His All Holiness Bartholomew I
Archbishop of Constantinople and Ecumenical Patriarch

One Faith, One Family, One Future: Together to the New Millennium

Last year we celebrated the seventy-fifth anniversary of our Archdiocese. We seized the opportunity to reflect upon our history, to pray for the eternal memory of our forebears in the faith, and to take note of the moment's significance in the life of our Church in America. Crowning our celebration was the visit of our spiritual father, His All Holiness, Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew, who recalled for us our spiritual roots, and who reminded us of our profound responsibilities as Greek Orthodox Christians. It is now time to move forward.

This year's Clergy-Laity Congress is designed to initiate our march toward the future. In fact, the theme — "One Faith, One Family, One Future: Together to the New Millennium" — captures the sense of movement forward, and invokes the sense of promise that only the followers of Jesus Christ can have. Indeed, if we really think about it, what better way is there for us as the Church to proceed than together, as one family, with our souls turned in expectation toward the new millennium of Christian Faith?

Therefore, when we gather together this summer in Orlando, Florida, let us purposefully and concretely lay plans that will carry our hopes to fulfillment. Let us begin the work that will adequately prepare the Church for the challenges it will face in the next century and beyond. And let us proceed with assurance, knowing that our God — Father, Son, and Holy Spirit — will forever guide our every step.

With paternal blessings,

His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon
Primate of the Greek Orthodox Church in America

To His Eminence, Spyridon, the Most Reverend Archbishop of America, Exarch of the Western Hemisphere, and beloved brother of our Modesty and concelebrant in the Holy Spirit,; grace and peace be unto Your Eminence from God.

Once again we joyfully respond to Your Eminence's request that we give our blessing to the new edition of the 1998 Church Yearbook. It is our fervent prayer that this year be one of peace, love and truth for Your Eminence and the united and productive clergy and laity who are under your care.

We recall with much joy our visit last year to the United States of America with our honorable company, which coincided with the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Holy Archdiocese of America. With this in mind, we address our warmest and heartfelt greetings to the entire Christ-loving clergy and Christ-named plenitude of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, but to all Orthodox Christians and the energetic American Nation.

This new American Nation, that is made up of citizens from every country on earth and transforms them into citizens of the American state, can be used as a type of that transfiguration in Christ, whereby Orthodox Christians of every ethnic origin and who come from every country are transformed into citizens of the Kingdom of Heaven and fellow citizens of one another, without any loss of their own distinctiveness. This is a matter of the miraculous essential transfiguration of the human person through grace, without changing their identity. This miraculous change is the joyous message of the Holy Gospel and ought to be the aim of our lives. For many promise betterment of the external definitions of our life and many strive for this, but if they are worthy of praise for their labors and their accomplishments, they do not offer the redemptive changes, which we seek in the depths of our hearts and which only our Lord Jesus grants to those who believe in Him.

The magnificence of an outward change of the definitions of the means of life, in which America ranks first, nevertheless contains a danger; namely, that it can hide from us the need and usefulness of the inner change of our hearts and our feelings. It is this inner change that our Modesty, and as a loving parent, the Holy Mother and Great Church of Christ, calls to mind for each of us.

Therefore, in both a brotherly and fatherly way, we urge all of you to have, as your objective aim, the transformation of your minds in Christ; so that you may see the future glory of the life in Christ, which is above and beyond the imperfect provisions of human persons and events. Thus you will continuously form yourselves richly renewed in Christ, becoming living examples for your fellow man, as you live out the essence of your pure Orthodox Faith in Christ. May His grace and infinite mercy be with you all.

Faith, Family and Future: Approaching a New Millennium

«Beholding the glory of the Lord as though in a mirror, we are being transformed from glory to glory by the Spirit who is the Lord.»

2 COR. 3:18

The calendar year of 1997 brought the Greek Orthodox faithful of America a rich mix of feelings and sensations in their continuing evolution in the faith. With the visit of His All Holiness, Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew, the Church in America saw the unifying principles of world-wide Orthodoxy in practice. Under the able leadership of His Eminence, Archbishop Spyridon, the Church in America has had a unique opportunity for reflection, prayer, change and renewal.

His Eminence has made it one of his highest and most consistent priorities to visit with individual parishes on a personal basis. In fact, Archbishop Spyridon has nurtured a personal relationship with many of the faithful in the hundreds of parishes he has visited in his brief two years as shepherd of the flock in America. This has transformed the office of Archbishop into a dynamic ministry, one where Hierarch and laity can speak honestly and openly to one another. The access that individuals of the Greek Orthodox faith in America have had to His Eminence is unprecedented. Archbishop Spyridon has been adamant about meeting the faithful and allowing them to pose questions directly to him in an open and honest dialogue. This type of leadership is refreshing, but it is also taxing.

In the case of Archbishop Spyridon, open debate has served to strengthen his conviction tion that the Church is poised on the threshold of a new and wonderful period. After seventy-five years, the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America is ready to step into a new era. His Eminence's support for Internet ministries, as well as contemporary computer technology, in the service of ministering to the flock and proclaiming the news of Jesus Christ's living presence has earned him recognition from both laity and clergy.

One of the salient moments in the life of our Holy Archdiocese during 1997 was the visit of His All Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew. This seminal event catapulted Orthodox Christianity into the spotlight of American culture. His All Holiness the Ecumenical Patriarch filled his schedule with a wide array of events, from private dinners with community leaders to prayer-filled interfaith experiences. At the pinnacle of his visit were the four Divine Liturgies celebrated before tens of thousands of faithful in four cities. The body of Christ united and whole was shared by thousands of faithful Orthodox Christians in America. This bears witness not merely to our unity, but to our faithfulness to Christ, to the Ecumenical Patriarch, to His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon and the Holy and Sacred Synod of the Eparchy, the Standing Conference of

We are one church, united by an indissoluble bond forged in the teachings, passion, death and resurrection of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. We are offspring of millions of witnesses for the faith, saints known and unknown. Our parents and grandparents are courageous ancestors who set out to seek freedom for themselves and for their beliefs, and especially for the love of the children they knew that God was calling them to raise in the Orthodox Christian Tradition. We are the offspring of those souls, physically for many, spiritually for all who profess one Faith, one Baptism, one God in three hypostases.

The entire Archdiocese under the leadership of His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon is poised to match the courage of those noble souls who have gone before us. Upon the foundation our forebears built, we are called to raise up a new spiritual edifice. Tradition is the treasury of history, and we are its treasurers. However, history is only useful when we learn from it, conserving that which has value and avoiding the pitfalls of divisiveness. Let us live up to the best that is within us, the image of God himself, and grow together into the likeness of Christ who is the perfection of all Glory and Love.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SECRETARY TO THE HOLY SYNOD September 1977

¹ - Because the Sunday of the Samaritan Woman is liturgical with the 12th of the Holy Fathers of the 2nd Ecumenical Synod, the Mother Church should be contacted to be assisted together.

² - Because Pascha falls on the 1st Sunday of June, which is not done annually for the needs of the base of the Holy Father of the 1st Ecumenical Synod, the services are changed together.

³ - For Pascha in the Morning Canon (Canon 1)

Sacred Monastery of St. John the Theologian and Evangelist

In the year 1988 (September 25 - 27) there was a Pan-Orthodox and Inter-Christian celebration of the 900th anniversary of the founding of the Sacred Monastery with the participation of the Greek Government.

Sacred Apocalypse: Thus is the Cave called, in which the Evangelist John the Theologian received the vision and wrote his prophetic book, "The Apocalypse."

Library of the Monastery: The renowned Library of the Monastery, which contains more than 1,000 manuscript codices and about 5,000 printed books, was recently reorganized and augmented with a modern photographic laboratory for the microfilming of manuscripts with the best microfilm technique and the use of different secular scholars and students.

Librarian: Archimandrite Isidoros Psarros, Archimandrite Ignatios Georgis and Deacon Chrysostomos Florentis (Tel. 31.203, Fax 32.095).

2) The Monastic Commonwealth of the Holy Mountain

a) The Peninsula of Athos, from the Great Guard and beyond, is called the "Holy Mountain," which is a self-regulating region in the Greek State, whose sovereignty nevertheless remains intact. From a spiritual perspective, the Holy Mountains falls under the direct jurisdiction of the Ecumenical Patriarchate. Its area comprises 389 square kilometers. Monasticism has been present on the Holy Mountain from the 5th Century in the form of eremetical ascetics, or small groupings in remote places of the Mountain, as well as a parallel secular presence which persisted until the 8th Century.

In the first decades of the 9th Century Hagiorite Monasticism entered a "new phase," which is well attested to in the historical sources. The Mountain took on its own peculiar monastic character, acquiring boundaries and an organized administration with its seat at Karyes, where the Lavra, called the "Great Middle," was active around the year 940 A.D. Here the "First" ("Protos") of the Holy Mountain was situated, and his foundation was called the "Protaton."

In the 9th Century, two important personalities inhabited the Holy Mountain: St. Peter the Athonite, who had come to Athos at the end of the 8th Century, and St. Efthymios the New, who founded a Lavra on the Holy Mountain around 860 A.D.

In 963 A.D. monastic life took on a new shape with the founding, by St. Athanasios, of the first Great Coenobium, the Sacred Monastery of the Great Lavra. The financial and moral support for this undertaking came from that preeminent Emperor of the Byzantium, Nikephoros Phocas, the friend and spiritual son of St. Athanasios. The official organization of monastic life on the Holy Mountain began with the issuance of the Typikon of the Byzantine Emperor John Tsimiskis, known by the name, "Tragos."

After the establishment of the Great Lavra, the remainder of the great monasteries were founded over the years, with the assistance and blessing of the ever-memorable Byzantine Emperors and Ecumenical Patriarchs, by saintly men and remain until today, as the Imperial Chrysobulls and Patriarchal Compacts witness.

Throughout the centuries, the Byzantine State and the Ecumenical Patriarchate, in accordance with their efforts to transmit Christianity to the peoples bordering the Empire, permitted monks of different nationalities to dwell on the Holy Mountain (especially there were Iberians, Slavs and Rumanians) so that they might transmit in turn a deeper understanding of the substance of Orthodoxy, and transplant the Athonite way of life to their people. This explains the fact that until this very day, there are non-Greek-speaking monasteries which continue to be nourished by the centuries-old Athonite monastic tradition.

c) Monastic Administrative Authorities of the Holy Mountain

The Ecclesiastical Administration, according to the Constitutional Charter of the Holy Mountain regulates:

i) The Sacred Community

Seated in Karyes and composed of 20 Representatives of the 20 Sacred Monasteries of the Holy Mountain, the Holy Community is selected every year by each Monastery for annual service, replacing them at the beginning of each year. The Church of the "Protaton" belongs to the Holy Community; it is named in honor of the Dormition of the Theotokos and was adorned throughout in 1290 by Panselinos.

ii) The Sacred Epistasia (Supervisory Board)

The Sacred Epistasia represents an executive authority. The 20 Sacred Monasteries are divided into 5 groups of four (Tetrads), each of which serves every fifth year for one year, from June 1st until the end of May, and this constitutes the Sacred Epistasia.

The Orthodox Center of the Ecumenical Patriarchate was established in June of 1966. The work of the Center, according to the Patriarchal and Synodical Tome of Establishment consists of: serving as an information source for the Christian West, particularly Western Europe, concerning Orthodox worship and Orthodox doctrine, tradition and theology; serving as a place of study of the theology and spiritual life of other Christian Churches and Confessions; facilitating contacts between local Orthodox Churches and in this way advancing the cause of orthodox unity; advancing the spirit of ecumenism through good relations of Orthodoxy with other Christian Churches and Confessions for the advancement of the cause of inter-Christian unity.

