Asher Isaacs, Ph.D.

LAST week a conference of English doctors announced that drinking milk within two hours after a meat meal is "highly detrimental to the digestive system" and the Jewish dietary law was labelled "one of the most valuable health laws." Thus, another prop of the modern critics who see so many of our laws as being good in those days but outmoded today, is removed.

For the apologist who frequently worries because Jews exceed their per centage, the week holds two such situations. Of the eleven members of the graduating class of the medical school in Glasgow, Scotland (St. Andrews), seven were Jewish—and of the seven, six came from New York. And then, in far off South Africa, there are now three Jewish mayors—in Cape Town, Johannesburg, and Pretoria.

Two states are now concerned with legislation which is of special interest to Jews. In New Jersey a bill has been passed by the Assembly, providing for a fine and jail sentence for anyone disseminating propaganda against any race, color or religion. We suppose that free speech advocates will object.

A much-needed piece of legislation in Massachusetts, if passed, would forbid those mushroom synagogues, run for private profit, which spring up around holiday time and thus deprive the established institutions which render service throughout the year of much-needed revenue from the sale of seats.

The prosperity in Palestine during the past year is shown by the fact that the Jews of Palestine sent over $1,500,000 to their less fortunate relatives in Russia and Poland. But when the boom collapses, there is grave danger that the money will have to be sent back.

Frankfurt-am-Main officials are divided on the question as to whether the Jews should be permitted to fly the Reich colors. The question should be rather, do the Jews want to?

Churchmen are now suggesting that the coming Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) be observed by Christians as well. There is something about the idealism of this day that has appealed through the ages. Mahomet planned to have his followers do the same thing. We could probably give the churchmen some suggestions as to how not to observe the day.

CANCEL PLANS FOR CONGRESS OF WORLD JEWS

EXECUTIVE DECIDES ON LATER DATE FOR PARLEY

PARIS, Mar. 6. (JTA)—The Executive Committee of the World Jewish Congress last Sunday decided not to hold the Congress in 1935 as originally contemplated.

The decision was reached in connection with developments in the American Jewish Congress, which is calling an extraordinary conference in Philadelphia on March 16. The Philadelphia gathering is being convoked for the purpose of postponing the elections in America to the World Jewish Congress from April 28 to a later date.

The World Jewish Congress will probably be held not before 1936, it was stated here. In the meantime, the possibility was discussed here of convoking a French Congress during the Summer of 1935. This project, however, is meeting with strong opposition on the part of those Jewish representatives who are seeking to establish in France an organized representative French Jewish body, similar to the Board of Deputies of British Jews existing in England.

PESSIMISTIC OVER GERMAN SITUATION

LONDON, Mar. 7. (JTA)—Doubt that the economic situation of the German Jews is improving in any way was expressed here last week by Sir Leonard Montefiore, prominent Jewish leader, in an address before the Anglo-Jewish Association.

Discussing the report of the Joint Foreign Committee on the German Jewish situation, Sir Leonard stressed the seriousness of that situation and pointed out that the propaganda activities of Julius Streicher's Stuermer and of other anti-Semitic periodicals have not abated. In Hesse and in Franconia, Sir Leonard declared, anti-Jewish feeling is stronger than ever before.

BABY HOME ANNOUNCES PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

Preliminary plans for a $5,000 drive, to be launched soon by the Jewish Home for Babies and Children, were made public this week by Mrs. M. J. Josephson, chairman of the project.

The money will be used for the Home's building fund.

Mrs. Josephson will be assisted in leading the drive, by Mrs. Barnett Davis, Mrs. B. Block, Mrs. Saul Vatz and Mrs. Ben Danovitz.

Membership Drive Started

Announcement of an intensive drive for new members of the Home was made at the same time. Members are urged to bring prospective members to a meeting in the Y.M. and W.H.A. on March 24. Mrs. Barnett Davis is membership chairman.

Y.M. & W.H.A. Annual Drive Opens Tuesday

CAPTAINS ARE ORGANIZED; DRIVE CHAIRMAN OPTIMISTIC

Five hundred men and women workers in the $60,000 Membership and Maintenance Campaign of the Y. M. and W. H. A., will gather at dinner this Tuesday evening, March 12, in the Morris Kaufmann auditorium, to launch the annual appeal for funds to balance the "Y" budget.

The principal speaker at the meeting will be Rabbi Solomon B. Freehof, of Rodef Shalom Congregation.

Kann to Preside

Gustave H. Kann, general chairman of the campaign, will preside at the meeting and short talks will be made by Harry J. Applestein, president of the "Y"; Elmer A. Hamburg, Sid R. Wilkoff, Mrs. M. B. Grant and Mrs. Irwin D. Wolf. Dr. Philip R. Goldstein, sent here by the National Jewish Welfare Board of New York to direct the campaign without cost to the "Y," and Herman Passama-neck, executive director of the "Y," will also speak. A musical program featuring Samuel Kliachko, cellist, and Caroline Hilmer, contralto, has been arranged. No solicitation of any kind will be made at the meeting.

Captains Organize

Meeting at the Concordia Club last Monday night, captains and workers in the Men's Division organized themselves under the leadership of Elmer A. Hamburg, chairman of the Blue Division, and Sid R. Wilkoff, chairman of the White Division.

Dr. Abba Hillel Silver, of Cleveland, cancelled engagements in his home city in order to be here for the organization meeting of the Women's Division last Tuesday afternoon. Following an address by Dr. Silver, the women organized themselves under the leadership of Mrs. Irwin D. Wolf and Mrs. M. B. Grant, co-chairmen, and various captains representing practically all of the Jewish Women's Organizations of the city.

A partial list of campaign heads and workers, to be followed by another list next week, was announced as follows:

Officers and Committees

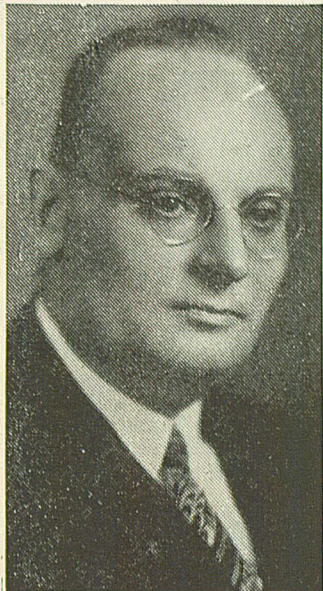

General chairman: Gustave H. Kann. Vice-chairmen: Harry J. Applestein, Louis Gordon, Jr., Maurice Falk, Elmer Hamburg, Edgar J. Kaufman, William B. Klee, A. C. Lehman, Irvin F. Lehman, Leo Lehman, A. L. Mars, Bennie Neiman, A. M. Oppenheimer, Hyman Rogal, George Rom, Charles J. Rosenbloom, Joseph Ruben, D. L. Wilkoff, Abe Weil and A. Leo Weil.

Heads of men's divisions: Elmer A. Hamburg, blue division; Sid R. Wilkoff, white division.

Special Gifts Committee: Edgar J. Kaufmann, chairman.

Special contributions committee: W. B. Klee, I. F. Lehman, Charles Dreifus, Leon Falk, Jr.

"I have willingly accepted the general chairmanship of the drive because I believe the "Y" must be maintained and supported and that it is the duty of every Jew in Greater Pittsburgh, who can afford it, to help the "Y" carry on its valuable program of constructive activities.

"I have been associated with the Y. M. and W. H. A. in various capacities for many years. I have watched thousands of young people participate in its mind and body building program and go forth into the world better men and better women because of their association with this fine institution.

"The "Y" is truly the Center of Pittsburgh's Jewish life. From it radiates the activities of many of our leading communal organizations. Serving as it does the great mass of Jewish people of the community, the "Y" is justified in calling upon everyone to assist in its maintenance.

"I appeal to every Jew in the community who is interested in the perpetuation of our ideals and in the building of character for our young people to come to the support of the "Y" in this campaign. We must not allow this institution funds. Its work must go on."

LABOR LEADERS PREDICT CRISIS IN PALESTINE

START DRIVE TO COMPLETE UNEMPLOYMENT FUND

JERUSALEM, Mar. 7. (JTA)—Preparing itself for wide-scale unemployment in Palestine, Histadruth, the Jewish Labor Federation, decided last week to complete its campaign for a $250,000 fund for unemployment insurance, towards which $150,000 has already been collected.

During the present prosperity in Palestine, leading industrial and government experts are predicting an economic crisis in the country in the near future. In order to meet the unemployment which the crisis may bring, the Histadruth has proclaimed its campaign for the special unemployment fund.

Of the $150,000 which has already been collected for this fund, the major part came from special dues imposed by the Histadruth upon its 60,000 organized members. Part of it also came from voluntary contributions made by employers as well as by individual Jews who are interested in preventing unemployment in Palestine.

