Highlights of the 2009-10 battle for the WACA President's Trophy.

His Excellency Dr Ken Michael AC has continued a long tradition by once again acting as the Patron of the Western Australian Cricket Association in the year under review.

Dr Michael's Governor's XI took on the Lord's Taverners XI in the annual battle for the WACA President's Trophy, played on the hallowed WACA Ground turf in November 2009. It was the third meeting between the two teams, and a strong side selected to play for His Excellency's XI was expected to continue their unbeaten record in the match. But the Lord's Taverners XI claimed the prestigious trophy with a comfortable victory, achieved with 12 overs to spare.

His Excellency also hosted the players from both teams for a cocktail party at Government House on the Tuesday evening prior to the game.

His Excellency's passion for cricket is unsurpassed, and the Association is delighted to make him and Mrs Michael welcome whenever their Vice Regal commitments permit them to attend a WACA Ground fixture or function.

This publication takes the opportunity to record the Association's appreciation to His Excellency for being our Patron.

It is pleasing to report to our Members that the Board has been able to deliver successfully in season 2009-10. The approval by WACA Members of our proposed redevelopment was arguably the highlight of the past year, and this will be covered extensively in the Chairman's Report, featured in this publication.

The staff and administration at the WACA, led by Chief Executive Officer Graeme Wood and Executive Assistant Ros Heal, have worked tirelessly once again in the past year to ensure cricket in this State continues to move forward, as well as overseeing the smooth running of all events held at the WACA Ground so that Members and spectators alike can enjoy the best possible match day experience.

The departure of a Head Coach is never an easy time for a sporting organisation and it was with regret that Tom Moody stood down from his post with the Warriors. I thank him for the contribution he has made to the team in the past three years, and as one of this State's finest cricket products, he will be welcome at the WACA long into the future.

As one door closes, another opens, and the WACA was delighted to secure the services of one of the world's leading coaches in Mickey Arthur to take charge of the Retravision Warriors for the next three seasons. Mickey boasts an impeccable record at domestic and international level in South Africa and is certain to be a valuable acquisition.

On an individual note, I must pay credit to Luke Ronchi and Rene Farrell for winning the respective awards, the Laurie Sawle Medal and Zoe Goss Medal, as the leading players of the Retravision Warriors and Western Fury in 2009-10. It has been a pleasure to watch Luke fight his way back after he was dropped from the State team late in the 2008-09 season to become one of the Warriors' most consistent performers. Rene has continued to establish herself as a world-class all-rounder, with several outstanding matches for the Fury and the Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars.

There was a major honour for Mitchell Johnson last October when he took out the coveted Sir Garfield Sobers Trophy after being named the 2009 ICC Cricketer of the Year. Mitchell was recognised for an outstanding year in which he easily topped the leading wicket-takers in Test matches over the voting period, as well as proving to be a more than handy option with the willow. I know WACA Members and cricket fans in general are eager to see Mitchell line up for the Retravision Warriors at some stage, and it is hoped that he will take part in at least one Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield match in 2010-11, with international commitments precluding him from playing interstate cricket in the past two summers.

Two WA teams were successful at national cricket carnivals in 2009-10 and I congratulate the WA Indigenous team which won its first Imparja Cup in Alice Springs, as well as the WA Under 17s side who were unbeaten in taking out their annual championships in Adelaide. Further details of their success can be found later in this publication.

Finally, as we look ahead to next summer, there is a positive feeling around the WACA with another Ashes series on our doorstep. Few expected Australia to lose the 2009 Ashes series to England, but it has set up a tantalising clash Down Under in 2010-11. The fact that England also defeated Australia in the final of the 2010 ICC World Twenty20 in the West Indies and won the five-match one day series held a short time later in the UK augers well for a keenly fought Ashes series.

It is an exciting international program ahead at the WACA Ground with Australia and Sri Lanka meeting in a KFC Twenty20 International on Sunday 31 October 2010, beginning three and a half months of action which will conclude on Sunday 6 February 2011 when Australia faces England in the seventh and final Commonwealth Bank Series encounter – the first time in 20 years that the traditional rivals have met in a one day international in Perth.

Sandwiched in between is a tour match, when the Retravision Warriors take on England from 5-7 November in the visitors' first hit-out on Australian soil, followed by the third Vodafone Ashes Test match from Thursday 16 to Monday 20 December 2010.

Of course, the Retravision Warriors will also be striving for glory under Mickey Arthur. Young players like Mitch Marsh and Nathan Coulter-Nile emerged last summer, and with new recruits such as NSW quick Martin Paskal and Victorian spinner Michael Beer joining a host of experienced players, the guys are ready to step up as everyone has had enough of finishing where we have in the past few seasons and they want to change that. The KFC Twenty20 Big Bash will be eagerly anticipated as well, and I am sure we'll get tremendous audiences once again.

I look forward to seeing you, our valued Members, at the WACA Ground this summer enjoying all of the action.

Dennis Lillee AM MBE
President

Chairman

While the milestone General Meeting of Members of 28 July 2010 occurred 28 days after the end of the financial year the subject of this Report, I think no-one will object to its coverage. On that date 95% of Members present voted to proceed with a $700 million development of our historic WACA Ground involving over 500 residential apartments and some 33,000 square metres of office space that will better secure the future of the WACA Ground and cricket in Western Australia. The redevelopment will also provide coordinated high performance cricket training, technology and administration facilities and resources all to be accommodated at the WACA Ground. As I remarked at the meeting, we are now masters of our own destiny. The Board and I will continue to inform Members along the way.

There are many people who deserve thanks. Michael Perrott and Sandy Mackellar for their objective assessment as experienced property developers of the transaction from the WACA's perspective; Rob O'Connor QC as our Honorary Counsel for his sagacious advice; David Kennedy of CBRE for providing Members with information on comparative valuations and in particular members of our staff who have been involved in this long process. I also want to thank all Members particularly those who corresponded with the Board on the subject and all those who attended the Forum and the General Meeting. Finally, to our President Dennis Lillee for the original inspiration and introduction to Ascot Capital Limited that initiated this remarkable opportunity for the Association, to my Board colleagues and you the Members for your support at the start of this momentous journey.

One notable on field success was our winning of the Imparja Cup. A magnificent effort by our Western Australian boys saddened by the tragic death on his return of Gerard Ugle. The WACA is determined to build on this success and take the game to more of our Indigenous family as football has done so successfully.

The appointment of Mickey Arthur marks the break of a succession of home grown coaches but in breaking that succession we have been fortunate to attract arguably one of the best credentialed coaches in world cricket. As I write at the end of July the players have completed a rigorous fitness schedule and they are fit. Mickey has impressed all with his meticulous attention to detail and enthusiastic approach. The mood in the player group is one of fierce determination as they look back on some barren seasons where they have not delivered on their potential.

Last season marked the last year of Tom Moody's tenure as Warriors Coach. Big Tom gave his all and no-one was more disappointed and frustrated than the Coach that in all three forms one critical match denied us competing for the silverware. The transition from Tom to Mickey has been seamless and while IPL will take Tom to India for the late summer we look forward to Tom's continued presence at the WACA as he has graced it for several decades.

Our financial position, leaving aside the Ground redevelopment and the revaluation, is the best it has been for decades. The staff of the WACA has done a fantastic job in maximising income and keeping expenses under control while delivering the best product they can in an aging stadium requiring constant attention.

At the conclusion of the June financial year it is worth comparing some key numbers with the position six years ago at 30 June 2004. The net assets of the Association has grown from $13.5 million to $19.5 million and the bank debt reduced from $13.7million to $4.9 million. The WACA balance sheet will be even more compelling in the future when the recent $48 million valuation notation in this year's financial statements is reflected in our books of account.

I would also like to draw Members attention to the development in cricket support staff over the past five years. There has been a 55% increase in full time positions in cricket officers both regional and urban, game development and high performance. In addition, at Warrior level we now have a full time Assistant Coach and a Talent Manager. The CEO deserves a good deal of credit for driving this structure together with David Clear (game development and participation levels) and Steve Philippe (cricket officer manager). While I have referred to the lack of silverware at the highest level, in 08/09 we recorded a first and two seconds in the Schools 15's, WACA's 17's and 19's and in 09/10 a first in the 17's, a third in the 19's and firsts in the Futures League Twenty20 and Imparja Cup.

I congratulate Wally Edwards on recently being elected as Deputy Chairman of Cricket Australia and as such he will be the new Chairman of CA when the incumbent's term of office expires next year. Wally will become only the second Western Australian to hold such office behind the Hon Harry Gregory in 1922.

I offer my congratulations to the following recipients of honours that were recorded in the past year. Dennis Lillee as an inaugural inductee was presented with his ICC Hall of Fame cap during the Australia v West Indies Test Match as part of the ICC Centenary Year celebrations. Both Dennis Lillee and Adam Gilchrist received Member of the Order of Australia Medals in the Australia Day and Queens Birthday honours list. Graham McKenzie was inducted into the Australian Cricket Hall of Fame whilst Laurie Sawle, Bert Rigg, Wayne Barron and Peter Wood were awarded ICC Centenary Medals for significant voluntary services to the sport of cricket while the Late Frank Bryant was inducted into the WACA's Western Australian Cricket Gallery of Greats.

On this same positive note I record my appreciation on behalf of the Association of the many sponsors and volunteers who support the WACA and cricket in Western Australia.

During the year the WACA executed the Affiliation Agreement with the WA District Cricket Council Incorporated. With the execution of this document we have a fully integrated cricket structure embracing all cricket in this State. I acknowledge the work done by Dexter Davies and Ted Hussey as WADCCI Board members and particularly their Chairman Ranjith Weddikkara in bringing this historic milestone to pass. Two of our Board members, Rob Sims and Peter Silinger are currently putting the final touches together with representatives of the Umpires and Indoor Cricket to also bring them into the all embracing Statewide Cricket Committee. For the first time in the history of cricket in this State we will have a fully integrated cricket structure.

I note that during the year Daryl Foster elected not to continue as Chairman of the Statewide Cricket Committee. I wish to acknowledge the big contribution Daryl made to the unification process including advocating the Statewide 20/20 competition and his commitment to the doubling of Cricket Officers referred to earlier.

It is with disappointment that I advise that the unique sponsorship of the WACA by the University of Western Australia has come to an end as all things must. We have greatly appreciated their support and sponsorship of our pre-season trip to India but as one door closes another opens.

It is with even greater disappointment I report the abandonment of Lilac Hill after nineteen successive events. Over the past couple of years the event has been held only with great assistance from the WACA and particularly Cricket Australia. The Lilac Hill Committee and the Midland Guildford Cricket Club deserve enormous praise for what they have achieved with this event over nearly two decades. Special mention must be made of the work of Keith "Spud" Slater whose name will always be associated with this event. It was a big part of our cricket calendar. Unfortunately the demands of international cricket has been such that it has been extremely difficult to persuade international teams to play. Indeed but for the hard work of Cricket Australia and Graeme Wood, it is doubtful the last two Lilac Hill's would have occurred.

As I approach the end of my sixth year as WACA Chairman I would like to share with you some observations regarding the structure and state of cricket and some of the issues facing it.

The development of the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash competition into an eight team competition will be a monumental change to the Australian cricket landscape and the potential to generate additional revenues. Obviously with eight teams the current six state competition will be superseded. While our team will be controlled by the WACA, it will no longer be the Warriors team. To cater for the two new teams a form of national draft will take players from each of the six state sides. Names, colours and branding of these new sides will all be challenges but this new competition must be totally embraced. It will be a magnificent event. There is a vacuum for a summer competition of this nature with the Australian public and television.

Test cricket and attendances are another major issue. Only England and Australia still provide decent crowds.

The WACA Board, and indeed the WACA itself has a number of obligations and they are not always exclusive. We have an obligation to Members; we have the maintenance of a major sporting venue; we field our State Teams in three forms of the game; we have a duty to the cricketing public of Western Australia and we are responsible for all cricket in Western Australia.

We have been blessed over the past years with a stable and hardworking Board and a dedicated and expert staff. This stability has been of great benefit as we deal with those varied responsibilities referred to in the preceding paragraph however the changing of landscape of Australian cricket, the demands of the 21st century and challenges such as our Ground Redevelopment require that we consider new governance models. Cricket Australia has embarked on a review of its financial and governance models and has asked that its constituents do likewise.

It is essential that we continue to generate significant funds to serve the needs of game development, our elite District Club competition and all the bodies that constitute the Statewide Cricket Committee. We need to ensure in a successful development that we have new and improved facilities for Members and a significant war chest so that we are not at the mercy of downturns in the fortunes of Cricket Australia and state revenue distributions.

In an era where it is economically vital for Perth to secure major international sporting events WA's challenges in doing so are well publicized. I hope that the powers that be understand the importance of cricket to Western Australian tourism. Every year we have at least two international teams. Whenever we host India, which is becoming more prevalent the Perth Test has a viewing audience of some 250 million and we also have the Ashes. Using the 2006-2007 Ashes Summer as an example, we had an estimated 3,000 international visitors over the period of the Test injecting an estimated $20 million into the Western Australian economy.

The Big Bash League is only in its infancy; it is going to be a big competition. I am certain there will be a new stadium in Perth in this decade and cricket should participate in the opportunities that may be presented to its advantage and be part of it.

Finally to the Warriors and the Fury, good luck for the coming summer.

David Williams

Chief Executive Officer

At the time of writing my report for the 2008-09 Western Cricketer there was a great deal of apprehension about what lay ahead for the WACA. The highlight of our summer, the WACA Test Match, was in danger of being a non-event due to a dispute between senior members of the West Indies squad and their Board, while there was uncertainty surrounding the proposed redevelopment of the WACA Ground.

One year forward and I truly believe we have enjoyed a very successful 2009-10 season which will deliver a fantastic financial result, and with the Ashes headlining an exhilarating summer in store, it really is an exciting time for the WACA.

Looking back on the year, it was pleasing that we saw another outstanding 3 mobile Test Match at the WACA Ground, with Australia and the West Indies battling it out in front of good crowds and on an excellent wicket last December. For much of the lead-in to the summer we were uncertain whether the visitors would be fielding a full-strength line-up due to the aforementioned dramas in the Caribbean, but thankfully those issues were resolved and in a thrilling contest that went right down to the wire, Australia wrapped up the match early on day five with a 35-run victory.

One of the highlights of the WACA Test Match, and indeed the entire summer, was the performance of West Indies Captain Chris Gayle, who struck the fifth fastest century in Test cricket history on day two, reaching three figures from just 70 balls. From that point he was a constant in Perth's electronic and print media leading up to the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash, and his presence for the Retravision Warriors certainly helped to generate immense excitement surrounding the team as well as ensuring bumper crowds at our three home matches.

Those KFC Big Bash fixtures were enormously successful, with two games sold out and drawing over 17,000 fans through the gates, while the third match saw just under 15,000 in attendance. The way the games were presented was a great credit to the staff at the WACA, in particular our Commercial, Membership, Business Operations and Turf Departments.

Hosting two Commonwealth Bank Series one day internationals between Australia and Pakistan was always going to be challenging, and we were not helped by very warm conditions in Perth on both days. A big disappointment was seeing a spectator trespass on to the outfield late in the second match, which was very upsetting not only for the fans at the game but for Perth as a whole. Going forward, we will be looking to erect additional barriers around the ground and are also continuing to lobby the State Government for harsher penalties so that anyone attending a sporting event in Western Australia is aware that if you trespass on to the field of play at any time you will be severely fined.

The Retravision Warriors endured another season which failed to produce a finals berth or victory in an interstate competition, but the fact that they were still in the hunt for the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield late in the summer and were one win away from qualifying for the play-offs in the Ford Ranger Cup and KFC Twenty20 Big Bash shows that they are not far away from success. Letting critical moments in crucial matches slip by ultimately proved to be costly.

We bid farewell to Tom Moody after three seasons as Manager and Head Coach of the Warriors. Tom set high expectations of himself and the team, and although he would be disappointed with the on-field results in his time at the helm, there is no doubt that he has lifted the benchmark and I firmly believe that he has left the playing group in a far better position than where it was at when he took charge, and that is a great credit to him.

Mickey Arthur has taken on the role of Retravision Warriors Head Coach for the next three seasons. It was a thorough process that we went through and we got down to four quality candidates for the position, but Mickey stood out as the most outstanding applicant. He possessed a great record at provincial level before taking on the role of South African team coach in 2005, and presided over a period of success with the Proteas that saw them rise to number one in the Test and one day cricket rankings. In the short time that he has been in Perth he has already had a very positive impact among the playing group and all of the staff at the WACA.

A comprehensive review was undertaken into our cricket operations and we acted upon the recommendations from that report. Former Cricket Australia Umpires Manager Andrew Scotford was appointed to head a revamped Cricket Operations department. We were also thrilled to secure the services of Graham House as Coaching Coordinator, and long-serving High Performance Manager Doug Harris moved into the critical role of Talent Manager, so we feel we are in a lot better shape from that aspect than at any other time in recent years.

Five Retravision Warriors squad members have been named in Cricket Australia's list of 25 contracted players for the 2010-11 season. State Captain Marcus North, Vice Captain Adam Voges, top-order batsman Shaun Marsh and Australian team regulars Mike Hussey and Mitchell Johnson have all been rewarded for their continued high levels of performance over the past year. Boasting 20% of the entire contract list is a fantastic result for the WACA.

The Western Fury finished 2009-10 strongly to place fourth in the Women's National Cricket League and sixth in the inaugural Women's Twenty20 competition. Head Coach Steve Philippe guided a new-look squad with a blend of youth and experience that took a bit of time to come together, but two big WNCL victories over Queensland towards the end of the summer, along with outstanding individual efforts from many players, will generate confidence leading into next season.

WA's win at the 2010 Imparja Cup tournament in Alice Springs was a tremendous achievement for the cream of the State's Indigenous players. With Western Australian cricket icon Bruce Yardley coaching the team, the WA boys reached the final for the first time and went on to be successful against New South Wales. Congratulations go to all members of the squad, in particular Captain Matt Abrahamson and Player of the Tournament Dane Ugle.

Western Australia's Under 17 male team won the National Championships in Adelaide for the first time in 31 years. The Under 19 boys also placed third in their national titles, which continues our excellent record in under-age carnivals over recent seasons. Full credit goes to our High Performance Coach Lindsay Flinn and his support staff for creating an environment where players are getting the most out of themselves and excelling for their State.

Midway through 2009 came the great news that Retravision were signing on for a third term as naming rights partner of the Warriors, which would take their involvement to nine years. 2009-10 was their seventh season with the WACA and my thanks are extended to Chairman Bill Harries and Chief Executive Officer Paul Holt for their ongoing commitment.

We welcomed new partnerships with beer sponsor Lion Nathan and wine partner Pernod Ricard. The WACA appreciates their support and hope that the great relationships we have forged in the past year will continue long into the future.

I also extend the WACA's gratitude to all of our valued partners for their investment in Western Australian cricket. The past few seasons have been very tough on the field at interstate level and hopefully things will improve in the not too distant future so we can repay the sponsors that have supported us so well.

Season 2009-10 also saw fantastic coverage of cricket across all forms of media. Australia's favourite summer sport continued to be a healthy presence in electronic, print and online media once again and we appreciate the support that all outlets provide to the WACA and its representative teams. I sincerely thank the WACA's media partners Channel 9 and WIN Television, The West Australian, Fairfax Digital (WA Today), Fairfax Radio (882 6PR and 96fm), Sport FM 91.3, and 720 ABC Perth and Local Radio.

Finally, I thank all WACA Members for your continued support. As I mentioned at the start of my report, the next 12 months promises to be very exciting for the WACA and we look forward to sharing all of the great moments with you here at the WACA Ground in 2010-11.

Graeme Wood

MICHAEL HUSSEY

Test, One Day & Twenty20 International

Hussey played 13 Tests in the 2009-10 period, scoring 837 runs at an average of just over 44 and with two centuries, including a magnificent 134 not out in Australia's stunning second 3 mobile Test match victory over Pakistan at the Sydney Cricket Ground. He also maintained a high standard in 37 one day internationals, scoring 1278 runs at 50.72 and playing a major role in Australia's 6-1 hammering of England, the ICC Champions Trophy win in South Africa, a 4-2 series victory in India and an unbeaten record at home against Pakistan and the West Indies. Hussey was also pivotal in Australia's charge to the final of the ICC World Twenty20 in the West Indies, scoring 188 runs at 94 for the tournament, which included a brilliant 60 not out from just 24 deliveries in a thrilling semi-final victory over Pakistan.

MITCHELL JOHNSON

Test, One Day & Twenty20 International

Johnson captured 61 wickets in 13 Tests for Australia in 2009-10 at 28.08, including three hauls of five wickets in an innings. He ended the five-Test Ashes series in 2009 as equal second leading wicket-taker with 20, two behind team mate Ben Hilfenhaus, and carried that form through to the Australian summer when he led the attack in six Tests against the West Indies and Pakistan, as well as the two-Test tour of New Zealand. He was Man of the Match in the second Test at Hamilton after picking up ten wickets. Johnson's form in limited-overs cricket was also impressive, taking 41 scalps in 27 one day matches at 28.07, whilst also averaging almost 33 with the willow. He also took ten wickets at the ICC World Twenty20 in the West Indies at an average of 14.50 and conceded just 6.49 runs per over.

SHAUN MARSH

One Day International

Injuries restricted Marsh to just 11 one day internationals in 2009-10, but he scored 367 runs at 33.36, which included his maiden century for Australia, 112 against India in Hyderabad.

That performance will live long in the mind of Marsh and all who witnessed that memorable fifth match of the seven-game series. Australia set an imposing target of 350, and claimed a thrilling victory by just three runs.

MARCUS NORTH

Test

North played in all of Australia's 13 Tests over the 2009-10 period, taking in the five-Test Ashes tour, six matches at home against the West Indies and Pakistan, and two in the away series against New Zealand. He scored 785 runs at an average of 43.61, which included three centuries and four half-centuries. He struck two 100s in the 2009 Ashes series, beginning in the first Test at Cardiff where he scored an unbeaten 125, and followed that up with 96 to help Australia save the third Test at Edgbaston, and 110 in the fourth Test at Headingley, where he brought up three figures with a massive six. An average of over 105 against the Black Caps in early 2010 consolidated his place at number six in the strong Australian batting line-up.

ADAM VOGES

Australia A, One Day & Twenty20 International

Voges was one of Australia A's shining lights in their successful series against Pakistan A in 2009. He made 78 in the first of two four-day 'unofficial Tests' in Townsville, with the home side going on to win the series one-nil. He also averaged 47 with the bat in a three-match one day series, won 2-1 by the hosts, and his unbeaten 45 from 34 deliveries helped take the Aussies to a seven wicket victory in a one-off Twenty20 match played at Allan Border Field. Voges also played in 13 one day internationals, scoring 296 runs at 32.88 with a best of 72 achieved against Scotland on the 2009 tour of the United Kingdom. He also struck the winning runs in game six of Australia's tour of India to clinch a 4-2 series win for the visitors, and was a member of the victorious ICC Champions Trophy squad in South Africa.

RETRAVISION WARRIORS MANAGER & HEAD COACH

The 2009-10 season was one of missed opportunity for the Retravision Warriors. We found ourselves in positions across all competitions where we could have qualified to play in finals, but in key moments in key games we failed to stand up and take those opportunities.

Hopefully the lessons that are learned from those experiences will stand the playing group in good stead. There is no question that these players are not far away from making finals regularly, but they need to recognise those key moments and learn to stand tall and embrace them.

There is nothing more rewarding as a coach than to see a player that goes through adversity bounce back, and that was a very pleasing outcome for a valuable member of Western Australian cricket in Luke Ronchi. Players are not immune from being dropped, and it was very difficult towards the end of the 2008-09 season to leave Luke out of the side, but I think looking back with hindsight he probably feels that it was the best thing that happened to him because it enabled him to realise where he was and where he had to work back from. I'm sure he will continue to be a consistent player for the Retravision Warriors going forward.

Ashley Noffke was a valuable signing for us, both on and off the field. Unfortunately he was unable to finish the season off due to a knee tendonitis issue, but it was handy to have another experienced campaigner around the team when we were without senior players such as Marcus North and Adam Voges for much of the summer due to their national commitments, along with our full-time Australian representatives. I believe he will continue to go from strength to strength next season.

Michael Hogan and Brad Knowles proved to be capable performers, not just at first class level but across all three interstate competitions. They added great depth to our bowling stocks and showed they can deliver in all conditions. That is only going to strengthen the Warriors' chances of success.

One of the positives of the summer was seeing youngsters like Mitch Marsh and Nathan Coulter-Nile get regular opportunities to play in all forms of the game. Mitch showed that he was a very exciting prospect and more than capable of holding his own with bat and ball at interstate level. I always felt that Nathan was a wonderful talent who was plagued with injury troubles for the past three seasons. Fighting his way through that showed a great amount of courage and commitment, and he is going to be a valuable player for Western Australia in the future.

Wes Robinson had his first full season at the top of the order and proved that he could fill a role in all three formats, but there is an opportunity for someone to put their hand up and be a regular partner for him. Liam Davis showed towards the end of the season he had the ability and temperament to make that his position. Eagerly waiting in the wings is Luke Towers, who scored his maiden first class hundred against Tasmania in the middle of last summer.

While Aaron Heal has done an outstanding job in limited overs cricket, the opportunity still presents itself for someone to step into the role of the first choice spinner for four day matches. We tended not to play a spinner at the WACA Ground in Shield matches due to the nature of the conditions and the availability of Marcus North for home games. With the emergence of an all-round talent in Mitch Marsh and the batting depth that both Noffke and Steve Magoffin bring to the team, someone could fill that role full-time in 2010-11 and beyond.

We welcomed another overseas player for the KFC Big Bash in West Indies Captain Chris Gayle. Chris is arguably one of the most appealing players for Twenty20 cricket, not just from a cricket point of view but from the marketing side of things as well. Even though Chris had a disappointing campaign with us due to injury, he was a great addition to the playing group and offered so much to the guys while he was around.

When I returned to Perth in 2007 to take on this role, my intention was to build a team and a culture geared towards sustainable success. I feel that we have come a long way towards achieving that, and hope Western Australian cricket remains focused on the big picture rather than looking for instant success which is not lasting.

On a personal note, I would like to extend my gratitude to the tremendous partners of Western Australian cricket in Retravision and Lion Nathan, and a special thank you to Vikas Rambal and the Rambal Family for the support they provided to me as the WACA's Coach Sponsor. It has also been a pleasure to work alongside so many good people and I sincerely thank all of the team's support staff as well as the administration and staff at the WACA.

I will be watching the team's progress very closely and hope that all of the hard work they put in will be rewarded with success. I'm sure that every single player will enjoy working with Mickey Arthur, and I wish them all the best.

The Women's National Cricket League saw a number of changes introduced in 2009-10. For the first time there were two separate competitions running, each with their own final. Three matches per round were played between teams - two in the WNCL (50-over), and one in the new Women's Twenty20 competition. In addition, the ACT Meteors debuted in both formats and the Tasmanian Roar was introduced into the Twenty20 competition on a trial basis.

The Western Fury commenced the season with a fresh team structure which incorporated a Leadership Group of the six most experienced and respected players. Heading the group was newly-appointed Captain Peta Merrilees, along with Rene Farrell (Vice Captain) and Lauren Ebsary (Deputy Vice Captain).

Overall, the Fury performances were inconsistent in both competitions. We posted four wins from ten WNCL matches to place fourth out of six teams, but achieved just two Twenty20 victories, resulting in a sixth place finish. Whilst we performed poorly in all matches against New South Wales and Victoria, the nation's powerhouse teams, a positive note was that across both competitions over the course of the season, we did post one or more victories against Queensland, South Australia, ACT and Tasmania. A come-from-behind victory against South Australia and the comprehensive defeat of Queensland in the final two one day games of the season were undoubtedly the highlights from a team perspective. We finished the summer on a high with a double bonus point win against the Fire, which also saw the Fury post its highest ever one day total of 9/268.

The Fury debutantes this season were Rachael Giggins, Carla Hunter, Emma King, Jess Moyes, and Emily Rixon. Moyes, formerly of the ACT, was particularly successful and played in all but one of the season's 16 fixtures.

Season highlights in the one day competition were:

- Avril Fahey and Lauren Shave posting a 92-run partnership to establish a new WNCL record for the seventh wicket - in the process rescuing the team from a precarious 6/78 to successfully chase down 192 for victory against South Australia
- Jenny Wallace's 87 against the ACT, which was a career high and the team's highest individual score of the season
- Cherie Bambury, returning after a ten season absence, posting half centuries against three different teams
- Lauren Stammers played superbly in the final round after making a late season return from a second knee reconstruction, posting scores of 77 not out and 60 against Queensland
- Other half century makers for the season were Avril Fahey, with a career-best 62 not out, and Rene Farrell (52)
- Lauren Shave made her highest WNCL score of 40 not out against Victoria in her first game back after two seasons away from the Fury
- Jenny Wallace finished second overall in the wicket-keeping stats with ten catches and seven stumpings

- Rene Farrell was the fourth leading wicket-taker in the competition with 18, and she also returned the season's best figures of 5/57 against Queensland
- Mel Holmes returned career-best figures of 4/39 against Queensland

Season highlights from the Women's Twenty20 competition included:

- Jess Moyes, in her debut season, was the competition's fourth leading wicket-taker with nine
- Gemma Triscari returned career best figures of 3/26 against Victoria
- Rene Farrell finished with the team's best haul of 3/11 against Tasmania
- Mel Holmes also picked up three wickets against Queensland (3/19)
- Lauren Ebsary posted both the side's highest Twenty20 score of 41 and the leading aggregate of 137 runs, at a strike rate of 85
- Rene Farrell (38) and Jenny Wallace (37 and 34) also made scores of note
- Jenny Wallace once again finished second overall in the wicket-keeping stats, with two catches and a very impressive eight stumpings

On a special note, during the course of the season, Avril Fahey became the Fury's games record holder. Remarkably, Avril has represented WA 131 times over a career spanning 18 seasons, and there is a strong possibility she will be playing again in 2010-11.

At the representative level, Gemma Triscari was selected in the Australian Shooting Stars squad, which was a fantastic reward for her breakthrough season, which was unfortunately cut short when she sustained a severely broken thumb. Rene Farrell and Lauren Ebsary continued to play regularly for the Southern Stars and were consistent performers, with Rene finishing third in the voting for the Australian Female Player of the Year.

After another consistent all-round season in the black and gold, Rene was awarded the Zoe Goss Medal for the second consecutive year as the Fury's best player. She also travelled to the West Indies with the Southern Stars and was a member of the victorious ICC Women's World Twenty20 side that defeated New Zealand in a tight final in Barbados.

Looking to next season, playing finals remains the goal for this talented group. If the growing depth of senior players led by Farrell, Wallace, Merrilees, Fahey and Stammers can combine effectively with emerging players like Holmes, Shave, Triscari and Moyes, and youngsters such as Giggins, Biss and King continue their impressive development, then the Fury can fulfil its potential in 2010-11 and challenge for a WNCL or Twenty20 title.

In closing, on behalf of the WACA, I extend my sincere appreciation to all of the support staff who contributed to the preparation of the team. In particular, a personal note of thanks to Team Manager and Strength and Conditioning Coach Patrice Berthold, physio Pippa Kirby and batting coach Ian Kevan.

GOOD AS GOLD

Few cricketers would have experienced the highs and lows that Luke Ronchi went through in the space of a few short months in 2008-09.

Firstly, there was a richly-deserved call-up to the Australian squad for their tour of the West Indies midway through 2008. The incumbent wicket-keeper Brad Haddin suffered a broken finger on his Test debut in Jamaica, but battled through the pain for the rest of the three-match series. Ronchi was rushed to the Caribbean as a standby player and ended up taking the gloves for the one day leg of the tour as Haddin finally succumbed to the injury.

Ronchi's Australian debut came in a Twenty20 International at Kensington Oval in Barbados, and he went on to score 36 from 22 deliveries. He also played four 50-over matches on tour, impressing with his sharp work behind the stumps - most notably a brilliant stumping of Andre Fletcher from the bowling of paceman Nathan Bracken - and enterprising batting, which was capped off by a blazing 64 from 28 balls in the fifth and final one day international.

There was no argument as to who was the understudy to Haddin and a berth on the 2009 Ashes tour seemed assured, however just weeks later things were to go inexplicably wrong.

"I was going out to bat without any confidence in myself and not knowing what was going to happen to me," Ronchi recalls.

"I just had no idea what I was doing out there, and I really didn't know if I was going to be batting for a long time or would be out a short time later."

