From The Editors,

Yizkor – Remember.

Four times a year we gather as a community to recite Yizkor, prayers of remembrance for our departed loved ones. Many communities publish a Yizkor Book to serve as a communal memory of those who have died.

The first Yizkor Book was produced in 1296 in Nuremberg to commemorate the victims of the previous two centuries of persecution since the first Crusade of 1095. While EBJC's Yizkor Book only goes back about 25 years, the purpose is to remember our departed loved ones, clergy, past presidents, friends, and members of the congregation. Our book also remembers all those individuals with a plaque on our memorial boards, children of the Holocaust and casualties of war.

We Jews are a resilient people. Many nations have sought to annihilate us, but we still exist and they do not. By remembering our loved ones, we also remember their challenges and how they faced them.

Since its inception the State of Israel has faced numerous challenges to its very existence, however Israel still exists. Acts of anti-Semitism are on the rise all over the world; we in the United States are not immune to these attacks. We must show the resilience of our ancestors, be inspired by it and continue the existence of the Jewish people.

This year marks the 80th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising and the 50th anniversary of the Yom Kippur War. The Yizkor Book contains a story about each event and provides us with tremendous examples of the resiliency of our people.

The editors would like to thank Larry Solomon for printing the Yizkor Book. A thank you also goes out to the office staff for their assistance in this project. A special thank you goes to Jack Silverman, the individual who initiated this project, and who for many years, was the creative and driving force for the EBJC Yizkor Book. We wish you all a L'Shana Tova and G'mar Chatima Tova. May Gd answer all our prayers and the prayers of our loved ones. May the names recalled in this book and during Yizkor services be for a blessing for us all and may Gd bring peace to all of us, the Land of Israel and the world.

Memorial Service for the Departed

יִי מָה אָדָם וּתְדַעְהוּ, בְּךָ אָנוּשׁ וְתַחֲשָׁבֵהוּ
אָדָם לְהַבִּיל דְּמָה, יָמָיו כְּצֵל עוֹבֵר.
בְּבִקְרָה יִצִּיץ וְחָלָף, לְעֶרֶב יְמוּלֵל וַיִּבֶשׁ.
תֵּשֵׁב אָנוּשׁ עַד־דִּפְאָ, וְתֹאמַר שׁוּבוּ בְנֵי אָדָם.
שׁוּבָה יִי עַד מָתִי, וְהִנַּחֵם עַל עַבְדֶּיךָ.

There is a time for everything;
there is a time for all things under the sun:

a time to be born and a time to die

a time to laugh and a time to cry

a time to dance and time to mourn

a time to seek and a time to lose a time to forget and a time to remember.

This day in sacred convocation we remember those who gave us life.

This day we remember those who enriched our life with love and with beauty, with kindness and compassion, with thoughtfulness and understanding.

This day we renew the bonds that bind us to those who have gone the way of all the earth.

As we reflect upon those whose memory moves us this day, we seek consolation, and the strength and the insight born of faith.

Tender as a father with his children,
The Lord is merciful with His worshipers.

*He knows how we are fashioned;
He remembers that we are dust.*

The days of man are as grass;
he flourishes as a flower in the field.

The wind passes over it and it is gone, and no one can recognize where it grew.

But the Lord's compassion for His worshipers,
His righteousness to children's children, remain, age after age, unchanging.

*Three score and ten our years may number,
Four score years if granted the vigor.*

Laden with trouble and travail, life quickly passes, it flies away.

Teach us to use all of our days, O Lord, that we may attain a heart of wisdom.

Grant us of Your love in the morning,
that we may joyously sing all our days.

שׁוֹיִתִּי יְיָ לְנֶגְדֵי תְמִידָה, כִּי מִיְמֵינִי בַל-אֶמְוֹט.
לְכֹן שְׂמַח לְבִי וְיִגְּל כְּבוֹדֵי, אֶהְ-בְּשָׂרֵי יִשְׁכֹּן לְבַטָּח.

When I stray from You, O Lord, my life is as death;
but when I cleave to You, even in death I have life.

You embrace the souls of the living and the dead.

The earth inherits that which perishes.

*But only the dust returns to dust;
the soul, which is God's, is immortal.*

The Lord has compassion for His creatures.

He has planted eternity within our soul, granting us a share in His unending life.

He redeems our life from the grave.

During our brief life on earth He gives us choices.

