Varsity Club Holds Dance Tomorrow

The "Last Fling" Dance will be held tomorrow night, December 7, in the Student Union Building. It is the desire of the Varsity Club to further the advancement of sports at Drexel. They will appropriate the proceeds of this dance for that cause.

"Sports," exclaimed various members of the club, "is one of Drexel's chief problems, and we hope this dance will relieve the problem."

Sid Kaye, professional music-maker, will provide sweet music for the evening. The Student Union Building will be decorated to represent the spirit of sports. The decorations will be in a blue and gold color scheme with hundreds of balloons floating above the floor.

Joe Michaels will present, as a door prize, the football used in the C.C.N.Y. game. The pigskin will be autographed by all members of the squad as a lasting souvenir to the lucky prize winner.

EE's Re-Activate E K N Honorary

At a dinner meeting in the Student Union Building on Tuesday evening, the Drexel Chapter of Eta Kappa Nu, Electrical Engineering Honorary Society, was reactivated with the initiation of five new members who were selected by an alumni committee, of which Lawrence Carapellotti and Raymond Black acted as co-chairmen. During the war this club was inactive, with Professor E. O. Lange acting as trustee.

Officers elected after the dinner were Paul Kaczmareczik, president; Jim Hutchinson, vice-president; Dave Biberman, secretary; Hugh Cullins, corresponding secretary; and Robert Spitz, treasurer. These initial five will be responsible for building up the membership of the society and make it possible for men who were graduated during the inactive period to become members.

Music Appreciation Elective Next Term

An elected course of music appreciation will begin at Drexel this coming winter term. Dr. Wallace Heaton will teach the course which shall include three hours of class and two hours of laboratory for which 3½ credits will be given.

This is the first time a course of this type has been offered at Drexel. The class lectures shall be based on a text entitled "An Appreciation of Music," by Martin Bernstein of New York University. The laboratory hours will be spent in listening to records illustrating the text as arranged from the symphonies, operas, etc.

The hours when this class will meet in the winter term are: Tuesday and Friday, 12:00 to 1:00 p.m., and Thursday afternoon, 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Band Honored—

Given Banquet

The Drexel Band was given a banquet Wednesday night, December 4, at the Robert Morris Hotel. The banquet was given in recognition of their fine work during the fall term.

Among the guests were Mr. A. J. Drexel Paul, Dean Disque, General Greene, Colonel Burke, Captains Matthews and Oettinger, Mr. MacMullan, and Dr. Heaton.

Lambda Chi Opens Winter Activities

Drexel's winter sociality will be launched in the Court Saturday evening, January 4th, when Norman Black's orchestra will provide the music for the WINTER WARMUP. Radio listeners will recognize the name of Norman Black as that of the leader of WFIL's staff orchestra, while others will recall his orchestra as the one that played for the Tri Sigs recently.

The combination Norman Black will have for the Lambda Chi's WINTER WARMUP will be a group of six musicians plus a charming girl vocalist. The orchestra will be under the direction of Charlie Sansone, well-known radio pianist, and will also include a trumpet, sax, bass, and a violin. Angy, their vocalist, formerly sang on the evening program "Music to Dream By" and now sings Saturday mornings.

The early basketball game the evening of the dance will be over in time for the WINTER WARMUP to begin at nine o'clock and allow a full evening of dancing.

A gay evening is offered to all those who are going to take advantage of this first week-end of the term before the studies become too rough.

On Tuesday, December 10th, Drexel Institute of Technology will observe Founder's Day—celebrating fifty-five years of educational teaching, a tribute to the trust and vision of the Institute's Founder, Anthony Joseph Drexel. A very interesting and inspiring assembly has been prepared for this impressive auditorium assembly.

During the course of the tribute His Excellency Wilhelm Munthe Morgenstierne, Norwegian Ambassador to the United States, will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters; and Martin Withington Clement, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will receive the degree of Doctor of Engineering.

A large part of the student body will recall the Founder's Day assembly last year, when Dr. James Creese was officially inaugurated as Drexel's Sixth President.

The assembly will begin with the procession of the faculty into the auditorium. Following the playing of our National Anthem the invocation will be intoned by the Reverend D. Wilmot Gateson, D.D. Robert C. Disque, Dean of the Faculty, will deliver a tribute to the Founder, and following this address, President James Creese will confer the two Honorary Degrees.

