

Chapter 12

The Years of Recovery

A.D. MORWOOD B.Sc., B.Ed., (QLD) M.A.C.E.

For the fourth occasion in the history of Townsville Grammar, the quest for a Headmaster capable of refurbishing the image of the School, capable of halting the alarming decline in enrolments, and capable of restoring confidence in the minds of parents and students, quite o'ershadowed the saga of continuing financial difficulties and indeed became the major pre-occupation of the Board of Trustees in 1975.

At a Special meeting of the Trustees, October 9, 1975,

The Chairman (F.D. Sim) explained that he had requested the calling of this special meeting on two grounds; firstly, he was a little concerned at the position that could develop with the present Headmaster, and secondly, a decision was needed as to how the Board wished to proceed in considering the applications which had been received for a new Headmaster.

On the subject of the new Headmaster, the Chairman indicated that 35 applications had been received and he and the Deputy Chairman had read through them; it was agreed that the Secretary collate and summarise details under a number of headings and submit a copy to all Board members. It was also resolved that an approach be made to Dr F. Annersley (Faculty of Education) and Dr J. Nicol (Senior Lecturer Physics Dept.) of James Cook University to see if they would be prepared to review the applications and assist the Board in an advisory capacity in selecting a number of candidates for interview!

The final choice fell on Alan Douglas Morwood, B.Sc., B.Ed., M.A.C.E., Deputy Headmaster, Toowoomba Grammar School, since June 1970.

Morwood was educated at the Eagle Junction State Primary School, Brisbane, where he gained 89% in the State Scholarship Examination, 1949, represented Queensland in Rugby League and Brisbane in Cricket in the same year, and was Queensland Junior Long Jump Champion, 1946.

From 1950 to 1953, he was a Boarder at Toowoomba Grammar and Dux of the School in 1953. In addition, he was Senior Boarder Prefect 1953, a Cadet Under Officer, Captain of Cricket, member of the First XV (Rugby Union) and Athletics Team, member of the combined Greater Public Schools First XI and Captain of the Great Public Schools

Third XV, 1953. As well, he was Toowoomba Grammar's Cross Country Champion, 1952, and High Jump winner, 1952 and 1953.

In the 1953 Senior Public Examination, he gained 6 As and was awarded a Queensland Open Scholarship (14th in the State List). From January to March, 1954, he taught as a relief teacher at Toowoomba Grammar before entering the Queensland University on a four year Teacher Fellowship.

Morwood was appointed to the Childers State School (Secondary Department) in 1958 as teacher of Physics, Chemistry, Mathematics at Senior and Junior level. In 1961 he joined the Staff of the new Isis State High School, Childers, but resigned from the Education Department when offered a position at Toowoomba Grammar at the commencement of 1963 as Senior Physics and Mathematics Master.

Whilst at the University he was Secretary of the Queensland University Cricket Club, 1956-57; member of the "A" Grade Cricket Team, 1955-57; Secretary of the University Tennis Club, 1956, and member of the "A" and "B" Grade Tennis teams; University Sports Union delegate, 1955-57; Queensland Cricket Association delegate, 1955-57; President of the University Film Society, 1957, and a Non Commissioned Officer in the Queensland University Regiment.

During his period at Childers, a small country town (district population 4,000) 320 kilometres north of Brisbane, Morwood was deeply involved in community affairs — Secretary of Christ Church Anglican Parochial Council, 1959-62; Member of the Isis District Arts Council of Australia, 1961-62; Founder, Secretary and Captain of the Isis District Cricket Club. In addition he represented Bundaberg and District at cricket and was an "A" Grade District Rugby League Football Referee.

Morwood's long experience at Toowoomba Grammar as Senior Science Master, Senior Mathematics Master, Housemaster, Senior Resident Master, Coach of the First XI, Rugby Union Coach and Referee, gymnastics coach and manager, leader of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme, as well as community involvements such as the Secretary of the Church of England Boys' School (Primary) Parents and Friends' Association, member of the Darling Downs' Toastmasters Public Speaking Club, Adjudicator of the Women's Forum Club and "Youth Speaks for Australia" competitions, Student Christian Movement Conference Organiser, Australian Schoolboys' Cricket Conference Selector, and Chairman of the Darling Downs' Area Committee of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme, were particularly impressive in the eyes of the Trustees, as was his membership of many Professional Associations.

Following his interview by the Trustees, November 1, 1975, Morwood received a telephone call from the Chairman of the Board, on the evening of the same day, offering him the Headmastership. In his letter of acceptance, Morwood stated:

Firstly, my sincere thanks for the confidence you and your Board have shown in me in appointing me as head of one of Australia's great Independent Schools. I am deeply conscious of the honour and mindful of the responsibilities entailed and the problems to be faced. I hope and pray that this confidence is not misplaced and am confident and determined that I can do all within my power to justify the confidence placed in me²

On November 4, the Secretary to the Trustees, H.W. Greenslade, confirmed the appointment by letter:

. . . we now write to confirm your appointment by the Board of Trustees to the position of Headmaster of the Townsville Grammar School to take effect as from 1st January, 1976;³

A further letter from Morwood to the Board of Trustees stated:

I am pleased to accept in writing the position of Headmaster of Townsville Grammar School, to take effect from 1st January, 1976 at a commencing salary of $18,000 per annum, with an Entertaining and Car Allowance of $1000 per annum. I would appreciate it if a contract containing details of conditions and terms of appointment were available for my perusal and signing during my forthcoming visit in early December, although perhaps a draft copy at this stage would be sufficient.⁴

Thus Morwood became the eighth Headmaster of Townsville Grammar and was destined to steer the School into its centennial year, though not without some difficult and demanding periods.

The mood of the times was clearly indicated at the monthly meeting of the School's Parents and Friends' Association, 13.11.75:

Report from Teachers.

The Teachers present informed us that, at their last meeting with the Board of Trustees, they were told that teaching staff would have to be reduced because money is in short supply. During the current year, Mrs J. Saunderson and Mrs J. Loughnan have been asked to resign, and, at present, Mr J. Brodie, Dr W. Crispin and Mr and Mrs P. Osboldstone have tendered their resignations. It was the teachers' considered opinion that none of these teachers would be replaced, and hence 1976 will be commenced with four and a half fewer teachers than 1975. For this reason, they believe it would be impossible to continue good teaching with any lesser number of teachers than is on the staff at this moment. If this should happen, the children will get:

- less individual classroom attention
- less extracurricular activity
- fewer subjects to choose from
- no chance to continue with an extension of cadet activities or girls' camps
- more chance to get into mischief.

The teachers' deliberations were carefully considered by the committee of the P. & F. and general agreement was reached that some of the present problems of the T.G.S. are due to the Board of Trustees being more concerned with the balancing of the budget than the general welfare of the T.G.S.; e.g. we understand that all of the Headmaster's residence is to be paid for out of 1975 income; no reserves have been credited from more successful years to tide the School over more difficult years; there appears to be no attempt to amortise capital expenditure of the life of any project. It is obvious from the above that no distinction is being made between current and capital expenditure. Considering all factors, the teachers believe that, with the current enrolment figures, considered fees for 1976, and allowing for approximate 17% indexation increases in budgeted items (but this may not necessarily be reached), income and expenditure should be reasonably balanced.⁵

Dr C. Hoogland (President) suggested minutes of this meeting be sent to all members of the Board. Further discussion centred around areas of dissatisfaction with the School — lack of communication between parents and teachers. Election of Trustees . . . and that all parents should have the right to vote for Trustees.

Present at this meeting were: Dr C. Hoogland (Chairman), L. Daniels (Headmaster), M. Carnegie, R. Marsh, J. Power, J. Perkins, J. Short, S. Daveson, B. Wilson, and the following members of Staff: J. Butcher, P. Fennell, R. Weir, H. Moore.

Before closing the meeting, Dr Hoogland thanked Mr Daniels, who, in his opinion, had always been extremely accessible for discussion of children's problems and most helpful at all times.⁶

These Minutes brought a speedy response from the Board of Trustees. In a letter to Dr Hoogland, F.D. Sim, Chairman of the Board, stated:

You will recall that the Board had received a copy of the Minutes of the Meeting of your Association which had been held on 13th November, 1975, and was very concerned at some statements contained therein which it believed had absolutely no foundation. The Board was also concerned at some of the statements made by you at the last Speech Night which it felt were not fair having regard to the facts as known to the Board.

Consequently, the Secretary asked you and Mr Marsh to meet the Chairman, Members of the Board and the Secretary so that we could discuss the statements that had been made.

At the meeting, Mr Greenslade produced a financial statement which clearly set out the increased expenditure for 1975 and the estimated income and expenditure for 1976.

As a result of our discussions, which covered financial and other matters, I believe that I am correct in saying that you and Mr Marsh agreed that the criticism which had been made regarding management by the Trustees of the School affairs were unjustified. . . .

At the meeting of the Parents and Friends' Association, 29.1.76, in "Business Arising From Minutes",

The President reported that, after circulation of the minutes, he had a meeting with the Board of Trustees which clarified several problem areas. A letter had since been received from the Board and it appeared that some information presented at the last meeting of this association had been incorrect, e.g. the repayments for the Headmaster's house. It is hoped that there will be better communication between the Board, teachers and Parents and Friends' Association in the future.

Dr T. Pietzsch asked about the extent of the Board's jurisdiction in running the School. The Headmaster (A.D. Morwood) replied that the parents are the clientele of the School and the Headmaster has a vital influence over the Board rather than the other way, as he is the only one with the whole picture of the School. Therefore, through him the P. & F. must have a voice to the Board.²

However, as Daniels rightly predicted, the reduction of the taxation allowance and changing economic conditions seriously affected enrolments. 1976 opened with a school population of 337 (90 boarders, 165 dayboys, 82 girls) compared with the 1975 figure of 386 (126 boarders, 174 dayboys, 86 girls). The dramatic fall in the boarding roll was but a presage of things to come.

Nevertheless, with incredible energy and extraordinary endurance, Morwood set out on a determined course to re-establish the reputation of the School and to extend many of the innovations introduced by his predecessor. In this he was assisted by a dedicated and experienced staff, as well as a supportive Board of Trustees.

The highlight of curriculum development in 1976 was the introduction of a very successful Elective Programme on Wednesday afternoons — Community Service, Drama, Music, First Aid, Chess, Horse Riding, Computer Programming, Learner Driver Course, Shotgun and Rifle Reloading, Motor Mechanics, Cooking, Science, and Orienteering. In addition, the School was re-committed to Inter-School Sport.

The outstanding event of the year was the opening of the new Manual Arts Centre, in June, by Senator Carrick, the Commonwealth Minister for Education, the culmination of the tireless efforts of L.S. Daniels to provide first class facilities for Art and Home Economics.

On two occasions, the School received prominent press and radio coverage for the efforts of students in raising money for the Gymnasium-Assembly Hall Building Fund. The first success was in winning the Magnetic Island Relay Run. Mr M. Crunden (Physical Education Master), and his team, Michael Walton, Leslie Ward and Peter Krogh were placed first and handed their prize of $500 to Mr Bessell, the Acting President of the Parents and Friends' Association at the School's Monday Assembly. Secondly, two IVth Form Students, Robert Hickson and Len Rooke, rode horseback from Hughenden to Townsville between July 7th and 12th. Before the ride began, many Townsville firms donated fuel, horse feed and cash, while Bill Cooke Motors provided a utility to accompany the riders. The Hickson family of "Melinda Downs", Cloncurry, made available six horses, a truck and driver. The support team included "Smithy" from "Melinda Downs", Ms Hickson, Ian Rooke, Peter Hirst, and Ms J. Ratliff, a member of Staff. This venture raised $825.00, of which $700.00 was presented to the Parents and Friends' Association, and a cheque given to the R.S.P.C.A.

However, despite successes in sport and other activities, and despite the emphasis on academic achievement, Morwood's tireless efforts to re-vitalise the School did not find favour with everyone. A letter from a member of the Parents and Friends' Association revealed an unexpected, and indeed surprising, opposition to the new Headmaster:

The recent concert and your inappropriate remarks at the Parents and Friends' meeting has revealed a great lack of communication between yourself and the students.

The administration problems that you inherited from the previous headmaster seemed to have become more of concern to you than the students. Trivialities such as correct uniform, hair lengths, hats, etc. become major issues when communications break down.

While the needs for new classrooms, curtains, carpets and the all over school plan must be pushed forward, the needs of your students should too take priority.

. . . Interact on many occasions seems to have taken over from the student council. The image of Rotary has been pushed for far too long in the school. Such organisations have their place in our society with many of us supporting or actually being members of them. However, many parents feel that they have the necessary expertise in the school situation without interference from outside organisations. The school spirit will only survive when we can all work together not separately.

I have been a vigorous and sincerely interested parent who has promoted the image of the school in the community. I, along with others, am slowly being disillusioned. . . . As you said when you first came, "a headmaster could very much become an autocrat", and as other parents look around them at other schools they are beginning to realise how true this may be.⁹

Note: The Minutes of the September Meeting, P. & F. Assn. are missing.

The Chairman of the Board replied to this letter.

In his Speech Night Report, November 24, 1976, Morwood opened his address with these words:

I would be most remiss in not commencing my Report by paying tribute to the very fine contribution of my predecessor, Mr Len Daniels, over a ten year period as Headmaster: the School made excellent progress during this time. You have only to look about you at some of our very fine buildings to witness evidence of material achievements, but of course his total contribution was far greater than that. In my contact with him, I found him to be a most courteous, considerate and dedicated man, with a deep affection for the School.¹⁰

Enrolments increased steadily over the next ten years:

Year	Boarders	Dayboys	Girls	Total
1977	103	221	100	424
1978	81	245	123	449
1979	86	251	131	468
1980	95	262	149	506
1981	93	279	177	549
1982	107	280	194	581
1983	105	274	207	586
1984	115	269	222	606
1985	110	262	227	599
1986	96	290	223	609
1987	88	294	229	611
1988	92	295	223	610

1977 and 1978 were years of quiet achievement. The steady increase in student numbers enabled the Trustees to expand the staff and to widen the curriculum. In large measure, the increase in enrolments was due to the introduction, in Grade 11, of a Technical Course which involved Woodwork, Metalwork, Drawing and Design, Geometrical Drawing, as well as allied subjects. Such a course gave the less academically gifted boy the opportunity to achieve in practical subjects and in turn, with its emphasis on pre-apprenticeship training, attracted parents accordingly. Both the Trustees of this time and Morwood interpreted the trend in Education accurately and merited the support given by the people of Townsville and North Queensland.

However, it must be borne in mind that the previous Headmaster, L.S. Daniels, introduced Woodwork in 1970 and was, indeed, most fortunate in securing the services of W.G. Lloyd, Manual Arts Master at the Townsville State High. During the Christmas holidays, 1970, Lloyd converted the old "Girls' Room" into a Woodwork Room, a remarkable feat in view of the fact that he had no assistance. In the following year, a small garage, adjacent to the modest Woodwork Room, became the Metalwork Workshop. From these humble beginnings, Lloyd laid the foundations for the superbly equipped Manual Arts Centre of today.

In addition to the development of Manual Arts, the Trustees embarked on a program of upgrading classrooms and dormitories, and beautifying the grounds. The Administration Officer, Ms M. Easterbrook, encouraged and guided by Morwood, commenced this very important task in 1978 with commendable results. Over a long period of time, successive Headmasters attempted to improve the grounds and the buildings, but lacked finance to achieve their goals.

1978 was a most successful year for the Air Training Corps. Under the leadership of Flight Lieutenant W.G. Lloyd, it won every Flight trophy possible, and Cadet Under Officer, Mark Pitt, capped an outstanding school year by winning the Tom Abbott Memorial Flying Scholarship. The Army Cadet Unit, commanded by Captain J. Butcher, and assisted by Lieutenants J. Bachmeier, P. Donnelly and C. Siyambala, also had a good year, but, because of the lack of Commonwealth Government funding, it was only a matter of time before both Units closed down, as they did in 1979.

However, believing that he was indispensable and that it was of paramount importance that he control every facet of School activity, rather than delegate, Morwood did not spare himself. In addition, because he believed that public relations were so necessary for the School's development, his membership of numerous organisations and committees was abnormally high. At the request of the Board of Trustees, April, 1978, he provided the following list:

Chairman, Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme, Townsville and District
 Board of Teacher Education, Queensland, Admissions' Committee
 Inservice Committee, Association of Independent Schools Queensland
 Headmasters' Conference member

President, Townsville Principals and Deputy Principals' Association
 Immediate Past President, Townsville Secondary Schools' Sports Association Independent Schools' Representative on North Queensland Regional Board of State Development Committee
 National Fitness Council Area Committee
 Member of the Australian College of Education, North Queensland Branch.¹¹

Because of his heavy involvement in the School and in outside organisations, and because of his continued reluctance to delegate responsibility, Morwood's health deteriorated early in 1979. As a result, he was granted sick leave for part of the first term. Fortunately, the School was able to obtain the services of Mr George Herring, Chairman of the Moderation Committee for Mathematics, Chief Moderator for Mathematics, and former Principal of Pimlico High School, Townsville, to teach Morwood's Senior Mathematics classes during his absence, and for the remainder of the year. Regrettably, Herring resigned during the last term of the year. His departure was, indeed, a great blow to the School.

Note: Herring was a member of the Townsville Grammar Staff, 1957-1958.

Not surprisingly, many parents assumed that the appointment of a new Headmaster would miraculously solve problems of discipline and misbehaviour within a very short period, but the pernicious values of society and their influence on students made Morwood's task all the more difficult. Apart from inevitable expulsions in his first three years as Headmaster, Morwood was confronted with a major problem early in 1977 — a group of senior students on a Geography excursion to the Atherton Tablelands experimented with mushrooms. After a prolonged investigation as well as consultations with the Drug Squad, the Chairman of the Board, F.D. Sim, and the Deputy Chairman, Professor R.S.F. Campbell, the Trustees were informed that

- . . . some VIth and Vth Form students were suspended for drug experimentation
- . . . two Prefects were demoted.¹²

This unfortunate and morally unacceptable behaviour marred the splendid progress that Morwood had achieved by hard work and self-sacrifice. Six years later, an incident of a more serious nature shocked the School when an investigation revealed that a number of students were involved in marijuana experimentation. Regrettably, The Townsville Daily Bulletin published an article entitled, "Grammar Students Expelled – Drugs Alleged". The writer reported that three students were expelled and that Morwood stated that they would not attend classes for the rest of the year. "I am quite sure that there is no drug ring operating in the School," he said. According to Morwood, Townsville's drug problem was on a smaller scale than elsewhere . . . "There is a firm policy to bring it under control here and although it may be in a small way, we should not pretend it is not there," he said. He believed that the expulsion, the first due to drugs, would act as a deterrent. Even so, he and the teachers would keep watch . . . "I get used to dealing with a dozen matters at a time involving students," he said. "Actually, I think this is a terribly minor thing, and I stress that people should not get the idea we have a drug ring in the School."¹³

At the end of 1979, the Deputy Headmaster, Burke Von Wald (affectionately known as "Hank"), retired after twenty-two years of dedicated service. Morwood paid tribute to Von Wald in his Speech Night Address, and admitted that, because of their vastly different personalities, they did not always see "eye to eye". Nevertheless, he appreciated Von Wald's "deep abiding loyalty to, and affection for, the School, his strong sense of justice tempered with mercy, his unobtrusive efficiency and organising ability. In particular, . . . his compassion and concern for every individual student, a special effort always being made to rehabilitate the rogues and the villains."¹⁴

After service as a Colonel in the United States Air Force and a war-time posting in Townsville, Von Wald joined the Townsville Grammar Staff in 1957 and was appointed the School's first Deputy Headmaster in 1962. His contribution in the classroom and in sport was inestimable.

The appointment of William Muller as the new Deputy Headmaster was announced immediately after Von Wald's farewell. Muller came from the Ballarat and Queen's Anglican Grammar School, Victoria, where he was Housemaster. Morwood pointed out that Muller "is highly qualified . . . has written many papers and given lectures in his major field of History, and has had administrative experience in Queensland Independent Schools when he was Director of Studies at The Southport School. He is an outstanding sportsman, being Captain of the Zambian National Cricket team before emigrating to Australia in 1966".¹⁵

Muller was to have a profound influence on Sport, particularly Rugby Union, from 1980 onwards.

Chapter 13

The Nineteen Eighties-The Golden Years

Despite economic uncertainties, the 1980 school year opened with a record enrolment of 507, a trend which continued during successive years. The remarkable increase of 200 in the School population over the period 1976-1980 was indeed a vindication of the policies of both Trustees and Headmaster. Because of this rapid growth, the Board decided to set a ceiling of 600 students on the grounds that, above this figure, personal identity would be irretrievably lost and pastoral care would become infinitely more difficult. Needless to say, the expansion of the School was due, in large measure, to the attraction of the Manual Arts Course, introduced by W.G. Lloyd in 1970, and to the grim realisation, on the part of parents, that school leavers at Grade Ten faced the prospect of bleak unemployment and, more importantly, an improbable future.

Consequently, Morwood insisted that the School's major responsibility was to provide a range of role models among its teachers and a variety of healthy life-style options in a wide sporting, cultural and recreational programme, including outdoor education. In addition, he made it quite clear that the central place for skill development and the inculcation of a positive work ethic was the classroom. This philosophy appealed both to staff and parents, with the result that confidence in the School was finally established.

The Board of Trustees worked with the Headmaster and gave every support to his initiatives. In his endeavours to rebuild the reputation of the School, Morwood utilised the skills of a dedicated staff (teaching and ancillary), the Parents and Friends' Association, and a vital Ladies' Auxiliary. More importantly, the advice and counsel of two remarkable men — Frank Sim, Chairman of the Board since 1972, and Harold Greenslade, Secretary to the Board since 1952 (both Old Boys of the School) — were immeasurable. The wise guidance of Sim during crises and periods of disquiet, and the financial expertise of Greenslade, contributed, in no small measure, to the progress and the viability of the School.

But it was Morwood's driving force and his vision that gave the School its momentum. Ever mindful of public criticism and of the need to create in the community a good public image, he strengthened the links between State Schools and Grammar by taking a leading role in the Townsville Principals' Association and the Townsville Secondary Schools Sports' Association, by encouraging students to participate in community service, and by making comments on current educational problems through the local Press. Indeed, his views on Education were received with considerable respect.

However, by 1981, a "Waiting List" was established for all classes from Grade Eight to Grade Twelve, an indication of the growing impact of the School on Townsville and North Queensland. More importantly, Morwood's deep concern for the individual, his continued refusal to discard the "problem child", his firm belief in the family unit as the basis of society, and his very real concern for his staff were significant factors which united the School and uplifted the educational sights of parents, and, indeed, students.

With the introduction in 1981 of R.O.S.B.A. (Review of School Based Assessment) which replaced the Radford Scheme, the School played a leading role in the implementation of this system. In particular, Ms Margaret Herring, a member of the English Staff since 1976, and subsequently Head of the English Department from 1986, was appointed R.O.S.B.A. English Consultant for the State of Queensland in 1981. Beyond doubt, Herring brought a new dimension to the teaching of English in the School, as well as throughout Queensland.

1981 was also an outstanding year for sport. For the first time, students of Independent Schools were eligible for North Queensland and State Secondary School representation. Mathew Elliott and Gillian Wesche represented the State in Cricket and Basketball respectively. Possibly the highlight of the many sports played was the defeat, for the third year in succession, of All Souls' School, Charters Towers, by the First Rugby League XIII. This splendid effort was due to the coaching of a devoted member of staff, John O'Brien. Rugby Union teams, coached by the Deputy Headmaster, W.J. Muller, were also successful. Only a few years were to elapse before the code of Rugby Union completely overshadowed Rugby League. In large measure, this was due to the support given by Rugby Union Officials, parents, the growing popularity of the Code, and the dedication of the Deputy Headmaster, W.J. Muller.

One of the greatest curriculum advances in 1982 was the development of a structured Outdoor Education Programme for Grades Eight, Nine, and Eleven. Because "Life and Leisure" skills were of increasing importance, the School provided students with appropriate experiences centred in camps in the Herbert River area, some seventy kilometres north of Townsville. A team of enthusiastic members of Staff — W. Knack, L. Jarman, R. Knight, D. Horn, B. Christensen, J. Pomeroy, J. Ratliff — led by R. Shelton, planned and implemented the Programme. An Environmental Camp for all Grade Eight students, at Paluma Dam, some sixty kilometres north of Townsville, was carefully organised by R. Weir, C. Hudson, G. Perry, B. Christensen, W. Knack, J. Pomeroy, C. Siyambala, M. Astill. Based on a more subject oriented or classroom theme, this Camp proved most successful. Despite initial misgivings on the part of some members of Staff, "Outdoor Education" offered a challenge to both staff and students.

Because the number of girls had increased from 69 in 1976 to 206 in 1981, two separate Senior and Junior Girls' Camps became necessary. Ms M. Manley-Harris and Ms J. Ratliff were responsible for this popular recreational activity, which gave girls the opportunity to develop individual skills and qualities of leadership. The Outdoor Education Programme envisaged by Morwood was firmly established and eventually became compulsory for all students. Probably the most exciting activity was the Grade Eleven "Adventure Camp" which included rafting down the Herbert River.

In December, 1982, Ms Marion Easterbrook retired after twenty-one years of loyal service, the last seven of which she was the Administration Officer. There was hardly a corner of the School which did not bear witness to her incredible skill at implementing, and in many cases initiating, renovation projects. The paved "Malls" with their tables and seats were the result of her ingenuity and planning. In addition to her role as "Works Supervisor", she also controlled the School Office with commendable efficiency. Mr S.H. Freemantle, M.I.A.A., F.C.I.S., who was appointed Administrator in 1983, completely re-organised and computerised the Office. Computer Systems were installed for Accounts, Reports, Records, Pocket Money, Rolls and many other facets of Administration. Indeed, Freemantle was responsible for developing financial efficiency and an expertise in School Funding which was recognised and sought after by Independent Schools throughout Queensland. He resigned in August, 1986, and was replaced by G. Rudrum, A.A.S.A.

1982 was also the year in which four remarkably talented students represented Queensland in Sport — Vicki Hamilton in Water Polo at the Australian Schools'

Championship in Melbourne after previously captaining the Townsville and North Queensland teams; Gillian Wesche, for the second year in succession, in Basketball in an interstate series against New South Wales at Wollongong and Sydney. As well, she was also a member of the victorious Townsville and North Queensland teams; Rebecca Xinos, in Athletics, also represented Queensland at the Pacific School Games where she reached the final of the 11 year old 100 m and won a Gold Medal in the Relay; Richard Barrett in the Australian Schools' Cross-Country Championships in Canberra where he ran a creditable 12th. Barrett also won the Townsville and North Queensland Open Cross-Country Championships, as well as the Townsville and North Queensland 5000 m titles in record time.

State Representatives in 1983 were Nicky Nicholas, Athletics, and Grant Rundle, Athletics.

However, the highlight of 1983 was undoubtedly the performance at the Civic Theatre of "Entertainment Through The Ages" so ably produced by Ms M. Manley-Harris and directed by Ms G. Perry, with the splendid co-operation of many staff and some 250 students. In another cultural field, Helen Bird achieved great success at State level in both adult (Rostrum) and student (Voice of Youth) public speaking competitions, whilst the debating teams under the direction of Chris van Roy performed admirably. Indeed, the School no longer relied entirely on sport as an image-maker.

On August 16 and 17, 1984, theatre-goers and lovers of Light Opera were enchanted with Grammar's spectacular and exciting production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado". It brought up to date the librettos by replacing some of the Victorian allusions with comments on contemporary Australian life. Popular songs in the traditional (and much loved) form were retained, while some of the lesser-known ones were substituted by modern "hits" which conveyed similar ideas. The whole production was brilliant, youthful, colourful, witty and vibrant, and was the culmination of six months' hard work on the part of Staff, Parents and students. Produced by M. Manley-Harris and directed by G. Perry, "The Mikado" involved a large number of enthusiastic members of staff: M. Herring, E. McKee, R. Mitchell, J. Pomeroy, B. Christensen, J. Clark, P. Rogers, A. Kuskopf, P. Ryde, S. Hunter, W. Knack, G. Browne, G. Parker. In addition, Parents, Past Students, the Ladies' Auxiliary and members of Townsville business firms gave wholehearted support to this mammoth undertaking.

However, sport still continued to play a vital role in the School. Queensland State Representatives were Tina Hamilton, Water Polo, and Brett Trigger, Golf.

As the School grew larger and more complex, so did the work of the Trustees who, as well as their monthly meetings, spent many hours in valuable committee consultations in the areas of buildings, grounds and finance. In 1983, the Deputy Chairman, Professor R. Campbell, Mr Neville Lindley and Dr L. Ward retired after many years of unselfish service. Professor Campbell's astute and balanced viewpoint, and his ability to see the whole picture quickly, Neville Lindley's strong sense of morality and his detailed knowledge of finance, and Dr Ward's quiet compassion as well as her advisory roles in such areas as Sick Bay, the Dining Room and the Building Programmes, were inestimable assets to the School. Vacancies on the Board were filled by Mr Errol Wenck, Ms Marcia Bird and Mr Ross MacKee.

The chief feature of 1985 was the outstanding performance of boys in sport — Cricket, Tennis, Basketball, Athletics, Water Polo and Canoe Polo. The First Rugby League XIII won yet another Premiership and Rugby Union, coached by the Deputy Headmaster, W. Muller, quite overshadowed League in participation and interest. As well as a First XV, the School fielded three additional teams — the Under 16, the Under 15, and a Weight Team (maximum 68 kilograms). After six years of Rugby Union, the School produced an Australian Schoolboys' Player, Sam Scott-Young, as well as successfully hosting three schools from overseas.

Yorkston, J. Feenstra, L. Tytherleigh, S. Scott-Young, K. Jaavuo, T. Grant, S. Meyer, S. Collins, J. Holloway, P. Wright.

Another student who gained State and National honours was Sharyn Gist who represented both Queensland and Australia in Water Polo, 1983, 1984 and 1985.

1986 was another triumphant year in boys' sport with Premiership wins in Rugby League, coached by J. Bunnell, and Cricket, coached by A. Morwood. Rugby Union was again very strong under the guidance of W. Muller and K. Harron, and there were three State Representative selections — Ian Maslen as Queensland Schoolboys' Captain, Aaron Gold and Joe Holloway. Gold also represented Australia in the Under 16 Rugby Union Team.

An Under 13 Rugby Union team was introduced in 1987 and won the local final 14-4. The Under 15 team, coached by Lt. Colonel P. Gould, a parent, were winners of the Under 15 Club Championship. The 1987 First XV maintained an unbeaten record locally, retained The Malanda Trophy (North Queensland Champion), and the Ron Barnes Trophy was won for the seventh year in succession. The team's inspiring half back, Aaron Gold, capped a great season by being selected in the Australian Schools' team to play Ireland. Thus Grammar had two Schoolboy Internationals in three years, a record many southern schools would be proud of.

From its humble beginnings in 1981, when it was first played as a major sport, Rugby Union, by 1987, finally eclipsed its traditional rival, Rugby League.

1987 Queensland/Australian Representatives:

Jeff Gray: In 1987, Gray represented Queensland in Cross-Country. After gaining second placings in the Townsville and North Queensland Championships, he went on to gain a fine 6th placing in the State Championships in Brisbane. At the National Schools Championships in Canberra, he was placed 20th, a fine performance against the best opposition from around the Nation.

Aaron Gold: After representing in the Queensland Schools Rugby Union Team and gaining selection in the Australian Under 16 Rugby Union Team in 1986, Gold was again selected in the 1987 Queensland team. He represented Queensland against the Irish Schoolboys and then played in the Australian Schools Championships in Brisbane where he gained selection in the Australian team.

HEADMASTER'S REPORT, 100th SPEECH NIGHT, 1987

Mr Chairman, Mr Roberts, Distinguished Guests, Ladies and Gentlemen, it is with great pride that I present to you the 100th Annual Report of the Townsville Grammar School. Tonight we pass from our first century into our second, and it is fitting that the Board of Trustees has asked as our Guest of Honour, Mr Ian Roberts, who was not only our longest serving Trustee through his 27 years as a member of the Board, but also Chairman of the Board for 10 years between 1961–1970. Mr Roberts has also served our local community for many years with distinction as a senior partner of the respected legal firm of Roberts, Leu and North. Mr Roberts himself, his father, his children and his grandchildren have all been students of this School.

It is a source of great satisfaction that at the time of our Centenary the reputation of the School in academic, sporting and cultural fields is probably at its highest point in its 100 year old history. In spite of the grave economic and social ills that prevail in our society today, Townsville Grammar can face its second 100 years with confidence. However, we will not do so unless we draw on the qualities displayed by many of those who have gone before us: determination, loyalty, a strong work ethic, maintenance of standards, integrity, compassion and tolerance. Students of this School are well aware that "tolerance" is my favourite and oft quoted word.

In my introduction to the excellent School History, shortly to be completed by Mr Kim Allen, I quote the line from Clough's poem

"Say not the struggle naught availeth"

I hope we are and remain worthy of the battles our forefathers fought and won — battles indeed they were, for example it was only in the early 1970s that sufficient money became available to enable the Trustees to undertake the remarkable building and equipment programme that it has achieved since that time.

The future is exciting: our reputation for academic achievement due to quality teaching has risen remarkably in the last seven years. We now offer 27 subjects at Senior level compared with the 14 in 1976, and are introducing in 1988 the culturally and physically broadening subjects of Theatre and Health and Physical Education.

We are undertaking the largest building project ever — the erection of a $1.3 million Gymnasium, with a stage attached for assemblies and drama. This is a most worthy Centenary Project, a vital one in our harsh North Queensland climate, and I hope many of you have already given, or will lend, financial support to it.

The Gym is the cornerstone of our Centenary Celebrations: I am sorry that our Week of Celebrations had to be transferred from April to July because the Gym will not be completed by Foundation Day, on April 16. Suitable recognition of our exact 100 years will be held in April, but the main Celebrations will take place from July 16 to 23. The three key functions are the Centenary Dinner, a Past Grammarians' Celebration and a Ball, but many other events will be included. You have already received notice of the programme, and we shall continue to provide updates as we move into the Centenary Year. Those of you who are past students will be pleased to hear that Past Headmasters Tommy Whight and Maurie Blank have already expressed their intention of joining us during Centenary Week. I hope all of you who are listening to or later read this Report are also able to join us for our Celebrations — you will receive a warm welcome.

I thank many of those who have contributed to a successful year, and point out some of the year's highlights. In my view it is often not the spectacular highlights that give the greatest satisfaction, but those small things which restore one's faith in the basic goodness of our sometimes maligned young people. For example, at the end of last year our long serving Audio Visual Assistant George Ericksson retired. In June this year he developed terminal cancer, and in early October he died after four months of increasing pain and suffering. During these four months our boarders voluntarily tended and watered his beloved trees and plants twice a week without fail, without any compulsion or complaint. My pride in these boys is surely shared by you. I do not go along with those who decry the youth of today: certainly they are faced with more temptations than we had, and often succumb to them, but it was an adult society, not themselves, who placed those temptations there. Let us put our own houses in order, and youth will follow our lead.

I must also acknowledge the remarkable roles played by Deputy Headmaster Mr Bill Muller. I was delighted to appoint Maths Subject Master Mr Bob Knight as Senior Resident Master to succeed Mr Allen, and Mr Knight has already been a tower of strength to the Boarding House. However, the building of his Residence was beset by contractual and Government delays, and he has only just moved in this Term. During all of Terms 1, 2 and 3, Mr Muller was Senior Resident Master as well as Deputy Head, an unheard of double role in Australian boarding schools.

Mr Muller achieved wonders in instilling self discipline, work ethic and pastoral care into our boarding community, and the prospects for boarding in 1988 are exceptionally bright. The acquisition of a Residence in Paxton Street opposite my own Residence will help greatly, as it provides accommodation for older boys midway between Dormitory and University College. It is also pleasing to note that in 1988 all boarders will have their own private study facility, and will not return to the classrooms in which they have spent their day.

I have thanked Mr Muller for his work as interim Senior Resident. As Headmaster, no one could be more fortunate than I to have a Deputy possessing such qualities of loyalty, energy, conscientiousness and concern for young people. His efforts in placing Townsville Grammar on the Rugby Union map have also been quite remarkable. He has been ably assisted by Asst Deputy Head Mr Weir, and Senior Mistress Mrs Manley-Harris, whose social welfare work with younger children has been difficult and demanding.

Mr and Mrs Weir move in next year to take charge of the Seniors' Boarding House — I can think of no one better fitted for this task. We will have a first class senior boarding team of Messrs Knight, Muller and Weir. I thank our assistant Resident Staff this year for their capable efforts — Messrs P. James, P. Cristaudo, L. Smithwick, M. Best, B. James, V. Wheeler and J. Danaher. Mrs Linden and her domestic Staff continue to provide an excellent catering and laundry service, often at short notice and involving long hours. Sister Lloyd ministers efficiently and compassionately to the health of both boarders and day students.

All our teaching Departments are strong, with excellent professional commitment. It is trite to say that school teaching is a stressful profession as there are many others which are equally so in different ways, but having to "perform" all the time and to be a role model constantly observed can be draining. The social worker role of the teacher is certainly increasing, and never before is co-operation between the home and the school more important. I congratulate our staff in the manner in which they carry out their duties and those tasks above and beyond the call of duty. I believe we give much more than lip service to pastoral care in this school. The current political and economic unrest in education is no help either — fortunately this school seems less affected than most.

Miss Herring's experience and skill provides great leadership to the English Department — she has been ably helped by Mrs Perry, Mrs Dean, Mrs Pannia, Mrs Hannay, Mrs McKee, Mr Turner, Mr Christensen and Mr Berrigan. I thank part timers Mrs Allen, Mrs Barrett and Mrs Pettiford who took over when Mr Berrigan left us at the end of Semester 1. It is with great regret that the exceptional talents of Mrs Dean are lost to us as she moves to Brisbane in 1988 owing to her husband's change of business. Mrs Dean is our Magazine Editor — I am sure you will all enjoy reading it. While on journalism, it is pleasing to see our internal Newspaper "The Edition" win the District Award.

I am pleased to announce the appointment of two new first class English teachers for 1988, selected from a record number of applicants. They are Ms Anita Jetnikoff, who was one of James Cook University's best ever graduates, and Mr Barry Taylor, an experienced gifted teacher, who in 1979 was the founding Principal of Ryan Catholic Community College and is still its Principal. On his proposed transfer by the Catholic Education Office, he elected to stay in Townsville with his family, much to Grammar's gain.

Mrs Perry will reduce her English teaching slightly in 1988 in a very good cause — she will introduce the exciting subject Theatre to Form 5 students. Her skills are legendary in this field, and there are many students possessing considerable dramatic talent who will benefit from the course.

The important field of Mathematics is professionally and competently taught, with Subject Master Mr Knight receiving good assistance from Messrs Jenkins, Ryde, Moore, Hudson, Barrett, Morwood, Mrs Hospers, Mrs Lehmann and Miss Reeves. Students have performed exceptionally well in Australian and Queensland Mathematics Competitions.

These days I do not include Computing with Mathematics – Computing serves all subject areas, and it is of great credit to Computing Subject Master Mr Hudson that nearly all staff possess competence in this field and can apply this expertise to their subject areas. Our second large Computer Centre came on line for Semester 2, and we are now well served in this area. However, we are aware that rapid technological change will never allow us to become complacent and we will have to modify, adjust and expand continually.