We can cherish hopes, embrace values and perform deeds which death cannot destroy.

May we all be charitable in deed and in thought, in memory of those we love who walk the earth no longer.

May we live unselfishly in truth and love and peace, so that we will be remembered as a blessing, as we this day lovingly remember those whose lives endure as a blessing.

Our generations are bound to each other as children now remember their parents. Love is strong as death as husbands and wives now remember their mates, as parents now remember their children. Memory conquers death's dominion as we now remember our brothers and sisters, grandparents and other relatives and friends.

The death of those we now remember left gaping holes in our lives. But we are grateful for the gift of their lives. And we are strengthened by the blessings which they left us, by precious memories which comfort and sustain us as we recall them this day.

*Each congregant reads silently the appropriate passages among those which follow.
Personal meditations may also be added.*

We rise.

The rabbi reads aloud, in memory of congregants who died during the past year.

We lovingly recall the members of our congregation who have passed away since we gathered in this sanctuary on last Yom Kippur. They have a special place in our hearts. We pray this day that all who have sustained the loss of loved ones in the year gone by be granted comfort and strength.

Exalted, compassionate God, comfort the bereaved families of this congregation. Help all of us to perpetuate the worthy values in the lives of those no longer with us, whose names we respectfully recall:

(names are read)

May their memory endure as a blessing. And let us say: Amen.

Psalm 23

יְיָ רֹעִי לֹא אֶחָסֵךְ.

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.

בְּנֵאוֹת דֶּשֶׁא יִרְבִּיצֵנִי,

He gives me repose in green meadows

עַל-מֵי מְנַחֹת יְנַהֲלֵנִי. נַפְשִׁי יִשׁוּבָב,

He leads me beside the still waters to revive my spirit.

יְנַחֲנִי בְּמַעְגְלֵי-צֶדֶק לְמַעַן שְׁמוֹ.

He guides me on the right path, for that is His nature.

גַּם כִּי-אֶלֶךְ בְּגִיא צְלֻמוֹת
לֹא-אִירָא רָע כִּי-אֶתָּה עִמָּדִי.

Though I walk in the valley of the shadow of death,
I fear no harm, for You are with me.

שִׁבְטֶךָ וּמִשְׁעֶנְתְּךָ הִמָּה יְנַחֲמֵנִי.

Your staff and Your rod comfort me.

תַּעֲרֹךְ לְפָנַי שְׁלֵחַן נֶגֶד צָרָרִי,

You prepare a banquet for me in the presence of my foes.

דִּשְׁנָתְךָ בַּשֶּׁמֶן רֵאשִׁי כּוֹסֵי רוּחָה.

You anoint my head with oil;
my cup overflows.

אֵךְ טוֹב וְחֶסֶד יִרְדְּפוּנִי כָּל־יְמֵי תְּנִי,

Surely goodness and kindness shall be my portion all the days of my life.

וְשִׁבְתִּי בְּבֵית־יְיָ לְאָרְךָ יָמִים.

And I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

Psalm 121

A song of the ascents.

I raise my eyes to the mountains;
whence my help will come?
My help is from HASHEM,
Maker of heaven and earth.
He will not allow your foot to falter;
your Guardian will not slumber.
Behold, He neither slumbers nor sleeps – the Guardian of Israel.
HASHEM, is your Guardian;
HASHEM is your Shade at your right hand.
By day the sun will not harm you,
nor the moon by night.
HASHEM will protect you from every evil;
He will guard your soul.
HASHEM will guard your departure and your arrival, from this time and forever.

THE CROWN OF A GOOD NAME

There are three crowns, our sages taught:
The crown of Torah, the crown of priesthood,
And the crown of royalty;
But the crown of a good name excels them all.

*“Blessed is the person who lives with a good name
And departs this world with a good name.”*

Of such a person did the Bible say:
“A good name is to be treasured above precious oil.”

*Wealth, like health, may pass away,
But a good name can live on forever.*

It can adorn a person throughout life;
It can be bequeathed as a precious inheritance,

*Conferring honor on family and friends,
Inspiring and challenging those who carry on.*

Therefore our ancient Sages taught:
“The righteous need no monuments;
Their good deeds are their memorials.”

*The earth of the grave does not cover them;
The hand of time does not erase them.*

The kindness they have shown, the love they have given,
Remain in everlasting remembrance.

