Further enhancements to Post-9/11 GI Bill

In August 2017, the President signed into law the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act, a significant expansion of veterans' higher education benefits dubbed the Forever GI Bill. Forty veteran, military and higher education associations rallied and demonstrated strong support for this bill to congress. The bill was passed by a unanimous vote both in the Senate and U.S. House of Representatives. Its primary goal is to help more veterans get college degrees by covering most of their tuition and fees.

Among the changes to the GI Bill is the elimination of the 15 year time limit for veterans to use their benefits. Additional changes make it possible for benefits to be transferred to family members.

The Forever GI Bill

Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act

By Curtis L. Coy Deputy Under Secretary of Economic Opportunity E-mail sent to students on August 17, 2017

The President just signed into law the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2017, also known as the "Forever GI Bill," named after the American Legion national commander who wrote the original GI Bill language in 1944. This legislation contains 34 new provisions, the vast majority of which will enhance or expand education benefits for Veterans, Servicemembers, Families and Survivors.

Most notably, Veterans who transitioned out of the military after January 1, 2013 will not be limited to the 15-year deadline to use their GI Bill benefits – hence the bill's nickname, "Forever GI Bill." This law also restores benefits to Veterans, who were impacted by school closures since 2015, and expands benefits for our reservists, surviving dependents, Purple Heart recipients, and provides many other improvements.

We see Congress's overwhelming bipartisan support and the President's signing as a major accomplishment for our nation's Veterans. The original GI Bill has long been considered an enormous success by historians, politicians and economists for its impact on the post-war economy and capital investment in our "Greatest Generation." The passage of this bill ensures that generations to come will continue to walk in that greatness

As you can imagine, VA has a lot of work ahead of us in order to ensure successful implementation of this new law, and as we roll out each provision, we'll keep you updated and informed on our progress.

Thank you all for your continued support of our nation's Veterans, Servicemembers and their families.

What is the Fry Scholarship?

The Marine Gunnery Sergeant John David Fry Scholarship (Fry Scholarship) provides Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits to the children and surviving spouses of Servicemembers who died in the line of duty while on active duty after September 10, 2001. Eligible beneficiaries attending school may receive up to 36 months of benefits at the 100% level. Find out more information on payment rates. Visit benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/resources/benefits_resources/rate_tables.asp

See our fact sheet which provides more details. Go to benefits.va.gov/gibill/docs/factsheets/fry_scholarship.pdf

Eligibility

Children and surviving spouses of an active duty member of the Armed Forces who died in the line of duty on or after September 11, 2001 are eligible for this benefit.

Children are eligible as of their 18th birthday (unless they have already graduated high school). A child may be married or over 23 and still be eligible. If they became eligible before January 1, 2013 their eligibility ends on their 33rd birthday. The age limitation is removed if the child became eligible on or after January 1, 2013.

Although surviving spouses do not have a time limit with which to use their benefits, they will lose eligibility to this benefit upon remarriage.

Fry and DEA Eligibility

If you are eligible for both Fry Scholarship and DEA (Dependents Educational Assistance), you will be required to make an irrevocable election between the two programs when you apply. Dependents are not eligible to receive both DEA and the Fry Scholarship based on the same event (like a Servicemember dying in the line of duty) unless he or she is a child whose parent died prior to August 1, 2011. A child of a parent who died prior to August 1, 2011 may still be eligible for both benefits but he/she may only use one program at a time and combined benefits are capped at a total of 81 months of full-time training. In this situation the two benefit programs cannot be used concurrently.

Other Factors to Consider

Surviving spouses are eligible to receive Dependency Indemnity Compensation (DIC) while using the Fry Scholarship. Children, over the age of 18, in receipt of DIC will relinquish DIC payments upon the start of using VA education benefits such as the Fry Scholarship.

Make sure that your selected program is approved for VA training. Please visit our GI Bill Comparison Tool for help in choosing a school at vets.gov/gi-bill-comparison-tool.

To apply, obtain and complete VA Form 22-5490, Dependents Application for VA Education Benefits. Send it to the Regional Processing Office with jurisdiction over the state where you will advance your education and training. If you are a son or daughter, under legal age, a parent or guardian must sign the application. Children of a Servicemember who died in the line of duty prior to August 1, 2011 may be eligible for both DEA and Fry but they cannot be used at the same time.

If you have started your educational program, take your application to your school or employer. Ask them to complete VA Form 22-1999, Enrollment Certification, and send both forms to VA. He or she can submit an Enrollment Certification electronically using VA-ONCE. (Note: Schools must contact their VA representative to receive this form.)

Student Veterans of America

By Barrett Y. Bogue

Do you miss the camaraderie of the military? If so, then you can find it again by joining Student Veterans of America (SVA) and experience the transformative power of higher education.

About Student Veterans of America (SVA)

Following the September 11, 2001 attacks, the U.S. launched Operation Enduring Freedom (Afghanistan) and Operation Iraqi Freedom (Iraq). As OEF and OIF veterans returned home to use GI Bill benefits, they found that their campuses did not provide adequate support services to assist us as SVA worked towards its educational goals.

Lacking support, SVA decided to organize on campuses across the country. These groups began to connect through social media with one another - spreading best practices, sharing success stories, and supporting one another to further strengthen the student veteran community. In 2008, members from various chapters formalized this grassroots movement and SVA was born.

SVA is the country's premier organization for student veterans. They support all veterans through their transition from the military, educational advancement, and career growth. SVA represents a network of nearly 1,500 chapters on campuses in all 50 states and four countries representing over 600,000 student veterans at those colleges and universities.

Offering more to student veterans

UA is a recognized leader in veterans' education, with a rich military culture, financial aid for veterans, online class options and on-campus support.

The National Association of Veterans Program Administrators (NAVPA)

About NAVPA

The National Association of Veterans' Program Administrators (NAVPA) is an organization of institutions and individuals who are involved or interested in the operation of veterans' affairs programs and/or the delivery of services to veterans as school certifying officials across the country. NAVPA is governed by a Board of Directors elected annually.

The purpose of NAVPA is to promote professional competency and efficiency through an association of members and others associated with, and involved in, veterans' educational programs; to promote the development, improvement and extension of opportunities to any veteran or dependent of a veteran for his or her personal growth and development to its fullest potential. This is achieved through assisting with the assessment and attainment of individual needs, communicating and cooperating with communities, schools, agencies and organizations at the local, state, regional and federal levels; developing productive relations with the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), Department of Education, Department of Defense, and other federal or national Veterans Service Organization or agency serving veterans; participating in efforts to facilitate the education and/or training of educationally or otherwise disadvantaged veterans; and promoting cooperative studies, research, evaluation, workshops, seminars, conferences, and other activities as may be desired or required to fulfill the purposes of NAVPA.

