I am so happy--Kolyade

Restrictions on access. No duplication allowed listening and viewing for research purposes only.

Sung in English by Alan Mills; Gilbert Lacombe, guitar.

Two short selections sung by Canadian folk singer Alan Mills, "Kolyade" appear to be an unreleased track intended for 1957 album "Christmas Songs from Many Lands" (FC7750/FW07550). Mills chose these songs because they depart from the traditional seasonal repertoire. Accompanied by Gilbert Lacombe on guitar.

copy of tape 747 FW-ASCH-7RR-0747 consists of frog calls which were used in conjunction with a presentation entitled "Amphibean Calls and Their Significance," presented by Charles M. Bogert at an August 1954 Florida meeting of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists. The calls are grouped into four units: (1.) Warning calls, mating calls and screams of fright; (2.) Calls illustrating north/south trends, generally showing that higher-pitched and faster calls are in the South; (3.) Calls showing correlation between pitch and size of frog. (Larger frogs have lower-pitched calls.); and (4.) Sample calls of individual species of one genus in one region, illustrating the great diversity. Three pages of notes pertaining to the calls have been placed in the new tape box. FW-ASCH-7RR-0748 and -0749 are dubs of FW-ASCH-7RR-0747. Dr. Bogert also "conceived, narrated and documented" an important Folkways Record: Sounds of North American Frogs (now SFW45060), four years after this tape was made and which includes some songs from this tape, but many additional songs also. See other sheets for track list and durations.

FW-ASCH-7RR-0749: Sounds of North American Frogs: The Biological Significance of Voice in Frogs

1 Sound recording (sound-tape reel; analog; 7 in.)

Producer: Bogert, Charles M. (Charles Mitchill), 1908-1992

Language: English.

Notes: FW-ASCH-7RR-0749

Restrictions on access. No duplication allowed listening and viewing for research purposes only.

copy of tape 747 FW-ASCH-7RR-0747 consists of frog calls which were used in conjunction with a presentation entitled "Amphibean Calls and Their Significance," presented by Charles M. Bogert at an August 1954 Florida meeting of the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists. The calls are grouped into four units: (1.) Warning calls, mating calls and screams of fright; (2.) Calls illustrating north/south trends, generally showing that higher-pitched and faster calls are in the South; (3.) Calls showing correlation between pitch and size of frog. (Larger frogs have lower-pitched calls.); and (4.) Sample calls of individual species of one genus in one region, illustrating the great diversity. Three pages of notes pertaining to the calls have been placed in the new tape box. FW-ASCH-7RR-0748 and -0749 are dubs of FW-ASCH-7RR-0747. Dr. Bogert also "conceived, narrated and documented" an important Folkways Record: Sounds of North American Frogs (now SFW45060), four years after this tape was made and which includes some songs from this tape, but many additional songs also. See other sheets for track list and durations.

LETTER TO MA; CDR copy-"Chimeranga Songs of Zimbabwe." It was produced by Betty Rogers, "a radio producer and media consultant in various projects in Africa." The tape is accompanied by a letter from Ms. Rogers proposing a Folkways album along the lines of the tape. The chimeranga (also "chimurenga") songs are the revolutionary songs of the Zimbabwe freedom fighters, which were "used as powerful weapons in the seven-year struggle for Black Independence from the the Rhodesian government of Ian Smith." Zimbabwe achieved independence in 1980, and the tape was produced sometime during the two years Ms. Rogers was in Africa prior to the date of her letter of June 30, 1983. The tape contains a mix of singing, interviews of participants in the conflict (often describing the role of the songs), and narration. The singers and persons interviewed aren't identified.