His Excellency Wilhelm Munthe Morgenstierne will then deliver his address, which will be followed by the Benediction marking the end of the colorful assembly.

The combined Glee Clubs, the orchestra and Brass Choir will present their annual Christmas Concert in the Great Court, immediately following the assembly. The group will present such numbers as Handel's Hallelujah Chorus, some Norwegian folk carols and other familiar Christmas carols.

With the singing of the Drexel Ode, the program will come to a fitting close, ending one of the most colorful and impressive ceremonies of the college year.

Varsity Club Report

Yes! It's true! The Varsity Club is no longer on the inactive list. The club has reorganized this term with a surprising turnout of ambitious lettermen. It seems the feeling of wanting to better the situation for our athletes as a whole is now deeply imbedded in the club members, and it is very noticeable how a minor part of the student body is falling in line. However, the only apparent trouble is that this situation has not affected the lower classmen. Remember! The lower classmen are the ones to benefit by any future changes and corrections encouraged by the Varsity Club.

This column, which will appear in every issue, is mainly to inform the entire student body of the recommendations and other such topics that take place at the meetings of the Varsity Club. This club has as its main purpose the improvement of certain dissatisfying conditions which will be presented to all from week to week.

Listed below are the recommendations that were presented by the Varsity Club to our Athletic Council. Members of the Athletic Council who attended the last meeting were Dr. VARSITY on Page 3

Ambassador Is Honored

Ambassador Wilhelm M. Morgenstierne, Norway's first Ambassador to the U. S. and representative at the United Nations Conference, has been an ardent worker for cultural relations between the U. S. and Norway.

Give To Drexel War Memorial

THIS WAR MEMORIAL idea is all fine and dandy, but where will I get that much money to contribute? That sums up pretty well a general feeling among the student body.

Yes, the students endorse the idea. Yes, they realize that Drexel lacks an adequate gymnasium, and students are generous with moral support. Indeed many have already made voluntary contributions, and the vast majority would like to contribute, but feel that perhaps they cannot afford it.

But let us view the method of contribution which has been set up. A minimum pledge of ten dollars has been asked of each and every student. This pledge is to be paid anytime and in any manner suitable to the contributor, prior to June, 1947. In other words, a ten dollar minimum contribution over a six-month period means $1.67 a month set aside for the War Memorial. That's less than 40c a week.

We buy cigarettes at 19c per pack. That leaves 6c change out of a quarter. The majority of college students smoke a pack of cigarettes each day. If they saved that 6c from their quarter, they would have their 40c per week, their $1.67 per month—their contribution to the War Memorial.

And certainly it's worth that little extra effort. Every student at Drexel today realizes what it is to be without a swimming pool and gym. And we realize the prestige that will accrue to the name of Drexel Institute, and consequently to us as graduates when such a structure is erected and incorporated into the physical plan of a growing educational institution. A greater Drexel is our goal, because a greater Drexel means a greater, more valuable degree for each one of us. And that means cash in our pockets tomorrow.

Mail Boxes

TOO MANY of us neglect looking into the student mail boxes. There is a tremendous amount of information supplied in them—both official and social information.

The importance of visiting the mail box daily cannot be overemphasized. Veterans' records, graduate placement and cooperative notices are placed there. In addition to these official communications there are notices of organization meetings and dances. Many of these notes are placed in the mail boxes only a day before the events are to be held. To keep posted, it is necessary to VISIT THE BOXES ONCE A DAY.

The administrative offices are too busy to track down a student; if he fails to get messages in the mail box he hurts himself. Frequently, a student gets a message to see a dean or someone in the cooperative office. Upon arriving at the office he should show the secretary the notice; she may be able to help him if the dean is away and this saves the student a trip.

Men at the Annex should have a mail box of their own. No one is going to walk four blocks in this weather to see if he has received any mail. But they are the only ones that have any excuse for not making a daily trip to the boxes.

So let us do the other people using the box a favor, take the mail out each day and prevent the box from becoming filled with dead mail. Then it will be easy to skim through the new mail each day.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The American public in general, and American colleges in particular, are getting a little fed up with the American veteran. A year and a half ago, in the first flush of victory, the veteran symbolized America's military prowess; he was the national hero. Immediately there were showered upon him benefits unprecedented in history. He was offered a readjustment allowance ($20 a week for 52 weeks); mustering out and terminal leave pay; and most lucrative of all, a free education with a reasonable subsistence allowance thrown in.

