LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

AUSTRALIAN MUSEUM.

(REPORT FROM TRUSTEES, FOR 1875.)

Ordered by the Legislative Assembly to be printed, 1 June, 1876, A.M.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUSEUM, FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31st DECEMBER, 1875.

To HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-IN-CHIEF.

1. The Trustees of the Australian Museum have the honor to submit to your Excellency this their twenty-second Annual Report.

The Museum has been open to the public daily (Sundays excepted) during the past year, and has been visited by 62,888 persons. (Appendix 3.)
 Correspondence has been maintained with Foreign Scientific Institutions, and satisfactory arrangements made for exchanges of specimens of Natural History.

4. The Trustees consider it of the utmost importance that a Collector of specimens of Natural History should be appointed, for the purpose of rendering more complete the present collection of Australian Genera, and for providing a stock of duplicate specimens for exchange with other Museums, and they have therefore (by letter of March 7th) requested the Minister of Justice and Public Instruction to place on the Estimates for that purpose the sum of £250.

5. The list of donations which is appended shows an increase in the number of contributors over those of the previous year. (Appendix 5.)

6. The First Part of the Catalogue of Australian Birds, containing a descriptive list of the Australian Diurnal Accipitres in the Museum Collection has been prepared by the Curator, Mr. E. P. Ramsay, and published at the Government Printing Office, by authority of the Minister of Justice and Public Instruction.

7. Two Taxidermists have been occupied during the year in preserving, mounting, and remounting specimens, and in keeping in order the extensive collection now in the Museum.

specimens, and in keeping in order the extensive collection now in the Museum.

8. Two vacancies at the Board have occurred during the year, by reason of the absence for more than six months of Dr. Fortescue and H. C. Russell, Esq., B.A., and the same have been filled up by the election of Commander Stackhouse, R.N., and the re-election of Mr. Russell on his return to the Colony.

9. On the 7th, 8th, and 9th September, the motion for a new trial in the case Kreft versus Hill was argued in the Supreme Court. The Chief Justice refused to sit, on the ground that he was one of the official Trustees of the Institution, and the application was therefore argued before Mr. Justice Hargrave and Mr. Justice Faucett. Mr. Justice Hargrave delivered a judgment, in which he supported Mr. Justice Cheeke's ruling, to the effect that the Trustees had no power to dismiss Mr. Krefft; and Mr. Justice Faucett ruled entirely the other way. The Court being divided, the result is that the verdict for £250, delivered on the trial before Mr. Justice Cheeke, remains unimpeached. The amount in question being under £500, the Trustees had no right of appeal to the Privy Council, or of obtaining a stay of being under £500, the Trustees had no right of appeal to the Privy Council, or of obtaining a stay of procedure, without a special application to the Appeal Court, and they were therefore compelled to pay the amount recovered, which, together with costs on both sides, amounted to the total sum of £761 198. 1d.

10. As the Trustees felt that they had done all that could be reasonably expected of them to protect the interests of the Institution, they did not feel themselves called upon to prosecute an appeal to Her Majesty in Privy Council, but in order to enable the Government of the Colony to do so, they wrote to the Minister of Justice and Public Instruction the letter of which a copy is appended. (Appendix 7.)

The Appendices contain the following:-

APPENDIX No. 7.

Cory of letter forwarded to the Minister for Justice and Public Instruction, in reference to the verdict in the case Krefft r. Hill.

The Australian Museum, Sydney, 15 September, 1875.

Sir,

I am requested by the Trustees of the Australian Museum to invite your attention to the correspondence which took place between the Museum and your department in the month of October, 1874, in reference to the defence of the action Krefft versus Hill, and to inform you of the result.

I may be permitted to remind you that, on the 20th August, 1874, Mr. Gerard Krefft, the then Curator and Secretary of the Museum, was dismissed by the Board from his office, and that that fact was reported to the Honorable the Minister for Justice and Public Instruction, by a letter from the Acting Secretary, dated on the same day.