The teaching of Science is interesting and fruitful: Mr Weir adds the roles of Science Subject Master to his position of Assistant Deputy Head with his usual calm but thorough approach. I thank his assistants Mrs Manley-Harris, Miss Reeves, Mr Barrett, Mr Parker, Mr Ryde and Mr Coleman. For the second year in succession Senior student Keiran Mathieu, in spite of family bereavement, won the State "Beyond 2000 Science Award" with another brilliant original sailing invention. He then went on to win the National Award – a truly remarkable achievement.

Tertiary Entrance is always high profile in the educational spotlight, but many people forget about the 75% who do not proceed to Tertiary studies. Our Manual Arts Department plays a leading role in the general training of apprentices, and does it extremely well. I thank Subject Master Mr Jarman, Mr Harrison, Mr Brown, Mr Wheeler, Mr Knack, Mr Stapleton (Semester 1) and Mr Motti (Semester 2).

I believe Social Science is an increasingly important subject area in this day and age, and that History, Geography, Economics and Citizenship Education should never take a back seat to English, Maths and Science. I thank Social Science Master Mr Muller and teachers Mrs Pannia, Mrs Dean, Mrs Speck, Mr Siyambala, Mrs Hussain and Mr Christensen. Political awareness is an essential skill which cannot be learned solely from a television set.

French is still a viable, lively subject in this school, well taught by Mrs Ratliff and Mrs McKee. I am mindful of the pressures on schools to teach another language such as Japanese, and I hope that this will be possible at Grammar in the future.

Commerce is well led by Mrs Rogers, with the assistance of Mrs Butcher and Mrs Hussain. Art remains very strong and interesting owing to Mr Knack's leadership and Mr Dearing's assistance, along with part-timer Mrs Knack. Mrs Pomeroy took up her position again as Home Economics Subject Mistress after her year's leave of absence, and was joined by previous valued part-timer Mrs Mason, who replaced Mrs Williams early in the year.

I have been delighted with the progress of Music in the school this year, and congratulate warmly our new Director Mrs Jill Jenkins. Interest has been rekindled to a high degree, and it is wonderful to see the emergence of choirs, orchestras and bands, who achieved great success in the Pacific Festival and the Eisteddfod. A splendid performance by the Music Department was well received at James Cook University in October. Mrs Bradfield has filled the part-time Music teacher role very capably.

Mr Harron's calm but efficient approach serves both Physical Education and Sport in the school very well. The addition of the Board of Secondary School Studies Health and Physical Education will add greatly to the professionalism of this Department, and of course the new Gymnasium will be an invaluable asset. Miss Clarke has provided quiet but capable assistance to Mr Harron – she resigns at the end of this year and leaves with the school's gratitude. I am currently making a replacement appointment from a large number of capable applicants.

It is important to provide expert support to children with literacy problems, and T.G.S. has been well served by its specialist Tutors Mr Ainge (Semester 1) and Mr Stewart (Semester 2). Mr Moore has done splendid work with our small Grade 7 class, which is really closer to a Secondary Form 1 as in Southern States. I thank Mrs Holt (Librarian), Mrs Astill (Assist Librarian), Mrs Sayers (Aide) and Mrs Anstee (Special Purpose Library Aide) for their fine work in the Library. It has not been an easy period for them as we are making the transition to computerisation in the Library, as well as setting up a Security system. I am pleased to announce the appointment of Chief Teacher-Librarian for 1988 of Mrs J. Hunter, a very qualified, capable Teacher-Librarian. This appointment means that Mrs Holt will leave us at the end of this year, and I thank her most sincerely for her expert and conscientious work over the last six years. Audio Visual Aide Mr Ross Inglis and his assistant Mr David Rees have not only kept our A.V. Department running but have given valuable Computer service. I thank most sincerely all our Aides for their cheerful and capable assistance — Mrs Hudson (Laboratory), Mrs Tinsley (Home Economics), Mrs Cavanagh (Art), Mrs Stewart, Mrs Mitchell and Mrs Christensen (Teachers' Aides). The new Teachers' Annexe with Mrs Mitchell and Mrs Christensen in charge has been of invaluable help to our teaching staff.

The roles of Student Counsellor, Careers Adviser and Work Experience Co-ordinator are increasingly important ones in schools today, and we are fortunate indeed that Mrs O'Donnell possesses such skill in these areas. Please do not hesitate to consult her at any time.

In the increasingly complex demands made upon the administration of a school, good Office support is essential. In his first complete year as Administrator/Bursar, Mr Grant Rudrum has performed his tasks with unfailing good humour and efficiency. He has the loyal support of a most capable staff in Mrs Inglis, Mrs Reeves, Mrs Whittle, Miss Lawrence and my own invaluable Secretary Mrs Lowrey.

Foreman Mr Kevin Couper's work ethic and expertise is an example to us all, and he possesses a fine support team in Mr Gallagher, Mr Easterbrook, Mr Canning, Mr Sayed (to Term 4) and Mr van Genderen (Term 4).

The Parents and Friends' Association continues to focus their attention away from fund raising, although parents' voluntary contributions are appreciated and wisely spent. Educational matters and direct advice to the Headmaster are the main platform, and useful staff presentations have been made in the fields of Computing, Outdoor Education, English, How to Live with your Teenager and Subject Selection. I urge more Parents to take advantage of these useful evenings — on occasions attendance has been a little disappointing. My thanks to P. and F. President Professor Harris for his leadership.

The Ladies' Auxiliary has once again been very active in fund raising functions and service to the School via the Bookshop and Clothing Pool under the care of Mrs Carnes and Mrs Milward. Mrs Roberts has shown exceptional vigour and dedication in her role as President. I thank the Ladies' Auxiliary for their splendid production of the Centenary Recipe Book: Patroness Mrs Morwood and her team are to be congratulated.

The Past Grammarians' Association goes from strength to strength as we approach our Centenary year. President Mr Suthers, Secretary Mrs Sayers and their Executive have laid many interesting plans for Centenary Celebrations. A special joy is the strong awakening of the South-East Queensland Branch of the Association under the leadership of President Mr Gillingham and Secretary Mrs Nelson. They are supporting the Centenary strongly and held a well attended Reunion Dinner in September.

I thank also the Centenary Committee, which consists of representatives of all organisations associated with the school and which has met several times to plan the Centenary.

The Board of Trustees is tireless in administering the school in difficult economic, political and social times. Our independence is often threatened by increasingly bureaucratic demands from both Commonwealth and State Governments, and your Board and Headmaster have to play complex reactive and proactive roles. I thank your hard working, conscientious Chairman Mr Frank Sim, Deputy Chairman Mr Jim Thompson, Messrs Ross Marsh, Arthur Bloxham, Errol Wenck, Professor Ted Scott and Mrs Marcia Bird. As well as their corporate Board role, each member takes special responsibility outside normal meeting time in areas such as finance, building and grounds, legal, education and health. My thanks also to long serving Board Secretary Mr Harold Greenslade.

There were many highlights in student activity this year, among which should be

The Stage Band, 1988.

OUTSTANDING SPORTSMEN, 1988

David Ahern: After representing Townsville and North Queensland Schools in Water Polo, David was selected in the Queensland Schools Team to play in the Australian Schools' Championships in Sydney.

Andrew Ford: In 1988, Andrew gained representation in the Townsville Schools, North Queensland Schools, Townsville Under 19 and the North Queensland Under 19 Rugby Union Teams. His most outstanding achievement was his selection as Captain of the Queensland State Schools Team which played against England at the Gold Coast.

Aaron Gold: Aaron completed a magnificent schoolboy Rugby Union career in 1988. A previous Australian Under 16 representative in 1986, and a member of the Australian Team against the Ireland Schoolboys in 1987, he retained his position as Halfback in matches against both New Zealand and England Teams in 1988. He is the only player to represent North Queensland Schools and Queensland State Schools for three consecutive years, as well as being an Australian representative for two years in succession.

Blake Gold: Blake was selected in the Townsville Under 16, the North Queensland Under 16 (New Zealand Tour) and the Queensland Under 16 Rugby Union Teams, 1988. While playing for Queensland, he was selected in the Australian Under 16 Team.

numbered the success of the Music performances, journalism and Keiran Mathieu's double Science invention triumph.

Aaron Gold is possibly the youngest Rugby Union footballer ever to play in the Australian Open Schoolboys' team: he is a deserving Sportsman of the Year. The school's reputation for Rugby Union is very high indeed. Other sporting success included wins in the local competition in Open Boys' Tennis and Under 14 Cricket.

Successful camps and field trips were held in Outdoor Education and various subject areas: I am particularly indebted to Mr Steve Coleman for his expert leadership in Outdoor Education and Mr Weir for his general organisation. A Leadership Camp at Form 5 (for boarders) was also very fruitful. I thank all staff for their willing involvement.

Miss Herring has worked tirelessly in the cause of Debating, not only internally as she has relieved me of my role as Debating Co-ordinator for all Townsville Schools.

The general co-operation and the study of the Senior form has been very good indeed, with only a few exceptions. I congratulate School Duxes Julie Brice and Helen Leong on their achievements and thank most sincerely School Captains Owen Bobeldyk and Gail Hamilton for their cheerful, unobtrusive but hard working leadership. Head Boarder Andrew Ford has been a fine example to his fellow boarders.

Student Council under Rodney Edward's leadership and Mr Christensen's tactful guidance has been an excellent source of advice to me. The Interact Club, led by Presidents Owen Bobeldyk and Steven Bond, has been most active. I thank Miss Reeves for her quiet but helpful role as Liaison Officer.

I consider it proper for a Headmaster in his Report to comment upon some of the major issues affecting our school, and others. It is impossible to classify these issues as political, social or educational, as the boundaries between these are hopelessly blurred.

Firstly, the Amendments to the Education Act proposed by the State Minister for Education Mr Powell. The Independent Sector is strongly opposed to any amendment which appears to be placing Educational Boards such as the Board of Secondary School Studies more closely under direct political control, and placing curriculum control more strongly in the hands of the Education Department, even though our working relationship with the Department is excellent. I believe structures should exist so that all teachers, parents and members of the community can contribute equally towards producing what we should teach our children and monitoring the teaching, learning and assessment processes. Mr Powell could quite probably be genuine when he assures us that the contribution of the Independent Sector will be enhanced and not diminished, but I am not sure that the bureaucrats will allow this to happen. It is interesting to note that the National Party Education Committee is strongly opposed to Mr Powell's Amendments!

The proposed establishment of an Economic Advisory Council for Education in this State was also opposed by many as it was feared that too much emphasis might be placed on the acquiring of narrow vocational practical and theoretical skills i.e. a "factory fodder model". I do not see this as a concern regarding the State Government, but I do in relation to the Commonwealth Government's direction. I believe we are well past the days of Plato's ancient Greece when the philosophical development of the mind seemed to be the sole aim of education, but the very name change of Mr Dawkins' portfolio from Education Minister to Minister for Employment, Education and Training fills me with some foreboding. The development of the whole child must not be neglected, and I can do no better than refer you to our Prospectus which states "The aim of the school is to provide boys and girls with a liberal education, to encourage co-operation, capability, leadership and flexibility, and so equip each student with a basis for responsible citizenship".

On another issue, the presence of AIDS in our community is too serious to be used as the political football it rapidly became in Queensland. I am pleased that I could tackle this issue without political constraint by consulting all the appropriate expert agencies at great length, advising and receiving support from Trustees, Parents and Staff, then publishing what I hope is relevant useful information to both parents and students, including a paper on values as well as medical advice. Carefully selected programmes were then conducted with students. I thank the parental community for their support in this matter.

school leavers, particularly in Queensland where a greater shortage of places than in other States exists. The Commonwealth Government is making an effort, albeit insufficient, to redress this imbalance. The method of entry has been criticised also, although I believe that its complexity rather than its fairness was the chief problem. I am pleased to report that after 18 months of submissions and hard work a Joint Committee has come up with an excellent Report recommending improvements. Some of these include adding to the single number of the T.E. Score (or Overall Achievement Profile as it may be called), a student's performance in written English expression, use of data and practical activities, plus his or her individual result in the Australian Scholastic Aptitude Test. I applaud these reforms and others mentioned such as not stating your order of preference for Tertiary Faculties until you receive your results.

Another recent Government decision is less praiseworthy, because it discriminates against parents of students in Independent Schools. In recent times several of our Senior students have been able to study subjects at TAFE, but now this may be more difficult as they will have to pay a $2.20 per hour lecturing cost, a cost not borne by their peers in State Schools. "No available money" is the excuse of Government, but this money should be found where clear discrimination exists.

Enough of politics: I leave it with the assurance that the Board of Trustees and my colleagues and I when dealing with political matters have as our sole criteria the best interests of students of this school.

I wish to conclude with my thoughts regarding a matter concerning youth that is far more important than those I have just mentioned: I refer to the question of role models or more simply "showing an example". I am saddened and often appalled by the example to youth shown by those who obviously help to fashion the lives and values of the young. Four such agencies are politicians, parents, older children and the media. Sometimes I wonder how I can preach tolerance and oppose confrontation when children see intolerance and confrontation displayed daily by our political leaders and often by their parents and older members of the family. Also, how effective are we in preaching non violence when Rambo and others like him dominate the world of Television!

Although I am pleased in general with the attitude of older students to younger in this school, I am worried about the effect of violence on Television and declining social standards on younger students. I have noticed this year a lack of consideration and kindness in quite a number of our 12, 13 and 14 year old students, and I have had to admonish more of this age group than usual. I have said publicly on many occasions to students "Before you do or say anything to another, put yourself in the mind of the receiver", but my advice has not always been heeded. I hope all parents would support me in this vital message, as well as in raising moral standards.

It is not always that my lack of confidence in today's society fills me with such concern as I have just expressed — I am constantly heartened by examples of tolerance, compassion, altruism and nobility in the youth of this school. I hope that our next 100 years will see these qualities shining through.

Finally, I thank my wife for her steadfast, unflinching support during another year which always seems to be more complex and busier than the previous one. She joins with me in wishing you the compliments of the Festive Season, safe travelling, refreshing holidays and a Happy New Year.

1988 — THE CENTENARY YEAR

The school year was dominated by Centenary Celebrations. Students contributed with the performance, in the Civic Theatre, of "Time Capsule", produced by Ms M. Manley-Harris and directed by Ms G. Perry, the planting of 100 trees, the burying of a Time Capsule, and by dressing in 1888 fashions on Foundation Day, April 16. One of the more important ceremonies was the official naming of the three Boarding Houses: George Hall House, Chester Parker House (after the School's two Rhodes Scholars) and School House.

Many former students, past and present parents, as well as friends of the School, joined in the activities of the Celebration Week, July 16-23. On Open Day, July 16, the Gymnasium was officially opened by the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr F.D. Sim, and the War Service and Honour Boards were also unveiled. Mr and Ms T.B. Whight were the Guests of Honour at the Centenary Dinner. It was, indeed, a memorable occasion when the Toast to the School was proposed by Mr Whight (Headmaster of Townsville Grammar, 1938–46).

In his Speech Night Address, November 24, the Headmaster, A.D. Morwood, welcomed the Guest of Honour, Dr Laura Ward, the first lady Guest Speaker at a Speech Day Assembly and the first lady member of the Board of Trustees.

Morwood paid tribute to Dr Ward for her many years of service to the School; to Ms Verney Sayers' outstanding contribution to the Centenary Celebrations; to the Parents and Friends' Association for its gift of $75,000 towards equipment for the Gymnasium; to the Ladies' Auxiliary for furnishing the lobby of the Gymnasium; to all those who made donations to the Gymnasium Appeal; to Ms Betty Linden, who retired after 15 years as Domestic Supervisor; and to Mr Peter James and Mr Peter Cristaudo, both of whom resigned from the Resident Staff after 13 and 12 years as Boarder Masters, respectively.

The School was, indeed, most fortunate in having an active Past Grammarians' Association under the strong leadership of Mr Michael Suthers, President, and Ms Verney Sayers, Secretary, and a flourishing South East Queensland Branch guided by its President, Mr David Gillingham, and Secretary, Ms Jenny Nelson.

The Ladies' Auxiliary (President, Ms Pemberton, and Secretary, Ms Cox) provided much school equipment, catered for Sports Day and for the Centenary Celebrations, and produced the Centenary Recipe Book with marked success.

In Sport, the School was most successful, Premierships being won by the Open Boys' Tennis, 14 years' Boys Tennis, 15 years' Cricket, and 13 years' Girls' Netball. Townsville Grammar completely dominated Rugby Union and Water Polo at Interschool level, and Rugby Union was at peak level representation with Aaron Gold (Australia), Blake Gold (Under 16 Australia) and Andrew Ford (Queensland Schools' Captain). Other fine achievements came from David Ahern and Anita Blain (Swimming and Water Polo); Tassy Nicholas and Peter Burge (Athletics); Andrejs Liepinieks (Ice Dancing); and Dean MacKenzie (Tennis). In the Townsville Interschool competitions, Grammar entered 34 teams, the most of any school in the region.

Successful camps and field trips were held in Outdoor Education under the leadership of Mr Steve Coleman and other members of Staff. Earlier in the year, a Prefects' camp gave students a clear insight into their responsibilities and a better understanding of leadership qualities.

The School appointed its first Teacher-Librarian, Ms J. Hunter, at the beginning of the year.

The Junior Debating team, Andrew Fyffe, Natasha Hudson and Paul Schofield, performed most creditably. In large measure, their success was due to the expertise of Ms M. Herring, Head of the English Department.

In his closing remarks, Morwood stated that his chief concern regarding the Commonwealth Government was the apparent strident push towards vocational education as a means of reviving the economy. Though, in his opinion, vocational education was important, as was technological expertise, there was, regrettably, a diminution of the old concept of the "educated man (or woman)" — the individual with knowledge and training in the humanities, a lover of good books, poetry, the arts, Shakespeare, Plato and a sense of history.

Regardless of educational and social change, there are some simple unchanging values that I constantly commend to the students of this school. They include tolerance, altruism, compassion, dedication, a spirit of co-operation and a sense of family. Let the students of Townsville Grammar School be noted for these qualities in our second 100 years.¹

The Boarding School

That is the land of lost content,
I see it shining plain,
The happy highways where I went
And cannot come again.

A.E. Housman.
"A Shropshire Lad".

There would be very few men who had spent some of their boyhood years at a boarding school who could not look back at that period of their lives without feelings of pride and gratitude. Many would agree that, whether they had been brilliant, mediocre, or just plain plodders in the classroom or on the fields of sport, they were all on an equal footing as Boarders. The rich man's son did not sleep on a better bed in the dormitory than a boy from a poorer home, nor did the best footballer or batsman have extra on his plate at mealtimes. To many, it was their first experience of equality and of learning to live together with tolerance and understanding, and of developing self-reliance and independence.

The history of the School can be divided into two eras, the first closing at the time of M.W. Blank's resignation in 1965. With the appointment of L.S. Daniels, the modern era emerged. From the beginning, 1888, to the early 1970's, the never-ending struggle for survival continued unabated, and it is a tribute to the Headmasters, Trustees and Staff concerned that the School stood firm against desperate odds, and that, despite continuing financial crises, the School produced men and women who became academics, members of the legal and medical professions, farmers, soldiers, diplomats, nurses, accountants, businessmen, teachers, tradesmen, scientists, pilots, writers, politicians, engineers, members of local governments. Some achieved world-wide recognition in their chosen fields. But, above all else, it gave them the basis for responsible citizenship and a sense of unshakeable pride in the School.

When the School opened in 1888, it was for boys only. Twenty-three boys (20 dayboys and 3 boarders) answered the first roll call and by the end of the year the roll increased to 28, 15 dayboys and 13 boarders. In 1893, the first girls were admitted (with some reluctance) on a day basis only. The Headmaster's responsibility for the day students began when they arrived in the morning and ended when they departed in the afternoon, but in the case of boarders it was an entirely different matter. While they were living at the School, he was totally responsible for their education, their health, board and lodging, their moral welfare and their behaviour. Because they lived in such close contact, it was quite natural that the Headmaster, his assistant masters and boarders should tend to drift into a family atmosphere, with the Headmaster as a father figure. It is a matter of history that Hodges, Miller, Rowland, Whight and Blank were deeply involved in the boarding school.

Very little is known of the lifestyle of the boarders in the early years of the School, but we do know that Hodges introduced many traditions that were features of the Great Public Schools of England. The Boarding School was "The House"; the senior boy, the "Head Boy" or, if a boarder, "Head of the House"; the main classroom block was "Big School"; classes were named "Forms" (as they are today); and masters, if resident, were "Housemasters". In addition, he emphasised manliness, loyalty to the Empire, moral courage in the face of temptations, patriotism, and the importance of games, especially cricket, in the development of character. More importantly, he believed, implicitly, in a boy's sense of honour and that trust was the very foundation on which the School was built. And so, from those humble beginnings in 1888, Hodges established the character of Townsville Grammar, which included unquestionable loyalty to the School and pride in achieving as a scholar, sportsman and citizen. This indefinable ideal reached its zenith in the early 1970s, from which time there was a gradual, yet noticeable, decline brought about, perhaps, by changing patterns of education and social values, as well as the rebellious attitude of students towards authority, discipline, and the wearing of school uniform. It would not be unrealistic to state that, in recent times, School Spirit has become an anachronism, unable to compete with the insidious influence of "Rock" music idols, commercial television, boredom, and the alarming activities of pupils after school hours.

By contrast, School Spirit, in its finest form was displayed during Cyclone Leonta, 1903, and what concerns us particularly is that, at the height of the great tempest, a master supervised the evacuation of the boys from the doomed school and led them across Queen's Park to the safety of a house on the other side. There was no panic, and it is recorded that, although conditions were truly terrifying, the conduct of the boys was orderly and that their spirit was in the best traditions of the Grammar School.

In Rowland's first Annual Report as Headmaster, he spoke of the difficulties facing him when he arrived at the School in early 1905 with none of the previous staff left and nothing to indicate how to achieve continuity. He consulted his Head Prefect, Alroe, who gave him all the explanations, advice and practical assistance he so desperately needed. Paying tribute to Alroe in the Report, he stated: "No Headmaster ever had a finer prefect." Rowland was never known to bestow praise lightly, and so the name of Leslie G. Alroe, who came to the School as a boarder in 1903 and who was Head Prefect in 1905, must go down in the continuing history of Townsville Grammar as one of its finer sons.

The next clear picture of boarding school life is presented by Colin Bingham in his book, "The Beckoning Horizon", in which he devotes a full chapter to his association with the School, 1913-16. Because of his experiences as a boarder, he condemned initiation ceremonies, particularly "toe-stringing".

I suffered "toe-stringing" myself, but with far less pain and mortification than others who slept more soundly than I did. The soundest sleepers were unable to prepare themselves mentally or physically when, in the dead of night, they were jerked from their bedsteads by a thin rope looped around the big toe and pulled along the dormitory floor, perhaps ricocheting from one obstacle to another, until the noises and the suppressed laughter of the tormentors brought the sleepy housemaster from his adjacent quarters.¹

Note: Despite the efforts of successive Headmasters and Resident Staff to stamp out the initiation of new boys, the practice still continues in various and devious forms.

However, Bingham was certainly not wrong about the brutality of "toe-stringing", because at this time Grammar began to lose a few boarders to the newly established schools in Charters Towers. On searching out the reasons for the fall in enrolments, Rowland came down very heavily on certain initiation practices. But boys always seem to find ways of getting around such difficulties and, protected by the honour code of silence, initiations were soon resurrected. Only recently, an Old Boy who went to Grammar in 1918, stated that, in his time, initiations were still "pretty rugged". He mentioned one new boy who, realising that his time had come, fled from the dormitory and was chased all the way to the beach, some two kilometres from the School. He also recalled that, on another Saturday morning, Rowland, somehow knowing that "boot polishing" of new boys was in progress, waited on the dining room steps at breakfast time, cane in hand. As the boys came forward, he went into action, and it is recorded that he did not miss a single culprit. Interestingly enough, "boot polishing" was still in vogue during the 1950s, 60s and 70s, and was an ordeal that new boys were compelled to face. This type of initiation was also practised, unbeknown to Officers of Cadets, at the Annual Army Cadet Camps. Foolish, indeed, was the boy who resisted!

The other point made by Bingham was the difficulty that sensitive boys had in adapting themselves to the complete absence of privacy in the dormitories, particularly in the communal showers where ribald comments and persecution were commonplace. It was not until the early 1980s that the Board of Trustees, under pressure from parents, installed shower curtains in the Old Dormitory Block which, to some extent, alleviated the anguish of shy and timid new boys.

In the second decade of this century, many boarders came from widely scattered areas of North Queensland — from small sugar districts, wild mining areas and the lonely isolated stations of the far west, and even a few from Townsville itself. It must be borne in mind that North Queensland in those days was "the bush". But the Australian boy, with some exceptions, had the capacity to adapt to new surroundings, far more so than today. Firstly, the rules of the School were formulated by the Headmaster and were easily understood. But there were also unwritten rules passed down through the years by the boys themselves, rules which became part of the School's tradition – the code by which boys learned to live, play and study together. Because the boarders were a closely knit community, it was inevitable that strong friendships were established. The Prefects were the guardians of the rules, written and unwritten, and were not only respected but obeyed without question. The boy who brought discredit upon himself, or the School, by questionable behaviour or disobedience earned the scorn of his peers.

The English custom of Headmasters up to the end of the Blank era of addressing boys by their surnames, and used quite naturally by the boys themselves, was largely responsible for the sense of equality that pervaded the School. This custom presented countless problems for those preparing the rolls of students for this History. Past Grammarians recalled, without any difficulty, the "nicknames" of boys but were in some trouble when trying to remember Christian names.

Quite unconsciously, the School code, implanted by the influence of Seniors, crept into a boy's way of life. He, in turn, helped to indoctrinate those who came later. It was a matter of pride that his word of honour was sacred and that, no matter the circumstances, he would not inform on others or get them into trouble with the masters. To break this schoolboy code was regarded as a heinous crime.

Naturally, each boy had his own opinion of his fellows, but although there were a few private quarrels, they rarely became serious. Indeed, one Old Boy of the 1927–31 period could not recall a case of theft, a fight, or even a serious argument during those years, so strong was the feeling of trust and co-operation. (How times have changed!)

There are many Past Grammarians who can still remember the friends they made at the School, and who can recall even now the tragic fate of boys they knew in the classroom and dormitory, many of whom paid the supreme sacrifice in World War II; and in Vietnam. See Roll of Honour, Appendix . . .

"Boys never change!" That was the remark of the wife of an Old Boy and mother of student sons at a Past Grammarians' Reunion. She was right, of course, for the boys of today are no different in nature from those of fifty or more years ago, who planned and executed some truly outrageous pranks. But no matter how hard they played or what risks they took, they instinctively knew the line that separated a boyhood escapade from anything which was harmful or dishonourable.

Their mischievous acts often back-fired. A regular victim was the Chinese storekeeper, Go Cum, whose shop was situated at the end of Paxton Street, some 750 metres from the School, and it is not surprising that he moved his business to West End, a suburb on the other side of Townsville. The janitor-yardman, "Mr Snodgrass", never knew what to expect, or when. The more ambitious boarders pitted their wits against Minnie Hebb, the middle-aged housekeeper-cook, but were never successful.

During the Rowland era, "New Boy" was the term used to describe a boy when he entered Grammar, and remained his "official status" for his first six months at the School. Certain restrictions were placed on him by other boys, according to tradition. For example, if he carved his name on a desk, not only was he caned by the Headmaster, but he also received some other form of punishment from the "old boys".

By the middle twenties, there was no longer any brutality in initiations. In fact, they were designed to test a new boy's sense of humour, rather than his resistance to pain, and were an anti-climax to what he really expected. Nevertheless, the way a boy took his initiation often determined the measure of his acceptance by his peers.

For "Sandshoe Night", all new boys were herded into the gymnasium, and, one by one, draped over the horizontal bars. Then one "old boy" would intone: "For all the sins that you have done, for all the sins you have not done, the Lord have mercy on your bum." A good slap on the behind with the ceremonial sandshoe was delivered, in turn, by each "old boy". After that, he was turned loose and another young "sinner" took his place. And so it went on until all was through. This rite was certainly undignified, but that was the worst that could be said of it. "Toe-stringing", in its revived form, consisted only of fastening a boy's big toe to that of the boy in the next bed with a length of string, which was manipulated on occasions by another boarder.

Note: The sandshoe, during the 50s and 60s, was used by prefects when they administered corporal punishment, usually on Friday evenings.

Perhaps the journey into the "Ghost Hole" (the great cellars below the bottom floor of the old dormitory block) caused the most speculation and excitement. The entrance was a manhole in the hallway leading from the front steps, although in later years at least three other trapdoors were established. New boys were told lurid and exaggerated stories of the ghosts which inhabited the cellars, of the workman who was killed when the School was being built, of the boy who committed suicide because of a broken love affair and of another who died of fright when confronted by one of the spectres. Nobody really believed the stories. Eventually, new boys were taken, one at a time, into the cellars and well away from the manhole. Left alone, they removed their blindfolds and were startled to see white-sheeted figures stumbling about and moaning, "Please help me . . . please don't leave me", in voices not always successfully disguised. Most boys "played along" and came out in apparent great distress, but this was only for the benefit of those who still had to go down. One western boy, however, returned wide-eyed, shaking and gasping with fear. As far as he was concerned, ghosts really existed.

This form of initiation continued until the Royal Australian Air Force took over the School in 1942. One Old Boy recalled that, when he arrived as a boarder in 1940, a trip to the cellars was a "must". Regrettably, after World War II, it appeared that only one "ghost" had survived and had moved to the top dormitory bathroom, which was built in the 1950s.

However, the practice of using the cellars for various purposes continued up to the middle 1970s, despite the nailing down of the trapdoors by successive groundsmen and Boarder Masters. An entry in the Punishment Book, 6.4.1971, makes interesting reading:

Fifteen boys, T. Reggazoli, R. Jackson, K. Krieg, R. Burnett, L. Evans, M. Craven, A. Britt, J. Topping, K. Blackburn, J. Syle, D. Woodbridge, J. Grogan, R. Morton, G. Peut, K. Morris, have been in cellars underneath the floor of the Middle Dormitory, where a "comfortable" den has been constructed. The Master on Duty informed the Senior Resident Master that he had explored this area and had found evidence of recent occupation. All boys, on being questioned, admitted that they had been underneath the floor, but only for the purpose of "exploration". It was pointed out that the area was strictly out-of-bounds, and that the lighting of matches and candles was extremely dangerous. Even though they protested their indignation at the accusation of smoking, it was deemed necessary to make an example of them, so that future "explorers" of cellars would hesitate before risking the hazards associated with similar adventures.

All fifteen were suitably dealt with.²

When carpet was laid in the late 1970s, the great adventures below the floor ceased and the hallway of the old dormitory block was made into a Master's flat, where Mr Peter Cristaudo lived from 1977 to 1988. Perhaps his music, played to the inhabitants of the lower dormitory, prevented the "ghosts" from returning?

Until 1929, the course of study leading to the Queensland "Junior" Examination was of two-and-a-half-years' duration, and new students usually arrived at the beginning of July, the coldest month of the year. Included among the various rites by which newcomers were introduced to boarding school life was the rude awakening at 6:00 a.m. and the terrifying experience of being compelled to stand, for some considerable time, under the freezing showers. From all accounts, if a new boy satisfied his audience of tormentors with a display of courage or, more importantly, indifference, he was accepted by his peers. However, if he exhibited defiance, timidity, or resistance of any kind, he was subjected, "ad infinitum", to the indignities associated with this form of initiation, which continued, except for the time the School was occupied by the Royal Australian Air Force, until 1970, when the Trustees, assisted by finance raised by the students' canteen, installed hot water systems in the old dormitory block, whereupon cold showers became a thing of the past.

Conditions in the School during the 1920s and 1930s were extremely primitive, compared with modern standards. Other than electricity, which was installed in 1926, there were very few amenities both for boarders and day students. With the School still following English traditions, it was compulsory to wear suits and ties at all times, except when playing sport, and as soon as a boy was considered big enough, he was required to wear long trousers. Although the classrooms during the summer months were hot and unbearable, no request was ever made to remove coats or ties, despite the terrible discomfort. However, in the dormitories, boys escaped the heat by moving their mattresses out on to the verandahs, a practice still in vogue today.

Perhaps the most detested item of school uniform was the straw boater (Henley-on-Thames type), introduced by Hodges in the early days of his Headmastership. For years, boys were subjected to ridicule and abuse whenever they appeared in public wearing boaters. On a Saturday morning, in 1929, a particular boarder, unable to ignore the jeers and taunts of a gang of outsiders, decided to fight their leader, a bigger and older opponent. He returned to the School battered and bruised, but still holding his boater, the cause of so much strife. Taking off the School colours, he threw the hated object on the ground, stamped on it, and called on other boarders to follow his example, which they did with remarkable enthusiasm. Within minutes, boys ran through the classrooms and dormitories, gathered all the boaters they could find, removed the school colours, and jumped on them. The absence of boaters on church parade the next day puzzled Rowland, and as the boys were strangely silent he refrained from asking any questions. However, at "Call Over", he raved and shouted for several minutes and straw boaters faded into history.

During the Rowland era, boarders were allowed a great deal of freedom and did not have to obtain permission to leave the School grounds, as they were trusted to uphold the good name of the School and be responsible in their actions. Accordingly, a strong bond, based on respect and trust, existed between Rowland and his boys, whom he encouraged to achieve their best in the classroom and on the playing field. Many Old Boys will recall the exciting games of cricket, which were called "Colour Matches", with the Boss shouting advice and encouragement from the Grandstand.

Boarders' activities were always governed by finance, as two shillings a week pocket money required careful budgeting. There were, of course, the fortunate few who received ten shillings or a pound during the term, but as most parents were affected by the Great Depression, and struggled valiantly to keep their sons at the School, the two shillings given out on Saturday mornings was as much as they could afford. Despite the obvious poverty, the spirit of mateship was always present, perhaps made even stronger by the desperate Depression years. An exciting event of the week, and one looked forward to by the boarders, was the visit of the pie-man, who waited under the big tamarind tree on Paxton Street every Friday night after Prep. Fourpence, carefully saved, bought a pie, which was nibbled slowly to make it last. Weekends were completely free except for the compulsory Church parades on Sunday morning. To go out for a weekend or miss any meal required permission. In the late twenties, some of the boys went to "dancing classes" organised by two old ladies on Saturday afternoon in the School of Arts. While one lady rattled a piano, the other called a dance and then sat down. Nobody learnt anything about dancing, because there was no teacher. Nevertheless, everybody jigged around and girls' toes were pulverised by flat-footed boys. But all enjoyed the few hours of being together.

From 1928, the School became increasingly involved in sport when a Saturday afternoon Rugby League competition was resumed and played on the School grounds. As some of the dayboys had other interests and were unable to play, the younger boarders were given the opportunity to take their place and gain valuable experience. In Cricket, the School had two teams in the Saturday afternoon competition which gave the boys many opportunities to play in the first and second elevens. Much has been written and said about the "Scabby" pitch just inside the Sports Reserve and right in front of the School steps. It was on this humble half-wicket that so many boarders learned to play a straight bat, to play defensively, and even to practise the elementary footwork and technique of off side play. Boarders never seemed to tire of the "scabby" pitch, and those with time on their hands spent many a happy hour there.

Swimming was always popular in the summer months, and as soon as classes were over, boys made a mad rush on bikes, some doubling their mates, to the City Baths, where they swam, dived, and half-drowned each other, until it was time to return to the School, tired, happy and ravenous for their tea.

A particularly hazardous type of hockey was played on the Bourke Street side of the School, where the Rowland Memorial Library now stands, with a cricket ball and hockey sticks (or clubs) of various shapes and sizes, cut from trees on Castle Hill, the Gardens and even from trees down in the gully. A wild game, indeed, with rules made up by the boarders!

Rowland believed in keeping his boys busy and contented and encouraged them to participate in physical activity "to keep them out of mischief". The modern complaint, "I'm bored" was seldom heard — time outside the classroom was lived to the full, whether in playing games or exploring the countryside. With the traditions of the School ever present in his mind, Rowland regarded the boarders as his flag bearers and to ensure that such traditions were maintained, he made effective use of the prefect system. The chain of command came down from him to his prefects and through them to the older boys who, in their turn, ensured that all new boys were conversant with the school rules, and most importantly, with traditions of the School.

By tradition, the Head Prefect was a boarder and always resided in the upper dormitory. Rowland did not believe in the segregation of age groups in the dormitories. He was convinced that the "all in together" system made control by the prefects easier, and that it fostered a spirit of unity and co-operation. As leaders of the School, the prefects (usually six boarders, three dayboys, one girl) dealt with breaches of the school rules but reported matters of a serious nature to the Headmaster. Accordingly, every boy was fully aware of the consequences of being reported by the Head Prefect. Because of his trust and confidence in his prefects, Rowland was able to be unobtrusive, while still holding the School under strong control. Indeed, he was renowned for looking the other way when he knew his prefects could control a particular situation. This attitude applied to certain initiation practices. Year after year, he failed to hear "Sandshoe Night" in progress in the gymnasium, which was so close to his residence, yet was aware, in his own way, of what exactly took place. He believed his charges should learn to accept the rough and tumble of life and to come up ready for the next tilt.

There is no need here to speak of the great Presence at "Call Over", or of his insistence on the singing of the School Songs. His profound influence is still apparent when Old Boys of his era gather at reunions, but the traditions which were established during the Headmastership of this remarkable man have vanished. The passage of time and changing attitudes have rendered the School Songs meaningless. The Old Dormitory Block, sacred to the countless boarders who studied and slept within its walls, remains a silent, yet a defiant reminder of the past.

In the mid-1930s, although some boarders came from areas south of Townsville (down to Mackay), and even a few from Townsville itself, most were from North Queensland and from the West. These geographical sub-divisions generated some little rivalries and competitions such as football matches between the Northerners and the Westerners. Sport, in general, was more than encouraged, with virtually all boarders taking part in cricket and football in particular, irrespective of ability or lack thereof. In addition, the School had one "ant-bed" tennis court as well as the old gravelly, sloping sportsground. For swimming, it was necessary to walk or ride a push-bike to the City Council concrete swimming baths on the Strand (replaced in the 1950s by the Tobruk Memorial Swimming Pool).

In retrospect, and by comparison with modern standards, the facilities in the Boarding School were rather spartan, crude, and antiquated, though it must be admitted that these conditions applied to much of the infrastructure of parts of Townsville in those days, bearing in mind the harsh impact of the Great Depression, 1929-1933. In the case of the School, the crippling debt hanging over its finances as a result of Cyclone "Leonta" in March 1903, together with the devastating effects of the Depression, made it well-nigh impossible for the Headmaster and the Board of Trustees to provide improved facilities for boarders and day students.

food, was enlivened by the presence of "Boss" with his practice of the boarders saying Grace in Latin (Benedictus Benedicat) and the response at the end of the meal ("Benedicto Benedicatur"), and his brief but enthusiastic comments relating to some event of importance to the School in general or to the boarders in particular (e.g. a win by the School in cricket or football that afternoon). Indeed, Rowland was the father figure, and his enthusiasm, his concern, his laughter, his scholarship, and his overflowing humour continue to pervade the memories of Past Grammarians.

Vere Harding, who was a boarder in the mid-1930s, recalled the harmless jokes that "Boss" loved to play, one of which was to ask a student to expand on the so-called Latin verb "iamano". On the student starting "iamano, iamanas . . .", he would rock with laughter, so infectious that "we would all join in."

Of the female non-teaching staff at that time, the Matron, Miss Connie Ficklin, and the Housekeeper, Miss Minnie Hebb, both gave loyal and devoted service to the School. The former is remembered for her kindness and concern for the young boarders and the latter for the multiplicity of duties which she performed, among which (during 1936) was the unenviable task of placing hot poultices on the posteriors of boys, who had developed boils in the most unlikely place!