This is true partly because people are quick to forget. They forget how tough things were on Salerno and Saipan and in the Ardennes. They forget that a good many gave four or five of their most productive years to service, and that many others made extremely trying and often permanent sacrifices.

However, there is more to it than that. It is not all the fault of a forgetful public.

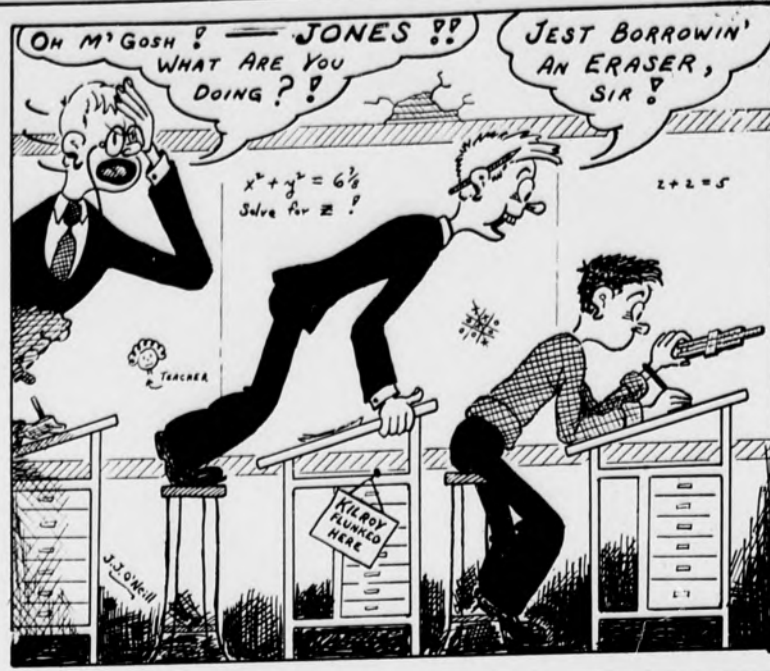

For the past three years there has not been a more chronically complaining faction on the whole American scene than the ex-servicemen. There have been, on the other hand, roughly 10,000,000 guys constantly griping, constantly asking for more and better of this, that, and the other thing, and offering materially very little in exchange.

Right here at Drexel we have a good example of this. Enrolled here now are roughly 2000 veterans, all of whom get free books and tuition, all of whom have minimum allowances of either $65 or $90 a month. It is a one-way proposition—the institution gives the education, the government finances it, and the veteran contributes little save his time and his good ear.

Last week Drexel veterans were given an opportunity to reverse the course. The opportunity came in the form of a plea for $10 subscriptions to a fund which will be used to materially benefit Drexel both as a college and as a Philadelphia institution. The veteran's response was, "Nuts, why should I give?" or "What's in it for me?" or "You think I can afford it?" If that same veteran will sit down and think about it, the answers are simple. He should give because it is unquestionably his responsibility to spiritually and financially support all the institutions from which he benefits, just as he supports his government by voting and by paying taxes. There is plenty in it for him. If he does not know it now, anything that helps make his college a bigger and better institution will later on make him a bigger man. Whom would he sooner hire, sight unseen—a man from Columbia University or one from Squeedunk Aggies? Of course he can afford it. With from now until June to pay (6 months) the burden of $10 diminishes considerably. Six months for $10.00 amounts to no more than $1.65 a month or 40c a week. Certainly that is not much to ask.

So, ultimately, the whole thing boils down to a question of whether the veteran at Drexel wants to give anything or whether he is happy just taking and asking for more. If the latter is the choice, we can have little hope for our individual and collective future.

John Staples.

27 November, 1946.

Dear Ed:

The aims of the War Memorial Committee are indeed highly commendable, and deserving of the utmost support of the student body. The mandatory nature of a few remarks by a committee member at the Freshman assembly yesterday could, however, arouse little but resentment. Letting that pass as a slip, let's all get behind the committee and give our best to it. We feel sure they will not be further finagled into another financial fiasco of the nature of the late lamented Fall Ball.

Would the TRIANGLE please print a list of Drexel's dead in the last war? Some of us oldtimers would like to know just whom of our classmates we are to honor.