In short, the purpose of the Orthodox Center is to serve as a window for Eastern Orthodoxy, beginning with the First Church of the Orthodox Churches, the Ecumenical Patriarchate, to the West and alternately a window for the West to the Orthodox East.

Within this Orthodox Center of the Ecumenical Patriarchate is the Secretariat for the preparation of the Holy and Great Synod. The Proistamenos of the Center has been the head of this Secretariat since its founding in 1968. In preparation for the Holy and Great Synod, many inter-Orthodox and pan-Orthodox meetings have taken place at the Center in Chambesy.

Stephanie Nicolaou, Clerical Support

*Chancellor/Executive Director of the Archdiocese and Personnel:
Very Rev. Protopresbyter
George G. Passias*

The Office of the Chancellor is concerned with the lives of the clergy and their ongoing assignments and reassignments, as well as the benefits provided to them by the Church. In the assignment of clergy between two dioceses, the Chancellor's Office provides the necessary coordination. All assignments in the Archdiocesan District are handled through this office. Also, all new clergy entering the Archdiocese through ordination and from other jurisdictions are directly assigned through the Chancellor's Office.

Since the Archbishop oversees the activities of the bishops "to assist and cooperate with them in the implementation of their common programs," according to the Charter of the Holy Archdiocese, the Chancellor's Office acts as his spokesman, especially at times when a Bishop may be absent from his See or if a diocese is temporarily without a Bishop. At such times matters that need immediate attention are addressed by the Archbishop through the Chancellor's Office.

In addition, individual Parish considerations are the responsibility of the Chancellor's Office. New parishes receive their status through this office. Legal and canonical matters, as well as their formal response, emanate from this office.

The personnel matters are also the responsibility of the Chancellor.

The Chancellor executes the directives of the Archbishop and serves him as his Executive Administrator.

The Chancellor and members of the Executive Board of Holy Cross.

Office of the Archbishop*

The Office of the Archbishop is responsible for the scheduling of His Eminence's many visits and appointments throughout the United States and the world. The office initiates and plans contacts with national and international religious and political leaders. All travels to and from the Ecumenical Patriarchate are also arranged through this office. All official visits to His Eminence and by His Eminence are arranged through the Office of the Archbishop. These visits require attention to ecclesiastical and political protocol.

This office also manages the large volume of correspondence that the Archbishop receives, both personal and official. The office coordinates special projects and initiates special commissions and initiatives. All of His Eminence's speeches are commissioned and edited by this office.

The demands upon the Archbishop for personal appearances and audiences require a complex administrative organization to assure even the most minute of details are accounted for in each and every venue in which His Eminence is to make a public appearance.

The Office of the Archbishop also coordinates schedules with the Chancellor's Office so that the internal administration of the Archdiocese is carried out in an efficient and smooth manner. His Eminence meets regularly with Executive Directors, Directors and support staff in order to keep abreast of developments in the work of every aspect of the Archdiocese's ministries and endeavors.

Very Rev. Archimandrite Gabriel Karambis,
Executive Director

This century has witnessed an awakening and strengthening of Orthodoxy in America because of the role that all Greek Orthodox faithful have played in elevating and projecting Orthodox doctrine, worship and vitality.

The challenge of the 21st Century is to instill in the young an increased and more illuminating knowledge of Orthodoxy, providing a vision and capacity through the Church to weave the texture of an Orthodox Ethos for their lives. An integral part of being an Orthodox Christian involves the link between faith, philanthropy and learning. The Greek American experience has adopted and incorporated this alliance into its tenets, expecting that we will help our young in shaping their religious and cultural future.

The National Ministries embrace those areas of the Archdiocese which are the integral components of our "Church Life" - which will ensure the future of our Church in America laid by our protoporoi, our fathers and mothers, our grandparents, who laid the foundation that has been cultivated by second, third and even fourth generations.

Everyone benefits from the National Ministries of the Archdiocese which include: Stewardship, Religious Education, Saint Basil Academy, Greek Education and Culture, Youth and Young Adult Ministries, Ionian Village, St. Michael's Home for the Aged and the Orthodox Christian Missions Center (OCMC).

Rev. Presbyter Mark Arey
Executive Director

*Rev. Presbyter Mark Arey,
Executive Director
Department of Communications*

The ultimate goal of each department of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese is to proclaim the Good News. To do so, we must communicate—that is, inform and edify our own members and believers and the society in which we live—about Greek Orthodoxy as God’s ancient, yet ever-new, vital and vibrant religious presence in the world. We are entrusted with the task of heightening awareness and understanding of the message by raising the consciousness of the media regarding Orthodox Christianity.

In addition to introducing the non-Orthodox to our moral perspective, the Communications Department is meeting the ever-growing challenge of reaching believers. As Greek Orthodox communities become increasingly American-born, the timeless teaching of the Church must be presented to a new audience which has a different cultural outlook than their forefathers. The “electronic church,” as it has come to be known, is a reality.

The Communications Department includes the Public Relations/News and Information Office, the Orthodox Observer, the Office of Radio and Television, Internet Ministries and the Office of Publications.

Archbishop Spyridon, Chairman
Metropolitan Philip, Vice Chairman
Metropolitan Joseph, Secretary

V. Rev. Paul Schneirla, Recording Secretary
Metropolitan Nicholas, Treasurer
Rev. Dr. George D. Dragas, Ecumenical Officer

The Standing Conference of Canonical Orthodox Bishops in the Americas (SCOBA), established in 1960 with Archbishop Iakovos as Chairman, brings together the canonical hierarchs of the Orthodox jurisdictions in America. The purpose of the Conference is to make the ties of unity among the canonical Orthodox Churches and their administrations stronger and more visible. The hierarchs meet twice annually for discussions and decisions on ecumenical matters. SCOBA's Study and Planning Commission, chaired by the Ecumenical Officer, supervises the activities of all the other SCOBA commissions and committees and prepares the agenda for the meetings.

Dr. Athanasios Fourlas,
Christine Athanasopoulos

The Office of the Chief Secretariat is responsible for all official correspondence in Greek. They also act as the conduit for information of an administrative and ecclesiastical nature between the Archdiocese of America and the Ecumenical Patriarchate. When the Archdiocese communicates with other Eparchies of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, this office facilitates those communications.

The Office the Chief Secretariat also promulgates the official Encyclicals of the Archbishop to all the Churches throughout the nation. Through this office, parishes may communicate and have those needs met that pertain to Antiminssia and Holy Chrism.

The Office also maintains certain records pertaining to the life of the Archdiocese, its history and development as well as its growth and evolution. It does this in conjunction with the Office Archives.

When academic liaisons are necessary, this office stands ready to meet the challenge. Being knowledgeable in Greek, the office assists all the other departments of the Archdiocese in assuring a proper use of the language. They also act as a reference resource for all other offices and Departments.

Hellenic College and Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology together constitute a vibrant Greek Orthodox Christian Institution of higher learning which provides undergraduate and graduate education.

The Institution was originally founded as Holy Cross Theological School in 1937 in Pomfret, Connecticut. Since its establishment, Holy Cross has been the seminary of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese in the Americas, preparing dedicated men for ordination to the holy priesthood. In 1967, responding to the emerging needs of the Church, and by virtue of its own academic maturation, Holy Cross expanded its collegiate division into a full four-year liberal arts college, a distinct undergraduate school known as Hellenic College. Today the faculties and students of the undergraduate and graduate schools continue to form one community, sharing the same campus and facilities.

Both Hellenic College and Holy Cross are accredited institutions of higher learning. Hellenic College offers the Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in four programs: classics, elementary education, human development, and religious studies. Holy Cross offers graduate programs of study leading to the degrees of Master of Divinity (M.Div.), Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.), Master of Arts in Church Service (M.A.), and Master of Theology (Th.M.).

The student body consists of women and men from various Orthodox jurisdictions within the Americas and throughout the world. Hellenic College and Holy Cross enjoy a strong pan-Orthodox and international presence on campus, which manifests the Apostolic vision of the Church.

Holy Cross Chapel serves as the spiritual core of the campus, where faculty and students gather daily. Through the curriculum and special programs, the faculty addresses, in a context of faith, the vital issues that affect today's world for man's survival and salvation. For both Hellenic College and Holy Cross, the integration of faith, learning, and cultural awareness is the essence of their mission by the Church.

The Archons of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of the Order of St. Andrew the Apostle are laymen of the Archdiocese who have been honored for their outstanding service to the Church by having a Patriarchal title, or “offikion,” bestowed upon them by His All Holiness, the Ecumenical Patriarch. Those upon whom this title of the Byzantine Church has been conferred are known as “Archons of the Great Church of Christ,” and the titles are personally conferred by the Exarch of the Ecumenical Patriarchate in the Americas, His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon.

Rev. Prof. Dr. George D. Dragas,
Director, Ecumenical Officer

Catherine K. Contopoulos,
Coordinator and Archivist

The Ecumenical Office has as its main function the task of providing information, stimulating interest, and coordinating ecumenical activities, both on the diocesan as well as the parish level. It adheres to the principle that Orthodoxy and Orthodox ecumenism must always speak the truth, never compromising the integrity and purity of Orthodox teachings, but always respecting the sincerity of the religious convictions and spiritual sensitivities of others.

The activities of the Ecumenical Office are under the supervision of His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon.

The involvement of the Ecumenical Office falls generally into seven areas of interest:

A) The National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA (NCC)

The Greek Orthodox Archdiocese is represented by clergy and laity on each of several committees which meet during the year.

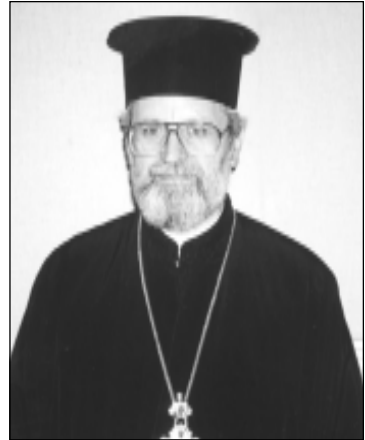

B) The World Council of Churches (WCC)

The Archdiocese is not a member of the WCC, but participates in ecumenical work of the WCC through the membership of the Ecumenical Patriarchate of Constantinople. The Ecumenical Officer, representing the Archbishop, is on the Board of Directors of the WCC/ U.S.A. Office.

C) Standing Conference of the Canonical Orthodox Bishops in the Americas (SCOBA)

Organized in 1960, the Chairman of this Conference is chaired by His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon. Meeting no less than twice a year, SCOBA coordinates the efforts of the respective jurisdictions. The following commissions carry out the concerns of SCOBA:

- a) Study and Planning Commission
- b) Ecumenical Commission
- c) Orthodox Christian Education Commission
- d) Scouting Commission
- e) Communications Commission
- f) Hospitals and Military Chaplaincy Commission
- g) Social and Moral Issues Task Force
- h) Liturgical Translation Commission
- i) International Orthodox Christian Charities (IOCC)
- j) Mission and Evangelism Commission

Archbishop Spyridon, Chairman
Mimi Skandalakis, National President

The Greek Orthodox Ladies Philoptochos Society, the official philanthropic organization of the Greek Orthodox Church in America, was established in November, 1931, by the late Ecumenical Patriarch Athenagoras I, who was then serving as Archbishop of North and South America.