PART 3; CDR copy FW-ASCH-7RR-0810 contains the third of four segments of a "concert of American folk music" which is a part of the "sixth Annual Festival of Contemporary American Music" held in McMillan Theatre at Columbia University, in 1950, sponsored by the Alan Ditson Fund of the University. This tape is labelled Part III; parts I, II and IV are on FW-ASCH-7RR-0808, -0809 and -0811. In addition to an unidentified introductory announcer, Sam Eskin and Sidney Robertson Cowell moderate. A typed program including all four segments of the concert, is included in the jewel box and tape box. In addition to Jean Ritchie (Kentucky mountain singer and mountain dulcimer player), the tape includes: the Old Harp Singers (on Folkways record FW02356), who are from east Tennessee and sing shaped note hymn music from The Harp of Columbia; Mr. Everett Pitt (a traditional northern U.S. singer), who sings two unaccompanied ballads; and Don Baker from Michigan, who plays the hammered dulcimer. Sidney Robertson Cowell provides interesting information about the hammered dulcimer.

REEL C31; CDR copy- These recordings were made to aluminum discs. Another set resides in the Library of Congress. FW-ASCH-7RR-0812 through FW-ASCH-7RR-0816 were among a large number of tapes (at least 35) provided to Moe by Sidney Robertson Cowell, who produced several Folkways albums and whose correspondence with Moe and Folkways fills three folders in the Archives Correspondence Files. She recorded many traditional folksingers in the 1930's and most of the songs on these tapes are dubs of 78's in our Archives and/or in the Archive of Folk Culture in the Library of Congress. Despite having reviewed her correspondence in the Archives Correspondence Files, I couldn't locate anything regarding the "why and wherefore" of the many such tapes she sent to Moe. Regarding the current five tapes, the first four contain recordings made primarily in 1936 through 1939 by Ms. Cowell, in the southern U.S.; some were made by her in Wisconsin, Illinois and California. Four songs on -0815 were originally recorded in 1909 in England, by Percy Grainger. The fifth tape was originally recorded by Maud Karpeles in Appalachia in 1950. FW-ASCH-7RR-0812 includes Emma Dusenbury (Mena, AR), Charles Spencer (Crandon, WI), Ben and David Rice (Springfield, MO), Cinderella Kinnaird (Willow Springs, MO), Bascom Lamar Lunsford (Leicester, NC), and R. R. Denoon (Springfield, MO). Except for Bascom Lamar Lunsford, who accompanies himself on the banjo, all sing unaccompanied

A field recording of Ms. Lydia Banks of Proffit, Virginia, made by Maud Karpeles on October 4, 1950; and a recording of a child, perhaps on tape before Lydia was recorded and probably not intended for archival preservation. Ms. Banks sings spirituals, including a lining-out hymn. Recorded in: United States.

Fascinated by horses and cowboys but not by school, Harry Jackson (1924 - 2011) left his home in Chicago at age 14 to become a ranch hand and cowboy in Wyoming. While there, he learned cowboy songs from the oral tradition, which he sings here (in 1959), in traditional manner, unaccompanied. The songs portray the life of cowboy in an authentic, unadorned fashion that is light years removed from Hollywood cowboys and country/western simulations. After serving in WWII, Harry Jackson became a prominent artist, focusing on realistic western paintings and sculpture portraying cowboys and Indians.

Restrictions on access. No duplication allowed listening and viewing for research purposes only.

Recorded in: Buffalo (N.Y.), United States, New York.

Elder Charles Beck, pastor of the Way of the Cross Church of God in Christ, in Buffalo, NY, presides over his congregation, choir, and guest performers, in excerpts from two lively services, including hymns, gospel songs, shouts, sermonizing and prayer. Elder Beck not only leads the services and choir, but also sings and plays the trumpet, vibes and drums. Organ, piano and tambourines, along with guest performers, also enliven the proceedings. As Elder Beck proclaims, "No use letting the Devil have all the good tunes." David Talmadge, professor at the State University of New York, recorded the services in 1956, and wrote the liner notes, emphasizing the links of Holiness services to African religious practice.

