is manufactured into soap and candle at this point. There are, according to the assessment report of the Secretary of the Waterworks, thirteen factories in Detroit. Some of these are quite extensive concerns, one employing twenty hands, and turning out the past year something like 100 tons of candles. Three other houses are doing about the same amount of business. Over 1,000 tons of soap are made annually in the city. Manufacturers' prices during the year have ranged 11 to 11½c per lb for candles, and 5 to 6c for hard soap.

Dry Goods.

Detroit has three exclusively jobbing houses in the dry goods line, and six others that combine jobbing and retailing. These are all respectable and some quite heavy houses, their aggregate jobbing business for the year reaching considerably over a million dollars. The dealers enjoy almost a monopoly of the Lake Superior trade beside the largest share of that of the lower Peninsula. The trade of several counties in the Western portion of the State is lost from the fact of Chicago being the natural market for their lumber and other products, but Detroit dealer also number many customers in Northern Indiana and some even in Ohio. What are known as the Northern counties of Michigan are in themselves beginning to constitute quite an important field for trade, and from no point can this be supplied so readily as from Detroit. The Lake Superior trade is assuming such importance that stocks are made up with special reference to its wants, and no where can these be met more satisfactorily.

The sales for twelve months past, have exceeded by over twenty per cent those of the previous year, and have been larger even than in either of the busy years, 1854 and 1855.—Collections also are reported never to have been better. On the whole the trade has been highly satisfactory throughout.

Drugs.

The Drug, Paint and Oil trade has been prosperous during the past year, the amount of sales having been considerably greater than that of any previous year.

There have been no changes in the houses doing the business, the wholesale trade in drugs being still in the hands of the following firms, viz: T. & J. Hinchman, Farrand & Sheley, McKenna & Radcliff, Theo.

H. Eaton, J. S. Cuthbert & Co., and Higby & Stearns.

Five of the above include in their stocks Groceries, Paints, Glass, Oils, and some fancy goods. Higby & Stearns confine their business to drugs, instruments and fancy goods, and also do a retail business.

Furniture.

There are four extensive furniture manufactories, which give employment to some 275 hands, and which turn out work to the amount of nearly $200,000 annually. Besides these, there are some three or four others, doing a smaller business, but adding materially to the above aggregate. One house, devoting its attention chiefly to the manufacture of cane and wooden-seat chairs, does a jobbing business of nearly $50,000 per annum, independent of a considerable retail trade. Another, manufacturing principally hard-wood furniture, turns out $45,000 worth of work in the course of the year. A third confines its attention chiefly to fine work, producing rosewood and oak furniture equal to anything that can be gotten up in the East. A fourth does, besides, a general manufacturing business, for which it has large facilities. During the year this establishment has manufactured, independent of its furniture, a million of broom-handles, besides 125 tons of unfinished wood-work, the whole valued at $16,250. To it has just been added, also, tub and pail machinery, of capacity to turn out 125,000 pails annually. But one of the houses here mentioned, sells furniture other than of their own manufacture. There is, however, one large wholesale house which does no manufacturing at all, selling mostly Eastern work. Some of the large furniture warehouses are well worth a visit, comparing favorably in all respects with anything of the kind East or West.

The trade for the year shows a great improvement from that of 1859, sales having increased fully 33½ per cent.

Furs.

The Fur trade is a limited one, the entire annual collection of the United States not exceeding $2,500,000 in value. Of this amount, $350,000 worth have each of the last two seasons been collected by Detroit dealers, in Michigan and the adjoining States. The business in these two years has been unprecedentedly large. Most of the raw furs here collected, consisting chiefly of Racoons, Muskrats, Otter, Bear, Fisher, Red Fox, Cross Fox, Grey Fox, Beaver and Marten, are shipped to Europe direct. Minks have usually been sold for home use, but owing to the large catch of this fur the American market has become overstocked, and shippers this season are compelled to send them also to Europe, where they are not so highly prized. The result is a depreciation in the value of Mink.—In consequence of the large accumulation of furred skins now in Europe, with the uncertainty of political aspects both at home and abroad, shipping furs will only sell at extreme low prices this season.

Groceries.