Zionist Region Meeting Scheduled Here For April

Rabbi Benjamin A. Lichter, president of Zionist No. 5, has announced that the quarterly conference of the region will take place in Pittsburgh the early part of April.

Zionist region No. 5 includes Zionist districts in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia. A speaker of national prominence will address the conference.

A membership campaign of the Pittsburgh Zionist district will soon be started. Mr. Harry Dobrin is general chairman, Dr. M. H. Fisher is chairman for the East End, Dr. S. W. Marick, chairman for Squirrel Hill, and Dr. S. Mallin will be in charge of Oakland.

Volunteer workers are being enrolled for the campaign.

EINSTEIN PLEADS FOR CLOSER UNITY AMONG WORLD JEWS

WARNS ON REPETITION OF OLD GERMAN-JEWISH ATTITUDE

NEW YORK, Mar. 6. (JTA)—A warning that the Jews must learn a lesson from the Jewish situation in Germany was sounded last week by Professor Albert Einstein at a reception given him by the women's division of the American Jewish Congress, at which 2,000 persons were present. Mrs. Nathan D. Perlman presided.

"At this time," Professor Einstein said, "the unity of Jews the world over and their mutual assistance is an unyielding law. Would that all Jews would learn from the mistakes of the German Jews during the last twenty years! For most of the German Jews there existed no international Jewish community. In their own eyes they were Germans and nothing but Germans. The Eastern Jew, the so-called 'ostjude,' was to them but a foreigner. When aid was given it was administered to him with condescension. And the recipient of such charity was not too happy.

Still Mimic Germans

"Slavishly these German Jews copy the still foreign-to-them modes of life of the German people with the sole purpose of making themselves forgetful of their Jewish origin. How greatly did I suffer under this lack of pride and dignity on the part of these German Jews who were so lacking in self-respect that they were insensible to its loss.

"A single political upheaval was sufficient to destroy all their illusions," Professor Einstein continued. "In a single moment they lost all those insecure possessions whose acquisition was bought at the sacrifice of their inner dignity and their traditional historical individuality. Materially and spiritually broken, the help of those Jews abroad, who did not submit to such a ruinous course of assimilation became their sole protection."

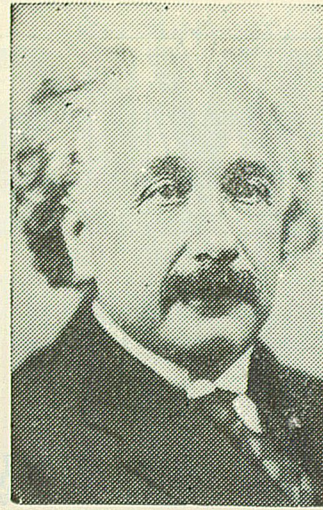

B'NAI B'RITH MEETS

The next regular meeting of B'Nai B'rith, Pittsburgh lodge No. 44, will be held in the Y. M. and W. H. A., Tuesday evening, March 12, at 8:30 o'clock.

The program will include initiation of new candidates by the new "degree team" of the lodge.

There will also be a discussion of the life and work of Moses Maimonides.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR MAIMONIDES EVENTS

Further plans for the local celebration of the 800th anniversary of the birth of Moses Maimonides, renowned medieval Spanish-Jewish rabbi and philosopher, were announced this week by Israel A. Abrams, chairman of the arrangements committee.

The celebration will begin Friday evening, March 29, with services in synagogues throughout the city and will close the following Sunday evening with a mass meeting in the Y. M. and W. H. A., where the philosophy and works of Maimonides will be discussed by educational leaders.

Special programs are being planned by various Jewish schools and organizations of the city.

Similar celebrations will be held by the Jewish communities throughout the world.

The Pittsburgh committee in charge of arrangements consists of Mr. Abrams; Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky, Dr. Ludwig B. Bernstein, Abe R. Cohen, Mrs. B. Davis, H. Dobrin, Dr. Solomon B. Freehof, Samuel Fuss, Rabbi Herman Hailperin, Mrs. Saul Lavine, Rabbi Wolf Leiter, Mrs. I. H. Levin, Rabbi B. A. Lichter, Dr. M. B. Lichtenstein, Morris Neaman, Herman Passamaneck, Rabbi G. A. NAZIS ATTACK JEWS FOR RESULT OF 'LINDY' CASE

SENTENCE DESCRIBED AS 'RITUAL MURDER' IN LEAFLETS

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. (JTA) Anti-Jewish circulars stating that "the Jews have sentenced Hauptmann" and that the Hauptmann sentence is "a Jewish ritual murder" have been distributed here since last Thursday by members of local Nazi organizations, which on Wednesday launched a campaign in Yorkville Casino to obtain funds for releasing Hauptmann.

"Germans and Americans, awake!" the circular proclaims. "German compatriots, wake up and see in the Hauptmann sentence the hand of the all-powerful Jew in America. A German has been condemned to death on the basis of false testimony."

The circular charges that Attorney General Wilentz used arguments to influence the jury which fully coincide with certain sayings of the "Talmud."

"The sentence of Hauptmann was carried out exactly according to the modus of the Jewish cabbala," the anti-Semitic leaflet asserts.

Quotes Nazi Paper

The circular cites many quotations from "Der Stuermer," the notorious Jew-baiting publication of Julius Streicher, published in Nuremberg and condemned by the entire civilized world.

"Germans and Americans awake!" the leaflet exhorts. "The eleventh hour has struck. Don't wait until the twelfth hour begins. It will then be too late for you. You may then find yourselves in the Jewish Communist World Collective. The sentence issued in Flemington is but a consequence of what is going on in Washington, Albany and New Jerusalem (say New York)," the proclamation says, attacking Bernard Baruch, Secretary Morgenthau, Governor Lehman, Mayor LaGuardia and others.

Allege Conspiracy

The allegation that "the Hauptmann case is a Jewish conspiracy against the German nation" was also made, by a number of speakers at a meeting called by the New York Nazis on Wednesday evening at the Yorkville Casino. The meeting was attended by more than 3,000 persons and was addressed among others by Mrs. Hauptmann and by Hauptmann's lawyer, Edward J. Reilly.

The meeting, at which the Nazi greeting "Heil Hitler!" was shouted several times by the audience, was called for the purpose of collecting funds to revive the Hauptmann case. Attorney General Wilentz was termed by the speakers "a representative of the Elders of Zion." The entrance to the meeting was guarded by Nazi storm troopers in uniform.

Reilly Scores Anti-Semites

Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, was not aware of the nature of anti-Semitic circulars charging "the Hauptmann case is a Jewish conspiracy against the German nation" until subsequent to the Wednesday rally he told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency reporter Friday.

WHY JOIN THE 'Y'?

THE Young Men and Women's Hebrew Association deserves the fullest co-operation of every Jewish family in Pittsburgh. The "Y" is in a very special sense a family institution. It offers opportunities for cultural and physical betterment to mother, father, son and daughter. Whether one be interested in music or athletics, painting or debating, cultural speeches or entertaining movies, that need can be satisfied at the "Y." Whether one can come to the "Y" only on Sunday or only during the evening, or every evening, or during the afternoon, makes little difference. "Something interesting is going on all the time." Whether one be rich or poor is never apparent at the "Y." All are welcome and there is but one requirement—that is, to enjoy to the fullest the facilities of the institution.

We are proud of the Association. We see in it the most effective means of affording our young people a fine Jewish environment and of strengthening their self-respect. The "Y" has won the highest praise of our Gentile neighbors, who see in it one of the most important cultural centers in the community.

And so we say to the campaigners, "Success to your efforts in this Maintenance and Membership Campaign which begins on Tuesday." And to the people approached, we say, "Contribute to the 'Y' if you are a member; join if you are not."

Alphabetically-minded as we are today, we can find a complete alphabet of desirable features in the "Y":

FIFTY YEARS OF THE HIAS

FROM the patriarch Abraham we learn hospitality towards strangers. We read in Genesis that Abraham was seated at the door of his tent and three strangers appeared. "And when he saw them, he ran to meet them." He gave them water with which to wash; he invited them to sit beneath the shade of a tree; he begged them to partake of food: "And I will fetch a morsel of bread and comfort ye your heart." And with the aid of Sarah, he prepared a meal and included the best that he had.

For fifty years the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society has been practicing the hospitality of Abraham towards fellow-Jews who have left their native lands. The Hias has met the thousands of ships coming into the harbors and has served hundreds of thousands of meals. It has supplied sleeping quarters for many thousands. It has helped in locating relatives and uniting son with mother, father with daughter, wife with husband. In its Washington office it has fought against the inhumanity of a strict interpretation of immigration laws and in its numerous offices in China and Persia, in Cuba and Roumania, in Australia and Guatemala—in twenty-eight countries—it has rendered similar aid. Hias it is that helps the newcomers to become citizens in their adopted land.

