Senior Kimber Schnarr is hoisted into the air by her teammates after scoring the winning goal at the sectional competition against Washington High School. Schnarr enthused, "It was a surreal moment because it was my second goal of the season. Having the whole team just being there to support me and being so excited made the moment even better."

Winesse on the Field

The girls varsity soccer team had an eventful and successful 2019 season. They ended with a total of ten wins, eight losses, and two ties. After losing the sectional championship to the Washington Hatchets last year in sectionals, the girls made a great comeback and won first place with a score of 1-0 and also tied for first place in the Big 8 Conference.

This year's seniors were Annie Donato, Kaitlyn Henke, Emily Patterson, Ashton Rohleder, Regan Mundy, Elyssa Alvey, Isabelle Blazey, Heather Gudorf, Brooke Nottingham, Lexie Jerger, and Kimber Schnarr. The captains were Annie Donato and Kaitlyn Henke. When asked about her roles as captain, Donato shares, "Being a captain is about bringing the team together and making sure I can push them to their limit. If we are fooling around while coach is trying to get something across I need to make sure they are on task."

The boys soccer team lost a lot of skilled seniors last season and expectations for this season were low. The season started out a little shaky. The Wildcats started multiple games in the lead, only to end those few games with tied scores. However, towards the end of the season, they had completely turned that around. The team finally came together and ended with a season record of 11 wins, 4 ties and 5 losses. The Wildcats were victorious in their sectional match against Evansville Harrison and brought home the IHSAA sectional trophy for the first time since 2014.

This years seniors worked very hard to make it on top. The seniors along with the rest of the varsity team brought a sectional trophy. Ayden Wigand, senior said, "I liked that our team was really close. When someone was having a bad day we would cheer them up." The attitude of these boys were always great. The senior boys had a great bond and could always make each other laugh and feel better throughout the entire season.

When asked about the experience on the field, junior Michael McCoy said, "Being out on the field with my teammates and winning the game makes all the practices worth it."

The Lady Wildcats had a rocky start to their season, falling to the Logansport Lions by 2 sets in their season opener. They dropped the ball 3-0 against Castle the following night. A week later, they came back in full force to break down the Heritage Hills Patriots, beginning a 6-game winning streak. When asked about the season, Junior Grace Kizior expressed, "Volleyball gave me a better insight to all the other kids. I loved meeting the younger girls that came in, especially the freshmen, and getting closer with a lot of sophomores, to build on for the later years." The Wildcats went on to win 21 of their 34 varsity matches and won the final conference game against the Booneville Pioneers 3-0. Sadly, the season came to an end when they lost the neck-in-neck sectional game against the Castle Knights 3-1. There were many awards given out this season, including offensive player of the year won by Senior Allison Mair and the Pat Zehr MVP Award given to Senior Reagan Egbert.

Gridiron Breakdown

New beginnings has been a trend of the 2019-2020 football season. Former Evansville Reitz Coach Tony Lewis has taken the head coach position after beloved coach Tony Altrens retired from the Jasper Football program. The JV team also had leadership changes as Coach Joe Shelton stepped down as JV head coach, handing the position over to fellow coach, Cameron Harris. The 2019 season also saw the end of a long rivalry and the end of a decades-long conference. The Big 8 Conference saw its final year on the gridiron this season, as the Wildcats join the Southern Indiana Athletic Conference (SIAC). In lieu of the changing conference, the Wildcats will have no room in their schedule next season to continue the county-wide rivalry against the Southridge Raiders. The varsity team had a winning streak of 40-8, losing the final rival game. The JV team got their chance to battle the Raiders on September 3, dropping the ball on the chance for the final win. However, due to open scheduling, the JV Wildcats got to go head-to-head with the Raiders a final time on October 14, pulling out a final win against Southridge. "We are all glad that we pulled out the final win against Southridge," shares sophomore Luke Dawkins, who, as well as the rest of the team, wants to have a shot at varsity next fall, "I would love to make the varsity team next season and be able to play on Friday nights."

The 2019 freshman season had their ups and downs. Due to new coaching tactics instigated by first-year coach Tony Lewis, the freshmen got to train with the varsity team as way to have fluid training techniques during their four years as a Wildcat. The team this year was small but mighty; with only 13 freshman on the squad, the team resorted to pulling a few sophomores into battle on Thursday nights. Their sidelines were meager, even worse when injuries pulled a few players from the roster. The freshman record was all for the worse until their final game against Gibson Southern on October 24. Even with a 1-8 season record, the team members are hopeful and excited to bring the heat next season with the JV team in the SIAC next fall.

14 Friday Night Lights

The night of August 30th was an exciting night that brought all sports fans running to the Jerry Brewer Alumni Stadium. Jasper's varsity football team, as well as the boys and girls cross country teams, faced off against one of their oldest adversaries, the Southbridge Raiders, for the last time in the foreseeable future. Due to Jasper joining the SIAC (Southern Indiana Athletic Conference), the Wildcats' schedule has no room for the age-old rivalry. The Wildcats and the Raiders have faced off for almost 50 years, with a Wildcat winning record of 40-8. Alas, the Wildcats' strong efforts in the grueling battle at the goal post gathering resulted in a 21-17 loss. The entire sports community came together to show their support in this final fight.

This long-lived rivalry began in 1972 under the legendary head coach Jerry Brewer. The Goal Posts trophy is a treasured accolade of all the competing schools. However, the trophy was lost for many years, before it was found in a closet 35 years ago. During the stint without the trophy, the rivalry almost ended due to a lack of competition between the two teams in the early 1990s. The Raiders first beat the Wildcats in 1998 and have won only 7 more times since then. The last time Southbridge nabbed the trophy was after a 28-21 win in 2016. Nevertheless, Jasper regained the winning title the following year, led by senior captain Ryan Ewing. Now, after the Raiders 8th and final win against the Wildcats, the coveted relic will find its home at the Huntington school.

The three senior captains for the 2019 season are Nathan Rillo (#7 Quarterback), Kadon Humm (#13 Wide Receiver), and Carson Park (#38 Linebacker). Every week, the players would compete for the fourth captain spot for every Friday night showdown. At the Evansville Memorial game, junior Lance Dawkins (#10 Running Back) won the spot.

"I'll always remember the long lasting friendships I made with my teammates over the past four years. I wouldn't want to win or lose together with anyone else."

