Extinction is a natural process. Today, however, plant and animal species are disappearing world-wide at an accelerated pace. Based on current trends, half of the species on earth will be extinct within the next 100 years. The major cause of this phenomenon is large-scale destruction of native habitats, which has increased since European settlement began in the mid 1800's - in Oregon and throughout the New World.

Once lost, a species can never be recovered, and there is no way of knowing how useful it may have been. We do know that human beings and many of their industries depend on plant and animal products. About 50% of all pharmaceuticals have a natural component as an active ingredient, yet less than one percent of the world's species have been chemically analyzed and tested. Many invertebrates and plants contain undescribed and highly functional compounds.

Limnanthes floccosa subsp. grandiflora, or woolly meadow-foam, a rare plant that grows in southwest Oregon, has been recently found to produce a hybrid with the more common member of the genus, Limnanthes alba. This hybrid grows well in the poorly drained soils of the Willamette Valley and produces a valuable oil used for soaps, plastic and rubber production. In addition, the new hybrid meadow-foam does not require the field burning necessary for other crops. This species, and many other Oregon natives, will be lost without intervention. The purpose of this book is to provide land managers, owners and interested parties with a list of those species in Oregon which are in greatest jeopardy.

Oregon State Endangered Species Programs

In 1987, the Oregon Legislature passed an Endangered Species Act which gave the Oregon Department of Agriculture responsibility and jurisdiction over threatened and endangered plants, and reaffirmed the Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife's responsibility for threatened and endangered fish and wildlife. Both of these agencies have entered into cooperative (Section 6) agreements with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service for the purpose of carrying out research and conservation programs for animal and plant species under the auspices of the federal Endangered Species Act. The Oregon Natural Heritage Program (ORNHP) has a similar agreement with the Fish and Wildlife Service for invertebrates. More information on the state endangered species programs can be found at the beginning of the animal and plant sections of this book.

Oregon Natural Heritage Program (ORNHP)

ORNHP maintains comprehensive data bases for Oregon biodiversity, concentrating on the rare and endangered plants, animals and ecosystems. Site specific information is available at ORNHP. The program is a partnership between The Division of State Lands, The Nature Conservancy of Oregon and Oregon State University, currently supported primarily by federal natural resource agencies. Biologists working for these agencies, together with the state's herbaria and museums, provide most of the information that comprise ORNHP's databases. The Natural Heritage Advisory Council oversees the registration and dedication of ecologically significant natural areas and the creation of Oregon's Natural Heritage Plan.

This book has been compiled using the most current information available on the distribution and abundance of plants and animals native to Oregon. Although based on a large volume of information, it is by no means complete. Much is known about some species, little about others. ORNHP welcomes additional information or comments regarding any of the taxa listed herein. Such information, as well as data requests, should be directed to:

This book will be reprinted every third year. It will be updated each year, with updates posted on our home page (www.heritage.tnc.org/nhp/us/or). Copies may be obtained at cost from ORNHP.

Outline

The book is divided into animal and plant sections. The sections begin with a description of the animal and plant programs in the state and are followed by the main list of animals and plants. For animals, the list is divided into major groups: fish, amphibians, reptiles, mammals, birds, and invertebrates and then arranged alphabetically by scientific name. The plant list is first divided into four groups: vascular plants, non-vascular plants, lichens and fungi, and then alphabetized by scientific name. The information for each taxa includes 1) scientific and common names with authorities for plants, along with synonymy if the name is new; 2) county, ecoregion, and adjacent state distribution information, and 3) the state and federal status, as well as the ORNHP list and The Association for Biodiversity Information's (ABI) Heritage Network Global and State ranks. Distribution abbreviations are listed and explained on the next page.

Criteria and Definitions

Inclusion of any given taxon on these lists is based on several specific criteria. The most important factors are the total number of known, extant populations in Oregon and world-wide, and the degree to which they are potentially or actively threatened with destruction. Other criteria include the number of known populations considered to be securely protected, the size of the various populations, and the ability of the taxon to persist at known sites. The taxonomic distinctness of each species also has been considered. Hybrids or questionable, undescribed species have not included, although undescribed taxa recognized by the scientific community in Oregon are included.

Taxonomic experts who were consulted are listed in the acknowledgments on the page 98. All of these criteria are considered in the development of ABI Heritage Network species rank as well.