National Philoptochos marked its sixty-sixth anniversary of "DEDICATED CHRISTIAN SERVICE" to the Greek Orthodox Church, its institutions and organizations and to the community at large, this past fall in Atlanta, Georgia, with the blessings of His All Holiness Patriarch Bartholomew.

The members of the National Board of Philoptochos are dedicated church women who offer countless hours to the philanthropic, humanitarian, and Christian mission of the Church.

The national programs of the Philoptochos benefit a number of organizations and causes, including: St. Basil Academy; Hellenic College / Holy Cross School of Theology; Archdiocesan Missions; St. Photios Shrine; philanthropies of the Ecumenical Patriarchate; UNICEF; and an emergency fund for victims of natural disasters. Its programs include committees on AIDS, aging, home-lessness, child abuse prevention, drug and alcohol abuse, and child pornography. National Philoptochos also has a Children's Cardiac Program, a Cancer Fund and a Children's Medical Fund (to assist children with life-threatening illnesses, such as AIDS, cancer, kidney and liver disease, and juvenile diabetes).

Its Social Work Services program assists Greek and Greek-American people of all ages throughout the Archdiocese with issues of health and mental health, government entitlements, homelessness, eviction prevention, older adult and family services, substance abuse, and domestic violence.

There are an estimated 500 Philoptochos chapters in the United States. The structure of the Philoptochos includes the National Board, Diocesan Boards, and Chapters in every parish of the Archdiocese.

The Hellenic Cultural Center of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America

The Hellenic Cultural Center of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America was established in 1986 with the goal of cultivating within the Community the rich Orthodox Heritage and the Hellenic customs, culture and traditions within the Greek American Community.

The Center is located in Astoria, New York. It is equipped with:

- 1) A theater with a seating capacity of 200 seats, along with adequate sound and stage lighting equipment, where lectures, concerts, panel discussions, dance performances and theatrical plays are regularly held.
- 2) An area for exhibitions of paintings, photography, icons and reception.
- 3) A Chapel dedicated to Saint Cosmas.
- 4) Four separate office areas.

Archbishop Spyridon speaks about unity among all at the Hellenic Cultural Center.

What Is the National Forum?

The National Forum of Greek Orthodox Church Musicians is responsible for the development, recognition, and support of church choir and liturgical music activities. Chartered in 1976, the Forum also serves as the liaison between local church musicians, the diocesan church music federations, and the Archdiocese.

Who Are the Members of the National Forum?

The work of the Forum is supported by the eight diocesan choir federations, which elect five members each to serve on the National Coordinating Committee. Member federations include: Chicago Diocese, Eastern, Mideastern, New England, Archdiocesan District, Southeastern, Denver Diocese and San Francisco Diocese. Forum members meet annually to review products, identify needs for materials and programs, and discuss issues of concern to church musicians.

Individual membership in the National Forum is open to all church musicians - choir directors, organists, choir members, clergy, chanters and music educators. Choirs, parishes, and other interested organizations may also become group members.

What Is the National Church Music Endowment Fund?

The National Forum works with Hellenic College/Holy Cross School of Theology to endow the Chrysanthos Chair of Byzantine and Church Choir Music. A national fundraising drive is conducted each fall to solicit contributions to support the musical education of our seminarians as well as church choirs, chanters and church school children. Donations may be sent at any time.

What Does the National Forum Do?

- Publishes and distributes to parishes the annual LITURGICAL GUIDEBOOK and the COMPANION to the Guidebook, a handbook for choir directors.
- Publishes other liturgical music materials:
 - HYMNS OF THE ORTHODOX FAITH teaching series
 - Guide to Congregational Singing
 - MUSICA, a liturgical music periodical
 - Organist Handbooks
 - Holy Friday Retreat Parish Handbook
 - SHARING IN SONG: A Songbook for Orthodox Gatherings
- Sponsors National Forum Church Music Institutes in each Diocese
- Develops position papers and reports on various church music issues and topics, as well as on Byzantine music materials
- Encourages recognition of church musicians on National Church Music Sunday, in October
- Presents the St. Romanos Medallion to church musicians who have demonstrated exemplary national leadership in church music
- Presents the Patriarch Athenagoras Distinguished Service Award to those who have made significant diocesan church music contributions
- Administers the Archbishop's Years of Service Award to choir directors

ST. PHOTIOS NATIONAL SHRINE

V. Rev. Dimitrios G. Couchell, Executive Director

The St. Photios Greek Orthodox National Shrine is the property of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. It is primarily a religious center and is located in the former Avero House, a two-story structure built in 1749, at 41 St. George Street, in America's oldest City of St. Augustine. It was here, in the Avero House that, with the demise of the New Smyrna Colony in 1777, the remaining colonists gathered and made this house (now the St. Photios National Shrine) their place for prayer and fellowship. Herein lies the importance and significance of the St. Photios Shrine and why it is the source of our roots in America.

Initially, there were some 400 Greeks, 900 Minorcans and a few dozen Corsicans and Italians when they arrived on June 26, 1768, in St. Augustine for food supplies and other provisions on their odyssey journey to the ill-fated New Smyrna Colony. The Greeks were from Smyrna (Asia Minor), Mani (Peloponessos), Santorini and Crete. Since the Ottomans did not allow a Greek Orthodox priest to accompany them, their religious and spiritual needs were administered by the Roman Catholic priest, Fr. Pedro Camps, from Minorca.

The Greek Orthodox Archdiocese purchased the Avero House in 1966, and Archbishop Iakovos dedicated the restored St. Photios National Shrine on February 27, 1982, and consecrated the St. Photios Chapel on February 18, 1985. The purpose of this National Shrine is, on the one hand, to honor the memory of the first colony of Greeks in the New World and the succeeding generations of Greek immigrants (protopori) and, on the other hand, to preserve, enhance and promote in the U.S.A. the ethnic and cultural traditions of Greek heritage and the teachings of the Greek Orthodox Church.

The St. Photios National Shrine is a self-supporting Archdiocesan Institution, thanks to the generosity of its Benefactors, Friends, Philoptochos and Ahepa Chapters. Once a month a Divine Service is conducted at the St. Photios Shrine Chapel. The Shrine Museum features a number of exhibits on the Greek Orthodox Church, the New Smyrna Colony, and an audio-visual room where the video "Our Plymouth Rock" is shown continuously. The Shrine, as a service to the Orthodox Churches and the general public, operates a Bookstore/Gift Shop, as well as the National Shrine Church Supplies, with all profits earmarked for the maintenance of the St. Photios Shrine.

The Annual St. Photios Shrine Pilgrimage is held on the first weekend in February and features Divine Services, annual meetings of the Shrine's Board of Trustees and Standing Committees, and the Shrine's Feastday Luncheon. Likewise, there is an annual Spiritual Renewal Retreat, and the Greek Landing Day Festival is held on the nearest Saturday and Sunday to June 26th.

The Shrine is open daily from 9:00 am until 5:00 pm, except for Christmas and Easter.

815 N.E. 15th Avenue, Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33304 • Tel.: (954) 467-1515 • Fax: (954) 467-0212

The Archdiocesan Presbyters Council, through its executive officers and various working Committees, seeks to serve the needs of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America and to enhance and promote the mission of our priests on all levels of their ministry, spiritual growth and needs.

Each Diocesan Clergy Syndesmos is represented by two elected representatives for a period of two years, to coincide with the Archdiocesan Clergy-Laity Congress. The Council meets twice annually (spring and fall) with the blessings of the Archbishop. Special meetings may be called by the Archbishop or by the Council President with the consent of the other officers and with the knowledge of the Archbishop.

The Council extends its function through the appointment of standing committees, with the blessing of the Archbishop, who will, along with the member Bishops of the Holy Synod, receive all minutes and reports. These standing committees will be concerned with clergy concerns, such as theological studies and moral issues, clergy retreats on spiritual life and renewal, family and celibate life, canonical and administrative matters, liturgical issues, education (Religious and Greek), ministry and mission, and clergy benefits.

The National Sisterhood of Presvyteres, formally established in 1982, consists of all the Presvyteres of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. The purpose of the Sisterhood is to promote the spirit of Christian love among the Presvyteres by giving them opportunities to get acquainted with one another. This is accomplished with retreats, meetings, social gatherings and newsletters which help the Presvyteres develop a unique bond. The Sisterhood National Board meets annually, whereas the general membership convenes every two years at the Clergy-Laity Congress.

INTERCHURCH/INTERFAITH MARRIAGES

Rev. Presbyter Charles Joanides, Ph.D. Researcher
E-mail: intermarriage@goarch.org

The Greek Orthodox Church in America is growing and evolving within the context of the diverse cultural and social realities of contemporary American society. Poised on the threshold of the new millennium, the Church under the guidance of His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon recognizes the complex challenges facing Orthodoxy in America. Taking up the challenge of a crisis and perceiving it as an opportunity, His Eminence together with numerous religious and lay people has given the Church a charge saying: "It is not so much a problem as it is a promise of things that can be. It is an opportunity."

The Interchurch/Interfaith Marriage Committee has engaged the issue with love toward all and with vigor in proclaiming the witness of Orthodoxy to persons in mixed marriages. The suffering and loss to the Body of Christ because of ignorance and apathy toward those in this area has been replaced with a new and dedicated sense of mission and outreach.

Since the 1970s, both the clergy and laity have expressed deep concern for the interfaith families in our Church. At the 32nd and 33rd Clergy-Laity congresses, meetings were convened and reports written acknowledging the difficulties many families face concerning this reality. In 1994, Holy Cross held a conference on this topic and from that a book was published: Intermarriage: Orthodox Perspectives.

In 1997, the Archdiocese approached Rev. Presbyter Charles Joanides, who had just completed his Ph.D. in Human Development and Family Studies at Iowa State University. Fr. Charles has also been active in private practice as a marriage and family therapist. His draft proposal was accepted at the Archdiocesan Council meetings in September of 1997. The Interchurch/Interfaith Marriage Committee is moving from the research stage into the development of programs and their implementation.

The diverse needs and blessings of interfaith marriages are to be addressed as follows:

Lovingly embrace all such persons into the life of the Church community.

Positively adjust the attitudes of our Church, its institutions and members toward lovingly embracing and welcoming individuals of all backgrounds.

Educate the faithful laity concerning the ecclesiological and dogmatic concerns of these marriages.

Educate the clergy regarding specifically related pastoral concerns.

The Interchurch/Interfaith Marriage Committee is guided by the His Eminence and the Chancellor and profess the message and spirit of His Eminence's words on the subject: "Let us take advantage of it; for a Church that is open to all people is a Church that grows."

This office provides the Archdiocese with tools for organizing and evaluating computer information, applications, and data resources. The department of Management Information Systems is responsible for maintaining, upgrading, and evaluating the integrity and efficiency of data resources as the organization grows accordingly. There is a constant manipulation of data from eighteen major administrative applications that store, modify, and extract information on a continual basis. Within the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, MIS is responsible for maintaining, customizing, and developing computer applications and data structures. The Archdiocese operates under an open architecture system which allows the development of customized programs and applications. These include:

Application Development

Database Management Systems

Accounting Information Systems

Network Management & Administration

Computer Telephony

Hardware Upgrades and Maintenance

The Office of Management Information Systems also builds and maintains the complex hardware that is required for the free flow of information, from desktop computers to network workstations and network servers.

Recently, the entire information structure that supports the complex administration of the Archdiocese has been enhanced. For the first time, all records, files and information are now stored in such a way as to assure security and at the same time to provide ready access to information for the efficient administration of the Church.