By way of recreation, there was the occasional Saturday night amateur concert in the Dining Room, a visit by the crew of a Thursday Island lugger, who put on a display of dancing (arranged by Miss Ficklin), the trip into town on Saturday morning (subject to clothes, shoes, hat, tie, badge being up to "scratch"), and sometimes Saturday night movies at the "Wintergarden" or the "Roxy", or at the open-air theatre with canvas seats, the "Olympia".

In addition, senior boarders had the opportunity of taking dancing lessons conducted by the then Miss Gwenda Norris in her Sturt Street Studio, and had as their partners girls from St Anne's Anglican Girls School. Dancing lessons were well patronised. The Senior Master (non-resident), Mr F.J. Olsen, often invited boarders to visit his home for a meal and to listen to music, after which there was a car drive up a very narrow and elemental road to the summit of Castle Hill.

There were times, however, when being a boarder had its negative aspects, which included bullying endured by younger, gentler boys at the hands of rougher types, distractions from serious study, and the lack of good facilities. On the other hand, boarders developed a corporate discipline, an esprit-de-corps, and a certain brotherhood, which, for many, was to be repeated (albeit in a somewhat different but similar form) when in the Services during World War II.

In 1938, Rowland retired. This man of inflexible standards and impartiality, who had guided so many young feet along the path to responsible manhood for thirty-four years, and who had borne so many intolerable burdens, relinquished the headmastership. It was the end of an era, and there was much speculation as to who would succeed "Boss". To the boarders, in particular, this question was of vital interest.

Rowland's successor was Thomas Burnside Whight, B.A., an Old Boy of the School and one of its greatest sons. The traditions of the School were in safe hands. A man of remarkable vitality and leadership, he brought a new dedication to all aspects of School activity. Because of his outstanding record as a sportsman, he became very popular with the boarders when he took over the coaching of the football and cricket teams. Nevertheless, his Headmastership included one of the most dramatic periods in the history of the School.

In August 1939, there was an outbreak of measles among the boarders. With the sick bay overcrowded, the lower dormitory became an auxiliary hospital, and a nursing sister was employed to assist the over-worked matron.

The Science Master, Mr Frank Olsen, often arranged outings for the boarders and such excursions were encouraged by the new Headmaster. During the first term, 1938, a weekend camp was held on Magnetic Island, and dances were arranged with St Anne's School, under the supervision of the Sisters. Times were changing!

Frank Provera, a senior boarder at the School in 1939, recalled the outbreak of World War II:

Over the weekend of September the first to the third, there was a hush amongst the boarders (and the world) as German troops invaded Poland. An ultimatum by Britain and France was ignored, and on Sunday evening, about eight o'clock, Mr Whight came over to the Hall to tell us that Britain and France had declared war on Germany, and invite us to his residence to hear a broadcast by the Prime Minister. Sadly, the War affected the lives and families of many past, present and future students of the School.

After the initial shock, the School settled down to its normal routine and the war in Europe remained distant and remote. But, in December 1941, Japan bombed Pearl Harbour and swept through the Pacific. Nobody doubted that Australia was their ultimate objective.

The School's dramatic transfer to "Rosslea" in 1942 was an unforgettable exercise in discipline and co-operation. Led by a dynamic Headmaster, boarders and day students transformed this large residence, never intended to be a school, into classrooms, and dormitories. The disadvantages of wartime and the shortages of labour and commodities were cheerfully accepted. Boarders built rough furniture for themselves and made the small RAAF huts comfortable sleeping quarters. Some helped with the housework, whilst others cut firewood for the stove and the laundry boilers. These, indeed, were memorable times. Girls mended the boarders' clothes, darned their socks, and even organised a "surprise party", with the help of the Headmaster. Despite the lack of facilities and despite the primitive conditions under which students worked, examination results were some of the best in the history of the School.

When the School returned to its old home in North Ward in 1945, many boarders felt pangs of regret. Gone were the days of freedom and adventure. It was back to the familiar routine, to the "Scabby Pitch" and the Ghost Hole.

During the long Headmastership of M.W. Blank, 1948-1965, the daily routine followed by boarders incorporated the great traditions of the past and with some modifications remained in force until 1987 when a metamorphosis brought about its demise. Understandably, change was inevitable. On the departure of K. Allen, Senior Resident Master for over twenty years, control of the boarding house was assumed by the Headmaster, A.D. Morwood, the Deputy Headmaster, W. Muller, and, after some initial difficulties, by a new Senior Resident, R. Knight. . . .

However, four years after his appointment as Headmaster in 1948, Blank enforced stricter rules, organised activities after school hours and insisted that all boarders participate in sport. In the same year a "rising bell" was re-introduced. Its ominous "clang" at 6:30 a.m., Monday to Friday, stirred boarders into action — to shower, make beds, clean shoes, and tidy lockers for inspection by the Master on Duty at 7 o'clock, after which there was Prep for half an hour. The brass dinner gong, pounded vigorously by a member of the domestic staff, announced the end of morning Prep. Indeed, for over forty years, its ear-shattering reverberations summoned boarders to meals, but when television sets, cassette players and radios became commonplace throughout the school, it could not be heard above the appalling volume of noise from the dormitories. Hence the many late arrivals to meal assemblies. Nevertheless, the gong continued in use until 1986 when it finally disintegrated. A substitute was found in a large saucepan lid. . . .

On Saturday mornings, from 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 a.m, a "work period" was mandatory. This hour of compulsory labour involved raking the driveway, emptying rubbish bins, pulling out guinea grass which grew prolifically in the gully and around the Ovals, as well as ad hoc jobs as conceived by the Headmaster or the Master on Duty. Prefects supervised these activities which, if not completed to their satisfaction, were continued after breakfast. In addition, they spent considerable time rounding up reluctant workers who were generally denied "town leave" — the privilege of spending some two hours in the main street of Townsville.

Nevertheless, despite the vigilance of authority and endless roll calls, successful evasion techniques were developed and refined over the years. Even today, the ten minute work period after breakfast is merely a perfunctory gesture before reporting out for "town leave". Successive generations of boarders avoided the work period by hiding in lockers, under beds and even in the foliage of trees. The vexed problem of boarders cleaning the grounds and preparing the School for social functions, for such occasions as the Trustees' inspection, and for House sports carnivals, was never satisfactorily resolved. Traditionally, boarders always resented being a captive labour force coerced into fetching and carrying, and regarded such expressions as "This is your home", "We are a family", "You are special people", as hollow and insincere. In recent years, the exciting social life of day students, their escapades at Night Clubs and parties, their ownership of motor vehicles, adversely affected attitudes and behaviour of older boarders and escalated their disenchantment with boarding school life. As a result, deception was often practised in obtaining leave and the "breaking of bounds" — leaving the school grounds without permission — often late at night, was an inevitable consequence.

However, "work periods" had their lighter side. One particular task that was eagerly sought after, even up to the late nineteen seventies, was the carting of rubbish to the gully by means of the tractor. Indeed, there was no shortage of volunteers for such a menial job. The burning of waste paper and other refuse provided a "smokescreen" which effectively camouflaged activities around the tamarind tree in the corner of the bottom Oval. This tree, known as the "smokers tree" by generations of boarders and Masters, was cut down some four years ago as a rather desperate measure to stamp out smoking. Not surprisingly, other trees were soon selected for their strategic positions and the hazardous addiction continued, though not without considerable risk.

Before the opening of the School's War Memorial Swimming Pool in 1966, boarders walked to the Tobruk Memorial Baths, about fifteen minutes away, for early morning training, 6:00 a.m., and again after school. This was never regarded as a hardship. Because Church attendance was compulsory, the Master on Duty usually accompanied the Anglicans to the 7:00 a.m. service at the Cathedral, whilst Catholics, Presbyterians and Methodists reported out after breakfast. The Botanic Gardens, situated mid-way between the School and the Churches, was a haven for boys unwilling to attend their respective religious services. Indeed, even on the way to the Anglican Cathedral, reluctant church-goers managed, with astonishing skill, to slip into the Gardens unnoticed by those in charge, and rejoin the group on its return. So adroit were these boys at evading church, that the meticulous routine observed by those involved seldom resulted in detection. The abolition of compulsory church in the late nineteen sixties by the Headmaster, L.S. Daniels, brought about a dramatic fall in attendance and the mysterious illnesses which plagued boarders on Sunday mornings miraculously vanished.

It is the firm belief of Past Grammarians that the halcyon days of Grammar belong to the time that they spent at the School, but perhaps one of the great years was 1962 when seven Resident Masters — K. Allen, D. Anjoulis, L. Bourke, L. James, J. Jeffrey, J. Topley, and E. Waldmann — all members of the teaching staff, guided the destinies of the boarders. This was the year also when the Army Cadet Band was established, when the Army Cadet Unit (J. Jeffrey, L. James), The Air Training Corps (M.W. Blank, J. Topley), The Music Club (D. Anjoulis), Coffee House Forum (K. Orr), Weight Lifting (L. James), Chess (M.W. Blank), Debating (Resident Staff), The School Paper (L. Duffield, R. Rollason, D. Utley), and Sport were but some of the many activities in which boarders participated. Consequently, there was little time for boredom, that malaise so fashionable with, and peculiar to, the modern generation. Because of their addiction to the world of entertainment, today's boarders appear somewhat at a loss when thrown upon their own resources.

By comparison, however, boarders, prior to the mid-nineteen seventies, displayed more initiative and spirit than their modern counterparts, not only in the areas of sport but in the many extra-curricular activities which they originated. In 1965, the Townsville Grammar Rifle Club was established and continued to operate until 1985. The foundation members were: R. Brasnett, M. Cook, P. De Waal, Goh, J. Fairbairn, G. Lemmon, J. McCoist, V. Smith and G. Baughan. It was registered with the Queensland Small Bore Rifle Union and competitions were held every Saturday afternoon on the School's 25 yard range near the swimming pool. However, because some neighbours voiced objections to the sound of rifle fire and expressed fears of ricochets, the School range was abandoned in favour of a 25 yard range built on "Springvale", a property at Woodstock, some thirty kilometres west of Townsville, owned by Mr R. Hutley, the father of two boarders, Craig and Cameron. Every Sunday, members of the Club spent the day at "Springvale", until 1974 when the Hutleys sold their property and moved south. By this time, the Club had fifteen members — Brad Knowles, John O'Neill, Bruce Clark, Peter Baker, John Clement, Michael Cousen, Greg Matheson, Gary Sharpe, Michael Busby, John Patane, Mark Allen, Ken Wiggins, David Pilcher, David Hirst, Stuart Hunter. Because of the continued interest in shooting, members of the Club joined the Sporting Shooters Association of Australia and participated in competitions on Saturday afternoons and, in 1975, John Clement became the Association's North Queensland Champion.

With the aim of raising money to provide a hot water system in the Old Dormitory Block, boarders re-organised the Canteen in 1967 and formed a very hard-working committee — G. Huie, D. Lando, P. Cali, T. Kemp, R. Murray-Prior, G. Jensen, M. Kersey,

D. Morton, R. Casey, G. Robertson, S. McCullagh, W. Fisher, and A. Yates. These boarders, and others who followed, gave up their free time to serve in the Canteen with the result that three years later hot showers became a reality. In 1967, the Senior Resident Master, K. Allen, formed a Gymnastic Club — R. Casey, G. Robertson, J. Callcott, R. Callcott, A. Page, K. Brandis, R. Pepper, K. Anderson, W. Young, S. McCullagh, P. Ackland, and L. Leeson. So enthusiastic were these boarders that they met every night after tea, and on Saturdays and Sundays in a garage where the Music Department now stands. They performed at the Annual School Fete, and gave displays at the Crippled Children's Home, the Bush Children's Home and the Orphanage. Indeed, the late 1960s were busy years. A boarders' pop group, "The Binnatangs", was formed in the first term, 1969, by Ross Casey and Colin Roy, who decided after several weeks of playing duets on a semi-acoustic guitar and an ordinary box guitar, to try their hands, as it were, in the world of "pop" music. The great influence, of course, was "The Beatles". By 1970, this group surpassed all expectations and was in keen demand for School dances, the Senior Formal, the Bush Children's Fete, The Townsville Lawn Tennis Association, St Matthew's Church, and the School Concert. "The Binnatangs", Ross Casey (lead guitar), Colin Roy (rhythm), Leigh Evans (bass), David Lemmon (drums), Gary Davies (vocalist), presented the School with a P.A. System which is still used today. It was, indeed, remarkable that this talented Group made such rapid progress in so short a period of time, particularly as their practice sessions in the classrooms and in the toilets below the Senior Dormitory usually provoked objections from neighbours and some members of Staff.

The record enrolment of 156 boarders in 1974, the highest in the history of the School, placed a great strain on Resident Staff and on the existing facilities, which, for that matter, have not improved appreciably since then. However, because the School lacked recreational amenities other than the ovals, swimming pool and tennis courts, the Headmaster, L.S. Daniels, encouraged boarders to participate in extra-curricular activities and gave his unequivocal support to Judo, the National Fitness Club, the Presbyterian Junior Fellowship, the Rifle Club, Junior Rugby League, Club Basketball, Sailing, Water Polo, Hockey, Soccer, Scouts, Club Cricket, Rugby Union, Boarders' Picnics, the A.B.C. Concerts, the Model Club, woodwork with Mr W. Lloyd, and made available funds for the purchase of Table Tennis equipment.

In the 1970s, such ceremonies as the "soggy biscuit" ritual were both exciting and incredible, possibly because they were carried out after "Lights Out", and because they demanded a certain amount of bravado. The opening of the new Science Block in 1972, and the "Girls' Room" was pre-empted by a ceremony initiated by a group of boys from Weipa. Indeed, the night life of boarders in this particular era was more than exciting and bizarre!

Of the 123 boarders in 1975, 75 played Rugby League — 63 in the Saturday afternoon Junior Rugby League Competition, and 12 who played on Sundays at the Sports Reserve for either "Brothers" or "Estates" Under 17 teams. Indeed, 1975 was an outstanding year for the Rugby League Code. In large measure, this was due to the enthusiasm and coaching of Mr Warren Knight, a dedicated member of the Resident Staff for some ten years and a teacher at the Central State School. Eleven boarders represented Townsville in Rugby League — John Jefferis, John O'Neill in the Under 17 team, and P. Young, C. Young, G. Power, G. Tredwell, P. Barragud, Maladina, L. Charles, B. Bond, and R. Baker in the Under 16 team.

In addition to Rugby League, a number of boarders played Australian Rules Football on Sundays, and two hockey teams were entered in the Saturday competition. In the North Queensland Trampoline Championships, C. Rowbotham was placed second and M. Bonning fourth in the "C" Grade Division. A number of boarders joined the Citizens Military Forces (C.M.F.) and attended parades on Tuesday evenings as well as weekend Camps. The Inter-Act Club, established by Daniels in 1967 and sponsored by the Townsville West Rotary Club, was an activity which gave a large number of boarders an opportunity to participate in community service. In his ten years as Headmaster, Daniels made a most commendable contribution to the welfare of boarders, despite the fact that the enormous increase in enrolments in 1974 brought with it corresponding behavioural problems, many of which were generated by overcrowding in the dormitories, in particular, and by the influences of a permissive society, in general. Indeed, the breaking of bounds and the consumption of alcohol during the early nineteen seventies were, in some instances, encouraged and indeed instigated by day students. Nevertheless, such breaches of rules, though blatant to the extreme, were regarded by boarders as necessary steps in achieving a reputation notorious. To some extent, this attitude persists even today.

Because the boarding roll in 1976 fell to 90, the new Headmaster, A.D. Morwood, set out on a vigorous public relations campaign to refurbish the image of the School. As a consequence, apart from essential matters of administration, he remained somewhat aloof from the boarding school. Morwood sincerely believed that his involvement in educational committees would not only enhance the reputation of the School, but establish it as the leading institution in North Queensland. The Trustees were conscious of the fact that when boarder numbers fell below a certain level, boarding would become uneconomic.

However, boarders were indeed fortunate that such Resident Staff as P. James, P. Cristaudo, W. Knight, W. Lloyd, B. Von Wald, J. O'Brien, M. Woolcock, P. Cirrani, M. Lazzaroni, gave so much of their time in fostering extra-curricular activities. Cristaudo, James and Knight organised weekend camps at Saltwater Creek and Mount Fox, and established the excursions to Crystal Creek and Wallaman Falls, which eventually became annual events.

In 1978, a large number of boarders distinguished themselves in Sport — Scott Grey, North Queensland and Central Queensland Champion in Sabot Sailing; Gordon Little, Rifle Shooting; Mark Parsons, Wests Hockey Club; Patrick Thaiday, Townsville Rugby League Second XIII; Jonathan Child and Darrin Wilson, Under 15 B Soccer Premiers, North-West United Club; Roland Wilson, Inter-Zone Athletics; Peter Hirst, Townsville Rugby League Second XIII; Stephen Shardlow, Under 16 Junior Rugby League Premiers, Centrals ASA Club, Townsville and Southern Zone Junior Rugby League Representative; Stephen Foster, Townsville Rugby League Second XIII, and State Finalist Basketball; Neil Filewood, State Finalist Basketball; Richard Linnett, State Finalist Basketball; Stewart Graham, Tony Estell, Inter-Zone Athletics; Robert McDonald, Lloyd Hirst, James Euclid, Flying; Ken Veness, Townsville Rugby League Second XIII; Robert Edwards, Townsville Rugby League First XIII; Lindsay Tytherleigh, Premiers, Under 12 Junior Rugby League; Darryl Morellini, Shooting.

By 1979, overhead fans were installed in all the Dormitories, and in 1981 the old port-room in the bottom dormitory was turned into a kitchenette — refrigerator, toasters, and electric jugs — and the room next to the kitchenette became a recreation area with T.V., a Pool Table, and a Table Tennis Table. The Physical Education Room, adjacent to the Canteen, was designated the Senior Boarders' Recreation Room in 1983, with Pool Table and T.V., but, because it was used as an audio-visual room, as well as a multi-purpose room, it was not a success. In the following year, Room 15, at the end of the Senior Dormitory, was established as the Senior Recreation Room, and the Phys. Ed room, as it was known, was renovated as very attractive classrooms. Regrettably, the Fifth Section of the Senior Dormitory, for many years the domain of Grade Twelve boarders, was made into a Recreation room in 1987, and Room 15 reverted to a classroom.

However, despite the improvement in recreational amenities, and despite Morwood's determined endeavour to attract boarders, the highest enrolment reached was 112 in 1985.

Because the loss on the boarding establishment in 1983 amounted to $70,000, and because an even greater loss was anticipated in 1984, the Board of Trustees toyed with the concept of Townsville Grammar becoming a school for day students only. However, in his "Boarding Analysis, November 2, 1984", Morwood informed the Trustees that 1978 was obviously critical regarding boarding, and at this stage it was least viable

 . . . 80 boarders.

The dilemma facing the Trustees at this stage was whether to continue its boarding operation or not. Contrary to expectations, boarding enrolments during the period 1976-84 improved only marginally, and the anticipated enrolment of 118 in 1985 was not realised. It was suggested that a 'phasing out' process of Forms 1 and 2 be commenced in 1986, but, again, this would be dependent on the enrolment of day students.

Moorwood argued that "our waiting lists would have to grow considerably" if these Forms were phased out in 1986, and proposed that consideration be given to boarding only at Forms V and VI. It was also quite apparent that the loss of fees (should boarding be abandoned) would, in the short term, have a serious effect on the finances of the School. Understandably, the Board accepted Moorwood's recommendation that boarding be continued, on the following grounds:

1. Grammar was the only boys' Boarding School in Townsville.
2. The School had a continued and historical link with many coastal, coastal hinterland, far western, overseas and Northern Territory areas.
3. Boarding offered a service to isolated parents.
4. The Boarding School is the "heart" of a school — it helps to give an added dimension and provides a diversity of students which helps the city child to expand its horizons.
5. The boarding population had increased, in recent times, to a more viable level.

Despite these recommendations, financial and economic considerations still influenced the policies of the Board of Trustees. As a result, improvements to the boarding house were, in large measure, piecemeal.

In 1981, Rugby Union was played as a major sport and, within a year, eclipsed the long-established code of Rugby League. Nurtured by the Deputy Headmaster, W.J. Muller, as well as other devotees, it provided another extra-curricular activity with attractive fringe benefits. In addition to the local inter-school competition, matches were arranged against Thornburgh College, Charters Towers, The Burdekin Rural Education College, and against teams from Townsville Rugby Union Clubs. Interestingly, both the First and Second Fifteens were dominated by boarders, and because the Club competition was held on Friday evenings, study routine was disrupted to an extraordinary degree. Nevertheless, Rugby Union opened new horizons for many boarders — trips to New Zealand, visits from overseas schools, and matches against Central and North Queensland teams. Fortunate, indeed, were those who played this Code.

In addition to transporting teams to Rugby Union venues, two Resident Masters, Peter James and Peter Cristaudo, encouraged boarders to join a superbly equipped private gymnasium in 1985. Not surprisingly, the response was overwhelming, as it gave boys of all ages an opportunity to enjoy an activity which the School was unable to provide. However, after two years of enthusiastic participation, this very popular and demanding interest was not permitted to continue in 1987. James and Cristaudo, each with more than ten years of dedicated service to the School, made every effort to establish successful activities for boarders.

Because major sports in the School appeared to be dominated by a select few, John O'Brien, also a Resident Master, and Peter Cristaudo, established Touch Football in 1980 as an activity for those not gifted in the Rugby Codes. This game was an immediate success and teams were entered in the district competition from the year of its introduction. Regrettably, O'Brien resigned from the Resident Staff in 1986, Cristaudo and James in 1988. As a consequence, boarders were without the fine pastoral care that these three Masters had rendered over a long period of time.

Though some people may believe that Boarding Schools are institutions which develop character, independence and self-reliance, it is questionable whether this point of view is entirely valid. The lifestyle of a boarder is certainly artificial and fraught with many difficulties and, as a consequence, a boy learns, very quickly, the art of survival and the advantages of devious conduct. To the general public, a boarding school is a status symbol, which impression is conveyed in annual Speech Day Reports, and by the publicity given to those who achieve academic, sporting and cultural distinctions. But beneath this facade, there are other elements which present a completely different story . . .

Perhaps the greatest obstacles a boarder must overcome, if he is to survive, are boredom, resentment against routine, and, in some cases, loneliness and untoward bullying. In addition, peer group pressure is a telling factor in formulating attitudes and behavioural patterns. Because they are herded in the close confines of dormitories, and indeed within the school grounds, it is inevitable that boys learn more of certain aspects of life than they would if they were at home. As a consequence, some boarders find the temptations of the world outside the boundaries of the School too hard to resist, and throw caution to the winds, often with disastrous repercussions. The upsurge of permissiveness in the 1970s and 1980s clashed with the traditional forms of discipline and resulted in some tragic casualties.

Nevertheless, boarders at Townsville Grammar had their lighter moments. Perhaps some of the more memorable escapades include the "gate-crashing" by two senior boys of the Bar B Q held by the Townsville Lawn Tennis Association after the North Queensland Championships. Dressed in the appropriate tennis gear, and carrying racquets, they had, what they called, a "good feed", after which they returned to the dormitories laden with contraband. They were apprehended in the process of transferring wine to coke bottles. Then there was the group that came into the possession of dozens of cans, which they placed in the large water-cooler outside the canteen; and the raiders of the kitchen who were compelled to consume a leg of mutton and a number of loaves of bread whilst listening to classical music. Perhaps one of the most original excuses for being late from Saturday Leave was given by a boarder who rode his bicycle to town. On attempting to return by 11:30 a.m., he claimed the wind was so strong that it blew him further away from the School until, in desperation, he tacked like a yacht around the suburbs of Townsville and finally arrived, in an exhausted state, at 2:00 p.m. Suffice it to say, the Master on Duty did not believe him; nor were those who protested that taxi-drivers always took them in the wrong direction. The "Breaking of Bounds", a common occurrence, was prompted by reasons too numerous to mention and, indeed, became such a highly skilled operation that only the careless were apprehended and the many escaped detection. As Colin Bingham wrote in his autobiography, The Beckoning Horizon, schoolboy memories will be those "that have survived the long process of forgetting . . ."

Chapter 15

The Years In Their Flight

... distant footsteps echo
— Longfellow: "The Day Is Done."

These recollections are based on the information given by Past Grammarians who returned their questionnaires or who were interviewed on tape.

ARNOLD W. DUFFIELD (1911–1913), until 1987 Patron of the Past Grammarians' Association, felt he was "specially privileged to be able to attend a school with only 82 pupils". He was strongly impressed with P.F.R., even though he was somewhat frightened of him. Boys carved their names on the desks, the walls, and even on the seats of the toilets, but "Boss" took an inventory of the names with the idea of heavy punishment for any that appeared later. Arnold recalled that Mr Clunies-Ross was a "dead-eye" shot with a piece of chalk, and a practical joker, and that they could deceive Mr O'Neill quite easily. When Mr O'Neill had a class in the Sixth Form room, a couple of second formers went down the "Ghost Hole" with a bell, which they rang occasionally. Mr O'Neill searched the room for the bell, without success, but Mr Clunies-Ross came in and "sprung" the culprits. The boarders persuaded certain dayboys to procure a goat for them — goats roamed Castle Hill in great numbers — and in quick time they delivered the most fearsome and foul-smelling old "stinker" imaginable. That night, the boarders dragged the beast upstairs and pushed it into Mr O'Neill's room. It is left to us to imagine which was the more terrified — man or goat. After some time, a prefect, hearing a commotion, answered Mr O'Neill's screams for help, and opened the door. The goat skidded into the dormitory and was eventually driven down the steps. Mr O'Neill left the School some days later. Arnold remembered some of the great boys of that early era — the two Grants, R.A. Percy, Arthur Brookes, a potential Rhodes Scholar, drowned at Southport in a heroic effort to rescue a girl, Tommy Morrison, Pat Meehan, the demon bowler, and Nicholson, an 18 year old Westerner, who once caught a snake in the Dovecote and snapped its head off in one flick. Then there was "Linky" Wackett, later Sir Lawrence, who made his own dynamo for his bike, and later, a huge balloon. While filling it with hot air on the football field, someone threw a stone and caused it to collapse in flames. He had other stories to tell of Wackett — how he practised googly bowling and was able to demolish opposing teams; of the day when he returned to School and while addressing the boys, "Boss" asked him what was the turning point in his career. "The day I left Grammar," he said. Then he added hastily that he had to choose between an academic and a practical course in education. He recalled that Sir Lawrence Wackett, Sir Charles Davidson, Tom Whight, R. Rheuben and Bob Lanskey all achieved distinction. Arnold served in the Naval Reserve 1916, and overseas with the A.I.F. in 1918.

V.E.V. GIBBONS (1906–), now living at Rockhampton, aged 93. He is a Returned Soldier of World War I. His son, Wylie David Gibbons, a specialist surgeon, attended the School, 1942–43.

GEORGE MIDDLETON (1906–1911), a retired medical practitioner, now lives in Brisbane.

CHARLES DAVIDSON (1911–1914) was a Prefect in 1914. Returned a Questionnaire even though suffering from the effects of a severe stroke. Served in the A.I.F., 1916–18, in France, and in New Guinea during World War II. Awarded the O.B.E. (Mil.), 1945, and K.B.E., 1964, for services as a Federal Cabinet Minister. One of the School's most distinguished early athletes, especially in Cricket and Football.

SYDNEY R. GOLDRING (1915–1916). A member of a family well-represented at Grammar by three of his brothers. A staunch supporter of the School and the Past Grammarians' Association. Still remembered having to wear a straw boater. He mentioned R.G. Lanskey, J.H. Horsley, F.H. Roberts, T.B. Whight and F.H. Williamson as the outstanding sportsmen of his time.

ROY C. ANDISON (1915–18) represented the School at cricket. Referred to a Master, Mr Schapper, who was interned during World War I. Cited T.B. Whight and Norma Melrose as outstanding scholars. One of Grammar's cricketing sons who later represented Townsville and North Queensland.

FLORENCE E. WEST, née SMITH, (1916–18) said that Mr W.J. Chamberlain taught English and Writing. She remembered being one of a Relay team when each received a silver fork.

COLIN W. WADDELL, (1915–1919). Prefect, 1919. Represented the School in Rugby League, Tennis and Swimming. From the Atherton Tablelands, he spent some of his holidays with the Foot boys at "Cardington Station", mustering, dipping and branding cattle, and to top it off, did quite a bit of fencing and axe work. He also related how some of the boarders were on Magnetic Island when a boat strike left them without food. The fish wouldn't bite, but they survived by gathering and cooking mussels. Outstanding scholars were: "Podge" McLean, Colin Cran and his sister, Sydney, and prominent athletes, the Atkinson brothers and Leslie Chilcott. He also admitted that he spent some time "out-of-bounds" gathering chinky apples on the salt pans. Passed his Junior, then Senior, and was a member of the Cadet Corps. Later he joined the A.I.F.

MAY STEPHENSON, née KEANE, (1914–16) remembered sitting in the front row that day in 1914 when Mr Rowland announced that England had declared war on Germany. Her blood ran cold, because she had three brothers aged 19, 17 and 14. They all enlisted, the youngest when he was only 16. He didn't return. She remembered the girls' recreation room called the "Dove Cote", and said: "At first, I thought it was called the 'Duck House', because that is what the boys called it. I wondered why we were called 'Ducks', because none of us seemed to waddle."

C.H. BECKINGHAM, (1919–1921) had very fond recollections of "Boss" Rowland who was like a father to the boys, and who had a profound influence on his life. He recalled "Boss" at Call Over, at the way he sat with the boys in Prep, always patient; the evening meal, and his batting in the "Colour Matches". He had not forgotten the two-day train trips to and from Proserpine, sometimes having to be rowed across the flooded Burdekin River.

W.R.M. KOGLER, (1919-1924) represented the School in cricket, and later Townsville, North Queensland and Queensland Country. Was an Alderman, Townsville City Council for several years, and a member of the Board of Trustees, Townsville Grammar, 1938-48. Served in the Army in New Guinea, World War II. A close friend of T.B. Whight.

R.P. RHEUBEN (1910-15). Won the swimming championship of the School and also the Recitation Prize 1914 and 1915. Served in the Dental Corps, World War I.

TOM MORRISON, (1909-13). The records show that he was a valuable member of the School's Cricket XI, with some very fine figures as an opening bowler, this in addition to his outstanding scholastic record. His Senior pass in 1913 earned him an Exhibition to the School of Mines, Charters Towers, where he studied Mining Engineering and Metallurgy. He graduated with 18 First Class Honours. While at Grammar, he played for Idalia Rovers with considerable success. He is now over 90, but clearly remembered Roy Galbraith as a good bowler, R. Porter as a gymnast, A.R. Brookes as a good all-rounder, and "Linky" Wackett, who left Grammar because French and Latin were no use to a boy with a mind set on engineering.

ELSIE PORTER, née HANDLEY, (1914-16). Prefect. Named Miss Sydney Cran as an outstanding scholar.

ROBERT J. CLARK (1909-12). Served in the A.I.F. in World War I. Was at the Gallipoli landing and then in Europe until 1918. A Prefect in 1912.

RAGLAN R.D. MARKS (1920-24). Prefect, 1922-24. Represented the School in football, athletics and swimming. Day student, 1920-23. Got bad marks because he wouldn't do Prep at home. "Boss" gave him the option of "six of the best" or do Prep at the School. He chose Prep. Of the Masters he said: "All O.K. Good teachers, intelligent, friends. Their canes taught me a lot of wisdom." His brother, H.H.S. Marks was killed in action, World War I.

ALAN H. TAIT (1921-24). Prefect, 1924. Represented Townsville and North Queensland in cricket, tennis and golf. Past Chairman, Board of Trustees. Played Sheffield Shield Cricket for Queensland.

JOHN ASHE (1921-23). At one time, Treasurer and then Secretary of the Old Boys' Association. Went on to become one of Australia's most prolific song writers, with such well known artists as Slim Dusty and Chad Morgan singing and recording his works. A staunch supporter of the School. Has a special place in his memory for Norman Vandenberg who was a never-ending source of funny stories and witticisms. On several occasions in class, his humour caused John to laugh, with the result that Tommy Whight invited them to "come up after." He is now Patron of Past Grammarians Association.

THOMAS D. WETHERELL (1922-24). Prefect in 1924. Served in the Army in New Guinea, 1939-45. Remembered when a boy, mixing liquids in the Lab. caused an explosion which almost destroyed the building.

MAISIE L.G. WALKER (1922-29). Prefect, 1927-29. Referred to Frank Olsen as "truly the best teacher I ever had in my secondary years". Served in the AWAS in World War II from 1942. She said Colonel Murray (an Old Boy) carried his V.C. in his pocket, just in case it was required for a special occasion. Maisie was an excellent pianist (both as soloist and accompanist) and was prominent in Townsville musical circles for many years.

HILBERT C. (BERT) MATHIESEN (1922–23). Referred to boarders wearing "donkeys' dinner" straw boaters and Norman Pinwill as the most outstanding scholar. Served in the Middle East and New Guinea, 1940–45, World War II. Years later, when a Newsagent in Innisfail, "Boss" Rowland wandered into his shop. This led to a happy reunion that night, with other Old Boys including Roy Mathews and Charles Duffin.

WILLIAM (BILL) HENRY (1920 and 1922–25). Prefect, 1924 and 1925. Represented the School in football and cricket. Bill had a very high regard for "Boss" Rowland, both as a father figure to the boarders and as a teacher. His respect for Mrs Rowland, the Matron, was boundless, and all who knew that gracious lady are unanimous in agreement. Bill remembered "Podge" McLean as a very hard teacher who was feared by the students. On football, Bill speaks of "Diver" Andrews, so named for his fearless diving tackles, and Dick Seldon as a fine centre with his fast and tricky running. In his Senior year, Bill taught Junior Maths for a few weeks and enjoyed the experience. An incident he well remembered was when Joe Dafforn, quite an extrovert, was sitting on the front steps and asked Bob Lanskey, who had just made a duck: "How many did you make, Sir?" "That will be 50 lines, Dafforn," answered the Master. The same Dafforn cut his name on the desk, bigger and deeper than all the others, and as well as a caning, was fined ten shillings. He named Norm Pinwill as the top scholar and mentioned Onslow Andrews as Chairman of the Douglas Shire for many years. Bill was Chairman of the Tully Branch of "Project Phoenix", 1968, when the School embarked on a Fund Raising Appeal for a new Science Block.

STANLEY N. CRIPPS (1921–23). Served in the R.A.A.F. in World War II. Named three members of one family lost in World War II — Dr Roderick Johnston when the Hospital Ship "Centaur" was torpedoed, his twin, Robert W. (Army), and younger brother Leo W. in the R.A.A.F.

JAMES S. GILCHRIST (1921–22). Represented the School in football. Later became well-known in musical circles as an outstanding tenor.

ETHEL E. CALLAGHAN, née ROBB, (1921). Remembered the best scholars of 1921 — Arthur Bradford, Tom Whight, Norm Pinwill and Dick Seldon.

FLORENCE E. SWAN, née SKAU, (1922–25). Was forced to give up Mr McLean's subjects because she was terrified of him. She was a Prefect in 1925. Made particular reference to Mrs Rowland being in charge of the School bookroom and what a staunch help-mate she was to her husband — Matron and many other things, and all of them unpaid.

EVA F. COOTE (1922–24). Served in the W.A.A.F. 1941–45. She recalled the All Schools' Sports (all Northern Secondary Schools) held each year at the Showground. Very few girls competed, but they were there to cheer the boys on!

FRANK C.H. CLAUSSEN (1923–26). Represented the School in football. Served in the R.A.A.F. during World War II.

PHILLIP H. ROWLAND (1923–26). Served in the R.A.A.F. in World War II (Morotai and in Australia). Represented the School in football. Remembered "Sandshoe Night" when all "New Boys" were draped across the parallel bars "for all the sins that they had done — and not done."

JOHN A. WOLFF (1923–26). Remembered the passing of Mrs Rowland: "I was requested by Mr Rowland to lead the School cortege to the cemetery at Belgian Gardens."

Reading of books, magazines etc in the Dining Room, Saturday and Sunday nights; the daily paper left on the Big School Dais each morning; Paper Chases over the hill into Belgian Gardens and back again; Gym exercises, fishing from the wharf in the harbour, at Cape Pallarenda and the Weir.

RICHARD G.B. MARKS (1923–25). Prefect, 1925. Represented School in Athletics and Football. Served in the R.A.A.F. during World War II.

CHARLES M. HOPKINS (1923–27). Prefect, 1927. Served in the R.A.M.C. (British Army) from 1940–46 in England, Ulster, the Middle East, Greece and Italy. Awarded the Military Cross in 1944. Remembered the day when he was leader of a group of boys who held Norm Johnson down and shaved off one eyebrow. About a week later, Johnson organised the same group to hold Charles down and cut a part on the wrong side of his hair. He has parted his hair on that side ever since. Charles had clear recollections of many of his contemporaries — Dick Marks, who was a good runner and represented Australia in Rugby Union, Harry and Charles Wetherell, Walter Andrews, known as "Diver", and his brother Onslow ("Sticky").

D.J.S. (JOHN) HOPKINS (1924–30). Prefect from 1927 to 1930. Head Prefect, 1930. Represented the School in Tennis, Cricket and Football. Cricket Captain. Served in the R.A.N.V.R. during World War II. In recalling his days at the School, he said: "The Masters for my first two years were P.F. Rowland, C.R. McLean (Podge), T.B. Whight, and "Plugger" Williamson, all brilliant ex-students and all-rounders of T.G.S. How we cheered them in their City Representative matches in cricket and football! "Podge", as Chemistry Master, taught by the cane — failure to learn thoroughly the prescribed detail for the day meant climbing "the Golden Stairs" after class. If there had been a major football match the previous afternoon (and everybody cheered the School team), as many as a dozen would be outside "Podge's" room at 12.45. But for the first time in my life, I learnt to learn. Under the main school was what was known as "The Ghost Hole". New boarders were subjected to ghostly howls in the dark, accompanied by stories of murder and suicide in the building. In my last year, the School was visited by a very old Old Boy, who related how there was a big stain on the ceiling, the result of a Master's suicide. In my last two years, music and art appreciation were fostered by F.J. Olsen, who, regularly on Saturday evenings, had groups of Seniors for supper, gramophone records and general discussion. My sons, Donald and Angas, and my daughter, Ailsa, were students of the School, Ailsa for one year, the others for three and five years, respectively. In 1985, Angas was honoured by being appointed one of the six Commissioners of the Australian Heritage Commission." John recalled this humorous incident which occurred when he was a Sixth Former: "I was working late one night in the Sixth Form room. Hearing a noise, I went outside and was surprised to see an old naked man crawling up the steps. I thought he was drunk and told him to clear out, but he said he would die, which looked possible. It was after midnight and, fortunately, P.F.R. was still awake and came over. After an amazing conversation, I was instructed to call the Police. Some time later, a policeman arrived on a bicycle. The man was a hospital patient, in pain and demented. The Ambulance was called, but refused to take him as it was not their job. The man was an escapee. Finally the police got a taxi." John also spoke of "Barney" Hansen, a teacher with no discipline who rang P.F.R. one night for help — the boys were throwing boots and sandshoes at him from below his first floor verandah. When P.F.R. arrived, he found "Barney" standing in full view hurling the missiles back at the boys!

HERBERT R. PETERSON (1924–26). Served in the A.I.F. from 1939 to 1943 in England and Ireland. Wounded in action at Tobruk.