NAVPA is a non-profit organization devoted to promoting professional competency and efficiency through an association of members and others associated with and involved in Veterans Education Assistance Programs. The Association offers membership to those directly employed in veteran's affairs or those genuinely interested in and supportive of the goals of the Association.

NAVPA joined nearly 40 other veterans service organizations to form a coalition with the primary purpose of drafting legislation that would improve the GI Bill. 18 pieces of legislation, many that NAVPA advocated for, were combined to form the "Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2017" also known as the "Forever GI Bill." The combined efforts resulted in the Bill passing the House 405-0, followed by a unanimous vote in the Senate. The President signed the Bill making the most comprehensive changes to the GI Bill since the passage of the Post-9/11 version.

NAVPA has served as the voice of advocacy for veterans in higher education since its founding in 1975. For information, visit navpa.org

What is the Yellow Ribbon Program?

The Yellow Ribbon Program was established by the Post-9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2008. This program allows institutions of higher learning (such as colleges, universities, and other degree-granting schools) in the United States to voluntarily enter into an agreement with VA to fund tuition and fee expenses that exceed the tuition and fee amounts payable under the Post-9/11 GI Bill.

The institution can contribute a specified dollar amount of those expenses, and VA will match the contribution, not to exceed 50% of the difference.

To receive the Yellow Ribbon Program benefits you must be enrolled in an approved program offered by an institution of higher learning that participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program.

Am I Eligible?

You may qualify for the Yellow Ribbon Program benefit if you:

- ▶ Served an aggregate period of active duty after September 10, 2001, of at least 36 months and were honorably discharged
- ▶ Were discharged from active duty for a service-connected disability and you served 30 continuous days after September 10, 2001; or
- ► Are a dependent who received benefits transferred from an eligible Service Member
- ▶ Active duty Servicemembers may use the Yellow Ribbon program effective August 1, 2022. *
- * New provision per the Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act ... "The Forever GI Bill."

Yellow Ribbon Program Example

Private School or Out-of-State Tuition	$45,805
Post-9/11 GI Bill Contribution	$22,805*
Difference	$23,000
Yellow Ribbon Program contribution from the college	$10,000

Student is responsible for

$3,000

*$22,805.34 is the current maximum tuition and fee reimbursement allowable for academic year beginning August 1, 2017. Minimum of 36 months of service to qualify for 100 percent of this benefit. This amount changes each year.

For more information, visit benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/yellow_ribbon.asp or gibill.va.gov

How Does The Yellow Ribbon Program Benefit Me?

The Post-9/11 GI Bill pays all in-state tuition and fee charges at public schools and tuition and fees not to exceed a national cap at private schools. Out-of-state students and those attending private schools may receive additional funds to help cover unmet costs under the Yellow Ribbon Program. If your charges exceed the tuition and fee amounts payable under the Post-9/11 GI Bill and you are enrolled at a participating school, additional funds may be available to you through the Yellow Ribbon Program. Institutions of higher learning that enter into a Yellow Ribbon Program Agreement with VA will choose the amount of funds they will contribute toward your tuition and fees. VA will match that amount and issue payment directly to the institution on your behalf.

What Must My School Agree To?

The school must agree to:

- ► Enter into an official agreement with VA
- ▶ Provide contributions to eligible individuals who apply for the Yellow Ribbon Program on a first-come firstserved basis
- ▶ Make contributions toward the program on behalf of the individual in the form of a grant, scholarship, etc.
- State the dollar amount that will be contributed for each participant during the academic year
- ▶ State the maximum number of individuals for whom contributions will be made in any given academic year

How Will I Know if My School Is Participating in the Yellow Ribbon Program?

You can search for Yellow Ribbon Program schools on the Department of Veterans Affairs GI Bill website at benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/yellow_ribbon.asp or check the following pages for a complete list of participating schools.

How Will I Know if I Can Use the Yellow Ribbon Program?

Your school will let you know:

- ► If you are accepted to participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program, and
- ► The maximum amount that may be provided to you on a yearly basis.

How Do I Apply?

You must contact your School Certifying Official to apply for Yellow Ribbon Program benefits.

Example of How the Yellow Ribbon Program Works

You are attending a private school or a public school as an out-of-state resident and your tuition and fees for the year are $45,805. The Post-9/11 GI bill will pay $22,805.* You are responsible for the $23,000 difference. If your school offers $10,000 in Yellow Ribbon contributions, the VA will also pay $10,000 to the school, and you will be responsible for only $3,000. If your school offers $5,000 in Yellow Ribbon contributions, VA will also pay $5,000 to your school, and you will be responsible for the remaining $13,000.

VA Approved Colleges - WEAMS

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has given approval to the following schools to accept education benefits earned by veterans of the armed services. You may check for colleges located within each state but please be aware that (1) many colleges offer courses in several states and (2) many colleges offer courses at military locations. For example, Central Texas College is listed under Alaska. These classes are offered at Fort Richardson/Elmendorf Air Force Base. Some schools offer courses online but are listed under several states. Some schools have multiple campuses but the school appears only once under the state header. To access a current list of schools, please visit https://inquiry.vba.va.gov. Under "Education Programs," select the link "Click here to search for approved programs" to view a comprehensive list of colleges and schools that includes all branch campuses and extension centers. Schools not listed may still be eligible to accept Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits. Please check directly with the institutions in question. You may also obtain detailed information about these schools by visiting vetsguide.com.

What is WEAMS? The Web Enabled Approval Management System (WEAMS) is a central web-based application for colleges which combines the funtionality of two Veterans Affairs approval systems - OLAF (Online Approval File) and LACAS (Licensing and Certification Approval Systems) - and adds funtionality for NEXAS (National Exam Approval System). This list shows a total of approximately 5,400 locations that have registered to accept VA tuition benefits. More school locations and departments within a university are listed on the Web sites shown above.

Alfred State State University of New York College of Technology An Alfred State degree gets results! When this former Army Master Sgt. decided to attend college to learn building trades, he wanted hands-on work, rather than sitting in a classroom all day, so he chose to earn his degree at Alfred State. With more than 70 dynamic majors—offering engaging course work in both traditional classrooms and the real world-Alfred State provides students with unparalleled preparation. Named a Military Friendly® School by Victory Media "We are most grateful to the veterans who have served our country. We are honored to be designated a 'military-friendly' college. Veterans will always be welcomed as part of the Alfred State family." -Alfred State President Dr. Skip Sullivan. www.alfredstate.edu

Seventy Years of Safeguarding the GI Bill:

State Approving Agencies Protect and Promote Veterans Education and Training

History and Role of the SAA

Next year, State Approving Agencies (SAAs) will celebrate the 70th Anniversary of the National Association of the State Approving Agencies, Inc. (NASAA). So for over seven decades, SAAs have been promoting veterans education and protecting the GI Bill. Signed into law by President Franklin Roosevelt on June 22, 1944, only two weeks after D-Day, the bill, according to Roosevelt, gave "emphatic notice to the men and women of our armed forces that the American people do not intend to let them down." American veterans seized that promise, and at war's end, showed up in record numbers on college campuses throughout the US. In fact by 1947, the year SAAs began planning NASAA, veterans accounted for 49 per cent of all college students. SAAs take that promise just as seriously today.