Streamline Book Store

Mrs. Boswell, head of the book store, has worked out a plan to ease the mass commotion in obtaining books at the beginning of every term. The G.I.'s will be divided into two sections. Some will go to the museum and others to the regular book store. The change was suggested by the Blue Key National Honorary Fraternity.

Single or double lines will be formed at the front door. After the books have been purchased you will then proceed out the back door. Only textbooks will be sold at this time. After the rush for books is over other supplies will be sold. When you are waiting in line for books, please keep your voices down and the lines orderly. Classes will be in session.

Students other than veterans will secure their books at the book store as in previous terms.

Mrs. Boswell is trying to obtain a bulletin board where a list will be posted telling the students what books are in and what books are not. This will be a great help. Students won't be standing for hours only to find when they do get in the store that they don't have what is wanted.

Second hand books have been placed in the hands of Mrs. Boswell for selling. Some students have asked her to sell their used books. She can sell those that aren't outdated as far as Drexel is concerned. She wants the students who have outdated books to try to sell them to another book store. This will leave more space in the book store.

Library School Alumni Hold Meeting

The Alumni Association of the Library School held their fall tea and business meeting on Saturday, November 16th, at the Girls' Dormitory. The members of the Class of 1947 were invited to attend as their guests.

At the business meeting the election of officers for 1946-47 was held. Elizabeth Cirey, of the Class of 1941, was elected president. She is a librarian at Temple University and was chairman of the committee for the tea.

Margaret Kateley, Class of 1938, who is now at the Upper Darby Free Library, is the new vice-president, and the new secretary is Virginia M. Nylund of the Class of 1944, a librarian at the University of Pennsylvania.

Helen Louise Moore, class of 1942, of Curtis Publishing Co., was elected treasurer. The executive committee for the coming year consists of the following members: Sidney Galfand, 1938; Jeanne Hull, 1940; and Helen Mary Pyle, 1944.

During the meeting the outgoing president, Helen Mary Pyle, gave a resume of the past year's activities. Dean Marie Hamilton Law spoke to the group about recent developments in the Library School.

Miss M. Margaret Kehl, a new instructor at Drexel, who is teaching the Special Library Service Course gave a brief talk on this subject.

Navy College Program Starts

January 18th, 1947, is the date set by the Navy for a nation-wide competitive examination to select several thousand young men for its NEW COLLEGE TRAINING PROGRAM; and December 17th, 1946, is that not-too-far-distant deadline, when all applications must be in the hands of the Naval Examining Section in Princeton, N. J.

'Terians Plan Gala Party

On Tuesday, Nov. 12, the Drexel-terian Cabinet drew up plans for the remainder of the school term. The meeting was held in Miss Barnes' study on the first floor of the Dormitory.

The meeting was opened with a selected scripture passage followed by prayer. Bill Minshall, who is the newly elected Treasurer—(elected to replace Gordon Muir who was unable to return to school this term)—reported upon the status of the Treasury. He will submit a budget for approval at the next meeting.

A hay ride scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 23, was postponed until a more suitable time. However the idea of a social was not dropped. The cabinet plans to split the group in three parts (because of the large membership) and send the members to give the underprivileged children of our city a settlement-house party. The party on Friday, Dec. 6th, was immediately preceded by the Christmas dinner meeting on Thursday, Dec. 5. The plans and ideas for the party will be explained in detail at this time. In the meantime the cabinet has asked Miss Shirley Neyhard to head the party. She in turn has appointed three chairmen with co-chairmen to take care of each separate settlement house. It is expected that each member will contribute to the party by giving a toy of not too great value which they no longer need. A time and place for collecting these gifts will be given to the members by a card, from the settlement house chairman, in the mail box.

The plans for the Christmas dinner meeting will be completed at the next cabinet meeting. However the plans as outlined were enough of a hint to assure an outstanding meeting. The discussion part of the meeting will be set aside for a more lengthy Christmas service. The Christian Association building will again be used for this dinner meeting.

Cooperation Asked In Student Bldg.

At a meeting of the Student Building Committee on December 3, a proposal was adopted to send a message to every organization in Drexel in an attempt to secure their cooperation in maintaining orderly conditions in the Student Building.

The plan is to point out to the newcomers of Drexel the great many personal efforts and material contributions of the students who planned and secured the Student Building in 1939.

