CHOOSE COLORADO

When people think about reasons to travel to Colorado, their first thoughts often include world-class skiing, breathtaking views and hiking one of the state's four-teens. Colorado also has a rich agricultural heritage that is often overlooked. Nearly half of Colorado's 66 million acres are farms and ranches, and Colorado agribusinesses contribute $40 billion to the state's economy every year.

The array of products grown and raised in Colorado is staggering. Farmers grow a variety of crops including grapes, oats, sunflowers, mushrooms and Anasazi beans. Ranchers also have diversified to raise fish, yaks and alpacas. These are a few of the unique products produced, in addition to many traditional ones like corn, wheat, beef and lamb.

During the summer months you can find Colorado's freshest fruits, vegetables and other products at farmers' markets, roadside stands and u-picks. With more than 100 farmers' markets located across the state, everyone is sure to find what their taste buds are seeking.

After a long hike in the mountains, take a break with a cool beverage to quench your thirst. Whether it's a cold glass of milk or a frosty mug of beer, Colorado produces both in abundance. As you are traveling, you may want to visit one of Colorado's wineries. The plentiful sunshine, warm days, cool nights and low humidity provide the perfect conditions for wine grapes with the complex character and chemistry required to craft award-winning wines.

In addition to producing a variety of delectable foods, Colorado's farms and ranches are home to a vast array of wildlife habitats, and the fields offer valuable open spaces and picturesque landscapes. Whether you're visiting a local farmers' market, enjoying Colorado cuisine at a restaurant or watching the wind blow gracefully through a wheat field, you have the opportunity to experience one of Colorado's greatest treasures: agriculture. Choose Colorado and be Colorado Proud!

FUN AG FACT: Colorado is the largest grower of millet in the United States. What's millet? Millet is considered one of the world's ancient grains — that small round grain you find in bird seed. In addition to feeding our feathered friends, millet can also be enjoyed by people. Millet is a gluten-free grain, so it is a great addition to recipes for people with gluten intolerances.

COLORADO CERTIFIED CREATIVE DISTRICTS

7 COLORADO COMMUNITIES ENLIVEN THE STATE'S RICH ARTS & CULTURAL SCENE

With close to 1 million visitors per year and nearly 8,000 artists and creatives, Colorado's seven Certified Creative Districts are alive year-round with art walks, live performances, outdoor festivals, live music and art for sale. On your next visit, take in the unique character of each of these must-see areas: Corazon de Trinidad, North Fork Valley Creative District, Denver's Art District on Santa Fe, Pueblo Creative Corridor, Ridgway Creative District, Salida Creative District and Telluride Arts District.

In September, Corazon de Trinidad presents the wacky and wondrous ARTOCADE, an Art Car festival/parade; take in one of the largest collections of Victorian houses west of the Mississippi in the streets of the old town. The North Fork Valley Creative District combines organic farms, orchards, vineyards and mesas with galleries, a glass-blowing studio, recording studios, artist residencies and a nationally known foundry. With more than 70 galleries, art studios and major cultural institutions like Su Teatro and Museo de las Americas, Denver's

Art District on Santa Fe is a must-see arts destination. The Pueblo Creative Corridor, anchored by El Pueblo Museum and the Sangre de Cristo Arts Center, features more than 35 galleries and the world's only solar coffee roaster. Ridgway Creative District boasts that 10 percent of its 900 residents are artists and hosts a monthly full-moon art walk. The Telluride Film and Telluride Bluegrass festivals in the heart of the Telluride Arts District are world famous, while the July Telluride Art + Architecture Weekend is an opportunity to explore art, design and culinary treasures. In an idyllic setting along the Arkansas River, the Salida Creative District is home to more than 100 creative enterprises and historic architecture.

This program is administered and supported by Colorado Creative Industries and the Boettcher Foundation.

DID YOU KNOW? The GRAMMY Awards are made right here in Colorado in the Ridgway Creative District. John Billings of Billings Artworks has been making the GRAMMY award for more than 30 years. Each trophy entails at least 15 man hours and a 2,000-mile trip to hand deliver awards. Visit the seven Colorado Certified Creative Districts to uncover more surprises!

DISTILLERIES

PEAK SPIRITS FARM DISTILLERY, HOTCHKISS

LIBATIONS: gin, vodka, brandy

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Peak embarks on a farm-to-sip tactic, distilling with organic fruit grown in western Colorado, and their location is about as picturesque as it gets. Visit Jack Rabbit Hill Farm and its accompanying pastoral scene (think cows, sheep, barn cats) to get an up-close look at the deep organic (or biodynamic) farming techniques used for peaches, pears, grapes and apples that eventually make their way to Peak Spirits' still.

TOURS: Potential visitors must call beforehand:
970-361-249

Seed to Sip

Best Beer, Wine & Distillery Tasting Rooms & Tours

Colorado has a remarkable collection of 45 distilleries, more than 200 breweries and 108 wineries (and counting!), and each one has its own characteristics that will vie to make it your favorite.

Why you should go: free tastings, an understanding of the creative science behind these beverages and the opportunity to rub elbows with friendly and knowledgeable craftspeople.

Tours are available all over Colorado so we've decided to outline a few of the best experiences. Go to COLORADO.com for more options.

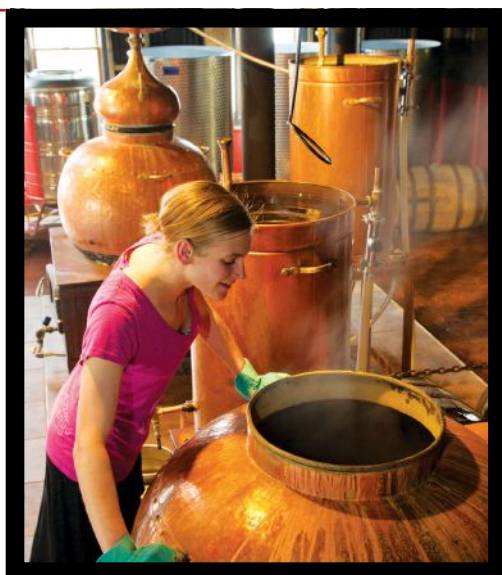

MONTANYA RUM, CRESTED BUTTE

LIBATIONS: Rum, rum and more rum. Also: rum.