Although Ronchi's wicket-keeping was flawless, he was struggling for touch with the willow. He notched up just 107 runs in eight Ford Ranger Cup matches, but considering one innings produced an unbeaten 80, there was not much to write home about for the remainder of his time in coloured clothing. Seven Weet-

Bix Sheffield Shield games produced 233 runs at a little over 21, and three innings in the KFC Big Bash yielded only 39 runs.

The faith of the State Match Committee was being sorely tested, and eventually the selectors lost patience and dropped Ronchi from the Warriors team ahead of a Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield-Ford Ranger Cup double-header against Tasmania in Hobart, bringing in rookie wicket-keeper Michael Johnson.

"At the time I was massively annoyed to lose my place in the team," Ronchi said.

"I am a 'keeper-batsman and I was keeping really well. But once the season finished I realised it was a good thing.

"I looked back on what I was missing out on in those few games that I was out and I didn't want that to happen to me again."

Johnson held his place in the Warriors' line-up for the final three Shield encounters of 2008-09, and Ronchi ended the summer with a brisk 93 for Perth in a Retravision Shield match against Wanneroo at Kingsway Reserve.

"I basically told myself to forget about the season, because it couldn't get any worse than that, and just look forward to the future," Ronchi said.

"It (scoring the 93) was a good way to finish the season after what had happened because I gained a bit of confidence knowing that I could still hit a cricket ball.

"I went to the IPL after that, and it was good to get away from Western Australian cricket, get some help from guys over there, and look forward instead of looking back."

While in South Africa lining up for the Mumbai Indians in IPL-2, the jungle drums were beating on the other side of the Indian Ocean as to whether Ronchi would seek a fresh start in a new State to revive his career, but he vehemently denies that was ever an option.

"It would have just been silly and poor of me to up and move after one bad season," he said.

"I didn't like sitting on the sidelines and watching the boys play when they were at the WACA or listening to them on the radio when they were away.

"I knew I just had to continue to work hard on my batting and my keeping to ensure I was an automatic selection heading into the next summer."

Then-Warriors Manager & Head Coach Tom Moody pointed to the examples of Mike Hussey and Ryan Campbell, both of whom were dropped from the Western Australian team at a stage in their career and returned in spectacular fashion, as inspiration for Ronchi to fight his way back to interstate level.

"There is a risk that some players don't respond to being axed and you don't see them come back," Moody said.

"But it's a risk that's worth taking because the alternative is that a player can remain in the side and be inconsistent and unreliable."

Ronchi says he drew from the examples set by Hussey and Campbell and believed that he didn't deserve a spot in the team if he was not prepared to do the hard yards necessary to return to the next level.

"It would have been pretty soft if I said 'that's the end of my career' after being dropped once," he said.

"You see how hard a guy like Huss works and it does inspire you to pull your finger out and do what you can to fight your way back in."

Ronchi worked to improve his game with Moody and Assistant Coach Trevor Penney over the course of the 2009 winter, though he believes that a lot of things that the trio had been working on over the previous summer seemingly clicked into gear that pre-season.

"Tom and TP could see the confidence starting to return and that I felt I was batting the way I know I could," Ronchi said.

"I also had a chat with Justin Langer at the start of that pre-season about the confidence side of things and whether he had any thoughts or advice for me. He was great, coming down to feed some balls to me and having words to me about different things.

"Last summer I had a better technique behind me, which helped, and I found it easier to just watch the ball, and my confidence soared from that."

The new season began with 16 from 15 deliveries in a Ford Ranger Cup match against Queensland at the WACA Ground. Although his stay at the crease was brief, many observers were noticing the slight change in technique as well as his temperament whilst at the crease.

Ronchi's first time at bat in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield resulted in a second ball duck against the Bulls, though he came out at a time when quick runs were the order of the day as the Warriors were approaching a declaration in their first innings. The following Shield fixture, against New South Wales at the SCG, delivered Ronchi's highest first class score of 148.

"That was a real turning point for me," Ronchi said.

"Things didn't work out quite so well in the Queensland game, so to get a hundred early in the season was a bit of a relief.

"I was dropped on 99 so I was a little lucky, but it was just good to bat for a while, not struggle at the crease and feel comfortable making some runs."

Ronchi led the Warriors' run-scorers in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield with 716 at 47.73, which included three centuries and a fifty, and was the team's third highest run-getter in the Ford Ranger Cup, claiming Man of the Match honours in the upset victory over a powerful Victorian team at Hands Oval in Bunbury when he struck an unbeaten 57 from just 35 balls. Ronchi also performed admirably in the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash, notching up 121 runs at an average of 40.33.

"I had a technique behind me that I had confidence in, and I knew that I didn't have to do much aside from just watching the ball, whereas in the past I would be thinking about other things like my footwork," he said.

"I know if I'm not hitting the ball well it's because I'm not watching it properly rather than trying to pinpoint lots of other reasons, and that made a massive difference."

Ronchi also led the 'keepers in two competitions, effecting the most number of dismissals in the regular season of both the Sheffield Shield and Ford Ranger Cup, and finishing one behind Queensland's Ben Dunk in the KFC Big Bash.

"All athletes need a wake-up call at times, and it was Luke's turn to cop that when he was dropped, but he responded as you would expect any quality athlete to do," Moody said.

"The key to Luke's turnaround was keeping it simple. He worked on what was important to him and didn't worry about the things that weren't important to him.

"His work rate has never been in question through good or bad form, and I believe that he didn't work any harder, he just worked smarter."

Ronchi was the Warriors' most consistent performer across the 2009-10 season, and this was recognised when he claimed the major honours at the WACA Premier Cricket Awards. He received the Laurie Sawle Medal for the Warriors Player of the Year along with the Players Choice Award.

"It was a big surprise to win both awards but a massive buzz," he said.

"The Players Choice Award is a big honour as your peers are voting and they obviously think you're doing a good job, while the Laurie Sawle is also a great medal to win as people across a wide variety of areas are voting for you, so it's very satisfying."

Another pleasing aspect to Ronchi's game in the latter half of the summer was scoring runs at important times in the Warriors' second innings. A patient 27 against Tasmania at the WACA Ground was setting his team up for victory until a tragic mix-up with debutant Michael Swart saw him run out in what would be the turning point of the match.

A fortnight later, Ronchi played arguably the finest innings of his first class career, albeit in a losing cause. Coming out to bat against Victoria at 6/82, chasing 304 for victory, he scored a magnificent 115 from 136 deliveries to all but seal the win. He was the last man dismissed after his gallant rearguard action brought the Warriors to within 54 runs of the Vics.

"I began to go out in those situations knowing I could make a difference, not just go out thinking that we've lost so it's not going to matter much what I do, and that's just a confidence thing again," he said.

"It was a nice hundred to get against Victoria, but it was a massively disappointing loss and it wasn't the same feeling for me afterwards than if we had won."

He was on the right end of the result following another important innings of 49 not out, which helped to guide the Warriors to a tense three wicket win over Queensland at the Gabba in the final preliminary round match of the summer. Ronchi arrived at the crease with his team on 5/27 and needing a further 79 to take the six points, but he proved to be the saviour once again, aided by Nathan Coulter-Nile, who scored 30 in a 66-run seventh wicket stand.

"It was a good feeling to get the winning runs in that game, even though we were chasing a small total," Ronchi said.

"It really underlined to me that I had got my head in the right space, more than I ever have in my career, and I just need to carry that through to next season."

In the midst of Ronchi's 2008-09 form slump, a host of wicket-keepers around the country leapfrogged him to the position as Haddin's heir apparent. South Australia's Graham Manou made his Test debut during the 2009 Ashes series, while Tasmanian Tim Paine has been a regular in the Australian limited-overs team over the past 12 months.

"If you didn't get jealous seeing those guys wearing the Baggy Green you wouldn't be human, but there isn't a lot I can do about it at the moment," a philosophical Ronchi reflects.

"I've only got myself to blame for having a bad season two years ago, but you can't change the past, you can only look forward to the future, and I just have to aim to do well for the Warriors and if a spot comes up and I get picked, then I will have to grab it with both hands."

Moody has no doubt that Ronchi can rise up the pecking order just as fast as he slipped down.

"Given the volume of cricket that's around today and Luke's ability to grab an attack by the scruff of the neck and turn a match, I don't see any reason at all why he can't return to the Australian squad at some stage in the future," he said.

"He has already shown what he is capable of on the international stage, he is beginning to do that more consistently for Western Australia, and I'm sure if he continues to do the right things for the Warriors then opportunities at a higher level will present themselves."

Ronchi married long-time partner Shaan at the conclusion of the 2009-10 season, and became a father soon after with the arrival of Brody James Ronchi to the world in late-April.

"Shaan changed cricket for me when I first met her," he said. "She didn't know much about the game, so whether I played a good game or a bad game she would always be able to talk to me and make me feel at ease.

"Even if I am watching someone like Painey on TV and wishing I was in the Australian team, I look to the side and see my son mucking around and you forget about that pretty quickly.

"It will be a great thing knowing that during the season if I have a bad day I can go home and the little man won't know either way. It really gives your life some balance."

It has certainly been a whirlwind 24 months for Ronchi - all that is left to complete the story is team success. He, along with his team mates, will be hoping that under new Head Coach Mickey Arthur, a return to the top of Australian cricket is not too far away.

Wes Robinson

Mature age recruits have been a talking point of the 2010 AFL season as the likes of Fremantle midfielder Michael Barlow and Geelong spearhead James Podsiadly become poster boys for many aspiring State league footballers across Australia who may have thought their time had passed.

It is a similar story in the cricket world, and two players that fit into that category are Retravision Warriors duo Wes Robinson and Michael Hogan.

Robinson, a left-handed top-order batsman, earned his first contract with the Warriors at 27 years of age in 2008-09 after several prolific seasons for Wanneroo and Claremont-Nedlands in the WACA's District competition, which was capped off when he took out the Olly Cooley Medal for the fairest and best player in the 2007-08 Retravision Shield.

"It was a great honour to win the Olly Cooley, but it was probably playing some second XI matches for WA earlier that summer which gave me the confidence that I could succeed at the next level," Robinson said.

"I remember playing against Victoria just prior to Christmas in Melbourne and we had a really good side in. The likes of Liam Davis, Clint Heron, Theo Doropoulos, Luke Pomersbach, David Bandy, Brett Dorey, the list goes on.

"I was very nervous but got 60-odd batting at six, and then kicked on in the next second XI game, scoring a hundred in Tasmania and sharing in a match-winning partnership with Marcus North, and that was the point where I started to feel like I could play interstate cricket and do ok."

Hogan headed west at the age of 28 after an impressive summer in Sydney grade cricket in 2008-09, where he captured 54 wickets for Northern Districts, placing him fifth in the competition's bowling aggregate list. His efforts saw him called up to the New South Wales Cricket Australia Cup team midway through the summer. Before relocating to the big smoke, Hogan played in his hometown of Newcastle with Mereweather and also represented NSW Country.

His good friend Burt Cockley had also moved from Newcastle to Sydney and had begun to establish himself as a quality pace bowler, playing a starring role for the NSW RTA SpeedBlitz Blues, representing Australia A, and also joining the Australian one day squad as cover on the 2009 tour of India.

"I saw guys running around at interstate level like Burt and they weren't doing anything too different to what I did, so you think to yourself that there's no reason why I couldn't give it a go," Hogan said.

"At the end of that 08-09 season, I looked at my numbers and how they stacked up against other guys in the competition. Finishing near the top of the leading wicket-takers filled me with the confidence that I could really make a go of things at the next level."

Both players gave up their respective professions to chase their dream of playing State cricket. Robinson was a sales rep for Austral Insulations, while Hogan worked for Hornsby Shire Council as a groundsman at Northern Districts' home venue Waitara Oval.

The decision has paid handsome dividends for the duo as both have established themselves as regular fixtures in the Retravision Warriors' team for all three interstate competitions.

The emergence of Robinson as a quality batsman at first class level was a highlight of season 2008-09. The left-hander made his first class debut against Queensland at the WACA Ground, taking the place of Shaun Marsh, who was summoned to join the Australian Test squad in India. In just his second match, against South Australia at the Adelaide Oval, Robinson scored his maiden century - a patient 141. He also finished as the Warriors' second highest run-scorer in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield, with 531 at an average of 37.93.

Robinson avoided the "second year blues" by following up that promising debut season with another serviceable year in 2009-10. He led the WA batsmen in the Ford Ranger Cup with 385 runs, which included three half-centuries, and was second in the Warriors' Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield run-scorers (582 and a best of 141 against NSW) and the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash (139 at 46.33, with two half-centuries). Robinson also received the Excalibur Award for the player who best upholds the Spirit of the Warriors.

"I just wanted to knuckle down from game one and be consistent throughout the season," he said.

"There were a few changes to my cricket in the second year which kept me focused, such as playing one day cricket, and I felt I did ok there.

"I think the second year blues are only a mental thing and it never even crossed my mind."

Hogan arrived in Perth and got straight into the rigorous training that is part and parcel of being with an interstate team. A solid pre-season filled the tall right-arm quick with confidence that he could make an early impression. It did not take long for Hogan to click into gear with strong form for Retravision Shield side Fremantle. He snared 5/43 in his first outing for the port club, starring in a crushing win over Rockingham-Mandurah at Lark Hill. One week later, he made his debut for the Warriors in a Ford Ranger Cup match against Queensland at the WACA Ground.

"It was a dream come true," Hogan said. "I was feeling ok leading into the game and it was like any other game. But getting ready to bowl my first over I started to feel the nerves kicking in, and Northy kept coming up to me and telling me to breathe!

"Lee Carseldine got over me in that first over, but once I had settled down I felt fine and went pretty well."

Hogan went on to play eight Ford Ranger Cup matches, seven in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield and three KFC Twenty20 Big Bash games, taking 31 wickets across the three interstate competitions, including 5/83 in a four day encounter against South Australia at the WACA Ground.

"I was just looking forward to putting together some good form at club level and hopefully play a few games for the Warriors towards the back half of the summer," Hogan said.

"I didn't expect to play seven Shield games and be a regular in the one day and Twenty20 matches, certainly not in my first year."

Robinson is now entrenched in the top order for the Warriors in all three formats of the game and is looking to deliver consistently high performances for the State in the upcoming season.

"There is a lot of improvement left in me in terms of one day and Twenty20 cricket, and also converting starts to bigger scores in first class cricket," he said.

"The century I made in the Shield match in Sydney last summer should have been 200. I remember sitting in the change rooms and I was reasonably pleased with myself not long after I got out. Ashley Noffke came up to me and said: 'What did you get out for? Why didn't you get 200?'

"I sat back and thought to myself that while I was happy with my performance I should have kicked on and made the New South Wales guys pay.

"But with a new coaching team on board this summer, everyone is pushing themselves a little harder in the pre-season, and it is a really exciting time to be a part of the Warriors."

Hogan is also looking forward to building on his promising debut season and stepping up to being a consistent wicket-taker in 2010-11.

"It's going to be a big year for myself personally and I'm doing a lot of work in the gym in the pre-season so that it hopefully pays off with some good performances," he said.

"With Edo (Ben Edmondson) leaving and Dorz (Brett Dorey) coming back from injury there will be some positions there for the taking and hopefully I can grab one with both hands."

The success of Robinson and Hogan's transition to interstate level has seen the WACA State Match Committee continue down the path of looking at mature age rookies. Former NSW rookie paceman Martin Paskal, 24, and Victorian left-arm spinner Michael Beer, 25, are two additions to the Retravision Warriors' full contract list for 2010-11, while Joondalup skipper Michael Swart, 27, has also received his first State contract after playing three Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield matches and one Ford Ranger Cup game for the Warriors in 2009-10.

These players continue to give hope to many cricketers around the country that consistent high levels of performance at First Grade level will be recognised and rewarded.

THE BROTHERS MARSH COME OF AGE

The rise of Mitchell Marsh reached new heights in 2009-10. In the past 18 months, he has made his interstate debut in all three forms of the game, captained his country to the ICC Under 19 World Cup title and represented the Prime Minister's XI in the nation's capital.

His vast talent has been spoken about since he first picked up a cricket bat. As the son of Geoff and brother to Shaun, the hype surrounding Mitch to follow the well-trodden family path was immense.

At the age of 16, Mitch was already representing WA at the National Under 19 championships. A year later he broke his brother's Darlot Cup record to score more runs in a single season than any other player in the history of the PSA competition.

But his efforts in the months that followed exceeded even his lofty standards.

"It was a bit of a whirlwind 12 months for me, I didn't expect to even play for WA last year," Mitch said.

"But I did work pretty hard during the pre-season and that was obviously a goal, to play and to cement a place in the WA side.

"I think it was a reward for the hard work I did last season and hopefully it can all continue now, and myself and WA cricket can move forward and hopefully start winning some games."

While Mitch has burst onto the domestic scene over the past 18 months, his brother Shaun has begun to make his mark on the international stage.

Despite battling a niggling hamstring injury, Shaun has made 26 one day international appearances and is fast becoming an integral part of the Aussie top-order.

He scored his maiden one day international century in October 2009 against India in a memorable match at Hyderabad.

Opening with Allan Border Medallist Shane Watson, the duo notched up 145 for the first wicket. Shaun went on to post 112, and with Geoff, became the first father-son combination to both score one day international hundreds for Australia.

"It was probably one of the proudest moments of my career so far," said Shaun.

"It was just an amazing feeling going through my body when I got the two runs just behind square (to bring up the century).

"You always dream about playing for Australia and then to score a hundred for your country is even better. It probably gave me the confidence and the realisation that I am good enough to be at this level.

"Hopefully I can just build on that now and that there are a few more to come."

Mitch experienced a taste of cricket on the sub-continent when he played in his first Indian Premier League tournament in 2010, lining up for the Deccan Chargers alongside WA cricket icon Adam Gilchrist.

Mitch's all-round ability earned the praise of numerous shrewd observers, including new Retravision Warriors Head Coach Mickey Arthur.

The former South African national mentor said Mitch was the only player in world cricket who possesses the rare ability to bat at number five and bowl as the fourth seamer, as Jacques Kallis has done for the Proteas over the past decade.

It's probably no real surprise that Mitch's bowling is of the highest quality - growing up playing in the backyard against his father and brother would have given him plenty of practice with the ball.

"Mitch never got a hit when he was growing up, he was always bowling to me, and as soon as I got out the game was over," Shaun said.

Mitch agreed that it was hard to play against Shaun.

"We had the game going on the tennis court and Shaun would bat for about an hour," he said.

"He'd then hit the ball into the bush, we'd lose the ball, and that would be game over, so I'm surprised I'm even a batsman really."

Understandably, Shaun is extremely proud to be playing alongside his brother for the Retravision Warriors.

"It's fantastic now that he's up there and playing with me," Shaun said.

"I'm really proud of him the way he's going, and hope we can continue what we did last year."

Mitch became the youngest man in history to play domestic one day cricket in Australia when he debuted for the Retravision Warriors against South Australia in Bunbury during February 2009.

He played the final game of the season in Hobart before making a slow start to the 2009-10 season after battling injury.

Mitch returned to interstate cricket in a Ford Ranger Cup match against Victoria at the Melbourne Cricket Ground, and in the following game against New South Wales at the WACA Ground, he showed his full array of strokes as he smashed an unbeaten half-century.

Two days later he was selected to make his first class debut against the same opponents, and scored an unbeaten 59 as his teammates crumbled to be all out for 131 on a testing WACA wicket.

His knock was even more momentous, given the quality of the Blues attack which featured Test bowlers Stuart Clark and Doug Bollinger, as well as international aspirants Josh Hazlewood, Moises Henriques and Steven Smith.

Following his breakout innings, Mitch's profile has continued to rise, cementing a place in all three forms of the game.

The Marsh name appears certain to remain on the WACA scoreboard for some time to come, as both Mitch and Shaun aim to lead the Warriors back to the top of Australian cricket.

"We've all had the onus on us this pre-season to work really hard and give it a crack this summer," Mitch said.

"It's all in good stead at the moment and hopefully it can come off during the season."

Shaun believes that under Arthur he can have more of an impact as a leader around a young and energetic group.

"I really want to be more of a leader around the guys now," Shaun said.

"In the last few years I probably haven't done as much as I probably could have around the group, and I really want to see us back to where we belong and that's up near the top of the ladder.

"We all know that we've got the squad to do that, it's just a matter of the boys putting it on the park now, but if we can work together and get a really good team spirit going, I think we can do that.

"Something I really want to improve on is my leadership skills. I know that I've got them there, it's just a matter of showing them to the guys.

"Hopefully I'm not there too much (due to national duty) but when I am there I want to be seen as a guy that they can look up to and can really take them forward and help them win games of cricket."

GAYLE FORCE HITS WACA

Unless you lived under a rock or avoided all forms of media at any cost, there is a fair chance you knew that Chris Gayle was in town last summer.

The larger than life West Indies Captain was secured by the WACA in July 2009 to play for the Retravision Warriors in the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash competition. It was a major coup, with Gayle earning the reputation of being one of the most destructive batsmen in world cricket.

With an average of 41.27 and strike rate of 148.36 in the newest format of the game at the time of his signing, not only would he be impressive on the field, Gayle was also a marketing dream for the WACA, with sponsors and media outlets all keen to capitalise on his ability to charm and captivate the public.

Former Retravision Warriors Manager and Head Coach Tom Moody believed that he would be a tremendous acquisition for the team.

"Chris is arguably one of the most appealing Twenty20 players, not just from a cricket point of view but from the marketing side of things as well," Moody said.

"He alone can take a game apart with the bat, he's a handy option with the ball, and he offers a great deal of experience to the playing group."

For Gayle, his time with the Warriors would also serve as a way of getting some limited overs practice on Australian soil ahead of the West Indies' five-match Commonwealth Bank Series and two KFC Twenty20 Internationals against the host nation, as well as being part of the growing excitement surrounding the interstate Twenty20 competition in Australia.

"Twenty20 cricket is something I love being part of, and to have the opportunity of participating in Australia's domestic competition was a great challenge," Gayle said.

The cooler than cool Jamaican arrived in Perth in mid-December for the third Test of the three-match series against Australia at the WACA Ground. He had already helped to keep the contest alive after the visitors forced a draw in the second Test at the Adelaide Oval, thanks largely to their skipper's Man of the Match performance in carrying his bat to score an unbeaten 165 in the second innings.

Gayle gave the people of Perth a taste of things to come at the WACA's Test Match Sundowner, held on the eve of the game. Armed with a microphone and sense of humour, Gayle and team mates Sulieman Benn and Dwayne Bravo treated corporate guests and WACA Members to an impromptu calypso reggae session for almost 20 minutes. Some of the footage was even uploaded to YouTube and seen by thousands.

He was immediately adopted by the Western Australian public as one of their own, and just months after his commitment to Test cricket was being questioned, Gayle came out swinging at the WACA Ground on 17 December. He smashed a century from just 70 deliveries, and hit Australian off-spinner Nathan Hauritz on to the roof of the Lillie Marsh Stand. It was the fifth fastest Test ton of all time, and only 14 balls short of the record held by former West Indian great Sir Viv Richards. The crowd gave him a standing ovation upon his dismissal, cementing his place in the hearts of local cricket lovers and earning the respect of all doubters.

After the 3 mobile Test Match ended, Gayle stayed in Perth to settle in before the start of the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash. The launch of the Retravision Warriors' campaign took place on 23 December at City Beach, where selected media were treated to breakfast and invited to participate in a game of beach cricket with players from the Warriors and VIP guests.

This was Gayle's introduction to the local media, and his first appearance as a Retravision Warrior. The publicity generated from this event led local electronic news bulletins as well as several print and online publications, and even attracted worldwide headlines after he jokingly labeled Shane Watson 'soft', as the fall-out from the Aussie all-rounder's post-dismissal theatrics from the WACA Test Match continued.

The buzz surrounding the debut of Gayle on the Australian domestic platform was enough to see a sell-out declared for the Warriors' opening KFC Twenty20 Big Bash encounter against South Australia. No sooner were kids walking around the WACA with the number 45 painted on their faces. Gayle opened the bowling and the batting for the Warriors, picking up 1/24 from four overs, and scoring 40 from 16 deliveries before retiring hurt after straining a side muscle. The injury would rule him out for the next three matches, and he returned for the must-win final preliminary game against Queensland in Brisbane.

It was a frustrating time for Gayle and the Warriors, with scans revealing his injury was more serious than initially thought and his rehabilitation would take longer than expected. His contribution to the team, whilst limited, was valuable as it added a dimension not seen in the Australian domestic scene for years.

Each State would attest to the enormous contribution that each of the Twenty20 contracted players made to their team, the competition, and overall interest in the KFC Big Bash.

"Even though Chris had a disappointing campaign with us due to his injury, he was a great addition to the playing group and offered so much to the guys while he was around," Moody said.

The 2009-10 season was a taste of what is to come, with Gayle re-signing with the Retravision Warriors for next summer's KFC Big Bash, and he will be joined by West Indies team mate Kemar Roach, a young quick who bowls at frightening pace, as evidenced when he struck Ricky Ponting on the arm with a searing short delivery in last summer's 3 mobile Test Match at the WACA Ground.

The dynamic duo are sure to make the next installment of the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash another captivating time and season of excitement for WA audiences, and hopefully push the Warriors towards a top two finish and Champions League Twenty20 berth.

The Retravision Warriors narrowly avoided their first wooden spoon in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield for almost half a century, but they would look back on season 2009-10 and regret lost opportunities that could have resulted in a long-awaited finals berth.

Heading into the Christmas break in the competition, the Warriors were placed third, and with three home matches and a trip to Brisbane to come, they were confident of claiming the required points to elevate themselves into the top two.

But losses at the WACA Ground to South Australia, Tasmania and Victoria in February and early March ended any hope of appearing in the season's showcase, and only a tense victory against Queensland in the final match of the season prevented the Warriors from finishing at the foot of the table.

The three defeats were by just two wickets, 70 runs, and 54 runs respectively, indicating that the Warriors had their chances to push for the six points in each contest, and the failure to grasp those chances proved to be the killer blow.

The changing of the guard continued as six players made their first class debut for the State, bringing the total number of first gamers to 14 in the past two seasons, but it was a veteran in Luke Ronchi who was the standout performer with the willow. The Laurie Sawle Medallist scored 716 runs at 47.73, which included three centuries and a fifty. He was also the leading wicket-keeper in the competition with 42 catches and two stumpings.

Opening batsman Wes Robinson followed up on a promising debut summer with several crucial knocks for the Warriors in 2009-10, and he was the team's second leading run maker with 582 at 32.33, with a highest score of 141 achieved against New South Wales at the SCG.

Shaun Marsh and Adam Voges made a limited number of appearances in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield due to national representation, but both made a big impact when they lined up for the Warriors. Marsh notched up 477 runs in five matches at an average of 59.62, with four 50s and one century. Voges scored 437 runs in six games at 54.62, including a best of 114 not out against the Vics at the MCG.

Evergreen paceman Steve Magoffin was the leading wicket-taker for the Warriors with 31 scalps, while others to shine were former Victorian quick Brad Knowles and Newcastle product Michael Hogan.

Knowles showed the benefits of his first full pre-season in the west, toiling away to capture 30 wickets at 25 in seven matches. He snared 4/33 on the final day against the Redbacks in Adelaide to lead the Warriors to an outright win. Hogan played seven games in his debut summer at interstate level, and the 28-year old bowled with great maturity in taking 23 wickets, including a haul of 5/83 against South Australia at the WACA Ground.

The Warriors will be hoping that with more games under the belt of the fresh faces, and a core nucleus of experienced personnel consolidating their place in the line-up, a return to success in the four day competition is not far away.

It was a case of so near and yet so far for the Retravision Warriors in the 2009-10 Ford Ranger Cup competition. Despite winning just four out of nine matches heading into the final preliminary round contest against Tasmania at the WACA Ground, the home side knew that victory against the Tigers would be enough to secure a place in the final.

But it was to be the visitors who triumphed, winning by five wickets with just one ball to spare. Tasmania then went on to crush Victoria in the final at the MCG by 110 runs to be crowned Australian interstate one day champions.

A highlight for the Warriors in the 2009-10 Ford Ranger Cup was the emergence of Wes Robinson as a quality opening batsman in limited-overs cricket. In his second season at interstate level, the 29-year old seized the opportunity he was given at the top of the order and played all ten matches in the competition, leading the team's run-scorers with 385, including three half-centuries.

Ashley Noffke was the pick of the bowlers, taking ten wickets in seven matches at 24.40 and boasting a terrific economy rate of 3.85 runs per over. The veteran all-rounder, in his first season with the Warriors, was also handy with the willow and finished the summer averaging just over 15. His highest score of 43 came in the opening match of the season against Queensland at the WACA Ground.

Shaun Marsh was restricted to just four matches in the Ford Ranger Cup competition due to national commitments, but the left hander demonstrated his immense class and talent to notch up a brilliant 116 against a high-quality Blues attack in Perth. Younger brother Mitchell also enjoyed his time in the black and gold, finishing as the Warriors' second most prolific run-scorer for the competition with 292 in six matches at an average of 58.40. He struck three half-centuries, including a high of 92 against Tasmania in Hobart.

Another to make his mark on the competition was Nathan Coulter-Nile. His long-awaited State debut came in the match against Victoria in Bunbury, and the 22-year old quick claimed seven wickets in five matches at 28.85, with best figures of 3/46 in the crucial victory over the Redbacks at the WACA Ground.

Skipper Marcus North led from the front in all facets, averaging 38.50 with the bat and also chipping in with eight wickets at 23.25, while Laurie Sawle Medallist Luke Ronchi hit three 50s on his way to 274 runs for the tournament at 39.14. He was Man of the Match in the win over the Bushrangers at Hands Oval for an unbeaten 57 from just 35 balls which saw his team over the line in the final over chasing a target of 278. Ronchi also led the wicket-keepers in the competition, effecting 14 catches.

For the second successive KFC Twenty20 Big Bash campaign, the Retravision Warriors would require victory over Queensland in their last qualifying round match to advance to the Preliminary Final, but once again the Bulls would prove too strong and take their place in the final three.

Hopes were high among the Warriors' squad prior to the start of the 2009-10 KFC Big Bash, with West Indies Captain Chris Gayle coming on board as the team's overseas recruit. The big-hitting Jamaican tuned up for the tournament by smashing a 70-ball century in the WACA Test Match two weeks before the opening game.

South Australia were the first opponents for the Warriors at the WACA Ground, and a capacity crowd of 17,308 was on hand to witness the Redbacks blaze their way to 6/196. Gayle then unleashed a frightening assault, racing to 40 from just 16 deliveries before he was struck down with a side injury that was to keep him out for the next three matches. Gayle bravely returned to the crease to try to steer the Warriors to victory later in the evening, but he was dismissed soon after as the visitors claimed a 29-run win.

The Warriors slipped to 0-2 after dropping their second match of the tournament to Tasmania at Bellerive Oval on New Years Day. The Tigers' overseas recruit Rana Naved-ul-Hasan turned in a stunning performance with bat and ball, scoring 47 from 27 deliveries and backing up with 3/29 from 3.5 overs, to lead his team to a 17-run victory.

A massive 127-run win over 2009 Champions League Twenty20 victors New South Wales breathed life into the Warriors' Big Bash assault. Shaun Marsh became the first WA batsman to reach three figures in the shortest format of the game, scoring an unbeaten 108, while Wes Robinson made 54 in an opening stand of 168 - breaking the record partnership for any wicket in Australian domestic Twenty20 cricket. The home side made 1/198 from their 20 overs before dismissing the shell-shocked Blues for just 71. 18-year old Mitch Marsh took 4/6 in 2.2 overs to stamp himself as one of Australian cricket's brightest prospects.

Victoria came to the WACA Ground and a sell-out crowd of 17,612 witnessed the Warriors square their ledger at 2-2 with a hard-fought 24-run victory. Gayle returned to the Warriors' line-up for the trip to Brisbane, but Bulls skipper Chris Simpson blasted 76 from 38 balls to guide the home side to an imposing 7/203. The Warriors were gallant in the run chase, but the required ten runs per over proved to be out of reach and they were restricted to 5/166 in reply.

New Head Coach Mickey Arthur will aim to bring his experience of international Twenty20 cricket to the Retravision Warriors in 2010-11, and with Gayle and West Indies team mate Kemar Roach signed up, WA cricket fans will be hoping the ingredients are there to push for an elusive Champions League berth next summer.

