In the 20th century, each generation was defined by common elements of style, philosophy and attitude. Many would say that we, however, are a nameless generation; we have no common thread to call our own. In reality, we all share one trait that has put us in a different category than all those born before us: our connection to technology. This connection has allowed us to become more diverse and free-thinking because of our unlimited access to media.

We are always redefining ourselves: our attitudes, clothing, the music representing our beliefs and how we choose to be seen. The new millenium has blossomed; music and other media have taken a new spin. No longer do we have to wait our turn in airplay for what we like, we have more choices than ever with the Internet and personal MP3 players. People can choose to listen to folk, reggae, original British punk, or hair metal without needing to find it in pre-programmed and marketed companies like MTV.

However, technology is not only a means of entertainment, it has become a necessity in communication, personal and international. Cell phones provide services like text messaging, email and web surfing. In addition to cell phones, most teenagers take advantage of services like AOL Instant Messenger to share information, be entertained and stay in touch. Digital cameras allow for photographs to be sent with ease, reaching virtually anyone. With such technology, it's easier for one to find and keep in contact with people around the world who share the same interests. International affairs that don't make television prime time can be found on the internet through newsgroups and bulletin boards, and editorials from most international newspapers can be easily found.

As every generation has been shaped and molded by their environment, so have we. Our access to all media all the time has created in us an individuality that has never before been an option. No longer are we restricted to any style, fashion, or school of thought. We've been set free to choose our own images, interests and futures through all access.

Student Life

Smells Like Teen Spirit

1. Alens! Seniors Derek Hutchinson and A.J. Jelder, along with others, paint their bodies with the Viking Colors to show off their pride. 2. The Ides of March are come. Junior Mike Donoghue plays the part of Caesar in the fall drama production, The Bard Witch Project, while Jonny Papa and Sean Ruge pretend to murder him. 3. Purple Ladies. The dance team girls wait patiently and prep for their upcoming performance. 4. Afro-man? Almost. A fellow VHS student dresses up as a hippie with a tubular afro. 5. Jennifer Mastropietro and Brian Mandini make their debut at homecoming. 6. No cutting in line please! Students wait in line to enter the already overflowing multipurpose room. The room is used for various club meetings during lunch time. 7. Stop goofing around! Senior Jeremy Patrich takes a break from the exhausting band practice. 8. Go Vikings, you go boys! Cassandra Koury does her duty on the side line, cheering for her team. 9. The Odd Couple. Jessica Samecki dresses up as a cute, furry bunny and Megan Lung dresses up as a little devil girl. 10. Shop 'till you drop! Sunset Boulevard, Hollywood, and Santa Monica are just a few of the places VHS students like to hang out at. 11. Hats, hats, hats! Instead of wearing just one hat, some people just wear three, all for Crazy Hat Day.

Music and media in the 21st century are definitely different than the music scene of 10 years ago. From Nirvana and the Smashing Pumpkins, to Britney Spears and Linkin Park, the scene has shifted dramatically. But with the music industry as indecisive as it is, this change could be not for long. As punk becomes more and more the "next trend" and groups like the Backstreet Boys and N'Sync grow older, the trend seems to be turning yet again. Two years ago, bands like Linkin Park, Sum 41, Alien Ant Farm, and Jimmy Eat World received little to no airplay. But today, they are quickly moving up the charts and frequenting the MTV airwaves. Some say this is just another trend, but others think these bands may have more longevity. Who would have thought that N'Sync and the Backstreet Boys would have lasted as long as they did? The scene for current music can now be found anywhere. Instead of one place, like Seattle, topping the map for music, now any city is a potential hot spot for what could set the trend. Music has become too varied itself, becoming too diverse to classify. One thing is certain: the music scene is never stable.

A look at today's Music and Media scene

Celebrity Skin

The media, too, is spreading out. In what was once mostly just a "newspaper world", we now have instant access to the world around us. With advances in technology and more people turning to the internet, we now stand in a world where cyberspace is right at our fingertips. The media of today have expanded into so many different realms. What our generation grew up on is no longer what the next generation is currently being raised with. Movies and television are almost nothing now without special effects. Many movies are now going back to the basics, however, thus leading to a more diverse form of media.

Which leads to the question, how much further can technology, music, and media go before we head back into a complete circle? Is there a limit to what we can and cannot do? How far are we from having all access?

Music and Media=Our Future?

How do you feel about the current state of music, media and technology?

1. Heather Corcoran: "People are too reliant on technology today. It's getting kind of ridiculous."
2. Heather Hartman: "People are trying too hard to be the same now. Music has gotten totally conformist."
3. Mark Rozenowajg: "I think that people should write their own music. I find it funny how anyone can get a hit now, and these people didn't even write their own hit songs. Also, I don't care about advancements in technology."
4. Dustin Halcon: "I don't like that question. It's a stupid question."
5. Tiffany Mourl: "Music has certainly diversified over the past few years, and now I actually save a lotta' money thanks to technology, with CD burners and mp3s."

Endless Summer

1. Rubber ducky, you're the one. Christy Turcios spent her summer in the pools of Culver City teaching kids ages three to twelve how to swim and dive as one of the municipal pool's very own life guards. 2. Surfin' USA. Brett Geyer shows off his surfing skills on the waves of San Diego. He has been surfing since elementary school and goes every summer. On his school breaks he also enjoys fishing and snowboarding. 3. Colors of the Wind. Brian Wade, Jonny Papa, and Mark Kacera went to Warped Tour with their multi-colored friends to see AR and Pennywise. There were a total of 105 bands performing including Ataris, Less Than Jake, Midtown, The Misfits, and New Found Glory. 4. How's the air up there? Sheila Jafari went to a camp in Tahoe where she niked, made huts, and faced one of her biggest fears, heights. While attached to cords she walked across a rope 75 feet in the air and then free fell off. 5. Ride 'em Cowgirls! Heather Frisch and the rest of her drill team won first place in the Western States Junior Drill Team Championship. As a result of this achievement, her drill team got to open for the Reno Rodeo with their winning drill which was shown live on ESPN. 6. Land ahoy! On a two week trip to Europe, Mackenzie Bear, Jordan Dears, Ashley Harsen, and Cary Stanford visited Buckingham Palace where they tried to make the guards laugh. They also enjoyed a two and a half hour boat ride from Ireland to Wales. 7. Summer Catch. Kris Miranda says he met the most beautiful girl in the world this summer. He says "thanks" to Kim for everything and that he will always be there for her.

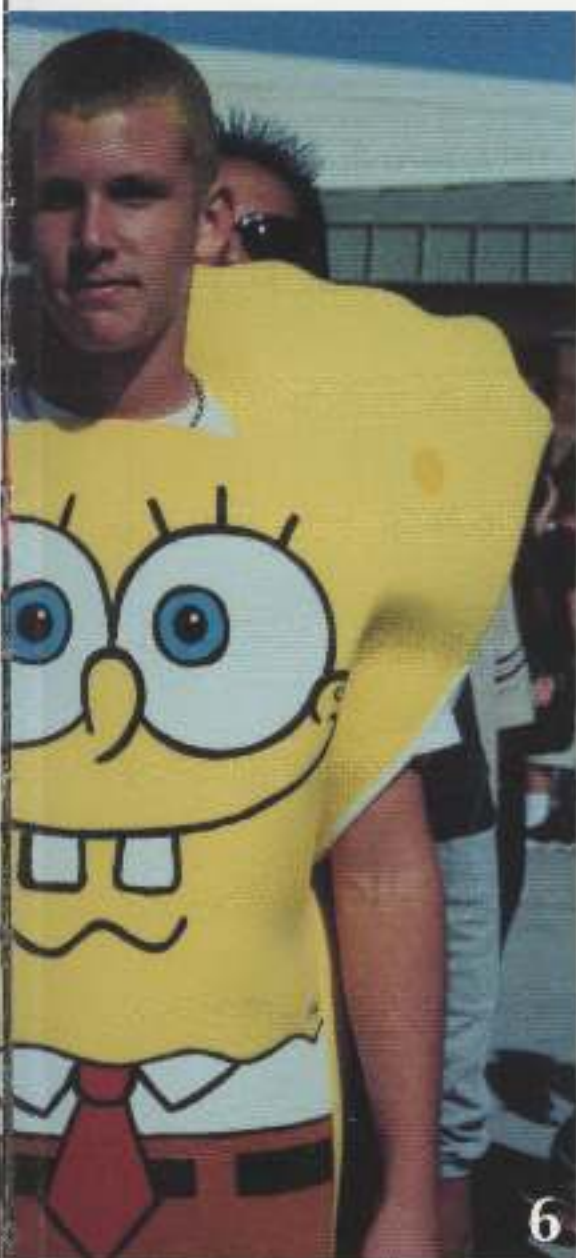

7. Scooby want a scooby snack? Doug Bierend as Shaggy cuddles with man's best friend. 8. Introducing our new flaming Jack. We don't know Jack. 9. M & M's. Amanda Quillen and Jessica Burziuff pose as Madonna and Marilyn Manroe. 10. Hocus Pocus. Eleonora Guardini becomes the Wicked Witch of the West's new sidekick.

Love You Had

Have You Had Your Break Today?

1. My goodness this is a long line! This is the first year Valencia has had split brunches. Half the school has their brunch after second period, and the other half has it after third period. The lines still seem long, but they would be longer if the whole school had brunch together. 2. Taking care of business. VTV staff sold 3-13 t-shirts to raise money. 3. Mirror mirror on the wall... Twins Candi and Catie Haub dressed up for twin day during Homecoming week. Not hard for them! 4. Time to get crazy! Melissa Ulloa and Ashley Jensen get jazzed up for crazy hat day. 5. Ready, aim, fire! One of our favorite campus supervisors, Burt, takes aim with a plastic bow and a suction cup arrow during one of Valencia's numerous brunch activities. 6. Oh, I'm so sexy! David Myauchi really gets into the feel of the day during criss-cross day during Homecoming week this year. His outfit includes a dress, sweater, belly chain, sandals, and a pretty pink wig.

VIKING SPIRIT

1. "Hey peanut guy! Ova' here!" Jessica Fisher cheers for Valencia's football team at a local game. 2. Loot, pillage, kill! Sean Ruge demonstrates proper foam sword threat form at a game at Canyon High School. 3. Aye Aye Captain! Derek Hutchinson leading the parade of Viking boosters before a game. 4. "Gimme a V!" Mary Kate McMahon stands proudly, pom pom in the air, at the game against Hart at COC. 5. Some people just have naturally pearly whites. Tiffany Bradshaw and friend, Tiffany Thomrongsith, dentists' dreams, smile brightly at a very spirited football game. 6. Ahh, the memories. Bryan Newman, Keri Cichy, and Elizabeth Feeder show their spirit by sporting the latest Vikings ASB spirit shirt.

1. Golden Boys. Wendy Hafen and Lena Dykstra proudly show off the Viking boys. Matt Dobrowski, Kid Kudroff, David Myauchi, James Luxmore, Robby Jamison, A.J. Jelder and a Canyon cowboy all painted themselves for their fellow football players. 2. I know I'm not supposed to match! Nicole Davis displays her not so matching style, but on purpose for mix-match day. 3. Aliens from another planet! Tiffany Landis and Kessidy Close, go wild for crazy hair day, by spraying their hair different colors. 4. I thought I looked good this morning! Sheila Jafar and Lisa Skinner, strike a pose, showing off their mix-match clothing for spirit week. 5. The boys are back in town... Alison Costanza and Ashley Kuffner, show their spirit by dressing up as boys for criss-cross day.

Rallies Page

1. Sing, sing a song. Fred Hammond sings at one of the rallies to pump up the crowd for the game. 2. Hart breaker! Proud Viking takes a swing at 'Hart'. 3. Who doesn't smile during a Viking rally? Everyone has a great time at the rallies. 4. And where's the Viking Pride? Becky Neelon is questioned by Mr. Perry, making Viking history. 5. My money's on the freshman! A representative from each class competes for the Homecoming Rally Title. 6. That's what we are talking about! The rally really pumps up the crowd when they talk about the competition. 7. better check in! Vince the Viking makes sure the crowd lets Hart know they are going to be checking into the Heartbreak Hotel.

These Infinite Spaces formed in the fall of 1999, during the band members' freshman year. During the past two and a half years, they've released two independent albums, with their third release out in May, and they have had some of their songs appear in a few independent films. They have self-described their music as 'emo-grunge-core' and their influences include The Promise Ring, Still Life, Jets to Brazil, Sunny Day Real Estate, Fugazi, and the Smashing Pumpkins. When asked what it takes to keep a band together, lead singer and guitarist Jeremy Quintero answered, "Patience, it takes time and effort to get a band together, and it takes time and effort to keep it together." The music of the Funky Monks can best be described in their own words: "Experimental, video game induced funk rock". Their influences include Lochusphere, Mr. Bungle, and Primus, and they are also influenced by a variety of musical tastes, styles and their differences in religion. They have been together since the fall of 2000, but they do not have a cd yet. Instead, their music can be found online as mp3's. They plan to return to the studio to record yet another masterpiece soon. Cadillapse formed in the summer of 2001, bringing together their favorite styles of music to create what they call 'melodicpunkrockabillyhardcore'. With such influences as AF, Sublime, Silverchair, The Living End, and Rush, its not hard to see how such a blend of music can work together. They don't have a CD yet, but they hope to record one soon. A new band to the Valencia campus. Simple Minded, with its five members, formed in the spring of 2001 while its members were still in jr. High. With such bands as Strung Out, the Movielife, Good Riddance, Pennywise, and MxPx as their influences, they play punk rock with a purpose. When asked what they write about, girls and everyday life ranked high on their list. They don't have a CD yet, but one will soon be in the works. We wish them luck over the next few years.

SICK BOYS

1. I own this hill behind me. Garrett Thor playing his Epiphone SG while sitting on a fire hydrant. 2. Hey, cut those chops! Michael Clark warming up his Ibanez S-470 with a rockabilly tune. 3. You're supposed to play in the garage! Jon Burton playing his left handed Fender Stratocaster as if he was Hendrix himself. 4. Shake it EMS! Big Henry Gutierrez posing god-like with his Epiphone Riviera. 5. A child of the '60's. If you want the classic riffs of power rock then here's Zack Simpson with his Fender Stratocaster. 6. Jerry Garcia reborn? Without a doubt you've all seen Johnny Papa roaming the campus with his Takamine acoustic. 7. This boy has got some class. If you want some shred-meta at it's finest then consider Vince Ross with his customized Ibanez RG-470 and it's Pearly Gates pickups. 8. It's healthy to release aggression. Need a song written? If so, check out Ryan Fogelson and his Cort acoustic. 9. Guitar on every level. Doug Bierend's Ibanez RG-220 can do it all.

Blast from the Past

Seniors photos from 7th, 9th and 12th grade.

Bobby Walsh
Apart from his schoolwork, animals are his next best thing.

Zack Simpson
as a wee sprout, young lad, and absolute musical genius.

Johnny Papa
With a guitar in hand, you can bet you'll always hear him around campus.

Cassie Friel
You won't catch her afterschool with her hockey team and gymnastics she's always busy.

Kim Cornick
She may look meek and mild but this 2nd degree black belt will prove you wrong.

Stand By Me

Jenn Valenti and Catie Haub are so close that each knows how the other feels just by looking at her. "We can understand each other", states Catie.

Brian Wright and Derek Hutchison both play soccer, which is why they are so close. "It's a good quality when you have common interests." They also know they can trust each other.

Kassidy Close and Tiffany Landis have known each other since kindergarten. They know each other's whole history, so they can act like themselves without worrying about being put down.

Ashley Dickinson and Haylie Hubbard have known each other since the 1st grade. Ashley says that the key to friendship is understanding.

Matt Dobrow and J.R. Cordray are two guys who have been through it all together. "I think Matt and I are such good friends because we have the same personalities and like to do the same things," says J.R.

Jorge DeHoyos

Jorge Rodolfo DeHoyos Jr. isn't your average high school senior. Whether he's mowing on the track field, dancing the Salsa onstage, guarding lives at Hurricane Harbor, volunteering at his church, or studying, you always see a smile on his face. His favorite hobby is to concentrate on what's important and not worry about frivolous things. Certainly a lover of life itself, Jorge hopes to do as much as possible in life. Some of these things include entering college as a human major, traveling the world as a Catholic missionary, writing a best-selling novel, directing an award-winning film, and performing in a professional production of Ballet Folklórico. He's kept himself quite busy in school, taking in four AP classes, including AP Literature, AP Calculus BC, AP Art History, and AP Government. Jorge feels that he's grown in confidence and maturity since his freshman year. His "to-do" list includes thinking about college and being on his own has expanded his view of the world.