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Montanya is known for tasty rum made from only four easy-to-pronounce ingredients (water, yeast, sugar cane and homemade caramelized honey). After the tour, visit the rum bar for cheeky cocktails, small bites (the locally made goat-cheese platter is highly recommended) and live music.

TOURS: Monday–Saturday, 1–7pm

TASTING ROOM: Daily, 11am–9pm

PEACH STREET DISTILLERS, PALISADE

LIBATIONS: Brandy, grappa, vodka, gin, bourbon, tequila

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: In a land known for vineyards, Peach Street has made a name for itself as the rascally new kid on the block armed with tasty spirits distilled from local ingredients (the peach brandy is a must). Food trucks frequent the distillery (see peachstreetdistillers.com for details) and rumor has it that the tasting room gets quite rowdy when those who toured Palisade's wine vineyards stop by at night. With the wide selection available at Peach Street, you'd be well advised to pace yourself during a tasting session.

TOURS: Book a tour at peachstreetdistillers.com for Fridays and Saturdays (3, 4 and 5pm) and Sundays (2, 3 and 4pm)

TASTING ROOM: Monday–Thursday, noon–10pm; Friday and Saturday noon–midnight; Sunday 10am–10pm

COLORADO GOLD DISTILLERY, CEDAREDGE

LIBATIONS: Vodka, gin, whiskey, tequila

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Cedaredge plays to its strengths by means of Colorado's high altitude (11,000 feet), crisp mountain water and lots and lots of sunshine: The perfect ingredients for grains that distill into award-winning spirits.

TOURS & TASTINGS: Tuesday–Saturday, 10am–4pm

DANCING PINES DISTILLERY, LOVELAND

LIBATIONS: Liqueur, rum, gin, brandy, bourbon

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Properly distilled liqueurs are a treat on the rocks or mixed into complex cocktails. Dancing Pines has plenty of award-winning liqueurs to taste test right in the tasting room. The chai liqueur is a unique and tempting place to start, but don't neglect the black walnut bourbon or the cherry tart varieties.

TOURS: Wednesday–Friday, 4:30pm; Saturday 2, 4, 6pm. Tours must be made two weeks in advance online (dancingpinesdistillery.com).

ADDED BONUS: Visit Dancing Pines' nearby friend, Spring 44, a vodka and gin distillery that draws upon their own artesian spring generating crisp Rocky Mountain H2O.

BREWERIES

TWISTED PINE, BOULDER

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Twisted Pine is all about experimentation. For a walk on that wild side, try the Billy's Chilies, brewed with five different types of chilies, or the Honey Brown ale that holds Colorado's sweet honey for a smooth finish. The ale house on Boulder's Walnut Street is the brewery's front and gives visitors the opportunity to pair their award-winning beers with delicious fare.

ON-SITE ALE HOUSE: Monday–Thursday 11am–9pm; Friday 11am–10pm; Saturday noon–10pm; Sunday noon–8 pm

SKA BREWING, DURANGO

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Ska's website has an electronic comic book explaining why their brewery matters. Long story short: They feel that large conglomerated beer companies are out to ruin beer (the villains), and places like Ska (the heroes) are here to save the day. And it's true. You'd be hard-pressed to find a big beer company brewing with Durango's Honeyville bees' honey ... yum! And just wait until you meet the unlikely heroes running Ska during your lively visit.

TOURS: Monday–Saturday, 4pm

ON-SITE RESTAURANT HOURS: Monday–Friday, 11am–8pm; Sunday, 11am–7pm

OSKAR BLUES, LYONS

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Most breweries get their hops from elsewhere, but Oskar Blues' brewers grow their own at the Hops and Heifers Farm in Lyons. A must try is Dale's Pale Ale: one of Colorado's most popular and, according to the New York Times, it's the best pale ale around.

TOURS: Daily at 4pm; Friday–Sunday 2, 3, 4, 5pm

TASTING ROOM: Monday–Sunday, noon–8pm

CROOKED STAVE, DENVER

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Located in a refurbished warehouse filled with local-centric food vendors, Crooked Stave (located in Denver's The Source) has some seriously unique beers. Try the Wild Wild Brett Rouge, an unfiltered ale containing rose hips and hibiscus. This flavor palate matches everything else you'll find at The Source, where foodies gather for Denver's best produce, beer, artisan cheeses and meats and much more.

BREWERY & TAPROOM HOURS: Daily, noon–11pm

FROM TOP: OSKAR BLUES, DENVER MICROBREW TOUR.

ODELL BREWING COMPANY, FORT COLLINS

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Known for their hoppy beers and IPAs, Odell is a Colorado favorite and primarily uses local raw materials for their brews. A real treat in the tasting room is an opportunity to taste beers straight out of the “pilot system,” a brewing area dedicated to producing cutting-edge brews still in the testing and tasting phase.

TOURS: Monday–Sunday 1, 2, 3, 4pm

TASTING ROOM: Monday–Thursday, Sunday 11am–6pm; Friday–Saturday 11am–7pm

WINERIES

MESA WINDS FARM & WINERY, HOTCHKISS

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Harvesting grapes from their own backyard or nearby neighbors, the soils at Mesa Winds are similar to those in Burgundy, and the atmosphere is likened to someone’s awesome grandma’s farm. Located in an idyllic setting, this winery is as humble as they come, and a visit yields more than just a tasting: Stay overnight and visit with the chubby babydoll sheep on site.

TASTING ROOM: May 27–October 13, Saturday–Sunday 11am–6pm or by appointment. Visit mesawindfarms.com for more info.

WINERY AT THE HOLY CROSS ABBEY, CAÑON CITY

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: How many times have you visited a winery located in a church abbey? The Holy Cross Abbey sets the stage for several award-winning wines (they’ve literally won more than 300 awards) amid Colorado’s southern Wet Mountains. Swishing your wine glass pre-sip has never been more peaceful and serene than at this winery, which was started by Benedictine fathers and where signs on the grounds encourage quiet contemplation.

