TEXAS Law

Letter from the Dean

Dear alumni and supporters,
Happy new year!

A new semester is just beginning and the promise of the year ahead, bursting with opportunity and optimism, has put a big spring in everyone's step. As we go forward, we continue to be grateful for the generosity and support that got us here. That's what this Recognition Report is all about.

Your commitment to our mission has always been awesome. Every year, you step up to help the school in the important work of mentoring students, hiring graduates, and contributing to our people and programs. We are so grateful. I am so grateful.

It is thanks to your outpouring of support that we can continue to fulfill our role as the flagship law school of Texas and, indeed, as one of the premier law schools in the nation.

On behalf of the faculty and our students I want to say thank you for giving back—and for investing in our future!

Hook 'em,

Bobby Chesney
Dean, The University of Texas School of Law

CLASS OF 1978

Thank You to Our Generous Reunion 2023 Donors

In April 2023, we honored this year's 10 Reunion classes—alumni with graduation years ending in “3” and “8”—as part of Texas Law's Reunion Weekend. Lawhorns often commemorate their Reunion through meaningful donations, and the 2023 Reunion classes displayed unprecedented generosity.

The 2023 Reunion classes gave more than $790,000 for their class scholarships, and three of them—1978, 1983, and 1988—raised more than $100,000 each. Lorraine Sarles '09, Director of Alumni Development, Reunion, was blown away by the extraordinary support of the Reunion classes. “At least five of the classes will have a student scholarship recipient next school year, making a significant impact on our students' lives,” Sarles said.

Among the hundreds of our Reunion alumni who gave back to their alma mater, we're highlighting a handful of them who demonstrated tremendous generosity. Join us in expressing our heartfelt thanks to the alumni highlighted in this publication who made some of the most significant gifts since their last Reunion.

CHARLES SCHWARTZ '78

Dean's Scholarship Excellence Fund

“This is a fact: I paid $4 per semester hour to attend the University of Texas Law School. That means I paid about $360 for a UT law degree. I am sure that I paid more for parking and a lot more for UT athletic events. So, I had this silly idea that the least I could do was to “pay” tuition at the current rate for a few years. I am really not sure that makes a difference, but at least I am paying market rate for the best investment I have made in my life.”

SHAWN J. RABIN '03

Shawn & Dina Rabin Endowment for Excellence Scholarship

“Texas Law taught me the fundamentals of how to be a great trial lawyer and, because of its generous alumni, I was able to study without worrying as much about also paying tuition. Supporting Texas Law through an endowed scholarship was a great way to allow future students to have the same benefits that I had.”

ANNIE & R. CRAMER MILLER '08

The Fund for Texas Law

With their $5,000 gift, the Millers prioritize the Fund for Texas Law in their philanthropy knowing it is the one fund that supports all areas of the law school thus ensuring our tradition of excellence. “UT Law is devoted to providing the best legal education in the county with a supportive culture. Annie and I are committed to promoting that cause and sustaining the promise that it holds.” This generous gift to the annual fund is in addition to the scholarship the Millers created to honor of Cramer's grandfather.

Terry Lords Reflects on an Extraordinary Life

In the fall of 1963, I was a first-year student in the School of Law at The University of Texas at Austin. It was a turbulent era, with civil rights protests across the nation and, of course, a dreadful day in American history. My roommate and I were with some friends in our apartment watching television, waiting to go downtown to witness President Kennedy's motorcade. I still recall seeing—and hearing—Walter Cronkite tell the nation the sad news.

I had been inspired to pursue a life of public service by President Kennedy and by my father, a Dallas police officer who was head of security when President and Mrs. Kennedy arrived at Love Field. Both men had a tremendous influence on me.

I chose to attend UT's School of Law because of its national and global reputation, and because I knew it could provide me with opportunities and a career I would be proud of. I wanted to fill my mind with as much information as I could, create my own values and be the person I wanted to be.

My three years at the School of Law were filled with optimal experiences and opportunities to learn. I remember going to lectures at very small gatherings and meeting important people—writers and literary celebrities—and making great friends I still have to this day.

I graduated in 1966, but I didn't start my legal career right away. I got my draft notice in my final semester.

In all, I spent three years in the Army and then was finally able to start the career I'd always wanted. For about nine months, I worked in the city attorney's office in Dallas, handling misdemeanors and other traffic violations before I was hired to work in Chicago in the organized crime section of the Department of Justice. I never had tried a federal case, and there I was, at age 27, prosecuting mob figures, using electronic surveillance, dealing with undercover agents and doing sting operations for all types of federal criminal cases. I was thrown right into that world and I learned with each case. I learned quickly because I had been to law school at UT. My education had given me the confidence to do what I needed to do.

I owe my unique career as a prosecutor to UT's School of Law. The best way I could think of to thank the University for providing me with the education

I needed to have such a wonderful career was to make a planned gift. I bought some land just north of College Station in 1971, and I've had oil leases on the property since 2013. I'm leaving two-thirds of my mineral rights in oil production to The University of Texas at Austin.

My gift to the law school is to be used at the dean's discretion. I hope to set an example so more people will think about what the law school could become. It has expanded its reputation so much since I was there. I want its renown and growth to continue. With more gifts, the law school could continue to attract the very best professors and get the best students to study in any area that they wanted. I feel great joy at being an alumnus of this University and I want it to always be a great place where students can build an extraordinary life for themselves.

Terry's memoir, "...And Justice for All," details his career as an organized crime prosecutor, a manager of national crime initiatives; and, finally, as a legal advisor in the Balkans assisting in establishing programs to combat organized crime, corruption and human trafficking.

Republished with permission and originally published as "In My Own Words: An Extraordinary Life" in the SUMMER 2023 issue of TEXAS LEADER.

VINSON & ELKINS AGAIN REACHES FULL ALUMNI GIVING

The connections between The University of Texas School of Law and Vinson & Elkins run deep and long, forming a bond that has helped nurture the venerable institutions for more than a century.

With the firm's award for 2023 Texas Law 100% Giving Challenge Champion, it's clear the passage of time has not dimmed Vinson & Elkins' commitment to the law school. Indeed, the firm has attained "champion" status for all 20 years that Texas Law has conducted the Giving Challenge, which recognizes law firms that achieve 100% alumni participation during the fiscal year.

"The annual contributions made by so many Texas Law alumni at Vinson & Elkins speak to the genuine gratitude our lawyers feel for an institution that played a formative role in their development," said V&E Chair Keith Fullenweider '88.

Dean Bobby Chesney and V&E Senior Partner Glen Rosenbaum '72 (Houston)