The Motivation of Tomorrow

The season had a total of 13 wins and 8 losses, including both sectional and regional wins against Southbridge (5-0), Forest Park (5-0), Loogootee (4-1), and Bloomfield (5-0). However, the Wildcats lost in semi-state to F.J. Reitz High School with a nail-biting score of 2-3. Junior Grant Levy, who earned the mental attitude award for the season, expressed, "I think we did pretty good, but we could've done better. I would've liked to make state, but we all came together and played well. We had a couple tough losses that we would like to turn around next season and we are going to use this motivation to come back as one of the best teams in the state next year." There will be 8 seniors taking the leadership roles that Luke Ackerman and Mitchell Kluemper filled this past season. Taking the mistakes throughout the season and utilizing them for motivation and improvement will be the goal for the upcoming season. Senior Mitchell Kluemper, who was given the most valuable player award alongside Grant Stratton, also kept the team afloat with inspiration for the upcoming season despite their loss at the semi-state championship. He stated, "I encouraged them to do their best. Our team was young and inexperienced, but we brought a lot of good things to the table and I just reminded them of their ability to succeed - I think we accomplished a lot." Kluemper's hope was to make it to state once again on the basis that it gives the team experiences to bond over and better themselves. Though that goal was not achieved this season, it can be used as a vision for what is to be done in the next.

Seniors Luke Ackerman and Mitch Kluemper posing for a picture on senior night. Sophomore Max Sternberg mentions that, "Mitch was always telling us what we were doing wrong and trying to help us out. He was also the first person to say good job after I did something good." On the subject of Senior Luke Ackerman, Max said, "Luke would always make jokes and try to cheer me up even after I lost. They are both just great people on and off the court." This shows the effect a small group of seniors can have on a team. Both Luke and Mitch demonstrated a significant amount of leadership on the team and always encouraged the younger members to strive for greatness.

Sophomore Max Sternberg states "Since I played one singles, my teammates had high expectations for me since I was one of the best players on the team," he stated. "A few times during the season it was difficult to live up to those expectations but my teammates always believed in me. I work hard in practice and work my [tail] off in matches, so I tell myself if I focus on those two things, good results will follow."

"Just matches, it is fun to compete against good schools, we get to go to Indy and play against Carmel and , who are the best teams in the state, and it's fun to have teams like that to push you, and you go out there and do your best and maybe have a shot to pull out an upset." - Junior Grant Levy.

The lady wildcats had the pleasure of meeting with professional golfer Laurie Rinker at the end of this golf season. Rinker, who has had 8 professional wins in her career including the LPGA championship, sat down with the young golfers and talked to them about her professional golfing career as well as useful skills for their high school careers. The Lady Wildcats had questions prepared for Rinker and she gave the girls advice for practicing, competing, and the mental aspects of the game. "I would advise practicing all aspects of your game, don't just beat balls and expect to get better," Rinker advised the girls.

"Our lineup of mere sophomores won almost all of our 9 hole matches, won our Buffalo Trace Invitational, won Big 8 Conference, and came second in sectionals—beating our upperclassmen's score from the previous year. We proved to many that we were all here to play."

The members of the 2019 girl's golf team were not expecting their season to go as well as it did. Having lost 3 seniors after the previous season, they were not expecting to win the Wildcat Invitational, the Big 8 Conference, and most of their nine-hole matches. It was an incredible feat, having a team fully comprised of freshmen and sophomores. "Last year, none of us thought we would make it to regional again with three seniors leaving the team and having a team of only sophomores and freshmen. But it felt awesome when we found out we were wrong," sophomore Elizabeth Ackerman enthused about this year's season.

Last season, Ackerman spent a lot of time in the starting five—one of the only freshmen to do so. This season, Ackerman held the number one spot on the team for nearly the entire season and was very proud of how far she, along with everyone else, had improved over the summer. "Going to regionals as such a young team was great, and I enjoyed every second of the season," Ackerman continued. The season was very successful with a record of 6 first-place wins at their nine-hole matches, first-place victories at both the Wildcat Invitational and the Big 8 Conference, and a second place win at the IHSAA Sectional.

"I then took off my shoes and socks and stepped in the pond with my 7 iron. I took a swing and hoped for the best," Sophomore Anna Schmitt recalls the time when she had to stand in a pond while hitting her ball in order to avoid a penalty stroke. "My ball landed just before the green and I ended up bogeying the hole."

"I remember we bought shirts at regionals last year because we thought we'd never make it back. It's crazy to think of how far we've come."

Senior Jackson Miller signed at IUPLI to continue his cross country career. Jackson earned all state recognition at the IHSAA XC state meet and was selected to represent Indiana at the Midwest Senior Meet vs. Ohio and Michigan as one of the top seniors in the state. "The best feeling was to hear we had officially made it to the state finals. Between the top eight guys on the team it took about 30,000 miles just to get to that moment and it was very special," said Miller.

Seth Eckert, junior, runs with intensity to the finish line. He has put in the time and effort to achieve his goals. "My motivation to run cross country is just being able to see improvement after you put the hard work in," said Eckert. He continues to strive for improvement and move forward in his running journey.

MAKING A STATEMENT

This season, eight Jasper competitors advanced to the state-level competition. "This season is most definitely better than past ones because it's the first time since 1952 that the Jasper Cross Country boys team made it to state," said Seth Eckert. This year marks the end of the 67 year-long streak of not advancing to the state meet. Like many teams, these boys have a great bond with one another. "My best experience was building the team through positive leadership and helping younger runners gain a love for the sport and each other as teammates," said senior Drew O'Neal. They helped each other succeed by pushing each other to do their best. "The cross country team has so many different personalities and that's what makes it fun," said Jackson Miller.

The seniors this year showed a lot of dedication and hard work. They strived to make the team better in all ways. "This season was great because we made it to state as a team, we all got along, and we had a blast in the process," said Cam Kilian. The boys had a good relationship and actively cheered each other on not only during meets, but also during each and every practice.

Cam Kilian, senior sprinting to the finish line during a meet. During the meet he runs to win but that's not his only motivation. "During a meet I like to see if I can beat my personal best," said Kilian.

Kick the Dust Up

When it comes to kicking up dust, the girls cross country team knows just how to do it. They practice year-round, whether it be with the team at their side or the neighborhood streets below their feet. Their dedication cannot be questioned. The team ended up making it to the semi-state competition and placed tenth, which is no small achievement. Overall, they had an astounding total of 111 individual wins and only 26 losses this season.

However, the team is not all about the work the athletes put in—bonding and cooperation is also a key element to a winning season. After spending countless hours together, it is safe to say that the girls have developed close relationships with one another. When asked about her favorite memories from her final season as a Jasper runner, senior Mayson VanMeter had plenty to say. "I cherished the bus rides to meets and eating one too many frozen yogurts after them," she reported. She also recounted an oddly specific memory that she will remember for years to come: "My favorite memory was that one time Amanda didn't have her shoes on yet when we were starting the warm up, so she had to run half a mile in her 'Gucci slides.' Sister Kevin was not happy about that."

Junior Kalen Jochum stated "even though I was really bad at running I overall just wanted really wanted to get close to my team." Jochum later stated "this season was so fun with everyone and we hung out all the time outside of the sport too."

