BUILDING TOMORROW, TODAY

NO JEWISH HOLIDAY REQUIRES MORE PREPARATION than Pesach—the holiday that celebrates the Israelites’ emancipation from Egyptian slavery more than 3,000 years ago. This guide will help not only explain many of the laws related to Pesach—such as when various customs and mitzvot are done—but will also elaborate on the terms associated with the holiday. If you are unsure about any aspect of Pesach observance, please consult an Orthodox rabbi.

IMPORTANT DATES

PASSOVER BEGINS

Pesach is celebrated from the 15th through the 22nd of the Hebrew month of Nisan, that is from Motza’ei Shabbat, March 27 through Sunday night, April 4 on the secular calendar. The restrictions of chametz begin on Shabbat morning, March 27th. It’s important to note that we burn our chametz on Friday this year, because erev Pesach falls on Shabbat and there are mitzvot and rituals that must be modified to allow for the restrictions of Shabbat. See page 17 for halachot and customs of this year’s unique erev Pesach and page 5 for the corresponding zmanim (times).

Mitzvot & Customs Before Passover

BEDIKAT CHAMETZ

This year, the search for chametz is conducted on Thursday evening,

March 25, and the chametz that is found is burned the next morning without reciting Kol Chamira (statement of nullifying any chametz in one’s possession)—which should be said on Shabbat morning before the last time to annul chametz.

TA’ANIT BECHORIM

The eve of the holiday is a fast day for Jewish firstborn males, commemorating the miracle that spared the firstborn Jewish sons from the Egyptians’ fate of God’s tenth plague. This year, the fast, like Bedikat Chametz, is moved to Thursday, to avoid beginning Shabbat while fasting.

In many congregations, a siyum is conducted. The conclusion of a portion of Torah is a celebratory occasion which allows for a seudat mitzvah (ritual feast) exempting the firstborn males from fasting altogether.

MAOT CHITIM

Before Pesach, there is a custom to give Maot Chitim, money for the poor to buy matzot and other food for Pesach. Visit ou.org/hunger to support the OU’s important Maot Chitim Campaign efforts.

PASSOVER ENDS

All dietary laws and restrictions remain in effect until nightfall of the eighth day of Pesach.

Chametz that was properly sold may only be eaten once the resale is confirmed by your agent. Chametz that remained in the possession of a Jew during Pesach, is forbidden for consumption by any Jew even after Pesach.

OBSERVANCE

OBSERVING PESACH

The first two days (Motza’ei Shabbat March 27 through sundown Monday, March 29) and last two days (sundown of Friday night, April 2—sundown of Sunday, April 4) are observed with Shabbat restrictions on work and creative activity, with the exceptions of carrying and the use of fire (with respect to cooking and preparation of food).

It is important to remember to say, "Baruch haMavdil bein kodesh l'kodesh," prior to lighting candles on March 27th, to allow for kindling the match/candles before hearing havdalah and to recite havdalah during Kiddush at the Seder.

The intermediate days of Pesach (chol hamoed: Tuesday, March 30—Friday, April 2) are considered "semi-festive." Only certain work, activities and crafts, as defined by Jewish law, are prohibited. Ask an Orthodox rabbi for guidance.

PREPARING THE HOME

Keeping a year-round kosher home is not the same as a “kosher for Passover” home, since Jewish law forbids the consumption or possession of all chametz during the holiday. These are some of the special preparations that must be made for Pesach:

- The home must be thoroughly cleaned of all chametz.
- Any chametz that is not removed from a Jew’s premises before Pesach should be sold and the storage locations leased to a non-Jew. Your Orthodox rabbi can help. For guidelines on what can and should be sold see page 55.

- All cooking and eating utensils must be either set aside exclusively for Pesach, or in some cases kashered (in consultation with a rabbi). See our Kashering Primer on page 22.

WHAT IS CHAMETZ?

Chametz refers to any food created by allowing grain (specifically wheat, oat, spelt, rye or barley) and water to ferment and rise—most commonly referred to as “leaven.”

Even foods with minute amounts of chametz ingredients, or foods processed on utensils or machinery that are used for chametz, are not permissible for Pesach use. Practically speaking, any processed food that is not certified kosher for Passover may potentially include chametz ingredients.

BRIEF GUIDE TO THE SEDER

There are two Torah obligations and five rabbinical obligations performed during the Seder.

TORAH MITZVOT:

- 1 Relating the story of the Exodus (Maggid—reading from the Haggadah).
- 2 Eating matzah.

RABBINICAL MITZVOT:

- 1 Arbah Kosot: Drinking four cups of wine.
- 2 Maror: Eating bitter herbs.
- 3 Hallel: Reciting psalms of praise.
- 4 Afikoman: Eating an extra piece of matzah for dessert as a reminder of the Pesach offering.
- 5 Demonstrating acts of freedom like sitting with a pillow and leaning to the left as we eat matzah and drink wine.

THE SEDER PLATE

The Seder plate is arranged with symbolic foods that follow the order of the Haggadah. The prepared plate should be placed before the head of the household, or the one conducting the Seder, who dispenses the various foods to each participant. The Seder plate contains:

BUILDING TOMORROW, TODAY

Three whole matzot: either on the plate or next to it;

- 1 Charoset: a mixture of apples, nuts, wine, and cinnamon, symbolizing the bricks and mortar of ancient Egypt;
- 2 Karpas: a vegetable (preferably parsley, potato or celery);
- 3 Maror: bitter herbs (may consist of romaine lettuce, endives or pure horseradish);
- 4 Beitzah: a roasted or boiled egg;
- 5 Zeroa: a piece of roasted or boiled meat or poultry.

A bowl of saltwater should be placed near the Seder plate. This year, since the first Seder is on Motza'ei Shabbat it is preferable to prepare the saltwater mixture and Seder plate items prior to Shabbat.

MATZAH

We are commanded to eat matzah three times during the Seder:

- 1 At the start of the Seder (with a special bracha);
- 2 For Korech (Hillel sandwich) together with the maror;
- 3 For the afikoman (at the end of the meal).

For details on the specific amounts and requirements see "Sizing Up the Seder" on page 14.

FOUR CUPS OF WINE

Red wine is preferred for the Seder.

Each Jew is obligated to drink a cup of wine at four specific times during each Seder:

- 1 Start of the Seder, following Kiddush
- 2 Before the meal (after reciting the Haggadah story);
- 3 Following Birkat Hamazon (Grace after the meal);
- 4 After the completion of Hallel. For details on the specific amounts and requirements see "Sizing Up the Seder" on page 14.

BITTER HERBS (MAROR)

Everyone is obligated to eat bitter herbs twice at each Seder:

- 1 Dipped in charoset;
- 2 Immediately thereafter, a second, smaller amount of maror is eaten with matzah in Korech.

Cooked or preserved vegetables are not suitable for maror; therefore, commercially prepared grated horseradish, which is packed in vinegar, may not be used for the mitzvah.

RELATING THE STORY OF THE EXODUS AND HALLEL

Young children are encouraged to participate in the Seder to the extent of their ability. It is customary for the youngest person at the Seder to ask the Four Questions.

The formal part of the Seder closes with Hallel, which praises God and His special relationship with the people of Israel. The Seder traditionally concludes with the singing of several lively songs also celebrating that treasured relationship.

CAN WE HAVE OUR Challah & EAT IT TOO?

RABBI MOSHE ZYWICA

This year, erev Pesach falls on Shabbat.

With proper planning, it need not be a difficult Shabbat. If anything, it gives us an opportunity to come to the Seder well rested and relaxed, and to fulfill the mitzvot of the evening with more feeling and greater enthusiasm.

It is permitted to eat chametz until Shabbat morning, yet we still burn the chametz searched for on Thursday evening (March 25) early on Friday morning. This is done to avoid confusion in subsequent years when erev Pesach does not fall on Shabbat. Yet, Kol Chamira (a statement of nullification of chametz in our possession), which is normally said while actually burning the chametz, is not said on Friday, but rather on Shabbat morning before the end of the fifth hour (see Halachic Times for Passover on page 5).

Remember, not all chametz will be burned on Friday morning. We will need, and are allowed to consume, chametz (challah) on Shabbat.

Other erev Pesach restrictions, such as omitting Mizmor l'Todah and Laminatzai'ach from shacharit; refraining from doing laundry and taking haircuts after chatzot (midday); and koshering pots and pans after chatzot are all still allowed since Friday is not, in fact, erev Pesach.

This year the custom is for firstborn males to fast on Thursday. Moving the fast to Thursday as opposed to Friday is to avoid starting Shabbat while fasting. Bedikat Chametz (search for chametz), as mentioned above, is performed Thursday evening. If it is too difficult to fast until after Bedikat Chametz, it is permissible to snack before beginning the bedikah. As in any other year, the firstborn male may participate in a siyum on Thursday, which would exempt him from fasting altogether.

It is preferable that Seder preparations (the shank bone, charoset, maror, roasted egg, saltwater and checking the romaine lettuce) be completed on Friday, since it is prohibited to prepare for the next day on Shabbat (hachana). Even a nap on Shabbat might be considered hachana if the nap is taken with consideration of remaining alert and awake at the Seder.