The burden of Hias today is heavier than ever. Seeking homes in a crowded world for unhappy Jews from Germany, Roumania, Poland, and elsewhere. Hias continues on towards its second half century of service. Its noble work is supported only by the voluntary contributions of those who wish, in a small way at least, to follow in the footsteps of Abraham.

IDA REBECCA DROB: A MOTHER IN ISRAEL

A RICH, full life has come to a close. A life of sacrifice and service for others which for forty years enriched our Pittsburgh community has ended. A remarkable woman was Mrs. Drob and many times blessed. She was the wife of a rabbi, mother of a rabbi, and mother-in-law of a rabbi, and the grandmother of two rebbetzins and the secretary of the Vaad Hakashruth of New York City. Another son is carrying on one of the oldest Jewish callings, the printing of Hebrew and Yiddish works.

To the family of Mrs. Drob we extend sympathy; for the community we express a sense of loss.

AFRICAN JURIST

You probably know that sitting in Washington on the United States Supreme Court are Louis D. Brandeis and Benjamin N. Cardozo. But did you know that in Africa an Englishman, Sidney Solomon Abrahams, is Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the Uganda Protectorate? By now, it is quite well known that the flicker star, Sylvia Sidney, is Jewish; but do you know that the rising young Warner player, Patricia Ellis, is likewise a Jewess? Well, she is; is, in fact daughter of the Broadway musical comedy producer, Alexander Leftwich.

Walter Winchell often proclaims his Jewishness in his nationally syndicated column, but did you know that F. P. A., (Franklin P. Adams) of the Herald Tribune, is also a Jew? You would most certainly have known if you ever had a peek at his definitely Semitic profile, but you might have been thrown off the scent if you have been told that his sons are named Timothy and Anthony.

Despite the fact Elizabeth Bergner, now starring in this country in the Theatre Guild's production of "Escape Me Never," scored her first sensational success in Berlin, she is not a German. Neither is she an exile. The Austrian Jewess was in London at the outbreak of Hitlerism. The legend that she was an exile was born of the fact that her picture, "Catherine the Great," was barred from Naziland by Herr Goebbels. No edict, though, has as yet been issued against her personally.

EMPIRE BUILDERS

With the exception of the post of Prime Minister, the three highest positions in English political life are Lord Chief Justice of England, Viceroy of India and Ambassador to the United States. All three of these positions have been filled, and with distinction by Rufus Daniel Isaacs, better known as Lord Reading. Another Isaacs has gone far in the British Commonwealth. He is Sir Isaac Isaacs, Governor General of the Commonwealth of Australia.

B. W. Huebsch, vice president of the Viking Press, was the first American publisher of James Joyce. He also published most of the early works of Sherwood Anderson. Both by his encouragement of young writers, and by reason of being the American publisher of the standard translations of Hauptmann, Sudermann, Strindberg, Chekhov and Gorky. Huebsch, with his seven branched candlestick trademark, was a vital figure in American publishing circles.

He occupied the same position in this country as the late S. Fisher of Berlin, head of the publishing house of S. Fischer Verlag. As an obscure publisher in the 1890's Fischer recognized the impending trend towards realism and first published Gerhart Hauptmann, Ibsen, Bjornson, Ham-sun and others. Browbeaten by the Nazis, he died brokenhearted.

And to return to the American scene, you should know that Adolph J. Sabath, of Chicago, is now serving his fifteenth term in the House of Representatives and is thus the Dean of the Congress. You should know that just as well as that Eddie Cantor has five daughters and that Al Jolson has Ruby Keeler. You should also know that, in all, there are eleven Jewish Congressmen.

THE 'S' IN DIPLOMACY

Perhaps you have to be reminded that three Jews with "S" for an initial—Straus in France, Steinhardt in Sweden and Sack in Costa Rica—are United States Ambassadors. You surely know that Henry Horner is governor of Illinois and that Herbert Lehman is governor of New York, but do you remember that Oscar Straus was secretary of commerce and labor in President Theodore Roosevelt's cabinet? Strangely enough, there have been Jewish cabinet members only in Roosevelt administrations for Henry Morgenthau, Jr., present Secretary of the Treasury, is the only other Jewish cabinet member in the history of the country.

Though there are always rumors of the impending sale of his Universal Picture Company, Carl Laemmle has continued as president of the company since 1912 when it was founded—a record of consistency achieved by no other man in pictures. William Fox is out of Fox; Jesse Lasky has switched from Paramount to Fox; Adolph Zukor is tottering at Paramount in receivership.

Jacob Lumbrozo, who came to Maryland in January, 1656, was the first Jewish doctor known to practice in this country. A native of Lisbon, he was among the very first of American practitioners. Today twenty percent of the medical students in this country are Jewish.

CAPITAL COMMENT

By Nathan Koenig

WASHINGTON, March 7. (JTA)—A determined drive to stop immigration into the United States has come to the surface in the House of Representatives. This move is being headed by Representative Thomas L. Blanton, of Texas, and has the support of a number of House members who are following the Texan's flag-waving campaign.

For a number of years Representative Blanton has been an advocate of a closed door policy. Each session of Congress saw the introduction of a Blanton bill designed to restrict immigration. His proposals always died in the hands of the House Committee on Immigration and Naturalization.

During the last week Representative Blanton came out into the open with his demands for a halt in immigration. He blamed Representative Samuel Dickstein, of New York, chairman of the House immigration committee, for the death blows dealt to his immigration restriction measures.

The other day Representative Blanton filed a petition with the Clerk of the House to discharge the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization from the further consideration of a bill which he introduced early this session to stop all immigration to this country for ten years.

In announcing that he had filed the petition, Representative Blanton said, "rumors have reached me that at a meeting of the Committee on Immigration and Naturalization the chairman of the Committee, the gentleman from New York (Mr. Dickstein), attempted to take action which he thought would prevent me from filing this petition to discharge his committee from further consideration of my bill to stop immigration, but when he looks up the rules he will find that said action was futile, and in no way stopped me from filing this petition to discharge; and my discharge petition is filed, and it is now on the Clerk's desk."

Appealing to the membership of the House for support of his drive, Representative Blanton said, "Those who are in favor of stopping immigration and taking back from aliens 12,000,000 jobs that are held by foreigners and giving them to unemployed Americans so that every American will have an American job, I hope will sign this petition to discharge the committee. If enough sign the petition I guarantee that I will get this bill out of Chairman Dickstein's 'death house,' as he called it, and bring it to a vote in this House. It requires 218 signatures. Now is the time to come to the aid of Americans and help them get back their jobs," Representative Blanton concluded.

Those who have followed Representative Dickstein's immigration legislative efforts are aware of his keen interest in humanizing immigration laws. Representative Dickstein points out that in the last five years no immigrants have come into the United States except those who came to close family ties, like children of American citizens and wives of American citizens. There is very little new seed immigration coming in. Those who do come in have established the fact that they have enough money to take care of themselves for a period years.

Referring to Representative Blanton as a "professional restrictionist," Representative Dickstein said, "There should have been a quota law during the time that Columbus came to this country, or at the time he discovered this country. Had there been, I think we would be all right and in good shape. The gentleman would not be here himself."

SOVIET RUBS FARM LOANS FROM BOOKS

NEW YORK, Mar. 4. (JTA)—Indebtedness of Jewish agricultural collectives in the Ukraine, Crimea and other parts of Russia amounting to 11,000,000 rubles (about $6,000,000) has been written off by a Soviet government decree, according to information received here by James N. Rosenberg, chairman of the American Jewish Joint Agricultural Corporation and Joseph A. Rosen, its president.

The decree provides that all agricultural collectives in Soviet Russia are to be released from all obligations to repay their indebtednesses, amounting to $35,000,000 rubles. The Jewish collectives thus will benefit automatically to the extent of the 11,000,000 rubles mentioned above. The sum covers loans extended them by the Soviet government up to January 1, 1935.

Dr. Silverman To Speak Before Southern Chemists

Dr. Alexander Silverman, head of the department of Chemistry at the University of Pittsburgh, will deliver lectures before seven sections of the American Chemical Society during the latter part of March.

On March 19, he will appear before the Lexington-Ky. section of the society; March 20 he will speak to the East Tennessee section, at Knoxville, Tenn.; on March 22, he will address the Georgia section, in Atlanta; and in the week following; he will speak in Birmingham, Ala.; New Orleans; DeLand, Fla., and Williamsburg, Va., where he will lecture in the College of William and Mary.

At all the lectures, Dr. Silverman will speak on "Glass: An Indispensable Factor in Modern Civilization."