*Their achievements are more lasting than granite,
Their devotion is an enduring legacy.*

MEMORIAL PRAYER FOR SERVICEMEN AND WOMEN

O God full of compassion, grant perfect rest beneath the cover of Your Presence to all who have bravely laid down their lives for our country.
Shelter them among the holy and pure,
who are as radiant as the luminous firmament.

O source of compassion, bring the ever near to You that their souls be bound up in the bond of eternal life, as are the souls of the righteous.

And the work of righteousness shall be peace,
and the effect of righteousness,
quietness and confidence forever.

Nation shall not lift up sword against nation;
neither shall they learn war anymore.
Then the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together.

AMEN

Golani Brigade

Captain Uri Lavie, a company commander in the Golani Brigade briefing his soldiers – nine months into their military service – a few minutes before joining the battle against Hizballah terrorists in Southern Lebanon (Ha'aretz, July 27, 2006)

“This is our time to rise to the challenge, put on the helmets and the bullet proof vests and make sure that the northern border is secure. We shall fulfill any mission in a most effective manner, in face of any challenge.

If we shall not fulfill our mission we shall forfeit the right to exist.

We shall not lose this war which we did not start.

Our duty is to serve as a defense force of the Jewish People, and to secure the peace of mind of the civilians in northern Israel.

If we shall not do it, no one will do it in our place.

For two thousand years we waited for the establishment of the Jewish State, and we are not going to roll back because a bunch of terrorists assume that they can scare us.

He who cannot defend Liberty does not deserve Liberty.

If we will not be able to fight until our last drop of blood, in order to secure the Liberty of our People on its own soil, our People will not enjoy Liberty.

There is time to talk and there is time to act. At this time, when missiles and Katyushas afflict the North all the way to Haifa, in addition to the two kidnapped soldiers, the ten soldiers killed and the dozens injured, it is time to fight and not talk. We are the force, which has been chosen to fight, and we shall perform in the most effective manner.

I will be the first one to enter the battle and the last one to come out, and will do everything in my power to get you out alive and well. On Friday, with G-d's help, we will rejoin with our families. However, I cannot do it alone. Once we cross the northern border, you should exercise full alert and full responsibility toward your fellow soldier.”

"SHEMA YISRAEL"- THE LEGACY OF RABBI AKIVA & ROI KLEIN

By Yossi Katz

In the year 132 C.E. the great Jewish general Shimon Bar Kochba led a 3 year revolt for Jewish freedom against the mighty Roman Empire. While the immediate causes of the revolt were the Romans' outlawing of "brit-milah"(circumcision) and their decision to rebuild Jerusalem as a pagan city called Aelia-Capitolina, perhaps the greatest cause of the revolt was the undying Jewish desire to be a free people in their own land. General Bar Kochba was supported by the greatest Rabbi in Israel- Rabbi Akiva, whose students became his bravest soldiers. His guerilla tactics frustrated and outsmarted the Romans. Bar Kochba liberated Jerusalem and even minted silver coins with a picture of the Jewish Temple and the words in Hebrew: "YEAR ONE FOR THE FREEDOM OF ISRAEL". In the end, Rome feared slave nations around the world would be inspired by Bar Kochba to rise up and fight for their freedom. Emperor Hadrian sent 8 Roman Legions from around the world including their best general, Julius Severus, who was in Britain at the time. The Romans, after 3 1/2 years, eventually crushed the revolt killing 600,000 Jews including Bar Kochba, who died heroically in battle at the last fortress called Betar. Hadrian then outlawed Judaism and tried to annihilate the Jewish People. He renamed Israel: "Palestine", Latin for Philistines, a people that had disappeared a thousand years earlier. His goal was to make the world forget the Jews ever had a country of their own. Rabbi Akiva and the ten leading Rabbis in Israel were captured and executed in Caesarea. One Rabbi was wrapped in a Torah scroll and burnt at the stake and Rabbi Akiva was raked over with iron combs. As he was tortured he smiled and his students, who were forced to watch the execution, cried out in wonder, "Rabbi, how do you smile?" Akiva answered, "It is written, 'You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul'...even when thy soul is taken from thee!" Then Akiva, feeling his life slip away, cried out the SHEMA YISRAEL prayer, "HEAR O ISRAEL, THE LORD OUR GOD, THE LORD IS ONE". Akiva died on the word "ONE" but along with Bar Kochba, left our people a legacy of courage, strength and Jewish commitment that would fuel our modern-day struggle for independence in Israel.