From the very beginning, Congress had recognized the right and responsibility of the states for the education of their citizens. As such, the GI Bill required that each state create a "state approval agency" that would be required to provide to the Veterans Administration (VA) a list of programs, which could lead to civilian employment and smooth the veteran's transition back into the civilian world. Eventually, SAAs became the primary source of assuring institutional accountability by exercising that authority to approve or disapprove programs, while monitoring education and training programs for veterans to make sure that the programs met federal and state requirements. Today, SAAs, supported by federal funding from the VA, oversee a highly successful federal-state partnership that maintains the rights of the states while monitoring and protecting a federally sponsored program administered under the terms and conditions of federal law. This cooperation between the SAA and the VA has been a critical component in the successful administration of the GI Bill. Over time, SAAs have become the "face of the GI Bill.'

SAAs accomplish their mission by evaluating programs for approval, after which they provide written reports of their findings to the VA and to the educational/training establishments. They also provide oversight and technical assistance by visiting and inspecting each approved institution and confirming that they are offering these courses and programs in compliance with state and federal law. Further SAAs work in the important areas of outreach and liaison, making sure that veterans and other eligible persons are fully aware of their earned benefits and how to use them. SAAs do this by conducting training workshops for institution officials so they are knowledgeable of their important role of advising and certifying veterans. SAAs also participate in job fairs and maintain websites in their states offering information to veterans and school personnel. SAA personnel also interact with Education Service Officers at military bases to ensure active duty and contract personnel are provided adequate and up to date information. Additionally, SAA directors meet with senior education leaders in the state to ensure that universities, community colleges, state agencies and businesses understand the GI Bill and are aware of needed policy or regulatory changes.

Finally, SAAs also offer other unique services, such as providing consultative services regarding state laws and regulations dealing with educational institutions and training establishments; acting as a repository for information on approved programs at academic and vocational institutions, apprenticeship sites, and on-the-job training sites in the state; and conducting workshops designed to assist personnel in better understanding the criteria for educational programs in general or in evaluating specific training endeavors. SAAs are truly advocates for quality education and training for our veterans and their dependents.

Recent Developments and Changes

To truly understand the extent of the SAA mission, and how it has become even more important over the years to safeguarding veterans education and training, it is necessary to understand the complex nature of the various recent laws that impacted the GI Bill programs.

Post 9/11 GI Bill

The Post-9/11 GI Bill, which became effective August 1, 2009, is the newest GI Bill and was a game changer for veterans and institutions that serve them. It provides increased benefits for those who have served (or are currently serving) since Sept. 11, 2001. In addition to paying tuition and fees directly to the institution, it also pays a monthly housing allowance (based on the Department of Defense's rate for an enlisted member grade E-5 with dependents) and up to $1,000 per year for books and supplies. Additional benefits are possible under the Yellow Ribbon Program for those attending institutions that participate in that program. Also, it is possible to transfer the benefits to dependents for those members who are willing to extend their military commitment. Without question, the workload for SAAs increased as a direct result of the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Most SAAs became actively involved in outreach efforts concerning this new GI Bill.

Veterans Educational Assistance Improvement Act of 2010

On Jan. 4, 2011, President Obama signed the Veterans Educational Assistance Improvement Act of 2010. It provided for changes to the Post 9-11 GI Bill. This Act provided for expansion of the Post-9/11 GI Bill to include active service performed by National Guard members under title 32 U.S.C. for the purpose of organizing, administering, recruiting, instructing, or training the National Guard; or under section 502(f) of title 32 for the purpose of responding to a national emergency. It also limited active duty members and transferee spouses to the net cost for tuition and fees prorated based on the eligibility tiers (40 percent to 100 percent) previously established for veterans. Other changes included simplifying tuition and fee rates( e.g., pays all in-state tuition and mandatory fees) for those attending a public school and creating a national maximum for those enrolled in a private or foreign school.

Break or interval pay became no longer payable under any VA education benefit program unless under an executive order of the president or due to an emergency, such as a natural disaster or strike; and reimbursement for more than one "license or certification" test was provided (previously only one test was allowed). Finally, the change allowed for reimbursement of fees paid to take national exams used for admission to an institution of higher learning (IHL) (e.g., SAT, ACT, GMAT, LSAT) and provided that those who are eligible for both Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (Chapter 31) benefits and Post-9/11 GI Bill (Chapter 33) benefits may choose the Post-9/11 GI Bill's monthly housing allowance instead of the Chapter 31 subsistence allowance.

Most importantly, however, veterans and other eligible persons were allowed to use the Post-9/11 GI Bill for noncollege degree (NCD) programs at public and private NCD institutions, on-the-job (OJT) and apprenticeship training programs, flight programs and correspondence programs. Benefit payout is capped for many of these programs and you are encouraged to visit the VA GI Bill website www.gibill.va.gov for more information.

The mission of SAAs changed somewhat with this law in that degree programs at public and private not for profit schools, registered apprenticeships, FAA approved flight school programs, public high school programs, and public licensure examinations were declared "deemed approved" for veterans education. However, one final change to note is that SAAs were permitted to assist the VA with compliance surveys, thus increasing their oversight of the administration of the GI Bill.

President's Executive Order 13607

On April 27, 2012, President Obama signed the Principles of Excellence for Educational Institutions Serving Service Members, Veterans, Spouses, and Other Family Members. This important order provides that those institutions which sign up as Principles of Excellence (POE) schools will commit to assisting prospective students in making right choices about how to use their Federal educational benefits. The order also seeks to prevent abusive and deceptive recruiting practices that target the recipients of Federal military and veterans educational benefits. Finally, educational institutions promise to provide high quality academic and student support services to active-duty service members, reservists, members of the National Guard, veterans, and military families. During compliance survey visits, SAA personnel review a participating school's compliance with the principles.

Improving Transparency of Education Opportunities for Veterans (PL 112-249)

Signed on January 10, 2013, this law required a centralized mechanism for tracking/publishing feedback from students and SAA regarding the quality of instruction, recruiting practices, and post-graduation employment placement of institutions of higher education. It also provided that SAAs share with accrediting agencies or associations information regarding the SAA's evaluation of an IHL

Veterans' Access to Care through Choice, Accountability, and Transparency Act of 2014 (PL 113-146)

This law, commonly referred to as the Choice Act, was signed on August 7, 2014. It provides around $17 billion to address shortcomings of the VA health care system. However, it also provides that public colleges and universities, to maintain their SAA approval, must grant in state tuition to veterans, as specified in the law. SAAs worked hard with their VA partners to insure that state governments were aware of this requirement and took the required action to provide this benefit. Due to those efforts, today all states and the District of Columbia provide this important benefit to veterans.