TASTING ROOM: Monday–Saturday, 10am–6pm; Sunday noon–5pm

THE INFINITE MONKEY THEOREM, DENVER

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Infinite Monkey Theorem proclaims that it represents a counter-culture to other vineyards with its urban location, obsessive search for the best grapes, delicate winemaking process and involvement in shaping the local community that surrounds it. The name itself is testament to this, as is its especially popular, lightly carbonated cans of wine (perfect to bring along for a mid-hike picnic).

TOURS: 45-minute tours are offered for $25; longer, private barrel-tasting tours can be scheduled for $50. Go to theinfinitemonkeytheorem.com for available dates.

TASTING ROOM: Tuesday–Friday, 5–10pm; Saturday, noon–10pm; Sunday, noon–5pm

AUGUSTINA'S WINERY, BOULDER

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: Augustina’s motto says it all: “Dedicated to making wine that goes with backpacking adventures, raucous poker parties, family barbecues, good mystery novels and gingersnaps.” In addition to this quirky (and Colorado-like) perspective on wine, famed winemaker Marianne blends grapes sourced from Colorado’s eastern plains all the way to the Western Slope — representing the best that the state has to offer.

TASTING ROOM: Hours vary week-to-week; call 303-520-4871

CANYON WIND CELLARS, PALISADE

WHAT MAKES IT DIFFERENT: It’s tough to stand out in Colorado’s burgeoning wine country, but Canyon Wind does so by operating as an estate winery, meaning that everything is done on site, from growing to bottling. The winery also takes sustainability seriously and incorporates environmentally friendly processes everywhere, including an underground barrel cellar that regulates the temperature of aging reds.

TOURS: weekends 11am, 1, 3pm from Memorial to Labor Day

TASTING ROOM: Daily, 10am–5pm

With so much deliciousness made right around the corner, even the least-foodie among us are swerving out of drive-thrus to throw locally sourced dinner parties.

Savor, Sample & Stay

THE TASTY NEW SIDE OF COLORADO HERITAGE

Colorado farms and ranches are opening their barn doors to travelers looking for genuine experiences that can include a range of activities from cheese-making to picking dinner's veggies, taking a sausage-making class, enjoying a group picnic and shoeing horses to just a (delicious and relaxing) bed-and-breakfast stay.

Colorado Farm Stays

MESA WINDS FARM & WINERY, HOTCHKISS

Wake up to the sight of dewy peaches, apples, grapes and cherries glistening in the sun. If you're up for it, pitch in around the farm by prepping peaches for pressing into wine or helping with the grape harvest. You'll definitely want to make friends with the resident flock of babydoll sheep, who are as cute as they sound, while they graze among the orchards and "keep the alleyways mowed." Sit on the tasting patio to sample the fruit, literally, of Mesa Winds' peach, rosé, pinot gris and pinot meunier wines.

FRESH & WYLD FARMHOUSE INN & GARDENS, PAONIA

A restored 1908 farmhouse with mountain views is the setting for the relaxing farm-to-table-themed stay of your dreams. Start with chef-prepared breakfasts made with products grown within a short radius of your dining table. Then choose your own adventure with cooking classes that start in the garden and farmstead classes in the arts of cheese- and sausage-making or quilting and weaving.

GUNNISON RIVER FARMS, AUSTIN

Nestled along the Gunnison River, this idyllic farm in the tiny southwest town of Austin has been growing some of the state's best peaches for more than 100 years.

Guests are welcomed for overnight stays in the farm's historic cabins. When the dinner bell rings, they gather around the lodge's farm table for a meal that might include lamb or pork raised on the property as well as veggies from the garden. While afternoons away on the river with the farm's expert trout-fishing guides.

MOUNTAIN GOAT LODGE, SALIDA

This B&B settled in the Sawatch Mountain Range boasts 19 acres of rolling pastures home to the "friendly and amusing" dairy goats that make one of the inn's unique amenities possible — guests are invited to participate in cheese-making workshops on chevre, mozzarella, feta, paneer and even Greek yogurt. Whether you want to make the cheese or not, you will certainly sample it at the farm breakfast, which also includes Mountain Phoenix coffee from the next town over, free-range eggs and many other local delights.

OTHER COLORADO FARM & RANCH EXPERIENCES

- Ya Ya Farm and Orchard in Boulder has U-pick programs, cider-making workshops, music-filled evenings in the orchard, hay rides and more.
- James Ranch's 400-acre Animas River Valley spread near Durango will whisk you through its green pastures, where you'll see cattle grazing, visit the cheesemaking facility and marvel at gardens, hens, turkeys and pigs while learning about sustainable farming and ranching.
- Fruition Farms in Larkspur, Colorado's first artisanal sheep dairy and creamery and the chief supplier of delicious menu items for Denver's Fruition Restaurant, occasionally offers tours and classes where you might learn about animal husbandry, cheese-making and butchering.
- Canyon Wren Farm's historic farmhouse in Grand Junction can be your homebase for exploring the area's wineries, markets and outdoor pursuits — and will start your day off right with a hearty homemade breakfast.

- Living Farm Cafe in Paonia is the perfect spot to savor food made with ingredients grown by the area's farmers. Peek into the attached farmers' market and take some fresh treats along with you.
- Jumpin' Good Goat Dairy Tour in Buena Vista offers a tour of the dairy's operations, where you can mingle with the goats and taste their delicious cheese.

BREWERS GUILD

COLORADO BREWERS GUILD

TODAY WE HAVE MORE THAN 200 CRAFT BREWERIES

Craft breweries are not new to Colorado. Boulder Beer opened its doors 35 years ago as the nation's first micro brewery — and is still brewing strong. Since then, the craft-brewing community has slowly woven its way into the culture that helps make Colorado so unique.

Today, Colorado has more than 200 craft breweries making world-class beers that are attracting beer lovers from around the globe. Our craft brewers offer a large diversity of beer styles to choose from — pilsners, IPAs, stouts, ambers, porters, cask, Belgian, saisons and even sour ales are all carefully crafted to the highest of standards.

No matter what time of year, special events are always being created to showcase the local brewers. Just about any weekend during the year, you can find a beer festival where you can sample beer from dozens of brewers in the very same location. The largest of all is the Great American Beer Festival, where more than 600 American craft brewers gather in Denver for one of the world's largest beer events each October.

