General Presentation

What is Human Trafficking?

Human Trafficking is the exploitation of human beings through force, fraud, or coercion for the purposes of commercial sex or forced labor.

- Sex Trafficking: Commercial sex act induced by force, fraud or coercion, or in which person performing the act is under age 18.
  - Victims can be found working in massage parlors, brothels, strip clubs, escort services
- Labor Trafficking: Using force, fraud or coercion to recruit, harbor, transport, obtain or employ a person for labor or services in involuntary servitude, peonage, debt bondage or slavery.
  - Victims can be found in domestic situations as nannies or maids, sweatshop factories, janitorial jobs, construction sites, farm work, restaurants, panhandling

Characteristics of Victims

- Foreign-born and U.S. Citizens
- All levels of education
- All genders
- All ages

Traffickers do not discriminate based on gender, class, age or ethnicity.

Trafficking Victims: Understanding Mindset

Individuals most likely targeted:

- Do not speak English and are unfamiliar with U.S. culture
- Confined to room or small space to work, eat, sleep
- Fear, distrust health providers, government, and law enforcement
  - Fear of deportation
- Unaware that what is being done to them is a crime
  - Do not consider themselves victims
  - Blame themselves for their situations
- May develop loyalties, positive feelings toward trafficker as coping mechanism
  - May try to protect trafficker from authorities
- Unaware of where they are, because traffickers will move them often to escape detection
- Fear for the safety of their family in home country

Common Indicators

- Injuries, signs of physical or sexual abuse
- Work excessive hours, even when sick
- Branding
- Very low pay; working to pay off a debt
- Isolated from friends and family. No community
- Scripted communication
- No identifying documents
- Inhumane living conditions

Signs of Human Trafficking

- Signs of trauma, fatigue, injury, or other evidence of poor care.
- The person is withdrawn, afraid to talk, or their communication is being censored.
- The person does not have freedom of movement.
- The person lives and works in one place.
- The person owes a debt to their employer.
- Security measures are used to control who has contact with the person.
- The person does not have control over their own government-issued identification or their immigration documents.

Why Here?

California

- Proximity to international borders
- Numerous ports and airports
- Significant immigrant populations
- Large economies that include industries that attract forced labor

Sacramento

- Centered between several major interstates
- High percentage of non-English speaking immigrants
- Rich agricultural industry, reliant on migrant labor

National Data

2019 Data Report

The U.S. National Human Trafficking Hotline

More victims and survivors speaking for themselves

Data Highlights: January 1- December 31, 2019

Victims and survivors of sex and labor trafficking know their situations and needs better than anyone. For that reason - and with certain limited exceptions, such as situations involving children - the U.S. National Human Trafficking Hotline will not contact law enforcement or otherwise take action on behalf of the victim or survivor without that person's consent. That's why the nearly 20 percent increase in victims and survivors who contacted us directly is so meaningful. Hearing directly from the person affected gives the Trafficking Hotline the best information and avenue to provide help. That might mean putting together a safety plan, finding an attorney, a shelter bed or a trauma counselor, or, in some cases, seeking law enforcement intervention.

Also worth noting is the rapid growth of text as a means of communication with the Trafficking Hotline. More details available on pages 5 and 6 of this document