A taste of home

While it would be permitted to prepare some Seder items on Saturday night, that would undoubtedly delay the start of the Seder. Since so much of the Seder focuses on educating the children and their experience of the Seder with their families, it is important to start the Seder as soon as possible before the children fall asleep.

According to the Vilna Gaon, horseradish should always be grated immediately before the Seder so that it will be sharp. Others say it should be grated before Shabbat and stored in a sealed jar to maintain the sharpness as much as possible. If you forgot to prepare horseradish before Shabbat and would need to grate on yom tov, the grating should preferably be done with a shinui (deviation, such as grating on a paper towel or turning the grater upside down). Romaine lettuce that requires checking for infestation should be checked before Shabbat, since it is a process that shouldn't be rushed. It is important to drain and/or dry the lettuce very well, since water might accumulate in the storage container, and any parts of the lettuce that soaks in water for more than twenty-four hours may not be used for maror.

If saltwater was not prepared in advance, it can be made on yom tov, though some recommend using a shinui by putting the water in the vessel before the salt. If charoset needs to be prepared before the Seder, the fruit may be grated on yom tov, but the nuts should be prepared with a shinui such as crushing in a bag. No deviation is needed when adding the wine.

The shank bone and egg roasted on yom tov offer a unique set of restrictions. If roasted on yom tov, they must be eaten on that day of yom tov; and, since we refrain from eating roasted meat or chicken at the Seder, the shank bone or egg that was prepared Saturday night must then be eaten at the Sunday daytime meal. In general, we may not prepare food on the first day of yom tov if the intention is to consume it on the second day or after yom tov; therefore, all Seder foods should either be prepared before Shabbat or on each Seder night and consumed that night or, for the shank bone and egg, at the following luncheon meal.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO

THE MITZVOT
OF THE EVENING
WITH GREATER ENTHUSIASM

It is permitted and expected that challah and possibly chametz foods will be eaten both on Friday night and at the early start of the Shabbat day meal. Most will prepare kosher for Passover foods and eat on Pesach dishes with the challah being the outstanding chametz. The challah should be cut and eaten over disposable napkins or paper towels separate from the Pesach food and dishes. It is recommended to wash your hands and rinse your mouth after eating the challah and commencing with the meal on Pesach dishes. Crumbs from the challah, dishes, table, or floor should be swept up and flushed down the toilet before the end of the fifth hour on Shabbat morning. Remember to clean the broom of crumbs afterward.

FINE PRINTS: ACCOUNTS@HEART.WORKS

Larger pieces of chametz may be broken into smaller pieces and flushed as well. Alternatively, large pieces of chametz may be placed in outdoor garbage pails, provided there is an eruv, but the chametz must be rendered inedible by pouring bleach or ammonia over the entire surface of the chametz. These fluids must be designated for that use before Shabbat. Otherwise, they would be muktzah.

It is permitted to brush your teeth with a dry toothbrush that was designated for Shabbat use to rid your mouth of chametz.

Now that we've covered the before, and most of the during, of this most unique Shabbat, how do we end it? Can we eat a proper seuda shelishit and if so, how? Some poskim hold that seuda shelishit should be eaten after midday, and some hold that bread must be eaten at the meal. Under normal circumstances, on a regular Shabbat, we can eat seuda shelishit on Shabbat afternoon following mincha using lechem mishnah bread, as we do at the other meals on Shabbat. That fulfills the mitzvah of Shabbat's third meal in the best possible way – satisfying both requirements of eating bread and eating it after chatzot (midday). Alas, this is not possible when Shabbat occurs on erev Pesach when we; 1) are not permitted to eat chametz — bread or egg matzah beyond four hours into the day, and 2) cannot eat regular matzah at all the entire day.

UNDER NORMAL CIRCUMSTANCES, WE CAN EAT SEUDA SHELISHIT ON SHABBAT AFTERNOON FOLLOWING MINCHA USING LECHEM MISHNAH BREAD

If you are hesitant to introduce challah into your kosher for Passover home, you can use kosher for Passover egg matzah for lechem mishnah. Ordinarily, the bracha for egg matzah is Borei minei mezonot. Rav Moshe Feinstein, however, writes in the Igros Moshe that if egg matzah is used for lechem mishnah for a Shabbat meal, the bracha is haMotzi. It's important to eat at least a k'beitza (a little more than two ounces) of egg matzah, in addition to other foods that will be served at the meal, to substantiate the meal and justify the haMotzi. However, the egg matzah—like challah—can only be eaten during the time frame that chametz can be consumed.

The first option available to us is to divide the morning meal into two parts. We can recite Kiddush and haMotzi, eat one course and then bentch. After a break of one-half hour, we can wash again, say haMotzi, eat the rest of the meal and bentch. Once again being mindful that the challah or egg matzah that would be used for lechem mishnah is consumed before the fourth hour.

Alternatively, we can aim to fulfill our seuda shelishit meal with fruits, vegetables, fish or other foods that are permitted after chatzot on erev Pesach.

the KASHERING PRIMER

What by water?

What by fire?

(Yes, the subject is still Pesach.) Here's a handy guide to "kasherizing" your kitchen for the holiday.

BY RABBI ELI GERSTEN

ONE OF THE MOST DAUNTING PREPARATIONS we make for Pesach is kashering, a process to prepare chametz utensils for Pesach use. As with all areas of halachah, those who are unsure of how to apply the rules of kashering to their situation should consult an Orthodox rabbi.

The Torah (Bamidbar 31:23) requires kashering utensils acquired from a non-Jew, as they are presumed to have been used in non-kosher cooking (and will have absorbed non-kosher flavor). Since chametz on Pesach is also forbidden, the Talmud applies the laws of kashering to chametz as well. There are four basic methods of kashering. The prescribed method depends on the utensil and how it was used.

LIBUN GAMUR (BURNING)

Utensils used directly in the fire (e.g. BBQ grate), must be kashered by placing them into fire. This process has the effect of burning away any absorbed taste. To qualify as a complete libun, metal must be heated until it glows. A self-clean cycle of an oven (approx. 850° F) also qualifies as libun. There is no need to wait 24 hours before libun, though it is advised. There is no need to scrub the utensil before performing libun, since the fire will burn off residue, but some cleaning is advised.

HAGALAH (BOILING)

Utensils that were used to cook non-kosher liquid can be kashered with hagalah (boiling in water). To prepare the utensil for hagalah, the utensil must be thoroughly cleaned. Only utensils that can be scrubbed clean should be kashered. Items that have narrow cracks, crevices, deep scratches or other areas that cannot be cleaned, cannot be kashered for Pesach. The following, for example, cannot be kashered for Pesach: pots with rolled lips, bottles with narrow necks, filters, colanders, knives (or other utensils) where food can get trapped between the blade and handle.

After cleaning, the utensils should then be left idle for 24 hours. To kasher, every part of the utensil must make contact with boiling water. This process can be done in parts. For example, a large spoon can be immersed into a pot of boiling water for 10 seconds, turned over and then the remainder immersed. When the utensil is removed from the boiling water, it should be rinsed off in cold water. While strictly speaking these utensils may be kashered in a clean non-Pesach pot that was not used for 24 hours, the minhag, however, is to kasher the pot first, by boiling water in the pot and discarding.

IRUY KLI RISHON (POURED BOILING WATER)

If the utensil only came in contact with hot liquid being poured on it (iruy), it can be kashered in the same manner. If the utensil came in contact with hot chametz solids, then one should kasher by pouring boiling water accompanied by an even melubenet, a heated stone. For example, if hot pasta fell into a sink, stones should be heated on the stove, and moved around the surface of the sink while boiling water is poured over them. In this way, the water will remain boiling on the surface of the sink. The stones may need to be reheated several times, since they cool down quickly. In all other aspects the process is identical to hagalah.

LIBUN KAL (LIGHT BURNING)

In certain cases, libun kal is sufficient. This can be accomplished by heating in an oven at 550° F for one hour. This method of kashering can be used in place of hagalah. It is also used when the need for libun is only an added stringency.

NOT EVERY MATERIAL CAN BE KASHERED. Ceramic, such as china, and enamel coated pots cannot be kashered. It is the custom of Ashkenazim not to kasher glass as well. Some poskim do not permit kashering plastic or other synthetic materials for Pesach; however, the opinion of the OU rabbanim is that it may be kashered, if there is a need. Ask your rabbi for guidance. Composite stone (e.g. quartz counters) which is made mostly of stone, but is held together with resin, can be kashered. As a rule, materials such as metal, wood, stone, natural rubber, and fabric can be kashered.

KASHERING CHECKLIST:

LIBUN GAMUR

- Surface must be heated to a dry temperature of approximately 850° (i.e. self-clean oven) or until it begins to glow.

HAGALAH

- Surface should be completely cleaned with hot water and unused for 24 hours.
- Surface should be completely clean and dry.
- The utensil should be completely submerged in a pot of boiling water.
- Cold water should be poured over surface.

