RCAC Art Fence

Over a year ago, Margaret Bearden came up with an idea to put an art fence around the HVAC fence at the back entrance of the RCAC building. We got the project approved by the city and donations by several patrons. During the summer of 2023, James Hill cut the wood to look like colored pencils; Amber Baxter primed the wood and Cloe Brown painted them with lots of fun colors. James Hill and Peggy Cline installed them on the fence in July and August. We hope this will make you smile when you come to the Arts Center and get you in the mood to create. Thanks to everyone who made this possible!