The Church being the body of Christ in the world is responsible for the material well-being of the souls entrusted to her care. As an institution in the world but not of the world, she must carefully balance the spiritual needs of her flock against the material necessities required to advance the Gospel of Jesus Christ in the world. To this end, the Department of Finance is charged with maintaining the material well-being of the Archdiocese of America that it may flourish as an icon of God's plenty and mercy.

The Department of Finance is responsible for the oversight of all receipts and disbursements of the Archdiocese. Its constant task is to oversee all the institutions of the Archdiocese and the Dioceses that comprise the Greek Orthodox Church in America. The Department effects the will of the Archbishop and the Archdiocesan Council in fiduciary matters. It advises persons and institutions in the Archdiocese on matters relating to fiscal health and responsibility.

The Department coordinates an extensive and detailed audit program that includes the Archdiocese and all its institution and affiliates. This oversight extends to the Dioceses and occasionally to parishes as well. This audit program has been a fixture in the life of the Church in America for over twenty years. Currently, the yearly audit is conducted by BDO Seidman, one of the world's largest auditing firms, at a cost of over $200,000 annually. The Department is managed by the Finance Committee and the Chancellor's Office.

This Department keeps the vital records of the Greek Orthodox Faithful of the Archdiocese, including marriages, divorces, baptisms, and funerals. Such record-keeping began in 1923 for marriages and for divorces. Since September 1, 1979, a local registry department was established in every diocese. The Archdiocese Registry Department compiles annual vital statistics in cooperation with diocesan registrars, and maintains the canonical files.

The Affidavits of Marriage of the dioceses are numbered by the respective registrars. The Affidavits of Marriage and Marriage Certificates, as well as Baptismal Certificates, are signed by the Bishops and receive the seal of the individual diocese. Only in the Archdiocesan District are the Affidavits of Marriage, Certificates of Marriage, and Baptismal Certificates signed by His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon and sealed with the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese Seal.

The priests of parishes who are under the jurisdiction of the various dioceses receive the Episcopal License for Marriage from the Bishop of each diocese. After the ceremony of Holy Matrimony, the Episcopal License is returned to the registrar of each diocese, who then issues the Marriage Certificate. The Registrar keeps a record for each marriage in order to facilitate the finding of the necessary information when required. This, practically speaking, is very important for Social Security purposes and for all official documentation which may be needed. With reference to the Certification of Marriage Eligibility (Bans), a record has been kept in every diocese since September 1, 1979, in order to ensure that the Certificate is used only once.

Also since September 1, 1979, there has existed in every diocese a Spiritual Court of the First Order. These Spiritual Courts adjudicate divorce cases. Divorce papers are under the jurisdiction of each diocese.

Since the establishment of the first Greek Orthodox Church in 1864, the evolution of the Greek-American community has been a primary concern of the leadership of the Church. To meet this concern this department works to maintain the historical documents of the Greek Orthodox Church and of Hellenism in the Americas.

Established more than ten years ago, the Department of Archives has undertaken the task of systematically evaluating, organizing and classifying voluminous files, dating back as far as 1918. These documents record the history, progress, and growth of the Church and its institutions, of the Greek-American community, and of numerous fraternal, social, cultural, and educational organizations. Of primary concern to this department is the need to preserve and restore historical documents. Many of these records are irreplaceable and in danger of disintegrating because of age. Extreme care is taken to restore and preserve them.

Included in the Archives files are hundreds of documents representing numerous categories of Church development. Among the categories indexed are:

1. The establishment and incorporation of the Archdiocese;
2. The historical development of key institutions and governing bodies within the Church;
3. The structure and reorganization of the Archdiocese;
4. The listings of all clergymen within the hierarchy of the Church;
5. The progress of the ecumenical movement; and
6. The records of the Ecumenical and Orthodox Patriarchates.

In addition, the Archives has gathered an extensive photograph file and book collection on Greeks in America.

Undoubtedly, the most extensive and authentic repository of the history of the Greek Orthodox Church and of Greeks in America, the Office of Archives is now in a position to offer its services to scholars, researchers and authors. It is ready to provide them with the resources necessary for their research. Information and photographs are available upon request.

Very Rev. Archimandrite J. Gabriel Karambis, Director
Chris Andreas, Administrative Assistant
Natalie Kulukundis, Administrative Assistant

The Greek Orthodox Church of America seeks to dynamically unite the Faithful and make Christian truths live in the hearts and actions of her people. The Department of Stewardship Ministries is devoted to promoting the continued growth of our Church as a dynamic Faith community, through stewardship education, parish ministry and leadership development.

This function is accomplished in the following ways: 1) focusing on parish life and the marshaling of Archdiocesan resources to assist parish leadership in addressing the vital work of the parish; 2) implementing the Total Commitment program in partnership with dioceses and parishes; 3) educating the Faithful in stewardship education through the development and distribution of materials, and the planning of the educational components of Clergy-Laity Congresses and diocesan conferences; 4) planning and implementing the LOGOS program; 5) visiting parishes and dioceses to help focus their work in these areas; 6) developing continuing education opportunities for clergy.

THE TOTAL COMMITMENT PROGRAM

The Total Commitment program sustains, primarily through the stewardship offerings of parishes, the ministries of the Greek Orthodox Church. These ministries bolster the growth of Greek Orthodoxy, thereby benefitting, directly or indirectly, all practicing Greek Orthodox Faithful. These ministries include: the Ecumenical Patriarchate; Holy Cross School of Theology, and Hellenic College; Youth Ministry Programs; St. Basil Academy; Orthodox Missions; Religious Education; Greek Education and Culture; and Diocesan Ministries.

THE ARCHDIOCESAN COUNCIL STEWARDSHIP COMMITTEE

The Archdiocesan Council Stewardship Committee is a standing committee, which is composed of clergy and laity from each diocese, who voluntarily give of their time, talents and resources to work with the Department in initiatives that promote a greater understanding of stewardship among Greek Orthodox Faithful. The vision of the Committee is to reach the point where stewardship becomes not only a way of life for each Greek Orthodox Christian, but also the means to sustain the Orthodox Church and provide for her growth.

LEAGUE OF GREEK ORTHODOX STEWARDS

LOGOS is a national stewardship program which is aimed at sharpening the Church's efforts in fostering and cultivating the spiritual growth of our young. It is through this careful nurturing that they will grow in the fullness of the Holy Spirit today and in the years to come. The main goal of LOGOS is to support the programs that immerse our youth and young adults in the teachings of our Faith. Hundreds of programs, services and projects are funded through your generous LOGOS contributions. These programs are under the direction of the various departments of the Archdiocese, as well as of all the dioceses.

The estate of the late Jacob Ruppert, the Academy was purchased in 1944 by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese supported by the Greek Ladies Philoptochos Society. It was named Saint Basil Academy and was dedicated to Christian philanthropy and education.

The Academy is located in the picturesque woodland on the east bank of the majestic Hudson River, at Garrison, New York, opposite the United States Military Academy at West Point. Its two hundred fifty acres are ideally situated in a country setting and within an hour's drive from New York City.

The purpose of St. Basil Academy is to continue its mission as a philanthropic center of the Church where young orphaned and needy children find protection, shelter, education, and most importantly the warmth of our Christian love and security of a home.

Saint Basil Academy's focus is on the total child. The child's spiritual, physical, educational, emotional and social needs are addressed in chapel, classroom, and recreational settings.

The Academy offers the children a sound education based on the principles of American learning, the teachings of the Greek Orthodox Church and the language and tradition of the Hellenes. In addition, the Academy programs provide religion, Greek language, health, technology, art, and music. To prepare the children for the third millennium age of the computers, the Academy houses a computer laboratory. Furthermore, the academy houses the Nicholas J. Soumas Library, a multi sensory learning center with extensive use of films and video to aid in the total learning process.

When not in school, the children are the responsibility of the student Life Coordinators and recreational staff. They supervise and provide activities to promote individual growth and development. Within the dormitories, discipline is maintained, personal hygiene is taught and specific chores and tasks are assigned to keep the areas clean and neat. The recreation program provides a variety of activities such as volleyball, basketball, soccer, softball, arts and crafts, cooking, nature study, dancing, and much more. With such a variety of activities, each child has the opportunity to develop his or her own creative outlets.

All the children live in cottage-like dormitories. Meals and clothing are usually donated by various organizations, societies and individuals. All children are regularly checked and cared for by volunteers of the Hellenic Medical and Dental Societies of New York at the on-campus clinic.

One of the Academy's goals is to bring the real world into the lives of its needy children. During the holidays, the children of St. Basil are placed with families who open their hearts and homes to them.

Throughout the course of the year, hundreds of people and many groups visit the Academy. Retreats and conferences are held on a regular basis. The Academy facilities are used by parish priests, Philoptochos Ladies, YAL, GOYA'ns, the Scouts, AHEPA chapters, church groups and schools of higher learning. The Academy presently can accommodate up to seventy persons.

GREEK EDUCATION AND CULTURE

Dr. Nicholas Kladopoulos, Director

Ms. Maria Makedon, Assistant Director

Ms. Dimitra Colovos, Assistant

The Greek Education program of the Archdiocese aims at inculcating in our youth the spiritual, moral, and cultural values of Greek Orthodoxy and of the Greek heritage. Also, to instill into their hearts the American ideals, so that they may live, strive, and distinguish themselves in the American society as useful and conscientious citizens, rightfully proud of their ancestry.

In order to achieve these fundamental goals, the Archdiocese offers, through its community schools, an educational program which emphasizes instruction in the following areas:

1. The Greek Orthodox Faith.
2. The modern Greek language.
3. The history of Greece from its earliest times to this day.
4. Life in contemporary Greece.
5. Greek emigration with an emphasis on the development and progress of Greek in this country.

COMMISSION ON GREEK LANGUAGE AND CULTURE

The purpose of the Greek Education and Culture program of the Archdiocese is to instill in our youth the spiritual, moral and cultural values of our Greek Orthodox heritage so that they may pass it on to their own children. At the forefront of this issue is Archbishop Spyridon with a fervent desire to improve and promote our Greek-American educational system in America.

His Eminence and Professor John A. Rassias, president of The Rassias Foundation at Dartmouth College created a committee called the "Archbishop's Commission on Greek Language and Culture," designed to bring public attention to the importance of the study of the Greek language and Hellenic culture in the Greek Orthodox communities in the United States.

The Commission currently consists of 22 members with an expected maximum number of not more than 25 members who are appointed by the Archbishop.

The Commission, chaired by Professor Rassias, is made up of highly respected persons in the areas of the public sector, politics, academics and business. Members are individuals who are concerned with and committed to improving the instruction of the Greek language and furthering an awareness of Hellenic culture in the United States.

THE DEPARTMENT OF GREEK EDUCATION

The Archdiocesan Department of Greek Education is entrusted with working closely with the communities in order to assist them in implementing a variety of educational community programs, in line with the values, traditions and spiritual heritage of our Greek Orthodox Church.

To carry out its mission, the Archdiocesan Department of Education:

- a. Develops curricula and materials for the teaching of the Greek language and civilization that are based on contemporary research and teaching methods and are designed for the non-Greek speaking children.
- b. Conducts teacher seminars and workshops on the local, diocesan, and national level, aimed at acquainting our teachers with the latest methods and practices on teaching Greek as a second language.
- c. Assists community schools in their effort to recognize the Greek language as being of equal status with any other foreign language taught in the public schools. As a result, students attending community day or afternoon schools in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Illinois and Virginia are awarded high school credits in a foreign language for studying Greek.
- d. Organizes programs and presentations of a religious or cultural nature. These include lectures, art exhibits, theatrical presentations, musical performances, etc.