Definitions and explanations of the various ranks and federal and state status are included on page 4 and summarized on the back inside cover, along with a list of abbreviations. A number of definitions and criteria specific to animals (wintering or breeding ranks in birds) are discussed in detail at the beginning of the animal section of this book.

DISTRIBUTION INFORMATION

Distribution Information

The distribution information included on the lists represents the both the current and historic, documented distribution of the taxa included.

The information is in the following format: Ecoregion; State (and/or Canadian Province); and County. Out-of-state distribution information is complete for plant and animal taxa on ORNHP List 1 (which are usually Oregon or regional endemics). For all other taxa, all adjacent states or the closest state with occurrences will be listed; a plus (+) signifies that the taxa is found in additional states. Taxa with no other states noted are Oregon endemics. For the most part, the Ecoregion, County and State distribution is based on both historic and current information. Any additional input on distribution will be incorporated in future updates of this book. The Ecoregions and Counties are shown in the map on page 3.

Ecoregions

The map on the following page divides the state into ten distinct regions based on geologic and vegetative patterns. The Ecoregions are CR=Coast Range, WV=Willamette Valley, KM=Klamath Mountains, WC=West Cascade Range & Crest, EC=East Cascade Range, BM=Ochoco, Blue & Wallowa Mountains, BR=Basin and Range, HP=High Lava Plains, OU=Owyhee Uplands, and CB=Columbia Basin.

Counties

County distribution is keyed to the base map on the following page. The abbreviations used in the book are made from the first four letters of each county name. The county names are: Baker, Benton, Clackamas, Clatsop, Columbia, Coos, Crook, Curry, Deschutes, Douglas, Gilliam, Grant, Harney, Hood River, Jackson, Jefferson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Malheur, Marion, Morrow, Multnomah, Polk, Sherman, Tillamook, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Wasco, Washington, Wheeler, Yamhill. The county information included is based on data from ORNHP files. Please notify us of mistakes or omissions.

States and Canadian Provinces and Territories

State, provincial, and territorial distribution is included on the lists primarily to alert biologists to the distribution of these rare, threatened, and endangered taxa in adjacent states. The distribution for the more wide ranging species in states not adjacent to Oregon is primarily based on published information and may not be complete. Two-letter postal abbreviations are used to identify these regions. Adjacent states include: CA = California, ID = Idaho, NV = Nevada, and WA = Washington. Canadian provinces or territories cited include: AB = Alberta, BC = British Columbia, MB = Manitoba, NB = New Brunswick, NT = Northwest Territories, ON = Ontario, SK = Saskatchewan, and QC = Quebec.

OREGON MAP WITH ECOREGIONS AND COUNTIES

DEFINITIONS

Endangered taxa are those which are in danger of becoming extinct within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of their range.

Threatened taxa are those likely to become endangered within the foreseeable future.

LE = Listed Endangered. Taxa listed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) or the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) as Endangered under the Endangered Species Act (ESA), or by the Departments of Agriculture (ODA) and Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) of the state of Oregon under the Oregon Endangered Species Act of 1987 (OESA).

LT = Listed Threatened. Taxa listed by the USFWS, NMFS, ODA, or ODFW as Threatened.

PE = Proposed Endangered. Taxa proposed by the USFWS or NMFS to be listed as Endangered under the ESA or by ODFW or ODA under the OESA.

PT = Proposed Threatened. Taxa proposed by the USFWS or NMFS to be listed as Threatened under the ESA or by ODFW or ODA under the OESA.

C = Candidate taxa for which NMFS or USFWS have sufficient information to support a proposal to list under the ESA, or which is a candidate for listing by the ODA under the OESA.

SoC = Species of Concern. Former C2 candidates which need additional information in order to propose as Threatened or Endangered under the ESA. These are species which USFWS is reviewing for consideration as Candidates for listing under the ESA.

Lists Following Animal and Plant Sections

In addition to the main lists summarizing information on animals and plants, this booklet includes the agency lists compiled from the most recent information available (January 2001):

- Federal and State, listed and proposed animals (USFWS, NMFS, ODFW)

- Federal candidate (USFWS, NMFS) and species of concern (USFWS) animals

- State sensitive animals (ODFW)

- Federal listed, proposed and candidate plants, and species of concern (USFWS)

- State listed and candidate plants (ODA)

- Heritage Program Lists (ORNHP). The criteria for the Heritage Program lists are as follows:

List 1 contains taxa that are threatened with extinction or presumed to be extinct throughout their entire range.