Although the cooperation of the students visiting the Student Building has been fairly good, there is room for improvement. Therefore the committee has decided to reprimand the thoughtless few who continue to litter up the lounge.

Varsity

James Creese, Mr. Dawson Dowel, Mr. Maury McMains, Mr. Harold Budd, Mr. Cecil Kapp, Dr. Baldwin Keyes, Mr. A. J. Drexel Paul, Mr. Livingston Biddle, Mr. Bill Biester, Norm Parmet, Frank Carter, and Joe Michaels. Recommendations are as follows:

1. We feel that a definite effort should be made in organizing a welcoming committee to provide for the comfort of visiting schools' teams.

2. It is suggested that the managers be relieved of equipment-handling duties at the field via the creation of a position of full-time equipment man.

3. It is suggested that a more definite manager system be organized.

4. It is suggested that the possibility of Drexel-Penn basketball doubleheaders at the Palestra be immediately considered in order to provide more adequately for the crowds we may expect this season.

5. It is suggested that night football be considered as a long-range athletic objective. The club feels that this should definitely be considered for the future.

6. It is suggested that twenty-five vacancies be left in each school for the placement of qualified new students recommended by the athletic staff.

7. It is suggested that a regulation size football field be made at the Lodge and also a large combination locker and shower room.

All the recommendations were thoroughly discussed, and plans of action are being drawn up. In future articles there will appear a review of action the council has taken.

Elections Held By Blue Key

The Blue Key National Honor Fraternity held a special meeting on Tuesday evening, November 26th. The meeting was called in order to elect officers for the next two terms.

President Fred Koenig presided over the meeting and announced the following results of the election:

President, Joe Power; Vice-President, Jim Marks; Secretary, William Watson; Treasurer, Norm Parmet; Sgt.-at-Arms, John Piatt.

With the return of many former students, and the greatly increased numbers in the lower classes in the past few terms, Blue Key is gradually returning to its active status on the Drexel campus, and is expected to effect greater student body spirit in the varied activities of the Institute. All of the members of this honorary fraternity are active in both academic and social functions and have promised the newly elected officers their full support for the coming year.

Newman Club Attend Inter-Amer. Meet

The Inter-Collegiate Union of Catholic College Students for Inter-American Action in Philadelphia held its second meeting on Sunday afternoon, November 17th. One hundred fifty representatives of colleges in the Philadelphia area, including ten members of the Drexel Newman Club, were present.

The meeting was both unusual and enjoyable. The goal of bettering relationships between American College Students and their Latin-American neighbors was well accomplished. Prior to the business meeting everyone danced to popular and "south-of-the-border" music. The Spanish students traded steps with their northern friends.

Dr. Charles Cadwalledar, noted traveler, was the guest speaker. He delivered his address both in Spanish and English. The business of explaining the proposed constitution and arranging for the election of officers was presided over by Thomas Moylan, temporary chairman, who is a graduate student at the University of Pennsylvania.

The business meeting, which lasted an hour, was followed by more social dancing at which time refreshments were served.

Alumni Varsity Elects Officers

The recently organized Drexel Varsity Club composed of former athletes, elected the following officers and directors according to an announcement from John Kestler, Judge of Elections:

President, Herb Raynes, '37; Vice-Pres., Ted Markle, '33; Sec.-Treas., Joe Lambert, '39.

Directors—3-year term: Les Stradling, '39; Jack Quinn, '39; Ken Rodgers, '39.

Directors—2-year term: Russ Bintzer, '36; Ed Ott, '40; Dave Curry, '37.

Directors—1-year term: Al Eekelmeyer, '33; Lee Gehr, '43; Lew Greene, '43.

Members of the undergraduate Varsity Club are eligible for membership in this new group after they leave school and it is expected that in the years to come this organization will grow in size and importance.

The purpose of the organization is to provide social fellowship for the members and to perpetuate their interest in and support of all Drexel athletics.

At present there are 52 members with approximately 100 to 150 more expected to join in the next two months.

Indicative of their desire to support Drexel athletics is the fact that the club has distributed among its members and prospective members, 100 tickets for the undergraduate Varsity Club's "Last Fling" Dance on December 7th.

Present plans of the new club call for a monthly meeting of the Board of Directors, a general meeting on Monday, January 20, for all members and an informal invitation dance at Hi-Top on Friday, February 14, to which all active members of the undergraduate Varsity Club will be invited.