Mr. Krefft having refused to quit the Museum buildings, a letter was written by the Acting Secretary to your department on the Sth September, 1874, transmitting a resolution of the Trustees to the effect that an immediate application be made to the Minister of Justice to authorize the police to give effect to the decision of the Board by removing Mr. Krefft from the Museum buildings. To that letter a reply was received on the 14th of September, 1874, from the Under Secretary to your department, intimating that the services of the police could not be authorized for the purposes desired by the Trustees, and that the Government did not feel called upon to assume the responsibility of giving effect to a decision to which they had been no party. In consequence of the refusal of the assistance of the police, the Board had no alternative but to employ a bailiff for the purpose of ejecting Mr. Krefft from the premises.

In order to prevent any unnecessary violence, Mr. Edward S. Hill was requested by the Board to be present when Mr. Krefft was removed. On the 24th September, 1874, Mr. Krefft was removed from the premises by the bailiff appointed by the Board, in the presence and with the concurrence of Mr. Edward Hill.

Mr. Krefft therefore brought an action against Mr. Hill personally, and the result of the proceedings in this form was that all inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Krefft, and of the causes w therefore instructed their own solicitor to defend the action; and the same came on for trial on the 13th, 16th, 17th, and 18th of November, 1874, before Mr. Justice Cheeke and a Jury of four.

Mr. Cheeke ruled that Mr. Krefft was a superior officer under Government, and that therefore, under the 37th clause of the Constitution Act, no one had power to remove him but the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council. Under this ruling the Jury found a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of £250.

A rule nisi for a new trial, on the ground, among others, of misdirection, was obtained from the Supreme Court, and the same came on for argument on the 7th, 8th, and 9th September, 1875. His Honor the Chief Justice being, by virtue of his office, a Trustee of the Museum, declined to sit on the hearing of the motion for a new trial, and consequently it was heard before their Honors Mr. Justice Hargrave and Mr. Justice Faucett alone.

Immediately on the close of the argument Mr. Justice Hargrave pronounced his judgment, entirely upholding Mr. Justice Cheeke's ruling, and refusing a new trial; but the judgment of Mr. Justice Faucett was in favour of a new trial being granted. The result of the difference is that the motion for a new trial has failed, and that the verdict will stand.

As the amount of the verdict is under £500, the defendant cannot appeal, except by making a special application to the Privy Council for leave to do so. The plaintiff therefore cannot be restrained from enforcing the verdict which he has obtained, and it is possible that in the course of the present month the Board of Trustees will be called upon to pay £250 for the verdict, and a further sum of about £150 for the taxed costs of the plaintiff.

It is necessary here to state that Mr. Hill, in being present at the expulsion of Mr. Krefft, acted on behalf of the

It is necessary here to state that Mr. Hill, in being present at the expulsion of Mr. Krefft, acted on behalf of the Board generally, and did not in any way exceed his authority. The Board guaranteed him against any verdict which might be obtained against him. The costs of the defendant for the first trial have therefore been paid by the Board, and they will be called upon to pay a further sum, amounting probably to £100, to cover the defendant's costs of moving for a

they will be called upon to pay a further sum, amounting probably to £100, to cover the defendant's costs of moving for a new trial.

The Trustees feel that, under all the circumstances of the case, they have done the utmost that can be expected of them for the defence of the property entrusted to their custody; and as the amount which will be immediately payable in satisfaction of the verdict and costs will be inevitably lost, they feel themselves precluded from taking any steps for prosecuting an appeal to the Queen in Council. As, however, in consequence of the failure of the Trustees to obtain a new trial, Mr. Justice Cheeke's ruling is at present undisturbed, and Mr. Kreff may therefore claim to be still Curator, and may possibly demand payment of his salary till dismissed by the Government, the Board feel bound to report the present position of the institution at the earliest possible moment, in order that the Law Officers of the Crown may advise whether it is necessary for the Government to take any steps in the matter.

It is scarcely necessary for me to point out that the opinions of the Crown Law Officers under the various Governments of the Colony, including Sir James Martin when Attorney General, and now Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and the Hon. William Bede Dalley, presently Attorney General, have been invariably given in favour of the Trustees of the Museum having the sole power of appointing and removing their Curator, notwithstanding the supposed conflict of the 37th section of the Constitution Act with the Museum Act.

I may further state, that the course which the Board adopted in dealing with Mr. Krefft was so adopted in reliance on the opinions before mentioned; and the Trustees considered that they were entitled to rely confidently on those opinions, because although the complete control of the Museum property was vested in them, they were in fact only Trustees for the Colony generally, and in administering the affairs of the institution they were virtually, though not legally, nothi