THE ARCHDIOCESAN SCHOOL SYSTEM

The Archdiocesan School System is made up of pre-school centers, kindergartens, elementary, junior and high schools, afternoon Greek language schools and classes for adults. There are 20 Greek American parochial day schools currently functioning in the United States with a total enrollment of about 4,400 students for the 1997-98 school year. Within the nearly 500 Greek communities in the United States there exist 281 Greek Afternoon School programs with nearly 20,000 students, ages 6-15, enrolled in the afternoon school program and taught by nearly 1,000 Greek teachers.

Rev. Anastasios Bourantas, Director

The mission of the Archdiocese Office of Youth and Young Adult Ministries is to minister to youth workers, young people, and their families, enabling them to fully experience the Orthodox Faith, and to live a vital Orthodox Christian life. This is accomplished by training and assisting youth workers, educating and equipping parents, and motivating and guiding young people.

Assisting Youth Workers & Equipping Parents

1. A computer bulletin board system called ACCESS has been developed. The ACCESS system is an international resource center, compatible with IBM and Macintosh computers, providing busy youth workers with a time-saving library of resources. These resources include, but are not limited to, retreat outlines, surveys, statistics, studies, informative and timely articles, media reports & reviews, information on summer camps, diocese events, bibliographies, ongoing electronic mail (E-mail) dialogues, and extensive information on the Orthodox Faith. New information is added each day, and departments of the Archdiocese will be fully incorporated into the system. This BBS (bulletin board system) is available to anyone with an IBM or IBM-compatible computer with "Windows," or a Macintosh computer, for an annual subscription rate of $50, and can be previewed on the Internet at <http://www.goarch.org/access>.

2. An annual national youth worker conference in the fall brings in professional and experienced youth workers to conduct practical workshops and sessions for parish youth workers, teachers, and parents. Musical programs and fellowship are further highlights.

3. Trained and certified Archdiocese Youth Directors offer in-depth training sessions for youth workers and parents on the following eight topics: Basics of Youth Ministry, Relational Youth Ministry, Drugs and Alcohol, Surviving Adolescence, Counseling Teenagers, Teaching About Sex & Sexuality, Family Ministry, and Creative Teaching.

4. The monthly Challenge supplement of the Orthodox Observer provides articles, statistics, updates on youth culture, parent helps, youth worker tips, answers to questions from young people, and educational and inspirational information.

As Orthodox Christians we are called to trust in the Lord for all our needs both human and spiritual. We know, however, that we must do our share. For the spiritual “security” of our souls we must pray, fast, confess and live a Christ-like life. For the physical “security” of our lives we must institute a pension, life insurance, medical and disability program.

To address the temporal needs of our clergy the Archdiocese Benefits Committee has been established. This is the legal body of the Church in America that has the responsibility for the overall benefits of the clergy and lay employees of the Archdiocese.

The Archdiocese Benefits Committee meets twice a year, each Spring and Fall, to receive and act on reports from its standing committees. Each standing committee consists of clergy and laymen with particular interest and professional expertise in the areas the committee oversees.

The Administrative Committee meets at least four times a year. It is responsible for the operation of the Pension Plan. It establishes rules for its administration and acts on applications for pension benefits and related issues. It also considers and acts on requests for financial assistance for clergy and their families.

The Investment Committee meets regularly to review the investment performance of the Pension Fund against established objectives and strategies. It establishes the investment guidelines and has the power to appoint and dismiss the funding agent(s).

The Orthodox Health Plan Committee meets as needed to consider issues related to the Archdiocese-sponsored medical plan. It selects the insurance carrier, appoints the broker-administrator and negotiates benefits and rates.

Located on the coast of the Ionian Sea, the Ionian Village offers a perfect setting for young people to experience the beauty of Greece and to grow in their Orthodox faith. The crystal blue waters of the Ionian Sea, the camp's pine forests, Byzantine chapel, white-washed cabins, Olympic-size swimming pool, athletic fields and courts, private beach, and amphitheater create the setting for an unforgettable experience.

Combining a traditional summer camp experience with travel to various religious, cultural and historic sites in Greece, Ionian Village is a spiritual journey back to the roots of our faith and culture, where young people from the United States can experience for themselves both the timeless treasures of Orthodoxy in a land that has always been Orthodox as well as the wealth of Hellenism in its birthplace.

Campers tour the ancient sites during their stay at the Ionian Village.

Lifelong friendships and a greater appreciation for their faith and culture are the benefits young people derive from their Ionian Village experience. Since its founding in 1970, over 10,000 teenagers and young adults have experienced Ionian Village.

Three programs are offered, each one designed for a specific age group:

The Department of Religious Education is a national ministry of the Archdiocese. It serves the parishes and dioceses by providing catechetical workshops, resources and materials to assist their religious educational initiatives.

Curriculum

The current curriculum, "Living Our Orthodox Faith," includes:

I. Primary Level

- God Loves Us (Preschool)
- Happy with God (Kindergarten)
- Me and My World (Grade 1)
- Loving God (Grade 2)
- Sharing God's World . . (Grade 3)

II. Intermediate Level

- Growing with God (Grade 4)
- God Calls Us (Grade 5)

Each grade level includes a full-color pupil text, a teacher edition including liturgical hymns and Orthodox songs, and a cassette recording of music.

III. Middle School - Teen Series

- Facing Up to Peer Pressure
- Stewardship: Serving God's World
- Knowing Christ
- Honesty

IV. Adult

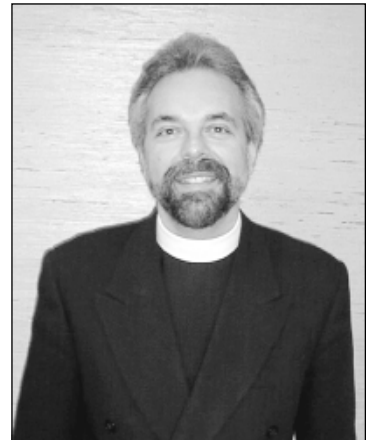

In addition to developing an adult curriculum, multimedia interactive CD-ROM catechetical resources are currently being developed for converts, adults, and families.

Uniform Summer Camp Program Curriculum

The Department of Religious Education has established a national committee that is currently developing a uniform Archdiocesan Summer Camp Curriculum Program for the summer of 1999. The curriculum is being developed in cooperation with the Youth Ministry Office.

Web Page

The Religious Education Ministry Page is the second most active Site on the Archdiocesan Web Page. The interactive Web Site has been designed for those interested in on-going religious instruction. Educational articles, DOXA, diocesan news, and curriculum updates are written and posted by the Director each week.

*Rev. Presbyter
Frank Marangos, Director,
Religious Education*

A virtual religious education classroom is currently under construction on the Internet. The electronic class will take place in "real-time" on Saturday evenings. The class will include lecture and discussion for adult educators and families interested in preparing themselves for Sunday worship services.

Programs

The Department of Religious Education coordinates a number of programs. They include: the convening of a biennial Archdiocese Religious Education Conference for teachers, supervisors and clergy; the Saint John Chrysostom Oratorical Festival; the development of a comprehensive catalogue of educational resources, and the publication of a catechetical magazine and newsletter.

The Department is an integral partner with the Orthodox Christian Education Commission (OCEC) and cooperates with other Orthodox jurisdictions in the exchange of materials, ideas and activities.

National Workshops

The Director of Religious Education travels extensively throughout the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America providing educational workshops and leadership training seminars. An annual workbook is provided to all participants. The theme for the 1998 workshops is "The Educational Praxis of the Liturgical Year." Workshops should be scheduled well in advance.

Teacher Education

The Department of Religious Education offers a number of educational opportunities to religious educators as well to Orthodox Christians interested in learning more about their Faith. The Archdiocese Biennial Religious Education Conference is held during alternating Clergy-Laity Congress summers on the campus of Holy Cross School of Theology.

Apart from the Conference, three educational workshops are provided during the Biennial Archdiocesan Clergy-Laity Congress gatherings. Parish and Diocesan catechetical workshops and leadership training seminars are also conducted throughout the calendar year.

Distance Learning

Distance Learning (DL) affords individuals the opportunity to continue their educational pursuits via mail correspondence and computer-generated initiatives. Synchronous as well as asynchronous computer aided learning programs are being developed to advance this concern. The existing Teacher Certification Program provides an opportunity for educators to formally develop their insights into the praxis of Orthodox religious education through a variety of Distance Learning Initiatives.

DOXA

In 1994 the teachers' organization known as DOXA was established. DOXA is an important ministry arm of the Department of Religious Education which unites religious educators throughout the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. DOXA's primary goal is to help advance the programs and catechetical initiatives of the Department of Religious Education.

Oratorical Festival

The annual Saint John Chrysostom Oratorical Festival is now in its 15th year. The 1997 Archdiocesan Festival was hosted by the Diocese of New York in New Rochelle. The 1998 Festival will take place in Northridge, California. An Oratorical Festival Foundation has been established and provides college scholarships to speaker finalists.

An elementary level Oratorical Festival program takes place for children in grades 4-6 on the parish level only. There is no judging, and talks are very brief with simplified topics.

Annual Planner and Catechetical Guide Book

An Annual Planner and Catechetical Guidebook for religious educators of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America is currently being developed. Apart from an annual teacher's planner, the Guidebook will include articles and insightful essays written by leadership representatives of our Ecumenical Patriarchate and Holy Archdiocese. The Guidebook will assist parish religious educators to plan and conduct their lessons more effectively by better understanding the dogma, doctrines and theology of their Orthodox Faith. In this fashion, Orthodox Religious Education will courageously advance into the 21st Century.

Very Rev. Archimandrite Antonios Paropoulos, Director

Saint Michael's Home for the Aged is a New York State - Department of Social Services certified residential adult care facility of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. Opened in 1958 by the late Archbishop Michael, the Home has recently been renovated and expanded and now encompasses private and semi-private bedrooms for up to 60 senior citizens, a dining room, a chapel, a modern medical facility, a recreation room, a beauty salon, and other accommodations needed for the quality care of its residents.

In addition to housing and meals, which are prepared under the supervision of a certified nutritionist, the Home provides other services such as laundry and assistance regarding personal hygiene. Physicians visit the home twice a week for those who need medical care, and personnel certified in first aid oversee, when needed, the daily distribution of medicines. Every effort is made to maintain the physical and intellectual integrity of the residents while encouraging them to preserve their independence and dignity.

Overall, the programs and services of St. Michael's Home are specifically designed for those individuals who seek assisted living in a Greek Orthodox environment. Applicants on SSI are accepted, and the Home, as a non-profit institution, depends on the generosity of its many friends to be able to fulfill its special mission.

The Home and Overseas Mission program of the Archdiocese has become part of a unified program of Orthodox Mission and Evangelism, under the auspices of the Standing Conference of Canonical Orthodox Bishops in the Americas. It seeks to bring our Lord's message of salvation to all who thirst for the water of life. Formulated by a Board of Missions, the program is administered by the Mission Center in St. Augustine, FL. The 1997 programs included:

OVERSEAS MISSION

- full scholarships for eight mission students at Holy Cross School of Theology
- monthly support of missionaries Fr. Martin and Renee Ritsi and Fr. Luke and Faith Veronis for long-time service in Albania
- monthly support of more than 150 local priests in Ghana, Kenya, Uganda, Tanzania, Nigeria, Chad, Cameroon, the Congo, Madagascar, Indonesia, India and the Philippines
- sending of 25 people on Mission Teams to India, Uganda and Tanzania

Circulation

The Orthodox Observer traces its origins to 1934 when it was established as a theological magazine by Archbishop Athenagoras. It was transformed into a major communication medium in the late '60s, when Archbishop Iakovos determined that a more direct method of communication was needed to carry rapidly and widely the Church's message and news to all parishioners.

