Featured Speaker Sat. 3pm & Sun. 4pm

“Jill Dahne is the #1 Love Psychic in the World”

— as quoted in the book
100 Top Psychics

Dateline NBC says “Jill is so on target with her predictions, we were amazed.” Sought after Psychic to the Stars, her lifetime of work has catapulted her to World Renowned Fame. Her life was chronicled on Lifetime Television as the #1 Love Psychic for all of the marriages and relationships she has predicted throughout her life, over 1,000 to date. Jill is embedded in Ripley’s Believe it or Not as the Most Amazing Teenage Psychic (1977) and has been on Radio and Television since she was 6 years old. Jill’s accurate predictions have been spotlighted around the Globe on Major TV networks such as MSNBC which were “...astonished over the prediction of exact date & time of the capture of Saddam Hussein and the bombing in Madrid.” CBS covered Jill’s “on target” Presidential elections and has been on Court TV for unsolved murder cases and missing children as well as FOX’s yearly Celebrity Love Predictions and ABC with her Super Bowl prediction.

Edited, appropriately, by NewLife. Learn the implications of Bill’s head-to-toe metamorphosis for all people with award-winning author, Kat James’ at NewLife Expo.*

“You’ll be dead in two years” are words Bill Ellis, 71, of Pikeville, TN, had heard at least a dozen times since his first cancer diagnoses in 2007. “Wild Country Bill,” as Kat James respectfully calls him, is no regular guy. He dabbles in real estate...delivers a calf here and there... delivers the mail “just to connect with people”—especially the doctors on his route—with whom he shares formidable health research. It’s a passion of Bill’s, borne out of necessity and sheer will to survive the 2 broken necks, 1 bladder cancer, 2 prostate tumors, 4 melanomas, 3 carcinomas, and countless other serious health challenges he’s faced. As a farmer, Bill his other family members who got cancer, were unfortunately exposed to toxic pesticides. But Bill took an alternative treatment route and after shrinking his 5th tumor his family no longer questioned his “reckless” decisions.

Last August, a new facial tumor had him more concerned than usual because it was near a nerve, meaning if it was missed by the biopsy, they’d have to do radiation and the prognosis would be about six months survival. Luckily, they got all of it, leaving Bill with “only” one active tumor, which had spread from one area of his prostate to a new area. “I’ve got this,” he thought. But this one proved a stubborn one. And the frequency of these cancers popping up was increasing, especially on his face, in spite of Bill’s advanced supplement regimen, which included hyssop, Carnivora, Haelan 951, nattokinase and vitamin D, among others. He was deeply motivated to escape the fate of his family members who “wound up in diapers” after their conventional treatments. Bill wasn’t having it. It was fun to see shaking heads of doctors who’d warned Bill he’d soon be dead, or the one who was clearly disappointed when he could find nothing but where the ureter-blocking tumor had once been (he actually passed it; disgusting but fascinating story) and had to cancel Bill’s kidney surgery. But Bill was also getting tired of getting new cancers in new places at the rate of about one per year.

Now again, to be clear, it’s not suggested that you make the decisions Bill has made. Cancer is a serious issue and you should seek qualified medical supervision. In fact, Bill did do that. He just ultimately made his decisions based on the vast amount of information he amassed. But even after beating the first ten cancers Bill realized his health was still falling apart, even long after cutting out sugar and processed foods. The herbs had saved him many times over, but he lived in severe pain, day and night, inability to sleep, difficulty breathing at night, poor energy, a “basketball belly,” and too many trips to all kinds of doctors—not just for cancer checks but for odd things like having his sinuses and salivary glands drained, or his prostate manipulated to allow him to urinate more easily. Oh, and his kidney stones checked.

Synchronicity and a Look at Leptin

In August, 2018, just after the facial tumor scare amidst battling his latest prostate tumor, Bill was listening to the radio while delivering the mail and heard Kat James talking about the “master hormone,” leptin’s, relationship with certain cancers. Although Leptin (already in our bodies) has profound effects on all systems, Bill’s interest piqued when James mentioned how keeping the hormone low (something only attainable through individualized dietary strategy)—while optimizing its functioning in the brain—had reduced proliferative cancers in some research. By quite a coincidence, James’ leptin-focused educational seminar was coming to Chattanooga, TN that fall, half an hour from Bill. He signed up right away and started—with his docs’ supervision and James’ coaching, and... with full understanding that she made no medical claims or promises—regarding the unique, high fat, very low carb, moderate protein regimen she’d pieced together back in 1990, well before leptin’s discovery, to save her own life.

After 8 days on her regimen, Bill had lost 17 lbs. (from 239 to 222) without hunger. His blood sugars and pressure normalized. By the time of the retreat, his PSA numbers had dropped from 36 to 19 and his tumor had reduced by about 40%. Docs heads were shaking (yet again) and a nurse commented that it “defied reason.” During the Chattanooga event, Bill was amazed to effortlessly hit his high school weight of 198. 200 had been his “bucket list” goal. His weight loss had slowed before the retreat, but then accelerated during it, as his unwitting mistakes were being corrected left and right by James. He had a major improvement in urine flow and his energy “went through the roof.” But this was just the beginning...