These breweries are spread out all over Colorado; nearly every city and town has its own brewery. Most breweries are open to the public and have the ability to serve their beers to anyone over 21 years of age in the very same building where the beer is brewed.

Every Colorado brewery has its own character and approach to what and how they brew. It's safe to say there are no two breweries alike.

So as you travel throughout Colorado, enjoy the breathtaking scenery, local foods, abundant wildlife, flourishing farms — and wash it all down with a Colorado-crafted beer.

9 Ways to Experience Colorado Heritage

Learning about the history of your destination makes the place come alive — with old stories and clues that give context and meaning to your travels.

1 ◀ RELIVE HISTORY
Remember the Oregon Trail computer game, with its bartering, endless wagon miles, cholera and buffalo hunting? Experience some of the game's history (not the cholera part, if all goes according to plan) at Bent's Old Fort National Historic Site in La Junta with Old West re-enactments, hikes and lively tours in this adobe "Castle of the Plains" that served traders, the U.S. Army, trappers and travelers along the Santa Fe Trail in the 1800s. COLORADO.com/SantaFeTrail

2 ◀ DINNER TRAIN
Call it old fashioned, but there's something romantic about winding through the Colorado Rockies on rail lines. The Royal Gorge Route Railroad (running a route that originated in 1871) offers a spectacular dinner train that showcases regional fare like Colorado prime rib or chicken that perfectly complement seasonal veggies decorated with a sweet balsamic glaze as it whisks you along the Arkansas River through the Royal Gorge in Cañon City. COLORADO.com/ScenicAndHistoricTrains

3 ▼ ST. ELMO GHOST TOWN
For an adventurous exploration of a dusty town of yore, rent an ATV at the general store and cruise through St. Elmo's abandoned streets, looking through windows that take you back to life during the mining boom. Residents of St. Elmo (near Buena Vista) took the last train out in 1922, leaving it as one of the best preserved ghost towns in Colorado. COLORADO.com/GhostTowns

4 ▲ PUEBLO CHILE & FRIJOLAS FESTIVAL

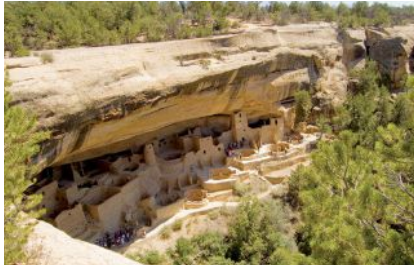

If you think we forgot to use spell-check for "chile," settle down; we're talking about the famed Pueblo green chile here. That city's chile is so popular that every September, 100,000 people celebrate its harvest by strolling along Pueblo's historic Union Avenue listening to live music, browsing through local art and, of course, smelling roasting chiles and then tasting the yummy dishes made from them. (Sept. 19–21, 2014) pueblochilefestivalinfo.com

5 ▼ A GOOD OL' ROAD TRIP

Follow the Trail of the Ancients Scenic Byway in the southwestern portion of the state and be blown away by the sheer amount of Ancestral Puebloan sites you'll uncover. The 116-mile drive skirts ancient cliff dwellings, pueblos and kivas as well as several history-rich museums. Colorado has 24 other byways that weave, climb and traverse through the state's varied terrain. COLORADO.com/Byways

8 ▲ SATISFY THAT SWEET TOOTH

Stop by Beyond the Hive in Salida, where a family-owned sweet-tooth satisfier has been in operation since 1908. Pick up an array of honey edibles, like the raw orange-blossom honey (only to be surpassed by the wild-flower honey), or stock up on honey lotion and candles to capture the naturally sweet fragrance.

9 ► PICKIN' PEACHES

The peaches from Colorado's Western Slope are legendary for their juicy, sweet goodness — or as High Country Orchards in Palisade says: "It's where a peach tastes like a peach!" Here, growers pride themselves in reducing the water content of their fruit, inducing a more flavorful peach punch. See and taste for yourself with a tour through their 126 acres and take home your own pickings.

6 ◀ COLORADO DAYS

Denver's History Colorado Center puts on a weekend festival that truly lives up to the "hands-on" trope. Learn important life skills, like how to weave a traditional American Indian blanket, lay adobe bricks and design a cattle brand. Engage with performers detailing historic Colorado eras, like the story of Lincoln Hills, an African-American resort popular during the 1940s. Or, listen to traditional American Indian drummers and the dancers as they meticulously move to the beats. (Aug. 1-2, 2014)

7 ▲ LIVE THE WILD WEST DREAM

The hospitality and activities at Colorado dude and guest ranches are unlike anywhere else in the world. Where else can you go on a cattle drive followed by a long soak in a cast-iron tub with champagne flutes in hand? Chefs prepare farm-to-table cuisine you could find on a five-star menu, and the rustic, relaxing atmosphere meets all expectations you have about Western livin' — you'll soon realize that the clock moves a little bit slower at these historic getaways.

A few favorites: Cherokee Park Ranch, Sedalia; Majestic Dude Ranch, Mancos; Laramie River Ranch, Jelm; Tarryall River Ranch, Lake George; Deer Valley Ranch, Nathrop. COLORADO.com/DudeRanches

THE DENVER POST PEDAL THE PLAINS BICYCLE TOUR

BIKES, BARNS & BANDS — SEPTEMBER 19–21:
THE PARTY IS ON THE GREAT PLAINS!

There is no better way to experience the open vistas and sweeping countryside of Colorado’s eastern plains than on the seat of a bicycle. In 2012, Colorado Governor John Hickenlooper and the Denver Post launched a one-of-a-kind cycling event celebrating the agricultural roots and frontier heritage of Colorado’s eastern plains.

Described as “a ride for the rest of us,” Pedal The Plains seeks to engage riders of all abilities, from seasoned cyclists to first-time riders, in a unique, educational and healthy recreational experience. Now in its third year, the 2014 Pedal The Plains Tour will make an even bigger splash with a brand-new three-day route, host communities, boot-stomp’n live music, Colorado beer gardens, delicious locally sourced food, interactive educational exhibits and a touch of state fair fun.