Jeff Miller and Richard Blumenthal Veterans Health Care and Benefits Improvement Act of 2016 (PL 114-315)

Signed on December 16, 2016, this law improves veterans' access to health care, disability and education benefits as well as addressing veterans' homelessness. It also codified and clarified approval authority, mandating that SAAs were the approval authority in the states "or the Secretary (of the VA) when acting in the role of a State approving agency." This act also allowed more flexibility in scheduling oversight visits to enhance oversight while conserving state and federal resources.

Harry W. Colmery Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2017 (PL 115-48)

Signed on August 16, 2017, this law, often referred to as "The Forever GI Bill," is the most far reaching change to the GI Bill since the Post-9/11 GI Bill. This law, named after the American Legion national commander who drafted the original GI Bill language in 1944, will allow more veterans to use the GI Bill and provide them more time to use it. Its provisions enhance or expand education benefits for veterans, servicemembers, families and survivors. In addition to other changes, the act eliminates the 15-year time limitation to use Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits for veterans who left active duty on or after January 1, 2013, children who became eligible for the Fry Scholarship on or after January 1, 2013, and all Fry scholarship eligible spouses. Furthermore, it provides limited restoration of benefits and relief to veterans affected by school closures or disapprovals. In addition, certain work-study is permanently authorized, including work-study in a SAA, and VetSuccess on Campus programs will be available to more students in higher education. Finally, of note, the law provides increased benefits to veterans pursuing approved STEM programs across the country.

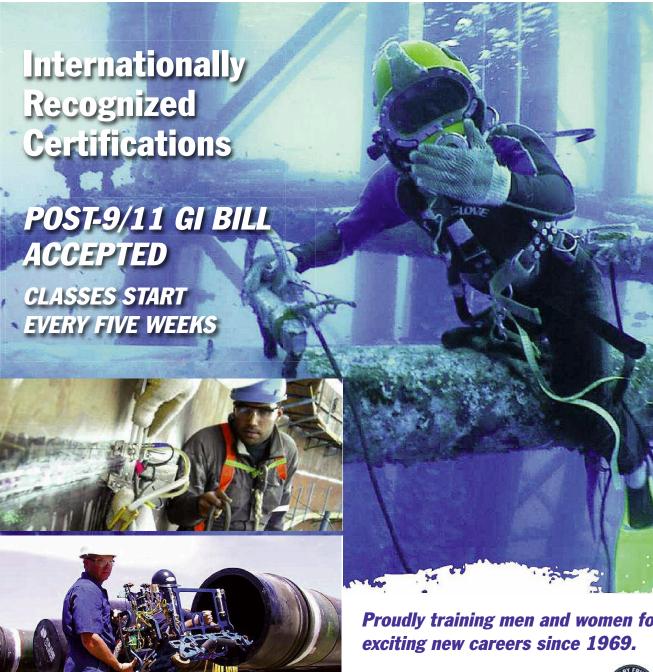

Additional information on these laws and VA educational benefits can be found at the Department of Veterans Affairs' (VA) GI Bill website www.gibill.va.gov.

State Approving Agencies Today

Today, some 50 SAAs, located in state university systems, state departments of labor, and state departments of veterans affairs throughout the U.S. and Puerto Rico, are laboring to protect and promote the GI Bill. Thousands of institutions and training establishments presently have their programs approved for the education and training of veterans. Please feel free to contact your SAA to help locate an approved program at an academic institution offering degree or certificate programs or an establishment offering apprenticeship or on-the-job training programs. You can find more about those programs and the contact information for each State Approving Agency at the National Association of State Approving Agencies (NASAA) website at www.nasaa-vetseducation.com.

Dr. Joseph Wescott is the Immediate Past President and Legislative Director of NASAA as well as the Executive Director of the North Carolina State Approving Agency.

Achieve Your Goals by Leveraging Your Military Experience

By Michele Spires

Director, Military Programs American Council on Education (ACE)

Have you determined your job or career goals? Are you thinking about pursuing a degree or earning an academic credential? Are you seeking a professional license or certificate? Are you looking for resources to help you plan?

What's the first step?

Managing your transition from active duty to veteran status includes understanding your academic portfolio. Military transcripts provide documented evidence of your professional military education and training and occupation experiences. It's important that you audit your military transcripts for accuracy and understand the details of this specialized tool. This critical step of auditing supports your research of degree programs, job pathways, certificates or professional licenses for alignment. It is also an important action in determining potential gaps that you will have to mitigate in order to meet your goals.

Your official military transcripts:

- Provide a description of military schooling and work history in civilian language.
- Display degrees; apprenticeships via the United Services Military Apprenticeship Program (USMAP); and certifications/licensure and tuition assistance courses (past or current) for Marine Corps, Navy, and Coast Guard Joint Service Transcripts.
- Serve as an advising tool as you work with academic and career counselors
- Facilitate the preparation of your resume and explain military work experience to civilian employers.

The Joint Services Transcript (JST)

The JST (https://jst.doded.mil) is a document that no service member or veteran should be without. The unified transcript resolved several redundancies and allows all stakeholders (military affiliated students, academic institutions, government agencies) to concentrate on one transcript that have the same look and feel for the Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Coast Guard.

Similar to standard college transcripts, the document lists all courses and occupations completed by you as a professional military learner. Many of the occupations and training courses have been evaluated by ACE to include descriptions, academic subjects and the corresponding number of recommended college credits in semester hours. The JST is owned and managed by your respective branch of service. ACE provides quality assurance audits and provides the evaluation data to the services, but does not own student records and cannot make changes. ACE credit recommendations are recognized and considered by many regionally accredited colleges and universities throughout the United States.

The benefits of JST include an increased return on investment, uniformity and centralization and the alignment of service-specific information.

To use your JST:

Log on to the JST website at https://jst.doded.mil.

• If you are unable to access your JST account, email JST@doded.mil.

Community College of the Air Force (CCAF)

The Air Force continues to utilize the transcript services from the CCAF for their enlisted personnel. ACE does not evaluate any Air Force courses that are directly aligned with CCAF. The program model combines the technical education offered by Air Force schools, a core of general education from regionally accredited civilian institutions of higher education, and management education from Air Force or civilian sources. CCAF is regionally accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. If you completed enlisted Air Force training after 1972, you will need to request your CCAF.

Understand the process of transferring recommended military credit to an academic institution.