"I hope to get mid 19's and maybe qualify for state. To achieve it, I will train hard at practices and run a lot on my own." Junior Kelsa Skorge stated.

With a lot of training and hard work, sophomore Andi VanMeter completed the season with great triumph. Although VanMeter was the only girl to advance to state, she mentioned, "I ran a lot with the boys over the season, so being the only girl wasn't really stressful at state but I did miss the other girls being there."

Although it wasn't until her junior year that she finally ran with the word "Jasper" on her jersey, sole senior Mayson VanMeter managed to lead the team through the season all on her own. She said, "Well I had to be a good leader for the girls team... Tara made me wear a tiara for pictures after Big 8 because I was the 'queen' of the team since I was the only senior girl." Her commitment throughout her cross country career has earned her the All Conference and Outstanding Senior awards.

Freshman Kathryn McNay, expressed, "Cross country is a very competitive sport and it forces you to work hard." She went on to also say, "For some reason my favorite thing to do is to go on our warm up jog, it always gets me hyped up before a race."

Sophomore Megan Matheis was the only Jasper swimmer to qualify for State in an individual event. At sectionals, she placed first in the 200 Yard Freestyle and the 100 Yard Breaststroke. Megan was also on the winning relay teams.

New and seasoned swimmers joined forces this year in the pool to pull out a winning season. The long-time swimmers welcomed their new teammates with open arms. Bonding sessions commenced, and - with the girls dyeing their hair pink and blue before sectional prelims and hangouts before finals - they became one big family. This year, the team took home the sectional championship trophy once again. The girls had four first places, two individual and two relay events. Megan Matheis took gold in the 200 Yard Freestyle and 100 Yard Breaststroke, coming in just hundredths of a second away from a school record. The 200 Yard Freestyle Relay team-- juniors Leah Haas and Claire Witte, sophomores Avery Henke and Megan Matheis-- took a narrow victory and qualified for State. A final win and State qualification came from the 400 Yard Freestyle Relay team-- junior Claire Witte and sophomores Avery Henke, Megan Matheis, and Andi VanMeter. At State, the relay teams both placed 29th in the state and Megan Matheis splashed in a school record in the 100 Yard Breaststroke.

The senior swimmers for the 2019 season were Mayson VanMeter, Abby Gubbins, Cali Mehringer, and Madison Matheis. Mayson swam the 100 Yard Freestyle throughout the season and placed in the top 16 at sectionals. Abby specialized in the 50 Yard Freestyle, placing in the top 8 at sectionals. Cali bounced between the 500 Free and the 200 IM, tackling them both at sectionals. Madison was the staple 500 Free swimmer, ending her swimming career in the top 8 at sectionals, as well as being a sectionals relay swimmer.

"With all the new swimmers coming in, we were nervous that our tight-knit family would be a thing of the past. But we welcomed the new girls with open arms and became a huge, bonded family," says junior Bella Roberts.

Need for Speed-

The 2019 season brought something new to the table that the boys swim team hasn't seen in a long time: depth. The number of swimmers has nearly doubled from past years. The team welcomed 17 new swimmers this season, some with club experience but most who had never swam before. The large team and friendly dynamic made for a great season. "With the inclusion of all the new swimmers and some of the old ones, it really made for a season that I think everybody enjoyed," shares sophomore Jackson Henke. The boys bonded well, making fun memories along the way. "Our diving cheers were really goofy and brought excitement to the team and inspired the other teams to play along with us," says sophomore Noah Wagner.

With the new team members, the team brought the heat in the water. They took home the hardware at the Big 8 Conference, winning the last and final Big 8 title as Jasper joins the Southern Indiana Athletic Conference in the fall of 2020. The boys took first place at Sectionals, without placing first in an individual or relay event. This is the second consecutive time they "Jaspered" the other teams, a term coined by the another school in attendance. No one advanced to state this year, but plan to use their new superpower next year to make it to Indianapolis.

Abraham De La Cruz has been swimming for 9 years, on the JAWS club team and for the middle and high school teams; his main event is the 500 yard freestyle. Drew O'Neil swam three years in high school; his main event is the 100 yard Breaststroke. Cam Kilian only swam his senior year; his main event is the 100 yard Backstroke. These three seniors all made the 2019 sectional team, all placing in the top 16.

The swimmers started a new tradition of celebration skits after a Jasper diver performed a dive. The notable skits featured human bowling, CPR, proposals, strength contests, fishing, and Mexican stand-offs.

"The most rewarding parts of the season was to keep my friends motivated no matter the cost. Or to just space out into a motivational song. Or to look up and think that I got this and won't let my competition get into my head. To stay positive during hard times."

- Sophomore Noah Wagner, Distance Freestyle

Senior Ivan Serrano goes head to head against a Heritage Hills wrestler in the main gymnasium at Jasper High School. Serrano had a lot to learn throughout the season, as this was his first year on the team. "My friends encouraged me to wrestle," shared Serrano, so he decided to join the team his senior year. At first, he was definitely venturing outside of his comfort zone, expressing that "The practices were pretty tough." However, by the end of the season, those tough practices turned into great memories. Serrano improved significantly over the course of the 2019-2020 season, never letting his inexperience get in the way of his motivation. While he may not have competed at the semi-state competition like some of his teammates, the year was certainly successful. In contrast to Serrano's wrestling journey, senior Sam Bies has been wrestling for 13 years. When asked about his long history with the sport, this is what Bies has to say: "I started when I was 5. My dad wrestled, so I wanted to follow in his footsteps." Of these 13 long years, he spent three of them at JHS, only taking a break during his junior year. Coming back his senior year was hard for him, but it came with a lot of great memories as well. He expressed, "My favorite memory was being able to wrestle in the Ford Center for semi-state. It was honestly one of the greatest moments of my life. It was a very intimidating feeling, especially because of who my opponent was."

This year, Jasper will send off six senior wrestlers. While some of them had more experience going into the season, they certainly had no problem coming together for a great final season on the Jasper High School wrestling team. We wish them all the luck in the coming years as they open a new chapter in their lives.

Junior Liam Kibby shares, "I feel like I have improved on a mental basis. I have become more confident in myself." Kibby competed at the semi-state competition with a few other teammates, something that he will remember for a long time. "It's probably an experience that will never compare to anything else. It is definitely something that will happen again next year and I can't wait for that."