List 2 contains taxa that are threatened with extirpation or presumed to be extirpated from the state of Oregon. These are often peripheral or disjunct species which are of concern when considering species diversity within Oregon's borders. They can be very significant when protecting the genetic diversity of a taxon. ORNHP regards extreme rarity as a significant threat and has included species which are very rare in Oregon on this list.

List 3 contains species for which more information is needed before status can be determined, but which may be threatened or endangered in Oregon or throughout their range.

List 4 contains taxa which are of conservation concern but are not currently threatened or endangered. This includes taxa which are very rare but are currently secure, as well as taxa which are declining in numbers or habitat but are still too common to be proposed as threatened or endangered. While these taxa currently may not need the same active management attention as threatened or endangered taxa, they do require continued monitoring.

Taxa Considered but Rejected contains all taxa deleted from any of the above lists in previous editions of this booklet. Taxa dropped from the list since the last book (1998) are also included in the main list.

ABI - Natural Heritage Network Ranks

ORNHP participates in an international system for ranking rare, threatened and endangered species throughout the world. The system was developed by TNC and is now maintained by The Association for Biodiversity Information (ABI) in cooperation with Heritage Programs or Conservation Data Centers (CDCs) in all 50 states, in 4 Canadian provinces, and in 13 Latin American countries. The ranking is a 1-5 scale, primarily based on the number of known occurrences, but also including threats, sensitivity, area occupied, and other biological factors. In this book, the ranks occupy two lines. The top line is the Global Rank and begins with a "G". If the taxon has a trinomial (a subspecies, variety or recognized race), this is followed by a "T" rank indicator. A "Q" at the end of this line indicates the taxon has taxonomic questions. The second line is the State Rank and begins with the letter "S". The ranks are summarized below (see page 6 for migratory bird ranks):

1 = Critically imperiled because of extreme rarity or because it is somehow especially vulnerable to extinction or extirpation, typically with 5 or fewer occurrences.

2 = Imperiled because of rarity or because other factors demonstrably make it very vulnerable to extinction (extirpation), typically with 6-20 occurrences.

3 = Rare, uncommon or threatened, but not immediately imperiled, typically with 21-100 occurrences.

4 = Not rare and apparently secure, but with cause for long-term concern, usually with more than 100 occurrences.

5 = Demonstrably widespread, abundant, and secure.

H = Historical Occurrence, formerly part of the native biota with the implied expectation that it may be rediscovered.

X = Presumed extirpated or extinct.

U = Unknown rank.

? = Not yet ranked, or assigned rank is uncertain.

More details on the Heritage Ranking system and more definitions can be found at the NatureServe web site: <http://www.natureserve.org/ranking.htm>.

SPECIAL ANIMALS

Information on Oregon's rare, threatened and endangered animal species is presented here in two formats. The first is a list summarizing the distribution, federal and state status, and Heritage Program rank of the species as described on pages 4 and 5. The second format breaks the species into lists based on their status.

In both formats, the special animals are divided into major groups (fish, amphibians, reptiles, birds, mammals, invertebrates), then listed alphabetically by scientific name. The invertebrate summary list is unique in being further subdivided into class and order.

The animals included in our book are those rare, threatened and endangered vertebrate and invertebrate species that are native to Oregon and have (or have had) sustained breeding populations within the state. We have not included open-ocean mammals or sea turtles which generally occur offshore and do not breed in Oregon. Wintering bird species and those which occur on an accidental or occasional basis present special problems which are described below.

Animal Species Tracked

A key objective of the ORNHP is to serve as a clearinghouse of information regarding site-specific locations of rare, threatened and endangered species in Oregon.

Our intent is to obtain and computerize locational information for all state and federal listed animal species, as well as all federal candidate species and most U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service species of concern (SoC) or ODFW Sensitive Species. We do not currently have the resources to track certain species of concern which, while they have conservation concerns, are relatively widely distributed. Neither can we track all ODFW sensitive species, especially those of undetermined status or species currently at risk over a limited portion of their range.

Location data is computerized for other animal species that we believe are rare (of limited abundance or restricted distribution), threatened, endangered or otherwise vulnerable in Oregon, based on the ABI - Natural Heritage Network ranks defined on pages 4 and 5. We make ranking decisions based on the best available information. Comments on our ranks or on the inclusion or exclusion of taxa are welcome.