Lisa Gurner

You might have seen her at Key Club meetings and events, but do you really know who Lisa Gurner is? Not only is she the past historian and current treasurer in Key Club, she's also a member of GSE and NHS. Service is something that comes naturally to Lisa. She tutors children at Score and can always be found helping the community with the Key Club. She hopes to "go to a four-year college and hopefully live a semester abroad in Spain." She's currently enrolled in Mr. Duncan's AP Spanish class where she hopes to prepare herself for the future. She'll miss her friends as well as the school dances and football games when she leaves for college. Other than being much cooler, Lisa has also expanded her ring of friends since her freshman year. She cares about her friends deeply and hopes to keep in touch with them after she leaves for college. She realizes it's the little things that count in life.

Jessica Kuratomi

To most students, their senior year should be a time to play and "take it easy." Nope. Not this senior. Jessica Kuratomi sings, studies, and helps her community. As a participant of the VHS choir and the local church choir, Believe, Jessica loves to share her music with the audience. Being accepted into the southern California Vocal Association Honor Choir demonstrates Jessica's exceptional skill. Along with singing, Jessica spends a hefty amount of time in her studies. She's taking AP Physics, AP Literature, and AP Calculus BC. She hopes to continue her studies at UC Davis or UC Berkeley as a biology major. She intends to become either a biologist or music instructor. In addition to her academics, Jessica is involved with several clubs on campus. She's the vice president of the Origami club, treasurer of the choir council, and a devoted member of the Key Club and the Future Teachers Club.

Paula Bedo

Paula was Born in Argentina and came to the United States at the age of eight. Her international flavor is helping set the new stage for VHS fashion. She loves to use her creativity in designing and altering clothing. "I can change a pair of jeans into anything but jeans!" In addition to being an active member of the Fashion Club, Paula has been involved in many other activities while at VHS. She started in "The Music Man" her freshman year, sang in choir her sophomore year, and participated in Mock Trial and Debate her junior year. Paula is now focusing on what she wants to do with her life. She wants to start her own clothing line called "Bodegaleo." Look out Calvin Klein!

Derek Hutchison

"A truly wise man doesn't play leapfrog with a unicorn." This sage wisdom comes from a great VHS athlete, Derek Hutchison. Derek has played on the Varsity Soccer team ever since his freshman year. He's also active in ASB and has been since his junior year. Derek says he's going to miss his soccer team and coaches once he graduates, especially Vince and Frank Perry, and Mrs. Strothe. Along with playing Varsity Soccer at school, Derek finds time to enjoy his favorite hobbies which include bodyboarding, snowboarding, and even a little bit of modeling and acting on the side.

Nichole Donnelly

As Nichole Donnelly leaves VHS, her words of wisdom to other students are, "Always be skeptical. Don't believe everything you hear." Throughout her life, and in particular her four years at VHS, Nichole has transformed herself into a talented, mature, intelligent woman. She's also learned a lot about life and all the responsibility that comes with it. Nicole played the flute in the VHS marching band for three years, and she was sixth chair flute in concert band in the spring. She's also a gymnast, taking classes at SCV School of Gymnastics. Nichole is a synchronized swimmer who's lucky enough to have a former Olympian as an instructor. Taking advantage of these opportunities has enabled Nichole to develop the talents that lead the way to a bright future.

Our Plans After High School

Jacy De Filippo

"I am currently in a singing group, with demo CD's out. My dream is to sign a contract, and to become a professional singer one day."

Zach Ward

"I plan on attending college and studying political science. Hopefully, I will attend the University of Maryland and get an internship in Washington, D.C. within the next couple of years. I am aiming for a career in politics."

Ryan Paige

"I believe I was given my gift with words for a reason. I feel I was meant to use my talent to help make people's lives better. I think a career in journalism would allow me to do just that. I just hope fate allows me time to leave a legacy that lives on after my earthly demise."

Jessica Burzlaff

"I want to own a fashion line called Blonde Ambition."

Allie Mutaw

"I plan on going to college to become a teacher. I want to teach high school kids."

Ramzi Azar

"After I graduate from high school, I plan on attending a community college. I am going to major in business. After C.O.C for one to two years, I want to go to U.S.C. or Pepperdine."

Senior Spotlight

William Welkowitz

"Appreciate your carefree days while you can, they will never come again." William Welkowitz, known to most as Billy, spent the summer before his Senior year working as a freelance sports writer for the Keene Sentinel, located in New Hampshire. This year, he is enrolled in Honors Economics, Honors Government, AP Literature, AP Calculus, and AP Environmental Science. On top of his heavy class load, he is also Editor-in-Chief of the Valencita Viking Vision. Billy notes that his experiences with the Sentinel and the Viking Vision have dramatically increased his sense of accomplishment and confidence in his work. Billy credits his parents for encouraging him to do his best and always reach for his dreams. After high school, Billy hopes to study at Northwestern University. He then hopes to become a sports broadcaster for ESPN or become the first Jewish President of the United States. The one thing that Billy is going to miss most about Valencita High School is seeing his friends everyday.

Lauren Weiner

Lauren Weiner is enrolled in AP Art History, AP Literature, AP Calculus, AP Government, and Honors Economics. As if that weren't enough, Lauren spends her free time pitching for the NHS softball team, coaches a girls 12 and under softball team, and works at Score, a tutoring center for kids. She is an active member in the Spanish Honor Society, NHS CSF, and Key Club. Since Freshman year, Lauren notices that she has a lot more confidence. Lauren looks up to her mother because she has decided to go back to college, but still makes time for her children. For example, she continues to watch Lauren's softball games and takes the time for heart-to-heart chats. Next year, when Lauren attends college, she is going to miss seeing her friends at school and going to softball and football games.

James Cordray

"I can picture a planet without hatred and war. I can also picture earth attacking that planet because they'd never expect it." James Cordray, better known as JR, is enrolled in AP English, AP Government, Honors Anatomy, and Honors Economics. During the summer, JR spent most of his time counseling kids at a summer camp in Santa Cruz. This year, he is an offensive lineman on the Varsity Football team, as well as the Vice President of the Senior class. JR's parents are his role models for success. He also looks up to his football coaches for leading him discipline, accountability, and perseverance. Next year, JR is going to miss all of his friends, some of the teachers that he has gotten close to, and "those little beryaki rice bowls they sell at lunch!"

Senior Spotlight

Colin Carey

You can see Colin Carey at every football game because not only is he the Varsity quarterback, he's also often the captain of the team. This studious senior is taking a heavy load of AP and honors classes this year, including AP calculus, AP physics, honors economics, and AP government. Colin says he will miss all of the teachers, counselors, coaches and especially the friends that have made such an impact on him. When asked how he's changed since Freshman year, Colin replied, "I eat a lot more, I've gotten bigger, and I've learned the high school system." In the future, Colin hopes to attend college and play on the football team. Afterwards, he would like to get married, begin a career in business, and establish a family.

Heather Hartman

When you're watching a play, you probably don't think about what's going on behind the scenes. But it's people like Heather Hartman who help make the play run smoothly. Heather has been on set crew for all four of her years at VHS. She has also been a member of the Drama Club for four years and is currently Vice President. Heather is also a four year choir member, a two year Key Club member, and has been in the Spanish Honor Society since her Junior year. Even while doing all this, Heather is still able to maintain a part-time job as a cashier at Magic Mountain. Some of the things that Heather will miss about VHS are her friends, the drama club, choir, the peace garden, the smell, her teachers, and the grass. When asked how she has changed since Freshman year, Heather replied, "I'm more outgoing, more spunky, and less self-conscious." In the future, Heather plans on going to college. She wants to study abroad in Australia and may want to major in psychology or stage design.

Danbi Oh

"Your future is defined by what you do today," says Danbi Oh. Danbi is enrolled in several AP and Honors classes, including AP literature, AP environmental science, AP calculus, honors economics, and AP art history. Danbi has been a member of the Key Club for four years and has been in the National Honor Society for three years. Danbi spends a lot of her time playing the clarinet in band. When she was a sophomore, Danbi was chosen to participate in A State Honor Band. This was a huge honor because she was recognized as one of the best clarinet players in the state. Danbi says she will miss her friends, band, and all of the familiar faces. She feels that she has become more independent since her Freshman year. She wants to attend a U.C. school, but she is undecided in major.

Oh The HORROR

PHOBIAS

I have a fear of the gnomes that live in my room and steal my stuff for no apparent reason other than to taunt me.

JESSICA RIFKIND

I hate spiders!

JEREMY LINEBAGER

I am scared of grass hoppers.

RENEE WITWER

I have "algorisophobia." I'm scared of going any where alone. Except the bathroom.

TIFFANY THOMRONGSITH

Dolphinphobophobia - fear of being chased by wolves around a kitchen table wearing socks when the floor was just waxed.

CLIFF BREAKFIELD

I'm still afraid of the dark and I'm deathly afraid of snakes. I'm also afraid to fly.

FAVORITE BAD GUY

FRANK FERRELL

I'd be the bad guy in The Fast and the Furious because I would love to race a street bike.

CARLA LOPEZ

Nicholas Cage in Face/Off.

A.J. JEIDER

I would be John Travolta in Saved! 88. He's got a nice ride, more money than the 3 of A, and a grip of hunnies.

HOW HAS HIGH SCHOOL CHANGED FOR YOU?

Emily Bancroft says that the school has become more crowded this year. She also thinks it's hard to believe that she was once as small as a freshman.

"Now that we are upper-classman, we can go off campus to get better food," says Coel Momita about the benefits of being a junior.

Jason Scott thinks the school looks dirtier this year with more gumspots. He also realizes the importance of what he does now and how it will affect the rest of his life.

"At first, high school was cool and exciting. Now I look at it as a big fishbowl - everyone is the same."

-Ashley Kessler

"I like the choices we have as juniors. Our schedules can be more personalized, and I appreciate the time I have with friends a lot more."

When you give a second look to a girl with orange hair preaching, "better to be thought an idiot than to open your mouth and prove them right," you will know you spotted Ashley Kessler. She has maintained a 4.0 since her freshman year at Valencia and is preparing to go to an "excellent university." She would like to become a drum major in the band next year, and become as involved in a drama production. She is a part of the Bible Club, Drama Club, and plays the flute in the marching and symphonic band. Kessler sings in a contemporary Christian band, 52 Days, that performs at local coffee houses. Her large family and friends are an important part of her life. VHS has provided her with many great experiences and wonderful people to make memories with. Kessler can't wait to get out of here, but she's going to miss Valencia High School.

Mike Donoghue

You might remember him as Julius Caesar from the Drama Club's fall production, The Bard With Project, or you might remember him from one of the other many clubs here on campus. You'll notice that he's not just another face in the overcrowded crowd. Aside from spending time with his friends and family, he finds time to be a part of the Creative Writing Club, the Anime Club, and the Drama Club, where he devotes many of his hours outside of school working on the productions. He would like to pursue an acting career before he leaves VHS, and would like to study acting in college. You might have already seen his acting abilities in such plays as A Chorus Line, Grease, and You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown. Besides acting, Mike excels in school and enjoys it here at Valencita more than his last high school, Caabanas High. Despite the long and crowded walks he must endure to get to each class, Donoghue believes that this school has a better campus and better teachers. He tries to live his life by his favorite quote, "Do unto others as you would have them do you," and fits it into his life by just being as nice and helpful as he can to the people around him. Good luck to him on his future acting career.

PARENTAL
ADVISED

Actually, no. I feel that censorship stifles personal expression.
-Randall Burnett

Yes. I feel that censorship should not occur because why did we create the language if we can't use it?
-Matt McIntire

I think censorship is good to a certain extent, but sometimes people go overboard and restrict individuality.
-Alex Gajewski

Do you think our school is too

CENSORED?

1. Morgan McEvoy: "Yes. I think that people can't express themselves if you limit their freedom of attire." 2. Camille Gavaldon: "Yes, I believe moderate censorship is okay because some girls would show up to school in next-to-nothing if there weren't any dress codes. But, the school goes too far, like not letting students wear bandanas because they consider it to be gang related." 3. Peter Hernandez: "I don't think it is because people can say what they want as long as it doesn't contain vulgarity. Censorship can be good for parents who don't want their kids to be exposed to obscenity and sexuality on T.V. and the internet. But at the same time, it's bad for those of us who are mature enough to handle it." 4. Cherilyn Teague: "Censorship proves that many people feel more secure in a situation where they can deny truth and reality. Students probably know about everything that is being censored anyway." 5. Laura McFarlane: "No, everyone is free to pretty much express themselves as much as they want. I don't agree with censorship because I honestly don't think lyrics are going to change a person's morals. But I do think young children should be shielded from certain things."

Kristina De Bree

Small flowers crack concrete. Most of us find high school life stressful and sometimes difficult, but not all of us have as many obstacles as Kristina DeBree. Kristina is 4 foot 6 inches. Her small height is due to cystic fibrosis, a genetic disease that can be fatal. But Kristina does not let this disease get the best of her. Many may remember her from the fundraiser Kristina organized last year. Sometimes stopping to inform students about the details of this disease, she went from classroom to classroom collecting change that would be donated for finding a cure. She still manages to excel in school and keep strong faith in god. Outside of school, Kristina enjoys hanging out with her friends at the mall, or doing things with her church. When asked, Kristina describes herself as "just like any normal kid". Kristina DeBree is one of the most determined and strong willed sophomores this year and sets a fine example for the rest of her class.

What's changed since your freshman year?

We just moved here from Humboldt. It's nice here, but I'll miss my friends a great deal.

-Ericka Friske

My thumbs have grown a single nanameter and everyone loves them a lot!

-Joanne Solis

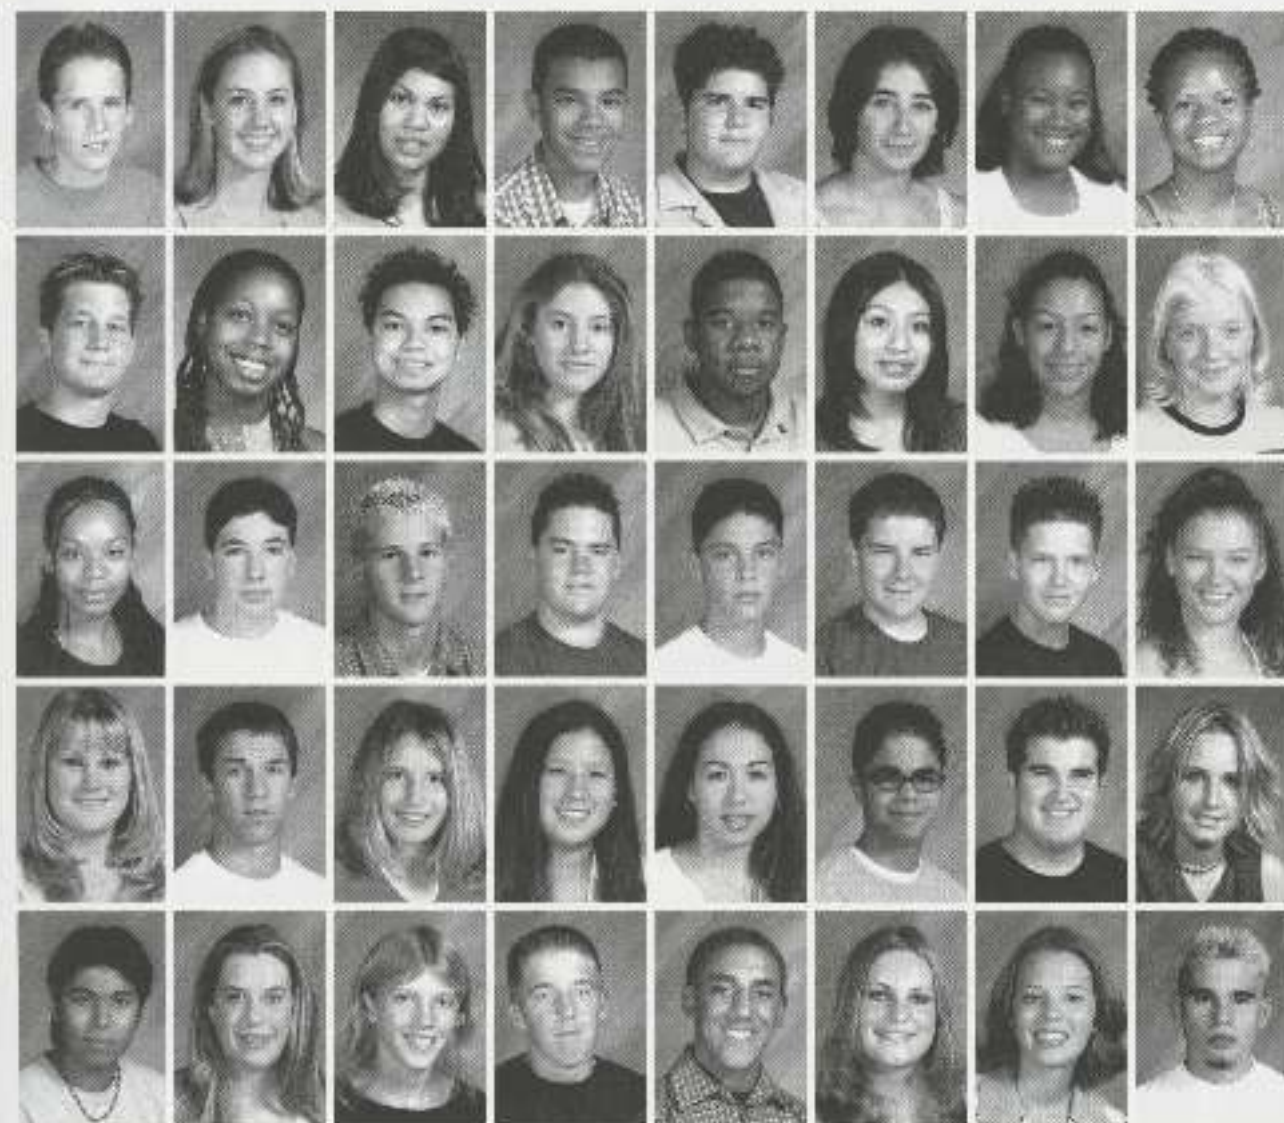

I am a little bit taller, older, and the work has gotten a lot harder.