Two thousand years later the courage of Bar Kochba and the spirit of Rabbi Akiva continue to live on in the soldiers of TZAHAL. In this recent war in Lebanon against the murderous Hezbollah our soldiers have distinguished themselves with countless acts of bravery & heroism. The most moving story perhaps is of Major Roi Klein, from the settlement of Eli, who was the Deputy-Battalion Commander of the 51st Battalion of the Golani Infantry Brigade. Major Klein grew up in Raanana but moved to Eli after studying in the Bnei David Yeshiva. He was educated on the ideals & values of love & commitment to Torah, the Jewish people and the State of Israel. He saw his service in Golani as fulfillment of his Jewish obligations. He was loved and admired by all his soldiers and was designated for promotion in TZAHAL. On July 26, 2006, a day before his 31st birthday he took part with his unit in the fierce fighting in the Hezbollah stronghold of Bint Jabil. As they cleaned out terrorist gun nests in house to house fighting, a Hezbollah grenade was thrown at a group of the Golani soldiers. It seemed they all faced certain death, when their beloved commander, Roi Klein screamed, "SHEMA YISRAEL- Hear O'Israel the Lord our God. the Lord is One", and dived on the live grenade. Klein died in the explosion but saved the lives of the many soldiers with him in the house. He died on the word, "ONE", just like his teacher Rabbi Akiva. Roi Klein was a sensitive caring soul who was loved by all who knew him. He was a brilliant and outstanding student of engineering and also played the saxophone. He is survived by his young wife Sara and his two sons, Gilad (3) and Yoav (6 months old). Klein was buried in the National Military Cemetery on Mt Herzl in Jerusalem on July 27, 2006. It was his 31st birthday.

Like with the Bar Kochba Revolt, cynical Jews in Israel and abroad will debate the merits of this war and of our national & military leadership for years to come. Of course there are issues there that need to be investigated and lessons that must be learnt so we can continue in our struggle to preserve our freedom in Israel. I believe, however, that this recent war has shown us that our people are blessed with the finest generation of Jewish youth in 2000 years. It would be wise for us to honor the courage of our youth and the memories of our fallen heroes so that their legacy will never die. From Akiva to Roi Klein, it is that very legacy that has been the secret of our survival.

Reflections on the 80th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising

Wednesday 19th April 2023 marks the 80th anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising, one of the largest forms of Jewish resistance to take place during the Holocaust. The 80th anniversary gives us a chance for a moment of reflection of Poland's rich Jewish history. For centuries, Poland hosted the world's largest Jewish population. This rich tapestry of life was nearly destroyed by the Nazi and their collaborators with the murder 3.3 million Polish Jews during the Holocaust.

Remembering Poland's rich Jewish history is even more poignant today as we commemorate the anniversary of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising, a moment of resistance and defiance by Jews living in Warsaw.

Almost nothing remains of the old Warsaw Ghetto: just a half-dozen buildings, a synagogue, some fragments of a brick wall. The rest was blown up by the Germans in their onslaught against Jews who took up arms against them.

The uprising, ended in death for most of the fighters yet their sacrifice gave the world a symbol of resistance against evil, that endures to this day.

The Warsaw Ghetto Revolt was among the first against Nazi occupied Europe, inspiring other uprisings. It was a warning to Hitler and his collaborators that Jews would not quietly disappear into the night. Henceforth, no German soldier or camp guard would ever feel safe again in Poland.

The story is well known: In 1939, Germany invaded Poland, forcing the 350,000 Jews of Warsaw into a Ghetto. In the ensuing years, particularly in 1942, the Nazis deported 300,000 of those Jews from the Ghetto. Most of them met their deaths in Nazi death camps.

In response, several Jewish underground organizations, numbering approximately 750 people, with limited weapons, pistols, explosives and in many cases homemade weapons fought back.

At the outset of 1943 they fired on German troops who were rounding up Jews. The Germans retreated.

For a while the Nazis held back, but on April 19, 1943, the first night of Pesach (Passover), they attacked with the intent to liquidate the Warsaw Ghetto. Many believe that they attacked that night to send a message that Passover, the Day of Liberation, should be transformed into a Day of Destruction.