JOAN IRENE PALMER, née ROWLAND, (1924–26). Nursing Sister with 2/9th A.G.H., A.I.F. Served in the Middle East, New Guinea, Morotai.

HARRY H. HOPKINS (1924-26). Prefect, 1926. Represented the School in football and cricket. Named A.N. Gray as a P.O.W. in Borneo. Served in the R.A.A.F. in Operations in Australia and in the Philippines with Allied Intelligence. P.F.R. regarded him as an outstanding scholar. Winner of an Open Scholarship. Harry had been a student at a school in England before coming to Grammar, and had some difficulties in the transition. There was an abrupt change to several new subjects, and over the years many other students experienced the same problem as they moved from primary to secondary education in a new, strange school. He had been accustomed to having about three-quarters of an hour's homework each night and going to bed early. Now there was at least half an hour's prep in each of nine subjects. The three assistant masters at that time were past students and all had won University Scholarships — "Podge" McLean, "Pluggger" Williamson, and Tommy Whight. All were extremely capable masters. "Pluggger" spoke very rapidly and was extremely nasal. One day, according to Harry's reckoning, "Pluggger" was there for a Geography lesson (he taught French and Geography), but Harry couldn't understand what he was talking about, and thought that it must be a French lesson. So he took out his French book, but still couldn't understand it. Then "Pluggger" wrote something on the blackboard, and it was Geography after all! He mentioned "Lofty" Crossman as the "bright" student of his time.

HENRY C. NOTT (1925-26). Represented the School in football and athletics.

JOYCE PHILLIPS, née BLOOM (1925-26). Prefect, 1926. An excellent pianist, who played solos for Speech Night. She recalled Mr Rowland suffering from lumbago and sending a boy for the huge Websters Dictionary which was put on a chair for him to sit on. This relieved his discomfort, but caused much amusement in the class.

JAMES A. CRAN (1925-29). Prefect, 1928-29. Represented the School in football and athletics. Named Frank Sides as an outstanding sportsman. Graduated in Dentistry, Queensland University. Served in the Dental Corps, A.I.F. for five years and eight months. When he dropped Latin for Geography, P.F.R. told him he had no future, but he eventually became Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry at the University of Adelaide.

SAMUEL J. McCLUSKEY (1927-30). Prefect, 1930-31. Represented the School in Rugby League and Tennis. Captain, Second Cricket XI. Had the misfortune in his Junior year to be confined to hospital from the beginning of August until three days before "Junior", with double pneumonia, which resulted in a pulmonary operation. One afternoon, Boss walked into his hospital room and found a T.G.S. girl visitor. The Headmaster wordlessly registered his extreme disapproval. His second visit, some weeks later, was to announce that, on medical advice, he did not intend to nominate his sick student for the "Junior". But, when it became obvious that Sam was determined to take his chance, if he was out of hospital, Boss relented. He nominated in seven subjects and passed in six of them. The hardest part of his initiation was on his very first morning, under a freezing shower at 6 a.m. on a morning of frost.

EDWARD G. (BUNNY) ROBERTSON (1927-29). Prefect in 1929. Represented the School in Rugby League and Cricket. Served in the A.I.F. in World War II. An outstanding leader, but left school after doing "Junior".

RONALD A. PERRY (1927-32). Prefect 1931-32. A fine scholar who won an Open Scholarship. He was also a very good classical pianist.

HENRY D. (HAL) FOOT (1927-32). Prefect, 1932. Served as a pilot in the R.A.A.F. in Australia and the Middle East. Mentioned Tom Covacevich being awarded the D.F.C. Could not forget Norm Pinwill's accuracy with the cane. Told of a bit of excitement one evening: "The boarders had gone to bed when someone noticed a big fire in the direction of the Strand. About ten of us went over the verandah rail, down the drainpipe, and ran barefooted in our pyjamas to see the fire. It was the old Seaview Hotel. We watched it until we found one of our Masters – Norm Pinwill – standing with us. It was a long walk back to the School, and then the cane before returning to bed. But it was a good fire and worth the caning to see it.”

KEVIN J. McNEILL (9127–28). Served in the R.A.A.F., 1942–45, in Australia, Canada, the Middle East and the United Kingdom.

GORDON W. PHILP (1929–31). Served in the A.I.F., Australia, New Guinea, and the Solomon Islands. Recalled that, although a dayboy, he did Prep at night at School, and had the cheek to line up for “picket” (supper) with the boarders at 9 p.m. each evening. He also remembered playing cricket for the School against the Old Boys, 1931, with his father in the Old Boys’ XI.

ANTHONY THOMAS COVACEVICH (1929–31). Prefect 1931. Represented the School in Rugby League and Swimming. Served in the R.A.A.F. and was seconded to R.A.F. Bomber Command, World War II. Awarded the D.F.C. Later received a knighthood.

RICHARD S. HOPKINS (1928–32). Prefect in 1932, and represented the School in Cricket, Tennis, and Rugby League. His taped reminiscences revealed certain customs of his era that must be recorded: “There were about ten to twelve Prefects with the Head Prefect in charge of the Upper Dormitory and the next in seniority residing in the Lower Dormitory. All had authority to give lines as a punishment, and each week duties were allocated by the Head Prefect. The penalties imposed were entered in a book which was inspected weekly by the Boss. As the main offences occurred in the Dormitories, where boys were forever “mucking-up”, the two senior Prefects were naturally the main givers of lines. The Masters were seldom seen in the Dormitories after “Lights Out”, and as all the Prefects were in either the Sixth or Fifth forms, and most likely working late, the “mice” could not resist the opportunity to play. But very often the noise associated with their antics was audible to those at their studies in the Big School Room, and off would go the Prefect in charge of the rowdy dormitory to dispense retribution. Dick recorded that none of the Masters of his time was a keen sportsman, although Norm Pinwill did play one season with the first cricket eleven. Because there was not much practice for sport, “scabby” and hockey were the everyday activities all the year round. “Scabby” had a definite and unchanging set of rules, but hockey (T.G.S. code) had to be seen to be believed. There were no rules! Boys played on whichever side they chose and each played by his own rules. The “field” was the area between the School building and Burke Street, where the Rowland Library now stands. The sticks, sometimes, were pieces of timber but, usually a fearsome waddy with a bend at one end, cut from a tree out in the bush, or on Castle hill, was the popular choice. One boy, who was a poor shot and often missed the ball, swung his stick round and round until he managed to hit it. Naturally, he was never challenged for possession. Before school in the morning, at 11 o’clock, and after lunch it was always on, and sometimes with reduced numbers in the afternoon. In 1923, the boys did a lot of work to prepare a second Oval. The main Oval, which was used for Cricket and Football, had a pronounced slope towards the creek. The 440 yards on Sports Day was once around this oval. Starting from the Grandstand, the runners ran downhill towards the creek, and then began the uphill toil to the finishing line. The 220 yards race, starting near the creek, was uphill all the way. On Sports Day, all races were flat races, but there were jumping and vaulting events as well as a couple of novelties. The oval where the Colour Matches were played, was the home ground for our cricket eleven, and on it the School team battled, each year, with the Old Boys for cricket supremacy. This match always took place on 30th November (St. Andrew’s Day) which, at that time, was a School holiday. Boys who represented the School in two or more sports could buy a School Blazer, but very few could afford it. When football matches were played at Charters Towers, the team had to get up at 4 a.m. to catch a train. Their departure meant that all boys in the dormitories were awake, and soon all hell would erupt as most of the Prefects were on the train and only “Boss” left to guard the School. Dick remembered the holiday trips to such places as Mt. Spec and Magnetic Island organised by the Science Master, Frank Olsen, and the piano recitals in the dining room by Ron Perry in his last year.

RONALD F. VINE (1923–25). When Ron first came to the School from Hughenden, at the age of thirteen, he saw the sea for the first time in his life. It was a new and exciting experience. He still recalled the legendary boys of that time – Monty White, Les Johnson, Bill Kricker, Norm Pinwill, Cecil Mellick, Hector Macdonald, Jack Philp, Bill Kogler, Jack Hulbert, and Frank Sides. On the first evening at school, fifteen boys were given permission to go to the Circus, which was near the railway station, provided a Prefect, Norm Pinwill, accompanied them. Later, Norm took them up past the Anglican Cathedral and back to the Botanical Gardens. Here he told them to take off their shoes and tip-toe past the Curator's house, because he had a shotgun and would shoot on sight. So in dead silence they crept through the Gardens. It was a typical joke played on new boys! Ron was a successful leg break bowler, and one day, Norm Pinwill was trying to copy it, when he brought his hand over too far and the result was a wrong-un. So Ron learnt to bowl a wrong-un from "Pinny". He recalled with pride his years at Grammar and the wonderful games of cricket in which he represented the School.

HARRY PINGEL (1926–27) often took his mates home with him to Reid River for holidays. Using pack horses loaded with guns, fishing gear and camping equipment, they would travel to the Burdekin River, Ravenswood and Mt. Spec. Harry's sister, MABEL, attended Grammar also, and in her last year, 1929, was Head Girl Prefect.

COLIN W. WADDELL (1915–19). One Sunday morning in July 1919, he appeared in a new panama hat, instead of the dreaded hard straw boater, with the Prefect's badge carefully stitched on it by his mother. Headmaster Rowland stormed: "How dare you attempt to change School regulations!" So a very embarrassed and hasty stitching took place. "I sometimes wonder if the present day boarders have a Sunday Church Parade, and, if so, what is the ruling on headwear? And how well I remember that beautiful Honour Board which recorded the names of all past T.G.S. Students who enlisted in World War I. I can recall our feelings of sadness each time an artist came out to the School to paint gold bars against the names of those who had been killed in action. Mrs Rowland, our Headmaster's wife, was one of the most gracious ladies I have ever met and her death, some years after I had left school, was deeply mourned by all who knew her. I can never forget the cheerful way she faced, and overcame, enormous difficulties. For example, slicing hot corned beef for thirty hungry boarders in a low-set, iron-roofed dining room during Townsville's sweltering heat. Our French Master, "Joey" Dunster, developed a special technique for caning. The victim was required to bend well over, to tighten his trousers: then came a downward, slicing stroke which was exceedingly painful but which did not leave a mark. "Old Peter" was Peter Guelf, the very ancient cleaning man with enormous beard through which he "whistled" as he breathed. He was a most amazing, if rather unpopular, figure. His job entailed making plenty of clattering noises as he swept the classrooms after hours, day and night, and to ring one of the loudest and heaviest brass bells at 6 a.m. sharp, endlessly, it seemed to us. He lived in a little hut beside a creek behind the Headmaster's house. Another character was the huge "Cook lady" who dished out bread and treacle after evening Prep; and still another was Nellie, who scrubbed floors and did the laundry. She was forever screaming with laughter."

DOM MARTINEZ (1928–32). Prefect, 1930–31, and Head Prefect 1932. Represented the School in Swimming, Rugby League and Cricket. Was one of Grammar's great swimming champions. Always respected for his thoughtfulness, his sense of fair play, and, above all, for his modesty. Besides being an outstanding sportsman, he was also a scholar of note.

PHILLIP H. ROWLAND (1923–26). Son of the Headmaster, P.F. Rowland, recalled that Norman Johnson was a very good Latin student, always willing to help other boys who were weak in this subject, even to the extent of allowing them to copy his work. Unfortunately, one night at Prep, Norman made a terrible mistake in his Latin homework and next day Boss discovered that eight other boys had made the same mistake! So!! Phil said that, under his father's crusty exterior, he was really kind-hearted, a man always on the side of the "underdog", and who, at his own expense, paid for the education of promising boys whose parents could not afford to keep them at school. His father often took him for walks in the evenings and discussed politics, and stated on several occasions that, if he had his time again, he would have been a journalist.

CECIL J.B. MARKS (1918–20). Was a brother of Dorothea Marks (1913–16) and freely admitted that he got plenty of cane, especially from Mr Whelan. The Scabby Pitch, which had nets around it in those days, was always popular.

ROY GALBRAITH (1911–14) was initiated as soon as he arrived at the School on his first day. Isla Montgomerie put a handful of horse manure in his hat and pushed it down on his head. Roy served in World War I and was shell-shocked. On returning to Townsville, he was invited to address the School on his experiences, but needed a few whiskies before he started. He recalled the night when he and a couple of others waited for "Joey" to climb the steps, somewhat "under the weather". They dropped a pillow on him and he fell down. Next day "Joey" explained that his skinned nose was the result of walking into a tree in Queens Park at night.

RUTH BRADLEY (1928–29). In speaking of Boss Rowland, she said: "He treated us like a lot of nuns." Ruth was a fine elocutionist, who won Recitation prizes at the School and in Eisteddfods.

CECIL J. MELLICK (1923–28). Prefect 1927–28, Head Prefect 1928. Won the Recitation prize at 13 years and again the next year. Represented the School for four years in Rugby League, and was a fine gymnast and useful boxer. He still recalled the physical exercises which were held daily after Call Over in the area between Big School and the lower dormitory – also Boss Rowland playing his last game of cricket in the Colour Matches of 1926. He remembered his early Masters, all Old Boys, "Podge" McLean, "Plugger" Williamson and Tommy Whight. Later, there was another Old Boy Master, Norman Pinwill. Frank Olsen came in 1928. All were first class teachers.

TOM MILFULL (1928–34) had been a teacher at Townsville High School before becoming a Master at Grammar in 1928. He married Marian Rowland, the Headmaster's eldest daughter, in the same year. Taking over as Sportsmaster from Tommy Whight, he had vivid recollections of the batting brilliance of Frank Sides; the all-round sporting ability of Dom Martinez and Bill Gillman; and of the School Inspector examining the Sixth Form in Maths who asked a boy a question on mechanics. The boy gave the wrong answer, but the Inspector said, "Yes, that's right." It was apparent that the Inspector knew nothing about mechanics!

MARIAN MILFULL, née ROWLAND, (1919–21) became Matron after her Mother's death in 1926. Then began her association with Minnie Hebb, who had come as personal servant to the Rowland family a short time before, and who remained for many years a devoted and loyal friend, not only to the Rowlands, but to the School and countless boys of her time. Marian recalled the cook, who often got drunk, and when she and Minnie had to fill the breach at short notice to prepare meals for fifty or more boarders.

FRANCES F. PINWILL, née ROWLAND, (1919–23). Second daughter of P.F. Rowland, graduated in Arts at the Queensland University. She later married Norman Pinwill, a former student and then a Master at the School. She recalled how Boss would bring her mother the most impossible presents when he arrived late from town. One night he arrived home with a cooked crab and a big bag of cherries. She also recalled the great herds of goats that were always scavenging around the School, some with jam tins stuck on their horns; and old Peter's curses: "Damn those goats." Then there was Jacko, the faithful school dog, that howled for the boys when they were on holidays. Jacko was taken by a shark in Ross Creek.

ANITA COX, née MILLER. Daughter of F.T. Miller, the second Headmaster, was only a young child when her father resigned, but she could still remember Cyclone "Leonta".

NORMA DONALD (1905-07) had two brothers who attended the School, George in 1901 and Harry in 1908. The memories have faded now, but she said that there were only about six girls there in her time.

BOBS GORDON, née MOORE, (1910-13). The School was a very happy place. Everyone went to the boarders' dining room once a week where they sang, and sang, from "Gaudeamus", the School Song Book. She won the Recitation Prize. When she went to a girls' boarding school in the south, she found life very dull. She started work in a Townsville bank where one of the boys of her time, Bob McLaughlin, was also working. It was strange having to address him as "Mr McLaughlin".

MARY E. BADGERY, née MOORE, (1911-12). There were about eleven girls and eighty to ninety boys at the School in her time. Her brother, T.G. Moore, was there in the same years. The girls had their School Picnic at Kissing Point, every year. A few of the girls of her time were Bobs Gordon, Winifred Beaumont and Dorothy Hopkins. She left the School when her parents moved to Sydney.

COLIN W.H. BINGHAM (1913-17). Prefect. In his book "The Beckoning Horizon", Bingham gives a vivid picture of boarding school life in his years. To quote, in part: "The schoolboy memories that have survived the long process of forgetting, are in my case mostly a fairly normal set of loves and hates. But one hate, I was astonished to find, was shared by few of my fellows . . . Bullying, at the T.G.S. had been fashioned into what would now be regarded as a mild course of "bastardisation", and prospered under the name of "initiation". Initiation ceremonies had been sanctioned by school and college authorities in Australia for many years, and their great and noble source was the English Public School. Toe-stringing was the most barbaric treatment to which freshers were subjected. I suffered that most barbaric of treatments, toe-stringing myself . . . This practice, when in the dead of night, boys were jerked from their beds by a thin rope looped around the big toe, and were pulled along the dormitory floor . . . until the noise and suppressed laughter of the tormentors brought the sleepy housemaster from his adjacent quarters . . . A little disorder among the sheets and blankets there might be, but most boys sleep carelessly, and among them all there would appear to be only peace, blessed peace! My first year as a boarder was not a happy one; my younger brother, (Percy R. Bingham, 1914-1916), stronger physically but less prone to self-pity, weathered the difficulties of adaptation better. Life in the dormitories . . . soon convinced a nervous boy from the bush that the older "young bulls" . . . who drove the younger boarders back under the cold showers each time they emerged to dry themselves, were rarely so prominent in the classrooms." As Bingham neared his "Junior", his mother made arrangements for him to start work as a clerk with Samuel Allen and Sons in Townsville, but he argued successfully to be allowed to go on to "Senior". "I did not want, I said, to start my real life sitting on a long-legged stool checking figures. I wanted to be part of a larger world; I wanted to be able to use words, not figures. And one day I hoped to write". And write he did! His journalistic career progressed through the "Townsville Daily Bulletin", to the Brisbane "Telegraph", then as a War correspondent in London, and, finally, as Editor of the "Sydney Morning Herald".

JACK PHILP (1923-27). Head Prefect, 1927, and winner of the Rugby Prize. A good all round sportsman, excelling in Cricket in which he later represented Townsville and North Queensland. Served in the R.A.A.F. World War II.

JACK RYAN (1927-31). Head Prefect, 1931, and winner of the Rugby Prize. Excellent sportsman. More than any other boy of his era, Ryan resembled P.F.R. with his droll humour, confident leadership, and calm considered judgment as Head Prefect.

JIM HALL (1927-29). Nephew of G.F.E. Hall, the School's first Rhodes Scholar. Remembered as a great friend and for his excellence at sport, particularly in Athletics and Rugby League. A boarder from Home Hill.

FRANK JOHNSON (1928–30). From Home Hill. Remembered by those who travelled with him by train between Ayr and Townsville (trips of four to eleven hours), as a non-stop yarn-teller. Frank said that "you never knew when you would get to Townsville, especially when the carriage was hooked to a goods train." His favourite subjects were French and Chemistry, and his great love for classical music and opera was established at a very early age. Like many others, he is not only intensely proud of Grammar and the Old Dormitory Block, the lower floor of which was the Big School in his day, but firmly believes that the School's traditions must not be allowed to fade into obscurity. Frank is the first Old Boy ever to be installed as the District Grand Master of the District Grand Lodge (Freemasonry) of North Queensland.

GERTRUDE POHLMAYER (1927–31). Prefect, 1931. Sports: swimming and gymnastics (self-organised). She gave a very clear account of the extremely difficult conditions endured by the girls attending the School. No sport was ever organised for them despite the fact that they had to pay sports fees! As a concession, they were permitted to use the tennis court, but only if the boys did not want to use it. Both boys and girls had to provide their own equipment. Girls were allowed to use the gymnasium, but not the mats, which, of course, were for "boys only". "Who cared if we broke our wretched little necks!" Except on Colour Match days, and for the Annual Sports, the Oval was completely out-of-bounds to girls. Their greatest freedom was at the City Baths where boys took great delight in pushing or throwing them into the water. One day, Gertie threw one young nuisance into the pool, but then had to rescue him when it dawned on her that he couldn't swim. "And that rotten little Dove Cote, about ten by eight feet in size, which had to accommodate at least sixteen girls, a wooden kitchen table and two long benches! We brought our own water heater for a hot drink at lunchtime. And we had to walk to and from the classrooms by a special roundabout way, so that we would not distract the boys! Our uniform? Dark blue tobralco tunics with white blouses, AND blue tobralco bloomers, AND grey ribbed cotton stockings held up by garters. If we bent over, they fell down.

One wet day, with water everywhere, we took off our shoes and stockings and put them on when we reached the classrooms. "Boss" chortled, but appeared a little shocked. However, he wrote a poem about it. Then somebody invented "milanese" and we appeared in the gym with pink bloomers under our tunics. How daring we were! The boys stared open-mouthed, but it was too much for "Boss". But what a wonderful storage place bloomers were — one girl actually carried nineteen objects in hers! There was another "sore point" with us girls. Day boys were allowed to attend Prep with the boarders, but the girls, even those living close to the School, were banned. As the boys were able to seek the help of Masters at Prep, we felt we were disadvantaged. We were, you could say, pariahs! No fraternisation was permitted between boys and girls except on Speech Night, when we could dance together. But then we were invaded by girls from St Anne's under the supervision of the formidable Sister Alice. We dutifully entertained these girls, but when our Head Prefect asked that we girls be allowed to attend the dances at St Anne's (as our boys were), Sister Alice was quite emphatic: "Oh no! we have plenty of girls. It's the boys we want for social contacts". In the classrooms we always had to sit in the front under the masters' noses and were wonderful targets for the boys behind us. They put chewing gum in our hair, attempted to tie our plaits together, bombarded us with chewed-up paper pellets fired from shanghais, put pins in the toes of their shoes and stuck them into us, put frogs and mice on the shelves under our desks — just to mention a few of their antics. And these same boys, when dancing with us on Speech Night, were forever trying to undo the clips of our bras. We stopped that little trick by pinning the bras and by setting more pins as a trap for their searching fingers!" Somehow, Gertie survived.

NORMAN McLEOD (1930–33). A solid, dependable boy who was Senior Day Boy Prefect in 1931 (his second year as a Prefect). Strong footballer who represented the School in Rugby League in 1930–31. Served in the Army during World War II.

GLEN BAKER (1929-33). A quiet boy who always showed signs of cricketing ability, but was unable to get his act together. On leaving Grammar, he quickly came into his own when he was selected to play for the Queensland Sheffield Shield team and scored a century on at least two occasions. Glen lost his life while serving in the Army during World War II.

MICK CURLEY (1930-33), came as a boarder from the bush township of Kidston, with a great reputation as a snake handler. In his first two years it was evident that he could run all day without tiring, but his action was so ungainly that a schoolmate once said: "Mick, you run like a constipated camel." One night, when working back on late Prep, he came into the lower dorm after "lights out" and flopped into bed. With a roar he was out again in an instant. Someone had planted a carpet snake in his bed. Mick, the snake expert, was frightened out of his wits. Nobody knew who was responsible, but all eyes looked in the direction of a small boy, Hector Kinsey, an outrageous prankster. Mick Curley served in the Army during World War II.

JOHN NEAL (1930-31). A burly fourteen-year-old westerner, is remembered now for one incident. He and Hector Kinsey were taken into custody one night and sentenced to a trip in the "Ghost Hole". While Neal was restrained above, Kinsey was sent into the nether region where he encountered a "ghost". Believing that the apparition could feel no pain, he laid hands on it in such a way as to cause a great scream of agony to be heard above. In the confusion that followed, Neal saw his chance, broke free, and was away in headlong flight into the sports reserve, where he remained till "Rising Bell" next morning. John Neal served in the Army during World War II.

RODERICK (TICH) JOHNSTON (1930-33) and his twin, ROBERT (1930-31) came as boarders from Mossman. They were both tall boys, but quite dissimilar in nature, Tich being a fun-loving, rather boisterous type, while Robert was quiet and retiring. They were hopeless Latin students and "Boss" Rowland was in despair one morning when he had them and another tall boy out at his prep table. "Faith, Hope and Charity", he said, "and the greatest of these is Charity", pointing to Tich. Robert, and another younger brother, Leo, (1931), both in the Army, were killed in action in World War II, while Tich, who became a doctor, lost his life when the hospital ship "Centaur" was torpedoed.

FRANK SIDES (1926-30). Over the years, the School produced very fine cricketers, who, in their time, represented Townsville, North Queensland and, in some instances, the State in the Sheffield Shield — fellows like Glen Baker, Alan Tait, Tommy Whight, Roy Anderson, Bill Kogler and Ron Vine, just to mention a few. But none captured the imagination of their schoolmates as did Frank Sides, probably because he broke into first class cricket while still a Grammar student. An elegant, free-stroking left hander, he scored heavily for the School at thirteen years with a bat almost as big as himself. Tommy Whight quickly recognised Frank's potential and coached him carefully. At 17 he was in the Queensland side. Seeing little chance of advancement unless he went south, he moved to Victoria and was soon in their Shield team. In one mighty innings, he completely demolished the great Clarrie Grimmett, and when the Australian team was chosen for England, 1938, it was considered that Sides was most unlucky to miss selection. Frank often kept his neighbours in the Upper Dormitory awake while he spoke of his burning ambition to play for Australia. When Japan entered the War, Frank returned north to enlist with his friends. He was killed in action in New Guinea.

CHARLES F. BROMLEY (1931-38). When Charles Bromley came to Grammar at the beginning of 1931, he was still three months short of nine years of age, but, from his first day, he displayed a self-reliance that was evident for the rest of his short life. Because he was so young, he came in for his share of teasing that is part of dormitory life. In his last year, 1938, he was Second Prefect and a fine influence in the School. With the coming of World War II, he joined the R.A.A.F. and was posted to New Guinea as a Wirraway pilot — those hopelessly outdated reconnaissance planes. When a flight of Japanese Zeros attacked, eight weary old Wirraways were senselessly ordered into the air to meet them. The result was inevitable — a couple crashed and the rest, including Bromley's plane, were shot out of the skies.

MILTON K. JURD (1939–40). Enlisted in the Army at 18, but when he turned 19 transferred to the R.A.A.F. As a wireless-airgunner, in Lancasters, he lost his life just six weeks before the War in Europe ended.

NAYLEEN McGAY, née JURD, (1942–43). Sister to Milton Jurd. Left School to work in an A.I.F. recruiting office in Townsville when just 16 years of age, too young to wear a uniform.

FRED HODEL (1933–34). Represented the School in football and swimming. Served in the A.I.F. (1940–45), and was a P.O.W. Son of Thomas Hodel (1904–05) and father of Frederick Hodel (1964–65).

ROBERT J. CLARK (1909–12). Served in the A.I.F. in World War I. Was at the Gallipoli landing and then in Europe till 1918. A Prefect in 1912.

FRANCIS B. BURNETT (1930–33). Doctor with the 2/12th Field Ambulance in Australia and Borneo, World War II. Prefect, 1932–33. He relates: "The western classroom had a trapdoor in the floor. Junior students were often imprisoned underneath, in among the foundations in pitch darkness, at lunch time. Mr Pinwill came in one day, heard this great banging noise coming from the bowels of the building and ordered the sentry standing on the trapdoor to open it. An old paint pot came flying out of the darkness and hit the master a severe blow on the shin."

WILLIAM J. GILLMAN (1930–33). Prefect 1931–32–33. Represented the School in Rugby League, Cricket and Tennis. Served in the R.A.A.F. in World War II. When Bill was initiated in 1930, "they did all sorts of things to us. We had to run a gauntlet, were put down the "Ghost Hole", and some of us were sent to Go Cum's for threepence worth of pigeon's milk, only to be chased out of the shop with an axe". Chester Parker came to the Grammar at the same time, and, although quite good friends, they maintained a strong rivalry in schoolwork. Parker was not a brilliant scholar, but won his success through sheer determination and hard work. Ron Perry, two years ahead of Bill, was another outstanding student and a fine classical pianist as well. Bill, himself, was learning the piano at this time, and "Boss", after hearing him practising in the dining room, christened him "Paderewski". That was when Bill dropped the study of music. He knew Mick Curley from the bush town of Kidston who smoked "like a chimney" and who also got a nickname from "Boss", — "Capstan" Curley. On one occasion, a couple of boys came across "Capstan" down in the creek with three plucked chickens, doubtfully acquired, and ready to cook in his clay oven. They hung around and finally helped the chef to devour the meal of roast chicken. One morning, when "Boss" was taking Prep, Bill's mate, Danny Kemp, asked him how to work out a Maths problem. Thinking that Danny was aware that "Boss" knew nothing about Maths, he said: "Ask 'Boss'". So out went Danny and said: "Please, sir, would you show me how to do this?" "Boss" was highly insulted and threw a punch which took Danny admidships and landed him on the floor. Bill remembered George Sleeman riding his bike all the way to Rollingstone to wag school. And Frank Olsen, the best teacher at T.G.S. in his time — a wonderful friend to the boys — a person they could really confide in. Bill Gillman is intensely loyal to his former Headmaster, and regretted that, after 34 years of service, P.F.R. received (see comment by C. Bingham) 20 pounds from the Trustees and 250 pounds from the Old Boys. He remembered the Saturday nights in the Dining Room with "Boss" leading the singing of the School Songs, and he recalled with pride the trust that the great headmaster had in the boys by giving them so much liberty. One of his most vivid recollections is of 1938 — the School's Golden Jubilee. There was a big procession from Flinders Street to the School, where a Mardi Gras was held. For this procession, they had talked a well known Chinese storekeeper into allowing himself to be imprisoned in a cage. For some time everything proceeded smoothly. Then bystanders began pelting the cage with tomatoes and a very dangerous situation developed.

LAWRENCE E.W. WILKINS (1937–39). Remembered when “Boss” took him to a play rehearsal in Townsville and grimaced when he sat down on a rough wooden bench. Next day, at School, Boss took him aside and said: “Wilkins, I had a misfortune last night. At the rehearsal, a splinter pierced my posterior and I had to get into my bathing suit and have Matron remove it”. He cannot forget entering Mr Blank’s room when the caning of several boys was about to commence and he added to the group. When he protested his innocence, Mr Blank said: “Better the innocent should suffer than the guilty go free.” Laurie also recalled the night when, after defeating Mr Blank at draughts, he was ordered to sit down and play another game. He was soundly defeated.

GWENDOLYN N. HODEL (née ANDREWS), 1936–39. Represented the School at tennis. Served part time V.A.D. in Townsville, 1940–45. Her husband, Fred Hodel, was a prisoner-of-war in Malaya. Remembered Charlie Bromley, Jack White and Keith Vidler, three past students who were killed in World War II.

PATRICIA R.M. DEARNESS (née ANDREWS), 1936–37. Said the Headmaster, Mr Rowland did not particularly want commercial students. He was also very particular about the background of the girl students. Dress and conditions for girls were the same as in Gertie Pohlmeier’s era. Soloist winner at a North Queensland Eisteddford.

GEORGE S. ERICKSON (1932–33). Represented the School in Rugby League. Served in the Australian Maritime Command and the United States Navy Transport, 1940–45, in the Pacific, Atlantic and Indian Oceans.

NEVILLE DONALD (DON) PURDON (1935–37). A Prefect in his last year, left shortly before he was due to sit Senior to accept a job in a bank. Job opportunities were rare at that time, and unless a boy intended to go to the University, he had to take suitable employment whenever it was available. To go as far as Junior was a privilege and a status symbol, as secondary education was almost exclusively for the wealthy, unless the town had a High School. The Matron was Miss Ficklin who had been a missionary in the Torres Strait Islands. The boys on the lugger boats, which called at Townsville, all knew her and often came to see her. On one occasion, a football match was arranged between the lugger boys (all big men) and the School team. He remembered Go Cum and the twenty-two-year-old Head Prefect, Jim Beharrel, who was studying for the Ministry; and Frank Olsen, an outstanding Master, who probably held the School together; and Vere Harding, a good tennis player and distance runner.

THOMAS A. BENNION (1911–12). Dux of the Croydon State School, and Scholarship winner, was presented with a gold medal by F.W. Cuthbert (a wealthy goldmine owner). When he gained a position as Apprentice Clerk at the Townsville Railway Department, P.F. Rowland remarked: “Fancy a student from our School reduced to selling tickets at a railway station window!” He enlisted in the 1st A.I.F., 1916 and returned in 1917. Because of his knowledge of North Queensland, he transferred to the Queensland Tourist Bureau. He became manager at Rockhampton, Adelaide, Melbourne and Sydney. At times he was required to represent the Premier of Queensland at Consular functions. Thus, Mr Rowland’s ticket clerk “made good” after all.

LAWRENCE J. WACKETT (1910–11). Was one of Grammar’s most famous sons but left the School because a classical education was of no use to one who was determined to become an engineer. He was always experimenting – from trying out new ways of spinning a cricket ball to building a hot-air balloon. As a pilot in the Royal Australian Air Force in World War I, he was awarded the D.F.C. and the A.F.C. He became an aeronautical engineer and aircraft designer, and pioneered the aircraft industry in Australia for which he was knighted.

M. GLASHEEN (1924-26). Was a fine footballer who played for Australia in Rugby League after leaving school.

JAMES S. GILCHRIST (1921-22). In the harsh economic climate of the 1920s when Jim was at Grammar, he walked to School from South Townsville every day in all types of weather. He was such a terrible writer that Boss Rowland once told him that, if his worst enemy ever needed an office clerk, he would recommend him. Jim will long be remembered in Townsville and North Queensland musical circles as one of the finest tenors of his time.

HARRY SMALLWOOD (1918-20). Although he did not represent the School at cricket, he later played for Townsville against a visiting N.S.W. team which included Don Bradman. Harry remembers a football match between the Junior T.G.S. team and a North ward side. Grammar was getting an awful hiding, and a barracker repeatedly called out: "Who learned you your football?" Finally, one of the students yelled back: "The same bloke who learned you your grammar!"

DONALD ANGUS McDONALD (1927-29). One day in 1919, two very small boys found themselves sitting next to each other on their first day at the Ayr State School. They became firm friends, but on the first day of the next year, Donald McDonald and his family left the district. Then in 1927, he joined Townsville Grammar and resumed his friendship with Sam McCluskey. On their first day at T.G.S. they were again seated side by side.

WALLY STOCKDALE (1928-30). Recalled the appalling poverty in Townsville during the Depression years. Patched clothing was quite common at Grammar, and dayboys' lunches consisted of fish paste or banana sandwiches. He lived at Ross Island, and said that, if it were not for the abundant supply of seafood in Ross River and Cleveland Bay, and the goats which roamed Castle Hill, many people would have found it difficult to survive. Just after leaving School, he applied for a job as office boy at a foundry. When he arrived there were over one hundred applicants lined up waiting for an interview, including the smartest boy at Grammar! He recalled Boss Rowland announcing, in Latin, that his class could have a half holiday. As no one understood the statement, Boss translated, cancelled the holiday and gave a Latin lesson instead. Wally paid tribute to his former school-mate, Alex Trotter, for many years the Townsville Daily Bulletin's photographer, and to Franz Breuer, a very gifted artist and caricaturist of the 1927 vintage.

GEORGE SLEEMAN (1928-31). Dominating the picture that George retained of the School was the mighty figure of P.F. Rowland. When Singapore fell, George became a prisoner-of-war and found himself in a P.O.W. camp with Gordon Owen, a former Master at the School, and Howard Harvey, a student at T.G.S. (1935-38). He recalled reaching the semi-finals in the "B" Grade doubles, North Queensland Championship, with Sam McCluskey, and some urchins running off with a ball he had hit over the fence.

FRANK PROVERA (1938-39). Came from a cane farm at Gordonvale. As Cairns High School did not have classes for the Queensland Senior Examination, he enrolled at Grammar. He was a Prefect in 1939. He recalled mowing the playing fields with a horse-drawn grass cutter, and that it required quite a bit of coaxing and expertise to manage the horse. "While I was no great footballer or cricketer, at least my farming experience was put to good use".

HENRY EATHER (1935-38). Represented the School in swimming and soccer. He recalled the first refrigerator (10 cu. ft.) being installed in the School in 1937, and the morning the Headmaster noticed a certain bedroom utensil sitting like a hat on the flagpole. At Call Over, the culprit owned up, received "four" and saved the half-holiday for the School. Served with the A.I.F. in New Guinea.

CHARLES H.V. (VERE) HARDING (1934-37). Was a dayboy for the first two years and then a boarder. He represented the School in tennis and swimming, and was a Prefect 1936-37. School Blazers were worn in his time by boys who had accumulated sufficient points by representing the School in two or more sports. He said that Boss imbued everyone with a wonderful spirit. "I loved those old School songs; I suppose it was the tradition that appealed to me. Do they still sing them?" Served in the A.I.F. in New Guinea, and later in the C.M.F.

WALLACE J. RUSSELL (1933-37). Prefect and School Captain, 1937. Served in the Middle East (1940-45) in World War II. When Boss Rowland appointed one of a tough group of four boarders a Prefect, the other three proceeded to give the new Prefect a rough time. As School Captain, he organised an extra impromptu boxing night. The new Prefect took on his tormentors, one at a time. No more trouble.

ROY A.F. McDONALD (1931-33) served in the A.I.F. in Australia, 1941, then in the R.A.A.F. in Canada and New Guinea, 1942-46. How well he remembered the majestic beauty of these words spoken by Boss Rowland at Call Over: "Panum nostrum quotidianum."

CEDRIC C. OLDHAM (1930-32). Was a brilliant scholar who topped every term examination while at T.G.S. Served in the R.A.A.F. in World War II.

EOIN W. HUNTER (1930-33). Was a Prefect 1932-33. His elder brother, David, was a Prisoner-of-War in Austria.

FRED QUOD (1932). Was appointed "mailman" for the School because he did not take Latin. Posted all the mail, on one occasion, without stamps. Served in the Army, New Guinea and Bougainville, World War II.

DAVID A. McDONALD (1932-34). Prefect 1934. Served in the A.I.F. (Australia) 1940-46. Represented the School in swimming, hockey and football.

JOHN LAW (1933-34). Served in the A.I.F. in New Guinea, Morotai, and the Occupation Forces in Japan until 1947.

NEIL H. RUSSELL (1933-34). Served with the A.I.F. 1939-45. Awarded the D.C.M. at Tobruk.

GRAHAM H. ROBERTS (1933-34). Served with the R.A.A.F. in World War II.

JOHN H. HOLMAN (1933-35). Served in the A.I.F., 1940-45. Was a Prisoner-of-War at Changi and Burma Railway, 1942-45.

VICTOR B. HENRY (1933-36). Prefect in 1936. Recalled Rowland's great interest in the development of character and confidence in his students, and the Headmaster's humour and laughter. Had a special word for "Stiffy" Olsen's "You DO know it" and "Just let us go through it again."

GWENDOLINE A. SAMPSON, now LENNOX (1934-35). Remembered Boss Rowland's sarcasm one morning: "Ladies and gentlemen, you are not swans. Would the person who considers himself one, please stand?" A very tall boy rose slowly. He was not wearing a tie!

ETHEL M. HANLON, now PULLMAN (1934-36). Prefect. 1936.

CYRIL J. BEALE (1935-37). Served in the A.I.F. in Australia, World War II.

BRUCE H. McCONACHY (1935–36). Remembered boxing with Vic Henry, who “had a punch like the kick of a mule.” He said that Bill Heatley (who became a Senator), Vic Henry and “Bunny” Greenslade were the outstanding students of his time. His nephew, Malcolm McConachy, was killed in Vietnam.

NEVILLE D. PURDON (1935–37). Prefect 1937. Captain of the Under 16 Cricket XI.

WALTER M. PUGH (1935–37). Served with the R.A.A.F. in England, Ireland and Egypt. Killed in Egypt.

HERBERT J. HEALY (1936–39). Prefect 1938–39. Served with the R.A.F. and the R.A.A.F. In recalling his time at the School, he said: “Punishment was generally the cane; not excessive and somehow impersonal – it was accepted by all as reasonable. Even the weak in body could gain in status by not being weak in spirit under punishment.”