Hitting the Reset Button

Through the eyes of an ordinary spectator, one loss isn't a big deal. There are more games to come, right? However, through the eyes of the players, coaches, and managers, it is another defeat they had to overcome through their slow beginning season. The girls basketball team started out strong, leading a good charge against Boonville during a scrimmage before the season. When their first official game against Southbridge also ended in a victory, Jasper's motivation was at an all-time high. However, defeat lurked around the corner for the girls and they ended up losing 12 out of 24 of their games. "I think we definitely had a down year just because a lot of the girls quit that would've started and been key players for us. That brought the momentum down," mentioned senior captain Claire Knies. As the team sat through the disappointment of yet another loss in one of the EU tournaments, the coaches searched for the right words to deliver to the players. JV coach Scott Blazey gave the team something to strive for, telling them to look forward and hit the reset button for their upcoming games. After those words sunk in, they began to make a comeback. When they learned their sectional opponent was Castle High School, the team was determined to meet their goal. They ended up playing one of their best games against Castle. Although they fought hard and kept up with the opposing team throughout the game, they lost by ten points. "I was really proud of the way we came out, played, and fought in that game and didn't give up." Senior captain Brooke Nottingham shared. "I really believed that we could've won that game, and it's frustrating that there were a couple calls that definitely could've changed the outcome of the game." Senior Lexie Jerger added, "I think we just wanted it more, we worked so hard everyday at practice for it, and it wasn't like any other season where we went in a lot stronger." In the end, they used the season's flaws to improve and prepare for the next season.

Izzy Blazey: "The Lady Wildcat"

Senior shooting guard Izzy Blazey guards Southbridge's Myaia Montgomery.

"Being a point guard, you always have to have that leadership. Being the point guard my senior year, I feel as if that leadership has been improved upon." Senior point guard Brooke Nottingham.

seniors

The four senior players have a long history of basketball together. "We've been playing together since the 3rd grade, so it was really special to play and grow with them over the years. We all had a good time," mentioned Senior Lexie Jerger. Senior manager Blake Hentrup joined the team sophomore year, and Senior managers Julio Rosales and Jackie Padilla both joined their senior year. While all four senior players have been on the team since freshman year, Isabelle Blazey and Lexie Jerger share a special bond. "I click with Lexie because we both have gone from the freshman team to the JV team to the varsity team together," Blazey said. "We hatched the varsity team a lot. So we like to joke around with each other and pick each other up whenever one of us goes in." They have played together for nearly a decade, strengthening their relationship as teammates and friends.

All For One

Even if the spotlight isn't always focused on the junior varsity and freshman girls basketball teams, they still maintain a certain dignity among themselves and support the varsity team at every single game. With the loss of many important varsity members, some of the JV players received the opportunity to play varsity. Sophomores Izzy Hopf and Aspen Sermersheim and Junior Jaycie Hooten were all chosen to step up and fill those empty positions. In regard to her first game on the varsity team, Hopf said, "It scared me in the beginning, but as the year went on, it got better and I became more comfortable with my teammates. I think we all worked well together by the end of the season." Sermersheim then added, "Well, when I played my first game for varsity, I really was nervous. But, after that, I was able to relax a bit more—I think I just had first-game jitters." Kendyl Ruhe, junior, also spent some time in the big leagues this year. She was given the "Most Improved" award at the banquet for the strong effort she put forth for both JV and varsity throughout the season.

The team took lots of pride in winning against Gibson Southern, 40-33, and the freshmen girls also came close to beating Evansville North. Through their immense effort, the players managed to forge a strong bond on and off the court. Their favorite moments together included going to the local Dairy Queen for some quick ice cream and stopping by Panera to enjoy a hot meal after a long game. Even after they move on from the girls basketball team at Jasper High School, they will always look back on these days.

Freshman Jasmin Mehringer contemplates the next play she is going to take. "My favorite memory would have to be howling because we got the whole team together. It was a fun time spent outside of basketball," stated Mehringer.

Sophomore Kennedy Matheis shoots two free throws against in the game against Evansville Harrison. "The team was like a big family and I felt like I was friends with everyone which made it very special," stated Matheis.

Freshmen Reagan Fortwendel gets two free throws. "Next year I am excited to get even closer with the girls who will be returning and with the new freshman who will be coming in." She continued, "Every season we go through so much together and these memories will last forever. I'm excited to see how far the team can go because we have lots of potential. I personally am hoping to improve on my ball handling and also on executing the plays more smoothly," stated Fortwendel.

In just their second season in Class 4A, expectations weren't particularly high for the boys basketball team. However, the Wildcats ended with 17 wins, including an exciting, neck-in-neck game against the Castle Knights that ended with a score of 75-73. At one point during the season, the Cats took off with a 9-game winning streak. The team went on to win 4 of their 5 conference games, handing them the Big 8 Conference trophy one last time, as JHS will move into the SIAC next season. Despite the winning spirit of the season, the Wildcats lost the first sectional playoff game against Evansville Harrison 52-58. When asked about next year's season, Junior Isaac Heim simply stated, "We're gonna work hard and see what we can do."

Something I looked forward to was to grow closer to the rest of the team." Although there was no official golf season, the team continued to practice over the summer while social-distancing. Patrick shared that he shot in the mid to low 40s during practices this year. He shared, "[my] go to club was a 56 degree wedge." Harmon also shared his tradition of wearing a necklace with a cross on it to every match. The necklace also had his favorite Bible verse inscribed on it. "I always felt that it gave me a better state of mind, as golf is a mental game," shared Harmon. Harmon also expressed, "Hands down my favorite course to play on is Sultans run. [I] grew up playing that course."

Middle Off Track

The boys track and field team were gearing up for an explosive season this spring. They wanted to win the final Big 8 Championships before moving to the SIAC. The team was also looking into extending their 4 year running streak of sectional champions. With a depth of 75 members (35 being new), the boys would have made a massive impact on the track. Coach Kevin Schipp weighed in on his thoughts of the season. "We had some very strong returning athletes who had chances to do some great things this season. Some had the chance to be Big 8 and Sectional Champions. Some had the chance to be Regional Champions and some State Finalists. A few had the chance to break long standing school records." Many seniors were returning for their fourth and final year on the team, these 4 year members include: Eli Anderson, Mitch Kaiser, Ben Kizior, Sam Kluemper, Nathan Mehringer, Jackson Miller, Drew O'Neil, Joe Wood. Coach Schipp highlights some impact athletes for the season. "We counted on Joe Wood and Mitch Kaiser in pole vault and sprints. They both would have had good chances to advance to the state finals this year. Jackson Miller and Drew O'Neil would have been a strong force in the distance area. Both of these gentlemen advanced to state as juniors and had a great chance to do the same in 2020."

Junior Lauren Verkamp plays the flute during band practice in the high school parking lot. The marching band practices every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday in the fall. All of the practices add up to about 200 hours of hard work. They usually practice outdoors. However, if the weather isn't suitable, they take over the auxiliary gym. Rain or shine, the show must go on.

One Last Time...