NIGHTLY 6.00

Season 2009-10 saw a revamp to women's cricket in Australia, with two additional Women's National Cricket League matches for each side due to the introduction of the ACT Meteors along with the commencement of a new interstate Women's Twenty20 tournament.

The Western Fury lost a great deal of experience heading into the new season after the retirement of opening batter Angele Gray, and the departures of English all-rounder Jenny Gunn and former Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars leg-spinner Renee Chappell.

Among the new additions to the squad were ex-Fury and Australian squad member Cherie Bambury, another former Fury all-rounder Lauren Shave, plus rising stars Emma King and ACT recruit Jess Moyes.

There were changes to the team structure with six players identified as exhibiting leadership qualities to form the leadership group. Long-serving batter Peta Merrilees was appointed Captain, and she would be aided by two Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars representatives in Vice Captain Rene Farrell and Deputy Vice Captain Lauren Ebsary. Wicket-keeper Jenny Wallace, all-rounder Kate Burns and veteran Avril Fahey completed the six-strong group.

The Fury suffered a 74-run defeat to the DEC VicSpirit in their inaugural Women's Twenty20 clash at James Oval. The home side started the day well by winning the toss and choosing to bowl first, and contained the Spirit batters early on in their innings. But the visitors opened their shoulders and raced to a total of 6/133 from their 20 overs. In reply, the Fury was never in the hunt and were eventually dismissed for just 59 in the 16th over.

The Spirit backed up their commanding victory with another impressive all-the-way win by 143 runs in the season's first WNCL 50-over match at the WACA Ground, and completed the hat-trick with a five-wicket win in the second game of the weekend double-header.

The Fury notched their first win 2009-10 when they accounted for the Cripps Tasmanian Roar in a Women's Twenty20 fixture at Bellerive Oval. The visitors made 4/107 after Merrilees won the toss and chose to bat first, before restricting the Roar to 9/86 to emerge as 21-run victors.

From Hobart it was on to Adelaide, where a gallant Fury was beaten by the SA Scorpions in their Twenty20 match at St Peters College. The home side notched up 3/151 and held the Fury to 5/116 in reply.

The Fury's first victory of the 2009-10 Women's National Cricket League season came one day later after a thrilling three wicket triumph over the SA Scorpions in the first of the double-header matches in Adelaide.

The Scorpions were dismissed for 191 after their skipper Karen Rolton won the toss and elected to bat first. The visitors fell to 6/78 in reply, before Fahey (62 not out) and Shave (38) put on a brave 92-run partnership which took the Fury to 7/170. Shave's dismissal brought Mel Holmes to the crease, and she helped her team over the line with 13 balls to spare.

In a game that very much mirrored the opening encounter between the two teams, the Fury made it back-to-back WNCL wins the following day when they edged out the Scorpions by just two wickets. The home side was bowled out once again for 191. Ebsary began the Fury run chase with a bang, scoring 48 from 44 deliveries, before spin twins Holmes (five not out) and Moyes (three not out) saw their team to the win in the 48th over.

Ebsary and Farrell led the Fury to a nail-biting seven run win over the ACT Meteors in their next Women's Twenty20 encounter at the Trinity College Playing Fields. The Southern Stars pair enjoyed a 64-run partnership for the second wicket, which was the backbone of their side's total of 8/140 after the Fury were sent in to bat by Meteors skipper Kris Britt. Ebsary (2/14 off two) then showed her all round talents by snaring two scalps, including that of danger woman Britt for 34, while Farrell restricted the opposition to just ten runs during her two over spell with the ball as the visitors finished on 8/133.

The Meteors turned the tables on the Fury the following day in the first match of the WNCL double-header, claiming a thrilling one wicket win with just one ball to spare. After winning the toss and electing to bat first, the Fury posted a competitive 8/188 from their 50 overs. Experienced campaigner Cherie Bambury led the charge with a well-made 70. Meteors' tailender Sally Moylan steeled her nerves in the final over of the ACT innings and cracked the necessary two runs off the penultimate ball of the match to clinch victory for the visitors.

It was another win to the Meteors in game two of the double-header, but the three wicket margin with more than 12 overs in hand ensured the victory was a little more comprehensive. After winning the toss and electing to bat first, the Fury were bowled out in the final over for 167. Wallace was the main contributor to the total with an outstanding knock of 87, which earned her Player of the Match honours. In reply, the Meteors reached the target of 168 in the 38th over to take the points.

Competition powerhouse New South Wales came to town early in the New Year and began their three matches in Perth with a crushing 127-run defeat of the Fury in a WNCL contest at James Oval. The Breakers posted a formidable 3/303 from their 50 overs, thanks to big tons from Alex Blackwell (138) and Lisa Sthalekar (108 not out). Farrell (52) did her best to lift the Fury to an upset win, but they were unable to get on top of a disciplined Breakers attack and finished their innings on 6/176.

NSW made it two big wins in two days when they claimed the second match of the WNCL double-header by ten wickets at Aquinas College. The Fury was dismissed for just 99 in the 40th over, and Breakers openers Alex Blackwell (61 not out) and Leah Poulton (30 not out) ensured a double bonus point victory for their team when they reached the triple figures inside 20 overs.

The Fury's faint hopes of reaching the Women's Twenty20 play-off were dashed when the Breakers accounted for them in a curtain-raiser to the Warriors-Bushrangers KFC Big Bash match at the WACA Ground. After winning the toss and electing to bat first, the home side was restricted to 9/99 at the end of their 20 overs. Despite some impressive bowling from Moyes, who finished with 3/21, the Fury could not stop the superior batting of the visitors, who passed the target in the 14th over with six wickets in hand.

The Fury's last assignment for 2009-10 was a trip to Brisbane for three matches against the Konica Minolta Queensland Fire. They suffered a heart-wrenching three wicket defeat against the Fire in a Women's Twenty20 match at the Gabba, played prior to the Bulls-Warriors KFC Big Bash encounter later in the evening. Experienced Fire duo Jude Coleman and Kristen Pike were the heroes for their team as they claimed victory with one ball to spare. The Fury had earlier posted 6/114 from their 20 overs after Merrilees won the toss and chose to bat first.

Inspired by a big knock from Lauren Stammers and strong bowling performances by Farrell and Holmes, the Fury overcame the Fire to take out the opening match of the WNCL double-header. The home side was dismissed for 213, and the Fury grasped the opportunity to take victory with both hands, notching up the required runs with 13 balls to spare.

The Fury then wrapped up their summer with a tremendous 138-run win over the Fire in the second match of the double-header. The visitors smashed their way to 268, thanks to some aggressive batting from Bambury (79) and Stammers (60). Farrell (4/27) and Moyes (3/25) then led the attack which restricted the Fire to just 130.

The result ensured the Fury took fourth spot on the 2009-10 WNCL table, one place lower than where they placed the previous two summers, though they trailed the third-ranked ACT Meteors on run quotient. In the Women's Twenty20 competition, the Fury ended the inaugural season in sixth.

WACA PREMIER CRICKET AWARDS

Retravision Warriors wicket-keeper Luke Ronchi was rewarded for an excellent season with both bat and gloves by taking home the major honours at the WACA Premier Cricket Awards, held at Perth's Hyatt Regency Hotel on 25 March.

Ronchi received the Laurie Sawle Medal for the Warriors Player of the Year along with the Players Choice Award, which is voted on after every Retravision Warriors fixture by the players that took part in that game.

With six players in the running for the Laurie Sawle Medal heading into the last two Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield matches, Ronchi shot clear to post maximum votes in matches against Victoria in Perth and Queensland in Brisbane. He won with 44 votes, comfortably ahead of Shaun Marsh (29) and Wes Robinson (27), with Captain Marcus North and his deputy Adam Voges tied for fourth on 21.

Ronchi put aside a frustrating 2008-09, in which he was dropped from the Retravision Warriors team in the latter stages of the summer, to bounce back in exceptional fashion this season. He led the Warriors' run-scorers in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield with 716 at 47.73, which included three centuries and a fifty. He was also the leading wicket-keeper in the competition with 42 catches, one ahead of Queensland's Chris Hartley after the regular season, and two stumpings.

The 28-year old was the Warriors' third highest run getter in the Ford Ranger Cup, scoring 274 at just under 40, which included three half-centuries and a Man of the Match performance against Victoria at Hands Oval in Bunbury, when he struck an unbeaten 57 from just 35 balls to get his team over the line in the final over chasing a target of 278. He also led the 'keepers in that competition, effecting 14 catches - one more than Hartley and two clear of Victoria's Matthew Wade after the preliminary matches, as well as three stumpings.

In the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash, Ronchi also performed admirably by notching up 121 runs at an average of 40.33 and snaring three catches and a stumping - equal with Tasmania's Tim Paine and one catch behind Queensland rookie Ben Dunk.

Retravision Warriors and Australian batsman Mike Hussey was awarded the Gold Cup for the fourth time in the past five years as WA's most outstanding cricketer across all levels as voted by local sporting media.

During the voting period, which ran from the close of the Retravision Warriors' 08-09 season in March 2009 until the close of their 2009-10 campaign, Hussey played 12 Tests against South Africa (one), England (five), the West Indies (three) and Pakistan (three), scoring 837 runs at an average of just over 44 and featuring two centuries, including his match-winning 134 not out in Australia's memorable second 3 mobile Test match victory over Pakistan at the Sydney Cricket Ground.

Hussey also maintained a high standard in 37 one day internationals for his country, scoring 1278 runs at 50.72 and playing a major role in Australia's 6-1 hammering of England, the ICC Champions Trophy win in South Africa, a 4-2 series victory in India and an unbeaten record at home against Pakistan and the West Indies.

Wes Robinson avoided the "second year blues", following up a promising debut season with another serviceable year in 2009-10, and this was recognised with the popular Retravision Warriors opener claiming the Excalibur Award for the player who best upholds the Spirit of the Warriors, as voted by the WACA's State Match Committee.

Robinson made his State debut as a 27-year old in November 2008 and has proved to be a valuable acquisition to the Warriors squad after plying his trade for a decade in the WACA District competition. He led the WA run-scorers in the Ford Ranger Cup with 385, which included three half-centuries, and was the second most prolific batsman for the Warriors in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield (582 runs and a highest score of 141 against NSW) and the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash (139 at 46.33, with two half-centuries).

The Future Legend award, for the "Rising Star" of Western Australian cricket under the age of 23, was awarded to promising all-rounder Mitchell Marsh. The 18-year old enjoyed a terrific season with the Retravision Warriors, becoming a regular member of the team in all three domestic competitions.

Marsh missed the first part of 2009-10 due to ankle surgery on the eve of the season, but he made an immediate impact upon his inclusion to the Retravision Warriors team in November. He played six Ford Ranger Cup matches, finishing as the team's second leading run-scorer with 292 at the excellent average of 58.40, including three half-centuries and a best of 92 against Tasmania in Hobart. Marsh also struck two half-centuries and averaged just under 22 in his first six Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield matches, and demonstrated his enormous potential with the ball in a KFC Twenty20 Big Bash game against New South Wales at the WACA Ground when he took an amazing 4/6 in 2.2 overs.

But perhaps his greatest highlight was leading the Australian Under 19 team to their third ICC World Cup title in Lincoln, New Zealand. He scored 201 runs at 33.50 for the tournament and impressed with his outstanding leadership and innovative tactics as skipper, which culminated in a 25-run win over Pakistan in the final.

Rene Farrell became the first player to win back-to-back Zoe Goss Medals for the most outstanding female cricketer of season 2009-10. The former NSW Breaker has played two seasons with the Western Fury after heading west in search of greater opportunities and to press her claims for a regular berth in the Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars.

The 23-year old made her Test debut in the one-off Ashes battle between Australia and England in Worcester last July and was the pick of the bowlers in the home side's first innings, taking 3/32. She also played ten one day matches in the past year, taking six wickets and averaging 17.50 with the bat, and picked up 13 wickets in 12 Twenty20 internationals for Australia, while also boasting a healthy batting average of 59.

Farrell was the leading wicket-taker for the Fury in the Women's National Cricket League with 18 at an average of 21.44, and a best of 5/57 against Queensland in Brisbane, while she also chipped in with 171 runs, including 52 against her former State at James Oval. She also took five wickets in the inaugural Women's Twenty20 competition and averaged just under 20 with the willow at the outstanding strike rate of 92.50.

Another legendary name was inducted into the Gallery of Greats, identifying and recognising great contributors to Western Australian cricket since the Association's inception in 1885. This year's inductee was the late Frank Bryant (see special report on page 53).

Graham 'Garth' McKenzie was also acknowledged after being inducted to the Australian Cricket Hall of Fame at the 2009-10 Allan Border Medal evening in Melbourne.

Several of Western Australian cricket's successful individuals and teams from the 2009-10 summer were recognised. WA took out the 2010 Imparja Cup, with Player of the Tournament Dane Ugle presented to the audience, as were Lindsay Flinn (Coach) and Ashton Turner (Captain) of WA's National Under 17 Championship-winning team.

Australia's win at the 2010 ICC Under 19 World Cup in New Zealand was acknowledged, particularly the contribution of WA pair Mitchell Marsh and opening batsman Tom Beaton.

The WACA Media Award winners were also announced. The WACA Test Match Media Award was won for the second straight season by Clint Wheeldon of ABC Radio. This year's successful entry was an in-depth interview with WACA Curator Cam Sutherland on day two of the match, which responded to the essential criteria of best capturing the essence of the WACA Test.

Corbin Middlemas was recognised for his outstanding commentary and broadcasting skills for 91.3 Sport FM, taking out the award for Emerging Cricket Media Talent.

In the radio awards, Wheeldon was judged to be the Most Outstanding Broadcaster, while the Talking Warriors show, hosted by Daniel Davini and Aaron Heal on Sport FM, won the Best Program Promoting Cricket.

In the television awards, Best Overall News Coverage was won by Claire Thomas from Channel 10 which recognised the commitment and support of her and the network to the Retravision Warriors throughout the season. Best Feature was won by Mark Readings of Channel Nine for an excellent feature screened on A Current Affair on Luke Pomersbach's bid to return to the State squad in 2009-10.

The print media awards went to Tim Clarke of WA Today (Best Match Report) for his wrap of day two of the WACA Test match between Australia and the West Indies, and John Townsend from The West Australian (Best Feature) for his outstanding piece on Pomersbach's come back to the Warriors.

Finally, Best Grass Roots Feature across all forms of media was won by Claire Thomas for her story on WA's win at the 2010 Imparja Cup tournament and the emergence of promising Indigenous cricketer Dane Ugle, which screened on Channel 10 News.

The fifth induction into the Western Australian Cricket Association's hall of fame, the 'Gallery of Greats', was made at the WACA Premier Cricket Awards in March.

Frank Bryant, a former State player and administrator, joined the 11 previous inductees, and received a special presentation from The Hon Barry House MLC at the Premier Cricket Awards.

The WACA Board authorised the 'Gallery of Greats' project to identify and recognise great contributors to Western Australian cricket since the Association's inception in 1885.

The primary criteria established by the Board was that an inductee's eligibility for inclusion into the 'Gallery of Greats' is for a truly outstanding and/or truly historic or unique commitment and contribution to Western Australian cricket, generally, in the person's particular area or areas of expertise.

The five inaugural members of the 'Gallery of Greats' were Dennis Lillee, John Inverarity, Barry Shepherd, Graham McKenzie and Rod Marsh. Kim Hughes and Harold Rowe were inducted in 2007, FD North and Ken Meuleman were added to the select group in 2008, while Alan Edwards and Laurie Sawle were the 2009 inductees.

The WACA Board approved the induction of Bryant to the 'Gallery of Greats', where he will be honoured with a feature display in both the Members' Lillee Marsh Stand and the public Prindiville Stand, and a plaque will be inserted into the concrete concourse that runs around the WACA Ground.

Francis Joseph Bryant was the youngest of three brothers, with Dick and Bill, who created an Australian record when they played a first-class match together for Western Australia in 1927-28. That appearance was just one highlight for Frank, who scored his first century for the State at the age of 18 years and 120 days - still the youngest for any WA player - and produced over 1500 runs during a 10-year first class career.

Like his brother Dick, the WA Captain with whom he shared the feat of becoming the first brothers to score a century in the first innings of a first class match, Frank was a highly influential administrator whose most lasting legacy came off the field.

He was a member of the WACA Executive for 33 consecutive years, guiding it for 23 as Chairman, but achieved his most significant successes during a 22-year stint as WA's delegate to the then Australian Cricket Board. Firstly, he helped convince the ACB to do away with the iniquitous subsidy which required WA to pay the costs of visiting interstate teams until the late 1960s. He also spearheaded the push for WA to host a Test match, a 10-year battle which came to fruition in December 1970 when Australia played England in Perth.

Cheery and good-humoured by nature and a publican by profession, Frank's most popular victory came when he won the right to sell beer at the WACA Ground.

TEST SERIES

Test cricket came to Wales for the very first time as Sophia Gardens in Cardiff played host to the first of five thrilling battles for the Ashes. England batted first after Andrew Strauss won the toss and they were dismissed for 435. Kevin Pietersen top-scored with 69, and shared in a 138-run fourth wicket partnership with Paul Collingwood (64). Matt Prior made 56, and Graeme Swann contributed a handy 47 from 40 deliveries at number nine. Mitchell Johnson (3/87) and Nathan Hauritz (3/95) were the best of the Australian bowlers. The visitors' batsmen then feasted on the England attack as four players brought up three figures in a first innings total of 6/674 declared. Simon Katich (122) and Ricky Ponting (150) began the carnage with a 239-run stand for the second wicket, before Marcus North (125 not out) and Brad Haddin (121) turned the screws in a sixth wicket partnership worth an even 200. Michael Clarke also chipped in with 83. England had to survive four sessions when they commenced their second innings, and their situation looked grim early on the final day when they had slumped to 5/70. A fighting rearguard knock of 74 in 344 minutes from Collingwood helped to keep the Aussies at bay, but when he was the ninth man to fall, England was still 18 runs behind the visitors' total. Jimmy Anderson and Monty Panesar survived for 37 minutes to ensure the series remained locked at nil-all heading to Lord's. Ponting was named Man of the Match.

The toss was won again by Strauss and England batted first in the second Test at the home of cricket. The skipper led from the front with a superb 161, combining with Alastair Cook (95) for a 196-run opening stand. But the Aussies roared back to life to keep England to a manageable 425. Ben Hilfenhaus (four wickets) and Johnson (three) were the leading wicket-takers for the visitors. Anderson (4/55) then ripped through the Australian top-order to put the home side on top, and his fellow quicks were finding the overcast conditions to their liking as they rolled the tourists for 215. Graham Onions (3/41) and Stuart Broad (2/78) were among the wickets for England. Strauss opted not to enforce the follow-on and instead try to bat Australia out of the game. England reached 6/311 before declaring their second innings and setting an unlikely target of 522 for the Aussies to go ahead in the series. Clarke (136) produced one of the finest knocks of his career, and together with Haddin (80) and Johnson (63) they rescued Australia when all seemed lost at 5/128. But ultimately the world record run chase was too great a task and the visitors were bowled out for 406. England's 115-run victory put them one-up in the series. Andrew Flintoff took 5/92 in the Australian second innings and was judged to be Man of the Match.

Edgbaston in Birmingham was the venue for the third Test, and persistent rain across the first four days of the match severely dented the chances of a result. Ponting chose to bat first after winning the toss, and Australia negotiated a tricky session on day one to finish on 1/126. Shane Watson, who had come into the side for Phillip Hughes, was unbeaten on 62. But Anderson (5/80) and Onions (4/58) found their touch on the second day as the visitors were routed for 263. Onions enjoyed a dream start to the morning when he dismissed Watson and Mike Hussey with successive deliveries. England managed 376 in reply, and Australia was left with the task of batting for over a day to wipe off the 113-run deficit and save the match. After a few early jitters, Clarke (103 not out) and North (96) saw the Aussies to safety with a 185-run fifth wicket stand. England retained their one-nil lead, with Clarke awarded Man of the Match.

Australia needed a win in the fourth Test at Headingley to have any hope of clinching the series, and they delivered their most authoritative statement of the tour by dismissing the home side for 102 after Strauss had won the toss and elected to bat. Peter Siddle took 5/21 in a breakout performance, while Stuart Clark picked up 3/18 in his first outing for the series. Australia set up a commanding 343-run lead after posting 445 in their first innings. North top-scored with 110 - his second century of the tour and third in six Tests. Clarke made 93 as he shared in a 152-run partnership for the fifth wicket with North, following on from their match-saving heroics in Birmingham. England was never in the hunt for victory let alone forcing Australia to bat again after they fell to a paltry 6/86. Broad (61) and Swann (62) put some respectability on the scoreboard with a 108-run eighth wicket stand, but they were only delaying the inevitable as the home side was eventually bowled out for 263. Johnson (5/69) and Hilfenhaus (4/60) did the damage as Australia squared the series at one-all. North was declared Man of the Match.

It was all to play for at The Oval in the fifth Test, and England made 332 after the coin fell the way of Strauss once again. Ian Bell led the way with 72 for the home side, while the wickets were shared by pace trio Siddle (4/75), Hilfenhaus (3/71) and Johnson (2/69). Australia was cruising at 0/73 in reply before Broad swung the match and the Ashes England's way with an inspired spell of seam bowling. He captured 5/37, and combined with Swann (4/38) to decimate the visitors' batting line-up. England took a 172-run lead into the second innings after dismissing the Aussies for just 160. The visitors roared back to life when they reduced the home side to 3/39 in their second innings, but 75 from Strauss kept England's nose in front, and Jonathan Trott struck a century on debut to bat Australia out of the game. He finished on 119, and Swann contributed a brisk 63 from 55 balls to take England to 9/373 declared. Australia would need a world record fourth innings run chase of 546 to retain the Ashes, and hopes of a miraculous victory were raised with Ponting and Hussey in control at 2/217. But Flintoff, who was playing in his final Test for England, struck the killer blow with a brilliant run out of Ponting for 66. Hussey went on to a well-deserved century (121) before he was the last man dismissed. Australia was bowled out for 348, handing victory to England by 197 runs and sealing a 2-1 series win for the hosts. Broad was named Man of the Match, while Clarke and Strauss shared Player of the Series honours.

TWENTY20 & ONE DAY INTERNATIONALS

Australia tuned up for a seven-match one day series against England with a clinical 189-run demolition of Scotland in Edinburgh. David Hussey struck 111 in the visitors' total of 345, and Shane Watson took 3/30 as the hosts were bundled out inside 40 overs for 156.

From Scotland it was south to Manchester for two Twenty20 internationals against the old enemy, however the Lancashire weather was the victor with both matches producing no result. Australia made 4/145 from their 20 overs in the opening contest, and England was 2/4 in reply when the rain intervened and the players would not return. Game two was abandoned without a ball bowled.

The one day series began where the Ashes had wrapped up 11 days earlier - at The Oval in London. Australia exacted a small amount of revenge on England with a narrow win by four runs. From there, the visitors' confidence grew and so did the margins of victory.

Australia successfully defended a total of 8/249 in game two at Lord's, restricting the home side to 210. Cameron White scored his maiden one day international century to pilot the Aussies to a comfortable six wicket win with nine balls to spare in game three at Southampton's Rose Bowl, and the series was secured three days later at Lord's when the Aussies coasted to a seven wicket victory.

If England thought that the tourists would take their foot off the pedal having taken an unassailable lead they were sorely mistaken. Ricky Ponting hit a magnificent 126 in game five as the Aussies chased down a challenging target of 300 with just under two overs to spare, and they made it six from six with a crushing 111-run victory at Trent Bridge, in which Tasmanian wicket-keeper Tim Paine became another to post his first century in international limited-overs cricket.

Australia was eyeing off a seven-nil series sweep, a feat which no other team had achieved in the history of one day internationals, so they had plenty to play for at Chester-le-Street in the final match of their marathon tour. But England saved their best performance for last, dismissing the Aussies for 176 after Strauss had sent them in to bat first. Graeme Swann took 5/28 from ten overs in a Man of the Match performance. The home side successfully chased the target of 177 in 40 overs to ensure the series ended 6-1 in Australia's favour. White was named Player of the Series after leading Australia's run-scorers with 260 at an average of 52.

ANOTHER BOX
THE WARRIORS CAN'T DO WITHOUT.

OUT TO PLAY SINCE '64

The ICC Champions Trophy came to South Africa in 2009, one year after the postponement of the tournament due to security issues concerning Pakistan, where the 2008 edition was scheduled to be held. Thus it was just under three years since Ricky Ponting's men had won the Champions Trophy for the first time, downing the West Indies in a one-sided final at Mumbai's Brabourne Stadium.

It was fitting that the Windies would be Australia's first opponents in 2009, with the two teams squaring off at the Wanderers in Johannesburg. The West Indies had been severely depleted by the loss of several experienced personnel, including skipper Chris Gayle, due to contract disputes with their Board.

However the fresh faces in the Windies squad were keen to give a good account of themselves, and after falling to a gallant five wicket defeat against Pakistan in their opening match, they began the task against the Aussies in great style and had their more fancied rivals in trouble at 7/171 in the 40th over. But Mitchell Johnson opened his shoulders in the final ten overs, blasting an unbeaten 73 from only 47 deliveries to help Australia get to a competitive 8/275. Andre Fletcher (54) and Travis Dowlin (55) made a good fist of the run chase, but the Windies innings fell away following the loss of Fletcher with the total on 124. They were eventually dismissed for 225, handing the Aussies a 50-run victory.

Australia headed to Centurion for a big test against India, but the weather would have the final say on proceedings. Tim Paine (56), Ponting (65) and Mike Hussey (67) all posted half-centuries, but play was halted with their team on 4/234 in the 43rd over, and there would be no further action as the points were shared.

Pakistan was the next challenge for the Aussies, and after the abandonment of their encounter with India, victory was a must for either team to be assured of securing a place in the semi-finals. Pakistan made 6/205 from their 50 overs after being sent in to bat by Ponting. Australia were making light work of the victory target, cruising at 2/140, but a dramatic collapse of 6/47, which included the scalp of top-scorer Hussey for 64, brought Pakistan back into the contest. Brett Lee (12 not out) and Nathan Hauritz (nine not out) saw Australia home to a two wicket win in a thrilling finish - the winning runs brought up on the final ball of the match.

Australia topped Group A and remained in Centurion for their semi-final clash with England. The Aussies entered the game full of confidence having outclassed their opponents in the recently-completed seven-match one day series in the UK. Andrew Strauss elected to bat first after winning the toss, but he would have been rueing the decision when England slumped to 6/101. Luke Wright (48) and Tim Bresnan (80 from 76) rescued their team with a 107-run seventh wicket partnership which enabled England to scramble to 257. The total was well short of par, and Shane Watson (136 not out from 132) and Ponting (111 not out from 115) produced the greatest partnership for any wicket by an Australian pair in one day international cricket. Their unbroken 252-run stand in 242 deliveries saw the Aussies through to the final with a crushing nine wicket victory, achieved with 49 balls to spare.

New Zealand was all that stood in the way of Australia and back-to-back wins at the ICC Champions Trophy after the Black Caps upset Pakistan to reach the play-off in Centurion. New Zealand would bat first after Brendon McCullum won the toss, but the normally free-flowing skipper was sent on his way for no score, despite spending 16 minutes and 14 balls at the crease. Martin Guptill top-scored with 40, while Neil Broom (37) and James Franklin (33) did their best to lift the middle-order, but the Black Caps were held to 9/200. Hauritz (3/37 from ten) was the pick of the Aussie bowlers.

The target of 201 was expected to pose few problems, and there were some jangling nerves when Shane Bond and Kyle Mills struck to leave Australia at 2/6, but Watson and Cameron White put their team back on track with a century stand for the third wicket. The loss of White for 62 saw Watson take control, and fittingly he brought up the winning runs in the 46th over with a six, also completing his second consecutive limited-overs century for Australia (105 not out). The Aussies won by six wickets to claim their second ICC Champions Trophy in succession, with Watson named Man of the Match and Ponting declared Player of the Series.

INDIA

Fresh from successfully defending their title at the ICC Champions Trophy, the Australians were in India taking on the home side in a seven-match one day series.

The visitors claimed the upper hand after a thrilling victory in game one at Vadodara. Mike Hussey's 73 helped Australia to a formidable 8/292 from their 50 overs, and India's hopes seemed dashed when they fell to 7/201 in reply. But Harbhajan Singh (49 from 31) and Praveen Kumar (40 not out from 32) ignited the home side and took them to the verge of an unlikely win. They finished just short on 8/288.

India squared the series with a comprehensive 99-run win in game two at Nagpur. The home side's skipper MS Dhoni belted a stunning 124 from just 107 deliveries to lead his team to 7/354. The mammoth run chase proved too much for the visitors, who were all out for 255.

The hosts went 2-1 up after emerging from game three in Delhi with a six wicket win. The Aussies batted first after winning the toss, and Hussey was the star once again with an unbeaten 81 in his team's total of 5/229. The game was evenly poised with India on 3/53 in reply, but knocks of 78 to Yuvraj Singh and 71 not out to Dhoni were enough to get their team over the line with ten balls to spare.

The series was back on an even keel when Australia notched up a hard-fought 24-run victory in game four at Mohali. The Aussies were dismissed for 250 after losing their last seven wickets for just 54. India was bowled out in the 47th over for 226, with left-arm quick Doug Bollinger taking 3/38 and Shane Watson picking up 3/29.

Australia restored their advantage, going 3-2 up in one of the all-time great one day international matches at Hyderabad. The visitors made 4/350 after Ponting won the toss and elected to bat first. Warriors opener Shaun Marsh (112 from 112) brought up his maiden limited-overs century for Australia, and he shared in a 145-run opening stand with Watson (93 from 89). White (57 from 33) and Hussey (31 not out from 22) also contributed quick runs towards the latter stages of the innings. India was going to need something special to overhaul the big victory target, and Sachin Tendulkar did his best to take the task on. The little master scored a breathtaking 175 from only 141 deliveries, which included 19 boundaries and four sixes. Suresh Raina struck a run-a-ball 59 to keep his team in the hunt, but they would fall three runs short - dismissed in the final over for 347. Watson and debutant Clint McKay picked up three wickets apiece.

The Aussies clinched the series in game six at Guwahati. India began disastrously after Dhoni chose to bat first, falling to 2/7 following a remarkable opening over from Mitchell Johnson. They recovered to post 170 thanks to half-centuries from Ravindra Jadeja (57) and Praveen Kumar (54 not out). Bollinger claimed 5/35 to be the best of the visitors' bowlers. Australia cruised home with more than eight overs to spare, taking an unassailable 4-2 advantage.

The series score line would remain 4-2 with the seventh and final match abandoned without a ball bowled. Australia headed home after a golden period that saw them claim limited-overs titles in England, South Africa and India.

First Test - Brisbane

Australia batted first after Ricky Ponting won the toss but there was early joy for the Windies when Jermaine Taylor dismissed Shane Watson for no score. It was tough going for the tourists from there as the Aussies piled on the runs. Simon Katich top-scored with 92 in the home side's total of 8/480 declared. Marcus North (79), Mike Hussey (66), Ricky Ponting (55) and Nathan Hauritz (50 not out) were others to pass the half-century mark, while Dwayne Bravo was the best of the Windies' bowlers with three wickets. The West Indies failed to pass the follow-on target of 281, dismissed for 228. Travis Dowlin (62) and Denesh Ramdin (54) were the only significant contributors with the willow. Ponting had no hesitation asking the Windies to bat for a second time, and they fared even worse as they were bundled out inside day three for 187, handing Australia victory by an innings and 65 runs. There was one shining light for the tourists in the form of 19-year old Adrian Barath, who scored 104 in the second dig and became the youngest West Indian to notch up a century on Test debut. Ben Hilfenhaus was named Man of the Match after hauls of 2/50 and 3/20.

Second Test - Adelaide

West Indies Captain Chris Gayle won the toss and chose to bat first at the Adelaide Oval, and his team responded to their Brisbane debacle with a fighting display, compiling 451. Dwayne Bravo (104) struck a memorable century on the opening day, and he received strong support from former Queensland batsman Brendan Nash (92) and the evergreen Shiv Chanderpaul (62), while Ravi Rampaul was unbeaten on 40 after sharing in a 68-run tenth wicket stand with Nash. Australia was cruising in its reply thanks to openers Watson (96) and Katich (80), who put on a 174-run partnership for the first wicket. But Sulieman Benn (5/155) toiled manfully for 53 overs to bring his team back into the contest, while speedster Kumar Roach (3/93) also impressed astute judges. The West Indies took a 12-run lead into the second innings after dismissing the home side for 439. Gayle then took it upon himself to try to lift his team to an unlikely win, carrying his bat through the visitors' second innings to score one of his finest Test centuries. He was unbeaten on 165 in the total of 317, which meant Australia needed to score 330 runs to win the Test match or hold out for around two and a half sessions for a draw. Michael Clarke's 61 not out ensured the series would be headed to Perth with Australia one-nil up. Gayle was awarded Man of the Match, though Mitchell Johnson was a star performer for the home side on a tough wicket for the pacemen, claiming match figures of 8/208.