-Kathleen O'Farrell

My shoe size seems to have gotten smaller. I am also a little smarter too.

Natalie Borja happily volunteers to help out the people right here in the Santa Clarita Valley. Every so often, the Valencia City Hall organizes events that benefit our community. Borja has participated in various events, ranging from wrapping gifts for the elderly, to running different kinds of entertainment booths for little children. She enjoys helping out and hopes to continue helping in the future.

Aron Jacobson helps out in the valley at a program called the Frontline Foundation, an organization that feeds the homeless. Jacobson's dad owns a restaurant and he donates any extra food to this foundation. Jacobson, along with other volunteers, drives down to skid row in Los Angeles, and feeds the needy there. After volunteering a couple of times, Jacobson feels that helping out the less fortunate is a great experience.

Stephanie Malley loves to help out in her community. She also loves animals. Malley has been a member of the Hakuna Matata Animal Rescue for almost five years. This organization rescues animals, nurtures them back to health, and puts them up for adoption through Petco every Sunday. Malley is also a member of a wolf rescue program called "Den Pals" where they educate people about how wolves don't make good pets and should be kept in the wild.

Kamaal Theus considers her special talent to be making artistic sculptures out of ordinary household items such as video tapes and stuffed animals.

Amber Kerschen enjoys designing pages for her scrapbook. In it, she includes pictures of her family, friends and celebrities.

Sergio Botello is a member of the Valencia Track Team and participates in the pole vaulting events. As of now, Sergio holds the pole vault record for Valencia freshmen.

Far and Away

-Tales of their Travels-

Dayo Spencer Walters was born in Panorama City and she loves to travel. She's been to Europe and Africa numerous times. Dayo flew to Zimbabwe with her family after her father was granted a Fulbright Senior Scholarship, which is considered one of the highest academic awards given to professors. Dayo has relatives living in Europe, who she visits at least once a year.

Upholding his Polish heritage, Matthew Gajewski has traveled to Poland twice, visiting his relatives and touring the country. He goes to a Polish church in Los Angeles every Sunday, and is also involved in "Harcerstwo," an organization for Polish teenagers.

This group organizes trips every year and travel often. Just last year, Matthew spent two weeks in Toronto, Canada with 1,400 other young Polish teenagers from all over the world.

Although Jennifer Broonkoku was born in St. Joseph's Medical Center, her family originates from Thailand. Since her parents were born and raised there, Jennifer learned how to speak Thai from them. Jennifer and her family also travel to Thailand at least once every four years, visiting their relatives in the country's capital, Bangkok. To keep herself connected to her Thai background, Jennifer also attends a temple in Los Angeles every Sunday.

Ferris Bueller's Day Off

If you could change one school rule, which one would you change?

Jeff Fule

I would let sophomores go off campus!

Lauren Feldman

I would make an 87% or up an 'A' grade.

Jennifer Dacumos

The high school exit exam needs to go!

Liz Feder

I'd change the rules so we can eat, drink, and chew gum in class.

Ashley Jensen

Maybe to let us show our stomach's just a little bit, it wouldn't hurt anyone.

It's a Dead Man's Party

"Bradley Nowel, because he was a good musician."

Nathan Herdy

"Gene Kelley, he's my favorite singer, dancer, and actor."

Amy Shroff

"Jimmy Dean because he was supposedly really cute."

Steffanie Friedman

"Frank Sinatra because he was the best."

Liz Feder

"Selena because she was one of the best singers and she was a great dancer and person."

Natalie Barja

"John Lennon because he had the same birthday as I do."

Samuel Wright

"Phil Hartman....he is the man!"

Travis Geyer

"Frank Sinatra, I liked his music."

I Want It That Way

Scott Hoback thinks we should have a cartwheel club on campus.

Eric Miller would eat it up if we could start a lunch club.

Joe Milhoan wishes we could bring a wrestling team to our school.

John Bissett would be excited to be on a rugby team.

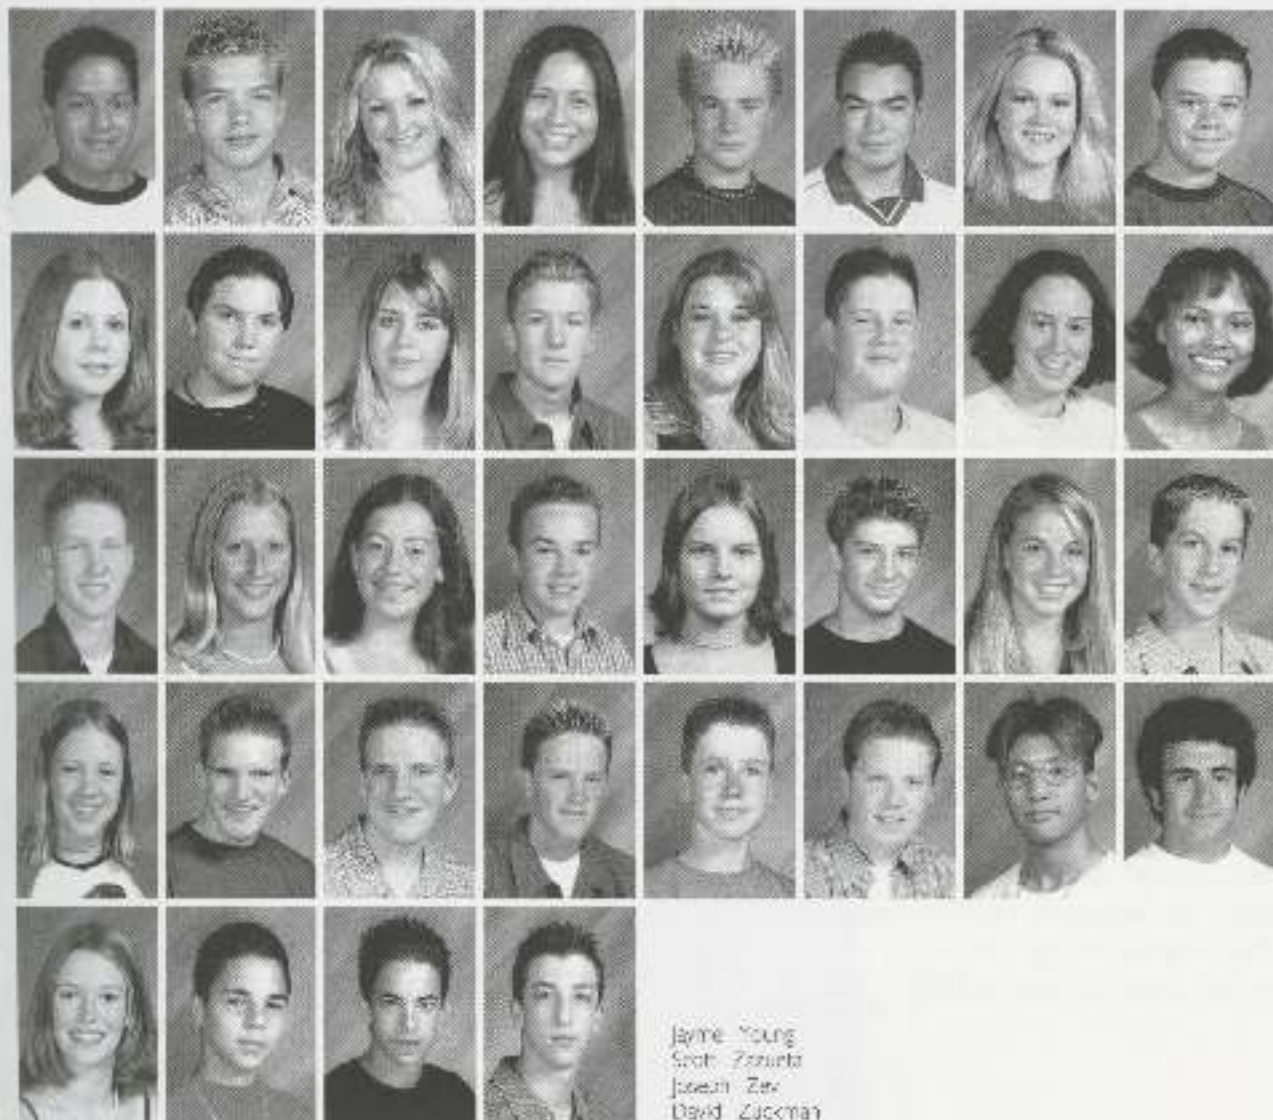

Michelle Kim thinks Valencia should have a German class.

Camarin Peltier

Camarin Peltier, a former freshman cheerleader, likes going to the mall and watching movies on the weekend. Her favorite genre of movies are comedies because they make her laugh. Included in her list of favorite movies are Scary Movie II, American Pie, and Rush Hour. As a senior, she said she wouldn't mind taking the class, Film as Literature because of the movies, but she's not so sure about writing essays after them.

Peltier's favorite class this year is Modern Civilizations with Coach Muir. She likes his class because it's fun. She likes his style of teaching because you can tell that he's a football coach. All in all, Camarin likes to have fun and do things on the spur of the moment. She doesn't plan for events months in advance and would like to sum it all up by saying, "Whatever happens, happens."

"I have a crowded room! I just discovered I had carpet a couple of weeks ago, but I can't find it anymore."

Broke Lum

"It's the second largest room in the house. I really like my wicker furniture and my leaf print wall paper."

Carlos Ramirez

"I like my room because it's huge."

Leslie Hung

"My room is painted yellow and has a wood floor. I also have a desk with a computer on it, and a shelf which holds all my junk."

You Know You're A Freshman When...

- * you hear the bell ring and run to class.
- * you sit on the floor at rallies.
- * your mom packs your lunch.
- * you move out of the way for upper classmen.
- * you can't leave campus for lunch.
- * you still think Rocky Horror Picture Show is cool.
- * you hang out at Carl's Jr. after school.
- * you still go to Magic Mountain all the time.

According to Sarah Davis her role model is Gwen Stefani of the band No Doubt. Sarah is a big fan of Gwen's style and the band's music. Alright then Sarah, keep rockin' out.

The one and only Bill Clinton is the role model for Alfredo Ortiz. Alfredo, a member of R.O.T.C. supported the way Clinton ran office during his two terms. Go Bill!

Jenna Evans says her role model is her good friend Aly Westover. We may have some very early front runners for the senior favorites best friends category. Fantabulous!

Guess Who...

This year's Mystery Freshman is fresh off the farm. He was shocked and a little bit disappointed when his father announced that they would be moving to Santa Clarita, California. The move from Nebraska was hard for him. "I like it, but it's a lot different than what I'm used to. There aren't any seasons here." The hardest part of leaving Nebraska was leaving behind the rodeo. He started competing in tractor bulls and calf roping when he was barely able to walk. As he got older he graduated to bull riding and team penning. He was just beginning to get very well known in his home town of Colon as a bull riding up-and-comer. As a member of 4-H, he has a great appreciation of animals, and has gotten involved with animal rescue since he's been here. "I'm starting to adjust to life here, I mean, I'll always be a country boy at heart, but I'm having fun and doing a lot of new stuff."

Fantastic

15 Minutes of Fame

1. Mr. Mast: "I met Harrison Ford in Malibu. We talked politics." 2. "Does Richard Simmons count? We had our picture taken together. It was in the airport leaving New Orleans after Mardi Gras, so luckily I had my camera!" -Mrs. Necessary 3.

Mrs. Itaya: "I met Miss Maryann when I was on Romper Room. I won Simon Sez on national television!" 4. "Bruce Willis on the set of Last Man Standing. My husband was working on the set and introduced us- Willis was very charming- and better looking in person than on the screen!" -Mrs. Cresap 5. Ms. Ludy: "I met James Wood in Las Vegas at a Black Jack table! Alec Baldwin- I was introduced to him at a political campaign at my college in Massachusetts." 6. "I met Gene Kelly on the set of The Love Boat!" -Ms. Wallerstein 7. "Adam Sandler filmed a movie at our house this year!" -Ms. Weissner

1. Ms. Wilson: "Everyday! I touch the lives of over 150 students. When they come back to me and say I have affected their life- that is my 15 minutes of fame." 2. Ms. Babakhanian: "In 12th grade, I refinished and rededicated a war memorial plaque for Veteran's Day. I was on the news (Channel 4) and in the local newspaper, the Burbank Leader." 3. "I played lead guitar in a band for 13 years all over California, New Mexico, and Arizona." -Mr. Houser 4. Mrs. Strothe: "I'm famous anytime I'm mistaken for Mrs. Stroth!" 5. Mr. Whelan: "I always get a kick out of being mentioned in the local paper when I'm directing something for the Drama Club." 6. "I am an author and have received awards in England and France for my short stories. I also was a regular dancer on the Lloyd Traxton TV Show in LA in the mid- 60's when I was in high school." -Mrs. Sealey 7. Ms. Kellogg: "I was All-American in college tennis." 8. "I played at Dodger Stadium in high school for baseball." -Mr. Maggiora 9. Ms. Wright: "Mrs. LaSalle (the registrar) and I won the Supermarket Sweep many years ago." 10. Mrs. Purviance: "No I haven't. But if I ever do I hope it's recognition for alleviating the suffering of others and not on America's Most Wanted."

Come in, Come in, the show is about to BEGIN..

What was your first concert?

Move over Marilyn Manson, Ms. Licht has seen the one and only Alice Cooper during his Welcome to my Nightmare Tour.

Although I'm sure Mr. Marcudilli was not intentionally trying to date himself, he certainly did with his first concert being Simon and Garfunkel. On a side note, it was also Simon and Garfunkel's very first show ever!

There's no substitute for the King himself, the one and only Elvis! That's exactly who Ms. Wright saw. Hunka Hunka!

You know you've had it good when you can't exactly remember what your very first concert was, but you do remember that nonetheless you have seen: Jimi Hendrix, Buddy Miles, Crosby, Stills, and Nash, and Santana! Mr. Silsbee should be a hero to us all!

Ms. Blok saw Marvin Gaye when she was eight years old but her adventures didn't stop there. By the time she reached twenty she was attending Rage Against the Machine. "A mosh pit" show as she described.