Acceptance of recommended transfer credit is determined by the receiving institution. When the college or university determines whether and how much credit to apply to your individual record, that credit will then appear on your college/university transcript. Typically, grades are not included with the transfer process, so they are not factored in as part of the grade point average (GPA).

Academic institutions establish their own transfer credit policies and procedures. It is recommended that you immediately identify and locate these policies to help you understand the process and set a plan for making the most of your credit recommendations. When you research these policies, you will want to comprehend the details listed in the institution's catalog or bulletin. Often, the transfer policies will be general in nature. As you continue to research transfer information, look for more specific requirements for credit being transferred from another accredited academic institution, the military, professional training, or testing. Many institutions also post their transfer policies on the institutional web site. You may want to search for keywords such as transfer credit; military transfer credit, or transfer policies.

There are a number of factors that affect transfer of military credit, such as institutional policy, alignment with appropriate courses, procedures, requirements, and transfer application deadlines. Here's a quick checklist to help you facilitate your transfer credit experience:

- Research and identify an academic institution that meets your individual needs. You may want to select an institution and academic programs that have policies to maximize your nontraditional learning (military credit, CLEP, DSST, etc.).
- Learn, understand, and know your academic institution's policies and procedures regarding transfer of credit.
   These practices are established by each institution and will vary.
- Audit and review your military transcripts periodically (every six months if on active duty) for updates and modifications.
- Start the transcript and transfer review process early, with your application to the institution. Have all of your official transcripts from previous colleges and service branches sent to your new school for evaluation before you start taking any classes. Official copies must bear the appropriate institutional signatures, seal and date of issuance.

 Speak with your academic adviser. He or she should be able to help you avoid taking classes for which you may receive transfer credit until an official evaluation is completed. Many students waste valuable time and money taking classes that are unnecessary duplications of previous courses, because they signed up before their military and prior college transcripts were completely

In preparation for meeting or speaking with your academic adviser, consider these steps:

- Review your degree plan and identify potential academic courses for transfer.
- · Consider the level of the credit recommendation and analyze the appropriateness to the degree plan.
- · Identify the comparability of the course in terms of the credit recommendation. For example, how does the content of the institution's academic course compare to the ACE Military Guide exhibit in terms of the learning outcomes and topics?
- Take ownership during the transfer process by following up with the transfer, registrar or admissions department.
- · Monitor your curriculum plan, transfer approvals, and documentation within formal university systems (degree audit).

By compiling and organizing this information, you will be ready to maximize your college credits, as well as have a better idea of the remaining courses you will need for degree completion.

An online resource available to you is A Transfer Guide: Understanding Your Military Transcript and ACE Credit Recommendations. This tool was designed to help you understand military transcripts and basic information about transfer policies and issues. The more successfully you navigate through the process of transfer credit for military training and experience, the bigger the return. The publication serves as a resource for understanding military credit recommendations, military transcripts, and its use when transferring to an academic institution.

The topics are presented in a straight-forward, non-technical manner that allows you to quickly understand the American Council on Education (ACE) credit recommendations and transfer credit policies.

What is the ACE Military Guide?

For more than a half century, the Guide to the Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services has been the standard reference work for recognizing learning acquired in the military. The Military Guide (www.acenet.edu/militaryguide) contains ACE credit recommendations for formal courses and occupations offered by the services as individual exhibits. The Guide is a tool used synchronously with the JST to expand the details of the credit recommendations that are provided on the JST.

The evaluation of courses and occupations is a continuous process executed by ACE. These entries are added daily and synchronized at 0200 ET every day.

Visit the Military Guide www.acenet.edu/militaryguide

Why the American Council on Education (ACE)?

Since 1945, ACE has evaluated military training and experiences to gauge their eligibility for college credit recommendations. In 1974, Military Programs began the assessment of military occupational specialties. More than 2,200 higher education institutions consider the credit recommendations which can also assist you with career advancement. It is up to institutions to decide on a case-bycase basis whether to accept credit recommendations. ACE's Military Programs is part of the Council's Center for Education Attainment and Innovation, whose mission includes helping more adult learners, like you, gain college degrees and credentials.

What about other corporate and government training?

ACE's College Credit Recommendation Service (ACE CREDIT®) was established in 1974 to connect workplace learning with colleges and universities by helping students gain access to academic credit for formal training taken outside traditional degree programs. The credit recommendations are published in the National Guide to College Credit for Workforce Training and the Guide to Educational Credit by Examination (www.acenet.edu/nationalguide). ACE Registry transcripts for courses and examinations completed under these programs are available from ACE CREDIT® programs. For more information, please contact:

Further Education for Veterans

By Julia O'Dell and Randy Wilson

Say you're a single dad, recently discharged from the Army, who needs more education to get a better job. Or maybe you're a veteran who saw combat in Iraq or Afghanistan – and you're not sure what to do now. To find success in today's job market, many veterans are required to learn new skills, and further education is often the only answer to starting a second career.

Veterans Upward Bound (VUB), a free U.S. Department of Education (ED) funded program, assists veterans with transitioning to high education. VUB projects help qualifying veterans make the transition from military to civilian life, complete their GED, or enter college or other postsecondary training programs. VUB is an educational and skills program designed specifically to serve the needs of veterans, whether they are from the Vietnam era, the 80's or 90's, or today's combat veterans of Iraq or Afghanistan. The program can be described as 'academic boot camp' and assists veterans in preparing to succeed in the classroom.

VUB offers a unique range of services designed to prepare veterans to enter their chosen educational program, whether it is at a 2-year community college, a 4-year college or university, or a public or private vocational or technical school. All services offered by VUB, including instruction, textbooks, advising, and supplies, are provided free of charge for qualifying veterans.

The program provides non-credit academic refresher courses specifically tailored to the needs of each veteran. Participants can strengthen their writing, reading, math, basic science, and computer skills before they start college. The program also assists in understanding the complexities of the GI Bill system and assists participants in applying for those benefits.

VUB also recognizes that the Veteran student is going to need more than just academics to make it in higher education. The 64 VUB programs, nationwide and in Puerto Rico, provide academic and career assessments, study-skills assistance, help with filling out financial aid and school applications, career development, tutoring, mentoring, financial literacy and many additional one-toone services. The goal is to place veterans in higher education environments that best match their education and career goals, after 'knocking the rust off their academic skills.' Between the refresher classes, veterans are given an opportunity to engage in the college experience through cultural and career activities at no cost to them. Veterans can develop the mental discipline to graduate from a postsecondary institution, and be successful in a second career.

Since 1972, there have been thousands of success stories, including veterans who have become doctors, lawyers, educators, nurse, engineers, and social workers. VUB is a proven program designed to assist eligible veterans, but the veterans themselves must take the first step. Make the commitment and take the time to enroll in VUB today!