Any marching band member knows that the football stadium is not only for football. "Standing on the sidelines waiting for our time to perform was a bittersweet feeling. I was very proud to have made it to state for all of my high school career, but I was also sad because after that performance, it would all be over," Senior Ben Hochgesang stated. He also described the feeling of the stadium, saying, "It truly is an experience of a lifetime to march on that field, knowing that we put so much work over the season to get there." One senior made the trip to Lucas Oil five times instead of the normal four. "Marching Band has been a part of my life for as long as I could remember. It has become my second family, and it is how I met most of my friends. I have grown so much as a person throughout my involvement in the program," said Senior Abbey Armstrong. "It was an extra special this year with it not only being my senior year, but also being the 30th consecutive year the Jasper Band has been to Lucas Oil. You realize how many people are there to support you and the fine arts. It is a surreal moment walking off that field for the last time."

A New Era ▶

This year, the Marching Wildcats were under a new leader. Mr. Chad Gayso took the reigns after Mr. James Goodhue retired the past year. Gayso previously taught at class D powerhouse, Forest Park.

He also brought friends with him: new choreographers and leaders. This year, Mr. Gayso pushed the marching band to new limits, setting the bar higher than ever before. Big, wooden props and tarps were the center piece of the show. The Marching Wildcats made their way to state for the 30th year in a row and took home seventh place out of ten bands in Lucas Oil Stadium. "Being drum major was unexpected, but a gift," Sophomore Delaney Smith expressed. "It was a whole new experience and I wouldn't trade it for anything. Band makes me feel at home," she continued. Smith has hopes to be drum major her junior and senior year as well.

DREAM

Junior Reid Foster hits the high box with some powerful trumpet tones. The new uniforms, topped with holographic sparkles, truly completed the show. In addition, new hats and technology helped the performance run smoothly.

This year's FFA group had many events throughout the year:

They held a petting zoo for the elementary students to come and see the farm animals;

During FFA week, members were encouraged to drive to school in their tractors.

Senior Emily Heim said, "The best part about being in FFA was making new friends and seeing the smiles on the kids faces at the petting zoo." FFA teaches students many life skills.

"FFA has given me many job skills and leadership skills," said Junior Katie Stenftenagel

Student council meets every Tuesday with the goal of coming up with activities to make the student body feel included. Throughout the year, they sent cards and candy to students who participated in sports or other extracurriculars. They aimed for the students to feel noticed. In November, they held their annual Thanksgiving dinner. This allowed students who don't typically get a Thanksgiving meal to receive one at school. During the Christmas season, they sponsored a local family provided by the Crisis Connection and purchased gifts for a family in need. They hosted numerous pep sessions throughout the year and decorated different doors throughout the school building before each homecoming. They also hosted dances this year such as the "Ho Down" and the Winter Formal. The Student Council also holds a "Teachers Week" to help give back to those that have done so much for their students. This year, that looked different due to COVID-19. The students and teachers were home during this week due to Indiana's "Hunker Down Hoosiers". The members of student council put together a thank you video and letters that were sent out to the teachers.

We the People (WTP)

We the People, sponsored by the Indiana Bar Association, is a competitive club that tests their knowledge over the United States's Constitution and American history. This year's group made the trip to the University of Evansville for the regional competition. They placed third, qualifying for state level competition. The state competition took place at the Crowne Plaza Indianapolis Downtown Union Station. The students developed a great bond over the span over the semester-long club from the state trip to going to Starbucks and staying up late to practice. The members also got to meet John Tinker from the monumental supreme court case, Tinker v. Des Moines.

speech and debate

The speech and debate team has been a good source for students to get out and let their opinions, voices, and talent be heard. Though the season ended early due to COVID-19, they all had a great time with one another. Senior Niamh Byrne shares her favorite moment from the debating season, "My favorite memory is being on the minibus for almost three hours after a big meet and continuing to discuss and debate random weird topics. It was super fun. The best moments however had to be going out with the team after each meeting."

gay straight alliance

The Gay Straight Alliance & Diversity club strives to create a safer environment for students to evaluate on the current issues surrounding the LGBTQIA+ community while taking part in events in the community to bring awareness.

Archery

The archery program opened its door to the middle school archers, and, as its participants grew, so did the leadership roles of the captains. The Jasper archery team hosted the state qualifier this year, as well as many tournaments. Though there weren't enough members to qualify as a team, members were still able to qualify individually. Despite the competitive nature of the team, the group enjoyed low-key practices much more than the nerve-racking tournaments. These practices usually consist of friendly competitions between teammates. They engaged in games like tic-tac-toe, shooting apples for the title of "Robin Hood", and shooting 3-D animals targets. "My favorite thing about archery would have to be the people and how there wasn't a dull moment." Junior Serena Cameron shared.

Captains

german club

The German Club took part in many activities this year. They fundraised their trips by selling authentic german chocolate to their fellow students and others. They went to a german museum, visited the Roscnvolk Medieval Festival, and even went ice skating. They also created many authentic german dishes as well as learned more about the German culture.

peer mentors

Peer mentors allows upperclassmen go into freshman homerooms and answer any questions they may have about high school. They also go into their homerooms before school events like dances and sporting events to encourage them to make good decisions. They also visit local elementary schools to talk to 5th graders about middle school and any questions they might have. Holly Hughes, the leader of the club shared, "My biggest fear is not finding the number of students to keep the program the way it currently is. I typically have 5-6 peer mentors per freshman homeroom and it works well. Any less number would be hard to do small group discussions because the groups will be too big." School's abrupt end this year due to COVID- 19 put a pause on next year's applications and summer meetings.

Choir actively participated in many events this year, including: the Veteran's Day program, opening for JHS's theater productions, choir concerts, the graduation ceremony, a Cincinnati Red's game, etc. When asked what was one of her favorite activities, Senior Marissa Bradley expressed, "One of my favorite things we did in choir was the Best of Broadway concert. It was so much fun to work on and perform." There are also opportunities for some of the choir students to qualify for state performance competition called Solo & Ensemble. Seniors Allison Bielawa, Peyton Vollrath, Abby Gubbins, Mayra Fehlberg, and Junior Haley Kippenbrock all attended state this year.

The Business Professionals of America Regional Leadership Conference was held on December 13 at Ivy Tech Community College. 27 students placed top in their events and qualified for the State Leadership Conference on March 8, 9, and 10. At State, Jasper had 10 National qualifiers. Abraham De La Cruz placed 4th in Database Applications, Addison Clauss placed 1st in Advanced Accounting, Joshua Schoenbachler placed 2nd in PC Servicing, Quinn Gunderson, Lauren Verkamp, and Claire Witte placed 2nd in Video Production Team.

For the summer of 2019, the Society of Fine Arts offered a huge opportunity for students to take a week-long trip to Canada. SOFA also worked on other small activities for the students to participate in, including a field trip to the French Lick Resort, painting during lunch, a drawing contest during the week of boy's basketball sectionals, designing the new mural that will be painted in the upcoming year, and creating a red cross board and a grinch. SOFA also had planned another field trip to Bloomington, a chalk coloring day on campus along with other little activities as a stress-free day, and a spring party taking place in April.