Generally, ORNHP maintains computerized information for all animal species on ORNHP Lists 1 and 2, as well as selected wildlife species on list 3. To identify those list 3 animal species for which site-specific computerized information is maintained, an asterisk (*) has been placed adjacent to their ORNHP status on the summary list. There are several accidental or occasional breeding birds that we have chosen not to track, even though they rank out highly. These species are well outside their normal range, and we feel our efforts are better spent on species which are part of Oregon's usual fauna.

Additionally, we maintain manual files for all animal species noted herein. We encourage the submission of information, reports and observations on all of the special animal species, especially information pertaining to trends over time. As additional resources become available, we will incorporate information from manual files into electronic format.

Animal Lists and Natural Heritage State Ranks

Fish

All taxa in this book have published or soon to be published valid names, except for some fish taxa. These fish are represented on the lists by their Evolutionarily Significant Unit (ESU) designation. The ESU designations are defined by the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) under their ESA responsibility. ORNHP tracks and ranks all listed, proposed and candidate ESUs for anadromous fish. For listed or proposed anadromous fish, we track spawning and rearing areas as well as, but separately from, migratory corridors. As a result, there are a few listed salmon we track which may never have spawned in Oregon, but which travel through the waters of the state.

Birds

Avian species are usually placed on the ORNHP Lists based on breeding populations. Some species may be common in winter or migration but rare as breeders in Oregon, and in these instances it is only the breeding populations that are of concern (i.e. harlequin duck, bufflehead, common loon). Species that occur in Oregon in migration or as winter residents only are not considered here, except for especially sensitive species with critical staging or wintering locations in Oregon (i.e. Aleutian Canada goose, brown pelican). There are several bird species that have nested in Oregon on occasion (semipalmated plover, black-chinned sparrow), but may not yet be considered established breeders. For now, these species are not included on the list pending more accurate determination of their breeding status. Those species of accidental occurrence are not included (snowy owl, red-shouldered hawk).

The ABI Heritage state ranks for migratory birds require greater explanation than those included on pages 4 and 5. State ranks for long-distance migrants are separated by the breeding and nonbreeding components of the population. State ranks followed by a 'B' refer to breeders, while ranks followed by an 'N' refer to a nonbreeding (wintering) population. Thus a state rank of S1B,S2N indicates that the breeding portion of the population is extremely rare, and the wintering portion is slightly more common. If a species occurs in the state only during the breeding season, it will only have a S#B rank. Similarly, if a species only occurs in Oregon during the nonbreeding season, it will have an S#N rank. Species which are not long-distance migrants are ranked without the B or N modifiers.

Invertebrates

Compilation of the invertebrate lists has been especially difficult. Little is known about the status and distribution of most invertebrate taxa found in Oregon, particularly those which may be rare, threatened or otherwise vulnerable. Most invertebrate groups are under collected. As a result, State ranks may not accurately reflect the true population status for some species. We believe it is useful to assign these species a State ranking number, but have used the '?' modifier to indicate species that may be rarely collected as opposed to truly rare. The Oregon Natural Heritage Program and its advisory council has been granted limited authority for invertebrates through a cooperative agreement with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, via Section 6 of the Endangered Species Act. It is our hope that in cooperation with State and Federal agencies we can assist and coordinate efforts to gather information and better ascertain the status of rare, threatened and endangered invertebrate populations here.

Oregon's Threatened and Endangered Species Program - ODFW

Martin Nugent, Wildlife Diversity Program Manager

The Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife (ODFW) maintains a list of threatened and endangered species under the authority of ORS 496.172, the Oregon Endangered Species Act, 1987. The list included in this booklet reflects ODFW's revisions as of December 2000. There are currently 36 taxa on the list. The list includes 12 marine animals (i.e. whales, sea turtles) that are not included in this book. The Act requires state agencies to develop programs for the management and protection of endangered species, and requires agencies to comply with guidelines adopted by the Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission for threatened species. The Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission has adopted administrative rules, OAR 635-100-100 to 130, which clarify the Act and provide criteria for listing, delisting and protection of listed species.

The Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission has also adopted a rule requiring the department to develop and maintain a state list of Sensitive Species for vertebrates in the state. The rule is OAR 635-100-040. Sensitive species constitute naturally-reproducing native vertebrates which are likely to become threatened or endangered throughout all or a significant portion of their range in Oregon. The Sensitive Species list is for the express purpose of encouraging actions that will prevent further decline in species' populations and/or habitats and thus avoiding the need for listing. This list is updated biennially. The list used here is from December 1997. Anyone may request that a species be added to or removed from the list by writing to the department and providing justification for the requested action.