Elder Beck not only leads the services and choir, but also sings and plays the trumpet, vibes and drums. Organ, piano and tambourines, along with guest performers, also enliven the proceedings. As Elder Beck proclaims, "No use letting the Devil have all the good tunes." David Talmadge, professor at the State University of New York, recorded the services in 1956, and wrote the liner notes, emphasizing the links of Holiness services to African religious practice.

Chase, Richard - "Stories" - Mono - 15 ips Richard Chase tells a story about a little monkey that didn't want to go to school. Noted American folklorist Richard Chase (1904-1988) has been called the man "most responsible for the renaissance of Appalachian storytelling." A collector of tales that had been handed down from generation to generation in the Appalachian regions of the United States, Chase was born in Alabama and lived in the mountains of North Carolina. - From his book "The Jack Tales"

Pete Seeger (1919 - 2014) was a giant of our time. Growing up in a musical family, he had a long and productive career as a folk song leader and social activist. Overall, he appears (or is otherwise associated with) an astonishing total of 123 Smithsonian Folkways recordings. One of the most influential of those recordings is the present one. What better way to learn a musical instrument than from someone who is generally acknowledged to be the most prominent performer and authority on that instrument? This recording affords just such an opportunity and many "Folk Revival" folksingers - including Dave Guard of the Kingston Trio - first learned to play the banjo either from this recording or from Pete Seeger's book of the same title. On this recording, Pete explains and provides examples of basic tunings, strums, techniques such as "hammering on" and "pulling off" and other aspects of playing. He covers the basics of a variety of styles, including frailing, 3-finger, blues, jazz, and Latin-American. Liner notes provide background information, a complete transcript, and the musical notation for what Pete demonstrates.

 Demo tape sent to Moe Asch of Delaware singer/songwriter Vic Sadot of folk and topical songs, 7/9/1979. Tape is a tribute to his brother Joe who used the pseudonym c.P. Swampgrass for their folk group. The "Pete Seeger of Delaware" Sadot is known for playing at anti-nuke demonstrations in the NY/NJ/DE area and on the Hudson River Revival Project. Asch did not record him for Folkways, but he still plays with his group, Crazy Planet Band.

Copy of field recordings made on 78rpm of Armenian folksongs collected in 1939 during an elaborate New Deal WPA project organized and directed by folk music collector Sidney Robertson Cowell for the Northern California Work Projects Administration. Performers include Mesroub Takakjian, Joe Bedrosian, and Vartan Shapazian. Sponsored by the University of California, Berkeley, and cosponsored by the Archive of American Folk Song, this undertaking was one of the earliest ethnographic field projects to document European, Slavic, Middle Eastern, and English- and Spanish-language folk music in one region of the United States. Original 78s archived at LOC, AFS 4240 and AFS 4241. Not released on Folkways.

CDR copy Tape Info: FW-ASCH-7RR-2720 through -2725 contain recordings made by Kentucky singer Jim Garland of local singers and church services. FW-ASCH-7RR-2720 presents Riley "Shorty" Ward, his son, Johnny and his daughter-in-law Jean, recorded by in Middlesboro and Bloombury, in Bell Co., Kentucky. Instrumentation includes guitar, steel guitar and occasional harmonica. The family "wants to be known as the Cumberland Mountain Singing Family." The lyrics and song titles have been written out by Jim and are in the new acid-free tape box. The tape box states that this tape is the second made of Shorty and his family. The recording date is not mentioned; however, it could not have before 1963 - the release date for a hit song they sing - We Must Have Been Out of Our Minds. The songs are a mix of country songs from mid-twentieth century and more traditional songs. I See other sheet for track list and durations.

Translations by J.D. Robb and Peter Hurd.

FW-ASCH-7RR-2792 corresponds exactly to a Folkways recording: Peter Hurd sings Ranchera Songs - Spanish Folksongs of New Mexico. (FW02204). Per the abstract from the Smithsonian Folkways website: Noted fresco painter Peter Hurd presents a selection of ranchera songs from New Mexico, where he grew up among Spanish speakers in the Hondo Valley. Hurd learned some of these songs as a child, but discovered others more recently during trips to Mexico.