The Grocery trade during the past year has been heavy though not very remunerative, there being more than usually active competition among dealers. Stocks have generally been kept quite full, so that at any time any demand could have been met. During the winter months at the opening of the year, a moderate business was done. The spring trade, however, was quite active, the amount of goods sold, exceeding that of the same period in either of the last three years. This subsided into a moderate summer trade, which lasted till the prospect of abundant crops throughout the State, made buyers and sellers equally sanguine of an increased and successful fall business. Heavier stocks than usual were accordingly laid in.—The trade, however, hardly reached the extent that had been anticipated, owing to the political excitement that prevailed, and the high prices of some goods. In their expectations of a more than ordinarily good winter trade, they have also been disappointed, the financial troubles that have visited the whole country, having almost completely stagnated business. Goods are now being sold mostly at a loss, and pay being taken for them generally in currency that costs 10a12 per cent. to convert into exchange.

Hats, Caps and Furs.

The number of houses exclusively in this trade is four. The trade during the year has been quite large, a decided increase over the business of 1859, amounting perhaps to 30 or 40 per cent. Two houses do a large wholesale trade, extending through Michigan and some portion of Indiana. The whole amount of the trade of all combined cannot fall much short of $500,000.

Hardware and Iron.

An extensive jobbing business in iron and hardware is done in this city. The aggregate sales are estimated to equal $1,000,000 annually. The amount of goods sold during the past year will probably exceed the sales of 1859 by twenty per cent., though as prices have generally ruled about 10 per cent. lower, the amount in value will show a much smaller increase.

During the year machinery for the manufacture of spikes and rivets has been put in operation at Wyandotte, and quite an extensive business in this line is expected to be done hereafter.

The Wyandotte Rolling Mill Company quote Lake Superior merchant iron \$60@90 per ton, depending on size; railroad bar, \$55@60 per ton; railroad spikes  $3\frac{1}{4}$ @ $3\frac{1}{2}$ c per lb.; boat spikes  $4\frac{1}{4}$ @ $4\frac{1}{2}$ c per lb.; boiler rivets  $5$ @ $7\frac{1}{2}$ c per lb.

Hay.

There has been quite a large trade in hay at this point for a year. The amount that has arrived by teams has been more than double that received in the same way in 1859, while a much larger quantity has also been received by boats and railroad. The arrivals at the two hay markets have averaged during the year 195 loads per week, or a total of 10,140 loads, equal to 8,619 tons. Add to this the total receipts from other sources—889 tons, and we have, as a grand total of hay received, 9,508 tons. Of this amount 832 tons have been shipped by lake to the lumber and mining regions, 654 tons being loaded here for the Lake Superior country alone. Much more has been taken by the latter trade that has been loaded at points on the St. Clair River. The amount left here for consumption has thus been 8,676 tons.

Leather.

The total shipments of leather from this point, so far as the books show, amount to 12,616 rolls, or perhaps 3,154,000 lbs. This leather is mostly shipped in the rough, to be finished at Eastern factories. Its value in the state in which it leaves us may be roughly put down at $660,000, of this about three-fourths is manufactured in this city, the receipts for the year being but 3,291 rolls.

Lath, Lumber and Shingles.

As vessels coasting in the district are not obliged to report their arrivals and cargoes at the Custom house, the Collector's books show very imperfectly the amount of lumber received by lake during the year. The following statement, however, which, though perhaps not including all the receipts, still approximates that result.

Receipts of Lumber for 1860 were:

Received at the yards from vessels.....	6,066,000 ft.
" at M. C. R. R. dock ".....	357,000
" by Mich. Central R. R.....	663,000

There have been but seven mills in operation in this city the past season. The amount cut by each of the others has been as follows :

Name.	Lumber, ft.	Lath, pcs.
Brooks & Adams.....	4,000,000	2,000,000
F. Hubbard.....	2,411,000	1,259,000

H. A. & S. G. Wight.....	9,000,000	2,250,000
	33,316,000	8,585,00

Oil.

It is estimated that about 200 bbls. of oil are consumed in this city per week. To aid in supplying this amount we have here a lard oil factory and a coal oil refinery. The latter has recently been put in operation, and is of capacity to refine 200 bbls. per week. The crude oil is brought from Pennsylvania, arriving either by Lake or by the Great Western Railroad or Lake Shore Railroads. The Canada oil found near Sarnia is not so readily refined as the Pennsylvania, which is therefore brought from a greater distance. In sperm oil there has been but little trade since the introduction of coal and burning fluid.

Paper and Rags.