The fighters, led by Mordechai Anielewicz, stunned the Nazis and their collaborators, killing and wounding many German soldiers.

Over the next few weeks, they fought heroically against the odds. From the blazing inferno, the Jewish Freedom Fighters declared:

Amid the din of artillery, amid the rattle of the machine guns, amid the smoke of fires and the dust of the murdered of the Warsaw Ghetto ...

“We know that though we may all perish in battle, we will not surrender. We are gasping for the revenge and punishment of our common enemy. Long live. Death to the Torturers and Tormentors. Long live the battle to the death against the Germans.”

They fought bravely on until the final battle at Mila 18 Street, headquarters of the Ghetto Fighters. The Germans planned to destroy the Ghetto in three days. Jews held out for a month, much longer than all of Poland did after the Nazi invasion. Even after the Ghetto was obliterated, its buildings burnt down, Jews hid in the ruins ambushing German soldiers. Some Jews escaped through the sewers, most were killed or deported to death camps.

The actions of the brave fighters of the Warsaw Ghetto uprising has long been nurtured as a symbol of national pride for Israel and Jews. It is also something that modern citizens of Poland can take pride that the first sustained civilian resistance to the Nazis came from the hands of Polish Jews.

In the spirit of that resistance, there were Poles who protected Jews at a huge risk to their own lives and their families, and more than 7,000 are officially honoured by Yad Vashem, the world preeminent Holocaust Centre— by far the largest number in any country occupied by the Nazis. Their bravery is doubly honoured with the knowledge that their courage was far from the norm.

Today as we remember, the Jewish fighters who took on the might of the Nazi regime and their collaborators we understand that their true victory is evident in the revival of Jewish cultural life in a modern prosperous Poland, restoring a gaping hole that has existed in that great nation’s soul since the Second World War.

you shall not be burned and the flame shall not consume you.”

50th Anniversary of the Yom Kippur War

In 1973, a coalition of Arab states, led by Egypt and Syria, attacked Israel and sparked the Yom Kippur War (Hebrew: מלחמת יום כיפור, Milḥemet Yom Kippur). Thinking that the IDF would not be able to defend Israel on the holiest day of the Jewish year, the Arab states coordinated a surprise attack on Saturday, October 6, 1973, Yom Kippur. The war ended 18 days later, on October 24, 1973, when a ceasefire was declared.

The war began with Egyptian troops and armor crossing the Suez Canal in southern Israel, and Syrian forces entering the Golan Heights in northern Israel. After three weeks of heavy fighting, the IDF overcame initial Egyptian and Syrian gains and advanced to the western side of the Suez Canal and approached Damascus. This forced the Egyptians, as well as the Syrians, to accept new ceasefire arrangements.

What led up to the war?

After the Six Day War in 1967, Israel gained new territories and therefore faced new challenges. The IDF had to guard the Sinai border along the Suez Canal, where it installed numerous posts on what was called the Bar-Lev line. The Golan Heights was also new territory for the IDF to defend. After being swiftly defeated in the Six Day War, the Arab countries surrounding Israel wanted to redeem themselves, and sought to regain lost territories. From 1972, the Egyptian and Syrian militaries rebuilt themselves from the ground up. They acquired up-to-date equipment, mainly through the USSR: MiGs, T-55 and T-62 tanks, anti-aircraft missiles (SA2-3-6-7) and Sagger anti-tank guided missiles. By October 1972, Anwar Sadat, President of Egypt, was already speaking about attacking Israel in private meetings with his army staff.

Aftermath

Despite Israel's military supremacy, the war took a great toll on all participating countries. During those three weeks of war, 2,691 IDF soldiers lost their lives defending their country.

Negotiations in the following years led to disengagement agreements, under the terms of which Israel withdrew from parts of the territories captured by the IDF during the Yom Kippur War.

The Yom Kippur War was the third time in less than three decades since its establishment that Israel was forced to fight a war for its very existence. Once again, Israel's soldiers proved with their courage, training, and tenacity that nothing would stop them from protecting their homeland.

Israel declassifies massive archive to mark 50th anniversary of Yom Kippur War.

Israeli history comes alive today like never before as the Israel State Archives releases thousands of documents related to the 1973 Yom Kippur War, including materials from the months leading up to and following the conflict.

Most of these materials, previously confidential, have been examined, scanned and made accessible in a new smart digital format that uses Google's search technology.

