BEES' PARADISE roses

Bees' Paradise Roses ®

Bees' Paradise® is a range of top performing landscape roses for professional use in parks, gardens and road medians as well as an exciting addition for home gardens. The four varieties from German rose breeder Tantau will delight nature lovers and create a colourful display in every garden. These landscape roses are a sustainable solution that will bring beauty and colour combined with the efficiency of minimal maintenance. They are ideal in mass planting, or in small groups, borders, rockeries and containers. Five to six plants per square metre will create a carpet of flowers.

Bees' Paradise Roses® are dense, compact and bushy with a low spreading habit to cover the ground, approximately 40-60cm in height. These varieties feature continuous flowering in abundance and the spent flowers drop reasonably cleanly. The large clusters of single or semi-double flowers open fully to allow the pollen and nectar to be easily accessible to bees and other insects. The plants are surprisingly sturdy with healthy, disease resistant foliage and a high tolerance to summer heat and sunburn.

The four colours are: Red, White, Pink and a Salmon/Yellow Bi Colour. The bees are drawn to the prominent yellow stamens and the colour yellow. Given the volume of flowers and long flowering season, these roses contribute to the survival of bees offering food for most of the year.

Bees are the world's most important pollinator, transferring pollen between flowering plants and keeping the cycle of life turning. The vast majority of plants we need for food rely on pollination, especially by bees. In fact, nearly two-thirds of Australia's agricultural production benefits from honey bee pollination.

Award winning Bees' Paradise Roses ® will be available in 2021 as bare rooted roses in winter or as potted roses in spring.

BEES' PARADISE roses

Bee Facts

- There are over 1,500 species of Australian native bees.
- Not all bees are yellow. Native bees can be many different colours, including black, yellow, red metallic green or even black with blue polka dots
- Commercial honey bees (Apis mellifera) are not native to Australia. They were introduced from Europe in about 1822.
- A single honey bee may collect 1/12 teaspoon of honey in her lifetime.
- Not all bees can sting. Ten species of Australian native bees are stingless.
- Pure honey was found in 2,000 year-old Egyptian pyramids, and was still edible.