Plans are also being made to get enough old-grads in shape for an Alumni-Varsity basketball game this coming season.

Women's Student Gov't

The W.S.G.A. is now working to bring the students and faculty of Drexel closer together. Already plans are under way to make this year's Student and Faculty Day the best ever.

The Association is wide open for suggestions and criticism for games, dances, musical events, and anything else, to help make the day a real success.

Last Sunday afternoon, a group of the women, including Bjorg Norbe, our exchange student from Norway, visited the International House in the Penn campus. They are now trying to establish relationships between the International House and Drexel because so few of our students are aware of its potentialities. Girls, here is your chance to meet some of those tall, dark, and handsome foreign men!

After the Army-Navy game on November 30, there was a dance for the West Point Cadets at John Wanamaker's. A number of girls from Drexel attended.

W.S.G.A. also wrote a letter to Dr. Carlisle Morgan, who is setting up a people's branch of United Nations in New York City. The Association is going to set up at Drexel, a student group interested in world affairs, to work indirectly with the branch in New York. By doing this, they are trying to build up among D.I.T. students, increased knowledge about world affairs.

Junior-Senior Football Game And Dance S.A.M. Meet, Constitution Approved

The annual Junior-Senior football game and dance was held Nov. 23rd with the Juniors stealing the gridiron honors by beating the Seniors, 8 to 0.

Dancing started at 9 and continued until 12. Music was furnished by Sid Kaye and his orchestra who play frequently at Temple for their fraternity dances.

During intermission, Norm Parmet, who coached the game Senior team, awarded the football used for the contest to Junior Class President Bob Cragg.

At this time he also awarded the prize, a gold plated cuspidor, to Ray Holman, who coached the victorious Juniors.

The decorations carried out the theme of the occasion with balloons painted like footballs, and big artificial pansies placed strategically around the dance floor.

From all comments it was a successful affair.

War Memorial Assemblies Held

To present the Drexel student in general with a better concept of the purpose, the organization, and the eventual personal significance of the War Memorial Drive, two assemblies which together were attended by the entire student body, were held in the Drexel Auditorium Tuesday, November 26.

Both meetings were initiated by a salutatory address by John Staples, co-chairman of the War Memorial projects executive committee. Staples presented and explained this major undertaking and discussed the purpose of its design.

The Drexel branch of the Society for the Advancement of Management has gotten into full swing. At a recent meeting the Chapters' by-laws to the National Constitution were approved and charter memberships for twenty-five student members and two faculty members, Mr. W. N. McMullan and Mr. Joseph Ford, were forwarded to the National Headquarters.

This week the Chapter attended the Senior Chapter's monthly meeting at the Engineer's Club and heard Dr. Charles Reitel's interesting talk on "Management and Budgeting." To help build up more interest in this society each member was asked to invite one non-member to this meeting.

The S.A.M. hopes to have Dr. Charles Taylor, former chairman of the War Labor Board, speak to the members and other interested students before the end of the term. New membership applications are being encouraged through personal solicitation and invitations to the meetings. Anyone interested joining can secure a membership application by contacting Dorothy Milheim.

Flying Club To Organize

Here's the chance you flying enthusiasts have been waiting for. A flying club is in formation. Mr. William Fuchs, a Mechanical Engineer instructor here at Drexel, and Mrs. Fuchs, an instructor in the English department, are making this opportunity possible. Both have instructors' licenses.

Responsible students and good reliable fliers, either faculty or student, are invited to join the group. The club will be restricted to ten members. As an incentive, it has been announced that the cost of the course will be cut to nearly a quarter of the regular cost.

An Aeronca Tandem Trainer with 65 Horse-Power will be used. The course will be given at the Boulevard Airport.

He then introduced Dr. Creese who stated that the proposed project has the complete support of himself and the entire administration. After Mr. Richard P. Brown, a member of the Board of Trustees, spoke concerning the need for every Drexel student to stand behind the undertaking, Prof. H. J. Budd, the War Memorial faculty adviser, was presented. He stated that so worthy a project as the War Memorial could be undertaken and could be realized, that in fact it should be undertaken. He concluded his talk by saying that this project could be the beginning of a new era of improvements and gains for Drexel.