"I'd like to meet John Lennon. I'd ask him how he feels about the current state of the world." -Mr. Harrison

"Napoleon...I'd tell him it's ok to be short." - anonymous teacher

"Joe Jackson, because I have been a fan forever. I would talk to him about his philosophical values." -Mr. Bibicoff

"God...I'd have all my question's answered." -Ms. Devoe

"I'd like to meet Leonardo Da Vinci because he was a genius and had ideas that were centuries ahead of his time. Plus he was a great artist!" -Mrs. Sealey

"I've lived in Minnesota for most of my life, so the only celebrity I've ever met is Paul Bunyan. He was a statue so there really wasn't much to say." Mr. Kalmer

"I've met Robert Redford and Fath Hill. Also Brad Pitt, he asked me why I was a teacher, he said that I didn't look like any of the teachers he had in school." Miss Schuman

"I've met Don Knotts, Seals and Crofts, and Michael Jackson. I also peed in the urinal next to Leonard Maltin. I also sang 'Green Acres' while standing in line ten people behind Eva Gabor in line for a movie." Mr. Moeller

"I saw Ed O'Neill (a.k.a. A Bundy) at a Santa Monica restaurant coming out of the restroom. We made eye contact. I've also met Sonny Bono. We shook hands." Miss Clune

Journey to the center of the mind

Peer counseling 1:

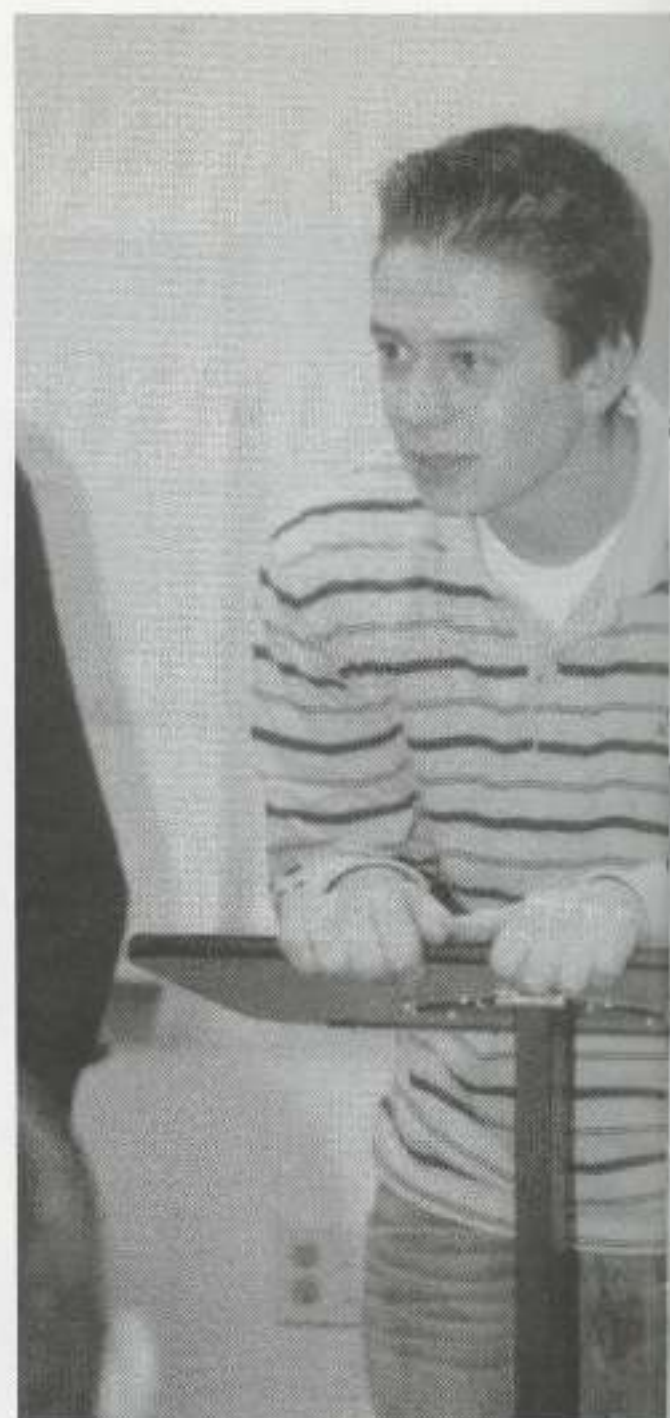

Mrs. Stiman

Peer counseling 2:

Mrs. Devoe

Psychology:

Mr. Albert

Staci Goldstein: "I chose to be in peer counseling because I wanted to help people, and I eventually learned that I was also helping myself. It's hard for me to keep cool sometimes but Mrs. Stiman has given me a head start on knowing how to completely control my anger. She is a truly amazing woman. Mrs. Stiman really becomes this inspiring figure to everyone. She is a one of a kind teacher because unlike many teachers today she cares about students on a level that is touching and inspiring. I highly recommend joining peer counseling because you really do grow from the class. It teaches so many life lessons and helps people out."

Psychology: Into A Beautiful Mind

Yvonne Tally: "The class is fun because you learn so much about life and the decisions you make. We have a good teacher, and everyone should take the course. It has prepared me to become a psychologist."

Kathy Hickok: "Through this class, I got interested in the study of psychology and it has influenced me to become a psychologist when I get older."

Heather Hartman: "The class is fun because it helps me understand people more. It's worth it!"

Dustin Tabarejo: "It's interesting, we talk a lot, it helps you understand people better, and the teacher's cool. I try and understand people's actions and why they do something."

What is ROP?

Since the mid-seventies, a public educational service called Regional Occupation Program (ROP) has provided students practical hands-on job training and career guidance. Valencia High students, 16 years or older, in the William S. Hart district, have been catching on to the excitement in learning about a career that interests them. Over the years, Jeffie Wright, the ROP counselor, says the most popular classes students enroll in are entertainment, photography, hotel operations, cosmetology, and child care. Recently, students have gotten the opportunity through ITT Tech, a technical trade school, to learn the trade at their sites. Through ROP, students prepare for advanced training programs and career advancement by upgrading existing job skills.

Sabrina Schull

This year, Sabrina enjoyed taking an Animal Care ROP class at Valencia High. Through her class, she learned the "On-The-job" training at PetCo. Her actual job is working at the Cat Doctor. After taking this ROP class she decided she would like to become a veterinarian and pursue her knowledge in the animal care field. She plans to study at Moorpark Junior College and receive her credentials.

Goodbye Burrill!

Freshmen- Knoweth not that they knoweth not. Sophomores- Knoweth that Inspirational, comical, and passionate are all words that describe Mr. Burrill's teaching style. Although the WIS school catalogue classifies his classes as mathematics, they were much more than that. Mr. Burrill's views on topics such as honesty, priorities, and time management, which he coined "Burrill's Pearls and Burrill's Beoney" became a staple of his classes. It is truly rare to find a teacher with such enthusiasm for his job. Mr. Burrill credits his 9th grade Pre-Algebra teacher and football coach with inspiring him by making math "fun and exciting". "I became a teacher because I had an absolute blast in High School. I loved the ASB, the academia, the students and the excitement of a high school campus, and the only way I could say in high school would be to become a teacher." They say that a love of your job can help keep you young. If that is indeed the case, it's clear through his youthful enthusiasm that Mr. Burrill chose the right career.

That enthusiasm for teaching reached beyond his own classroom. From 1975-85 Mr. Burrill wrote an individualized bilingual math program which was used in schools nationwide. In addition, he provided support and service to all the schools. He found that the program was keeping him away from his family though and decided to devote his time to them.

Mr. Burrill's retirement this year came as a real surprise. We will miss his "gentleman and scholar". May the Force Be With You.

The Sound of Music

We don't take notes, we play 'em...

1. The pyramid of symphonic music. The band seating arrangement is very specific so to reach the perfect musical balance. 2. Slap that bass! Junior Sean Sharma is a stand up kinda guy. He's also an advanced musician. He plays the stand up bass, bass guitar, and trombone. 3. Encore, Encore! Freshman Gigi Weisman, Junior Randal Burnett, and Sophomore Cory Chambers rise to a thunderous applause at the annual winter concert. 4. Louis Armstrong who? Practice pays off for those who do. Band try outs, which determine your place within your section, take place at the start of each semester.

It was the BEST of times...

...it was the WORST of times...

AARON KASS: "When I was a freshman in marching band, I used to get lost marching on the field. Soon, one of the seniors started calling me 'Compass Boy.' As a joke, on his last day of school, he bought me a compass."

ASHLEY KESSLER: "This one time, at band camp, I stuck my flute up my nose."

LAUREN WOLF: "When we were practicing up on the field one day, we discovered a dead, rotting rabbit. Somebody kicked it and the guts flew everywhere! It was so gross!"

BEAU CARTER: "One of my most memorable band experiences was being able to go on stage with the Society of Seven in Hawaii. They dressed me up as a tropical native and I got to dance on stage."

KRISTY YANNICH: "Once when the band was practicing on the field, the sprinklers went on and Mr. Babko made us stay on the field. Everyone ended up getting drenched!"

DAVID BETH: "I remember when Babko fell off the ladder my freshman year."

JESSICA KNUDTSON: "I have memories of going to Chi-Chi's after football games at midnight."

ALBIS GAJEWSKI: "I just love those long, dark bus rides..."

5. Your knee bone's connected to your - trombone! Senior Danielle Walters leads her section as the first trombonist. 6. Sax Fifth Avenue. The alto saxophone section concentrates hard on their notes and rhythms. 7. Mr Holland's Opus. Well, not really, Mr. Babko conducts the band during the annual winter concert in December. 8. Toot on those flutes! Sophomores Lauren Wolf and Larissa Vill rehearse with the band. 9. Carol of the Shepherds. All eighty five band members fill the stage for the winter concert. The band puts on this concert as a token of appreciation to everyone who supported them throughout the marching season. 10. Incantation and clarinets. Freshmen Andrew Yaeh and Alex Moore enjoy playing the difficult symphonic songs compared to their junior-high ones. 11. Follow the Leader. The band officers: (top-left) Elizabeth Benforado, Christian Velazquez, Jeremy Patrick, Aaron Kass; (bottom-left) Aleksandra Gajewski, Jessica Knudtson, Ashley Kessler, Chris Sumner, Jacquelyn Egger, and Tina Rahimi. The officers meet every other Wednesday to discuss future band events. 12. Bang the drum slowly. Sophomore Lou Steele watches carefully so he doesn't miss his timpani solo cue.

Spirit Leaders	Tim Christianson & Adam Cruz

This year, the choir will be visiting New York to perform Mozart's Requiem at Carnegie Hall along with Saugus High's Choir. These dedicated students spend 2 hours every Thursday night rehearsing with their choir director, Mrs. Loeb. Although they have to work hard, they know the trip will be well worth their effort. VHS should be proud to send such a talented choir to Carnegie Hall.

If you had an unlimited amount of money, what kind of car would you buy and how would you modify it?

-Mike Winter would buy a '47 Ford woodie hot rod and he would make sure that the wood was real.

-Brian Stearns wants a '72 Chevelle and would modify it in everyway.

-Andy Skitch's dream car is a '67 Camaro. He would get a cylinder engine with nitrous oxide so it would go faster.

-Erik Carlson would buy a tank and just leave it as it is.

-Jonny Mathews would modify his '68 Charger with a 350 engine, NOS, some awesome wheels, leather interior, and a six disk sound system.

-James Gable would buy a BMW and simply get a nice stereo system with some custom interior.

-Goby Ricardo wants to buy a powerwheel car and spray it lime green.

-Rogam May would get a Saturn just because.

Chris Vanegas

When one asks Chris Vanegas what he likes best about the auto class here in Valencia, he says "I just like it all." Chris enjoys the hands-on class because it's fun. He hopes to get a car of his own in the future, a Mitsubishi 3000GT VR4 to be exact. He's learned a lot in the class, ranging from changing oil to replacing transmissions. Chris' favorite job is changing clutches because it's fun, easy, and useful. Although Chris doesn't plan on working on cars in his future, he is very interested in using computer technology to design car models.

Veronica Dietz

Junior Veronica Dietz loves cars, especially trucks. She drives a Chevy Silverado, but her dream automobile is an "all back 350 super duty manual diesel on 20's with white lights and a faded out system." Veronica took the auto class to learn how to replace car engines since she plans on building small trucks with powerful engines. Veronica's favorite part of the class is the hands-on activities, but nothing beats her passion for driving cars. Veronica claims that the hardest part of auto is remembering all of the names of the car parts.

Do you find all the technology available at Valencia useful and why?

Anonymous - No because I hate computers. I've broken a few nails on the computer and the computers are so slow.

Brendan Duncombe - I find it very useful because it allows students to learn better and is great for people who plan to pursue a career in technology.

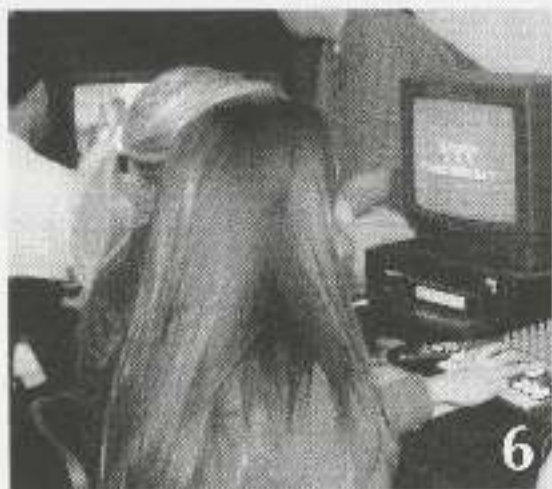

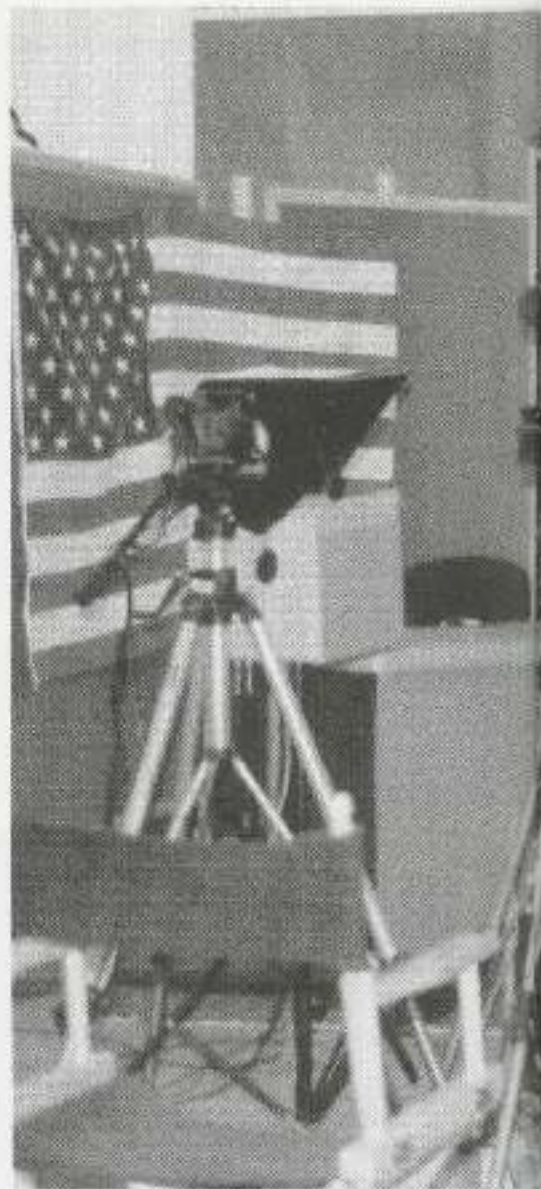

Tiffany Anzalone - Yes and no. Yes because you can do emergency homework, but no because of all the information sites that they have blocked.

Garrett Finley - I think the technology on campus is very useful! What other school has 60 computers in one room available for use whenever you need them? With computers around everywhere, students can make Power Point presentations and enhance their visual displays for class. The Imacs available in room 303 have improved video editing, making projects easier to do and better to watch.

DAVID. YOU'RE ON THE AIR

David Lowe, a senior at Valencia High, is the field producer of V.T.V. To make each episode of V.T.V., the team of producers first decide what content will go into the show. Once that has been done, jobs are assigned to the students based on what the content is. "We like to introduce creativity to our program in order to keep the viewers interested." For David, the most rewarding experience has been the fact that he has worked hard everyday to produce a news program that he is proud to show the entire school.

William Harwood

Will Harwood enjoys history because he continues to learn new and interesting facts everyday. He has found that history is an easy subject and with a good teacher, "It can be fun and enjoyable." Will's favorite historical figure is Erwin Rommel, "The Desert Fox". "He was a subordinate of Hitler. Rommel commanded the African Corps and almost won Africa over," but Hitler interfered. "I like Rommel because he was successful with limited work materials." Will recalls eighth grade history as being more interactive and having a lot more homework. However, as a sophomore, he has learned to deal with more notes, lectures, and academic discussions. However, Will tries not to complain because it resulted in "less homework." Will's interest in history began when his grandfather told him about his experiences in the air force during WWI. "I wanted to know more so I studied about WWI and eventually all subjects of history." Will hopes to go to the Air Force Academy and study at the Air War University. There, he hopes to specialize in military history, strategies, and tactics.

What Makes a Picture Perfect?

