Tiger Band Plays for President

High school band members had the rare opportunity to perform for a President of the United States when Ronald Reagan visited the Bowling Green State University campus on September 26.

School bands from all over Wood County, including N.B., Otsego, Elmwood, Perrysburg, and hometown band Bowling Green took turns playing selections for the crowd gathered at the university's intramural field. The Tiger band blasted out tunes from "Thriller" and "Flashdance" while the B.G. schools played "Hail to the Chief."

Besides catching a glimpse of the chief executive, the band learned a little bit about Presidential security. Secret Service agents checked inside horns, cameras, and purses for concealed weapons; and armed guards perched on rooftops to ensure Mr. Reagan's safety.

The band had a second chance to see the President when they played for him as he rode a train through Perrysburg later in the fall. "It was great!" said Kim Weaver. "I shouted at him and he looked right at me."