There are some three or four houses in this city extensively engaged in the rag business. The rags are collected up throughout the State and shipped here in small parcels, where they are sorted and packed in bales, to be again shipped to the paper mills in New York and Ohio, or to those nearer home, in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. A large number of hands are constantly employed in the sorting and packing operations. The receipts for the year foot up 15,175 bundles and bales, equal to about 800 tons. The receipts of paper shown in our statistics include both wrapping and print paper, and are mostly from the mills on the line of the Michigan Central Railroad. These receipts of paper amount to 24,784 bundles. The following is the list of the paper mills in operation in this State with the capacity of each:

Cornwall & Vaneleve, Ypsilanti, manufacturers print paper, 1,500 lbs. per day.

Cornwall & Brother, Ann Arbor, wrapping paper, 1,500 lbs. per day.

Gale & Co., Monroe, wrapping paper, 1,000 lbs.

Bemis & Newberry, Rochester, Oakland county, wrapping paper, 1,000 lbs.

Aggregate capacity—4600 lbs. print paper, and 5,500 lbs wrapping. Total 9,500 lbs.

These mills are mostly kept in full operation.

Pig Iron.

The receipts of pig iron for the year as shown by the Custom-House books have amounted to 2,210 tons. The product of the Eureka furnace at Wyandotte has been 3,500 tons, and that of the Detroit and Lake Superior works in this city 1,200 tons, making a total supply of 6,910 tons.

Tobacco.

The tobacco trade of the city for the past year has been larger than in any previous year; although owing to the strong competition growing up in the trade, it has probably been less profitable to the manufacturers. There are six establishments engaged in manufacturing cut tobacco in Detroit, employing 300 persons. These have cut in the past year 1800 hhds. leaf tobacco, average 1,350 pounds nett, making an aggregate of 2,430,000 pounds of manufactured tobacco. The prices of the first half of the year ruled extremely low, but are now advancing, owing to the nearly total destruction of the crop in the tobacco growing States by drouth and frost.

This city manufactures more cut tobacco than any city in the Union, in proportion to its population. Its facilities for shipping in every direction, together with its having the advantage of cheap freights from Louisville, have done much to make it so important a point in its business. Tobacco is sent from here to several of the New England States, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana and Canada.

The number of persons employed in the manufacturing and connected therewith must be over 1,000; 25,000 barrels are used yearly in packing.

In addition to the manufacture of cut tobacco, there are one hundred persons employed in this city in the manufacture of cigars—making nearly 7,000,000 cigars per annum.

It will be seen by these figures, that although tobacco is by many considered an evil, it is to this city a great benefit.

Railroad Traffic.

Below we present statements showing the monthly earnings of each of the railroads centering in Detroit, with the per centage of increase over last year's figures. A post village of Wayne county, Mich., 10 miles below Detroit, situated on Detroit River. It was first laid out in 1855, and has rapidly increased in population. It contains several stores and one of the most extensive Railroad and merchant iron Rolling Mills in the country. The iron used at this mill comes chiefly from Lake Superior, and is considered equal in quality to any in the world.

TRENTON.

A post village of Wayne county, Mich., 16 miles below Detroit, on the Detroit river. It contains several stores and saw mills, and is a place of considerable trade. Population 1500.

MONROE.

A post village of importance, and the capital of Monroe county, pleasantly situated on the River Raisin, 2 miles above its entrance into Lake Erie, and on the Detroit, Monroe & Toledo Railroad, 41 miles from Detroit, 24 miles from Toledo, 33 miles from Adrian, via Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad; and 243 miles from Chicago.

Monroe was first settled by the French, as early as 1776, but its rapid improvement and settlement by the Americans commenced about 1835.

It is the principal market for the staples of several of the southern counties, and its commerce finds ingress and egress by a ship canal to Lake Erie, and by the Michigan Southern Railroad.

In addition to the elegant private residences, with extensive grounds attached, and beautifully adorned with shade trees and shrubbery, it contains a Female Seminary and Collegiate institute, a Union School and branches, a fine Court House, erected at a cost of $35,000, two Catholic and eight Protestant churches, two weekly newspapers—the National Press and the Commercial, two Masonic Lodges and one Royal Arch Chapter, one Lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and numerous and varied professions and trades. Population 4,500.

TOLEDO.