IRUY KLI RISHON

- Surface should be completely cleaned with hot water and unused for 24 hours.
- Surface should be completely clean and dry.
- Boiling water should be poured directly over all surfaces followed by cold water poured over the entire surface.

LIBUN KAL

- Surface should be completely cleaned with hot water and unused for 24 hours.
- Surface should be completely clean and dry.
- Surface should be heated to a dry temperature of 550° F (i.e. oven) for a minimum of one hour.

SOME HELPFUL TIPS:

It is recommended that one not wait until erev yom tov to run the self-cleaning cycle to kasher an oven, as this is known to be hard on the oven and repairs may be required.

Some newer self-cleaning ovens employ Aqualift technology that cleans at low heat; they should be considered like non-self-cleaning ovens (see The Modern Kitchen on page 24 for details).

Please note that kashering may discolor oven racks and stovetop burners. If racks have rubber wheels, the wheels may melt. Replacement racks for Pesach should be ordered well in advance of the holiday.

THE MODERN KITCHEN

SILVERWARE, POTS & OTHER SMALL ITEMS HAGALAH (boiling in water)

Rollled lips, seams or cracks, which cannot be cleaned, will require torching of those areas. Utensils should be immersed one at a time into a pot of boiling water that is on the fire. Water should be allowed to return to a boil before the next item is placed in the pot. The pot can be non-Passover, provided it is clean, has not been used for 24 hours, and water is first boiled in the pot and discarded. Larger items can be submerged in the water one part at a time. Utensils should then be rinsed in cold water.

GAS STOVETOP LIBUN (burning) & COVER

The stovetop surface and grates should be cleaned well and not used for 24 hours. The stovetop surface should be covered with foil. The stovetop grates can be replaced or they should be burned out in the oven @ 550° F for one hour.

ELECTRIC STOVETOP LIBUN (burning) & COVER

The stovetop surface should be cleaned well and covered with foil. The burners should be turned on until they glow red.

GLASS STOVETOP CANNOT BE KASHERED & MUST BE COVERED*

The stovetop surface should be cleaned well and not used for 24 hours. During Pesach pots should not be placed directly on the stove surface, but rather an aluminum (or other metal) disk should be placed directly under the pot.

*The entire glass top surface should not be covered as this might cause it to overheat and crack.

STAINLESS STEEL SINK

IRUY (pouring boiling water)

Remove drain. [It is recommended that the drain be replaced. If this is difficult, it may be used if the drain has large holes that can be completely scrubbed clean].

It is preferable to kasher a sink by pouring boiling water in conjunction with an even melubenet (a heated stone). In lieu of kashering with a heated stone, some will place a rack on the bottom of the sink, or use a sink insert.

CERAMIC SINK CANNOT BE KASHERED AND MUST BE COVERED

The sink should not be used with hot water for 24 hours.

The sink should be completely clean and dry.

The sink should be covered with layers of contact paper or foil; it is best to purchase a sink insert.

KEURIG COFFEE MAKER HAGALAH OR IRUY (pouring boiling water)

(for those who kasher plastic) The coffee maker must be cleaned well and not used for 24 hours. Remove K-cup holder and perform hagalah or iruy on K-cup holder. Run a Kosher for Passover K-cup in the machine (this will kasher the top pin).

METAL TEA KETTLE

HAGALAH (boiling in water)

The same treatment as for pots applies here. Although it is uncommon for anything but water to be put into a tea kettle, nevertheless it must be kashered. Tea kettles often sit on the stove, and it is common for them to get spritzed with hot food.

HOT WATER URN, WATER COOLER

IRUY (pouring boiling water)

Urn only used for heating water: Run hot water through the water tap for 10 seconds, while pouring boiling water from a kettle over the water tap.

Urn also used to warm food (e.g. to warm challah): Not recommended. Must be put away for the holiday.

Water Cooler In addition to pouring boiling water over tap, replace water bottle.

ELECTRIC MIXER

NOT RECOMMENDED

Because of the difficulty in cleaning out the housing of the mixer from fine particles of flour, one should not use their year-round mixer on Pesach. The mixer blades, though, can be cleaned and kashered with hagalah.

SELF-CLEAN OVENS LIBUN (burning)

Remove any visible food. Complete self-cleaning cycle with racks in place.

NON-SELF-CLEANING OVEN LIBUN (burning)

Clean all surfaces (walls, floor, doors and racks) thoroughly with a caustic cleanser (e.g. Easy Off). Pay special attention to thermostat, oven window, and edges of the oven chamber. Black discoloration that is flush with the metal need not be removed. Oven should not be used for 24 hours. Place racks in the oven and turn the oven to broil (highest heat) for 60 minutes. A broiler pan that comes in direct contact with food should not be used.

Note: The method of kashering described above is based on the ruling of Rav Aharon Kotler zt'l. However, Rav Moshe Feinstein zt'l ruled that the oven must either be kashered with a blow torch, or an insert should be placed in the oven. Consult your rabbi for guidance.

WARMING DRAWERS LIBUN (burning)

Typically warming drawers do not get to libun kal temperature. Therefore, unless one is experienced in kashering with a torch, warming drawers are not recommended for use on Pesach.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

LIBUN GAMUR - Burning

HAGALAH - Boiling

IRUY KLI RISHON - Poured Boiling Water

EVEN MELUBENET - Heated Stone

See pages 22-23 for details on these processes.

MICROWAVES HAGALAH (boiling in water) (for those who kasher plastic) The microwave must be cleaned well and not used for 24 hours. Glass turntable should be removed and replaced with new kosher for Passover surface. A styrofoam cup should be filled with water and boiled in the microwave for 10 minutes. The cup should be refilled and moved to another spot and the process repeated for 10 more minutes. Cardboard or contact paper should be taped over the glass window pane for the duration of Pesach.

THE SINK FAUCET (including instant hot) IRUY (pouring boiling water) Detach any filters or nozzles.

STAINLESS STEEL, GRANITE, COMPOSITE STONE (E.G. QUARTZ) OR FORMICA COUNTERTOPS IRUY (pouring boiling water) OR COVERING It is preferable to kasher a countertop by pouring boiling water in conjunction with an even melubenet. There are different opinions as to whether formica (or plastic) countertops can be kashered for Pesach.

CERAMIC TILE COUNTERTOPS CANNOT BE KASHERED & MUST BE COVERED The counter should be covered with a water-resistant covering.

REFRIGERATORS, FREEZERS, FOOD SHELVES & PANTRIES CLEAN & COVER

These areas should be thoroughly cleaned, paying special attention to the edges where crumbs may get trapped. The surfaces should be lined with paper or plastic.

Note: Refrigerators and freezers will operate more efficiently if holes are poked in the lining to allow air flow.

BABY HIGH CHAIR COVERED

The tray should be covered with contact paper. The seat, legs and bars should be wiped down with a soapy rag.

DISHWASHERS HAGALAH (boiling in water) Kashering of dishwashers is a complicated process and should only be done in consultation with a halachic authority.

TABLES COVERED Although wooden tables can be kashered, the common custom is to clean tables well and then cover them.

TABLECLOTHS, KITCHEN GLOVES, APRONS & OTHER FABRIC ITEMS WASH

Fabric items can be kashered by washing them with detergent in a washing machine set on "hot." Items should be checked to make sure no pieces of food remain attached.

YES,

NCSY'S MEIRA SPIVAK'S
NEW BOOK TELLS US HOW.

It CAN Be Done!

MAKE PESACH IN 5 DAYS

FOR MANY OF US, preparing for Pesach involves a lot of work and worry. This book is intended to take away the worry and simplify the work.

Some start worrying about Pesach months in advance: nightmares, cold sweats, endless to-do lists. All this amounts to worrying about worrying. While it's true the work can be a bit frenzied at times, with this book you can create a serene, joyful Pesach in just five days—without making everyone crazy.

Honestly, my Pesach prep wasn't always stress-free—in fact, it used to be just plain overwhelming. One year, an NCSY Shabbaton landed very close to Pesach. Since a caterer is not always available in our small Jewish community, we often cook for the entire Shabbaton ourselves. This meant that not only would I need to clean my home for Pesach, but in the middle of it all, I'd have to cook five meals for eighty of my closest friends.

Since there were about four weeks till Pesach, I had a choice: Would I spend the entire time cleaning and stressing out over Pesach, and in the midst of the chaos, spend two weeks working on the Shabbaton? Or would I concentrate on the Shabbaton for the first two weeks and risk first preparing for Pesach closer to the holiday? I chose the latter, and it was one of the best decisions I ever made. You see, in previous years I would clean a room two weeks before Pesach, only to turn around and find Cheerios strewn all over the floor. It's frustrating to think you have finished a job, only to find that you need to do it again. And again. And again. But no more. I will not clean in advance only to have it destroyed!

HERE ARE SOME OF THE FINER POINTS...

Spray Cleaners

Don't even think about cleaning until you have bought a ton of cleaning products and paper towels. Keep an all-purpose cleaner on hand.