Unfortunately, those activities were cut short due to the coronavirus. Senior vice-president Cecilia Sanchez commented about her favorite memory in the club, stating, "My favorite memory from SOFA was while we were in Toronto. Since the Raptors won the NBA, they threw a giant parade in the streets. Being in the city for that was really cool," she continued. "Of all four years, my favorite memory is visiting the Louisville Glass Works with Madison. Getting to see glass blown was really cool!"

This past bowling season was just another record year. The boys started off the year knowing they would do great things. As the year went on, their dream of going to state grew even bigger. They came in with individual goals and team goals, all presented to Coach Paul Lemond. The girls did the same with their coach, Scott Kotterman. The girls had a tougher road before the season even began. They barely had enough people for a team, originally thinking they would only have 4 bowlers. The girls had to then go out and recruit their friends, some of which had never bowled or picked up a ball. The boys finished off the season 12-0. They went on to win Sectionals, finished runner up in Regionals, and barely missed the cut for State by 6 pins at Semi State. The girls knew they were going to struggle but did the best they could at every competition, ending up with a record of 1-11 and coming in 7th at Regionals, with an automatic win in Sectionals. This year was a great one, for both teams. The boys made history by becoming one of the few 12-0 seasons in Jasper bowling history. It was a great year for the girls as well, because each one of them made improvements through the year and became closer as a team.

motor sports

Jasper's motorsports club hits the highway once again. This year they are being coached by Mr. Dahmer, the new construction trades teacher at JHS. Dahmer has been teaching industrial technology for 10 years and counting. He started in Evansville, teaching industrial technology and physical education (P.E.).

"We're a hands-on class. Just seeing these kids have the lightbulb go off in their head and find how things work is a cool thing to see," Dahmer said. He is also working to destroy the stereotype that falls on his classes. He encourages all students, regardless of their background or gender, to join the introduction classes he offers and try their hand at working with the machines.

fellowship of christian athletes

The FCA group this year met once every month. They traditionally provide glazed and chocolate donuts and breakfast beverages for every meeting. This club, supervised by Mr. Land and Mr. Gohert, brings in speakers to share their testimony and journey with Christ. Speakers that they brought in this year include Seniors Danny Gallardo and Emily Dubon. They also brought in outside speakers, such as Trevor Silen, Mr. Prior, and Courtney Foye.

93.7 the Scratch clawed their way to the radio waves this year with new shows and hits. The Rabbit Hole starring Sophomore Quinn Gunderson and Juniors Ethan Fritch and Reid Foster gave listeners some food for thought with their far-out theories and stories. The Will Mowat show, run by Junior Will Mowat brought laughs and confusing fun to ears all over the county. The Latino Top Show, hosted by Senior Maria Flores, brought the fun of The Scratch to the Hispanic groups of Jasper High School with Latin American music and stories. The Nerd Cast, starring Sophomore Ty Neighbors and Senior Angel Gutknecht, fed the nerdier wildcats with gaming conspiracies, updates, and tips. And many more! IASB results include honorable mention in Radio Imaging, and Ava Collins, Reid Foster, Ethan Fritch and Adine Moss for their Radio Drama, which is the first time JHS ever entered that category.

Over 5 years in the making, Jasper's media program was given a massive renovation over the summer. The Scratch and Wildcat Weekly were given their own new studios.

Senior Jurney Sturgeon shares some props for this year's 10 day film fest. This nation-wide contest requires each film to feature a prop, which, in this case, was a fortune cookie.

Octagon

The Octagon Club, led by Mrs. Mehringer, started its second year with a new program, Lunch Buddies. Mehringer shared, "Last spring we were able to get into lunch sessions of the elementary schools to eat lunch or hang during recess with kids that school counselors identified as needing a friend. Our Octagon members and the elementary students absolutely loved this program." This allows students to spend time with younger kids. This activity was cut short due to the shortened school year. However, Mehringer expressed, "This spring we started the program earlier, thank goodness, and we would send Octagon members into the elementary schools once a week." The club was also involved in special needs activities, and other octagon requested activities throughout the year.

Interact focused on similar projects this year by participating in the downtown Christmas decorating, continuation of the ATHENA museum, making baked goods for fundraising, serving community meals, attending the RYLA camps, volunteering with community cleanup and a Latino festival. Interact was also planning to attend another community cleanup along with collecting bottle caps to purchase a bench for campus, however, these were canceled due COVID-19. The club also introduced new officers for the upcoming 2020-2021 school year: President Brooklyn Coultas, Vice-President Tammy Lam, Secretary Christine Price, and Treasurer Samantha Shepard. When asked what she is going to achieve next year, sophomore Brooklyn Coultas stated, "Well this year was a difficult time as our club was cut short, so we weren't able to accomplish the goals we had previously set for ourselves," she continued, "With that in mind, our main objectives for next year are to finish our recycled bottle caps bench for the high school and hopefully we will have enough funding to donate one to the new elementary school as well!"

When asked about her favorite memory of the club senior Vice-President Kelly Zheng expressed, "My favorite memory was definitely when we went to volunteer at the food drive it was such a fun and different experience. We were all having a great time while contributing to our community."

WE WILL...

"Living in a Material World," Sophomore Gabby Goodwin plays Madonna, a star bohemian who fights to keep rock alive, in the play. "I liked how the songs would drive the mood of the musical.

The sadness and seriousness of 'Only the Good Die Young' straight to the extreme energy and movement of 'Crazy Little Thing Called Love.' It was exciting and moving all at the same time."

ROCK YOU

We Will Rock You is a musical about two aspiring rock stars, Galileo Figaro (played by Hunter Fehrihach) and Scaramouche (played by Allison Bielawa), who go on an adventure to save the world from "computer recorded auto-tuned pop," also known as C.R.A.P. The evil corporation GlobalSoft has taken over the world and it's up to the two heroes to save everyone through the power of rock and roll. When asked about the production itself, Senior Allison Bielawa had all good things to say: "It's a hilarious show with fun choreography, so we all had a blast." The older audience members especially enjoyed the show, since it revolves around 80's pop and rock artists.

This go-around, the stardom was not limited to the main characters of the show. Lots of ensemble members got the chance to show off their talent through complex dance numbers and challenging songs. Senior Marie Woods expressed, "Even though it's only my first year here and I was only a background character, I still feel like I got to show everyone what I'm capable of."

Sophomore Alexis Kleiman and Junior Grant Hawkins truly enjoyed themselves during this production. "Getting to play Brit was a lot of fun, especially since I got to act with Alexis again," Grant stated. Alexis agreed and added, "The only problem was keeping our wigs on when we had to fall down."