A flourishing city and port of entry of Lucas county, O., on the west bank of the Maumee river, four miles from its mouth. Swan creek enters the river here, and furnishes a convenient outlet for the Wabash and Erie canal. Opposite the mouth of this stream the river suddenly expands to the width of three quarters of a mile, and just above it has been formed a deep bayou, one half mile in length, separated from the main channel of the river by a tongue of low land, formerly known as Grassy Point. On this spot, but a few years since covered with wild rice and pond lillies, are now located the depot buildings of the numerous railroads terminating here.

Substantial brick structures have taken the place of what seemed an unsightly green morass. Grassy point is now known as the Middle Ground. More than two millions of money have been expended in improvements. With an area of fifty acres, it will have more than two miles of water front, all under the exclusive control of the railroad companies. Here are located the passenger and freight houses, the grain warehouses and the various offices. The Maumee river, or as it is more properly termed, the Miami of Lake Erie, furnishes at Toledo the finest harbor on the great Lakes, and is the terminus of over seven hundred miles of canal navigation. The Michigan Southern Railroad and the Air-line road passing through Northern Indiana, the Toledo, Wabash and Western road, the Toledo and Detroit road, the northern and southern divisions of the Cleveland and Toledo road, and the Dayton and Michigan road all terminate in a common center at the union depot, on the middle ground. It contains thirteen churches, and the Presbyterians, the Methodists, the Episcopalians, the Unitarians, the Baptists and Catholics, have large and handsome churches, well supported by numerous congregations. A tasteful Bethel church has also been built for the sailors and boatmen, who form a large floating population during the summer season. It has four newspapers, viz: three daily, tri-weekly and weekly, and one weekly; one high school and several ward or district schools, under the best government, and well supported; the Young Men's Association have a fine library and reading room; there are also an orphan asylum, and Ursuline convent; the Masons have two lodges, a chapter, council and encampment, and the I. O. O. F. one lodge; there is a Branch of the State Bank, the Bank of Toledo, three private banking offices and one Savings bank; 154 miles from Columbus, 237 from Cincinnati, 113 from Cleveland, and 280 from Pittsburgh; fare to Cincinnati $7, Cleveland $3 25, New York $17, Philadelphia $16. Population 18,000.

DEALERS IN THE CELEBRATED
STERLING COAL,
 Pittsburgh, and other Gas Coals,
 P. O. DRAWER, 74,
CLEVELAND, O.

We would also refer to Gas Companies in the following places.

New York City, (Manhattan and New York Co.'s,) Brooklyn, Albany, Troy, West Troy, Rochester, Oswego, Rondout, Kingston, Albion, Brockport, Seneca Falls, Elmira & Lyons, in State of New York; Cleveland, Toledo, Sandusky,, Norwalk and Oberlin, in Ohio; Detroit, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, in Michigan; Coburg, in Canada; Chicago, Ill., and two Companies in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The extensive Mines in Pennsylvania, known as the Sterling Hills, (which are the highest in that part of the State,) are wholly under our control, and the coal is mined and sold only by us, or our agents. As the coal has improved the further we got in, and being several hundred yards further in than last season, with about a hundred feet more earth over it, the quality of coal we mine this year will be better than ever. Some coals are good in one or two particulars, and defective in others: but in combining all the qualities desired in a gas coal, we know of none equal to the Sterling. Getting it to this place by Railroad, a supply can be had during the summer months, (as well as at all other times,) which is not the case with coals dependent upon high water for transportation, as are those shipped from Erie. Having increased our mining facilities, we are prepared to ship on a more extensive scale than heretofore, and should be pleased to receive your orders.

Having discovered that certain unprincipled coal dealers are endeavoring to sell an inferior article of coal, under the name of Sterling, we deem it our duty not only for your interest as well as ours, to notify you. that you may be on your guard in purchasing what you might think was Sterling. There is but one Sterling Coal Mine, and that mine we have the full and entire control of; and Gas Light Companies can only obtain the Genuine Sterling Coal by ordering direct from us, or of F. WELLINGTON, Syracuse, N. Y., who is our only agent for that State.

There being several firm names similar to ours in this city, correspondents will avoid confusion by being particular to direct their letters to

ERIE, PA.