Third Test - Perth

The toss of the coin went Ricky Ponting's way and the home side would bat first in perfect conditions at the WACA Ground. No Australian had reached three figures thus far in the summer, and the drought was extended in Perth as four batsmen made scores of between 80 and 99 in their side's first innings of 7/520 declared. Katich was the most heartbreaking story for the Aussies, out for 99, while Watson (89), Brad Haddin (88) and Hussey (82) were the others to fall within sight of a ton. Marcus North also chipped in with 68. Gayle (102) led the West Indies reply with one of the great Test innings seen at the WACA Ground. He smashed a century from just 70 deliveries - the fifth fastest in Test history - and deposited Hauritz on to the roof of the Lilee Marsh Stand. Gayle's opening partner Dowlin made 55, but the visitors lost their last eight wickets for just 98 to hand the ascendancy back to the home side. The Windies were bowled out for 312, thanks to Doug Bollinger's 5/70, but Ponting opted not to enforce the follow-on and instead try to build on their 208-run lead. The West Indies roared into life, rolling the Aussies for just 150 in their second innings. The mercurial Dwayne Bravo was the pick of the bowlers (4/42), while Benn's great form continued as he claimed 3/29. It left the tourists with the task of scoring 359 to square the series. Narsingh Deonarine gave his team hope of a famous victory, top-scoring with a superb 82, and Nash contributed 65 as the pair added 132 for the fourth wicket. But Bollinger (3/71) and Johnson (3/67) made crucial breakthroughs to halt the Windies' momentum, and they would fall agonisingly close to the upset as Australia won by 35 runs. Although the home side won the series 2-nil, Gayle was judged to be Man of the Match and indeed Man of the Series.

First Test - Melbourne

Australian Captain Ricky Ponting won the toss and elected to bat first, and in-form openers Shane Watson and Simon Katich picked up where they had left off against the West Indies with a 182-run stand. Both were dismissed in the 90s - Watson for 93 and Katich for 98, continuing the Australians' three figure drought. Ponting (57), Mike Hussey (82) and nightwatchman Nathan Hauritz (75) also passed the half century mark before the Aussie innings was declared midway through the second day on 5/454. Pakistan responded with 258, thanks largely to the efforts of Misbah-ul-Haq, who was unbeaten on 65, and Umar Akmal (51). Left-arm pace duo Doug Bollinger (3/50) and Mitchell Johnson (3/36) were the pick of the home side's bowlers. Watson finally brought up a century for the Aussies in the second innings, though he survived a scare when he was dropped on 99, and he finished on 120 not out in the total of 8/225 declared. Emerging quick Mohammad Aamer impressed by taking 5/79 for the visitors. Set an unlikely 422 for victory, Pakistan was unable to find a batsman capable of notching up the big score required. Skipper Mohammad Yousuf top-scored with 61, but he was the only player to pass 50 and the visitors eventually succumbed for 251. Hauritz picked up 5/101, while Johnson (3/46) and Bollinger (2/42) backed up their first innings efforts. Watson was named Man of the Match.

Second Test - Sydney

Persistent rain in the Harbour City ensured a delayed start to the traditional New Years Test Match at the Sydney Cricket Ground. Ponting again won the toss and eyebrows were raised when he chose to bat first in overcast conditions and on a pitch certain to have some early life for the Pakistan quicks. The decision proved to be disastrous as the home side was skittled for just 127. Mohammad Sami (6/41) was the chief destroyer, while Mohammad Asif (3/27) was another handful for the Aussies. Opener Salman Butt led the way for Pakistan in their first innings with 71, and his partner Imran Farhat made 53 in a 109-run stand for the first wicket. But as was the case in Melbourne, no player was able to record the big century that would have seen a sizeable first innings total. The visitors were dismissed for 333, which still ensured a handy lead of 206. Bollinger took 4/72 to be the pick of the home side's bowlers. Watson (97) combined with Phillip Hughes for a 105-run opening partnership which wiped out more than half of the deficit. But the Aussies lost 7/113 at one stage to see their position of strength whittled away, and at 8/257 - a lead of only 51 - the series looked headed for a Hobart decider. Hussey had other ideas, and was the lead in a 123-run ninth wicket partnership with Peter Siddle (38). The West Australian was unbeaten on 134 as the home side was bowled out for 381, setting up a testing run chase of 176 for the visitors. Pakistan lost wickets at regular intervals to keep the Australians in the hunt, and despite a gallant 49 from precocious talent Umar Akmal, they were bundled out for 139 to hand the Aussies a famous 36-run victory. Hauritz picked up another five wicket haul (5/53), and once again he was backed up by Johnson (3/27) and Bollinger (2/32). Not surprisingly, Hussey's heroics earned him Man of the Match honours.

Third Test - Hobart

Ponting was again on the right side of the coin toss and Australia batted first at Bellerive Oval. Mohammad Asif struck early to remove Katich for 11, and the Aussie Captain almost joined him in the pavilion when he skied a catch to deep square leg on the fourth ball he faced. Mohammad Aamer put down a sitter, and Ponting made the visitors pay with a majestic 209. His deputy Michael Clarke scored 166 as Australia declared their first innings closed on 8/519. Salman Butt brought up Pakistan's first century of the series with 102 in his side's first time at bat. Former skipper Shoaib Malik posted 58, while Umar Gul (38 not out) and Asif (29) added 53 for the last wicket, but the tourists could only muster 301. Spinners Katich (3/34) and Hauritz (3/96) were among the wickets for the home side. Australia built on their lead in their second innings, with Katich (100) and Ponting (89) starring with the willow. Pakistan was set a target of 438 to win after the Aussies declared at 5/219. Peter Siddle (3/25) and Hauritz (3/30) combined to dismiss the visitors for 206. Young number three Khurram Manzoor made a gallant 77 but received little support from his team mates. A 231-run victory completing a 3-nil series win. Ponting was named Man of the Match, while Watson was judged to be Player of the Series.

COMMONWEALTH BANK SERIES PAKISTAN TOUR OF AUSTRALIA

After sweeping Pakistan in the three-Test series held over the Christmas-New Year period, Australia took a psychological advantage into the five-match Commonwealth Bank Series and emerged with a comprehensive five-nil series whitewash.

Pakistan made a promising start to the series in game one at the Gabba. A superb 72 from 81 deliveries from opener Salman Butt took the visitors to 1/117 in the 23rd over, and a late flurry from Shahid Afridi (48 from 26) ensured they would reach a highly-competitive total of 274. Shane Watson took 4/36 from his ten overs to be the pick of the home side's bowlers. The Aussies made light work of the run chase, reaching the target with nine balls to spare. Cameron White posted his first one day international century on home soil, blasting 105 from just 88 balls.

The teams moved to the Sydney Cricket Ground for game two, and the Pakistan spinners did well to restrict the Australian batsmen in the middle stages of the innings after Watson (69 from 71) got the home side off to a great start. A target of 230 looked on the cards, but White's lusty hitting again thwarted the visitors (55 from 58) and saw Australia post 6/267 from their 50 overs. Pakistan was in deep strife at 2/7 when Doug Bollinger removed Butt and Younis Khan in the 5th over, and things didn't improve from there as they were eventually dismissed for 127. Clint McKay took 3/15 for the Aussies, while skipper Mohammad Yousuf (58) and Rana Naved-ul-Hasan (27 from 22) were the only shining lights with the bat.

It was a similar story in game three at the Adelaide Oval, with some powerful batting late in the Australian innings making sure that the visitors would be chasing another sizeable total as they reached 6/286 from their 50 overs. Shaun Marsh top-scored with 83, Michael Clarke struck 80, and Mike Hussey slammed 49 from just 28 deliveries. Pakistan never looked in the hunt throughout the run chase. Umar Akmal (59) fought bravely, and Afridi gave his team a glimmer of hope as he smashed 40 from 29 balls, but a five-wicket haul from Ryan Harris gave the Aussies the edge. Pakistan was bowled out for 246, handing the home side a 40-run victory and an unassailable 3-nil series lead.

The series headed to Perth for the last two matches of the series, and Australia hammered Pakistan in game four by 135 runs. As had been the case in the previous two matches, the visitors had a tough time restricting the Aussies at the death. Spinner Nathan Hauritz showed his wares with the bat, finishing unbeaten on 53 from 39 deliveries, including four sixes, as Australia made 8/277. Umar Akmal (38) again led the way for Pakistan, but there was little support as they were bundled out for 142 in 37.5 overs. Harris claimed Man of the Match honours for the second successive game after finishing with the brilliant figures of 5/19 in 9.5 overs.

With only pride to play for, Pakistan saved their best for the fifth and final game at the WACA Ground. It looked like there would be another early finish when the visitors fell to 2/0 and then 3/16, but a fight back inspired by the in-form Umar Akmal (67) and Fawad Alam (63) helped to get the visitors back on track and to a respectable total of 212. Clint McKay took 4/35 to be the leading wicket-taker, while Harris continued his impressive run of form to claim 3/44 from his ten. Australia made hard work of the run chase, but an unbeaten 40 from Mike Hussey was enough to see his team over the line in the final over by just two wickets. The home side maintaining their unbeaten run in the summer of 2009-10.

COMMONWEALTH BANK SERIES WEST INDIES TOUR OF AUSTRALIA

The West Indies returned to Australia in February for the five-match Commonwealth Bank Series against the host nation buoyed by their promising efforts during the 3 mobile Test Series earlier in the summer.

Australia was far too strong in the opening match of the series at the MCG. Shane Watson (59) and Ricky Ponting (49) were the stand-out performers for the home team as they compiled 8/256 from their 50 overs. Kieron Pollard, who had played a key role for South Australia during the 09-10 KFC Big Bash, carried on that good form and finished with 3/45 from his ten. The Windies slumped to 3/12 in reply, and with big-hitting skipper Chris Gayle back in the pavilion their hopes of victory looked lost. Pollard backed up his efforts with the ball to top score with 31, but no other batsman could pass 30 and they were shot out for just 143 in the 35th over. Ryan Harris was the best of the Australian bowlers, taking 3/24 from nine to give the burly Queenslander 16 wickets from his past four limited-overs internationals, while Nathan Hauritz chipped in with 3/28.

The second game was played at Adelaide Oval and the visitors could not have suffered a worse start with Gayle trapped in front by Doug Bollinger from the first delivery of the match. Things didn't improve from there for the Windies, as they were soon in deep trouble at 4/16. Dwayne Smith, another of the tourists to play in the KFC Big Bash after turning out for New South Wales, did his best to revive the Windies' fortunes by hitting 43, while Pollard again did a handy job with the willow (32) and Denesh Ramdin mustered up 30. The Aussies took just 26.3 overs to reach the victory target with two wickets down. Ponting finished unbeaten on 57 from 55 balls, while Watson brought up another half-century (53 from 50).

Australia was denied the chance to wrap up the series in game three due to the Sydney weather, but the West Indies took it up to them before the rain intervened. The home side was dismissed in the final over of their innings for 225, with Ravi Rampaul (4/61) and Dwayne Smith (3/45) getting among the wickets. Only one over was bowled between two rain interruptions until the players were forced from the ground for the last time and the match was abandoned.

Conditions were brighter for game four at the Gabba, and Australia took full advantage of the excellent batting conditions to chalk up 7/324 - their best one day international total of the summer. Ponting scored a magnificent 106 from 112 deliveries, and Cameron White provided strong back-up (63). The match looked over with the Windies at 3/55, but Narsingh Deonarine (53) kept his team in the hunt, while Pollard (62 from 55) and Dwayne Smith (59 not out from 63) added 102 for the seventh wicket, but their efforts were in vain as the visitors were held to 8/274.

The MCG was the venue for the fifth and final encounter, and the home side matched their efforts from Brisbane when they posted 5/324 from 50. Again it was Ponting leading the way (61 from 55), Watson struck a run-a-ball 51 at the top of the order, while James Hopes (57 not out from 26) and Adam Voges (45 not out from 36) provided the late hitting. Aside from a quick fire 47 not out from Daren Sammy, no other batsman could deliver a score of note in the Windies' reply of 199. The home side's 125-run win ensured they were still without a loss beside their name in a golden summer of cricket.

KFC TWENTY20 INTERNATIONALS AUSTRALIA | PAKISTAN | WEST INDIES

A major test of how Australia was progressing towards success in the ICC World Twenty20 came in three KFC Twenty20 International matches played across Australia towards the latter stages of 2009-10.

Australia and Pakistan clashed in a one-off Twenty20 international at the Melbourne Cricket Ground on 5 February. A revitalised Pakistan, led by gun Twenty20 paceman Umar Gul, stunned the Aussies by rolling them for 127 in 18.4 overs. David Hussey tried to hold the innings together with an unbeaten 40, Michael Clarke provided support with 32, and David Warner (24) was the only other Australian batsman to reach double figures. Gul picked up 3/20 in 3.4 overs.

Needing early wickets to get themselves back into the game, Australia's prayers were answered in a fearsome opening spell from Shaun Tait. The express paceman bowled the fastest delivery ever recorded in this country - 160.7km/hr - and never dropped below 150km/hr. Tait shook up the Pakistan top-order before wicket-keeper Kamran Akmal launched a rearguard action. He departed for 64 from 33 balls with the score on 98, and brother Umar picked up the slack in an effort to guide the visitors home. But when he was dismissed for 21 on the first ball of the 20th over, Pakistan's hopes of ending their tour on a happy note appeared to be over. Australia claimed a two-run victory after holding the visitors to 9/125. Man of the Match Tait finished with 3/13 from four overs.

Australia and the West Indies then rounded out the summer by meeting in two KFC Twenty20 International matches. The Aussies were still to taste defeat in 2009-10, having completed a four-nil series win over the Windies in the just-completed Commonwealth Bank Series.

The home side went one-up after winning the opening match at Hobart's Bellerive Oval by 38 runs. The Aussies made 8/179 from their 20 overs, with David Warner (49 from 32) and Shane Watson (37 from 19) getting their team off to a flyer, and Brad Haddin provided the late fireworks with an unbeaten 37 from only 16 deliveries.

As had been the case throughout the Commonwealth Bank Series, the top-order failed to fire for the Windies and the match was effectively over when they slumped to 6/53 in the 10th over. Runako Morton (40 from 41) and Denesh Ramdin (44 from 26) added some respectability to the scorecard, and they finished on 8/141. Tait and his new ball partner Dirk Nannes took three wickets apiece.

The two teams moved to Sydney for the final match of season 2009-10, and the Australians underlined their dominance with a comprehensive eight wicket thrashing of the tourists.

Ryan Harris (2/27 from four) and Dan Christian (2/29) made their Twenty20 international debuts for Australia, and both were among the wickets as the West Indies were held to 7/138 from 20 overs. It could have been much worse for the visitors as they were 5/63 in the 11th over, but a late rally from Narsingh Deonarine (36 not out from 29) and Darren Sammy (26 not out from 11) allowed the Windies to post a defensible total.

Warner blew the tourists off the park with an explosive start to the Australian innings. The 50-run opening partnership with Watson was brought up in just 3.2 overs, and they carried on with the job from there. Man of the Match Warner was dismissed for 67 from just 29 deliveries, while Watson was unbeaten on 62 from 33 balls when the winning runs were brought up with just two wickets down and a mammoth 50 balls to spare. For just the second time since the Test and one day format was introduced in Australia in 1979-80, the host nation would go through the summer undefeated.

After three disappointing ICC Under 19 World Cup campaigns in which Australia failed to qualify for the final, the cream of our country's future stars headed across the Tasman eager to make a big impression in the 2010 tournament.

It had been eight years since the Australian Under 19s had won the World Cup, ironically also in New Zealand, and they were aiming to claim the title for a record-breaking third occasion.

Rising Retravision Warriors star all-rounder Mitch Marsh skippered a 15-strong line-up containing four players with Australian first class experience - the other three being Josh Hazlewood (NSW), Alister McDermott (Qld) and Kane Richardson (SA).

Australia began the tournament strongly with wins over the USA and Ireland in Queenstown, before suffering a narrow two-wicket defeat at the hands of South Africa in their final Group B match.

Finishing second in their group meant a clash with tournament hosts New Zealand in the quarter final stage, but they breezed past their Trans-Tasman rival to record a 62-run victory in Rangiora.

After winning the toss and electing to bat, Australia was restricted to 8/232 and then dismissed New Zealand for 170 in 43.2 overs. Marsh made a slick 53 before he was sensationally run out by Harry Boam with a direct hit from backward point.

The skipper then almost single-handedly guided Australia to the tournament showcase after steering his team to a thrilling two wicket win against Sri Lanka in the semi-final at Lincoln.

After bowling Sri Lanka out for 205 in 48.2 overs, the Aussies faltered in the run chase, losing continuous wickets before eventually getting across the line with ten balls to spare at 8/206.

It was Marsh's innings of 97 that engineered the win and earned him the Man of the Match award. His knock included 13 boundaries before he fell just short of his century with the team in sight of victory.

Australia met Pakistan in the final at Bert Sutcliffe Oval in Lincoln, with the latter also chasing a historic third ICC Under 19 World Cup trophy.

Australia was sent in to bat and it was the Pakistan quicks who did the early damage as Nic Maddinson, Tom Beaton and Marsh all departed to leave the Aussies reeling at 3/23.

Alex Keath (25) and Jason Floros (35) got things back on track, before Richardson went about resurrecting the innings with a brisk 44 from as many balls, including three fours and two sixes, to help Australia to 9/207 from their 50 overs.

In reply, Pakistan was dismissed for 182 in the 47th over, handing the Aussies a 25-run victory. Hazlewood finished with 4/30 in a Man of the Match performance.

TWENTY20 INTERNATIONALS

New Zealand talked up their chances of pushing Australia across the Tasman after the visitors had enjoyed a golden summer back home, failing to lose to either the West Indies or Pakistan across all three formats of the game.

But the Black Caps failed in their first big test - the first of two Twenty20 Internationals in Wellington. After winning the toss and batting, New Zealand was bowled out for 118 on the final ball of their innings. Mitchell Johnson showed he was going to be a handful for the home side in the matches ahead, finishing with the brilliant figures of 3/19 in four. Fellow pacemen Shaun Tait (2/21), Dirk Nannes (2/22) and all-rounder Shane Watson (2/23) were also effective in their four-over spells.

Australia made steady progress towards the mediocre target, and led by David Hussey - who notched up 46 from 36 deliveries - they cruised home to win by six wickets with four overs to spare.

New Zealand had less than 48 hours to regroup as they aimed to square the series in the second Twenty20 International in Christchurch. Once again Daniel Vettori won the toss and chose to bat first, which was to the liking of Brendon McCullum. The big-hitting opener, who was dismissed in game one for just two, bounced back in emphatic fashion to blast an unbeaten 116 from just 56 deliveries, becoming just the second man behind West Indies skipper Chris Gayle to score a Twenty20 International hundred. His innings was the backbone of the Black Caps' total of 6/214 from their 20 overs.

Australia kept pace with the run rate required of almost 11 an over for much of their innings, thanks to Brad Haddin (47 from 36) and Michael Clarke (67 from 45), before a late flurry from Cameron White put the visitors in the box seat for a series clean-sweep. But his magnificent 64 not out from 26 balls was not enough with scores tied at the end of Australia's innings. A Super Over was played to settle the thrilling encounter, and New Zealand prevailed by taking just four balls to score the required seven runs for victory. The series was split 1-1, but the excitement at AMI Stadium ensured huge interest for the one day international and Test matches to follow.

ONE DAY INTERNATIONALS

New Zealand carried on the momentum gained from their tight win over Australia in the second Twenty20 International in Christchurch to take a one-nil lead in the five-match battle for the Chappell Hadlee Trophy. Chasing 276 for victory in Napier, the home side snuck in for a two wicket win with four balls to spare. All-rounder Scott Styris, who was a late addition to the Black Caps team for injured Captain Daniel Vettori, got his team over the line with a superb 49 not out from 34 deliveries, which included bringing up the winning runs with a six.

The Aussies leveled the series in Auckland when they survived a late-order rally from Vettori (70 from 49) to post a 12-run victory under the Duckworth/Lewis method. They went 2-1 up after the third game in Hamilton, with Brad Haddin leading the way (110 from 121 balls) as the visitors successfully chased New Zealand's total of 245 with six wickets and 16 balls in hand.

The teams returned to Auckland for game four, with the home side needing a win to keep the series alive. They threw away the opportunity to post a big score when dismissed for 238 in the 45th over, and despite Australia's target being adjusted to 200 from 34 overs under the Duckworth/Lewis method, the visitors proved too strong in recording a six wicket victory with just under three overs to spare to take an unassailable 3-1 lead in the series.

New Zealand posted a competitive total of 9/241 in the fifth and final game in Wellington. Australia slipped to 3/46 in reply and never recovered, eventually dismissed for 190 in the 47th over. Shane Bond and Tim Southee each took four wickets as the Black Caps salvaged pride in a 3-2 series defeat.

TEST SERIES

Ricky Ponting won the toss and Australia chose to bat first in the opening Test of the two-match series at Basin Reserve in Wellington. The visitors declared midway through day two at 5/459, with Vice Captain Michael Clarke (168) and Warriors skipper Marcus North (112 not out) combining for a 253-run stand for the fifth wicket. The home side replied with just 157. Doug Bollinger's emergence as a world class bowler continued as he picked up 5/28 to be the main destroyer for the Aussies. Ponting chose to enforce the follow-on with the Black Caps 302 runs in arrears on the first innings. They made a better fist of batting a second time, dismissed early on the final day for 407. Brendon McCullum scored a patient 104, and he was supported by opener Tim McIntosh (83) along with evergreen Captain Daniel Vettori (77), while Daryl Tuffey contributed an unbeaten 47 to ensure Australia would need to bat twice to chalk up a win. For the visitors, Ryan Harris was the pick of the bowlers, taking 4/77 in his maiden Test appearance. Australia made light work of the run chase, racing to 0/106 in 23 overs. Phillip Hughes was unbeaten on 86 from just 75 balls, while Simon Katich finished on 18 not out. Clarke was named Man of the Match.

The second Test took place at Seddon Park in Hamilton. Ricky Ponting again called correctly and Australia would bat first, but after cruising at 2/129, Daniel Vettori (4/36) and Tim Southee (4/61) engineered a collapse that saw the visitors lose 8/102 and be dismissed for 231. Katich's 88 was the only score of note for the Aussies. Ross Taylor struck 138 to ensure his team took a lead into the second innings, however the home side failed to capitalise on his magnificent knock and after being bowled out for 264, Australia trailed by just 33. The deficit was wiped away comfortably, and the visitors' batsmen piled on the runs to bat the Black Caps out of the game. Declaring at 8/511, Australia set the home side the task of scoring a world record target of 479 to square the series and claim their first Test win over the Trans-Tasman rival in 17 years. None of the New Zealand batsmen went past 60, though almost all of them got a start. They were dismissed early on the final day for 302, giving Australia a 176-run victory and 2-nil series win. Mitchell Johnston took ten wickets, including 6/73 in the second innings, and was named Man of the Match, just shading Katich, who followed up his 88 with 106 in his second time at bat.

Australia set their sights on capturing the one ICC trophy that had eluded them in recent years, but the World Twenty20 title would be heading to a new home as England claimed a well-deserved victory over their old enemy in the final of the 2010 tournament.

The third ICC World Twenty20 was held in the West Indies, and after an embarrassing exit following the group stages of the 2009 edition in England, the Australian selectors altered their thinking on the shortest format of the game and selected players with a proven track record in Twenty20.

Among the new faces in Aussie colours were left-arm paceman Dirk Nannes, who had represented the Netherlands at the 2009 ICC World Twenty20, as well as rising leg-spinning star Steven Smith.

Australia comfortably disposed of reigning champions Pakistan and Bangladesh in the opening round and progressed safely to the Super Eights. Their impressive run of form continued as they easily accounted for India, Sri Lanka and the West Indies to move into the semi-finals.

A strong batting line-up was led by dashing openers David Warner and Shane Watson, who laid the platform for middle order strikers Mike and David Hussey along with Cameron White to slam on quick runs in the middle to late stages of the Australian innings.

The Aussies were also potent with the ball, with Nannes and Shaun Tait forming a lethal opening combination, while Mitchell Johnson and Smith were also prolific wicket-takers.

Australia's unbeaten run looked like it would come to an end in the semi-final against Pakistan. Set 192 to win at St Lucia, the Aussies required 53 from 21 deliveries when White was dismissed in the 17th over. But Mike Hussey sent Australia into the final with a stunning display that saw him belt an unbeaten 60 from just 24 deliveries, including 22 from the final over bowled by Saeed Ajmal to clinch victory.

While Australia went about their winning ways, quietly slipping under the radar was England, a team which had never claimed an ICC one day trophy. They scraped through to the Super Eights after a Duckworth/Lewis defeat at the hands of the hosts in Guyana and split the points with Ireland in a rain-affected no result at the same location.

But they began to find their feet in the next stage of the tournament, notching up big wins over Pakistan, South Africa and New Zealand to top their group and set up a semi-final meeting with Sri Lanka.

Like Australia, the selection of specialist Twenty20 players was proving to be a masterstroke as Michael Lumb and Craig Keiswetter rivaled Warner and Watson for the title of the competition's best openers, and Kevin Pietersen also showed that he was back to his match-winning best after a frustrating recent run of injuries. Graeme Swann was also staking a claim as the in-form spinner in world cricket.

A seven-wicket win over Sri Lanka set up the mouth-watering final between England and Australia. After being sent in to bat by Paul Collingwood, the Aussies were in trouble early at 3/8. Michael Clarke helped steady the ship with a run-a-ball 77, David Hussey top-scored with 59 from 54, Cameron White blasted a quickfire 30, and Mike Hussey was unbeaten on 17 from 10 deliveries as Australia scrambled to 6/147 from their 20 overs.

Many observers suspected they were probably 20 runs too short on a good wicket to bat on, and it proved to be correct. Led by Man of the Match Keiswetter (63 from 49) and Man of the Series Pietersen (47 from 31), England coasted home to win by seven wickets with three overs to spare.

The Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars began their quest for redemption after a disappointing first half of 2009 saw them fail to qualify for the final of either the ICC Women's World Cup in Australia or the ICC World Twenty20 in England.

Not long after they were knocked out of the World T20 at the semi-final stage in devastating fashion by the tournament hosts, they remained in England for a Twenty20 International, five one day matches and a one-off Test.

After exacting a small amount of revenge on the home side in the T20, England dominated the 50-over games to take the series four-nil with the fifth match at Lord's declared a no result due to persistent rain. The visitors enjoyed the better of the Test in Worcester, but the home side was able to hang on for a draw which allowed them to retain the Ashes.

Next up for the Southern Stars was a home and away series for the prestigious Rose Bowl against New Zealand. Australia claimed a five-nil whitewash of the one day series in Adelaide and Melbourne, but the Silver Ferns hit back to clean sweep the Aussies in three Twenty20 Internationals held at Bellerive Oval in Hobart.

The two teams crossed the Tasman for two Twenty20 Internationals and three one day matches in New Zealand. The home side continued their dominance in the shortest format of the game, winning both of the T20 games in Wellington and Christchurch. But as was the case in Australia, the Southern Stars proved far superior in the 50-over contests and won all three of the matches, which were held in the south of New Zealand at picturesque Queenstown and Invercargill.

Although their Twenty20 form against the Silver Ferns was ordinary, the clinical nature with which they swept all before them in the one day games meant that the Southern Stars would be heading to the 2010 ICC World Twenty20 in the West Indies confident of a strong showing.

ICC WORLD
TWENTY20
WEST INDIES 2010

After a disappointing 2009 in which Australia failed to reach the final of the ICC Women's World Cup at home or the World Twenty20 in England, they bounced back in fine style to take out the 2010 ICC World T20 in the Caribbean.

A youthful Australian team, led by Alex Blackwell, remained unbeaten and claimed a thrilling three run victory over arch-rivals New Zealand in the final at Kensington Oval in Barbados.

As had been the case in 2009, eight sides from across the globe gathered in St Kitts for the preliminary rounds of the tournament, which would be played alongside the men's competition, and the semi-finals and final would take place on the same day as their male counterparts.

Australia defeated England, South Africa and the West Indies to top Group A, with the latter joining the Aussies in the final four. New Zealand headed Group B, and as expected they were joined in the semi-finals by India, who saw off the challenges from Pakistan and Sri Lanka.

Australia was first through to the final following a seven-wicket win over India in the first semi-final. India made 5/119 from their 20 overs after winning the toss and choosing to bat. Australia reached their target with three wickets down and seven balls to spare - Alex Blackwell playing the perfect Captain's knock with 61 from 49 deliveries.

New Zealand set up a Trans Tasman play-off with a clinical 56-run victory over the West Indies. Sara McGlashan blasted 84 from just 55 balls for the Silver Ferns, setting up an imposing target of 181 for the hosts. Opener Stafanie Taylor (40 from 33) played a lone hand for the Windies as they were held to 8/124 in reply. Skipper Aimee Watkins led the way with the ball for New Zealand, taking 3/26 from four.

The Silver Ferns went into the final as hot favourites having won eight of the 12 Twenty20 Internationals they had played against Australia, including the last five encounters between the teams. The Southern Stars managed to crawl to 8/106 from their 20 overs, thanks to contributions from Leah Poulton (20 from 28) and Sarah Elliott (19 not out).

A chase of 107 was expected to pose few problems for New Zealand on an excellent pitch to bat on, but the loss of early wickets put the Silver Ferns on the back foot. All looked lost when they slumped to 5/36 after 11 overs, but Sophie Devine and Nicola Browne started the fight back with a 41-run sixth wicket stand.

The loss of Browne for 20 meant that responsibility fell to Devine to steer her team home. But Ellyse Perry held her nerve in a frenetic final over to ensure victory for the Australians. Devine was unbeaten on 38 from 35 deliveries, but Perry claimed Player of the Match honours after finishing with 3/18 from her four overs.

The Southern Stars snapped a five year drought stretching back to their last victory at an ICC tournament - the 2005 Women's World Cup in South Africa - and ensured some consolation for Australia following their defeat in the men's final earlier in the day.

JACOB'S CREEK™ True Character

True Character Drinks Responsibly

Regional Awareness and Recruitment Campaign ahead of the 2009-10 season, greatly supported by the Department of Sport and Recreation WA.

Many individual volunteers, institutions, Government Departments or Agencies, and commercial entities assist WACA operations and the development of cricket in Western Australia. The following pages, along with references in Sponsorship and District Cricket reporting in The Western Cricketer, acknowledge a wide range of outstanding and valued contributions to the WACA during the past year.

Those contributions, many of which are continuing a lengthy record of service and/or generosity, have helped to shape cricket in this State and establish a strong foundation for its future growth and success. This listing, of course, may never be considered complete. Any unwitting omission is deeply regretted.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN STATE GOVERNMENT

During the year under review the WACA's relationship with the Western Australian Barnett/Grylls Liberal/National Party Coalition Government has continued to mature.

Through those relationships established with Premier Colin Barnett, his office, and key Cabinet Ministers - with particular appreciation to the Hon Terry Waldron MLA, Minister for Sport and Recreation, and the Hon John Day MLA, Minister for Planning - dialogue has been constructive and productive as the WACA seeks to pursue its aspirations for development of its Ground and cricket in Western Australia in alignment with Government aims for the wider community.

Additionally, WA State Government Departments or Agencies as below have also continued to be great supporters of the WACA and cricket in Western Australia.

DEPARTMENT OF SPORT AND RECREATION WA

Under the leadership of its Director Ron Alexander, The Department of Sport and Recreation WA assists the WACA to deliver many community cricket programs via DSR's various regulatory funding mechanisms.

In return, WACA management and cricket operatives work hard to ensure that the WACA exhibits best practice of governance and reporting framework to deliver value for money for the Government's investment in cricket to the wider community throughout Western Australia

The WACA uses this publication to formally acknowledge and thank Ron Alexander and his staff, in particular Graham Brimage, Rob Didcoe, Steve Humphreys and Evan Stewart, for their collective support and assistance to cricket and the WACA both in enabling cricket to achieve maximum possible access to available funding grants and also for their valued input in discussions on strategic issues affecting the welfare of cricket and development of cricket facilities.