Remember, we are not aiming to remove every crumb of chametz—that is nearly impossible, and nobody's got time for that! However, a whole entity of chametz, no matter how small, cannot remain in our possession, so Cheerios are a major threat. You are bound to come in contact with chametz that is hard to remove, and by spraying it with a poisonous cleaning solution and rendering it unfit to be eaten, even by a dog, you have nullified the chametz from your possession (oukosher.org).

Bring your bottle with you as you go from room to room, and as you encounter hard-to-reach pieces of chametz, spray them until they are inedible, and then move on.

The Toys

As you approach the toys, make a quick decision. Discard them, lock them up, or clean them. I'd suggest locking up most of them and including them in your mechirat chametz. If you decide to clean them, here are some options:

- ➡ Lay them on the floor, spray with your handy all-purpose cleaner, and wipe down.
- ➡ Put them in a bathtub with soapy water, rinse, and air dry.
- ➡ If the toy is machine washable, place it in a pillowcase tied with a knot and wash it on the gentle cycle and air dry it.

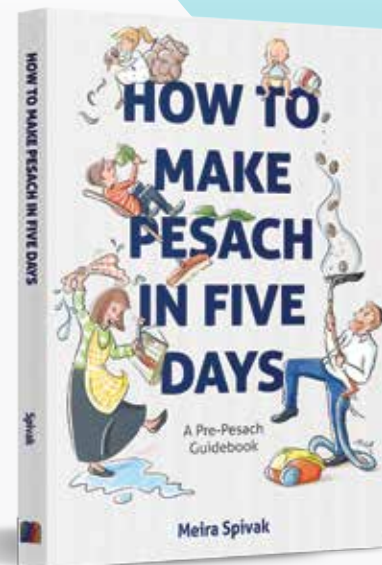

If you are not sure what to discard, use the following axiom—when in doubt, throw it out! It works wonders.

Furniture

Move all moveable furniture and sweep behind. You need not clean underneath any furniture or appliance that cannot be moved out of its place (such as a breakfront, refrigerator, or built-in appliance). Inaccessible chametz is automatically batel (oukosher.org).

The Couch

I will never forget the day we sold our couches. Picture the scene: two men walk in to examine and buy the couches. They pay for them and proceed to lift up one couch, but as they approach the door, they need to turn the couch upside down and angle it out. Well, you can imagine their surprise (and ours) when basically our entire lives fell out of the couch. My missing keys, spare change, important papers, kids' yarmulkes, you name it. To this day I remember this scene when cleaning the couch for Pesach. Cleaning the couch is extremely difficult—plus it cannot be included in the mechirat chametz if you plan on using it. I even tried suggesting that we buy a new couch each year, l'kavod yom tov of course, but my husband didn't go for it. As you clean, turn the couch upside down and watch the treasures fall out. Check every crack, sticking your hand down as far as it will go. Don't forget the spray cleaner and gloves...

There's the cabinets, the garage, koshering, shopping, cooking and more ... it's all there and can be done in the recommended five days.

list all components from largest to smallest. Spices and flavors are normally listed toward the end and are relatively nondescript. While they are smallest in volume, spices and flavors are often the most crucial components, providing the distinct flavor profile of the products that we recognize and enjoy.

Spices and flavors account for less than 2% of annual food sales, but because of their key contributions to product flavors and fragrances, those sales are among the most essential components of prepared foods. To paraphrase Winston Churchill, “Never has so much been owed by so many to so few.” Without these critical ingredients, many foods would be bland and unappealing.

All food preparers—from the housewife cooking traditional fare to the modern chef turning out culinary masterpieces—use spices and flavors when seeking to create a unique sensory experience. However, and precisely because of the unspecified nature of the listing, without reliable kosher supervision, it is impossible for a kosher consumer to accurately evaluate the kosher status of the flavor and spice additions.

Spices are a raw and minimally processed vegetable ingredient, while modern flavors are a highly complex and processed product (some containing thousands of components). Each has its own unique kashrut concerns. These issues are manifest both in the sourcing of raw materials as well as in the manufacturing processes.

For example, care must be taken that spices from Israel, such as dill, paprika, and parsley, have had the requisite terumot and ma'asrot separated. Absent that, the produce is considered tevel and is forbidden to be consumed. Furthermore, products from the shemittah year carry special restrictions. Unlike fresh produce with a limited shelf life, where the shemittah concern is limited to the year in which they were grown, spices present a unique challenge. Spices from a shemittah year can linger for quite some time, since dried spices can be stored and sold years after they are harvested. (See Shemittah on page 50)

On Pesach specifically, certain spices like coriander, anise and cumin pose a chametz concern. Because of crop rotation techniques these plants are sometimes planted in fields where chametz grains grow. Oats, for example, (one of the five chametz grains), naturally grow near coriander plants. Because of the prevalence of

Modern advances in spice-cleaning tools have made it possible for us to enjoy Passover-certified spices that previously were considered inedible for Pesach

chametz grains mixed with these spices, the custom has evolved to refrain from eating them on Pesach.

So how is it that these aforementioned spices: cumin, anise, and coriander, can be found on local grocers' shelves bearing the OU-P symbol?

Modern advances in spice-cleaning tools have made it possible for us to enjoy Passover-certified spices that previously were suspect enough to be avoided on Pesach. These tools include the triple spiral cleaner for cleaning round spices such as coriander; and the optical sorting machine, which can recognize an object's color, size, shape, structural properties and chemical composition, and is the cleaning method of choice for cumin and anise. As long as these spices were properly cleaned—with samples checked by a mashgiach—they are accepted by the OU for Pesach.

Flavoring ingredients derived from animals, dairy, and wine pose rather obvious kashrut concerns all year round, but Pesach adds another layer of complexity to the mix. Because alcohols are ubiquitous in flavors—they are commonly used as carriers—it can be challenging to certify flavors as kosher for Passover. Even though grain-based alcohol does not typically present year-round kashrut concerns, it poses the greatest impediment toward Pesach certification: with very few exceptions, grains are either chametz or kitniyot.

In addition to ingredient issues, the process of manufacturing flavors and spices requires tight supervision on the part of the mashgiach. Equipment that was previously used in the manufacture of non-kosher blends, must be properly cleaned—and in some cases koshered as well—prior to their use in the production of kosher blends.

DID YOU KNOW THAT THERE ARE . . .

This may seem a bit extreme to the average kosher consumer or cook. As we mentioned above, spices and flavorings are present in foods in small amounts; some might assume that any lingering non-kosher ingredient or even chametz would become batel (nullified) in the larger quantities (percentages) of these foods.

Surprisingly, they do not. That is because of the aromatic and fragrant nature of spices and flavors. A non-kosher ingredient—even if present at minute quantities—would not be batel in a mixture, because it is avida l'taama (a flavor enhancer) and anything which is added to a mixture for taste does not become batel.

Generally, admixtures of forbidden substances become nullified at a ratio of less than 1:60 (batel b'shishim). This is because it can be assumed that such a tiny component will not add flavor to the product into which it is mixed and is of no consequence. This is not the case, however, for flavor extracts and spices whose taste can be detected at even lower ratios than 1:60.

As with all OU-P products, spices and flavors produced for Pesach follow tight hashgacha temidit (constant supervision) protocols. This ensures that both the ingredients that are used, and the equipment in which they are produced, meet the highest standards of Pesach kashrut.

The Spice Is Right

Very few foods have played as an impactful role in the history of mankind as have spices. The spice trade, and the effort to set up a reliable “spice route” between Europe and the Far East, were the impetus for expeditions across oceans, the colonization of distant lands, the building of world empires, and the fighting of numerous wars.

Spices such as cinnamon, cassia, cardamom, cloves, pepper, saffron and turmeric have been used to enhance the flavor, aroma, and even the color of food for centuries. There are references to spice in global historical literature as a primary ingredient in both food and medicine.

Tanach is replete with references to spices: spice merchants carried Joseph to Egypt, a special blend of spices (ketoret) was brought in the Temple; and the gift presented by the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon included many spices.