Each cyclist will get a full immersion into the soul and spirit of America’s Great Plains by tasting the food grown in the region, taking tours with local experts, exploring points of interest, meeting local farmers and educators, and trying their hand at local crafts and farming techniques. Participants will experience the hospitality and charm of a new host community each day, and in the evening cyclists will trade in their Lycra for Levis in preparation for good eats and libations, some homespun entertainment and a showcase of some of Colorado’s best live music.

In September, the party is on the plains!

THE PEDAL THE PLAINS BICYCLE TOUR

FUN FACT: Did you know the eastern plains host 400 of Colorado’s 493 bird species? And each year, thousands of tarantulas migrate across the eastern plains in search of a mate. Meet them all at Pedal The Plains 2014!

YOU MUST EAT THIS HERE

Colorado's got the goods when it comes to succulent fruits, fresh produce and hearty local game, not to mention the creative masterminds behind exquisitely crafted bites that travelers and locals can't get enough of. Check out these 10 Colorado must-eats and let us know if you uncover something else that you think we've left off the list at editor@colorado.com.

1. Bingo and Goat Hill burgers at Bingo Burger in Pueblo

Anytime you eat in Pueblo, you're likely to detect the famous Pueblo chile in your dish, and the Bingo Burger is no exception with flavorful chiles blended right in with the beef. But it's got tough competition with the Goat Hill burger, which is made with juicy Colorado lamb, goat cheese, mushrooms and, for an extra kick, some lemon-rosemary aioli.

2. Tamales at Linda's Local Food Cafe in Durango

At Linda's they take all of the steps (some are painstaking) to make sure the cafe goes local and supports Colorado farmers and ranchers. The menu is always changing depending on seasonal produce, but the tamales are famously delicious. We recommend the corn and zucchini tamale for a sure-fire win.

3. Watermelon juice at the Boulder Farmers' Market

The Pressery serves fresh-squeezed, and we mean fresh, veggie and fruit juices at Boulder's Farmers' Market that are divinely refreshing for weary shoppers. The regionally sourced watermelon is jam packed with hydrating electrolytes (perfect for Colorado's high altitude) and some surprising health benefits you and your prostate will appreciate.

4. Wild Mountain Sage Bitters at Bread Bar in Silver Plume

Besides the cool factor of setting up shop in a ghost town, this distinctive joint in the historic silver-mining town of Silver Plume along I-70 forages their own herbs for effective teas and bitters. Visit the tasting room and try the Wild Mountain Sage Bitters, earthy bitters with a hint of citrus for flavoring beverages and baked goods.

5. Hwy. 50 melons

Some of the best memories from family road trips include impromptu pit stops at small fruit stands. While traversing Colorado's eastern plains near Rocky Ford, keep your eye out for melon stands along Hwy. 50, which pepper the highway starting in La Junta and heading west to Pueblo. The juicy sweetness from the cantaloupe and honeydews along this swath of countryside provides a refreshing respite indicative of the area's agriculture.

6. Palisade peach Caprese salad at 626 on Rood in Grand Junction

Palisade is peach country, and you'll find fare all over the region utilizing this tender fruit. For a truly explosive dish, try the peach Caprese salad at 626 on Rood. The peaches are decorated with a (get ready for this) mint-basil and smoked-paprika-reposado tequila (aged in a wooden barrel) sauce and fresh basil. It's a must-taste twist on the typical Caprese salad for sure!

7. Elk osso buco from the Living Farm Inn in Paonia

Traditional osso buco is an Italian dish of veal steeped in vegetables, white wine and broth. But to taste osso buco with elk at a farm-to-table cafe is a delicious mouthful. The tenderness of the elk provides sensory overload and the complementing textures of the risotto, kale and onion straws will certainly satisfy your appetite.

8. Rosemary grilled buffalo at Laughing Ladies in Salida

Buffalo is a Colorado staple, with a lean, moist and flavorful profile. Pair it with thick polenta, fried onions and poblano chili pesto butter and you've got a recipe for a one-of-a-kind Colorado dish at the Laughing Ladies, a neighborhood favorite in Salida.

9. Blackberry truffle at Mouse's Chocolates in Ouray

We won't tell if you eat more than one of these toothsome delights. The blackberry truffle, high in antioxidants, is encrusted with white, milk or dark Callebaut Belgian chocolate, famous for its premium cocoa beans, hint of vanilla and smooth texture.