EVENTSCORP

The WACA is very pleased that Eventscorp have agreed to extend the term of our strategic partnership with them, an arrangement that seeks to optimise tourism numbers and economic benefits of overseas and interstate visitors undertaking other activities and visiting other places in WA while in Perth primarily to view international cricket.

A wide range of events and functions over several months, commencing in October 2010 under the theme of Cricket City Perth, has been formulated by the WACA in consultation with Eventscorp for the coming summer - a menu which appears sure to heighten the awareness, attendance and participation of visitors and locals as our December Test match at the WACA Ground looms even closer.

We are particularly excited about the prospect of mobile television screens beaming live Channel Nine action and commentary from the WACA Ground into a variety of Perth community locations, thus enabling those unable to attend the match to share and enjoy all of the excitement of Vodafone Ashes Test cricket.

Eventscorp CEO David van Ooran and his staff have again been terrific friends of cricket and the WACA. This publication extends sincere appreciation to them for their continued support.

HEALTHWAY

Healthway has been a major sponsor of West Australian cricket for almost two decades. This Association is greatly appreciative of their funding, which permits enactment of a wide range of junior and community programs.

The WACA has been a willing partner with Healthway to spread awareness of a variety of health messages over that period, and we look forward to playing our part in the current community awareness campaign of the dangers to good health for this and future generations of an obese society.

Thanks to David Malone and Bill Ongley for their continued support of cricket in WA.

EAST PERTH REDEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

As detailed in the WACA Board Chairman's reporting to Members during the year under review and summarised further in The Western Cricketer, WACA Ground development has achieved significant planning and approval milestones.

Those milestones would not have been achieved without the substantial understanding and support of EPRA CEO Tony Morgan to the objectives inherent with the WACA /Ascot Capital Joint Venture submissions and the carriage of those objectives and concepts through to the EPRA Board and subsequently to the Hon John Day MLA, WA State Government Minister for Planning, and for them to become law.

It is accepted that notwithstanding planning approvals established to date there are still outstanding issues to be debated and resolved with the EPRA CEO and his senior planning operative Mark Hedges. The WACA thanks them for their past contributions to the progress achieved so far and also looks forward to a continuation of that spirit of dialogue and constructive solutions for the long-term benefit of the people of Perth and those residing and visiting within the Riverside precinct.

WA SPORTS FEDERATION

WASF is a central point of reference in Western Australia and conducts forums to exchange current and relevant information on governance and compliance issues for those engaged in administration of sport, its programs and services.

It is also a conduit for a series of annual awards that recognise outstanding performances and volunteer contributions to sport in Western Australia.

Well-respected former WACA Cricket Manager Rob Thompson heads WASF administration, and this Association acknowledges the contribution that WASF provides to the Western Australian sporting community via Rob's astute leadership, and from the administrative support provided by the staff under his direction.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA

It is with regret that we have recently received advice from UWA that they will no longer be continuing their greatly valued sponsorship of the Retravision Warriors' pre-season tour campaigns to India that recognised and sought to capitalise on the cultural and education synergies and opportunities between Western Australia and the sub-continent. This publication records the WACA's appreciation for UWA's past support.

The WACA remains in constructive dialogue with UWA Vice Chancellor Prof Allan Robson and Ms Rowan Maclean, Director of Sports Park, for any other mutually beneficial opportunities that may be identified from our highly valued and historical relationship.

CITY OF PERTH

The WACA extends its thanks to City of Perth CEO Frank Edwards for his leadership and facilitation of staff in various departments for consultation and advice to WACA event operatives to ensure compliance with community standards and ordinances in conducting WACA Ground fixtures for the comfort, enjoyment and safety of patrons.

City of Perth assistance with parking and traffic management for WACA Ground patrons on major match days is integral to the success of these events.

TRANSPERTH

This Association expresses its thanks to Transperth management for arrangements and liaison to provide extra bus, train and ferry services on major match days and the publicity of those services to create awareness for those who need or desire to avail themselves of public transport.

The WACA Ground is a registered stop for the City Area Transport (CAT) free public bus services operating within the inner city precinct and is a great asset to many visitors to the WACA be they match day patrons or tourists wishing to undertake organised tours of the iconic WACA Ground or view the now highly recognised and awarded WACA Museum.

PACKER FOUNDATION

The Packer Foundation, thanks largely to Ken Jacobs, continued its excellent support of Indigenous cricket and Indigenous cricketers, a feature of which was funding an Indigenous Cricket Camp held at Fairbridge Village in January 2010. The primary purpose of the camp was to accelerate the development of Indigenous youth who have demonstrated the potential to succeed in cricket. Participants were selected on that basis and they greatly benefited from the experience.

The Packer Foundation also contributed generously for the Australian Indigenous cricket team to tour England in July 2009.

For the second successive year, the Packer Foundation assisted female cricketers in Western Australia via Regional and Rural Development Programs staged in country centres and at the WACA Ground. Activities were designed to increase the number of females playing cricket in regional and rural areas and provide access to quality coaching and development opportunities for talented female players.

The Packer Foundation has also committed to supporting regional High Performance programs in 2010-11 through the Inter-Regional Carnival and High Performance Camps and the North-West Cricket Championships.

See also the Game Development section of The Western Cricketer.

LORD'S TAVERNERS WA

For a quarter of a century, Lord's Taverners Australia Incorporated (WA Branch) has been 'Giving the Young and Disadvantaged of Western Australia a Sporting Chance'.

In that time Lord's Taverners has directed more than half a million dollars of funding to the WACA and Cricket Australia for an ever expanding range of diverse programs and awards, including regional coaching programs in the South West and Kimberley regions of Western Australia, support of Indigenous cricket and cricketers with a disability, and perpetuating the prestigious Lord's Taverners Spirit of Cricket and Male and Female Junior Taverners Awards.

Lord's Taverners are proud to be a major partner in the revival of the Fairbridge Farm Sports Ground (now officially known as The Lord's Taverners Oval), and has provided funding for the manufacture and installation of a traditional cricket scoreboard.

The Lord's Taverners Oval project has also given disadvantaged youngsters at Fairbridge an opportunity to achieve trade apprenticeship qualifications and make their way into the wider world as quality self-supporting citizens with a stronger belief in their own capabilities.

Chairman Mike Snell, President John Moody AM, Secretary John Sanders, Treasurer Pina Caffarelli, Murray McGill, Harry Sorensen MBE AO and the indomitable John Snell, all exhibit high standards of leadership in executing sponsorship opportunities, communication and organising various functions, including the stand-out and regularly over-subscribed Annual Test Match Breakfast, held on the eve of each WACA Ground Test match. It is from those functions that revenues are derived to fund programs and sponsorships referred to above.

The WACA uses this publication to publicly thank Lord's Taverners for their wonderful contributions to grass roots cricket in Western Australia.

Refer to the feature article on the work of Lord's Taverners WA in this publication.

CARBINE CLUB OF WA

The Carbine Club of WA is another fraternity of philanthropic minded business persons and citizens of Perth who, through their activities, generate funds to perpetuate their support of grass roots cricket via the Allan Edwards Trophy, for a promising player yet to achieve first class status, honouring the Oly Cooley Medallist at the WACA Pennant Cricket Presentation Dinner, and enabling talent identified at the annual CSBP Junior Country Week carnival to develop their skills and career through special coaching received at the Justin Langer Summer Holiday Coaching Clinics.

The WACA expresses thanks to immediate past President of the Carbine Club of WA Brad Thomason, his successor Eddie Rigg, Treasurer Reg Webb, Secretary Leith Putland, and to Carbine Club legend Lloyd Meredith for his remarkable endeavours and persistence over many years in establishing the Club's relationship with the WACA.

The Carbine Club 2010 Cricket Luncheon, staged on the eve of Perth's Commonwealth Bank Series international matches in January, featured champion former WA and Australian opening batsman Justin Langer and current World Champion boxer Danny Green, and again attracted an excellent attendance of loyal Carbine Club members and a welcome sprinkling of WACA Members.

WACA Members are encouraged to support both Lord's Taverners and Carbine Club functions in the sure knowledge that they will enjoy the cricketing experience and funds generated go to such worthy causes.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN TROTTING ASSOCIATION

For many decades the Western Australian Trotting Association has assisted WACA patrons with additional parking options at Gloucester Park on match days when circumstances permit them to do so. Our continued thanks is extended to long-time WATA Chief Executive Rob Bovell and their Executive Committee.

TRINITY COLLEGE

There are many resources that Trinity College Principal Ivan Banks and Bursar Mike Burgess make available to the WACA on match days, including parking and space for the all-important mobile television broadcast vans and their extensive infrastructure, without which it would be near impossible to replicate elsewhere in our environs.

In addition to the above, Trinity also make their excellent swimming pool facilities accessible to the Retravision Warriors for an important part of their recovery sessions.

As The Western Cricketer goes to print, the WACA records its appreciation to Trinity College for their agreement to the WACA to access their playing fields for the 2010 Vodafone Ashes Test match, which will be integral to the success of the 'Cricket Village' concept and outside television broadcast feed that was so popular during the December 2006 equivalent fixture.

HONORARY LEGAL COUNSEL

Rob O'Connor QC has a long association with the WACA in a variety of capacities, including a period serving on the Board and as a long-time WACA Member.

With Rob's extensive legal background and intellect, the WACA is extremely appreciative of our access to him as the Association's Honorary Legal Counsel, where his informal advice on a diverse range of issues both expedites outcomes and saves the WACA considerable money on otherwise commercially charged legal costs.

Mr O'Connor's further voluntary unpaid contributions to the Association extend to serving as a Match Day Code of Behaviour Commissioner, where legal expertise is becoming increasingly relevant, and also as a valued and respected member on the WACA Board-appointed Honours and Historical Sub-Committee.

MEDIA

RADIO

720 ABC Perth, Local Radio WA and ABC Grandstand Digital radio entered a new agreement with Cricket Australia in 2009-10 which included ball-by-ball coverage of Ford Ranger Cup and KFC Twenty20 Big Bash games, along with regular updates of Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield matches. Their commitment to cricket in this country has spanned over 75 years and we look forward to it continuing well into the future. Clint Wheeldon won his second successive WACA Test Match Media Award for an excellent interview conducted with WACA Curator Cameron Sutherland during the 3 mobile Test Match between Australia and the West Indies. He backed that up by also claiming the Most Outstanding Broadcaster honour.

Fairfax Radio Network, through 882 6PR and 96fm, are a valued WACA partner and their promotion of matches and events held at the WACA Ground along with regular cricket content throughout their programming ensures that our great game retains a healthy presence on the AM and FM dials in the summer months.

The WACA was delighted when Sport FM 91.3 was awarded a full-time license and commenced broadcasting 24 hours a day, seven days a week in February 2010. Sport FM once again did a fantastic job covering cricket at all levels in season 2009-10. All of the Retravision Warriors' Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield fixtures and the vast majority of Ford Ranger Cup matches were broadcast on the station, as well as regular updates during the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash. The Talking Warriors and Talking Fury programs also featured on the station for the second successive season. Sport FM's commitment to the Retravision Shield competition was unsurpassed, with live coverage from District home grounds each and every Saturday, along with the District Cricket Show on Saturday mornings and special club shows, such as Talking Mariners (Rockingham-Mandurah), Hawk Talk (Mount Lawley) and the Midland-Guildford Cricket Show. Corbin Middlemas was judged to be the Emerging Media Talent in the 2009-10 WA Cricket Media Guild Awards, while Talking Warriors took out the Best Radio Program Promoting Cricket.

PRINT

The West Australian and The West Online continued their long-standing partnership with the WACA in 2009-10 and kept cricket at the forefront of their summer coverage. Chief cricket writer John Townsend's excellent piece on Luke Pomersbach's return to the Retravision Warriors saw him claim the Best Feature honour in the WA Cricket Media Guild awards.

The Sunday Times and PerthNow provided great support to cricket in Western Australia in 2009-10, with excellent coverage across all levels including an outstanding focus on the Retravision Shield thanks to new grade cricket reporter Corbin Middlemas.

Our thanks also to the dedicated team at Community Newspaper Group, led by Chris Leitch, who provide outstanding coverage of grass roots cricket in their numerous publications.

The WACA also appreciates the excellent coverage and commitment to WA cricket provided by AAP (Justin Chadwick) and Farm Weekly (Colin Bettles).

ONLINE

The WACA entered into a partnership with WAtoday.com.au in 2009-10 which saw the Fairfax Digital website providing significant promotional support across the summer along with excellent news coverage, led by sports reporter Tim Clarke, who won Best Match Report in the WA Cricket Media Guild awards.

Thanks also to Sportal (Paul Barbieri and Chris Pike) and Cadability (Aaron Vincec, David Colin-Thorne and Adam McBride).

TELEVISION

One of the WACA's greatly valued media partners, Channel 9 and WIN Television once again was a regular presence at Warriors media opportunities and provided fantastic support in 2009-10. Senior sports journalist Mark Readings was recognised for an outstanding special report on Luke Pomersbach by claiming the Beat Feature honour at the WA Cricket Media Guild awards.

WIN TV supported a number of WACA initiatives in regional areas in the season under review, including CSBP Senior and Junior Country Week, the Country Cup, the establishment of the Perdaman South West Cricket Academy, the Regional Awareness and Recruitment Campaign, and the Ford Ranger Cup match held at Hands Oval in Bunbury between the Retravision Warriors and the DEC Victorian Bushrangers.

Fox Sports was once again the home of domestic cricket in Australia in 2009-10. Their live coverage of Ford Ranger Cup and KFC Twenty20 Big Bash matches was led by Executive Producers Gary Burchett and Ernie Barbieri, while local sports stories were serviced by Tania Armstrong and cameraman James Foggo.

ABC TV ensured viewers across Western Australia received in-depth coverage and high quality news stories of the Warriors and WA cricket throughout the season of 2009-10 and the WACA appreciates their support.

Channel 10 enhanced its great reputation for cricket coverage in 2009-10, with sports reporter Claire Thomas receiving the WA Cricket Media Guild award for Best Overall News Coverage, recognising her outstanding work throughout the year in review. This extended across all levels of WA cricket, with Claire's feature on WA's win at the Imparja Cup and the efforts of Player of the Tournament Dane Ugle winning the award for Best Grass Roots Feature.

Thanks are also extended to Channel 7 for their coverage of interstate and international cricket in 2009-10, led by Sports Director Chris Young.

WA CRICKET MEDIA GUILD

Guild President Ken Casellas, Vice President John Townsend and Secretary Don Marsdon again worked tirelessly for the WA Cricket Media Guild, helping to grow the relationship between the WACA and WA's cricket media in 2009-10. The Association is most grateful for the effort they put in, which is all on a voluntary basis. The annual Test Match Function, held at the Crowne Plaza on the Thursday night of the third 3 mobile Test between Australia and the West Indies, was attended by local and interstate journalists and enjoyed by all.

WACA Sponsors meet the Retravision Warriors before the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash match on Sunday 10 January 2010.

We believe that our product, Western Australian cricket, offers a unique investment opportunity for companies. We view all of our sponsors as partners of the game, with the 'team behind the team' mentality. With plenty of on-field action in season 2009-10, sponsor activities off-field also increased.

Major sponsor, Retravision, renewed for another three years to enter their seventh season as the Naming Rights sponsor of the Warriors and the WACA District cricket competition - the Retravision Shield. This will take their overall investment term to nine years. As always, Retravision achieved significant return on investment with their sponsorship, with off-season interest in cricket continuing to increase as the game grows both locally and overseas. As always, Retravision have been a wonderful supporter of the WACA and the Warriors, and our heartfelt thanks are extended to them for their on-going commitment to Western Australian cricket.

A very exciting new partner came on board in 2009-10 - Lion Nathan as our beer sponsor. Lion Nathan and the WACA were previously in partnership throughout the 1980s and 1990s, so it was great to have Swan back on the WACA Sponsors' list. Lion Nathan started their first season with a bang to play an active role in not only the Warriors but also grass roots cricket, notably the partnerships in place with WACA District clubs. Lion Nathan also began their 'best seats in the house' corporate entertainment area in 2009-10. For day one of the 3 mobile Test Match and the first Commonwealth Bank Series one day international, Lion Nathan invited 150 of their clients to enjoy the cricket from a marquee on the West Bank of the WACA Ground. A big thank you to the team at Lion Nathan for their commitment to the WACA, the Warriors, and cricket in Western Australia.

Lion Nathan were not the only new alcoholic beverage partner. Pernod Ricard also joined the WACA Sponsor group as official wine supplier. The focus for Pernod Ricard is their Jacob's Creek range, which is now available at all WACA bars. The Jacob's Creek Shield Club has been a very successful WACA Members function that Pernod Ricard has been involved in throughout their first season. This is an event held on the Friday of a Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield match and allows WACA Members to purchase a ticket to the Bradman Room to have wine tasting from Pernod Ricard's extensive range. Thank you to Pernod Ricard for their support of cricket in WA for the next five years.

Diageo, with their hero brand Johnnie Walker, have been a sponsor since 2005. Diageo increased their sponsorship of the WACA in 2009-10 with the inclusion of their full spirit range. WACA bars now stock ready-to-drink (RTD's) for Johnnie Walker, Gordon's Gin and Smirnoff vodka. The WACA is very happy to have Diageo's quality spirit range showcased.

Our major Government supporter in Healthway were actively involved in promoting our SunSmart Junior Cricket Program throughout the Perth metropolitan area. Promoting the important message of adopting SunSmart behaviour is crucial in protecting the health of our young cricketers, and the team at the Cancer Council of WA provide enormous support to ensure that our cricket community are well-informed and educated in how to create a SunSmart environment. The active promotion of the SunSmart Accredited Clubs program has now seen 50 of our junior community clubs achieve accreditation, which has given them a range of benefits including free sunscreen supply, promotional material and education information for parents. By adopting their own SunSmart policies, including requirements such as 'no hat, no play', clubs are now providing safe environments for our junior cricketers and limiting the risk of skin cancer. Along with their work in the community, Healthway and the Cancer Council of WA work with the team at the WACA to ensure that cricket spectators are informed about sun protection, with PA and AV advertisements, signage around the ground and, most importantly, the provision of free sunscreen at a number of locations around the WACA Ground. As our favourite summer sport, cricket puts us at risk of high exposure to UV A and UV B, which can result in the development of skin cancers. By adopting SunSmart behaviours, including wearing broad-brimmed hats, SPF 30 sunscreen, long-sleeved and collared shirts, and sunglasses, we can limit our exposure to the sun, while still enjoying either playing or watching cricket.

This season saw continued support from major sponsor Vikas Rambal and the Rambal Family. Vikas is the Chairman and Managing Director of Perdaman Chemicals and Fertilisers Pty Ltd, which has embarked on developing a world scale fertiliser project in Western Australia. Mr Rambal is the official sponsor of outgoing Warriors Manager and Head Coach Tom Moody, and his support and love of cricket and contribution to the WACA in 2009-10 has been enormously appreciated. Perdaman Chemicals & Fertilisers also extended their involvement to Naming Rights sponsor of the Perdaman South West Cricket Academy. The Academy is in Dalyellup, south of Bunbury, and has a High Performance Coach dedicated to the Academy to help nurture and grow the cricket talent in the South West. The WACA is very grateful to Vikas Rambal and Perdaman for their investment in WA cricket.

Lion Nathan Regional Director Frank Arangio and WACA CEO Graeme Wood at the launch of Lion Nathan's new sponsorship deal with the Western Australian Cricket Association.

CSBP enjoyed their sixth season as the Naming Rights partner of Junior and Senior Country Week. A highlight on the country cricket calendar, CSBP Country Week sees the 'best from the bush' head to Perth for a week-long carnival where exciting cricket and good times are had by all. CSBP has become synonymous with Country Week and, again, a thank you to the team who so actively support our regional communities with this valued investment in the program.

A new sponsor who came on board as presenting partner to our Test match function, the WACA Test Match Sundowner, was Taylor Woodings. Taylor Woodings are a Chartered Accounting firm and have enjoyed their first season of sponsorship with the WACA and looking forward to more opportunities during the Ashes year.

WAtoday.com.au is the WACA's new online partner and provided fantastic promotional support to the WACA in 2009-10 with the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash. Along with promotion of the competition, WAtoday.com.au also provided extensive editorial support for not only the Warriors but also the Retravision Shield.

The Lord's Taverners have long been involved in Western The Lord's Taverners WA Australian cricket and have continued their support during 2009-10 with the Lord's Taverners Regional Winter Program. The program was held throughout regional Western Australia, including the Wheatbelt, Central Districts, Mid-West, South West and Great Southern. The program allowed talent development for all up and coming regional cricketers and was designed to improve the knowledge and skill level of the participants through both practical and theory sessions. This program is integral to development of regional players and the Lord's Taverners' support is greatly appreciated.

A Special Thanks to our Valued WACA Partners

Retravision, Lion Nathan, Perdaman Chemicals and Fertilisers, Ford Motor Company, Healthway, SunSmart, Department of Sport and Recreation, Channel 9 and WIN Television, Coca-Cola Amatil (WA), The West Australian, Kookaburra, Streets, Fairfax Radio Network (96FM and 6PR), ABC Radio, Diageo, National Foods, CSBP, marketforce, Sport FM 91.3, Pernod Ricard, The Lord's Taverners, Cooper Teamwear, WAtoday.com.au, The University of Western Australia, Eventscorp, Cambridge Media, Ascot Capital, AHG/Nuford and Taylor Woodings.

A comprehensive review of WACA High Performance Programs was conducted at the conclusion of the 2008-09 season. This led to the programs being better tailored to suit the needs of our aspiring male and female athletes.

The Emerging Warriors Program was conducted very professionally in all zones by the WACA Cricket Officers. The players participated in a variety of pre-season activities, which included technical, tactical, physical and mental skills development. The program also assisted Cricket Officers with the talent identification process when selecting their teams for the State Zone Carnivals at Under 14, 15 and 16 age levels.

The State Zone Carnivals were held at excellent venues across the Perth metropolitan area - Iluka Sports Complex (Under 14s), Guildford Grammar School, Lilac Hill Park and Jones Paskin Reserve (Under 15s), and Tompkins Park and Burrendah Reserve (Under 16s).

The WACA Junior Bowling Academy was conducted successfully, with well over 30 young bowlers from around the State involved in the program. Training sessions were held every three weeks during the season and concentrated on areas such as fitness, injury prevention, action assessment and general bowling tips provided by WACA specialist bowling coach Ken Lilly.

The six WACA Regional Cricket Officers conducted the Regional Emerging Warriors Program, which is similar to the metro version, in all six country regions - Central Districts, Goldfields, Great Southern, Mid-West, Wheatbelt and South West. WACA staff spent time visiting the regions and provided support to the Regional Cricket Officers. The program assists in the development and talent identification of our best country cricketers.

The WACA High Performance Programs have been ably assisted by the Metropolitan and Regional Cricket Officers.

Coach Education

The WACA Cricket Operations Department conducted 18 coaching courses in season 2009-10. 440 people participated in coach education courses held across WA. A number of high performance coaching workshops were also held to provide WA coaches with an opportunity to develop their specific coaching skills. Presentations were from Cricket Australia Centre of Excellence staff including Dave Fitzgerald (batting), John Davison (spin) and Troy Cooley (pace). CoE Head Coach Greg Chappell also conducted a general session for the WACA District coaches.

The Development Coaching (Level I) courses were conducted throughout Western Australia and focused mainly on junior and senior club coaches. The practical presentations from WACA Cricket Officers and specialist coaches contributed to 341 new Level I coaches in the Perth metropolitan area and 99 in the country. The Level I course meets Cricket Australia's guidelines and is presented over one day or two evenings.

Every year the WACA conducts an Advanced Coaching (Level II) course, which is the highest form of cricket coaching accreditation available in Western Australia. The Level II course was supported by the Department of Sport and Recreation, who funded Specialist Coach Graeme House to present certain aspects of the course. It was conducted over a two week period in August 2009 - from Friday 21st to Sunday 23rd, and the following week on Saturday 29th and Sunday 30th. The course consisted of both theory and practical components, and were presented on the different dates. 44 participants were involved in both the theory and practical components of the course, and contributing presenters included Ken Lilly, Paul Terry, Trevor Penney, Tom Moody, Graham House, Lindsay Flinn, Aaron Harwood and Helen Crewe.

Cricket Australia conducted the Level III High Performance Coaching course at the Centre of Excellence in Brisbane from 24-28 May 2009. 30 attendees from across Australia, including six former international players and four Western Australian coaches - Alan Singer (WACA Cricket Officer), Chris Brabazon (WACA Cricket Officer), Jenny Wallace (WACA Female Cricket Officer) and Philip Petricevich (Gosnells District Cricket Club Coach) - took part in the course. Guest presenters included Greg Chappell, Larry Sengstock, Jade Rawlings, Wade Seccombe, David Bird, Troy Cooley and Dave Fitzgerald.

Fast Bowling Academy

Two Fast Bowling Academies were run in 2009-10 - an Elite Academy squad, consisting of senior fast bowlers outside of the State teams, and a Junior Academy of 30 young, developing quicks between the ages of 14 and 18.

The programs ran side by side from pre-season and included technical, strength and conditioning training, through to an in-season monitoring of technique and workload.

Both academies have been a successful pathway for young fast bowlers into State squads and ultimately State teams, thus enabling coaches to prepare for Under 17s and 19s carnivals without the added burden of remodelling techniques.

SUNSMART UNDER 15

TOM MOODY ZONE CARNIVAL

The SunSmart Tom Moody Under 15 Zone Carnival saw a very high standard of cricket being played at Guildford Grammar School, Balcatta Cricket Club and Lilac Hill Park over three days. Two teams from regional WA (Country Black and Country Gold) joined the four metro zones in this tournament.

The format for the carnival consisted of two rounds of one day games and two rounds of Twenty20 matches on the final day. Despite two ties by the Metro South East team in both of their Twenty20 fixtures, they still managed to finish top of the table, just ahead of Metro North West on quotient.

The best players for their respective teams were Sam Chojnowski (South West), Callum Tompkins (North West), Nick Kelleway (South East), Tod McBride (North East), Bevan Bennell (Country Gold) and Dom Sheed (Country Black). Tod McBride was named Player of the Carnival following outstanding form throughout the three days.

SUNSMART UNDER 16 WAYNE CLARK STATE CARNIVAL

The SunSmart Under 16 Wayne Clark State Carnival was very evenly contested for a second year in a row. Three rounds of one day games and two rounds of Twenty20 matches were played, and both regional teams had good wins to finish in the middle of the table. The continued improvement of the country sides shows that the WACA's Regional Cricket Officers are doing an outstanding job with their programs.

South West had to beat North West on the final day to take over top spot, and they did just that by three wickets to claim the title for the second year in succession. Winners of the individual best player awards were Corey Morris (South West), Julien Feehan (North West), Fraser Bond (North East), Prad Gunaratne (South East), Mitch McAuliffe (Country Gold), and Zane Marwick and James Adams (Country Black). Statewide Twenty20

This season saw 32 teams from throughout Western Australia take part in the Statewide Twenty20 competition. All WACA District sides were represented, along with CricketWest-affiliated clubs, Country Association teams, and the WA Indigenous XI. The competition has gone from strength to strength in the five seasons that it has been played, and matches were played in a tremendous spirit once again.

Highlights throughout the season included:

- Metropolitan teams being given the opportunity to play in locations such as Albany, Geraldton, Esperance and Kalgoorlie.
- Healthy crowds at matches, highlighting the community interest in Twenty20 cricket.
- Bunbury's narrow loss to eventual winners Rockingham-Mandurah in the third round.

'Super Sunday' saw the best four teams meet at Fletcher Park for the semi-finals, and they would produce two upsets as Wanneroo and Rockingham-Mandurah progressed to the final.

The Mariners triumphed by eight wickets to claim their first senior premiership. The Roos were dismissed for 102 thanks to the efforts of Liam Thomas (3/16) and Ben Wright (2/31), whilst skipper Joel Charles top-scored with 36. In reply, Rockingham-Mandurah cruised to 2/106 as opener Brayden Sutton made an unbeaten 40 and Craig Smith was not out on 35.

Earlier in the day, Perth were sent in to bat by Rockingham-Mandurah in their semi-final and made a challenging 8/161 following a late rally from Christiaan Moir (40) and Dean Nelson (34 not out). Wright took 3/17 in an excellent spell, while Retraivision Warriors spinner Aaron Heal claimed two wickets. The Mariners required more than eight an over to advance to the final, and they coasted to victory by seven wickets with more than three overs to spare. Craig Simmons led the way with 43.

On the second ground at Fletcher, Wanneroo was dismissed for just 114 against the mighty Scarborough outfit. Charles made 43, while Daryl Mitchell (2/16) and Andrew Tye (2/24) were the best of the Gulls' bowlers. At 4/88 in reply, Scarborough looked headed for a berth in the final, but an extraordinary collapse of 6/2 saw them bundled out for 90. Marcus Stoinis (42) and Marcus Harris (18) tried their best to lift the Gulls over the line, while paceman Chris Quelch (4/21) and spinner Jake Fawcett (2/9) did much of the damage with the ball for the Roos.

Semi-Finals Rockingham-Mandurah 3/162 (Sutton 63, Simmons 43) b Perth 8/161 (Moir 40, Nelson 34*; Wright 3/17, Heal 2/42)

Wanneroo 114 (Charles 43; Mitchell 2/16, Tye 2/24) b Scarborough 90 (Stoinis 42; Quelch 4/21, Fawcett 2/9)

Final Rockingham-Mandurah 2/106 (Sutton 40*, Smith 35) b Wanneroo 102 (Charles 36, Dilena 15; Thomas 3/16, Wright 2/31)

WA broke a 31-year drought by winning the 2009-10 National Male Under 17 Championships in Adelaide.

The West Australian boys remained unbeaten at the tournament, winning six matches on the first innings and one outright. The icing on the cake came in the last game of the carnival when they crushed defending champions New South Wales by 204 runs to claim the State's first National Under 17 title since 1978-79.

Willetton wicket-keeper Cameron Bancroft was the star for WA, scoring 263 runs at an average of 43.8, and he also snared 22 dismissals (16 catches, six stumpings), which was one off the competition record.

Claremont-Nedlands opening batsman Will Bosisto recovered from a slow start to finish the carnival as one of its most prolific batsmen, with 309 runs at 61.8, including a top score of 122 in a thrilling win against Victoria in round five.

Willetton fast bowler Simon Mackin and Bayswater-Morley medium-pacer Ryan Wetherall each took 12 wickets for the tournament to be the leading WA bowlers.

Skipper Ashton Turner (Fremantle) snared 11 wickets bowling his off-spinners, while Subiaco-Floreat quick Ben O'Regan picked up nine scalps and impressed many astute judges with his pace and venom.

WACA High Performance Coach Lindsay Flinn, who was at the helm of the WA Under 17s, said the win was a great reward for the team.

"The players worked extremely hard leading up to the carnival and did themselves and their State proud with the way they conducted themselves on and off the field at the championships," Flinn said.

The Under 17s title continued a fantastic run by Western Australian teams at National Championship carnivals in recent seasons. WA took out the SchoolSport National Under 15s Championship in 2008-09 - a team that was led by Bosisto - and finished second at the National Under 17 and Under 19 titles in the same season.

WACA Chief Executive Officer Graeme Wood said the outstanding results are testimony to the hard work put in by many people involved with the teams.

"Having played in a victorious National Under 19 Championship for Western Australia I know that all involved will be extremely proud of the achievement and it will be a treasured memory long into the future," Wood said.

WA will attempt to defend their title when the 2010-11 Under 17 championships are held in Hobart next January.

UNDER 17 - MALE

WA got off to a dream start in Adelaide by beating Queensland and the Northern Territory in a Twenty20 double-header. WA batted first in the opening encounter against Queensland, posting 7/138 from their 20 overs. Fremantle's Brody Lewis top-scored with 35. Queensland was restricted to 7/128 in reply, with Willetton quick Simon Mackin the pick of the bowlers, taking 3/23 from his four overs.

WA backed up that victory with a 71-run thumping of Northern Territory in the afternoon fixture. WA made 7/170 - Willetton wicket-keeper Cameron Bancroft top-scoring with 46 - before holding NT to 9/99 from their 20 overs. Mackin replicated his efforts from earlier in the day, again taking 3/23 from four.