Sensitive species are broken into four categories defined as follows:

CRITICAL (SC) - Species for which listing as threatened or endangered is pending; or those for which listing as threatened or endangered may be appropriate if immediate conservation actions are not taken. Also considered critical are some peripheral species which are at risk throughout their range, and some disjunct populations.

VULNERABLE (SV) - Species for which listing as threatened or endangered is not believed to be imminent and can be avoided through continued or expanded use of adequate protective measures and monitoring. In some cases the population is sustainable, and protective measures are being implemented; in others, the population may be declining and improved protective measures are needed to maintain sustainable populations over time.

PERIPHERAL OR NATURALLY RARE (SP) - Peripheral species refer to those whose Oregon populations are on the edge of their range. Naturally rare species are those which had low population numbers historically in Oregon because of naturally limiting factors. Maintaining the status quo for the habitats and populations of these species is a minimum requirement. Disjunct populations of several species which occur in Oregon should not be confused with peripheral.

UNDETERMINED STATUS (SU) - Animals in this category are species for which status is unclear. They may be susceptible to population decline of sufficient magnitude that they could qualify for endangered, threatened, critical or vulnerable status, but scientific study will be required before a judgement can be made.

All efforts towards management and protection of threatened, endangered and sensitive species in Oregon will be coordinated with other state and federal agencies and private conservation organizations. Copies of the Oregon Endangered Species Act or administrative rules, or the Sensitive Species rule, or lists of the threatened and endangered or sensitive species may be requested from the department by writing to:

Thomomys bottae laticeps - Pacific pocket gopher
Thomomys mazama helleri - Gold Beach pocket gopher
Thomomys mazama hesperus - a pocket gopher
Thomomys mazama niger - a pocket gopher

Invertebrates

Acneus beeri - Beer's false water penny beetle
Acneus burnelli - Burnell's false water penny beetle
Aegialites californicus - seacliff beetle
Ammicola (=Lyogyrus) sp. nov. - topaz duskysnail
Archilestes californica - California giant damselfly
Brachypanorpa montanum - mountain scorpionfly
Ceraclea vertreesi - Vertrees's ceracleon caddisfly
Ceuthophilus (=Centrophilus) perplexus - camel cricket
Charidryas acastus dorothyae - Dorothy's acastus checkerspot
Chorosoma sp. nov. - western chorosoma
Chrysobothris potentillae - potentilla root borer beetle
Colias occidentalis chrysomelas - western sulphur butterfly
Colias pelidne skinneri - Skinner's sulphur
Cryptocercus punctulatus - wood roach
Cryptochia neosa - Blue Mountains cryptochian caddisfly
Cychnus rickseckeri - Ricksecker's snail-eating carabid beetle
Dolophilodes oregona - Oregon dolophilodes caddisfly
Fluminicola seminalis - vagrant pebblesnail
Fluminicola sp. nov. - Three Forks pebblesnail
Gomphus kurilis - California clubtail dragonfly
Gonidea angulata - western ridgemussel
Grylloblatta sp. nov. - Mary's Peak ice cricket