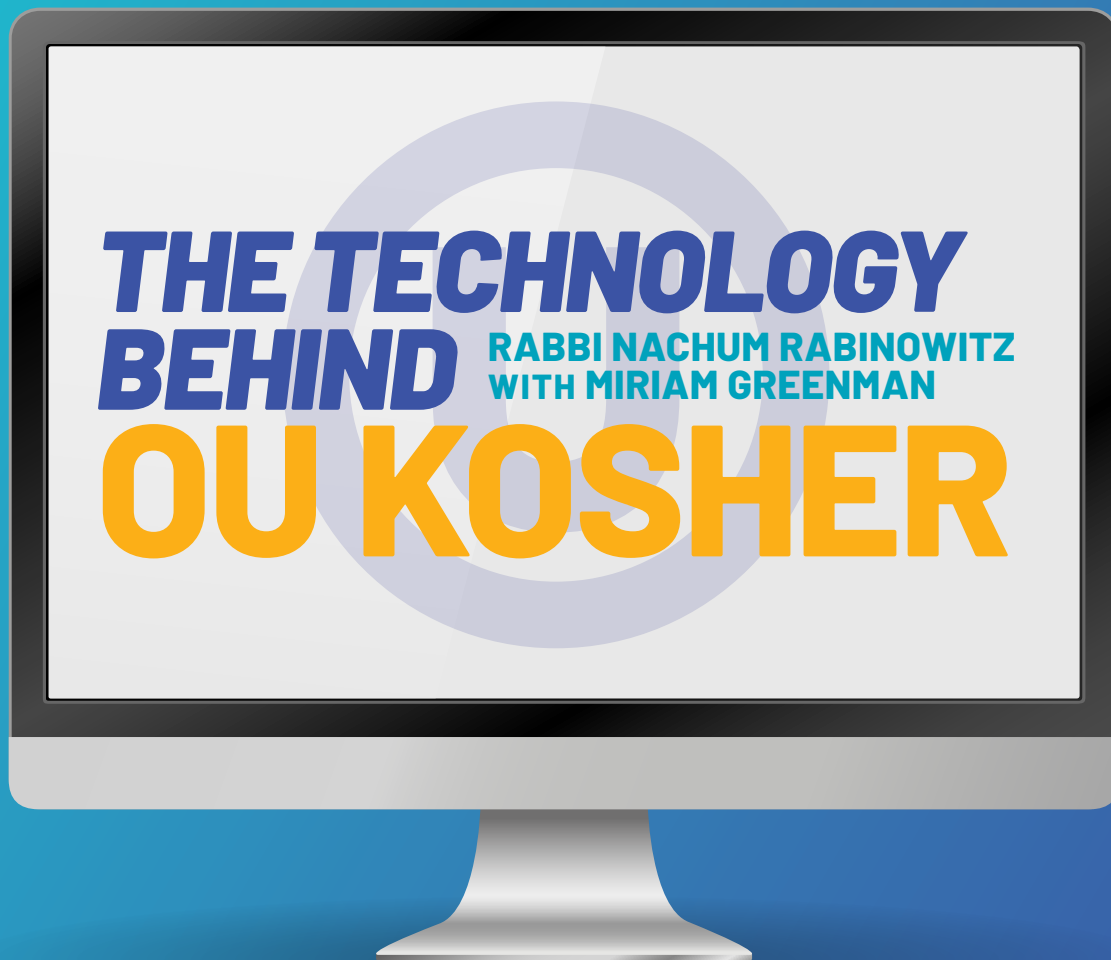

The compound flavor industry is a relatively late addition to the world of cuisine. It was born with the introduction of mass-processed foods and the promise of a consistent and complex flavor profile built of proprietary flavoring structures. The industry has grown from rather humble origins in the mid-nineteenth century, when processed foods first came to prominence, into a $1.5 billion industry that churns out 10,000 new flavors a year.

Both the spice and flavor industries are essential for one reason: for products to meet with any commercial success, the foods must be consistent and pleasing to the palate.

30th ANNIVERSARY EDITION

THE TALMUD TEACHES US that when Hashem sends us crises, He prepares the antidote in advance. As the global coronavirus set in last March, OU Kosher had little lead time to transition its large headquarters operation at 11 Broadway in Manhattan to a completely remote work environment. In what might be described as miraculous, the shift was pulled off without a hitch. As the world's largest kashrus agency, it is not only retail consumers who rely on us for the more than one million OU-certified products; food industry companies and even other kashrus agencies the world over also depend on the OU.

There is no doubt that the ability of OU Kosher to contend with this crisis and all its associated challenges was dependent on tremendous Siyata d'Shmaya (Divine assistance). The technology infrastructure that enabled this seamless move created by the pandemic is not new at the OU; it has been carefully designed, implemented, and refined over decades, and is constantly evolving. "The OU Kosher success story is built on the synthesis of expert rabbinic, professional, and support staff leveraging state-of-the-art technologies, to serve the unique needs of kosher suppliers, manufacturers, and consumers," explained Rabbi Menachem Genack, chief executive officer of OU Kosher.

OU Kosher Chief Operating Officer Rabbi Moshe Elefant, who directs all OU Kosher technology projects, sees the continued development of technological tools to enhance the function and reach of the world's largest kashrus agency as intrinsic to our mission: "This is the future of the world of kashrus!"

"We must acknowledge the dedicated OU IT (Information Technology) team of talented analysts, developers, support, and infrastructure staff who do an incredible job managing the technology that keeps OU Kosher business moving forward every day, with all its activities functioning and prospering," he says.

COMMUNICATING WITH KOSHER CONSUMERS

“OU Kosher is a not-for-profit public organization whose ultimate commitment is to the kosher consuming public,” noted Rabbi Eli Eleff, managing director of OU Kosher Community Relations. “We use all the latest tools and resources to provide them with reliably kosher-certified products, as well as to respond to their kashrus queries and offer kashrus-related education.”

KASHRUS HOTLINE: OU Kosher connects with consumers around the world through multiple platforms, using both traditional and cutting-edge technologies. This allows the Kashrus Hotline, under the direction of Rabbi Tzvi Nussbaum, to respond to hundreds of phone inquiries a week (thousands in the weeks preceding Pesach). Secure cloud-based technology is used to provide the Kashrus Hotline team up-to-date information on OU products as well as a variety of related topics. A state-of-the-art call center and queuing technology is utilized to manage the calls and minimize wait time. For the “Webbe Rebbe” email service, each consumer encounter is tracked via a ticketing system that streamlines its resolution. Rabbi Chanoch Sofer coordinates the OU’s email response to 80 emails a day, and an average of 300 a day before Pesach.

WEBSITES & APPS: Resources encompass oukosher.org, the dedicated Passover site oupassover.org, and apps for both Android and iOS. Features include product search, informational videos, travel information, a brachos/blessings guide, kashrus articles, and even tips for tevilas kaylim. The websites also offer convenient chat functions.

SOCIAL MEDIA: Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and Instagram platforms engage approximately 25,000 [@OUKosher] followers.

DAF HaKASHRUS: This consumer and kashrus professional periodical is distributed in both print and electronic versions that reach a total of 35,000 subscribers.

HALACHA YOMIS: The fascinating daily halachic email companion is distributed to 15,000 readers. Skillfully edited by Executive Rabbinic Coordinator Rabbi Yaakov Luban, it offers concise and illuminating expositions for scholar and layman alike.

ASK OU: Seminars and classes provide in-person and virtual symposia for academic institutions and community education. This past summer due to COVID-19, ASK OU ran a week-long seminar via Zoom with over 1,100 participants in 16 countries that covered myriad exciting and informative kashrus topics.

OU KASHRUS SYSTEM

During the past several decades the number of kosher-certified products has grown exponentially. The OU currently certifies over 1 million kosher products that are produced in approximately 10,000 facilities that undergo 60,000 inspections annually in over 100 countries worldwide.

How does OU Kosher ensure that strict kosher standards are enforced in all of these certified products, keeping up with the expeditious demands of manufacturers?

Rabbi Dr. Samuel Davidovics, the OU's chief information officer explains: "The nucleus of the OU Kosher computer system consists of both its database, which tracks approximately 2 million products and ingredients, and the associated kashrus business intelligence, which is incorporated to facilitate all aspects of the kosher certification service."

OU's ingredient database includes both OU-certified products and those certified by other kosher certification agencies that have been assessed and approved by the OU's Ingredient Approvals Registry, directed by Rabbi Yerachmiel Morrison. That information represents an enormous resource, the very lifeblood of kosher certification.

"The internal kashrus desktop application incorporates business intelligence tools that provide the OU Kosher rabbinic staff with instruments to manage the kosher programs of even the largest corporate entities," explains Rabbi Gavriel Price, OU's rabbinic coordinator for special projects. Decisions related to the kosher status of a plant and the products that it produces are dependent upon many factors. The system incorporates logic consistent with kosher law to ensure these factors are considered throughout all aspects of the certification process. There are automated checks and safeguards that make sure all ingredients that are approved to be associated with certified manufacturing facilities are compatible with the kosher status of the products being produced there. For example, a certified kosher dairy ingredient could not be approved at a plant that only produces pareve products.

In our fast-paced global business world, accurate up-to-date kashrus information is essential.

Rabbi Avorhom Juravel, director of Ingredient and Technical Services reminds: "Years ago, every kosher certification agency managed its information independently. Every customer had to provide kosher certificates for each ingredient they wanted to use in an OU-certified product. This was a long and tedious process. OU Kosher established a new standard that is now known as the Universal Kosher Database (UKD)." Today, with the additions and participation of the major kosher agencies, OU personnel and clients now have access to current information for more than 1.8 million kosher-approved products and ingredients.

Automated system-to-system communication with our kashrus agency partners ensures that any additions, terminations, and modifications to the kosher status of any product or ingredient is reflected across our systems within 24 hours. Every product has a unique identifier that is easily verifiable. Protocols are followed that maintain the confidentiality and integrity of all customer information throughout.