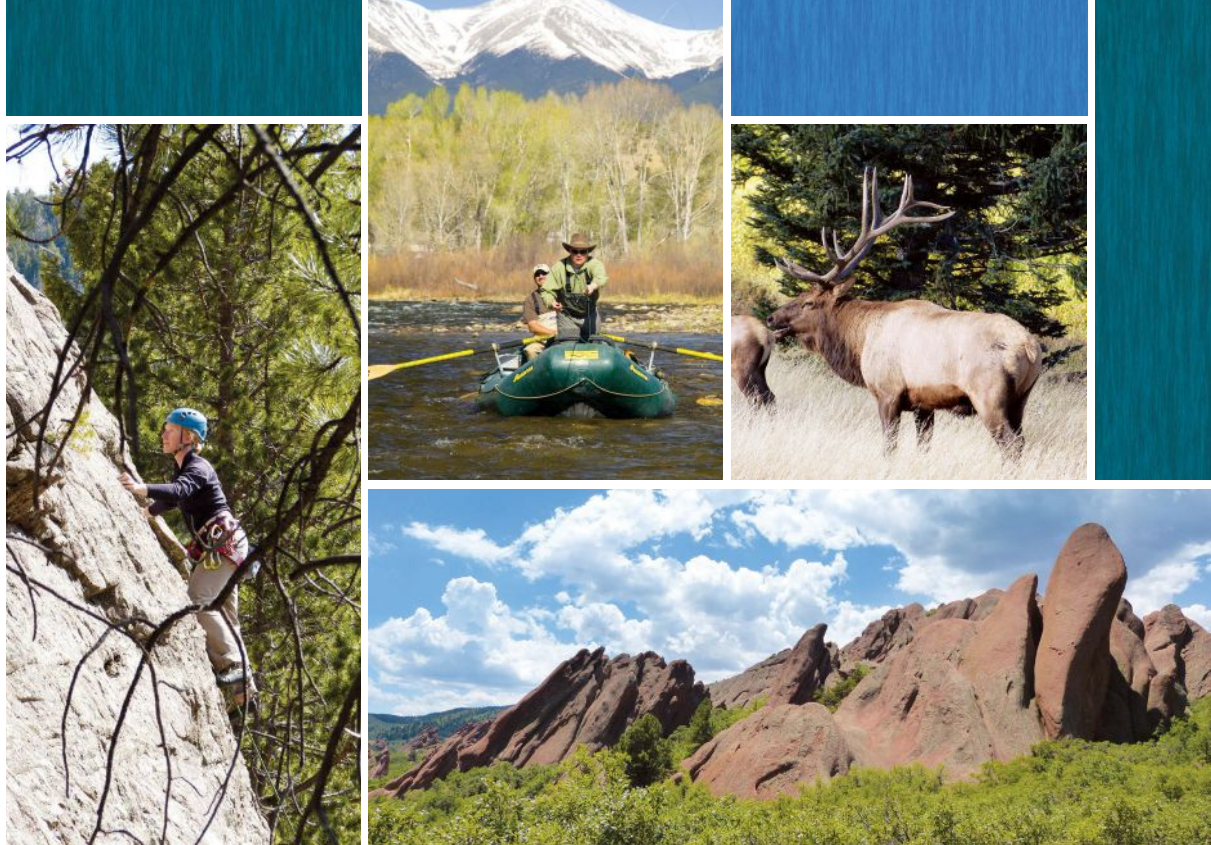

10. Colorado stream trout at San Luis Valley Brewing Company in Alamosa

Nothing says Wild West like a good ol' serving of Colorado river trout. Pair this buttery, oven-roasted fish with a San Luis craft brew like the crisp and hoppy Grand River IPA, inspired by the fresh stream of the Rio Grande — one locale where Colorado's favorite fish is found.

COLORADO PARKS AND WILDLIFE

EXPERIENCE THE OUTDOORS, COLORADO STYLE

Adventure seekers across the globe flock to Colorado for majestic wildlife, rugged mountains, wide-open prairies, awe-inspiring canyons and 42 state parks. But we aren't just the dream destination for extreme thrill seekers — we are the beginning of the experience for anyone looking to do more, see more, be more and feel more.

Our Let's Camp program teaches urban families how to take the first steps to a lifetime of memories. Trails are easy to access and incredibly diverse, with paths through wildflower-strewn meadows, treks amid cliffs and canyons to petroglyphs or boardwalks along lakes. The Colorado Birding Trail will help you discover some of our 400 bird species. Our parks' interpretive programs can teach you to canoe, show you constellations in the night sky, encourage rock climbing on a mountain face, tell you how bears make it through hibernation and help kids catch their first fish. Archery ranges let you experience your native side, and hunter-education courses lead to mentored first hunts for hundreds of people each year.

We promote healthy, active recreation that gets people outdoors. From parks to trails to wildlife, our programs help connect families and friends with the natural environment that is the foundation for Colorado's remarkable quality of life and authentic experiences. Whether it's camping with your kids in a state park, an epic trail ride with friends, taking advantage of Colorado's premier bird-watching opportunities or spending a week in a high-country elk camp, our job is to provide you the opportunity to make memories of a lifetime.

But we warn you: Once you really experience Colorado, you'll be addicted. It's a mile-high-plus rush of "wow" that is as close as your nearest state park, trail, lake or stream. We're the healthiest, most active state in the nation. Come join us on an adventure and find out why.

FAMILY PROGRAMS IN STATE PARKS

Start your Colorado adventure today by enjoying one of the hundreds of family-friendly programs offered in our state parks, including hiking or biking on 460 miles of maintained park trails or camping in one of the 4,000 park campsites and 58 cabins or yurts. You are also welcome to test your skills fishing Colorado's 322 miles of Gold Medal trout waters or harvesting your own wild game for a family feast.

DON'T EAT THIS

Colorado-made delights you shouldn't eat, even if they smell so good you might want to. Keep an eye out for these items at Colorado's farm stores and farmers' markets.

ALPACA WOOL

An animal that originated in the Andes Mountains of South America is perfectly acclimated to our high-altitude climate. Their wool is incredibly soft and warm — something we're grateful for during the winter months. You can find alpaca yarn and hats, sweaters, scarves, socks and more made with it all over the state.

A Few Places to Find It:

- › Estes Park Wool Market (June 7-8, 2014)
- › Little Circle Farm Alpacas in Penrose (yarn skeins adorably come with the name and photo of the friendly alpaca it originated on)
- › Peak Ranch Alpacas' Boutique in Monument
- › Gentle Spirit Farm in Wiggins
- › Roller Coaster Alpacas in Colorado Springs

ALL-NATURAL BEAUTY PRODUCTS

Creams, balms, sprays, essential oils, soaps and more — at this altitude, we gotta work to keep a moisturized, healthy glow. Many crafty artisans are turning raw local ingredients into luxurious substances we want to rub all over ourselves.

A Few Faves:

- › Calendula Creme from Green Earth Farm, made in small batches with many herbs grown on site in Saguache; find it at Whole Foods, Vitamin Cottage and other retailers who care about hydrating your skin.
- › Elbert's Naked Goat Farm: Buy their Baby Goat Body Cream and other soothing salves at the Cherry Creek Farmers' Market in Denver.
- › Little Moon Essentials in Steamboat Springs; we especially like the Sleep Comes Easy Pack and the terrifically named Tired Old Ass Cream.

LAVENDER

Our dry, sunny climate is ideal for growing this versatile plant, and nearly 40 growers across the state are stocking us with dried bundles that are great for decoration or fragrant sachets, pillows and potpourris, as well as soothing lotions, creams and soaps made with lavender oils. (We should note that there are some forms you should eat — lavender wines, shortbreads and more are growing in popularity across the state.)