WA made it three from three with a crushing nine wicket defeat of Tasmania. The Apple Isle were dismissed for just 129 in the 44th over, and WA cruised to victory with just under 18 overs to spare. Bayswater-Morley's Ryan Wetherall picked up 4/22 in 8.3 overs, while Lewis (52 from 57) led the way with the willow.

WA climbed to the top of the points table after a convincing 80-run victory over hosts South Australia. The visitors recovered from a slow start to post 229, before dismissing SA for 149. Bancroft (47) and Midland-Guildford batsman Stephen Coniglio (43) combined for an 83-run fifth wicket stand, and Wetherall continued his great form, picking up 2/21 from his ten overs.

A sensational performance with the ball by WA skipper Ashton Turner saw his team chalk up a hard-fought 28-run win over Victoria. Fremantle's Turner captured 6/42 in 21 overs as Victoria was dismissed for 268 in reply to WA's total of 296. Claremont-Nedlands opener Will Bosisto struck a classy 122 to put WA on course for their big total, but Victoria looked headed for the win at 2/200. Turner inspired a stunning collapse as the Vics lost their last eight wickets for 68.

The WA boys had one hand on the trophy after a stirring outright win over the ACT. A horrible batting performance on day one saw WA concede the first innings result, but they turned it around on the second day with a stunning bowling effort as well as in the field to gain maximum points.

The ACT was dismissed for just 146 in their first innings, and WA was travelling well in reply at 2/49, but they lost wickets at regular intervals from that point forward to be bundled out for 113. The ACT's attempts to build a formidable lead were brought undone by Subiaco-Floreat paceman Ben O'Regan, who snared 4/29 from 11 overs, and they were eventually bowled out in their second dig for 150. Wetherall took 3/20, and Mackin (2/14 from nine) was the other successful bowler. WA was faced with the task of chasing 184 for the outright points and they achieved the target for the loss of five wickets. Bosisto made 50, and he was backed up by Turner (40), and Gosnells batsman Michael Bailey (37).

Victory against New South Wales in the final match of the tournament (see special report on page 105 of this publication) secured the title for WA - their first national success at Under 17 level in over three decades.

UNDER 17 - FEMALE

The WA girls kicked off their campaign in Brisbane with a thrilling one wicket win over the ACT. Sally Hocking finished with the excellent figures of 3/7 from six overs as the ACT was dismissed for 105. The WA run chase began disastrously as they slumped to 3/4, and things were looking grim at 7/47, but Lauren Mainwaring steadied the ship with a vital 23. She added 45 valuable runs with Emily Johnston (29 not out) to help take WA to victory with nine wickets down.

It was two from two after WA crushed Tasmania by 129 runs. WA made 9/192 after being sent in to bat, with Johnston notching up another unbeaten knock of 50 to lead the way for her side. Tasmania were bundled out for just 63 in reply. Hocking and Beth Wimbush both took 2/9 from four overs, while Captain Chloe Piparo captured 2/10 from three.

Inclement weather forced the abandonment of WA's Twenty20 double-header against South Australia and New South Wales, and the girls suffered defeats in both matches of the second T20 double-header against Queensland and Victoria.

The host State proved too strong in the morning fixture, posting a 45-run victory after setting WA the imposing task of scoring 160 runs to take the points. WA was gallant in the run chase but were held to 8/114. Midland-Guildford youngster Maddison Smith struck an unbeaten 41 from just 34 deliveries, while Taneale Peschel made 27 after taking 2/25 in the Queensland innings.

Victoria chalked up a 34-run win in the afternoon encounter. The Vics finished on 4/120 from their 20 overs before holding WA to 9/86.

The two teams met again in the third place play-off, and once again it was the powerful Victorian outfit that emerged triumphant with a 106-run victory. Big V openers Molly Strano (101 not out) and Gussie O'Sullivan (67 not out) piled on the runs as they finished on 0/225 from their 45 overs. WA was dismissed for 119 in the 31st over, with Piparo top-scoring (30).

WA's final result of two wins, three losses and two draws resulted in the girls finishing in the top four for the first time.

UNDER 19 - MALE

It was the best possible start for WA as they won both matches of their opening day Twenty20 double-header. They began the day with a comfortable 36-run victory over the ACT, before backing up in the afternoon with a thrilling six wicket defeat of Tasmania, achieved with just four deliveries to spare.

Promising Wanneroo all-rounder Anthony Del Borrello starred with the bat in both matches, striking 52 from 32 against the ACT in the morning fixture and contributing a blistering 72 from 48 a few hours later against Tassie, while Bayswater-Morley pacesman Luke Waterhouse took eight wickets in the two games to lead the way with the ball.

WA remained unbeaten after recording a rain-affected defeat of South Australia in their first 50-over match of the competition. WA recovered from the loss of both openers - the in-form Del Borrello and skipper Tom Beaton - with just five runs on the board to post a highly competitive 261. Scarborough batsman Marcus Harris (31) and Bayswater-Morley's Aaron Todd (27) got the WA innings back on track, and Rockingham-Mandurah wicket-keeper Sam Whiteman (79) combined with Scarborough all-rounder Darryl Mitchell (53) for a free-flowing 118-run sixth wicket stand which thrust WA into a position of strength. In reply, South Australia was 5/136 in the 34th over when rain forced the players from the field. The match was eventually abandoned, with WA declared the winners by 33 runs under the Duckworth/Lewis method.

A five wicket haul to Waterhouse and a brilliant century from Beaton ensured WA made it four out of four with a convincing seven wicket win over the Northern Territory. After winning the toss and batting, NT was dismissed for 242 with Waterhouse taking 5/38. Beaton then proceeded to belt the NT bowlers to all parts of the oval, striking 135 from just 82 deliveries, including eight boundaries and an astonishing 12 sixes, and helped to see WA home with 12.3 overs to spare.

WA suffered its first defeat after going down to Victoria in the first of their two-day fixtures. WA was dismissed for just 191 - a total that the Vics had no problem chasing down, surpassing the target with just one wicket down. They established a lead before declaring at 3/253. WA was 4/105 in its second innings when play ended for the match.

WA's powerful and in-form batting line-up struggled against a disciplined Victorian attack, slumping to 7/91 before a terrific 85-run stand between Sam Whiteman (62) and Chris Chellew (47) helped to steer their team to a respectable total. But Jake Hancock (135 not out) and Travis Dean (97) took the game away from WA with a brilliant partnership of 247 for the second wicket.

WA kept its title hopes alive after successfully negotiating a challenging run chase to defeat Queensland. Bulls rookie Jason Floros struck a superb Captain's knock of 102 to lead his team to 8/351 before he declared the Queensland innings closed. Andrew Cameron took 3/66 to be the best of the WA bowlers. In reply, WA was teetering on the brink at 3/139 until Phil Adams and Beaton (74) came together to punish the Queensland bowlers in a blistering 145-run stand. Adams was eventually dismissed for a magnificent 171, which saw proceedings come to a close with WA 6/373.

WA finished third after playing out a draw against champions NSW in their final match of the carnival. NSW batted first and posted 412, to which WA replied with 7/223.

WA won five matches at the carnival, suffered one defeat at the hands of second placed Victoria and drew one match against NSW. Meanwhile, three WA players - Beaton, Adams and Waterhouse - were named in the 2009-10 Under 19 Team of the Championships.

CRICKET AUSTRALIA WOMEN'S CUP

WA began with a win over the ACT in a 50-over match. After winning the toss and electing to bat, the ACT put together a handy innings of 9/184. Spinner Mel Holmes (4/33) and all-rounder Emma King (2/33) did the handy work for WA with the ball. Donna Brown got WA off to a wonderful start in the run chase with 65, which included four boundaries. She teamed up with Carla Hunter (32) for a match-winning 61-run second-wicket stand. The regular loss of wickets did not stop the WA women from passing the target in the 46th over with eight wickets down.

It was mixed results in a Twenty20 double-header the following day. WA recorded a win against Tasmania in the morning fixture. Tassie made 8/103 after winning the toss, with WA skipper Lauren Shave (4/22) doing the damage. Hunter (31) and Brown (21) again led the charge for the home side, and they passed the victory target with five wickets down and three balls to spare.

Victoria emerged with a win from the afternoon match. WA crawled to 7/101 - Brown again the leading run maker with 39. The target posed few problems for the Vics, who recorded victory in the 19th over for the loss of just three wickets.

It was a win and a loss once again in the second of the Twenty20 double-headers, with WA falling to an 18-run loss to New South Wales in the morning game but hitting back to down Queensland by four wickets later in the day.

NSW made 7/111 from their 20 overs, and despite the efforts of King (28) and Emily Rixon (19), WA could only muster 7/94.

WA batted first against Queensland and reached a solid 6/113, with Rixon (35) the top contributor. Pace bowlers Rachael Giggins (2/1) and Kate Burns (2/24) and all-rounder Emma Biss (2/15) then came out of the woodwork to lead the WA attack, which ousted the opposition for 100 in the final over.

WA toppled South Australia to secure a place among the top half of the table. Defending their total of 204, Holmes' frugal bowling (3/30 off 10 overs) was a major factor in routing their opponents for just 121 in the 37th over.

WA finished fourth following a loss in their third place play-off against Queensland by six wickets. After winning the toss and batting, WA was dismissed for 96 in the 42nd over. Brown again led the way with 20. In reply, Queensland passed the total with more than 20 overs to spare. Holmes picked up two wickets to give her 11 for the tournament - the most for the West Aussie women.

FUTURES LEAGUE

There was a new look to the competition formerly known as the Cricket Australia Cup in 2009-10, replaced by the Futures League.

The formation of the Futures League, along with a separate Futures League Twenty20 tournament, came after a High Performance Pathway Review undertaken by Cricket Australia, and aimed to increase opportunities for State rookies and emerging players.

Some fresh innovations to the playing conditions were a feature of the three-day competition, including allowing just three players over the age of 23 in each team's starting line-up, and eight points on offer for an outright result to reward positive and attacking cricket.

Each side was allowed a maximum of 144 overs in their first innings and 96 overs in the second innings to encourage aggressive declarations and innovative tactics. No team was able to take a second new-ball at any stage, encouraging captains to look to spinners, who gathered bonus points for their team with every wicket taken, and reverse swing specialists.

Western Australia, who had been a dominant force in the Cricket Australia Cup over the previous two summers, found the going tougher in 2009-10, placing sixth on the inaugural Futures League points table after winning two matches outright, and being beaten on the first innings on three occasions along with one outright defeat.

WA fared a lot better in the Futures League Twenty20 tournament, held in Melbourne just prior to Christmas, with the David Bandy-led side crowned champions despite the final against Tasmania being abandoned without a ball bowled.

Persistent rain in Melbourne meant no play was possible at the Junction Oval, but WA was declared the victors as they had topped their pool without losing a match and finished with more points than Tasmania in the preliminary rounds.

There was a double celebration with Retravision Warriors all-rounder Nathan Coulter-Nile (pictured above) presented with the Player of the Tournament trophy. Coulter-Nile blasted a magnificent 94 not out from only 42 deliveries in WA's final preliminary match against CA's Centre of Excellence team, ensuring his team progressed to the final, and also took four wickets.

That performance helped to catapult Coulter-Nile to the Retravision Warriors team and he became a regular in the starting line-up across all three formats in the latter half of the 2009-10 interstate season.

The issues around the recruitment and retention of umpires has always occupied the attention of any person involved with sports in which the match officials are ostensibly volunteers. Cricket is not immune from this. The WACA has, as a goal, the provision of two umpires to all matches under its control. Whilst this was not achieved on any regular basis, the introduction of more than 20 new umpires to senior District cricket was a pleasing outcome from the pre-season program. 56 people, with varying reasons, enrolled in the Cricket Australia (CA) Level Two Accreditation program. This doubled regular numbers of previous occasions. Not all came along with the desire to become umpires. Whether they are players, coaches, teachers or parents improving peoples, understanding of the holistic requirements of an official is part of the general development of the sport.

Progress continues in the development of the role of the Regional Umpire Coordinator. There has been a steady increase in the numbers of accredited umpires in country areas. For the first time an umpire from regional WA was offered a subsidy to attend the CSBP Senior Country Week. His selection was based on performance within his Association and commitment to his development. It is hoped to expand this system next season.

A strategic priority of the WACA is to encourage a new generation of young umpires to officiate in junior WACA competitions. This has proved very successful, with six teenage umpires doing the majority of officiating in the McKenzie and Inverarity Shield competitions. The two umpires in the Grand Final - Eddie Fowler and Sam Chojnowski - were aged 17 and 16, and did an outstanding job.

Another highlight was the effort of Chris McCann to be selected to make his First Grade debut in only his second season. Chris was 19, becoming the youngest ever First Grade umpire. In a subsequent match, Chris was teamed with Trent Steenholdt, who is only 20 himself. They represent the future of cricket umpiring.

NATIONAL AND STATE REPRESENTATION

Western Australia was represented by three CA National Panel umpires during 2009-10. Ian Lock, Jeff Brookes and Mick Martell have continued the fine tradition of WACA officials operating at this level. Paul Wilson was appointed to his first Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield match as an on-field umpire and continues to successfully make the transition from player to official.

Nathan Johnstone represented WA at the Australian Under 19 championships and Dean Trigg stood at the Under 17 national titles. Both were recognised as having very pleasing carnivals. Todd Rann and Matthew Hall were the other State Panel representatives participating in Futures League and WNCL matches.

DISTRICT CRICKET

Once again the WACA appointed umpires to men's senior and junior, women's, masters, and McKenzie Shield and Inverarity Shield competitions. Matches from First to Third Grade had two umpires appointed to every round. All matches across the other competitions were able to have at least one umpire appointed.

The Retravision Shield First Grade Grand Final was officiated by Ian Lock and Jeff Brookes. The lower grade finals were umpired by Mick Martell and Paul Wilson (Second Grade), Todd Rann and Dean Trigg (Third Grade) and Matthew Hall and Trent Steenholdt (Fourth Grade)

UMPIRE APPOINTMENT BOARD

A new member was added to the Umpires Appointment Board (UAB) with Peter Loader retiring and recently-retired State Panel official Dean Chamberlain elected to the vacancy. The other members continuing were Terry Prue (elected as Chairman), Graeme Bibby and Keith Rinaldi.

The UAB met after every second round to review performances, and regular reports were provided to the District Cricket Club Council. Umpires were ranked and appointments made based on their ranking.

The UAB nominated umpires for recognition by the WACUA awards were as follows:

- Peter McConnell Medal Chris McCann
- Best First Grade Umpire Ian Lock
- Best Second Grade Umpire Chris McCann
- Best Third Grade Umpire Brett Shortland
- Best Fourth Grade Umpire Rex Evans

In the ongoing quest for a rise in sustainable participation in WA, an increase of 11.77% was recorded in 2009-10, the second biggest for all Australian States and territories.

The WA regions where participation increases were strongest:

- Goldfields 72%
- Kimberley 48%
- Mid-West 30%
- South West Metro 22%
- Central Districts 18%

There was a 20% increase in the MILO in2CRICKET Program, reflecting the enhanced focus and investment in the program by Cricket Australia and the WACA. The addition of the figures from the Australian Sports Commission Active After-school Communities program (approximately 3,000) added markedly to the rise.

Again there was a growth in school competitions. The Junior School Competition/Carnival format proving particularly popular with school teachers, with over 40% of WA schools participating.

For Western Australia to make an optimum contribution to Game Development in Australia, there will need to be an increased focus on the following:

- Supporting the work of the volunteers that deliver cricket programs in WA, including training in the My Cricket Competition Database and Registration program.
- Provision of Twenty20 formats across all stakeholders, particularly in the teenage sector.
- Implementation of all recommendations of the Metropolitan Cricket Facility Strategy.
- Attracting new people to the game, particularly those demographic groups that have not traditionally been involved in cricket.

MILO in2CRICKET Program

The MILO in2CRICKET program is the national entry level program for boys and girls aged between five and ten years. The program has two tiers - Have-A-Go and Have-A-Game. Both cater for individual skill and age level. Participants in the in2CRICKET program receive a structured 6-12 week program that is dedicated to helping children learn to play cricket in a safe, inclusive and non-threatening environment. The in2CRICKET program is delivered by volunteers, primarily at community junior cricket clubs, as well as primary schools and community centres throughout Western Australia.

There was a 22% overall participation increase for the program throughout the State in season 2009-10. In total, more than 6,000 young Western Australian boys and girls signed up to and took part in the program, highlighting the importance to junior community clubs who use the program to underpin their club structure. The number of centres offering the program in WA also increased by 10% to 143.

There was a strong in2CRICKET focus during the WACA's annual Awareness and Recruitment Campaign (ARC), which takes place in the months of June to September. Credit must be given to the WACA SunSmart Cricket Officers who promoted the program heavily in schools throughout metropolitan and regional Western Australia. This, coupled with the Cricket Australia television commercials run throughout the winter months while Australia took on England in the 2009 Ashes series and the promotional work that centres conducted themselves, ensured that the program recruited new participants. While the latter is extremely important, it is equally vital that a child's first cricketing experience at an in2CRICKET centre is a positive one.

The success of the program cannot be achieved without the centres who offer quality in2CRICKET programs, and the volunteers who coordinate and deliver the program each and every week. In recognition of the valuable contribution that in2CRICKET coordinators and volunteers make to the program, the WACA hosts a number of events which, in season 2009-10, included a season launch at the first Ford Ranger Cup match at the WACA Ground, where WACA CEO Graeme Wood addressed the attendees, as well as an in2CRICKET coordinator/volunteer function at the WACA Test Match, where more than 160 people attended day three of the clash between Australia and the West Indies and enjoyed prime reserved seating while enjoying the cricket and WACA hospitality.

Other highlights over the 2009-10 season include:

- Colin Rose, from the Whitfords MILO in2CRICKET centre, won the in2CRICKET Volunteer of the Year in Western Australia and attended the Allan Border Medal in Melbourne where his work was recognised by Cricket Australia. The WACA congratulates Colin for his achievements and his continued support of the program.
- The Goldfields Region experienced a growth of 109%. In total, 511 children took part in the program.
- The Scarborough District experienced a growth of 107%, with 497 children taking part in the program.
- The WACA piloted in2CRICKET "Super Sessions" in the Bayswater-Morley, Gosnells, Melville and Scarborough districts. The "Super Sessions" involved a number of local centres gathering at a central venue within each district and participating in an in2CRICKET session with the assistance of WACA SunSmart Cricket Officers and Retravision Warriors and Western Fury squad members. Due to the success of the "Super Sessions" it is anticipated more will be held in 2010-11.

- Canning Vale in2CRICKET centre was selected to attend the Australian team training prior to the 3 mobile Test Match against the West Indies at the WACA Ground. 50 lucky participants got to watch a net session in a special reserved area and then took part in an in2CRICKET session on the WACA outfield. This was followed by a visit from Aussie Test stars Marcus North and Mitchell Johnson, and Commonwealth Bank Southern Stars player Lauren Ebsary
- 19 MILO in2CRICKET participants took part in the anthem ceremony prior to the start of play on day one of the WACA Test Match.
- 640 MILO in2CRICKET children took part in the on-ground entertainment during the lunch interval of days 1-4 at the WACA Test Match.

The WACA will continue to provide support to in2CRICKET centres through the provision of promotional activities, administrative support, equipment for new and returning centres, funding, coordinator and volunteer/parent coach education and in-servicing.

Moving forward into 2010-11 and beyond, the WACA is anticipating that the program will go from strength to strength with continued promotion, advertising and investment into the MILO in2CRICKET program. The continued growth of the program will help secure the future of Australian cricket and to make it our nation's favourite sport.

MILO Schools Programs

MILO continued to support Schools Cricket Programs both nationally and throughout Western Australia in season 2009-10. This support ensures the WACA is able to employ 12 Metropolitan Cricket Officers and seven Regional Cricket Officers.

MILO in2CRICKET SCHOOL AMBASSADOR PROGRAM

The WACA's School Cricket Warrior Program has been operating for several seasons, but it was merged this season with the national MILO in2CRICKET School Ambassador Program.

The MILO in2CRICKET School Ambassador Program is similar to the School Cricket Warrior Program run by Western Australia in the past and is still free for schools. This season saw 91 new teachers join the program to take the total numbers to over 180 across the State.

There were two opportunities for teachers to complete either an Orientation to Coaching or Level One course. 60 teachers attended and secured coaching accreditation.

Teachers involved in the program act as ambassadors for cricket within their school promoting the game to students. The WACA acknowledges the benefits this program provides in developing important relationships with schools all over Western Australia. The WACA is committed to the new format of the program and will be looking to expand to more schools across WA.

Warriors / Fury Shields

The Warrior and Fury Shields are a vital component of the WACA's School Program. They allow primary school aged students the opportunity to participate in a modified cricket format, designed for maximum enjoyment. Schools compete against each other in a round robin carnival.

The 2009-10 season saw an 18% increase, with 13,594 students participating in Warrior and Fury Shields - 8,158 boys and 5,436 girls.

SunSmart Secondary Schools Competitions

KIM HUGHES SHIELD (TOP TIER LIMITED OVERS)

The 2010 season saw eight metropolitan and six regional sides battle it out for the coveted Kim Hughes Shield, a 50 overs-a-side competition. Due to a shorter term, teams were divided into north and south pools for the preliminary rounds, with a cross-over at the quarter final stage.

Kent Street SHS and John Forrest SHS made it to the final by beating Bunbury SHS and Mary MacKillop College respectively. John Forrest bounced back from a disappointing 2009 season by beating their arch rivals in a thrilling final at UWA's James Oval.

The School Cricket Council and the WACA express their thanks to SunSmart and University Cricket Club for their generous support of this prestigious tournament.

GRAEME WOOD SHIELD (SECOND TIER LIMITED OVERS)

The Graeme Wood Shield attracted a record 47 metropolitan and regional schools with all the matches being played under Twenty20 playing conditions. The shorter format of the games enabled more schools to compete this year, resulting in earlier finishing times and some exciting finishes.

The semi-finals and final were held at Britannia Oval on 26 March 2010. The four schools competing were Albany SHS, Mazenod College, St Mark's Anglican Community School and Rockingham SHS.

The final pitted Albany SHS against Mazenod, and it was the country lads who took home the coveted Graeme Wood Shield, making their long journey to Perth worthwhile. It is the first time a regional school outside of the South West has won the Shield.

GEOFF MARSH SHIELD (BOYS SUPER 8s)

The Super 8s competition continued its growth this year with a north and south carnival taking place and over 26 sides competing. The top three teams from each carnival made it through to the finals day, which was held at Harold Rossiter Park.

CBC Fremantle and Lesmurdie SHS were stuck on top at the end of the finals day with an equal winning rate. Bases on quotient, CBC Fremantle were declared the winners.

PETA VERCO SHIELD (GIRLS SUPER 8s)

The girls' Super 8s competition was a highlight of the SunSmart Secondary Schools Competition in 2010, with a record 22 teams taking part.

North and south carnivals were held at the same time and ground as the boys, with the top three sides from each carnival progressing to the finals day.

Rockingham SHS were the winners after going unbeaten throughout the competition, with Lesmurdie SHS the runners-up.

SUNSMART SUPER 8s (YEAR 8/9)

This season's SunSmart Super 8s competition saw 67 teams from 28 different schools taking part. Winners from their respective groups were: St Stephens (Boys North), Newman College (Girls North), CBC Fremantle (Boys South) and Kent Street SHS (Girls South).

ASSOCIATED CATHOLIC COLLEGES XI v COMBINED GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS XI

Associated Catholic Colleges again took on the Government Schools XI in their annual representative clash, which gives talented students a chance to play cricket at the hallowed WACA Ground.

Retravisation Warriors all-rounder Drew Porter was on hand to present caps to the delighted participants, and the Government Schools XI continued their golden run in this representative match, running out victors in comfortable fashion. They have now won four encounters in a row.

SunSmart

Many thanks to our sponsor Healthway and the WA Cancer Council, through the SunSmart message, for providing valuable support to the Secondary Schools Competition. SunSmart provide financial assistance whilst sending a clear message to all students on the importance of healthy living and being active. The WACA and WASCC greatly appreciate the WA Cancer Council's and Healthway's support of cricket in WA and hope to continue this partnership well into the future.

WA Schools Cricket Council

Thanks must go to the WASCC for their continued support of the SunSmart Secondary School Competition, and for their commitment to promoting and developing the game of cricket throughout WA schools. Special mention should be made of Barry Kennedy's contribution to the Council. His work during the season in his role as President has been much appreciated by all concerned.

WA Schools Cricket Council Members

- Mr Barry Kennedy (Chairman)
- Mr Peter Green (Vice Chairman)
- Mr Kyle March (ACC)
- Mr Luke Watson (PSA)
- Mr Alby Nuich (School Sport WA)
- Mr Scott Ogilvie (Schools Representative - NW)

- Mr David Tomlin (Schools Representative - SE)

National Cricket Insurance Scheme

The WACA again facilitated the National Cricket Insurance Program, which invites clubs and Associations to gain insurance for members at a discounted rate due to Australia-wide involvement from all State Associations. The participation rate of WA clubs was over 90%.

Volunteer Recognition

Throughout the 2009-10 season, the WACA continued to provide recognition of the wonderful support it receives from cricket volunteers throughout the State. These men and women are essential for the growth of cricket within Western Australia. Volunteers from regional and metropolitan WA, including Have-A-Go centre coordinators, were invited to a Volunteers Day at the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash match between the Retravision Warriors and South Australia in late December.

MIL0 in2CRICKET coordinators each received two invitations to attend day three of the 3 mobile Test Match featuring Australia and the West Indies at the WACA Ground.

Again, thank you to all volunteers who assisted in another highly successful summer of cricket. The support provided cannot be underestimated.

Indigenous Cricket

The 2009-10 Indigenous Cricket Program was greatly assisted by funding from:

- The Western Australian Cricket Association
- The Department of Sport and Recreation
- Cricket Australia
- Packer Foundation
- Lord's Taverners WA

The Western Australian Aboriginal Advisory Committee (WAAAC), along with the WACA, would like to thank these organisations for the wonderful level of support they provide to the program. The result of their assistance is starting to be seen with the development of Indigenous players across the State.

IMPARJA CUP 2010

See report on page 117 of this publication.

COUNTRY WEEK

After taking out the B Section premiership in 2008-09, the Indigenous XI team were elevated to A Section for last summer's CSBP Senior Country Week.

The team was skippered by Gerard 'Warky' Ugle, who not only led with authority but had been very active in promoting the team to prospective players through out the State.

The lads played five matches in five days at grounds across the Perth metropolitan area, finishing with three wins and two losses and placing second in their division. This was not enough to see the team progress to the final, but all players could be proud of their efforts.

Dane Ugle received the Player of the Day honour in the latter stages of the carnival and was also named in the CSBP Country Week All-Stars Team.

YOUTH TOUR

The Indigenous Youth Tour for 2010 was held at Fairbridge, Pinjarra, from 24-28 January and with 16 players in attendance.

The camp began with a training session, giving players an opportunity to interact and get to know each other. The first game was against Rockingham-Mandurah's Under 14 team at Lark Hill. The Indigenous boys were competitive, but not at the same stage of development as the Mariners' players.

Game two saw the Indigenous XI take on Warnbro. Both teams played well, but it was the Indigenous XI who took the honours with a 46-run victory, and carried on that good form against Singleton in their final outing. By the time the last fixture arrived, the players were working well together and demonstrating their skills.

Gerard Ugle

The players also had the chance to participate in recreational activities such as rock climbing, the giant swing, using the Fairbridge pool, going to the beach and going to the local arcade.

Overall, the players gained valuable experience and it is planned to conduct this camp annually to help develop talented Indigenous players.

AVONVALE

The 2009-10 season saw Avon West Gold crowned premiers for Northam Junior Cricket Association's Under 13 competition. The final was won off the last ball of a 'super over' after scores had been tied in a thrilling play-off.

AWARDS

- Joshua Garlett - MVP in the final, Mark Davis Sr Award for club MVP
- Sam Bennell - batting aggregate and bowling aggregate, MVP for the competition
- Joe Moody-Jackamarra and Crystal Matthews - Coaches Awards
- Gordon Narrier - Future Warrior
- Tanaya Davis - Future Fury

Obituary - Gerard Ugle

WA country and Indigenous cricket lost one of its valued and experienced members when Gerard Ugle, from Beverley, passed away tragically whilst playing a football match.

At 34, Gerard was in the twilight of his long and successful cricket career. He was a regular in Senior Country Week, first with Avon and then in more recent years with the WA Indigenous XI. Gerard captained that team in the 2010 competition, which was their first in the A Section after climbing from D Section five years ago.

Gerard was instrumental in recruiting players to the WA Indigenous team, making many phone calls and acting as a liaison with the WACA. In club cricket, Gerard had only recently moved back to Beverley after three years playing with the Paraburdoo Saints as their Captain. This was after many seasons with Beverley in the Avon Association.

Gerard also represented Western Australia four times at the Iparja Cup - the national Indigenous cricket championships. A major highlight came in 2007 when he was selected in the Black Caps Honour Squad, which recognised players for their outstanding performances at the titles.

Gerard was a clever swing bowler, moving the ball both ways and using his strong shoulder to get response from the pitch. He rarely bowled a bad ball. He was a hard-hitting middle-order batsman, using his enormous power to telling effect and regularly clearing the boundary on the leg side.

Gerard leaves behind a loving wife and children, his parents, two brothers and an extended Ugle family where cricket is well ingrained in its fabric. The WACA wishes them all comfort in time to come and is extremely thankful of Gerard's contribution to cricket in this State.

History was made in Alice Springs in February 2010 when Western Australia took out its first Imparja Cup, defeating New South Wales in the final of the 17th edition of the national Indigenous cricket carnival at Traegar Park.

The Western Australians remained unbeaten throughout the tournament under the coaching of former Test spinner Bruce Yardley, with all-rounder Dane Ugle capping a remarkable week of three half-centuries and consistent wicket taking by being named Player of the Tournament.

A 13-man team departed for the showcase of Indigenous cricket in Australia, which included five representatives from WACA District clubs along with a cricketer from each of three country zones (Albany, Northam and Tom Price), three from the Peel Association and two from senior metropolitan clubs. The talented squad contained a good balance of youth and experience. Multiple batting combinations were trialled throughout the week until the order was set for the final.

New South Wales batted first in the play-off and were dismissed for 110 as the WA bowling group of Dane and Keren Ugle, William Nona and Julien Feehan complemented each other brilliantly to strangle the NSW bats. Tyson Jolly, with 30, was the sole major batting contributor for the runners-up.

In reply, despite losing Dane Ugle for 12, WA reached the target comfortably for the loss of five wickets in a tick over 23 overs. Gosnells product Michael Bailey top scored with 33 as the Western Australians delivered on the promise shown in recent Imparja Cups, taking home the title with a mix of brilliance along with methodical, well-drilled cricket.

Four WA players were included in the Black Caps Honour squad for the tournament - Dane Ugle, Liam Ugle, Lewis Upton and Julien Feehan. Dane Ugle, Upton, Feehan and Bailey were the four Western Australians named in an Under 23 Indigenous Development Squad.

The WA squad is looking to go back-to-back in next season's tournament, and believe they can do so with their diverse playing group.

The Imparja Cup is partnered by the Lord's Taverners and Commonwealth Bank.

The Community Junior Cricket Council (CJCC) manages junior community cricket in Perth. It is run by its Member bodies, being the following:

- Bayswater Morley-Mount Lawley Junior Cricket Association
- Midland-Guildford Junior Cricket Association
- North West Metropolitan Cricket Association
- Peel Junior Cricket Association
- South East Metropolitan Junior Cricket Association
- South West Metropolitan Junior Cricket Association

Each of these associations administers a competition made up of clubs. 85% of these clubs deliver a MILO in2CRICKET centre, as well as traditional organised teams.

The CJCC has three major objectives:

- Consistently increase sustainable participation in junior cricket.
- Strengthen the links between junior and senior cricket at all levels.
- Formulate, formalise, and implement policy to assist in growth and healthy, active participation.

The WACA pays a Game Development grant of $50,000 to the CJCC and they have tied the grant to outcomes achieved in Coach Accreditation Levels. This has had the immediate effect of increasing the demand on the WACA to deliver more Level One coaching courses.

BAYSWATER-MORLEY / MOUNT LAWLEY JUNIOR CRICKET ASSOCIATION

The Bayswater Morley-Mount Lawley Junior Cricket Association consists of 15 clubs extending from Leederville in the west to Beechboro/Lockridge in the east, and from Ballajura in the north to Maylands in the south. These clubs fielded 117 teams in the 2009-10 season, which reflects the strength of junior cricket within the area.