Palestine: Land of Modern Miracles

Just what has taken place in the land which, little more than a desert just a few years ago, is today relatively one of the most prosperous and one of the most rapidly developing countries in the world?

The OUTLOOK presents for its readers an exclusive series of articles, of which the following is the first, dealing with that development and revealing the pertinent facts about it. Mr. Avner, a prominent Pittsburgh attorney and leader in Jewish affairs, has made a detailed study of Palestine—both historically and today—and is unquestionably one of the best-informed men on that subject in the United States today.

By Maurice L. Avner

FOR some time past, the attention of the world has been attracted to the wonder of the miracles that have come true in the development of Palestine, and it has shown an eagerness to be informed how all this has come about, what brought it about and particularly, just what is the present status of Jewish life in Palestine and how was it achieved.

The recent and miraculous development of Palestine has been largely agricultural and industrial, but that growth and development have been accompanied by a similar growth and development in the spiritual, cultural, educational, social and communal life of its growing and pulsing existence. To cover both fields, the material and cultural, would slow the process of keeping up with the news and there is always fresh news from Palestine. Therefore, it will be my effort, for the time being to make clear what factors entered into the upbuilding of the country, to such a wonderful achievement, to justify the assumption that Palestine is a Land of Miracles.

Palestine is not essentially or geographically, a large or a rich country, but potentially, it is in the making of a large and fertile country, when Trans-Jordania, originally part of Palestine, will again be made a part of Palestine. Palestine, as is, can comfortably and safely take care of three or four million souls. With Trans-Jordania, it will be able to house fifteen to twenty millions.

Area of Land

Government estimates give present Palestine, an area of 27,000,000 dunams—the equivalent of 6,750,000 acres, of which, in 1930, Jews owned and controlled over 1,125,000 dunams, and at this time very likely own and control a million and a half dunams. More definite figures will be available when the 1934 reports are issued. According to my last exact information, at the beginning of 1933, the Jewish National Fund owned and controlled 301,404 dunams of rural land and 1683 dunams of urban land—a total of 302,087 dunams. Adding the acquisitions of 1933 and 1934, it is safe to estimate the present ownership in excess of 500,000 dunams. It is a fair estimate that individual Jewish ownership in cities and Colonies, which, in 1933 and 1934, grew by leaps and bounds, controls one and a half million dunams. The Jewish holdings, therefore, on the basis of 2,000,000 dunams, would represent one-fifth of all cultivatable land available in Palestine proper. Excluding 3,000,000 dunams of fallow land and 7,500,000 dunams already built on in cities and towns, used by roads, lakes and rivers—only 16,500,000 dunams are cultivatable.

The largest orange crop in the history of Palestine is now being harvested. The additional crop results from the fact that new groves, planted five years ago, began to yield fruit this year. Last year over four million boxes of oranges were exported from Palestine, an increase of a million boxes over the previous year. The attractive young lady pictured above is one of the hundreds of Jewish girls working in the Palestine orange groves.

Population Has Grown

The figures for 1934 are not yet available, but the growth of the Jewish population can be visualized by the fact that a population of 84,000 at the end of October, 1923, had, by the end of November, 1931, increased to 175,000, and by the end of 1933, had increased to 245,000, of whom 27,862 came in 1933. Adding the record figure of 42,359 for 1934, we have on January 1st, 1935, a total of substantially 290,000 souls. If 60,000 more were to come into Palestine in 1935, and it is not improbable, we could boast of a 350,000 population.

It is interesting to know just how this immense population is occupied and distributed. I have no presently available figures, but will have them later, of how many are engaged in teaching, public service, salesmanship, clerical work, hospital and medical service, common labor and business and industry management. Nor have I any idea what percentage are retired and how many are children or housewives. But an analysis of the status of agriculture, citrus fruit growing, grape growing, industry and construction, their investments and the numbers they employ, will give a fair answer to the question.

Industrial Index

The Citrus fruit industry is an index. At the end of 1933, 133,000 dunams which were Jewish-owned, produced for export, exclusive of local consumption for the season 1932-1933, a total of 5,050,000 cases, and with an increase to 159,000 dunams, exported for the 1933-1934 season, a total of 5,415,000 cases. The 1933-1934 crops employed 13,500 Jewish full-time help and 8,000 seasonal workers, who work 100 days during the harvest and packing season. I quote from the American Jewish Outlook of February 15th, from a Jewish Telegraphic Agency dispatch of February 14th, that out of a total of $50,000,000 invested in Palestine in 1934 and of $9,250,000 which went into agriculture—$4,250,000 went into citrus plantations which in 1935 will not yet bear, and that an additional $3,750,000 is being invested in newly planted groves.

To meet the growing need of the increased and increasing population for food products and animal food, large tracts were added to the large acreage already in cultivation prior to 1932, a total of 19,000 dunams in 1933 and 36,000 dunams in 1934. In 1933, for the increased population, 22,500,000 eggs were imported in 1933, against 11,700,000 in 1932, and 560 tons of butter in 1933 against 355 tons in 1932.

PROGRAMME

"The Paul Jones"

Monday night of the past week offered quite a variety of entertainment. A dinner was held at the Concordia Club that evening for members of the committees for the Y. M. and W. H. A. Membership and Maintenance Drive. Mr. Gus Kann of Morewood Gardens has been appointed the chairman of the drive and has chosen a large and able committee to assist him.

Louise M. Feldman

The same evening the Pittsburgh branch of the National Council of Jewish Juniors held their annual winter formal dance in the Chatterbox of the William Penn Hotel. The affair was open to non-members. Miss Gertrude Schwartz was chairman of the dance and had for her assistants Miss Flora Koch, vice-chairman; Miss Frances Rice, arrangements; Mrs. Bernard Graham, reservations; Miss Cecile Brody, invitations; Miss Lucille Lebeau, telephone; Miss Dorothy Kaufmann, hospitality; and Miss Bernice Olbum, publicity.

Eva La Gallienne presented the opening performance of "L'Aiglon" at the Nixon Theater on Monday evening. The audience was large in spite of many regular theater-goers being out of town.

Friday evening a large crowd turned out to hear Lotte Lehman of the Metropolitan Opera give a glorious concert for the Art Society. The concert season is coming to a close for the year but there are still a few fine artists to be heard here before Syria Mosque and Carnegie Music Hall close their doors for the winter. The Pittsburgh Symphony Society will have Coe Glade as the visiting artist at their concert on Sunday evening.

Wednesday evening the Tree of Life Sisterhood sponsored a dance at the Chatterbox in honor of its thirty-fifth anniversary. Proceeds of the dance will be used to further the charitable work of the Sisterhood. Over four hundred members and friends attended the affair.

The Montefiore Aid Society is busy with plans for the dance which will be held at the Chatterbox next Tuesday evening, March twelfth. Mrs. Jerome Federbusch is chairman of the affair and has a large committee assisting her.

"Intermission"

The first robin has appeared, but nevertheless, many seem to think that Spring is still far off, and the sea breezes and sand dunes call too loudly for Pittsburghers to resist. Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Oppenheimer of Bartlett Street left Saturday for a cruise to the West Indies and Friday Mr. and Mrs. Max Blum of the Hotel Schenley and Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Baum of Bartlett Street sailed on the S. S. Lafayette for Trinidad and South America. Mrs. Ben Baer, of Charleston, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Malcolm Goldsmith, of Albemarle Street, was on the same boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Friedlander of Wightman Street left last Saturday to spend some time in San Antonio, Texas, with Mrs. Friedlander's sisters, the Misses Wolf. Mrs. Samuel Gheldberg of North Saint Clair Street and her daughter, Miss Ann Gheldberg, are vacationing in Miami. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mars of Woodmont Street left for the West coast last week-end. They will be gone

Atlantic City, too, seems to be getting its quota of visitors. Mrs. Karl Kaufmann of Wightman Street left this week for a visit at the ocean resort. Mrs. Morris Hoffman of Munhall Road left to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Herwitz, of Philadelphia. After a short stay there she will go to Atlantic City. Mrs. Samuel Pearlman of Wilkins Avenue is another guest at the seashore.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Sycles, of Philadelphia, who have been visiting Mrs. Sycles' sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Jackson, of Denniston Avenue, returned home on Tuesday. Mr. Richard Solof, of Charleston, West Virginia, has been another visitor in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman DeRoy of Northumberland Avenue returned last Saturday from a West Indies cruise. Mrs. Joel Spear of Beechwood Boulevard has returned from Chicago where she spent several weeks with her children, Mrs. Joseph Wender and Mr. Joel Spear. Mrs. Richard Blum of Beacon Street is home again after a trip to Birmingham and Cincinnati. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hohenstein of Beechwood Boulevard motored home from the East this week. They spent some time in New York and Atlantic City.

Returning travellers from the South this week included Mr. and Mrs. E. C. May of Beacon Street and Mrs. David Solof of Northumberland Avenue.