UKD has modernized kosher material research and verification way beyond the age of paper certificates. Now both our clients, and those of our partner agencies, are able to streamline the ingredient components of their kosher programs.

KOSHER FOOD PRODUCTION EDUCATIONAL RESOURCES

Similar to manufacturing quality and safety programs, in which companies invest substantial resources, the effective management of a kosher program can be greatly enhanced by professional training and guidance. OU headquarters and field staff advise and train OU clients' personnel in best kosher practices.

Recently OU Kosher partnered with Alchemy Academy to provide an array of educational content for kosher food producers. Online employee courses presented by OU Kosher Senior Field Representative Rabbi Avraham Stone help our clients' staff to better understand and manage their kosher programs.

OULDIRECT - OU'S ONLINE CLIENT ACCESS

"The OUDirect client portal facilitates customer management of their kosher program any time of day or night," notes Rabbi Moshe Zywica, OU Kosher executive rabbinic coordinator. Thousands of OU customers enjoy the accessibility of OUDirect, altogether using the site approximately 1 million times each month. Customers from across the globe can customize the formatting of their letters of kosher certification and download them at their convenience. Companies with large product inventories can automatically import their thousands of updated letters of certification to their own internal systems, which helps streamline their internal audit processes.

Customers also leverage OUDirect to manage their product and ingredient listings, submit requests for updates to their OU account manager, and track the status of their submissions.

They can manage their own kosher program staff, see their kosher account financial information, and pay invoices online. Intuitive search and filter features on every page assist clients in quickly zeroing in on the set of data they are looking for. Support is always just a click or phone call away. The OUDirect helpdesk, powered by our able team and an enterprise support platform, tracks all call-in and email support requests, ensuring rapid response time.

Applying for new products and ingredients across manufacturing facilities is accomplished online with just a few clicks. UKD materials can easily be added to client-approved ingredient lists, expediting a product's release to market.

There are always new features on the horizon to enhance OUDirect and add value for our clients.

OU DIRECT – OU’S ONLINE MASHGIACH ACCESS

“The unsung heroes of OU Kosher’s business are the 900 rabbinic field representatives (RFRs) who are tasked with conducting site inspections—closely monitoring the food production process at their assigned manufacturing facilities,” notes Rabbi Michael Morris, OU’s mashgiach ombudsman.

OU Direct enables RFRs to easily track their plant assignments, plan their site visits, and conduct the inspections. Gone are the days when an RFR would have to print reams of paper before visiting a facility. Armed with a mobile device, RFRs can use the mobile-friendly program interface to complete their inspection reports in real-time, answering the inspection report questions and annotating relevant information as they move through the plant. Each RFR also has access to the products and ingredients of each company he is inspecting, and can manage updates that surface during the inspection in real time.

RFRs are in the unique position of being ambassadors for the OU while on assignment, and can use the opportunity to guide OU Kosher clients through leveraging OUDirect to better manage their product and ingredient listings. RFRs are each seasoned OUDirect users, collectively visiting the website 277,000 times every month!

OU APPLICATIONS PROCESS

In response to fast-paced industry demands, “As soon as there is a new inquiry regarding certification, the information associated with the prospective customer enters our system, and the certification process begins,” noted New Applications Department Director Rabbi Donneal Epstein.

When a new company or plant applies for initial certification, a comprehensive workflow is initiated. OU Kosher’s expert rabbinic staff assesses the application details to determine an inspection protocol. Application ingredients are reviewed by Rabbi Chananel Herbsman, rabbinic coordinator for ingredient research. A senior rabbinic field representative, armed with all the pertinent information, is dispatched to perform an initial inspection and evaluation. This meticulous process ensures that reports and ingredient approvals are reviewed and endorsed by senior staff to effectuate a successful business partnership in the most expedient fashion.

OU KOSHER AND INDUSTRY – SECURELY SHARING DATA

“Perhaps no industry is more sensitive to confidentiality than the multi-billion-dollar flavor industry,” notes Rabbi Nosson Neuberger, flavor rabbinic coordinator. “Their flavors provide the unique profiles of many of the products that we know and enjoy. Which is why corporations are vigilant in maintaining the secrecy of their products, ingredients, recipes and processes.”

With sometimes thousands of components in one flavor, there are formidable challenges in reviewing and approving new flavor formulations. OU Kosher and some of the foremost flavor developers have designed secure systems for sharing this information, so that thousands of components can be quickly reviewed for the approval of intermediate and finished products.

“Through almost a century of certification experience, OU Kosher has developed the trust of the food industry’s biggest players,” notes Rabbi Mordechai Merzel, head of OU Kosher’s marketing department, who interfaces with many of the OU’s largest clients. “The OU retains all information shared with it for the express purpose of kosher evaluation and monitoring in the most secure fashion and with the utmost discretion.”

REMOTE SUPERVISION, REMOTE IGNITION

Kashrus supervision involves the monitoring of food manufacture to ensure kosher integrity. In some instances, certain aspects of this surveillance can be achieved remotely.

Modern manufacturing equipment is primarily operated via advanced networked computer systems. When granted access to those systems, the OU's rabbinic staff can monitor equipment usage, product and cleaning temperatures, and volume levels. When these systems are paired with a visual examination via strategically placed cameras, OU staff have effective control over events in the plant.

While on-site supervision cannot be replaced, this type of remote supervision often proves an invaluable supplement to in-person visits, guaranteeing certain aspects of processing and the koshering of equipment.

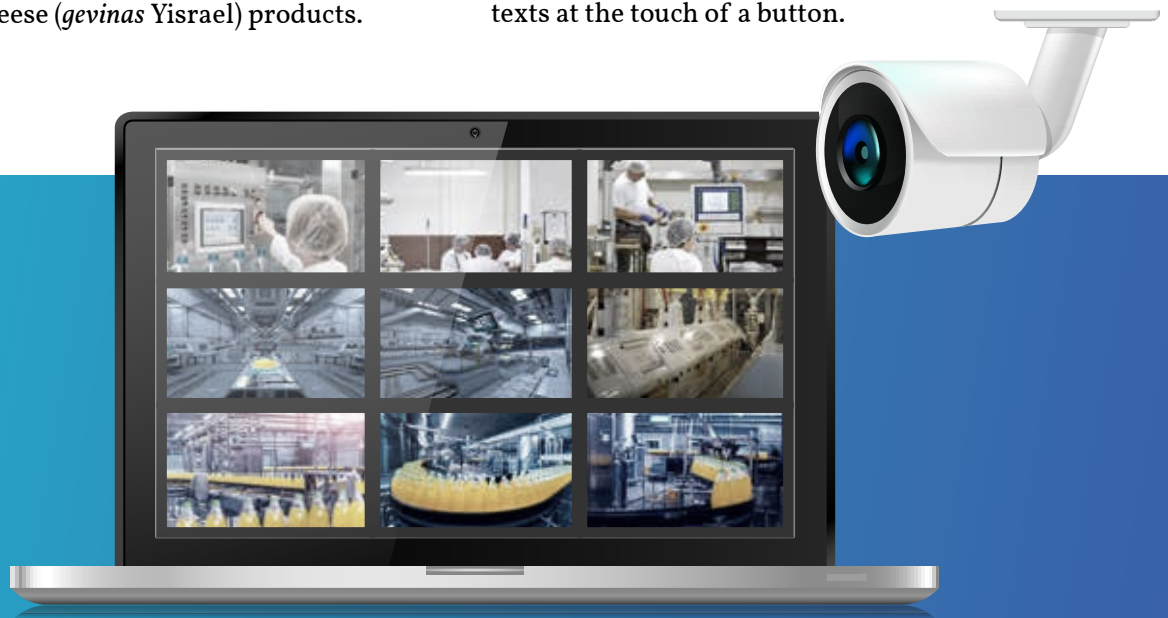

Due to the limitations of remote surveillance, OU's poskim do not recommend relying on remote surveillance for the supervision of milk (chalav Yisrael) and cheese (gevinas Yisrael) products.

Certain foods require not just supervision but also rabbinic involvement in their manufacture. To achieve pas (baking) Yisrael or bishul (cooking) Yisrael, process activation must be made by OU personnel. Historically, this was always accomplished via an on-site rabbinic presence. With today's smart technologies, ignition of processes can sometimes be realized remotely. Through virtual private networks, certain equipment can be operated as if OU staff members were in the factory.

In some instances, particularly across borders where COVID-19 restrictions impede travel, local mashgichim are accompanied virtually (via video conference) by senior experts. This allows for the in-person verification of facts to be combined with world-renowned kashrus expertise.

OU Kosher's Rabbi Eli Gersten, recorder of OU Psak and Policy, maintains a knowledge base of these and all OU halachic rulings and policies, and keeps them readily available to OU rabbinic staff. Through this channel, rabbinic coordinators have access to the vast history of OU Kosher's positions in all matters.

Access is also provided to multiple Torah databases with hundreds of thousands of Torah texts at the touch of a button.

When Shabbat HaGadol falls on Erev Pesach...