Since the first issue in its new, tabloid size newspaper form, in October 1971, the Orthodox Observer was published bimonthly until 1990 when, following considerable increases in its publication costs, i.e. production, printing and postage, its frequency was changed to eleven issues per year.

His Eminence, Archbishop Spyridon of America, recognizing the importance of the Orthodox Observer in communicating the activities of the Church to all faithful, increased as of 1997 its frequency to 18 issues a year, with plans to further increase it to twice a month, as soon as it becomes feasible.

True to its goals, the newspaper has become part of the life of the Greek Orthodox faithful in the Americas. It bridges the often enormous distances between the Archdiocese and its numerous communities and helps create a feeling of identity among parishioners, keeping them informed on a multitude of subjects. Through its bilingual content, it serves all parishioners regardless of background.

Mission

The Orthodox Observer acts as a direct link between the leadership of the Church and each individual reader. It plays a dominant role in communicating the activities of our Church and in enlightening and informing the Greek Orthodox community. It serves its needs in a number of ways:

- It provides general news of local, national and international interest about the Church.
- It presents timely articles on the Orthodox faith, our heritage and the Church's policies.
- It publishes features and columns by outstanding writers and among its regular contributors are theologians of the Church who provide spiritual and theological guidance.

The Observer publishes news of the Archdiocese and its departments and institutions including the National Ministries, Philoptochos activities, community and Diocese news, supplements for our young generation, statements and opinions of the Church's leadership, an Orthodox perspective on major issues of the day, and provides a forum for debate issues and teachings to the faithful.

It provides extensive coverage of the Ecumenical Patriarchate and the activities of His All Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew, who has been taking the message of Orthodoxy throughout the world.

Developments

Through the years, it has undergone many changes and improvements. One result has been a dramatic rise in its readership: In the '70s, circulation was about 45,000 while current circulation approaches 140,000.

A national survey conducted for the 1992 New Orleans Clergy-Laity Congress shows that reliance on the Observer as a primary source of information for the Greek Orthodox Community has increased significantly: According to a 1979 Gallup survey, 50 percent of respondents indicated that the Orthodox Observer was their principal information source about Greek Orthodox affairs. The 1991-92 national survey showed that figure considerably increased: It had jumped to 83 percent.

Following a change in management, in July 1995, a new effort to improve the cost-effectiveness as well as the contents and the overall appearance of the Observer has been evident. Priority was given to lowering its publication costs. As a first step, and with a very modest expenditure, state-of-the-art computer equipment was obtained, and by expertly utilizing sophisticated desk-top publishing software, the Orthodox Observer, as of January 1996, is produced entirely in-house.

By the adoption of new technologies and the renegotiation of the printing agreements, together with revamping the mailing preparation and other innovations and savings, the Orthodox Observer's production cost to the Church was substantially reduced.

In-house production of the newspaper requires higher levels of time and expertise, but comes with other benefits in addition to the savings. It makes possible extending the deadlines for more timely articles and news items, improving the quality of its photographs, and utilizing more graphics and visual highlights. The response from our readers is uniform in its praise for the overall improvement of the Church's major communication medium.

Responding to the demands of the new generation of computer-literate Greek Orthodox faithful, the Orthodox Observer's "page" on the Internet is already in place (<http://www.goarch.org/goa/observer>) and is kept continuously updated. Through direct and interactive links with the Archdiocese's web site (<http://www.goarch.org>) it offers a selection and a library of its articles, commentaries and news items, as well as links to other selected mirror sites, to a plethora of electronic "surfers."

Goals

His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon does not perceive the Observer's role strictly as a vehicle of information, but also as a conduit to bring additional members to our communities by promoting the ministries of the Church and its special interest for the younger generation as we enter the new millennium.

He also envisions using the publication as a vehicle to reach those Orthodox who are unchurched, bringing them closer to the Church, as well as many others who seek to learn more about Orthodox Christianity. His desire to considerably expand the readership base of the Orthodox Observer is being implemented according to his guidelines.

The Orthodox Observer has been carrying the message of the Church for the better part of this century. It is now the largest circulation Orthodox publication in the entire world. Under the inspired guidance of Archbishop Spyridon, we are determined to do our best to continue fulfilling this ministry in the coming years, for the good of our Church.

Greek Orthodox Telecommunications Inc. (GOTelecom) is a nonprofit educational corporation, which serves as the electronic media arm of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. GOTelecom produces Greek Orthodox and Hellenic television programs that address diverse religious, cultural and educational issues in Greek Orthodox and Greek American life.

GOTelecom has compiled a "Video Library" of over 150 programs, distributed directly to Greek Orthodox parishes, schools, and households across the country. Programming is made possible through individual foundation grants, program syndication and videocassette sales, as well as subsidy from the Archdiocese.

Programs produced by GOTelecom, are carried by the Odyssey Channel (formerly VISN), a national cable network available in over 30 million households across the U.S. The programs also air on other local broadcast outlets and public access channels of various local cable systems, covering an additional 7 million households. The programs are produced in English and Greek, and have also been made available to many Greek programmers around the world. GOTelecom records and distributes annual Pascha and Christmas messages to all Greek American radio and television programs across the country.

This past year GOTelecom's efforts were focused on the promotion, coverage and documentation of the Patriarchal visit to the United States. During the visit, GOTelecom executed successfully the production of an unprecedented month-long coverage, that involved the actual timing of all the events and the subsequent transmission by satellite of nightly half-hour news packages. Broadcasters in the U.S. (Odyssey, PBS, Bloomberg-TV and Interface) as well as Europe (United States Information Agency, Reuters-TV, Ant-1, and Greek Television) all enjoyed free access to GOTelecom's television footage.

PUBLIC RELATIONS/ NEWS AND INFORMATION

8 East 79th Street, New York, NY 10022 • Tel.: (212) 570-3530 • Fax: (212) 439-8378

Presvytera Nikki Stephanopolos, Director
Press Officer E-mail: nikki@goarch.org

The Public Relations/News and Information Office

The historic visit of His All Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew presented an opportunity of building a new sense of community and a new style of cooperative effort throughout the United States for those who serve our churches in press relations and public affairs. The powerful combination of an advisory Public Relations Committee of Greek American communications professionals, parish media site representatives, a professional public relations firm and Archdiocese staff resulted in a publicity outpouring which included some 2500 documented news articles and over 300 radio and television spots. The resulting informational data base has given the Archdiocese an invaluable resource that will strengthen our communications abilities for years to come.

It is the responsibility of the Public Relations, News and Information Office to provide information about the Church's message of hope and love to our Greek Orthodox faithful and to the public at large. It has become increasingly evident that the art of communications, the seed of interaction, is the one essential component of an informed and edified community of believers. If, in fact, we as Greek Orthodox understand and believe who we are, the task of imparting that message to society at large is justified and simplified.

This is done by cultivating professional relationships with print and electronic media; by producing material for print, radio and television in such a way as to achieve clarity in the public mind; and by providing information service to the non-Orthodox and Orthodox, including Archdiocese publications, departments and parishes.

The Press Office has the primary mandate to ensure that a unified voice emanate from the Archdiocese. In concert with the Orthodox Observer, the official voice of the Archbishop and Archdiocese, all departments communicate through one source - the Press Office - whose final authority is the Archbishop.

Specific responsibilities:

- Media coverage of all Archdiocesan events - initiate feature and in-depth coverage of same.
- Prepare biographies of Archbishop and complete Archdiocesan press kits for local and national media.
- Provide information service and establish professional relations with the media, hierarchs, clergy, parishes, government, other faiths and jurisdictions.
- Authorize news releases and press conferences.
- Maintain media mailing list.
- Resource for Orthodox and non-Orthodox: World Almanac, National Geographic, textbooks, directories, government, jurisdictions, etc.
- Maintain Archdiocese membership with Religious Newswriters Association and Communications Commissions - including the National Council of Churches.

This is essential if we are to ensure that the Greek Orthodox Church will become an even stronger, more visible and identifiable influence and presence in the Americas and the world. Further, there is considerable knowledge to be gained by this interaction with religious communicators.

The mission of Internet Ministries is to follow the commandment of our Lord Jesus Christ who said: "Go into all the world and proclaim the good news to the whole creation" (Mark 16:15). Internet Ministries is dedicated to utilizing the medium of computers and the Internet for the proclamation of the Good News of the Gospel and for the advancement of Orthodox Christian ministry.

Internet Ministries is charged with the development and expansion of the Archdiocese's presence on the Internet and the World Wide Web, as well as the integration of new internet technologies for Orthodox Christian ministry. The Department (an expansion of the former Orthodox Ministry ACCESS) is the result of the vision and support of both His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon and Leadership 100.

The Archdiocese World Wide Web site is comprised of four sections:

1) The Archdiocese of America
(www.goarch.org)

This site contains:

- Archdiocesan news, press releases
- Web pages for each Department
- An Internet edition of the Orthodox Observer
- An online telephone directory
- A searchable parish directory
- Links to each Diocesan World Wide Web site

2) Orthodox Ministry ACCESS
(www.goarch.org/access)

This site contains thousands of files including:

- Sermons
- Youth ministry sessions
- A comprehensive section on the Orthodox Faith
- The lives of the saints
- The writings of the Fathers
- Clip art
- Sound files of the liturgical music of the Church
- Links to other sites
- Dozens of other resources on the Orthodox Faith.

3) The Ecumenical Patriarchate
(www.patriarchate.org)

This site contains:

- Detailed information about the Ecumenical Patriarchate
- The history, mission and role of the Ecumenical Patriarchate in the world today
- A section dedicated to His All Holiness, Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew

4) Orthodox World News
(www.goarch.org/worldnews)

- The Orthodox World News site is the most comprehensive and up-to-date source on the Internet for news on the Orthodox Church.

Rev. Presbyter Philemon Sevastiades, Director

*Rev. Presbyter
Philemon Sevastiades,
Director, Office of Publications*

The Office of Publications has been established to help answer the Church's growing need for contemporary, relevant print media. The Office of Publications will endeavor to expand the role of the Archdiocese in disseminating an Orthodox Christian witness in the field of publishing. Its mission to educate and guide, inspire and challenge, is directed to Orthodox Christians as well as to the general American audience. The Office will be more than merely self-sufficient. It seeks to contribute significantly to the material resources the Archdiocese requires to carry out its mission in the world.

The Office's focus will include but not be limited to the re-establishment of regular, timely publications on the Church's positions on various social, moral and ethical issues. These will include the materials that have traditionally been a part of Church and Society and Church and Family. The Publications Office will also work closely with the other ministries of the Archdiocese to assure the wide distribution and availability of Orthodox materials to all who desire them.

The Office of Publications will also publish a wide variety of inspirational books that are specifically Orthodox but intended for the mass market. This enterprise will compete with rigorous discipline in the sphere of commercial religious publishing in the United States.

The Office of Publications enters the marketplace prepared to present Orthodoxy's full truth of God's revelation to Orthodox and non-Orthodox alike. The rich history and traditions of our faith together with the continuing boom in the publishing category of "Religion and Spirituality," provide numerous opportunities for reaching a broad audience of the book-buying public. Through various imprints now under development, offering academic titles for educated lay people to popular and inspirational themes, the Office will publish texts in a variety of genres, geared to specific segments of the religion book market.