For more information about the VUB, and to find the program nearest you, please visit our website at www.navub.org or in the pages following this article.

Julia O'Dell is the Director of Veterans Upward Bound at the University of Kansas and Randy Wilson is the past Director of VUB at Weber State University in Utah.

Refer to the following pages for the Veterans Upward Bound Program in your state. Be sure to tell the program director about tuition credits and any academic credits you may have earned while on active duty.

About Veterans Upward Bound (VUB)

VUB is a nationwide, free-of-charge program (funded through the U.S. Department of Education) which helps disadvantaged veterans prepare to go to the college of their choice. Originally funded in 1972, VUB was designed to assist Vietnam War veterans in transitioning into the classroom and making good use of their GI Bill funds. Over the years, VUB has evolved into a comprehensive pre-college program for veterans of all eras.

National Veterans Upward Bound (NAVUB) was established in 1979 as a professional organization serving U.S. military veterans. Its membership consists of educators and counselors employed through VUB. Currently, there are 57 programs nationwide. VUB programs are individually unique even though they all share the same goal of assisting former service members get the education they deserve.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY 410 Thurston Avenue

Ithaca, NY 14850 607-255-5241 Email: admissions@cornell.edu veterans@cornell.edu www.cornell.edu/admissions

Cornell has always done things a little differently. In the mid-19th century, for example, when Ezra Cornell founded this "institution where any person can find instruction in any study," he brought into being a university that offered instruction to all who were qualified, regardless of race or gender. Cornell welcomed rich and poor. It offered courses in agriculture and the mechanic arts, as well as American history and modern literature, on an equal footing with the classics. And the university encouraged students to choose their own programs. In short, Cornell fundamentally altered the character of American higher education.

An Exceptional Learning Environment

Cornell is still a place where you can take intellectual risks, explore the unfamiliar, and follow unconventional but promising ideas through to their conclusions. Why is the learning environment so exceptional here? Maybe it's because Cornellians live with so many stimulating paradoxes. For example, Cornell is a member of the Ivy League, and it's also the federally designated land-grant university for New York State. We've managed to unite on one campus the rigorous intellectual tradition of the Ivy League and the democratic spirit our nation's great public universities. Another paradox: Cornell is without question one of the nation's most comprehensive research universities. Yet teaching still comes first. The faculty members who teach graduate courses also teach undergraduate courses-even the Nobel laureates and Pulitzer Prize winners.

Outstanding Academic Programs Cornell encourages intellectual freedom, and the variety and flexibility of our educational programs give real meaning to the concept of student choice. Our undergraduate colleges and schools-Agriculture and Life Sciences; Architecture, Art, and Planning; Arts and Sciences; Business - Charles H. Dyson School of Applied Economics and Management; Business - School of Hotel Administrations; Human Ecology; and Industrial and Labor Relations-allow you to concentrate on the field of your choice while making it possible for you to study in areas of interest outside your "home' college or school. We offer nearly 80 majors, as well as dual-degree programs and a score of interdisciplinary majors that give you unusual opportunities to cross traditional departmental boundaries.

Outside the Classroom

You'll find lots of ways to get involved at Cornell outside the classroom as well. Among the 1000+ student organizations-political action groups, social clubs, musical groups, and the like— are the student-run Cornell Daily Sun, the Cornell Symphony Orchestra, the Renewable Energy Society, the Whistling Shrimp Comedy Improv Troupe, the Society of Women Engineers, and 37 intercollegiate athletic teams, as well as one of the largest intramural sports programs in the country. Join the 500 or more students who participate in Cornell Abroad each year, studying in countries such as Australia, China, Egypt, France, Kenya, Nepal, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and Vietnam. Through Cornell in Washington, you can spend a semester taking courses, conducting research, and completing externships in Washington, D.C. Also, you will be encouraged as a Cornell student to participate in original research efforts with faculty members who enthusiastically welcome student collaboration on projects across the curriculum.

St. John's College is a small liberal arts college with a distinct focus: reading and discussing the great books of Western civilization.
Alongside names such as Plato, Shakespeare, Euclid, Nietzsche, Einstein, and Austen, Johnnies wrestle with ideas in interdisciplinary classes with fewer than 20 students. The St. John's education is about small classes and timeless books; it's an education that seeks to develop the arts of understanding, an intelligent and critical appreciation of our intellectual heritage, an awareness of our social and moral obligations, and a lifelong commitment to thoughtful inquiry into fundamental human questions.

St. John's is one college, founded in 1696 and chartered in 1784, but Johnnies explore the great books on two different campuses—one in Annapolis, Maryland, and the other in Santa Fe, New Mexico. In Annapolis, where the entire campus is a National Historic Landmark, you will live and study along the Chesapeake Bay. Annapolis is a bustling college town just outside of Washington, DC. In Santa Fe, nestled among the mountains of the southwest, Johnnies live on 250 acres, reveling in the outdoors as well as the cultural fusion of Santa Fe, known for its artist community. The beautiful Santa Fe campus was recently added to the National Register of Historic Places.

Degrees Offered

Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts; Master of Arts in Liberal Arts; Master of Arts in Eastern Classics (Santa Fe only).

The St. John's College curriculum, for both undergraduate and graduate students pursuing a BA or MA in the Liberal Arts, consists of an interdisciplinary program in philosophy and literature, mathematics and science, politics, psychology, and more. The MA in Eastern Classics includes primary texts from China, India and Japan.

There are no majors or departments at St. John's. Students follow a core curriculum of classes focused on primary texts. All faculty members lead classes in all subjects and on all texts.

Student Life

St. John's students represent a broad diversity of background and ideas. The 818 undergraduate students come from 27 countries and 49 states. The 171 graduate students come from a variety of backgrounds, including primary and secondary school teachers, military veterans, recent college graduates with a wide variety of majors, and mid-career or retired professionals, including business executives, attorneys, physicians, and writers. Because of the common curriculum, small size, and commitment to learning on the part of everyone on the campuses. students find a warm community that embraces diversity of background and thought. In fact, diversity is a vital component of what makes classroom discussion so enriching. By reading great books and struggling together with the fundamental questions that they raise, students and faculty learn from their differences and discover more deeply their shared humanity.

The heart of student life is on our campuses. Housing is guaranteed for undergraduates, and the majority of students live in the dormitories, eat in the dining hall, and choose from more than 100 student groups in which to participate. Intramural sports programs, community chorus and orchestra, art exhibitions, concerts, and a Friday lecture series further supplement the academic core of the college. Annapolis and Santa Fe are quintessential college towns, offering Johnnies cultural opportunities, restaurants, and more just steps away.