RABBI ELI GERSTEN

SINCE MEDIEVAL TIMES, the Shabbat preceding Pesach is referred to as Shabbat HaGadol (The Great Shabbat). There are a number of customs associated with this Shabbat: 1) a special sermon, known as the Shabbat HaGadol Drasha, is delivered; 2) special additional prayers are inserted into the repetition of the morning Amida; and 3) a portion of the Haggadah is recited.

Since Jewish customs have great importance and meaning, the Shulchan Aruch (the Code of Jewish Law) dedicates an entire chapter to discuss the laws of Shabbat HaGadol.

The Great Shabbat

Early Rishonim, such as Rashi (1040–1105), point out that even in their days, the meaning behind the Shabbat HaGadol name had become obscured, and they offer explanations as to its significance.

The standard explanation is that the name Shabbat HaGadol refers to the great miracles that took place on this day. It was on this Shabbat (which coincided with the tenth of Nisan during the year of the Exodus) that Hashem had commanded the Jewish people to designate a lamb or young goat for the Pesach offering. The Jewish people demonstrated unconditional devotion to Hashem by taking a lamb, the deity of the Egyptians, right before their eyes—ignoring concerns of likely reprisal at the hands of their Egyptian overlords. Hashem miraculously protected the Jewish people, and the Egyptians were unable to cause them any harm.

Chazal recognized this Shabbat as the beginning of our salvation from Egypt. For it was in the merit of this mitzvah that the Jewish people became deserving of being redeemed. By referring to this special day as Shabbat HaGadol and through performance of the various customs of the day, we remember this great miracle and prepare ourselves for Pesach.

The Haggadah of the Maharal mi'Prague offers another explanation as to why this Shabbat is referred to as Shabbat HaGadol: the Seder night is an auspicious time for Eliyahu HaNavi to herald the coming of Mashiach and our ultimate redemption. The Navi refers to this as “The Great and Awesome Day.” All the blessings that come during the week find their source in Shabbat, which is known as mekor haberacha (the source of all blessing). Therefore, on Shabbat HaGadol (The Great Shabbat) we pray that Hashem should open the floodgates of blessing, so we can merit to greet Mashiach on Pesach—that “Great and Awesome Day.”

Customs of the Day

Although it may sound droll, there were early commentators who suggested that “Shabbat HaGadol” refers to “the long sermon,” which makes the day feel longer than usual. While it may be long, one of the main purposes of this sermon is to review the halachot of Pesach, especially regarding the numerous halachot of how to prepare our homes for the holiday. For this reason, many communities have the custom that in a year such as this, when Shabbat HaGadol falls on erev Pesach, to deliver the Shabbat HaGadol Drasha a week early.

However, Aruch Hashulchan and others write that since many rabbis discuss more esoteric topics in their drashot these days, there is no need to move up the Drasha.

Because the Jews’ redemption in a sense began on this Shabbat, there is a custom to recite a portion of the Haggadah from “We were slaves in Egypt” until “to forgive all of our sins.” The Vilna Gaon questioned this custom since we specifically state in the Haggadah that this mitzvah is limited to the Seder night. Therefore, in deference to the Vilna Gaon, there are those who do not follow this custom.

There are special piyutim (poetic liturgy) added during the chazan’s repetition of Shemoneh Esrei in honor of Shabbat HaGadol. Some point out that since the piyutim recited during shacharit discuss halachot of how to prepare the home for Pesach, and it would be too late to benefit from reviewing these halachot this year, like the Shabbat HaGadol Drasha, there are some who feel these piyutim should be said the week before.

Like so many of our mitzvot, we get out of it what we put into it! No holiday requires more preparation and effort than Pesach. Shabbat HaGadol, as it was on that original Shabbat, is one of the final steps of our extensive preparations. Wishing you all an amazing chag; whether your custom is to advance Shabbat HaGadol to the week before, or to celebrate the greatness on erev Pesach.

SHEMITTAH

IN THE DIASPORA

BY RABBI NAHUM RABINOWITZ

THIS COMING ROSH HASHANA (5782) the land of Israel will be celebrating its sabbatical year, the year of shemittah.

When the Jewish people originally settled the land of Israel, a seven-year cycle was established. Each seventh year, there is a biblical mitzvah to 1) treat produce of the land with extraordinary care, because it is invested with special sanctity; 2) curtail agricultural work in the fields; and 3) grant amnesty for personal loans. Today, while the majority of our people do not (yet) live in our ancestral lands, shemittah continues to be observed, but only by rabbinical ruling.

As diaspora Jews, who have not yet merited to take up residence in Israel, we often think ourselves disenfranchised from the agricultural laws governing Israeli produce. This is not necessarily the case.

Israel is nothing short of an agrarian miracle; it's often compared to the state of New Jersey due to similar land mass (Israel contains less arable land than the U.S.'s fifth smallest state), and has vastly fewer water resources. Nonetheless, Israel dwarfs New Jersey's agriculture output more than fourfold.

According to the U.S. government, U.S. imports of Israeli agricultural products totaled $2.3 billion in 2018. While not as significant as Israel's farmed exports to the European Union and Russia, we do occasionally encounter Israel's produce on American shelves. Certainly, Israeli processed food products are featured wherever kosher foods are sold.

HETER MECHIRAH A legal instrument to sell Jewish-owned land in Israel to non-Jews and thereby circumvent the shemittah status of produce grown on those lands.

OTZAR BEIT DIN A harvest and distribution system of produce run by rabbinical court in accordance with shemittah restrictions. Proceeds of the sale of produce (at a pre-set price) goes toward expenses only, rather than for profit. Otzar Beit Din produce may be consumed in accordance with shemittah requirements.

MATZAH MENUTAK Produce grown and harvested detached from the ground (i.e. in flower pots) and with a roof covering. According to many authorities, vegetables that are grown in this manner are exempt from shemittah restrictions.

SEFICHIM Rabbinical prohibition to consume annually planted produce (i.e. vegetables, grains) whose critical growth occurs during the shemittah year.

BIUR Because we may not maintain possession of shemittah produce once it is no longer readily available in Israel, we are required to remove items from our home and declare that we are relinquishing our ownership in the presence of others. Once biur is completed, we may reclaim the product. Produce that is always available does not require biur.

TERUMA First separation from produce (approximately 2%), given to Kohanim (priestly family) to be consumed by them in a state of Kosher consumers accustomed to purchasing processed foods with reliable kosher certification understand that Israeli products also require reliable kosher verification. However, standard fresh produce that we purchase and consume without the need for any kosher verification in the U.S. is quite another matter when they are of Israeli origin.

By contrast, Israeli kosher consumers are accustomed to purchasing fresh produce that is kosher-certified to ensure that the product is non-problematic (e.g. orlah—which is forbidden) and has undergone the necessary tithes and separations: teruma, ma'aser rishon, terumat ma'aser, ma'aser sheini, ma'aser ani, and neta revai. However, Israeli export produce, which is not kosher-certified, does not normally undergo these tithes and separations.

When encountering fresh Israeli produce in the diaspora during a regular year, we can make the required separations to permit their consumption. For a broader treatment of these halachot see “Separating Terumah and Ma'aser” by Rabbi Yaakov Luban at www.oukosher.org.

SHEMITTAH IS ONE OF THE CENTRAL MITZVOT ON WHICH THE JEWISH PEOPLE'S RIGHTS TO THE LAND OF ISRAEL IS DEPENDENT

PRACTICAL SHEMITTAH: A BRIEF OVERVIEW

Shemittah is one of the central mitzvot on which the Jewish people's rights to the land of Israel is dependent. It is not an easy mitzvah and our sages describe shemittah observers as “warriors.” This is not a description of military prowess, but a description of faith. That tribute has often been associated with Israel's farmers (shemittah's front-line combatants), but there is much for consumers to be vigilant about as well.

Each category of produce is governed by shemittah rules if its critical stage of growth occurs during the shemittah calendar year (5782).

ritual purity. Because the biblical separation is of an unspecified amount, due to our state of ritual impurity, a trivial amount is separated, wrapped carefully (to avoid desecration) and discarded.

MA'ASER RISHON Second separation from produce, a tithe of 10%, which is given to members of the Levite tribe. Today this is separated and then consumed in a normal fashion.

MA'ASER SHENI Another tithe of 10% to be separated and then brought to Jerusalem for consumption there. This tithe is only separated from produce of the first, second, fourth and fifth years of the cycle. Today, following separation, this tithe is redeemed onto a coin and then consumed in a normal fashion.

MA'ASER ANI Another tithe of 10% is separated and distributed to poor people. This tithe is only separated from produce of the third and sixth years of the shemittah cycle. Today, following separation this tithe may be consumed in a normal fashion.

TERUMAT MA'ASER Secondary tithe of 10% separated by the Levite recipient of ma'aser rishon

(above). Today this ma'aser is not given to a Levite. The original owner separates this tithe (1%) and discards, as with regular teruma.

ORLAH Biblical prohibition to partake in fruits of a tree or vine's first three years, from the time of planting.