Mrs. Ben Pearlman of the Morrowfield Hotel is visiting her daughter in Indianapolis. Mr. Ben Friedland, a resident of the Dithridge Apartments, left this week to spend some time in New York.

"The Wedding March"

Mrs. B. Baringoltz of Melbourne Street has announced the marriage of her daughter, Mildred, to Mr. Herbert Gold of this city. The ceremony was performed Wednesday evening, March sixth, in the Cardinal Room of the William Penn Hotel with Rabbi Benjamin Lichter officiating.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and lace with a veil of tulle trimmed with seed pearls and carried a Bible. Miss Dorothy Gold, sister of the bride-groom, was the maid-of-honor, and the bride's brother, Mr. Harry Baringoltz, acted as best man.

After a honeymoon trip to Washington, D. C., the bridal couple will be at home on Melbourne Street.

"Lucky Number Dance"

Reverend and Mrs. Solomon Stalinsky of Trent Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Bertha, to Mr. Morris J. Ackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Ackerman, of Donora.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lomask of Montclair Street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice, to Mr. Samuel Mandel, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Mandel, of Southern Avenue, Mount Washington.

Why Should I Support the "Y"?

1. What is the chief purpose of the Y. M. and W. H. A.?

The Y. M. and W. H. A. is a morale, health and character building institution. It provides a wholesome outlet for leisure time. It is an organized and supervised meeting place for the child, the youth and the adult of both sexes and of every element; it is a gathering place for the whole community. It fosters loyalty to Judaism and cultivates character, personality and citizenship. It strives toward the all around development of manhood and womanhood—mentally, culturally, physically and communally. It bridges the gap between the parents and their children. It is a stepping stone to the Synagogue. It is the unifying force in the community.

2. Why is my contribution needed?

For the reasons stated above and for the further reason that adequate funds will enable the "Y" to provide a program on a much larger scale. Never was there a greater need for a strong organization to foster wholesome leisure time activities for young and old, and to maintain the morale of the unemployed and involuntary leisure class.

3. What is the program of the "Y"?

A partial list of the activities conducted by the "Y" includes lectures, forums, concerts, dramatic performances, fifty junior and intermediate clubs, library, educational and art classes, Choral Society, Yiddish folk music, sewing circles for the poor, gymnasium and swimming, moving-pictures, dances and Health Club. Many of the activities are given free to the members of the "Y."

4. Why should I support the "Y" when I don't use it?

Because the organization stands for everything in Jewish life that all of us cherish and should like to preserve. It raises the prestige of the Jewish community in the minds of the general public. It prepares young people to carry on in the finest traditions of Jewish life and to be ready to take their part in communal life when the time comes.

5. Is a contribution to the "Y" a form of charity?

Call it what you like. The young people who use the "Y" cannot possibly pay enough in memberships to support and maintain the institution. Their fathers and mothers and community-minded people generally must help. The "Y" prevents a great deal of delinquency; it protects health; it keeps young men and women normal and happy, thereby cutting down the demand on charity in other directions. If preventive institutions such as the "Y" are supported properly, the need for corrective institutions will be materially reduced.

6. Is the "Y" a necessity?

A visit to the "Y" any afternoon or evening will convince even the most skeptical of the need for such an institution. Literally thousands of young people find it a wholesome, comfortable, congenial substitute for various degrading forms of diversion and recreation.

7. Isn't it more important to give to relief and to the unemployed?

Since when have Jews placed the emphasis on food in the scheme of life? Jewish people have always considered Torah, learning, as the most important thing in life. Furthermore, while many thousands of Jewish unemployed may find food and clothing, they are unable to take care of their spiritual and recreational needs because of lack of funds. Unless institutions like the "Y" provide this need, these young people may soon find themselves on the verge of a moral and physical breakdown.

8. Why does the "Y" need $60,000?

To take care of the boys and girls who can't afford to pay; to provide a program of activities for the thousands of people who come to the "Y"; to take care of creditors; to take care of interest on mortgage; to balance the budget.

9. Is this to be an annual drive?

If the community properly supports the "Y," there will be no need to have a campaign again.

10. Why did the "Y" incur a deficit?

On account of the reduced income due to the depression.

11. Why don't the rich men raise the fund?

Our wealthy Jews have supported the "Y" generously besides contributing very large sums toward the building. They take care of the interest on the mortgage and in addition give large annual contributions toward the work of the "Y." However, this is a small group. The great mass of the Jewish people should also contribute in proportion to their means.

12. Has the "Y" cut its expenses?

The operating expenses of the "Y" have been reduced more than 50 per cent. The present budget does not allow for various types of constructive activities which the "Y" should foster and promote for young people. The budget cannot be reduced any further unless the very life of the institution is throttled. The only alternative is to increase the revenue. If everybody contributes something the "Y" doors will remain open and the activities will continue.

13. How does the "Y" plan to raise the money?

In three ways: By generous contributions, by new memberships and by the renewals of former members. The "Y" deserves the good will of every Jew.

14. Is help expected from Non-Jews?

Yes. The "Y" has at present a number of non-Jewish members who use the facilities and attend the lectures, concerts, classes and other activities of the "Y." Non-Jews appreciate the fine work the "Y" is doing and many of them will be glad to contribute to the Campaign.

THE SABBATH  STORY HOUR

By Theresa Loeb Cerf

It is Friday evening and Joan and Bobby Israel are all excited because their Uncle Sam from Georgia is coming for dinner.

Theresa Loeb Cerf

is David's father, and you all remember David, don't you? He was the little cousin that spent the mid-winter vacation with the Israel children. Well, Uncle Sam has arrived that morning and Joan and Bobby can hardly wait to see him; they have so many questions to ask.

It isn't long till they hear Father's key turn in the lock, and in less time than it takes to tell, the children are at the door. They are so happy and excited to see Uncle Sam, and of course, they want to know all about David and Aunt Blanche.

Soon Mother Alice tells them dinner is ready, and as soon as they are seated, Father says the blessing over the wine and bread. Uncle Sam remarks that the wine is good, and the Sabbath service so lovely that he wishes the rest of his family were with him.

Joan speaks up, "Well, don't forget your promise; we're expecting David to come to see us this summer."

"We had such fun," interrupts Bobby, "there was ice skating and sled riding, and this summer we'll swim and have picnics, won't we Mother?"

"Yes, Dear, and we'll be happy to have David here with us."

"Father," says Bobby, "don't forget you promised us a story tonight."

"Well," answers Father, "I think it would be nice for Uncle Sam to have that pleasure, don't you?"

"Oh, goody," remarks Bobby. "David says you tell grand stories."

"All right children," answers Uncle Sam, "there is a story I told David a few weeks ago. It is one that comes from that great book, the 'Talmud.'"

It happened that many, many years ago in Palestine, that a wealthy Jewish man by the name of Abba Ezra died, leaving a strange will. He left all his worldly possessions to his slave, Bali, but on the condition that his son who lived in another city should be allowed to choose one thing from his estate.

Naturally, there was much rejoicing on the part of the slave; such good fortune he never expected. He lost no time in travelling to the home of his master's son, Eben Ezra, and you can well imagine the son's surprise when the slave delivered his message. He could not understand why his father would do such a thing, and was so upset about it that he went to a Rabbi. He asked that the Rabbi try to explain why his Father had been so unjust.

When the Rabbi had listened carefully to the story, instead of sympathizing with Eben Ezra he said, "Your father was a most learned and wise man. He has in truth left all his property to you. If he had left it to you in his will, and you living so far away, there is no doubt that the slave would have helped himself to much of it. But by giving his estate to the slave the latter would naturally take care of it."

"But I still don't see how that helps me," interrupted Eben Ezra. "After all, the property is there and I am here. If the will says it belongs to Bali, I can't possibly take it from him."

"Now don't get excited," answered the Rabbi, "Surely you haven't forgotten the law that says; the possessions of a slave belongs to his master."

"Nothing like that can happen now, can it, Uncle Sam?" interrupts Bobby.

"No Dear, but you see this happened hundreds of years ago. Well, to continue, the Rabbi told the son that since he was permitted by his father's will to choose one article, he should choose the slave, and by doing so Abba Ezra's property would belong to him.

The son left the Rabbi's home delighted with the solution to his problem. He chose the slave and his inheritance belonged to him. So you see children how wise and far seeing Abba Ezra was."

I am quite sure that members of the family, after partaking of this week's menu, will feel very much like little Morton who was invited with his mother to be guests at a neighbor's home for dinner. Everything from the chopped liver in celery to the tea and cake was delectable, especially the dessert. Morton actually picked up the crumbs of cake which dropped around his plate, which the hostess noticed. She immediately offered Morton another portion of cake, whereupon his mother exclaimed with great concern, "Morty, dear, if you eat another piece of cake you will 'bust.'" "Well," says Morty thoughtfully, "pass the cake and get out of the way."