The speech by Stokely Carmichael was given at the occasion of the merger between the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC) and the Black Panther Party in Oakland, California, February 1968. The merger took place on the birthday of Huey P. Newton, Minister of Defense of the Black Panther Party, who was jailed for allegedly having killed a policeman. The speech ends with the famous: "Huey Newton will be set free, or else..." African music heard in background. Tape box indicates it to be from the soundtrack to Leonard Henny's film "Black Power: We Gonna' Survive America"

A letter enclosed with the tape to Moe Asch, "Dear Mr. Asch. This tape is a representative sampling of the blues singing and guitar playing of Chuck Kling, currently of 1168 E. 54th Place, Chicago, IL. Chuck, while highly individual, is in the tradition of of the more complex blues singers like Blind Lemon, Scrapper Blackwell, Lonnie Johnson, Blind Boy Fuller, and so on. In any case, the tape speaks for itself. I was coming east and brought the tape in for Chuck, who anxiously awaits your opinion. - Pete Stein, 31 W. 11th St. NYC, NY" Date unknown and apparently unreleased by Asch, tape is a good example of "country blues" style and lyrics lingering in the Chicago area, and includes a rare rendition of "219 Train" blues.

recorded December 30-31, 1956 by William H Talmadge

Elder Charles Beck, pastor of the Way of the Cross Church of God in Christ, in Buffalo, NY, presides over his congregation, choir, and guest performers, in excerpts from two lively services, including hymns, gospel songs, shouts, sermonizing and prayer. Elder Beck not only leads the services and choir, but also sings and plays the trumpet, vibes and drums. Organ, piano and tambourines, along with guest performers, also enliven the proceedings. As Elder Beck proclaims, "No use letting the Devil have all the good tunes." David Talmadge, professor at the State University of New York, recorded the services in 1956, and wrote the liner notes, emphasizing the links of Holiness services to African religious practice.

Part 4 of a collection of dubs from albums and studio tapes of Haitian Creole and Voodoo songs by Haitian singer Emerante de Pradines with "Orchestre et Choer." Song titles hand written on box by Moe Asch, may be inaccurate. Most are apparently unreleased, some appear on Remington 199-151 "Original Meringues" and 199-206 "voodoo - Authentic Music and Rhythms of Haiti." De Pradines does appear on Folkways FW-6833 "Creole Songs of Haiti" but none of these songs are on the album.

Rare, unreleased copy of the notorious 1954 "Marijuana Program" broadcast on Pacifica radio's KPFA, an illicit interview with a small group of marijuana smokers. Subjects cover lack of adverse effects, media depictions of users and prices, its pleasurable, peaceful effects, and potential commercial legalization. Resulted in the tape being impounded by the CA Attorney General and censorship by the FCC. Box notes indicate "Duplicate KPFA Marijuana" - "From H. Jacobs, 41 Osgood Pl. San Francisco, CA." See box and documentation for FW-ASCH-5RR-4774 for more details, another copy of program sent to Asch, but wrong tape found in box. KPFA was the first station in the Pacifica Radio network and the first listener-supported radio broadcaster in the United States.

Original tape of Side 4 (Side D) for FE4601, Harry Smith's "The Kiowa Peyote Meeting: Songs and Narratives by Members of a Tribe that was Fundamental in Popularizing the Native American Church." This side is dedicated to the "Intercalation of Songs" as described by Smith, songs by participants sung alongside the meeting leader's "Four Songs" during the ritual. The results of a month long stay by Smith in Anadarko, Oklahoma the winter of 1964-65 to document Kiowa tribe members singing Peyote Meeting ritual songs, specifically outside the Meeting so as to preserve its sacredness. Most songs sung solo by Ray Cozad, last 3 are duets, with a conclusion by Blossom Cozad on the origin of Peyote.