Haliotis rufescens - red abalone
Halticotoma sp. nov. - no common name (a plant bug)
Hesperotingis sp. nov. - Klamath Marsh lace bug
Hydroporus corvallis - Corvallis diving beetle
Hydropsyche abella - Abellan hydropsyche caddisfly
Incisalia (=Callophrys) polia obscura - obscure elfin
Juga sp. nov. - striped juga (snail)
Lanx patelloides - kneecap lanx
Lepidostoma fischeri - Fischer's lepidostoman caddisfly
Lepidostoma goedeni - Goeden's lepidostoman caddisfly
Limnephilusalconura - Klamath limnephilan caddisfly
Limnephilus atercus - Fort Dick limnephilan caddisfly
Lycaena mariposa ssp. - Siskiyou copper butterfly
Lycaena phlaeas arctodon - beartooth copper butterfly
Malthodes glyphidius - Malheur soldier beetle
Margaritifera falcata - western pearlshell
Nebria gyllenhali lassenensis - Mount Lassen gazelle beetle
Nebria jeffreyi - Jeffrey's gazelle beetle
Nebria labonteii - Labonte's gazelle beetle
Nebria paradisi - Paradise gazelle beetle
Nebria steensensis - Steens Mountain gazelle beetle
Nebria vandykei wyeast - Wyeast's gazelle beetle
Nebria wallowae - Wallowa Mountains gazelle beetle
Neominois ridingsii stretchii - Stretch's satyr butterfly
Oarisma garita - Garita skipper butterfly
Ochlodes agricola agricola - rural skipper butterfly
Ochrotrichia alsea - Alsea ochrotrichian micro caddisfly
Ochrotrichia phenosa - Deschutes ochrotrichian micro caddisfly
Ochrotrichia vertreesi - Vertrees's ochrotrichian micro caddisfly
Philocasca oron - Clatsop philocascan caddisfly
Philotiella speciosa - small blue butterfly
Phyciodes pallida barnesi - Barnes' crescent butterfly
Physella sp. nov. - Borax Lake physellid snail (= P. gyrina)
Polites coras - Peck's skipper butterfly
Polites mystic - long dash skipper butterfly
Prophysaon coeruleum - blue-grey tail-dropper (slug)
Prophysaon dubium - papillose tail-dropper (slug)
Pyrgulopsis sp. nov. - Three Forks springsnail
Rhyacophila fenderi - Fender's rhyacophilan caddisfly
Satyrrium auretteorum - gold-hunter's hairstreak butterfly
Scaphinotus hatchi - Hatch's carabid beetle
Tanypteryx hageni - montane bog dragonfly
Tinodes siskiyou - Siskiyou caddisfly
Trimerotropis helferi - Helfer's trimerotropis
Triodopsis populi - Hell's Canyon land snail

SPECIAL PLANTS AND FUNGI

This plant list is an update of the 1998 edition of this book. All status changes for specific taxa reflect new information obtained since then.

Both the format, definitions and categories of the lists are identical to the previous edition. The main body of the text is an alphabetical listing of all taxa on all the lists. Descriptions of the categories and lists can be found in the Introduction on page 2. State distribution is included for all taxa in this edition.

At the end of the main list, the various taxa included are listed again by status. These include a) The USFWS Listed, Candidate and Species of Concern lists; b) The ODA Candidate List with state listed taxa; c), List 1; d) List 2; e) List 3; f) List 4; and g) Taxa Considered but Rejected. Details on these lists are included below.

List 1 contains taxa which are endangered or threatened throughout their range or which are presumed extinct. The status of taxa on this list represents its status throughout its range. Species which are extirpated from Oregon are included with an -ex after the List number (1-ex). Taxa known or thought to be extinct throughout their range have an -X following the list number (1-X).

List 2 contains species which are threatened, endangered or possibly extirpated from Oregon, but are stable or more common elsewhere. Taxa extirpated from Oregon are included with an -ex after the List number (2-ex).

List 3 contains species for which more information is needed before status can be determined, but which may be threatened or endangered in Oregon or throughout their range.

List 4 contains taxa of concern which are not currently threatened or endangered. It includes taxa which are very rare but are currently secure, as well as taxa which are declining in numbers or habitat but are still too common to be proposed as threatened or endangered.

Included in the text as Considered but Rejected, are taxa which have been dropped since the 1998 edition. An entire list of Taxa Considered but Rejected is included as the last List in the plant section. These taxa have been dropped for one of three reasons, which are specified following each taxon's name: 1) they have taxonomic problems serious enough to warrant exclusion from the list -T; 2) they are considered at present to be too common or secure to warrant inclusion on this list -C; or 3) they were originally included on one of the lists because they were suspected to occur in the state, but were dropped because they have never been documented in Oregon -N; or 4) because they have been determined to be non-native or exotic to Oregon -E.

In the vascular plants lists, we have made an effort to include the variety or subspecies which occurs in Oregon. Often this is the only variety or subspecies from the state, and in the past these may have been included without a sub-specific or varietal name. In this edition, these taxa have been included with a diamond " " following the scientific name. ORNHP would like information regarding any occurrences of other subspecies or varieties of these taxa found in Oregon.

ORNHP recognizes that fungi are not plants, and should be recognized as a distinct kingdom. However, they are included in this book with the plants because it is so much simpler to do so. As in previous editions, information on the fungi in the lists is less complete than for other groups of species. As a result, most remain on the Review List (List 3). New information on these species has come from recent work, which included extensive herbaria searches and fieldwork from federal agency biologists as well as from Oregon State University faculty and staff. Most of this work results from efforts by the U.S. Forest Service and BLM as part of their Survey and Manage program related to the Forest Plan. The heritage ranks are the best determination of their status, but due to their limited inventory, they are generally less certain than the other heritage ranks. We hope their inclusion here will stimulate more research and survey, since many of these taxa may be among Oregon's rarest. Check the ORNHP Internet Home Page (www.heritage.tnc.org/nhp/us/or) to find updates.