Appointments to Regular Army

The Professor of Military Science and Tactics wishes to bring to the attention of all students the provisions of Public Law 670—79th Congress. All male students who are citizens of the United States and have served on active duty as commissioned officers in the Army of the United States or any component thereof at any time between 7 December 1941 and 31 December 1946 and have not been separated therefrom under other than honorable conditions are eligible for appointment as officers in the Regular Army.

Appointments will be made in grades of second lieutenant, first lieutenant, captain, or major. No officer will be appointed in a grade higher than that which he held in war time.

Complete information under War Department Circular 289, 24 September 1946, may be obtained from the Military Department. Applications may be obtained from the local recruiting stations and sub-stations.

Newman Club Dance at Lodge

The Winter Wonderland Dance, to be held tomorrow night at the Drexel Lodge, will be the last dance of the term. The Drexel Newmanites and their friends will throw exam worries to the winds for the evening.

Activities will begin at eight o'clock and last until midnight. Dress is informal and tickets are fifty cents per person. Obtain your tickets from Winnie Liggins, John Higgins, or at the door.

Communion-Breakfast

The custom of holding a Communion-Breakfast just before exams will continue this term. Members of the Drexel Newman Club will attend the 10 o'clock Mass on Sunday, Dec. 8, at St. James Church, 38th and Chestnut Sts.

Breakfast will be served afterwards at the Walnut Restaurant. Every Catholic student is urged to attend. The cost of the breakfast will be approximately seventy-five cents.

J.V.'s Drill For Court Season

The Athletic Department has arranged a very comprehensive J.V. basketball schedule for this winter term and Marsh Austin the J.V. coach has been trying to whip into condition a team to carry the Blue and Gold over the top once again. For the past month Marsh has been taking 35 men over to the girls' gym where he has been conducting a more or less informal practice. This past week the Jay Vees have been able to use the gym when the varsity finishes and consequently Marsh has been able to get a much better idea as to just which men are of the calibre he wants to play. The last half of the Christmas holidays the Jay Vees will practice in the regular boys' gym and during this time the squad will probably be cut to 20 men. Before the first game with Brown Prep on the 4th of January, Marsh expects to have the team pared down to 15 members.

At forward, Marsh has Zippel, Linde, Page, Cooper, Dubrow and Broader, while at guard, the Petrovsky Twins, Sam and Jake, Nelson, Giuliani, McGlone and Stauffenberg, and at center, Mellinger, Blaine and Snyder seem to be the major contenders.

Hockey Team Takes Last Game, 5-0

On Monday, November 24, our Dragonettes finished the hockey season with a bang! They washed out Albright 5-0. The whole team worked as one powerful unit; the forward line cooperating with speed and accuracy and with the backfield.

Several substitutions were made throughout the game. Peggy DeWitt went in on the front line and scored. Two J.V.'s, Peggy Logan and Barbara Swor, went in for right and left half-back respectively. These girls played excellently and showed great promise for next year.

As always, the regular backfield—Beagle, Schultz, Parke, Steele, and Thaysen—played beautifully.

The game was really a fast-moving one. At the half, the score was 2-0. The girls worked extra hard this time—not only because it was the last game of the season, but also because next fall, Captain Marian Schultz, Genie Thaysen, and perhaps M. Parke will be in Inausty and this was their last game.

Out of the season's seven games the Dragonettes won three and lost four. In spite of this, they were scored upon only fifteen times against eighteen tallies.

CHARLES FERNOW

For the past three weeks, Coach "Horse" Chase has been conducting basketball practice for almost forty-five men. Out of this squad there are ten former members of Dragon teams in years gone by which should form the nucleus of a very potent squad.

Of the former DIT men, Joe DeStephano, Hal Kollar, Norm Parmet and Lowery are all making a strong bid for the two forward positions. At guard, diminutive Bernie Rosenfeld, Sobel, Andrusick, Styers and Petey Piat are all showing up pretty well. At center there are no former Drexel men whom "Horse" can count on, but he has three fine prospects in Martin, Neyer and Wagner.

Those men who are playing ball here at Drexel for the first time and showing up rather well are Beers, Clark, Bednarick and Page at forward, Schwab at guard, and all of the men trying out for center are newcomers.