STUFFED CELERY

- 1 bunch celery hearts
- 1/2 pound liver (beef or calf)
- 1 small onion
- 2 tablespoons chicken
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Wash the celery and place in cold water to crisp. Sprinkle the liver with coarse salt and broil in a very hot oven until it is baked through and through. Chop with the onion or put through the meat grinder. Add the salt and a dash of pepper if desired. Mix in the chicken fat. Dry the celery with a clean cloth and fill the grooves with the chopped liver. Chill before serving.

heritance belonged to him. So you see children how wise and far seeing Abba Ezra was."

"That certainly was a grand story, Uncle," say the children almost in unison.

"Rabbis certainly are wise," remarks Joan.

"Now, children, go on in and play," says Mother Alice. "Father and Uncle Sam have many things that they want to talk about."

SPLIT PEA SOUP

- 1 1/2 cups green or yellow split peas
- 1 quart water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 or 5 celery tops
- 2 carrots
- 1 medium sized onion
- 4 or 5 sprigs parsley
- 1 tomato, fresh or canned
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 pound chuck and as many bones as you can get the butcher to give you

Wash the peas and cook with one teaspoon salt in one quart of water over a low flame until the peas are soft. If possible soak the peas over night and they will cook up in a very short time. Place the meat, bones, and soup greens in a soup kettle and fill with cold water. Cover and simmer for three hours or longer. Remove the meat and bones. Strain and mash the soup greens through the strainer, also the split peas. Add a small potato which has been diced and boil together until the diced potato is soft.

HASH

- 1 pound chuck from soup
- 4 or 5 potatoes (leftovers or cooked in jackets)
- 1 onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons chicken fat

Dice the onion and brown in the chicken fat. Cut the potatoes and the meat into small pieces and add to the onion. Fry until crisp and brown.

STUFFED VEAL POCKETS

- 2 pounds veal steaks (6 double slices)
- 1 1/2 cups bread crumbs

- 3/4 cup diced celery
- 3/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1 onion, diced
- 1 small green pepper, diced
- 3 tablespoon chicken fat
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 egg
- 1/2 glass tomato puree
- 2 or 3 bay leaves
- 1 small onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika

When buying the veal steaks ask the butcher to cut double slices and have him slit each piece for stuffing. Mix the bread crumbs, diced celery, parsley, onion, green pepper, chicken fat, salt, and egg. Mix thoroughly and fill the pockets. Sew up the ends and arrange in a roasting pan. Cover and place in a hot oven for about twenty minutes. Remove from the oven, add a sliced onion, bay leaves, tomato puree, and about one glass of boiling water. Sprinkle with salt and paprika and return to a moderate oven. Bake for about an hour.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES

- 6 medium sized sweet potatoes
- 2 tablespoons chicken fat
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup water

Wash and cook the potatoes until tender. Drain, peel, and cut in halves lengthwise. Arrange in a greased pan and cover with the fat and a syrup made by cooking the water and the brown sugar together for five minutes. Sprinkle with the salt and bake in a moderate oven for about one hour, basting occasionally. The potato is soft.

Looking Thru
The Porthole

with Frances Freed

You may be in the class that believes the Soviet Union's "Dictatorship of the Proletariat" is but a transition stage, a "noble experiment," or perhaps you're in the more liberal group that says it represents a specific form of state capitalism which ultimately will supersede our own form of government.

But no matter what your point of view, you surely have been impressed, at least, by the intenseness of the social and economic development of the U. S. S. R. and must concede that it is worth watching—and visiting. There is probably no country in the world that arouses more interest for the American tourist today.

For the Jew, this interest is manifold, as he is offered not only the opportunity of studying this widely-discussed country of the Soviets and visiting the relatives he left behind, but he may also, if he so desires, proceed to Biro-Bidjan, that vast territory allotted to Jews by the Soviet Union for the creation of a Jewish autonomous state.

The Soviet Union, covering one-sixth of the earth's surface, contains within its borders almost every climate, every species of topography and scenic panorama to be found anywhere. A hundred and forty-nine languages and dialects are spoken by eighty-two ethnic groups. This alone is of great interest to the tourist, but most interesting of all is the spectacle of over a hundred and sixty million people building a new social and economic system on a scale and with a speed unprecedented in history.

"Intourist," an official Soviet organization, operates in the United States for the benefit of all who desire to visit the U. S. S. R.

Every transatlantic steamship company shares in the handling of traffic to the Soviet Union, but all tourists must necessarily come in contact directly with "Intourist," for no one can enter that country without first arranging through his booking agency for a tour there. Such tours are compulsory and range from a short one of five days to others which include visits to practically every part of the Union. The cost of these tours is all-inclusive and provides for hotel, meals, transportation, a guide's services and even the Russian visa.

The tourist season in the Soviet Union begins with the May 1st "Red Labor Day" celebration—more important than its November anniversary of the 1917 revolution—for May 1st signifies for the Soviets the liberation of the working class.

From then on, throughout the year, tours are arranged steadily for university students, economists, teachers and visitors generally who seek information first-hand, and engineers who want to see the enormous hydroelectric plants in operation. There are wonderful palaces and museums now free to the public, new industrial plants and interesting libraries—and when you have returned from the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics you will be fully aware of what the new order stands for—you will have traversed a very unusual and "different" country.

Arrange Purim Carnival
For Homestead Celebration

The Homestead Jewish Community will celebrate Purim with a masquerade ball to be held Wednesday evening, March 20, at the Leona Gardens in Homestead. Representatives from the Hebrew Ladies' Aid Society, Rodef Shalom Congregation, and young men's and women's groups are participating in plans for the ball, under the chairmanship of Mr. Jacob Carpe. Assisting Mr. Carpe are Mr. Max Lazar and Mrs. H. Sapeer, honorary chairmen; Miss Harriet Greenstein, secretary; and Mr. Newman, treasurer.

Prizes are to be awarded for the most original masquerades. Entertainment will be provided during the evening, which will be climaxed by a grand march and pageant.

Chairman Jacob Carpe announces the following committees: Refreshments, Mr. Benjamin Mermelstein, E. Mermelstein; judges, Rabbi A. M. Pinkas; check room, Mr. Jerome Schwartz; publicity, Mr. Roy Magram; donations, Mrs. L. Zweig, Mrs. H. Jacobson; pageant, Mr. Gerson Friedlander, Miss Florence Solomon; advertisements, Mesdames Hyman Samuelis, Hyman Jacobson, I. Schwadron; transportation, Mr. J. RED CABBAGE SALAD

1 medium head red cabbage
1/2 cup salad dressing
1/2 lemon
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Shred the cabbage and soak in cold salted water for about fifteen minutes. Drain and add the other ingredients. Mix thoroughly and serve on crisp lettuce.

APPLE SAUCE CAKE

1/2 cup vegetable shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 cup dates, sliced
1 cup nuts, coarsely chopped
1 cup raisins
1 cup currants
1 1/2 cups apple sauce
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda

Cream the shortening (Crisco or Creamtex). Add the well-beaten egg and mix thoroughly. Sift the dry ingredients. Add them together with the vanilla and applesauce and beat for a few minutes. Turn into a well greased square cake pan and bake in a moderate oven for about an hour or until the cake comes away from the sides of the pan or until a toothpick comes out clean when inserted in the cake. This cake is much better the second day or third day if any is left.

Chevrolet Features New System For Oiling Bearings

A unique method of flooding connecting rod bearings with a surplus of lubricating oil at high engine speeds is one of the new mechanical features of the Chevrolet engines in all 1935 models. The new oiling system assures an extra supply of oil to the bearings when most needed, that is, when the car is being driven above 70 m.p.h. for long periods.

At lower engine speeds, lubrication of the crankpins is provided by oil picked up from troughs by dipper on the connecting rods. The oil pan troughs are kept filled by the oil pump, which feeds fresh oil through nozzles opening below the surface level.

Jews in Sports

By Morris Weiner

EDITOR'S NOTE: Next week in this column the writer will discuss in detail the entire makeup of the Maccabi athletic contingent that will represent the United States at the Second Maccabiad in Palestine to be held during April.

SANDLER'S HEADY COMEBACK

Up to the night of the National A. A. U. track and field meet, Milton Sandler, crack middle distance runner, was considered an also-ran. He had entered in six meets on the Eastern indoor boards and in all six he had trailed hopelessly behind or lost out by a margin. Nevertheless, Sandler came back in the American championships, held in Madison Square Garden a week ago, and retained his national ranking as king of the 600 meter specialty.