Only a select number of documents, particularly those that could reveal sensitive information from intelligence services like the Mossad or Shin Bet, have been redacted or remain unavailable.

The archives include a diverse range of materials – videos, photos, voice recordings, government memos, minutes from war cabinet meetings, testimonials and handwritten notes from then-Prime Minister Golda Meir and her staff. For the first time, they offer insight into Israel's decision-making process, the various fronts of battle, domestic conditions and diplomatic contacts with Arab states and the US, among other things.

Taking two-and-a-half years to complete, this archival project coincides with the upcoming 50th anniversary of the Yom Kippur War. All documents are transcribed and can be searched in both Hebrew and English. Users can also highlight and copy text within the documents for translation, offering rare glimpses into the history and context of the conflict.

Four Roman Swords in Almost Perfect Condition Found in Cave Near Dead Sea

Fifty years ago, a stalactite with an incomplete inscription in ink, written in ancient Hebrew characteristic of the First Temple period, was found in a small cave very high on the cliffs over the Dead Sea, north of the Ein Gedi oasis. Now in the present day, four extremely well-preserved Roman swords have been found in the same cave by researchers revisiting it to further study the inscription.

The cache of ancient weaponry had been shoved into a deep crevice about 1,900 years ago, the Israel Antiquities Authority announced on Wednesday. Such blades were standard issue to Roman soldiers and were most likely somehow obtained by the Judean rebels and hidden in the cave for later use, the researchers suggest.

The discovery was made by Dr. Asaf Gayer of the Department of the Land of Israel Studies and Archaeology at Ariel University, visiting the cave with geologist Boaz Langford of the Institute of Earth Sciences and the Cave Research Center at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, as well as IAA photographer Shai Halevi.

"Finding a single sword is rare—so four? It's a dream! We rubbed our eyes to believe it," the researchers said in a statement. The swords, pilum in Latin, were exhibited for the first time Wednesday at an event celebrating the launch of the book "New Studies in the Archaeology of the Judean Desert: Collected Papers" describing archaeological finds unearthed in the Judean Desert Survey Project being conducted by the IAA.

How did they get there? These were standard weapons of the Roman soldiers in Judea, and while these caves had a terrific view, they were not their usual stamping ground.

"The hiding of the swords and the pilum in deep cracks in the isolated cave north of Ein Gedi hints that the weapons were taken as booty from Roman soldiers or from the battlefield, and purposely hidden by the Judean rebels for reuse," said Dr. Eitan Klein, one of the directors of the Judean Desert Survey Project in a statement.

"Obviously, the rebels did not want to be caught by the Roman authorities carrying these weapons. We are just beginning the research on the cave and the weapon cache discovered in it, aiming to try to find out who owned the swords, and where, when, and by whom they were manufactured," Klein said. "We will try to pinpoint the historical event that led to the caching of these weapons in the cave and determine whether it was at the time of the Bar Kokhba Revolt in 132–135 C.E."

Following the swords' discovery, the cave was excavated in its entirety by the IAA under the direction of Eitan Klein, Oriya Amichay, Hagay Hamer, and Amir Ganor. Other finds were dated to the Chalcolithic period about 6,000 years ago to the Roman period. And at the entrance to the cave, the team found a bronze coin from the time of the Bar-Kokhba Revolt. It can't be stated that the coin reveals the stashes, but it is an intriguing thought.

During the survey, the IAA found evidence of looting in dozens of caves. "I shudder to think how much historical knowledge would have been lost had the looters reached the amazing artifacts in this cave first," stated Ganor. "This time, thanks to the national project initiated by the Israel Antiquities Authority, we managed to get there before the looters."

We also remember...

Dugo Leitner, a survivor of Auschwitz-Birkenau, holds a balloon shaped like the Jewish star that the Nazis forced Jews to wear. (Erez Kaganovitz)

(JTA) — David Leitner, one of the most famous lovers of falafel in a country full of them, has died at 93 in Israel, the country that became his home after he survived the Holocaust as a young teen.

Leitner's death comes nearly a decade after his ritual of eating falafel to mark his survival broke into public view and was adopted by many in Israel and abroad.

Leitner fell in love with the chickpea fritters as soon as he encountered them in Shuk Mahane Yehuda in Jerusalem. The year was 1949.

"The fried balls immediately took me back to the march — and my mother's kitchen — and I had two portions one after another," Leitner told an Israeli news site in 2018.