ORNHP is interested in obtaining and computerizing all location data for taxa on Lists 1 and 2. Manual files are maintained for those on List 3 and 4. It is critical that additional information be obtained for List 3 taxa so accurate status determinations can be made. Information on status or occurrences of any species included would be appreciated. Distribution information is based on historical and current reports and is included to aid in searches and to increase knowledge of these taxa.

The Oregon Checklist and Flora project, and the publication of new regional floras (the Jepson and Intermountain Flora) have resulted in a number of recent name changes, which have been included in this version.

Whenever possible, we have used names and authorities provided by the Oregon Checklist Project at the Oregon State University herbarium. More information on this project is included on the following page.

In 1987, the Oregon Legislature passed Senate Bill 533 (unofficially the "Oregon Endangered Species Act") at the urging of the Native Plant Society of Oregon and others in the state's botanical community. This bill, and its accompanying statutes (ORS 564.100-564.135), direct the state Department of Agriculture (ODA) to maintain a strong program to conserve and protect native plant species threatened or endangered with extinction. The Endangered Species Program (now integrated into the Plant Conservation Biology Program in ODA's Natural Resources Division) was initiated in 1988.

With the exception of ODA's ability to regulate the import, export, and commercial trafficking of threatened and endangered plants (under ORS 564.120), the state's conservation authority concerning these species currently extends only to state-owned or state-leased lands. The statutes do not require private or federal land owners to safeguard species protected by state law, although ODA is willing to work with the owners or managers of these lands in conservation efforts if they request help.

There continues to be excellent cooperation with federal agencies concerning the management of the 61 species currently listed as threatened and endangered by the State of Oregon. In addition, ODA contributes to the study and evaluation of many other candidate and sensitive taxa. These types of studies, focusing on systematics, reproductive biology, and demography (i.e., monitoring research), provide data that support or refute the state listing of candidate and sensitive taxa. Such biologically-based projects are critical for accurate status determinations of many rare species, and have contributed to the recent addition of 42 species to the state threatened and endangered list in July, 1995.

ODA has adopted administrative rules (OAR 603-73-001 through 603-73-110) that specify procedures pursuant to the listing, reclassification, or delisting of plant species by the state as threatened or endangered; the development of regulations and programs intended to assist and direct state land management agencies in their important roles involving native plant protection; and the initiation of a system of permits for transplanting, reintroduction, scientific study, or collection of threatened or endangered plants. Any person or organization engaging in the collection, transplantation, reintroduction, or other studies of listed species must register with and receive a permit from ODA. If you are interested in reading the latest laws and regulations governing threatened and endangered plant studies and management requirements in Oregon, either write to ODA and ask for a copy of the endangered species administrative rules revised in 1995. Since 1991, the ODA Plant Conservation Biology Program has developed a joint research agreement with Oregon State University, and much of the ODA program activities are based at OSU. With the recent acquisition of the University of Oregon Herbarium, OSU is now the center of taxonomic research in the state. The ODA program provides collaborative opportunities for state scientists, faculty, and graduate students concerned with plant rarity and endangerment issues to work together towards common goals. Anyone interested in learning more about ODA's role in plant conservation, or graduate studies in this topic at OSU should contact Bob Meinke.

Native Plant Society of Oregon (NPSO) Plant Protection and Education Programs

NPSO has had a long history of working to increase the knowledge and protection of rare plants in Oregon. From involvement in the original Oregon Rare and Endangered Plant Project from 1972-1982 to work on passage of the Oregon Endangered Species Act, NPSO members have been at the forefront of plant conservation in Oregon.

In addition to sponsoring and supporting endangered species legislation, NPSO carries on its own rare plant protection program. Members in 13 chapters across the state monitor rare plants in each area, and report findings to the state R&E chair. This information is then incorporated into ORNHP's databases. In addition, each chapter has an active schedule of programs, workshops and field trips. New members are always welcome.

For information write to:

Membership Chair, NPSO

Since the passage of the federal Endangered Species Law in 1973, great strides have been made in Oregon to understand and protect our state's rare plants. Starting two decades ago with the visionary efforts of Kenton Chambers and Jean Siddall, hundreds of individuals and organizations have taken part and still take part in this important effort. The book you hold in your hand represents the combined efforts of these Oregonians who have worked together for many years toward one goal -- to save Oregon's beautiful and unique native flora and fauna from extinction.