A post town, port of entry and Capital of Erie county, on Presque Isle Bay of Lake Erie, 218 miles N. W. by W. from Harrisburg, in latitude 42° 10' North, and longitude 80° 08' West. The borough extends along the bay for 3 miles, and from it 1 mile. The harbor is one of the best and safest on the Lake, with 8 or 10 feet of water on the bar, and the depth within it averages 20 feet. The borough contains the County Court House, a Jail and other offices, Churches of nearly all denominations, Schools and Academies, a Bank, numerous wholesale Stores, Commission and Forwarding Houses, and lumber yards; also, Foundries, Mechanics' Shops and manufacturing establishments of various kinds. Its population in 1840, was 3,412; in 1850, 5,850, and in 1860, about 12,500. At the first period, it had few facilities of communication,—at the last the line of Railroads to Buffalo was completed, and also the line to Cleveland, thus extending its commercial highways to the extreme West and East of the Union. connections with the interior are now such as place it on a par with Buffalo, Cleveland, Sandusky, &c., and make it in a commercial point of view, one of the most important ports of Lake Erie. Erie has long been a port the position and local advantages of which were appreciated by the Lake navigator, and it has as long been a harbor of refuge to the national vessels, in war or storm. It was here that Perry, in the last war with Great Britain, fitted up his fleet; and in case of war again ensuing no port on the Lake has the same advantages for defense and safe harbor, Presque Isle being a natural harbor, easily defended against the enemy.

A post village, of Chautauque county, on Lake Erie, 278 miles west from Albany. It is the western terminus of the New York & Erie Railroad, and is intersected by the Buffalo & State Line Railroad which forms a link in the line of the Lake Shore Railroad from Buffalo to Monroe. It has rapidly progressed in every branch of industry since the completion of these great works, and is destined to become one of the great ports of the lakes.

The harbor has been improved, and affords twelve feet of water on the bar.

Steamboats arrive and depart hourly in connection with the railroads, and an extensive commerce is carried on at, not only with domestic ports, but also with Canada.

The harbor formerly called 'Chadwick's Bay,' is capacious, accessible, secure and capable of improvement so as to become one of the best upon the lakes.

BUFFALO.

A post city, port of entry, and capital of Erie county, N. Y., at the outlet of lake Erie and the head of Niagara river, 254 miles West of Albany. The city lies on Buffalo Creek, which falls into the lake, and constitutes its harbor. Lat.  $42^{\circ} 53'$  N., and Long.  $78^{\circ} 55'$  W. Population from 80,000 to 100,000.

Buffalo is the great entrepot between the North-west and the States of the Atlantic seaboard—the gate through which the bulk of commercial material must pass for a market. Its position is unrivalled on the lakes, and from the advantages possessed by its port, it has become the rendezvous for a vast tonnage employed on the Western waters. The harbor is spacious and safe, the creek having a depth of 13 or 14 feet for a mile up, and being from 12 to 16 rods wide.

The land on which the city is built rises by a very gentle ascent two miles from the water, and from its higher parts affords fine views of the Lake, the Niagara river, and the Canada shore. The city is laid out in broad and regular streets, which contain numerous elegant stores, large warehouses, railroad depots, &c. Most of the dwellings are substantial and neat.

The public buildings are a court house, jail, and other county offices, a State arsenal, three market houses, city offices, churches, banks, &c.

The city is divided into 13 wards, and is governed by a mayor and common council. The city contains an efficient fire department. Water is supplied to the citizens through pipes, and the streets are lighted with gas. Among its benevolent institutions, we would mention the Orphan Asylum, the City Hospital, the Hospital of the Sisters of Charity, the Female Orphan Asylum, and the Association for the Relief of the Poor. The city is well supplied with common schools, and many highly efficient academies and private schools.

The different religious denominations are well represented, there being no less than 68 churches, most of which are costly and magnificent edifices.

The press of Buffalo consists of the "Commercial Advertiser," the oldest daily paper in the city, the "Patriot and Journal," the "Courier," and the "Morning Express," together with about 12 other weekly and monthly publications.

The railroads uniting Buffalo with Canada, the great West and the Eastern States, are magnificent works, and consist of the following roads, viz: The New York Central, the Great Western, Buffalo, New York and Erie, New York and Erie, Buffalo and Lake Huron, and Buffalo and State Line. There are also several plank roads centering in Buffalo and reaching back to the principal villages in the county.

