Bump Hi Mammy! Today my heart started to beat for the first time and I'm only three weeks old. I'm really tiny and the sound of my little heart is too soft to detect yet but it's there! You and Daddy will be able to hear it in just a few short weeks. I love you both!

Choose Life - Church Teaching - During pregnancy is one life more important than the other? By virtue of their common humanity, a mother and her unborn baby have an equal right to life. The Catholic Church has never taught that the life of a child in the womb should be preferred to that of a mother. This aspect of Catholic Church's teaching on the right to life is often presented inaccurately.

If a pregnant woman becomes seriously ill and needs treatment which may, as a secondary effect, put the life of her baby at risk, such treatment is always ethically permissible provided every effort has been made to save the life of both mother and baby. Abortion, by contract, is the direct and intentional ending of an unborn baby's life.

Just a thought... 'Life is a succession of crises and moments when we have to rediscover who we are and what we really want.' ~Jean Vanier

For a cyclist it is always easier to cycle with other riders who will take turns in breaking through a headwind and make it easier to keep the momentum up. A lone breakaway cyclist will always have to work harder on their own and will have to do all the work breaking through any headwind. The same can be said of us too. Sometimes when we move out of the safety and protection of others or when we do a solo run we are open to feeling the elements more. It is at this time that we begin to understand more about ourselves, our limits and where we want to go. But it is always good to come back into the strength of team, family and community. God encourages us to maximise the support structures around us. Is there any person I know who needs my support at this time? Can I support them with some of my time, love and energy?