LAWRENCE E. WILKINS (1937–39). Served in the R.A.A.F., 1942–45, in New Guinea and Morotai.

FRANK D. SIM (1939–40). Served in the R.A.A.F., 1943–45, in Britain. Was appointed a Trustee of the School in 1968, became Chairman of the Board of Trustees in 1972.

HAROLD W. GREENSLADE (1935–37). Prefect 1937. His brilliant pass in the 1936 Queensland Junior gained him a Scartwater Scholarship. Was an outstanding footballer and cricketer. Served in the R.A.A.F., Coastal Command, Lagos, Nigeria, in World War II. Secretary to the Board of Trustees since 1952.

RONALD J. MORRIS (1939–40 and 1943). Served in the R.A.A.F. 1944–46. His brother, Neville, was killed in action in World War II. He recalled that, at Rosslea, the domestic staff went on strike one morning, and that he helped to cook the bacon and liver for breakfast.

CYRIL C. WRIGHT (1939–40). Prefect, 1940. Served in the A.I.F., New Guinea, 1942–44. BCOF Japan after cessation of War. Represented the School in Football and Soccer.

MALCOLM B. SKINNER (1939–41). Prefect, 1941. Represented the School in Rugby League and Athletics. Served with the R.A.A.F. in the United Kingdom, 1943–45.

ROBERT A. DANSIE (1937–40). Recalled P.F. Rowland with great affection and remembered Boss taking the Boarders for singing (each boarder had his own song book, “Gaudeamus Igitur”; Mr Lewis’ horse-drawn pie cart which used to pull up under the fig trees in Burke Street; the excitement of buying a pie and peas for sixpence (out of two shillings a week pocket money); the chocolate blanc mange (Burdekin Mud); Matron Ficklin, who had been a missionary on Thursday Island; and the thrills on Saturday afternoons cycling the streets of Townsville looking for a crazy character, Mickey the Goose.

JOHN N. AUBREY (1940-41). Was a dayboy in his first year and a boarder in the second year. Respected the Headmaster, T.B. Whight. Served as a sniper in the 2/40 and 2/41 Battalions in World War II.

MICHAEL IVORY (1940-42). Served in the R.A.A.F. 1944-45, then in the Royal Australian Navy, 1946-56.

NEVILLE J. THOMPSON (1940-41). Served in the R.A.A.F. 1944-45. He recalled the soccer team he and his friends entered in the Saturday competition. They were carpeted by the Headmaster (T.B. Whight) and told not to associate the team with the School.

THOMAS E. ATKINSON (1940-42). Regarded M.W. Blank as a fine teacher. He said that he was unprepared for the cultural shock that he experienced at the School. Served in the R.A.N. 1943-46.

WILLIAM G. WILSON (1940-43). Was School Captain and House Captain in 1943. He recalled the Japanese bombing raids on Townsville, and also the time he procured a rifle to shoot a snake in the classroom. Outstanding scholars of his time were Miss P. Shann, Miss R. Monahan, D.W. Sturgess, who later became Director of Sugar Experimental Stations, and N. Watson, who rose to the rank of Brigadier and Director of the Royal Australian Medical Corps. William Wilson graduated in Dentistry and was awarded a Churchill Fellowship.

COLIN B. KELLY (1941-44). Was a Prefect in 1943 and Head Prefect, 1944. He regarded T.B. Whight as an inspiring Headmaster, and V.R.J. Bliss, not only an excellent teacher of Latin, but a Master who was always concerned for the welfare of boarders.

GEOFFREY WOOLRYCH (1943). Spent one year at T.G.S., joined the Royal Australian Navy and rose to the rank of Rear Admiral.

ALAN A. SEAWRIGHT (1943-46). Was a Prefect and House Captain in 1946 and stated that T.B. Whight was mainly responsible for his subsequent academic success. Mentioned Open Scholarship winners, Bryan Emmerson and Harry Holmes, and Byrnes Medallist, Shirely Richards, as the outstanding scholars of his time.

BRYAN T. EMMERSON (1943-46). Was a Prefect in 1946. Now Professor of the Department of Medicine, Princess Alexandra Hospital, Brisbane, referred to his contemporaries who achieved distinction: Alan Seawright, Reader in Veterinary Clinical Pathology, Queensland University, and Professor Mat Darveniza, Head of the Department of Electrical Engineering, Queensland University.

MAX ACKLAND (1943-44). Speaking of the teachers of his time, said that they were an amazing mixture ranging from an elderly military type brought out of retirement, to young Audrey Maxwell, a schoolgirl herself the previous year. Tommy Whight moulded them into a team that achieved surprising results. Boarder Prefects, apparently, delighted in imposing detention on the "day bugs" in the form of work in the Boarders' vegetable garden. He recalled that everyone had to know the words of the School Songs perfectly. He can still sing them, but to his regret, his sons cannot.

COLIN H. GEORGE (1943-45). Also remembered his teachers and said that Mr Dillon, an ex-Indian Army man, "had no hope of controlling us, probably because we were Colonials!"

MAT DARVENIZA (1943-46). Was a brilliant scholar and represented the School in cricket. For some years, he has been Professor of Electrical Engineering at the University of Queensland, Brisbane.

ALASTAIR S. BOLLES (1946-47) and JAMES G. THOMPSON (1946-49). Both refer to Alan Henderson, who met with a regrettable accident during the last Rugby League match in 1946, and who spent the remainder of his short life in an iron lung. In 1948, Mr I. Malpas presented "The Alan Henderson Cup" to be awarded to the Champion House (Boys and Girls) in Sport, Debating and Scholarship.

SAM DIBELLA (1947-50). Was a prefect in his last two years, and was at Grammar with E.H. Keir, who later founded the Acoustic Hearing centre at the Royal Melbourne Hospital. Represented the School in Cricket and Tennis.

RENATO CANTATORE (1948-51). Was a first class athlete, cricketer and footballer (Rugby League). Represented Queensland in Long Jump and Triple Jump and won a Bronze Medal in the Australian Championships, 1956. In later years, represented Queensland in Lawn Bowls (1980-81). Head Prefect 1951, and a Boarder Master from 1952 to 1954. He recalled that in 1948 the boys were hungry for sport, but, owing to the devastation after the occupation by the R.A.A.F. during the war years, they had no facilities. However, a thorough search in the high grass revealed a cement cricket pitch. Ren became Cricket Captain in 1950, and distinguished himself in Athletics and broke the long jump record set by G.F.E. Hall in 1907.

WAL CASTANZO (1948-51). Was a Prefect in his last two years and House Captain in 1951. Represented the School in Rugby League and Cricket, and was a Boarder Master in 1961.

GRAEME M. BROWN (1948-51). Was Dux of the School, Prefect and House Captain. Initially, he found it difficult for a country boy to wear shoes all day. Represented the School in Cricket, Tennis, and Rugby League. His first son, Geoffrey, was at Grammar, 1970-74.

SIBYL TARLING (1949-52), now Mrs Sibyl PAYN. In discussing homework made these comments: "They gave it, but I didn't do it (except for own choice essays, or a maths problem they didn't think we could do). They gave up detentions for me, probably because I disrupted their detention class too much." She was a Prefect and Girls' House Captain in 1952, and represented the School in sport, but admitted that, as there were only enough girls to form a team, she was not chosen on ability. She concluded: "I think I grew faster mentally in those years than at any other time. The rest of my life seems a blur, but those four years stand out in my memory with startling clarity".

BARRY L. LAWRENCE (1949-52). Was head Boarder, a Prefect and House Captain in 1952. He won a Cunningham Scholarship in his Senior year, and topped Queensland at the Cadet Sergeants' course at Wacol in 1951 and went on to be placed third in Queensland in the course for Cadet-Lieutenants in 1952. Represented the School in Cricket and Athletics.

WILLIAM T. BARNES (1945-48) and JOSEPH J. GRAZIOLI (1944-47). Saw the end of the "Rosslea" period and the School's return to North Ward. They paid tribute to the tremendous impact of T.B. Whight, both as Headmaster and Teacher, in this most difficult time of the School's history, and to the Matron of this time, Dorothy Darch, who was so understanding of boys who had difficulty in adjusting to boarding school life. At "Rosslea", their dining room and kitchen were some distance away, and during the big flood they ate their meals standing in water. Lady teachers sometimes had difficulty controlling boys. One day, Miss A. Maxwell, a very conscientious teacher, was side-tracked when someone asked her whether a horse could run faster than an alligator. Back at North Ward, the desecration of the grounds and buildings was unbelievable. For months the students worked in the classrooms while workmen scraped, painted and hammered all around them. After school, boys dismantled huts, carted rubbish away, and cleaned the grounds. They remembered the "bike craze" — both push bikes and second-hand motor bikes; the rides up Castle Hill, sometimes at midnight; and the boy who badly burned his foot by using it as a brake.

DAVID N. CANDOW (1947–48). Served for many years in the Army, in Korea, Vietnam and Australia. He regarded Mr Logan (the Headmaster) as a kind and gentle man. One terrifying incident he recalled was when an Anglo-Indian Resident Master caned every boy in the upper dormitory so severely that several were injured. The whole affair was reported to the Headmaster and the Master departed from the School.

JUDITH A. ST. GEORGE, now WILLIAMS, (1949–52). Was House Captain and Head Girl in 1951–52. She represented the School in tennis and basketball and was Captain of both. Her years at Grammar were most enjoyable and she was very proud of the School.

ERNEST M. HOOLIHAN (1949–52). Was a Prefect 1951–52, House Captain 1952, Tennis Captain 1952, and represented the School in Tennis, Cricket, Rugby League, Athletics and Swimming. He recalled a cricket match in which he and Ren Cantatore were opposing Captains. "Ren won the toss and, as opening bat, hammered the bowling. When I came on to bowl, I suggested to the Umpire, Lux Foot, that Ren had batted long enough and to give him out when I appealed. This happened, much to Ren's amazement. We learned later that he was on 99 when given out. At tea that night, he asked why he had been given out. Lux said, 'Well, Ernie told me to'."

GLENNYS M. BROWN, now PERRY, (1951–54). Was, according to her own admission, too badly behaved to be made a Prefect, but turned over a new leaf in her Senior years and settled down to serious study. Students organised concerts as excuses for "boy meet girl" occasions. She really liked and respected the Headmaster (M.W. Blank) who gave her special Maths lessons after school and who had her bluffed because he knew her faults.

LJUVO V. KOVACICH (1941). Was a fine all-round athlete. He swam against the Towers Schools at the Seaview Baths where competitors could not turn without cutting their feet on the barnacles. Remembered J.N. Aubrey who used to bring apples to the School and who was regarded as a great friend by the boarders.

JOHN R. McLAUGHLAN (1941). Recalled a lady teacher, Miss Winifred Lawlor, whom the boys called "Ga Ga", because she sent them "Ga Ga" by just looking at her. Miss Lawlor, a multi-linguist, was co-opted by Military Intelligence early in the War. Boys occupied themselves by chasing goats or fishing from the wharf.

ROBERT L. McLAUGHLAN (1940–41). Older brother of John, remembered a bad-tempered Master who had difficulty in positioning himself when caning a boy. On one occasion, the cane was badly aimed and cut into a boy's waist. After dressing the wound, the Matron burst into the dining room and angrily denounced the Master in front of the Headmaster and boarders. The Master vanished the next day.

PATRICK J. TOOHEY (1940–41). When Pat arrived at the school, there was only one football field and two cement wickets for cricket. The boarders of 1940–41 practically constructed No. 2 field. They dug around the stumps of the trees and bored holes in them. Mr Sorenson, foreman of the quarry, blew up the trees and the boys carried the timber down to the creek and set fire to it. When the water supply at the School looked like cutting out, test holes were bored in the creek, and Pat, who was familiar with explosives, fired a couple of shots. T.B. Whight nearly "had a fit". Pat recalled the time when a cut-throat razor, heated in boiling water, was used to persuade a boarder, renowned for his abhorrence of soap and water, to change his ways. The storm-water tunnel under Paxton Street was used by boarders to go to a shop at the intersection of Burke and Warburton Streets. Though the entrance to the tunnel was protected by a manhole, the cover was easily opened. "Fag" Fraser, working on a commission basis, regularly visited the shop and returned with much needed supplies! Football matches with All Souls and Thornburgh College, Charters Towers were always keenly contested and played in good spirit.

JOYCE GRIMSEY, now LAND, (1939-42). Enrolled at Grammar at the beginning of T.B. Whight's Headmastership, and thus experienced the drama of the School in the early war years — the transition to "Rosslea", and when the coastal schools closed, a short but traumatic period at a Charters Towers school. Of T.B. Whight she said: "He was a great Headmaster and an excellent maths teacher, as public examinations results showed." Teaching was his life. There was wonderful unity among the students at "Rosslea", and the tireless example of the Headmaster was responsible for it. We not only approached our studies seriously, but cheerfully accepted our makeshift surroundings and associated inconveniences. There was drill for the slit trenches, House parties on Saturday nights, when the girls would invite the boys, and a mannequin parade with the boys dressed as girls and hitching their stockings in imitation of us. But in "Senior" there was a much more serious attitude. The lack of sport for girls prompted Joyce's father to present the "Grimsey Cup" for Inter-House sport for girls. Joyce pointed out that boys were always in demand for dances at St Anne's, but Grammar girls were never invited. She said that there was often trouble at Sports Days when the St Anne's girls thought that they were only there to watch the boys, "and we had trouble keeping them on the straight and narrow". She also remembered M.T. Brackel who practised high jumping in his socks, which the girls at "Rosslea" had to mend.

SPENCER J. ROUTH (1950-53). Won the Lilley and Ryan Medals (1949), and the Byrnes Medal (1951). He was first in the Queensland Junior Examination, 1951, and first in the Queensland Senior Examination, 1953, on the results of which he was awarded the John Black Scholarship and an Open University Scholarship.

HILARY DAVIES, now MARSH, (1951-52). Lilley Medallist, 1948, was Dux of the School 1952 and won an Open University Scholarship on the results of the 1952 Queensland Senior Examination. Was responsible for the metrical rendering of the School Song, "Carmen Townsvillare" in 1952.

MICHAEL T. POWELL (1951-56). Was a Boarder Prefect in 1955-56, and House Captain and School Captain, 1956. He represented the School in Rifle Shooting, Cadets, Swimming, and was Captain of the Rugby League First XIII in 1956.

JIM BLAKE (1951-54) stated that M.W. Blank ran an excellent school, and referred to the building of the main oval by boarder "work gangs".

GWENDOLEN J. MORRIS (1951-54). Was a Prefect and House Captain in both 1953 and 1954, and recalled Lisle stockings being abolished for nylon. In training her basketball team she was "carpeted" for allowing the girls to play in shorts and practise against the boys!

GRAHAM C. REAL (1951-54). Was a Prefect in 1953-54, and Captain of Tennis and Cricket, 1953-54.

JAMES W. BAKER (1951-54). Was a Prefect and House Captain, 1953-54. He stated: "I have very fond memories of the School which allowed one to develop in his or her own way with sensible discipline. We really helped one another."

BARBARA M. ROUTH, now FARDEN (1952-53) and sister of SPENCER. Broke her leg playing basketball, and for six weeks, with her leg in plaster, had to hobble on crutches, via two buses, to get to school. As there were only 29 girls at the School, all were urged to play basketball and tennis in order to field two teams. She recalls walking to the Cathedral in full uniform, including stockings and gloves, to take part in the Memorial Service for King George VI, who died in February, 1952.

SALLY ANN HOPKINS, now MATTOCKS (1952-55). Was a Prefect, House Captain and Head Girl in 1955. In describing the Assemblies at that time, she stated: "Boys first assembled in Forms, girls at the bottom of the stairs, and rolls were called, after which we would march upstairs, girls going to the front and Prefects standing along the side walls. When the Headmaster (Mr Blank) arrived, the Head Boy would call out "Quiet!" We had prayers daily and School Songs once a week." She also related how she, Sue Young and John Topley put on a skit at the annual School Concert. They caricatured the staff, with Sue acting the teacher, Sally Ann the student and John the tennis coach. Up till then, Mr Blank's favourite word to a pupil giving the wrong answer was "Rubbish". "This we took off, naturally, and the Headmaster saw the joke. He never said "Rubbish" again."

JAMES A. (JIM) McINTOSH (1953-59). Was the youngest boarder at T.G.S. and was sent to the old Central State School. He remembered marching for the Queen's visit, 1953, and being in the Guard of Honour for Mrs Blank's funeral.

D.C. (CLEM) YOUNG (1953-56). Was a Prefect in 1956 and Captain of Cricket. He also represented the School in Rugby League, Tennis and Rifle Shooting, and was Captain of the Rifle Team which won the Inter-School Competition for the first time.

ALICE E. FARDON, now WILLMETT (1954-55). Said that in her years there was a small enough number of students to identify as a family. There was a wonderful feeling of friendship and belonging, and the girls felt close to Mrs Blank who was about the School grounds even when she was very ill. House Captain and Captain of Basketball.

DIANA C. BELL, now MacGREGOR (1954-57). Regarded Mr Blank as a man of "quiet strength" and Mr A. Roberts as responsible for her gaining the "Telegraph" bursary in Junior with the highest girls' pass in Queensland. She recalled that, on their last day at School, many boys "got up to nonsense" by putting girls in the rubbish bins, and that in the 1954 School concert "the chorus of boys doing the Can Can was marvellous — all hefty chaps with hairy legs!"

GWYNETH E. DAVIES (1955-56). Was House Captain in 1956. She stated: "Maurie Blank, though quiet, was a father to the boarders. The little boys who boarded and went to Central State School really looked to him as such. I used to do bookkeeping after School with Mr Blank, and they would come in to report to him. I remember one afternoon when there was a knock at the door. "Yes?" — a little boy's face came round the door. "Sir, I want to talk to you." "What is it?" The little fellow came around the corner of Maurie's desk, placed a hand on his knee, and looked at him earnestly. "Sir, can I make a garden?" With that little indulgent smile, Maurie asked, "And where would you make this garden?" "Down by the dining room, sir." "And what would you plant?" And so the questioning and answering went on until a clear picture of the garden and its care emerged. The conversation ended with a happy little boy going away to plan what seed he would buy, and with Maruie noting in his diary to see "Tassie" about initially digging the garden plot. And then on with the bookkeeping. He gave all these little fellows his undivided attention. I studied back in the evenings in the VIth Form room, and Mr Blank often wandered in and enquired if I needed any help. They were, indeed, great days!"

KEITH E. DE LACY (1955-58). Represented the School in Football and Cricket, a distinction, in his opinion, being greater than his being a member of the Queensland Parliament.

PETER WETHERELL (1955-58). A Prefect and House Captain in 1958, represented the School in Swimming, Football and Chess.

CLAIRE MILLICAN, now JOHNSON (1955-58). Was a Prefect, House Captain, and Captain of Girls' Tennis and Basketball, in 1958. She remembered how the Senior girls invited boys from another school to the end of term dance without the Headmaster's permission, and how they quaked the next day when they had to answer for their action. At the end of the year, girls tied the Prefects in garbage cans and dragged them around the grounds. Boys underwent similar torture. In 1958, Prefects were punished as one mistook a Master (Mr A.J. Roberts) for a student and tackled him to the ground.

FAY H. McKILLOP (1955-59). Was a Prefect in 1959, and represented the School and Queensland in Swimming.

BRENDA BURDELL, now NOONAN (1955-58). Prefect in 1958 and House Captain 1957-58, represented the School in Vigoro. She recalled the time when girls (out of bounds) short-sheeted boarders' beds, and when Hodges House went on strike because of what they considered unfair House selection.

PRUDENCE J. HOPKINS, now MANNERS (1956-59). Was Dux in her Senior Year, Head Girl, and Captain of Girls' Tennis, Vigoro, Basketball and Swimming.

BARRIE H. BENNETT (1956-59). Was a Prefect, House Captain in 1959, Captain of the Chess Team, and represented the School in Rugby League.

MALCOLM D. CAMPBELL (1957-59). Was House Captain, represented the School in Rugby League and Chess, and was Captain of Tennis and Cricket.

JUDITH G. LOVELL, now JOHNSTON (1958-59). Was once "doubled" on a bike by a dayboy for the last 500 yards to School and was "carpeted" by the Headmaster, and told her behaviour was not in keeping with the School's image. Girls were not allowed to enter the grounds before 8.25 a.m. and had to be out by 3.30 p.m. While travelling, girls had to wear their hats and gloves at all times, and were only permitted to speak to boys while at the drinking fountain. Girls were very thirsty in those days!

LLOYD W. HONEYCOMBE (1958-61). Prefect in 1960, Head Prefect and House Captain, 1961, representing the School in Swimming, Cross Country and Football and gained some distinction in leading the boarders in song at their annual Christmas Dinner, 1961.

ARTHUR R. BURKE (1958-61). Was a Prefect and House Captain in 1961. The School Cadets were very strong at this time, and he with Kingston, Marsh, and Harris joined the Regular Army. At the end of each year, the graduating Seniors "took on" the rest of the School on the main oval - water bombs etc. "We used to sing the School Songs every week at Assemblies . . . they are deeply engraved in our memories, as Honeycombe and I can, and do, still sing them . . . but only after a few drinks."

SUSAN McALLISTER, now FISCHER (1958-61). Was a Prefect in 1961 and represented the School in Vigoro, Tennis and Basketball.

DOUGLAS R. BOYLE (1959-62). Was Head Prefect, House Captain, and Captain of Cricket, Tennis and Chess in 1962. He had excellent rapport with the Masters and regarded the teaching standards as excellent.

ANNE WETHERELL, now MEES (1959-62). Was a Prefect 1961-62 and House Captain, 1962.

BARBARA ROBERTS, now FAIRBAIRN. Was a Prefect, House Captain, and Captain of Vigoro, 1963, and also played Basketball for the School.

PETER LATIMER (1953-54). Represented the School in Cricket and Rugby League, and served with R.A.E.M.E. in Korea, Malaya and Vietnam.

DONALD R. MUIRHEAD (1964-68). Was a Prefect and represented the School in Rugby League, Athletics, Swimming and Tennis. On the results of the Senior Examination he was awarded a Commonwealth University Scholarship and a Scholarship to the Royal Military College, Duntroon. He elected to go to Duntroon.

BRUCE KEMPTHORNE (1961-64). Represented the School in Athletics. He described the teachers of his time as competent and caring. The discipline was strict, but fair. In his time, the School Blazer was part of a boy's uniform in winter. The Headmaster, M. W. Blank, instilled pride in the School and encouraged scholarship.

RON MASKELL (1962-1966). Recalled "Bwana" Fisher's petrol bomb which burnt out all the guinea grass between Matron's quarters, the Sports Reserve fence and No. 2 Oval, and waiting for the Master on Duty to go to sleep in order to listen to "The Rolling Stones", "The Beatles" and others on the verandah of the Old Dormitory, or to go up Castle Hill or to the Sound Lounge in Flinders Street. The Third Term was a time to dread because of exams and inevitable fights. He recalled the great brawl between Seniors and the rest of the School in 1965, when the Head Prefect, Ian Kemp, was knocked out by a green mango; the stern discipline of Mr Blank; and the warm friendliness of Mr Daniels; the lack of facilities and vocational guidance; the Etonian ethos that was pursued through the prefect system; and the shock of cold showers in the Old Dormitory.

JOHN R. CLEMENT (1972-75). Represented the School in Rifle Shooting. In speaking of his teachers he said that the Headmaster, Mr Daniels, was a very kind and understanding man, and that Mr Allen really knew and loved his subject (English), "to which I showed corresponding results." He remembered Mr Daniels' house being destroyed by fire one Saturday evening whilst the Boarders were watching a film, and Mr Cantamessa, Ingham, giving a truckload of water melons to the School.

EVAN D. FISHER (1953-58). Was a Prefect in 1958 and recalled the Cyclone of 1956 when "we were having lunch in the old dining room, the verandah of which was blown away. As the eye of the storm passed over the School, we all raced to the dormitory where one kid, Sheehy, smashed the windows so we wouldn't get cut by flying glass." Greg Hayden was the Head Prefect in 1958, and all Prefects were suspended for being too rowdy in the showers after Gym, and for not reporting to the Headmaster when called upon to do so. The suspensions were eventually lifted. He recalled the vigorous application of the sandshoes by Prefects as their method of Punishment, and a parody he wrote on "The Man From Snowy River" (all 26 verses). The first verse was:

There was a movement in the kitchen for the word had got around
That the mince for Friday week had got away,
And run from out the kitchen; we'll starve if it's not found,
But this cook won't let it get away.

His brother, STUART FISHER, also attended T.G.S. (1952-53) and joined the Royal Australian Air Force, went to Point Cook and became a pilot. After serving in England, Malaysia and the United States, he was one of the first pilots to convert to F111's at Amberley. He was killed when his Phantom Jet crashed into the sea off Evan's Head in June 1971.

GO CUM

All things change. Paxton Street feels time roll on,
Alack, how many friends, since nineteen-seven,
Have parted hence, for Brisbane, or for Heaven!
And now Go Cum has gone.

For many a year
His kindly presence has dispensed good cheer,
Fruit and cold drinks to man and maid and boy;
He was their constant joy,
But alack! time rolls on;
Go Cum has gone.

Not they say, to the Islands of the Blest;
But Go Cum has gone West;
West Townsville, so they say,
Has lured our favourite Chinaman away.

A kindly heart he had, "Where Frantit now?
Philip him grow tobacco still? And how Mit Barbara?" He had discourse as meet
For every dweller along Paxton Street.

Life is the duller now, I can't but think
Now we have lost our Chink;
I can't but think that 'tis to North Ward's shame
That Go Cum should have had to change his name
From "Go Cum" to "Went Came".

By John Bedford (P.F.R.)

Note: Frantit (Frances) and Philip were P.F. Rowland's daughter and son. Barbara (Milfull) was his grand daughter.

Go Cum was a Chinese storekeeper at the lower end of Paxton Street facing the Gardens, in the allotment where the last house now stands. In 1930 he was probably in his late fifties, bigger than most Chinese and able to speak understandable English, but extremely distrustful of Grammar boarders. Only because they spent their meagre pocket money there were they tolerated. The School was his biggest customer as he supplied all their fruit and vegetables which he delivered by horse and cart on Saturdays.

He sold a bit of everything from cigarettes and peanuts to fruit and vegetables. Each Saturday morning, he loaded his cart with his wares and set out about 11.00 a.m. on the regular round of his North Ward customers.

Though he was in Paxton Street for many years, he never came to understand Grammar boarders, who often provoked him to the point when he chased them out of his shop with the broomstick he always kept behind the counter, and sometimes an axe.

One Saturday, he went into the School kitchen for his order and a chat with the housekeeper. When he came out his horse and cart were still there, but "Horsie" was on one side of the fence and the cart on the other, harnessed together. His bellows of rage startled the neighbourhood. A few years later, again on a Saturday, he had "Horsie" harnessed but not to the cart, when several customers, including two boarders, entered the shop. Another young boarder, Hector Kinsey, sized up the situation and calmly rode the horse round into the back street. When the customers departed, Go Cum discovered that his horse was missing and became frantic. His despair turned to delight when Kinsey returned with the horse, which, he said, he had found wandering down Paxton Street. His reward of a large bag of peanuts was shared with the other two boys. BLACKMAIL!!

Over the years, many pranks were played on Go Cum. Crackers were thrown on his roof, and even a goat pushed into his shop, but he never complained to his good friend, Boss Rowland. When he shifted to West End, he was sorely missed.

Chapter 16

The Library

“He who adds a library to his house gives that house a soul.”

Cicero

For 51 years, the Library was part of the Dining Room, but with the erection of the new building in 1940, it was given a room of its own on the ground floor. Books were lacquered with distinguishing colours – blue for reference, red for adventure, and green for fiction – and, for the first time in the history of the School, day students as well as boarders made use of this facility.

The establishment of the library had its humble origins in 1889, when C.H. Hodges, the School's first Headmaster, purchased a small number of acceptable books in order to occupy some of the leisure time of boarders. Within eight years, mainly because of presentations made by Old Boys, this tiny nucleus grew to more than two hundred volumes. An article in the 1897 School Magazine described this modest beginning:

Many Old Boys will remember the time, only eight years ago, when, at the instigation of the Headmaster, two or three dozen books were purchased and the collection, deposited on shelves, or to speak more correctly, on a shelf in the Dining Hall, was loftily designated “The Library”. What an impertinent little shelf it seemed for presuming to call itself by such a name! The other shelves of the bookcase appeared to gape in wonder at such boldness.

By 1900, the Library had grown to such an extent that a further two bookcases were presented to the School by Mr A.W. Macnaughton, a member of the Board of Trustees.

Interestingly, a Reference Section was established at this time with the purchase of Shakespeare's Plays (3 volumes) and one Oxford Dictionary. Unfortunately, with the resignation of Hodges, interest in the Library appeared to wane, despite the donations of books from time to time by Old Boys and additions made by the School. Indeed, during the 1920s and the 1930s, the Library, such as it was, received scant attention from students, which may have been due to the fact that they had recourse to P.F. Rowland's personal library.

On his appointment as Headmaster, T.B. Whight was determined to establish a library where students would have access to a wide range of fiction, reference books and magazines. At the meeting of the Board of Trustees, April 30, 1939, he pointed out that, although there was a small reference library at the School, there was no general library. In view of this regrettable state of affairs, he asked for sufficient funds to purchase fiction and periodicals to establish a Library, but, after considerable discussion, the Trustees decided to approach the Townsville City Council "requesting them to co-operate with the Townsville Grammar School to the extent of lending 100 books per week from the Municipal Library".¹

A letter from the Townsville City Council regarding the loan of books from the Municipal Library was tabled at the meeting of the Trustees, June 27, 1939. The Council advised the Board that it was prepared to lend books from the Library "in terms of the By-Laws". This meant that, to enable the School to borrow 100 books fortnightly, it was necessary for the Trustees to deposit with the Library the sum of £25/-/. The Trustees directed the Headmaster to investigate the books available at the Municipal Library and to report to the Board at the next meeting.²

However, it was not until two months later that Whight informed the Board that he had given considerable thought to the suggestion that the School borrow books from the Municipal Library and that he had come to the conclusion that such a scheme was highly impracticable. He suggested that it might be possible to subscribe to the Library so that a limited number of pupils could make use of reference books, and recommended that the School endeavour to build up a Library of its own.³

However, with the construction of a new building in 1940, and with the driving force of T.B. Whight, as well as the enthusiasm of Miss W.J. Lawler (a member of the teaching staff) and the students, the Library and Reading Room became a reality and took on a new dimension. During the headmasterships of Hodges, Miller and Rowland, senior boys were appointed Librarians, and were responsible for the complete control of the Library. However, when Whight re-organised the School in 1941, he established a Library Committee (under the direction of Miss W.J. Lawler) of three girls, R.E. Monaghan, J. Grimsey, B. Barker, and nine boys, J.A. Scully, J.W. Duffield, S.M. Jensen, S. Gairns, P. Toohey, M. Backel, R. Campbell, P. Jetnikoff, and A. Ryan. Unfortunately, the entry of Japan into the Second World War, and the taking over of the School by the Royal Australian Air Force in February 1942, brought to a sudden halt plans for an expanding library. Nevertheless, when the School was handed back to the Board of Trustees, January 1945, Whight again directed his attention to the Library, and within a year several girls under the direction of Miss Lois Barton catalogued the books and magazines.

At their meeting, April 23, 1947, the Trustees were advised by the executors of the estate of A.S. Grose that Mr Grose had not only bequeathed his entire library to the School but also the sum of £3/10/- per year for a special prize.

However, despite this magnificent gift of books it was estimated in 1948 that the Library had fewer than 1,000 volumes on its shelves, a matter of grave concern to the new Headmaster, M.W. Blank. Nevertheless, though severely restricted by lack of finance to purchase books of fiction, he established a Science and Mathematics reference section and gave new life to the reading room by supplying it with suitable periodicals. Believing that students should accept responsibility for the control of the Library, he continued the committee system developed by T.B. Whight, but in 1952, despite the expansion of the English, Science, Geography and History reference sections, he expressed regret that considerably more use was not made of library facilities by the students. A strange paradox, indeed.

A most important event in the history of the Library was the general donation, in 1953, of £25 by the Parents' Association, which enabled the committee, headed by J. Baker, to purchase fiction and non-fiction books. From its establishment in 1952 by M.W. Blank, the Parents and Friends' Association proved to be a tower of strength to the Library by providing much needed finance for the purchase of books, furniture, and audio-visual aids.

The construction of a new Science building in 1955, along the Paxton Street frontage and at a cost of £10,000, provided a more spacious room for the Library, where it remained for the next eleven years. In 1966, it was transferred to the Administration Block and re-established in the area now occupied by the Board Room and Deputy Headmaster's Office, and the room in the Science Building reverted to a classroom. In 1980, this classroom was sub-divided into Staff toilets and a photo-copying room.

However, despite his persistent endeavours to provide a library where students could carry out meaningful research and where positive study habits could be developed, Blank was not entirely successful in this area. Lack of finance in particular, and indifference on the part of students in general, ensured that very little real progress was made in developing the Library as the most important resource centre in the School. As well, the employment of a trained Librarian was never considered, even remotely, by the Board of Trustees. It was inevitable, therefore, that the Library lapsed into a state of semi-stagnation. But this apparent apathy did not deter Blank from setting up a reference library for the VIth Form in their classroom in 1962, a move which proved highly successful. Indeed, Senior students had recourse to a fine selection of books on Science, Mathematics, and the Humanities from 1962 to 1965.

During 1966, L.S. Daniels, the School's seventh Headmaster, moved the Library to the Administration Block. Walls were painted by members of the Parents and Friends' Association, and suitable chairs and tables were provided so that the Library could be used effectively for the purpose of reference and class project work.

In addition, the Dewey Decimal System was introduced, new filing cabinets and an extensive range of books purchased. Mrs L. Bourke, a qualified Librarian, assisted by Mrs C. Daniels, Mrs Pearson and Mrs Suthers, directed the re-organisation of the Library in accordance with Daniels' plan for progressive development.

By September 1967, it was estimated that the Library contained 2,600 books, which fulfilled the requirements set by the Library Association of Australia's publication "Standards and Objectives for School Libraries," for a Library in its second year of a ten-year establishment plan. The Association recommended a Library of 6,000 to 10,000 books by 1977.

Mrs M.R. Pearse, a graduate of the Kelvin Grove Teachers' College, was appointed Librarian in 1967, and very valuable advice was given by Mr M. Simms, Librarian of the University College of Townsville. Shelving, a Librarian's desk, and a magazine stand were donated by an enthusiastic parent, Mr I. Seganfredo, and much good work was done by two boarders, Darryl Hooper and John Chatfield, in assembling the furniture. Because Daniels believed that the Library should be the centre of learning in the School, Library periods were allotted to all Forms.

In 1970, plans for a new Library were approved by the Commonwealth Government and construction commenced in 1971. Because of Cyclone "Althea", Christmas Eve 1971, completion was somewhat delayed. Nevertheless, the official opening of the P.F. Rowland Memorial Library by Mr R.N. Bonnett, M.H.R., took place on June 3, 1972. Present at the ceremony were Mr Rowland's son, Mr Phil Rowland, and his family, and Mrs T. Milfull, a daughter of P.F. Rowland, and her husband who was a Master at the School from 1928 to 1933. The cost of the Library was $50,339.78.

The Library became a most popular place and its air-conditioned atmosphere proved an ideal setting for serious study. Twelve hundred books were catalogued in 1972, which brought the number of volumes on the shelves to 5,890. From May 1972 to November 1972, 2,400 books were borrowed, an average of about 6 books per student. Mrs M. Chappell, the Librarian, was responsible for establishing the new Library, and in this enormous task she was assisted by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Early in September, 1973, Mrs Chappell moved to Melbourne and was replaced by Mrs C. Johnson, and Mr Willbatt was appointed to take charge of the Audio-Visual Department, in place of Mr O. Patterson.

1982 was a difficult year in the Library as the Library Staff shared accommodation with the Headmaster (A.D. Morwood) and the Office Staff whilst the Administration Centre was being renovated, at the completion of which the Library area was extended and an Auditorium and Audio-Visual Room constructed at a cost of $154,094.10.

Today, the Library has some 15,000 volumes, a Resource Reading Centre, and a staff of five.

Chapter 17

Cadets

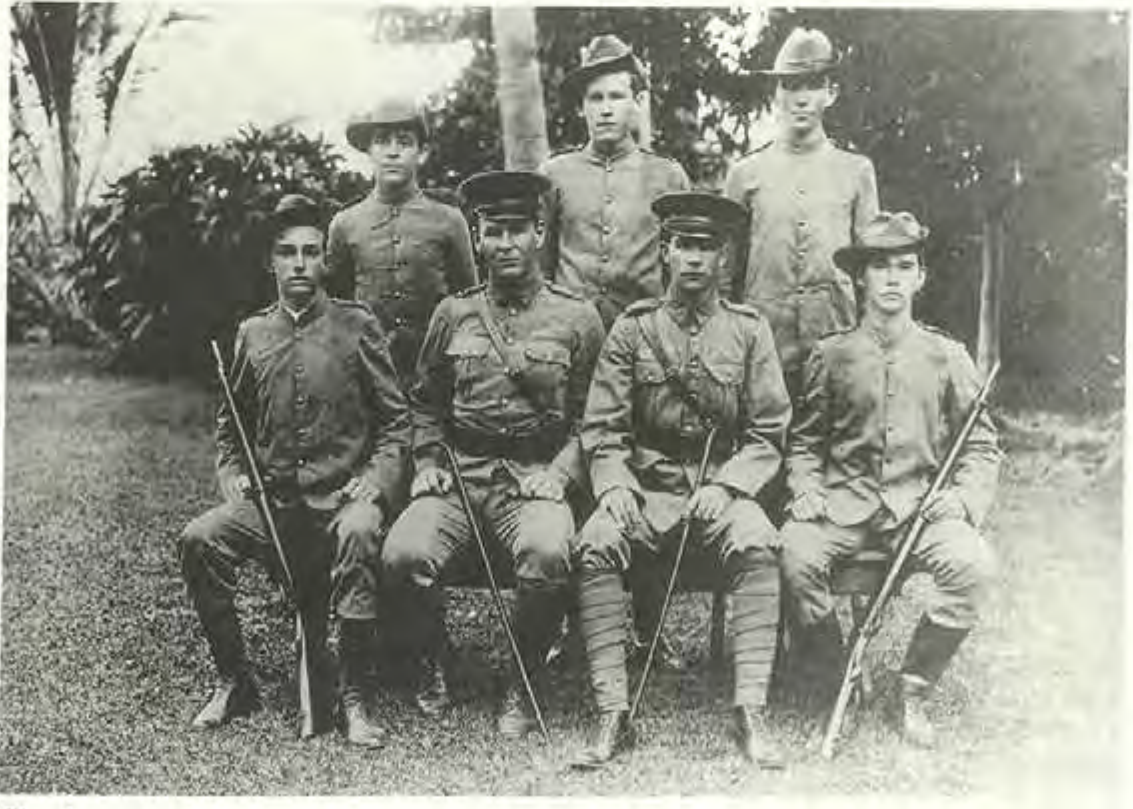

The introduction of Cadets to the School was finally achieved in 1908, when, after a considerable amount of "red tape", the military authorities permitted the formation of a Cadet Corps at the School. Eight years previously (Monday, August 20, 1900), the Commandant of the Queensland Defence Forces, Colonel Finn, visited the School and was more than impressed by the drill of the boys under their Instructor, Sergeant Baker. At the conclusion of the parade, he expressed his interest in cadet corps as being nurseries for the Colony's and the Empire's army of defence, and hoped shortly, with Mr Hodges' support, to be able to welcome the birth of a cadet corps, fully equipped with carbines and possessing a distinctive uniform, which would worthily sustain the name of the School. In thanking the Commandant, Hodges aroused the patriotic fervour of the boys by informing them that Colonel Finn had led the charge of the 21st Lancers against the Dervishes at Omdurman, an event that had "opened Darkest Africa to European civilisation." Regrettably, the establishment of a Cadet Corps was indefinitely postponed by Government regulations, which prescribed too high a minimum number of recruits and which prevented the School from taking immediate action.