Oregon Flora Project

The goal of the Oregon Flora Project is to produce a Flora of Oregon and an Oregon Vascular Plant Atlas in printed and computerized forms. The project is sponsored by the Oregon State University Herbarium and the OSU Department of Botany and Plant Pathology. The Flora of Oregon will be a one-volume manual of the vascular plants of Oregon, including identification keys, illustrations, and species descriptions. A digital version of the Flora will also include photographs and maps.

The first step in the Flora project is to produce an up-to-date Oregon Vascular Plant Checklist. This includes all native and naturalized vascular plants of Oregon, along with currently accepted names, synonyms, literature citations and plant origin (native or exotic). A draft of the entire Checklist is being reviewed by taxonomic specialists. The Asteraceae portion was published in 1998 and treatments of most other families will be published in 2001.

The Oregon Vascular Plant Atlas will feature distribution maps for all of Oregon's vascular plant species. Data come from herbarium specimens and species lists, which are being gathered from a wide variety of sources from around the state. The Atlas will have overlays for ecoregions, existing vegetation, potential vegetation, rainfall and climate zones. A working prototype of the online version of the Atlas is under internal review and will be available for public viewing in 2001.

The Oregon Flora Project Coordinator is Scott Sundberg, and it is led by two groups and two additional groups provide assistance. There are currently ten Checklist Project Leaders and nine Checklist Advisory Board members, who review checklist entries. The Atlas project is led by a multi disciplinary team of thirteen people, including botanists, geographers, a cartographer, computer programmer, and a Geographical Information System (GIS) specialist. The NPSO (Native Plant Society of Oregon) State Atlas Coordinator and nine Regional Coordinators help gather data for inclusion in the Atlas.

To learn more about the project, visit our web site at www.oregonflora.org. There you can also read the online version of the Oregon Flora Newsletter, which is published three times a year. To obtain more information, inquire about volunteer opportunities, or to receive the Newsletter, send a note to:

To date, more than 200 people have worked on the project, and thousands of volunteer hours have been donated. The project has received funding from more than 400 private individuals and couples, three foundations, and two corporations. ANIMALS:

The most significant changes made to the 2001 edition came from an effort to critically examine vertebrate species on the Review list (List 3) and place them on a more appropriate list (Lists 1, 2, or 4). Significant changes were also made to the list of insects with special assistance for this effort provided by James LaBonte, of the Oregon Department of Agriculture. Revisions to the current edition also included several status changes made by ODFW, USFWS and NMFS. Our thanks to these agencies for their continued efforts to protect and study Oregon's fauna. Our appreciation goes, as always, to the many vertebrate and invertebrate biologists whose comments and criticisms were incorporated into this book.

Invertebrates: Eric Coombs, Paul Hammond, James LaBonte, John Lattin, Bob Wisseman.

Vertebrates: Chris Allen, Bob Altman, Warren Aney, John Applegarth, Antonio Bentivoglio, Jon Bowers, Alan Contreras, Doug Markle, Dave Marshall, Stewart Reid, and Steve Stone.

PLANTS AND FUNGI:

Many of the changes made since the last edition of this book in 1998 resulted from comments received at the Rare and Endangered Plant Conference held at the Malheur Field Station in June 2000, and co-hosted by the Native Plant Society of Oregon. We thank all conference participants and others who have contributed to this project. Many of the improvements in the information included in this booklet are a result of efforts by the professional botanists of the Oregon Department of Agriculture, the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management, and the amateur and professional botanists of the Native Plant Society of Oregon.

Michael Castellano of the U.S. Forest Service volunteered to compile the much-expanded list of fungi, coordinating input from numerous agency and university mycologists, as well as the Oregon Mycological Society. Most of the heritage ranks included are a result of his work.

Special thanks go to Kenton Chambers, Professor Emeritus at Oregon State University, who serves as the flowering plant taxonomic arbiter for ORNHP and for this publication. We also wish to thank Lee Ayer and Bonnie Olson for their help in typing, editing, researching, and proofing this edition.

Primary sources of expertise for this edition include:

Carex: Carex working group: Richard Brainerd, Manuela Huso, Keli Kuykendall, Danna Lytjen, Bruce Newhouse, Nick Otting, Barbara Wilson and Peter Zika.
