Valentine SPECIAL

Celebrating love & happiness for ever after

Newly engaged and newly-wed couples share with us their love stories.

He managed to turn an ordinary day extraordinary...on the morning of July 7, 2007 Gary Gee (SF Assurance Associate) proposed to his girlfriend Rianne as she was getting ready for work. He simply tapped her on the shoulder as she was fixing her hair. "When I turned around, he was on one knee, ring in his hand asking me to marry him...I started crying, said yes and told him...good job!" Gary and his fiancé are now busy planning their summer wedding. Sandy Chang (SF Assurance Associate) tells us her boyfriend surprised her as they were getting ready for bed..."he claimed that he was planning something fancy" however due to her having a scheduled out of town engagement he decided he couldn't wait any longer and proposed to her on the eve of February 7, 2007. Sandy and her husband John married last summer at the Saratoga Country Club. A week following the wedding, the couple held another reception in Taiwan followed by a week long island paradise honeymoon in Hawaii. Phuong Huynh (SF Assurance Associate) recalls the day when she ran into her now husband for the third time...

Phuong Huynh, (SF Assurance Associate) and her husband, Joe reflecting on their future together

"It started out as a conversation to catch-up on old times...He is the love of my life, my best friend, and my husband. I couldn't have asked for a better partner in life."

We asked Kevin Bowman (SF Assurance Sr. Manager) & Todd Staples (SF Assurance Associate) if they have any tips for our newly-wed & newly-engaged couples. "All I can say is marriage is very similar to work. When my partner tells me to do something - I do it. Otherwise, it could make life miserable and possibly financially detrimental." - Kevin
"Create a bonfire of love you newly-weds and keep feeding that fire every day by serving your spouse" - Todd

FOOD & WINE

Chicken feet anyone?

A classic dim sum cart-delivered snack, chicken feet was not a favorite for Brent Vidulich, from Madison, WI (SF Audit Intern).

Restaurant Review:

Koi Palace (Daly City) $$

A group of us in the SF office are in search for the best dim sum restaurant in the bay area. Our most recent visit was to Koi Palace (Daly City) where crowds of locals keep this place filled. Though the food variety was excellent we rated this place avg.

Wine Pick of the Month:

Raymond Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon 2003 ($$$)

Deferring to the Jasper's sommelier, this wine pairs amazingly well with slow smoked baby back ribs. This wine is also the perfect match for a flourless chocolate cake. Raymond Vineyard's is in our own backyard, Napa Valley and a must visit as the staff are knowledgeable and friendly, free tasting coupon at their website as well.

Winemaker's notes: Blend:

85% Cabernet Sauvignon, 9% Cabernet Franc, 6% Merlot
Aromas of dark chocolate, blackberry, black cherry and a hint of violets envelope the senses. Opening flavors of ripe blackberry, blueberry and plum are followed by cherry, cassis and chocolate. An elegant, complex, balanced wine highlighted by lush fruit and a smooth, long finish.

ART & CULTURE

Movie Review: JUNO (2007); PG13; 1hr 31min

The last 3 movies I've seen, "Atonement" and "No Country for Old Men" have been a real disappointment. And "There Will Be Blood" was not only disappointing but also had the absolute worst ending I have ever seen in my life. But then my faith was restored in the movie industry. I was delighted to see a movie with a beginning a middle and an end. I understood it, identified and liked the character, even loved the great, normal ending. "JUNO" While JUNO may not be the best movie ever made it certainly is the best I've seen in the last few months. I think this movie is a complete package. I hope you will enjoy it as much as I have.

SPORTS

BDO (SF) Dodgeball Team Season Highlights

Organized by Finn Michaelson, Mark Snover (SF Assurance Associates) and Brandon Stevens (SF Tax Associate), the BDO Dodgeball Team played its first season and managed to make it to the playoffs with 1 win...and this was by default as a result of the opponent not having enough people to play. Unfortunately BDO did not make it past the first round of the playoffs as BDO was matched up with "Deathball" the undefeated team that holds the championship title for 6 seasons straight! The fierceness of this team was seen when the captain of Deathball broke his teammate's finger by throwing a ball at him while practicing.