After St. John's

Having all followed the same curriculum at the college, St. John's alumni excel in a vast array of careers, from law to medicine, from academia to Wall Street, from politics to the military, from information technology to fashion design, from manufacturing to farming, from nuclear physics to filmmaking. Nearly 70% of Johnnies pursue advanced degrees; St. John's is in the top 2% of all colleges and universities in the nation for percent of alumni who go on to earn PhDs. The Career Services Office is available for students and graduates alike, providing resources for job searching. applications, and graduate school.

Admissions

For both undergraduate and graduate admissions, St. John's collects the same transcripts, recommendations, and application that many other colleges require, but our holistic admissions process is focused on essays. We require two and read them closely to learn about your life experiences and how you might add to our unique community. St. John's is test optional and charges no application fee. More information, including deadlines, is available at www.sjc.edu/apply.

Financial Aid

St. John's College welcomes veterans and their dependents. We participate in the Yellow Ribbon Program and the Air Force Military Assistance Program. As early as the 1890s and 1900s, Saint Leo University was considered a military college. Decades later in 1973, the educational institution began to offer distance learning courses and programs to military members, many of whom served during the Vietnam War. This was at a time when there were limited options for members of the armed forces to pursue higher education, and government aid for this purpose was also quite restricted.

Today, Saint Leo is among the top 10 providers of higher education to military members. The school is ranked among the nation's most military-friendly institutions by G.I. Jobs and Military Advanced Education magazines. Thousands of Army, Navy, Air Force, Coast Guard, and Marines members, veterans, and their families are enrolled in courses each year as they pull double duty serving our nation while attaining a college degree simultaneously. A degree can help service members ease back into civilian life down the road by giving them an educational foundation for a fulfilling career.

Saint Leo offers three learning platforms for military students:

- Programs at the University Campus in Saint Leo, Florida
- Programs at one of the 17 education centers on military bases in 7 states throughout the U.S.
- Programs conveniently available online from any location with an Internet connection

Military Partnerships

To accommodate the unique lifestyles of military members, the university is partnered with:

- GoArmyEd
- eArmyÚ
- Navy College Program Distance Learning Partnership
- Navy College Program for Afloat College Education
   The Air Force Academic Institution
- The Air Force Academic Institution Portal
- Air University Associate to Baccalaureate Cooperative Program
- The Marine Corps Lifelong Learning Program's Academic Explorer

In addition to its many partnerships, Saint Leo University is a proud member of the National Association of Institutions for Military Education Services and the Service Members Opportunity Colleges. It also has an ROTC program that is affiliated with the University of South Florida in Tampa and allows students to be introduced to the military and pursue such a career if they wish.

Saint Leo University has had a long and productive relationship with the U.S. military and plans to continue serving the nation's men and women in uniform in all potential educational aspects for years to come.

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY Department of Economics

Master of Science in Economics

The Department currently offers a terminal, professional Master of Science degree concentrating in Financial Economics and Financial Econometrics. Students in this program receive rigorous training to prepare them for immediate careers in business or government, or further study in top economics and finance Ph.D. programs. The new M.S. has both a non-thesis or thesis option. Most students are in the non-thesis option and complete 36 credit hours to receive their degree. Thesis option students must complete a total of 32 semester hours of graduate credits, a thesis under the guidance of an Advisory Committee, and then stand for an oral exam in the final semester of their studies.

The course structure for the program includes a set of core courses in microeconomics, macroeconomics, and business finance, and required courses in behavioral, international, advanced econometrics, and institutions, and a capstone course that provides students with experience in carrying out an applied research project. Students are encouraged to do an internship in their first year.

Ph.D. Program in Economics

The Ph.D. program in economics emphasizes analytical and quantitative skills, and exposes students to a broad range of contemporary policy issues to prepare them for careers in academia, business, or government. An undergraduate major in economics is not a requirement, however students should have taken economics courses up through intermediate theory. Students should have a solid background in mathematics, and have completed courses in calculus, linear algebra, and mathematical statistics.

In the first two semesters of study, students receive rigorous training in three core areas: microeconomics, macroeconomics and econometrics. The core courses form an integrated sequence of courses that develop the theoretical and quantitative tools students will build on later in their careers. They are followed by qualifying exams, and students successfully completing the first year move on to specialized study in field courses.

In the second year students choose three fields of specialization for intensive study. We offer fields of specialization in Advanced Theory, Behavioral and Experimental Economics, Econometrics, Industrial Organization, Labor Economics, Monetary Economics and Public Economics. Typically field courses are taken in the second and possibly third year, and students choose one field as their major field to be examined in the field exam.

76 Sponsor Listings vetsguide.com

Students begin to focus on their dissertation in the third year, and this occupies them through the fourth or fifth year of residence. During this time students work on their research in conjunction with faculty advisors, and students participate in a series of research workshops and outside seminars in their specific research areas.

The same nationally acclaimed education you get from top-notch faculty at the main campus in Fayette, Iowa, or through their 25 U.S. education centers is also available to you from the comfort of your own home, office, or anywhere with an internet connection. UIU students have more than 40 undergraduate and graduate majors to choose from, and all utilize a unique, flexible course schedule. Each academic year consists of five 8-week sessions and one accelerated 6-week summer session, so UIU students typically take less classes at a time. You can even transfer up to 90 credits from another institution toward your UIU degree. No oncampus residency is required for our distance learning programs.

We Value Your Experience

UIU's programs are Veteran's Administration approved, and we will help you make the most of what you've already accomplished. Credits for military service schools and occupational specialties, as found on the Joint Service Transcript (JST) or Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) transcript as recommended by the American Council on Education (ACE), will be transcripted at no charge. UIU is a proud member of the Yellow Ribbon Program.

Quality Faculty

With a highly supportive and caring faculty and staff, the UIU experience helps students become confident in their abilities and inspires them to reach their full potential. This kind of hands-on learning is a key reason why 92 percent of graduates are employed or continuing their education shortly after commencement.

Nationally Recognized Online Education

The university is a long-time innovator in online learning. U.S. News & World Report recognized these achievements each of the last five years by naming UIU one of its top universities for online undergraduate programs. The convenience of online learning means students can manage their education along with work, family, and other responsibilities, making UIU programs particularly popular among working adults and military personnel.

UIU Self-Paced Degree Program

Since 1973, UIU has offered a range of certificates and associate and bachelor's to students around the world through the self-paced program. One of the first of its kind in the nation, the program is modeled after a traditional correspondence learning program, with students and instructors interacting on a one-to-one basis. Students can work at their own pace and take up to six months to complete each course. More than 100 courses are available, and classes are offered in paper and webbased formats.

UIU Off-Campus Learning Centers

Our convenient off-campus center locations are perfect for those who work full-time, part-time or just looking for degree programs in their communities. Classes are held during evenings and weekends to accommodate busy schedules. Hybrid classes are also available.