Buffalo was founded in 1801 by the Holland Land Company, but for a long period it made but little progress, since in 1814, when burned by the British, it did not contain more than 200 houses, nor was it until the Erie Canal opened a navigable passage from the lake to the Hudson river, that it exhibited any uncommon rapidity of growth. Since that period, however, its prosperity has been unbounded, and its rise, in the scale of importance as a commercial city, has been such as its original founders could never have dreamed of. It now ranks as the fourth city in the State, and the twelfth of the United States, in respect of population, and in a commercial point of view, is surpassed by only three or four of our sea-board ports.

BUFFALO STEAM GAUGE COMPANY,

Corner Washington and Perry Sts., Buffalo, N. Y.

SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF

A. J. ALLEN'S PATENT STEAM GAUGE,

This Gauge has been got up with a special view to use on Locomotive Engines, and is free from all objections arising from those now in use, all its parts being constructed and held firmly in place, so that the hand is not affected by any jar or shaking motion from the Engine, and unlike most other Gauges, is free from India Rubber or Steel, that is brought in contact with water or steam, (which is a great annoyance and soon fails,) rendering the Gauge useless until repaired, at considerable trouble and expense, and then is no better than at first. These Gauges are all thoroughly constructed, and guarded in all their parts against wear, and must of necessity be very durable if properly used.

These Gauges have been in use a considerable length of time on Locomotives and Stationary Engines, and prove to be all that we claim them.

CAUTION!

All parties will be particular to notice that this Gauge is not E. G. Allen's of Boston, but is A. J. Allen's of Buffalo, N. Y.

All Gauges manufactured by this Company will be marked on the dial "Buffalo Steam Gauge Co., Buffalo, N. Y., A. J. Allen's Patent." All others are not genuine. Any parties wishing a Test Gauge and Force Pump for adjusting Gauges, can be supplied at short notice.

SCALE OF PRICES.

8, in Brass Case, - - -	$30 00.
7, in Brass Case, - - -	25 00,	Iron Case, - - -	$22 00.
6, in Brass Case, - - -	20 00,	Iron Case, - - -	16 00.
5, in Brass Case, - - -	15 00,	Iron Case, - - -	12 00.

DIRECTIONS.

A Siphon is indispensable in all cases, and no Gauge should be put up without the Siphon being attached thereto. On Locomotive Engines the Gauge should never be attached to the "Cab," but to a stand fastened to the boiler. The pipe leading from the Gauge, on Steamboats and Stationary Boilers, should incline to the boiler, so that the water may run back into the boiler when the steam is down, and thus prevent the water from freezing in the pipe. Care should be used in putting up the Gauge, that the case be not sprung out of shape, thereby deranging the working parts. Address orders to

PIANO FORTE MANUFACTURERS,

Nos. 257, 259 and 261 Washington Street,

BETWEEN NORTH AND SOUTH DIVISION STREETS.

---

The subscribers keep constantly on hand an extensive and choice assortment of Piano Fortes, in elegant Rosewood Cases, which we warrant to be equal in tone, touch and finish, to any manufactured in this country. As a proof of the superiority of our instruments, the subscribers would respectfully call the attention of the public to the subjoined testimonial from Professor Gottschalk, (one of the most distinguished pianists in this country,) being one of the many they are daily receiving from professors and others, assuring them of the merits of their Pianos. Persons desirous of obtaining a superior instrument are earnestly invited to give us a call. Dealers supplied on liberal terms.

TESTIMONIAL.

SARATOGA, 27th July, 1856.

I was excessively satisfied with the piano which Mr. Richard Owen, of Quebec, was kind enough to lend me for my concert here.

That instrument, of the manufacture of Messrs. A & J. Keogh, of Buffalo, was one of the most powerful, if not the most powerful, two stringed square Pianos I had ever met with. The tone was full and round, without harshness, and of a remarkable evenness in all its registers. As to its strength, I will merely state the fact that it stood at my concert during two hours, without intermission, under five or six heavy fantasias, and as many small pieces, in a moist and hot atmosphere, without one single string breaking, or the instrument getting out of tune; which is more than I could say of many grand Pianos, even of the most eminent makers.

The Messrs. Keogh are personally unknown to me, and this was the first instrument of theirs I had ever performed on; my opinion, therefore, cannot be influenced by partiality. In recommending it, I simply respond to an artistic feeling, and a desire to do justice to manufacturers whose popularity is so well deserved.

(Signed:)