Through the resources of the Office of Publications, the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese will have numerous and varied titles at its disposal that will enrich and enhance the growing presence of Orthodox Christianity in the United States into the new millennium.

DOXA - Giving Glory to God

Greek Orthodox Religious Educators Association

50 Goddard Avenue, Brookline, MA 02146 • Tel.: (617) 566-2329 • Fax: (617) 738-1873

Rev. Dr. Frank Marangos, Director
Mr. Harry Colias, President
Mrs. Elaine Michaels, Vice President

Mrs. Irene Cassis, Secretary
Mr. Paul Sieben, Treasurer

For well over a decade there have been discussions, meetings and decisions that have taken place on a long-overdue topic, the unity of our Archdiocese Religious Education. In 1993 each Diocesan Bishop appointed an outstanding teacher as his representative to an Archdiocese committee charged with taking steps toward developing such unity. In February, 1994, these diocesan representatives convened for a meeting coordinated by the Archdiocese Department of Religious Education. After much discussion at this and at subsequent meetings it was decided to take positive steps toward unifying teachers by: 1) adopting the name: "DOXA - Giving Glory to God, Greek Orthodox Religious Educators Association; 2) agreeing that the primary function of this body would be to serve the cause of religious education in the Parish, Diocese, and Archdiocese; and 3) committing to a constitution that would define and implement such a structure.

In July, 1994, His Eminence Archbishop Iakovos welcomed DOXA into the Archdiocese Family of Organizations at the Chicago Clergy-Laity Congress. All levels of DOXA - parish, diocese, and archdiocese - are interrelated, with the intention of assisting teachers and clergy in their search for the most effective means of fulfilling the sacred ministry of religious education.

The mission and purposes of DOXA are as follows:

Mission

The mission of DOXA is to provide religious educators the opportunity to grow as Orthodox Christians and fulfill their catechetical ministry in the life of the Church as they teach the Good News of Christ and the doctrines and traditions of Orthodoxy. "Make disciples of all nations...teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you." (Matthew 28: 19-20)

Purposes

1. To advocate religious education as an integral part of the worship and sacramental life of the Orthodox Church.
2. To advance the ongoing education and Christ-centered growth of religious educators.
3. To promote religious education as a life-time process.
4. To provide a vehicle of communication among religious educators on the Parish, Diocese and Archdiocese levels.
5. To advance the educational initiatives of the Archdiocesan Department of Religious Education.

The Patriarch Athenagoras Orthodox Institute, a Pan-Orthodox academic institution, is an affiliate of the Graduate Theological Union. The GTU is the leading theological consortium in the U.S., consisting of nine interdependent theological schools and affiliated centers joined in a venture of faith in God, one another, and the future. Ecclesiastically related to the Ecumenical Patriarchate, the Institute functions as a "Patriarchal Institute," as designed by the Holy and Sacred Synod of the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

The Institute has sponsored an endowed chair in Orthodox Studies, the Alexander G. Spanos Chair. Graduate courses in Orthodox history and thought are offered regularly. Faculty include James C. Skedros, Assistant Professor of Orthodox Studies on the Spanos Endowment, and Adjunct Professors Paul G. Manolis and Thomas Doolan. While instruction is its primary purpose, the mission of the Institute includes many related activities: The Annual Distinguished Lecture-series; the largest research library of Orthodoxy in the western United States; scholarship aid for Orthodox students; continuing education for area clergy; and not least, campus ministry for Orthodox students at the University of California and other area colleges.

The Institute is located adjacent to the GTU and the University of California at Berkeley. Divine Liturgy is celebrated every Tuesday evening during the academic year in the Institute's Chapel of St. Demetrios.

38526 Dunlap Road, P.O. Box 400 Dunlap, CA 93621-0400 • Tel.: (209) 338-2103

George Tsagaris, Business Director

The St. Nicholas Ranch and Retreat Center is located in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, near the majestic Sequoia National Forest. The 240-acre facility has a 160-person capacity in motel-style lodges; 120-person men's and women's dormitories; large dining hall; 4 meeting rooms; 2 large lecture halls or lounges; and various athletic and recreational areas.

During the summer months, St. Nicholas hosts a Diocesan Summer Camp program, attracting counselors and campers from throughout the country. The camp program offers a well-rounded mixture of spiritual, athletic, and social enrichment.

Many diocesan conferences, retreats, and seminars are scheduled by parishes, fraternal organizations, youth groups, and diocesan ministries on a year-round basis.

A camp retreat center owned jointly by St. Demetrios and Assumption parishes of Seattle, WA, the Center is located on an 18-acre site on the shores of Puget Sound, about an hour's drive from Seattle. There are a large main lodge, chapel, and cabins, with a capacity for 100 persons. Recreational facilities include a beach, a fishing pier, canoes, picnic sites, a forested wilderness area, and a new sports center. Full cooking and cleaning facilities are available.

Hosting at least one Orthodox event per month, the Center serves a year-round, day-and-night, youth camp, retreat center, and regional meeting site for Church organizations.

Guadalupe Homes is a non-profit, multi-services, child-care agency dedicated to providing safe and healing environments for children troubled by the emotional and behavioral problems which result from physical, psychological and sexual abuse, as well as from neglect and abandonment. Guadalupe Homes was founded in 1966 as a ministry of Greek Orthodox Christians to provide care for abused youngsters, regardless of their ethnic, religious, or cultural backgrounds, and it continues to be directed and administered by Orthodox Christian clergy and laity.

Through our residential and family services programs, administered by nearly 1,000 employees, Guadalupe Homes currently provides care for more than 2,500 children a year, thus making it the largest private provider of childcare services in California. These services include individual treatment programs, schools, recreational and vocational services, as well as pastoral services provided by chaplains, who minister to the spiritual needs of the children. Guadalupe Homes also provides a Foster Family Program to find loving and nurturing foster and / or adoptive parents and homes.

Enabled by the prayers and financial support of our many friends and benefactors, Guadalupe Homes has, since its founding, been able to restore over 30,000 children to wholeness, with renewed hope for, and confidence in, their future. Please call or write if you would like to know more about Guadalupe Homes and how you can be part of this ministry.

PATRIARCH ATHENAGORAS NATIONAL INSTITUTE

Harriman, Wyoming

Under the guidance of His Eminence Archbishop Iakovos, the Foundation of the Twelve Apostles evolved into the Patriarch Athenagoras National Institute, an ecumenical national institution of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America. It was founded as the Foundation of the Twelve Apostles in 1977 under direction of His Eminence Archbishop Iakovos, who also dedicated and consecrated the Saints Anargyroi Cosmas and Damian/St. John Chapel, which is located on the property and available for use by all Orthodox faithful.

The Patriarch Athenagoras National Institute has served the Orthodox community throughout the United States under several bishops: Bishop John, Metropolitan Anthony, Bishop Philip, Bishop Kallistos, Bishop Anthimos, and Metropolitan Isaiah of the Denver Diocese.

The facility is open year round and available to Orthodox Christian youth and young adults, as well as Philoptochos. The center is located on two hundred twelve acres near Cheyenne in Harriman, Wyoming. Since its founding, the center has prospered and grown to include a dormitory that accommodates men and women in the same structure with full privacy, a dining hall, a full amenity kitchen, a counselors and clergy quarters, an athletic field complex and many hiking trails in the pristine air of the mountains of the Laramie Range. In its present configuration, the center will comfortably accommodate up to one hundred participants. The ecumenical beginnings of this beautiful facility enable it to be used by other Christian youth on a rental basis when not in use by the affiliates of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America.

For bookings or information, contact Ruth Moran, Marketing & Program Director for the Patriarch Athenagoras National Institute & Ecumenical Retreat of the Rockies.

PHILOXENIA HOUSE

162 Goddard Avenue, Brookline, MA • Tel.: (617) 277-4742

His Grace Bishop Methodios, Director

Philoxenia House is a home that welcomes Orthodox Christian patients and their families from around the world who come to Boston-area hospitals and clinics for medical treatment. Guests must be recommended by their local Orthodox hierarchs, who verify both character and need. All medical and financial arrangements are made prior to arrival. Patients and their families, from the moment they arrive at the airport, are provided with room and board, transportation to area medical facilities, interpreters, and pastoral care.

Founded in 1986 under the leadership and vision of His Grace Bishop Methodios, Philoxenia House remains under his direction. This ministry is carried out with the volunteer help of many individuals and organizations from among the Orthodox Faithful of New England.

*His Excellency Metropolitan
Paisios of Tyana, Abbot*

His Grace Bishop Vikentios of Apameia, Deputy Abbot

Sacred Patriarchal and Stavropegial Monastery St. Irene Chrysovalantou

The Greek Orthodox Monastery of St. Irene Chrysovalantou, in Astoria, New York, was proclaimed as one of the Sacred Patriarchal and Stavropegial Monasteries of the Ecumenical Throne, by a decision of the Holy Synod of the Ecumenical Patriarchate on April 7th, 1998. The Monastery is under the direct jurisdiction of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, in accord with the blessing given by His Eminence Archbishop Spyridon of America. The Monastery of St. Irene Chrysovalantou has "Metochia" (dependencies) in many States, which remain under the administrative jurisdiction of the Stavropegial Monastery and follow the Julian calendar.

His All Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew named His Excellency Metropolitan Paisios of Tyana as the first Abbot of the Monastery and His Grace Bishop Vikentios of Apameia as the deputy Abbot.

PASTORAL GUIDELINES

INSTRUCTIONS FOR WEDDINGS, DIVORCES, BAPTISMS, FUNERALS, AND MEMORIALS

WEDDINGS

For the sacramental union of a man and a woman to be proper in the eyes of the Church, the marriage must be conducted in the Orthodox Church. For such an ecclesiastical marriage to be valid, the following must be adhered to:

1. No impediment to marriage may exist;
2. A civil marriage license must be obtained from civil authorities;
3. An ecclesiastical marriage license must be obtained from the appropriate diocese;
4. The Sacrament of marriage must be celebrated by an Orthodox priest according to the liturgical tradition of the Orthodox Church and in a canonical Orthodox Church.
5. The priest must belong to the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese. However, marriage performed in another Orthodox jurisdiction in communion with the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese is also recognized as valid by the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese;
6. The priest must receive authorization for the marriage from his diocesan Bishop;
7. Before requesting permission from the Bishop for the marriage the priest must verify:
 - a) that the parties in question are not already married either in this country or elsewhere;
 - b) that the party or parties who are members of another parish obtain a certificate of membership from the parish to which they belong;
 - c) that if either or both parties are widowed, he or she present the death certificate of the deceased spouse;
 - d) that if either or both of the parties have been divorced and/or have remarried, that they present the appropriate certificates.
8. No more than a total of three marriages will be allowed by the Church, and this only by extreme mercy.
9. When one or both of the parties are divorced, they must obtain an ecclesiastical divorce as well in order to marry again in the Church.
10. In the case of an interfaith marriage, the non-Orthodox partner must have been baptized in the name of the Holy Trinity and in water. A marriage cannot take place in the Orthodox Church between an Orthodox Christian and a non-Christian.

11. In the case of mixed marriages between an Orthodox Christian and a non-Orthodox Christian, the marriage must be celebrated by an Orthodox priest in the Orthodox Church according to the Orthodox tradition.

12. The Sponsor (koumbaros or koumbara) must be an Orthodox Christian in good standing with the Church. A person who does not belong to a parish, or who belongs to a parish which is not in communion with the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese, or who, if married, is not married in the Orthodox Church, cannot be a Sponsor. Non-Orthodox persons may be members of the rest of the wedding party, but may not exchange the rings or crowns.