He was referring to the death march that he and about 66,000 other prisoners of Auschwitz were forced to undertake in January 1945. Most of the prisoners died, but Leitner, then just 14, survived — a fortune he attributed to thinking about his mother's bilkalach, small golden buns of bread made in his native Hungary and across Central Europe.

The experience caused Leitner, who went by the nickname Dugo, to make a commitment: He would eat falafel every Jan. 18, the date that the death march began.

For most of his life, he undertook the ritual alone. "All those years, dad always went alone to have falafel to mark the day," one of his daughters told the Israeli site, Srugim. "We knew Jan. 18 meant a lot to him and he needed to be alone and have falafel and get in touch with himself."

But over time, word got out about the unassuming man who saw falafel as a symbol of his survival. After his ritual reached the Testimony House, a small Holocaust education institution in Nir Galim, a moshav, or cooperative village, near Ashdod whose founders include Leitner and his wife, Sarah, the institution shared his story on social media.

By 2019, Leitner's story was so well known that Israeli President Reuven Rivlin invited him to have falafel at the president's residence in Jerusalem. In 2021, Israel's Foreign Ministry took what it termed "Dugo Day" abroad, offering free falafel at its embassies in Warsaw and London. Leitner's inspiring story has been shared countless times on feel-good social media accounts, bringing his story and the falafel tradition to audiences around the world.

Leitner died on Thursday, leaving behind two daughters; grandchildren and great-grandchildren; and a Jan. 18 ritual that is expected to endure. It was Tisha B'Av, a fast day in the Jewish calendar, but some on social media declared that they would make falafel their first meal in Leitner's honor.

(JTA) — Cantor Philip Sherman’s biggest audience might have been for his role as a judge on the Netflix series “Orange is the New Black.” But his most prominent role was as one of New York’s most in-demand mohels, performing, by his own estimate, more than 26,000 circumcisions during his 45-year career.

The tally included the offspring of celebrities, babies born in far-flung countries and his own sons and grandsons. “My record is 11 in one day – [two pairs] of twins and seven others,” Sherman told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency in 2014, in an article naming him one of “America’s Top Mohels.”

That record stood for the rest of his life. Sherman died at 67 Wednesday in New York City. The cause was pancreatic cancer, according to his family; optimistic and determined throughout his yearlong battle, he had announced a six-month sabbatical in June.

“It was always family first” for Sherman, his daughter Nina Sherman Green told JTA, even as he participated in the formative moments of thousands of Jewish families. She recalled the hours he spent teaching her and her two brothers the skills he considered essential: how to read from the Torah, how to root for the New York Giants and, perhaps most of all, how to drive.

The last was in some ways pragmatic: Sherman’s work had him ping-ponging across New York City and its suburbs daily, from early in the morning until dusk. (Circumcisions must be performed during the day, according to Jewish law.) There was lots of time to practice, and many places to be.

His children learned to navigate the city’s highways and side streets. He also demanded that they be able to parallel park in 20 seconds. Sometimes, though, their job was to wait in the car and fend off parking enforcement as Sherman raced inside, wearing his signature bow tie, to perform the ceremony that Jewish tradition considers essential to bringing baby boys into a covenant between them and God.

“He would run in, run out because it was important to him to cover as many brisses as he could,” said his son Elan Sherman, who was with him on the record-setting day. “He wanted to leave that mark on the Jewish community, that he was really there as much as he could be for all Jewish babies.”

Green noted that her father would emphasize to parents that they should not be deterred if they or anyone else they knew could not afford his fee.

“He did many on the house, and it was something that he was really grateful that he was able to do,” she said, adding, “Living day to day, knowing that he was doing mitzvot for everybody, that gave him a lot of pride.”

A typical Phil Sherman bris was fast and funny. He was known for adding levity around a procedure that often induces great anxiety. But he was also deeply proud of his part in carrying on a tradition that dates back to the Bible.

"I'm there to fulfill a Torah commandment, to educate, let them know what the significance is, briefly, appropriately, tastefully," he once told the New York Times about a procedure that would take him between 15 to 20 seconds to perform.

(He believed that doctors who work as mohels, increasingly the norm in some Jewish communities, unnecessarily add discomfort for babies and their parents.)