Sandler ran a ragged race in the classic Milrose '600.' He was badly beaten by Charles Hornbostel, who duplicated the feat performed by Abel Kiviat in 1912. Kiviat, the greatest Jewish track ace of a bygone era, won the 600 meter and 1,000 meter runs at one meet. His dual victory was equalled by Hornbostel after Kiviat's record had stood for twenty-three years.

Likewise Sandler's 600 yard run at the New York Athletic Club meet was also poor and four runners passed the finish line before Sandler.

However, at the American championships, Milton Sandler took the lead from the start. Getting away to a fast break he left the field behind him. Only Ivan Fuqua, champion of the Big Ten Conference was able to dog the steps of Sandler. The latter added pressure after he passed the 220 yard marker and kept up this gruelling pace until 440 yards had been run. From this point to the home stretch the race was all to Sandler. He crossed the line a winner and still champion.

JEW IN BASEBALL

Each week this corner will discuss one of the Jews in big league baseball. Today we want you to meet Harry Danning, the favorite backstop of Carl Hubbell on the New York Giants.

Danning was one of the best catchers in the minor leagues in the 1933 season and near the end of the baseball year was recruited from the Buffalo Bisons, where he had been batting for an average of .349 percent.

At the beginning of the training stint last season in Miami, Danning reported along with Paul Richards, Frankie Healy and the reliable Gus Mancuso. Bill Terry could find no room for this great number of backstops under league rules. One of them was slated to grab a fast freight for the grape fruit circuit. However, as luck would have it, fate in the form of an appendectomy stepped in and Mancuso went under the knife. Gus was due to come back after a four weeks interim and in the meantime Terry kept his eye peeled on Danning, Healy and Richards.

TO COMPETE IN MACCABIAD

Gus Heyman, Sybil Koff and Ernie Koslan are among the more than 25 Jewish stars of the sports world who will represent the United States in the international Maccabiad to take place in April at Tel Aviv, Palestine.

These three gentlemen backed up the home plate with such agility and dexterity that Bill "Is Brooklyn in the League?" Terry couldn't decide whom to ship to the asparagus beds in some southern clime. Carl Hubbell, the screwball maestro, solved the question. He found that when he pitched with Danning on the receiving end the results were for the best. Danning thereafter caught in all but three games, for which the great Carl got the assignment.

The fielding, batting and incidental averages that were revealed at the end of the 1934 season found Harry up among the leaders. Terry told your scribe that Danning's sportsmanship behind the plate, the confidence that the pitchers had in him, and his batting were three things he needed on a championship team.

Rope Skipping Champs To Vie At Settlement

On Friday evening, March 15, the rope skipping championship of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement will be determined. Participants are many and stiff competition is anticipated.

Rope skipping, dipping contests and bag punching are a few of the "old timers" which are being revived at the Settlement.

In addition to the rope climbing contest, two additional events will be staged; first, the championship of the secondary basketball league will be determined when the Pioneer Jrs. meet the winners of the Monarch-Phoenix fry, which was played Friday evening, March 8; and, second, in the Senior major league, the Beacons will meet the Windslows and the Pioneers will face the Farb five. The race in this intra-mural league has attracted a great deal of attention because of the close competition among the teams and many basketball enthusiasts are expected to witness the remaining games.

Trucking, Inc., in charge of their terminal, 1101 Wolfendale Street, N. S., is a traffic man of long years Pittsburgh and surrounding territory transportation and shipping circles.

The Waltz King

The life of Johann Strauss, the famed Viennese waltz king, is now being written into scenario form at M-G-M. Frederic March was originally scheduled to portray the brilliant composer, but fortunately, (at least in our opinion), Mr. March will not be Herr Strauss. He is decidedly not the type.

L. E. Mendlowitz

Later reports had Nelson Eddy, the famous singer, who is destined to create somewhat of a sensation in the forthcoming "Naughty Marietta" in the title role of "The Waltz King." Although this column professes deep admiration for the vocal talents of Mr. Eddy, we still can't "see" him as Johann Strauss.

And now comes a rumor that Francis Lederer may play the coveted role. Such casting meets with our full approval, for the gifted Lederer, who hasn't found his metier yet in Hollywood, is the only actor we can think of who can supply the necessary warmth and vitality to the sparkling role of the great composer of such waltzes as "Blue Danube," "Voices of Spring," and "Tales from Vienna Woods."

Beautician Recommends Frequent Shampooing

Among the many queries received about beauty work, the most numerous are about shampoos. To the question "How often should I shampoo my hair," I can only say that the answer would be the same as that would be to "how often should I wash my curtains?", as often as needed to keep clean.

Blond hair, (whether bleached or natural) grey hair and white hair require more frequent cleansing than the darker or reddish shades, regardless of the climate.

It was a belief years ago (and still is among many) that the hair should not be shampooed frequently. Perhaps that rule was alright for the long ago, as we did not have the factories, smoke and grime that we have today. There are small towns now, far removed from factories, where the hair, as does everything else, remains clean for a longer period.

Frequent brushing helps to remove some of the surface dirt, but a thorough shampoo, either with a liquid soap or dry cleaner, is the only way to remove dirt from the many pores of the scalp and from the hair.

Little Shirley Temple Is Featured At Fulton

An absorbing story, and the presence of the one and only Shirley Temple, make "The Little Colonel," which opened a six day engagement yesterday at the Fulton Theatre, an extraordinary screen event.

Once again, America's golden-haired sweetheart captures, with her unpretentious art, her honest acting, the hearts of old and young.

She is co-starred with Lionel Barrymore in this heart-stirring superb story of a bitter Kentucky family feud during the days following the Civil War, when prejudices still rankled, and a woman who dared give her heart to a hated Yankee was ostracised by friends and relations.

FORTISSIMO

Wherein Part of the Pittsburgh Symphony Program is Discussed

By MUSICUS

There are many people who go to a symphony concert because a certain soloist is scheduled to perform. There are others who attend a symphony event because a certain conductor is to lead the concert. Fewer, though, are those who are attracted by reason of certain composers or certain works of composers being listed for performance. Each of these groups, however, is to be reckoned as advantageous to musical development and appreciation, and, further, each of these groups is a hop, skip and a jump above the folks who merely attend a symphony concert because it happens to be 'the thing to do.'

Soloists, especially those of top flight rank, are glamorous additions to any symphonic program. They have a definite place in the artistic scheme of things providing that their numbers form a harmonious part of an intelligently arranged program; and who will deny the importance of inspiring leadership in the magnetic personality of a foremost conductor, upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility for the success or failure of a concert.

HAIL TO THE COMPOSER

But soloist or conductor, and granted that the orchestra personnel is adequately prepared to assume its rightful share of the artistic burden, the fact remains that there could be no concert worthy of the name without the compositions of a composer with a message.

And apropos of the concert to be given this Sunday evening in Syria Mosque by the Pittsburgh Symphony Society conducted by Antonio Modarelli, with Coe Glade, American mezzo soprano as soloist, the intent of this article is to deal with the two important symphonic works to be performed and to comment on their creators.

These two works are the Second Symphony in D major, opus 43, of Jean Julius Christian Sibelius, and the Roumanian Rhapsody No. 1, in A major, opus 11, of Georges Enesco.

It is fitting to thus bracket these two famous musicians. Sibelius, the Finn, and Enesco, the Roumanian, are the adored of their respective countries. And rightly so, for each is the greatest composer of his respective land. Each is responsible for the greatest musical advance made thus far by his homeland. And, singularly, both Sibelius and Enesco began their musical careers as violinists.

SIBELIUS, THE GIANT

Sibelius was born at Tavastehus, Finland, December 8, 1865. His father, a noted surgeon in the Finnish army, died when Jean was quite young. Thus orphaned, the boy was educated by his grandparents who planned a legal career for him. But the sturdy determination of the boy to become a musician remained unflinched although he dutifully abided by his grandparents' wishes, completed school and later attended Helsingfors University. Immediately upon his graduation from the latter institution Sibelius began an intensive study of the violin, although he had some previous training. Desiring to widen the field of musical study he went to Berlin in 1889 to study composition. Two years later we find him in Vienna, a pupil of Karl Goldmark.

The first performance of any of his works was at Helsingfors in 1887—a set of variations for string quartet. Since that early day his compositions have been many and in contrasting forms.

Although he now prefers the seclusion of his residence, "Villa Ainola," in the village of Jarvenpaa, which is a colony of kindred spirits of artists, authors, and savants, Sibelius at one time traveled extensively. He visited the U. S. A. in 1914 to conduct several of his works at a music festival in Norfolk, Connecticut; shortly thereafter Yale University conferred upon him the Doctor of Music degree.

Sibelius has written eight symphonies. To Dr. Koussevitsky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra goes the honor of performing the entire eight during the 1932-33 season. It is interesting to note that the 7th symphony is cast in a single movement.