In conjunction with the CJCC and the WACA, the BMML Junior Cricket Association continues to grow in stature. We saw an increase in players, accredited coaches and volunteers last summer. With the input of the two WACA Cricket Officers and the interest generated by upcoming international matches in WA, participant levels look set to rise again next season. The increasing popularity of MILO in2CRICKET has seen 80% of clubs provide centres for children aged five to ten to begin their cricketing journey.

The family friendly culture of the Association provides a great social atmosphere at games and promotes a happy healthy lifestyle for the parents and children. This successful formula has seen many BMML juniors further their cricketing careers in WACA District or senior community cricket within the area.

MIDLAND GUILDFORD JUNIOR CRICKET ASSOCIATION

The 2009-10 season at MGJCA saw an increase in teams playing in all age groups, a healthy place for the sport to find itself in. The area's 'Club as a Hub' function produced some very interesting discussions with local governments towards planning for increases in facilities to cater for this growth, as there are pressures on current facilities around the area.

Under 9s trialled a 'hubbed' Super 8s format, with Swan Valley and Ellenbrook Juniors taking to the fields on a Friday evening. Not only did the players have a great time, but the parents enjoyed the social aspects and also were more prepared to help out by learning coaching skills to take into the future. The 'hubbing' also helped to reduce pitch availability on Sunday mornings for the older age groups.

The new BoQ Junior Oval will come into play early in 2011 as the turf takes good hold. Ellenbrook's District Open Space planning is now officially underway, with the local club and MGJCA being active in pushing the City of Swan into action.

The MGJCA were also involved in putting together the annual Midland Guildford school holiday clinics, as well as workshops specifically aimed at Level One coaches and players and focusing on spin and pace bowling. Over 120 kids participated and 20 coaches came along. A total of 37 new coaches completed the Level One course held at High Wycombe's Scott Reserve.

2010-11 will be a consolidation year building the competitions. There will be more skills training during the season, with the help of the WACA.

NORTH WEST METROPOLITAN CRICKET ASSOCIATION

The NWMCA is affiliated with the Community Junior Cricket Council and comprises 17 clubs.

In 2009-10 there were over 2700 players participating in 212 teams for age groups from Under 10s to Under 17s. The competition is structured into three zones of North, Central and South for the younger age groups, who play modified forms of the game. For the older age groups, there are North and South competitions as they move towards traditional cricket rules.

The gradual increase from modified to traditional rules as the age of the players increases has seen a greater retention rate of players moving into senior ranks when they leave school.

In addition to the 212 teams registered, the NWMCA has a nursery of 1330 participants ranging from five to eight years of age in the MILO in2CRICKET program.

Apart from providing a vibrant cricket competition and helping to identify players with the desire and ability to participate in the WACA's District cricket program, the NWMCA play an important role in providing a pathway and assisting all players into a senior team that is commensurate with the players development and desired level of competitiveness.

PEEL JUNIOR CRICKET ASSOCIATION

2009-10 was a busy year for Peel junior cricket. Another successful carnival against Bunbury was staged, with matches played around the Peel region for kids aged 13 to 15. The Central Districts region got involved as well, with teams from Narrogin travelling to Singleton to compete in regional matches against Peel Junior Cricket Association sides.

SOUTH EAST METROPOLITAN JUNIOR CRICKET

The SEMJCC, under the umbrella of the Community Junior Cricket Council (CJCC), administers in an area that stretches from Armadale in the south, to South Perth in the north and east to Roleystone/Karragullen.

The SEMJCC previously consisted of 16 clubs but will be reduced to 15 for the future with the merger of the Lesmurdie and Mazenod junior cricket clubs.

In 2009-10 120 teams participated in competitions from all age groups from Under 10s to Under 17s, which represents about 1550 young people playing community cricket in the zone. With the added interest in the upcoming Ashes series in Australia, there is an anticipation of an increase in numbers for season 2010-11.

There are currently three WACA Cricket Officers operating within the zone, and in conjunction with the SEMJCC and the member clubs they have worked hard at increasing the number of Cricket Australia accredited coaches. We are very pleased that we have reached our initial target of 70% of all coaches now being accredited.

The SEMJCC believes that community cricket should not only be played by the rules of the CJCC but also in the spirit of cricket. To this end, all clubs have signed off on our code of conduct for players, coaches and parents, and we are proud to have a zone where player performances are applauded not only by their own team and spectators but also by the opposition. This has helped to build a culture where it is commonplace for players to be retained within the zone's competitions from Under 10s right through to Under 17s.

SOUTH WEST METROPOLITAN JUNIOR CRICKET COUNCIL

The SWMJCC is the representative and administration body for community junior cricket clubs in the Fremantle, Melville and Cockburn areas.

The nine clubs that play within the SWMJCC zone are Ardross, Bateman, Bicton, East Fremantle, Cockburn, Jandakot, Leeming, Hilton and Kardinya.

In the 2009-10 season there were 1396 players registered in the SWMJCC playing in 120 teams from Under 9s to Under 17s.

The SWMJCC is unique in the fact that it has adopted a 'quarters' cricket format for the Under 12s to Under 15s age groups. 'Quarters' cricket facilitates greater participation for the players, making cricket all the more enjoyable.

The SWMJCC Under 9s competition has proven to be a fantastic success and now provides boys and girls with a truly defined community cricket pathway starting at MILO in2CRICKET (5-8 year olds) through to Under 17s.

The SWMJCC zone is supported with two WACA Cricket Officers for the Fremantle/Cockburn and Melville regions, who provide specialist assistance both to the zone and directly to the clubs.

The SWMJCC prides itself on being one of the most well run, well supported and well respected community junior cricket associations in the Perth metropolitan area.

SCARBOROUGH FIRST GRADE PREMIERS LINE-UP:

Scarborough became the second most successful side in WACA District history following their 240-run win over Joondalup in the Retravision Shield First Grade Grand Final at the WACA Ground. The Gulls' run of four successive premierships has only been bettered by North Perth's six in a row from 1913-14 to 1918-19.

Scarborough batted first and lost Marcus Stoinis (11) with the score at 21 before Marcus Harris (75) and skipper Clint Heron (36) put on 70 for the second wicket and Harris combined with Retravision Warrior Theo Doropoulos to put the Gulls in a position of strength at 2/171.

Having resumed on day two at 4/337, the runs continued to flow as Doropoulos and Justin Coetzee (82) added a total of 189 for the fifth wicket. Man of the Match Doropoulos was there at the declaration, unbeaten after a sterling innings of 169. Scarborough's innings had come to a close with the score at a near-impenetrable 6/418 from 112 overs.

The Joondalup bowlers worked tirelessly with the trio of Michael Swart (3/72 from 28), Denver D'Cruz (3/117 from 29) and James Boyland (0/176 from 40) called on to do the bulk of the work.

The Centurions tried valiantly with the bat, but were unable to make significant contributions to pressure Scarborough and were dismissed for 178 soon after the tea interval. Openers James Newnham (26) and Michael Swart (20) both passed twenty, but the next five batsmen made just 56 runs between them.

Coming in at 6/85, First Grade debutant Chris Hutchinson made a defiant 66 which included 10 fours and three sixes, but it was a case of a little too late for Joondalup.

Ty Hopes was the pick of the bowlers, snaring 4/56, and he received strong support from Andrew Tye (3/18) and Simon Branston (2/52) to ensure that a fourth successive premiership was headed to Abbe Park.

In Second Grade, Bayswater-Morley once again secured the premiership after an innings of 110 from Captain Brendan Mills and an unbeaten 80 from Grant Thistle were the catalyst for a 229-run win over Joondalup in the final at Stevens Reserve.

In Third Grade, Subiaco-Floreat's total of 347 in the decider at Stevens Reserve was too much for Bayswater-Morley to chase down, with the Bears making 232 in reply. Despite almost 600 runs being scored in the match, only three Lions - Nicholas Partridge (59), Daniel Barnes and Davinder Sandhu (both 54) - managed to reach half-centuries.

In a gripping Fourth Grade finale, South Perth won by 17 runs on first innings against Willetton, but had to hold out for almost 30 minutes with one wicket in hand on the second evening to avoid outright defeat at James Oval.

Perth was victorious by 123 runs in the Sunday League final at the WACA Ground, having successfully defended 204 against Scarborough, who were bundled out for 81. Man of the Match Michael Paterson scored 80 for the Demons and all-rounder Dean Nelson finished unbeaten on 38. Branston took 4/35 from his 10 overs and Daryl Mitchell picked up 3/39.

Paul Nicholas took the first three wickets of the Gulls' innings and the batting side never recovered, slumping to 7/39 before being dismissed in the 26th over.

Fremantle claimed the second WACA Under 18 Twenty20 title when they beat Bayswater-Morley by 50 runs in the final at Stevens Reserve. The home side made 6/143 with Ashton Turner (47) and Daniel Kennedy (33 not out) leading the way, while Ross Loiacono (2/28) was best with the ball. The Bears were dismissed for just 93 in reply. Notarangelo top-scored with 23, but it was the destructive Clayton Caltsounis (4/13) who dominated proceedings for the port club.

Rockingham-Mandurah took out their maiden senior WACA competition title after emerging victorious from the Statewide Twenty20 finals day at Fletcher Park. In the morning matches, the Mariners defeated semi-final favourites Perth, whilst Wanneroo upset Scarborough in the other semi to set up a north versus south battle for the crown.

Rockingham-Mandurah went on to defeat the Roos by eight wickets in the final. Opener Brayden Sutton was the star of the day for the Mariners, belting 63 in the semi-final win over the Demons and backing up with an unbeaten 40 in the final.

Wanneroo made 102 in the decider, with skipper Joel Charles making 36, but wickets fell too regularly to make an imposing total. Spinner Liam Thomas took 3/16 for the Mariners and Ben Wright nabbed 2/31. Rockingham-Mandurah made light work of the target. Craig Smith was there at the end with Sutton on 35 not out.

Subiaco-Floreat was successful in the WACA Colts final against neighbours Claremont-Nedlands at Floreat Oval by 37 runs. A century from A.J. Murphy set the home side on course for victory with a score of 9/201. He was supported by the bowling efforts of James Sansalone (3/38), Jason Behrendorff (2/21) and Tim Monteleone (2/36) as the Tigers were dismissed for 164 in reply.

Wanneroo were narrow winners against Fremantle in the Under 17 final at Lilac Hill, the Under 15 final was won by South Perth against a valiant Midland-Guildford at Iluka, Fremantle took out the McKenzie Shield at Breckler Park against Bayswater-Morley and Willetton secured the Inverarity Shield at Tompkins Park at the expense of Midland-Guildford.

Mount Lawley paceman Paul Davis and Willetton all-rounder Matthew Johnston were deserving joint winners of the 2009-10 Olly Cooley Medal with 18 votes apiece. Davis snared 51 wickets at 14.31 for the season, including 20 in the last two rounds in a barnstorming finish, whilst Johnston scored 706 runs and took 48 scalps for the Dragons.

Joondalup paceman James Boyland finished third with 15 votes, 2004-05 winner Jim Allenby (Claremont-Nedlands) polled 14, while Reece O'Connell (Willetton) and Patrick Molinari (University) finished with 13.

Wanneroo's second wicket at Kingsway Reserve won the Roy Abbott Best Pitch Award with an average rating of 8.66 out of 10. Nine of the 32 grounds received a rating in excess of eight points. Melville's second wicket at Tompkins Park was the Most Improved Pitch for the season.

Bayswater-Morley won their fifth Club Championship and their second in succession as three of their four senior sides made the finals. The Bears' Second and Third Grade sides both made the Grand Final, with the 'twos' winning a premiership.

Gosnells was acknowledged with the Lord's Taverners Spirit of Cricket Award for 2009-10 for their player conduct over the four senior grades. The award was presented by John Moody from Lord's Taverners WA to Club President Ross Leipold at the Pennant Dinner. The WA District Cricket Council (Inc.) extends their thanks to Lord's Taverners WA for their continued sponsorship of this award.

Western Australian cricket, and indeed the Retravision Shield competition, once again received tremendous support from the media during season 2009-10. Colin Minson and his team at Sport FM gave the public a chance to follow the fortunes of the 16 clubs each Saturday on 91.3 as well as via the internet. Colin Minson, Corbin Middlemas, Jenny Wallace, Amber Bradley, Jack Crawshaw and the many guests providing updates and interviews from around the grounds made this an invaluable service for the cricketing community.

The print media are also highly valued, with the Sunday Times, through Grade cricket reporter Corbin Middlemas, providing weekly reports, excellent features and publication of First Grade scoreboards. The West Australian regularly published scoreboards, fixtures and First Grade teams in their newspaper as well as on-line content via their website.

The Grade clubs would also like to acknowledge the support of the Community Newspaper Group for the regular provision of space in their publications to promote local cricket and club activities. The WACA is also very grateful for the support from major sponsors of Grade cricket - Retravision, Kookaburra, Lion Nathan, Lord's Taverners WA and the Sullivan Family.

The WACA pays gratitude to the efforts of those volunteers who have served on WADCCI committees, led by WADCCI Chairman Ranjith Weddikara and Deputy Chairman Larry Davies.

Finally, thanks are extended to Club Presidents and Secretaries for their efforts this season, as well as to the many volunteers whose countless hours of dedication ensures that both their club and the game run smoothly.

CLUB REVIEW

SCARBOROUGH

2009-10 - First
2008-09 - First

Leading Run Scorer:

Clint Heron - 906 runs @ 55.63

Leading Wicket Taker:

Ty Hopes - 43 wickets @ 18.42

Scarborough became just the second side in the competition's 124-year history to win four consecutive premierships. Despite the departures of Justin Langer, Dan McLauchlan and David Bandy in the 2009 off-season, the Gulls were able to blood new talent that resulted in four players tasting premiership success for the first time.

Just five players - Justin Coetzee, Michael Johnson, Ty Hopes, Clint Heron and Theo Doropolous - have played in all four premierships.

JOONDALUP

2009-10 - Second
2008-09 - Eighth

Leading Run Scorer:

Michael Swart - 909 runs @ 50.50

Leading Wicket Taker:

James Boyland - 58 wickets @ 22.83

Joondalup qualified for its first finals series since shifting from North Perth and won through to the 2009-10 Retravision Shield Grand Final, where they were aiming to break a 32-year premiership drought.

James Boyland led the attack to take 50 wickets in the regular season and finished second in the Olly Cooley Medal count.

Club Captain Michael Swart also received his chance to impress in Warriors colours, scoring two half-centuries to consolidate his spot in the Weet-Bix Sheffield Shield team.

WILLETTON

2009-10 - Third
2008-09 - Fifth

Leading Run Scorer:

Reece O'Connell - 894 runs @ 47.05

Leading Wicket Taker:

Matthew Johnston - 49 wickets @ 17.10

Willetton narrowly missed claiming the Kevin Sullivan Silver Cup after sitting on top of the Retravision Shield ladder for the majority of the summer.

The Dragons lost their final two matches of the regular season to finish second, however they continued their rise up the table over the past four seasons.

Matt Johnston was outstanding, with 48 wickets and 706 runs in a dominant all-round display that resulted in him winning the Olly Cooley Medal for the competition's premier player.

Chris Lagana, the club's leading wicket-taker in 2008-09, will return next summer to bolster the bowling department after missing 2009-10 with an injured elbow.

CLAREMONT-NEDLANDS

2009-10 - Fourth
2008-09 - Seventh

Leading Run Scorer:

James Allenby - 853 runs @ 60.93

Leading Wicket Taker:

Andrew McKay - 31 wickets @ 25.00

Claremont-Nedlands returned to play finals cricket after falling 20 runs shy of qualifying for the top six in 2008-09, but it was unable to make a major impact with six of its biggest names missing the post-season with injury and commitments in the UK.

James Allenby had a superb all-round summer to finish third in the Olly Cooley Medal, despite missing two matches.

PERTH

2009-10 - Fifth
2008-09 - Tenth

Leading Run Scorer:

Matthew Spriegel - 602 runs @ 66.89

Leading Wicket Taker:

Ross Scali - 29 wickets @ 27.28

Perth made its first finals appearance since they were beaten by Scarborough in the 2007-08 Retravision Shield Grand Final, but like Claremont-Nedlands, the Demons were missing a number of key players and were unable to advance past the first week.

Perth can mark season 2009-10 as a success, unveiling some new talent and claiming its first piece of silverware in 14 years. The Demons thumped a highly-fancied Scarborough outfit in the Sunday League Grand Final, as opener Michael Paterson hit a match-winning 80 to be crowned Man of the Match.

MOUNT LAWLEY

2009-10 - Seventh
2008-09 - Fifteenth

Leading Run Scorer:

Thomas Meredith - 617 runs @ 34.28

Leading Wicket Taker:

Paul Davis - 51 wickets @ 14.31

Paul Davis took 51 scalps as the competition's leading wicket-taker and tied with Willetton's Matt Johnston to win the Olly Cooley Medal. Under first year Head Coach Graeme Allen, Davis led a spirited Hawks group to the brink of the finals.

Mount Lawley boast an energetic and exciting crop of young players who have been able to develop their game, having been given the opportunity to test themselves regularly against demanding company.

Club products Tom Beaton and Matt Dixon were both chosen to represent the Australian Under 19s against Sri Lanka in Darwin during October 2009.

SUBIACO-FLOREAT

2009-10 - Ninth
2008-09 - Fourth

Leading Run Scorer:

Tim Monteleone - 519 runs @ 39.92

Leading Wicket Takers:

Tim Monteleone - 30 wickets @ 22.57

Subiaco-Floreat failed to live up to expectations following a semi-final appearance in 2008-09. The Lions' form was patchy and they were unable to string three consecutive wins together at any point throughout the season.

But the club would take satisfaction from the development of Tim Monteleone. The talented all-rounder earned selection for the WA Futures League team following solid performances at WACA District level. He scored 519 runs at just under 40 and took 30 wickets at 22.43.

MELVILLE

2009-10 - Sixth

Leading Run Scorer:

Ben Clarke - 734 runs @ 43.18

Leading Wicket Taker:

Leon Platel - 41 wickets @ 22.61

Despite the loss of Scott Meuleman, Ben Lillis and Shawn Gillies in the 2009 off-season, Melville was able to overcome a slow start to retain its position inside the top six.

Melville was winless after the opening five rounds, however they rallied to lose just two more matches in the regular season.

Off-season recruits Rhys May and Ryan Duffield both played valuable roles for their new club. May scored 727 runs to finish inside the top ten run-scorers in the competitions, while Duffield collected 39 wickets to be ranked eighth overall.

ROCKINGHAM-MANDURAH

2009-10 - Eighth
2008-09 - Thirteenth

Leading Run Scorer:

Craig Simmons - 554 runs @ 42.62

Leading Wicket Taker:

Ben Edmondson - 33 wickets @ 15.67

Rockingham-Mandurah enjoyed its most successful summer in the Retravision Shield to win eight games. Under the tutelage of Wayne Clark, the Mariners clinched their first piece of silverware by winning the Statewide Twenty20 competition.

The recruitment of Retravision Warriors paceman Ben Edmondson was a masterstroke by the club, as he overcame an early season injury to snare 33 wickets in eight matches.

The Mariners will have to work overtime during the 2010 winter to secure a replacement for Edmondson, who has signed with South Australia for the 2010-11 interstate season.

FREMANTLE

2009-10 - Tenth
2008-09 - Eleventh

Leading Run Scorer:

Matthew Milton - 809 runs @ 47.59

Leading Wicket Taker:

Timothy Miles - 30 wickets @ 15.83

Fremantle may have won just two of their opening nine matches, but the club missed four of its prime movers due to State and national commitments for the majority of the summer.

This left WA cricket icon Geoff Marsh, in his first year as Head Coach of Fremantle, to fill gaping holes in the line-up.

The port club was able to blood some exciting talent produced by Fremantle's under-age sides.

Fremantle had three players chosen to represent the victorious WA Under 17 team, including Captain Ashton Turner, who made his First Grade debut following the national carnival.

UNIVERSITY

2009-10 - Eleventh
2008-09 - Sixth

Leading Run Scorer:

Craig King - 663 runs @ 47.36

Leading Wicket Taker:

Patrick Molinari - 32 wickets @ 25.44

University slid down the table in 2009-10 after finishing sixth the previous summer, but the students would be pleased with the successful return of Craig King and Andrew James from serious injury. Both enjoyed productive summers.

King hit 663 runs to rank 14th in the batting aggregate list, while James took 22 wickets. James Cameron scored over 600 runs at an average of 60 from just ten outings.

University has bolstered its pace stocks for 2010-11 with the signing of former Australian Under 19 representative Cameron Hockett from Victoria.

SOUTH PERTH

2009-10 - Thirteenth
2008-09 - Twelfth

Leading Run Scorer:

Marshall Hood - 735 runs @ 45.94

Leading Wicket Taker:

Todd Guthridge - 30 wickets @ 30.30

South Perth surprised most WACA District cricket followers early in the season to be undefeated after five rounds, but from that point onwards, it won just two more games to finish a disappointing 13th, a far worse position than it deserved.

Club Captain Hugh Brown and fellow top-order bat Marshall Hood both finished inside the top 20 run-scorers in the competition. Brown scored 614 runs, while Hood piled on 735, including a double-century against his former club Claremont-Nedlands in round one. New Warriors recruits Martin Paskal and Michael Beer will significantly boost the sky blues' bowling stocks in 2010-11.

WANNEROO

2009-10 - Fifteenth
2008-09 - Ninth

Leading Run Scorer:

Jake Fawcett - 542 runs @ 41.69

Leading Wicket Taker:

Chris Quelch - 23 wickets @ 35.83

After waiting eight rounds for its first victory, Wanneroo's season never got started as it added just one more win to finish a disappointing 15th. The highlight of the season was reaching the Statewide Twenty20 final, and despite being beaten by Rockingham-Mandurah, the Roos recorded an impressive victory over Scarborough in the semis.

The club also produced another high-quality batsman to represent the State in Jake Fawcett. He joins the likes of the Hussey brothers, Damien Martyn, Marcus North, amongst others, as Wanneroo players elevated to interstate cricket.

BAYSWATER-MORLEY

2009-10 - Twelfth
2008-09 - Second

Leading Run Scorer:

Cameron Robb - 594 runs @ 37.13

Leading Wicket Taker:

Joel Crosswell - 41 wickets @ 18.44

Bayswater-Morley had a disappointing season, missing the top six after losing the Retravision Shield Grand Final in 2008-09. It is the fourth successive year that the competition's runner-up has missed the finals the following summer. But there is no serious concern at Hillcrest Reserve, with the Bears winning back-to-back Club Championships and reaching two lower-grade Grand Finals.

Baysie boast a talented and youthful line-up that features State Under 19s representative Phil Adams, who was the best performing WA batsman at the national carnival and went close to setting a new record for his innings of 171 against Queensland.

GOSNELLS

2008-09 - Fourteenth

Leading Run Scorer:

Luke Pomersbach - 714 runs @ 54.92

Leading Wicket Taker:

Luke Pomersbach - 28 wickets @ 18.25

Gosnells benefited from Luke Pomersbach's availability in the first half of the summer, stringing three wins together before the Christmas-New Year break.

But following his return to the Retravision Warriors line-up in 2010, the Hawks fell away to finish 14th, winning just one of their final six matches.

Club products Al Bivens, Lewis Upton and Michael Bailey represented WA at the Imparja Cup, while Bailey was also part of the victorious WA Under 17s squad.

MIDLAND-GUILDFORD

2008-09 - Sixteenth

Leading Run Scorer:

Peter Worthington - 585 runs @ 32.56

Leading Wicket Taker:

Hayden Long - 22 wickets @ 31.73

Midland-Guildford's predicament worsened in 2009-10, claiming its second consecutive wooden spoon. Once a powerhouse of the competition, the Lilac Hill empire has crumbled in recent seasons, and the black and whites have lost 23 of their past 25 matches. Hayden Long provided a rare highlight in the club's outright victory over Wanneroo, taking 9/28 to break Bob Lane's 48-year record.

The other significant milestone was a stirring victory over Bayswater-Morley in the final round of the season, which knocked the Bears out of top six reckoning and sent stalwart Peter Worthington out in style, hopefully ushering in a new era for the club.

Paul Davis (L) and Matt Johnston (R)

The Olly Cooley Medal was shared for just the fourth time in its history, with Mount Lawley's Paul Davis and Willetton's Matt Johnston named joint winners of the 2009-10 award which recognises the Fairest and Best player in the Retravision Shield as judged by the umpires.

The all-rounders both polled 18 votes to finish three clear of Joondalup paceman James Boyland. 2004-05 winner Jim Allenby (Claremont-Nedlands) was third with 14 votes, while Reece O'Connell (Willetton) and Patrick Molinari (University) were equal fifth on 13.

Davis, a former Retravision Warriors squad member, had an outstanding season in the WACA's First Grade competition, topping the bowling aggregate with 51 scalps at an average of 14.31, including three six-wicket hauls and three five-fors.

But it was his superb haul of 20 wickets in the final two rounds of the home-and-away season - 11 against Midland-Guildford and nine against Gosnells, both of which resulted in outright wins to the Hawks - which catapulted him to equal top of the standings as he polled the maximum six votes, going alongside best afield performances in rounds one, four and seven.

Johnston, who finished second in the 2008-09 Olly Cooley Medal count, had a fabulous season with both bat and ball to lead the Dragons to a semi-final appearance.

He thrashed three tons on his way to 706 runs for the regular season at an average of 35.30. He also turned it on with the ball, picking up 48 wickets at 17.58, including five wicket hauls on four occasions.

Both men were presented with their medals at a dinner held at Tompkins Park in Melville on Monday 22 March - the night of the worst storm to hit Perth in half a century.

WACA SUNSMART WOMEN'S CRICKET COMPETITION

The champagne corks were popping in the Swan Valley as Midland-Guildford celebrated Grand Final success in the A and B Grades of the SunSmart women's competition. Both finals were played at Lilac Hill, creating a great atmosphere for the players and supporters.

The Middies' fairytale rise from A Grade wooden spoon to premiers in the space of one season came after they completed a 25-run win over Subiaco Marist. Midland-Guildford won the toss and batted first. Rachel Bench struck early by taking the wickets of Heather Taylor and Commonwealth Bank Southern Star Lauren Ebsary. Captain Jenny Wallace (46) and Peta Merrilees (44) took charge with a 74-run partnership, but after they fell Midland lost wickets at regular intervals and were bowled out for 156. Gemma Triscari (4/29) was the main destroyer, showing why she has been included in the Australian Shooting Stars squad. Subiaco Marist had a decent start to their run chase, losing their first wicket with the score on 38 when Cherie Bambury fell for 14. Angele Gray (33) and Avril Fahey (nine) batted sensibly until Carla Hunter (3/15 from nine overs) came into the attack and struck by getting the prized scalp of Gray. Sarah Fragomeni (2/21 from nine) and Mel Holmes (2/25 from ten) were among the wickets as Subiaco Marist crumbled from 6/120 to be all out for 131, giving Midland their first premiership in 14 years. Hunter received the Player of the Final award for her fine bowling effort and contribution with the bat.

The Middies completed the double for the first time since Subiaco Marist achieved the feat in 2002-03, holding on for a tense victory by nine runs over Melville in the B Grade final. Melville's bowlers applied pressure from the start after winning the toss, led by Lyn Hall (3/14) and supported by Kylie Versace, Mel Strutt and Kash Jayaratne, who all grabbed two wickets. Midland-Guildford was restricted to 142, with Emma Burgess' 54 the highlight of the innings. Melville made a great start and were 4/96, but Captain Rhi Barry (2/16) and youngster Elle Tapsell (3/17) swung the match back in the Middies' favour. Tapsell claimed the important wicket of Hall, who was looking the match winner on 44, and with Melville needing 24 runs to win and four wickets in hand, the match was in the balance. Midland-Guildford kept the pressure on to dry up the runs, and they just held on in an exciting finish to be crowned B Grade champions. Lyn Hall was named Player of the Match for her brilliant all-round performance in a close match.

Last year's A Grade premiers Melville did not finish the season empty-handed, taking out the Twenty20 competition with a dominant display over Rockingham-Mandurah in the final. Emma Biss was Player of the Final after a great display of pace bowling (3/15) destroyed the Mariners' top-order and set up an easy win for her team.

The B Grade Twenty20 final was a thriller between fierce rivals and last year's grand finalists Midland-Guildford and Whitfords. A super over had to be played to split the two teams after scores were tied on 132. The Middies held their nerve to claim the title and avenge last year's loss. Heather Graham's 48 not out during the Whitfords run chase saw her awarded Player of the Final.

WACA SUNSMART GIRLS COMPETITION

In the Under 17 club final, Subiaco Marist batted first against South Perth after winning the toss and posted an impressive 3/174 from their 30 overs. Grace Taylor (70 not out) and Bhavisha Devchand (71) were the stand outs. South Perth started well in the run chase, and with Aimee Kontor (49 from 68 balls) and Bethany Mayne (52 not out from 50 balls) leading the way, they managed to chase down the total with three overs and six wickets in hand. Devchand and Lucy Curtin picked up two wickets for the Subi girls.

Subiaco Marist and South Perth clashed again in the Under 15 club final, with Subi scoring 4/125. Megan Banting and Emily Dixon contributed 31 and 20 respectively. Alice Lynch, Stephanie Jordan, Rebecca Beeson and Miranda Mayne took one wicket apiece. In reply, South Perth made good progress and were a good chance of winning the game at 4/119 with one over to play and Lucy Watson (39 not out) at the crease. But the Subiaco girls held firm and South Perth fell just two runs short. Meg Heavey was the pick of the bowlers, taking 2/17 for Subiaco Marist.

The Under 17 school final saw Santa Maria bowled out for 83, which was a relatively easy task for St Brigid's to chase down with seven overs and seven wickets to spare. Brigid Sullivan top-scored with 29 for St Brigid's.

Santa Maria had better fortune in the Under 15 school final, posting 2/142 from 24 overs, which was too much for Perth College, who managed just 3/95 from their allotted overs.

VARIETY CHARITY SHIELD

The Variety Charity Shield launched the 2009-10 season, with Melville, Subiaco Marist, Rockingham-Mandurah, Midland-Guildford and South Perth uniting for a sociable Super 8s competition, staged on Sunday 18 October at Melville's Tompkins Park. The Super 8s format suited the light-hearted atmosphere and created a spectacle for onlookers. Each side fielded eight players, an over constituted eight balls, and any player who hit a ball over the boundary on the full was awarded eight runs instead of the traditional six. Subiaco Marist claimed the honours in A Grade, while Melville won the B Grade and Rockingham-Mandurah was victorious in the Under 18s. But it was more about enjoying the cricket, getting into the club spirit ahead of the official season, and raising funds for Variety WA, the Children's Charity. At the end of the day almost $700 was raised, which was used for a Future Kids grant for specialised software for a 14-year old girl who has Cerebral Palsy.

WACA FEMALE PREMIER LEAGUE

For the first ever WACA Female Premier League - Emerging Players tournament, the best 48 junior players from across WA were invited to participate and four even teams created. Support from the Kerry Packer Foundation allowed girls from regional WA to attend without the burden of travel costs.

The girls competed across a three day round robin format, with the Green team, coached by Patrice Berthold, emerging victorious to be crowned champions.

The WFPL Emerging Players Tournament is now an important fixture leading into the selection of the WA under-age representative teams.

The matches were held side by side at Stevens Reserve in Fremantle from 29 September to 1 October 2009.

GIRLS COUNTRY CRICKET CARNIVAL

The Girls Country Cricket Carnival (GCCC) 2010, supported by the Kerry Packer Foundation, was a round robin Twenty20 carnival played at Britannia Oval, Leederville, from 10-12 January. South West, on the back of a well-organised Rising Fury squad program, were the stand out team and deserved winners of the carnival.

The skill level improved once again, and the best performers from the round robin matches during GCCC 2010 were selected in the Emerging Country Team. They took on an Emerging City team in a 30 overs a side match, played using the National Under 15 Championships playing conditions. It was another close match, with Country losing for the first time in the game's three-year history.

The value of sport and recreation

Building social capital

Sport and recreation provides the catalyst for community gatherings, from small functions to major events, where people play, talk and share experiences. Importantly it has a positive effect that reaches many levels of our society – in short, sport and recreation creates social capital. This is important because “places with high levels of social capital are safer, better governed and more prosperous, compared to those places with low levels of social capital”. – Robert Putnam

Prevention is better than cure

The more people who are physically active and involved in sport and recreation the less patients there will be. Increased participation in physical activity will reduce pressure on our hospitals.