The "techies" consist of Senior Cristina Pagayon, Junior Claire Witte, and Sophomore Ainsley Pierce. Claire works with the lights, and even had a narrating role in the show. Cristina handled the projections, sound effects, and music cues. Then Ainsley controls the mics and volumes for the performers. Cristina, being new to theater this year, had a lot to say about the experience: "The hardest part for me was actually finding my place, since most people already knew their jobs and what they had to do. The things that I've gathered from this experience would be the ability to solve problems on my own: if one projector doesn't work, try another."

Junior Grant Hawkins and Senior Allison Bielawa danced to the sweet tune of "One Step Closer" as Prince Eric and Ariel. Bielawa shares what a day of rehearsal is like playing one of the leads of this musical. "Deep breaths before rehearsal starts so that I can be calm before I walk in and everyone so loud," she continues. "Then it's me running around, trying to find my script on stage because I lose everything."

This year, the performing arts club chose The Little Mermaid as their spring production. Due to the numerous underwater scenes, this show is one of the Jasper Performing Arts Club's more ambitious shows. As the fairytale goes, a young mermaid becomes curious about life outside of the water and strives to join that world someday. Senior Becca Schitter, who played Scuttle, explains, "Little mermaid is about a teenager who thinks she knows what she wants. But then she gets it and realizes that life up above isn't all that jazz." She also goes on to talk about a more meaningful aspect of the play that the younger audiences might not have picked up on: "An important moral of the story is that you shouldn't have to change yourself to win someone over." Looking at the other side of the story, Sophomore Alexis Kleiman plays Ursula, the villain. At one point in the show, she sings a song called "Daddy's Little Angel". When asked to describe her character, Kleiman said, "When Ursula reveals her backstory, the audience finds out she was the youngest child and her father never loved her, hence the daddy issues. So then she explains how she eliminated the competition in order to get the throne, but was ultimately overthrown by her younger brother." The play unveils a previously unknown side of this character before, which only makes the famous story even more interesting. From the performance of simple, romantic scenes such as "One Step Closer," to more energetic, tap-dancing routines like "Positivity," the production was thrilling throughout. And it was no coincidence either. The cast spent countless hours in rehearsals, practicing the choreography and perfecting every single song. Junior Grant Hawkins, who had the role of Prince Eric, expressed, "What was special about the cast was that we all worked really hard and we were very close. I think that says a lot because, even though we had our differences, we still came together and worked hard to put on the show. We also grew as a cast, and became like a family."

Part of our World

Reggie Matute playing Sebastian the crab. Matute states, "My favorite part of the show was definitely singing and dancing to Under the Sea because the choreography for that song was just fun to dance."

Junior Jenny Serrano played chef Louis, a whimsical character that struggles to cook Sebastian the crab. Serrano expresses, "My favorite thing about my character was that I could just have fun with it. Like I feel like I really related to the character in terms of personality like being cooky and witty." He adds, "I just really like performing as that character because I could really have fun with it and just really pull out all my tricks and make it comedy and also funny in a way."

Building Memories

The beginning of the school year always comes with one thing: town-wide excitement for Friday night lights. High school football games bring the community together as everyone gathers around to support the Jasper Wildcats. For the 2019 football homecoming game, the school used dress-up days, pep rallies, and other fun activities to raise the student's energy. The Wildcats played against Princeton, winning 56-7. Student council members painted backdrop boards for each grade that the homecoming court sat in front of during the game.

The winners for the 2019 homecoming crowns were Seniors Carter Stamm, who plays both baseball and basketball, and Abby Fischer, the drum major in the Jasper marching band. This was the first time in a few years that the winners were not paired together in the beginning. Stamm was originally partnered with Senior Taylor Greulich and Fischer with Senior Julio Rosales. The crowning was carried out by Seniors Cam Killian and Annie Donato.

"I didn't really think that I was going to win," expressed Senior Carter Stamm. "I was pretty shocked when I found out about it. It [homecoming] was a fun experience and it was cool to represent the senior class," shared Stamm.

"I didn't think I was going to win but I was pretty honored that people voted for me. It was a cool way to start my senior year and leap into the school year," stated Fischer. Fischer had the support from the other band members as she has been the drum major for the Marching Wildcats for the past two years.

"Of course I was honored to be there, but I was more excited to dress up and show off my outfit. I definitely like to go outside of the traditional, bland colors for these occasions," expressed Senior Julio Rosales.

"I was very surprised [to be nominated] because I never thought I would be on homecoming. I was scared before I went up there, but once I started walking, it was fine," expressed Junior Olivia Meyer.

Sophomore

"It was pretty nerve-racking being up there in front of that many people, but it was definitely a cool thing to be a part of," said Sophomore Jayden Pfister.

"At first I was kinda nervous to be on the court as a freshman, but when I actually did it, it was really fun and exciting. I would do it again," shared Freshman Mason Thornburgh.

Freshman

Even as the Friday night lights had come to an end for the Jasper Wildcats, the excitement continued at the main gym at Jasper High School as the boys basketball season begins. With that, another homecoming night where the community comes to watch the crowning of two seniors. The boy's basketball team had a tight matchup against Northeast Dubois winning by 4 points. The 2020 basketball homecoming winners were Sarah Obermeier and Carson Park. Similar to football homecoming, the winners were not paired together. Obermeier was paired with Ben Hochgesang, while Park was paired up with Annie Donato. "When I won, I was surprised, and a little embarrassed since the crown fell off! But it made for an interesting homecoming, and I can look back on it and laugh because that's exactly the type of thing that happens to me! But all in all, I had a great time and it was a lot of fun." Carson Park happily expressed. "The feeling of winning was so surreal. Once they called Carson's name, I remember not really listening anymore. Therefore, when they called my name, I was taken back." senior Sarah Obermeier continued, "I felt like I had been noticed among my classmates and it was a feeling that I won't forget. The feeling that you try so hard for yourself everyday and your classmates see that is an incredible and humbling feeling."

senior

"My favorite part about homecoming was the senior court. Everyone on it was close and I feel like it was such a fun experience to laugh and experience the game together. The game against Dubois was also another favorite part because it was so intense and nerve racking." Stated senior Izzy Blazey.

"My favorite part of homecoming was definitely walking out. It is a special way to represent your school and amazing to see the gym pact with support. Also, being able to watch my classmates and friends walk as well with me." Stated junior Josie Yarbrough.