THE SECOND SYMPHONY

The 2nd symphony which will be played here Sunday evening for the first time, is indicative of a strong musical individuality. Composed in 1901-02, this work was premiered at the Finnish capital, March 8, 1902. The first American performance was at Chicago, by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Theodore Thomas conductor, January 2, 1904. Dedicated to Axel Carpelan it is scored for two flutes, two oboes, two clarinets, two bassoons, four horns, three trumpets, three trombones, bass tuba, kettle-drums and strings.

According to Georg Schneevoigt, an intimate friend of Sibelius "the composer's intention was to depict in the first movement the quiet pastoral life of the Finns undisturbed by thought of oppression. The second movement is charged with patriotic feeling, but the thought of a brutal rule over the people brings with it timidity of soul. The third part, in Scherzo style, portrays the awakening of national feeling, the desire to organize in defence of their rights, while in the Finale hope enters their breasts and there is comfort in the anticipated coming of a deliverer."

Although this work is not as powerful as the later symphonies and although there are occasional Tschai-kowskian suggestions it is highly original in concept and idiom. The vigor of the North, the sagas of its history, and the inspiration of a truly great symphonist permeate every phrase, every note of this majestic work.

THE ENESCO RHAPSODY

Striking in contrast and form to the Sibelius symphony is Georges Enesco's brilliantly conceived Roumanian Rhapsody, No. 1. As Sibelius is steeped in the lore and life of his native land which reaches eloquent utterance in the more austere symphonic form, so does Enesco paint in vivid colors the romance and life of his homeland in the freer styled Roumanian Rhapsody, No. 1, the first of three works of this type.

The son of a farmer, Enesco—concert violinist, conductor and composer—was born at Cordaremi, Roumania, August 7, 1881. Today he is recognized as the outstanding musician of his country. At seven he entered the Vienna Conservatory. Later he graduated with high honors from the Paris Conservatoire, and subsequently was made court violinist to the Queen of Roumania.

The 1st Rhapsody is an exuberant outburst of melody based upon native folk tunes. Principal of these in this composition is a drinking song to these words:

Am un leu si vrau sa-l beu
Tra la-la-la-la-la,
Si nici ala nu-i al meu,
Tra la-la-la-la-la.

William Penn Hotel was filled to capacity with Carnegie students enjoying themselves fully. (So was the Continental for that matter.) As far as the orchestra is concerned—certainly it had nothing to do with the success of the dance. Aren't we college students getting a little weary of third-rate orchestras and pick-up bands? Anyway, the boys and girls were in good spirits and had a swell time. Tech's two Jewish fraternities were well represented. The Beta Sigs turned out en masse practically. Among them—Will Landsberg, Harry Krintzman, Jerry Domb, Al Paul and Adrian Scheibel. Edith Taub, Miriam Weiner, Helen Lubell, Elva Hendel and Mrs. Adrian Scheibel very nicely represented the fair sex. The Tau Beta Phi's present included Saul Farbman, Al Gursha, Mel Schlossman and Stu Ballin. After the dance the fraters, plus their dates, went to their various houses, where Congratulations to Sam Prager, who attained his majority last night. He and a few friends celebrated the occasion last Saturday at the Chatterbox. Ruth Green, Doris Kreiger, Herb Kiveskin and Eugene Cohen were a few of those present. And speaking of the Chatterbox, Andrea Marsh, the new singer, seems to be making something of a hit in Pittsburgh—at least with the masculine gender.

Did you hear about the Omega Delta Delta's pajama party? 'Twas held last Saturday night at Bernie Goldman's house in honor of something or other. At least Twelve "Odds" attended the party. Janet Browdy and Ruth Green are president and vice-president of the Squirrel Hill sorority.

Silence Week ended, Pitt's fraternity men and women now know just who their future members will be. Of the Jewish fraternities, A. E. Phi pledged the largest number of women, S. A. M. the most men. Pi Lambda Phi pledged Dave Grossman and Morty Simon, while Phi Epsilon Pi pledged Lester Hamburg and Arthur Brown. Incidentally, the Phi Eps had their election recently. Sidney Friedman and Milt Nadler are superior and vicesuperior respectively, while Eugene Cohen was re-elected treasurer.

DEATH NOTICES

AARON DeROY

Aaron DeRoy, age 54, of Detroit, formerly of Pittsburgh, died Friday, March 1, in South Carolina, following an automobile crash.

Mr. DeRoy, chairman of the Michigan Automobile Retail Code Authority and prominent yachtsman, was en route to Miami, where he had planned to attend yacht races.

Born in Pittsburgh, he started his business career in Oil City. Later he went to Detroit, where he became Southern Michigan distributor for the Hudson Motor Car Company. He was president of the Michigan and Detroit Automobile Dealers Associations.

Mr. DeRoy leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen L. DeRoy, of Detroit; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Israel DeRoy of Pittsburgh; two brothers, S. H. DeRoy and Emanuel DeRoy of Pittsburgh, and two sisters, Mrs. Max Michel, of New York and Mrs. Ray Kempner, of Little Rock, Ark.

Funeral services and burial were held in Detroit.

ISAAC J. DeROY

Isaac J. DeRoy, senior member of the firm of Louis DeRoy and Brothers, jewelers, died Tuesday, March 6, in his home, 1819 Wightman Street. Born in Pittsburgh in 1881, Mr. DeRoy was for many years identified with the business, social and philanthropic life in this city. He was past president of the Pittsburgh Credit Jewelers Association and a member of the Chamber of Commerce. For years he was secretary and treasurer of the Samuel Sivitz Memorial Educational Fund. He was a member of Solomon Lodge, F & A. M., Leader Lodge, Knights of Pythias, the Concordia Club and Rodef Shalom Congregation.

Mr. DeRoy leaves his widow, Mrs. Irene Kann DeRoy; one brother, Al J. DeRoy of Pittsburgh, and three sisters, Mrs. Milton M. Stern of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Adolph Marks of Philadelphia and Mrs. Milton Kuttner of Detroit. He was the son of the late Joseph and Lydia DeRoy.

Funeral services were held from his home Friday morning, with Dr. Solomon B. Freehof officiating.

MRS. IDA REBECCA DROB

Mrs. Ida Rebecca Drob, wife of Rabbi Idel Drob, died Friday, March 1. Beside her husband, she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Aaron M. Ashinsky; three sons, Rabbi Max Drob, of New York, and Benjamin and Maurice Drob; six grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren.

Services were held Sunday from the home of Rabbi Ashinsky, with Rabbi Ashinsky officiating. Burial was in Beth Hamedrash Hagadol Cemetery.

THE OUTLOOK BRIDGE CLUB

By Leonard Seder

Authorized Culbertson Teacher

1935 Biddable Suits

Almost every bridge player has his own requirements for biddable suits. Some players bid one spade with only the A K 9 of spades, and others hesitate and then meekly bid clubs with the formidable A K Q 3 2 of clubs in their hand.

Leonard Seder

The requirements for biddable suits in the Culbertson system are basically sound, and have been revised in only one case for the Culbertson system for 1935. This revision is in the rule for determining whether or not a four-card suit is biddable. Formerly, any four-card suit containing 1 1/2 Honor-tricks was considered biddable; now, any four-card suit need only be headed by a Q J in order to be bid.

The value of making such suits as "Q J 3 2" biddable is illustrated in this week's hand, in which our friends, Felix and Miriam, are playing opposite Mr. and Mrs. Glick. Felix had just explained to Miriam's parents the 1935 requirements for biddable suits, when Mrs. Glick dealt the following hand:

Neither side, vulnerable

Final Seminary Speaker

DR. LOUIS FINKELSTEIN

Dr. Finkelstein, professor of theology at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, will give the final lecture in the Seminary Institute series on Thursday evening, March 14, in Tree of Life Synagogue, Craft Avenue. His subject will be "The Jews in A Changing World."

Dr. Finkelstein received his B.A. degree at the College of the City of New York, his doctor's degree from Columbia University and the degree of Rabbi from the Jewish Theological Seminary. He is a fellow of the American Academy of Jewish Research, and has been a member of the Hillel Foundation Commission of B'Nai B'Rith since 1934. He is the author of several books, among them "Jewish Self-Government in The Middle Ages" and "The Pharisees: Their Origin and Philosophy." He contributes articles regularly to the Jewish Quarterly Review, Journal of Biblical Literature and the Harvard Theological Review.

Rabbi Goodman A. Rose will be chairman of the meeting.

bid the hand in the following manner:

South	West	North	East
1 N-T	Pass	2 N-T	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

With a normal club opening, the two no-trump contract would be defeated two tricks, for a 100 point loss. As the hand was actually bid, spades was a laydown against any possible defense by East and West. Of course the diamond finesse had to be taken in order to make the necessary ten tricks; but a game hinges on a finesse.