In its first year, the Cadet Corps led a very busy existence — three battalion parades at South Townsville, an inspection by the Queensland State Commandant, Colonel Lyster, and a visit by Captain Dodds, Staff Officer of the Queensland Cadets. They also attended a combined Church Parade, held in the Church of England Cathedral, during the Annual Military Camp at Kissing Point. In Shooting, at the North Queensland Rifle Association Meeting, J.R. Kay was placed fourth, with F. Keogh and J. McKenzie also winning medals. Townsville Grammar School Cadets also won ten medals given by the Education Department for successes on the 200 yards and 300 yards ranges, whilst F. Keogh won the gold medal on the first range. It was, indeed, a fine beginning.

The chief advance made by the Corps during 1909 was the enrolment of a second section, bringing the number of Cadets to 50, and the appointment of a member of Staff, M.W. Moyes, as Second Lieutenant. Acting Non Commissioned Officers were: G.F. Hall, J.A. Reye, A.R. Brookes, R.A. Percy, R. Grant, and J. Kay. No. 1 Section of the Corps was armed with M.E. Rifles and had the loan of 10 Magazine Rifles for musketry practice. As in the previous year, Cadets again distinguished themselves in the annual shooting competition. For the first time in its history, the school entered a team in the Empire Shooting Competition, the best individual performance being that of G.F.E. Hall who obtained 32 out of a possible 35 on the 500 yards range.

The highlight of 1910 was the Camp at Kissing Point from June 8th to 11th. In addition to Battalion drill, the Cadets took part in a military exercise, with the Kennedy Infantry Regiment, in defending Townsville against "the enemy". The Annual Camp was firmly entrenched, now, in the lives of the Cadets.

The spirit of the Cadet Corps, the enthusiasm of even its youngest members, and the leadership of Cadet Officers R.A. Percy, R. Grant, A.R. Brookes, and T. Armstrong, filled Rowland with an immense pride and inspired him to write the words and music of a song, which he dedicated to them and which was sung by the choir on Speech Day, December 10, 1910.

CADET SONG

See the Townsville lads are marching
Through the dust and heat;
Hear the brisk harmonious measure
Of their tramping feet.
Though with time the ranks are changing,
Faces come and gone,
Yet the old School Corps for ever
Marches firmly on.

Chorus

Forward Townsville Grammar School Cadets,
Fair or foul the weather;
Forward all to face the toil of life,
Share its joy, together.

See the Townsville lads are shooting,
Smart and straight and true,
Heedless if the sun's a-blazing
From the cloudless blue,
Or if skies are grey and windy;
Steady each recruit!
Where the wily bulls are lurking,
That's the place to shoot.

Chorus

See the Townsville lads are fighting,
Foes are all around;
Many a nation looks with longing
On Australian ground.
Haply they're afraid to touch us,
That's no end to strife;
There are harder foes to conquer
In the war of life.

Chorus

In 1911, because a number of boys joined the Naval Cadets, and because some were either over or below the required age limit, the Cadet Corps combined with a detachment of Cadets from the Central State School in order to make up the necessary quota. As a consequence, Parades took place on Wednesday afternoons on Queen's Park under the command of Lieutenant W.L. Garrad. By 1912, owing to boys leaving the School and the new boys being mostly under the senior cadet age, the strength of the Corps fell sharply at the beginning of the year, but recovered in June when boys who turned 14 were eligible to join. Cadet Sergeants E. Harding and C. Davidson were responsible for the training programme.

1913 and 1914 were good years for the Cadets, with shooting on the range at Cluden, and in the Empire Competition, and regular parades. On April 4, 1914, a parade of all

Townsville cadets, including a detachment from the Christian Brothers, took place culminating in a march through Flinders Street. Because of the outbreak of the Great War, this was the last public appearance of the Cadet Corps, which was disbanded before the end of the year.

Twenty-three years later (1937), the re-establishment of the Cadet Corps by Mr A.J. Anderson, who joined the Staff in 1936, prompted the Headmaster, P.F. Rowland, to compose a fourth verse for the "Cadet Song", and to make this wry comment: "Nothing like poetry, of course, but 'stuff' for marching."

Comrades gave their lives in battle,
Fighting o'er the sea;
Keep their grand traditions ever,
On to victory!
Peace is wise and war is madness;
But if foes assail,
We must fight for home and freedom,
And may Right prevail!

When Mr Anderson left in 1939 to enlist in the A.I.F., Mr Gordon Owen, who also joined the Staff in 1936, took over command of the Cadet Corps until 1940, when he, too, enlisted. In the first year of the re-formed Cadet Corps, Army Warrant Officers instructed at the parades each Monday afternoon, and laid a sound foundation in drill, rifle work and manoeuvres. Lieutenants Anderson and Owen ably carried on the work begun by the Warrant Officers and developed a very keen and enthusiastic Corps. With Lieutenant Anderson's departure at the end of 1939, Lieutenant M.W. Blank, also a member of the Staff, took his place. At the same time, J.H. Pearson, a Prefect, was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant.

During the mid-winter holidays in 1939, Cadets went into Camp at Kissing Point where they undertook extensive training with the rifle and the Lewis machinegun, as well as being introduced to the Vickers machinegun. In 1941, parades were held on Friday afternoons under the supervision of T.B. Whight and Lieutenant M. W. Blank.

On the outbreak of war, the Government recalled the Corps' .303 rifles and Lewis guns, which meant the end of shooting expeditions on the open range. Shortly afterwards, the School was supplied with .310 rifles and an old Hochkiss machinegun. Nevertheless, despite the lack of equipment, Cadets took an intense interest in signalling and first aid. In 1941, cadet membership was 63. With the occupation of the School by the Royal Australian Air Force in 1942, the Cadet Corps was, once again, disbanded. It was re-formed in 1946.

The great years of the Cadets were from 1948 to 1975. In large measure, such success was due to members of Staff who were Officers Commanding the Corps during this period: A.J. Roberts, 1946-61; J.D. Jeffrey, 1962-71; V.J. Butcher, 1972-78. In addition, Officers of Cadets, who were also members of Staff, contributed their invaluable services in building an unrivalled esprit de Corps amongst the Cadets.

The functioning of the Corps was made much smoother by the attendance of Cadets at potential Officers' and N.C.O.s Schools during the Christmas vacations. This provided a nucleus of well-trained instructors each year. During the 1950's, the Cadet Corps maintained an average strength of between 80 and 100. Because a number of boys belonged to the local Air Training Corps, hopes for a greater enrolment in the Corps, 1956, so that the maximum strength of 109 could be attained, were not realised. A serious loss in the same year was the resignation of Lieutenant E. Rose, who had been with the Corps since 1949. From the middle of June, 1956, Under Officer C. Young acted as second-in-command, a most commendable effort on the part of a senior boy.

1959 was an important year in the history of the School. Lieutenant J.D. Jeffrey, a member of Staff and an Old Boy, was appointed second-in-command, and Lieutenant A.J. Roberts was promoted to the rank of Captain. In addition, the establishment of No. 8 Flight, Air Training Corps, at the School, widened the field of activities for boys.

The resignation of Captain A.J. Roberts, at the end of 1961, brought to a close a long and distinguished period of service to the Townsville Grammar Cadet Corps. A fitting tribute to Captain Roberts was the Passing Out Parade held on the School Oval, which included a march past followed by a very realistic "mock battle". The Command of the Corps passed to Captain J.D. Jeffrey, assisted by Lieutenant L. James.

In 1962, both the Army Cadet Unit and the Air Training Corps Flight had a most successful year. The Army Unit bivouaced at Dalrymple in June, and the Annual Camp, as in past years, was at Selheim in August. The A.T.C. held an N.C.O.'s day in the First Term, a weekend bivouac at Alligator Creek in the Second Term, and a six day bivouac at Cluden and Dalrymple for first year Cadets in August. The results of these efforts was seen in the splendid showing of both Units at the First Combined Passing Out Parade on October 20. The enthusiasm and dedication of Captain J.D. Jeffrey, Lieutenant L. James, and Pilot Officer J. Topley, were, indeed, rewarded.

Perhaps one of the greatest achievements of the School was the introduction of the Army Cadet Unit Band. Led by Drum Major L. Bennett, it consisted of four side drummers, Cadets B. Finerty, R. McNee, B. Monahan, R. Miller; base drummer, V. Gonzarila; and six cornetists, S. Browne, P. Collyer, R. Harris, R. Smallwood, and L/Cpl. M. Gabasa. Whilst at the Annual Camp, L/Cpl. Gabasa successfully taught his five cornetists how to master their instruments. As well as the T.G.S. Passing Out Parade, the Band also played for the Passing Out Parades of the Pimlico High School and the Townsville High School.

In 1966, Cadet Staff Sergeant J. Yates was placed first in the North Queensland Quartermaster's Course, and because of the high standard he achieved at the N.C.O.s Course, J. Saint-Smith was offered an Army-sponsored trip to New Guinea, and Corporal D. Muirhead was selected to visit Duntroon Military College. The Unit was further honoured in 1967 when Cadet Sergeant Ray Johnson was chosen as one of a contingent of Australian Army Cadets to visit New Guinea in August, for the purpose of instructing Cadet Units there. Then, in 1968, Drum Major Brian Carr was placed first in Queensland in the Band Course.

Four members of the Corps, Cadet Under Officers A. Brasnett and S. Perkins, Company Sergeant-Major S. Sympson, and Corporal C. Scott attended the Adventure Training Course at Shoalwater Bay, Central Queensland, and received first class leadership training.

At the end of 1971, Captain J.D. Jeffrey, Officer Commanding the Unit for the past 10 years, resigned in order to accept a position on the Staff of the Queensland Police Academy, Brisbane. His departure was, indeed, a great loss to the Unit. In large measure, the development of the Cadet Unit and its splendid reputation were due to his dedication and his continual demand for excellence. He had been on the Staff for thirteen years, and was an ex-student and an ex-School Captain.

Captain V.J. Butcher replaced Mr Jeffrey as Officer Commanding the Unit, and was assisted by Lieutenant P. Weston, who was appointed in the stead of Lieutenant B. Christensen.

In his Speech Night Report, 1973, the Headmaster, L.S. Daniels, expressed concern that the Federal Government intended to phase out Cadets, which, in his opinion, was a retrograde step, and pointed out that the Cadet Movement provided boys with adventure and leadership training. Despite protests from Schools, both Independent and State, the demise of the Army Cadet Unit and the Air Training Corps Flight, both funded by the Commonwealth, became a reality in 1975. Nevertheless, the Air Training Corps continued, as a result of the skill and ingenuity of Flight Lieutenant W.G. Lloyd, and it was hoped to establish a "new style" Army Cadet programme in 1977.

Indeed, the Cadet Unit was certainly re-established in 1977, but it was doomed to extinction for a number of very good reasons:

- the inflexibility of having to keep the Army Cadet numbers at a rigid minimum of seventy.
- the inability of the school to fund the Unit,
- the holding of Cadet Parades after school hours,
- and, most importantly, the fact that joining the Unit was entirely voluntary.

Past students, who were Cadets, may recall, without much prompting, the adventures they participated in at Selheim Camp, of the bivouacs and their "jungle

THE AIR TRAINING CORPS

Established in 1959 by the Headmaster, M.W. Blank (a former Royal Australian Air Force Officer), the Air Training Corps proved a popular addition to the Cadet movement within the School. In the first two years, Flight Lieutenant Blank was assisted by Flying Officer R. Moore, a member of the teaching staff. On the resignation of Moore in 1961, Pilot Officer J. Topley was appointed No. 8 Flight Administration Officer, and brought to the Corps a dedication and enthusiasm that had a marked effect on the progress of the 45 members of the Flight. Cadet Under Officer D.W. Allan was awarded a Flying Scholarship in 1961 and completed his Private Pilot's Licence in 1962.

The new Headmaster, 1966, L.S. Daniels (also a former Royal Australian Air Force Officer), became Flight Commander with Flight Lieutenant L.N. Bourke as his Administration Officer. Indeed, 1966 was an outstanding year for the Townsville Grammar Air Training Corps, which won the Catip Shield for .303 shooting with team members, G. Soames, P. Clark, N. Church, R. Taylor, W. Robson, and W. Phillips. In addition, a conspicuous success was the winning of two Flying Scholarships by A.H. Searle and N. Chapman. Another Flying Scholarship was won in 1967 by P. Clarke.

By 1971, the A.T.C. was given permission to increase its strength from 50 to 65 cadets, and as a consequence, Flight Lieutenant J. Elms, previously an Education Officer with the Air Force joined the School and became Training Officer for the Corps. The Administrative Officer was W.G. Lloyd, another former Royal Australian Air Force Officer, and who became Flight Commander of Grammar's No. 8 Flight in 1973, when the numbers increased to 70.

Training for members of the A.T.C. involved bivouacs, annual camps, inspections of various aircraft at the Garbutt R.A.A.F. Base, and training camps for promotions. The demise of the Air Training Corps in 1978 was, indeed, an irreparable loss, but from its beginnings in 1959, its record was one of excellence and proud achievement.

Cricket

THE EARLY DAYS

On the opening of the School in 1888, and during the whole of the first year, very little interest was taken in sport of any kind. However, with the arrival of C.H. Hodges, the first Headmaster, a great impetus was given to all games, especially cricket, which he believed built character, manliness and loyalty. Because matches were played on turf wickets, which presented considerable difficulties in the tropical climate of Townsville, Mrs Henry, the mother of A.D. and R.D. Henry, both of whom enrolled on April 16, 1888, raised sufficient funds to make a gift of a concrete wicket and suitable matting to the School. As a consequence, regular matches were played, and Townsville Grammar's team won thirteen successive matches before meeting with defeat by the premier team of the season, the "Mercantiles". It was in this match that J. Minehan made his memorable 50 (not out), for which performance he was presented with a splendid bat by the Headmaster. Other prominent members of Grammar's first cricket team were A. Aplin, H. Aplin, N. Earl, T. Gordon, and D. Jones.

Up to the year 1892, Juniors were not recognised by the Cricket Association, but in that year it was decided to admit junior teams and to regulate and arrange their fixtures. Five teams entered the competition, and, after an interesting season, Grammar was placed second. In the following year, the same number of teams competed, with the School again as "runners up". Of those who played for the School during these two years, the most prominent were I. Rodgers, W. McHarg, H. Barton, and W. Craig, who was an outstanding batsman with an average of 50. At this time, F.T. Perkins, then Captain of the School, suggested that the co-operation of the Old Boys be invited and so a very strong team eventuated.

In order to add to the interest in Junior Cricket, Mr Cummins, of Wright, Heaton and Company, presented a silver cup for competition amongst the junior clubs, with the conditions that the cup was to be won twice in succession, or three times, or otherwise, before becoming the property of any team. Seven teams competed, and at the end of the season the School was in first position with 12 wins and only two defeats. At the Annual House Supper given that year, the cup was produced and the ceremony of passing it around as a loving-cup was performed. S. Davidson and F. Hamilton were also presented with trophies for the best batting and bowling averages, respectively.

Encouraged by their success, the team practised regularly during the next season, with the result that Grammar won all 14 matches played, and thus secured the silver cup.

S. Davidson and F. Hamilton were each presented with a trophy for batting by the President and Vice-President of the Club. At the House Supper, 1894, the cup was again handed around, and each member of the team received a medal presented by A.W. Macnaughton, a Trustee. Because of its success, the team was entered in the Senior Competition for 1895, in which it won three games. Nevertheless, Hodges was extremely proud of the team performance and the manner in which every member had "played the game with the spirit of true sportsmen and gentlemen". Indeed, the "Playing Fields of Eton" had been transferred, as it were, to the Colony of Queensland, with remarkable success.

In 1897, A.W. Macnaughton presented a trophy to the School, to be held by the most outstanding cricketer each year. A keen cricketer, himself, Macnaughton's interest in the School's team was so great that he never missed a competition match. His advice and encouragement were highly respected, and it was believed that he knew more about each individual cricketer than anyone else.

The vacancy on the teaching staff, caused by the departure of W.A. Purves at the end of 1898 to take up an appointment at Melbourne Grammar School, was filled by H.C. Blaxland who was a Master at the North Shore Church of England Grammar School, Sydney. An outstanding cricketer, Blaxland played for the School and gave some splendid exhibitions of his skill as a batsman. His score of 141 against South Townsvilles was the highest of the season for any club. Until 1901, Blaxland was captain and coach of the Grammar team, and his extraordinary skill as a batsman and bowler had a profound influence on cricket at the School and, indeed, in Townsville. His highest score in Senior Cricket was 201 not out in a match against "Suburbans" on December 9 and 16, 1899. In July, 1901, he accepted a position on the staff of the Melbourne Grammar School. At the House Supper, June 28, 1901, on behalf of the Grammar School Cricket Club, C. Gilbert presented him with a silver-mounted walking stick, whilst F.G. Rollwagon, the senior boy present, asked Blaxland to accept a travelling bag and a gold sovereign purse as tokens of esteem and affection in which he was held by all the pupils.

On the resignation of Mr K. Kemnitzer, 1902, Mr W.N. Jolly joined the Staff and captained the First XI until 1904. It is recorded that his wicket-keeping was a treat to watch and that "his presence behind the sticks was a terror to batsmen". However, despite Jolly's expertise, it appeared that interest in cricket waned because the team was composed mainly of past students. To remedy this situation, the Headmaster, F.T. Miller, decided, in 1903, that School teams would be chosen from Masters and current pupils. He pointed out that the "Past Grammars Cricket Club", established in 1902, catered for past students. This move was quite a success as the School fielded three teams and interest was revived. In addition, Boarders played the Dayboys, and the School was divided into four teams, captained by Masters, to play a series of "House" matches, an innovation which proved very popular, and which continued into 1905.

In 1908, G.F. Hall and F. Johnson were selected among the Townsville representatives for the match against Charters Towers on August 22nd. As it had been many years since any boy from Grammar had been included in a Townsville representative team, the whole School rejoiced, and even more so when Charters Towers was defeated. Owing to increased enrolments, Rowland formed two T.G.S. second elevens (the "blues" and the "reds"), to compete with the various State schools for the School Cup held by Grammar. The "blues" won the competition. Using the same idea, Rowland divided the School into four teams. Blues, Reds, Yellow, and Greens, and so established the "Colour Matches".

Cricket retained a prominent place in the life of the School up to 1915, the last year of Club competition. Nevertheless, the Old Boys continued, as in the past, to play their Annual Match against the School on St Patrick's Day, and the "Colour Matches" became more and more popular.

THE POST WORLD WAR I YEARS

The appointment of T.B. Whight to the Staff in 1921 brought about a renaissance in cricket and football. An outstanding cricketer, Whight represented North Queensland against New South Wales in 1925, Townsville against New South Wales in 1926 and 1927, and North Queensland against New South Wales in 1927. Because of his representative status, and because of his prominence in the "All Blacks" Cricket Club, Townsville, Whight's influence on cricket both within, and outside, the School was immeasurable. Indeed, a number of his pupils represented Townsville, North Queensland, and Queensland.

Five Townsville Grammar Old Boys, R. Andison, H. Smallwood, A.H. Tair, W. Kogler, and F. Sides, were in the 1930-31 Townsville Representative team which played Alan Kippax's XI in 1931, and of these five players, Sides and Smallwood were coached by Whight when they were Students at the School. Members of the Kippax team were: A.F. Kippax, D.G. Bradman, S.J. McCabe, A.G. Fairfax, A. Jackson, K. Rigg, H. Hooker, E.L. Waddy, W. Ives, W. Bill, P. Withers, and F. Conway, seven of whom had represented Australia.

Frank Sides, who enrolled at the School in 1926, had a rapid rise to Inter-State honours. In his first season in Townsville A grade cricket (1929-30) he gained a place in the local representative team. His style so impressed the Captain of the visiting Brisbane team, L.L. Gill, that he was chosen to play in the Country Week in Brisbane early in October. His attractive century in this series earned him a place in the Queensland Sheffield Shield XI. As a matter of interest, Sides passed the "Junior" Examination in 1929, and was only 16 years of age when he played representative cricket. When he eventually moved to Victoria, he represented that State in the Sheffield Shield. Harry Smallwood also enrolled at the School in 1926 and was coached by T.B. Whight. Another Old Boy who represented Townsville against Brisbane was Ron Vine, who was at the School from 1923 to 1925.

By 1937, the School had three teams playing in the Saturday afternoon competition matches and three in the Inter-School competition. In addition to these games there were the Colour Matches. In that year, the First XI, under the captaincy of W.J. Russell had a fair share of success in the Saturday competition, but, due to holidays and uneasy consciences in the vicinity of examination times, its strength fluctuated. Nevertheless, despite such obstacles, L. Carron averaged 36.6 for the season and a top score of 100 against St Joseph's; W. Hern made 69 against the "Bulletin"; C.W. Letts, 69 against St Patricks; H.I. Arthur, 50 not out against the Kennedy Regiment; B. Calcutt, 45 not out against St Patricks.

On his appointment as Headmaster, 1939, T.B. Whight divided the whole School into three Houses, which he named after the first three Headmasters, Hodges, Miller, and Rowland, and gave each House a distinctive colour — Green (Hodges), Blue (Miller), Red (Rowland) — and established the Inter-House Sports Competition.

Because of the outbreak of hostilities with Japan, inter-school cricket came to an end in 1941, when the First XI played Mount Carmel and the Second XI, Christian Brothers. Both matches were won by the School. Several matches were also played by an Under 15 XI against the High School and Christian Brothers.

POST WORLD WAR II

In 1945 matches against Christian Brothers and the High School were revived. The competition was in two grades, the Under 16 First and Second Elevens, and both Grammar's teams were unbeaten.

Results:

1st XI v High: High 205 (A. McDermott 6 for 113). T.G.S. 272 (A. McDermott 173).

v Brothers: Brothers 30 and 45. T.G.S. 117 (N. Henry 32).

2nd XI v Brothers: T.G.S. 156 (D. Sturges 40, J. Wilkie 66).

v High: High 78 and 54. T.G.S. 114 (D. Phillips 33) and 115 (G. Wotherspoon 35).

The age limit was raised to 17 in 1946 and matches were played in two grades. As in the previous year, both Grammar's teams were undefeated.

Results:

First XI v Brothers: Brothers 30 and 17. T.G.S. 78.

v High: T.G.S. 99. High 19 and 49 (J. Craddock 4 for 9).

First XI (Fourth Term): v Brothers: T.G.S. 3 for 201 A. Seawright 104, D. Seldon

54, A. McDermott 33. Brothers 101 (McDermott 7 for 50).

v High T.G.S. 2 for 151 (Seawright 76, McDermott 53).

High 23 (McDermott 6 for 15, Craddock 2 for 5), and 89.

Colour matches were also played in 1946 between six teams selected by the boys. The Greens, captained by K. Aspinall, won the traditional cake. The Old Boys' Match was played in March and the boys were narrowly defeated by 5 runs. Although not quite good enough to attain premiership honours in 1947, Grammar's two cricket teams put up good performances only to be narrowly beaten by Christian Brothers. However, in the matches against All Souls, both teams won on the first innings. McDermott's score of 51, and 7 for 24 and 3 for 24, contributed largely to the success of the First XI.

Because of the polio epidemic in 1950, no cricket was played between the schools, but in the following year it was decided that the basis for selection for the Inter-School competition be changed from an Open and an Under 15 1/2 Grade to two divisions, Firsts and Seconds. This proved highly favourable in that it allowed players who fell short of the First XI to represent the School. Previously, age restrictions often eliminated keen players, but under the new system, the standard of play in the Second XI was much improved. Under the able leadership of J. White, the 1952 First XI had little difficulty in winning the competition and the Second XI were equally successful, being undefeated for the season. Members of the teams were:

First XI: J. White (Capt.), D. Whebell, W. Vause, G. Real, J. Blake, R. McDonald, D. Craddock, G. Raynor, F. Kaeshagen, E. Hoolihan, J. Jeffrey, B. Lawrence, F. Hughes.

Second XI: E. Hoolihan, J. Jeffrey (both held position of Captain), I. Perry, W. Hopkins, D. Cowie, J. Baker, W. Downey, F. Kaeshagen, B. Lawrence, P. Brougham, R. Cox, B. Banks, F. Hughes, J. Jacovos, W. Doman, R. Lemura.

The main features of the 1954 Inter-School Cricket Competition were the re-arrangement of fixture dates to enable the matches to be completed in two consecutive rounds, and the use of the Grammar Oval and No. 2 Field for home games. Some sparkling and entertaining cricket was produced by the First XI, which emerged undefeated Premiers. Of the batsmen, D. Craddock, W. Hopkins, G. Real (Captain), and J. Blake did best, the batting average being won by D. Craddock with an average of 44.3. The Second XI, captained by M. White, were also victorious. For the third year in succession, the First XI, Captained by R. Cox, were undefeated Premiers in 1955. Included in Ian Perry's series of high scores was 106 not out against Townsville High School. The Second XI, Captained by R. Howell, were also Premiers. An interesting feature of cricket during the 1950s was the support given by members of the School during the matches.

Surprisingly, the standard of cricket declined somewhat in 1956. In his Speech Night Report, November 30, 1956, the Headmaster (M.W. Blank) stated "We fielded teams in the Firsts and Seconds Competition with moderate success. The First XI had good chances of the Premiership until they made history by being the first School team to be defeated outright since the competition began." Indeed, this decline continued for another five years. However, in 1962, the First XI, coached by J.D. Jeffrey, won the Inter-School Premiership with St John Fisher's. Those who played at least one match in the First XI were: D. Boyle, A. McDonald, B. Finerty, K. Hodgetts, J. Boyland, C. Lobegeier, J. Sargent, D. Cook, C. Lane, B. Prasser, K. Parry, J. Johnson, P. Cecil, J. Lodge and R. Smallwood. The success of the Second XI was due, in no small measure, to the excellent fielding of R. Kohn, G. Mollenhagen and J. Lodge, the wicket-keeper, A. Robertson, and the bowling of S. Boyd, J. Philp, T. DeLacy, and G. Mollenhagen.

The First XI in 1965 repeated the School's 1964 success by winning the Premiership. C. Lane (Captain) and R. Smallwood represented the School for the fourth successive year, and many outstanding performances highlighted the season, particularly in the match against Townsville High School. High were dismissed for 104, and David Johnson took 6 for 24 with his "off-spinners". Grammar lost 6 quick wickets for 39, but Ken Smith's hard-hitting knock of 35, and the dour stands by S. Dunford, J. Couper and L. Riches saved the day. Grammar won by one run! In the second match against High, Grammar declared at 4 for 242 (D. Lobegeier, 82; C. Lane, 108 (not out); R. Kuskie 43 (not out). High School were dismissed for 56, Lane and Smallwood taking the 10 wickets between them. R. Kuskie, K. Smith, D. Lobegeier, and R. Smallwood were selected to represent Townsville Secondary Schools against Charters Towers Schools. C. Lane captained the Inter-City team. Members of this outstanding team were: C. Lane (Captain), R. Smallwood, T. Bryce, K. Smith, J. Couper, S. Dunford, D. Trollope, D. Johnson, D. McDougall, R. Kuskie, L. Riches, D. Lobegeier, and the Coach, Mr B. Pierpoint. This was the last great year in Inter-School Cricket. In 1971, changes in the organisation of sport between Townsville Secondary Schools brought about its demise.

However, in 1976, Inter-School Sport was restructured, and cricket was revived by the new Headmaster, A.D. Morwood, who was, himself, a very keen cricketer. Indeed, he instilled a love of the game in his teams, so much so that, in 1986, the First XI won the Premiership. In addition to this fine performance, Andrew Burge was selected in the Townsville XI, 1983 and 1984, and D. Gist in 1983. Other Representatives included: M. Elliott — Queensland XI, 1981; C. Courtney — North Queensland, 1982; J. Short — North Queensland, 1985, 1986; B. Wall — North Queensland, 1986; B. Courtney, J. Casas — Townsville, 1985, 1986; T. Lewis — Townsville, 1987, 1988. With the encouragement of the Headmaster, cricket regained some of the glory of past years, and became a major Inter-House sport.

Swimming

Grammar's first Swimming Carnival was held at the Townsville Baths on December 3, 1901. Because many ladies were very disappointed at not being able to witness the sport, it was decided to have an Annual Swimming Meeting to which they would be invited. Thus F.T. Miller was responsible for establishing swimming as a competitive sport, but for boys only. On Tuesday, November 25, 1902, the Second Swimming Sports took place at the Municipal Baths before a very large gathering of spectators, including, of course, many ladies. Ever supportive of their School, the Old Boys plunged into their event, the four lengths handicap, with marked enthusiasm. C. Lennon (scr.) was first with A. Mackay in second place. The Life Saving Competition added considerable humour to the Carnival when the dummy, thrown into the water a few minutes before the announcement of the event, sank and vanished. Though many boys, spurred on by offers of rewards from the spectators, dived in all directions, it was never found. It was concluded that the current had carried it out to sea.

Nevertheless, the Swimming Carnival was an outstanding success. In large measure this was due to the enthusiasm of the boys, the organisation of N. Jolly, the Sportsmaster, and to the lessee of the Baths, Mr R. Bolger, who, as Swimming Master, ensured that, with one exception, the 63 boys at the School could all swim. When Miller took up his position as Headmaster, January 1901, he was appalled to discover that there were 30 non-swimmers in the School, a situation he rectified within eighteen months. Because Cyclone "Leonta" demolished the Municipal Baths, the 1903 Swimming was abandoned, but on Monday December 4, 1904, the Annual Carnival was again keenly contested.

During 1905, there was swimming every Monday (when the tide was satisfactory) at the sea baths, which Grammar pupils had the right to use free of charge, except on Saturday afternoons.

A new event, Dayboys v Boarders, was added to the programme of the Carnival held on December 2, 1908. A report in the Townsville Daily Bulletin, December 3, included this comment:

Great interest was caused by the team races between the Dayboys and Boarders, the Dayboys being successful in both junior and senior races. One small boy boarder was heard to remark . . . "That's all they can beat us in, anyhow."

This rivalry between Boarders and Dayboys was given even greater impetus at the Carnival of 1910 when P.F. Rowland introduced a Polo Match, which the Boarders won by three goals to one, and which became one of the more important events in future Carnivals. Despite the difficulties experienced during the years, 1914-1918, the Annual Swimming Carnival continued as one of the major events of the School Calendar. Surprisingly, Rowland permitted the inclusion of a Girls' event in the 1926 Annual Swimming Sports, the 20 yards' handicap, which was won by F. Rassmussen, with V. Martin and L. Martin in second and third places, respectively, and from this time onwards, the number of events contested by girls increased each year. Indeed, by 1937, girls swam in the 30 Yards Championship, the 30 Yards Handicap, the Brace Relay, the Novelty Event, and competed in the Neat Dive. Girls, however, did not participate in any Inter-School competition, but, surprisingly, were permitted to go to the Baths and swim with the boys without any supervision.

1937 proved to be an outstanding year for Grammar swimmers who won the Open, Under 16, and Under 14 Championships at the All Schools Swimming Carnival at Charters Towers on the second Saturday of April. The teams were:

Open: K.A. Anderson, W.J. Russell, N.H. Barnfield, M.M. Letham, S. Flegler.

Under 16: D.L. McNeil, F. Jordana, H.I. Arthur, H.W. Greenslade.

Under 14: L.H. Redmond, S.W. Trewin, E.W. Heath, T.W. Abbott.

Open: T.G.S., 33; All Souls, 27; Thornburgh, 23; Mount Carmel, 1.

Under 16: T.G.S., 24; All Souls, 20; Mount Carmel, 11.

The Team was coached by Mr A.J. Anderson.

In 1948, Inter-House Sport was extended to include swimming for both boys and girls, but, because Townsville did not possess a suitable pool, there was no swimming competition during the following three years. However, with the opening of the Tobruk Memorial Pool in 1952, Inter-House and Inter-School Swimming Competitions were revived as annual events. Townsville Grammar won the Inter-School Premierships in 1953, 1954, and 1958, in which year Miss P. Hopkins won both the Senior and Junior Girls' Championships, and A. Nott the Under 16 Championship for the third year in succession. The 1962 Swimming Team, coached by D. Anjoulis, gave a very fine showing at the Inter-School Carnival. In addition to winning the Under 14 Shield, four of the ten new records were established by T.G.S. Boys:

T. Gray, Under 15 — 55 yards Butterfly (34.4 secs.), and 55 yards Backstroke (35.5 secs.)

K. Powell, Under 14 — 55 yards Freestyle (31.6 secs.)

The Under 16 Relay Team — 2 mins. 5.7 secs.

The selection of Pam Sergeant, 1962, to represent Australia at the Empire Games in Perth was indeed a proud moment for the School and for the Headmaster, M.W. Blank, whose encouragement and interest had a profound influence on all areas of sport.

By 1965, Grammar held thirteen Inter-School records:

Under 13.

Freestyle, 55 yards, J. Hooper, 68 secs. — 1964.

Breaststroke, 55 yards, J. Hooper, 42.4 secs. — 1964.

The opening of the Townsville Grammar War Memorial Swimming Pool in 1965 gave swimming a much needed boost, not only as a sport, but as a form of recreation.

In 1966, for the first time since its introduction, Grammar won the Inter-School Boys' Aggregate Shield with a total of 107 points, the nearest rival being Christian Brothers with a score of 88½. In addition, the School also won the Senior Shield, for the fifth year in succession, as well as the Under 15 Shield, and set 4 of the 13 new records:

Senior: M. Richards, 55 yards Breaststroke, 38.1 secs.

Under 15:

J. Hooper, 55 yards Butterfly, 33.8 secs., and 110 yards Freestyle, 65.2 secs.

F. Clarke, 55 yards Freestyle, 28.4 secs.

Success in the Inter-School Competition eluded the School until 1973 when the Boys' Team won the Senior Shield. Eleven years later, Grammar's Girls Team won the Over-all Trophy, whilst the Boys were runners-up to Ignatius Park College. 1984 was indeed a year to remember. Travis Grant, Allan Love, Grant Bloxham, Tina Hamilton, Kate Lindsay, Anna Lindsay, Kerry Mitchell and Bobby Price gained selection in the Townsville squad to compete in the annual North Queensland Secondary Schools' Carnival. T. Grant, B. Price, K. Lindsay were selected in the North Queensland team. Grant and Price performed creditably in the North Queensland Schoolboy Championships in Brisbane.

In the 1986 Inter-School Carnival, Anita Blain set four records in the Under 13 Girls' events, David Ahern won three 17 years events, despite being only fourteen years of age, and Travis Grant broke two Townsville Secondary Schools' records previously held by Olympian Glen Buchanan, the 50 metre Freestyle (26.23 secs.), and the 50 metre Breaststroke (35.72 secs.).

WATER POLO

The introduction of Water Polo as an Inter-School Sport in 1980 met with a dynamic response from both boys and girls and added a new dimension to swimming. The 1982 Senior Girls' team were undefeated Premiers for three seasons and represented North Queensland at the Queensland Schoolgirls' Championships and gained an overall equal second against strong Brisbane teams. Vicki Hamilton and Sharyn Gist were selected in the Townsville Open Women's team, which won the Queensland Country Championship, and also gained selection in the Queensland Country and the Australian Country Women's teams. A year later, six Grammar girls distinguished themselves in this sport by gaining representative honours:

North Queensland: Vicki Hamilton, Sharyn Gist, Tina Hamilton, Anita Degiovanni, Kate Lindsay, Marion Lawrence.

Queensland: Sharyn Gist.

Australia: Sharyn Gist.

Again in 1984, Grammar swimmers, Sharyn Gist and Tina Hamilton, represented Queensland in Water Polo, and for the second year in succession, Sharyn Gist represented Australia. Five years after the introduction of Water Polo, the Senior Boys' team, Mark Rose, Travis Grant, Chris Van Genderen, Paul Mateos, Michael Pearce, John McKaig, won the Premiership. Grant and Van Genderen represented North Queensland. But perhaps the most outstanding player was Sharyn Gist, who represented Australia in Water Polo for three years in succession, 1983-1985.

In no small measure, the success of Water Polo in Townsville Grammar was due to the expertise of the Physical Education Master, Keith Harron, who was the coach of the Australian Schoolboys' Water Polo Team, 1983-1987.

Chapter 20

Athletics

The Annual Sports were established by C.H. Hodges in 1891 and were usually held on the last day of the third term (September). Included in the programme were such events as Throwing the Cricket Ball, the Long Jump, the High Jump, 100 yards, the Quarter Mile, the Mile, the Wheelbarrow Race, and the Tug-of-War (Dayboys v Boarders). In 1896, the Old Boys' Race, the 150 yards Handicap, was run for the first time. Clearing the area used for Athletics was carried out by both staff and boys, but, in 1898, the masses of weeds which covered the grounds compelled the School to borrow the Townsville Cricket Club field. Yet from these very humble beginnings, the School produced a number of fine athletes. In the 1897 Sydney University Sports, two Old Boys, F.T. Perkins and W.S. Boyd, distinguished themselves in their first year — Perkins winning his "Blue" by finishing first in the 100 yards championship, and Boyd winning both the quarter mile handicap and the half mile handicap.

The introduction of Hurdles, 1902, Putting the Weight, 1903, in place of Throwing the Cricket Ball, and the inclusion of events for girls — the Needle and Thread Race, 1905, the Egg and Spoon Race, 1906, the 100 yards and the Potato Race, 1907 — added further interest to this occasion, which was well-patronised by the people of Townsville. In addition to allowing girls to take an active part in athletics, Rowland established the Annual Sports Dance in 1905, and, by 1910, Old Girls participated for the first time in their own event, the Needle and Thread Race.

In the Annual Sports of 1909, G.F.E. Hall, the future Rhodes Scholar, set a record High Jump of 5ft 5½ ins. and a Broad Jump of 20ft. 3 ins. Hall was the Athletic Champion for three years in succession — 1907, 1908 and 1909.

During the war years, 1914–18, no prizes were awarded at the Sports so that donations could be made to the patriotic funds. Winners of events were presented with certificates and medals.

Few variations were made to the format of the Annual Sports Carnival until 1937 when a 75 yards event was introduced for girls. When T.B. Whight was appointed Grammar's fourth Headmaster in 1939, he established the House System, which proved particularly successful in giving an impetus to sport. The three Houses, named after former Headmasters, Hodges, Miller, and Rowland were given distinctive colours: green (Hodges), royal blue (Miller), and red (Rowland). In 1939, the Duffin Shield was presented by C.J. Duffin, to be awarded to the winning House at sports, and, in 1940, H. Grimsey presented the Grimsey Cup, to be awarded to the winning House in the Girls' sports. The fourth House, Whight House (purple), named after T.B. Whight (Headmaster 1939-46), was established by M.W. Blank in 1962.

Perhaps some of the great years in Athletics were from 1948 to 1956. In the Annual Athletics Carnival, held on the Sports Reserve, Friday 20th August, 1948, the Open Champion was A. Withers, who won the 220, 440 and 880 yards Championships, and was second in the 100 yards. R. Cantatore's performance in winning the six events for which he entered in the Under 16 Championship was the best seen for some years. He also established a new School record for the Broad Jump with a leap of 18ft. 6¾ ins. Cantatore won the Open Championship in 1950, winning the 100, 220, 440 yards championships and the High Jump and Broad Jump as well. He established a new record of 54 secs. for the 440 yards, and broke G.F.E. Hall's Broad Jump record of 20ft 3ins. (1909) with a leap of 21ft. 9¼ins.