Military and Veteran Service Center (MVSC)

The MVSC provides assistance to and is the primary campus advocate for military and veteran students and family members, working with them to ensure their unique needs are met. The MVSC coordinates assistance with admissions/enrollment, financial aid, academic advising, tutoring, counseling, disability accommodations, veteran programming, benefits information and medical, and additionally facilitates referral to state and federal resources and services.

Top Choice for Vets/Servicemembers

UIU has been recognized as a "Military Friendly University" by Military Advanced Education and militaryfriendly.com for seven consecutive years and was the #1 online institution on Military Times' 2017 Best for Vets list. UIU offers a 10% tuition grant to all military personnel (active, guard, reserve, and retired), as well as their family members who are Department of Defense identification card holders. This grant also applies to veterans who are eligible for VA Educational Benefits. # Veterans Can Transfer Post-9/11 GI Bill Benefits to Spouse and Dependents

The transferability option under the Post-9/11 GI Bill allows Servicemembers to transfer all or some unused benefits to their spouse or dependent children. The request to transfer unused GI Bill benefits to eligible dependents must be completed while servicing as an active member of the Armed Forces. The Department of Defense (DoD) determines whether or not you can transfer benefits to your family. Once the DoD approves benefits for transfer, the new beneficiaries apply for them at VA. To find out more, please visit the DoD website, milconnect.dmdc.osd.mil. (NOTE: When the milConnect Home page displays, select Education then Transfer of Education Benefits [TEB] from the menu bar.)

Type of Assistance

Eligible Servicemembers may transfer all 36 months or the portion of unused Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits (unless DoD or the Department of Homeland Security has limited the number of transferable months). If you're eligible, you may transfer benefits to the following individuals:

- · Your spouse
- · One or more of your children
- · Any combination of spouse and child

Available Benefits and Eligibility

Family members must be enrolled in the Defense Eligibility Enrollment Reporting System (DEERS) and be eligible for benefits at the time of transfer to receive transferred benefits.

The option to transfer is open to any member of the armed forces active duty or Selected Reserve, officer or enlisted who is eligible for the Post-9/11 GI Bill, and meets the following criteria:

- Has at least six years of service in the armed forces (active duty and/or Selected Reserve) on the date of approval and agrees to serve four additional years in the armed forces from the date of election.
- Has at least 10 years of service in the armed forces (active duty and/or Selected Reserve) on the date of approval, is precluded by either standard policy (by Service Branch or DoD) or statute from committing to four additional years, and agrees to serve for the maximum amount of time allowed by such policy or statute.
- Transfer requests are submitted and approved while the member is in the armed forces.

Transfer Process

While in the armed forces, transferors use the Transfer of Education Benefits (TEB) website to designate, modify, and revoke a Transfer of Entitlement (TOE) request. After leaving the armed forces, transferors may provide a future effective date for use of TOE, modify the number of months transferred, or revoke entitlement transferred by submitting a written request to VA. Submit a TEB request now for your Service component approval (non-VA Link).

Upon approval, family members may apply to use transferred benefits with VA by applying online or by printing, completing, and mailing the VA Form 22-1990e to your VA Regional processing office of jurisdiction. VA Form 22-1990e should only be completed and submitted to VA by the family member after DoD has approved the request for TEB. Do not use VA Form 22-1990e to apply for transfer of education benefits.

Other Factors to Consider

Marriage and Divorce

A child's subsequent marriage will not affect his or her eligibility to receive the educational benefit; however, after an individual has designated a child as a transferee under this section, the individual retains the right to revoke or modify the transfer at any time.

A subsequent divorce will not affect the transferees eligibility to receive educational benefits; however, after an individual has designated a spouse as a transferee under this section, the eligible individual retains the right to revoke or modify the transfer at any time.

Reallocation of Benefits

If a Servicemember wants to reallocate transferred benefits, they can do so using the TEB Portlet in MilConnect. If a Veteran wants to reallocate benefits they should contact the VA using our "Ask A Question" website gibill.custhelp.com.

If transferred benefits are totally revoked for a dependent, a Servicemember must resubmimt a transfer request for the dependent via MilConnect, a Veteran cannot re-transfer benefits to a dependent if the dependent's transfer eligibility was previously totally revoked.

Nature of Transfer

Family member use of transferred educational benefits is subject to the following rules:

Spouses

- May start to use the benefit immediately
- May use the benefit while the member remains in the Armed Forces or after separation from active duty
- Are not eligible for the monthly housing allowance while the member is serving on active duty
- Can use the benefit for up to 15 years after the service member's last separation from active duty if discharged before January 1, 2013

Children

- May start to use the benefit only after the individual making the transfer has completed at least 10 years of service in the armed forces
- May use the benefit while the eligible individual remains in the armed forces or after separation from active duty
- May not use the benefit until he or she has attained a secondary school diploma (or equivalency certificate), or he or she has reached age 18
- Is entitled to the monthly housing allowance stipend even though the eligible individual is on active duty
- Is not subject to the 15-year delimiting date, but may not use the benefit after reaching 26 years of age

Post-9/11 GI Bill Rate Increase for August 2017

The maximum amounts for tuition and fees under the Post-9/11 GI Bill change every academic year. For academic year 2017-2018, the maximum annual reimbursement for those attending a private or foreign school increased from $21,970.46 to $22,805.34. Additionally, the monthly housing allowance for those taking online training exclusively (no classroom instruction) increased to $840.50 per month. These increases are effective August 1, 2017 - July 31, 2018. While BAH rates for DoD personnel are effective in January, GI Bill beneficiaries will not see the change in MHA until Sept (for terms that started on or after Aug 1).

VA Approved Colleges: WEAMS - The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has given approval to more than 7,000 programs and schools to accept education benefits earned by veterans of the armed services. Veterans can visit https://inquiry.vba.va.gov to view all approved programs. Under "Education Programs," select the link "Click here to search for approved programs" to view a comprehensive list of colleges and schools that includes all branch campuses and extension centers. Schools not listed may still be eligible to accept Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits. Please check directly with the institutions in question. You may also obtain detailed information about these schools by visiting vetsquide.com.

What is WEAMS? The Web Enabled Approval Management System (WEAMS) is a central web-based application for colleges which combines the funtionality of two Veterans Affairs approval systems - OLAF (Online Approval File) and LACAS (Licensing and Certification Approval Systems) - and adds funtionality for NEXAS (National Exam Approval System). A list of schools and programs that have registered to accept VA tuition benefits starts on page 33.

Yellow Ribbon Program was established by the Post-9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2008. This program allows institutions of higher learning to voluntarily enter into an agreement with VA to fund tuition and fee expenses that exceed the tuition and fee amounts payable under the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Check the list of Yellow Ribbon participants starting on page 16. Many schools, especially public universities, may not offer Yellow Ribbon program assistance, however, these schools' costs may be covered entirely by the Post-9/11 GI Bill.