Days When Marriage Is Not Permitted

January 5-6; Great Lent and Holy Week; August 1-15; August 29 (Beheading of St. John the Baptist); September 14 (Exaltation of the Holy Cross); December 13-25; the day before and on major feastdays including Pentecost, Christmas, Pascha, etc., and all Holy Days of Our Lord. A wedding may be conducted on these days only if absolutely necessary and then only by special permission of the diocesan Bishop.

Interfaith Marriages

It is a fact that the more things a couple hold in common, the more likely it will be that they live their married lives in peace and harmony. Shared faith and traditions spare newlyweds and their children many serious problems and strengthen the bonds between them. However, the Orthodox Church blesses interfaith marriages under the following conditions:

1. The non-Orthodox partner must be a Christian who has been baptized, in water, in the name of the Holy Trinity.
2. The couple must commit to baptize their children in the Orthodox Church and nurture them in accordance with the Orthodox Faith.

The Orthodox partner should bear in mind that a married Orthodox Christian whose wedding has not been blessed by the Orthodox Church is no longer in good standing with the Church and consequently does not have the right to receive the sacraments of the Church, including Holy Communion, or to become a sponsor at an Orthodox wedding, baptism or chrismation. An Orthodox Christian who has been married outside the Church and who wishes to be reconciled to the Church is encouraged to request from his or her local Orthodox priest that his or her marriage be blessed in the Orthodox Church.

A non-Orthodox Christian who marries an Orthodox Christian does not automatically become a member of the Church, and is therefore not permitted to receive Holy Communion or other sacraments of the Church or a Church funeral. These are privileges of the baptized and chrismated members of the Church.

Prohibited Marriages

FIRST GROUP: Parents with their own children, grandchildren or great-grandchildren, or godchildren of the same godparents.

SECOND GROUP: Brothers-in-law with sisters-in-law.

THIRD GROUP: Uncles and aunts with nieces and nephews.

FOURTH GROUP: First cousins with each other.

FIFTH GROUP: Foster parents with foster children or foster children with the children of foster parents.

SIXTH GROUP: Godparents with godchildren or godparents with the parents of godchildren.

DIVORCES

An ecclesiastical divorce may be granted after a civil decree has been given. However, the parish priest must exert every effort to reconcile the couple and avert a divorce. Should the priest fail to bring about reconciliation, he will transmit the petition of the party seeking the ecclesiastical divorce to the Spiritual (Ecclesiastical) Court of the diocese. The decree of the civil divorce must accompany this petition. The petition must include the names and surnames of the husband and wife, their addresses, the familial surname of the bride and where, when, and by which priest the ecclesiastical wedding was conducted. The petitioner must be in good standing with his or her parish and with the Archdiocese. Orthodox Christian members of the Greek Orthodox Church who do not have an ecclesiastical divorce when they are separated and have obtained only the civil divorce may not marry in the Church until receipt of the ecclesiastical divorce. Members of the Church who have only received a civil divorce and not an ecclesiastical divorce are not permitted to receive Holy Communion or to be sponsors in weddings or godparents in baptismal ceremonies or serve on the Parish Council, Diocesan Council, or Archdiocesan Council.

BAPTISMS

A person who wishes to sponsor a candidate for Baptism and/or Chrismation in the Church must be an Orthodox Christian who is a member of an Orthodox parish and who is in good standing with the Orthodox Church. A person who has been excommunicated or anathematized by the Church or who, if married, has married outside the Orthodox Church may not become a godparent.

Baptisms may not be conducted on the following days unless it is absolutely necessary and permission is obtained from the diocesan Bishop: December 25-January 6; Holy Week; Major Feast Days.

FUNERALS

Funeral services are allowed any day of the year, except on Sundays and Holy Friday, unless it is absolutely necessary and permission is obtained from the diocesan Bishop.

MEMORIALS

Memorial services may not be held on the following days: from the Saturday of Lazarus through the Sunday of St. Thomas; all the Feast days of our Lord; and on Feast Days of the Theotokos. It is highly recommended that Orthodox Christians offer memorials for their loved ones on the several Saturdays of the Souls which are set aside throughout the year.

CHURCH POSITIONS ON CIRCUMCISION, SUICIDE, AUTOPSY, AND CREMATION

CIRCUMCISION

It is known that Jews and Moslems practice circumcision for religious reasons. Some doctors deem circumcision necessary for reasons of health and cleanliness. The Orthodox Church does not prohibit circumcision as long as it is not practiced for religious reasons and is performed by a physician.

SUICIDE

Since no one is permitted to take the life of another, no one is permitted to take his or her own life, that is, to commit suicide. Suicide is murder and consequently a grave sin.

Committing suicide signifies loss of patience, hope, and faith in God. A person of faith does not lose hope, no matter the difficulties he or she faces. The Orthodox Church denies a Church funeral to a person who has committed suicide, unless a doctor certifies that such a person has lost his or her sanity.

AUTOPSY

When the causes of illness have not been diagnosed before a person's death, doctors with the permission of the next of kin may perform an autopsy. Often an autopsy leads to enlightening observations. Because of this the Orthodox Church does not prohibit autopsies, although a body may not be given strictly for medical research or experimentation. Because the human body is the Temple of the Holy Spirit, the Orthodox Church insists that those who perform the autopsies accord the utmost respect to the body.

CREMATION

Various Christian groups, instead of burial, prefer the cremation of the dead, which was customary among many ancient peoples. The Orthodox Church, however, mindful of the fact that the human body is the Temple of the Holy Spirit, and inspired by the affection toward her departed children, refuses to deliberately destroy the body, and has adopted the burial of the dead, in imitation of our Lord Jesus Christ Himself as it appears in the Catacombs, and in the graves of the Martyrs and Saints. Cremation, therefore, is contrary to the faith and tradition of our Church and is forbidden to Orthodox Christians. A Church funeral is denied to a person who has been or will be cremated.

DONATION OF ORGANS

"No greater love has a person than he lay down his life for a friend." The Orthodox Church encourages Orthodox Christians to donate their organs. The organ(s) donated gives life to a fellow human being and provides more time for repentance. Even in death, we can ease the pain of some and grant life to others. Again, it is important to note that organs be donated for therapeutic purposes to those requiring healing and not for otherwise experimental reasons.

FASTING IN THE ORTHODOX CHURCH

Just as there are times for feasting in the Church, there are also times for fasting. Jesus Christ Himself often fasted and insisted that the people fast as well. Fasting is not a set of dietary laws or legalistic requirements. Even those who for reasons of health cannot fast from certain foods can still participate fully in the fast, since they fast from earthly desires, give alms to the poor, direct their lives to a more serious sense of prayer, and seek to redirect their will to coalesce to the will of God. Rather, when accompanied by prayer, fasting is a spiritual aid which disciplines the body and soul and enables them to strive together to bring the whole person closer to God, especially during the preparation periods for the great feast days of the Church.

The following are fast days and seasons:

1. All Wednesdays and Fridays, except those noted below
2. The day before Epiphany: January 5
3. White fast, which is the last week before Great Lent, when meat is prohibited, although dairy products may be eaten even on Wednesday and Friday
4. Great Lent
5. Holy Week
6. Holy Apostles Lent: from the Monday after All-Saints Day until June 28, inclusive.
7. Dormition of the Mother of God Lent: August 1-14.
8. Beheading of St. John the Baptist: August 29
9. Exaltation of the Holy Cross: September 14
10. Christmas Lent: November 15 - December 24
11. All Wednesdays and Fridays, except those noted below.

The following are fast days on which fish is permitted:

1. Annunciation Day: March 25. (If Annunciation Day falls during Great Lent; otherwise the day is completely fast-free.)
2. Palm Sunday
3. Transfiguration: August 6

The following days are completely fast-free:

1. The first week of the Triodion, including Wednesday and Friday
2. Easter Week (Diakainisimos or Bright Week)
3. The week following Pentecost
4. December 25 - January 4

AMERICAN CARPATHO-RUSSIAN ORTHODOX GREEK CATHOLIC DIOCESE OF THE U.S.A.

The American Carpatho-Russian Orthodox Catholic Diocese was established in 1938 by His All-Holiness, the late Benjamin I. Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople, under the Patriarchal Seal in the official Patriarchal Document listed under Protocol No. 1379 and dated September 19, 1938, and was canonized in the name of the Holy Orthodox Church of Christ. The Diocese was incorporated in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1950.

His Grace, the Right Reverend Bishop

Nicholas, Titular Bishop of Amissos was born on February 23, 1936. He was elected Bishop by the Holy and Sacred Synod of the Ecumenical Patriarchate on March 13, 1983, in St. Mary's Church, Allentown, PA. The consecrator was His Eminence Archbishop Iakovos, with Metropolitan Andrew Kuschak, Bishop John R. Martin of Nyssa, and Bishop Philotheos of Meola, co-consecrators. Bishop Nicholas was enthroned in Christ the Saviour Cathedral, Johnstown, PA on Bright Friday, April 19, 1985.

D) Bilateral Theological Dialogues of SCOBA

Through the Ecumenical Commission, SCOBA coordinates the following bilateral theological dialogues:

- a) Orthodox/Roman Catholic Consultation
- b) Joint Committee of Orthodox/Roman Catholic Bishops
- c) Metropolitan New York Orthodox/Roman Catholic Dialogue
- d) Anglican/Orthodox Theological Consultation (NOTE: At present, the Archdiocese has suspended this Dialogue)
- e) Lutheran/Orthodox Dialogue
- f) At present, the Ecumenical Office is pursuing the possibility of dialogues with the Jewish Community and the Islamic Community

E) Fraternal Visitations

The Ecumenical Office coordinates visitations of various dignitaries, heads of communions and their delegations, to the Archdiocese and/or to the various institutions of the Archdiocese.

F) Inter-Religious Agencies

Ongoing relations take place with other groups involved in ecumenical work, such as the American Jewish Committee, the National Conference of Christians and Jews (NCCJ), the World Council of Religion and Peace (WCRP), Orthodox Christian Association of Medicine, Psychology and Religion (OCAMPR), Appeal of Conscience Foundation, Laymen's National Bible Association, local, city, and state councils of churches, etc.

G) Ad-hoc Committees and Ecumenical Task Forces

These include occasional relations between the Archdiocese and various agencies and organizations on specific matters, such as the Peace Committee for the Middle East, the National Orthodox Conference on the Environment, etc.

5. Parish Youth Ministry Guidelines provide direction for ministry to young adults, college students, high school students, junior high students, elementary school students, and pre-school children. Guidelines are also available for altar boys.

6. The Annual Planner provides youth workers, parents, and young people with a daily planner that includes daily bible readings, saints commemorated, fasting periods, and meditations on the Orthodox Faith.

Motivating & Guiding Young People

1. The monthly Challenge supplement of the Orthodox Observer provides articles of particular interest to young people and answers to their questions, as well as educational and inspirational information.

2. Leadership Training Seminars are offered in order to help prepare young people for ministry to their peers, and for ministry to their parish and Church at large.

3. Surviving Adolescence and Growing in the Faith retreats are offered in order to help young people overcome messages on sex, drinking, drugs, and violence, as well as to better understand and grow in the Orthodox Faith.

4. Orthodox summer camps are promoted, and information is made available, so that young people may be encouraged to participate in the indelible experience of summer camps.

5. Guidelines for setting up and strengthening Orthodox Christian Fellowships on college campuses, as well as OCF directories, are available to encourage young people to remain active in their faith during the college years.
