

COSEWIC Assessment Summary

Assessment Summary – November 2003

Common name

Small-flowered Tonella

Scientific name

Tonella tenella

Status

Endangered

Reason for designation

A small annual herb known from a single site in the Gulf Islands, British Columbia. At risk to potential development, alien species and fire management.

Occurrence

British Columbia

Status history

Designated Endangered in November 2003. Assessment based on a new status report.