NETA REVAI Fruits from the fourth year from the time of planting. These fruits would be taken to Jerusalem and consumed there. Today neta revai is redeemed into a coin and then consumed normally.

ADDRESSING SHEMITTAH IN ISRAEL

So how does a country that is 95% self-sufficient in its own agricultural quotas and also a major exporter of produce continue to meet its agricultural needs during shemittah? The Torah guarantees that those who observe shemittah will be provided for, however, some early authorities explain that the Torah's promise only applies when shemittah was biblically commanded.

In Israel, the kashruth of produce during shemittah is addressed in one of the following ways, to help maintain the agricultural economies:

- 1 Ensuring that produce planting and harvesting is scheduled in ways that avoid the shemittah calendar dates.
- 2 Most authorities consider produce from fields of non-Jewish ownership to be exempt of shemittah status. Local produce is procured from fields that are owned by non-Jews. The verification of the sourcing from non-Jewish lands is often challenging, though, due to the security difficulties associated with having kashruth inspectors visit Arab-owned lands, particularly in Palestinian-governed areas.
- 3 The Chief Rabbinate arranges the sale of Jewish-owned land (via power of attorney) to non-Jews for the period of shemittah, thereby exempting all produce grown on that land (though not necessarily agricultural work) from the laws of shemittah. This is often referred to as heter mechirah. Some authorities have found this transaction problematic and do not wish to rely on this carte blanche exemption.
- 4 Some authorities consider that even gentile-owned lands are not exempt from shemittah restrictions. For this reason, some rabbis arrange harvesting and distribution of produce in a non-commercial, non-profit manner to ensure that all handling of produce complies with shemittah restrictions. This is often referred to as Otzar Beit Din, and the produce must be treated, by the end consumer, with the care shemittah-sanctified produce requires.

- 5 Growing and harvesting vegetables in earth that is detached from the ground (similar to flower pots) which is also indoors. Produce grown in specially-designed greenhouses is halachically exempt from shemittah restrictions. This is known in Hebrew as matzah menutak.
- 6 Produce from the lower Negev, which is not within the halachic boundaries of Israel, is therefore excluded from shemittah status.

OU PRODUCTS FROM ISRAEL

The OU certifies many products produced in Israel. Those products do not contain heter mechirah-based produce nor would they have shemittah status (and are distributed on the basis of Otzar Beit Din). The products would instead only contain ingredients that are not shemittah for one of the following reasons:

1. The ingredients are from non-shemittah years.
2. The ingredients are imported from outside Israel.
3. The materials are grown in the lower Negev region.
4. The ingredients are verified to have been grown on non-Jewish owned lands.

WHEN TO LOOK OUT FOR SHEMITTAH PRODUCE?

Shemittah produce is not expected to reach the American shores until the first quarter of 2022. The OU will be publishing updates with anticipated Israeli exports and their expected arrival times.

A common method for relinquishing ownership of chametz is to sell it, typically through an agent (a rabbi), to a gentile. The chametz remains in the house, in a closed-off area (e.g. a closet) that has been rented to its new owner. After Pesach the rental period ends and the agent purchases the chametz back on behalf of the original owner.

This option is time-honored and halachically acceptable. Some, however, do not want to rely on such a sale for chametz that, on a Torah level, a person is required to remove from their possession.

The Torah prohibition against owning chametz applies not only to obvious chametz such as bread, pretzels, or cookies, but to any product that contains a chametz ingredient that constitutes a k'zayit within that product. Licorice, for example, which contains a significant amount of flour in its dough, would not be sold according to this position but should, instead, be eaten before Pesach, burned, or otherwise destroyed. Such products are considered chametz gamur – “real” chametz.

If the food is only safek chametz (that is, there is some doubt as to whether it is chametz at all), it may be included in the sale even according to those individuals who avoid the sale of chametz gamur.

The foods listed in the chart on page 57 are identified either as chametz gamur and, according to the stringent position, should not be included in a sale, or “not chametz gamur,” and may be included in a sale.

Many people who avoid selling chametz gamur nonetheless have a family custom to sell their whiskey.

1. Processing of pearled barley is mechanical and does not require use of water.
2. Follow family custom.
3. Some opinions hold that, even according to the stringent tradition of not selling chametz gamur, provided the chametz is not distinguishable in the product even if it is present at more than a k'zayit, it can be included in a sale (Rav Yosef Dov HaLevi Soloveitchik, quoted in Nefesh HaRav, page 177).
4. Although malt in corn flakes and crispy rice products is present at more than one-sixtieth of the product, in standard packaging the malt is less - than one k'zayit of the package.

5. Contemporary milling production renders flour only safek chametz and therefore it can be included in a sale.
6. Flour as an ingredient in processed food is typically exposed to some form of moisture and should be assumed to be chametz.
7. Typically, non-GMO starch and starch derivatives (like maltodextrin) are sourced from Europe, and should be assumed to be chametz.
8. Wheat is used in traditional soy sauce production.
9. Wheat germ is a byproduct of the milling process – see footnote 3.

Ingredient Substitutions

FOR Passover

By Carrie Beylus

A FRIEND ONCE TOLD ME that when my kids were little Pesach would be all about the cleaning—getting every last Oatmeal Square out of the den couch, etc., but as they got older it would be about the cooking and food preparation.

Wow, how right she was—is. These days it's so much more than, "What will I do without cereal and pasta?!" Now I need to know how to keep the refrigerator filled with ready and appetizing foods for hungry adults, newly informed teen palates, and the human vacuum cleaner who was once a relatively innocuous, if picky eater.

I've said it before, and it stands repeating: recipes from the other 357 days of the year are the best solutions to this latest conundrum.

All I need for a great menu, a full fridge, and a happy family is some forethought and a little tweaking. The right ingredient substitutions are all it takes. But before you begin swapping out ingredients, read through the recipe you want to adapt carefully. Consider the quantity of the ingredient you'd have to replace. A cake with three cups of flour is not a good candidate for conversion.

Remember, stick with recipes and ingredients you are familiar with (or can adapt quickly), and you'll be assured a tasty and kvetch-free eight days.

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING POINTS:

- Many of the products contain kitniyot, some as the primary ingredient.
- Some of the products may contain minor ingredients that are possibly, though unlikely, produced from chametz-based raw materials. All such ingredients are used at a less than 1:60 ratio.
- Liquid versions of these products are preferable to their powdered counterparts.
- Products that contain flavors should only be provided when no unflavored alternative exists.
- Products should be purchased before Passover and stored and maintained separately from Kosher for Passover Foods.

ORAL HYGIENE (TOOTHPASTE, MOUTHWASH) & FLAVORED LIP TREATMENT (LIPSTICK, LIP BALM)

PRODUCTS: Rabbinical authorities disagree as to whether kosher certification of these items is required (both for Passover and year-round). Consult your Rabbi. Please see product pages in the Passover Guide for OU certified toothpaste.

GUIDELINES FOR MEDICINES

1. Exercise extreme caution and consult with your doctor and rabbi before making a decision not to take a medicine.
2. Known and tested medications in the form of creams, non-chewable pills and injections may be owned, used and consumed on Pesach, even if they contain chametz or kitniyot, since they are inedible. This covers most medicines used by adults. However, if an equally effective chametz-free alternative is available or procurable, this should be used instead.
  - A. It is permissible to grind pills and mix the powder into food items so that a child can take medicine on Pesach. However, a doctor must be consulted to make sure that the child is getting the correct dosage and that the potency of the pill is not compromised by altering its consistency.
3. Liquid medicines, chewable pills and pills coated with a flavored glaze are considered palatable and may contain chametz. Also gelcaps may present a problem because they may contain non-kosher edible gelatin. Therefore:
  - A. If possible, they should be replaced, under the direction of a doctor, with a non-chewable, uncoated pill.
  - B. If substitution is not possible and the person is in a state of sakana or safek sakana (any possible danger to human life), the medication may be owned and consumed. The same applies if the condition is not yet a safek sakana but may deteriorate to that point. A rabbi should be consulted as to whether it is preferable to purchase the medicine before or during Pesach, and as to how to dispose of the medicine once the danger passes.
  - C. If substitution is not possible and a doctor determines that there is no possibility of sakana if the person does not take the medicine, a rabbi should be consulted. He may be able to determine that the medicine does not contain chametz and/or kitniyot, or he may decide that the medicine may be consumed due to the seriousness of the patient's condition.
4. Unless an equivalent alternative is available, medicinal items which contain kitniyot are permitted for people who are ill. Questions on this issue should be directed to your rabbi.
5. These guidelines do not address the more general prohibition of consuming medicines on Shabbat and yom tov.

SEFIRAT HAOMER

Sign up for the OU daily sefirah reminder email @ www.ou.org/sefirah

Sefirah is the counting of seven complete weeks from the second evening of Pesach until Shavuot. The count, which takes place after nightfall for the following day, is preceded by the blessing only if done in the evening and no days have been missed in the count.

Visit www.ou.org/sefirah to receive an email reminder to count each day. Emails are pre-programmed to go out on each of the 49 days of the Omer to help make sure you don't forget to count!