- In 2005 the total economic cost of obesity to the WA economy was $2.1 billion.
- An estimated $1.5 billion per year in direct health care costs is attributable to physical inactivity.
- Lack of physical activity is second only to tobacco as the leading contributor to the overall burden of disease among Australians.
- Social participation and social support has been shown to increase participation in physical activity.

The power to unite

“Sport has the power to unite people in a way little else can. Sport can create hope. Breaks down racial barriers ... laughs in the face of discrimination and speaks to people in a language they can understand.”

– Nelson Mandela

Crime prevention

Sport and recreation can help to divert young people from crime and anti-social behaviours. It can also target those young people most at risk of committing crime and help their rehabilitation and development.

Economic benefits

- Every dollar invested by the state government in the Community Sporting and Recreation Facilities Fund (CSRFF) generates $2.36 in direct economic activity and $6.51 in total economic activity.
- Sport in Australia generated a net income of $8.8 billion in 2004/2005.
- Big sporting events generate big money. The Australian Surf Life Saving Championships attracted 6000 competitors to Perth injecting $23 million into the WA economy (Tourism WA, 2008).

Education

Children engaged in sport and recreation do better academically, are more likely to enjoy school and even complete their homework.

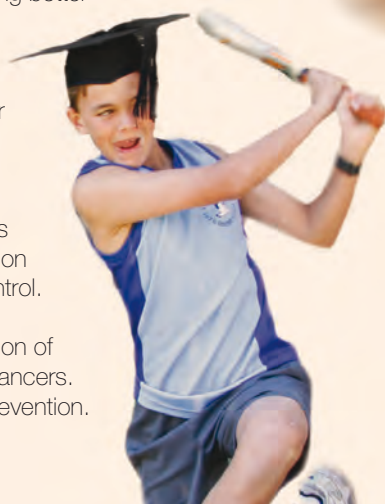

Health benefits

Participation in sport and recreation provides clear benefits in the five Australian national health priorities:

- Promoting better mental health.
- Cardiovascular disease prevention.
- Diabetes prevention and control.
- Primary prevention of some cancers.
- Injury prevention.

Jess Moyes (Western Fury) and Ben Edmondson (Retravisio Warriors) in Narrogin for the WACA's Regional Awareness and Registration Campaign.

Country cricket has enjoyed another successful season in 2009-10 with the highlights including the staging of a second Ford Ranger Cup game in Bunbury, the changing of the Country Cup to a Twenty20 format, an increase in participants for MILO in2CRICKET, and the opening of the Perdaman South West Cricket Academy.

In December 2009, the Retravisio Warriors defeated the DEC Victorian Bushrangers in a very exciting finish to the Ford Ranger Cup match at Hands Memorial Oval. The City of Bunbury and the South Bunbury Football Club worked closely with the WACA to ensure country patrons could enjoy top class cricket in a regional centre. More of these types of fixtures are sure to occur in the future.

Earlier in the season, on 6 October 2009, the opening of the Perdaman South West Cricket Academy was an historic moment for country cricket in Western Australia. The Academy, guided by the WACA's South West Cricket Officer and High Performance Coach Andy Cottam, will enable talented young players to further develop their game at a dedicated regional facility.

With the increasing popularity of Twenty20 it was inevitable that country cricket would introduce a competition of this nature. The Country Cup began with a series of round robin fixtures that were staged at various centres during November 2009, with the five winners qualifying to play each other in the final series. Eastern Goldfields clearly demonstrated their skills in this new format of the game to emerge as the Country Cup winners after two days of thrilling action at Richardson Park, edging out runners-up Geraldton.

The MILO in2CRICKET program is the major entry level for young cricketers and it was very pleasing to see the numbers increase to 2,500 in 2009-10. The Regional Cricket Officers, with support from the WACA, have worked hard to promote the game to the younger generation.

This year's Country Cricket Service Award recipient was Kerry Easton. Kerry has been a dedicated member of the Mid-West Regional Board since its inception 17 years ago. He holds the key position of Secretary/Treasurer and has played a very significant role in progressing the Regional Junior Cricket Program throughout the Mid-West region.

The MLC Scholarships were awarded to talented young players for the fourth successive year, with presentations being made on the WACA Ground prior to the commencement of play on day four of the 3 mobile Test Match between Australia and the West Indies. The successful recipients were:

- Jeb Swallow, from Collie (Geoff Marsh Scholarship)
- Lauren Mainwaring, from Broome (Wendy Chaloner Scholarship)
- Bevan Bennell, from Northam (Charlie Sandstone Memorial Scholarship)

A major event on the calendar is the Australian Country Cricket Championships (ACCC), and the Bunbury region will be the hosts for this summer's titles, to be held from 3-14 January 2011. The Organising Committee, under the Chairmanship of Peter Grygorcewicz, is well advanced in their planning for this prestigious event, which will be the fifth time it has been held in WA.

Country cricket thanks its sponsors CSBP, Lord's Taverners WA, the WA Cricketers Club, Perdaman Industries, Lion Nathan, MLC and DSR for their support of cricket in regional WA.

Country cricket also continues to be well serviced by the WACA, with staff associated with programs and competitions offering ongoing guidance and support. In particular, I thank Tim Lees and Nesan Jayakumar for their outstanding work in administering country cricket.

Regional Highlights

SOUTH WEST

The Perdaman South West Cricket Academy is the first of its kind in Western Australia and was officially opened on 6 October 2009. Housed at Dalyellup College, the Academy has the support of a new and developing community, with a commitment from the school to provide brand new facilities.

The Academy is positioned in a growth area of the State with a strong cricket hub, including Western Fury squad member Gemma Triscari, former Retravision Warriors pacesman and 2009-10 Olly Cooley Medallist Paul Davis, Australian Under 19 wicket-keeper Sam Whiteman, and WA under-age squad members Jacob Whiteaker and Chloe Piparo. These players have progressed to high levels of cricket, however they were required to travel to Perth to achieve these goals. Through the Academy's location in the South West, young players can now undertake dedicated and tailored High Performance programs whilst still being close to home.

The Academy will provide a challenging outlet for young players to be the best at their chosen sport of cricket. It will identify and develop talented cricketers from throughout the South West, including Bunbury, Harvey/Leschenault/Eaton, Busselton/Margaret River and Collie. The Academy is available to young cricketers, both male and female, from Under 14s through to Under 19s and will also look to support senior cricketers and coaches in the South West.

The Academy is a free 12-month program. Players are offered specialist weekly programs including batting, bowling, wicket-keeping, fielding, tactical, mental and physical programs. Game sense, team-building skills and video analysis is also undertaken to help these players realise their full potential. The Academy is regarded as a Holistic program, and as such during the off-season the players will also be exposed to facets such as umpiring and coaching accreditation and ground-keeping. These will not only compliment the practical skills of the individual, but round off the cricketer as a whole.

The off-field professional development of the players will be supported by the WACA through a career and welfare program that assists them to build career goals and source the necessary training and development, thus enabling plans to be achieved whilst pursuing professional cricket aspirations.

GOLDFIELDS

- Sixteen Under 11 cricketers from Esperance achieved something few players ever experience by playing on the WACA Ground during the 3 mobile Test Match. The Country Day at the Cricket promotion allows 150 youngsters from regional areas the opportunity to spend a day at the WACA Test Match and take part in games of modified cricket on the hallowed turf. It was the chance of a lifetime for many of the boys to travel to Perth and experience Test cricket at its finest.
- It is pleasing to report that cricket in the region, especially at the grass roots level, is really starting to flourish. The entry-level MILO in2CRICKET program is booming. We started up two new centres in Leonora and Norseman. Overall, there was a regional growth rate of 123%. 277 kids registered for the Kalgoorlie centre alone, making it the biggest single centre in WA, which is an astonishing outcome for a country region.

- The Goldfields was triumphant at the Under 16s Lord's Taverners Inter-Regional Carnival in Perth. The boys won the title for the first time in sensational style after four days of exciting cricket. It was a superb team performance with every player making important contributions. Damien Sweet capped off a phenomenal week when he was named Player of the Carnival.
- Among the boys who were rewarded for their talent and dedication was Dom Sheed, who was selected in the WA SchoolSport Under 15 Team.
- Kalgoorlie was crowned the Country Cup Twenty20 champions, and six players from the Goldfields were selected in the WA Country team for the Australian Country Championships, which was a remarkable achievement. Congratulations to Chris Johnson, Daniel Campo, Nick Murphy, Matthew Fink, Nicholas Willis and Clancy Wheeler.
- Female cricket is starting to emerge. Three girls capped off a memorable Country Cricket Carnival by achieving selection in the Country All-Stars team - Jess Moore, Nicole Collins and Angelina Ugle. Jess was also named Player of the Carnival.
- The visit by the Gosnells Cricket Club, which featured Retravision Warriors batsman Luke Pomersbach, was a brilliant promotion. This kicked off our Emerging Warrior Program. We also had the Regional Awareness and Recruitment Campaign, which involved Retravision Warrior Luke Towers and Western Fury wicket-keeper Jenny Wallace. This generated invaluable publicity, which contributed to the growth of the game at the grassroots level.

WHEATBELT

- Avonwest Cricket Academy were premiers in the Under 13s competition in Northam. On-field success for the Indigenous program was a welcome reward for stakeholders, players and hard working volunteers.
- Avon juniors from Beverley, Brookton, York and Quairading were selected to represent the Wheatbelt in Country Day at the Cricket at the 3 mobile Test Match. Players participated in the on-field display of modified games on the WACA Ground during the lunch break. Players cherished the opportunity to play on the field during the WACA Test Match, interacting with the crowd and watching a great day of cricket.
- As part of Social Inclusion Week, we conducted a free sausage sizzle and social games of cricket at the Rivers Edge Park in Northam, an event successfully organised by the Wheatbelt Regional Cricket Council in partnership with Max Employment. We invited community groups, schools and local businesses to participate.
- Bevan Bennell, from Northam, was the successful recipient of the Charlie Sandstone Cricket Scholarship.
- Simon Mackin, from Tammin, was selected in the WA Under 17s team.
- Jason Hill, from Meckering, was selected in the WA Under 19s team.
- There was significant growth in MILO in2CRICKET numbers in the North Midlands and Coral Coast regions. Five new centres were established.

The victorious Bunbury team with the CSBP Senior Country Week Shield at Stan Twight Reserve.

GREAT SOUTHERN

- Dylan Morgan and Zane Marwick were selected in the WA Under 17 squad
- Albany won the CSBP Junior Country Week A Section title.
- The Regional Cricket Board became more professional with the signing of major sponsor Bendigo Bank
- There was an increase in school participation with three new carnivals - All-Girls High School, Year 8/9 Boys, and Warren-Blackwood Warrior/Fury Shield.
- There was significant growth in both junior and senior cricket competitions.

CENTRAL DISTRICTS

- An Under 13s competition commenced with six teams from throughout the region performing in a structured 30-over competition. Katanning took the honours for the 2009-10 season.
- Narrogin won the Under 16s Lynch Shield for the second year in a row.
- Luke Rasmussen and Blake Phillips performed well at the SunSmart Under 15s carnival held in Perth over the January holidays.
- Retravision Warriors paceman Ben Edmondson and Western Fury spinner Jess Moyes travelled to the three Narrogin Primary Schools and Wagin DHS for the Regional Awareness and Recruitment Campaign at the start of the season. The day was a huge success, as students interacted with the players in clinics and Super 8s games.
- We had two new MILO in2CRICKET centres starting in Wagin and Yealering.
- Narrogin SHS's first XI performed well in the SunSmart Secondary Competition, winning two out of their four games.

Country Cup

The Country Cup competition entered a new era with a Twenty20 format. Preliminary rounds took place over the weekend of 21 and 22 November, with 17 Associations taking part. Teams battled each other in a round-robin style format to earn the right to take part in the Country Cup finals.

The play-offs were held at Richardson Park, home of South Perth Cricket Club, with Albany, Busselton-Margaret River, Eastern Goldfields, Geraldton and Northam taking on each other over the March long weekend to find the winner.

The final match saw Eastern Goldfields defeat Geraldton, which just so happened to be the competition decider as both teams had gone through undefeated.

The Country Cricket Board and the WACA expresses its thanks to Lion Nathan and South Perth Cricket Club for their generous support of this prestigious tournament.

Country XI

A two day camp at Lilac Hill was held in conjunction with the Country Colts squad and, as with last year, this proved a success. Many thanks must go to the Midland-Guildford Cricket Club for their support over the weekend, which involved a 50-over match on the Sunday and Twenty20 game on the long weekend Monday. Unfortunately, due to the weather, the Twenty20 match was cancelled.

WACA SUNDAY LEAGUE

We lost a tight opening game to Wanneroo with only ten players. It was a disappointing start to the campaign, but the highlight was a return to the team by Jason Partington, who took two early wickets and scored some runs as well. In the second match we were beaten heavily by Fremantle, which was a tough day all round. It was a much-improved effort in game three against Scarborough in Beverley, but unfortunately still a loss. A positive was the debuts of promoted Colts representative Ross Knoll along with Danny Campo. The fourth and final hit-out against Willetton was the real highlight of the summer as we chalked up a win on the back of an inspired opening spell by Nick Willis. It was a fantastic achievement against a team that was sitting on top of the WACA District competition table at the time.

AUSTRALIAN COUNTRY CRICKET CHAMPIONSHIPS ALBURY-WODONGA, 2010

On the back of the victory over Willetton and receiving a favourable draw, expectations were high going into the tournament. We took a strong squad to take part in the new competition format consisting of seven games, with the ACT and Northern Territory included.

A first up win over Queensland was a great start, however this was followed by a last-ball loss to South Australia on the same day.

An exciting one wicket win over New South Wales in a 50-over fixture was the highlight of the tour, and was once again led by Nick Willis, who took 4/10 from his ten overs, including a stunning opening burst.

The second of the one day fixtures was against Victoria and we were defeated by two wickets in the second last over. We had not made enough runs and that proved costly.

The carnival then moved to the two-day format, and we recorded a win against East Asia Pacific in the last over. Willis starred again, scoring a brilliant 135.

A defeat to ACT was a disappointing result as they were struggling at the time, but again this match went right down to the wire. A superb batting display by Jamie Lee (93) in extremely hot conditions gave us a chance, but ACT chased our total down.

Northern Territory won the final match of the tour, and sealed their carnival victory, after having been rolled for 180. We were dismissed well short of that mark and it was a game where we had our chances but failed to capitalise on them.

An overall record of three wins and four losses perhaps is not a true reflection of what could have been. The first six games were all closely-fought, and we had Northern Territory at 6/65 in the final encounter. Congratulations must go to Nick Willis for making the All-Australian team, a thoroughly deserved honour. Nick was also awarded the Tuck Waldron Shield for his efforts. The team was well-handled by skipper Rod Ford again, and I congratulate him for his passion towards the Country XI throughout the whole season.

Shane Robbins
Coach

Country Colts

The Lilac Hill camp in late-September 2009 allowed us to have a practice match against Midland-Guildford on the Sunday and an indoor net session on the Monday. We were able to look at a large number of the squad and also undertake some coaching.

Our first game in the WACA Colts competition took place in Northam on 25 October against Wanneroo. The visitors were bowled out for just 86, which included Julien Crudeli taking 6/29, and Country Colts won by seven wickets inside 30 overs. It was hard to gauge much from this game other than the players bonding very quickly and really seeming to enjoy each other's company. This set the tone for the rest of the competition.

The second match was against Fremantle at Stevens Reserve on 8 November. The home side batted first and were bowled out for 201 in 46 overs. The wickets were shared around, and it was another solid bowling and fielding performance. In reply, the Country Colts were bowled out for 186 in the 46th over. Crudeli contributed a fantastic 64 to nearly bring home a victory.

Game three was in Brookton against on 15 November against Scarborough. The Gulls made 180 after Country Colts were left a bowler short when Tim Payne split the webbing on his hand inside the first five overs and was unavailable for the rest of the match. The batting was solid, highlighted by a match-winning 49 from Mitch Morley, as the Colts snuck home in the last over.

It was off to Burrendah Reserve for the fourth match against Willetton on 6 December. The Colts scored 250 in an even batting performance, before working hard to apply pressure with the ball and in the field. We took wickets at crucial times, and despite a strong partnership featuring Curtis Guglielmana, the Colts managed to win by 30 runs.

It was off to the semi-finals, where we faced Claremont-Nedlands at Cresswell Park on 24 January. The Colts made just 90 batting first. Crudeli tried his best to lift the Colts with both bat and ball, but the small total was always going to be tough to defend. Payne also picked up a couple of wickets and bowled very well to quality batsmen. It was a disappointing way to finish the campaign as it did not showcase the talent and dedication these young men have.

Both the batting and bowling departments were solid, we did not give away successions of wickets when batting and worked hard with the ball to chip away steadily. We dropped very few catches and worked tirelessly as a team in the field. The closeness of this group stood it apart from their opposition and allowed them to never be dominated. We had regular strong performances from Crudeli and Matt Clothier with both bat and ball, and Payne grew significantly throughout the tournament as our spinner. Congratulations to Ross Knoll and Paul Jones, who graduated to play for the Country XI and participated in the Australian Country Cricket Championships. The team had fantastic leadership from Captain Chad Hitchcock, and Vice Captains Matt Clothier and Tim Hutchison.

CricketWest

North Suburban Community Cricket Association, formerly the Wanneroo Cricket Association, won the CricketWest Cup for the second successive season. It is pleasing to see other teams beginning to break the stranglehold that the very strong Suburban Turf Cricket Association has held for so long as the benchmark.

CricketWest gives suburban players the opportunity to play on some of the best turf wicket grounds in the Perth metropolitan area.

OBJECTIVES OF ASSOCIATION

The basic objective of Lord's Taverners is to encourage and promote the playing and enjoyment of cricket by young people but in particular those disadvantaged physically or mentally, socially, financially or by distance or other circumstances.

Lord's Taverners continues its close association with the WACA, particularly in the development of junior cricket in this State, and especially with youngsters in the remote regions.

CHAIRMAN REPORTED TO 2009 AGM ON A YEAR OF SIGNIFICANT ACHIEVEMENT

In his Report to the 2009 Annual General Meeting, Chairman Mike Snell highlighted some of the activities and achievements of the previous 12 months. In particular, he was able to point to a healthy financial position at year-end with accumulated funds totaling $88,643 after funding projects amounting to $61,500.

Project sponsorship during the year included continuing support for the WACA's Kimberley Coaching Program as well as their Regional Winter Coaching Schools, support for participation by WA teams in the annual Indoor Cricket Carnival for players with intellectual disability, the Imparja Cup for Indigenous cricketers, sponsorship of underprivileged boys attending WACA Coaching Clinics, the South West Cricket Association's Indigenous program, our annual Junior Taverner and Vintage Cricketer Awards, the 'Spirit of Cricket' Awards for both Metropolitan Pennant Cricket (men and women) and the CSBP Country Week competitions, funding the Lord's Taverners Inter-Regional Zone Carnival for Under 16 boys living in country regions, the annual Indigenous Youth High Performance Camp, assistance with funding of Lord's Taverners Australia's sponsorship packages in support of the July 2009 tour of England by a national Indigenous team, and the Ausrapid Tri-Nations Tournament, held in Melbourne in December 2009.

Strong and continuing membership support is evidenced by the excellent attendances achieved at all Taverners' hosted functions, and in particular the annual Test Match Breakfast, where venue capacity is always fully tested. Member communication has also been enhanced by the introduction of a periodic Branch Newsletter.

Lord's Taverners WA has already embraced, and will continue to look for, further opportunities to establish links with other organisations for mutual benefit. We now have a strong relationship with Fairbridge, another beneficial relationship exists with the charity Redkite in that both our organisations co-host an annual golf day at Lake Karrinyup Country Club, and we acknowledge the excellent relationship we have with the WACA and the wonderful support we receive from President Dennis Lillee, CEO Graeme Wood, and all the members of his team.

TAVERNERS ROLL GOVERNOR'S XI AT THE WACA GROUND

WA Taverners Cricket XI Captain Rod David led his team to a meritorious victory over a strong Governor's XI at the WACA Ground on Friday 20 November 2009. It was our first win from three attempts!

Acknowledging the privilege of playing on a centre-wicket at the WACA Ground, Lord's Taverners customarily select a team of promising youngsters, many of whom have been direct or indirect beneficiaries of Taverners-sponsored programs.

The victorious team included Matt Abrahamson (Indigenous), Simon Branston (Warriors rookie), Mark Bott (CricketWest), Andrew Cameron (WA Under 19), Nathan Coulter-Nile (Warriors rookie), Rodney Ford (Country), Emma King (Junior Taverner Awardee), Tim Regan (Aust Deaf XI), Jenny Wallace (Fury), Rob Wass (WACA Cricket Officer) and Sam Whiteman (Junior Taverner Awardee).

Governor's XI, batting first, were dismissed for 199, compiled in 38 overs. Taverners XI responded with 6/200 from 32 overs. Andrew Cameron's 64 and Jenny Wallace's breezy 40 not out were the highlights. Bowling honours for Taverners went to deaf cricketer Tim Regan, with 3/42, and it was a delight to see the big smile on his face as he was clapped from the field.

On the Tuesday evening prior to the game, His Excellency, The Governor of Western Australia, Dr Ken Michael AC, hosted the players of both teams, WACA Executives and Lord's Taverners WA Committee Members in great style with an elegant and enjoyable cocktail party held at Government House.

JUNIOR TAVERNER AWARDS

Since the first of the prestigious Junior Taverner Awards were presented in 1987 most of the recipients have gone on to achieve measurable success at local, interstate and international level.

The 2010 Awardees were Cameron Bancroft and Emily Hessell, and both show the promise to make their mark at senior level.

Cameron Bancroft is a Year 12 student at Aquinas College and plays for Willetton District Cricket Club. He represented WA in their victorious National Under U17 Championships campaign in Adelaide last January, where he made 22 dismissals as wicket-keeper and scored 263 runs at an average of 43. These performances earned him selection in the Team of the Championships and attendance at the Under 18 talent camp held at the Cricket Australia Centre of Excellence in Brisbane.

Emily Hessell is a Year 12 student at Willetton SHS and plays for South Perth Cricket Club. Emily is a versatile cricketer - a good batter, off-spin bowler and promising wicket-keeper, and represented WA in the National Under 17 Championships in 2009-10. In all forms of cricket last season, Emily scored 452 runs, took 19 wickets, and completed 11 dismissals.

The Junior Taverner Awards were presented to Cameron and Emily by His Excellency, The Governor of Western Australia, Dr Ken Michael AC, at a special Members' Luncheon held at the WACA on 30 April 2010.

WA VINTAGE CRICKETER 2010

Lord's Taverners WA has honoured Len Pavy as its Vintage Cricketer for 2010. This Award is made each year to a person identified as having made an outstanding contribution to Western Australian cricket on the playing field and/or in cricket administration.

Len Pavy was a playing member of the Mount Lawley Cricket Club and later University Cricket Club, where he held the positions of Captain, Coach and Secretary. He represented WA in seven matches before his first class career was cut short, in the pre-helmet days, by a serious blow to the head.

At various times Len has been Coach of the WACA Junior Colts squad, President of the WA Schoolboys Cricket Association, State Senior Squad coordinator, and initiated the Special Cricket Program at Kent Street SHS.

Len Pavy has also been honoured by the WACA for his long and dedicated service with the awarding of Honorary Life Membership.

TEST MATCH BREAKFAST

The Hyatt Regency Perth was the venue on Tuesday 15 December 2009 for the Lord's Taverners WA Test Match Breakfast. 529 Taverners and their guests were on hand to hear first-hand accounts from Australia's Mitchell Johnson and West Indies batsman Brendan Nash on the performance of their respective teams in the 3 mobile Test Series.

Promotional material for the Test Match Breakfast actually listed renowned West Indian journalist and broadcaster Fazeer Mohammed as one of the featured speakers, but he was unfortunately and suddenly called back to Trinidad to be with his seriously ill father.

West Indian team management responded magnificently and offered Brendan Nash as Fazeer's substitute - giving us the unique pairing of Nash and Johnson, who had earlier been team mates with the Queensland Bulls and housemates in Brisbane. Johnson had moved to Perth and was now 'officially' a Western Australian, while Nash was born in the Perth suburb of Attadale - less than 20 minutes from the WACA Ground.

Nash's early cricket was played in Queensland, but with limited opportunities at first class level he looked further afield, and that took him to the West Indies, where he was qualified for national representation as his father had been a Commonwealth and Olympic Games swimmer for Jamaica.

The excellent presentations from Johnson and Nash, and the surprise role reversal when cricket correspondent and broadcaster Mike Coward interviewed MC Trevor Jenkins, all contributed to an outstanding morning's entertainment.

WA Taverners have already marked up their diaries - Wednesday 15 December 2010 - for the Ashes Series Perth Test Match Breakfast.

each other, our visitors and the Museum. I am aware of the demands placed on their valuable time and grateful for their help in making this one of the best museums dedicated to sport in Australia, and one that should make all WACA Members feel truly proud. A big welcome is extended to our new volunteers Roger Thompson, Ric Evans and Greg Randell.

RB (RON) SARRE

In September 2009, former State cricketer Ron Sarre passed away. Born in Perth in 1932, he was educated at Kent Street and Modern School. In senior school he was considered a "maths brain", so it was no wonder he began working in the banking industry. He also showed great promise as a junior in cricket.

He made his debut for East Perth at the age of 15 in 1948 as a right hand batsman who could bowl off-spinners. He must have pleased his home club because he became a permanent fixture in the team for the next nine seasons. His batting blossomed to the detriment of his bowling, for which he was only called on in an emergency.

Some consistent scoring as an opening batsman in the 1950/51 season, when he made his first century, saw him given an opportunity at interstate level the following season. He made his debut against South Australia, along with club teammate Harry Gorringe. Although his batting was moderate, he chimed in with three wickets in the second innings. He was retained for the rest of the season, and for the next three. But his greatest delight was making 103 against the Australian XI, who were on their way to England. The press said: "He handled the fast bowlers, Lindwall and Archer, with complete ease and his footwork against the slow bowlers was neat and precise".

Sarre continued to be a good contributor at club level, and following his Sheffield Shield experiences, he peeled off a masterly 191 against Nedlands. However, he only produced one score of more than fifty to go with his century in his time for Western Australia.

He had the wonderful privilege of playing against four touring international teams and the Australian XI in 15 first class matches. The visitors were the West Indies in 1951/52 (his second match), South Africa in 1952/53 (twice), New Zealand in 1953/54, and the MCC in 1954/55 - his last match for the State.

Ron's first class record was 523 runs at 18.67, nine wickets at 22.22, and five catches. Beyond his retirement from interstate cricket, Ron continued to perform at club level. In 1958/59 he captained his club and took a very active role with the juniors in the district, something he did for many years after standing down in 1959/60. He played 11 seasons for East Perth/Perth, scored 3508 runs at an average of 29.98, and struck seven centuries. He also took 54 wickets at 24.76 and held 38 catches. His most memorable feat at the bowling crease was a hat-trick he took at Shearn Park against Mount Lawley.

After retiring from active participation he continued to show great interest in the game through juniors and as a spectator at interstate matches. He progressed from banking to the motor vehicle insurance industry, from where he retired. Unfortunately in later life his eyesight began to fail and this curtailed his enjoyment of attending the races, cricket and football matches.

He leaves his wife, Joy, three daughters and ten grandchildren.

P (PETER) HENDERSON

Peter Henderson was born in Mt Barker in 1965 and attended the local school before boarding at Hale School. He initially played first XI as a batsman, but his height and high action made him an ideal bowler. His three years in the school team, under renowned coach Derek Chadwick, produced 602 runs at 37.62, with five fifties. In his third year, 1982, he came to the fore as a bowler by claiming 17 wickets at 14.35. During his summer holidays he turned out for Mt Barker in the annual Country Week carnival. In two seasons he made 333 runs at 33.30 and took 38 wickets at 15.81, playing in a losing A Section final in 1986.

Good judges of cricket had already earmarked Peter for the WACA District competition. He began with Scarborough as a 17-year old schoolboy. Originally his left hand batting was unproductive, but he developed into a handy middle order player for the club. It was his fast medium bowling that continued to impress. He had his most productive season in 1987/88, taking 62 wickets at 17.89, which prompted the State selectors to consider him for a domestic one day match against South Australia in Perth. Unfortunately the pitch was not to his liking, he went wicket-less, and did not get another opportunity at interstate level.

In 1988/89 he had his most successful year as a batsman, posting 529 runs at 48.09. His talents then turned to captaincy, leading Scarborough for four seasons and enjoying premiership success in 1991/92. He then decided to accept an offer to coach South Perth, and took the Sky Blues to two semi-finals in three seasons. The pressure of work took its toll and he retired after 14 seasons of District cricket at the age of 30. His career of 165 matches produced 2870 runs at 21.10, including one century, along with 341 wickets at 22.62, with best bowling figures of 8/44. His large hands at second slip also accounted for 101 catches.

While at Scarborough, the club, through Peter, enjoyed several social events at Mt Barker. Picnic weekends became an annual event, and a local race day was part of the festivities. He was also a handy footballer, with his height being a distinct advantage. However he confined his performances to a lesser competition so he could continue his cricket.

On leaving school, Peter joined the delivery industry as a courier. He progressed through the company and attained the role of Marketing Manager. He continued to follow his sporting interests from the boundary.

Peter leaves his wife, Nicola, and three daughters.

CAREER RECORDS FOR WA & WA COMBINED XI

The dates after each player's name denote the first and final seasons of the cricketer's career. For example, 1960 indicates the 1960-61 season, and 1960-64 indicates from the 1960-61 season to the 1964-65 season. The details set out below show the first line against the player's name as his first class record for Western Australia. The second line gives his matches for the WA Combined XI. Test match records for WA players appear elsewhere in the book.

SHEFFIELD SHIELD

In 1891 Lord Sheffield, a patron of Sussex cricket and a President of Sussex CCC, financed a trip to Australia by an England team captained by Dr WG Grace.

His Lordship was so delighted with the reception he and the team received in Australia he gave the Australian Cricket Council the sum of 150 guineas for the benefit of cricket in the colonies.

The Council, in its wisdom, decided to purchase a shield for competition among the three colonies of New South Wales, Victoria and South Australia. The shield measures 122 cms by 76 cms and bears the Sheffield and Australian coat of arms.

The first year of competition was 1892-93, and it has continued regularly ever since with the exception of the years of the two World Wars. The three original colonies (now states) have since been joined by Queensland (1926-27), Western Australia (1947-48) and Tasmania (1977-78).

Western Australia has competed in 447 Shield games and 90 Pura Cup matches. Pura's sponsorship was introduced in 1999-2000, before Weet-Bix became the major supporter of the competition in 2008-09 and resurrected the Sheffield Shield as the symbol of Australian first class cricket supremacy.

It must be remembered that from 1947-48 until the end of 1970-71, and again from 1981-82, that a team could win on the first innings. From 1971-72 until 1980-81, the introduction of bonus points meant that a win-draw-loss result could be obtained.

INTERSTATE ONE DAY

The interstate one day competition commenced in the 1969-70 season with the six Australian states competing and New Zealand entering at the semi-final stage.

In the early years of the competition it was played as a 40, eight-ball over a side knock-out. New Zealand was successful in the first year, defeating Victoria in the final. They won three finals in the first six years before dropping out of the competition at the end of the 1974-75 season.

Subsequent modifications to the rules saw the overs increased to 50, six-ball overs a side, in 1978-79. Further changes in format have been introduced over the years until the present-day competition of preliminary round matches to establish qualifying finalists and eventually two grand finalists.

Western Australia has played in 227 matches and has won the competition on 11 occasions.

Australia's interstate Twenty20 competition, the KFC Big Bash, began in the summer of 2005-06, with the six states split into two pools of three and playing each other before the top two teams from each pool met in the final.

Each state would play four matches in the 2006-07 competition, but as the tournament's popularity and status grew, so too did the demand for more games, and since 2007-08 all states have played each other once in the preliminary rounds.

There has been added spice to the Big Bash in recent years since the introduction of a Champions League Twenty20 tournament, fought out between the leading domestic Twenty20 teams from around the world. The finalists from the KFC Twenty20 Big Bash automatically qualify for the lucrative Champions League.

Victoria is the dominant force in Australian Twenty20 cricket, winning four of the five KFC Big Bash tournaments contested, and going down in a last-ball thriller in the 2008-09 final against New South Wales. Western Australia hosted the 2007-08 final at the WACA Ground, but suffered a 32-run defeat at the hands of the Bushrangers.