"...I don't think you have to have a picture that is perfect. To make a good photo you need to follow the rules. Certain people have a photographic eye. It comes naturally. Perfect pictures aren't always the most interesting because there are so many different facets of photography. Photojournalism can capture pain and suffering which is important in communicating what is going on in the world. Fine Art photography on the other hand is a form of art."

Mark McKnight

Mark McKnight, Mrs. Valentine's star student, is the true "Mr. Perfect" when it comes to photography at Valencia. He has been shooting for only about two years but many feel that he is the most accomplished photographer on campus. Mark loves the challenge that photography offers. "The difference between what you see through the lens and what develops is always a surprise. Some pictures end up looking totally different than what you saw through the lens." Mark is hoping to have a career in photography, a relaxing but thought provoking activity. "Anyone who has an interest for photography can do it". One of Mark's most treasured works, a photo of a homeless clown in Los Angeles, is displayed above.

Doug Darcy

Handling classes, helping in meetings and knowing what is going on are just a few of the responsibilities of our A.S.B. President, Doug Darcy. This is his second year in A.S.B. and when asked why he wanted to be president he said, "I wanted to help the school." Darcy feels that being in A.S.B. presents many new challenges, is a great opportunity and a fun adventure. He is an individual whose actions aren't affected by the opinions of others, making him a good leader, and still a great friend. He loves having the satisfaction of seeing the rallies and games turn out as well as they he hoped. Darcy is well liked by his peers for his leadership, has a wonderful sense of humor, and a great personality.

1. Eat up! Key Club members from different schools gather for lunch at VHS after the Regional Training Conference. This conference was designed to teach officers how to do their jobs. 2. A clean campus is a happy campus! Key Club members Danbi Oh and Camrin Abbott take time after school to pick up trash for Campus Beautification Day. This took place during Key Club week in November. 3. Hear Ye, Hear Ye! Students listen attentively as the meeting is called to order. Key Club has over 250 members and is still growing.

4. What, what, what you say? Key Club members gathered at Magic Mountain for the Fall Rally in November. The rally allowed key clubs from different schools to participate in a day full of spirit and fun.

5. Charlie's Angels. Catherine Nicholas, Jodie Westerman, and Kirsten Inducci worked at the children's craft center at the Bella Via Fair. 6. May I have your attention please? Vice President David Schein and Secretary Jessica McConaughy conduct a lunch meeting and discuss past projects.

David Schein

Senior David Schein is the Vice President of the VHS Key Club. He has been a member for the past three years. Schein initially joined Key Club so he could put it on his college application. However, over the years he has come to realize that Key Club has allowed him to serve the community and care for others. Schein's favorite aspects about Key Club are that he is able to serve the community in a variety of ways, take part in the leadership opportunities available, and meet new people. His favorite project was decorating floats for the Rose Parade. Schein says that in the future he will continue to help others and serve the community.

7. Wait your turn! Children wait patiently for Catherine Krause to paint their faces at the Bella Via Fair. 8. Working at the car wash! Key Club members Jason Lin, David Schein, Lisa Gurner, Paolo Jugo, Jamie Ky, Elvis Ky, and Adam Fujimoto take a break after washing cars all day. 9. On my honor... Quan Gan pledges allegiance to Key Club and vows to help serve others. Zhe Liu

The DDR club is all about the Konami arcade game, Dance Dance Revolution. Originally founded by Catherine Krause, the club is now under the leadership of Zhe Liu. Students in this club meet at lunch or in the bowling alley's arcade to dance away the time. Liu would love to see the club go far and hopes to have many tournaments in the future. Liu plans to coordinate events with the Santa Clarita Bowling alley to make use of their new 5th and 6th Mix arcade machines. As an avid player, Liu can often be seen dancing at the bowling alley after school or on weekends.

Miguel Gamboa

Miguel is the co-founder of the Techno-Trance Club at Valencia High School. He enjoys raving, DJ'ing, and stringing (twirling glowsticks attached to strings). He and Kyle Brown decided to start the club this year to get all the ravers, techno and trance lovers, and dancers together to practice the different arts of breakdancing, raving, and glowsticking. One can find Miguel and a bunch of club members sessioning (practicing) during lunch in the gym.

The Techno-Trance club is one of the most exotic clubs on campus this year with an eclectic group of performers.

Aside from in-school activities, the club members often congregate at QZAR for their Friday night dances called Fusion. Members bust out their tricks and battle dancers from other schools.

1. Scratch'n a beat with the Techno-Trance Club. Kyle Brown and Vincent Franco practice DJ'ing everyday during lunch in Ms. Licht's classroom.

Sean Ruge

As the past President and current Vice President of the Art Club, Sean Ruge has been a dedicated Art Club member since his Freshman year. As one of the main artists working on the Art Club's wall mural, he's put in many long hours in the creation and completion of "The Wall." In addition to the Art Club, Sean is also involved with the Drama club and incorporates his natural artistic abilities in the acting field. He knows that art will be part of his life no matter where he goes and hopes to pursue a career in digital or film art. Now a senior, Sean hopes that the club will be passed on to a new class of fresh artists.

Tim Kendall

As Secretary of the Drama Club, Tim Kendall knows what hard work is all about. Not only is he the secretary of the club, he was also the Asst. Stage Manager of the spring production, Gyps and Dolls, and he was an actor in both the fall production, The Bard Witch Project, and in Gyps and Dolls. He played a key role in these productions because of his knowledge technically and dramatically. He ran for secretary because he was looking for more responsibility in the club, and wanted to get his voice heard. Plus, he enjoys the people he gets to work with in the productions, socials, meetings, and all the other fun things the drama club does. He also enjoys the lasting friendships created from the club. Next year, he is planning to run for president of the club. Good luck Tim.

DRAMA PRODUCTION

The fall drama production, The Bard Witch Project, went over with a bang. Directed and conceived by Mr. Whelan, the play incorporated aspects of the The Blair Witch Project, and famous scenes from many William Shakespeare plays.

1. Et tu, Brute? Mike Donoghue plays Julius Caesar in an experimental performance of the murder scene, with the ensemble as his "loyal followers". 2. Hamburger Hamlet. This ain't no Burger King. Mr. Hayes guest starred as Hamlet's evil uncle in the Bard Witch Project. Hayes' character, Claudius, kills his own brother to take the crown of Denmark. 3. When you cry into the camera, make SURE you don't get tears on it. Water and electronics don't mix. Mark Rozenowag teaches Tim Kendal, Kevin Goodman, and Cassandra Brosnan how to use the videocamera before they act as the kids from the Blair Witch Project. 4. Puck's been meddling again. Jeremmy Quintero feels the pain and stresses of being the head stage manager when things seem to randomly go wrong. It's tough work! 5. 1-2-3 Clear! Heather Corcoran, as Juliet, tries to revive her love, Romeo, played by Jesse Hernandez. After a kiss to bring him back to life failed, Juliet killed herself. 6. Look Pa, no hands! Dustin Falcon, as Titus Andronicus, shows he can still get his revenge on James Green and Mark Rozenowag for assaulting and cutting off the hands of his daughter, played by Stacy Welkowitz. 7. Double, double, toil and trouble, fire burn and cauldron bubble. Yvonne Tally plays the head witch, who, with the help of the two other witches, puts a curse on the Bard Witch kids inside of the tent.

This is his second year on the Journalism Staff and his responsibilities already include being "in charge of layout and correction of all articles in the lifestyle section." The most rewarding experience Jesse has had while being on the journalism staff is working with a beginning staff and turning them into an advanced staff.

Dana Huber

Junior Dana Huber is the Vice President of CSF this year. Huber says that she originally wanted to be the Vice President of CSF because it looked good for college applications. However, over the past year, she has come to realize that it amounts to much more than that. Huber says that she likes the people and the overall unity of the club. Huber feels that the club is more organized and has a better attendance rate than in the past. In the future, Huber would like to do more with CSF, such as have more activities within the club and interact with other clubs.

Junior Yeva Ragauskayte is the president and founder of the Teen Buddies Club. She says she was inspired to start the club when she volunteered at the hospital and befriended an elderly man who was like a grandfather to her. According to Ragauskayte, the goal of the club is to form relationships with the elderly and help make a difference in their lives since many of them are alone. Ragauskayte says that the club has made her a more well-rounded person by helping her learn to be more mature and responsible. She is also happy that she's made a difference in her community.

Beau Carter

Beau Carter has been a part of the VHS jazz band since his freshman year. Three years later, as a junior, Carter feels that he has come a long way as a musician. He started at the bottom playing fourth part and worked his way up to become the leader of the trumpet section. Carter enjoys being part of a musical group that travels outside of school. He especially loves the upbeat music of the jazz band that symphonic band doesn't play. He believes that jazz band is a challenge due to the smaller number of people in the group, but it also allows for closer and better relationships among the band members. Carter's favorite jazz song of all time is "Salt Peanuts," an extremely fast and difficult piece that the band played his freshman year. His most memorable trip was when the jazz band went to Hearst Castle.

Bobby Walsh co-founded the Science Olympiad team at Valencia High School in 2000 and has been president for the past two years. Having a great experience from La Mesa Junior High's Science Olympiad program, Bobby decided to continue the program into high school. His specialty is in the field of ornithology, which he placed first in at Regional Competition; he also loves to study biology. Bobby wishes the team to achieve even higher in the future with greater coaches and more support from the school.

Jorge De Hoyos

Senior Jorge De Hoyos, President of the Future Images Club, has been a member since his sophomore year. The Future Images Club was designed to, "instill pride in the student's heritage and to promote cultural awareness, diversity, and tolerance. We also stress perseverance and persistence in education. This is accomplished through our community work, our speakers program, and our annual 'Noche Mexicana' extravaganza in the VHS theater." The annual Noche Mexicana show is a huge undertaking for the Future Images members. "We begin learning the dances at the end of the first semester. We have about 3 and a half months to practice, buy new dresses and shoes, and coordinate other performing groups." The most rewarding experience has been their SCV food and toy drives. "The food that we provide helps a family relax for at least a week without worrying about groceries. Also, the thought that the toys we wrap might be the only ones a child might get for Christmas makes me realize how important our work is."

1. That ball isn't getting passed me! A fellow teammate blocks Tammy Peterson as she looks for a teammate to pass the ball. 2. It's all fun and games! Tammy Peterson shows just how much fun she's having with her friends. 3. I got it! I got it! Bethany Mattson gets ready to catch the ball with the defense right behind to make sure she doesn't. 4. Just hanging out! Bethany Mattson relaxes before she has to begin playing again. 5. Give me that ball, Tammy Peterson runs after the ball during a practice game. 6. I'm right behind you guys! Dharshi Devencran keeps up with her teammates to get into the action. Lacrosse is a very exciting and exhausting sport. 7. Oh no you're not! Sapna Shah looks over to make plan a block in order to get the ball herself. 8. Running for her life! Lacrosse is a very active sport that involves high impact running.

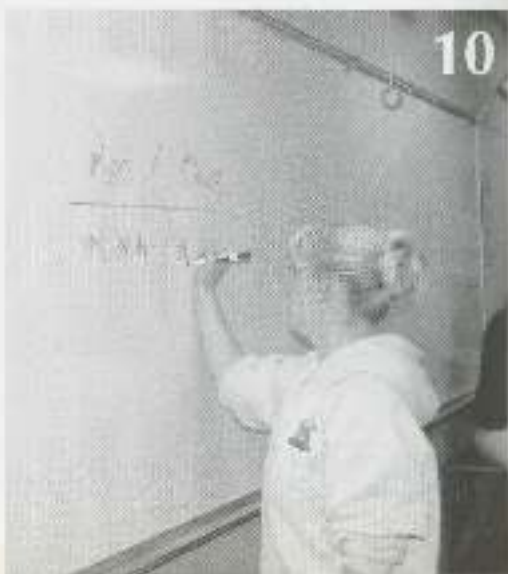

Kristin Cooley

Kristin has been playing Lacrosse for 4 months now. Her friend and team captain, Sapna Shah, convinced her to play this year. Since we were the first team formed, Valencia High is heading the league this year. The teams they play against are San Gabriel Valley, St. Margrets-San Juan Capistrano, Newport Beach and Thousand Oaks. Sapna started the team a few years ago, and the girls have found businesses to sponsor the team. Kristen enjoys the level of competitiveness and the opportunity to push people.

"There isn't a right or wrong way to be creative. People won't always agree with that and appreciate your work, but that's okay." Cherilyn Teague has been interested in photography for about five years. "I've always liked taking pictures, I like being able to process my own film and crop the photo to look how I want it to." Cherilyn's favorite photos are portraits. "I think they look best in black and white." She enjoys taking pictures when she travels. "I went on a cruise to the Caribbean with my best friend. The photos from that trip help me relive the moments and they can't be replaced!"

WHO TO WATCH

Brian Shinkle

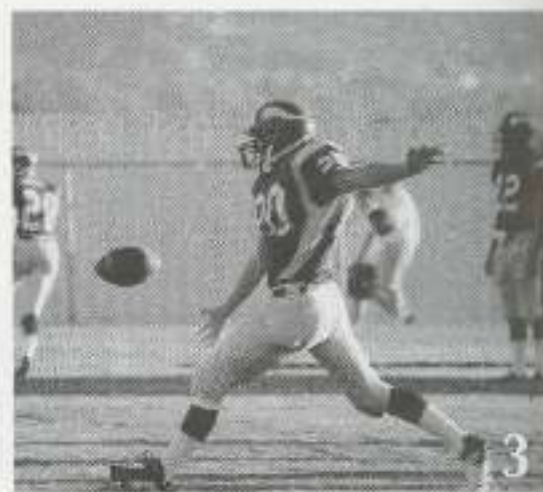

Ever wonder how one person can run so hard, and come out victorious time after time? Well Brian Shinkle, a senior at Valencia, has done just this. For the past three and a half years, Shinkle has been running competitively in both Cross Country and Track & Field. Not only is he athletically active in school, but he also snow boards and surfs in his spare time. Shinkle has definitely demonstrated a strength in his sport after receiving the MVP award in Cross Country, and states he's always loved running. He has also been awarded a Viking Valor award and a Varsity letter. Brian Shinkle will continue his success in his last year running for the school.

WHO TO WATCH

Leah Shelton

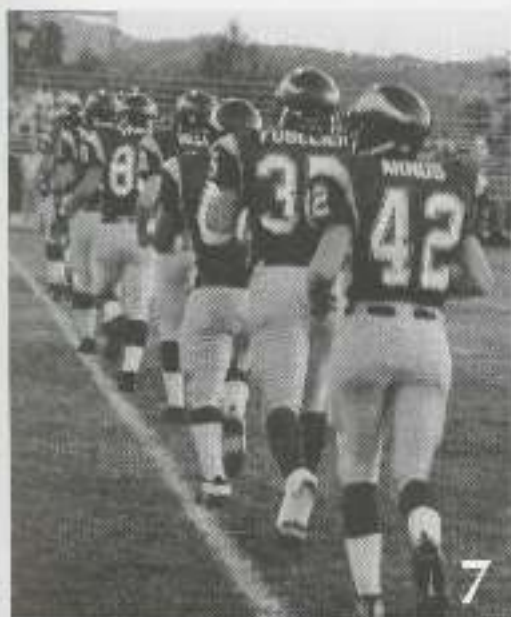

Junior Leah Shelton, a feminist for the modern times, leading the way for girls of all ages. She is the first girl ever to play on the Valencia High School football team as the kicker. It took a lot of hard work to show the guys that she can do it. Leah admits that the hardest part of training was going 'up downs' and 'gassers,' where you sprint across the field under a limited amount of time. Despite the difficult practices and games, Leah enjoyed her season and can't wait to tell her children about her experience in the future. After high school, Leah hopes to accomplish her goals of becoming an interior designer. Or maybe, we'll see her as the first woman to play in the NFL. Senior John Robinson has been playing football for seven years. He is the strongside middle linebacker and has been playing on the Varsity football team since his Sophomore year. John received various awards for his great athleticism. He received first team all league, first team all CIF, and most valuable player defensive player. John has played in both CIF Championship games and says, "losing twice to Hart was pretty disappointing." On the other hand, the defensive line played one of their best games that night.

1. We will, we will rock you! Joshua Lederer (#8), Bobby DeChellis (#5) and the other Vikings get ready to rock Hart's world.

2. No pain, No gain. The JV Vikings show no fear to Hart, they bring the pain. 3. Ready! Fight! The line up is set, the Vikings are ready to bring it on, and overpower the opposing team. 4. Going for the Gold. Kyle Hollister is practicing his skills in order to fight back as either wide receiver or line backer. 5. He goes left, he goes right, he score! Gary Cox is quickly running through the gauntlet of Hart football players that are clustered around his teammates. 6. Running as fast we can. The freshmen Vikings charge on to catch up with Hart and give them a run for their money.