In the same article, Sherman also listed the celebrity offspring for whom he performed the procedure, including the grandchildren of two Israeli prime ministers, the sons of movie stars and other celebrities, including actress Rachel Weisz, and the son of the then-Manhattan borough president, Scott M. Stringer.

Sherman was himself a celebrity of some note. Articles about the modern, pager-carrying mohel appeared in local media by the early 1990s, and the creation in 1997 of his website — emoil.com — occasioned an "Only in New York" brief in the New York Post. (His vanity plate had the URL.) A profile in the New Yorker followed two years after that. That was also the year that he stood alongside Whoopi Goldberg in an ad for a short-lived online currency called Flooz. In 2009, New York Magazine featured him as "the busiest mohel in New York" — complete with a photograph showing him surrounded by 30 babies he'd recently circumcised.

A member of the Screen Actors Guild, Sherman played rabbis in small roles on TV and film and consulted with creators who wanted to get the Jewish details right. In 2011, he was cast in "Our Idiot Brother," the Paul Rudd vehicle. "I played a mohel, but the scene was cut," Sherman told JTA. "How ironic."

He played a character billed as "Aliyah Man" in an episode of "The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel." In "Orange is the New Black," about a women's prison, he had a brief scene as a judge presiding over a trial involving one of the prisoners.

"The really amazing thing about that is that it's a real part in a real show, where I'm not playing a rabbi or cantor or some Jewish guy," he told JTA at the time.

Sherman grew up in Syracuse, New York, where his family had little money or connection to Jewish practice. Inspired by the religious observance of his grandparents on the Lower East Side, he enrolled in the joint program at Columbia University and the Jewish Theological Seminary, graduating in 1979 with degrees in music and Bible. While still an undergraduate, he received training and certification as a mohel from the former chief mohel of Jerusalem, the late Rabbi Yosef Hakohen Halperin.

"Cantor Sherman was a beloved friend and colleague," Cantor Mark Kushner, one of the mohels to whom Sherman directed families during his leave, told JTA on Wednesday. "We trained together in Jerusalem over 45 years ago. We spoke nearly every day. I will miss him dearly."

Adept in leading prayer according to both the Ashkenazi and Sephardic traditions, Sherman also served as cantor at a number of Manhattan synagogues, including Park East Synagogue, Lincoln Square Synagogue and Congregation Shearith Israel-The Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, where he worked full time early in his career and returned on a part-time basis more recently.

Sherman boasted about being the only motorcycle-riding rabbi in the actors union, and his love of driving — and steering others on the right path — remained a constant of his life and work.

Even in his final weeks, Green said, Sherman was offering driving pointers on his way to hospital appointments. "He was still directing me," she said. "He was still being a backseat driver in the front seat, which was his role. He was still navigating ... and making sure I knew which lane to be in."

Sherman is survived by his children, Nina, Elan and Reuven; their spouses and six grandchildren.

The Destruction of the Second Temple

"Sorely have they afflicted me from my youth," let Israel now say - "Sorely have they afflicted me from my youth, yet they have not prevailed against me. The plowers plowed upon my back; they made long their furrows." The LORD is righteous; he has cut the cords of the wicked. May all who hate Zion be put to shame and turned backward! Let them be like the grass on the housetops, which withers before it grows up, with which the reaper does not fill his hand or the binder of sheaves his bosom, while those who pass by do not say, "The blessing of the LORD be upon you! We bless you in the name of the LORD!" (Psalm 129. A Psalm of Ascents)

On the 10th of August, in C.E. 70 -- the 9th of Av -- in Jewish reckoning, the very day when the King of Babylon burned the Temple in 586 B.C.E., the Temple was burned again. Titus took the city and put it to the torch, burning the Temple.

Jewish historian, Flavius Josephus was present in Jerusalem when the city was captured and the Temple was burnt. He described the event in this manner:

The Romans, though it was a terrible struggle to collect the timber, raised their platforms in twenty-one days, having as described before stripped the whole area in a circle round the town to a distance of ten miles. The countryside like the City was a pitiful sight; for where once there had been a lovely vista of woods and parks there was nothing but desert and stumps of trees. No one - not even a foreigner - who had seen the Old Judea and the glorious suburbs of the City, and now set eyes on her present desolation, could have helped sighing and groaning at so terrible a change; for every trace of beauty had been blotted out by war, and nobody who had known it in the past and came upon it suddenly would have recognized the place: when he was already there he would still have been looking for the City.