"My favorite part of being in homecoming was getting to be around everybody. Everyone was very friendly toward each other. For me personally, it was a lot less stressful since we were friends with the other couple. It was fun getting to be in it with my girlfriend and having one of my closest friends be in it as well." Every year, Team Tailgate serves as the backbone of Jasper's sports crowd. They fill up the student section and show their school pride by chanting things like "I believe that we just won" and singing "Hey Baby." They always manage to bring something new to the table, even hosting their own basketball game during halftime against the members of Southridge's student section. Once, some of the boys came to a basketball game shirtless with letters painted on their chests to spell out the words "Jasper Wildcats." Another exciting aspect of the games is the dress up theme. Whether the theme consists of tie-dyed, flamboyant pieces or quirky, hawaiian button-ups, it's always a great way for students to demonstrate their support at sporting events.

The Riley Dance Marathon group had an impressive record to beat this go around. Last year, they set a goal of $21,000 and surpassed it by over $5,000, raising a total of $26,154.02 to support the patients in need at Riley Children's Hospital. So, this year they raised the stakes even higher and set the bar at $29,000. They certainly had their work cut out for them, so the committee introduced some new activities to complement their old ones and encourage everyone to come out and support the children. They participated in a car wash, trick-or-treating,

Disney trivia, smoothie and ice cream sales, "wrapping for Rileys", Dairy Queen percent night, "queso for kids", and an assortment of other fundraisers. This year, the theme revolved around Disney, and Senior President Kaitlyn Henke elaborated on this choice. "This year we chose the theme as Disney/childhood to represent the kids we are supporting. It is super important to remember what we are doing and why we are doing it, and this was a great way to give back to them and remember that." Unfortunately, this meaningful statement wasn't able to shine through at the yearly Riley event. Like so many other things, RDM activities came to a sudden halt when COVID-19 broke out. However, this didn't stop the committee from striving for their goal. Instead of their usual event, they held a virtual marathon. They made multiple announcements about the changes in plans on their Instagram stories. Along with sending out updates, they made sure to recognize all of their committee members and acknowledge their favorite moments. They even held a live video of advisor Mrs. Shamblen, revealing the total amount raised: $29,199.17. "So when I first found out we were close to making the goal, I was ecstatic! I kept refreshing our TeamRaiser page, waiting to see if more donations would come in.

When it reached the number we'd set for this year, I smiled ear-to-ear!" Advisor Shamblen also went on to say, "I could not believe we made it because before we had to cancel everything, I thought we were $5,000 away, when in fact Riley had us at only $2,000 away. I was thrilled! When I revealed it in our live story, I was shaking with excitement and trying not to cry (don't think I was super successful at that)." This enthusiastic committee was set with a seemingly insurmountable obstacle, yet they pushed onward "for the kid's" sake.

And they certainly succeeded in making a difference.

Good Vibes Only

Although prom was canceled the Monday of prom night due to COVID-19, many students decided to dress up and join together for photos and the senior dinner at Sultan's Run Golf Course. This years intended theme was "Good Vibes Only." Some of the nominations for prom king and queen were Cole Faber and Grace Truesdale, Nathan Rillo and Caroline Prechtel, and Quentin Harmon and Annie Brake. However, winners were never voted upon due to the cancellation. The Herald held their own online ballot for any student in Dubois County to run. All in all, students didn't miss the chance for a meaningful and fun day with their friends amidst the calamities of 2020.

Senior Parade

The COVID-19 pandemic stripped the 2020 Senior Class of many "lasts" and senior memories. With school being moved to online, the annual senior week full of mud volleyball, elementary school breakfasts, a trip to Holiday World, and much more were all canceled because of the nationwide stay-at-home order. Graduation was postponed to July, leaving the seniors with nothing to do on their last "days of school." In order to make some final memories with the class of 2020, the community hosted a senior parade throughout Jasper to honor the graduates. Scheduled on the night and time of graduation, seniors and their parents lined up at the high school with decked out vehicles as their parade floats. People lined the streets of Jasper, socially distanced with posters in hand, and special messages from teachers and staff played on 93.7 The Scratch. The seniors got one final hurrah as they waved at all their supporters around town.

in memory of ELIJAH ANDERSON

April 12, 2002 - June 13, 2020

Elijah Anderson, known by many as Eli, was a member of the Track & Field and Cross Country teams all 4 years at Jasper High School. He was a well-rounded student and loved by many of his peers. One of his friends, Dillon Carpenter, raised money for the funeral costs by selling t-shirts and bracelets in Eli's honor.

Thank You Teachers

Mariah Hief

Congratulations Mariah!

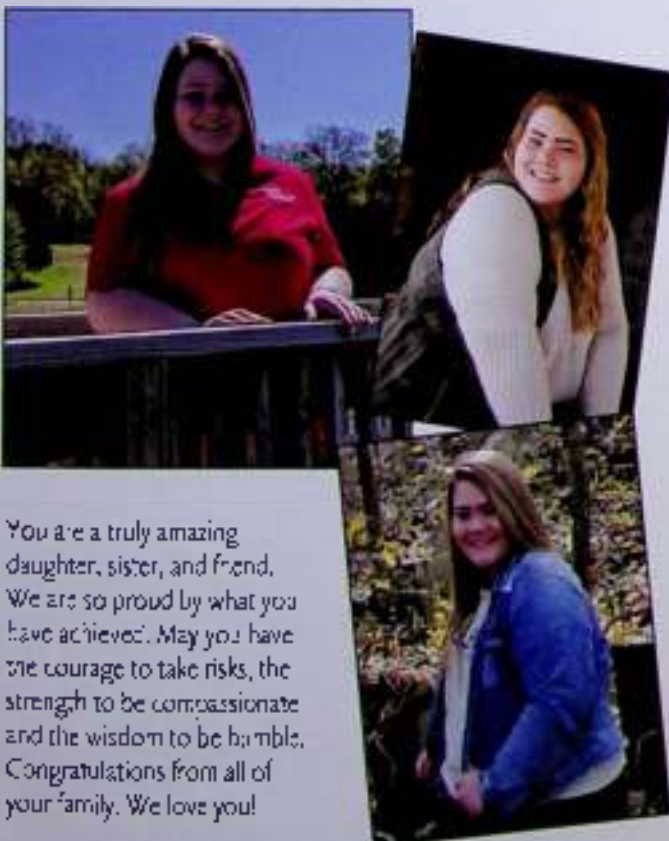

We are so proud of you, the person you have become, and all of your accomplishments.

Wishing you happiness and the best of luck as you spread your wings and follow your dreams. Always believe in yourself, surround yourself with good people, stay focused, work hard, and enjoy the journey.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Noah, & Collin

Sarah Herman

You are a truly amazing daughter, sister, and friend. We are so proud by what you have achieved. May you have the courage to take risks, the strength to be compassionate and the wisdom to be humble. Congratulations from all of your family. We love you!

Maddie Vernon

We have watched in amazement as you have grown into the person you are today and we are so proud of the person you have become. Someday you will look back at these pages and think about the people that have influenced you during your high school career. Remember to always reach for the stars because you have the determination and knowledge to achieve so much. Next step, Purdue!