WHO TO WATCH

Torri O'Brien

Freshman Torri O'Brien is a talented young athlete and he is on his way to the top. He's been playing football for eight years now and it shows. This season, the young running-back was voted MVP for his outstanding athletic abilities and numerous contributions to the team including those miraculous touchdowns. Congratulations on an excellent season. We'll be watching you the next three years.

Jeff Bomberger

Sophomore Jeff Bomberger is another star on his way to the top. Playing quarterback this year, Jeff had what is probably his best season yet. After all is hard work and excellent performances on the field. Jeff won the MVP award for the JV team. Jeff's been playing for a while now and plans to stay with it for the rest of his time here. We're sure he'll be backing the varsity team eventually. This young JV star has a bright future ahead of him.

Varsity Cheer

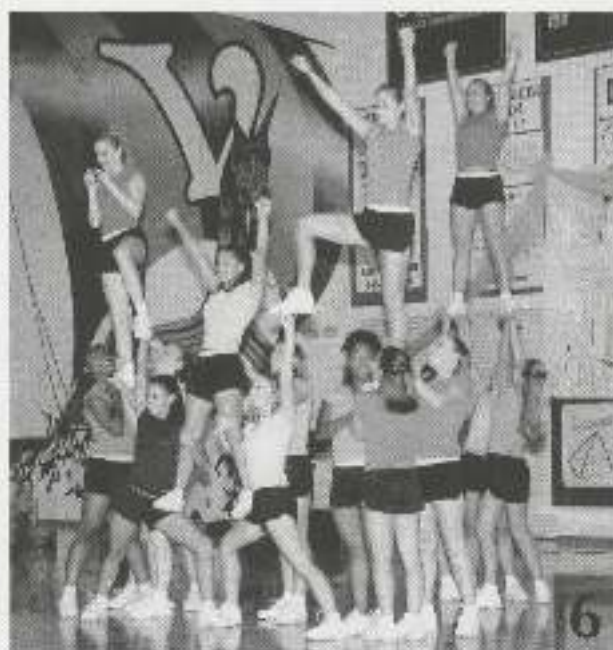

WHO TO WATCH

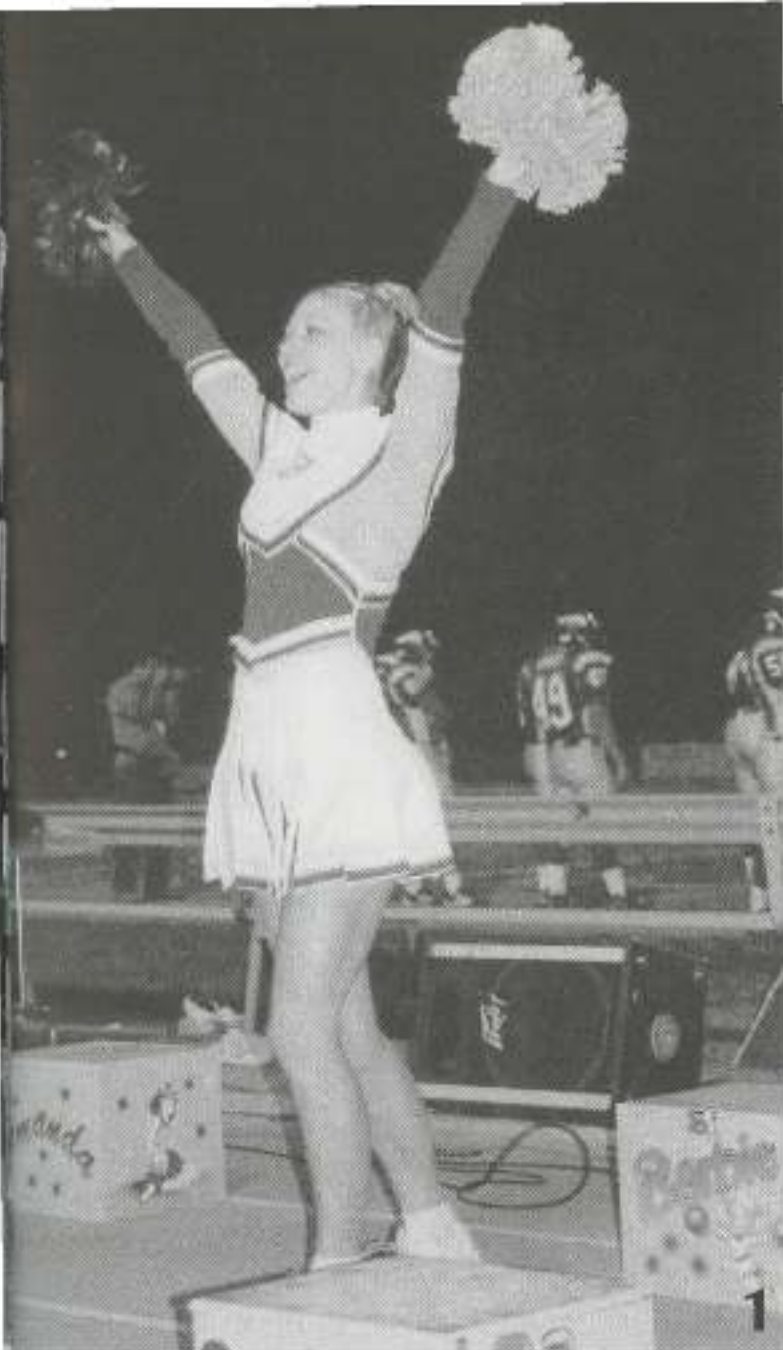

Satarrica Hightower

Satarrica Hightower has long been filling the lives of people around her with chants and cheers. Satarrica moved to California from Louisiana in the sixth grade; since then, California has been her home and cheerleading has been her life. After graduation, Satarrica plans on going to the local college C.O.C. for a year and then transferring to Spelling University. She wants to use her talents and knowledge of cheer to become a successful and innovative choreographer. Satarrica, the Captain of the Varsity Squad, and once the Captain of the Freshmen Squad, says that her teammates are her best friends. She also believes that performing at the rallies has been one of the most exciting aspects of her cheer career.

1. 'Cause we're the best and we show it. Barbie Bertuch cheers on the Vikings at the Homecoming game. 2. Clap your hands and stomp your feet, tell them you're a viking and you can't be beat. In such a close game against our cross town rivals, you can be sure that the cheerleaders played a key roll in the viking victory. 3. Indian style. Could Summer Lucas be displaying some unwiking allegiances? No, she is just sitting comfortably while she proudly watches the JV Squad perform. 4. Proud as always. Bre Junker holds up the defense sign for the crowd's attention. 5. Come on crowd let's hear it! Jessica Trimble and Satarrica Hightower spin and shout for the Vikings to score. 6. Tools of the trade. Each of the girls has her own cheer box, the cheerleader's toolbox. 7. Pump, Pump, Pump It Up! Varsity Girls pump up the spirits of the Varsity Football players. 8. Showing Viking Spirit. Varsity girls chant defense with the crowd.

Junior Varsity & Freshman Cheer

WHO TO WATCH

Darlene Ipapo

Although this is her first year on the Valencia High School Cheer Squad, Darlene Ipapo cheered on the Aermay squad and has been cheering since fifth grade. Darlene, a junior now, wants to try out for cheer next year and knows that it's going to be tough. "Cheerleading's harder than everyone thinks." Practice is Tuesday through Friday till 4:00 pm, but when there is a rally, they put in extra hours on Mondays. Darlene's favorite part of being a cheerleader is performing at the rallies and especially stunting, no matter "whether it's at games, rallies, or practice."

Brittany Arvizu

"I love cheer!" Brittany Arvizu lives for cheer and considers every cheer music to her ears. She has been doing it for seven years now and has no intention of quitting. You'll find her at tryouts for sure next year, there's no way she'd miss it. Though she wouldn't have it any other way, cheerleading keeps her very busy.

"I practice two hours a day until 4:00 at Valencia and you can find me coaching for the SCV Warriors Monday through Thursday from 6 to 8 pm. Brittany says that cheer is the most exciting thing about being a freshman, but her number one priority is to find out who she is as a person. "I really want to find what I'm good at. Freshman year is really about self discovery."

WHO TO WATCH

Kelly Kacmar

Junior, Kelly Kacmar has been on the dance team for two years. Kelly has been dancing since she was nine years old and she started out practicing ballet and jazz. Her goals for this year include making it through the year maintaining a high G.P.A. and collecting a lot of fond memories. Her favorite dance team memory was when they performed at the Hart rally, "It was a very upbeat song that was fun to dance to." Since next year is Kelly's last year at Valencia, she definitely plans on trying out for the team again. Kelly feels that the dance team is a great way to show her emotions through art. "You get a fantastic rush while dancing in front of an audience." The dance team practices 1st and 2nd periods for about 2 hours. They sometimes have practices on Saturdays that last about four hours. Kelly feels that the dance team has a strong bond this year and feels that they all work really well together.

WHO TO WATCH

Jeremy Patrich

Jeremy Patrich is a senior who's been in the VHS band for four years. During those four years he's played the instruments in the pit that range from timpani drums to the triangle. This year, his senior year, he was voted by the rest of the band as Band President. As president, it is his job to organize meetings, field trips, barbecues, parties, and any other social event that helps to unite the band. What he likes about being in band are the bus rides and the overall positive attitude of the members. But the thing he doesn't like about it are how the different sections seem distant and not as tightly knit as he would like. Jeremy's favorite memory of band is when they all went ice-skating and Mr. Babko, the band director, was teaching him how to skate backwards. When he finally got it, Mr. Babko tried to give him a high five and Jeremy did a 360 in the air and landed on his back.

The Flag Team

WHO TO WATCH

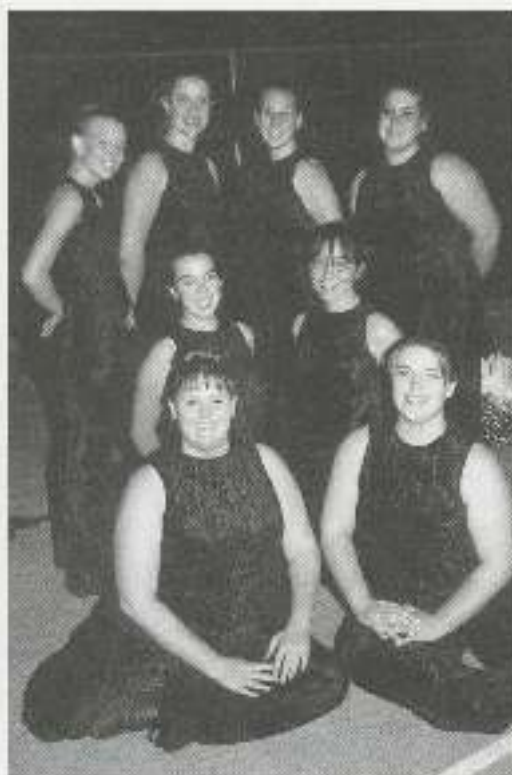

Trystan Olsen

Senior Trystan Olsen has been on the Vaena Flag Team for three rewarding years. She joined the flag team her sophomore year for the experience of being part of a team and performing alongside the school band. One of Trystan's fondest flag team memories is attending the band's Hawaii trip last year where they placed 1st in a competition. "Hawaii was so much fun. I had a great time seeing the sights." Another fond flag team memory that brings a smile to Trystan's face is, "During a rainy football game, the flag team lined up behind the band and performed the can-can for the audience." When asked what her most humorous memory was, Trystan replied, "Two weeks before the Hawaii trip, Nicole Schmidt was really in the spirit. During our morning practice performances, Nicole decided she would show off her new bikini. So she hid behind the backdrop during one of our runs and popped out wearing her flowered two-piece bathing suit and continued the performance. It was hilarious." After this year, Trystan will be leaving behind water balloon fights during Band Camp and pizza parties after football games. But before joining the VHS alumni, she praises her experience on the flag team: "We gained life-long friends and unforgettable memories."

WHO TO WATCH

Ashley Dickinson-

"One of our major goals for this season was to win league and advance far into the play-offs. We got off to a great start with our first league game against Saugus which was such a fun experience", says Ashley. "That game really got our team rolling towards our second round play-off win against Royal High. The energy level from the teams and the crowd at both games was awesome."

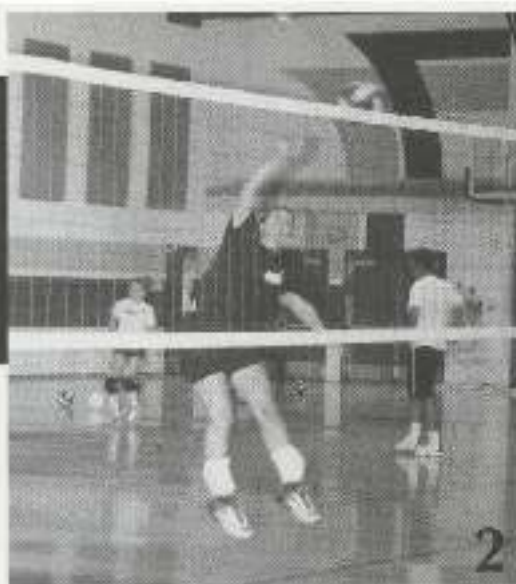

"It's great to have all of our hard work pay off at the end of the year. We practice three-and-a-half hours a day and it's nice to have a reward at the end."

"This team is really special. We're all friends on and off the court. We also help each other to stay competitive and we're there to support one-another."

JV and Freshman Volleyball

WHO TO WATCH

Melissa Quicho

Freshman captain, Melissa Quicho says the frosh girls volleyball team has some specific goals for the year: pull together as a team, and have a winning year. They have already had many situations where they had to work as a team, on and off the court. In one instance, their coach wasn't able to make it to the game and they had to work extra hard to pull together as a team. Melissa especially likes volleyball for the team experience. Off the court, one of the most exciting, and embarrassing things the girls go through is the freshman kidnapping, a real team building event. The frosh girls show their team spirit by wearing purple and black socks and purple ribbons in their hair on game days.

Ashley Jucksch

Ashley Jucksch, captain of the girls JV Volleyball team, plans on making this year's team the best JV team in the history of Valencia High School. Ash is a devoted player and truly enjoys the sport. "Volleyball is fun because it's a fast moving team sport that requires skill and leadership." When asked about her favorite team experience, Ash remembers the Capistrano Tournament, especially the game against Highland. Ash also loves all the new friends that the team bonding has brought her. Although she was kidnapped as a freshman, she wasn't able to participate as a JV player. "It's a Varsity thing. We got kidnapped as freshmen and when we get to Varsity, we get to kidnap." As you might have guessed, Ash is definitely planning on coming back next year, hopefully as the Varsity captain.

WHO TO WATCH

Elisa Duus and Elyse Mazersky (E)

Sophomore doubles partners Elisa Duus and Elyse Mazersky have been playing tennis for 6 years. Both prefer doubles to singles. According to Duus, "It's easier." Mazersky likes doubles better because "You get to support each other and we really don't get mad at each other, just at ourselves." Their role model in tennis is Coach Holen because to Duus, he is "inspirational and motivational," and Mazersky feels he "works hard and cares a lot about the team." In professional tennis, Duus likes Venus Williams and Andy Roddick because of their playing styles. Mazersky looks up to Venus Williams because she started so young, as well as Martina Hings because she is known for having a good attitude and being courteous. Their fondest tennis memory is sweeping the defending champion, Burbank, for the first time in the season. The girls went 28-2 in league, losing only to the number ones from Burroughs and the Oyama sisters from Hart. Duus and Mazersky would like to play doubles together for the rest of high school and look forward to next year's season where the Vikings plan to take first place.

WHO TO WATCH

Rachel Carleton

Rachel is a sophomore who has been playing golf since the beginning of the year. The Girls' Golf coach, who also happens to be Rachel's math teacher, convinced her to play. This was no hard task; Rachel loves new and exciting challenges. Rachel says the most difficult thing about her new found sport is not the challenging walk through the front nine, but keeping her head in the game. "The game is 90% mental", she said after one of her long grueling golf tournaments at Valencia's home course, Vista Valencia. Rachel and the rest of her team practice almost every day at Vista and have matches with Saugus, Hart and Canyon on a regular basis. Rachel has a load of fun with her teammates and said that she will return next year.