A Few Places to Find It:

- › Colorado Lavender Festival in Palisade (July 11-14, 2014)
- › Farmers' markets and food stands everywhere
- › La Petite Lavender Farm in Paonia
- › St. Kathryn Cellars, Neilsen Vineyard and High Country Orchards in Palisade
- › Oasis Botanica herb shop in Mack
- › The Indoor Gardener in Clifton
- › Dayspring Farm in Olathe (farm store open spring/summer)

5 WATCHABLE WILDLIFE TRIP IDEAS

1 FOLLOW A COLORADO BIRDING TRAIL

Colorado is home to more than 450 different avian species, many of which are found in the diverse ecosystems east of the Rocky Mountains. Here, lone falcons share the sky with droves of tiny white-throated swifts, owls snooze inside hollowed trees and prairie chickens strut through vast stretches of golden shortgrass.

COLORADO DISTILLERS GUILD

COLORADO DISTILLERS ARE LEADING A NATIONAL WAVE OF ARTISANAL CRAFT-SPIRIT PRODUCTION

If you've hiked the Maroon Bells outside of Aspen, rafted through the scenic Arkansas Valley or soaked in the serenity of the red cliffs of Palisade at sunset in the heart of Colorado wine country, then you've no doubt developed a thirst for Colorado's way of life. And, at the end of a long day of exploring, there is a growing crop of local, small-batch spirit producers providing the perfect elixir to complement your day.

Long recognized as an epicenter of craft brewing, Colorado distillers are making a mark on the burgeoning U.S. industry of craft distilling with more than 40 artisanal producers manufacturing a full-range of spirits, including vodkas, gins, whiskeys, rums, brandies and eau de vies. Montanya Distillers of Crested Butte was recognized as the 2013 top U.S. craft distiller by the American Distilling Institute. In 2012, Palisade's Peach Street Distillers was awarded top honors. They partner with renowned local growers in making Jackalope & Jenny, a dangerously delicious pear gin, and their award-winning Colorado Straight Bourbon, using local Olathe sweet corn.

Head east from Palisade for a meandering drive through the North Fork Valley to Hotchkiss, home of Peak Spirits Farm Distillery, makers of CapRock organic gin, vodka and brandies are handcrafted at their Jack Rabbit Hill Farm with locally grown, certified organic fruit. Head an hour or so east into the Roaring Fork Valley for a tour of Woody Creek Distillers, which makes their vodka from potatoes grown on their own farms.

Whether it's in the water (Loveland's Spring44 Distillery draws from a spring at 9,044 feet) or in the air (Buena Vista's Deerhammer Distilling employs open-air fermentation to invite the flavor of the Arkansas Valley), there's something special about distilling here.

Make time for a visit on your next trip. Don't forget to pick up a bottle to bring back to friends and family so you can share a taste of your Colorado visit with them.

COLORADO DISTILLERS GUILD

TIPS FOR PICKING

| PRODUCE | WHAT TO LOOK FOR | SEASON |
|---------------------|--|--|
| APPLES | Choose apples that are firm to the touch, without bruises, with good color and a pleasant smell. | Aug.–Nov. Most are harvested in Sept. |
| CANTALOUPE | Ripe cantaloupe will have a distinctive aroma and the blossom end should yield to gentle pressure. Cantaloupes that were kept on the vine until fully ripe will have a clean depression where the stem was attached. Avoid cantaloupes that are shriveled, bruised or that have punctured or cracked rinds. | Aug.–mid-Oct. |
| CARROTS | Carrots should be vibrant orange and well shaped with firm, smooth exteriors. Avoid soft or wilted carrots or those with growth cracks or splits. | Aug.–Nov. |
| CHERRIES | Look for cherries that are plump, with firm, smooth and brightly colored skins. Good quality cherries should have green stems attached. Avoid cherries with blemishes, rotted or mushy skins, or those that are shriveled and dull. | Mid-June through mid-July. |
| LEAF LETTUCE | Leaf lettuce should be crisp and well colored. Avoid leaf lettuce with yellow leaves or with leaves showing cracked ribs. | June through Oct. |
| ONIONS | Good-quality dry onions should be firm and hard with short, tight necks and dry, papery skins. A slightly loose outer skin is common and should not affect quality. Avoid onions that show mold, decay or blemishes. | Aug.–March. |
| PEACHES | Peaches should be picked when the background color (not the red side toward the sun, but the backside of the fruit) has changed from green to white or yellow. If the peaches are to be eaten quickly, the best possible peach is one that has already started to soften on the tree, however, if they are to be stored then they should still be firm, but with the light background color. | Aug.–mid-Sept. |
| POTATOES | All potato varieties should be uniformly sized, fairly clean, firm and smooth. Avoid potatoes with wrinkled skins, soft dark spots, cut surfaces or green appearance. Look for a variety of Colorado potatoes, including Yukon gold, russet, fingerling and purple. | Year-round. |
| SWEET CORN | Sweet corn should have fresh, green husks with silk ends that are free of decay or worms. Ears should be evenly covered with plump, consistently sized kernels. Avoid corn with discolored or dry-looking husks, stem ends or kernels. | Mid-July through mid-Oct. |
| TOMATOES | Tomatoes should have bright, shiny skins and firm flesh. Avoid tomatoes that are soft or mushy, lacking in color, or have blemishes or growth cracks. | Mid-July–mid-Oct. (greenhouse tomatoes year-round). |
| WATERMELON | Choose a symmetrical melon that is heavy for its size. | Aug.–Sept. |

DENVER METRO AREA

Founded at the confluence of the South Platte River and Cherry Creek, Denver was an 1850s boomtown for ranchers and prospectors who struck silver and gold in the Rocky Mountains just 15 miles west.

A lot of that old-school flavor lives on in Lower Downtown's hip warehouse districts and the turn-of-the-century mansions of Capitol Hill. Denver is one of the fastest-growing metro areas in the country, and its big-city amenities are ever increasing, with plenty of museums and palate-tempting dining, brewing and distilling options.

FRONT RANGE AREA

The Front Range is the beautiful and dramatic convergence where the Rocky Mountains meet the Great Plains. The area being the gateway to Rocky Mountain National Park is reason enough to visit!

The park, just outside Estes Park, is home to epic wildlife viewing; nearby Peak to Peak Scenic Byway offers a jumping-off point to explore funky towns such as Nederland and Lyons. Cities like Boulder, Greeley and Fort Collins side up to the foothills — where farmers' marketing, cycling and hiking are typical Saturday activities.