"If we do it again, it will surely not be during the busy season" – Finn.

HEALTH & FITNESS

Body in Motion

On average we burn about one calorie per minute at rest mode. This easily adds to 1,440 calories burned per day for doing nothing! Researchers at the Mayo Clinic found that just being on your feet more can burn an additional 350 calories a day. Now think how many more calories you can burn by just being a little more active throughout the day. Perhaps you should consider sending your print jobs to a printer a few steps away from the one closest to you.

5 Tips on How to Survive Busy Season (United Healthcare Guide)

You may not always be able to make stress disappear, but you can manage it with some very simple techniques. Here are some great tips to help you deal with stress and help you stay healthy.

1. Take care of yourself. You can handle stress better if you eat nutritious food, exercise and get enough sleep.
2. Set limits. Trying to do too much will add to your stress. Focus on what's most important and learn to say 'No' to the rest.
3. Use relaxation techniques each day. Do some breathing exercises, gentle stretching or meditation. Listening to music, taking some quiet time for yourself or even picking up an old hobby can help too.
4. Let it go. Tell yourself that sometimes it's OK to just "let it go".
5. Get support. Sharing your feelings really can relieve your stress.

BUSINESS WATCH

What Will be the Future of Yahoo!

On Jan 29, 2008 after its eight straight profit decline, Yahoo announced it will cut about 1,000 employees or 7% of its staff. On Feb 1, Microsoft offers to buy Yahoo for $44.6 billion dollars. The price is a 62 percent premium over Yahoo's Jan 31st close, but only about a quarter of what the internet company was worth at the height of the dotcom bubble in 2000. Yahoo's shares shot up 48% after this announcement. The board is set to evaluate the unsolicited offer.

LIFE ON EARTH

Did You Know? Total world population is estimated to be 6,602,224,175 (July 2007). Yes, that's 6.6 billion people! Of this total China represents 20% or 1,321,851,888 followed by India representing 17% or 1,129,866,154. While the United States represents only 5% of this total or 301,139,947. It's no wonder that Mandarin Chinese is the most spoken language in the world (13.22%). Surprisingly Spanish came in second at 4.88%, followed by English at 4.68%. – CIA The World Fact Book

GREEN LIVING

Go Green with Household Cleaners

Unless you are using products scented with natural oils, your favorite "clean smell" is likely the result of a chemical concoction. Try natural cleaning agents such as baking soda and white vinegar whenever possible. Or look for earth friendly brands however be ware that just because it says "natural" for example does not mean that it's non-toxic or eco-safe.

BDO Women's Initiative
Driving Opportunities & Opening Doors

BDO Seidman's Women's Initiative was created in 2006 by CEO, Jack Weisbaum, to better recruit, retain and advance women client-service professionals to maximize the firm's marketplace success.

The initiative has three strategic goals:

- Build understanding, commitment and excitement about the importance of women to BDO's business success
- Provide opportunities for women to network and form rewarding relationships
- Continue to develop and communicate consistent, well-defined career paths and standards to ensure opportunities for all BDO talent

The BDO Women's Initiative is excited to introduce ConnectIn, a series of local office networking events that aim to bring people together to form stronger business relationships.

Every BDO office has a "Local Networking Champion" who is charged with planning ConnectIn events over the course of 2008. Each event will be tailored to a different audience, but all events will work towards building relationships for the benefit of professional development and business success.

We encourage you to take advantage of the ConnectIn events. Stay tuned for more information from the Women's Initiative in 2008.

Chinese New Year Celebration

The San Jose office has resolved in 2008 to embrace and celebrate cultures and holidays outside traditional American holidays. San Jose began the year of the Rat with a Chinese New Year Celebration. The January Birthaversary held at the end of January included Chinese décor, treats and information presented by Office Assistant Rochelle Rotea. Everyone had an opportunity to find their birth year, look at their relationship compatibilities and learn the customs associated with Chinese New Year. On February 7, the office wore red in honor of the New Year and held a luncheon at the Mayflower Restaurant where they dined on Dim Sum.