WHO TO WATCH

Andrew Bruckner

Andrew Bruckner, a junior at Valencia High School began basketball his Freshman year, and has now advanced to center his first year of the Varsity team. So far this year playing against Fairfax has been his greatest memory. Although most of his week is spent on homework or practicing basketball, when he can, he'll watch basketball on the TV. The weekends however, are a different story; he enjoys break dancing, skateboarding, and spending time with his older sister whom he looks up to, "she has been through a lot of obstacles in life and has been successful with all of them." To relax from the stress of school and basketball Bruckner enjoys lifting weights, watching movies and spending time with his family.

WHO TO WATCH

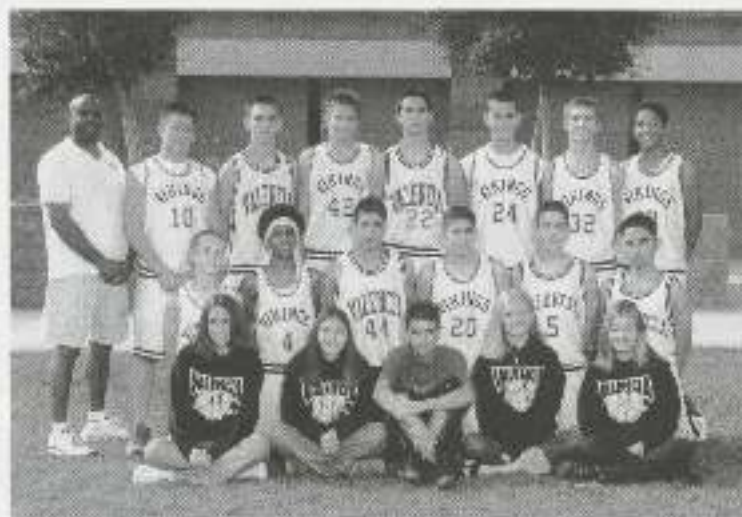

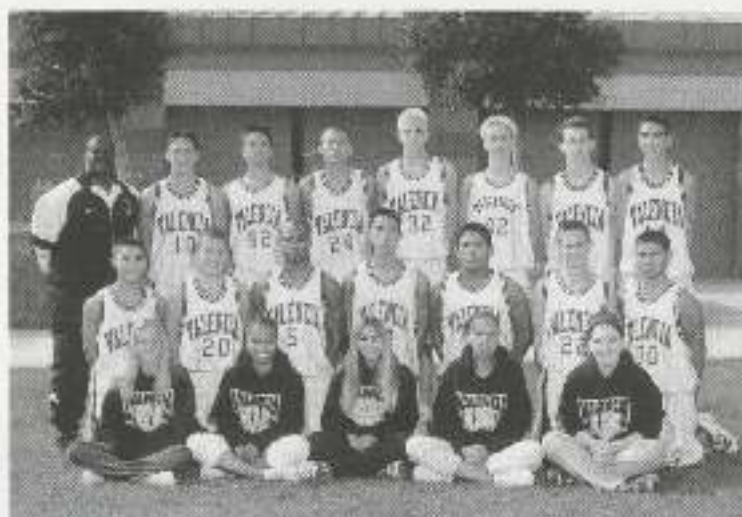

Brandon Nichols

Brandon Nichols is a sophomore on the Junior Varsity Boys Basketball team and this is his first year playing for our school. Last year as a freshman he enrolled late into our school and since then has loved every moment. When he's not at school he is usually at practice or watching the 76ers on television or playing basketball with his cousin at the Casaic Sports Complex. His goal is to get into a good school after Valencia and maybe one day play in the NBA. He loves basketball for the thrill of the game, "the compelling side really comes out in me when I'm playing." Every game his team wins gives him more confidence for the next. So well see Brandon on Varsity next year!

David Yoakley

Freshman David Yoakley has it all, a spot on the Boys Freshman Basketball team, a great new school, new friends, and a great coach. David has been playing basketball since he was seven years old. He enjoys basketball because it's a challenging sport for the mind. He moved down to Valencia from North Carolina last year. He shows pride for the LA Lakers but his all time favorite NBA team is the Charlotte Hornets. "Baron Davis is great, the way he plays is amazing, he's definitely my favorite player." David tried out for the boys basketball team because he enjoys the sport and it's a great way to meet new people. Since making the team he's had the privilege of meeting his great coach and earning the respect of his team mates and his coach.

WHO TO WATCH

Holly Feneht

Holly Feneht is the leading defense player for Girls Varsity Basketball. At the age of four, Holly began her career as a basketball player.

It took years of hard work, time, and dedication and it paid off. She has been a leading player on the girl's varsity for four years now and still is working her way to being a better player. Practice does make perfect and that is what Holly is. A leading factor to Holly's dedication and talent is her fondness of basketball. To her, practice is fun. Not only is Holly a leading athlete but she is also an outstanding student with a gpa of 3.8. A girl like Holly is an idea "student-athlete", the pride of Valencia's girls basketball.

Cassandra Galuppo

"It's not about winning, it's about going your best and knowing that you did." Cassandra, better known as Cassie, has only been playing basketball for one year, but plans to continue on in the future. Cassie's number one motivator is her mother because she is the one that has always pushed her to participate in sports and to do her best. Cassie looks up to "Michael Jordan because he has always been my favorite and he is the best!" After high school, Cassie plans to have a career involving sports.

Kelly Otavka

"Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened." Kelly has been playing for six years and is a freshman on the JV basketball team. "Basketball is a very fast sport that is a lot of fun to play. I've tried other sports in the past, but to me, none of them are as interesting!" Kelly looks up to Kobe Bryant because "he is a great player and he doesn't let anyone stand in his way." Kelly's number one motivator is her mother because she has always been there for her. "She goes to all my games and it really means a lot to me!" Coach "V" also plays a big part in Kelly's motivation. "She's a great coach and the season wouldn't have been the same without her."

1. Go get 'em tiger. Brian Wright sprints after the ball as Nick Moldovan (20) prepares to stop it up on our soccer field at Valencia. 2. Now that's using your head! Senior Corey Jarrl heads the ball as he defends our goal against the opposing team. In soccer, they can use any part of their body except their hands and arms to control the ball. 3. And another one bites the dust! Huey Park chases down a stray ball and knocks down a defender on the other team. The boys practice on the same field they play their games on. 4. Yes! I have the ball! Junior Ryan Eckleberry has the ball in an open field. Now all he has to do is score a goal. 5. I put my foot down! No ball can get by Dan Costa. The soccer team practices after school every day to get ready for their games. 6. It's clear as mud. Nick Moldovan splashes through a puddle as he fights for the ball. The boy's team is tough and will run through anything to get to the ball before the other team. Since the ball has gone out of bounds, they have to throw it in, the only time they can use their hands in this game (besides the goalie). 7. Ooohh, faked you out! Marshall Cooper dodges around an opponent near the midfield. 8. Valencia on three...1,2,3! Mr. Ferry gives the team a pep talk before a big game. Teamwork is essential to winning a game.

Ryan Schauer

Senior Ryan Schauer has been playing soccer for 13 years. He first started playing AYSO when he was younger, then went to the club level where he's been playing since he was 10 years old. This is only Ryan's second year on Valencia's team. He joined the team when he was a junior and was put on varsity right away. The positions that he plays on the team are center, midfield, and stopper, which require him to run the field for the ball and to protect their goal. Ryan enjoys the team practices, which last 15-23 hours a week. Being a part of the team has been fun because he has had an opportunity to make friends and he gets the feeling that he's a part of a meaningful experience. His favorite memories of the team were the bus rides home from games. After high school, Ryan plans on going to Cal Poly San Luis Obispo where he hopes to play on the soccer team. But he says if he doesn't get on the team, he would play intramural and just play for fun while studying hard.

WHO TO WATCH

Jarrett Bohaning

Jarrett is a captain on his freshman team and has been playing soccer for about nine years now. As a young child, he was signed up for soccer, immediately liked it and has stayed with it ever since. He tends to move around on the field, but prefers to play offense on the left side since he is left footed. "He is a leader, well liked by his teammates and brings levity to the team" say his Coach. When asked what his favorite part of being on a team he says "Hanging out with my friends, and not having to be in a P.E. class." In the future he would love to go to a great college and become a trauma surgeon. Though he is not relying on a scholarship for soccer to get him there.

Jackie Hudson

Jackie Hudson is a Junior on the Varsity girls soccer team. Jackie has been playing soccer for eight years. Besides Valencia High School, Jackie has played for the Santa Clara Elite and the Santa Clara United Club Team.

When asked who her favorite soccer player was, Jackie responded with, "Shari Summers because she is such a talented player with a lot of heart for the game." Jackie's motivators are her parents and coaches. "When they see me not reaching my potential, they push me to not give up and try my hardest." Jackie's favorite part about playing soccer is the competitiveness and intensity of the game. Her future plans involve pursuing a career in clinical psychology.

Heather Anderson

JV captain Heather Anderson says her team works well together and it shows. They have a lot of good team spirit and they're always supporting each other. Heather says they work very well together connecting passes and setting each other up for shots on goal. She thinks the competition on the field makes the game that much more exciting. The best game they ever played was when they beat Canyon and got first place. As a captain, Heather has to set an example on and off the field and does her best.

As their first year playing together, Megan says they did really well. She also says that all her troubles just disappear when she's on the field. The best game they ever played was when they dominated Hart. Megan says "I have to set an example for my girls. It's a hard job but someone's got to do it."

Megan Ottman

Freshman captain Megan Ottman says her team has improved as a whole. They have fun as a team on and off the field. The team tries to participate in as many school activities as possible.

WHO TO WATCH

Natalie Mueggler

Junior Natalie Mueggler has been playing softball for 10 years. Before coming to VHS, Natalie played with the William S. Hart league and is also currently on an 18 years and under travel ball team. She's been playing for VHS the past three years. Last year she made Varsity with a starting position. This year Natalie starts at second base, her favorite position. Last year she made All League in the Foothill League and also received the Scholar Athlete award her freshman and sophomore years. After she graduates in 2003, Natalie plans on getting a softball scholarship to a university, preferably one with a Division I softball team. Natalie says that after she graduates, she will miss the time spent with the team doing "team things" and having fun on and off the field. She feels that she has been able to add character and sarcasm to the team because she tries her best to do at least one thing to liven things up and make practice more fun.

WHO TO WATCH

Danielle Medina

One of Valencia's own, junior varsity player Danielle Medina, has been playing for our school for two years. Last year was her first year ever playing softball. She decided to join the team because her best friends, Krystin Winstead and Nicole Holcomb play and they told her she should give it a try.

Ever since then she has been trying her hardest and it is really paying off. She loves the game now, and can't wait to start playing again next year. She has so many great memories of being on the team, but her favorite is playing at far away schools and winning. Last year Danielle received the Gatorade award. She hasn't played softball outside of Valencia's Lady Vikings, but she wishes she had. We should keep an eye out for this Viking on Varsity next year.

Brittany Corey

Brittany Corey, a freshman this year, has been playing softball for five years. Brittany played in the William S. Hart league and a couple traveling softball teams in this valley. She decided to join the VHS team because she likes to play competitively, and she thought it would be a great experience to play for our school. She plans on playing for the Varsity team when she's ready.

Playing on Varsity is very important to Brittany. So far, the best part of being on the team is her teammates. "They make the game fun." Brittany is very talented; she has received a sportsmanship award, a first place trophy, and a second place trophy. She plans on working for a scholarship while playing softball. She says she'd love to play for a college when she graduates. Brittany is the pitcher on the freshman team at Valencia and sometimes she subs in for second base. Brittany adds enthusiasm and she tries to have a good attitude about everything. Her friends have been a great part of her softball career, and her dad is the biggest impact overall. Her father has told her that if she has a love for the game, she'll go far. We're sure she will.

WHO TO WATCH

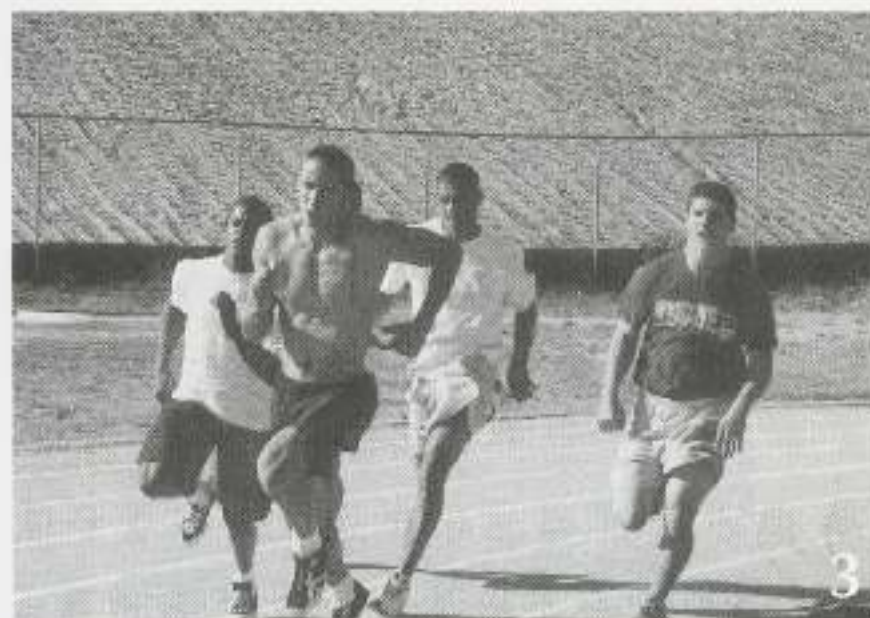

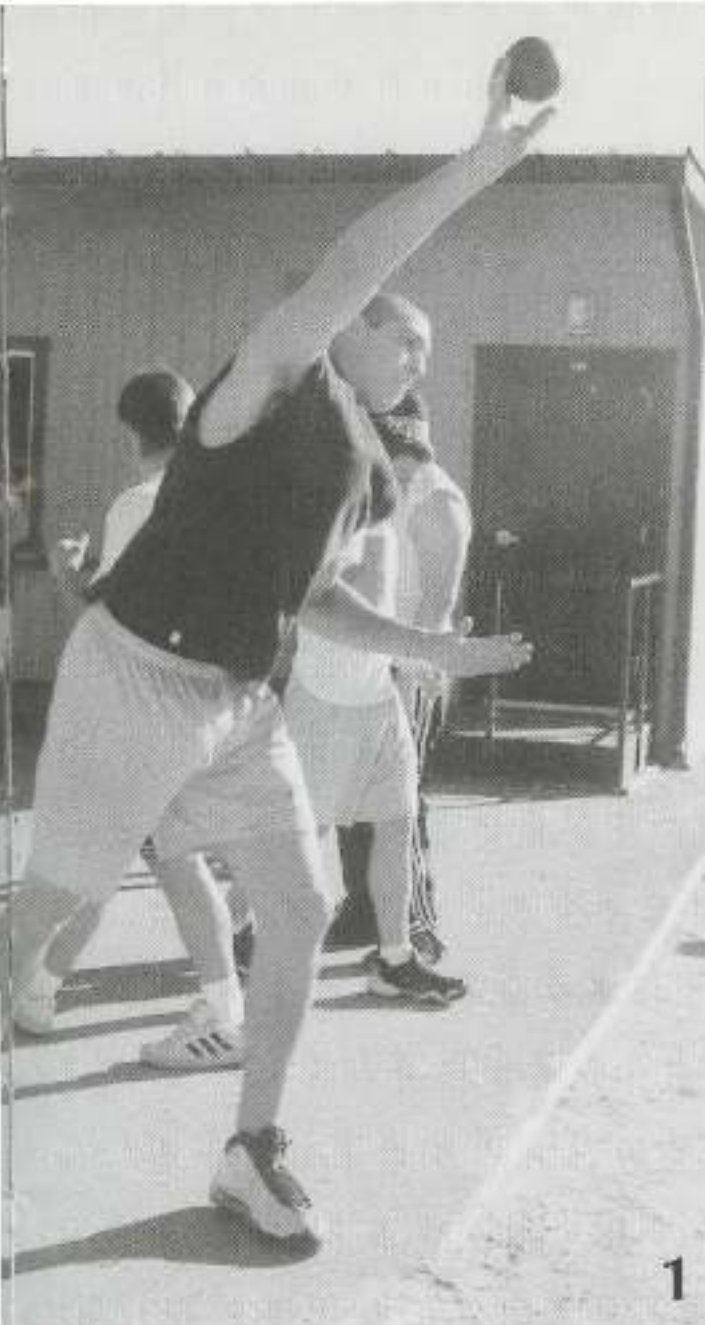

Grace "Gigi" Wiesmann

Freshman Grace "Gigi" Wiesmann competes at the Varsity level shot put and discus on Valencia's Track and Field Team. In their first meet of the year, Gigi shattered Valencia High School's shot put record with an amazing toss of thirty-four feet ten and one-quarter inches. She has been doing track for seven years and plans to continue in college. Gigi enjoys the thrill of competing with her best friends and toughest competitors. Other than track and field, Gigi has been playing soccer for the past eight years and enjoys shopping, listening to music, hanging out with her best friends, and, most of all, playing the saxophone. Her favorite event in the Olympics is bobsledding because it is an event that she could see herself doing for fun with no pressure. Gigi's two greatest role models are her old music teacher Mr. Wakelin and her old track coach Ms. Ahman because they both told her that anything is worth trying hard for.