High Jump record, held since 1927 by Z. Darveniza, with a jump of 5ft. 8ins., and also set an Inter-School record of 5ft. 9¾ins.

The standard of Athletics improved, somewhat, in 1962, when four new records were established: R. Andrews, 37ft. 3½ins. in the Under 16 Shot Put; R. Smallwood, 5ft. 1in. in the Under 15 High Jump; P. Hasted, 13ft. 3ins. in the Under 13 Broad Jump; and R. Johns, 30.5 secs. in the Under 13 220 yards. The 1965 Inter-House Athletic Carnival was notable for the spate of record-breaking, led by Carol Embury, who established no fewer than six new records in the High Jump; Hop, Step and Jump; Broad Jump; 75 yards; 100 yards; and 220 yards. In the boys' events, Brian Smith set new records in the Under 14 Hop, Step and Jump; High Jump; 440 yards; and also equalled the record for the 220 yards. R. Coates broke the previous records for Under 17 events in the Broad Jump; 100 yards; 440 yards; whilst in the same division, Bruce Moore set new times for the 880 yards and the Mile. Records were also set by Charles Highfield in the Under 13, Hop, Step and Jump; S. Dunford, Under 17 Shot Put; G. Mulcahy, Under 17, 110 yards; A. Brasnett, Under 13, 220 yards; J. Costin, Under 12 High Jump (equalled old record); R. Callcott, Under 13, 100 yards (equalled old record). Indeed, 1965 was a memorable year for successes in the Inter-School Athletic Carnival — B. Moore, Senior Mile; P. Gniathiewicz, Under 16 Broad Jump; B. Smith, Under 14 High Jump — and in the Inter-Zone, in which schools as far north as Cairns, south to Mackay, and west to Charters Towers competed. K. Powell won the Open Mile, and Brian Smith the Under 14 High Jump.

Despite difficulties involving Inter-School Sport in the period, 1966-75, the House Athletics Competition continued as a major annual event, and in 1972, thirty new records were established or equalled. This remarkable performance was repeated at the Inter-House Carnival in 1975.

For the first time, the School's Athletic team won the Boys' Aggregate Trophy in the Inter-School Carnival, 1983. As a result, twenty boys were selected to represent Townsville in the North Queensland Secondary Schools Sports Association Athletics. Nicky Nicholas gained five firsts, and the Open Relay team, Stuart Gist, Chris Rehder, Grant Rundle, and Jason Marshall were placed first. Simon Sarinas, Nicky Nicholas, Grant Rundle, and Stuart Gist represented North Queensland in the State titles in Brisbane.

CROSS-COUNTRY

The Annual Cross-Country had its origin in the "Paper Chases" established in 1904 by a member of Staff, Mr R.L. Robinson, in order to give boys a good training in long distances for the sports. The "hares", who were allowed seven minutes' start, laid their trail across the Common, or over Stanton Hill and along the beach. They took two arrows with them and placed them at the end of the trail. One was to be left, and the first hound to the end of the trail took the other and brought it home. From these "Paper Chases", which indeed was an old sport in the Great Public Schools of England, evolved the Cross-Country Run.

In 1957, M.W. Blank established the Cross-Country Run as an Inter-House Competition, and in the 1960's it became an Inter-School Sport. The performances of such athletes as R. Barrett, D. Gist, L. Jones, V. Usher, N. Coutts, L. Hammerton, and T.

Martin, as Townsville Representatives in 1982, did much to boost the popularity of Cross-Country Running.

Football

Soccer, Rugby League, Rugby Union

For the first time since the foundation of the School, Association Football was established in 1898 as the winter sport by J.R. Castling, a member of Staff. At first it was thought that, because Rugby had never flourished, it would be a good thing to start tennis. However, when the Trustees were approached they pointed out that tennis would occupy very few boys and encourage "the pernicious habit of looking on". Mr A.W. Macnaughton, who took a keen interest in games, suggested Association Football as being superior to Rugby, which was "played by combinations of grown men, vastly superior in weight and experience". The Trustees supported this suggestion and presented the School with Association footballs.

At first, practices began half-heartedly, but as the rules of the game became better known, enthusiasm increased, accordingly. A uniform was decided upon of "white knickers, navy blue shirt with yellow silk badge containing the shield and motto in black, navy blue cap with black and yellow badge". The team picked to represent the School in the first match on August 20, 1898, against the "Boomerangs", 1897 Premiers, was as follows:

F. Grant (Goal); H. Gilbert, H. Henry (Full Backs); J. West, J. McIntyre, C. Pfeiffer (Halves); J. McKelvey, H. Cecil, D. Henry (Capt.), V. Barton, F. Peck (Forwards). At half-time, the score was "Boomerangs" 2, School nil, and as no goals were scored in the second half, the performance of the Grammar team was most creditable.

In their second game against "Hearts", August 27, the team played with more dash and obvious improvement, as the score, "Hearts 1, School nil", indicated. The final game, School v Meat Works, September 3, was hard-fought, but Meat Works won convincingly, 3 goals to nil. Nevertheless, despite these defeats, Hodges expressed pride in the determination and spirit displayed by his boys against such experienced opposition.

By 1900, Football was firmly established in the School, but in Townsville its popularity waned to such an extent that there was only one other team, the "Hearts", left in the competition, which collapsed the following year. In 1902, only one game, Grammar v the German State School (now Belgian Gardens State School) was played during the entire season, the School winning by 29 goals to nil. The last games of Association football were played in 1904, when the Junior School team defeated the Convent School by 20 goals to 3, and the German Gardens School by 11 goals to nil.

Because of the lack of interest in Association football, Rugby was re-introduced in 1905, but it was difficult to arrange matches for the senior team. Instead, a Second XV played several games successfully until defeated 14 to 3 by the West End State School. The return match, May 22, 1905, resulted in a nil all draw. In the following year, owing to the lack of Rugby teams in other schools, and in the district, Rowland divided the School into "nines" to compete against each other under Association rules. This arrangement continued until 1908, when the School joined the Association which was formed to revive the British Association game in Townsville. Four Clubs joined the Association — Grammar, South Townsville, Thistles and Y.M.C.A. For the next twelve years Association football was played with varying success. In 1917, because the School was unable to find any local teams to play against, it was decided to adopt Rugby League as the major winter activity. Association Colour Matches were retained, and combined League and Association posts were erected for the School's use on the Sports Reserve.

However, it was not until 1926 that a School Grade competition between Grammar, Townsville High School, and Christian Brothers was established for boys under 8 stone 7 pounds and under 15 years of age. The First XIII, in 1927, played in the Saturday Rugby League competition with surprising success:

- T.G.S. v West End Athletes. Won 8-3.
- v Souths. Won 8-5.
- v Past Brothers. Won 24-5.
- v North Ward Athletes. Won 19-nil.

The Annual match against All Souls School, Charters Towers, took place on the Grammar School Oval on Thursday, June 16, 1927, and attracted a large attendance. In this exciting game, the scores fluctuated in a remarkable manner, and although Grammar won by 21-14, interest was maintained right to the end of the game, as ten minutes before full time, All Souls led by 14-11. For Grammar tries were scored by C. Mellick (3), O. Wilson (1), R. Johnson (1), and A. Philp kicked three goals. The T.G.S. team consisted of J. Garbutt, R. Johnson, A. Philp, O. Wilson, J. Beccaris, F. Rassmussen, J. Mitchell, Z. Darveniza, P. Hull, C. Mellick, V. Webb, D. Hopkins, I. Paull.

In his Speech Day Address, June 18, 1931, Rowland deplored the action of some parents in preventing their sons from playing League. He admitted that accidents happened at football, but pointed out that "they fall short by many thousands of the accidents at motoring". In his opinion, parents should recognise the truth in Gordon's famous lines:

No game was ever yet worth a rap
 For a rational man to play,
 Into which no accident, no mishap
 Could possibly find its way.

"In all my time here, there have certainly been the occasional broken arms, and one broken leg; but that is not much in 26 years . . ."

Even though the First XIII won the Grade School Competition (as it did in 1930), Rowland was somewhat disappointed that this team was defeated both by All Souls School and Thornburgh College in the Annual matches. In 1934, Christian Brothers withdrew from the secondary schools' competition, leaving only Grammar and High School as contestants. To Rowland's dismay, the School's First XIII was defeated by Thornburgh College two years in succession, 1936 and 1937.

By 1940, Rugby League had been replaced by Rugby Union, and Grammar entered a First and a Second XV in the competition with the Schools at Charters Towers for the first time. Though the First XV played vigorously, they were handicapped by lack of experience. The results were:

- T.G.S. v Thornburgh : lost 6-3
- All Souls : lost 46-3
- Mt Carmel : lost 26-3
- Thornburgh : lost 19-0
- All Souls : lost 35-3

Mt Carmel won the competition. Colours were awarded to M. Laws, J. Scully, W. Wilson, M. Backel, D. Kelly, W. Watson, M. Skinner, N. Weller, P. Toohey, J. Joseph, R. Smith, H. Duncan, T. Regazzoli, K. Bird, J. Duffield, T. Turton, B. Schulz, S. Gairns.

The Second XV was more successful than the Firsts, winning both games against Thornburgh College. Those boys who did not train with either the First or the Second Fifteens were divided into three Colour teams — Red, White, and Blue. Two rounds were played during the second term, Blues winning the competition. After the mid-winter holidays, the teams were reorganised and a further round played. Whites were victorious in a close competition. Rugby Union training was carried out by T.B. Whight, J. Nelson, and A.H. Batchelor.

In 1945, Rugby League was revived and the School was active in three Grades — the Local competition (organised by the newly formed Townsville Secondary School's Amateur Athletic Association); Games with the Charters Towers Schools; and the Minor Junior competition. Rugby Union was played with the Charters Towers Schools in 1940 and 1941, but when the School was in exile at "Rosslea", Soccer became the game. However, after only one year of League, the 1946 First XIII were Undefeated Premiers. The outstanding player was Alan Young, who proved himself a punishing, attacking player. He was ably supported by N. Henry, D. Dolgner, B. Connolly, J. Atkinson, and Alan Henderson, who met with a regrettable accident during the last match of the season — the Premiership Final of the Minor Junior competition. Other members of the team were: A. McDermott (Capt.), R. Cox, B. Sundstrup, W. Stuart, K. Hegarty, L. Kamburis, R. Clapin, J. McCabe, D. Seldon, H. Jackson, K. Grimmer, B. Thomas. The performance of this team was indeed a fine tribute to their coach, T.B. Whight, who was, in his own right, an outstanding footballer.

This resurgence in Rugby League was sustained by M.W. Blank, the School's sixth Headmaster, and for eight years, 1949 to 1956 the First XIII were Premiers. However, this long period of success ended in 1957 when Grammar teams were soundly beaten. Indeed, in 1960, the First XIII created a record by not winning a single match. Nevertheless, under the coaching of J. Jeffrey, a marked improvement in the standard of play was evidenced in 1962, when the School gained a representation of nine in the two Townsville teams which played Charters Towers on July 21 — Peter Cecil, Stewart Robertson and Richard Andrews in the First XIII; Alan Hopkins, Graham Costin, Alan McDonald (Vice-Captain), and Stewart Boyd in the Second XIII; and Ron Jones and Jeff Johnson as Reserves. The Second XIII, coached by L. James, were undefeated Premiers, as they were the previous year when coached by V. Von Wald, and the Under Nine Stone team (M.W. Blank) were also Premiers. Ever mindful of the need to encourage participation in sport, Blank introduced Men's Basketball in 1963 to cater for the non-footballer. This was made possible as a result of a gift from the J.S. Love Estate, which enabled the Trustees to construct a basketball court.

Another six years were to elapse before Grammar's First XIII won the Premiership. In 1968, new techniques were employed by the coaches, V. Illich and N. Gibson, with marked success. Many afternoons were spent in forward and backline movements, and endless hours in reaching peak physical condition. The team scored 79 points with only 7 being scored against them by Christian Brothers, Townsville and Pimlico High Schools. Eight of the team represented Townsville in the match against the Charters Towers Schools: D. Muirhead, W. Cusack, K. Macdonald, E. Poole, A. Malpass, P. Walker, M. Neilsen, D. Lando; whilst another six played for the Inter-City Second XIII: C. Poole, K. Freeman, B. Smith, R. Southward, S. Fox, T. Kemp. The Inter-City Firsts, captained by W. Cusack, won 20-5, and the Second lost 30-5.

This remarkable team defeated Mt Carmel 14-9 on the School Oval, and in the match against All Souls, played in Charters Towers, won 28-13. To end the season, they defeated St Teresa's College, Abergowrie, 88-21. It was, indeed, a good year for Grammar. The Under Nine Stone Team were also Undefeated Premiers, scoring 129 points with only 25 against them from Christian Brothers, Townsville High School and Pimlico High School. This team also defeated All Souls, 13-8; Mt Carmel College (Charters Towers Premiers) 16-2; and in a second match against All Souls (played as a curtain-raiser to the Inter-City games) won 22-5.

In the following year, the reputation of the School was further enhanced by the successes of the First XIII, the Under 9 stone 7 pounds XIII, and the Under 7 Stone XIII, all of whom were Undefeated Premiers. It must be borne in mind, however, that winning football matches (with its resultant publicity) was of paramount importance to many people, who believed, rightly or wrongly, that such victories demonstrated that Grammar (at least in sport) was superior to other schools. Indeed, as a morale booster, football successes against other independent schools had no parallel.

Notwithstanding this, the First XIII of 1969 outshone the performance of the previous year's Firsts by scoring 135 points in five competition games, and having no points scored against them. It was, indeed, a proud record. The team also defeated Mt Carmel College 23-3; St Teresa's 54-0; Ingham High School 29-2; and Ayr High School 35-5. Surprisingly, they lost 8-11 in the game against Bowen High School. Those selected for the Inter-City First XIII were: W. Cusack (Capt.), N. Hagarty, A. Malpass, D. Morton, T. Kemp, and H. Lotivi; and for the Inter-City Second XIII, D. Lando, R. Johnson, P. Studt, J. McCarthy. The Firsts were defeated by Charters Towers by 21-9, while the Seconds won 33 points to nil. Members of the team were: R. Johnson, J. McCarthy, D. Lando, T. Kemp, H. Lotivi, A. Malpass, R. Murray-Prior, D. Morton, R. Greaves, P. Studt, R. Emilson, W. Cusack (Capt.), N. Hagarty, K. Freeman, B. Smith, M. Butterfield, R. Roy. The Under 9 Stone 7 XIII scored 177 points in the Inter-School competition with no points being scored against them. Eleven of this team represented Townsville against Charters Towers: J. Stevenson, J. Smallbone, I. Shield, G. Walker, J. Dunne, H. Petersen, N. Whitfield, R. Casey, V. Cairns, S. Kuskie, L. Motteram (Capt.).

The outstanding achievements in Rugby League, 1968-69, were certainly not repeated in 1970, which year saw the collapse of football greatness within the School. Because State High Schools in Townsville refused to participate in the boys' competition in the afternoon, after school hours, it was arranged that Grammar play out-of-town schools such as those of Charters Towers, St Teresa's, Abergowrie, Ayr and Home Hill High Schools, and Longreach Pastoral College. But, despite these matches, the traditional rivalry between the local secondary schools was sadly missed.

Curiously, all sports were revived in 1972 and Grammar's five football teams met with moderate success. The First XIII competed in the City competition, as well as in Inter-School games, and played 27 matches, losing only 9. A Junior team played on Saturday afternoons as a member of the Townsville Junior Rugby League Club, and another in the Junior Rugby Union competition. Over 100 boys were involved in Rugby League during the 1973 season. The Second XIII were undefeated Premiers in the Inter-School competition, and reached the semi-finals in the Townsville Junior Rugby League Club competition. Warren Knight, a member of the Resident Staff, and a teacher at the Central State School, coached three teams for the Saturday afternoon Junior Rugby League games, as well as for the Inter-School matches. His enthusiasm and dedication contributed immeasurably to the revival of football in the School.

Inter-School sporting organisation was again changed in 1974. Instead of regular Inter-School games, a Carnival was held for each sport, and all schools came together for one or two days to play a series of matches. The system proved highly unsatisfactory, as teams needed the impetus of weekly competition to sustain enthusiasm. The Townsville Secondary Schools Amateur Athletic Association, of which the School was a member, was responsible for the introduction of change in the sporting organisation. Grammar entered an Under 17 team in the Senior League Competition, and two teams in the Junior Rugby League. The same system applied in 1975, which like the previous year, was most disappointing as few successes were achieved by the teams.

The Premiership eluded the First XIII until 1979, when the team, P. Anderson, S. Baillie, M. Bonning, C. Delaney, A. Fermo, B. Fuller, R. Fuller (Captain), P. Hirst, T. Kelly, V. Lane, M. Martin, P. Maslen, T. Moore, J. Paul, S. Shardlow, J. Thaiday, P. Thaiday, coached by M. J. O'Brien, defeated Ignatius Park, 16-8, in the Grand Final.

Four years later, the First XIII were Premiers, when the team coached by the Sportsmaster, K. Harron, defeated Ignatius Park College in an action-packed Grand Final, which was an exciting display of schoolboy Rugby League. The team consisted of I. Maslen, S. Mitchell, K. Burke, S. Rumery, K. Mitchell, G. Tytherleigh, S. Gist, L.

RUGBY UNION

Re-established by the Deputy Headmaster, W.J. Muller, Rugby Union was played as a major sport in 1981. It was well received by many boys (and one girl) and within a few years surpassed Rugby League in popularity. The highlights of 1981 were the visits of the All Japan Schoolboys' team, Cowley High School (voted best school in England, 1980-81) and Lynfield College from New Zealand. The International scene was furthered when five Grammar students travelled to New Zealand with the North Queensland Schoolboys' Team and gained valuable experience in the games played. Coached by K. Harron and W. Muller, the First XV was comprised of: E. Harry, O. Eberl, A. Halford, C. Green, G. Aitken, M. Elliott, J. Searle, K. Williamson, M. Smethurst, W. Higgins, D. Qualischefski, N. Mauga, B. Fuller (Captain), S. Griffin, P. Mentz, J. Eastaughffe.

In 1982, the Rugby Union team, accompanied by W. Muller, K. Harron, and J. O'Brien, toured New Zealand. As a consequence, the standard of play improved dramatically. With visiting teams from overseas, as well as matches against Rockhampton Grammar School and District teams, Rugby Union was firmly entrenched in the sporting programme of the School. G. Bloxham, M. Vest, L. Tytherleigh, and G. Bogiatzis were selected for the Queensland Country School (Open); and I. Maslen, Queensland Country (Under 16), in 1984.

Indeed, representation in 1985, 1986, 1987, and 1988 indicated the standard of Rugby Union developed in the School.

By 1988, Rugby Union had come a long way since its humble beginnings in 1980. Indeed, during the Centenary year, Grammar hosted four Schools — Lynfield College (New Zealand), Sevenoaks (England), Mill Hill (England), and the Brisbane State High School. The game against Sevenoaks was the Centenary Match, which Sevenoaks won 17-3. However, Grammar defeated their traditional rivals, Lynfield College, 13-10, and Mill Hill, one of England's most highly rated Rugby Union Schools, 29-12, but lost 6-11 to Brisbane State High School.

Throughout the 1988 season, Grammar's try line was not crossed by any local school team, and victories were recorded against Ignatius Park College (14-0), All Souls and St Gabriel's School (23-0), and Blackheath and Thorburgh College (30-3). In large measure, this impressive performance was due to the dedication of the Deputy Headmaster, W. Muller, the Sportsmaster, K. Harron, Colonel P. Gould (a parent) and other coaches, and, most importantly, to the enthusiasm and spirit displayed by members of the teams.

At the end of the 1988 season, and for the eighth successive year, Grammar was awarded the prestigious Ron Barnes Trophy for the best team in North Queensland. The Player of the Year Award was won by Grant Barrie and the most improved player was Dallas Smith.

The Old Boys' Union

On Saturday evening, November 23, 1901, some thirty Old Boys, two members of Staff, J.G. Leadbeater and J.G. Whight (Housemasters), and the Headmaster, F.T. Miller, gathered in the School dining room to discuss the formation of an Old Boys' Union. Chaired by the Headmaster, the meeting unanimously resolved that the Union be formed, and elected Miller as President and A.F. Isley as Honorary Secretary-Treasurer. In his Speech Day Address, December 13, 1901, Miller stated:

Old Boys' Reunion —

To the Old Boys of the School, this year will constitute an important epoch, for it has seen the formation of our Old Boy's Union. This society has for its avowed object the strengthening and maintaining the spirit of brotherhood and good feeling between old boys of the Townsville Grammar School and the binding of old boys closer to their own School. The Union has my hearty sympathy and support, and we can confidently rely on the Secretary, Mr A.F. Isley, to look after its interests. He will also act as editor of the "Old Boys' Column in the 'Magazine'," so that all old boys will always know to whom to send information.¹

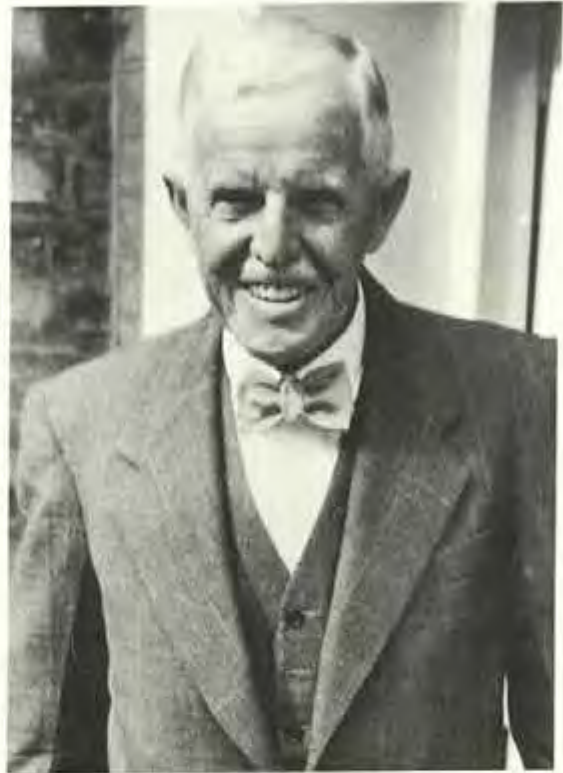

Note: Miller used the term "Reunion" in the sense that Old Boys would meet annually, or perhaps half-yearly.

Of paramount importance to Miller was the support of Old Boys, whom he recognised as a powerful influence in the affairs of the School. Indeed, the adulation paid to past students in the "Old Boys' Column" in the School Magazines, and the toast to "Old Boys and Girls" at his first House Supper by a senior boy, C.A. Fewtrell, who reminded all those present that, "though year by year the ranks of old boys grew larger, still not so many of them were able to be present as could be wished, their avocations in the world taking them away from Townsville, some to business centres, some to South Africa to fight the battle of the Empire", convinced Miller that the time was opportune to establish an official organisation of Old Boys so that their loyalty and pride in the School would bring immeasurable benefits.

The first reunion was held on Wednesday evening, July 9, 1902, (the night of the Townsville Turf Club's Annual Meeting), and took the form of a dance in the main room of the School. Some 150 people were present and two debutantes honoured the Union in its first social effort. This important occasion concluded with the singing of a verse from

By October 31, 1902, the Old Boys' Union was firmly established with a membership of 96.

When the appalling destruction of the School by Cyclone "Leonta" March, 1903, was revealed, Old Boys rallied to their Alma Mater. Membership increased to 116, and at the Annual General Meeting, November 22, it was suggested that, should the School be rebuilt on the old site, the Union should "club together and erect a small portion as a token of our respect for our former School, and, to some, home."²

Despite the difficulties encountered during 1903, the Union took an active interest in the School, particularly in fostering Junior and Senior Cricket, and in assisting at other sporting activities such as the Athletic and Swimming Carnivals. On May 28, 1904, the Old Boys' Committee organised a "Moonlight Excursion" in aid of the School Building Fund. The steamer was lent to them, free of cost, by Mr D. Patience (a Trustee), and a cheque for £14/- was presented to the Board of Trustees. A subscription list was also opened by donations of £5/- each from Mr A.W. Macnaughton and Mr D. Patience (Trustees), and a general appeal was sent out to Old Boys to put their shoulders behind the School. In addition, the Union decided to erect a Memorial Tablet to Mr K. Kemnitzer, who was a much beloved member of Staff, 1891-1902, and who died March 6, 1903.

At the Annual General Meeting, December, 1904, A.F. Isley resigned as Secretary Treasurer on the grounds that the Union needed "fresh blood", and Mr A.D. Pearce was elected in his place. The unexpected resignations of the Headmaster and a member of his Staff, A.H. Shuttlewood, were regarded with dismay by the Old Boys' Union. Nevertheless, members decided, with great unanimity and loyalty, to give the new Headmaster (P.F. Rowland), every support to "carry on our beloved School."

The first "Old Boys' Scholarship" was awarded to F. Dorsett at the beginning of 1904, and the Union's Committee raised funds to present their second scholarship to W. McKay in 1906. However, because both boys left the School to take positions before completing their "Junior", it was decided that any further scholarships would be awarded on the results of an examination conducted by the Headmaster. G.F.E. Hall was selected by Rowland as the third holder of the Old Boys' Scholarship, which enabled him to complete "Senior" and win a University Open Scholarship.

Not surprisingly, a motion to admit all Old Girls to the full membership of the Union, at the Annual General Meeting, December 13, 1905, aroused vehement debate, and was narrowly defeated by 11 votes to 10. However, the question of Old Girls being admitted to full membership of the Union (at the same rate as Old Boys) was raised again at the Annual General Meeting on November 14, 1906. After considerable discussion, the motion that they be admitted was won by nine votes to four. Though the way was now opened for Old Girls to join the Union, no mention was made of them in the Annual Reports over the next four years, nor were they Office Bearers. Unexpectedly, at the Annual General Meeting, held at Buchanan's Hotel, Friday evening, February 17, 1911, the Headmaster, P.F. Rowland, suggested that, as Old Girls could not receive the same benefits from the Union as Old Boys, they be written to and be asked to form a kindred association of their own, fixing the rate of subscription to suit themselves. It was, indeed, a man's world.

In the T.G.S. Magazine, May, 1913, the following article appeared:

OLD GIRLS' UNION

It is with feelings of pleasure that we proclaim that existence of our recently formed Old Girls' Union. So far the O.G.U. has not been officially welcomed, not even acknowledged by the Old Boys' Union, with which it hopes to be affiliated; but "silence gives consent", and the personal kindnesses received from many of the Old Boys augurs well for the future.

On May 17, 1912, Mr Rowland convened a meeting re the formation of an Old Girls' Union, and the response was hearty and unanimous. The subscription was fixed at 2s. 6d., entitling members to receive a copy of the School Magazine. Miss Crowder was appointed Secretary and Treasurer.

For the 51 names kindly supplied by Mr Rowland from the School Roll, 48 addresses were obtained, and circulars sent accordingly. It has been difficult to trace all the Old Girls . . .

The object of the Union is to subscribe and to write to the Magazine, and to keep in touch with the School and past scholars generally . . .

Thanks to the generous gift of the first supply of Magazines, we have banked £2, and still have money in hand.

Five meetings have been held . . .

L.C.

The first "Old Girls' Column" was recorded in the T.G.S. Magazine, June, 1914, with such items as:

A group of five bonny children — the Foley-Elliott family — speaks well for the climate of Townsville.

On September 13, an O.G.U. outing to Magnetic Island was held. The party crossed in the "Tivoli", a merry laughing crowd.

The O.G.U. took part in the T.G.S. Sports; the Needle-and-Thread Race being won by Miss Walker, 1; Miss Crowder, 2; and Miss Tuffley, 3. It was fun, too!

The Old Boys' Union formed an Old Boys' Club in a room which they rented over Mr J. Holmes' shop, nearly opposite Messrs Hollis Hopkins, in Sturt Street. Due to the efforts of the President of The Old Boys Union, Mr J. Philp, and of Messrs S. Hopkins, A.H. Tait, C. Lewington, C. Montgomerie, and other members of the Committee, a billiard table and a "Bobs" table were purchased. It was hoped to decorate the walls with photographs of Old Boys, Cricket Teams and of the School.

The Club was formally opened on May 20, 1914, by Mr J. Philp, who received a silver-mounted billiard ball to mark the occasion.

Unfortunately, the outbreak of the Great War brought about the demise of both the Old Boys' and the Old Girls' Unions.

Nevertheless, in retrospect, the "Old Boys' Union" developed a practical interest in the School, played the Annual Cricket Match on St Patrick's Day each year, and maintained close links with those boys who had passed through the School. The "Old Girls' Union" was short-lived, and did not become a force to be reckoned with in School affairs.

THE OLD BOYS' ASSOCIATION

On March 19, 1926, due largely to the efforts of J.M. Philp and T.B. Whight, a meeting was held, at which it was decided to revive the Old Boys' Union under the name of the Townsville Grammar Old Boys' Association. The following officers were elected:

Patron: P.F. Rowland

President: J.M. Philp.

Vice-Presidents (to be Old Boys):

Town: S. Hopkins, E. McKimmin, E.M. Brookes, W.E. McIlwaine, F.H. Williamson.

Country: W.J. Chamberlain, C.R. McLean, A.F. Isley, R. Foot, J. Minchan, R.G. Lanskey, C. Bingham.

Committee: S. Goldring, R. Andison, R. Marks, G. Cadman, F. Norbury.

Honorary Secretary and Treasurer: T.B. Whight.

Assistant Secretary: J.W. Sparks.

It was resolved that the Association assist in publishing the School Magazine, and at all times to do everything possible to assist the School: that a Ball be held annually and that a Reunion Dinner be held in Amateur Week.

Activities for 1926 were confined to holding a Ball in the School of Arts, June 18, which resulted in a net profit of £50 13s 9d. and a Reunion dinner during Amateur Week.

Ex Grammarians — Taken at Roberts Leu & North Centenary Dinner Held at the Townsville Golf Club on December 2, 1981.

The success of these functions was due to the Ladies' Committee, presided over by Mrs S. Hopkins, and to the splendid efforts of Mrs G. Roberts and Mrs J. Philp.

The revival of the Union also saw the foundation of the Past Grammar's Cricket Club, which entered a team, captained by J. Deacon, in the Saturday competition. Apart from the World War II years, this Club continued until the late 1960s.

Though the Old Girls' Association was reformed in 1943, during which year, and the next, regular monthly meetings were held in the Synod Hall, interest waned considerably in 1945-46. Possibly this may have been due to the end of hostilities, which had united people in a common cause, an upsurge in marriages, and the drift away from Townsville. Whatever the reason, the lack of interest on the part of the Old Girls prompted the following article to appear in the T.G.S. Magazine, 1952.

It is regretted that the Old Girls' Association has become defunct since Joyce Grimsey gave up single happiness for married bliss. Miss Grimsey's years of enthusiastic service to the O.G.A. must be known to most Old Girls. Surely among your numbers can be found a willing few who are prepared to rebuild the O.G.A.!

In comparison, the "Old Girls' Notes" in the 1948 T.G.S. Magazine showed that interest in past students was still maintained:

Mrs Mary Foley-Elliott, the first girl student at the School, died early in the 1947. She had been a staunch member of the Association ever since its inauguration. The O.G.A. decided to establish a fund for a Memorial Prize to be awarded each year to the best all-round girl at sport. The prize last year was won by Claudia Henry. Zoe Burnett, who graduated this year, is now working with the A.B.C. in Brisbane. Ria Monaghan works there too, as a script writer. June Rawkins is back in Townsville after completing her Ph.C. in Brisbane. Gwenda Madden is continuing her studies at the Queensland University. Audrey Maxwell, who left the School to work in Melbourne, recently announced her engagement. Nancy Logan, who is engaged to Bruce Halliday, of Sydney, is planning a November wedding. Pat Shann announced her engagement to Bud Ford of Miles. Our Treasurer for the last two years, Betty Vandenberg, has announced her engagement to Mr Alastair McKenzie in May. Margaret Crutchley, Beryl Barker and Lenore Macalpine have also become engaged this year. Shitley Bretherton marries Marcus Rose in July. June Willis (now Mrs Graham Roberts) came from Cloncurry for a short holiday. Congratulations to Joan Mathieson, Elma Smith and Lorne Bower who were married this year. Mrs Keith Larovich (Olive Sides), who served with the 113th A.G.H. and 2nd 6th A.G.H., is now living in Surrey Hills, Victoria. Thelma Herath, Joyce Johnston and Iris Castledine are all living in Melbourne. Helga Sunnstrup has an interesting job with a Sydney publishing firm. Joyce Castledine is nursing at St. Helen's, Brisbane. Joy Trembath is governess at Moonby Downs. Gwen Sampson (Mrs Mathieson) and Elva Richardson are living in Brisbane.

The Old Girls had several meetings during the year, organised two dances, one at the School, and defeated the "Present Girls" in a hilarious and rather disorganised basketball match on the new court.

On the other hand, the Old Boys' Association continued, despite the disappointing membership. The Office-Bearers, 1952-1953, were indicative of the strong ties and loyalty to the School:

Patron: M.W. Blank.

President: D.T. Seawright.

Treasurer: J.G. Thompson.

Vice-Presidents: S.M. Hopkins, A.H. Tait, G.H. Hopkins (Ingham), A.R. Foot (Cardington).

Committee: I. Roberts, H.H. Hopkins, D.J. Hopkins, P. McDougall Jr., J. Ashe, S.P. Ford, K. Anderson, N.L. Vandenberg, R. Cantatore.

Secretary: J.D. Jeffrey.

During the year, the O.B.A. undertook the work of refurbishing the Governor's Cup. The addition of a bakelite plinth provided extra space for engraving the names of the winners of the Rugby Prize. The Old Boys also donated to the Trustees a Shield for the Annual House Swimming Carnival, to be known as "The Chester Parker Memorial Shield", to perpetuate the memory of Chester Parker, the boy from Collinsville, who became a Rhodes Scholar, and who lost his life in submarine service with the Royal Navy during World War II. The Old Boys' Association continued responsibility for the various Old Boys' prizes awarded each year, and assisted with the production of the School Magazine.

The Old Boys' Notes in the 1952 Magazine followed the tradition set by the first issue of the School Magazine in 1897. "Hal" Foot, nephew of Dick, is a Squadron Leader in the R.A.A.F. Both Arthur Roberts and Eric Rose are on the teaching staff of the School. C.J. ("Dare") Mellick is now located at Milton, N.S.W. Visitors from Ingham to the Annual Reunion included George Hopkins, Les Johnson, who won the Rugby Prize in 1924 and 1925, Harry Gillis and Bob Thomson, Stone River; Eric Irvin, Victoria Estate; the Grazioli boys, the Bonnings, "Snook" Angus, Jack Grube, Brian Kuchler, Cunningham brothers, John Hoolihan, John Pearson.

Mentioned also were Dr M (Monty) White, V.D. O'Gorman (left 1915), Doctors Middleton, Hishon, and Reye; "Spindle" Martin, and dentists, J.M. ("Ginger") Hulbert, Z. Darveniza, Leo Bloom; and E.M. ("Mick") Shepherd, Deputy Chief Engineer, Co-ordinator's Department; Dr W.J. (Bill) Chamberlain and Dr F.H.S. Roberts; "Ginger" (Frank) Keogh (1910-12 vintage); R.G. (Bob) Lanskey, Church of England Grammar.

Indeed, that great and intangible spirit of belonging to the School was evident at the 1952 Old Boys' Reunion, but despite this display of camaraderie, membership dwindled to such an extent that M.W. Blank (Headmaster, 1948-65), expressed deep concern for the future of the Association.

THE PAST GRAMMARIANS' ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday, March 8, 1960, the Headmaster, M.W. Blank, called a meeting of former students of the School to discuss the future of the almost non-existent Old Boys' and Old Girls' Associations. As a consequence, those present established The Past Grammarians' Association, to promote unity amongst "Old Boys" and "Old Girls" of the School, and to assist Townsville Grammar in every way.

"Membership is open to past pupils of Grammar Schools in Queensland, the Sydney Grammar School, Trustees of the School, Headmaster and Teaching Staff of the School."

Since its formation, the Association has raised funds for various projects and has taken an active interest in School.

The first President of the Past Grammarians' Association was J.A. Scully, a tireless worker for the School, and the first Patron was T. Hodel. With such Office Bearers as Miss C. Millican, M. White, W.J. Gillman, L. Finerty, G. Hopkins, G.J. Wilson, H. Duncan, R. Roebuck, A. Roberts, Miss R. Simpson and Miss E. Nilsson, the Association was established with marked enthusiasm, but, as in the past, difficulties were experienced in maintaining the membership and active participation on the part of ex-students. Indeed, but for the dedication of a very small group of Past Grammarians, the Association would have met the fate of its predecessors.

Notes on Past Grammarians rarely appeared in the annual School Magazine over a considerable period (1960s to the 1980s), but, with the approach of the School Centenary (April 16, 1988), and the election, in 1985, of a new Committee:

Patron — Arnold Duffield (1911-1913).

President — Peter Roberts (1958-1961).

Secretary — Verney Sayers [née Smith] (1959)

the Association became revitalised. Membership subscriptions for 1985 were 160, although there were 1000 names and addresses on file. In 1987, the School in general, and the Past Grammarians in particular, were saddened by the death of Arnold Duffield, whose association with the School extended over seventy-seven years.

Today, however, the apparent success of the Past Grammarians' Association is due, in large measure, to the dedication of the Secretary, Ms Verney Sayers, whose husband, Richard, is a great nephew of Mary Foley, the first girl to enrol at the School, 1893. Ms Sayers introduced a regular Newsletter, "Melior Exi", to members of the Association, in order to keep them abreast of developments at the School and to encourage them to participate in Rugby, Touch Football, Tennis, Shooting, and Golf, and to attend Luncheon in the Dining Room on the Annual "Open Day".

Of particular significance was the formation in 1986 of The South East Queensland Branch of the Past Grammarians' Association.

A Reunion Dinner, organised by the Secretary of the Branch, Ms Jenny Nelson (née Lukin, 1958-59), was held in Brisbane, September 22, 1987. The Headmaster, A.D. Morwood, and some 100 past students attended this function at which the Guest Speaker was Mr Kim Allen.

Major Sporting Activities

Football, Swimming, Tennis, Athletics and Cross-Country were the major sports until 1959, in which year Softball, for both boys and girls, was successfully introduced by Mr M.B. Von Wald. Five years later, and now Deputy Headmaster, he established Men's Basketball in order to cater for those boys who were not particularly interested in playing Rugby League. From this very humble origin, Basketball blossomed into a highly competitive sport. During the next 20 years, activities included The Rifle Club (1965), Gymnastics (1965), Hockey (1967), Soccer (1968), Judo (1972), Canoeing (1979), Canoe Polo (1979), Water Polo (1980), Volleyball (1980) and Touch Football (1983).

GIRLS' SPORT

Until the late 1960s, the major sporting activities for girls were Tennis, Athletics, Basketball (Netball), Swimming, Vigoro, Softball and Hockey. Squash and American Basketball were introduced in 1972 and Canoeing and Canoe Polo in 1979. During the 1970s, Cross-Country became a sport in which many girls excelled. With the advent of the 1980s, the choice of activities for girls widened considerably to include Volleyball, Water Polo, Rugby Union, Touch Football and Rifle Shooting.