Techman Runs In Meet

Whether most of you know it or not here at Drexel we are fortunate enough to have right in our midst an exceptionally good distance runner. No track season isn't early this year but just last week at Berwick, Francis Patti entered in a race carrying the Blue and Gold of Drexel in a 9-mile race. In a field of 40 men he finished 15th and was the fourth best runner from Pennsylvania. The winning time for the full distance was about 45 minutes and the race was won by a man from Villanova by the name of Jack Browning. For you people who have a tough time making that last step Monday morning up to the fourth floor class, think of Francis on the fifth or sixth mile and then you will be able to muster up enough energy to make the last one.

Soccer Note:

The Soccer Team defeated Franklin and Marshall, 1-0, on Tuesday afternoon.

Flight Officers Admitted to ROTC

The Professor of Military Science and Tactics announces that former Flight Officers who have not obtained Reserve commissions should be accorded the same consideration as other eligible male students, regardless of whether application is made for admission to an air ROTC unit or one of the ground arms or technical service ROTC units.

These men have been running thru scrimmages just about every day. The older men are regaining their once "dead eye" for the hoop and the new men are eager little beavers all trying to make a good showing. Chase will probably use a man to man defense and also has drilled the men in some pretty classy offensive plays.

This year the Athletic Department has drawn up an extensive 18-game schedule with the highlight probably centered on the trip to the big city, January 17 the Dragons tangle with the Stevens Techmen and then journey over to the Bums' lair to play Brooklyn Poly the following night.

Swimming Team

CHARLES FERNOW

From noon until 2 every afternoon when most of us are passing the time away in the Court or over in the Student Union, 16 men have been going out to the West Branch YMCA at 52nd and Sansom and practicing for our swimming team. All of them are under the able guidance of Marsh Austin who is the swimming coach here at Drexel. The pool out at the Y while only 20 yards long will have to do as a substitute until our War Memorial pool is built. The 25th of January the team will have a formal meet with Dickinson College and then later on in the season they will conduct meets with St. Joseph's College and La Salle.

Austin has quite a few experienced men out there and should be able to build a good team around these men. Swan was the Public League's low diving champion and Spivak was also a Public League champ and he excelled in the backstroke. Dewweiler, Hollowell and Vogel are all very good freestyle artists and should gain some points for the Dragons.

Juniors Take Pansy Bowl, That Is

Before a howling throng of faithful rooters, the Junior Rockets overcame a valiant Senior aggregation, 8-0, at Drexel Bowl in the 1946 renewal of Tech's tradition-steeped Pansy Bowl on the 23rd.

Featuring the Junior's game were Big Bob Logue who intercepted a senior pass on the 28 to score the only touchdown of the day, Ken Goebel, Joe Troisi, John Gurniak, and Al Stevens. Fighting hard for a lost cause, Bob Mason and Frank Carter sparked many Senior drives deep into opponent's territory only to have the ball lost on fumbles or interceptions of Carter's long passes. Mason's kicking saved the retiring team from lots of ticklish situations.

Women 2nd In Match

On Thursday evening, November 21, the Women's Varsity Rifle Team, under the direction of M/Sgt. Diehl, shot its first match of the season in competition with Carnegie Institute of Technology and Cornell University.

As this was a postal match, the scores from all three colleges were submitted to the National Rifle Association who decided the winner. Drexel's sharpshooters placed second in this event with a score of 485, as compared with 490 for Cornell and 474 for Carnegie Tech.

High scores for the team were by O'Boyle and Cummings, who shot 99's.

Because so many men are interested and only a limited number can play with the Jay Vees, Chase is trying to arrange an intramural schedule. The teams will probably be made up of section classes and will be able to fit in games when they have free time.

The schedule for the Jay Vee team is as follows:

- Jan. 4—Brown Prep
- Jan. 8—Ursinus
- Jan. 15—Swarthmore
- Jan. 21—La Salle
- Jan. 22—Lehigh
- Jan. 25—PMC

the Rockets came on a safety against the Seniors when the Junior line charged through repeatedly in the third period, finally forcing Carter behind the goal-line where the Rocket line smothered him.

The cold snap, besides freezing the spectators, produced many fumbles to mar the game on both sides. A saving feature was the announcement of the contest by Jack Bosley, our own Bill Stern. With a continuous line of patter to keep the fans and teams happy, Bosley assured the players of an audience all the way through the cold afternoon. Credit goes to the respective coaches, Ray Holman, who also played a fine game in the Junior backfield, and Norm Parmet and Frank Quinn who organized and fielded a great Senior club despite the fact that most of the Seniors were in industry this term.