FACE TIME

Chris Smith

ADA Partner (Los Angeles) doesn't just practice what he preaches – he also teaches what he practices.

Best known for his Friday Webex sessions and PDM lectures, Chris Smith is also a “scrappy street fighter against whom you wouldn't want to be paired in an ultimate fighter match. Just ask Ken Gee (SF Assurance Partner) - had he not cried “Uncle”, he would not have been able to walk away from our last encounter inside that cyclone-fenced enclosure.”

Who is your Alma Mater?

Undergraduate - Montana State University – Where I was taught the 3 Rs: rodeoin', ropin', and rauditin'. Graduate – University of San Francisco – the leading institution of higher education in all of the Bay Area.

How long have you been in the public accounting profession?

Since 1985 – the same year that the 49ers won the Super Bowl, Lionel Ritchie had the album of the year, and I had a full head of hair. 22 years later, only the Niners stand a chance of ever coming back.

When did you join BDO?

In 1991 – I started in the Spokane, Washington office and transferred to Los Angeles in 1998.

What is your favorite thing about BDO?

As a firm, we take what we do very seriously, but not so much ourselves.

What part of your job do you like best?

The many professionals with whom I get to interact.

What is the most challenging?

All of the questions raised by the many professionals with whom I get to interact.

How has being a CPA changed you through the years?

If I had to limit it to just one thing, I'd have to say it's the paparazzi. Seems like we used to be able to go out to our clients without fear of them stalking us every step of the way, trying to capture us in some sort of unflattering photo.

Whom would you most enjoy inviting to dinner?

My wife. Speaking of which, can I get an extra copy of this newsletter to take home?

Who are your favorite artists?

Music: Coldplay, Linkin Park, The Verve, 50 Cent and Maroon 5. Actually, I just lied – I don't really know any of their music; I just said that to give myself “cred” with the many young BDO professionals in the Bay Area. I actually listen to artists such as James Taylor, Lyle Lovett, Van Morrison, and John Fogerty.

Painting: Van Gogh and Cezanne; Escape: Houdini

What are your guilty pleasures?

“Guilty”? If the good sisters at Queen of Apostles grade school in San Jose couldn't slow me down with the “guilty” thing, why must you? Regardless – coffee ice cream, dark chocolate, and reruns of “Saved by the Bell”.

The road not taken

If I weren't a CPA, I would be sitting around, making up stories about all the places I've ever surfed, the size of waves I tore up over the weekend, and otherwise pretending to be a surfing legend. Sort of like what Slade Fester (SF Assurance Partner) does now.

On his downtime

Slack, bum, veg, hang, chill, and whatever other words come to mind to describe someone who, in the absence of having any particular skill sets, hobbies, or outside interests, watches a lot of TV.

Leisurely pursuit

Someday I'd like to have nothing to do so that I could sit around all day watching reruns of Saved by the Bell, while eating coffee ice cream and dark chocolates. Then drive out to the Mavericks and slice across the face of those 50 foot waves like a hot knife through butter.

Words of wisdom

What message would you like to send to professionals just starting their careers at BDO? Always do what Minnihan (SF Assurance OBLL) tells you to do and always hit “spell check” before you turn in workpapers for review.

CHINESE NEW YEAR – THE YEAR OF THE RAT

The 2008 Chinese New Year began on Feb 7 and runs through Jan 25, 2009. By the Chinese calendar, 2008 is the year of the Rat and according to Chinese astrology in a “Rat Year” we can expect 12 months of plentiful opportunities and prospects, it is a time of hard work, activity, and renewal. This is a good year to get married, launch a product or make a fresh start. Ventures begun now may not yield fast returns, but opportunities will come for people who are well prepared and resourceful. The best way for you to succeed is to be patient, let things develop slowly, and make the most of every opening you can find.

Hey February is also Oscar month. Here's a chance for you to WIN a $25 movie card!

See if you can guess who these cute babies are and you will be entered to win a $25 movie card! One winner will be randomly drawn from each office. Deadline to submit your entry is Friday, March 14.