NORTHEAST AREA

First-time visitors to Colorado are often surprised to find out that half the state is, well, flat. Even more surprising is that there's so much to do here. Wide-open grasslands and seas of golden wheat are fertile ground for exploring the state's colorful pioneer traditions.

Sunflower expanses, a scavenger hunt of Oregon Trail and Pony Express landmarks and museums celebrating the area's past pepper this landscape — the historical "Home on the Range."

NORTHWEST AREA

Up, up, up! That's northwest Colorado's mantra. Switchbacking mountain passes cross over the Continental Divide, where the air is thin and smells of pine needles.

Eventually, these dramatic peaks surrender to the Western Slope's scarlet rocks and sage-covered mesas. In between the vastly different geographies lies a dense array of world-class ski resorts, rows of tidy vineyards and fruit trees (it's Colorado's wine country, after all), sandstone canyons and even a few dinosaur footprints.

SOUTH CENTRAL AREA

In this sky-high region, mountain adventures and some of the state's biggest-name attractions thrill every type of traveler. Natural beauty abounds: Pikes Peak, the Great Sand Dunes, Royal Gorge and more.

Colorado Springs, the state's second-largest city, resides here along with Gold Rush-era mining towns like Cripple Creek and Leadville. The state's spiritual center comprises ever-shifting dunes, serene hot springs and picturesque ranch- and farmland land wedged between the Sangre de Cristo and the San Juan Mountains.

Colorado's
SCENIC AND HISTORIC BYWAYS

DID YOU KNOW COLORADO HAS 25 OFFICIAL BYWAYS, 11 OF WHICH ARE ALSO NATIONALLY DESIGNATED AMERICA'S BYWAYS?

This publication is available for free online and on your iPad, giving you access to in-depth descriptions, photos, route information and suggested itineraries. It's convenient, dynamic and a must-have for any Colorado visitor.

Find a link to the virtual edition at COLORADO.com/guide-order or get the app by searching "Colorado byways" in Apple's App Store.

SOUTHEAST AREA

Folk heroes like Wild Bill Hickok, Kit Carson and Zebulon Pike swept through this region along the Santa Fe Trail. The history and serenity of the prairie land lure nature-loving folks to this corner of Colorado.

Imagining buffalo and plains Indians roaming the vast land is easy — partly because much of the terrain looks like it did when the first traders, trappers and pioneers settled here in the mid-1800s, though it's now dappled with farmstands that fill menus and tables across the state.

SOUTHWEST AREA

This region boasts some of the most colorful terrain in the state, from ochre mesas to fields of wildflowers enconcing mountain towns to rushing rivers that delight fishers, rafters and growers.

With two spectacular national parks, a handful of scenic byways, cliff dwellings left behind by ancient cultures and more lakes and rivers than any other part of the state, this is as wild as Colorado gets. It's also glorious ranch country; dig deeper and you'll find rich natural and human histories as well.

COLORADO WINE INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT BOARD

TASTE OUR BEAUTIFUL STATE OF WINE

A familiar Colorado image is a bottle of hand-crafted beer chilling in a mountain stream. But what if we switched that bottle for a locally made wine? Although our wine industry is just as old as our craft-beer industry, it's smaller and not as well known. Yet.

Immigrants settling Colorado brought European grapes with them that flourished beside the native grapes in Colorado's 300 days of sunshine and nights cooled with mountain breezes. The early growers built extensive irrigation systems to bring the mountain runoff just when water benefited the vines the most. And the arid climate kept the pests and diseases at bay, requiring far fewer chemical additions than in other regions.

In 1968, a dentist hired Warren Winiarski to make wine commercially at Denver's Ivancie Cellars. Mr. Winiarski went on to found Stags Leap Wine Cellars in Napa and win the 1976 Judgment of Paris. In 2014, Warren returned to Denver as a judge in the Colorado Governor's Cup Wine Competition. "The industry has come a long way since I made wine here 46 years ago," he said. "A number of the wines I tasted were beyond expressing merely the region but had the character of classics."

We now boast more than 100 wineries on the Front Range and across the state, plus nearly 1,000 acres of grapes concentrated in the Grand Valley American Viticultural Area (AVA) along the Colorado River around Palisade; and the West Elks AVA along the north fork of the Gunnison River around Paonia. We grow Riesling, Viognier and other whites, but Linda Murphy, co-author of American Wine with Jancis Robinson, noted the reds especially are "very impressive. Malbec, Syrah, Petite Sirah and Petit Verdot appear to have great potential in Colorado."

For those thinking of Changing Your State of Wine, Trip Advisor.com named the Grand Valley one of its Top 10 Wine Destinations in 2013.

COLORADO DUDE & GUEST RANCH ASSOCIATION

EXPERIENCE THE OLD WEST AT ITS BEST!

Saddle up for your Colorado dude ranch vacation. The sense of discovery and freedom that existed in the Rocky Mountains centuries ago still lives today. A Colorado dude ranch vacation rekindles the spirit of the Old West while offering you the modern luxuries and comforts of home that early explorers and old cowboys could never have dreamed of.

Let us put you in touch with the perfect all-inclusive Western dude ranch vacation — and in touch with the person you always wanted to be. Everyone from families, couples and singles to young buckaroos, teens and seniors enjoy our dude ranch vacations. While your participation in dude ranch activities is always optional, there are many adventures awaiting your family and friends each day during your all-inclusive vacation.

Once you have wrangled up a little R&R, it's time to really sink your spurs into all of the features life on the range can offer. The possibilities of what you can do on each of the ranches seem to stretch as far as that big, beautiful Colorado sky. From campfires to cattle drives, there is never a dull moment.

The Great American West lives on at a Colorado dude ranch, one of the few places left for families to reconnect with each other and with nature. This is what makes a dude ranch vacation the ultimate family getaway and a truly unique experience.

Your family memories are awaiting you and are as close as a phone call away at 866-942-3472. We would love to answer any questions you may have about any of our dude ranches and an all-inclusive vacation with our one-of-a-kind Western hospitality. Or go to www.coloradoranch.com to get started planning your dude ranch vacation.