WHO TO WATCH

Ian Riner

Senior, Ian Riner has been a leading swimmer on the Valencia swim team for four years. He has been participating in the top Boy's Varsity Freestyle Relay and in the 100 and 200 meter freestyle individual events. Not only is Ian an excellent swimmer but he has managed to maintain a 3.65 GPA throughout high school. Ian plans to continue his career in swimming in college and acquire a degree in the medical and surgical fields. In his spare time, Ian enjoys pursuing another favorite sport of his, paintballing. Though paintballing and swimming are sports that often go unnoticed, they are sports of great skill and dedication and Ian Riner is a pro at both.

WHO TO WATCH

Jimmy Rohan

Senior Jimmy Rohan has been a member of the baseball team for the past four years, although he's been playing the sport for about 14 years.

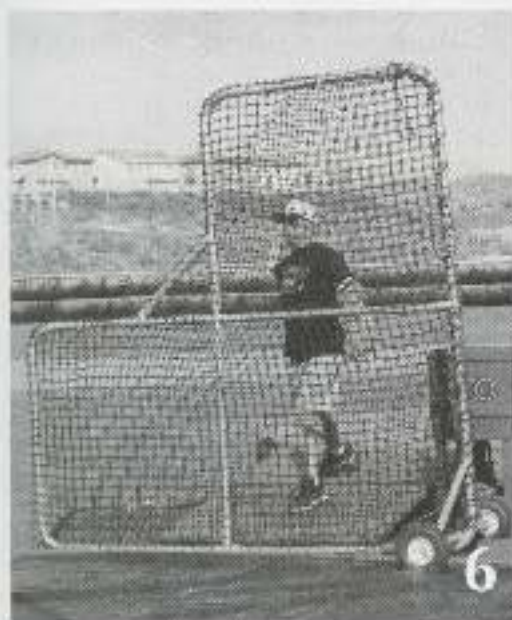

With the team he has won 2nd Team All League two years in a row, during his sophomore and junior year. He plays third base, his favorite position to play, and shortstop. Jimmy says that he will miss the great coaching and playing with all of his friends the most after he leaves VHS, and that the best quality that he brings to the team is leadership. He hopes to major in art and play baseball in college, wherever he attends. Good luck Jimmy.

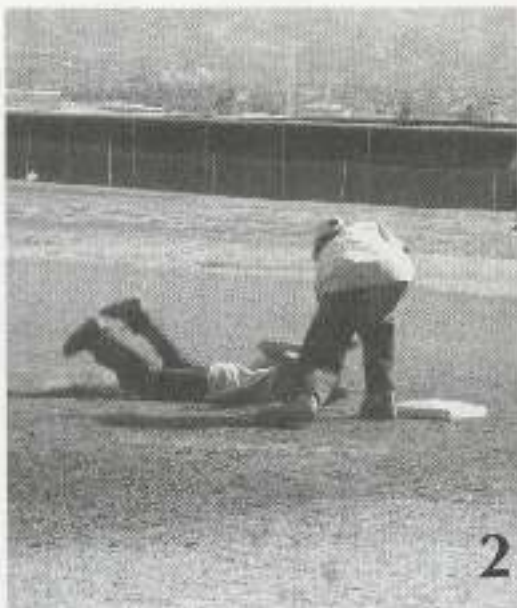

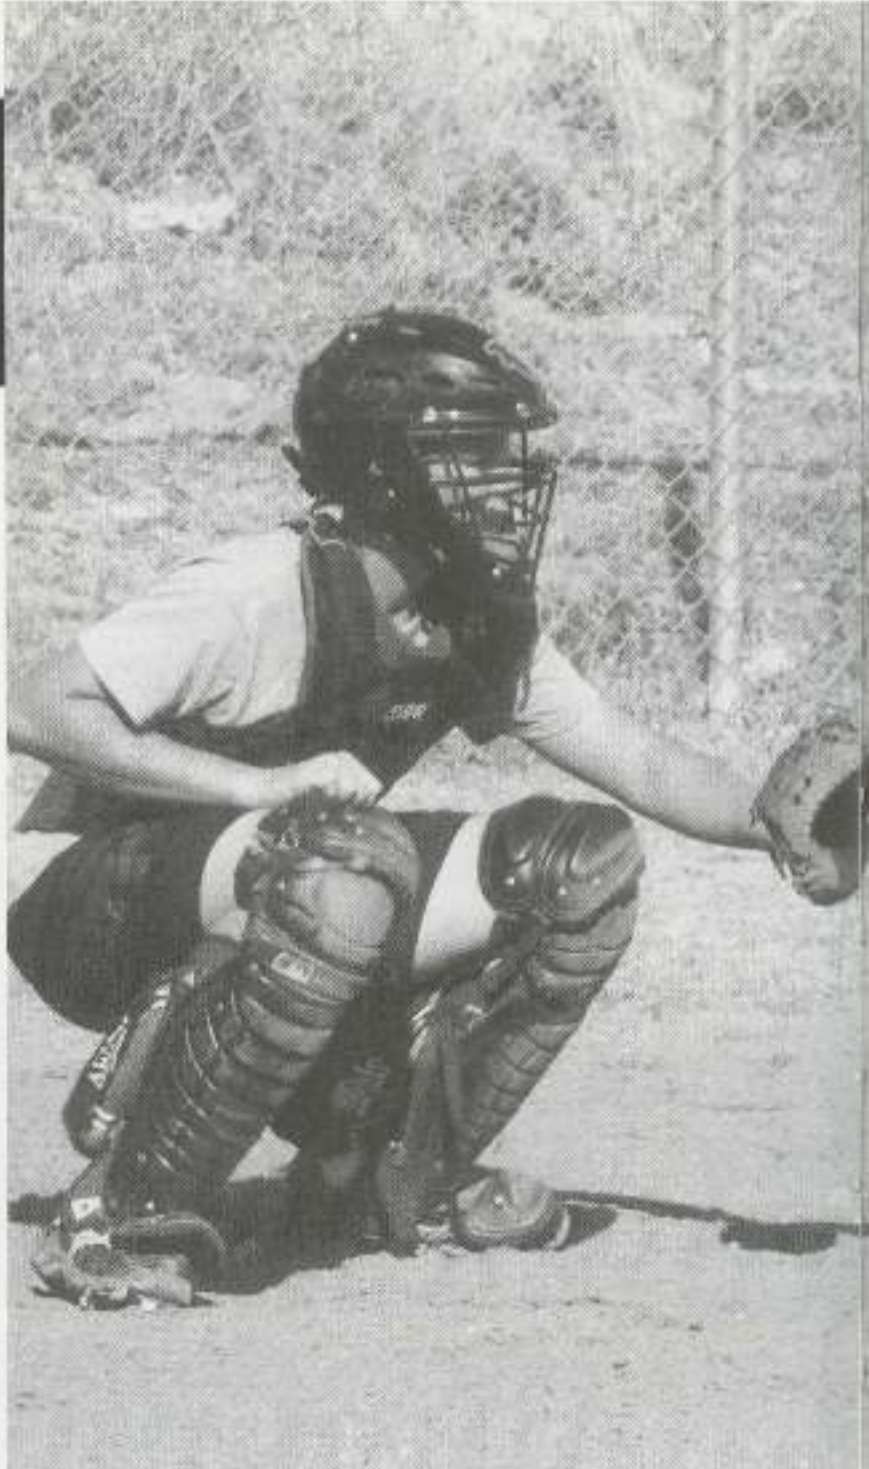

Brett Erickson

Senior Brett Erickson is a four year player of the VHS team, but he's been actively playing the sport for ten years now. As a left fielder and first baseman, he adds more of an offensive end to the game. Brett says that playing baseball has taught him leadership, perseverance and discipline. He was named JV Offensive Player of the Year his sophomore year, and was co-captain of the 2002 team. His best memory on the team was his JV year when the team was 19-4, winning both the Football league and over Hart High every time they were matched. His plans include majoring in Economics at Claremont McKenna College, where he also plans to continue playing baseball. Best of luck to you, Brett.

WHO TO WATCH

Ryan Mitchell

Freshman Ryan Mitchell may have been on the VHS baseball team just one year, but he's been playing the sport actively for about eleven years now. He decided to join the team because of his love for the game, and hopes to join the Varsity team by his junior or senior year. For the team he is a pitcher and plays third base. He also plays shortstop, which is his favorite position to play. Outside of VHS, he has been playing league baseball for seven years, and was picked All-Star out of his league. A good work ethic is what he hopes to bring to the team. Good luck Ryan.

Brian Hur

Junior Brian Hur has been playing baseball for five years, three years of that being on the VHS team and two years playing outside of school. As a pitcher for the team, he knows what hard work is all about, and he adds a good work ethic to the team by working and playing his best. He plans on playing for our Varsity team next year. He joined the team because of his love for the game, and he wanted to continue playing once he came to VHS. His hopes are to continue playing baseball after he graduates next year and goes off to college. Best of luck to you, Brian.

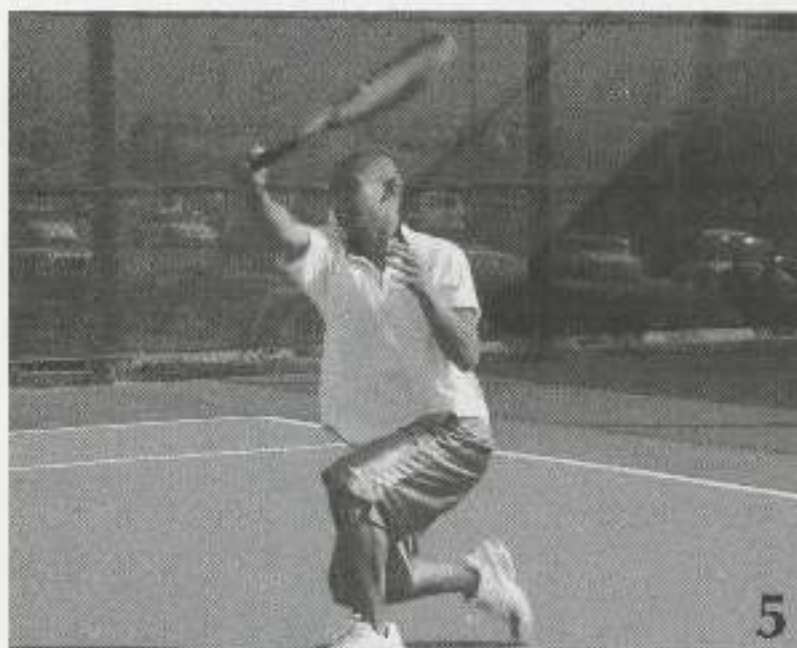

WHO TO WATCH

SEPTEMBER 11TH, 2001 MEMORIAL

IN MEMORY OF ALL THOSE WHO HAVE MADE A SACRIFICE TO PRESERVE HUMANITY.

Four years...

... to everyone who's made a difference in my life
 ... to everyone who's given me a memorable moment
 ... to the best parents anyone could have
 ... to all my extraordinary teachers

THANK YOU!

VALENTINAS UNDERWORLD

I'm finally out, this is amazing...First of all I need to thank my mom and dad for funding all the choir trips, and for all the times they had to wait in the car while i was finishing up Yearbook, and for always pushing me to do better. However I have no idea if I'd still be "Breathing" if it were for all of you and more: Heather, Meaghan, Staci, Otto, Nicole F., Jamin, Kenney, Rosenast, Loeb and the rest of y'all that I couldn't remember in the five minutes I made this. If I forgot you

I want to thank everyone that has helped me become who I am today. Missy, Brandon, and Jean, thank you for believing in me and making me strive to be a better person. Mom and Dad, I do appreciate everything you do for me, even if it seems like I don't show it. Key you have been there for me through good times and bad. Through the tears and the smiles. You have been my shoulder to cry on and my RELY of sunshine. I love you and I know we will forever be the best of friends. Reagan

To all those who have made a dent in my life, whether it was small or big. I love you with all my heart and I will never forget you. Mom and Dad, you are my light and my fire, without you I would get lost and fade away. Missy and Lauren you are like sisters to me. Forever we will be close, just like peas in a pod. Jay you are my shining star guiding me, always there with a smile and a hug when I need one the most. Best Buds for Life. Love ya all Lots. Reagan

Kelly-

We can't believe how fast the last four years have gone by. You have grown from a shy beautiful child to a confident, hard-working, genuine young lady. We are so proud of all of your accomplishments-school, cheer, dance, gymnastics, and just having the courage to always be yourself-no matter the pressure. Always cherish those memories of happiness, sadness, joy, craziness, pain, and excitement. Each one of those things have taught you something. You are and always will be a blessing to us no matter what comes in the future. We will always be there to support you and remember to always follow your heart. We love you with all of our hearts.

MOM & DAD

Kelly I wanted to wish you the best of luck wherever the path you choose may lead you. I know that no matter what challenges are thrown at you, you will overcome them with your amazing ability to react to every situation with ease. Something you still are trying to get me to understand. Who knows where your goals will take you, but I'll be there to support you. I love you. Love always, Giovanni.

When the night has come / And the land is dark, / And the moon is the only light we'll see / No, I won't be afraid / Just as long as you stand

Stand by me

So darling, darling,

stand by me,

oh, stand by me

If the sky that we look upon

should tumble and fall

No, I won't shed a tear / Just as long as you stand / Stand by me on the mountains should crumble in the sea / I won't cry, I won't cry

17 years ago we got the most beautiful gift that God could give us. We are so proud of you since you started doing everything yourself, you grew up with lots of love and good principles around you, and you got all of them by going by the right way. You have now accomplished another stage of your life, you still have more to overcome, but if you follow the right path, you will succeed.

The Creator must have realized the day you were born, that the world was looking ragged, lonely, and forlorn. Moved by mercy and by the love embodied in His nature, He created Corlin to bring more light into our world's future. He gave her a smile to light the day and a warm and generous soul. His gifts through her we still receive. We bless the day that she was born.

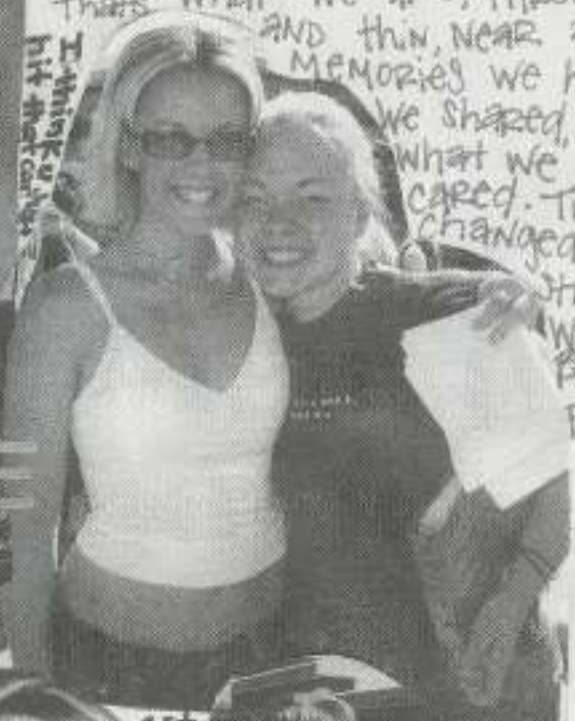

All our love,

Special Thanks

Dr. Priesz, the Assistant Principals, and all the faculty at VHS who let us disrupt their classes to complete this book. We'd also like to thank Donnell Speth and Dave Smith at Herff Jones, sorry about the late pages. Thanks as well to all the people at O'Connor Photography, especially Mike and Travis; RG Productions; Mrs. Valentine, for her photo assistance; Rose Wright for those awesome student lists; Mr. Timberlake for always helping us, especially at book distribution time; Dan Dogget and Super Norman McBride for keeping our computers running; Mr. Knox for so patiently picking up Valentina three or four times a day; Shabooboo; Coach Holen for giving Samara so much extra time to work on the yearbook, but mostly for being a perfect role model; and finally, Ms. Necessary for moral support and her incredible knowledge of yearbook attendance and grades.