Dr. Val Stephen, a 'Gentleman Amateur' and pioneer in electronic music experiments of the 1960s, became the first Australian to have electronic music released commercially on an international label. A practising anaesthetist, Stephen developed an interest in electronic music in the late 1950s and recorded a large body of work with a range of tools and techniques. Stephen's music, along with his public advocacy of electronic music, was pioneering in regard to the acceptance of electronic music as a legitimate musical concern. The first two tracks, "Fireworks" and "The Orgasmic Opus" appear on Folkways 1967 album "Electronic Music: University of Toronto Electronic Music Studio" FW33436 /FM 3436, but the rest are untitled and appear to be unreleased from this earlier original tape sent to Moe Asch in 1963.

 Recording of 1966 live show by The country Gentlemen, location unknown, likely by Gary Henderson. Formed in 1957 with DC area performers, The "Gents" bridged the progressive and urban "New Grass" with more traditional bluegrass styles and were popular during the folk revival. Originally released in 1973 on Folkways FTS 31031 "The Country Gentlemen, Vol. 4: Going Back to the Blue Ridge Mountains" and rereleased FWS 40175. Liner notes for these albums indicate Tom Gray as the bass player, but he left the group in 1964, likely it is Ed Ferris on bass.

Wallace House (1900 - 1983), singer, actor and dramatic arts professor at New York University, was born in England, although the family moved to Canada when Wallace was nine years old. His English background and more recent study of the various English dialects enabled him to perform with authenticity these dialect readings - essentially poems - all but two of which were written by poet Marriot Edgar (1880 - 1951). Marriot Edgar is best known for the English dialect monologues he wrote for actor/comedian Stanley Holloway (1890 - 1982), who recorded most of the readings presented here back in the 1930's. (Holloway later achieved lasting fame on Broadway and in Hollywood through his portrayal of the father of Eliza Doolittle in the hit musical "My Fair Lady.") Liner notes provide a complete transcription of the monologues, along with a brief biography of Wallace House, who recorded a total of eight albums for Folkways Records.

Sung by Allan Mills, acc. by G. Lacombe, guitar.

Alan Mills (1913-1977) forsook a career in journalism to become a prominent Canadian folksinger, actor, and the host of a folk music radio show for children. His singing may be found in over 20 Smithsonian Folkways recordings, some primarily for adults and others primarily for young people. On this album, Mr. Mills continues his fanciful musical survey of the animal kingdom, singing about everything from frogs to dogs, from birds to horses, and everything in between. The songs, originating in Canada, England, the United States and Scotland, were selected for their appeal to a youthful audience, and yet do not skirt serious subjects, including hunting, death and cruelty. Liner notes provide the background for each song and include the complete lyrics.

Mean to me. I'll get by. Sun shower. He's funny that way. My man. Nice work if you can get it. Can't help lovin' dat man. My first impression of you. I can't believe that you're in love with me. Now they call it swing. If I were you. You can't be mine (and someone else's too). I've got a date with a dream. I'm gonna lock my heart and throw away the key. They say. Say it with a kiss. Sugar. More than you know. Why did I always depend on you. Night and day. You're a lucky guy. Falling in love again. I'm all for you. I hear music. Practice makes perfect. It's the same old story. Your mother's son-in-law. Riffin' the scotch. Them there eyes. These foolish things. Did I remember? No regrets. A fine romance. Easy to love. The way you look tonight. Pennies from heaven. That's life I guess. I can't give you anything but love. This years's kisses. Why was I born? The mood that I'm in. I'll never be the same. Without your love. Swing! Brother, Swing! They can't take that away from me. Getting some fun out of life. Trav'lin' all alone. When you're smiling. If dreams come true. I can't get started. Back in your own back yard. On the sentimental side. When a woman loves a man. You go to my head. The very thought of you. That's all I ask of you. Dream of life. Long gone blues
