Practical men are sent out to bin and arrange cellars.

On comparing the prices in this list with the quotations of any Firm or Stores of established repute, it will be seen that the Directors are fully justified in claiming that

KOLA CHAMPAGNE.

A Tonic and Nerve Stimulant.

The Lancet, Oct. 4, 1890 says:—Kola Champagne is delicate in flavour and full in body, and contains in each bottle, according to our analysis, not less than two grains of caffeine, the stimulating and recuperative principle of tea and coffee. It appears to occupy a position between cocoa and tea, containing the nutritive ingredients of the former with the caffeine of the latter.

Kola does not, like tea, produce disturbance of the digestive organs and excessive nervous irritation.