Indeed, State and National Representation no longer remained the prerogative of boys.

CARMEN TOWNSVILLARE

Original Latin

by W.A. Purves (Dec. 1898)

Numero carens armentum,
Opes facilis naturae
Patribus sunt nostris curae.*

Chorus — *Id agamus, id agamus
Meliores ut fiamus;
Sicut bene huc intratur
Melius hinc exeatur.*

*Defenduntur hinc infensi
Cursu aequoris immensi:
Inimici huc intrantes
Exeunt trans aequor nantes.*

Queis iidem sunt Penates,
Queis est suum sidus notum
Longe ceteris remotum.*

*Nos et patriam habemus
Quidvis perpeti audemus:
Nobis nostri sunt labores
Istis, credas, duriores.*

*Diligens immittit pater
Filium qui excolatur:
Hic exhibit aliquando
Aptus omnia domando*

*Dum sescenti Townsvillares, Nostros diligemus Lares,
Stella splendescet nitore
Townsvillaris puriore.*

Metrical Rendering

by Hilary Davies (1952)

The gifts of bounteous nature
In trust our fathers hold —
Silver and vast unnumbered herds,
And precious stones and gold.

Chorus — Although we may be good,
When our studies here we start,
Let us all try to be better,
When hence we must depart.

Our enemies are warded off
By the mighty ocean's tide:
To enter here they first must cross
Its flowing waters wide.

And here six great states are Whose ideals are the same;
They know their own clear star —
A common birth they claim.

A motherland we also own
For whom we shall do aught.
The school's work will endure
Though one man's come to naught.

Since here the earnest father
His son for schooling brings,
And so, in time, the youth goes forth
Prepared thus for all things.

While all the sons of Grammar
Still love our ideals bright,
The star of Townsville Grammar
Will shine with purer light.

FORTY YEARS OFF

(For the Fortieth Anniversary) 1928

Forty years off, when our city was growing
 Out of the bush to a fine modern town,
 Fathers, with zeal educational glowing,
 Planked enough cash for a Grammar School down.
 Soon our brick walls were, like magic, arising,
 Not yet was fashioned the motto "Go slow"!
 Class-rooms and dorms of the soundest devising;
 None South to School from North Queensland need go.

Chorus: For the School, for the School, the School,
 Till the rafters re-echo the song
 Of the Townsville Grammar School,
 Gram-mar, Gram-mar!

Forty years gone since our well-loved first Master
 Came here from Rugby and took on his work,
 Bade us in victory or in disaster
 Play the straight game, never squib, never shirk.
 Hundreds have passed through these rooms since he left us,
 Learning lessons the School can impart,
 War of no few of our noblest beleft us;
 Deep are their memories stamped in our heart.

Chorus: For the School, etc.

Forty years on may the old School still nourish
 Memories fond of her bravest and best,
 Forty years on may the old School still flourish,
 'MELIOR EXI' be still her proud crest.
 If we strive hard, ere the torch onward handing,
 Bravely to vie with the years that are gone,
 Fairer and firmer the School will be standing,
 Twenty and thirty and forty years on.

Chorus: For the School, etc.

TOWNSVILLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL OLD BOYS' SONG

March Time. Words and Music by John Ashe

There's a tie that binds us of black and gold
 To a School whose glories are manifold,
 It's as fine a story as ever told,
 Long may the School march on.
 It's the T.G.S., it's an honoured name,
 It's a light that shines with a lasting fame,
 It's the School that taught us to play the game,
 Long may the School march on.

Chorus: Oh we may be young, or we may be old,
 And we may be far as the years unfold,
 But we all can join in the School's success,
 Old Boys, proud of the T.G.S.

Oh the years go by and we may forget
 All the subjects learnt, to our great regret,
 But the things that count, we remember yet,
 Long may the School march on.
 All our Latin's gone, but the Old School Song,
 And at A plus B we would sure be wrong,
 But we bat life out as it comes along,
 Long may the School march on.

Chorus: Oh we may be young, or we may be old, etc.

All the walks of life feel the Old Boys' hand
 As they're far and wide, spread throughout the land,
 For the Old Boys know how to make a stand,
 Long may the School march on.
 To the First Great War, soon the Old Boys came,
 At the Last World War they enhanced their fame,
 And we bow our heads to their honoured name,
 Long may the School march on.

Chorus: Oh we may be young, or we may be old, etc.

There's a tie that binds us of black and gold
 To a School whose glories are manifold,
 It's as fine a story as ever told,
 Long may the School march on.
 It's The T.G.S., it's an honoured name,
 It's a light that shines with a lasting fame,
 It's the School that taught us to play the game,
 Long may the School march on.

PLAY THE GAME

Words by P.F. Rowland

If at cricket you'd excel,
 Play the game,
 Play the hard ones straight and well,
 When the soft ones come, why then
 Drive and cut and slash like men;
 Play the game!

Chorus: Play up, Grammar School! Play up Grammar School!
 Bravo! Play the game then Grammar School;
 With a straight bat and a stout heart
 We shall win the long game yet.
 In the field don't lose your wits;
 Play the game!

Though the batsman safely hits
 Threes and fourers thick and fast,
 He will give the catch at last,
 Play the game!

Chorus: Play up, etc.

If at life, boys, you'd excel,
 Play the game.
 Play life's hardships straight and well,
 When the soft temptations come
 Smite them hard and hit them home,
 Play the game!

Chorus: Play up, etc.

THE GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR EVER

Words by P.F. Rowland
 (To the air of the Vicar of Bray)

 Good Queen Victoria reigning,
 The Townsville Grammar School arose,
 Her star shall know no waning;
 For her sons ever strive with heart and soul
 At lessons and football and cricket,
 And try to remember to play the game
 At the desk or goal or wicket;*

*At the T.G.S. we do our best,
 And though we are not all clever,
 We can all sing 'God Save the King,
 And the Grammar School forever!'*

*Leonta cyclone came, and it
Was terrible and strengthy,
Not much of our buildings would have been left,
Had its visit been more lengthy.
It cut through the School; it blew down the Gym,
It made old Peter wonder;
It littered the land with flying tin,
And tore the Dorm asunder:*

*But the T.G.S. like the Phoenix rose,
Its life no storm can sever,
As long as we sing 'God Save the King,
And the Grammar School for ever!'*

*The world's Great War next smote us hard,
We sent our noblest sons there,
And some returned; but some were left
A prey to the bombs and guns there.
Yet each gallant lad who went to the front
Has left us his name to remind us
That, when Duty calls, we must rise to the call,
Leaving Fear, Love and Pleasure behind us:*

*So here's hurrab for the T.G.S.
Its life no war can sever,
As long as we sing 'God Save the King,
And the Grammar School for ever!'*

CANTANDA T.G.S.

SCHOOL PRAYERS

These are the prayers which have been used at "Call Over", and at morning assemblies, during the greater part of the School's history.

MONDAY MORNINGS

Almighty Father, Who knowest the frailty and the difficulties of Thy children, grant us Thy help in the trials of the week that now begins. Assist our efforts to do well. Banish from our hearts every unworthy thought. Fill us with a sense of Thy power and goodness, and raise our lives to see, with the mind's eye, Thine invisible presence in all around us. We pray Thee for ourselves, our friends, for all in all schools throughout the world, bowing our heads in reverence, and together saying:

Our Father . . .

LET US DEDICATE

Almighty Father, help us, we pray to dedicate ourselves, afresh if need be, to the service of our fellows. A service in widening circles, service to the home, service to our neighbourhood, to our state, our country, to the Empire and to the world. No mere service of our lips, service of our lives, as we know to be the service of our Queen. Endue her with Thy holy Spirit: prosper her with all happiness: and bring her to Thine everlasting kingdom, though Jesus Christ, Our Lord.

Amen.

SUNDRY AND MANIFOLD CHANGES

Almighty God, who alone canst order the unruly wills and affections of sinful men, grant that we may love the thing that Thou commandest, and desire that which Thou dost promise, that so, among the sundry and manifold changes of the world our hearts may there be fixed, where true joys are to be found.

Amen.

RESOLUTION, PATIENCE AND COURAGE

Almighty Father, we pray Thee to grant us the gifts of Resolution, Patience and Courage. Resolution that we may perform our tasks; Patience that we may endure drudgery, misunderstandings, and all our small troubles; Courage that we may meet our real difficulties face to face without shirking.

Temptations to idleness and dishonesty be all around. Help us to meet them realising how little that is worth having can be won without work; and that Honesty, Work and Faith form the triple pathway to all true happiness.

Amen.

AND ALL EVIL THOUGHTS

Almighty God, Who seest that we have no power of ourselves to help ourselves, keep us both outwardly in our bodies and inwardly in our souls, that we may be defended from all adversities which may happen to the body, and from all evil thoughts which may assault and hurt the soul.

ITS ROUND OF TASKS AND DUTIES

Almighty Father, we ask mercy upon Thy children here assembled in this School before the morning work. Morning comes and brings with it its round of tasks and duties. Help us to perform them with zealous hearts and happy faces. Help us to do thoroughly our work this day, and bring us to our resting beds weary, content, and with unsullied conscience, granting us in the end the gift of sleep. The Holy Spirit of Truth and Mercy be with us always.

AGAINST SCORN

Save us, Heavenly Father, from the mean spirit of scorn, of contempt of others. Make us realise the limitations of our sight. Only when we see as Thou seest shall we be able to judge justly. Help us to forgive the wicked while we hate wickedness, thus following the steps of Jesus Christ.

NEW AND CONTRITE HEARTS

Create in us, O Lord, new and contrite hearts that we, knowing our weakness and repenting of our sins, may obtain of Thee, the God of all mercy, perfect remission and forgiveness and the strength to lead a better life.

FOR TRUTH

Guard us, O Lord, against the ever present temptation to act the lie, or speak the lie; to avoid trouble or pain; and grant us, O Holy Spirit of Love and Mercy, the courage of Truth.

THANKSGIVING

Almighty God, Father of all mercies, we give Thee most humble and hearty thanks for all Thy goodness and loving kindness to us and to all men. And we beseech Thee to give us that due sense of all thy mercies that our hearts may be unfeignedly thankful and that we shew forth thy praise, not only with our lips but in our lives.

FOR ALL SORTS AND CONDITIONS OF MEN

O God, the preserver and Creator of all mankind, we humbly beseech Thee for all sorts and conditions of men, that Thou wouldst be pleased to make Thy ways known to them, Thy saving health unto all nations. And we commend to Thy Fatherly goodness all those who are anyways afflicted or distressed. May it please Thee to give them patience under their sufferings and a happy issue out of all their afflictions.

THINGS TEMPORAL

O God, the Protector of all who trust in Thee, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy, increase Thy merciful bounty to us, that Thou, being our Ruler and Guide, we may so pass through things temporal that we lose not the things eternal.

CHEERFULLY ACCOMPLISH

Oh Almighty and most merciful God, of Thy bountiful goodness keep us we beseech Thee, from all things that may hurt us, that we, being ready both in body and mind, may cheerfully accomplish those things that Thou wouldst have done.

PARDON AND PEACE

Grant, we beseech Thee, merciful Lord, to Thy faithful people Pardon and Peace, that they may be cleansed from all their sins and serve Thee with a quiet mind.

Conclusion

At this point in the history of Townsville Grammar, it may well be politic to pause and consider what was achieved during the School's first 100 years.

It would appear that the constant struggle against financial adversities (until recent times) not only circumscribed the creation of a vision of what the School would be like in 100 years — both academically and physically — but also diminished the fulfilment of that vision, if it existed.

What is remarkable and encouraging for the continued development of Townsville Grammar into the 21st century is that, despite prolonged periods of impoverishment and poor enrolments, the School's impressive record of academic achievement and sporting prowess remained unimpaired. This could not have been accomplished without the continual dedication of successive Headmasters and Staff in the face of austere circumstances. Over the years, Headmasters had to stand by while their aspirations floundered, usually because of financial difficulties. Moreover, because enrolments, in the main, reflected the success of the School, it was inevitable that, when numbers declined, some Headmasters were doomed to clash with the Board of Trustees, whilst others, perforce, saw their expectations evanesce.

When harsh economic policies of Governments threatened to jeopardise the viability of the School, Boards of Trustees remained steadfast in their determination to ensure that it survived. This dedication manifested itself, not only in times of great crises — World Wars and the Great Depression — but throughout the whole history of the School since the first Board of Trustees was established in 1884.

The immediate post World War II years revealed the difficulties that confronted the Trustees and the then Headmaster, M.W. Blank, in restoring public confidence in the School. Their problems were further compounded by the aftermath of the occupation of the School by the Royal Australian Air Force, 1942–44. Despite enormous efforts to establish a semblance of order, a general air of decay hung over buildings and grounds. Lack of finance, as well as apprehension about the future, deterred the Trustees from grasping the situation with both hands and acting on it. They felt so inhibited by events that they did not initiate any form of renovation or construction of significant consequence, except a Classroom–Science Block (the upper storey of which was the old 1910 dormitory building raised and lowered onto the lower-floor brick structure) in 1955, and the Dining Room–Domestic Block in 1958. It was not until 1962 that the 1952 Report of M.W. Blank, which recommended that a major building be erected rather than a number of smaller ones, was finally accepted by the Trustees. The Senior Dormitory Block, which included three classrooms, a science laboratory, a lecture room (tiered), a common-room (divided into separate areas for boys and girls), a canteen, toilets and showers, and a Staff Room became a reality and was occupied towards the end of 1962.

Because there was no overall plan (until 1973), it is not difficult to understand why very little land (other than already designated playing fields) remains for future expansion.

With the advent of the 1970s and 1980s, and with them State and Commonwealth Government Funding, successive Boards of Trustees felt secure and free enough to act on a long-term plan for the School. In 1973, a Master Plan was drawn up by two members of the Board (Professor R.S.F. Campbell and Dr P.R. Robertson) and the then Headmaster, L.S. Daniels. Four years later (1977) major modifications were made to it by the Headmaster, A.D. Morwood. These alterations were approved by the Trustees and an upsurge in building began and continued until 1988.

As Townsville Grammar enters its second century with an enrolment of 600, and with increasing facilities to meet the demands of the post-modern age, the hesitant and humble beginnings 100 years ago, the catastrophes and misfortunes, and the struggles which engulfed the School over such a long period, have faded. While the School must not be tied too closely to its past, that same past must be appreciated, understood and utilised by those planning Townsville Grammar's future into the 21st century. For, as F.T. Miller, the second Headmaster, stated in his Speech Day Address, December 13, 1901, ". . . our School is for all time. The School's the thing."

For see, the winter is past, the rains are over and gone.

UNVEILING OF THE HONOUR BOARD

At 11.30 a.m. on Monday, May 28, 1917, the Roll of Honour was unveiled by His Excellency, the Governor of Queensland, Major Sir Hamilton Gould-Adams, in the presence of a large gathering of parents and visitors. His Excellency, accompanied by Lady Gould-Adams, His Worship the Mayor, J.E. Clegg, and the Town Clerk H.C. Johnson, were met at the School Gates by the Chairman of Trustees, Mr J.N. Parkes, Mr T. Foley, M.L.A. (Trustee), Mr D. Donald (Secretary to the Board of Trustees), and the Headmaster, Mr P.F. Rowland. M.A. Cadets, under the command of Captain R.P. Reuben, lined the route from the gates to the School Hall.

After the Roll of Honour was unveiled, each visitor was presented with a list of 126 names on the Honour Board, to which were appended the following lines:—

Boni intraverunt; meliores exierunt.

As with the years her record runs,

The School must honour many a name;

But none with such immortal claim

As these, the bravest of her sons.

And if some may no more return

Let us not daunt the heart with tears,

But vow that for unending years,

Their beacon memories shall burn,

Blazoning till the School's last breath

That Cowardice is eternal shame,

That Courage is eternal fame,

And Love triumphant over death.

Rhodes Scholarships

A Rhodes Scholarship is tenable at the University of Oxford, usually for two years. One Scholarship is awarded annually to a graduate of the University of Queensland on the following grounds:

"Literary and scholastic attainments; qualities of manhood, truthfulness, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship; exhibition of moral force of character and instincts to lead and to take interest in his fellows; physical vigour, as shown by fondness for, or success in, manly outdoor activities."

Since their institution in 1904, Rhodes Scholarships have been awarded to the following Old Boys of Townsville Grammar School.

1938 C.J. Parker

Queensland University Exhibitions: 1878-1910

In 1875, S.W. Griffith, Attorney-General in the Macalister Ministry, introduced the State Education Act to the Queensland Parliament. This Act was the result of the 1874 Royal Commission into Education, the members of which were Mr Justice Lilley, (Chairman), and Messrs S.W. Griffith, J. Douglas, C.S. Mein, A.J. Hockings, T. Harlin and Dr Prentice. As Minister for Education in 1877, Griffith introduced a Bill to establish a university in Queensland, but the Bill did not get beyond the first reading. Provision, however, was made to establish three University Scholarships of 100 pounds per year, tenable at any university in the Empire for three years. Such Scholarships were open to pupils of Queensland Grammar Schools, and then later open to pupils of all schools. The first exhibitions were awarded in 1878 and continued until the University of Queensland was established in 1910.

Townsville Grammar School gained one of these scholarships:

C.M. Duncan. 1909.

Queensland University Open Scholarships: 1911-53

The Rugby Prize — Established 1905

Before presenting the first Rugby Prize, Speech Day, December, 1905, the Headmaster, P.F. Rowland, explained that the name had been bestowed as a means of commemorating the connection between Townsville Grammar and the famous English School, Rugby, from which the first Headmaster, C.H. Hodges, had come. The Prize would be a book, awarded each year, on the joint vote of masters and boys, to the boy who, in addition to holding a high position in the School through his work in form, had done good service in the athletic life of the School, and had exhibited honourable powers of leadership. The Prize in 1905 was donated by the Prime Minister of Australia, Rt. Hon. Alfred Deakin.

PREFECTS

The Prefect System was established by F.T. Miller in 1901.

P.F. Rowland selected the Prefects and announced their appointment at "Call Over".

From 1939, Prefects were chosen by both Headmaster and Staff.

The Prefects' Promise and the ceremony of investiture at a Special Assembly were established by T.B. Whight in 1939.

"I,,
... promise to do my best to uphold the good name of the School both by my own example and my influence over others."

"As Headmaster, I confer upon you,, the duties and responsibilities of Prefect."

After signing the "Prefects' Book", the new Prefects were presented with their Badges.

This ceremony is still carried on, today.

From 1901 to 1965, the Senior Boy Prefect was known as "The Head Prefect". This title was changed to School Captain in 1966, and, in 1981, to Boy School Captain.

From 1905 to 1923, the Senior Girl Prefect was called "Prefect of Girls"; from 1924 to 1981, "Head Girl"; and in 1982, this title was changed to "Girl School Captain".

COLOURS

Based on the University "Blue", the award of "Colours" for excellence in sport was established by T.B. Whight in 1941, and entitled the recipient to wear a special pocket on the School blazer, showing the name of the sport and the year of the award. Because of World War II, no awards were made. "Colours" were re-introduced by M.W. Blank in 1949.

TRUSTEES OF THE TOWNSVILLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL, 1988

FRANK D. SIM, A.A.S.A., Chairman of the Board since October 1972, was appointed a Trustee in August 1968, and Deputy Chairman, April 1972. Born in Townsville, 1925, he was educated at the Central State School and at the Townsville Grammar School. After serving in the Royal Australian Air Force in Great Britain, he qualified as an Accountant and joined the staff of the Union-Fidelity Trustee Company, Limited, where he remained for forty-four years, the last twenty years of which he was Townsville and later North Queensland Manager. On his retirement in 1986, he became Secretary of a private company until its sale in 1988.

In addition to his dedication to Townsville Grammar, his other interests include his Masonic Lodge and the Home for the Aged in Townsville, the "Masonic Village", of which he has been Treasurer since it was established over ten years ago. He has also been Treasurer of the District Grand Lodge of North Queensland for the past twenty years, and was President of the Townsville Branch of the Red Cross Society for a number of years. He is married with three children (also Past Grammarians) and six grandchildren, all of whom live in Townsville. A keen patron of the Arts, particularly Music, he has one of the largest collections of classical records in North Queensland.

MARCIA BIRD, the second woman to be appointed to the Board, replaced Dr Laura Ward in 1984. She was educated at the Ayr State School, the Moreton Bay Girls' High School and the Brisbane Girls' Grammar School.

In her Senior year, she obtained her Letters in Music, L.T.C.L., Violin Performer (Trinity College). Under the system of the times, she served Articles of Apprenticeship in Pharmacy and qualified as a Pharmaceutical Chemist in 1960 (indentured to Mr S.G. Sadleir, Ingham, North Queensland). Two years after returning to Ayr to work, she married Mr Tom Bird (a Solicitor of Maryborough) at Ayr in 1962. Four children, Mary, Jocelyn, Helen and Peter were born of the marriage. In 1972, her husband died and she moved to Townsville in 1975 where she bought a Pharmacy from Mr Graham Bourke, 1976. Her four children attended Townsville Grammar at some time during their education.

Mrs Bird is a member of the Townsville Chamber Choir, the Townsville Zonta Club, the amateur orchestras which accompany theatrical productions of the Choral Society and the North Queensland Opera and Music Theatre, and an active member of Chamber Music Groups.

ARTHUR BLOXHAM, B.E. (N.Z.), M.I.E. Aust, M.N.Z.I.E., was born in New Zealand in 1937. He was educated at Timaru Boys' High School and graduated, 1959, as a Civil Engineer from Canterbury University. In 1965, he settled in Australia and worked for McIntyre & Associates, Consultant Engineers, Townsville, for 22 years, being a Director of that Company since 1969. He is married with three children, all of whom attended Townsville Grammar. His oldest son, Craig, was School Captain, 1983. Included in his interests are golf, squash, skin diving, camping, lapidary and bridge. He is a member of the Townsville/Thuringowa Development Board, a member of the Management Committee of the James Cook University Cyclone Testing Station, and was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1981.

ROSS MARSH, was born in Sydney, New South Wales, in 1930. After eleven years in Advertising, he moved to Mackay, Queensland, and joined the firm of R.M. Gow & Company. Later, he transferred to Townsville where he supervised the Northern Australian and Pacific Operations for his company. In 1957, he married Hilary Davies, a second generation Townsville Grammar School Student. Their four daughters attended Townsville Grammar. Since retiring from R.M. Gow in 1986, he has worked as a Consultant to the Food Industry. He was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1981.

PROFESSOR EDWARD SCOTT, A.M., B.A., Ph.D.(Syd), M.A.P.S., F.A.C.E., was born and educated in Newcastle, New South Wales. He taught in New South Wales Schools from 1947 to 1957, when he became a Lecturer in New South Wales Teachers' Colleges. In 1961, he became the first Lecturer in Education at the then University College of Townsville, and, on being appointed Professor of Education in 1969, he headed the Department, and subsequently School, of Education at the James Cook University of North Queensland until December 1985. He was appointed Acting Deputy Chancellor in 1986 and to the position he presently holds of Assistant Vice-Chancellor in 1987.

He is a member of the Queensland Board of Secondary School Studies and was Chairman of the Committee that recommended the introduction of R.O.S.B.A. (Review of School Based Achievement) to Queensland Secondary Schools, the first phase of which was implemented in 1981. He became a member of the Board of Trustees in 1985 and was made a Member of the Order of Australia, 1987, for his contribution to Education.

JAMES G. THOMPSON was educated at the Townsville Central State School and the Townsville Grammar (1946-1949). He has practised as a Solicitor in Townsville for 32 years and was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1973. For many years he was Chairman of the North Queensland Cancer Appeal Committee, and is a leading figure in Rostrum and the adjudication of Public Speaking and Debating.

ERROL A.N. WENCK, B.Com.(Qld), A.A.S.A., was born on March 12, 1939, and was educated at the Oakleigh State School and Brisbane Grammar School. After graduating from the University of Queensland (1967) he was initially employed in the life assurance industry in management and investment fields. This was followed by a short period in a chartered accountant's office before joining his current employer, Telecasters North Queensland Limited, as Accountant and, subsequently, Company Secretary for the Group.

He was formerly Chairman of the Townsville Branch of the Australian Society of Accountants and is currently a Councillor of that Branch.

In the sporting arena, he represented Brisbane Grammar in Great Public Schools' Compevition (GPS) in First Grade Cricket and Athletics, and represented the University of Queensland in both 'A' Grade Hockey and Cricket fixtures in Brisbane, as well as Intervarsity Competitions. He also represented Bundaberg and Townsville in inter-city cricket matches.

He is married with four children, all of whom have attended, or are attending, the Townsville Grammar School, and became a member of the Board of Trustees in 1983.

SECRETARY TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

HAROLD W. GREENSLADE, F.C.A., A.A.S.A., A.C.I.S., has been Secretary to the Board of Trustees since 1954. He was educated at the Townsville Grammar School (1935-37), and was a Prefect in 1937. His outstanding results in the Queensland Junior Examination, 1936, gained him a Scartwater Scholarship, 1937, the second to be awarded since the establishment of these Scholarships in 1936. This was singular distinction, as only one scholarship was awarded annually. He used the scholarship to study Accountancy at night at a Coaching College conducted by Mr Frank Olsen, a Master at the Grammar School, and qualified as an Accountant in 1939.

In 1942, Mr Greenslade joined the Royal Australian Air Force and trained in Australia and in Canada. Posted to Coastal Command, he was based in Lagos, Nigeria. He was discharged in 1945 with the rank of Flight Lieutenant. Upon his return from World War II, he followed the profession of Public Accountancy and became a Chartered Accountant in 1951. He has carried out the duties as Secretary to the School as part of his practice.

For seventeen years (1949-66) he was an Alderman of the Townsville City Council, and since 1967, Grand Secretary of the District Grand Lodge of North Queensland. He served with distinction on the Townsville Grammar School War Memorial Committee as an Honorary Treasurer of the Fund Raising Appeal, "Project Phoenix", which was launched in 1968. His meticulous approach to finance and his dedication to his position as Secretary to the Board of Trustees were of inestimable value to the School during difficult years. His two children attended the School.

RHODES SCHOLARS

Queensland Rhodes Scholar, 1910

G.F.E. Hall was born at Charters Towers and enrolled at Townsville Grammar at the beginning of 1905. He passed the Sydney University "Senior", 1909, in all his ten subjects and was awarded the first School of Mines Exhibition, tenable at the School of Mines, Charters Towers. These Exhibitions, three of which were awarded annually on the results of the "Senior", were valued at £50 per annum for three years, in addition to the remission of fees.

In his Speech Day Address, December 9, 1909, the Headmaster, P.F. Rowland stated:

The Athletic Sports took place as usual in September, and were again a triumph for Hall, who won the Championship for the third year in succession. He beat his own previous record for the high jump by a jump of 5ft 5½ inches, cleared 20ft 3 inches in the long jump, threw the cricket ball 101 yards, won the mile, half-mile, quarter-mile, and 100 yards, feats which caused comments in the Southern papers.

Rowland went on to say that Hall was one of the School's two best cricketers, the best footballer, shot, tennis player, gymnast, and athlete, Head Prefect and the best scholar.

In announcing Hall as the winner of the Rugby Prize, Rowland said:

The voting for this year's Rugby Prize took place yesterday (December 8, 1909). Every vote in the School was cast for Hall, except two, one of which, I believe, was Hall, himself. . . . It is a record over which any boy might well be proud. He has triumphed over prejudice by sheer merit; whatever will be his future, he can always look back on his years with us as years of success; whatever he does, he will carry with him the hearty good wishes of all at the School.

Hall was elected Queensland Rhodes Scholar in March 1910, and left for England on July 8. He took up residence at Lincoln College, Oxford University, to read Medicine, but changed to Engineering. After graduating with Honours, he joined the firm of Barclays, Kilmarnock, Scotland, which developed into a large munitions factory during World War I. Later, he joined the Royal Air Force. When he returned to Australia after the War, he was appointed to a responsible position with the Main Roads Board, Sydney.

Chester J. Parker

Queensland Rhodes Scholar, 1938

The School's second Rhodes Scholar was also born at Charters Towers. He enrolled at Townsville Grammar with a Scholarship from Collinsville State School in 1930, and in 1931 passed the Queensland "Junior" in nine subjects, four of which were As (Latin, History, Geography, Chemistry) and four Bs. In 1933, he passed the Queensland "Senior" with two As, but returned to the School the following year as Bursar of the Townsville Grammar Old Boys' Association. His "Senior" pass in 1934 with six As (Latin, French, English, Mathematics A, Mathematics B, Chemistry) gained him a University Scholarship to the University of Queensland, 1935.

He was assisted with his University expenses by the Rotary Clubs of Townsville and Cairns, who awarded him the first North Queensland Rotary Bursary. At the University, Parker was successively Secretary and President of the Union. On the occasion of the Rotary award, the Headmaster (P.F. Rowland) expressed his belief that "never in a long experience have I had a more hard-working or conscientious pupil, or one for whom, in my opinion, the future promises more brightly".

Chester Parker took up his Rhodes Scholarship at Christ Church, Oxford University, 1938, but on the outbreak of World War II he enlisted in the Royal Navy (Submarines) and lost his life on active service in the Mediterranean.

THE GRAMMAR SCHOOLS ACT 1860

During the First Session of the Queensland Parliament, May 22, 1860, the Premier, Robert Herbert, introduced a Bill to establish secondary education — The Grammar Schools Act, 1860.¹

The Preamble to the Act set out quite clearly the aims of the legislation:

Whereas it is expedient for the encouragement of learning that Public Grammar Schools should be established in the Colony of Queensland conferring on all classes and denominations of Her Majesty's subjects resident in the said Colony without any distinction whatsoever the advantages of a liberal education.

This Bill, the fourth of the First Parliament, provided that when at least 1,000 pounds had been raised by donation or public subscription for the purpose of establishing a grammar school, the Government, with the advice of the Executive Council, would grant the Trustees up to 2,000 pounds. Further, if responsible citizens guaranteed fees to the amount of 250 pounds per annum for three years, 250 pounds would be paid to the Trustees from the general revenue. Ten per cent of this amount would be set aside by the Executive Council for scholarships (awarded on the results of public examinations) to any British or Australian University.

Seven Trustees were to be appointed for a term of three years — four nominated by the Government and three elected by subscribers of five pounds or more — and approved by the Governor-in-Council. An amendment to the Act in 1864 increased the amount to be raised to 2,000 pounds and the endowment to 1,000 pounds.² No mention of religion or morality was made in the Act and Grammar Schools became non-denominational.

At the second reading of the Grammar Schools Bill, Hon. R.G. Herbert pointed out that subjects such as geography, history, arithmetic and modern languages would have greater meaning in developing and training the young people of the Colony than Latin and Greek. It must be borne in mind that education was regarded as being exclusively for the benefit of boys of the upper class, who, it was believed, would become leaders of colonial society. Thus, 'the playing fields of Eton' philosophy was a major influence in moulding the purpose of grammar schools and in establishing an elitist education for a select few.

At the opening of the Ipswich Grammar School in 1863, this traditional view was expressed by the Governor, Sir George Bowen:

In the first place, I observe with great satisfaction that this institution will be carried out, so far as circumstances will permit, on the well-tried plan of the old public schools of England. So much, indeed, is implied in its name.³

A similar view was expressed by Colonel Samuel Wensley Blackall, who succeeded Bowen as Governor, at the opening of the Brisbane Grammar School, February 1, 1869.

It is interesting to note that, when Queensland achieved Statehood on December 10, 1859, there were only two National Schools, six Church of England Schools (of very little significance) and over thirty private schools in which teaching was confined to reading, writing and arithmetic. There were no secondary schools.

On January 1, 1870, Queensland became the first Australian Colony to establish free education. Attendance at Primary school was made compulsory, but this was not enforced until 1900. By 1873, only two Grammar Schools had been established — Ipswich and Brisbane — but National Primary schools had increased to over 200.

The introduction of the Scholarship System in 1873 restricted Primary subjects to grammar, arithmetic and geography, and produced students ill-prepared to face secondary education. But what a boon the Scholarship System was to prove to Grammar Schools when they tottered on the brink of financial disaster! The first formal Scholarship examination was held in July, 1883.

The Education Act of 1875, which became effective January 1, 1876, created the Department of Public Instruction, at the head of which was a Minister responsible to Parliament for all Public Education in Queensland.

Queensland Grammar Schools followed the traditions of the Great Public Schools of England, with curricula dominated by classical subjects such as Latin and Greek. Townsville Grammar School's Regulations, which took effect on the 1st day of July, 1887, make interesting reading, particularly Clauses 25 and 26.

FIRST PROSPECTUS.

Published in the Townsville Daily Bulletin, Saturday, 24.3.1888.

PROSPECTUS OF THE TOWNSVILLE GOVERNMENT GRAMMAR SCHOOL FOR BOYS.

VISITOR — His Excellency the Governor of Queensland.

TRUSTEES. — Hon. William Aplin, M.L.C.; William Villers Brown, M.L.A.; Archibald Glennie Bundock, Mayor of Townsville; William Joseph Castling; George Henry Stanton, D.D., Bishop of North Queensland; William Patrick Walker; Thankful Willmet.

MASTERS. — Acting Headmaster, Mr E. Finmore Upward, LL. B., LL. M., Prizeman and Exhibitioner of St. John's College, Cambridge. Second Master, vacant. Third Master, vacant.

SECRETARY, Mr E. J. B. Wareham.

This school has been established under the provisions of the Government Grammar School Education Act in order to provide a course of high class education for the boys of North Queensland. The building has been erected on a portion of Queen's Park, Townsville. The site comprises an area of ten acres, which extends along a lower slope of Castle Hill, commanding a view of Cleveland Bay, and lying open to the prevailing sea breeze. The school building, standing in the midst of Queen's Park, occupies a position most healthy, while it offers facilities for recreation. The premises consist of a handsome brick edifice, which, together with the head master's residence, have been erected at a cost exceeding 6000 pounds. The principal building comprises a spacious schoolroom, with adjoining classrooms, and on the upper floor large dormitories, airy and well ventilated, and capable of accommodating 50 pupils. Bathrooms and lavatories are provided on both floors. The head master's house is detached, and contains a dining hall for the use of pupils. In short, the entire building has been designed by the Government Architect in close conformity to the latest improvements adopted by other grammar schools of the colony, and no expense or attention has been spared in rendering the school thoroughly adapted to the purposes of advanced education.

THE TEACHING STAFF. — When complete, the staff of teachers will consist of a head master with second and third masters of accredited University standing, and qualified by experience in public school tuition. The trustees have resolved to follow the precedent of similar institutions by securing a head master from England, where the Universities, the College of Preceptors and the large public schools enable them to make selection amongst gentlemen of proved ability and educational distinction. During the present interval, and until his intended departure from the colony, Mr E. F. Upward, LL. B., LL. M., Prizeman and Exhibitioner of St. John's College, Cambridge, has consented to fill the head mastership. For some time Mr Upward has conducted a private school in Townsville, and has shown his professional ability by the progress of his pupils, and the testimony of their parents. The trustees are fortunate in securing Mr Upward's services even for a time.

COURSE OF STUDY. — The course of study is similar to that provided by the Southern Grammar Schools of the colony, and is embodied in a code of rules approved by the Governor-in-Council. For the purpose of instruction the school will be divided into upper, modern, and lower sections. Among subjects taught are the English, Latin, Greek, French, and German languages, ancient and modern history, political and physical geography, physical science, logic, mathematics, arithmetic, bookkeeping, drawing and writing. Two examinations will be conducted in each year and reports describing the conduct and progress of each pupil will be sent to his parents. A laboratory will be provided for instruction in practical science. Drill and gymnastics will be taught. The minimum age at which pupils can be admitted is eight years. Previous to admission they will be required to pass a simple examination in reading, writing, and in addition and subtraction sums.

FEES. — The school fees for each school quarter are — For each boy over twelve years of age, 4 pounds 4 shillings; for each boy under twelve years of age, 3 pounds 3 shillings; for resident boarders (in addition to school fees) per quarter 11 pounds 11 shillings. When two members of the same family attend the school a reduction of 10s 6d each, and in the case of three members or more attending 1 pound 1 shilling each will be made from the amount of tuition fees. All fees must be paid in advance.

THE SCHOOL YEAR. — The school year is divided into quarters by four periods of vacation — namely, six weeks at Midsummer, three weeks at Midwinter, and one week at Easter and Michaelmas respectively.

SCHOLARSHIPS. — There will be annually open to competition three scholarships of the annual value of 16 pounds 16 shillings each, tenable for two years, and obtainable by boys under seventeen years of age who have attended the school for a period of not less than two years.

The trustees venture to congratulate parents and guardians throughout North Queensland on the establishment of a Grammar School capable of supplying all the educational advantages which have been hitherto obtainable in Southern towns of the colony. Families can now spare themselves the anxiety, expense, and inconvenience attendant upon sending their sons to distant schools. The wholesome influence of home need no longer be sacrificed to obtain the best and highest school teaching. The youth of North Queensland can now be qualified for their future careers where local interest will watch their progress and stimulate them to intellectual achievements. It is believed that this school will develop mental capacities and shape future courses which might otherwise be insignificant and obscure. But the success of the school largely depends upon general co-operation in supplying it with pupils. The trustees, with the head master and his assistants, will spare no pains to render the school efficient. They will constantly endeavour to maintain a high tone both mental and moral. Habits of mental discipline will be induced in the absence of which school work is liable to sink into mere routine. Pupils will be trained to think for themselves and to acquire the habit of using the stores of their well furnished minds in an original and independent manner. The method of education will not be mechanical nor its aim be mere superficial culture. Seeing that "the child is father to the man" school must be preparatory to the responsibilities of manhood, or as Humboldt expressed it "we must introduce into our schools what we wish to see circulating in the life of our country".

SUBJECT:

S/O Noting.

Application for an area of about 55 acres (south of the present Grammar School Reserve) was made on 12 May 1884, for a Grammar School Reserve.

However, the Land Commissioner on 9 October 1884, recommended an area of 10 acres at Kissing Point. The then trustees of the school visited and approved of the new position on 8 January 1885.

On 10 March 1885 a letter from the Department of Public Instruction applied for the above 10 acres and an additional area for Girls Grammar School to be proclaimed as a Grammar School Reserve.

Government Gazette 4 September 1885 (GG1885.2.832) reserved an area of 10 acres as a Reserve for Grammar School and an adjoining 15 acres 3 roods 0 perches as a reserve for Girls Grammar School. This area now comprises part of Norman Park (Sect. 223) at Kissing Point.

Government Gazette 14 April 1887 (GG1887.1.1288) cancelled the reserves of 10 acres and 15 acres 3 roods at Kissing Point and reserved an area of 10 acres fronting Paxton Street for Grammar School. (Partly included in the present site).

Government Gazette 11 August 1900 (GG1900.2.374) amended the above reserve and proclaimed a reserve of 10 acres being almost in the same position.

Government Gazette 14 July 1917 (GG1917.2.172) amended the above reserve to exclude a street along the north-west boundary and by doing so decreased the area to 9 acres 1 rood 12 perches. The Grammar School Reserve was then bounded by Burke Street, Landsborough Street South and on the north by a street and Portion 28.

Government Gazette 3 June 1922 (GG1922.1.1633) amended the above reserve and reserved an area of 15 acres 3 roods 39 perches by the addition of Section 249, part of Section 248 and parts of streets. The area is the present reserve.

When the Deed of Grant in trust was issued in 1931 the area was amended by recomputation to 15 acres 3 roods 23 perches.

Girl Guides hold S.L. 22474 (area 0.1.28.5) which was originally part of a road.

Section 248 as shown on latest maps was never part of the Grammar School Reserve.
